Hereford man dies in wreck

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer
A Hereford man was killed in a one-car accident Wednesday night on Interstate 40 outside Vega after the driver of the vehicle in which he was riding went the wrong direction on an off ramp and struck a sign.
Dionicio Ramirez, 27, of 116 Campbell St. was thrown from the 1979 Chevrolet pickup at 10:12 p.m. The Oldham County Sheriff's Office reported he was almost decapitated and was missing an arm.
Ojeda Guadalupe, 17, was driving the vehicle and traveled west on an east-bound off ramp at a high speed before hitting the sign.
Guadalupe then drove to a farmhouse where an off-duty sheriff's office dispatcher lived.
She reported to the sheriff's office that Guadalupe was hiding at the house and sheriff's deputies nabbed him two hours later.
He is being charged with involuntary manslaughter.
Oldham County Sheriff David Medlan said that the driver was probably intoxicated.

Bush looks for replacement for Tower

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate Democrats pressed for a vote today to reject the nomination of John Tower to run the Pentagon, while the White House appeared resigned to defeat and said President Bush would have a replacement candidate quickly if Tower was defeated.
Admitting that only "a miracle" could save Tower, Republicans made a last-minute bid to give him an extraordinary six-month probation period to prove he can abstain from drinking.
With the prospect of defeat seemingly inevitable, White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said, "If necessary, we'll come up with a (new) candidate very rapidly."
"It must be clear to all that people like the chief of staff and the national security adviser, any number of congressmen and senators and any number of other outside experts have candidates on the tip of their tongue and they are more than willing and ready to provide those names and begin consideration of them when the time comes," the spokesman said.
"But the time has not come," Fitzwater added. "The time will come as soon as the vote is completed. We will wait until then."
The probation idea was criticized by senior Democrats.
"We ought to cut it clean; we ought not to have some hazy never-never land out there and leave this thing hanging in the balance for six months," said Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., the chamber's most senior Democrat. "The time has come to make a decision - to vote it up or down - and we ought not to dawdle or hem and haw."
The battle over the Tower nomination has produced so much bitterness and division in the Senate that Majority Leader George Mitchell of Maine told his colleagues: "The only thing worse than having to go through this thing once is having to go through it twice."
The already slim chance Tower would be confirmed was dealt a crushing blow on Wednesday as a parade of previously undecided Democratic senators announced they would vote "no."
Only Democrat Lloyd Bentsen of Texas said he would vote "yes," joining just two other Democrats who have made that decision.
Sens. Charles Robb, D-Va., Joseph Lieberman, D-Conn., J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., all said they would vote against Tower.
Johnston said his reading of the FBI report on Tower leaves him with the clear impression that Tower's personality changes when he drinks heavily.

Eastern files for bankruptcy

By MICHAEL HIRSH
Associated Press Writer
Strike-crippled Eastern Airlines, losing $2 million to $7 million a day, filed for protection from its creditors today in U.S. Bankruptcy Court in New York.
Three lawyers for Eastern Airlines filed the Chapter 11 petition at about 9:15 a.m., a clerk's office worker said.
Eastern, running just 4 percent of its flights with a skeleton crew of 1,500, had warned it could end up in bankruptcy court by week's end if pilots continue to honor picket lines.
On Wednesday, the fifth day of the acrimonious Machinists walkout, Eastern strikers, united in hostility for boss Frank Lorenzo, asked his rival Carl Icahn to consider a buyout as the crippled carrier desperately tried to stay aloft by slashing fares and selling airport gates.
A Chapter 11 filing by Eastern would not prevent a takeover of the airline by Icahn. But an acquisition would require approval by the bankruptcy court as well as creditors, making such a transaction more cumbersome. Unions, which have pension interests in the airline, would also have a say in the deal.
The strike began Saturday with a walkout by 8,500 Machinists in a dispute over $125 million in proposed wage cuts and escalated with the support of pilots and flight attendants.
Icahn, the corporate takeover specialist and chairman of Trans World Airlines, said Wednesday he would consider several requests made this week by the Machinists "concerning the acquisition by TWA of Eastern."
"I would be willing to speak to the unions only if Eastern permits me to, because I do not want to be accused by Eastern of interfering with the collective bargaining process," he said in a statement.
Under Chapter 11, a company obtains a federal court order that frees it from the threat of creditors' lawsuits until it can develop a plan to put its finances in order.
However, Lorenzo, chairman of Eastern parent Texas Air Corp., would have a tougher time imposing lower wages on the unions than he did when he reorganized Continental Airlines under federal bankruptcy law in 1983.
Congress amended federal laws in 1984 to require bankrupt companies to negotiate with unions and prove economic necessity before abrogating their contracts.
The Machinists were allied with Icahn once before, when they helped him snatch control of TWA in 1985 despite Lorenzo's competing bid. Icahn mulled a bid for Eastern last fall, but talks faltered when he asked for up to $300 million in labor concessions in exchange for an equity stake.
Lorenzo wanted the Machinists to give up $125 million in a new contract. But Machinists leaders, joined by pilots and flight attendants, insist the strikers want to get rid of the hard-line Lorenzo almost as much as a $50 million raise.
"They are so fed up with the way they have been treated, so fed up with the environment on the job, that they're willing to walk away and if... (bankruptcy) is the result, they'll accept it," Machinists union President William Wimpisinger said.
But Lorenzo, in an interview in The Washington Post today, said he would "resurrect as much of Eastern as possible" if the airline is forced into bankruptcy court.
Eastern, nearly shut down by the strike, had no comment on Icahn's statement. No negotiations with the Machinists had been scheduled in the strike that began Saturday against the nation's seventh-largest airline.
In a desperate effort to help stem its losses, Eastern reduced one-way fares on its Northeast shuttle to $12 on weekends, from $69-$99, and to $49 on weekdays, down from $99.
George Brennan, marketing vice president, denied the slashed fares were a move to protect the pending $365 million sale of the shuttle to developer Donald Trump.
Pan Am Corp., a competitor, said it would not match the fares.
Meanwhile, Eastern's sister airline, Houston-based Continental, announced it was assuming Eastern's lucrative New York-Miami route beginning today with four daily round-trip flights.

Witness: Reagan helped North

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan made a dramatic appearance at a White House meeting to thank 25 wealthy contributors who gave money to what was later declared an illegal fund-raising operation for the Nicaraguan Contra rebels, a witness in Oliver North's trial says.
Carl "Spitz" Channell testified Wednesday about the meeting and North's role in the fund-raising operation.
Channell pleaded guilty in 1987 to conspiring to defraud the Treasury by using a tax-exempt foundation for a non-exempt purpose - raising money for Contra military activities. One of the counts against North, who helped direct the Reagan administration's secret Contra assistance efforts, is that he participated in the tax conspiracy.
North also is accused of lying to Congress and the attorney general about the activities, which occurred during a period in which Congress had banned U.S. aid to the rebels.
More than $10 million was raised for the Contras from private donors through Channell's tax-exempt National Endowment for the Preservation of Liberty.
Channell said that during the White House meeting, with Reagan, one donor, C. Thomas Clagett, pointed to pictures of former Presidents Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt and said, "Mr. President, why don't you act like those people and do something?"
"Tom," Reagan replied, "I am doing the best I can. It's very tough," Channell recalled.
One contributor from a prominent Austin, Texas, family, Ellen Garwood, gave "around $2.5 million or maybe a little more," said Channell.
Ms. Garwood made the contributions after "Col. North began to talk" to her and other donors "about the terminal crisis" of the Contras, said Channell.

Senate begins work on overhaul

AUSTIN (AP) - The Senate version of a bill designed to make dramatic changes in the Texas workers' compensation system will add more emphasis on job-safety, a key senator says.
"The major differences between our bill and (the House's workers' comp bill) are we're going to be a whole lot stronger on safety," Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville said Wednesday.
Earlier, the House bill gained final approval.
Attempts to amend the 203-page workers' comp bill in the House to include tougher safety guidelines for employers failed.
Following a 117-27 vote in favor of the bill, House Speaker Gib Lewis said if the Senate makes many changes it could take a special legislative session to resolve the differences.
In addition to stonger safety guidelines, Glasgow said the Senate version of the bill will include administrative penalties, more rate control, and a way to clear up a "massive bunch of small claims."
The House bill includes a decrease of workers' comp premiums of 15 percent over three years, but a provision tacked onto the rollback will guarantee the decrease will never take effect, opponents said.
The bill would expand the oversight and regulatory powers of the state's administrative agency for workers' comp, raise some benefits for injured workers and lessen court involvement in the adjudication of disputed claims.
Labor groups and attorneys who represent workers in injury lawsuits, however, claim the bill weakens the rights of injured workers to get just compensation for job-related injuries.

Bentsen makes pro-Tower speech

Statement made after nomination dead

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Lloyd Bentsen declared himself for fellow Texan John Tower as defense secretary, but he waited until after Democratic leaders said they didn't need the vote.

Bentsen didn't expend on Tower the party clout he gained in his vice presidential campaign, keeping a low profile in the battle that has torn the Senate.

In his speech Wednesday on the Senate floor, Bentsen put his endorsement into terms of personal sympathy rather than political allegiance, reflecting the 14 years he served with Tower in the Senate and his own experience as a scrutinized candidate.

"This event, so painful to John Tower, has been difficult to me. ... We have seen every imperfection in an essentially good man dragged into the pitiless glare of television lights while his daughters sat listening," he said.

"Last fall, I learned firsthand what it's like to have reporters looking up every friend you've had in the last 60 years, or asking what you ate for breakfast," he said.

Tower supporters temporarily were cheered by Bentsen's decision.

"I think that the timing would have been better if it came earlier in the debate. But at this stage, I'll take him any time I can get him," said Tower friend Paul Eggers.

But Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, had already told reporters he didn't need Bentsen's vote. And after Bentsen spoke, four Democrats considered as possible swing votes announced they were against the nominee.

Bentsen's decision was consistent with his position in January when he presented Tower to the Senate Armed Services Committee, praising him as a good choice not only for hawks but for liberals critical of Pentagon overspending.

"John Tower is too much of a conservative to give a blank check from the U.S. Treasury to the Pentagon," Bentsen said then.

But as the showdown over the nomination grew in intensity, Bentsen declined to say how he'd vote.

A change in his position, or strong lobbying for Tower, could have had great impact, given the visibility he has held since he was Michael Dukakis' running mate on the Democratic ticket last fall.

Bush telephoned Bentsen repeatedly. Tower supporters in Texas organized telephone calls and letters to his office.

But Bentsen, just elected to a new six-year Senate at the same time he lost his vice presidential bid, told reporters he felt little political pressure.

Texans have "a long tradition of closing ranks," said Joseph O'Neill, a Washington lobbyist who has been Bentsen's top Senate aide and was chief of staff for his vice presidential campaign.

But a vote against Tower would not have been particularly damaging either, said George Shipley, an Austin political consultant.

"There is no wellspring of support here for Tower," Shipley said. "The silence is thundering."

Shipley noted that Tower himself had voted against several presidential nominations including that of a fellow Texan - Ray Marshall, who was

"We have seen every imperfection in an essentially good man dragged into the pitiless glare of television lights while his daughters sat listening."

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

President Carter's nominee for labor secretary in 1977.

But Lance Tarrance, a Houston

Republican pollster, said Bentsen's move was shrewd in his home state, where conservatives who supported him the past were aggravated by his partnership with Dukakis and opposition to the Supreme Court nomination of Robert Bork.

"By deciding to vote for Tower, Bentsen has taken care of two nagging political problems," Tarrance said.

Claiborne Darden, an Atlanta pollster and consultant to Senate Armed Services Chairman Sam Nunn, said he saw broader political implications in Bentsen's stance.

"There's something in that woodpile that ain't all wood," he said. "For the Democratic vice presidential nominee to bolt the party, it sounds to me like he wants to run for president," he said.

Judge orders jury sequestered in Sugarland police slaying trial

TV reporter caught with loaded gun

AMARILLO (AP) - District Judge Brady Elliott has ordered the jury in a capital murder trial sequestered in a local hotel after an Amarillo television reporter was arrested for carrying a loaded pistol into the courtroom.

The action was taken Wednesday at the trial of Luis Rivera, who is accused in the shooting death of Sugar Land patrolman Ronald Stockett.

Potter County Sheriff Jimmy Don Boydston said Jane Rita Serwan, 26, a reporter with KFDA television was carrying a loaded five-shot .38 caliber revolver in her purse when she was arrested in the courtroom Wednesday.

The television reporter was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond. Unlawfully carrying a firearm into a courtroom is a third-degree felony punishable by up to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Ms. Serwan carries a gun in her purse while commuting from her apartment to work, according to KFDA news director Walt Howard, who quoted co-workers of the arrested reporter.

"I understand she has been doing that for some time and normally leaves the gun in her car," he said. "Apparently she didn't realize she hadn't taken the gun out."

The trial of Rivera in the Independence Day 1987 shooting death of Stockett was moved to Potter County on a change of venue from Fort Bend County.

Judge Elliott said he was going to sequester the jury of seven men and seven women in a hotel because he was unsure of what rumors might come out of the arrest.

The trial, which began Monday, is expected to last about two weeks.

Guy Rawlings testified Tuesday that Rivera accompanied a woman to a gunshop and picked out a 9mm pistol that was later used in the shooting of Officer Stockett, who was slain during a routine traffic stop.

Rawlings said he sold a 9mm Beretta to a woman accompanied by Rivera and four other men in June 1987.

"She said she was buying it and the defendant over there kept saying, 'that's the one, that's the one,'" as Rivera pointed to the gun at the Southwest Rifle Range in Richmond, Rawlings said.

Prosecutors allege that Stockett pulled over Rivera, 23, for a traffic stop on U.S. 90 in Fort Bend County on July 4, 1987, and that the defendant shot the police officer with a 9mm Beretta and a .357-caliber Magnum.

Congressman: Japan should pare trade imbalance with Super Collider contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) - Japan's huge trade imbalance with the United States should be used as a lever when the Energy Department negotiates with the Japanese on sharing the $4.6 billion cost of the superconducting super collider, says the chairman of a House subcommittee.

"Japan is the No. 1 (cost-sharing) suspect for us because of the bad balance of trade and approach them on that level," Rep. Ralph Hall told department officials Wednesday during a hearing on foreign participation in the proposed super collider.

James F. Decker, deputy director of the energy research office at the Energy Department, said U.S. officials are in Japan holding "unofficial, but very significant, discussions with Japan's high-energy physics community on possible ways of collaboration."

In an interview after Wednesday's hearing, Hall said the trade imbalance with Japan would be a good lever in the cost-sharing negotiations, especially because the United States ran a trade deficit with Japan of $55.4 billion in 1988, representing 40 percent of the total U.S. trade deficit of $137 billion.

"It gives us a special incentive to dealing with Japan," said Hall, the chairman of the Science, Space and Technology Committee's subcommittee on international scientific cooperation.

Asked if the department should pressure Japan on the issue of the trade deficit, Hall said: "I sure do hope so."

"They are just out-trading us. I think this will be one little-bitty part of the bundle of the entire (trade deficit-reduction) package," Hall said. "Somebody has got to start putting this country first."

Participating in the discussions in Japan are a team of scientists from the SSC laboratory contractor, its oversight committee, and the High Energy Physics Advisory Committee.

Decker said it is essential to "encourage the enthusiastic support of the Japanese scientists because strong endorsement at this level is almost certainly a prerequisite for Japanese participation."

But the involvement of President Bush and Energy Secretary James D. Watkins may be ultimately be needed to convince the Japanese to invest in the project, Decker said, adding that he believes Japan is the "largest potential partner."

"In the end, it's going to take a very high-level approach," Decker said, "involvement by the secretary of energy and possibly the president."

Only India has committed to helping build the super collider, agreeing to put $50 million into the project, a proposed 53-mile underground tunnel in which beams of protons would smash into each other with 20 times the energy of today's most powerful accelerators.

Italy last year signed an agreement to explore collaboration on the project and preliminary cost-sharing discussions have been conducted with officials of Taiwan, Korea and several Western European nations, officials said.

But neither foreign countries nor Texas will be willing to put money into the project unless Congress commits to its construction, testified Decker and Thomas W. Luce III, chairman of the Texas National Research Laboratory Commission, the state agency handling Texas' role in the project.

If Congress goes along with the president and agrees to spend $250 million on the project in the fiscal 1990 budget, including $160 million for construction, Texas and foreign countries would read that as adequate commitment to the project, the officials said.

The Energy Department is proposing $1.8 billion of the total cost come from non-federal sources, including $1 billion that Texas has promised to spend.

Hall said foreign participants might insist on getting a share of the jobs coming from construction of the collider, while the United States will also be insisting on building as much of the project as it can, and that could prove a sticky point.

No-hands car phone to be introduced

DALLAS (AP) - A Fort Worth-based electronics marketer says it will introduce the first cellular telephone system in the nation allowing car callers to dial, speak and hang up without lifting a finger.

Uniden Corp. of America is buying technology from two Dallas companies for the system, which will recognize and respond to any human voice and provide hands-free operation. The Dallas Morning News reported Wednesday.

Available this coming August, the device initially will cost $499 and will sell as an add-on to Uniden's existing line of cellular phones, said Graham Loving, product manager of Uniden's cellular division.

Uniden will call the cellular phone accessory its Voice Recognition system. It is based on advanced speech recognition techniques developed by Voice Control Systems Inc.

Roe vs. Wade case challenged

AUSTIN (AP) - Even if the U.S. Supreme Court does not strike down the landmark decision legalizing abortions, the high court will chip away at the ruling, both anti-abortion and pro-choice representatives say.

Bill Price, president of the 100,000-member Texans United for Life, gave even odds the Supreme Court would overturn Roe vs. Wade in its deliberations over a Missouri law that restricts abortions.

"If the court overturns Roe vs. Wade we will be able to make abortion illegal in Texas," Price said Wednesday.

But, he added, "If it decides not to go that far, but instead simply upholds the Missouri law, it will allow us to make abortions more difficult to obtain."

Phyllis Dunham, executive director of the Texas Abortion Rights Action League, agreed.

"Roe vs. Wade will probably be taken apart in piecemeal fashion," she said.

Price said 43 Texas legislators signed a brief asking the U.S. Supreme Court to overturn Roe vs. Wade.

The landmark decision of 1973 struck down state laws prohibiting abortions, calling them an invasion of privacy.

U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh has asked the court to review Roe vs. Wade in considering the Missouri law.

Price said legislators who signed the friend-of-the-court brief believe the issue of abortion should be decided by state elected officials.

"They are unanimous in their belief that this issue is one that does not belong in the courts but belongs with the elected representatives of the people," he said.

Including Texas, about 250 lawmakers from 13 states signed the brief, which was filed last month. Among the Texas legislators who signed the brief, 29 were Republicans and 14 were Democrats.

Lawmakers are better able to determine appropriate abortion rules for their home states, Price said.

"We could hash out our differences for exceptions on rape and incest and things like this on the floor of the Legislature. That's where it belongs and not in the hands of unelected judges," he said.

But Ms. Dunham disagreed. "If we see Roe vs. Wade overturned, we are going to see 50 problems," she said, noting the laws may vary from state to state.

"It's a very difficult and divisive issue within state legislatures," she said.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I read that column about the husband who makes jokes out of everything and trivializes every conversation, I couldn't believe my eyes. I thought I was the only woman in the world who had that problem.

You can't imagine what hell it is to live with a man who is incapable of a serious conversation. My husband makes jokes about people's names when he is introduced. Then, within minutes, he tells a tasteless ethnic joke. I want to crawl under a chair.

When we were dating I thought he had a hilarious sense of humor. After we married I found less and less to laugh at. Ten years later I was sick to death of his jokes. I thought about leaving him many times, but we had four children and I couldn't see breaking up our family.

Now we are in our 60s and the clown is still yukking it up, only now he sounds like a real nut. I urge every young woman who reads this and recognizes her husband to get out NOW. A person who has to turn everything into a joke is seriously disturbed. He uses his so-called humor to cover up an awful lot of sick stuff. Sign me--No Laughing Matter in Ohio

DEAR OHIO: I received dozens of letters from women who share your pain. There was one lone letter from a man. Here it is:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife put your column under my nose the other day and said, "Look, Howard, this is you."

It was a letter from the woman whose husband makes a joke out of everything. I had to admit that she was right, but there's more to it, Ann.

My comedy routine began when my wife told me she wanted a separation and maybe a divorce. I was so desperately unhappy that I hid my pain behind "jokes." Humor was my defense against facing reality.

I'll bet if that wife who wrote to you would curl up next to her husband tonight when they are in bed and let him know that she loves him, he'd get serious in a hurry and stay that way as long as the affection lasted.--West Coast Mr. D

DEAR MR. D: You are blaming the victim, and I don't buy it. The personality pattern that your wife can't stand was in the making long before she wanted to leave. I'd bet on it, Howard.

People who kid all the time are terribly insecure. Their insecurity goes way back to the formative years. Constantly joking and trivializing is a facade to cover real feelings. As I said in an earlier column, humor can be a great distancing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am not making this up. I am reading it right out of the newspaper. It makes me wonder what a normal person can do to protect himself or herself against the loonies that are loose out there.

A woman in Piqua, Ohio, was upset when she learned that her boyfriend was married. She posed as a door-to-door cosmetic salesperson, went to his home and when his wife opened the door, she stabbed her in the chest. When charged with attempted murder, the woman said, "I was kind of upset."

How about some answers, Ann?--Tennessee Reader

DEAR TENNESSEE: In a country of 250 million, there is bound to be a certain percentage of mentally ill people.

This woman who was "kind of upset" is more than a little disturbed. I hope the authorities see that she gets the help she needs, not only for her sake but the sake of the community.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send $3 plus a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope (45 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Mrs. Mark Lomenick, the former Terri Reynolds, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, March 4, in the home of Mrs. R.L. Layman.

Welcoming guests with the honoree were her mother, Judy Reynolds of Dallas, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Lomenick.

Melanie Taylor, the groom's sister, invited guests to register during the morning shower.

Refreshments of assorted homemade cookies, hot cider and coffee were served from a table laid with an ecru cutwork cloth. The table was centered with a fresh green plant accented with mauve silk flowers. Also, adorning the table were a silver coffee service and crystal serving trays.

Also, assisting with the shower were Kee Ruland, Sidney Kerr, Rita Morgan, Diedra Drake, Karen Bankston, Theresa Albracht, Carolyn Johnson, Velma Warren, Tommy Savage, Pat Scott, Nan Rogers, Martha Rickman, Terri Johnson and Duann Warren.

LONDON (AP) - Prince Philip will visit the United States, Canada and the Bahamas next month, Buckingham palace said.

The husband of Queen Elizabeth II will be in Canada from March 12-15 for several engagements, and travels to New York on March 15 to attend a fund-raising event for the English-speaking Union of the Commonwealth. The next day, he flies to the Bahamas, the palace said Tuesday.

The amount of dietary fiber recommended for adults is 20 to 25 grams a day. For a 2000 calorie diet, that would be one to two grams of fiber per 100 calories. "This should help when you are looking at a nutrition label," says the ADA

British forces invaded Washington in 1814 and proceeded to set fire to the Capitol and the White House.

Weave fiber into your diet gradually

Making changes in your eating pattern can be overwhelming even when you know what to do. Knowing and doing are definitely not the same.

For example, most Americans know that our diet should be high in fiber, yet a recent study shows that average fiber consumption is only 11 grams per day--a far cry from the recommended 20 to 35 grams. Nearly everyone knows fruits and whole grains are a good choice, yet, in one national survey, 50 percent of adults did not eat fruit of any kind on the day they were surveyed and 80 percent did not have any type of whole grain in their diet. Old habits die hard.

This March, in recognition of the American Dietetic Association's (ADA) National Nutrition Month, ADA's President Darlene Dougherty, RD (registered dietitian), advises that rather than change too many things in your diet at once and risk rebellion, alter your diet bit by bit. "If you make one important change a week you will have accomplished 52 new things a year." A positive change can be as simple as switching from white bread, with almost one gram of dietary fiber, to whole wheat bread with four times the fiber per slice.

Bean dip with salsa instead of a sour cream-based dip will give two grams fiber per ounce, compared to none for the creamy dip. Green peas (1/2 cup) instead of green beans provides 7.7 grams dietary fiber vs 1.7 grams. High fiber vegetables are low in fat and have no cholesterol.

Once you decide to increase the fiber in your diet, choose a variety of types, as they have different functions. Fiber is classified generally as soluble or insoluble. A few years ago consumers heard a lot about wheat bran. Wheat bran is a type of insoluble fiber, along with whole grain corn, rye, vegetables and some fruits which increases bulk and helps promote normal bowel function.

Dougherty explains that "soluble fibers--found in oat bran, legumes like kidney beans, barley and some fruits--are now heavily promoted for their effect on lowering blood cholesterol and stabilizing blood sugar. One-third cup of legumes or oat bran eaten five times a week or more is a good choice to help lower cholesterol and stabilize blood sugar."

The Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier, former pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Hereford, his wife, Nancy, and their daughter, Kate Elizabeth, will be visiting here Friday.

A reception for the Kochsmeiers will be held with the youth group at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the church. Adult members of the congregation and interested friends are asked to greet the family at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Kochsmeier is presently serving as youth pastor at LaJolla Presbyterian Church in LaJolla, Calif.

president, adding that "many of the foods we eat have no dietary fiber--milk, meat, eggs, fats, oil, sugars, sweeteners--and many processed foods, such as frozen dinners, potato chips and crackers, have a low fiber content. Therefore, a cereal with four more grams of fiber could help make up for the deficit in other foods. In fact, some studies have shown that people who eat cereal for breakfast compared to no breakfast or other types of breakfast have a better daily nutrient intake in terms of more vitamins, minerals and fiber and less fat and cholesterol."

Dougherty suggests you "start with whatever is easiest for you to do and give yourself plenty of time." In addition to dietary changes, she says it helps to:

-Read magazines that promote healthy living.

-Meet a friend for a walk on a regular basis.

-Be around fitness-minded people--their good habits could rub off.

-See a professional, like a registered dietitian, who can help with your diet and health goals.

San Antonio teams headline state meet

AUSTIN (AP) - Two San Antonio teams - Jay in Class 5A and Cole in 3A - are the only undefeated teams among 20 that advanced to the state schoolboy basketball tournament, starting today.

Ten teams are making their first trip to the tournament and three more are appearing for the first time since the 1940s and 1950s.

South Oak Cliff in 5A and defending 4A champion Port Arthur Lincoln are the only teams which have won basketball championships.

Eula is making its first trip to Austin since 1946, and Moulton and Highland Park have gained the tournament for the first time since 1951 and 1957, respectively.

Coaching legend Bill Krueger of Clear Lake, 34-4, brings a team to the state tournament for the fourth time in his 32-year career and the first time since 1967. Krueger has 919 career victories, the most ever for a Texas coach.

"Our goal has always been to take Clear Lake to the state tournament and win the state championship," said Krueger, who has been at Clear Lake since 1972. "We've been close before but something always happened."

Krueger has won one state title - at San Marcos in 1965.

Among the players, 7-foot Shaquille O'Neal of Cole should get most of the attention. O'Neal, who is a Parade All-American and has already signed with Louisiana State, has averaged close to 40 points per game in the playoffs.

"I'm glad to be going to state," said O'Neal. "I'd like to be on a championship team. It'll be a great way to go out."

Cole and San Antonio Jay, 37-0, are the only unbeaten teams in the tournament.

Jay will take on South Oak Cliff in the first 5A semifinal on Friday, while Fort Worth Southwest, 34-3, faces Clear Lake in the other. South Oak Cliff, 31-3, lost to Fort Worth Dunbar in last year's semifinals and has one state title, in 1977.

Port Arthur Lincoln will risk its perfect 8-0 tournament mark against Highland Park, 31-3, in one 4A semifinal. Andrews, 31-4, and Austin

Travis, 24-12, play in the other semifinal.

Lincoln stacked up state crowns in 1981, 1984, 1986 and last year, and is paced by 6-2 guard Brandon Tyler, who was an all-tournament selection in 1988.

Bryan Barnes is the only other all-tournament player returning, but the 6-6 guard will be playing with Eula this year. Barnes transferred from Paducah, where he helped lead that team to two straight state championships.

Eula has eclipsed 100 points 12 times and has compiled a 35-1 record.

Baseball team at Dumas

The Hereford Whitefaces were to face the Berger Bulldogs in the opening game of the six-team Dumas Baseball Tournament at 2 p.m. today. The Herd opened defense of its District 1-4A title Tuesday with a 11-

1 trouncing of Lubbock Dunbar. Hereford is 3-1 on the young season.

In another first-round game today at 4:30 p.m., host Dumas(0-1) meets Pampa(0-1). Tascosa takes on Dalhart Friday morning in the third game of the tourney.

Each team is guaranteed three games in the tourney. The championship game is set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Rangers vote is today

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Edward L. Gaylord will find out today if his last-minute pitch to major league baseball owners that he be allowed to buy the Texas Rangers will work.

The Oklahoma City billionaire sent a letter last week to owners urging them to vote to approve his bid to purchase controlling interest of the Texas Rangers, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

The owners met today in Fort

Lauderdale, Fla., to vote on the transfer of ownership from Fort Worth oilman Eddie Chiles to Gaylord. The main roadblock to the sale of the team to Gaylord appears to be his ownership of KTVT, a Dallas-Fort Worth television station that is considered to be a "super station" because of its widespread distribution on cable television systems.

Gaylord is not expected to attend the meeting, but will be represented by Glenn Stinchcomb, an executive with Gaylord Broadcasting and a member of the board of director of the Texas Rangers.

There is speculation that Gaylord might pursue legal action if his attempt to buy the team is not approved, the Star-Telegram reported today.

The Dallas Morning News reported today that Chiles may pull the team off the market if owners fail to approve the sale to Gaylord.

If Chiles should follow through, that would foil an attempt by a Dallas-Fort Worth group handpicked by commissioner Pete Ueberoth and headed by George W. Bush and Rusty Rose II to buy the team.

Chiles told the Dallas newspaper Wednesday that Gaylord, as a minority owner, still has the right of first refusal and can indefinitely match any offer for the team.

The baseball commissioner, Chiles said, "should have known better" than to predict on Feb. 23 that a deal with the Bush-Rose group could be worked out within 10 days.

The Fort Worth newspaper reported today that Gaylord's letter to the owners pointed out that he has followed the stipulations Ueberoth laid down for him in 1985.

A first attempt by Gaylord to replace Chiles as majority owner failed in 1986 when club owners vetoed the sale.

The powerful 10-man ownership committee, consisting of the two league presidents and four owners from each league, has recommended him for disapproval again this time.

Chiles and his wife, Fran, will attend the meeting, but the 78-year-old Fort Worth oilman says he isn't sure exactly what to expect.

"You get all those owners together and you ask me what's going to happen?" Chiles said yesterday. "I'm sure something pertaining to the Gaylord issue will come up, but I don't know what it would be."

"I have no definite information as to what the plans are or who's going to pay for it," Chiles said.

Gaylord has hinted that he will take legal action if he is voted down, but that would be a move that would delay sale of the team indefinitely.

"That's a possibility, but we want to wait and see what happens," Gaylord told the Fort Worth newspaper Wednesday night. "It's not that strong a possibility. A lot of people have told me I have (legal grounds to sue). I haven't looked into it that deeply."

Gaylord said he just wants to get the issue settled, one way or the other.

"I'm not angry, but this has gone on long enough," Gaylord said. "It disturbs Mr. Chiles more than it does me."

President asked to TR opener

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - President Bush has been asked to throw out the first pitch for the Texas Rangers' home opener on April 4 against the Detroit Tigers, club owner Eddie Chiles said.

"There's a strong indication he might be here," Chiles said Wednesday.

Chiles said he based his hopes on a 30-year friendship with Bush that dates back to when they worked down the street from each other in Midland, Texas.

"He's a friend of mine. He was in the office up the street in Midland, when he was in oil and gas. I used to run down and drink coffee with him every once in a while," Chiles said.

Mays heads SWC team

DALLAS (AP) - One win separated league champion Arkansas from second-place Texas, but the Longhorns have one player that kept the Razorbacks from sweeping top honors in The Associated Press' 1988-89 All-Southwest Conference basketball team. Texas' high-scoring junior guard Travis Mays was picked on every ballot to head the select team as picked by the league's coaches.

Mays of Ocala, Fla., averaged 22 points per game as the Longhorns won 22 regular season games under new coach Tom Penders, who brought a wide open run-and-gun offense to the SWC.

Mays, who led Texas to a second-place finish, was selected as the SWC's Offensive Player of the Year.

Wilson taking Defensive Player of the Year honors; and freshman Lee Mayberry being selected as Newcomer of the Year.

It was Richardson's first SWC title in four seasons as Arkansas' head coach, and he did it with a youth-dominated lineup. Houston was the preseason favorite going into SWC play, but finished fourth during the regular season.

Wilson, who was the steady influence on the team, averaged 12.2 points, 4.2 assists and almost three steals per game to earn first team honors. He made the clutch baskets for the Razorbacks and led their fullcourt press.

Others on the mythical first team included Southern Methodist's senior center Glenn Puddy, who averaged 14.8 points and almost 10 rebounds per game; Texas Tech senior guard Sean Gay who had 16.1 points and 4.6 assists per game; and Houston's Craig Upchurch who had 18.3 points and 6.3 rebounds per game.

Texas' other junior guard, Lance Blanks, led the second team with 20.2 points per game.

Other second teamsters included Houston's Richard Hollis at 17.3 points and 8.4 rebounds per game, Texas' Alvin Hegg at 17.2 points and 8.0 rebounds per game, Arkansas' freshman Mayberry at 12.9 points and 4.2 assists, and a tie between Texas A&M's Donald Thompson and Texas Christian's John Lewis, who each averaged 17 points per game.

Lady Buffs play Friday

Riding the momentum of a 14-game winning streak, the West Texas State Lady Buffs take on Southeast Missouri State Friday in the South Central Region basketball tournament at Warrensburg, Mo.

The 25-2 Lady Buffs are ranked eighth in women's Division II basketball, while Southeast Missouri(23-6) is ranked 20th.

Abilene Christian(23-7) meets Central Missouri State(26-3) in the other game Friday. Central Missouri is ranked second in the nation. The championship game is set for 7:35 p.m. Saturday.

WTSU will be shooting for its third straight regional title, and Coach Bob Schneider feels good about his team's chances. "We've got more depth and consistency this year than last year," said Schneider.

The Lady Buffs lost three starters from last year's club, but lettermen LaTonya Barnes, Laura Supak and Denise Hunt have provided consistent play after stepping into starting roles alongside senior Leona Gerber and junior Teresa Tinner.

Healthy Gill leads Illinois past Iowa

By JOHN KREISER
AP Sports Writer

Even without Kendall Gill in the lineup for the last six weeks, Illinois has been among the top five teams in the nation.

With Gill healthy again after being sidelined with a broken foot, the fourth-ranked Illini are primed for a big showing in the NCAA Tournament.

Gill, playing for the first time since Jan. 22, ignited a decisive first-half run that carried the Illini to a 118-94 Big Ten victory over 15th-ranked Iowa on Wednesday night.

"I'm sure Kendall had a lot to do with the victory ... we're a much better ballclub with him," Illinois Coach Lou Henson said. "I think he's getting close to where he was before the injury."

Gill played only 25 minutes, but finished with 15 points, two rebounds, four assists and two steals.

"He is one more dimension for a team that was already playing very well," said Iowa Coach Tom Davis, whose team suffered its worst defeat in his three seasons with the Hawkeyes. "We're not playing that badly. Illinois deserves a lot of credit."

The NCAA Tournament picked up two more teams Wednesday night. McNeese State earned its first-ever NCAA berth with an 85-69 victory over North Texas in the Southland Conference final and Southwest Missouri State won the Association of Mid-Continent Universities title with a 73-67 victory over Illinois-Chicago. In other conference tournament games: Middle Tennessee State downed Eastern Kentucky 81-64 and Austin Peay ousted Murray State 74-65 in the Ohio Valley Conference semifinals. Arkansas-Little Rock edged Stetson 60-59 and Centenary downed Houston Baptist 76-69 in the Trans America Athletic Conference semifinals. Both of those titles will be decided tonight.

Utah downed San Diego State 70-57 in the first round of the Western Athletic Conference tournament; Cal-Irvine beat Pacific 68-62 and Fresno State defeated San Jose State 64-60 in the opening round of the Big West tournament.

Kevin Stevenson scored 20 points and Jervis Cole had 19 as Fresno State held off San Jose State's makeshift team.

San Jose State, 5-23, went 0-12 after 10 scholarship players left the team in January, accusing Coach Bill Berry of verbal abuse and mental cruelty. Berry continued with athletes from other SJSU programs, including Johnny Johnson, a football player who led the Big West in rushing last season.

In the second game, Ricky Butler led the Cal-Irvine with 15 points, including the go-ahead free throw with 1:33 remaining.

Longhorns take title

The Longhorns won their league championship in the YMCA basketball leagues, taking an 18-14 win over the Hoyas in the finals. Team members and coaches include (back row, from left) Travis Johnson, Richard Barrett, Brian Torres, Keith Barrett, Jay Belcher, Marauetz Brown and Scott Holbert; (front row, from left) Carlos Mendez, James Payne, Anthony Cervantes, Michael Power and Michael Marquez.

Dantley spurs Mavs past Portland

By The Associated Press

Adrian Dantley's attitude is beginning to rub off on the Dallas Mavericks, which could very well make them winners.

Obtained in a trade with the Detroit Pistons, Dantley scored 23 points and ignited the Mavericks with his battling attitude Wednesday night, leading Dallas to a 99-92 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers.

With 4:09 remaining and Dallas leading by seven points, Dantley and

Lawyer: Johnson didn't know

TORONTO (AP) - Ben Johnson's lawyer is suggesting that the sprinter may not have understood the full implications of using anabolic steroids when his coach first discussed them.

In cross-examination of coach Charlie Francis, that continues today, lawyer Ed Futerman asked repeatedly about his client's ability to understand and the influence that Francis may have had on an impressionable youth.

And, after pursuing questions about how well Johnson might have done without anabolic steroids, Futerman asked the coach: "Isn't it kind of sad that Ben Johnson and the other athletes who were part of your group will never know for sure?"

Johnson's only comment since being stripped of his Olympic gold medal for a positive steroid test was a brief statement last fall that he never knowingly used illegal drugs to enhance his performance.

the Blazers' Jerome Kersey tangled. Dantley drew a technical foul when he grabbed Kersey's leg as the Dallas forward fell to the court.

Dantley came up swinging and both players scuffled until teammates moved in to break it up.

"I think if the officials check it, the replay will show that Kersey grabbed A.D. by the jersey and pulled him down," Dallas coach John MacLeod said. "A.D. was just responding to no foul being called on the play."

Terry Porter hit the technical free throw to begin a seven-point run by Portland, which pulled the Trail Blazers within 85-84. But the Mavericks went on their own six-point spurt, capped by Derek Harper's steal and layup, to extend their lead to 91-84 with 1:12 to play.

"I liked that," James Donaldson said. "It was good to see. We don't usually have guys who'll stand up when they get shoved around."

Donaldson, who had 19 points and 16 rebounds, extended a Dallas record with his 10th straight game of double-figures in points and rebounds.

Dantley tried to downplay the scuffle.

"It was just a little mixup," he said. "It was nothing. Things like that always happened in Detroit. When I was in Detroit we never backed down and never let people push us."

Clyde Drexler led the Trail Blazers with 23 points.

Elsewhere, it was Detroit 112, Seattle 96; Boston 104, Chicago 95; Denver 112, Charlotte 99; Washington 119, Atlanta 111; the Los Angeles Lakers 127, Miami 87; and Utah 117, Houston 80.

Bullets 119, Hawks 111

Bernard King scored 23 of his 31 points in the second half and Jeff Malone had 30 to pace Washington to its seventh straight home victory.

Atlanta suffered its third straight loss despite 38 points by Dominique Wilkins.

Jazz 117, Rockets 80

Karl Malone's 29 points and John Stockton's 18 points and 17 assists sparked Utah.

Thurl Bailey added 24 points for the Jazz, which held Houston to 12 points in the second period.

Akeem Olatuwon led Houston with 22 points.

Celtics 104, Bulls 95

With NBA scoring leader Michael Jordan missing because of an injury, Boston opened a 21-point lead in the first quarter and went on to easily defeat Chicago. Jordan didn't make the trip to Boston after suffering a pulled groin in the Bulls' loss to Philadelphia on Tuesday night.

The Celtics were led by Reggie Lewis with 22 points. Scottie Pippen paced Chicago with 16 points.

Pistons 112, SuperSonics 96

Isiah Thomas scored 27 points and sparked a decisive 9-0 fourth-quarter burst as Detroit posted its fifth straight triumph. Thomas scored 14 points in the first half, including a 3-point shot 14 seconds into the game that gave Detroit the lead for good.

Derrick McKey scored 21 points for Seattle.

Nuggets 112, Hornets 99

Lakers 127, Heat 87

Byron Scott scored all of his 16 points in the first quarter, including four baskets during a stretch when Los Angeles made 12 straight shots, as the Lakers routed Miami.

Yett gets hammered by Brewers

By The Associated Press

Cleveland's Rich Yett didn't have much of a chance to throw his split-finger, and the result was a split decision between the Indians and Milwaukee Brewers.

The Indians and Brewers split squads and decisions at their Arizona spring training camps, the Brewers winning 8-4 in Tucson and the Indians taking a 5-2 decision in Chandler.

Milwaukee's victory was powered by Joey Meyer's two-run, first-inning homer.

"In his first game, Richie got ahead with his fastball and killed San Francisco with the split-finger," Cleveland pitching coach Mark Wiley said. "Today, Milwaukee hammered his fastball before he could get ahead."

Elsewhere, it was Boston 3, Minnesota 1; St. Louis 6, the Chicago White Sox 3; Cincinnati 4, Houston 3; Pittsburgh 7, Philadelphia 3; Baltimore 6, the New York Mets 4; the New York Yankees 5, Montreal 2 in a game cut to seven innings by darkness; Atlanta 2, Los Angeles 1; Kansas City 3, Detroit 0; Toronto 4, Texas 3; Oakland 4, the Chicago Cubs 3; San Francisco 8, San Diego 6; and California 4, Seattle 3.

Azinger ready for home

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) - The name has changed but it's still something of a homecoming for Paul Azinger this week in the $800,000 Nestle Invitational.

"It's important to me, it's high on my list of priorities because it was so important to me to win here last year," Azinger said before teeing off today in the tournament he won as the Bay Hill Classic.

"It meant a lot to me because of my ties here," said Azinger, who 10 years ago served as a counselor at an Arnold Palmer Golf Academy for teenagers on this same course.

"It meant a lot to me because they were saying I couldn't come back," added Azinger, who used this triumph a year ago to dispel speculation he would be unable to successfully follow up his Player of the Year season in 1987. Azinger, apparently attempting to avoid any unnecessary pressure, now denies he's been pointing for this tournament. But throughout the season, week after week, he would follow a strong finish with the comment, "Just building up for Bay Hill."

Now, however, his comment was, "Just look at what I've done the last few weeks. It's pretty good."

Measles Outbreak In Houston Still a Threat

When an outbreak of rubella (red measles) began in Houston last November officials at the Texas Department of Health (TDH) predicted that susceptible travelers might contract the disease and transport it to other cities. That prediction became fact, with several cases on college campuses traced to Christmas break in Houston.

While the new cases are occurring in all age groups, most patients are toddlers and infants less than 15 months old, and young adults, often high school and college students. Health clinics on several college campuses have reported a growing number of students with measles, most of whom were exposed to the virus during trips to Houston.

Robert D. Crider, director of TDH's Immunization Division, said that the Houston outbreak began late last year with about 50 infants and children. Until that outbreak began, only 17 cases of measles had been reported throughout the state for the first 10 months of 1988. But the end of December, the year's total reached about 250. New cases continue to be reported at an alarming rate.

Crider said that the Houston area still is the source of most reports. "Between November, when the first of the Houston outbreak began, and early February, more than 900 cases of measles have been reported in Harris County alone," Crider said. "In all of 1987, there were only about 452 measles cases in the whole state."

Crider attributed the sharp rise in the number of cases to several factors. He explained, "Many people seem to have forgotten how contagious the measles virus is. It can infect any susceptible person who is exposed to it. By susceptible, I mean anyone who has not had the disease, or whose immunization was not successful—about 3-5 percent of those vaccinated. Measles is so contagious that until the advent of vaccines, few people reached adulthood without being infected—hence the misconception that measles is a 'childhood' disease."

He added that persons born before 1957 are likely to have been infected earlier with red measles and are generally not considered susceptible to the disease.

Since 1981 state law has required that all children entering public or private school must show proof of immunization for measles, or furnish a physician-validated history of measles illness. On physicians' advice to parents, most children are routinely immunized at 15 months with measles-mumps-rubella vaccine. The result is that for some years, measles among young children dramatically declined. In 1983, for example, Texas reported only 37 cases.

The symptoms of red measles are fever, runny nose, cough, watery eyes, and a rash which first appears on the head and face, eventually spreading over the body.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters Match of the Month

The Match of the Month for Big Brothers/Big Sisters for March features Big Sister Wanda Cobb and her Little Sister, Irma Mata.

Mata is a third grader at Northwest Elementary School and is the daughter of Sylvia Mata. Cobb is a salesperson for Farm Bureau Insurance.

Irma is a very important person in Wanda's life. She sees her Little Sister, Irma, at least once a week. Because of Wanda's commitment and love, Irma has made a lot of great progress. She has really begun to blossom and grow.

Big Sister Wanda doesn't have to plan anything "special" for their weekly activities. She reports that "Little Irma" just likes to "go to my apartment and giggle and talk."

We salute these two "very special people," and are proud of the progress their friendship has made. Congratulations on your two year anniversary March 31.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

- All 172 pages in full color
- Each page measures a large 15 x 11 inches
- Presents the entire state in stunning detail
- Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Become one of the first in our community to own a copy of this magnificent atlas.

What they're saying about "The Roads of Texas"

Texas Highways Magazine
October, 1988

"For details of Texas terrain, oil company maps and the State's Official Highway Map can't match THE ROADS OF TEXAS."

Senator Bivins Reports

For a nine-year old boy a tour of the Texas Capitol is fun, but a tour of the Capitol dome is "neat"! The tour of the Texas Capitol is full of interesting historical facts. A tour of the Capitol dome is full of "neat" historical facts. For example, the top of the dome stands 366 feet above the ground. This makes it taller than the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Or consider the fact that the entire Capitol dome is made not of pink granite but of sheet steel painted to look like the pink granite of which the rest of the Capitol is built. But maybe the "neatest" fact for a nine-year old is that of the four people who have died in our State's Capitol, one was a workman who, while working on the star at the very apex of the dome, and fell the entire 366 feet to the main floor, crashing through the floor and landing in the basement.

Anyone who is not bothered by climbing over 100 narrow, steep steps can go on a tour of the Capitol dome. The tours begin on the fourth floor of the Capitol building just next to the chapel. I took my son, Andrew, and his friend, Tate, on a tour of the Capitol dome recently. We were guided by Officer Fisher of the Capitol police. He stood straight and tall and was full of "neat" facts. The boys thought he was wonderful.

There is not much inside of the Capitol dome. Sitting on the floor beside the steps is a telephone. Officer Fisher asked the boys if they knew why there was a telephone way up here in the Capitol dome. Andrew's friend, Tate, responded instantly that its purpose must be to enable people to "report if they see something amazing."

Of course beneath the dome there is an amazing amount of activity that takes place. Last week, among other things, Senate Resolution 167 was filed. I filed this Senate Resolution to allow the Boards of Trustees of West Texas State University, Texas A&M University, and the University of Texas to study the possibility of merging WT with one of these flagship institutions of higher education.

Since taking office, I have had as much constituent interest on this issue as I have on almost any other. I believe it is safe to say the catalyst for this interest was action taken in the last session of the Legislature wherein a Senate resolution was passed that authorized a study similar to this affecting several universities in south Texas. That study produced a recommendation that Pan American University merge with the University of Texas and Texas A&I University, Laredo State University and Corpus Christi University merge with the Texas A&M system. The Boards of each of these institutions voted to merge. Approval of these mergers is currently pending before the Texas Legislature.

I have talked to many constituents including students, faculty, and administrators at West Texas. I have also spoken either directly or indirectly with every member of the Board of West Texas, University of Texas and Texas A&M as well as their presidents. Responses of all of these people to the idea of a study ranged from "I would not oppose such a move" to enthusiasm. I was informed by the folks at U.T. and A&M that they believe they need some type of legislative approval to engage such a study. A Senate resolution which is not required to pass the House of Representatives nor be signed by the Governor was sufficient authorization for the South Texas study. This being the case, it seems that a Senate resolution is the simplest way to go so as to facilitate a WT study.

So the purpose of the resolution is simply to allow the three schools to engage in a study. I took my lead from action by the WT Board the week previous to filing the resolution. The Board voted to create a subcommittee to study the positive and negatives associated with a merger. My resolution simply allows that study to be conducted with input from all sides.

There is one aspect of the resolution that I believe to be important. I believe that a question of this magnitude should not be answered without appropriate input from students, faculty, and alumni of WT as well as input from concerned citizens of the region. Therefore, I made certain that the resolution called for this input.

The 71st Legislature has wisely adopted new rules severely restricting the number of legislatively authorized studies that can be staffed at State expense. This action was taken in response to a skyrocketing number of studies that cost the State of Texas a great deal of money. Because of these new rules, Senate resolution 167 does not call for staffing at State expense. However, I was pleased to see that the Panhandle Area Alliance has volunteered its services to WT for purposes of staffing such a study.

It is obvious from the fact that I authored and introduced Senate Resolution 167 that I support study of the possibilities of merger between West Texas State University, University of Texas or Texas A&M University. But that is where my support stops. At this point, I have no preconceived ideas as to whether a merger would be good for higher education in our part of the State or bad. Universities by definition provide a forum for the acquisition of knowledge through study. On occasion I believe it is entirely appropriate for universities to study themselves. Through this endeavor we will be able to gain knowledge—knowledge on which to base important decisions affecting the quality of higher education in Senate District 31.
