Poll Shows Public Unimpressed by Carter Efforts

NEW YORK (AP) - In choosing President Carter's handling of the nation's economic woes as a criterion for whether he will seek the presidency, Sen. Edward Kennedy has focused his potential candidacy on the issue Americans perceive as Carter's biggest Right now the public doesn't think much of Carter's efforts to battle the twin demons of inflation and recession nor of his work in general. An Associated PressNBC News poll this week found Americans giving Carter the lowest overall job rating in nearly three decades for an American president.

Only 19 percent of those interviewed nationwide Monday and Tuesday rated Carter's work excellent or good. That is, down seven points from the APNBC News July poll, which was his previous Forty-nine percent said his efforts were only fair and 30 percent said they were poor. Two percent of the 1,600 adults interviewed nationwide by telephone were not sure.

The 19 percent mark is the lowest ever received by an American president since this rating question was first asked in the Carter's historically low ratings have helped convince Kennedy that he should consider challenging Carter for the Democratic party's nomination in 1980.

Kennedy has said in recent days that he is not ruling out such a challenge, adding that the president's efforts to deal with the economy will be crucial to Kennedy's own decision.

"If there's a perception that the president is successfully dealing with this issue, I think he'll be successful," Kennedy said earlier this week.

But right now the perception is that Carter is failing in his efforts to deal with

The public perception of Carter's failure to deal with inflation and recession has helped blunt the effects of his midsummer moves to reshuffle his administration and to present a more forceful image to the public.

The AP-NBC News poll found that Carter is now in serious trouble with almost every segment of the population. "I'm not as rich as some of the people who I helped with their careers, but I have a living. The only thing you can leave in this world when you leave it is your investment in humanity," said Fowler, Nashville's consummate "music man" who has been a singer. songwriter, gospel music pioneer, radio and television personality. He has helped the careers of numerous singing giants. among them being:

-- Patsy Cline, whom he discovered by allowing her to sing professionally for the first time on a Fowler-produced program in Virginia in the early 1950s. -- Tennessee Ernie Ford, whom he recommended for a network television show after turning down the job himself.

-- Chet Atkins, who got one of his first jobs--and a guitar--from Fowler.

recording contract through Fowler. -- Hank Williams.

Fowler met Williams, an unknown at the time, at a truck stop in Troy Ala., at two in the morning.

"He said, 'You don't know me, but I 'mire you and them Oak Ridge Boys. I hear you every Saturday night on the Grand Ole Opry. I pick a little, and sing a little, and don't 'mount to nothin', said Fowler, doing an imitation of Williams.

"He asked if I could get him back stage on the Grand Ole Opry so he could meet Earnest Tubb and Roy Acuff. I said I would do that. About six weeks later, Mr. Norris, the door guard, said there was a 'long, tall drink of water and a stringy blonde from Alabama' who were there as my guests. I said to let them in."

Williams and his wife went back stage, where he borrowed a guitar and "All of the performers began to miss their cues to go on stage. Hank had 'em spellbound, playing the guitar and singing backstage." Fowler said.

3 Hurricane-Stricken States Clean Up after Devastation

By CHARLOTTE PORTER Associated Press Writer

The once-brutal winds of the storm called Frederic pushed torrential rains today as remnants of the former hurricane moved north, leaving residents of three states to sweep up the splinters of their homes and businesses and to bury their dead.

"For Sale Cheap," read the sign on one flattened trailer in Mississippi. "Extras: sun roof and solar air."

Frederic claimed only half the human toll of last week's Atlantic Coast killer, Hurricane David, which claimed 16 lives in the United States and 1,100 in the Caribbean. But Florida Gov. Bob Graham said he feared the damage toll from the latest tropical devastation might surpass the $95 million racked up by David there.

Towns from Florida to Mississippi sustained heavy damage in Frederic's 130 mph winds and in the tornadoes that trailed the storm. Hundreds of homes were swept from their foundations and businesses were ripped apart.

At least six persons were killed. Two; others in Florida were missing and believed dead.

Early today, the remnants of the storm, weakened to little more than a low pressure system, dumped as much as 7 inches of rain on western and central Kentucky and up to 6 inches on eastern Tennessee. Flash flood warnings were posted and some residents of Tennessee were advised to keep watch for tornadoes.

President Carter ordered disaster assistance for 30 counties along the central Gulf Coast, and planned to assess the damage today.

"It looks like this place has been shelled," said Gulf Shores, Ala., firefighter Ed Curott. Assistant Fire Chief Wade Ward, whose own home was swept away, estimated 90 percent of the businesses and homes in that community were destroyed by the battering winds.

"Looks like King Kong took a stroll through downtown," one Citizens Band radio enthusiast reported of the damage in Mobile, which along with areas around Pascagoula, Miss., and Pensacola, Fla., suffered the brunt of the storm.

Huge Crop May Lower Prices for Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Huge grain crops this year will mean slightly lower prices for farmers than Agriculture Department experts had forecast a month

But a new "supply and demand" report issued Thursday indicated exports - a major factor in farmers' financial status - are not expected so far to be jeopardized by strikes at rail and port

Farmers are harvesting record crops of corn and soybeans, and a near-record crop of wheat. A strike against the Rock Island railroad and at Great Lakes port facilities at Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., have raised fears that exports will

The new analysis issued by the department's World Food and Agricultural Outlook and Situation Board included no reference to the grainhandling problem nor indicated any change in export prospects from a month

According to sources who asked not to be identified, senior department officials, including Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, believe no substantial impact will be felt because of the strike for at least several more weeks.

The reason, the sources said, is that the huge corn harvest - estimated Wednesday at a record 7.27 billion bushels - is later than usual in the main producing areas of the Midwest.

Similar delays face the soybean harvest, estimated at a record 2.17 billion

Thus, goes the theory, the big harvest crunch will not be felt for another month or so. But if the stoppages continue for another three to eight weeks, exports as well as the internal movements of grain and soybeans will be significantly affected, meaning huge pileups of commodities and a disruption of market

Corn exports in the year beginning Oct. 1 were projected at around 2.5 billion bushels, the same as a month ago, Also unchanged were export figures for 1979 shipments of wheat at 1.4 billion bushels and soybeans at 825 million (See PRICES, Page 2)

LONDON (AP) - Denouncing the guerrillas fighting his government as 'bloodthirsty murderers." Zimbabwe Rhodesia's prime minister threatened to quit the British-sponsored peace talks if Britain bows to guerrilla demands for control of the former colony.

"The time for appeasement is over." Bishop Ahel Muzorewa told a news conference Thursday during a break in the slowmoving five-day-old conference. "The time is overdue for the British government to act firmly and decisively.' Muzorewa, elected in April as his nation's first black prime minister, said he would reject any attempt "by one or two arrogant dictators in the making to impose themselves or their foreign communist or Marxist ideologies upon our country.'

Sources said the American-educated Methodist minister was angered by Britain's compromise agenda for the talks, a compromise he earlier accepted.

The agenda, proposed by conference chairman Lord Carrington, the British foreign secretary, would permit discussion of guerrilla demands that Muzorewa's administration be replaced by a government that would include the insurgents, and the communist-armed guerrillas be given control of the army.

Auto Contract Talks Try To Beat Deadline

DETROIT (AP) - Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers union struggled early today to reach a new contract before the midnight deadline for a strike that would idle 95,000 workers and nearly half the company's 1980 model production.

'It would be a shame if we let it get away from us," UAW President Douglas A. Fraser said before the marathon session began Thursday night. "The differences between us look like they can be resolved with some intensive negotiations. We're just going to stay at the bargaining table."

Looming on the other side of the deadline was an unprecedented selective strike against GM plants that make the company's more-popular cars and trucks. parts warehouses that serve dealers and a locomotive plant that supplies threequarters of the nation's diesel locomotives.

A settlement would get a pattern for negotiations with Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker. The UAW has all but conceded that troubled Chrysler Corp. for the first time will be permitted to break the Big Three pattern with a lesser settlement

Rice, also with a record harvest this year of 135.3 million hundredweight, was shown at a 1979-80 export level of 83 million hundredweight, also unchanged from the August analysis.

But the improved harvest prospects, by themselves, have had an impact on the prices farmers can expect over the coming months.

For example, corn prices at the farm are now expected to average $2.40 to $2.70 a bushel over the entire 1979-80 marketing year, down five cents at the top end from last month.

Wheat prices were projected at $3.60 to $3.90 a bushel, compared to last month's range of $3.50 to $4.25.

Soybean price forecasts now are $5.75

An exception to the downward price trend was for rice, which showed a decline in harvest prospects from a month a ago. Thus, the report said, prices for 1979-80 are expected to range from $8.25 to $9.25 per hundredweight, compared to August's projection of $8 to

Small-Town Doc Busy

SIERRA BLANCA, Texas (AP) - Before Gordon Cox, a city-educated doctor, turned down an $80,000-a-year private practice for jeans, boots and a one-man practice this little West Texas town had been without a physician for 27 years.

And until Cox opened his office in July, the 600 residents of this little railroad boom town made the 80-mile roundtrip to Van Horn when they needed medical attention.

Now the town has a doctor. who says he stays busy in his tiny office - so busy that he can't even leave town on Sunday, his day off.

"We're in a position now where there is a lady who is going to have a baby any time. I'm available all the time.

Right now, since the lady is so close. I don't leave." said the softspoken ranchland doctor.

Cox also keeps watch over a 2-month-old girl who spent her first six weeks in intensive care at an El Paso hospital, about 85 miles west of here.

'She just stops breathing." he said. "Three times now she's almost died and I've been able to get her breathing again."

Cox, 32, interned at Brooklyn, N.Y. and was completing his residency at Texas Tech's regional health center at El Paso when he heard townspeople were looking for a doctor.

With a near-constant smile beneath his thick, dark mustache, Cox said, "We were sitting around at lunch shooting the bull when this guy came down the hall and said 'We need a doctor.

"I came out and looked and I liked the town."

The "guy" was Henry O. "Tex" West, a husky, 64-yearold Sierra Blanca rancher who led the search to find medical care for his town.

Religion and Peace. But the 337 representatives of 10 major, historic faiths Christian, Buddhist, Confucianist, Hindu, Jewish, Jainist, Moslem, Sikh, Shintoist and Zorastrian - agree that things now look frightening. "We are approaching ... a turning point in human history at which the survival of world civilization is at stake," they said in a joint declaration at the close Sept. 7 of a week-long meeting at Princeton Theological Seminary. The "Princeton Declaration" cited modern afflictions - the nuclear arms buildup, economic imbalances and exploitation, shrinking resources and crushing of human rights. But it also proclaimed a "spirit of hope," adding: 'In our various religions, we know that we are members of one human family. Sustained and motivated by the spiritual power by which we all live, we

Artwork on Display

Brenda Formby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Formby, recently arrived in Hereford as the Artist of the Month at the Chamber of Commerce office. With her she brought her artwork of "Trapunto" which is a form of embroidery used to develop a soft sculptured texture. Ms. Formby, who presently resides in Lubbock has been designing the art pieces for three years. She has sold many of her works in Lubbock, Austin and Houston. The framed soft sculptures will be on display in the coffee room of the Chamber of Commerce through the month of September. Her works are for sale and anyone wishing to purchase one can call 364-3589. [Brand photo by Denise Smith]

Ann Landers Male Stupidity

DEAR ANN LANDERS: 1 am writing about the wife who complained that her husband (they had been married 22 years) could not remember his phone number, his age or address. When they went shopping he had to ask her what size shoe he wore, same for shirts and socks. He couldn't tie a bow and had never written a check even though they had had a joint account for 20 years. (He didn't know how.)

The wife was disgusted and wanted to know what you thought of such stupidity. Ann. your response was extremely perceptive. You said it might be something other than stupidity-perhaps an organic problem. You suggested that he be tested.

The symptoms she described are identical with senile dementia. There are approximately one and one-half million cases in the United States. 500,000 of them serious. Nearly 100.000 people die from it annually, yet it rarely appears on a death certificate.

Only recently have research-disturbances in brain chemistry correlated with senile dementia.

Please continue to urge readers who see these symptoms in parents or mates to insist on a neurological examination. It would be lifesaving .- B.G.E.

DEAR B.G.E.: Thank you for the "alert." The next letter on the same subject may be of interest, although it is apparent that the husband under attack has another kind of problem.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why do you always protect the men? You suggested there might be something organically wrong when the wife said her husband couldn't tie a bow, couldn't remember his shoe size, shirt size or where he parked his car.

I say. "Applesauce!" My husband knows how to unscrew the top of a tube of toothpaste. turn on a light, open a drawer and find his socks and shorts. but he never learned how to put the top back on, turn a light off or close a drawer.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a man in my 40s with a somewhat personal problem. I like to wear shorts to the beach but my legs look like an ape's. I don't have any hair on my chest or back and very little on my arms. I've seen people nudge one another and laugh. Youngsters have come right out and asked how come I have such hairy legs. Other men must have this problem. How do they cope with it? Is shaving or a hair remover the answer? --Tallahassee

BY CORDA GLOVER HOW MANY FEET DOES A CHILD HAVE?

Sitting alone on a Monday night in the mound of "folded" and "to be folded" clothes I've often pondered this question.

Socks are everywhere, a growing mound of innocent inamimate objects eager for the matching. After a second cup of coffee, a third danish and the bitter realization that T.V. is also retiring for the night, I pull myself together to face the

Let's see now, 1 foot x 1 sock x 2 '|some innocent mothers still believe children have only 2 feet]. Next I decided how many children I have and multiply that by 2. 2 times x number of days since last wash day should be a total of 56. That's a laugh, if that wiggling, jiggling mound

Johnny wears blue socks with white rings, Janie has looong flowered ones and Tommy has white with gray bottoms. Oh! neat, Billy has used his sock sorters. What's this!?! 10 socks in one sorter from size 6 to 12? Yea gads! I must talk with him.

A short friendly visit in the dark reveals that he DID put only one days wearing in a sorter. Give him an "A" for effort, he's 12 you know.

As I climb wearily into bed I lay there muttering to myself "if 1 x 1 x 2 is 2 and 2 x 4 is 8 why does 8 x 7 equal 831/2?" Thank the Lord'l am not the mother centipede.

As I drift slowly off to sleep I realize the awe of child mystic has once again overruled all practical theory and I wonder 'How many feet does a child REALLY have?"

or some time, we have been regaled with dire predictions of recession, depression and other ominous terms that depict a general worsening of our economic situation; all of which must cause many of us to wonder if our own source of life's basic needs might soon be in jeopardy. The fancy words would indeed appear to forecast a grim future when translated into terms of next week's groceries or next month's rent. Throughout history, in time of trouble man has always turned to religion as a last resort, even when it should have been his first. There is no better time than now to go to your Church and pray to God for His ever-present help and guidance.

Herd Takes On Palo Duro

7:30 and head Coach Don linebackers plenty of opportuni-Cumpton said that the team is looking good and is ready to give the visiting Palo Duro Dons a tough game.

Hereford enters the game with a 0-1 slate after falling 22-0 to Pampa last weekend. The Dons are 1-0 after a win over the Dumas Demons last Thursday.

Cumpton said that Hereford will be using the same offensive and defensive personnel as in the Pampa game with Soliz and tight end Scott the exception of two-way starter Daniels. Bobbie Fish who has been sick all week. Replacing the returning letterman will be Gilbert Gonzales on defense and John Dudding on offense.

Others that will probably miss the game are Thane Wright and Curt McNaney.

Cumpton noted that Palo Duro is strong and has a lot of speed especially at the skill positions such as wide receiver and quarterback.

Also, the play of Robert Jenkins at fullback and linebacker has been outstanding and also that of tailback Bill Miller. Both of these men have the capability of making the big play, Cumpton said.

"The Dons offense seems to rely on the big play with the offensive alignment being the I-formation with two split receivers." Cumpton said. "They run a wide open offense and try to score quickly from all over the field.

"On defense, they try to force mistakes, using an eight-man Hereford Whitefaces is on tap at in the line. This makes it hard to Whiteface Stadium tonight at run the ball and gives the ties to stunt." Cumpton said.

Hereford will counter with the veer offense, which is starting to look more and more polished each workout according to the coaching staff. Derek Dirks will guide the team from the quarterback spot and will have running backs Joe Mitchum and Joe Walker joining him in the backfield. At the receiving posts will be Keith Adams and Felix

The interior line, whose responsibility it will be to open up the holes will be John Josserand and Bert Wofferd at the tackles, Dudding and Donny Lauderback at the guards and Billy Simon Handling the snapping chores.

Defensively, Hereford will use Cory Christie, Gonzales and Herbert Carrillo as the down linemen with Aubrey Richburg and Nick Whatley at the end Mitchum and Chris Schumacher will be at the linebacker spots and in the secondary. Barry Morgan and Edward Dominguez will be the safeties and Adams and Norman Hill will man the cornerback slots.

Coach Cumpton said that the Herd offense will have to relay on the short passes if the Dons continue to use the eight man line. Cumpton noted that if the patterns and across the middle are completed, it will cause the Dons to have spread out some which will open up the running game for the "Hostile Herd." Defensively, the coaches made some adjustments in the pass coverage which should help covering the long routes that Palo Duro seems to rely. "We made the changes that we thought were necessary to control the game and to do so against Palo Duro, the long scoring play has to be eliminated," Cumpton said. "It will be to our advantage to play at home tonight, especially if we have a good crowd." Cumpton said. "Our field is in excellent shape and this will be a chance for everyone in passes such as short out Hereford to see the '79 edition

Dry let his true feelings slip about Meyer and SMU during the SWC press tour, saying the game "was just about as per-

Dry was nettled when Meyer made some remarks a year ago about his son who played briefly for Meyer at SMU.

Both coaches, of course, have downplayed their feud this

"I look for TCU to be a lot like Rice in that they will be vastly improved over last year," said Meyer, diplomatically, "F.A. Dry has really done some good things to get their program back on its feet. His hard work and talent as coach is beginning to show.'

Dry said "They are much more talented than last year. SMU's running game is the best it has been since Meyer has been there."

Even the player have picked up the downplay cue.

"The players don't really pay that much attention to all of the things that are said in the press about the coaches," said SMU defensive tackle Harvey Armstrong. "It's another game as far as that goes."

SMU was an 18-point favorite with some 30,000 fans expected.

ExposSeem to Have Lucky Ingredient

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

Whatever it is - luck, talent, clean living - that makes a winner, the Montreal Expos seem t to have it.

"It's not only being good, you've got to be lucky in this game too," Expos outfielder Ellis Valentine says. "We've had the talent for two years, but now we're getting the breaks to go along with it.

A big break gave Montreal a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday night and helped the Expos open up a .003 lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League East.

Trailing 3-2, pinch-hitter Rusty Staub came to bat in the bottom of the ninth with two out and the bases loaded. Cubs super-reliever Bruce Sutter was looking for save No.36.

Staub chopped a grounder down the first-base line. It hit a seam in the carpet at Olympic Stadium and bounded away from Chicago first baseman Larry Biittner, scoring two runs.

'There are seams all over this ballpark and there's no way you can adjust quickly in a bad hop," Staub said. "We've been getting some breaks, but we're playing like anything and it sure makes you feel like this is our

Phil Niekro picked up victory No.18 with a six-hitter, going the route for Atlanta for the 20th

Gary Matthews drove in two runs for the Braves. He capped a two-run fourth inning and gave Atlanta a 3-0 lead with a foreceout grounder. His RBI single made it 4-1 in the ninth.

Niekro struck out nine, including Willie McCovey three times, and lost his shutout in the eighth when Mike Ivie homered, No.25. Niekro has lost 19. Phils 2, Mets 1

Philadelphia left-hander Steve Carlton went 81-3 innings, getting last-inning relief help from Tug McGraw to withstand a Mets rally. Pete Rose had four hits for the Phils and scored a run.

After Carlton allowed a run on Dan Norman's infield hit with one out in the ninth, the Mets loaded the bases for McGraw.

Doug Flynn lofted McGraw's first pitch into shallow center. Greg Gross made the catch and threw home on one bounce. where catcher Bob Boone made the tag on Joel Youngblood to complete the double play.

The Mets disputed the call, however, saying Boone had dropped the ball. Television replays seemed to support the Mets, but home plate umpire Terry Tata stuck with his origi-

Rooks Look to NFL Big 3 Barrier

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

In 60 years of professional football no rookie has ever rushed for more than 100 yards in each of his first three big league games. On Sunday, two newcomers try to break that Ottis Anderson of St. Louis and William Andrews of Atlanta both have shattered the century mark twice in as many games only the fourth and fifth rookies in National Football League history to accomplish that. Now they go for No.3 against formidable opponents - Anderson facing the Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers and Andrews going against Denver's Orange Crush defense.

You have to be a longshot lover to think both will make it and the Pro Picker chooses the chalk here, figuring those defenses will be too tough to crack for the two freshmen.

Last week's 11-2 made the season record 21-6 for .778.

The picks: PITTSBURGH 31, ST. LOUIS 10: Double T Anderson runs into double trouble from the Steeler defense, which has surrendered 100 yards to a runner only 15 times since 1970. ATLANTA 16. DENVER 13: Upset special. The Bronco defense hasn't allowed a TD yet and should control William Andrews. But Denver has to find Cowboys must control rejuve- against the Chiefs.

nated Alan Page, who's had five sacks in two games. Their tough offensive line should handle

SAN DIEGO 34, BUFFALO 14: Dan Fouts and the sky-high Chargers should bring Bills back to earth.

MIAMI 23, MINNESOTA 10: Dolphins have been missing too many opportunities. Vikings are just plain missing. TAMPA BAY 21. GREEN BAY 17: Another upset. Bucs gaining in stature, especially after wiping out 17-point deficit against Colts in Baltimore. OAKLAND 30, SEATTLE 14: Raiders are underdogs because this is their third straight game on the road but Seahawk turnovers could be the difference

NEW ORLEANS 24, PHILA-DELPHIA 20: The Saints usually play well at home and they have an extra day's rest on the

Eagles who played Monday NEW ENGLAND 38. CIN-CINNATI 7: Name your margin for the Patriots, who ought to

"There was no sense going further with him," said Weaver. "That's why we've got guys like Don and Tippy (Martinez) on the club.'

The victory, incidentally, stopped a three-game losing streak for the Orioles and solidified their lead in the AL East. The Orioles are up by 11 games over Milwaukee, an 8-3 loser to

American Divers In FINA Meet

WOODLANDS, Texas (AP) - Greg Louganis, rated No. 3 in the world, is one of four American divers taking on competitors from 14 other countries, including Russia, in the FINA World Diving Cup meet, which began here today.

A list of 25 divers drawn from the results of the 1978 FINA world championships are competing through Sunday in a meet organizers are calling a preview of the 1980 Olympics to be held in Moscow.

The divers will compete in men's and women's 3-meter springboard and 10-meter platform e events. Some divers will compete in both events.

Both the United States and Russia have four divers entered in the meet. Besides Louganis, the Americans are sending Phil Boggs, two-time Olympian and gold medalist at Montreal, three-time national titlist Cindy Potter, and world diving champion Melissa Briley.

Canada is sending three divers to the meet with West Germany and Great Britain adding two apiece and one each coming f from Australia, Austria, Brazil, Cuba, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Spain and Sweden.

FINA is the world governing body for swimming, diving. synchronized swimming and water polo competition.

Associated Press Writer

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) -Not only did the Minnesota Twins gain ground in the American League Western Division pennant chase Thursday night but they did it in style by handing Jim Kern his first loss of the year in Arlington Stadium.

The Twins trimmed the Rangers 7-4 in 12 innings and moved to within five games of idle California and just two games in back of second-place Kansas City.

"We got stretched on the rack pretty good tonight," said Twin's Manager Gene Mauch after his club blew a two-run lead in the ninth inning.

"Kern has just worn us out all year," said Mauch. "Finding Kern is not infallible just might mean something to us. Kern has annihilated us and Mike Marshall has no luck against any of their hitters."

It was only Minnesota's second victory in ten games against the Rangers and it snapped a five-game Texas winning streak against the Twins.

The Twins coasted into the bottom of the ninth inning with 4-2 lead and starter Paul Hartzell quickly cut down the first two batters

Then Richie Zisk singled and Mauch charged to the mound because the next hitter was rookie Pat Putnam, who had homered off Hartzell in the sev-

"I made up my mind Hartzell was not going to face Putnam again," said Mauch. "Then what happened just made me

The Rangers tied the score 4-4 with five straight singles off Marshall and Pete Redfern.

By DENNE H. FREEMAN Catcher Jim Sundberg's RBI single sent the game into extra innings

Kern came in to relieve Sparky Lyle who had earlier relieved starter Steve Comer. Kern was greeted with a lead off homer by Ken Landreaux in the top of the 12th. Butch Wynegar doubled. Lonnie Jackson walked, Bombo Rivera singled home the sixth run and John Castino squeezed in the seventh.

It was Kern's fifth loss against 12 wins. He was 8-9 at home before the loss to the Lefty Darrell Jackson evened his record at 4-4 in three innings of t two-hit relief.

"Our best chance is to get ahead of Kansas City before the Royals play California then hope they roll over California while we keep winning." said Mauch. The Twins send Dave Goltz. 14-10, against the Rangers' Fergie Jenkins, 13-13, in the second game of the four game series tonight.

CLAIMS PAID

NEW YORK (AP) - The Insurance Information Institute says the "property and casualty insurance industry responded to a record number of catastrophes in the first six months of 1979."

It says insurers paid claims of more than $600 million as a result of 30 catastrophes which affected parts of 41 states and the District of Columbia.

A catastrophe, says the institute, is "any occurrence from which the expected insured loss is likely to exceed $1 million. Catastrophes include hurricanes, tornadoes, hail, wind, ice, snow, freezing and other natural occurrences as well as explosions, fires and structural collapses.

POLLY'S POINTERS Polly Cramer Shower comes clean

DEAR POLLY — We would appreciate hearing how to clean the bottom of our glass fiber shower. Liquid cleansers take care of the walls of the enclosure but the floor always looks blotchy and dirty even though I have used many cleaners on it.

DEAR KAREN — The suggested cleaning for such showers is an ordinary household detergent for dayto-day cleaning. Use a nylon scrubber - never steel wool or harsh abrasives. Household ammonia or bleach can be used occasionally to remove minor stains. Dishwasher detergent is also good and will remove soap scum or mineral deposits. Do wear rubber gloves when using this strong detergent. —

POLLY

DEAR POLLY - When an electric coffee maker is used every day it needs a more thorough cleaning every couple of weeks. Fill coffee pot with cold water up to the highest cup level and add two tablespoons of a water conditioner. Place basket and stem in place, put the lid on it, plug it in and let it go through the entire perking cycle. Rinse thoroughly and dry. It will be like new. — MRS.T.W.

DEAR POLLY — When you break an egg and some of the shell drops into the raw egg remove it with a cotton swab. The shell sticks right to it and can be picked right

DEAR POLLY - and Leah - During the many years I was in the dry-cleaning business it was my privilege to coach a number of ladies in the repair and alterations department in the necessity for lubricating hand sewing thread. Some does come already waxed, but draw your thread over a clump of wax a couple of times and that will not only prevent tangles but keep the thread from wearing out before it is used up. Most housekeepers have paraffin handy but I prefer beeswax. — MRS. J.D.H.

DEAR READERS - Ethel wrote urging Leah to use beeswax. She says it is a must when one is doing applique work as the blind stitching stitches are so small. She buys this in a small plastic container at her sewing machine

Bosses' Salaries Jump

NEW YORK (AP) - A battle for talented managers is leading to sharply higher salaries in the executive suite, with incomes of some key people jumping 50 percent and even 60 percent at a

"Corporate America is on the biggest binge of hoarding and pirating key executives since the early 1960s," said Eugene Jennings, an authority on corporate affairs who has been tracking the situation.

The surge of increases isn't unique in U.S. industrial history, but it is pushing incomes to previously unheard of levels, and seems destined to make million-dollar incomes far more

"We'll see more millon dollar salaries in the next five years than we did in the previous ten," said Jennings. "The clear winners are top level executives with good records as general managers."

The condition leading to the higher salaries results from an economy in which some old-line companies are stagnated while newer concerns are forging ahead. Needing talent, the latter raid the former.

As an inducement, the expansion companies once offered 40 percent or a bit more to obtain from a stagnant company a key executive, usually a the manager of a corporate division, or even the corporation itself.

Now, with professional search firms adding to the pressure. the pot has been increased to as much as 60 percent of existing salaries. "Good general managers are scarce," said Jennings.

Jennings, a professor of management at Michigan State, author of many books on corporations, and confidential adviser to top corporate officials, has spent years tracking executive routes to success.

Intensifying the present battle, he believes, is the tenacity with which the stagnant corporations, the ones so often raided, are fighting to retain their best employees.

Once, said Jennings, they would fight to the extent of offering their key people up to 20 percent to 25 percent to turn down the raider's offer. Now, he said, many companies will go as high as 40 to 50.

Recognizing that their companies cannot move ahead without talented executives, many companies have developed contingency packages so alluring they make it almost impossible for an executive to

When the executive is likely to be tempted, the package is presented. Typically, it includes a long-term commitment to the executive and benefits designed to win the same commitment

"We are in the retaining end of a cycle," said Jennings. He spotted the beginnings of the cycle 2 or 21/4 year ago. At first the stagnant companies were caught off guard. Now they are fighting hard, he said.

Such sequences, he observes, develop whenever an economy is mixed, in the sense that some companies are in the forefront of expansion while others lag

"Whenever you have this situation you have talent on the move, crossing organizational

Roloff Welcomes 50

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) - Evangelist Lester Roloff welcomed 50 girls he called "prisoners of war" back to the fold and promised that a dispute with the State of Texas over licensing of his child-care centers would not send them away from him again.

The girls were among more than 180 who left his Rebekah Home for Girls last June after Roloff agreed to close the homes - rather than have the state do it for him - because he refused to apply for licenses from the Department of Human Resources.

"If there is another battle it would be on new grounds," Roloff said Thursday as he, the He said that involves about $5

"None of the homes are under the evangelistic ministry." Roloff said. They previously were under the control of Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises, Inc., which Roloff dissolved last Roloff's attorneys have declined to discuss details of the religious reorganization.

Roloff said the restructuring puts all holdings formerly under the evangelistic enterprise under the control of the church.

million worth of property.

Roloff claimed the reorganization makes the church legal custodian of the homes and should stop state officials from pursuing the license requirements because of constitutional questions involving church and state r relations.

"We are doing what we believe is the right thing to do," Roloff said. "We believe the church is free to take care of widows and children."

But officials with Texas Department of Human Resources are monitoring the situation, according to Attorney General Mark White. In a telephone interview from El Paso, White told the Corpus Christi Caller-

Times he wants to examine the situation closely before ordering any action.

DHR employees and Department of Public Safety Troopers had been assigned last June to carry out a court order closing home because Roloff would not permit state inspection or apply for state licenses for his three homes the Rebekah home and the Lighthouse Home for Boys here. and the Anchor Boys Home near

Roloff emphasized Thursday he has made no deal with the state, and said the homes would

Moms Influence Races

WASHINGTON (AP) - Only in America does a 47-year-old senator make headlines by saying he has his mother's permission to run for president.

Rose Kennedy's blessing to Ted has special poignancy in view of the Kennedy family history, but what of other candidates' mothers?

After all, who can run if Mom doesn't think he is right for the Franklin D. Roosevelt's mother, Sara, did her best to keep him out of politics, especially after he was crippled by polio. She lost, but it was a battle.

Harry Truman recalled in his memoirs, "My mother never tried to give me any advice as president ... She thought it was just the natural thing. It did not give her any ideas of grandeur. She was just the same mama she had always been."

In 1960, Richard Nixon quipped that his mother was probably the only one in America who didn't think her son might one day be president. But Hannah Nixon said that wasn't

She recalled that in 1934 she looked at a college picture of Richard and his classmates and told her husband, "In all that group he looks more like a president than any other.'

Today not every candidate's mother is crazy about her son's presidential ambitions.

Bernice Brown, mother of California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., says she has "mixedemotions" about it. She worries about an assassination. "There are so many crazy people out there," she says.

"Of course," she says, "if his father (former California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Sr.) had listened to me, he wouldn't have run for district attorney.

And in Humboldt, S.D., Antone Pressler, has misgivings. Her son, Larry, 37, elected a senator last November, is expected to announce as a Republican presidential candidate any day now.

"When Larry was home a few weeks ago," Mrs. Pressler says, "I told him I would like to see him wait until he's been a senator for a while longer."

If the current first mother, Lillian Carter, has qualms about Jimmy's second candidacy, she keeps them to herself. "I'll campaign if Jimmy runs." she says.

In 1976, she made 600 speeches for him and fumed over a newspaper story that said her chief contribution was to stay home and take care of

A Baker aide, in Washington, said: "She has no problem with it. She's always supported whatever he's done."

In Kennebunkport, Maine, Dorothy Bush, mother of Republican candidate George Bush, exercises the perogative of an 83-year-old woman and refuses to be interviewed.

She went on the announcement swing. And this summer, when George was having issue briefings at Kennebunkport that ran from 9 9 to 5, she sat in on all of them. She just doesn't want personal publicity."

Many of the other candidates and potential candidates, especially the older ones, have outlived their mothers. Only 11 mothers have lived to see their sons sworn in as president.

The mothers of Gerald R. Ford, Ronald Reagan, John Anderson, Harold Stassen and Benjamin Fernandez - declared or expected candidates - are dead. The mothers of John Connally and Philip Crane

Next Battlefield

The next world battlefield will be the farm.

It is entirely possible and increasingly likely that foodproducing nations will close ranks as oil-producing nations already have.

And any American policymaker who can't see this opportunity is wearing blinders! It could happen as soon as 10 years from now.

Any grotesque inequity eventually is its own undoing. U.S. farmers have been getting the short end of the stick for generations. They have failed to participate in the prosperity which they have created for the rest of us.

Heretofore they put up with it because the freewheeling. individualistic nature of the farmer resisted regimentation-even in his own interest.

That is changing. From 1952 to 1977 prices paid to farmers increased 6 percent. During those same years the cost of farming increased 122 percent! But they suffered the squeeze

because they had no viable alternative. Now they have.

The so-called "family farm" is being phased out in favor of the factory farm. Some of us might not prefer it that way, but that is the way it is. Family farms have decreased from 6.8 million in the Thirties to only 2.7 million today. That number will be down to one million in just five more years.

So--and this is significant-already 70 percent of all American farmland is owned by 15 percent of the landowners.

Five more years and 75 percent of all food production in the United States will be under direct corporate control.

Granted, Big Government could prevent a corporate farm monopoly even as it has prevented corporate industrial monopolies--but should it?

The rest of the world caught up with us in industrial production.

The rest of the world may never be able to feed itself without our help.

Beyond the horizon, overpopulated nations may learn to harvest the oceans but there's nothing like that in the foreseeable future.

As is, and for as far ahead as anybody can see, the United States. Canada, Argentina and Australia produce and can control 80 percent of the world's food grain supply.

Our arable soil will not last forever; fertility depletes eventually as surely as oil reserves

We have altogether as much right as the oil-exporting nations to demand a fairer price for our major cash crop. We have no more moral obligation to feed the world than they have to fuel the world. Further, exhausting our fertility in an effort to feed others diminishes their incentive to feed themselves.

The next war will be between the stork and the plow. The battlefield will be the farm.

Panhellenic Assn. Slates Installation

The Hereford Panhellenic Association has scheduled a meeting for Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the First National Bank Community Room.

During this meeting there will be the installation of 1979-80 officers and the distribution of club yearbooks.

Any women who were collegiate members of Greekletter sororities are invited to attend the club's meeting.
