United Way Workers Kickoff Drive

"Here are some needs; wouldn't you like to help meet them?"

That simple statement is all that workers really need to say when making contacts for the United Way campaign, keynote speaker Doug Manning said Wedneaday morning as the United Way of Deaf Smith County held its kickoff breakfast at Civic Club Center.

Police, Firemen Begin Crackdown

False Fire Alarm, Obscene Callers Beware

cene phone calls has started this week by the Hereford Police and Fire epartment as the result of a rash of these offenses during the past two

While only a few offenders have been apprehended so far, the odds are that future false alarms and obscene calls will end with a criminal record and sentence for the offender and a safer community for Hereford residents. At least this is the goal of the city police and fire prevention work force.

Jay Spain, fire marshal, said Tuesday that about 30 false alarms have been reported during the past two months and that each time one of these is answered, the taxpayers lose money and the lives of the firemen and those citizens on the road are endangered. Based on the average cost of last year's fires, the answered calls cost the city, and therefore local citizens, about $150 each.

"WE'RE IN A HURRY to get to fires, and the drivers either following us or driving on the road, and not watching out for us, are endangering both us and themselves," he explained. Eight of the 30 calls were answered.

Most of the false alarms reported are not immediately answered with a full complement of the fire department if they are in anyway thought to be false reports.

A police unit is dispatched to the reported scene first to see if it is worth sending out a brigade of fire trucks and other equipment.

"Usually, we can tell if someone is sincere about a report. False alarms are indicated by persons giggling in the background and the like," Spain said.

"A lot of the calls are made by juveniles as a prank and it isn't funny because "I'll propagates those who are causals."

prosecute those who are caught."

The police have so far caught two juveniles making calls and they as well as their parents are repsonsible according to Vernon Hope, police detective. Under state statutes, "a person commits an offense if he knowingly initiates, ites, circulates or broadc report of present, past or future bombi knows is false or baseless."

It further states that persons are liable

if they cause officials to res if they cause officials to respond such calls, place a person in fear of imminent injury or interferes with those occupying a building to which the public has access. The offense is considered class A misdemeanor and punishable by the fine not to exceed $2,000 and a maximum jail term of one year. Spain said parents of any juvenile ommitting an offense may be forced to make restitution for any damage resulting from the criminal action. If the offender is 17-years-old or above, then he or she is prosecuted as an adult. Those younger are turned over the juvenile authorities.

ANOTHER DANGER present in false fire calls is that a fire truck may not be available for any real fires if the false

Indian Summer Boon To Harvest

Grain, Beets Moving Well

By JIM STEIERT

A beautiful Indian Summer weekend gave the county's 1975 harvest a big shot in the arm as combines continued to scythe their way through local corn, milo, sunflower and soybean crops, filling grain bins with the fruit of another year's labor for local agriculturalists.

BEET HARVESTERS also took advantage of the favorable weather to continue stockpiling massive tonnages of beets at the Holly Sugar Corporation's Merrill E. Shoup plant here.

Spokesmen for local elevators indicate that corn harvesting locally is already about one-third complete, and with the warm weather hastening the drying of the yellow grain in local fields, corn harvest should move toward conclusion in rapid

"We've had some pretty good days lately, with a lot of corn moving across the scales. The yields should be much better than last year," reported a spokesman for Easter Grain Inc.

The spokesman indicated that test weights continue in the 54-56 pound range, and moisture content is ranging from 20-24 per cent on corn received at the Easter facility.

ACCORDING TO the spokesman, milo harvesting is yet to get underway on any large scale in the Easter area.

Pitman Grain reported that moisture levels in local corn are coming down with favorable drying conditions. A spokesman for the firm reported that some local farmers have indicated that corn yields may be better than last year's, although actual yield figures are still not available

The spokesman indicated that milo harvest may not get into full swing until after a freeze.

Joe Artho of Hereford Grain Corp. indicated that local sunflower harvesting operations are "pretty well finished up" category.

"The corn is really beginning to move well now, and farmers are just beginning to harvest their irrigated mile. The grain is of outstanding quality, and the mile is a lot better than last year. It's the finest harvest I've seen in a long time. If the weather is cooperative, we should be through with harvesting operations this

Bobb Ginn, agricultural manager of the Hereford Holly plant was also enthusiastic about the progress being made on the sugar beet harvest, and the sugar content of the beets.

"We're real pleased with the sugar content of the crop so far, it's averaging content of the crop so far, it's averaging around 14.57. It's a bit hard to tell about tonnage at this point, we're encouraging the growers to dig their poorer fields first, but the tonnage is running at about what we had anticipated," said Ginn.

GINN pointed out that growers will moved into some good-quality beet fields. We've had some growers who have harvested some beets yielding as much as 26 tons per acre," said the Holly According to Ginn, the local Holly plant is currently receiving 10-12,000 tons of beets daily and harvest operations ntinue to run smoothly.

"We haven't established any controls as of yet, although we will probably have to put some into effect soon, since the plant has a slicing capacity of only six tons per day," said Ginn. "We don't want to get an excessive amount of sugarbeets stockpiled in this weather," he added.

Ralph Owens Initiates Project

Reveal Town House Plans

Plans for a big $1.8 million town-house complex in northwest Hereford were announced this week by Raiph Owens & Associates. Shown looking over a sketch of one of the proposed town houses, and the floor plans, are Tommy Bowling and Sam Long, two of the four associates of the firm. Ralph Owens and Dean Stallings were also present to discuss construction plans when the announcement was made Tuesday.

Apartments Planned Here

A $1.8 million complex of exclusive "town-house" apartments will be built in northwest Hereford, it was announced Tuesday by Raiph Owens & Associates. Site of the proposed town houses is between Fir and Greenwood on the north side of La Plata Drive.

CONSTRUCTION is anticipated to begin within 60 days, according to Owens, with plans calling for approximately 12 town houses. Four units are planned for each town house, with luxurious two and four-bedroom apartments included.

Owens and his associates-Sam Long, Tommy Bowling and Dean Stallings-unveiled the floor plans and the architect's front elevation sketch Tuesday morning. The plans will go back to the architect for a final draft, stated Owens, with copies to be returned soon for construction bids.

construction bids.

"The four of us have looked at many town houses, and we believe these plans will be attractive to people of this community," said Owens. "There is sufficient floor space the units will be decorated with extremely high-quality materials. We believe the people of Hereford demand the best, and we're trying to give it to them," he added.

Announcement of the project came on the heels of a report Sunday that Hereford's building permits have just recorded two straight months of record-breaking construction investments. New construction for the first nine months of the year is already 58.8 per cent more than 1974. Total building permits are near the $3 million mark for 1975.

OWENS SAID THE TOWN HOUSES will have a French colonial exterior, with each one being built around a courtyard, "enhancing the beauty of the front elevation." Each unit will have a two-story studio arrangement, Owens pointed out, "providing privacy between units." The four-bedroom units have a master bedroom downstairs and three bedrooms and a bath upstairs. Plans are flexible; so that an office or library could be included, rather than a fourth

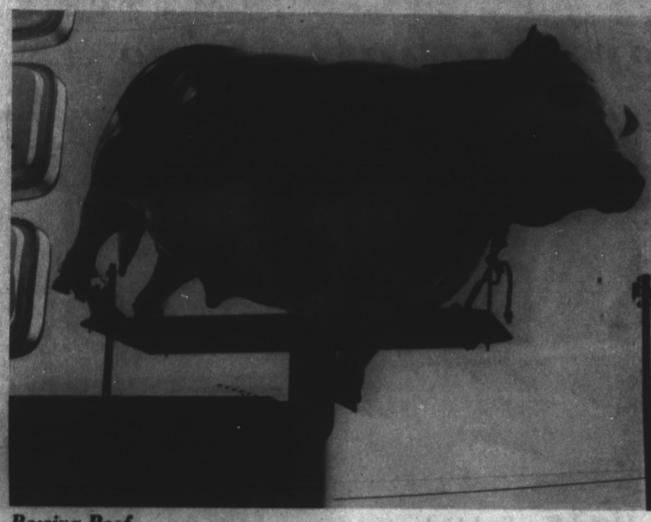

The units will be fully carpeted, have central heat and refrigerated air with individual controls, and will consist of raised panels, built-in appliances, and large walk-in closets, stated Owens. Each unit will have its own backyard, and a covered double-parking area with

Owens said the largest units would have approximately 2,200 square feet of living area, and 1 1/2 or 2 baths. "They are designed for spaceous living and entertaining," he added. Owens said all the grounds would be maintained and that plans call for either a swimming pool or club room to be built. "The latter alternate will be determined by the demand of the tenants," he said.

The town houses will be leased or sold, announced Owens and his associates. "We will start discussing leasing arrangements immediately," stated Owens. He added that Sam Long and Tommy Bowling will handle the leasing arrangements, primarily, while he and Dean Stallings are in charge of construction. County Business Varied Monday

By BOBBY TEMPLETON Brand News Editor

Courthouse air-conditioning needs, an updated report on the Kids Inc. baseball park district court appointed jury and attorney costs and a county wide reappraisal were routinely considered by the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court Monday during a regularly scheduled meeting.

Other business by the court included approval of three financial transactions, acceptance of the September fire report, discussion on bonding the district and county probations officers, and consent for a waterline in perceived are The for a waterline in precinct one. The waterline is being installed by Carl Frische about 3 miles north of Dawn.

JACK NUNLEY, courthouse maintenance supervisor, told the commissioners that a new air-conditioning system for the courthouse is needed since the old water chilling units are leaking and wouldn't adequately service the whole building for many more years.

He explained that professional advice had been sought on installation of a new system which would include an outside air handling unit. Proposals had been presented at an earlier meeting which called for an air handler on the Commissioner Bruce Coleman objected to putting a unit on the lawn since he thought it would detract from the "beautiful" appearance of the court-

Coleman recommended that Nunley present alternate plans at the next meeting so that the commissioners could study the cost of installing a new air-conditioner as opposed to the cost of repairing the water unit. If possible, the court expressed the desire to keep expenses to a minimum by repairing the old unit if it could service the courthouse.

Nunley also told the court that members of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Reserves, a newly formed group to help the sheriff's office, has already put in over 3,000 man hours since its inception this year. It became officially chartered by the state this week.

It was noted that the reserves bought their own equipment such as pistols and shotguns with the help of some donations. They only answer calls at the request of Travis McPherson, county sheriff, and otherwise have no authority. The only help provided by the county was the purchase of protective helmets.

COUNTY JUDGE SAM MORGAN said the reserves are to be commended since it shows citizen support of the local law enforcement.

Concerning the district court costs. Morgan told the commissioners that the local attorneys were unhappy with the amount paid them to defend indigent defendants, whose legal counsel is court appointed. Presently they are paid a minimum fee of $50 a case and the county judge just wanted the court to be informed of the higher costs paid by the county for the defense of district cases.

Also, he told the court that payments were going out from the county to pay for the meals of those who serve on district court juries. County clerk B.F. Cain said it had been the practice of the district judge to release the jurors on their honor so that they could eat where they wanted to at their expense.

Morgan indicated that it is District Judge Mike Metcalf's prerogative to set the attorney's fees and ask payment of the jurors' meals, but that he just wanted situations. The judge was instructed to futher investigate the matters and possibly ask Metcalf to appear at a future meeting if deemed necessary.

The commissioners briefly discussed the reappraisal for which the county has already budgeted about $40,000. However, the county, school district and city are to participate in the reappraisal on a proportionate basis.

THE SCHOOLS HAVE tentatively okayed it provided the city also agrees. Coleman said it was necessary to get the praisal started as soon as possible so the tax offices could have the material on which to base next year's property valuations.

Chuck Cosper, game warden, represented Kids Inc. and updated the nissioners on the baseball complex it is building with the help of the county and state. The park will include a central concession stand and eight baseball diamonds as presently planned.

The county bought about 30 acres to be developed for the park and other recreational facilities needed and wanted by Hereford residents. Cosper said he will apply for funds to build eight baseball fields, one of which will be legal playing size for the high school teams, although the state may authorize just six.

THE COMMISSIONERS approved the posit of a revenue sharing check for $58,543 into a certificate of deposit (CD) account to accumulate interest until the funds are needed. It was for the first 90

Also, a $23,521.85 CD was renewed for another 30 days until it might be needed. About $30,000 was taken out of a CD account and put into the general fund to finance current expenses.

The September fire report showed that eight fires were answered in the rural county area and 11 fires were answered within the city limits. The county helps fund those fire calls answered in the Morgan explained that district court probation officers are not bonded and probation officers are not bonued thought it would be beneficial to bond the officers since they carry large sums of money. He suggested a proportionate payment of the bonds by the six counties within the 69th judicial district.

Punishment is that of a Class B misdemeanor which mandates either a maximum jail term of 180 days and a fine of up to $1,000 or both. Three jury trials highlighted District Court action during the week ending October 3, 1975. Jury trials in Deaf Smith County are few and far between, but these three trials resulted in three men being sentenced to the state penitentiary.

There were also seven convictions in County Court during the week, as well as a probation revocation and a deportation of an illegal alien. Several cases were filed in Justice of the Peace Court on bad checks charges, but there were not

City Commission Accepts Low Bid For Emergency Vehicle

Brand Staff Writer

Quickly moving through several items of business in regular session, the City Commission Monday night approved a petition to close the 100 Block of South Sampson, accepted a low bid from John Orsborn Buick-Pontiac for a new emergency vehicle for Hereford's Fire Department, and appointed a member to the Plumbing Advisory Board.

Commissioners also approved a zoning change request, passed ordinances approving plats and dedication deeds of a Lot and two Blocks in Green Acres Estate, and gave preliminary approval to a plat submitted by J.W. Robinson for property due east of North Heights

After completing the business listed on the agenda, the commissioners briefly discussed possible reappraisal of property located in Hereford and also talked about apparent problems relating to shifting of sand in wells owned by the HOWARD GAULT had petitioned the city to close the 100 Block of South Sampson. The area he wanted closed, which technically was part of a city street, lies between a potato shed and an onion shed owned by Gault, according to city commissioner Frank Barrett.

City manager Dudley Bayne said that the city has no utilities in the area Gault wanted closed. He said the street was a dead-end street, and is not being used as Barrett moved that the block be closed.

His motion was unanimously approved. The city had received two bids from local automobile dealerships for a new emergency fire-fighting vehicle for the fire department. John Orsborn Buick-Pontiac had submitted a bid of $6,926.45 for a 1976 Suburban emergency vehicle, while Cowboy Chevrolet-Olds., Inc. had entered a bid of $6,956.02. There was a difference of less than $30 between the two bids.

Mayor James Sears stated that the bids of the two dealerships were "about as close together as you can get." City commissioner Emory Brownlow pointed out that the fleet discount made the difference between the bids (Orsborn Buick-Pontiac had offered a discount of $1,826.15, while Cowboy Chevrolet listed a discount of $1,826.15, while Cowboy Chevrolet listed a discount of $1,801.58.)

Plumbing Advisory Board needed two new members to replace Dale Young and Lee Carter, who had resigned. The reason this matter had not been on the agenda in the past, Bayne stated, involved the fact that there had been no need in recent weeks for the advisory board to meet. However, Bayne reported, several

The Commission then appointed Nicks Fariss to the board, and decided to wait until later to appoint the second member. Leroy Oswalt had requested the rezoning of approximately 150 feet of Lot 1, Block 9, in the Whitehead Addition. This area is located near the LaPlata Insurance Agency at 914 E Park. First-Class Mail Improvement Program Effective Here Oct. 11

The U.S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at Hereford Post Office on Oct. 11. Postmaster Nolan Grady said today.

Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to or better than airmail.

The major, new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what this service improvement means is that domestic first-class postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Grady.

"Under the new program, there no longer will be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery."

Books To Be Bought For WTSU Library

Getting Golden Spread citi-zens involved and interested in West Texas State University's Cornette Library is one of the most important goals of WT's Books for Buffs Drive, says WTSU Director of Development Keith Winter.

"The first part of our fall drive will be to send a brochure to about 20,000 business and professional people in the Panhandle area to acquaint them with what is in the Cornette Library that will be of use to their jobs. It will tell how to use the library and encourage them to do so," Winter noted.

"Not many people realize they can use the WT Cornette Library for only a $3 yearly charge," he continued. The Cornette Library maintains an extensive collection of occupational magazines, news-papers and state and federal documents within its more than 1 million items of imformation that will enhance any professional person's career or business, Winter said.

The second part of the fall campaign will be involved specifically with the acquisition of books, he continued. "A really outstanding univer-sity starts with its library and its book collection," Winter obser-ved. "We began the Books for Buffs Drive to Insure that West Texas State students, and all the citizens of the region the university serves, have the best and most relevant works in their

The goal of the campaign is to raise $1 million in books, whether through donations of money or of scholarly collections. The Texas Legislature recently gave WT $400,000 for books, leaving the drive a substantial goal of $600,000 to achieve. More notable donations to date include $2,400 from State Senator Max Sherman from his Govenor-for-a-Day funds and a 4,000 volume collection of WTSU retired English Professor Mattle Swayne Mack.

Winter also plans to contact the parents of WTSU students to request they donate $15 or more to purchase a book in the bonot, of their child, or whosoever they wished. "We will be placing book-plates in the volumes purchased or donated by individuals which will commemorate the person of their choice," Winter con-cluded. "And the donations are tax-deductible."

in the drive. Nieman commended the employees in the school and utility divisions of last year, noting that records indicated these two accounted for about 20 per cent of campaign contributions in the 1974 drive. Mike Patrick, a UW director and division chairman also talked briefly about the payroll deduction plan.

SINCE THE GOAL was not reached last year, directors voted to make the actual allocation of funds when the drive is completed this year. The allotments to the agencies are anticipated to be about the same as the previous year, however. about 2 per cent.

Approximately 93 per cent of the funds raised in the United Way drive remain in Deaf Smith County, according to local directors. Workers were also told that approximately 71 per cent of the funds are allocated to local youth programs.

Weapons Charge Faces City Man

Hereford police arrested a 41-year-old city man Monday and placed him in Deaf Smith County jail on charges of carrying a prohibited weapon and investigation of attempted murder following a shooting neident at the Kozy Inn.

Officers confiscated a .32 pistol and reested Alford High of 405 Ave. F.

Thefts and incidents of vandalism kept fficers busy during the weekend.

A theft at Blue Water Garden A theft at Blue Water Garden Apartment 71 is currently under investigation. Approximately $60 in cash and a pistol were taken in the incident, which remains under investigation.

A set of hub caps were stolen from a 1969 Thunderbird parked at the Hereford High School parking lot Friday. The vehicle is owned by Mike Turner of Re. 4

Vandals destroyed a gas pump at the remier Service Station at 301 North 25 dile Avenue late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The pump, valued at $3000, was apprently struck by a vehicle, according to police reports.

Officers are also investigating an incident of vandalism which occurred Sunday at Campbell Motors at 321 North 25 Mile Ave. Three cars were reportedly marked with a blue marker.

A vehicle owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Vogel of 305 Stadium Drive was apparently damaged by vandals Sunday. The car was parked at the rear of the Caison House, and vandals apparently kicked in a fender, resulting in approximately $118 in damages.

I was impressed with President Ford's proposal Monday for $28 billion in proposal Monday for $28 billion in permanent tax cuts in 1976, but only to take effect if Congress agrees to cut federal spending on equal amounts. Maybe he has learned something from the people on his recent frips.

MANY AMERICANS, said Ford, "believe that the politics of Federal spending has become too much of a shell game—and I must say that I agree with them." He also pointed out that cutting taxes is only half the answer—a point many American citizens have been trying to get over to their Congressmen for some time.

Whether Congress will take heed emains to be seen. Their override of the resident's veto on the child nutrition bill Tuesday didn't seem to be a good indicator. Ford contended the bill would add $1.2 billion to his budget and would extend nutrition programs to non-needy children. He termed it "worse than the programs we now have."

A REMINDER to parents of school children—there will be no school Monday. It's not that the schools have started turning out on Columbus Day...it just happens to be a scheduled workshop day for teachers.

The agricultural picture is generall brighter across the country, even though higher production costs will leave less profit than desired. This is a report from icultural bankers in a recent survey. Beef cattle continue to be the saddest part of the farming and ranching outlook for the year ahead, with much depending on the price of feed grains. One piece of good news is that fed cattle sold recently have turned a fairly good profit.

I don't believe any country can prosper that taxes its people to death and penalizes industry by causing them to sell below the cost of production. Contestants Get Better

Contestants in the fifth week of the Hereford Brand's football contest approached perfection as one individual missed only three games to win first prize.

Chris Hodges of Rt. 4, Hereford, will receive a check for $15 for missing only three Second place money goes to Dana Rush of 310 Sunset in Hereford who missed four games and guessed a tiebreaker of 37. Second place each week is worth $10.

Gene Batterman of 244 Beach in Hereford also missed four games and guessed a tiebreaker of 27, good for third place money of $5.

Another half-dozen predictors also missed only four games, cause their tiebreakers were further off. These included Betty Rusher, who guessed a tiebreaker of 26; Jimmy Walker, 24; David Coakley, 24; Frankie O'Rand, 23; Melvin Kalka, 21; and Marie Cogdell, 21.

A total of 18 contestants missed only five games, including John David Bryant Cawthon Bryant, Leroy Berend, Joe Don Cummings, B.F. Cain, Darrell Dirks, R.D. Hubble, Mrs. R.D. Hubble, Mrs. Melvin Kalka, and Raymond Lueb.

Also, Mike Major, Dorothy Mercer, Jack McKinster, Rodney O'Rand, Vincent Raemakers, Coy Riggin, Terie Beth Rush, and Juana Valdez.

Templeton, Nieman Tie As Forecasters

News editor Bobby Temple-ton missed only four games last week and, after starting out in last place, has surged into a tie for the leadership on the Fearless Forecasters' panel in The Hereford Brand

Templeton missed three high school games—the Littlefield-Floydada tie, the Levelland upset over Lubbock, and the Hart-Friona game, and on the college level only Baylor's loss to South Carolina marred his picks. Speedy Nieman missed six games and now shares top spot on the panel with Coach Fred Upshaw missed seven games from last week's contest page and two games behind the leaders. Booster club chief Mack Tubb had nine slips and fell seven games behind Upshaw. Templeton and Nieman have hit a 67.7 per cent of their guesses to lead the

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to getting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation. For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots. VALLEY®

Buffs To Face Utah State

West Texas State and Utah State, a pair of football teams that had problems last weekend with a couple of UTAs, try to shake the cobwebs in an intersectional football clash Saturday afternoon (Oct. 4) in Logan, Utah's E.L. Romney Bradcast of the game over the Shamrock Network back to the Texas Panhandle will begin at 2:15 with the kickoff set for 2:30. CDT. Warren Hasse will handle the play-by-play.

WT's Buffaloes dropped to 1-3 on the year with a 39-7 loss to U.T. Arlington, while Utah State's Aggies fell 61-7 to U.T. Austin. That also put the Utags' 1975 record at 1-3.

Nine turnovers proved to be too much of a burden for the Buffs in their loss to the Southland Conference's Mavericks. WT coughed up the ball five times in the first half as U.T. Arlington put it away with a 36-0 lead. Freshman fullback Bo Robinson scored the Buffs' only touchdown in the third period on a one-yard plunge.

The Buffalo defense, on the field for 19 more plays than the WT offense, was put through its worst night of the season. UTA rushed for an even 400 yards, almost as many as the Buffs had allowed in the three previous

This week with Utah State, the defensive task should be even tougher. The Utags boast of the defending NCAA rushing and all-purpose running champ in senior Louie Giammona. Only 5-9, 176 pounds, Giammona gained 125 yards and scored the winning touchdown in USU's come-from-behind 21-16 win over the Buffs last year.

Giamona ranked 10th nationally in rushing last week before the Texas game at 125.7 yards per outing, and he was third in l-purpose running at 176.3. He isn't the only Utag listed in the national stats, either.

Quarterback Greg Van Ness ranked 22nd in passing with 10.0 completions per game. If that name has a hauntingly familiar ring for Buff fans, it should. Van Ness started his college football career at North Texas State, and was named the dissouri Valley Conference's dayer of the week after the dean Green's 32-15 win in Denton. In the game, he leted 10 of 20 passes for

Mrs. Charles D. Osburn, ...nee Katherine Birmingham

Resident's Granddaughter Is Married At Colorado

Miss Katherine Marie Birmingham of Colorado and Charles D. Osburn, grandson of Mrs. C. Ora Cockrell of 415 Star and Mrs. Eula Osburn, former Westway resident, were married recently in Palmer Inn at Colorado Springs, Colo. with the Rev. Michael Florian officiating.

Parents of the couple are Lt. Col. and Mrs. David Francis Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Osburn, all of Colorado Springs.

The couple exchanged wedding vows at Palmer Inn located near Pikes Peak, which was the background for the outdoor Honor attendants were Miss Donna Ratkovich of Colorado Springs and Gary Osburn of Fort Collins.

Other attendants were Miss Linda Lichty, Miss Nancy Tybrain, Mrs. Thomas Winston, William Birmingham, Alan Combs, Bob Cummings, Kenneth Osburn and Rich Vander-

After a wedding trip to Denver, the couple is at home at Colorado Springs where the bridegroom is employed by Intermountain Dry Wall. The bride attends the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Cockrell attended the double ring ceremony.

The Federal Trade Commission has accused the funeral industry of exploiting consumers through such tactics as overcharges and body-snatching.

3 DAYS ONLY

Newcomers Invite Public To Show

Reservations to attend Hereford Newcomers Style Show, scheduled Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Sugarland Mall, should be made by Friday by contacting Mrs. Glenn Perry.

Fashions by Gastons will be modeled during the fanfare, which is in celebration of the ninth anniversary of the Newcomers organization. There is no admission charge to attend and the public is invited, preferably with pre-registration, according to Mrs. Freddic Savage, club president.

A special invitation is being directed to new residents of Hereford, who are of interest to Hereford Newcomers. Club members live here less than two years at the time of enrollment and strive to become establi-shed citizens of this community.

They meet at a monthly luncheon in Community Center, where they share common goals and problems faced when adjusting to new surroundings. Babysitter services are available for a fee at each meeting.

For further information concerning the club, contact Mrs.

Savage or Mrs. John West.

Family Film Night Scheduled Monday

The filmed story of a ory will be related at Deaf Smith County Library on Family Film Night, Monday at 7:30

Comparable to a Walt Disney movie, the presentation is free of charge and the public is invited. It will be shown in the Heritage Room.

Local artisans will have their works on display at the library Wednesday when Craft and Hobby Day is observed. Scheduled from 10:30 a.m. 4:30 p.m., the show will feature imerous avenues of handwork. Later this month, Mrs. Dewitt Seago will review the book "In One Era and Out the Other," by Sam Levenson. This will begin at 10 a.m. Oct 21 in the Heritage Room.

Also, interested individuals are invited to attend an organizational meeting designed to form a geneology society here at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23. A member of the Dimmitt Geneology Society will be present to answer questions and ike Christopher Columbus, each of us must embark upon the perilous voyage of life, fraught with uncertainty of direction or purpose; sometimes tossed by storms, often becalmed to a standstill. But, like the adventurer of old, we can be guided to the attainment of a goal far superior in benefit to ourselves and others than the mistaken one for which we had originally set sail; if faith be the rudder that keeps our ship of life on its true course despite wind and wave. Let your Church be the port of embarkation for your own voyage to the joyful discovery of a new way of life through faith.

Columbus found a world, and had no chart,
Save one that faith deciphered in the skies...

At The Library Author Creates Scenes Of WWII

The Eagle Has Landed by Jack Higgins is the book being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

In this exciting, adventure novel, Higgins recreates the setting during the 1943's where the highest officials of the Nazi regime are players in the final death throes of World War II.

The library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THE EAGLE HAS LANDED By Jack Higgins

September 1943: in the Wolf's Lair, deep in the forests of East Prussia, Hitler, nearing hysteria, Goebbels, Himmler, Cararis-and Mussolini, boldly rescued a few days before from the Sports Hotel on the Gran Sasso. Hitler shrieks at Canaris, "You have brought me nothing. You should be capable of bringing me Churchill out of England if I asked for it."

November 1943: at his Albertstrasse headquarters in Berlin, Himmler receives a coded message—"The Eagle has landed." Oberstleutnant Kurt Steiner and his commando force disguised as Polish troops, occupy the village of Studiey Constable on the east coast of Britain. For one afternoon, the quiet country-side becomes a raging Battlefield. The German force is destroyed Steiner himself on the steps of Meltham Hosue ad he raises his gun to take aim at Winston

The story of those two months is reconstructed by Jack Higgins with a narrative power and a command of documentary detail that secures him a place at the forefront of today's adventure

Every part of this grandly conceived novel is brilliantly executed, from the fascinating details of preparing a nineteen year-old Dakota to fly in from Holland under the British radar level, to the simple incident of the five-year-old girl who falls into the village stream and innocently sets in motion the final disastrous encounter.

Those present Tuesday in-cluded Mmes. Jesse Perales, Tomie Maples, Lynn Brisen-Bruce Futrell Gary Victor, Tim dine, Connie Willard and Gearn, James Simon, Avent, Connie McGuire.

It is important that women, as well as men, understand the basic values of the new credit measures which have been badly needed for a long time. Major points of the ruling are summarized below: YOUR CREDIT rights are spelled out. This means that an individual cannot be refused credit because of sex or marital status alone. A woman need not provide a co-signer when obtaining a loan. As a matter of fact, application forms for credit may not include terms identifying the applicant's marital

AN INDIVIDUAL HAS the right to know the grounds for refusal of a loan. Lending institutions must supply a written statement giving the reasons for denying or terminating credit. Plus, you have the right to request a summary of any information the lending firm used in its negative decision, if this is requested within 60 days of denial. You also have the right to examine any outside credit bureau which supplies information to lending institutions; this must be within ten days of the credit rejection.

Controlling the rhizomes is extremely important, stresses Weaver, because in just one season alone, a moderate infestation of johnsongrass can produce 12 tons of rhizones an

Farmers trying to combat ness of rhizome johnsongrass ing geese, hand hoeing, cultivating, fallowing, and using knockdown herbicides have had to be content with less than satisfactory results. But the days of halfway control measures against rhizome johnsongrass in cotton are

That's the consensus of a group of producers, agricultural chemical scientists and marketers as they met recently in Dallas to learn and share all they know about a new method of chemical weed control for rhizome johnsongrass-a double rate application of Treflan herbicide on cotton fields for two consecutive years.

Cotton producers following the double-rate Treflan program on selected cotton acres, including Rollin Heifrin, Rosser; Myron Townley, Paducah; Ross Cole, Georgetown; and Lynn Wright, Ferris, Texas, in a panel discussion pointed out that they and other cotton producers are posed with big problems in fields heavily infested with rhizome johnson-

The biggest problem reported by the panel is reduced yields due to the terrific competitive-for water, nutrients, and light needed by the growing cotton lants. One cotton farmer, who had pushed a pencil hard over his johnsongrass problem, stated that a 30 per cent yield reduction costs him nearly $40 per acre if the field would rmally produce 300 pounds of lint per acre at a 23-cent price.

Other major rhizome johnsongrass problems brought out by the producers included extra dockage at the gin for grassy bales and reduced cotton quality, cost of extra labor and to heavy infestation, and, finally, how it dictates what the farmer can grow on the land, if any crop at all.

Citing field tests conducted in heavily infested johnsongrass fields, Dr. Weaver reported that Treflan applied at double the normal rate (not to exceed four pints per acre) combined with proper tillage practices will provide commercially acceptable control of rhizome johnsongrass in cotton in just two years.

The double-rate Treflan program on cotton was approved for registration by the Environmental Protection Agen-cy in early 1974. Treflan, Company, Indianapolis, Indiana, is a product of Eli Lilly and Company research.

Dr. Jerry Walker, a Lilly plant science field research manager in the southwest, and Texas weed specialist Weaver pointed out that the rhizome johnsongrass control is essentially a hand-in-hand program of both proper application of the herbicide and adequate land preparation. Dr. Walker recomds that chisel plowing and disking at least twice in different directions should precede application of the ouble-rate Treffan. This brings the rhizomes to the surface and chops them into short pieces.

The application of the double rate of Treflan, made either in the fall or spring from October up to and including the date of planting, should be followed with two diskings. The disk should be set to cut four to six inches deep and operated in two different directions at four to six miles an hour for satisfactory incorporation.

According to Dr. Walker, research and field experience have indicated that cultivation of weakened johnsongrass strays appearing in cotton rows the first year will contribute to greater control the following year. He commended cotton producers try to delay planting of double-rate treated fields to avoid adverse cool, wet weather conditions early in the season. Dr. Walker added that only crops for which Treflan has been registered as a pre-plant treatment should be planted in the fields following double-rate

Dr. Walker also indicated that Treflan applied at double the normal rate does not injure cotton when used as directed under normal growing conditions. In fact, he reported, 42-yield checks of 95 experiments conducted by Lilly researchers since 1971 have shown cotton yield increases over control or untreated plots.

Although everyone, from researchers through producer panelists, agreed that the old halfway rhizome johnsongrass control methods in cotton could be forgotten, still additional challenges remain in controlling one of the southwest's "hard-

Brucellosis Regulations Still In Effect

AUSTIN-Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) officials are awaiting federal response to the commission's rejection of proposed changes in brucellosis regulations.

"TAHC's vote applied only to proposed changes," Dr. H. Q. Sibley, executive director of TAHC, said. This decision does not mean that all brucellosis regulations are suspended in

The brucellosis control program under which Texas has been operating is still in effect, Dr. Sibley stressed.

Federal response to the TAHC's action may come at the United States Animal Health Association meeting in Portland, Oregon November 2-7.

The commission rejected by a 5-3 margin at a September 4 hearing the proposed changes which would have brought regulations on brucellosis in Texas up to the minimum standards set by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA).

A possible result of the commission's decision is that the USDA could refuse to recognize the status of brucellosis-free counties in Texas or the state's modified-certified status if Texas does not conform with national standards.

That mass production on U.S. farms-which has provided us with cheaper food and fiber here at home than in almost any other country in the world—would come to a grinding halt. The American dollar—which has been strengthened through sales of our surplus food and fiber abroad—would buy about as much as the Confederate dollar on today's market. And unemployment would eventually hit most of us-even our un-

When U.S. farmers are producing fully, we can expect to export about 50% of our soybeans, 60 to 65% of our wheat, 25% of our feed grains, 40% of our cotton, 50% of our tallow and edible fats, 40% of our fluecured tobacco, and a good chunk of our citrus as well. The products of our farms are renewable resources that are recreated every year. And they will be so long as farmers are given the same freedom to market their products that other segments of our country are.

TAES Director On Visit To Russia

Agricultural Experiment Station, Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, left Friday for a three-week research visit to the Soviet Union.

Miller, who directs the state's agricultural research agency, is one of six top-ranking U.S. research administrators invited to tour Russia as part of a science exchange program. He will participate as a representative of the Land-Grant University System.

The scientific exchange program is part of a USA-USSR Cooperative Agreement in Agriculture, signed in June of 1973 by representatives of the two governments. Initially, the program is an exchange of scientists to observe in each country, and establish areas for mutual cooperation.

A Soviet team of research administrators visited this ountry earlier in 1975, and held detailed discussion in Texas. Now the tour by Miller's group will represent a reciprocal visit to the USSR to observe the Russian's research programs.

Miller, the only state Experiment Station director selected for the research visit, will be especially concerned with the study of technological devlopments, agricultural research, and the implementation of agricultural research findings. His group will explore the plant, soil, animal science and mechanization aspects of Soviet agriculture.

Besides visits in Moscow, Miller and the scientists will visit research centers in Leningrad, Karkov, Rostov and Tashkent. Miller and other team

Water Inc. Officials Call For Importation

A water import project ble," Duncan Ellison, Water, appears to be the only valid long-term solution to the water problems facing the High Plains, Water, Inc., told members of the Texas House Natural Resources Subcommittee on Water Resources at a hearing in Austin. "Such a project must remain an integral part of the Texas Water Plan if purpose," the testimony con-

Subcommittee Chairman Tom Craddick of Midland responded to the Water, Inc., testimony with "the economic importance of the High Plains and West Texas is too great for the rest of the state to ignore its water problems."

"The High Plains of West Texas produced 55 per cent of the state's cotton during 1974, 12 per cent of the nation's," testified Tommy Swann, Water, Inc., staff economist, and he noted that last year was an 'off' year because of adverse weather conditions. In 1973 those figures were 67 per cent for Texas, 24 per cent for the nation. Other 1974 production data revealed the High Plains produced 43 per cent of the state's grain sorghum, 51 per cent of the wheat, 83 per cent of the corn and 81 per cent of the fed cattle. "That's enough fed cattle to supply 18 million Americans with red meat for a year," Swann said. 'Water is the key ingredient that makes this kind of agricultural production possi-sary if agricultural production is to be maintained down through the years. The Natural Resources Subcommittee is gathering testimony with an eye toward recommendations for legislation the plan is to indeed fulfill its it will make to the next session of the state legislature.

Oil Nations Buying More Farm Goods

ganization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) has opened up a vast new market for agricultural goods.

Nearly 17% of the increased value of U.S. farm exports in 1974 came from shipments to OPEC, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. These shipments jumped to $1.6 bil-lion last year—more than dou-ble the 1973 level.

Iran was the biggest OPEC customer, taking over a half billion dollars of U.S. farm goods. Venezuela ranked sec-ond, with $300 million.

The only OPEC member to import less U.S. farm goods in 1974 than in 1973 was Indonesia. USDA officials attributed decline to increased competition from such Asian sup-pliers as Pakistan, the People's Republic of China, and Thai-

Burzlaff said the Texas Tech department is unique in that it is the only one in the nation which combines range and wildlife management disciplines.

"It is an important marriage of disciplines," Burzlaff said.
"And we now can match the quality of our department's facilities, staff and faculty with those of any major university."

The department has 10 staff members, three secretaries, two technicians, and three research associates. There are 230 undergraduate majors and 27 graduate students in the

I am a self-employed male, age 45, with an annual income of $50,000. How can I use HR-10 to provide myself with a good income at age 65?

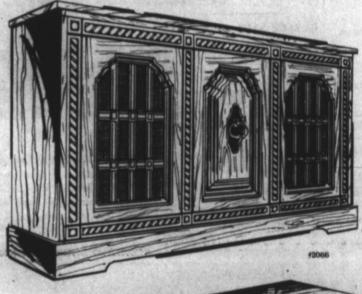

With HR-10, the maximum income allowed for computation is $100,000 and the lessor of 15% of this or $7,500; however, you can't exceed your actual income. Many choose to use a smaller percentage. For example, a man, 45, with 3 employees has earned ncome above $50,000. His 3 employees earn $21,600 annually. 7% of $50,000 is $3,500 and 7% of $21,600 is $1,512 . . . a total of $5,012 off the top of his income. This is a fair and legal application of HR-10, yet 70% of the total contributions go to him. Money, invested at age 45, in a flexible annuity paying 7% will yield a monthly income at 65 of

Understanding Alcoholism

Furnished By the Hereford Mental Health / Mental Retardation Center

'Who's in charge around here?" is a good question to ask yourself when you've been experiencing too many moods that block or reduce your satisfaction in living.

But don't get the idea that if you aren't always feeling gay or "high," you should start worrying about the staty of your mental health.

A good basic test for determining when your moods. A good basic test for determining when your moods may need special attention to ask yourselft "Do my feelings get in the way of my doing my best work or of my ability to love and be loved?"

It is human and normal to feel sad, angry, guilty, fear-ful, joyful, and all the other ways a person can feel-if the feelings have resulted from an appropriate cause and if your reactions are realistically designed to bring you back in balance.

One of the big problems, we face in attempting to manage our moods is that we don't always know what causes them. Many feelings are deep; sometimes we can't ferret-out the root causes of negative moods that absorb our energies and thus prevent their use for productive living

If the problem is more than a person can handle, he may need help from a mental health professional. However, there is much that the average his or her day-to-day emo-

The first step in managing your moods is to remove the scales from your eyes, so to speak, and admit to yourself the real cause of your un-wanted feelings.

Another important step is to express your feelings in appropriate ways-and toward appropriate persons if such are involved—rather than allowing the feelings to fester and grow and then perhaps to find expression toward inappropriate targets.

Many useful pointers for understanding your emotions and managing your moods are found in a pamphlet pub-lished by the National Insti-tute of Mental Health, which is a part of HEW's Alcohol. Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration.

For a free copy of the pamphlet, Freeing Yourself from Bad Moods, write to the Public Inquiries Section, Na-tional Institute of Mental Health, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

"Three Nuts for Cinderella," a muchacclaimed film from Czechoslovakia, will be rebroadcast on "The CBS Children's Film Festival," Saturday, Oct. 11 (12:00 noon-1:00 p.m.) in color on the CBS Television Network.

The film, an updated version of the classic fairy tale, shows Cinderella as an independent and energetic young girl who had a happy childhood until the death of her father, when her stepmother began treating her as a servant.
As the film begins, Cinderella's stepmother is preparing her estate for a visit from the royal family. Cinderella Libuse Safrankova) is kept out of sight Libuse Safrankova) is kept out of sight doing chores, but she and the Prince (Pavel Travnicek) meet accidentally in the woods. A sympathetic servant, feeling sorry for Cinderella because she cannot go to the royal ball, brings her three hazelnuts with magical propensities, the last of which produces
