Checking Equipment

A horizontal Marwan Khouri plays the patient as Donny Lauderback and Marla Beard, all of the Deaf Smith General Hospital staff, demonstrate the use of a new piece of equipment which DSG hopes to purchase. The portable unit gives electrical shock through the skin which stimulates the heart to resume or speed up its beating. The unit can get a failing heart to operate at 70 to 80 percent of its normal strength, whereas CPR can only provide about 40 percent of the heart's regular power. DSG has the unit on approval for 30 days and will be seeking donations for the purchase.

School tax hike lower than average

State aid to local schools increased by $1 billion last year to a total of $4.6 billion. To pay for it, the special session of the legislature last summer enacted the largest tax bill in the state's history.

Not to be outdone, school trustees in the 1,068 districts across the state levied the largest school property tax increase in history—$519 million, for a total tax bill of $4.1 billion.

Locally, the Hereford Independent School District's tax levy was not raised, except for .7 of one percent through added values. This compared to a 14.3 percent increase for average school district in the state.

The figures come from the latest issue of "Bench Marks for 1985-86 School District Budgets in Texas", an annual publication of the Texas Research League, an Austin-based educational corporation engaged in governmental research.

The "bench marks" include 29 items of financial, budget and tax information gathered on each school district so that comparisons can be made for the region and the state. All the comparisons are on a per-student basis.

School budgets adopted last year called for spending $3,013 per student for current operations. HISD's budget provided for $2,897 per student based on the 4,562 students in average daily attendance in 1983-84.

Four of each five of these dollars were spent for salaries, according to the Texas Research League report.

Statewide, payroll expense averaged $2,487 per student, as compared to $2,253 in HISD. Payroll expense is a combination of salary levels and staffing patterns.

The average salary for classroom teachers paid by the Hereford district was $18,425. The average among all school districts in Texas was $20,117. The average in Region

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a gesture from a hospital balcony, a series of telephone calls to world leaders and announcements of forthcoming meetings, the White House is signaling that President Reagan is rapidly resuming his duties.

The president could return to the White House as early as Saturday, one week after he underwent cancer surgery, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said.

Reagan appeared publicly in person Thursday for the first time since he entered the hospital July 12, giving reporters an OK sign from his third-floor balcony at Bethesda Naval Hospital when they asked how he was feeling.

In other moves that accentuated the positive:

Returning home soon

—Vice President George Bush, one day after paying his first visit to the convalescing president, made telephone calls to foreign leaders in which he was quoted by a spokesman as saying, "The best medical evidence is that the president will make a full recovery and resume duties here at the White House next week."

—The White House announced that Reagan will meet in September with the new Soviet foreign minister, Eduard Shevardnadze, and an administration official said privately the president may also address the United Nations General Assembly in New York that month as he has in the past.

—White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan, addressing members of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, predicted the president "will be full of vigor" after a three-week stay at his ranch in California beginning in mid-August and "we will pursue a very active course this fall" in pursuit of Reagan's tax overhaul plan.

—Speakes said Reagan attended to more business Thursday than on any day since his operation and would probably make a decision by the end of the week on a successor to Budget Director David A. Stockman, who is leaving one of the key positions in the administration to become a banker.

Speakes also said it was undecided whether Reagan would deliver his regular Saturday radio address. The president confined himself to gestures in answering reporters' questions during his balcony appearance. When he was asked if he was hoarse, his wife, Nancy, standing at his side, said, "It's easier for me" to speak.

The White House spokesman continued to answer questions about Reagan's likely release date by quoting doctors as saying it would be from seven to 10 days after his operation. That would mean sometime from Saturday to Tuesday.

Reagan made a non-committal gesture from his balcony when reporters asked when he would be coming home. The first lady said, "As soon as they say its OK."

Since the White House has said that Reagan will meet with visiting Chinese President Li Xiannian on Tuesday morning, it appeared likely that he would return to the White House on Monday at the latest.

Economy growth forecast to be revised

By The Associated Press

The government will be forced to revise downward its forecast of U.S. economic growth in 1985 in view of the economy's sluggish expansion in the first half of the year, Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige says.

The White House had forecast economic growth, as measured by the gross national product, of 3.9 percent this year. But in the first six months the economy grew at only a 1.7 percent pace, the Commerce Department said Thursday.

In another report, the Federal Reserve said industrial production edged up a scant 0.1 percent in June, matching May's increase.

While Baldrige refused to say what economic forecast the Reagan administration would now embrace, he predicted growth at a rate of 4 percent "plus or minus" in the second half of 1985.

"We see all the building blocks for increased growth," he said, citing low inflation, continued strong consumer confidence and low business inventories.

Allen Sinai, chief economist for Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc., said the economy was likely to remain in a "growth recession" — a period of rising unemployment despite meager economic growth — but not a full-blown recession.

The GNP — the value of the nation's total output of goods and services — grew at a modest 0.3 percent in the first quarter, according to the Commerce Department.

Shortly before the second quarter ended, the agency estimated growth for that period at 3.1 percent. But that "flash" estimate was revised to 1.7 percent in Thursday's report, which also is subject to further revision.

The two weak quarters mean that for the first six months of the year, the economy has expanded at a disappointing annual rate of just 1 percent — far below expectations of private and government economists.

The Federal Reserve said June's small production gain matched a revised 0.1 percent May increase and trailed a revised 0.2 percent April gain.

Since last fall, industrial output has shown little improvement as domestic manufacturers have continued to lose sales to foreigners because of the strength of the dollar against foreign currencies.

A strong dollar has encouraged a flood of cheaper imports in this country while holding down sales of U.S. goods overseas. However, the strong dollar also has held down inflation.

Tax board approves budget

The Deaf Smith County Tax Appraisal District Board heard a report on the pre-appraisals being conducted this week and approved a 1986 budget during its regular meeting Thursday night.

The board approved a three percent pay raise for the ten tax office employees, which together with office expenses make up a $257,036 annual budget. The seven taxing entities in the county will share the cost, with the Hereford Independent School District paying the largest amount.

Shaved heads greet beloved cancer patient

MILWAUKEE (AP) — When Manuel Garcia returned home from the hospital, his head shaved because of hair loss from cancer treatments, he found an array of shiny pates waiting to greet him.

Garcia's family said at least 50 relatives and friends shaved their heads as a way of making Garcia feel like one of the crowd.

The special tributes began Sunday. Garcia said he was in the Milwaukee County Medical Complex that day when four visitors walked in.

"All I could see was baldheaded people," Garcia said. He started laughing. His friends started laughing. The nurses finally had to tell them all to keep quiet.

One of those who gave up locks to help make Garcia feel better was his 5-year-old son, Miguel, who told his father he allowed his head to be shaved "because I love you."

Garcia, 39, who suffers from stomach cancer, told Milwaukee Sentinel columnist William Janz that because he was losing hair as a side effect of cancer treatments, he decided to shave his head when he left the hospital.

Garcia said he thought he would be alone with his baldness and his cancer fight.

"It makes me feel so good, so many people backing me up," he said.

Concert nets $35 million

LONDON (AP) — Live Aid organizer Bob Geldof, of the rock group Boomtown Rats, says last weekend's mammoth concert and telethon has drawn contributions of $35 million from around the world, about half the target figure.

"Every penny given to us will go to somebody that is dying. I can promise that," Geldof, leader of the specially formed British rock group Band Aid, said Thursday after a meeting of the Band Aid trustees in London.

He said the money would be used first to airlift drugs to Mozambique and haul food by truck into famine-stricken Sudan. The aid will be distributed in drought regions throughout Africa.

The Band Aid Trust also is getting teams of agronomists, hydrologists and foresters to identify long-term development projects on the continent.

Pregnant mom accused of stealing basketball

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — An expectant mother who says she was accused of hiding a basketball under her dress has filed a $600,000 suit against the store that alleged she was shoplifting.

One day before she gave birth, Betty Nelson said, she went to Irving's Sport Shop last February to look for a rowing machine to help her get back in shape after the birth.

When Mrs. Nelson, 33, didn't find what she wanted, she sent browsing in an adjacent mall, only to be confronted by the store's assistant manager, Richard Hoye, and a security guard.

A cashier had told her supervisor that Mrs. Nelson had stolen a basketball and put it under her dress, said Stephen McCarron, Mrs. Nelson's lawyer.

According to the lawsuit filed last week in Arlington Circuit Court, Mrs. Nelson was detained at the store for about 30 minutes and was given the option of opening her dress or going to the police station.

"I had to disrobe in front of six male security guards and police officers in the store," Mrs. Nelson said in a telephone interview Thursday with The Washington Post. "I had to take off my jacket, sweater and lift up my blouse."

McCarron said Mrs. Nelson was "given the impression she would be taken to jail if she didn't do it.... She started to cry. She was very upset, very distraught."

Mrs. Nelson went into labor shortly after the incident and gave birth the next day to a healthy baby boy, Darius.

Car parts, tires, tools stolen

The theft of more than $3,000 worth of tires, tools and car parts was reported to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office Thursday.

Ernest Condarco, 119 S. Ave. K, told deputies the theft occurred while he was on vacation from June 28 to July 15.

Another theft report was taken from M.D. Franks, Rt. 5, who said $200 worth of tools were lifted from the back of his pickup while parked at a local eating establishment.

There were two reports of assault, both in connection with domestic squabbles.

And the sheriff's office took complaints from a man and his nephew who apparently had a violent argument. The older man filed assault charges while his nephew filed charges of criminal trespass and assault by threat.

67-year-old Darrouzett bank closes

DARROUZETT, Texas (AP) — The 67-year-old First National Bank of Darrouzett has been known as a landmark to residents of this wheat and oil community in the Texas Panhandle.

But when the bank closed its doors at 3 p.m. Thursday, the landmark became history for this small town close to the Oklahoma border.

Ironically, the bank once operated in Lipscomb County, which, according to the June issue of Esquire magazine, is the third richest in the nation in terms of per capita bank deposits.

The closing leaves Darrouzett and its residents without a bank.

The bank suffered financial ills from bad agricultural-related loans it made in past years, said Lee Cross, a spokeswoman for the Office of the Comptroller For Currency in Washington D.C. It never was able to recover from the losses, she said.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. took control of the bank after failing to find a purchaser.

The institution contained $18.3 million in assets and $11.4 million in deposits in 1,700 accounts, said Alan Whitney, an FDIC spokesman. A combined total of $196,000, in 18 accounts, was not covered by the $100,000-per-account insurance limit payable by FDIC, he said.

State accountant charged in alleged theft

AUSTIN (AP) — A $41,400-a-year state accountant who had worked for the Comptroller's Office for 23 years has been charged with stealing a state check for $247,000.

A district attorney's office investigator said in an affidavit that James R. Fontaine, 43, of Cedar Park falsified and stole the check earlier this month because of his "frustration with the management of the Comptroller's Office and so that he would be 'king of the mountain with $247,000 in his pocket.'"

William Krumpack of the Travis County District Attorney's Office filed the affidavit when the theft charge was filed Thursday with Justice of the Peace David Cain.

According to the Krumpack affidavit, Fontaine arranged for a $247,000 state payment voucher to be made out to another Cedar Park man, who told the investigator he was owed no money by the state.

Ex-guard charged with robbery, slayings

PORT ARTHUR, Texas (AP) — A former bank security guard has been charged with capital murder in the slayings of two savings and loan employees during a robbery earlier this week, authorities said.

David Lee Holland, 50, of Nederland, was charged Thursday with two counts of capital murder and was ordered held without bond. The charges stem from Tuesday's robbery of the Jefferson Savings & Loan Association in Port Arthur and the slaying of two employees, Justice of the Peace John Borne said.

A surveillance camera videotape from the bank showed a "calm and calculating" man chatting with one employee before the slayings, said police Sgt. K. J. Landry.

Holland, an unemployed father of four, had worked as a security guard at the savings and loan's main office in Beaumont about eight years ago, Landry said.

Investigators said the tape showed the gunman entered the savings and loan Tuesday morning, chatted with one woman for about 10 minutes while the other woman took care of customers at the drive-up window.

A few minutes later the gunman announced the holdup and rifled three cash drawers before signaling for branch supervisor Helen Jean Barnard, 28, of Groves, and teller Diana Joy Jackson, 23, of Port Neches, to join him in the lobby. He then took them to the vault area, investigators said.

The tape showed the man leaving the office and returning a short time later to disengage the video recorder. Investigators speculated he could not figure out how to remove the tape cartridge.

Police Officer Ken Corona went by the savings and loan minutes after the shooting, noticed no tellers at the windows and found the two women in the vault, Jefferson Savings & Loan Association vice president Lloyd Patterson said.

Barbie Doll fans hold convention

ROMULUS, Mich. (AP) — Barbie, the doll who has shown millions of girls the path to modern womanhood since 1959, is on center stage at an annual convention of her fans, some who spend thousands of dollars on her and her accessories.

"She has shown how women have grown in America," said Sarah Eames, 32, of Boones Mill, Va., whose grandmother gave her her first Barbie in 1960 and who now is recognized as an expert on the doll and her lore.

Mrs. Eames, one of 250 people at the fifth annual Barbie Doll Collectors Convention, said Thursday that Barbie has maintained her popularity with two generations of girls because of the way she has changed with the times.

In one of her latest incarnations introduced this year, Barbie is a businesswoman, complete with briefcase, credit cards, and business newspaper and magazine under her arm.

Barbie retail sales in 1984 were $400 million worldwide, the doll's manufacturer, Mattel Toys, said.

Carter administration reunion planned

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Former President Jimmy Carter and people connected with his administration will be getting together for a good, old-fashioned Labor Day weekend of barbecue, a fish fry and softball.

Seven hundred invitations have been sent out for the three-day holiday, Carolyn Shields, secretary of former White House Press Secretary Jody Powell, said Wednesday from Washington. "We don't expect all 700 of them to show up. But 130 have already accepted."

Between 200 and 300 people are expected, including some of the reporters who covered the Carter administration, Ms. Shields said, adding, "It's going to be completely unorganized," but definitely will include softball.

Live Aid concert raises $35 million

LONDON (AP) — Live Aid organizer Bob Geldof, of the rock group Boomtown Rats, says last weekend's mammoth concert and telethon has drawn contributions of $35 million from around the world, about half the target figure.

"Every penny given to us will go to somebody that is dying. I can promise that," Geldof, leader of the specially formed British rock group Band Aid, said Thursday after a meeting of the Band Aid trustees in London.

The Band Aid Trust also is getting teams of agronomists, hydrologists and foresters to identify long-term development projects on the continent.

Geldof said he saw himself as a "cheerleader" for further fundraising. "At the moment, we occupy the moral high ground, and we have the potential to make governments act," he said.

Too many, says Congressman

Capitol awash with employees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enough is enough, says Rep. Silvio Conte, claiming that Capitol Hill is awash with excess employees.

He says there are so many garage attendants he's afraid he'll run over one of them some morning on his way to work. The size of the congressional police force — 2.3 officers for each member of Congress — make him feel like a hostage.

Elevator attendants operate elevators that already are automated, and there are 72 doorkeepers — 30 more than when Conte first came to Washington in 1959.

"I have gone around and checked the House and Senate and there isn't one additional door," Conte said Thursday while serving notice he intends to cut into the 31,000-member Capitol Hill work force.

The Massachusetts Republican's remarks came as the House approved, 263-135, a money bill of more than $1 billion for congressional operations and support functions for fiscal year 1986. The measure was sent to the Senate.

Conte succeeded in persuading the House to trim 10 garage attendants, through attrition. The savings would total about $230,000.

Declaring the 64 garage attendants are "just too many," Conte said, "I am concerned about those poor people. ... They must have terrible problems because they sit in those chairs all day long ..."

Later, he said he feared he would run over a garage attendant driving his car into one of the underground lots.

Congress, however, rejected an amendment that would have trimmed roughly $107,000 in expenses for the elevator operators.

"These jobs are utterly useless," said Rep. Hank Brown, R-Colo., who has tried for three years to persuade his colleagues to get rid of operators in the age of electronic elevators.

But Rep. Vic Fazio, D-Calif., prevailed with his argument that the operators are needed to run elevators smoothly and efficiently when congressmen are summoned from their offices to the House floor to vote within a specific period of time. Fazio shepherded the entire bill through the House.

The legislative money measure, covering fiscal 1986 which opens Oct. 1, totaled about $1.3 billion, including $447 million for House operations, about $321 million for joint congressional functions, and $526 million for related agencies such as the Library of Congress, the Copyright Royalty Tribunal and the Government Printing Office.

The measure included a provision prohibiting the Library of Congress from printing Playboy in Braille.

The action, 216-193, to slash $103,000 from the library's account covering Braille translations came after Rep. Chalmers Wylie, R-Ohio, complained of articles portraying "wanton idleness and illicit sex" in Playboy.

Fazio said the measure freezes spending at fiscal 1985 levels.

New ideas may revive budget talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are searching for fresh ideas to revive budget talks aimed at stopping the government's flood of red ink.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Rep. William H. Gray III, D-Pa., the House Budget Committee chairman, both have indicated there still may be room for the House and Senate to work out a compromise version of fiscal 1986 budgets passed by each chamber.

Nonetheless, Dole says it is less than an even bet the effort will be successful.

The smoke has yet to clear from an acrimonious session Wednesday when the talks broke down after Senate negotiators rejected a House compromise offer as being too short on serious domestic spending cuts.

Senators also said the offer violated an agreement with President Reagan on military spending.

No time has been set for resumption of talks, but some legislators expressed hope work could resume next week.

"We can utilize this weekend to mellow some feelings," said House Republican Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois.

However, White House chief of staff Donald T. Regan fanned the embers Thursday with an angry, podium-thumping denunciation of Congress for failing to come to grips with cutting federal spending. He also said it would be "disgraceful" if Congress broke off its budget talks.

"The federal government, the world's largest economy, the strength of the free world, is about to go into a new fiscal year without a budget," Regan said in an appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "How ridiculous can you be?"

His voice rose as he said, "Did we not submit a budget? We did. Where is it now?"

Pounding the podium, Regan shouted, "It has not been passed by the Congress. No budget has been passed by the Congress. Why not?"

Dole and other GOP senators shrugged off Regan's remarks. "I didn't write that speech," Dole said. "I'd have singled out the House" alone.

Some Republican senators said privately late Thursday there still was not a comprehensive effort under way to draft a Senate counteroffer.

Publicly, the senators kept up the pressure on the House to make additional spending cuts.

After the GOP senators met Thursday, Sen. John H. Chafee, R-R.I., said, "We are not going along with what the House has proposed. We think those savings are phony. And it's got to be very significant budget reductions before we'll be satisfied. ... The House has to do a lot more than they've done."

Cradle of Christian faith in violence-wracked trouble

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

A team of American church representatives, back this week from a visit in violence-wracked Lebanon, say that continued existence of Christians in the Middle Eastern cradle of that faith is in jeopardy.

"The future of Christianity is very much at stake there," says the Rev. Charles A. Kimball, director of the Middle East Office of the National Council of Churches.

Citing recent onslaughts against Lebanese Christians, and uprooting of them, the U.S. churchmen say crushing of that large, ancient community could spread throughout the surrounding, mainly Islamic region.

He and the Rev. Dwain C. Epps, the council's international affairs director, told a news conference that Lebanese Christians feel abandoned by Western churches as if Lebanon is a "lost cause."

Up to 100,000 Christians have been forced to flee southern Lebanon, their homes and businesses seized or pillaged, at least 10 of their villages bulldozed into ruins, Kimball said.

Epps, a Presbyterian, and Kimball, a Southern Baptist, along with Dale Bishop, Middle East specialist for the United Church of Christ, were the first U.S. churchmen in Lebanon since release of the U.S. hostages held there.

The U.S. group met with leaders of the Eastern Orthodox, Maronite Catholic, Coptic and Protestant churches, as well as with Christian and Moslem political leaders, pressing them about U.S. hostages still being held.

Epps said Lebanese leaders expressed dismay at the U.S. halting of flights to Beirut after the hostage crisis, and congressional moves against economic aid, as if "the whole country is being punished for acts of a few."

There are about 1.2 million Christians in Lebanon, about 40 percent of the now mainly Moslem population, and about 12 million Christians throughout the mainly Moslem Middle East.

The U.S. team urged greater concern and support for Lebanese Christians by Americans. "A vast majority are unaware of the vitality of Christianity in the Middle East," Kimball said.

However, "Christians there feel they're almost without a voice," Epps said.

In Beirut, the U.S. delegation could not enter the mainly Moslem western sector of the city because of "security problems," they said, even though a sister agency, the Middle East Council of Churches, is based there.

Under present confused conditions in Lebanon, the Americans said a "test case" for the future of inter-religious coexistence is now pointed up in the southern town of Jezzine.

It is mainly Christian, and presently being protected by Israeli-supplied Lebanese troops. "It is the last symbol in the south of religious coexistence," Kimball said. "It is a test case of the future of Lebanon."

Group wants clergy to be registered agents

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Freedom From Religion Foundation has asked the U.S. attorney-general's office to start requiring Roman Catholic clergy to register as "foreign agents" now that the Reagan administration has established full diplomatic relations with the Vatican as a foreign power.

TAX

away satisfied with the explanations they received about their increased property taxes.

Because of a recent appraisal, which cost the appraisal district about $65,000, most residences in Hereford were increased in tax value. While tax rates will be lowered to reflect the increased tax base, the majority of homeowners will see some sort of tax increases.

The hearings precede the district's Board of Review hearings, which are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the courthouse.

Applications to appear before the Board of Review can be obtained at the pre-hearings, which continue through Monday, or at the appraisal district office.

Members of the Board of Review are Lloyd Sharp, Wayne Phillips and Raymond Schlabs, representing real estate, business and farming, respectively.

Fox said about a dozen persons had signed up for the Board of Review as of Thursday night.

at the high school level, and abbreviated teaching schedules, many classes have more than the average number of students. The new law requires no more than 22 students in kindergarten, first or second grade classes next year.

School property tax rates in 1984-85 average 62.2 cents per $100 of market value (selling price). The school tax on a property selling for $100,000 was $622 in the average school district. Locally, the rate on market value is listed at 60 cents or $600 on a property selling at $100,000.

The research league arrived at this "true" rate by figuring the percentage of assessment on market value used by each district. The overall assessment rate for Hereford was computed at 63.8 percent of market value, which changes the 94-cent actual rate to the 60-cent "true" rate.

If the property were a homestead or owned by a senior citizen, the school tax would be less because of various exemptions. Open-space land that qualified would be valued on its productivity value rather than market value.

Revenue lost from exemptions totaled $780 million, which was $99.5 million more than the total for the previous year. To balance school budgets, the revenue less from exemptions was imposed upon other taxpayers in the school district.

As compared to the billion-dollar increase in state aid last year, only $129 million more state funds will be distributed to schools next year. Only 492 districts will get more; the other 576 districts will receive less. This strategy to equalize presupposes that local property taxes will remain about the same.

However, the large property tax increase last year, the report concludes, substantially negated the equalization improvement that the legislature tried to achieve.

Mrs. Cary Lee Vanlandingham, center, was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday evening at the E.B. Black House. Pictured with the honoree are the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Roy Vanlandingham (at left), and the bride's mother, Mrs. Gary Victor.

Bridal shower given for Vanlandingham

Mrs. Cary Lee Vanlandingham, the former Donna Lynn Victor, was feted with a bridal shower Tuesday evening at the E.B. Black House.

The honoree was presented a blue rose corsage enhanced by greenery and tied with satin ribbons in contrasting shades of blue. Mrs. Vanlandingham also received a kitchen appliance center as a hostess gift.

Receiving guests with the bride were her mother, Mrs. Gary Victor; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Roy Vanlandingham; Mrs. N.E. Tyler, Mrs. Jimmie Victor and Mrs. Tom Hall.

Punch and cookies were served by Marcella and Martha Ramirez, Jamie Victor and Jill Cocanougher from a table covered with a white lace cloth.

Decorating the refreshment table were silver and crystal appointments, white and pink napkins and a centerpiece consisting of roses, pink lillies and greenery arranged in an oval shaped crystal vase.

Recognized as special guests during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Matthews and Mrs. Lewis Womble, both of Amarillo, and Rhonda Simons.

Serving as hostesses were Gayle Worthan, Carrie Shirley, Gayla Sanders, Joan Milton, Christie Culp, Demita Cagle, Kippi West, Rhonda Banner, Joyce Duggan, Joyce Kaul, Janice Brownlow, Holly Gouldy, Rose Brownlow, Dovie Cherry, Betty Monroe, Caryn Davis and Kay Cotton.

Reunion scheduled Sunday

The public is invited to attend the 26th annual Progressive Reunion beginning at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the Hereford Community Center.

Cold drinks and paper plates will be furnished. Families are asked to bring a basket dinner.

Make syrup to can fruit

DEAR POLLY — Do you have a recipe for the sweet syrup used to can fruit? — MRS. T.N.

DEAR MRS. T.N. — The traditional canning liquid for fruit is a simple sugar syrup. This is made by dissolving sugar in water and heating it until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved. You may use a thin, medium or heavy consistency syrup. Here are the proportions:

For a thin syrup: 4 cups water, 2 cups sugar.

For a medium syrup: 4 cups water, 3 cups sugar.

For a heavy syrup: 4 cups water, 4 and three-fourths cups sugar.

The sugar syrup contributes flavor and preserves the good color and texture of the fruit. However, if you want to reduce the calorie content in your canned fruit, you may use plain water or fruit juice or a combination of water, juice and syrup as the canning liquid. Use whatever proportions taste good to you. Apple and pineapple juice are popular juices to use for this, but you may want to experiment with others.

Fruits are, of course, canned by processing the filled and capped jars in a boiling water bath. I'm sending you a copy of my newsletter "Canning Fruits, Tomatoes and Pickles," which has complete directions for boiling water bath canning including basic procedures, processing times, and recipes for dilled green beans and fruit butters. Others who would like this issue should send $1 for each copy to POLLY'S POINTERS, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1216, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to include the title. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — To freeze apples for pie, peel and slice them, then place them in a dish of cold water with a little salt added. Leave them in the salt water for 10 minutes, drain and place on paper towels to dry. Pack in freezer bags, then freeze. When you thaw them, these slices will be as nice and white as the day you put them in. — MRS. G.D.

DEAR POLLY — My child wanted a cat for years. Finally, a stray found its way to our house and into her heart. The cat is work and costs money, but she is enjoying it more than all of the expensive toys we bought her over the years. — AMY

DEAR AMY AND READERS — Adopting a stray is a wonderful way to share love with a pet. However, do be cautious in approaching sometimes part-wild strays.

Make sure the animal is tame and companionable before you touch it or let a child near it. Be especially alert for any signs of disease or injury and get the animal to a vet immediately so it can be checked out and, if necessary, treated right away. If you have other cats, don't let the new animal come into contact with them until it's been to the vet, since it could pass on diseases such as feline leukemia or feline peritonitis to uninfected cats.

Finally, get any new cat, whether adopted as a stray or purchased, spayed or neutered immediately. The cat will be a happier and more contented pet and you'll have taken an important step toward solving the problem of our rapidly expanding unwanted cat population.

Pet ownership carries responsibilities as well as joys. I'm sending you a copy of my newsletter, "Pet Pointers," which has helpful information on selecting and caring for cats and dogs, including hints for traveling with your pet, health tips and more. Others who would like this issue should send $1 for each copy to POLLY'S POINTERS, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1216, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to include the title. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — A gift for the teacher need not be elaborate or expensive. A batch of cookies or a small plant grown by Mom or the child or a package of stickers will be greatly appreciated. The joy for the child is in giving the gift, no matter how simple. — ERMA

Events planned by lodge

Several special dates were announced when members of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge 228 met Tuesday evening.

Plans were launched for a chili supper, Halloween toy march and Christmas bazaar. Also, during the business session with Noble Grand Kee Ruland presiding, it was announced that fun and games night will be observed after the meetings held the first Tuesday of each month.

There were 22 visits to the sick, 17 cheer cards, 22 dishes of food and six flowers reported by members.

Susie Curtsinger served as hostess to Ruland, Patti Duncan, Karrol Retman, Dorothy Laundry, Lydia Hopson, Leona Sowell, Thama Pearson, Roberta Combs, Irene Merritt, Verma Sowell, Helen Bishop, Gene Bishop, Guy Lawrence, Bessie Lawrence, Ben Conklin, Anna Conklin, Wallace Shelton, Glessie Shelton, Jo Irlbeck, Peggy Lemons, Nellie Beauford and Ada Hollabaugh.

DR. GOTT

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Do diabetics have perspiration problems?

I am a dieting diabetic (not doing a great job of it) and I take one pill in the morning. Almost a year ago I developed a perspiration problem from the waist down to my knees. (I sit a lot on my job.) My doctor is not concerned. He says I should change the material of my clothes, which I cannot afford to do.

DEAR READER — I am not aware that diabetes per se produces the sort of perspiration problem you describe. Thigh sweating is more likely due to some factor relating to the skin of your lower body. Porous cotton clothing can more effectively allow your body to "breathe" than can synthetic fabric or wool. If you cannot afford to change your trousers, try using a light and absorbent undergarment, like cotton boxer shorts. I think your problem is probably due to "hot pants" — not the kind favored by teenagers, but the type of material that prevents appropriate dissipation of body heat. It sounds as though your unusual perspiration pattern is more the province of your haberdasher than of your doctor.

"Class" is using the boutique box a gift came in for a present you bought at a discount store.

Spy movies were much more fun to watch when the spooks traveled by train through scenic landscapes, rather than jetting to destinations.

National League roundup

Ashby spoils Niekro's pitching efforts

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — It was the kind of victory in which Alan Ashby would rather not have played so prominent a role.

The Houston catcher spoiled a fine pitching performance by Joe Niekro, committing two errors and allowing two passed balls, as the Astros dropped a 3-0 National League baseball decision to Montreal Expos Thursday night. He was also the victim of four Expos stolen bases.

"It was kind of embarrassing," the Houston catcher admitted after his miscue-filled night helped Montreal score all its runs.

Ashby's troubles began when his passed ball allowed Hubie Brooks to score in the second inning. Brooks led off with a double to right and went to third on Andre Dawson's fly ball.

It was to be the only earned run off Niekro, 7-8, who allowed only three hits in seven innings.

"Niekro had an outstanding knuckleball, and when that happens you usually don't score," Montreal Manager Buck Rodgers said. "Fortunately we scored three funny runs and they held up."

All the runs off Niekro were indeed unusual, but the veteran right-hander, whose unpredictable pitch forces Ashby to wear an oversized mitt, was not blaming his catcher.

"If we could have scored a few runs early, it might have saved those errors," he said. "We would have taken away their running game with the lead."

The running game led the Expos to their second run in the fifth inning, which started with a walk to Herm Winningham.

The fleet-footed Winningham stole second and continued to third when Ashby's throw sailed into center field. Mike Fitzgerald's sacrifice fly knocked in Winningham.

That turned out to be more than enough scoring for Montreal starter Joe Hesketh, who had given up only one single to that point.

Hesketh, 6-4, finished up by allowing seven hits over 8 2-3 innings to earn his first victory in nearly two months.

The last time the rookie southpaw triumphed was May 24 against San Francisco. In the interim, he started nine games and had seven no-decisions.

He said he was beginning to wonder if he'd ever win again.

"I was starting to have my doubts," he said. "But I knew if I kept my chin up and continued to pitch the way I was, things would fall into place."

"I know I'm most effective when I'm aggressive, but I was getting a little lackadaisical. I was trying to hit the corners instead of going after hitters."

Montreal gave Hesketh one more insurance run in the seventh, again without the benefit of a base hit.

Tim Wallach opened the inning by reaching first on Ashby's passed ball after a strikeout.

Wallach, who had only four stolen bases coming into the game, broke for second, beating the throw cleanly. He went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Winningham's sacrifice fly.

Houston then began a futile late drive, getting a leadoff single in the eighth and two hits in the ninth before Hesketh was lifted.

Rodgers brought in Jeff Reardon, who retired one batter to pick up his major-league leading 23rd save, but his first since June 27.

In other National League games, it was: Los Angeles 2, St. Louis 1; San Francisco 1, Chicago 0; San Diego 3, Pittsburgh 2; New York 7, Atlanta 6; and Philadelphia 6, Cincinnati 3.

Dodgers 2, Cardinals 1
It hasn't been a happy week for Joaquin Andujar.

Last Friday he lost only his fourth game in 19 decisions and on Saturday he dropped out of the All-Star Game when he learned he wasn't going to start, then was widely criticized for the decision.

On Thursday night, he was throwing a shutout over the Los Angeles Dodgers, but developed a blister on the middle finger of his pitching hand and had to leave the game with two outs in the sixth inning. The next batter, Greg Brock, tied the game with a single off Ricky Horton and the Dodgers won the game 2-1 in the seventh on a sacrifice fly by Len Matuszek.

It was only the second time in 21 starts that Andujar left a game without a decision. Mike Scioscia led off the seventh with a double off loser Bill Campbell, 2-2. Winning pitcher Orel Hershiser, 9-3, scattered six hits over seven innings.

Mets 7, Braves 6
New York's 16-13, 19-inning victory over Atlanta on July 4 may have been bizarre, but the Mets' latest triumph was a close second.

Both teams committed four errors apiece, with the Braves' miscues giving New York six unearned runs as the Mets won for the 13th time in 14 games and moved to within 1½ games of the East Division-leading Cardinals.

Darryl Strawberry's two-run single keyed New York's five-run fifth inning, which erased a 4-1 Atlanta lead.

Two runs scored when Atlanta third baseman Ken Oberkell, who was charged with two errors in the game, failed to catch a two-out infield pop-up near the mound with the bases loaded.

Mets third baseman Howard Johnson was even more generous — he had three errors, including two in one inning.

Rick Mahler, 13-8, was the hard-luck loser, while Ron Darling, 10-2, Ted Williams and Rogers Hornsby are the only two players to win baseball's Triple Crown twice.

got credit for the Mets' fourth straight victory despite lasting only five innings.

Padres 3, Pirates 2
Carmelo Martinez broke a 2-2 tie with two outs in the bottom of the eighth inning with his 12th homer to lift San Diego over Pittsburgh.

John Candelaria, 2-4, relieved Pirates starter Rick Reuschel in the eighth and gave up Martinez's game-winning homer, making a winner of Padres reliever Craig Lefferts, 5-4.

Phillies 6, Reds 3
Philadelphia snapped a five-game losing streak as Juan Samuel had three hits and two RBIs against Cincinnati.

Samuel tripled in a run in the second inning, singled home another in the eighth and also had a double, pacing a 12-hit Philadelphia attack.

Jerry Koosman, 4-2, won his 220th career game, allowing three runs and seven hits, struck out three and didn't walk a batter in 7 2-3 innings.

Mario Soto, 8-11, suffered his eighth straight defeat for the Reds since his last triumph June 4.

Giants 1, Cubs 0
Mike Krukow pitched a seven-hitter for San Francisco and Jeff Leonard's one-out double in the bottom of the ninth knocked in Chili Davis from first with the only run of the game.

George Frazier, 5-3, gave up a one-out single to Davis and was relieved by Lee Smith, who allowed Leonard's game-winning hit.

Krukow, 6-7, struck out seven and walked two.

Texas gets key singles from Bell, Wright

By HARRY ATKINS AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — It was hard to tell the winners from the losers.

For the record, the Texas Rangers got key RBI singles from Buddy Bell and George Wright plus sterling relief pitching from Greg Harris to beat the Detroit Tigers 3-2 Thursday night.

But the face of Texas Manager Bobby Valentine was just as haggard and drawn as Detroit's Sparky Anderson.

Valentine clearly was weary from a controversy swirling around Bell's possible trade to the Cincinnati Reds.

"It's a very unsettling situation — on him and the team," Valentine said. "I haven't been sitting back and I haven't been sleeping very well. The whole thing hasn't been fun."

The two teams are scheduled to resume their four-game weekend series tonight with Dan Petry, 10-8, going against Texas right-hander Burt Hooten, 4-4.

It's a match-up Anderson should cherish, but nothing the Tigers have done lately has given the Detroit manager any reason to be optimistic.

The Tigers have lost four of their last five games, failing once again to take advantage of rare losing spells by the Toronto Blue Jays, leaders of the American League East.

"You don't take advantage of nobody when you score two runs a game," Anderson said. "You don't tell a guy, 'Please hit the ball.'"

"We're under .500 against the AL West again (24-25)," Anderson said. "The only reason we're not out of it is because of what Toronto is doing."

And although he didn't say so, Anderson also may have been distressed by the fact that Harris — who is fast becoming the ace of the Texas bullpen — outshone Willie Hernandez, the man who last year could do no wrong for the Tigers.

Harris set the Tigers down without a hit over the last two innings, striking out three of the seven men he faced, to notch his seventh save.

"I've had good success against them," said Harris, who also pitched three innings against the Tigers in Game 3 of last year's World Series when he was in a San Diego Padres uniform. "Earlier this year, (Lance) Parrish hit a two-run homer and Darrell Evans a three-run job, but other than that, I've had good luck against them."

Hernandez, who made good on 32 of 33 save situations a year ago, was 13-for-13 earlier this season, but he's failed the Tigers in four of his last 12 tries — twice when he had a chance to nail down a victory for Frank Tanana, 4-9.

"I'm sure Willie feels as bad about it as anybody," Tanana said. "Nobody could keep it up the way he was going."

With two outs in the Detroit first, Alan Trammell singled, Darrell Evans walked and Larry Herndon slapped a single to center off Charlie Hough, 8-10, to drive in Trammell.

But Gary Ward quickly evened the score at 1-1 with his sixth home run leading off the Texas second.

The Tigers grabbed a short-lived 2-1 lead in the sixth when Herndon singled, went to second on Barbaro Garbey's grounder and scored on a pinch single by Kirk Gibson.

With two outs in the seventh, Ward walked and was safe when second baseman Lou Whitaker dropped the throw on a steal attempt.

Bill Stein was walked intentionally and Bell was summoned to pinch hit for Oddibe McDowell. Hernandez relieved Tanana and Bell drove in Ward with the tying run. Wright's hit allowed Stein to score the go-ahead run.

Bell didn't arrive at the ballpark until 4:30 p.m. He said he had been in Cincinnati, where he agreed in principle to contract terms with the Reds.

Because he was not at the park in time for practice, Valentine didn't put Bell in the starting lineup.

"I was trying to win tonight's game," Valentine said. "I thought sending him up there was the best way to do it."

The knuckle-balling Hough gave up six hits, walked four and struck out seven in seven innings before giving way to Harris.

Tanana, facing his old teammates for the second time, allowed seven hits in 6 2/3 innings, walking five and striking out four. Ward's homer was the only earned run charged to Tanana.

In other American League games, Oakland defeated Toronto 6-4, Minnesota beat New York 8-4, Chicago clobbered Cleveland 10-0, Baltimore blasted Kansas City 8-3, Boston bounced California 10-1, and Seattle trimmed Milwaukee 5-2.

A's 6, Blue Jays 4

When the Toronto Blue Jays rebuilt their bullpen in the off-season, it was to avoid weeks like this.

For the fourth straight game, the Blue Jays lost, beaten by Oakland 6-4 Thursday night. For the third straight game, they lost a lead in their opponent's last time up, as the A's scored three times in the ninth inning.

For his third straight game, the loser was Gary Lavelle, acquired along with Bill Caudill and who has helped bolster Toronto's relief this year, until his current odyssey.

Lavelle was ill-supported in the field Thursday night. Oakland's three-run rally received two big boosts from the Toronto defense: catcher Ernie Whitt's throw to second on a Mike Heath sacrifice bunt caromed into left field, sending the tie run to third, and the go-ahead run on a triple blasted over the head of right fielder Lou Thornton.

Steve Ontiveros, 1-1, worked one and two-thirds innings in relief of Chris Codioli for the victory. Jay Howell pitched the ninth inning for his 19th save as Oakland won the fifth time in six games.

Twins 8, Yankees 4

Kent Hrbek's grand-slam homer sank the Yankees. With the score tied 4-4 in the seventh inning, a singly by Kirby Puckett and two walks issued by reliever Rich Bordi brought on reliever Brian Fisher. Hrbek hit Fisher's first pitch over the wall in left field for his 10th homer this year. Frank Eufemia, 3-0, pitched three shutout innings in relief for the victory, ending New York's six-game winning streak.

White Sox 10, Indians 0
Britt Burns is 6-6 against the rest of the AL, 4-0 against Cleveland with three shutouts. He extended his string of scoreless innings against the Indians to 32 with a five-hitter.

Ten Chicago batters came to the plate in the six-run first inning. Cleveland starter Vern Ruhle failed to retire any of the seven hitters he faced, allowing six singles and a walk.

Reid Nichols led Chicago's 16-hit attack with four hits and three RBIs.

Orioles 8, Royals 3
Cal Ripken, Mike Young and Wayne Gross clouted solo home runs and Eddie Murray rapped a two-run double. Ripken, 12-for-28 in his last seven games, singled prior to Murray's double in the first inning and hit his 16th homer, giving him 21 RBIs in 24 games.

Scott McGregor, with three innings of relief from Sammy Stewart, who notched his seventh save, improved his record to 8-7.

Red Sox 10, Angels 1
Jim Rice and Bill Buckner powered an eight-run third inning with two hits and two RBIs apiece. Bruce Hurst improved his record to 6-7 with a seven-hitter, his fourth consecutive triumph.

Rice and Buckner topped Boston's 15-hit attack with three singles. Wade Boggs extended his hitting streak to 21 games, tops in the majors this year.

Mariners 5, Brewers 2
Jim Presley hit two home runs, Bob Kearney hit one and Mike Moore, 8-5, scattered seven hits. Presley opened the scoring with a bases-empty homer in the first, then completed it with his 20th homer of the season, again with the bases clear, in the ninth.

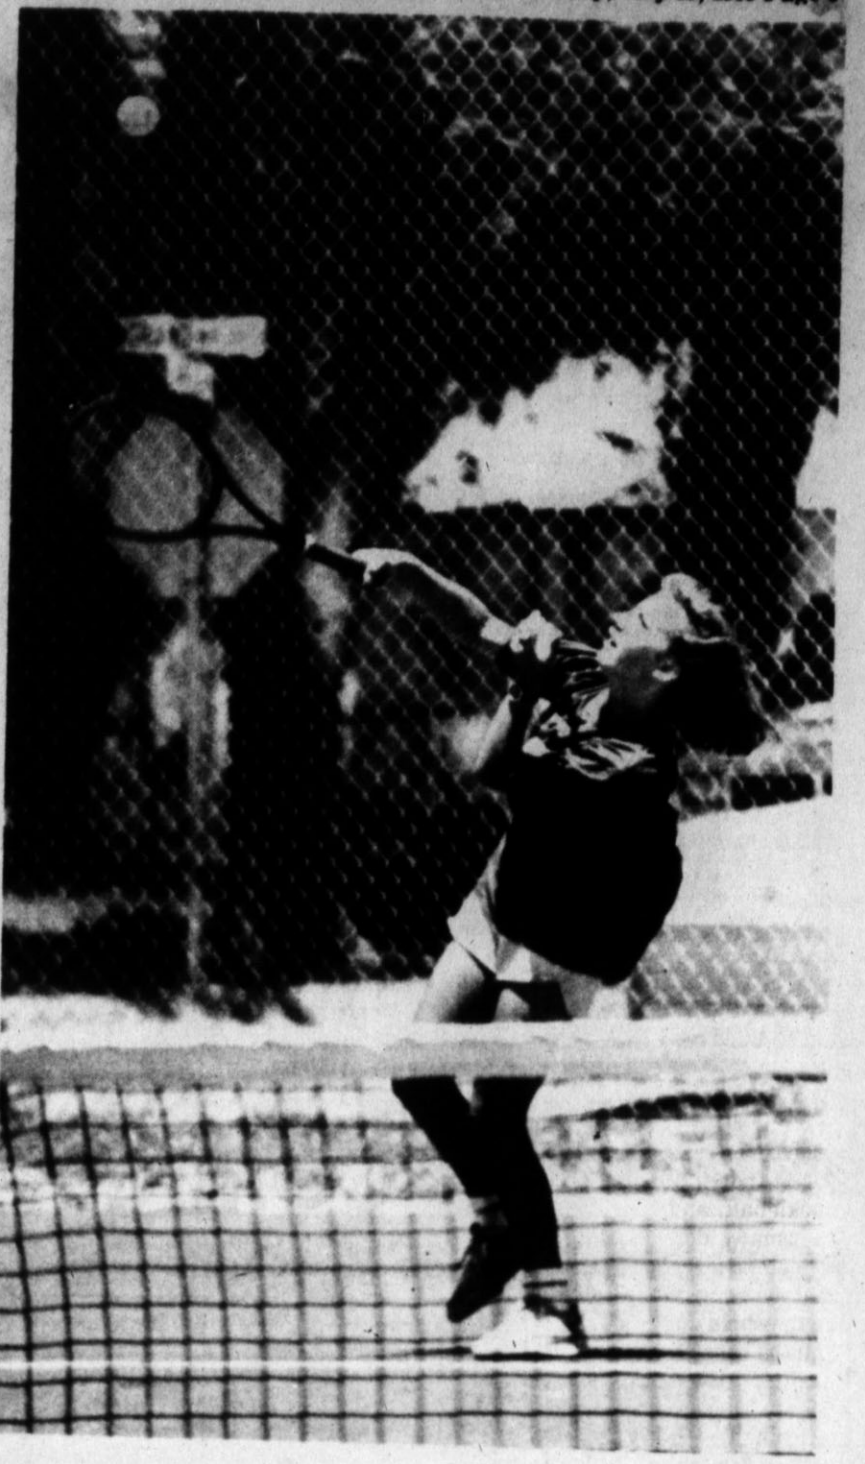

The Mariners' two-run rally in the seventh inning turned around a 2-1 deficit and was capped by Kearney's sixth home run of the year. Danny Darwin, 6-10, lost his fifth straight game.

Ann Landers

Good letter but...

Dear Ann Landers: Several years ago, my husband and I went to Europe for a month's vacation. He had distant cousins living in Germany and invited them to have dinner with us (Mistake No.1).

Our hotel accommodations were nice but they insisted we stay with them and they would show us around. (Of course, we gave them money for food and gasoline.) Before we left, we gave them more money because they told us how hard up they were and how lucky we were to live in America.

Last summer, their eldest son wrote and asked us to invite them to visit the States. We agreed (Mistake No. 2). We assumed they would visit for only a few weeks. We were wrong. The husband, his wife and two small children decided to stay. They requested we apply for their permanent residency. The man, a competent mechanic, found a good job and had visions of getting rich fast with all the cars we had here in the States. He was granted permanent residency without any problem.

Meantime, they continued to live with us. When we asked them to find an apartment, they were resentful. They could not understand why they could not stay with us since we had a large home, and they would have to buy furniture which would be very expensive. Meanwhile, the money he earned went for nice clothing, long-distance telephone calls to Europe and a new car. Finally, my husband told them they had to look for a place as we needed more time for ourselves.

They finally moved, but are constantly requesting something and reminding us that we invited them here. They are very critical of our country, noting that the crime rate is high, the children are rude and the streets are dirty.

If any of your readers have relatives abroad who ask if they can come for a visit, please make sure they arrive with round-trip tickets. Also, Americans who go abroad should stay in hotels. In the long run, it will be much cheaper. -LEARNED THE HARD WAY IN N.J.

DEAR N.J.: Thanks for a good letter. May I remind you, however, of something you may have read in this space a few dozen times? No one can take advantage of you without your permission.

Dear Ann Landers: A man I considered my best friend is getting married at the age of 40. I received the wedding invitation today. It was addressed to "Mr. and Mrs."

I phoned my friend and asked if the invitation included our two children, ages 6 and 10. He said "Sorry, the children are not included. This is going to be very formal."

My wife and I do not want to travel 500 miles for a wedding and leave our children home with a baby-sitter. Joe is special to us and our feelings are hurt. Are we wrong to feel this way? -NO NAME, NO LOCATION.

DEAR N.L.: Joe and his fiancée have the right to exclude children if they wish. I see no reason to feel hurt.

If you cannot find a family member who will keep the youngsters overnight, take them along and ask Joe to find a sitter, whom you will pay. This way, everyone will have a wonderful time.

Folk fest scheduled Aug. 6

Four different ethnic folk groups are scheduled to perform at the second annual Folk Fest starting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 6, in the Memorial Park, south of the Amarillo College.

They include Norwegian, Scottish, Top of Texas Cloggers and Greek groups. The fest, sponsored by the European Club, is open to the public. Charles Kitsman, club president, said, "Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend."

The European Club, organized in the spring of 1983, has 150 members from throughout the Panhandle area. The club promotes European languages and cultures.

The group plans to hold Oktoberfest on Saturday evening, Oct. 5, in St. Joseph's Annex, 4122 South Bonham, Amarillo. The festivity, an annual fundraiser for the club, will include a live Polka band, German cuisine, door prizes and dances.

Membership information in the club is available from Chales Kitsman, 2700 West 16th, Suite 344, Amarillo, TX, 79102.

Guard unit fires new missiles

FORT BLISS, Texas (AP) - Four ground-to-air Chaparral missiles test-fired by a Roswell unit of the New Mexico National Guard scored two direct hits on flying target rockets, officials say. Officials of the Roswell unit fired the missiles on Wednesday on McGregor Range in southern Otero County, N.M. Officials said one missile missed its target, another missile hit the target but failed to explode and another missile scored a technical hit, which means it came within 30 feet of the target. Solid-fuel powered rockets, called Ballistic Aerial Target Systems, were the targets. The Chaparral, a short-range missile similar to the heat-seeking Sidewinder air-to-air missile, is a front-line weapon designed to defend combat troops from attacks by enemy aircraft. A tracked vehicle carries four of the missiles, said Capt. Jim Adair, force modernization action officer with National Guard headquarters in Santa Fe. A missile is fired when the gunner locks in on a heat source from an aircraft target. Adair said the 1st Battalion and C Battery of the 4th Battalion have been at its annual training at Fort Bliss since July 4. The missile firing was part of the training exercise. He said the test-firings were the first step in getting the battalion combat qualified with the new weapon. A Battery received its Chaparral weapons last August, Adair said. The other batteries are scheduled to receive the new missiles this fall. Each battery will be armed with 12 of the Chaparral systems.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION STATE OF TEXAS

GREETINGS: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable 222nd Judicial District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas, at the courthouse of said county in Hereford, Texas, at or before 10:00 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of Texas Department of Human Resources and Linda Rakow, Petitioner, filed in said Court on the 11th day of July, 1985, against Gary Dugger, Respondent, and said suit being numbered DR-85F-103 on the docket of said court, and entitled in the interest of Gary Don Dugger, a child, the nature of which suit is a request for temporary orders in suit affecting the parent-child relationship. Said child was born the 13th day of April, 1973, in Galveston, Texas. The Court has the authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree in the child interest which will be binding upon you including but not necessarily limited to, the termination of the parent-child relationship, the determination of paternity, and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the child's adoption. Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court at Hereford, Texas, this 16th day of July, 1985.

Lola Faye Veazey Clerk of the District Court Deaf Smith County Texas

Camels can go without drinking for as much as eight weeks in cool weather. After such abstinence, they can consume as much as a hundred quarts in ten minutes.
