Thirty-Six Children To Participate In Project Head Start Here

Two pre-school classes with 18 children in each group have been approved for St. Joseph's Mis-sion School as part of an $85,399 grant to an Amarillo Catholic charity organization for Project Head Start activities.

Some 700 children in five Panhandle and South Plains communities will be involved in the project. The grant was made by the U.S. Office of Education to the Panhandle and South Plains Venture for Aiding Needy Children, directed by the Rev. Michael Heneghan, superintendent of schools for the Amarillo The program will start on June 28 and continue through August 20th.

Panhandle and South Plains Venture for Aiding Needy Children has certified that none of the funds shall be used for teaching religion, religious proselytization or religious worship, and that all textbooks and materials shall be devoid of sectarian or religious content. Even religious symbols and decoration will be removed from the schools.

First on the schedule for children in Operation Head Start will be medical and dental examinations, with follow-up study to insure that all recommended remedial action is taken. Children will receive immunization shots if necessary, and they will be referred to public and private organizations which provide glasses or other necessary devices.

"We hope to have the co-operation of local doctors and dentists in this program," Father Heneghan says. "We hope to find any physical disabilities that might impair learning and correct them before the child starts to school." Improving verbal skills is another important facet of the program. "We will stress expos-ure to basic conversational Eng-lish by use of specialized audiovisual instructional material, professionally developed especially for Spanish-speaking children, and by the use of bilingual instructors," he says.

Other objectives for the children are a desire to go to school; a receptive attitude toward teachers; experiences of individual acceptance and recognition as a person and the witnessing of the practice of kindness, patience, justice and respect for others; learning to get along and to cooperate with others; experiencing communi-cation through arts and skills; learning new concepts, discovering new things and generally broadening horizons and environment beyond the home and immediate neighborhood; and exposure to literature, books, music, arts and other cultural

For the parent, the Operation Head Start's goals are knowl-edge of and experience with school environment and rapport with school personnel; develop-ing a concept of partnership between school and parent; pro-

Southern Baptists - whose membership rolls show them to be in strong numbers in Here-ford — have been organized in the area since 1899, when First Baptist Church of Hereford was formed. Churches here are part of a cooperative program which includes 10 million members over the United States.

Southern Baptist churches in the area include First Baptist,

Temple Baptist, Avenue Baptist, Summerfield Baptist, Westway Baptist, Dawn Baptist, Frio Baptist and Calvary Baptist. Total membership exceeds 2,300

The eight churches here recently sent "messengers" to the Southern Baptist Convention in Dallas, a cooperative meeting which was culminated by the efforts of individual churches. Since each Southern Baptist church is completely autono-omous, there is no other governing body outside each congregation. However, the churches do band together in associa-tions for a cooperative and vol-

Sons Of Showdown Go To Show

More than 150 registered quarterhorses from a fourstate region competed for points in the American Business Club Quarterhorse Show held here Saturday.

The show was sanctioned by the American Quarterhorse Association and the National Cutting Horse Association and supervised by the Golden Spread Quarterhorse Association.

Among the prize horses exhibited in halter and performance divisions were several descendents of Showdown —one of the most famous stallions ever to roam a range in the Hereford region.

RESULTS OF Saturday's show were not available at press time, but the Brand took these photos in advance to show a sample of some of the top-notch quarterhorses which Showdown, owned by O. G. Hill Jr. of Hereford, has retired from the show ring for stud service in recent years, but his offspring continue to step into winners' circles at many a show. Last year alone, 25 of his get earned performance

Long-Time City Resident Marks 88th Birthday

Her 88th birthday was the occasion for a surprise party honoring Mrs. Mary Hellman Thursday afternoon in her home at 110 Avenue B, where she has lived since she came to Hereford 53 years ago. The party was arranged by her daughter, Miss Agnes Hellman, who shares the white frame house with her.

Alert and erect, Mrs. Hellman appears younger than her 88 years. She is a native of Iowa and grew up in Lamars, where she was born. At about 20 years of age she moved to Arkansas and was married there, making her home at Stuttgart, near the hour of visiting.

Little Rock, until the family came to Hereford, Her husband died 17 years ago.

Miss Hellman is the only one of her children still living here Her other daughter, Mrs. Christine Looney, resides in California as do three sons, Al, Herman, and Francis, Leo Hellman lives in Lubbock, Anthony in Friona and Lawrence at Amarillo.

Friends who gathered for the informal birthday party were Mmes, Louie Huckert, Joe Huckert Sr., William Betzen, Matt Jesko, Edmund Burgan, Joe Hucker Jr., William Wulff, James Pavlicek, Art Schneider, Mabel Wagner, W. J. Lueb; Misses Katie Erdman, Hilda Strafuss and Theresa Koelzer.

Will bluebonnets grow this far north in Texas?

The answer to that question of course is yes, and if you don't believe it, just ask Mrs. Curtis O. Roach.

The ruckus all started over a recent editorial expounding the virtues of the bluebonnet and bemoaning the fact that they do not grow (wild at least) in this part of the country.

But when it comes to horticulture, someone is bound to make a liar out of us even when we're right.

First, Mrs. W. A. Ford of Amarillo declared that she indeed could grow the delightful little flower upon these bald prairies, and backed up her statement by sending a sample, recently plucked from the flower garden.

But that was in Amarillo not Hereford, and Brand pub- mained intact. lisher Jimmie Gillentine, in a short statement following her test. "Letter to the Editor" pointed out this fact.

That's when the hammer fell. Mrs. Curtis O. Roach, who lives on Austin Road, reached for the "Alexander Bell" and let us have a broadside that would have done justice to the

Late August Wedding Set

Miss Kathryn Jane Burrus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Burrus, Route 4, is to become the bride of Richard Gordon Slaughter, her parents have announced. A ceremony in St. Anthony's Catholic Church is planned for August 28.

Miss Burrus has been a student in Texas Technological College, Lubbock, majoring in elementary education since her graduation from Hereford High School in 1963.

Her flance, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Slaughter, 818 Ave. also attends Tech as an industrial management major. He completed studies in Hereford High School in 1962.

Engagement Announced

Home of the bride's parents will be the scene of a July 16 wedding for Miss Rita Carol Harper and Larry Allen Duncan. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Harper, Route 5, are announcing the engagement of their daughter to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duncan, 205 Beach.

Miss Harper will be a senior at Hereford High School, The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Hereford High with the class of 1965.

More than 1,500 boxes of candy have been ordered for the event.

Little Leaguers will meet at the ballpark at 9 a.m. Saturday to commence the drive.

Proceeds of the sale will be applied to new uniforms for all minor league teams and four of the major league squads,

Mrs. Joe Deavenport, president of the Little League Mothers Association, said the organization wished to express thanks to all merchants and customers who participated in the bake sale the mothers staged recently.

Many persons were unable to participate in the sale due to the heavy rains which fell, Mrs. Deavenport added. She said that anyone who wished to contribute to the Little League may do so by contacting her.

Young-Perrin Vows Solemnized In Lubbock Church Ceremony

Miss Marilyn Annette Young and Julian Vandivier Perrin Jr. pledged marriage vows Friday evening in the chapel of Broad-way Church of Christ at Lubbock with Wesley W. Price, Church of Christ minister and associate director of Texas Tech Bible

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lee Young of Route 4, Hereford, and Perrin's parents also live on Route 4. She was graduated from Tech this spring and he is a senior student. After June 23 they will be at home at 3813

Her father gave Miss Young in marriage and she was attended by Mrs. Roy Neal Jones and Miss Nancy Pyeatt, both of Tulia, John Perrin was his brother's best man and Ronnie Simpson of Levelland was groomsman Sam Dean Saul and Bob Darwin of Lubbock were the ushers.

Mrs. Wesley Price, accompan ied by the Broadway Church of Christ wedding chorus, sand the solos. Music before the service included "I Come to Offer My Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You" and during the ceremony "Father Hear the Prayer". The chorus sang traditional marches.

Ivory peau de soie fashioned the bride's gown, with an overlay of reembroidered Alencon lace on the fitted bodice, enhanced with seed pearls and drop crystals. An obi sash encircled the waist, and the bell skirt its fullness held in unpressed pleats, widened into a chapel train. Tiny buttons fastened the bodice back from high neckline to waist.

Layers of silk illusion in an elbow length veil were caught to a crown of seed pearls and crystals. Her white bouquet was (See YOUNG Page 2)

Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN

"My Dad is bigger than your Dad" insists the small boy, and in this immemorial boast is the keynote of Fathers Day. For the boy refers not necessarily to physical size but to the fact that his father is the most important man in the world.

A boy's certainty that Dad is an expert on all matters from fishworms to spacecraft is succeeded by the youth's skepticism when he learns that Dad is not infallible and may be old-fashioned, though still dependable for paying bills and handing over the allowance.

The mature man usually turns to at least some of the boy's faith in Dad and goes to him for advice - sometimes about his own sons.

"My Dad can whip your Dad" is the boy's way of saying that H. Deovenport, she will be a better than any other; that is nation, and we doubt if in the history of mankind any other specified occasion has ever been viewed with such mixed emotion. Mom is the one who consistently gives

Dad more true respect than anyone else in the family and, even she is bound to admit from time to time that his image has altered a bit since their marriage. Next come the smaller fry, who are more prone to regard Dad in the light of a hero who seldom does wrong — but even here you will run across an occasional question as to his infalibility.

The teenagers, well, that's a different story. Frequently, they see the "Old Man" as a constant bungler who seldom does anything right. And of all the family, it is father, himself, who is probably most confused and more critical than even the teenagers. When he isn't worrying about how he is going to pay for all of his presents, he may even ponder occasionally on the oft-repeated phrase that he is the most difficult guy in the world for whom to select a practical gift. And if he happens to be a "thinking type Dad", he may occasionally compare himself with the stern, unbending fathers of yesterday which, consequently, leads to the inevitable conclusion that he is lacking in many facets of the image.

Back in the Bibical days, for instance, man was ruler of his domain; his word was law, and his decisions seldom questioned. Unfortunately for the male of the species, Space-Age dads have changed. The women,

New Age Brings New Philosophy

Senate passage this week of a twoyear $3 million plus, foreign aid bill once again emphasizes the fact that the United States not only has an extremely liberal form of government — but that it is here to stay for some time to come. We say this because of the overwhelming 68-to-20 vote on what a few years back was a controversial subject. Elections have weeded out most of the opposition to foreign aid, and some of its former opponents have switched sides. Most significant of all, though, is the fact that the vote directly reflects the wishes and desires of the majority because they, in turn, named the officials by equally overwhelming majorities. Deep down, this is the basic opposition which the defeated GOP encountered in the last national election, and it provides the reason for so much planning and discussion within the party today. The big question is "How should the GOP make its comeback"?

Despite the moaning and groaning of die-hard Conservatives, the hand writing is pretty well on the wall. If we are to continue with two major political parties, both must pretty well shift to the liberal side of the fence. The trend has been in this direction since the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt and it will be a long time, if ever, before any shift can be expected.

History records varying philosophies, along with changing methods and shifting times. Currently, we are moving into the "Space Age", and with it has emerged complete new theories on money, credit, government and other phases of modern life. All of these changes are accepted in our democracy on a basis of "majority rule" which is fine - except for the possibility that even this majority concept may in the future be replaced, along with other phases and concepts of our government.

Today is Father's Day all over the according to statistics, spend most of the family income, decide substantially on what type of automobile to buy, handle the family budget, and manage to pretty well supervise father at every turn. Dad, as the story goes, decides on the important things, such as the national Lend-Lease policy,

Viet Nam and what size navy the United States should maintain. Before television, Dad pretty well dominated the sports section of the paper and usually considered himself an authority. Today, everyone in the family knows more about sports than Dad, and this goes for politics, as well. No longer does father tell mom how to vote." What's more, unless he is a pretty lucky guy, his children are turning up with more schooling than he ever sought or deemed necessary, and it is this area around which he has come to build his hopes and dreams.

Father would be the first to admit that he too seldom asserts himself around the house; that he too often accepts the futility of bucking the whole family in an up-stream struggle for domination. This, he points out to himself, is the very thing that is happening to the American people as a whole and, after all, he is a good American.

He still agrees concerning the importance of fathers, though, and more than anyone realizes, he appreciates the occasion of Father's Day. If he is a bit confused with the transitions which have accompanied our national shift from the Automobile into the Space age, who can blame him if he occasionally ponders the ultimate outcome as he gropes his way to work each day, puts in his 40 hours each week, and worries about operating two automobiles.

Yes, history reveals that the change in fathers has probably been far more universal and dramatic since his grandfather's day than even our shift from the covered wagon to jet planes, and much of the credit goes to dad for, without his changing character, it is highly probable that many of our other points of progress would not have been recorded.

Father, in swapping his throne as dictator for a seat in the family council, has altered his status sharply but, as we are all bound to admit he is still the "best guy" in the world, and a mighty fine person to have around. Come to think of it, every household should have one and today, at least, he deserves our considered appreciation and gratitude.

Two Agencies And Two Goals

Texas Employment Commission has opened fire on unemployment of youth with a prediction of 55,000 school dropouts during the 1965-66 term unless the youngsters find employment.

What TEC fails to point out, however, is that work rules set up by other agencies are probably ruling out more employment than the 55,000 youngsters cited. A trail of fines and penalties is scattered all over the Panhandle of instances where Wage-Hour officials are working full force to eliminate employment such through hairsplitting decisions and interpretations.

The business man is faced with one department which says he cannot hire youth, and another which denounces him as non-humane because he fails to hire them. Pretty well the same picture is reflected through statistics. The government yells loud and clear regarding family need for employment, while another department says hire the youngsters, which is bound to force out regular employees, unless they expect people to hire youngsters on a donation basis.

Learning to work is highly important, and we definitely agree with TEC on this point. However, it does seem that they might coordinate the government departments to allow apprenticeships in cases where no actual danger or injustice is placed upon the youth. Until something is accomplished along this line, it appears certain that we will continue to hear the annual mouning and groaning.

Meanwhile, dropouts are another thing. Most youngsters drop out of school to take a job, rather than because they cannot find one; they want to get married, hear about "big money", and get plain tired of books. It is the extreme minority, indeed, which drops out because of ar actual lack of funds.

IT'S SURE TO BE A BOY

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa P-Nearly every white home in South Africa has at least one African maid servant. And nearly every white woman complains regularly of the shortcomings of the commonest subjects of talk when South Africa's white women get together.

White, women often fire their African girls, as they call them, and just as often take on new

One woman, whose frequent hiring and firing had given her something of the reputation of a busy employment agency, was expecting a baby. It was getting very near the time. Her friends were busy speculating whether it would be a boy or a girl.

The expectant mother silenced the argument, "It'll certainly be a boy," she said. "No girl would stay with me for nine

Denver City's water storage capacity almost had doubled today with the connecting of a new 500,000gallon reservoir into the municipal water system. Designed to eliminate city water storage threats, the new concrete tank is 94 feet in diameter and 12 feet high. Cost of the project was approximately $52,000.

Work on Hutchinson County's $603,136 dirport improvement could very likely get underway by July 1, 1965. Half the cost of the improvements will be paid by matching federal funds. The county's portion is fixed at $300,000. Voters okayed a bond issue in this amount in last fall's election.

Civic-mindedness in another of its quieter aspects is to go on voting for new schoolhouses after your kids are grown.

-James Roberts in Andrews County News Jo Hubbard, a graduate of West Texas State University, was crowned Miss South Plains at the fourth annual Miss South Plains Pageant' sponsored by the Brownfield Jaycees Saturday evening in the Brownfield High School Auditorium. Miss Hubbard presented two vocal numbers as her talent, "Smile" and "When You are Smiling." She will represent Terry, Gaines and Yoakum Counties in the coming Miss Texas Pageant scheduled in Fort Worth. -Brownfield News

Detailed plans on the new hospital here will go out to prospective bidders on June 15, and a bid opening is planned by the board for Monday, July 14. The board will be keeping a nervous eye on the construction estimates, with $1,250,000 in bond money having been voted for the job. Reserving enough for equipment, architect's fees and other contingencies, the hospital board has figured $950,000 for the actual building costs and hope to get a bid near that figure.

Approximately $38,000 will be paid out in Motley County communities within the next ten weeks in the Neighborhood Youth Program, planned by the government to aid boys and girls 16 through 21. College students are not eligible to participate as employees. At present 70 have made application, which is the county's limit. If more applications are received, they will need to wait for possible "drop-outs" from those who have made application. -Matador Tribune Stratford has a doctor! For the first time in almost a year Stratford will have the fulltime services of a doctor beginning officially next week. Dr. and Mrs. Francis Puig, formerly of Dallas, have moved to Stratford and are in the process of getting moved into the completely-redecorated clinic building.

The Youth Center committee of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce met yesterday at the C of C building to discuss a year-round program for Levelland youth. The committee agreed that the youth of our country need to learn proper use of leisure time. The committee decided that the Levelland Youth Center is now inadequate for Levelland teenagers and htat funds should be raised for the erection of a new youth center building.

The Washita Watershed dams, some of them completed as long as three years ago, are now holding water and their lakes are full or filling for the first time. The chain of 31 lakes stretching across south Hemphill county are containing potential flood waters from the heavy rains of the past few weeks and have all but halted flood damage along the Washita and its tributaries.

THE BOOTLEG -Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bind weed farm tries to explain away a leaky roof this week.

The last time it rained out here, well not only the last time but every time before that for a long time now, my roof leaked.

It' not a bad leak, I mean, it's mostly in one spot and a man with any forethought can place his chair where he won't get splattered, and if he's not forethoughted he can move after the first few drops hit him on the head or stay there and get wet, that's his business, around this place, you've got to be not only smart enough to come in out of the rain but to move away from it after you're in.

Anyway, I've been getting some static about it, little hints from my friends like, "When in thunderation are you going to fix that leak?" but I don't let it bother me.

"Look," I said, "you ever heard of the astrodome in Houston, Texas?" That's the air-conditioned football and baseball field covered with a plastic dome.

Well, I added, those big shots spent 30 million dollars building that thing and what happens? The roof leaked. Despite all the engineering skill they could hire, the first time it rained the roof leaked.

My house is at least 100 years and 50,000 miles from costing 30 million dollars, but if it and the astrodome both leak, it seems to me the owners of the latter sure went the round-about way to get to put a pan under a

I discovered long ago, you don't have to have brains and money to have a leaky roof or go in the hole.

I'll'fix that roof when I get around to it.
