South Texas evacuees wait out rains

By SYDNEY RUBIN Associated Press Writer

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — With the National Guard on standby and more rain predicted for far South Texas, about 170 people evacuated from homes threatened by rising water waited in church shelters to see what new damage the downpour would bring.

At St. Cecilia's Catholic Church in Los Fresnos, one of two church shelters in the community 15 miles north of Brownsville, Lucky Richardson stood in the drizzle Tuesday and wondered how he'd reconstruct his life on $120.

"My whole house is under water," said Richardson, 51, an unemployed longshoreman and father of two small children.

Richardson said he last worked two weeks ago and will receive a paycheck for $120 on Friday.

"I can't even fix my car for that. And without transportation I can't look for work and I'm sure enough in a fix," he said.

Inside St. Cecilia's and down the water-covered street at the First Baptist Church, other flood victims had similar stories.

Officials began evacuating residents at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday from their homes near the cities of Los Fresnos, Bayview and Arroyo City, said John Castillo, spokesman for the Cameron County Sheriff's Department.

Three small school districts in the area with a total enrollment of 3,700 students were closed.

About 20 miles to the east, officials on South Padre Island closed the city to all non-emergency traffic as the main street filled with 4 feet of water and winds gusted to 50 miles per hour.

Officials said they had no plans to evacuate the island, but residents were advised to stay indoors and visitors were told to stay away.

About a dozen Department of Public Safety troopers worked throughout the day with county and local police evacuating residents stranded along farmroads in eastern

Moisture to continue

Cameron and Willacy counties where the heaviest rains fell.

Lt. James Smith said the situation was "not too bad" Tuesday night, but "if it continues to rain like this and the canals fill up and overflow then we have a problem."

"Another 12 hours will tell us something."

Smith said troopers from Brownsville, McAllen and Harlingen would work through the night and that the National Guard was on standby.

An evacuation center was opened in Brownsville Tuesday night to receive residents of low-lying neighborhoods who police said might need to be evacuated.

Richard Hagan, National Weather Service meteorologist in Brownsville, said the extremely heavy rain was caused by a Canadian cold front that stalled just off the coast of South Texas.

Forecasters were calling for more rain today.

"We're in for trouble," he said. "The ground is already saturated and anything else that falls will run off."

Between 3 a.m. Sunday and 4 p.m. Tuesday, Brownsville had received 12.5 inches of rain. About 12.6 inches fell on Harlingen and 12 inches in South Padre Island, according to the National Weather Service.

Late Tuesday, an Airforce reconnaissance plane was dispatched to the northwestern Gulf of Mexico to look for circulating winds associated with the front.

Officials said the front would do little to relieve drought-stricken Corpus Christi to the north.

Light showers fell at the Corpus Christi airport and scattered patches of rain were reported throughout the city. But by Tuesday night no rain had fallen in the Nueces watershed, which provides water for the city.

Hospital budget gets approved

By REED PARSELL Managing Editor

Complete with a 31 percent tax increase, the 1984-1985 budget for Deaf Smith General Hospital was approved Tuesday afternoon by the DSGH board of directors.

Also, board members learned plans for renovation work are proceeding and a large payment from Medicare was received in August, a month Administrator James Bullard

Includes 31 percent tax rate hike felt was very good for the hospital.

The budget calls for property taxes to be raised from 9.8 cents to 12.8 cents per $100 valuation. At a tax rate hearing Sept. 5, Fred Fox of the Deaf Smith County Appraisal District said someone with a home valued at $30,000 would be paying about $4.50 more in hospital taxes as a result of the hike.

In addition to renovation work, the raise was prompted by bad debt and indigent care losses. As projected in the budget, 20 percent of the DSGH revenue from patients is not to be collected due to those unable to pay their bills (indigent care - 7 percent) and those who simply will not pay (bad debt - 13 percent).

Figuring in the 20 percent loss, which amounts to around $981,000, the projected hospital revenue is $4,461,155. Expenses total $4,456,664, which leaves a net margin of $4,491 in the black.

"Our goal is to better than that," Bullard said, referring specifically to the 20 percent revenue losses.

Board member Charles Allison pointed out there were some expenses which he thought could be reduced, including employee benefits and pathology. He also said the hiring of a person - possibly a certified public accountant - to oversee billing might increase bad debt amounts.

"I don't feel we need to have an extra person," responded Ina Walk, recently-hired business manager. "We're making a lot of changes in the front office. We've got a lot of cleaning up to do, and you can't do all that overnight."

Walk stated that if accounts received records did not show improvement over the next year, "You'll need to look for someone to replace me."

Earlier, board member Eddie Reinauer expressed doubt much could be done to lessen the bad debt and indigent care burdens. "I think we ought to do everything we can," he said, "but I'm not optimistic about it." He claimed his own business has similar problems for which remedies have not been found. dent School District board of directors, which seeks advice on what capital improvements should be made from the $1.3 million available.

Bill Townsend, board president, told HISD directors Tuesday evening to indicate within a week which clubs they would like to address. He introduced the plan a week earlier during a special meeting of the board.

To help with the club presentations, photographic slides are being taken of various HISD activities. According to Dr. Harrell Holder, district superintendent, the pictures and musical accompaniment are to be a completed package in about two weeks.

The cost of the project, Townsend assured a questioning member of the audience, would probably be no more than for the color film. Personnel within HISD would perform the work, he said, and any expenses would be taken from the capital improvements budget.

Among the renovation work being considered by the board is remodeling of Shirley Intermediate School and the Hereford High School offices. Decisions also need to be made about air conditioning of buildings and whether the two junior high schools should be consolidated, thereby making HHS for ninth through 12th graders.

Meanwhile Tuesday, Marc Williamson presented board members with written explanations of the new tutorial program and mastery learning concept. The assistant superintendent for instruction explained tutorial services would be offered beginning with the seventh week of school.

"It's a state-mandated program," Williamson said, "but we'd like to have it run as efficiently as possible." Sessions are to be held after classes, 45 minutes long and have no more than 10 students. At first, Williamson explained, only students not mastering objectives in any major department are to be assigned tutors.

Instructors are to receive $10 per session for tutoring. Though Williamson hopes there will be enough volunteers to field the program on a rotating basis, he said assignments will be made should not enough teachers step forward.

The administrator's mastery learning explanation, Williamson said, should be considered as a rough draft to be later refined as a policy document.

Tax collection for the 1983-1984 school budget year ran at 94.17 percent, according to Larry Wartes, assistant HISD superintendent. "This is really above average," he said, adding the previous year's percentage was between 93 and 94.

School enrollment is down 143 students from Sept. 19, 1983, according to a monthly report. The district's nine schools had, as of Monday, 4,849 students. That figure does represent, however, a jump of 11 from the previous Monday.

Total current enrollment at the six elementary schools was listed at an even 2,600. Of the three primary (kindergarten through third grade)

Furr's out to sell beer, wine

Furr's Supermarket applied for a beer and wine sales permit Tuesday, becoming the first major grocery store in Hereford to do so.

According to David Ruland, Deaf Smith County clerk, the store can only sell beer and wine if it wishes to remain open to customers under the age of 18. Stores which sell liquor cannot allow people younger than 18 to enter their places of business unless accompanied by a parent.

The permit hearing for Furr's is set for Tuesday in the office of Glen Nelson, county judge. It is to be the 22nd such hearing since the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption was legalized April 7. Ruland said all the permits and liquor licenses so far asked for have been granted.

Among the places beer, wine or liquor can be obtained locally are convenience stores, a motel and the drive-up window of a local restaurant.

Damage to Buick reported

More than $200 damage was done at around 8:30 p.m. Tuesday to a 1954 Buick owned by Aurelio (Leo) Iregas of 209 Brevard, Hereford police reported this morning.

The vandalism occurred outside his Leo's Cafe, located at 143 N. Main.

Police also looked into the theft of a $200 refrigerator and $25 heater from an apartment rented by Margaret Osborn, 100 Westhaven. Osborn told police she is considering filing charges against the 310 W. Fifth St. tenant who she believes stole her property.

Meanwhile, police made only one arrest Tuesday, with it being for public intoxication. Among the incidents investigated were one piece of lost keys, minor theft and vandalism.

There were also three non-injury motor vehicle accidents which occurred within city limits Tuesday.

Doggett accuses Gramm

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Democratic U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett has hurled the first of "five smooth stones" aimed at felling opponent Phil Gramm, claiming the Republican has waged war on the school children of Texas.

But Gramm volleyed back Tuesday, denying the charges and claiming he is ahead in the race because he's run a better campaign.

Gramm's spokesman, Larry Neal, denied his candidate is against public education.

"He knows full well the value of education. He consistently supports education. It's a creative absurdity to say otherwise," Neal said.

But Doggett, in a news conference Tuesday in San Antonio, continued to compare Gramm to Goliath and himself to David in the biblical story. Doggett said the education issue is just one of "five smooth stones" he will use to fell the Goliath in the race.

Myra McDaniel takes oath

AUSTIN (AP) — Myra A. McDaniel's taking the oath of office as secretary of state, the first black to hold the post, was a "momentous, historic, outstanding, wonderful occasion" state Rep. Wilhelmina Delco said.

Speaking at the swearing-in ceremony Tuesday, Ms. Delco saluted Gov. Mark White for putting qualifications first in making the appointment.

"She is outstanding and qualified and she happens to be black and female," said Ms. Delco, D-Austin.

Mrs. McDaniel said she believes her appointment as the state's top elections officer shows that "Texas has always been and still is a frontier post for people of all races and creeds. Here we have government by the people, not by the selected few."

After taking the oath in a Senate chamber crowded with family, friends and state officials, she said, "My aim during my time in office is to be a good public servant in the best of that term."

Mrs. McDaniel, 51, will direct a 225-employee agency with an $8 million budget.

State Department expects release

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Sherman was steaming today toward an international rendezvous in the Bering Sea, where Soviet authorities were supposed to turn over five American seamen who had been held for more than a week.

John Hughes, the State Department spokesman, said the cutter could reach the rendezvous spot at midday, and that the actual transfer of the Americans could take place today or Thursday. He said the time of day and weather conditions would be a factor in the timing.

The Sherman is a 378-foot vessel that was diverted from its routine patrol in the Bering Sea to the exchange area located between St. Lawrence Island and the Chukotsk Peninsula.

Hughes said it wasn't determined where the Americans, all residents of Homer, Alaska, would be taken once they were free. But he said the Soviets also would be delivering their boat, a supply vessel called the Frieda K, and the Americans might want to resume their mission that was interrupted when they were taken into custody on Wednesday.

Richardson turned back

BOSTON (AP) — Democratic Rep. Gerry Studds, censured for a homosexual affair with a teen-age page, said his easy renomination made for a "wonderful" night, while former U.S. Attorney General Elliot Richardson told his victorious Republican Senate primary opponent to "go for it."

Meanwhile, Oklahoma voters narrowly approved an amendment Tuesday to the state constitution making it the last state in the union to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink, and unofficial results had Will E. "Bill" Crozier narrowly winning the Republican runoff for U.S. Senate over George L. Mothershead. He'll face Democratic Sen. David Boren in the November election.

In Washington state, moderate timber tycoon Booth Gardner poured $500,000 of his personal fortune into his campaign and swamped liberal state Sen. Jim McDermott to grab the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Studds, a six-term incumbent, was considered nearly unbeatable in Cape Cod's 10th District until he was censured last summer for having had a homosexual affair with a 17-year-old House page in 1973.

Britain, China agree on future

PEKING (AP) — After two years of bargaining, Britain and China today announced completion of a draft agreement on how Peking will regain sovereignty over Hong Kong when the 99-year British lease on the colony expires in 1997.

Spokesmen for both countries said their negotiators had agreed on the text of an accord on the transfer of Hong Kong and had submitted it to their governments.

Final differences over nationality, land sales and aviation were resolved by members of a working group which worked feverishly to meet China's deadline for completion of an agreement by the end of September.

Asked if all disputed issues were resolved, a British source said: "We couldn't have submitted draft texts otherwise."

Immediate reaction was favorable in Hong Kong, where the Hang Seng Stock Market Index rose 8.87 points. Uncertainty over the colony's future adversely affected the property market, stocks and the Hong Kong dollar during the negotiations, which began in September 1982.

Mine found almost new

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A mine found by the British in the Gulf of Suez is "almost brand new" and may have been part of the attempt to disrupt shipping in the Red Sea this summer, Egypt's defense minister said today.

The minister, Abdel-Halim Abu-Ghazala, said he expected the mine would be pulled out of the water later today and then examined to determine its origin.

Abu-Ghazala, speaking to reporters at an air base northwest of Cairo, said the British and Egyptians "have an underwater film which shows it's a modern mine, almost brand new."

For this reason, he said, "I believe it may be one of the mines that caused the explosions (in the Red Sea)."

Underwater explosions in the sea and its northwestern fork, the Gulf of Suez, damaged at least 18 ships between July 9 and Aug. 15. Egypt has said it suspected Libya and possibly Iran of responsibility. The two countries denied involvement.

Britain, the United States, France and Italy sent mine-hunting units to Egypt to search Red Sea waters. The French found and detonated a mine last Friday but said it was from the 1973 Arab-Israeli war and was not linked to the recent series of explosions.

By STEVE ROBRAHN Associated Press Writer

President Reagan's plan to aid debt-ridden farmers was praised as "innovative and positive" by some farm groups, while others said it was an election-year ploy that skirts the problems of high interest rates and low prices for farm goods.

The four-point program announced Tuesday called for deferring portions of federal farm loans, accelerated processing of new government loans, federal guarantees for private loans and financial advice for farmers at the local level.

Wayne Walker, head of the Des Moines, Iowa-based National Pork Producers Council, said the directive to the Farmers Home Administration to defer up to 25 percent of the principal and interest on government loans for five years was especially good news.

"For the first time the administration has given us something we can get our teeth into," Walker said. "Instead of talking about the problem, they are talking about the solutions."

Some farmers took the president's plan with a grain of salt.

"The election is coming up," said Wendell Ebright, 68, who farms about 1,000 acres with his son near Lyons, Kan. "I think that in a couple of more months we'll see why he did this."

Reagan, in announcing the plan, denied that it was motivated by politics.

"I know none of you standing on the other side of the table are going to believe this," the president told reporters, "it wasn't done with that in mind, it was done because people out there need help."

Many farm leaders took a wait-and-see approach to the announcement.

"In terms of some kind of short-term help for farmers who are really pressed it's a good first step," said

Missouri Farm Bureau spokesman Bob Hitzhusen.

But Hitzhusen said only about 12 percent of the nation's farmers borrowed from the Farmers Home Administration. The main question was whether private banks would participate in the loan guarantee program, which would be backed by $630 million in federal money, he said.

Doyle D. Rahjes, president of the Kansas Farm Bureau, called the program "innovative and positive," based on preliminary details.

"There are still many unanswered questions, but the program appears to provide a balanced approach that should truly help those farms who use the program to restructure their debt and generate a positive cash flow," Rahjes said.

"This should be very attractive for farm producers wrestling with double digit interest and increasing principal payments," Rahjes said of the private loan guarantees.

"I would be very surprised if the $630 million Farmers Home is allocating will be enough to meet the demand."

David Ostendorf, spokesman for Rural America, a non-profit farm group based in Iowa, criticized the provision to guarantee private loans.

"The whole notion of throwing $630 million at the farm crisis is ludicrous at best," Ostendorf said. "In Iowa we've got a $17.5 billion farm debt, at least half of which we feel is troubled debt."

Without boosting farm income, Ostendorf said, "the whole notion of debt restructuring is useless."

Mondale calls star wars plan 'Madness'

By WILLIAM M. WELCH Associated Press Writer

President Reagan is taking his reelection campaign out of the White House today as Walter F. Mondale hits at the president on arms control, saying his "star wars" nuclear defense plan is "madness" and that Reagan wants to tear up the anti-ballistic missile treaty with the Soviets.

Reagan was heading out on his first campaign trip of the week, to Connecticut and New Jersey. He planned to venture into the farm belt Thursday, the way smoothed by Tuesday's announcement of a program to help debt-ridden farmers with loan guarantees and repayment deferrals on some government loans.

The week's theme for both Mondale and his Democratic running mate Geraldine Ferraro, however, has been not farms, but arms.

"Mr. Reagan, you may try to hide your tax plan until after the election," the Democratic presidential nominee told students at the University of Southern California on Tuesday. "... But don't duck the question of nuclear life or death."

"Every president for 25 years has negotiated arms control agreements with the Soviets. And Mr. Reagan has said every single one of them is wrong," Ms. Ferraro said in

Reagan shuns steel quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, resisting election-year pressure to limit steel imports, has devised a limited voluntary program to help the depressed

U.S. steel industry fight overseas competition.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., which had sought import quotas and tariffs in a complaint to the U.S. International Trade Commission, called Reagan's program "a major step" to help the steel industry.

U.S. Steel Corp. Chairman David Roderick said it showed "a resolve to rectify" the industry's plight.

Reagan's 10-point plan, announced Tuesday, includes stepped-up enforcement of existing unfair trade laws and negotiated voluntary agreements with nations that have sharply increased steel shipments to the United States.

The so-called "surge control" arrangements are to be worked out with countries that are subsidizing imports, dumping them at discounted prices, or diverting them to the United States.

American steel importers, meanwhile, said the president's "wise decision" would benefit the nation's consumers, in addition to farmers and manufacturers who export their products.

"The president has put the interests of the many ahead of those of the few," said Ernst Wimpfheimer.

agricultural interests had voiced concern that limiting steel imports would draw retaliation against U.S. farm exports.

A CBS-New York Times poll out today showed Reagan leading Mondale by 22 points, 57 percent to 35 percent, with a three-point margin of error work is to be done are being finalized, Bullard told the board, by architect Jack Nottingham. Bids should be sought, he thought, in the next couple of weeks.

"We've had several contractors call us who are interested in being the general contractor for the project," Bullard said. Approximately $250,000 has been set aside by the hospital board for remodeling during the coming fiscal year, which debuts Oct. 1.

Medicare sent DSGH a check for about $123,000 last month, Bullard reported, thanks in part to local physicians updating their medical charts. The administrator said Medicare payments in September, though, will be around 25 percent of what is owed the hospital due to the federal program running out of money.

However, DSGH should be given either way. CBS said the GOP ticket led in every region and among every age group, and that one of every four Democrats back Reagan.

Mondale aides said their private polling put the Reagan lead at 12 percentage points, but an NBC News poll had Reagan up by 30 points.

ing up 70 percent of steel imports. But Reagan said that the commission's proposal would "put at risk thousands of jobs in steel fabricating and other consuming industries."

The president said other sectors of the economy such as agriculture might be affected by retaliatory measures if quotas were imposed on foreign steel.

U.S. Trade Representative Bill Brock said the steel industry has failed to modernize despite years of trade protection.

"We just simply have not gotten competitive in the United States and it's time we did," Brock said at a briefing.

The domestic steel industry has been pressing the ITC and Congress for an across-the-board global quota limiting steel imports to 15 percent of the U.S. market.

The Reagan plan would bring imports down to an 18.5 percent market share, or 20 percent including the semi-finished steel purchased mainly by domestic steel companies.

"You're always disappointed in a negotiation. I don't think anybody ever gets everything that he wants," said Bethlehem Steel Chairman Donald Trautlein.

the remaining 75 percent or so in October, the first month of Medicare's budgetary year, Bullard said.

Last month was a success for DSGH, Bullard claimed while giving his operating report. "August is probably as good a month as we've had patient day-wise," he said, pointing out a 35.9 average. "So far this month, September should be excellent."

Physicians have shown they are doing "a superb job" this budget year, Bullard said, by caring for more patients than in 1982-1983 (2,274 to 2,253) yet holding the total number of patient days down from 10,995 to 9,821.

schools, Aikman had 519, Northwest 563 and Tierra Blanca 458. Figures for the intermediate (fourth through sixth grade) institutions were 331 for Bluebonnet, 408 for West Central and 321 for Shirley.

La Plata and Stanton Junior High Schools posted enrollments of 554 and 586, respectively. Hereford High School was said to have 925 students signed up for the current year.

Board members agreed to accept a bid from Stan Byrnes Chrysler-Dodge for a 15-passenger van. Its $13,982.85 price tag was almost $1,000 less than the only other bid, which was turned in by Hereford Ford Lincoln Mercury Inc.

Welcoming Guests

Troyce Hanna, president of the local Church Women United, (at right) is pictured welcoming two guest speakers during the organization's meeting held Monday in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church. From left are Lucille Wilson, chairman for the 1985 state assembly, and Mickey Gergeni, state president of CWU. Both women are from Amarillo.

CWU state president, chairman welcomed

Church Women United in Hereford met Monday in Ward parlor of First United Methodist Church to welcome their state president, Mickey Gergeni, and the 44th State Assembly chairperson, Lucille Wilson, both of Amarillo.

Troyce Hanna, local president, presented each with a token of appreciation.

Ms. Gergeni and 62 Texans joined 2,800 participants at the 16th Ecumenical Assembly of Church Women United, held on the campus of Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind. in July.

In her message Mrs. Gergeni said that women from 62 nations participated in the Assembly including Ghana, Nigeria, El Salvador and Central America, Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Inspired by the Assembly theme, "Come Build a New Earth: Pieces to Peace," women of different ages, races, religious traditions, economic and cultural backgrounds gathered with a common purpose - to seek solutions that will restore wholeness to a world torn by injustice and violence.

Mrs. Gergeni told about the "peace ribbon" that Church Women United throughout the world are making. Yard long segments are being made by all units, member churches and some individuals-which are sewn together to make a ribbon that will be "tied" around the Pentagon during demonstrations planned for August, 1985, on the 40th anniversary of the bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The ribbon is to serve as a "gentle reminder to the nation that we love the earth and its people." For more information on how to make the ribbon, you may contact Troyce Hanna, 364-1932.

Segments already finished were joined together and weaved around the beautifully lighted fountain in a candle-lit procession on the Purdue Mall at the conclusion of the program. Texas brought their part of the ribbon back to Houston until August, 1985 when they will take it to the pentagon. More segments from Texas are expected.

The Peace Museum of Chicago has agreed to become the repository for the ribbon after it is tied around the Pentagon. The museum, the first of its kind in the nation, hopes to create greater public awareness of the need for peace and greater public involvement in the efforts to achieve it.

Lucille Wilson announced that the '85 State Assembly will convene in Amarillo, Sept. 26 and will include workshops, inspiration, singing, fun and fellowship.

Dr. Doris Anne Younger of New York, general director of Church Women United, will give the keynote address enlarging on the theme, "We Are Made New By His Love," Rev. Frank Dietz, executive director, will explain "What Texas Conference of Churches Means"; and Diane Bosh of the Amarillo Police Department will speak on "Child Abuse," a major concern for Church Women United.

A short business meeting, an election and installation of new offices will conclude the Assembly activities.

VFW Auxiliary meets

The ladies of the VFW Auxiliary met Monday evening for a barbecue rib dinner at the VFW Hall.

The group gave two afghans to Vicky Yokum and Jim Shaw. The business meeting was called to order by Marta Williams, president. The ladies decided to have two regular meetings a month starting in October. The meetings will be the first and third Monday of each month.

Plans were also discussed to have a garage sale on Sept. 29 at the VFW Hall.

Members present were Williams,

Helen Bishop, Betty Boggs, Doris Coffin, Marie Goheen, Frances Green, Maisie Heath, Dora Lee Howell, Essie Martin, Erma Murphy, Lillie Muller, Edith Richardson, Doris Wilson, Mabel Yokum, Vicky Yokum and Leone Buckley.

The next meeting will be Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. in VFW Hall.

Meeting honors long-time HISD cafeteria employees

Hereford Independent School District cafeteria employees gathered Monday evening for a salad supper at the high school for the first meeting of the new school year.

Bluebonnet Elementary hosted the meeting which honored Roberta Royal and Dora Barnett, long-time employees who retired in August. Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent, and Trudie Gray, cafeteria supervisor, spoke briefly.

Royal started working at La Plata Junior High in 1968. She transferred to Shirley Elementary in 1969 and then to Bluebonnet in 1971 where she remained until she retired.

Barnett began working in the Shirley Cafeteria in 1977 after substituting for a little while. She resigned as manager of the Shirley cafeteria in 1978 and went to work for Bluebonnet where she remained until she retired.

The two honorees accepted money trees from their co-workers and gifts from the Bluebonnet teaching and cafeteria staffs. Sixty individuals attended the meeting.

The next meeting will be Oct. 15 in the high school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. with La Plata hosting.

Smell The Roses

The Hereford Whiteface Breakfast Kiwanis Club donated 25 roses to the Hereford Garden Club earlier in the summer. The roses have bloomed throughout the summer but have been particularly beautiful this past week. With the roses

Garden Club views roses during meeting

The Hereford Garden Club began its new year at the Garden Center on Friday with Mrs. H.R. Coconougher and Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. acting as hostesses.

The Garden Center Garden was toured by the members so that they could view the 25 new roses in bloom which were donated to the club by the Hereford Whiteface Breakfast Kiwanis Club. The club invites the public to go by and see the roses.

Yearbooks were also distributed and the coming programs on design, color and horticulture were discussed. The members talked about the needed repairs on the Garden Center house.

Meredith Wilcox spoke briefly about the Opportunity Plan with the club voting to give $500 to the plan rather than to a local scholarship.

Members present were Mrs. Ben Childers, Mrs. R.L. Ethridge, Mrs.

Art Stoy, Wilcox, Mrs. Clinton Jackson, Hill and Coconougher.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Alfred Smith. The club invites anyone interested in gardening or interested in becoming a member to attend the meetings.

CUT COSTS AND SURVIVE
 RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A company's survival chances are better during rough periods if it reduces working capital when possible, becomes stricter with accounts receivable and improves inventory management. Harry E. Figgie Jr., chairman of Figgie International, says these are three of the most important steps a firm having financial difficulties should take. He says another good move is to sell off or close down marginally profitable or red ink operations.

Following Friday's loss

Pressure on Herd

By DENNIS BALL
Sports Editor

Two straight 21-0 setbacks for the Hereford Whitefaces, including last week's thumping in the District 3-5A opener, adds pressure to win for Hereford High School coach Jerry Taylor and the Whitefaces when they meet Lubbock Friday night at Lubbock's Lowery Field.

"If we were to lose Friday against Lubbock High," Taylor said, "I don't see a real shot at winning district. But we can play better than we exemplified Friday against Palo Duro."

The Herd's offensive attack last week was held in check most of the night—the ground game to figuratively zero effectiveness and the passing game to literally zero effectiveness. Hereford gained 92 yards of total offense, all of it on the ground. Quarterback Mike Scott, who started the second half, threw the only completion for Hereford. But the pass picked up no yardage.

Looking at the statistics, Palo Duro appears to have completely dominated the Whitefaces. The Dons turned in 378 yards of total offense, more than four times Hereford's output.

However, Taylor knew his defense's performance was better than the stats indicate.

Without the big scoring plays, the ball game was a little closer statistically.

Palo Duro's Richard Owens scored in the second quarter on a 73-yard run. Gerry Smith scored twice, also on big-yardage plays—a 45-yard run and a 45-yard pass reception from Cal Hero.

"You take away their long runs, and our defense played pretty well," Taylor said. "We were having minor breakdowns on defense, but nothing as major as our offensive problems."

Former 'Poke gets probation

DALLAS (AP) — Former Dallas Cowboys lineman John Niland has been sentenced to one year of probation after pleading no contest to a misdemeanor charge of assaulting his girlfriend in June.

Niland, 40, entered the plea Monday before County Criminal Court Judge Mike Schwille, who assessed the maximum probationary term.

Niland was charged with causing bodily injury to Marilyn Merryman on June 5 by kicking her and hitting her with his fists.

In an affidavit, Ms. Merryman said the incident occurred during an argument. She said the matter did not belong in criminal court and that she no longer wanted Niland prosecuted.

The conviction is the third in the past year for Niland, a former All-Pro offensive guard with the Cowboys. He also has been convicted of misdemeanor theft and cocaine possession, for which he is on 10 years' probation.

Canada winners 'world champs'

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Champions of the world, holders of the Canada Cup, heroes of a nation. That's what the players on Team Canada have to brag about.

But what did winning the six-nation tournament which replaced the World Championships this year really mean to the players?

"It proved that we have more heart than any other athletes in the world," said Mike Bossy of the New York Islanders. "I'm not knocking anyone but to come up with the effort we did against the Russians and Swedes... it's an experience no one will ever forget."

The Canadians had been blasted for their mediocre 2-2-1, fourth-place finish in the round-robin portion of the event. But then they came together, stunned the Olympic champion Soviets 3-2 in overtime in the semifinals and swept the best-of-three finals from Sweden.

The clincher came Tuesday night, a 6-5 cliffhanger in which Canada led 5-0 in the first period and 6-1 in the second. But the gutsy Swedes rallied and, if not for the superb relief work of goaltender Reggie Lemelin, might have come away with a victory.

"You have to give management credit," noted John Tonelli, another Islander, who was named the tournament's most valuable player. "They came up with the right game plan and the right players and got them to play the right system. We all found ways to do it."

"Our defense hung in there and played them hard."

Linebacker Lee Brockman made a total of 17 tackles against the Dons, eight unassisted. Defensive end Augustine Castillo had nine tackles. Both were commended for their defensive play by Taylor, who said he was looking forward to watching them play this week.

"Lee will play Friday night" in spite of an injured ankle, Taylor said. "He is a super leader."

"And I would have to say Augustine Castillo played very, very consistently. That's what we're looking for—someone who plays consistently more than someone who occasionally makes the big plays."

Offensively, however, the Herd looked as though it were doing a repeat performance of last week. Only the characters' individual parts had changed, and some of it pleased Taylor.

"Alan Dudding improved his running considerably from a week ago," Taylor said. "I thought Casey Smith also improved his blocking considerably from a week ago."

Dudding picked up 82 yards on 13 carries, some of it off tackle behind Smith's blocking.

Quarterback Stefan Hacker, starting his first varsity game, passed five times but completed none. The coach hopes that Hacker has the jitters out of his system now, because he said Hacker may play again at quarterback against Lubbock.

"Mike is still really sore," he said. "I am concerned whether he will play Friday."

Taylor said Hacker looked good at times, especially at punter.

At this time last year, Hereford's record was the reciprocal of 1984's. The Whitefaces were 2-0 after beating Pampa 27-8 and Canyon 33-0.

"You've got to remember that last year we had beaten two Class 4A schools the first two games," Taylor said. "We've played two very fine football teams this year, and I wouldn't want to play somebody who was any easier."

"We'll be fine."

Ali to undergo more neurological tests

NEW YORK (AP) — Former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali checked into Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday night to undergo further neurological tests.

A hospital spokeswoman said Ali had been admitted.

Ali, who left the hospital last Tuesday after a five-day stay, had been in West Germany on a business trip. He flew from London to New York Tuesday and told well-wishers at Kennedy International Airport: "I'm in a good shape. I'm a little tired, but I'm in good shape."

On Monday, a television interviewer in Frankfurt, West Germany, quoted Dr. Martin Ecker, who was traveling with Ali, as saying the retired fighter has "minor symptoms" of Parkinson's Disease.

Ecker, who accompanied Ali on his return to New York, said in the interview that the former champion would undergo further tests.

Ali, 42, was quoted as saying in the interview, "I always feel tired but don't feel pain at all... I don't know exactly what it is."

His speech has been slurred and slow for the past two years.

Merck's Manual of Diagnosis and Therapy, a reference book for physicians, listed "cerebral trauma" as one of many possible causes for Parkinson's Disease.

Dr. Kenneth Bergmann, assistant professor of neurology at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, said after Ali's hospital visit last week that Parkinson's Disease is one of many neurologic maladies under the umbrella of Parkinsonism.

The disease is a degenerative brain disorder that can eventually leave its victim totally incapacitated. In most cases, the cause is unknown.

Winless since '80

'Little guy' loses 35

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

If you root for the little guys, the downtrodden, the underdogs, then you have to like the football team at tiny Marietta College.

Playing 100 miles or so up the road from the big boys at Ohio State, the Pioneers lug the nation's longest losing streak and longest winless streak into action each Saturday. They have lost 29 consecutive games and have not won a game in the last 35 — since Sept. 27, 1980.

Last year's 0-9 team was outscored 327-37 in Ohio Athletic Conference games and, in fact, the school's soccer team has outscored the football squad in two of the last three seasons.

The albatross of all those negative numbers hangs heavy at this little liberal arts school, except in the office of Coach Mike Holloway, who recruited 50 freshman after last season and starts 14 of them each week.

"It's not their burden," Holloway said as he prepared his young team for Saturday's game against Mount Union in Alliance, Ohio. "They did not lose all those games."

Neither did Holloway. He came to Marietta last year, too late to recruit for that season, and struggled through the winless year. Then he went shopping for new faces, without benefit of athletic scholarships which are barred in Division III. He sold prospects on the academic quality of the college rather than the dreary record of the team.

In this year's opener, Marietta lost to Otterbein, 10-6. A year ago, the score of that game was 45-14. Last week, it was Capital University 34, Marietta 21, a substantial improvement on the 41-7 thumping Holloway's team absorbed in this game a year ago. What's more, the 21 points were the most Marietta has scored in any game since 1979, a year before the losing streak began.

Holloway sees the progress. "We are much more competitive," he said. "But as soon as you accept being close and being mediocre, the results will be just that, close and mediocre. We want more than that."

Marietta's players practice three hours a day, watch scouting films and have playbooks, just like the big boys. "We do the same kind of preparation, if not with the same kind of time," says Holloway.

"There are certain essentials we hold on to. The games have to be important to our players. Come Saturday, the difference (between Division I and Division III football) is not significant at all. It's exactly the same. The environment may be changed. The emotions are the same."

Pavin, O'Meara lead golf field

Richest tourney underway in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A seasonal goal is very much within reach of rookie Corey Pavin this week, and a much more ambitious target is an outside possibility for Mark O'Meara in the richest tournament on the pro golf tour.

The Panasonic Las Vegas Invitational, carrying a total purse of $1,122,500 with $162,000 to the winner, began today under a five-day, 90-hole on four courses.

The biggest purse on the Tour and the biggest winner's share figure very prominently in the goals for both Pavin and O'Meara.

Pavin, a winner in Houston earlier this year, has won $227,917 for the season and is within $9,517 of Hal Sutton's money-winning record for a rookie.

"It's kind of a goal I've set for myself. It's a target, something I'd like to achieve. I'd hoped to do it by the World Series (of Golf). Now I'm hoping to make it this week," Pavin said. He needs a finish of 25th or better.

O'Meara, a four-time runner-up this season, scored his first career victory last Sunday in Milwaukee and now has his sights set on the absent Tom Watson, the year's money-winning lead and a possible shot at Player of the Year.

"I know it's unlikely. But it's not entirely out of the question," O'Meara said. "To do it, I'd just about have to win here."

Not only would that put him in the lead on the money list, it would break Watson's all-time single season record and place O'Meara in contention on the complicated points list from which the Player of the Year is chosen. O'Meara took over second place on the money list when he pushed his earnings to $370,236 with his Milwaukee victory.

He is in a bulky field of 176 pros, including PGA champion Lee Trevino, along with Tom Kite and Cal Peete, who are engaged in a struggle for the low scoring average. Peete now leads 70.76 to Kite's 70.83. Kite also is involved in the money-winning and Player of the Year races, both of which are led by Watson.

Football deadline extended at YMCA

Flag football registration at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA for boys in grades one through six should have ended Monday, but according to an announcement by general director Weldon Knabe, the deadline is being extended.

Boys who may have missed the opportunity to register have until Thursday at 5 p.m. to do so.

No exact number was released as to the number of spots open, so Knabe said the number of boys who may register will be on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Bowling

Bowling's Bowl has one loss

Bowling's Bowl stands at 7-1 and is leading the Strikettes bowling league by one game this week.

Property Enterprises is a close second at 6-2, followed by four teams at 5-3. Mechanical Techniques, Quality Answering Service, Hereford Concrete and A.A. Diesel are tied for third.

Geneva Kirkpatrick turned in the high women's game of the week, a 194. Her score was followed by Pat Fowler's 180 and Carleta Harkins' 179.

For high game with handicap, Carleta Harkins 241 led the field. Lorrie Boyett had a 231, and Tommie Fowler a 229.

In high-series competition, June Fisher had 509. Fowler had 501 and Sheree Rampley 487. For high series with handicap, Boyett turned in 629. She was followed by Harkins, 628, and Fowler, 627.

Star of the Week honors went to Vicky Wood, who bowled 77 pins higher than her average.

Janitor Supply cleans up act

Hereford Janitor Supply, of B.B. Keglers bowling league, found itself sitting atop the standings last week after going 4-0 in competition.

One of the leaders heading into last week's play, Nick & Dee's Trucking, dropped all four games and fell to eighth place. Strikettes also lost all four and are in ninth place, while Hereford State Bank was 3-1 for the second consecutive week and dropped only to second place.

Hereford Janitor Supply, Nick & Dee's Trucking and Strikettes also were 3-1 entering last week.

Alice Laeb was tabbed Star of the Week. She bowled 89 pins higher than her average. That wasn't quite good enough to be ranked in the high game standings, however. Elenor Hudspeth won that honor with a 201.

Second and third high-gamers were Lois Turpen, 175, and Daina Britten, 174. Hudspeth also had the high series with 515. Leub was second at 488 and Nancy Ruckman third at 460.

Team No. 12 had the high-team game with a 774, while Hereford State Bank had the high-team series with 2,164.

League standing show Hereford Janitor Supply at 7-1; Hereford State Bank at 6-2; Anthony's Downtown and Truckers Diesel Service at 5-3; Team No. 12 and Deaf Smith Co. Abstract at 4-4; Lockwood Graders, Nick & Dee's Trucking, J.J.'s Grocery, Team No. 7 and Strikettes at 3-5; and Bowling's Bowl at 2-6.

'Hittin' Machine' sparks defense, pleases boss

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas defense is a far cry from the "Doomsday" destroyers of the early 1970s, but Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry is happy with the 1984 version.

"We're playing aggressive football," Landry said. "We're a lot better in that area than we were last season."

One of the reasons is rookie Eugene (The Hittin' Machine) Lockhart, the sixth-round draft pick from the University of Houston. Lockhart has been filling in for injured veteran Bob Breunig at middle linebacker.

Breunig is again doubtful because of back problems.

"We won't have any problems starting Lockhart again," Landry said. "He made a lot of tackles and never got out of position. I have a lot of confidence in Lockhart."

Landry said the Cowboys could finish strong if they can get by the first half of the season.

"We're just trying to keep our heads above water right now," Landry said.

He added "you have to streak by winning four or five games in a row to win the division. This can come at any time. We don't want to be out of the race when that comes."

"We're just trying to stay ahead of the game."

The Cowboys are 2-1 and tied with the New York Giants atop the National Conference Eastern Division after a hard-earned 23-17 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday.

Dallas hosts Green Bay, 1-2, at 3 p.m. Sunday in Texas Stadium.

Green Bay Coach Forrest Gregg gave his Packers a severe tongue lashing after last Sunday's 9-7 loss to Chicago and Landry said "I'm sure they (the Packers) will respond. They have a lot of offensive weapons and can explode at any time."

Some 5,500 tickets remained for the game and an early sellout was unlikely, meaning the Cowboy game would be blacked out locally for the second straight week.

The Cowboys were rated a touchdown favorite.

Landry said his offensive line needed to jell.

"We're not moving the ball and we don't have the continuity we have had," Landry said. "I still think it will come. Herb Scott and Howard Richards have been coming off injuries."

Running back Tony Dorsett was looking good but has been a victim of the offensive line's problems, Landry said.

"Dorsett is running as tough as he can," Landry said. "We haven't got him open yet. We hope he has a big day against Green Bay."

Major League roundup

Tigers take title in AL East

By JONATHAN VITTI Associated Press Writer

It started as possible, then the possible became probable. The probable became obvious and the obvious, at last, became certain.

The race that never was ended Tuesday when the Detroit Tigers shut out the Milwaukee Brewers 3-0 and won the American League's Eastern Division. The 1984 Tigers, with their record-breaking 35-5 start, became the first team since the 1927 Yankees to lead from wire to wire.

They turned the traditionally dramatic AL East race into a summer-long waiting game. Only in its end was there any drama to the story.

"Magic Number — Zero" blazed Tiger Stadium's electronic scoreboard when Willie Hernandez struck out Jim Sundberg to give Detroit its first division crown since 1972.

Several hundred fans burst through a line of stadium security and Detroit police officers, literally stealing bases and touching home plate.

Players had begun sprinting from the Tiger bullpen toward the dugout before the inning ended to escape the impending onslaught, tossing souvenir baseballs into the stands as they ran.

"This is what all ballplayers shoot for and now we have it," said Tom Brookens, whose solo homer provided one of the game's runs.

"This is a great feeling. It's greater than I ever thought it could be."

"This has been my No. 1 team as far as I'm concerned," said Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson, who guided the Cincinnati Reds to five titles and two world championships.

Royals 10, Angels 0

Pat Sheridan drove in three runs and Steve Balboni and Buddy Biancalana cracked two-run homers while Dane Iorg added a bases-empty blow. Kansas City, alone in first place for only the third day this season, has its largest lead of the year — two games.

"Our pitching has been good all year. We just haven't been scoring runs," Balboni said.

"It's still close. We can't start

CALLS BY UMPIRES

NEW YORK (AP) — The half-swing by a batter is said to be the toughest call by an umpire, but the man behind the plate usually appeals to either the first base arbiter or the one at third for help.

But the man in blue gets no help on another tough one — when a sliding runner and the ball arrive at the base at the same time and a cloud of dust obscures the umpire's view of the tag. The umpires agree that all you can do is make an instant decision and be loud and firm about it.

Baseball statisticians estimate that during any one game, the plate umpire is called on for over 200 decisions on whether it's a ball or a strike, while the men working the bases are involved with about 49 safe or out calls.

thinking that it's over now. We're not thinking about anything but a sweep, about winning every game. We have to."

Red Sox 10, Blue Jays 3

Dwight Evans slugged a pair of two-run homers, Tony Armas and Rich Gedman hit one each and Mike Easler added a solo clout. Armas' homer was his major league-leading 39th. Evans ran his total to 29, while Easler hit his 24th and Gedman his 22nd.

White Sox 5, Twins 3

Gene Nelson, 3-5, threw six innings of one-hit relief to gain the victory, backed by Ron Kittle's 30th homer and the 28th by Harold Baines, who hit his fourth home run in two nights. The homers erased a 3-0 deficit and Minnesota catcher Tim Laudner's seventh-inning throwing error allowed Julio Cruz to score the tie-breaking run.

Yankees 10, Orioles 2

Mike Pagliarulo's grand slam and Don Mattingly's two-run homer highlighted a seven-run New York second inning. Oscar Gamble added a solo shot to open the third as New York moved a half-game in front of Baltimore into third place in the East.

Mariners 6, Indians 3

Alvin Davis ripped a double and a two-run triple and Phil Bradley added a run-scoring double. Davis' two-out triple occurred when Cleveland center fielder Joe Carter unsuccessfully tried for a shoestring catch.

Right-hander Mike Moore, 6-16, ended a personal seven-game losing streak. Moore, who gave up eight hits and a walk, held Cleveland hitless for 4 2-3 innings.

A's 5, Rangers 2

Mickey Tettleton hit his first major league homer and drove in two runs while Mike Heath hit his 13th of the year. Chris Codiroli, 4-4, gave up three hits and did not walk a batter over 7 1-3 innings. Bill Caudill finished for his 33rd save of the season.

Mets 8, Phillies 5

Darryl Strawberry's three-run, ninth-inning home run gave the Mets a three-game advantage over the Phillies in what has developed into a battle for second place behind Chicago.

Pinch-hitter Rusty Staub opened the ninth with a single off Philadelphia reliever Larry Andersen, 3-4. Wally Backman sacrificed pinch-runner Ron Gardenhire to second and Mookie Wilson, who had tied the game with a three-run double in the seventh, was intentionally walked.

Al Holland came in and retired Keith Hernandez on a groundout but Strawberry hit his 23rd homer.

Reliever Tom Gorman improved his record to 5-0 by pitching two innings. Jesse Orosco worked the ninth for his 30th save.

Juan Samuel hit his 14th home run for the Phillies.

Astros 5, Giants 4

Craig Reynolds 10th-inning single scored Terry Puhl to give reliever Dave Smith, 5-3, a victory over Scott Garrelts, 1-2.

Puhl walked with one out in the 10th and went to third on Mark Bailey's single. Reynolds then belted the game-winning single.

The Astros tied the game in the ninth when pinch-hitter Jerry Mumphrey who had singled, came home on Phil Garner's triple to center off San Francisco reliever Gary Lavelle.

Houston starter Mike LaCoss, 7-5, lasted only one-thirds of an inning.

Braves 6, Dodgers 5

Chris Chambliss' pinch-hit, two-run double in the eighth inning lifted the Braves past the Dodgers. Pinch-hitter Randy Johnson singled with one out off Dodger reliever Burt Hooton, 3-5. Johnson was replaced by pinch-runner Albert Hall. When pinch-hitter Claudell Washington walked one out later, Hooton was replaced by Ken Howell, who yielded Chambliss' double to left field.

Gene Garber, 3-5, was credited with the victory. Donnie Moore pitched the final inning to earn his 16th save.

Expos 7, Cardinals 4

Bryan Little snapped a tie with a bloop double and Tim Wallach added a two-run double later in the seventh inning as the Expos denied Cardinals' starter Joquin Andujar his 20th victory.

Montreal right-hander Bryn Smith, 12-12, was battered for four runs on five hits in the opening inning, but then restricted St. Louis to a lone single through seven innings. Andujar, meanwhile, dipped to 19-13 while failing a second time in six nights to become the major leagues' first 20-game winner.

Ann Landers

Try to cool down

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 10-month-old son took his first step yesterday. My husband and I were overjoyed. We thought we were the first ones to witness this miracle.

This morning, just as I was about to inform my babysitter of the wonderful news, she told me that he had walked for her yesterday while I was at work. I was heartsick! How cruel of her to have robbed me of one of life's greatest pleasures.

I work part-time because of economic necessity. I love my son and it tears my heart out to leave him, but there is no way we can make it on one paycheck.

I hope every child caretaker who reads this letter will be considerate enough to permit the parents to enjoy these once-in-a-lifetime thrills. It is cruel to tell them their child walked or talked for the first time while they were not at home. The baby will repeat it to the parents in a few hours or in a few days.

I wish I had read this advice somewhere before our child took his first step. I would have cut it out and handed it to that wretched little snip.—Mrs. B. In An Eastern City

DEAR MRS. B.: You are being extremely hard on the babysitter. She probably thought she was giving you some wonderful news. To call her a wretched little snip is neither fair nor reasonable. I hope by the time you see this letter in print your temperature is back to normal.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is in response to a letter in your column signed "Grossed Out In Minnesota." It concerned the middle-aged woman who kept a 5-by-7 picture of herself on her office desk. The first part of your response was OK but the last three words got to me.

Maybe the woman is, as you said, "pathetic," but let me tell you a story that may put her in a different light. For many years my husband cheated on me and denied it. Once he asked me to pick up a roll of film for him. The clerk asked me to check the pictures to make sure they were OK. I can't describe the pain when several pictures turned out to be of a bikini-clad woman posing on my husband's boat. I showed them to him and he laughed—said he didn't know how those pictures had gotten on his roll. I had seen that girl at his place of business. She worked there.

My husband's office photographs are all of himself, his boat and his cars. I keep pictures in my office, too. They are of myself, the children, family and friends. My photograph reminds me that I am a worthwhile human being no matter what else happens in my life. Perhaps the middle-aged woman in Minnesota is an egomaniac, but perhaps, like me, that photograph helps reassure her of her own worth. Sign me—Another Angle To The Picture In San Jose

DEAR ANGLE: How sad that your self-esteem is so badly damaged that you need a picture of yourself as a reminder that you are a "worthwhile human being." But whatever works is OK. Different folks need different strokes.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I see so many young mothers these days carrying small children in pouches on their backs, over their shoulders and slung around in front. Isn't this dangerous? The little ones seem strapped in awfully tight. I am—

DEAR SCRAN: The experts give it a 5-star rating. They applaud the "closeness" and say it gives the child a tremendous feeling of emotional security. In my opinion it's 100 times better than leaving the child at home with a sitter.

Are you, or is someone you care about messing around with drugs—or considering it? Are all drugs bad? What about pot—in moderation? Weemes names as REC's area development manager

James T. Hull, general manager of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc., has announced the appointment of Tommie Weemes to the position of Area Development Manager for the Cooperative.

Weemes began his tenure with the Cooperative 28 years ago as a groundman. He progressed to lineman, and is completing a 21-year term as staking engineer. His new position will involve a large spectrum of activities. He will be largely responsible for public relations, consumer activities, energy audits, and promotion of energy conservation practices.

He will also coordinate the Cooperative's annual meeting and various service club functions such as farm mechanics contests, 4-H activities, and Young Farmer-Young Homemaker banquets. He will further be responsible for photography and media contacts.

Weemes is a member of the Hereford Lions Club and the Texas Electric Cooperative's Member Service Association. He has participated as a musician in various civic activities, and he and wife Clea are actively involved in radio controlled model aircraft. He begins this hobby by designing and building a scale model of various full size aircraft, spending as much as nine months on one plane.

The second phase of this hobby involves Tommie and Clea in various flying contests throughout the United States. In these competitions the plane is flown through precision maneuvers by the use of radio controls. The plane and operator are judged for flying ability and conformity to the full size aircraft. His success in this field has allowed Weemes membership in the "One-Eighth Air Force," a scale modeling organization based in Arizona.

Tommie and Clea were married in 1960. Clea is an x-ray technician at Deaf Smith General Hospital. They have a son, Donald; a daughter-in-law, Lavon; and are expecting their first grandchild in November. Their daughter, Carla is a junior nursing major at West Texas State University.

Weemes says of his new position, "I am very excited about the new challenge, and I appreciate very much the opportunity to serve the consumer's needs."

Efforts underway to curb huge output of milk in world

WASHINGTON (AP) — New projections by the Agriculture Department show that some headway is being made to curb the huge output of milk in the world's major dairy countries, including the United States.

According to USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service, global milk output may hold about steady this year and decline in 1985 as many countries enforce production curbs to stem the flow.

"In the United States, a paid diversion program, plus lower effective prices for milk and high feed costs, have cut incentives for milk production," the report said.

"As a result, the dairy herd has been cut back, while reduced concentrate feeding and other changes in management practices have lowered per cow yields."

The report said that a 37-country inventory showed that milk output in 1984 may decline slightly to 408.9 million metric tons from 408.9 million in 1983. In 1985, production is expected to drop 3 percent to 406.6 million tons.

A metric ton, the unit favored in expressing international production volume, is about 2,205 pounds. In the United States, milk output is usually described in pounds.

The U.S. milk output in 1984 was estimated at 61.6 million tons — around 136 billion pounds, down 3 percent from a record 63.5 million tons or 140 billion pounds in 1983.

Looking at 1985, the report showed that U.S. milk production could rise slightly to 61.8 million tons — 136.3 billion pounds — as the government reduction program winds down next spring.

Milk production in the Soviet Union, the largest single producer, is estimated at 97.5 million tons this year, up from 96.4 million tons in 1983, and may reach 99 million tons in 1985.

The 10-nation European Community's milk production, for many years a sore point among U.S. critics of Common Market agricultural policies, is estimated at 110.3 million tons this year, down from 112.3 million tons in 1983, and is expected to drop to 107.2 million tons in 1985.

Canada's milk production, estimated at 8.1 million tons in 1983, is expected to remain steady this year and next.

In Japan, milk output is edging higher, from 7 million tons last year to 7.2 million tons this year and 7.3 million tons in 1985, the report showed.

Milk output in Australia was showed at 5.7 million tons in 1983 and 6.1 million tons in 1984. Next year's production is expected to decline to 5.9 million tons.

New Zealand, a leading exporter of dairy products, was reported at 6.9 million tons of milk in 1983, rising to 7.2 million tons this year and in 1985.

Cow numbers in the major countries were estimated at 162.29 million head this year, down 160,000 head from 1983. However, the projections showed about one million fewer cows for 1985 production. Cutbacks were indicated this year in the United States, Canada, European Community and Australia.

Consumers can expect fruit prices to rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers can expect fruit prices to continue above year-earlier levels this fall because of smaller crops and rising demand, says the Agriculture Department.

Official said it was too early to determine the economic impact of the recent outbreak of citrus canker in Florida.

Fall supplies of non-citrus fruit are expected to be smaller than a year ago. In all, 1984 production is forecast at 12.5 million tons, fractionally smaller than the 1983 harvest. Apple production is less than 1 percent larger, while smaller crops are expected for grapes, down 8 percent, and pears, down 11 percent.

"Small supplies of citrus fruit are also possible because of the December freeze, which damaged citrus trees in Florida and Texas," the department's Economic Research Service said Monday in a report.

In addition, the infestation of citrus canker in Florida will have an as-yet-undetermined effect on supplies."

The report said that "with the continued good economy, demand for fruit will most likely continue to rise."

The planet Venus, which is slightly smaller than earth, is 67 million miles from the sun and moves around it in 225 "earth" days.

Garrison Seed now marketing own lines of hybrid grain seeds

Garrison Seed & Co., of Hereford is now marketing its own lines of hybrid corn, grain and forage sorghum seed under the SG Brand name, it was announced this week by Art Stoy, vice president and general manager.

The company has been producing hybrid grain and forage sorghum and several varieties of grass seed for the past 17 years under contract for other seed companies.

Garrison Seed was founded in 1967 by S.L. Garrison, his son Harvey, and Stoy. The company was very successful through the 70s and had increased in size by more than seven times by 1980.

The company's production and research facilities are located in Hereford. Garrison has added a line of hybrid corns which include both yellow and white hybrids, according to Stoy. The SG Brand hybrid sorghum seed is produced primarily in the Panhandle, while the corn hybrids are produced in the heart of the corn belt in Nebraska and Iowa.

Stoy is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a BS degree in agronomy and he has been active in the seed business for more than 35 years. He is currently a vice president of the Texas Seed Trade Association, is chairman of the conservation committee for the American Seed Trade Association, and a member of other seedmen's associations.

Other key members of the company are Bob Crume, sales manager; Bill Townsend, operation and production manager and secretary of the corporation, and Eric Wright, export sales manager.

Crume joined the company earlier this year after being with Pro Agri Recruiters in Normal, Ill., and Asgrow Seed Co. in Des Moines, Ia. Townsend has been with Garrison for 12 years and is a graduate of New Mexico State University with a BS degree. Wright is responsible for sales and technical assistance to farmers in Mexico, Central and South America.

Reagan offers plan to ease credit for farmers

By BARRY MASSEY Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is offering a program of loan guarantees and debt deferral to ease the credit squeeze on financially stressed farmers, but Democrats in Congress say it is little more than a political gimmick.

The White House announcement of the farm debt program came Tuesday, just two days before the president planned to travel to Iowa for a campaign swing through the farm belt. Reagan discounted the political implications of the program, however, and characterized it as an effort to provide farmers "more secure hope for the future."

Democratic members of Congress disagreed.

"This is nothing more than eleventh-hour pandering to a constituency Mr. Reagan has ignored for the past four years. It's too little, too late and the American farmer knows it," said Rep. Bill Alexander of Arkansas, the fourth-ranking Democrat in the House.

The program, as outlined by Reagan and the Agriculture Department, calls for:

- The Farmers Home Administration, the lender of last resort to producers, to defer up to 25 percent or $100,000 of the unpaid principal and interest on government loans for five years.

- The FmHA to make available $630 million to 650 million to guarantee repayment of loans made to farmers by private lenders. The loan guarantees would be directed at farmers unable to repay their existing debts and facing bankruptcy.

However, private lenders must first agree to write off a portion of the farmer's loan before the FmHA would back repayment of 90 percent of the remaining debt. The money for the new loan guarantees is included in a budget bill pending before a congressional conference committee.

— The FmHA to contract with local banks and private lending institutions to speed up processing of the federal loans.

— Financial management experts to work with FmHA committees in each county, which currently determine who is eligible for government loans, to provide advice to farmers in developing individual plans for restructuring their debts.

Farm credit problems have become a growing concern in agriculture as total farm debt has soared from $166 billion in 1980 to $215 billion. The situation has been compounded by declining values of farmland, which is farmers' main collateral.

Although only about 3 percent of FmHA debtors have gone out of business during each of the past two years, the Agriculture Department said that about 31 percent of the FmHA's nearly 271,000 borrowers were behind in their loan payments as of the end of July.

While Republican lawmakers generally embraced the new program, Democrats noted the Reagan administration had in the past opposed proposals for increased farm operating loan guarantees and partial deferral of government loans.

Corn sweetener use at record level in '84

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans in 1984 will consume a record 4.3 million tons of "high-fructose" sweetener made from corn, up 20 percent from 3.6 million tons in 1983, says the Agriculture Department.

That will be the equivalent of about 260 million bushels of corn, almost the combined harvests of Kansas and Missouri, based on August crop estimates. It takes about 60 bushels of corn to make a ton of high-fructose corn sweetener or HFCS. A major user is the soft-drink industry.

The latest consumption forecast was included Monday in a new outlook report, which also noted that the world price of raw sugar dropped to 4 cents a pound in August, the lowest in 15 years.

"Prices weakened because negotiations to reach a new International Sugar Agreement failed," the report said. "The current ISA with its economic provisions is to expire at the end of December, and heavier world sugar surpluses are expected next year."

Unless world sugar production is cut sharply or there is a boost in consumption, higher prices in 1984-85 are unlikely, the report said.

The analysis of the corn sweetener situation showed that the 4.3 million tons of HFCS expected to be consumed this year will make up 29 percent of total U.S. consumption of sweeteners, which was forecast at a record of 15 million tons, up from 14.78 million tons in 1983.

When other corn sweeteners are included — 2.13 million tons of glucose and 410,000 tons of dextrose — the total from corn is 6.84 million tons or 46 percent of this year's total sweetener use. Refined white sugar is expected to comprise 7.99 million tons or 53 percent of total U.S. sweetener use in 1984. The remainder includes honey and other syrups.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exports of horticultural products are down this year, says the Agriculture Department.

In July, the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said Monday, shipments were valued at $217 million, down 2 percent from a year earlier. Declines were reported for citrus, fresh vegetables, raisins, canned corn and alcoholic beverages.

For the entire fiscal year ending Sept. 30, exports of horticultural products are expected to decline to $2.63 billion from $2.69 billion in 1982-83, the agency said.

Some Convene

Texas Democrats held their state convention in Dallas last week, overwhelmingly re-electing chairman Bob Slagle to his third term.

Slagle, generally regarded as one of the hardest working chairs his party has ever had, spent much time trying to patch up hard feelings in his divided party.

At issue is whether conservative Democrats will stay in the party, or cross over to vote for Reagan and Gramm.

Some Bolt

A couple of days after the Democrats adjourned, some 15 former local and state Democratic officials from Dallas County announced they had joined the campaign of Republican Phil Gramm.

Their reasoning is that Gramm's opponent for the U.S. Senate is too liberal, and not really what they call a Texas Democrat.

That opponent, Lloyd Doggett is busy organizing for a strong push to the November finish line after gambling this summer on strategy. Doggett chose to hold his campaign cash in reserve rather than try to counter Gramm's advertising onslaught during the summer weeks.

Gramm recently boasted he has recruited 150 Democratic leaders who worked as county coordinators for Doggett's unsuccessful opponents, Bob Krueger of New Braunfels and Kent Hance of Lubbock. Doggett's personal attacks in the primary campaigns may be backfiring on him now, some observers report.

Texas Prospering

A U.S. Commerce study reports that the per capita incomes in Texas have risen faster than other states. After World War II, Texas ranked 36th, and had pulled to 32nd by 1969.

At last count, 1982, Texas was ranked 16th. Income from agriculture has fallen from 12 percent to less than one percent, and manufacturing has become the largest source of income.

Short Takes

- Houston's main post office has been named the Barbara C. Jordan Post Office Building, honoring the former U.S. Representative.

- Gov. Mark White has requested drought disaster designations for Brooks, Howard, Limestone, Nolan and Jim Wells counties.

- State Treasurer Ann Richards reports the transfer of $9.8 million in unclaimed property collections to the General Revenue and Available School Funds, meeting her goal of $10.1 million—an increase of 36.5 percent over last year.

- A survey by the UT College of Communication shows alternative long distance telephone services are used by 8.3 percent of residences and 31.7 percent of businesses sampled. The percentages were 11.3 and 33.9 when limited to areas where alternative services are available.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Political attention turned away from campaigns last week when news broke that a Pert Arthur state senator had been indicted on pornography, promotion of prostitution and perjury charges.

Rumors had barely rippled in this summer during the special session that State Sen. Carl Parker was being investigated, but the waves weren't large enough to keep Parker from heavily influencing the education tax bill which was passed.

As chairman of the Senate Education Committee, Parker and others were instrumental in holding the tax bill hostage until a sales tax hike provision was included with various other increases in the record tax bill.

After the probe became public last week, his hometown defenders accused a local prosecutor of waging a political vendetta against Parker. Parker, himself, issued a statement saying he had committed no crime. Around the state, his colleagues in the Legislature issued statements of surprise and shock.

Business Partner

The charges stemmed from Parker's ownership interest in a building alleged to house a hard pornography marketing operation and a prostitution ring. The perjury charge alleged he had lied to a grand jury during the probe. All indictments came from a state grand jury in Beaumont.

Parker has said he was unaware of the activities being conducted in the building by other interest holders.

A Democrat, Parker is unopposed in November for his labor-dominated district. As yet, no write-in candidate has emerged.

School Board Nominees

Public education reform took another step last week when Gov. Mark White was given a committee's list of 45 nominees for the newly created 15-member State Board of Education.

White's appointments from the list compiled by a legislative nominating panel will replace the 27 elected board members who saw their positions abolished this summer.

The governor said he would try to appoint five minority members to replace the abolished minority members.

China purchases result in higher wheat prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report released today said that grain purchases by China the past four years have meant significantly higher wheat prices for American farmers.

The report was released by the National Association of Wheat Growers, based on studies made the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress at the request of Rep. Virginia Smith, R-Neb.

Since 1980, the report said, China imported just over one billion bushels of U.S. wheat. Researchers concluded that the U.S. farm price of wheat would have averaged 28 cents per bushel lower if the sales had not occurred.

Further, without the sales to China, the government's "deficiency payments" to wheat farmers would have increased by $1.13 billion. The payments increase when market prices decline.

The report was included in the September issue of "Wheat Grower" published by the association.

About 1,000 people were killed in the New York City draft riots during the Civil War.

Despite the day-to-day expenses, parents tend to underestimate the cost of raising a child. New figures show that over 18 years it can range from $75,000 to $98,000, depending on family income.

Christian songwriter to perform at church

Danny Wolfe, songwriter, will perform contemporary gospel music Sunday at First Christian Church.

Wolfe will lead "Understanding the Lord's Prayer" at 9:30 a.m. during the School for Christian Living and will also share some of his songs from his musical "Walk on Water" during the worship service at 10:30 a.m.

Wolfe grew up in Stephenville and graduated with honors from the University of Texas where he was an All-Southwest Conference football player and captain of the university football team.

When he was 25 years old he took up songwriting as a result of an aptitude test. He composed a number of national hit songs in all fields of popular, country, and contemporary rhythm music. He also expanded the one-store family nursery in Stephenville into one of the nation's largest chains of retail garden centers.

After becoming a multi-millionaire in his early thirties, Wolfe began to feel that his life was empty. During the troubled time, Wolfe came to know the Lord. Since then, he has written gospel music and a musical, "Walk on Water."

Temple completed recently in Dallas

The recently completed temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, located at 6363 Willow Lane in Dallas, is now open for public viewing through Sept. 29.

Walk-through tours of the temple are being conducted from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Mondays. After Sept. 29, the temple will be closed to the general public so that preparations can be made for the dedication services.

The first to be constructed in Texas, the temple will serve approximately 120,000 Latter-Day Saints in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Latter-Day Saint temples are not regular meeting houses. Those touring the temple during the open house will be able to view the ordinance rooms where baptisms and marriages are performed.

The Dallas temple will be dedicated in a series of 23 sessions to be held Oct. 19 through 26. A 26-voice select choir composed of church members from throughout the Panhandle has been chosen to perform at the Oct. 21 session. Two Hereford women are members of that choir.

For more information about the open house or the dedicatory services, call Pat Parker at 364-4259.

Composing

Danny Wolfe, sitting, is pictured at his piano with the producer of his musical "Walk on Water." Wolfe will perform at the First Christian Church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and will lead the School for Christian Living at 9:30 a.m.

Health
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
See doctor

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am very depressed and despondent, and I just plain don't feel good. Two years ago I had a complete hysterectomy for fibroid tumors. I was 46, so the doctor also removed my ovaries. I have never felt good since. At the time I weighed 160, but I have gained nearly 30 pounds.

That year I also had a very traumatic experience when I learned that my husband had been having an affair for 10 years. Do you think that would have caused me to gain weight? I now weigh 188.

My doctor has me taking Premarin, as needed. The doctor also gave me an appetite-curber, but I gained more weight after taking it.

I stayed with my husband of 31 years. My life is passing me by, I feel helpless and look 20 years older than I am. In the '50s, I won every beauty contest I entered. Today, no one believes me. What advice can you give me?

DEAR READER — You probably identified the problem yourself when you said you were depressed. Your surgery and your change in hormone balance may be a factor. Your family situation may at least contribute to the problem.

Your weight gain may have been stimulated by your depression. Some people eat more when they are depressed while others lose their appetite and lose weight.

Ask your family doctor to refer you to a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist could evaluate your depressed state and, if needed, may be able to give you some medicine to counteract the depression. If you could lift the depression and get your diet and exercise program under control, you could turn the corner, lose weight, regain some of your former beauty and be more pleased with yourself.

DEAR DR. LAMB — When I eat sugar, I get severe headaches. This has brought on another problem — losing too much weight. How can one keep up his weight when he has to be so careful of sweets and carbohydrates? I really need to gain five to six pounds, probably more, but I keep losing.

What do you suggest to maintain my weight? I have been this way for more than a year. A friend says that eating five meals a day and eating more protein might help. I am not diabetic and my sugar is not too low. My doctor is giving me vitamin pills to prevent anemia.

DEAR READER — You need to find out why you are losing calories. Diabetes is one such problem. I'm glad you have been checked for that. You also should be checked to see if you have an overactive thyroid. Too much thyroid hormone can cause you to lose weight despite eating a lot of food.

Fat is the best food for adding calories. There are nine calories per gram of fat and only four in a gram of carbohydrates. Enjoy butter or margarine and fat meats.

Smoking, pregnancy workshop scheduled

The American Lung Association of Texas in cooperation with Amarillo College respiratory therapy department and nursing division will present a smoking and pregnancy workshop.

The event is scheduled from 1-4 p.m. Sept. 27 in the Amarillo College Main Campus Concert Hall Theatre. The three-hour workshop for health care providers and students will focus on the dangers of smoking during pregnancy. There is no charge.

Speakers include Naomi Brack, R.N., M.S.N. and Hollis H. Hands, M.D. Miss Brack will speak on "When Education Fails" and Dr. Hands will speak on "Smoking and Pregnancy."

Style Style show scheduled

"Fashions on the Go" will be the theme of a style show for the residents of Kings Manor Retirement Home at 7 p.m. Thursday in the King's Manor auditorium. Members of 4-H around the county will host the event.

The show will feature 4-Her's in self-made fashions in a tearoom-style showing.

The event is being coordinated by the county extension office and senior 4-Her involved in the 4-H clothing project.

The public is invited to attend the admission-free show and refreshments will be served.

Ghana

The African nation of Ghana is named after an earlier state that flourished along the Niger River between A.D. 800 and 1076. The modern nation covers 92,100 square miles — slightly smaller than the state of Oregon — with a population of about 10 million, principally members of the Adansi Akwamu and Ga tribes.

Abundant Life

Bob Wear
IT IS ADMITTED that, to a great extent, we are dependent upon each other, even though this condition is not always easily recognized. With this realization, it becomes relatively easy to understand that, to some extent, we help ourselves when we help others. In this understanding and accompanying action, it is essential that we be governed by prudence and good judgment.

WE MUST KNOW what to do, when to do it and how to do it; and we must respect all legitimate limits. This includes learning to help, without imposing our ideas, notions and ourselves upon others. We must not be coldly calculating, but we must act with sincere desire to be helpful. Of course, we give this help to others, without neglecting ourselves and our primary obligations. The more wisely we learn to manage ourselves, the more effective we can be in doing the things that will be helpful to other folk.

IN OUR ACTIONS to be helpful and useful in our associations with our fellowmen, we must not have any poorly formed expectations about what others should do or not do, in response to our efforts to be helpful. Some persons, for one reason or another, will not respond in the most desirable way. Then, too, it is not always possible for us to know just how they do respond, in good feelings, or appreciation, or speaking well of us to others.

WE KNOW ENOUGH about the human situation to know that the general workings of the most desirable and helpful relationships will enhance and enrich the common good.

IN A GENERAL sort of way, "the things we send into the lives of others come back into our own," and it is a fact that we help ourselves by helping others.

Texas blueberry growers plan meet

COLLEGE STATION—Production and marketing potentials of the emerging blueberry industry will be the primary topics when growers meet Oct. 12-13 at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches.

Growers from Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana are expected to attend the two-day meeting. According to Dr. Terry Menges, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, blueberries have the potential for producing one of the highest returns per acre of any agricultural crop in the South. The potential is for at least a $200 million industry within the Ark-La-Tex area, with East Texas being the primary growing area.

The early harvesting season of the region and the accessibility to markets offers a tremendous potential, says Menges. The crop is excellent for small landowners and offers good returns for proper management and marketing.

The meeting is being planned by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Blueberry Growers Association, with registration beginning at 8 a.m., Oct. 12.

The morning session is designed especially for new and potential growers and will be moderated by Menges. Basic production information will be highlighted. The afternoon program will be moderated by Dr. David Creech, Stephen F. Austin State University. Topics include "Irrigation Water Quality Requirements," Dr. Vince Haby, soil scientist, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Overton; "Weed Control," Menges and Jamie Powers, Stephen F. Austin State University; and "Update on Rabbit Eye Blueberry Varieties," Liz Neuendorff, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Overton.

Also during the Friday afternoon session, Susan Plettnam, general counsel, Texas Department of Water Resources, will discuss the legal aspects of irrigation. Friday's activities end with a get-acquainted social at the Fredonia Inn in Nacogdoches. The Saturday session begins with a business meeting of the Texas Blueberry Growers Association Discussions by Dr. Leon Young, Stephen F. Austin State University, on soil testing and by Creech on "Mulching and Soil Amendments" will conclude the program.

Registration information is available from Dr. Terry Menges, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Box 220, Overton, Tex. 75684; telephone 214-834-6191.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Storms have left 13,000 people homeless in Veracruz state on the Gulf of Mexico and caused problems in at least four Pacific coast states, the government newspaper El Nacional reported Tuesday.

It said the homeless are residents of 53 towns in Veracruz state, battered by the threat of more rains from Hurricane Norbert that fell at the end of Tropical Storm Edouard throughout the weekend.

The port of Acapulco was closed Monday night because of the threat of more rains from Hurricane Norbert some 240 miles off the coast. El Nacional said the state of Guerrero, which includes the well known Pacific resort, was declared a disaster area Monday.

The storms have disrupted travel on the heavily used Mexico City to Acapulco highway.

El Nacional reported that 80 percent of Acapulco residents were left without drinking water because of the storms that have battered the area in recent days. Problems also were occurring in the Pacific coast states of Oaxaca and Chiapas to the south of Guerrero and Colima to the north.

Port captains in Tampico and Veracruz on the Gulf coast and Manzanillo and Zihuatanejo on the Pacific said operations were normal, but navigation precautions remained in effect.

Weather forecasters predicted a brief respite from the rains that have affected much of Mexico during the past two weeks, despite the approach of Norbert in the Pacific.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Foreign Minister William Hayden of Australia says his country supports the Contadora group's efforts to resolve Central American problems and wants to better understand the problems of that region.

"Australia has firmly supported the Contadora process and continues to support it," Hayden said during an official dinner Monday in his honor.

Hayden also said Australia recognizes that the basic cause of instability in Central America is "the necessity of social and economic reform" and that the countries in the region "are the only ones that can finally resolve their problems."

The foreign minister also said the nations in that region have the right to resolve their problems without external influence.

Hayden noted that Australia has received 1,500 Central American refugees in recent months and wants to work with Mexico in the United Nations to bring peace to the region.

Mexico is one of the four Contadora nations working for a regional solution to the problems in Central America. Other group members are Colombia, Panama and Venezuela.

CHETUMAL, Mexico (AP) — Sixteen inmates of a state reformatory escaped through a 20-inch-wide tunnel, officials said.

The breakout at the Quintana Roo state Center for Social Readaptation occurred Monday evening after the family visiting period ended. Officials said the tunnel was two yards deep and 12 yards long.

State Attorney General Salvador Terrazas Cervera said the escapees took advantage of a pre-arranged mass disturbance among the inmates to flee. He said order was restored by federal police, but extensive damages to the facility were reported.

The inmates who fled were in custody for a variety of common criminal offenses.

Chetumal is the state capital of Quintana Roo on the Yucatan peninsula, 900 miles southeast of Mexico City.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The 20th anniversary of the National Anthropology Museum in Chapultepec Park, one of the most popular tourist attractions in the city, is being celebrated here.

The modern building, constructed with materials from Mexico's different regions, was inaugurated Sept. 17, 1964. It is known for its massive umbrella pavilion and a statue of Tlaloc, the Aztec Indian rain god, at the entrance.

The museum has 23 permanent exhibition halls. One of its best known pieces is the circular "piedra del Sol," popularly known as the Aztec calendar.

Many local newspapers carried extensive articles about the museum's exhibitions and facilities to mark the anniversary.

Question presented concerning Mondale

NEW YORK (AP) — The question, said the professor, is whether Walter Mondale can understand and master the art of TV leadership and thus make a scrap out of the presidential elections.

"He has a central flaw in his attempt to be perceived as a leader," said Professor Eugene Jennings of Michigan State University. "It is that he has failed to prepare himself for a TV candidacy." As a consequence, said Jennings, who has studied leadership back to the days of the Caesars and who wrote "An Anatomy of Leadership," which sold 1.25 million copies, "Mondale has put the electorate to sleep."

As an aspirant to the top political job, says Jennings, Mondale has ignored the elementary rules of projecting leadership on television.

According to Jennings, the rules are simple:

- 1. Issues are not important if nobody is listening.
2. Only an excited candidate can get others excited.
3. Once excited, people will listen.
4. Only after people have decided to listen are issues important.

"You must be believable if you are to be believed," the professor says. "You must be perceived as a leader before you can lead."

Jennings has spent three decades studying leadership, teaching it, writing about it, and advising political candidates and officeholders of both major parties, as well as corporate chairmen and directors, on the exercise of it.

In his opinion, Mondale's television presentation "is so boring it makes Thomas E. Dewey's (who many had believed would defeat Harry Truman) stuperous style exciting by comparison."

His concern, he says, is that without a good scrap between Mondale and Ronald Reagan the issues may be ignored instead of placed with animation before a public that is aroused and listening.

He maintains people hear but do not listen to the Democratic candidate. On the contrary, "Much of the electorate doesn't know what Ronald Reagan believes, but they believe he believes."

He listed some of what he thinks are Mondale's problems: Nasal voice, articulation without modulation, cliches, a faraway and unfocused look, a smile that reminds one of a funeral director, a lack of oral and physical animation.

These faults, Jennings says, are made worse by the camera, "which makes the acute acuter," causing Mondale's "slow, ponderous style to have the appearance of lethargy."

His advice is to slow the campaigning in order to prepare Mondale for a TV candidacy, "to develop a staccato style, to lower his voice, to look the camera right in the eye and see a voter."

Jennings agrees that some of Mondale's advisers may be afraid to change him in the middle of a race.
