Nine picked for ED group

Nine persons were selected to be asked to serve on an Economic Development Strategy Council during a Tuesday meeting of the Waste Deposit Impact Council in Hereford.

The nine persons will join the six WDIC members to form the strategy group to coordinate a Strategic Plan for Economic Development that will be formulated over the next three months for Deaf Smith County.

The nine persons to be offered a spot on the council include Bob Sims, Terry Bromlow, Doug Josseland, John Perrin, Rinaldo Garcia, Sara Pesina, Joe Artho, Garry Yosten and Ouida Halbert. Two alternates, who would be in line for a position on the council if any of the nine turn down a slot, are Ken Rogers and Ike Stevens.

WDIC members also named Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher, Deaf Smith County Judge Tom Simons, and Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce President Larry Malamen ex-officio members of the EDSC.

By May 31, the EDSC will coordinate efforts by a 50-person advisory committee that will make recommendations on goals and strategies; a strategy design team made up of government, school, and utility officials; research by several groups and process facilitation by WDIC staff; and the general public to come up with a comprehensive development plan and a method of implementation.

13 objectives that go from looking at the county's historical baseline data to goals for future are a part of the plan's outline that will be developed during a series of meetings and research scheduled to begin Monday.

TSTA nixes Simon, will support Dukakis

AUSTIN (AP) — Presidential candidate Paul Simon has not bowed out of the Texas Democratic primary, but the state's largest teacher group has decided to tie on to another candidate.

The Texas State Teachers Association, which in January picked Simon as the best candidate for education, on Tuesday switched its allegiance to Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis in next week's Super Tuesday primary.

"The perception that he is not in the race has certainly cost us some support," said Bob Krueger, Simon's Texas campaign chairman.

In other political developments Tuesday, New York Gov. Mario Cuomo spoke in San Antonio, where he again denied he is interested in running for president, and three former Republican office holders campaigned on behalf of Vice President George Bush.

Illinois Sen. Simon announced last week that he did not have sufficient money to mount full-fledged campaigns in Texas and the other Super Tuesday states. That caused TSTA, a 95,000-member organization, to rethink its endorsement.

Charles Beard, TSTA president, said it was not a matter of jumping from a sinking ship.

"We don't view it that way because Paul Simon is still a candidate out there somewhere. He's not in Texas and we're speaking about Texas politics right now," he said.

"For a matter of practicality, for our people to be able to influence this system, then we have to play Texas politics, and when your candidate takes himself out of the picture then they are no longer a player as far as we're concerned here," Beard said.

Krueger said Simon is a player in Texas.

"Paul Simon has not chosen to buy paid television (ads) for Super Tuesday, but that does not mean he is not in Super Tuesday. He is on the ballot. He expects this to be a marathon that will go all the way to California. And he expects to be in the White House," Krueger said at a news conference.

Simon will campaign in Texas on Monday and Tuesday, according to Krueger.

"There was a perception somehow that Paul had dropped out of Super Tuesday. He did not drop out. All he ever dropped out of was buying paid television," Krueger said.

"We want our delegates. We want people to go to precinct conventions. We want people to vote for Paul Simon," he said, adding, "We don't expect to run first in Texas. That would be a miracle, and miracles are confined to certain states at this time."

The Simon strategy is to pick up enough delegates in enough states to make him a contender at what Krueger said will be a "contested" Democratic National Convention.

Beard said TSTA remains impressed with Simon's record on education, but said Dukakis "will carry the education banner into the White House and will be our partner in our quest to make America's school world-class institutions."

Singers will be featured

The Hereford Chamber Singers will be the featured entertainment at Thursday night's annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Bull Barn in Hereford. The Singers, preparing for a trip to Australia this summer, will be presenting much of the program they will perform at World Expo '88 in Brisbane, Australia.

Banquet is Thursday

Hereford's Citizen of the Year will be named Thursday night as one of the highlights at the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet at 7 p.m. at the Bull Barn in Hereford.

The award will go to a citizen selected by a Hereford Lions Club committee.

The banquet's theme is "A Salute to Hereford," and will be highlighted by a performance by the Hereford Chamber Singers. The program is part of their presentation planned at World Expo '88 in Brisbane, Australia in June.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is very proud of the many assets that Hereford has and we want to give our best to a deserving citizen," said Chamber President Larry Malamen. "The Hereford Chamber Singers are one of Hereford's proudest and finest assets, and we are very happy to be able to have them participate in this special event."

The program will also include a review of the chamber's President of the Year, Mr. Malamen, who will also receive chamber officers and guests.

Local Roundup

Centre St., in which a $25 screen was damaged;

Criminal mischief and assault by threat in the 900 block of E. Park Ave.; criminal mischief in the 100 block of Campbell St., in which a vehicle was damaged; gasoline worth $2.57 was stolen in the 100 block of S. 25 Mile Ave.;

Harassing phone calls reported in the 300 block of Ave. A; incidents involving juveniles in the 600 block of Ave. K and in the 900 block of Ave. G; and disorderly conduct was reported in the 800 block of Ave. J.

Those arrested were a 23-year-old woman charged with negligent insurance (second offense), fictitious license plates and having a child under four years old unrestrained in the vehicle. A man, 27, was arrested on charges of assault in the 400 block of Ave. F.

Police reported no accidents, and the Hereford Fire Department extinguished a brush fire on Walnut Road Tuesday night.

Burglaries plague county

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department reported a burglary Sunday seven miles east of Hereford in which $148 was stolen, a color television, a power pack for a recorder camera and a microwave oven, all worth $1,000, were stolen Monday from a residence east of Hereford on U.S. Highway 60.

A business east of Hereford was burglarized Monday in which five saddles, ropes and bridles were taken, and a house 13 miles north of Hereford was burglarized Tuesday in which two color televisions and a video cassette recorder, all worth $1,700, were stolen.

Rain, snow possible

Tonight will be cloudy with a 50 percent chance of light rain changing to snow late tonight, with accumulations of one to two inches possible. The low will be 30, with northeast winds at 10 to 20 mph.

Thursday has a 50 percent chance of rain mixed with snow. The high will be 38, with northeast winds at 10 to 20 mph.

This morning's low at KPAN was 48 after a high of 71. A trace of moisture had been recorded by 7 a.m. today.

Grandparents invited

Grandparents of Hereford public school students have been invited to eat lunch with their grandchildren March 10 as part of Texas Public School Week March 7-11.

Grandparents will pay 50 cents for their lunch, according to Hereford school superintendent Charles Greenawalt.

Greenawalt added that parents are invited to eat lunch with their children any day during the week, but are asked to let the child's teacher or each school's office know in advance so cafeteria plans may be made.

Study shows

Hispanic poor at record levels

By The Associated Press

The number of Hispanic children in the United States who live in poverty peaked in 1985 and a re-examination of the federal welfare system may be needed to help the children, researchers said.

The study, by the Urban Institute, a Washington-based center for Budget and Policy Priorities, found that U.S. Census Bureau data on poverty in 1985 was "distorted" by a change in the way the survey is conducted.

The study, released Tuesday, indicated that the poverty rate among Hispanic children in 1985 was 27 percent, up from 20 percent in 1980. The poverty rate was $2,000.

The number of Hispanics at poverty level, an all-time high of 2 million in 1985, then dropped to 1.5 million in 1986, the study showed.

It also indicated that in 1985 anti-poverty government programs helped 17.454 percent of poor Hispanics, up from 14.9 percent in 1980.

Dr. Robert Brishcotti, executive director of the Urban Institute, said federal statistics in 1981 and 1982 had the poor. He also said that although the current federal budget needs to be balanced, the need, especially for Hispanics, must be met.

The government benefits have not been increasing to keep up with inflation and as a result welfare costs are rising, he said. "A re-examination of the whole welfare system may be necessary to solve the problem."

Among Hispanic children, the poverty rate increased from 19.6 percent in 1980 to 27.0 percent in 1985, the study said.

"We will recognize the need to change the budget process to help the poor, but on the other hand, we must help the poor," Brishcotti said.

The study also indicated that the poverty rate among Hispanics in 1986 was 24.5 percent, less than the 1985 rate, but still above the rate among non-Hispanic whites.

Walter Velasquez, president of the Urban Institute, said the study was compiled from census data from 1980 to 1986. He said the study was the first to use the poverty rate to compare the two groups.

A 1986 study by the Urban Institute, which has assisted the U.S. Census Bureau, said that the poverty rate among Hispanics in 1986 was 24.5 percent, less than the 1985 rate, but still above the rate among non-Hispanic whites.

That study, however, did not take into account the fact that the poverty rate among Hispanics in 1986 was 24.5 percent, less than the 1985 rate, but still above the rate among non-Hispanic whites.

Velasquez said that the study indicates that the poverty rate among Hispanics in 1986 was 24.5 percent, less than the 1985 rate, but still above the rate among non-Hispanic whites.

"We've got to translate social programs that are costly, as we're doing, into more effective programs that will help the poor," Brishcotti said.

Capt. Coneway leads Gulf 'rescue mission'

Navy Capt. Clinton J. Coneway of Hereford, commander of the guided missile cruiser Truxtun, for one of the most daring rescues of all of the action seen in the Gulf of Oman in recent months.

"In my years of naval service I have been called upon to perform many tasks," Coneway told a press pool in the gulf.

"But nothing like this." The would-be victim was a 40-foot, 30-ton female sperm whale caught in several hundred feet of nylon fishing net.

The third week of February would have been a dull week in the gulf, were 28 U.S. warships are stationed to protect Kuwait's oil tankers.

The week lost its dullness when an anti-submarine helicopter radioed the Truxtun about the whale. Coneway's cruiser was about 30 miles away, and that gave him enough time to throw together a "whale rescue team."

When the Truxtun arrived, the whale was floating listlessly on the surface, wrapped in about 400 feet of nylon gill net, while more netting trailed behind. The team snared the net with grappling hooks and eased the whale alongside the ship.

Then, one enlisted man after another leaped into the briny to cut the net away. The whale was finally freed, with just a piece of the net snarled between its teeth like a piece of dental floss.

"Through the ordeal, the whale made no attempts to harm the swimmers. It seemed she knew that they were trying to help," Coneway said.

"All in all, it was a most unusual and rewarding way to spend a Sunday afternoon," Coneway said.

Jacques Cousteau would be proud.

Bush, Dukakis win in Vermont primary

By LAURA KING
Associated Press Writer
Vice President George Bush held a nearly 3-1 lead over chief Republican rival Bob Dole in the Super Tuesday primary states, and Democrats Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson vie for Southern supremacy, a poll indicated today.

Bush and Dukakis, meanwhile, celebrated victories in Vermont's "beauty contest" primary and hoped for a replay six days from today on Super Tuesday, when 20 states hold primaries and caucuses.

"It's terrific, we're rolling 'em up," said Dukakis, who won the weekend Democratic caucuses in Maine.

"I'm hopeful that we can be as successful this Saturday in South Carolina and Super Tuesday," the vice president said from Florida.

Bush and Dukakis consider New England home ground — the vice president has a summer home in Maine. Both won in the New Hampshire primary and Maine's weekend caucuses.

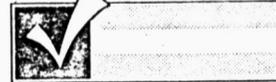

Jesse Jackson came in second in Vermont, but counted himself a winner after another impressive showing in a state with few blacks, proving anew he has broadened his appeal.

"We have found the common chord ... in Iowa or Maine or New Hampshire or Mississippi," Jackson said from his hometown, Greenville, S.C.

Vermont's national convention delegates won't be allocated until next month, in party caucuses.

ELECTION '88

Republican Pat Robertson, in Florida, said planes suspected of carrying drugs into the country should be shot down.

"I believe we have played games long enough with drugs," he said at an Orlando rally. "If one of those drug planes is flying without giving identification ... coming into the country, I wouldn't hesitate to give orders to shoot him down."

Dole was in Oklahoma attacking Bush's privileged background. "Those who made it the hard way, vote for Bob Dole," he said at a rain-soaked rally in Tulsa. "Those who had it given to you, vote for George Bush."

A poll published in today's Washington Post indicated Bush had the support of nearly 60 percent of the 946 likely Republican voters surveyed, while Dole had just over 20 percent.

Robertson trailed with slightly more than 10 percent and Rep. Jack Kemp of New York had 5 percent.

In the Post-ABC survey of 1,121 likely Democratic voters in the 16 primary states, Jackson had an edge in Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina and was roughly tied with Dukakis in Arkansas, Florida, Texas and Virginia.

Dukakis, meanwhile, held a strong lead in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Maryland. Tennessee Sen. Albert Gore Jr. led in Tennessee and Kentucky, and Missouri Rep. Richard Gephardt was ahead in his home state.

The poll was conducted Feb. 17-28, as the candidates were beginning to saturate the airwaves with campaign commercials — the chief weapon on a battleground as far-flung as the Super Tuesday states.

Texas wins again in Miss USA pageant

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Texas women extended their reign over the Miss USA pageant to a fourth year as a beaming Courtney Gibbs took the crown in a contest that had been packed with controversy.

This pageant had a controversial start and generated more news and interest than most such pageants before it ended with the nationally televised coronation Tuesday night.

Bob Barker ended his 21-year reign as pageant host to protest the giving away of a mink coat and jacket to the winner. The first two Miss Minnesotas bowed out after it was disclosed they had been arrested on shoplifting charges. Animal-rights protesters picketed the El Paso Convention Center. Co-host Tracy Scoggins fought off a man who attacked her in a hotel elevator.

And that all happened in the three weeks before the nationally televised pageant. The final twist came Tuesday night, when Courtney Gibbs of Fort Worth, Texas, became the fourth Texan in a row to win the Miss USA title.

The woman who started the string in 1985, Laura Martinez-Herring of El Paso, did a little jig after Ms. Gibbs was crowned and echoed the sentiments of many pageant-watchers: "I just feel sorry for the next Miss Texas."

Ms. Gibbs, 21, and a junior studying advertising and public relations at Texas Christian University, smiled broadly when outgoing Miss USA Michelle Royer of Keller, Texas, put the crown on her head.

"It feels fabulous," the blue-eyed brunette said calmly, seemingly unsurprised by her victory.

"One of the gifts Michelle (Royer) gave me was a dictionary with the word 'impossible' whited out. So of course it was possible," she said.

Ms. Gibbs beat out Diana Magana, 22, of Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif., who was first runner-up. It was one of two best possible results for Guyrex Associates of El Paso, who produced the Miss Texas-USA and Miss California-USA contests and hone the winners' pageant skills for the Miss USA contest.

Ms. Gibbs, who won about $200,000 worth of prizes, including the furs that created some controversy, will represent the United States in the Miss Universe pageant May 23 in Taipei, Taiwan. Ms. Magana, a brown-eyed brunette, will represent the United States in the Miss World pageant.

Second runner-up was Donna Rampy, 24, of Riverdale, Ga.; third runner-up was Monica Farrell, 23, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and fourth runner-up was Dana Michele, 20, of Richmond, Miss.

Officials did not rank the other five semifinalists. They are Gina Zordani, 23, of Illinois; Rowann Brewer, 23, of Maryland; Tamara Walker, 18, of Oklahoma; April Abel, 20, of South Carolina; and Stephanie Potts, 23, of Tennessee.

Pageant spokesman Stacy Sacco said she was stunned by the Texas victory string and felt compelled to assure reporters that the contest was not rigged by the 11 judges.

The judges scored each semifinalist on the swimsuit, evening gown and interviews and the five highest scorers became finalists. Then the judges ranked them in order of preference.

Miss Minnesota, Julie Nelson, said her arrival a week after the other contestants did not harm her chances. Before Tuesday night's contest, she said: "I'm going to make this work for me. I can come back to Minnesota and walk in anywhere and show people who I am and how I work."

The green-eyed blonde from Minneapolis was the second runner-up in her state's contest, but the first two finishers — Sue Bolich and Jolene Stavrakis — quit the Miss USA pageant after it was disclosed both had been arrested in separate shoplifting incidents.

Besides the furs worth a total of $15,000, Ms. Gibbs won a $25,000 personal appearance contract, $46,000 cash, a sports car, $10,000 worth of jewelry and other prizes, including a portable home tanning center.

About 25 animal-rights activists peacefully picketed the pageant to protest the mink awards. Members of Sangre de Cristo Animal Rights contend that fur ranching and trapping are cruel to animals.

Bob Young, director of Sangre de Cristo's Las Cruces, N.M., chapter, asked co-host Alan Thicke to resign as Barker did to protest the awarding of the fur coats. But Thicke refused, saying the furs were taken from ranch-raised minks that were treated humanely.

Young called Thicke a hypocrite because the actor ends each episode of children's TV show "Animal Crack-Ups" with the words: "Here's hoping that you'll be kind to animals." But on Monday, the two released a joint statement saying they both agreed fur-trapping is cruel but disagreed on fur-ranching.

In another pre-pageant incident, a man accused of attempted sexual assault in the attack on Miss Scoggins last week was released on $100 bail.

US receives support in arms talks

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — President Reagan received the Western alliance's "full support" today for his efforts to negotiate new arms reductions with the Soviet Union, but was warned that a strong allied defense is still essential.

As the 16 NATO leaders met for their first summit talks in six years, Reagan sat next to British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and listened intently as NATO Secretary General Lord Carrington declared that "the alliance will not rest on its laurels."

Carrington said the alliance leaders had gathered to celebrate the new U.S.-Soviet ban on medium-range missiles, and for "charting the way ahead" as Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev pursues a peace offensive.

"One agreement which reduces some weapons, and indeed one new Soviet leader who is ready to reduce some tensions, however significant, do not in themselves remove the military capability and potential of the Soviet Union," Carrington said.

He added that NATO's "collective determination to deploy and maintain a military capacity where necessary were what convinced the Soviet Union of the better route of arms control and disarmament."

"We wish President Reagan and his negotiators well in the effort to secure an agreement on strategic arms reduction, which has the alliance's full support," Carrington said.

Reagan, the last of the leaders to arrive at sprawling NATO headquarters today, made no comment as he passed a crowd of reporters and diplomats for the first session in two days of summit talks that are expected to stress alliance unity despite differences over nuclear arms strategy.

Carrington said the summit will provide NATO "with sustained impetus...in a way which will reflect the fundamental solidarity which unites us in trans-Atlantic partnership."

Looking toward Soviet-American arms talks, Carrington said an improved Soviet human rights record was fundamental to creating "the confidence necessary to proceed with a radical arms control agenda."

He added: "For most of us in the West that cause (of tension) is the degree of mistrust created by the denial of basic human rights and freedom to the peoples of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union."

Carrington reaffirmed NATO's commitment supporting a proposed superpower agreement to reduce long-range nuclear weaponry by 50 percent on both sides. He said NATO also looked forward to "a more serious engagement" with the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact on a chemical weapons ban and reducing the Eastern bloc's superiority in conventional arms.

Central to the summit talks here was the issue of how to fill the gap left by Reagan's agreement with Gorbachev last December to eliminate ground-launched medium-range nuclear missiles from Europe.

While the allies agreed on the need to reduce East-West conventional forces, a dispute remained over whether NATO members should quickly improve their stocks of short-range nuclear missiles.

McCarthy's death was the seventh in six shootings involving police this year. In addition to the three dead police officers, four civilians have been killed by police this year.

Two officers — John Glenn Chase and James A. Joe — were killed last month.

Chase, a white officer, was killed Jan. 23 by a mentally ill, homeless black man who had wrestled the officer's gun away on a downtown street as a bus-stop crowd watched. Police said some witnesses encouraged the assailant.

1,000 mourn for shot policeman

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A slain Dallas policeman was remembered as a strong man with a soft heart as about 1,000 people gathered for his funeral.

McCarthy, 33, shot to death Friday while working off duty as a guard and the third Dallas officer killed this year, was buried Tuesday in his hometown.

"He could bench press 400 pounds, and yet I've seen him sit down and weep about things that touched his heart," Rev. Ron McMullan told the mourners, including about 180 Dallas officers, at San Jacinto Baptist Church.

"I don't want you to see a fallen comrade," McMullan said. "I want you to see a man who was a husband, a father, son, and a brother and a missionary and a friend."

Fellow officer Cpl. C.W. Lindsey said prior to the service that McCarthy was "always caring about everybody else.

"He worked South Dallas. He'd see the poverty, and that really upset him," she said.

McCarthy's widow, Rondia, and his children, Amber and Joseph, were accompanied to the services by Sgt. Mark Stallo, their family contact officer with the Dallas force.

McCarthy died at Parkland Memorial Hospital Friday evening after the shootout at Brancato's Warehouse market in West Dallas.

McCarthy, wearing street clothes, was escorting the grocery store manager from a bank visit when a man jumped out of a car to rob the manager, police said.

It's A Hit!

Hereford Whiteface varsity baseball player Bill Ruckman hits an RBI single in the first inning, helping build Hereford's lead to 5-1 over the Palo Duro Dons. The Whitefaces beat the Dons 15-5 and are undefeated at 4-0, outscoring their opponents 54-20 so far this season. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

With 15-5 victory over Palo Duro

Whitefaces stay undefeated at 4-0

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

The Big Maroon Hitting Machine continued to blast away at opposing pitchers, with the Hereford Whitefaces recording 16 hits in defeating the Palo Duro Dons 15-5 Tuesday in Hereford.

The Maroon Pitching Machine also continued to do its job, limiting Palo Duro to seven hits and three earned runs.

The Whitefaces, in winning their first four games of the season, have outscored their opponents 54-20. It will be a rematch Friday in Amarillo when the Dons host the Herd in a 4 p.m. game.

Next Tuesday, Hereford begins District 1-4A play with a road game against Lubbock Dunbar at 4 p.m.

Nine different Herd players had hits versus Palo Duro, and six players batted in runs. All of the 15 Hereford hits were singles, except for a triple by James Hernandez and doubles by Jason Scott and Michael Phibbs.

Hernandez and Derrell Page each had three hits, and Scott, Phibbs, and Robby Collier each had three runs batted in.

Palo Duro scored in the top of the first inning with a walk, stolen base, and RBI single, and that proved to be the only way the Dons could hold the lead — before Hereford batted in the game.

The Whitefaces came back with six runs in the bottom of the first. Phibbs walked to start the inning, and Keith Brown followed with a single.

An error on the ball hit by Brown enabled Phibbs and Brown to advance an extra base, giving Hereford runners at second and third. Rodney McCracken then walked to load the bases.

Collier was hit by a pitch, driving in the first run of the game for Hereford. Brown scored on a wild pitch to put the Herd ahead for good.

Page then hit the first of his three singles to load the bases. Scott walked to drive in Hereford's third run, and Hernandez hit an RBI single to make the lead 4-1.

The other runs of the inning were scored on an RBI single by Bill Ruckman and a sacrifice fly by Phibbs.

Neither team scored in the second inning. Palo Duro scored twice in the third inning when Hereford committed three errors. The Dons hit three singles in the inning.

Scott pitched the first three innings for Hereford, totaling six strikeouts, walking two batters and giving up five hits.

The Whitefaces scored eight runs in the bottom of the third on eight hits, a sacrifice fly, and one Palo Duro error. Hernandez and Ross Torres began the inning with singles into right field.

Hernandez, who had reached third base on Torres' single, scored on Phibbs' sacrifice fly. Torres stole second base and scored on a single by Brown.

McCracken hit an infield single, and he and Brown then successfully achieved a double steal. Collier lined a single into left center field to bat in both Brown and McCracken for a 10-3 Whiteface lead.

Collier was running on the first pitch to Page when Page blasted a single into center field, advancing Collier to third base. Page stole second base, setting up another two-run single, this one by Scott.

Hernandez rounded out the scoring for the inning when he hit an RBI triple and later scored on an error. The error was committed by the Dons on a grounder hit by Torres to second base. Hereford's lead stood at 14-3.

Brown and McCracken both singled in the fourth inning, but were left on base when the Dons' pitcher struck out two straight Herd batters to end the inning.

With the 10-run rule staring them in the face, the Dons kept the game going with a walk, double and ground-rule double to score two runs.

The Whitefaces needed just one to end the game after five innings with the 10-run rule. Scott hit a double that rolled to the left center field fence. Later, with two outs, Phibbs hit a ground-rule double to bat in Scott for the game-ending run.

Clint Cotten pitched the last three innings for Hereford, allowing just two hits, getting one strikeout, and walking two batters.

Palo Duro had seven hits, and committed a pair of errors on defense.

Several free agents reject opportunity for 'new look'

By The Associated Press

Six of the seven free agents given a "new look" at free agency by arbitrator Thomas Roberts have decided not to look back. Tuesday was the final day the seven players covered by Roberts' Jan. 22 ruling could switch teams, and all except Kirk Gibson elected to stay with their current clubs. Gibson, who was to receive $1.3 million this season from the Detroit Tigers, signed a three-year $4.5-million contract last month with the Los Angeles Dodgers. The only other free agent to attempt to leave his current club was Carlton Fisk of the Chicago White Sox, who wanted to go to the Kansas City Royals. Fisk, who has a one-year $700,000-contract with Chicago, wanted $1.2 million from Kansas City. The Royals offered $800,000. The five other players affected by Roberts' ruling did not enter into negotiations with other teams and will remain with their current clubs. They are Donnie Moore of the California Angels ($850,000), Joe Niekro of the Minnesota Twins ($800,000), Butch Wynegar of the Angels ($700,000), Juan Beniquez of the Toronto Blue Jays ($400,000) and Tom Brookens of the Tigers ($350,000). Brookens agreed Monday to a one-year contract extension. LOUD BELL George Bell doesn't want Toronto manager Jimmy Williams to move him to designated hitter. "We'll see who lasts longer with the organization, him or me," Bell said after arriving at the Blue Jays camp in West Palm Beach, Fla. "I know he's the manager; he's going to do what he wants. OK, I'm DH, I can deal with that; no problem. But we'll see who's going to be DH all season. I think me and Jimmy, we fight." "There's gonna be a bomb explode. He says it's good for the team. Good for the team, my butt!"

"What's wrong with this team? He doesn't know me, the kind of man I am. He should know I don't want to be a DH. If they want to find a DH, they should call Cliff Johnson or Willie Aikens. Maybe they should bring back Otto Velez. I'm still too young." Bell agreed to a two-year contract for a guaranteed $4.1 million last month. "They think that just because they pay me a lot of money, they can make me do whatever they want," Bell said. "Well, they can't. Maybe I won't play quite so hard." ABOUT FACE Danny Tartabull asked the Kansas City Royals to trade him on Monday. On Tuesday he agreed to a one-year contract for $330,000. He can earn $45,000 more in incentive bonuses. "Basically the only thing I'm really happy about is going back to my teammates and my fans in Kansas City," Tartabull said. He batted .309 last season with 34 home runs and 101 runs batted in and made $145,000. Kansas City was prepared to renew his contract today at $290,000 and that forced Tartabull to agree. But he said he agreed with great bitterness. "I think that's the feeling," he said. "If you weren't paid what you felt you were worth, you'd probably be a little upset, too." MOONLIGHTING Wade Boggs will miss practice today so he can be in Los Angeles to film an episode of the television series "Cheers."

Jared Scores For The Herd

Jared Victor, on the basepaths as a courtesy runner, scores in the first inning of Tuesday's game on a sacrifice fly by teammate Michael Phibbs. That run gave Hereford a 6-1 lead, en route to a 15-5 win over the Palo Duro Dons. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

High school rodeo season opens Saturday

The 1988 spring season in Tri-State High School Rodeo Association begins this weekend with the Spearman-Gruver rodeo. Here is the rest of the spring schedule in the rodeo association. Hereford High School Rodeo Club members will compete in the TSHSRA. Leedy Rodeo, March 12: entries close March 2. Happy Rodeo, March 19: entries close March 9. McLean Rodeo, March 26: entries close March 16. Channing-Dumas Rodeo, April 2 at Dumas: entries close March 23. Claude Rodeo, April 16-17: entries open March 7; entries close April 6. Hereford Rodeo, April 23-24: entries open March 14; entries close April 13. Canyon Rodeo, April 30-May 1: entries open March 21; entries close April 20. Stratford Rodeo, May 7: entries open March 28; entries close April 27. Adrian Rodeo, May 14-15 at Vega: entries open April 4. Tri-State High School Rodeo Association Finals, June 9-12 at Amarillo. NOTE: No rodeos are scheduled for April 9-10 or May 21-22.

Tommy John, rated a fine control pitcher, hit four batters while pitching for the Chicago White Sox in a 1968 game. It tied an American League record.

Walter Johnson beat the New York Yankees 60 times, the most for any pitcher in the history of baseball.

Commanche Relays Champions

The Hereford High School girls' track team won the Commanche Relays in Fort Stockton last weekend, totaling 94 points, 20 more than second place Monahans. Team members are: front row from left, Cori Foster, Nancy Garza, Yvonne Padilla, Alina Benitez, and Sally Garza; middle row from left, Renee Sublett,

State basketball scoring record set at Victoria

VICTORIA, Texas (AP) — The San Antonio East Central Hornets and the Victoria Stingarees hooked up in a wild scoring duel in a Class 5A basketball playoff game that left the scorekeepers dizzy. East Central defeated Victoria 129-121 Tuesday night in a game that set a Texas high school record for combined points.

Tony Terrell scored 56 points to help the top-ranked Hornets, 32-0, take the victory. They advanced to the Region IV-5A tournament for the third straight year.

"I really don't know what we could have done differently," said Victoria coach Mike Smith, whose team shot 69 percent (47 of 68) and set a school scoring record. "If we had a chance to play it again, I don't know what we'd do. I thought they (the Hornets) shot unbelievably well."

"When we're ahead, we don't go to no four corners, or stall," said Terrell, who scored 18 of his points during the final period. "We just keep trying to score to close the door for sure."

The 250 points amassed during the 32-minute game broke the previous Texas record of 242 points, set during East Central's 129-113 victory over Highlands earlier this year.

The record for runs scored in a four-game World Series is nine and is shared by two Yankees, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

Johnny Bench hit 327 home runs as a catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, a major league record for a player at that position.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have three questions that have always puzzled me. Can your experts help? Here goes:

Is it possible for someone to live to the ripe age of 90 or 100 without ever having been sick? Often when these people are interviewed they say something like, "I was never sick a day in my life," or "I've never had so much as a headache or a cold."

Are they fibbing, or are they just thinking in terms of major hospital visits? I have never known anyone who has never been sick.

And speaking of colds, is it possible to have a slight cold? All my colds have been horrible, juicy affairs, yet I hear people say they have a "little" cold.

And finally, why is it that some days a person wakes up feeling blue even when things are going well? Other times, a person might wake up feeling "up" and happy though things are not particularly great. What's at work here? Does it have something to do with the stage of sleep we wake up in, or the kind of dreams we had, or other factors such as the blood sugar level?

I hope these questions don't sound foolish. Give it your best shot, Annie. —Intrigued in Norfolk, Va.

others will take to their beds. Yes, it is possible to have a slight cold. Actually some folks are able to prevent a cold from becoming full-blown by taking a hefty dose of Vitamin C, drinking a lot of fruit juices and hot tea and getting a good day's rest. The "slight cold" was the beginning of a bad cold that was nippe din the bud.

As for why some people wake up feeling lousy when life is great and greet the morning feeling terrific when life is awful: It could be a matter of indigestion, blood sugar, a good or bad dream or some chemistry of the brain that we know very little about. Ain't life mysterious?!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I need some advice in order to avoid a family problem. In the last few weeks, my husband's stepfather has been referring to himself as "grandpa" to our 6-month-old son. I find this inappropriate.

Both real grandfathers call themselves "grandpa" and I feel they alone have this privilege. I don't feel an affection for this man who has always chosen to stay on the sidelines up to now. I feel Bobby should call him by his first name, just as we have always done.

This is especially important to me because our son does not see his real grandfathers as much as he does this man. (We live a few hours away.) I don't want the child to get confused.

If I personally felt affection for this man it would be different, but I don't.

Help me, please. He moved just 15 minutes away from us six months ago. —Rockland, Me.

DEAR ROCK: Sorry I can't support your position. Your child may bring out the repressed ability in this man to show affection. So what if the boy calls him Grandpa? This is used as a term of endearment by many people who aren't related. As I see it, everybody profits.

How much do you know about pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, crack, speed and downers? Think you can handle them? For up-to-the-minute information on drugs, write for Ann Landers' newly revised booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." Send $2.50 plus a self-addressed, stamped No. 10 envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Program on alcoholism to be Friday

A special program on family alcoholism will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the United Pentecostal Church, Ave. H and Lafayette Street.

F.R. Johnson, outreach representative of the Spirit of Freedom Ministries in New Orleans, La., will present the program.

The "Spirit of Freedom" will be introducing a new approach to family alcoholism and drugs. The tape, "Raised From The Ruins" on alcoholism, along with other materials, will be available during the meeting.

Spurs defeat Suns, 114-109

By The Associated Press

After learning earlier in the day that he had been named the NBA's Player of the Month, John Stockton matched his career-high 26 points, handed out 12 assists and made five steals — including a critical one that led to his scoring Utah's final basket — as the Jazz beat the Houston Rockets 113-112.

"The reason I got it (the Player of the Month honor) was because I had so many assists," Stockton said after Tuesday night's game. "And let's face it, the guys (his teammates) put it in the hole. They run the court and they're making my job a lot easier, and I'm getting a lot of the credit."

Some of that credit was handed out by Houston coach Bill Fitch, who said, "Stockton makes the team run. I wouldn't put him at the level of a Magic Johnson or Isiah Thomas yet, but he is right there nipping at them."

Karl Malone had 34 points and 17 rebounds and Thurl Bailey added 15 points for the Jazz.

Akeem Olajuwon led Houston with 27 points, while Purvis Short added 18 and Rodney McCray had 14 points and 13 rebounds for the Rockets.

Utah rode a 16-2 run to a 33-20 advantage at the end of the first quarter as Malone scored 12 points and Stockton added 8 points and four assists in the period. The Rockets cut the deficit to 55-50 at the half and trailed only 85-83 after three quarters.

Stockton scored 10 points in the final period and Malone added 8, but Short and Olajuwon kept the Rockets in the game. Houston took its first lead since early in the first period on a pair of free throws by Short, making it 102-101 with 4:32 remaining.

The Jazz came back and took the lead 113-106 after Stockton stole an inbound pass McCray intended for Allen Leavell and drove to the hoop.

"I don't know why I decided to go after that one," Stockton said. "Nobody really set a screen on me and he popped out. The pass just got there late and I just tried to get a hand on and knock it loose and it popped loose. When I chased after it, I said, 'Wow, how'd that happen?'"

That was the last Jazz points as the Rockets scored the next six.

With the Jazz ahead 113-112 after Olajuwon scored for the Rockets, Utah's Mel Turpin lost the ball on the inbounds play. He threw the ball to Malone, who caught it as he was jumping over the end line, thinking he would inbound the ball. The inbounds violation turned the ball over to the Rockets.

"I was standing there for the outlet like I normally do," Stockton said, "and all of a sudden, it veered its course over to the Mailman (Malone). I've just seen it all now."

After a timeout and a miss by Olajuwon, Cedric Maxwell got the rebound for the Rockets and went up for another shot, but Turpin blocked it, grabbed the ball and held on as the clock ran out.

Fitch said Maxwell said he was fouled by Turpin on the blocked shot at the end of the game, "but the officials were in a better position to see it than I was and they didn't call it."

"We battled back and had the chances we wanted at the end, but the shots didn't go down," he said.

Spurs 114, Suns 109

San Antonio Spurs guard Alvin Robertson has been struggling at times in recent games, but he stepped forward when he could have stepped aside against the Phoenix Suns.

Robertson rallied the Spurs by scoring 10 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter Tuesday night to lead the Spurs to a 114-109 NBA victory over the Suns.

The Spurs, trailing 87-85 after three periods, fought back on the shooting of Robertson and forward David Greenwood, who added nine points in the fourth period.

Robertson, while connecting on just nine of 22 shots for the night, did make his presence felt in other ways. The Spur guard had nine assists, five steals, four rebounds and three blocked shots in 40 minutes of action.

The Suns were willing to let Robertson take his shots in the fourth period and paid for it with a loss.

"We definitely wanted Alvin to take the shot because he has really been struggling," said Suns' forward Eddie Johnson. "Walter Berry and Alvin hit some big shots for them."

Berry, who led the Spurs with 29 points, said it took a team effort to pull out the victory.

Johnson scored 23 for the Suns, who trailed 62-51 at the half but pulled within two as Johnson scored 12 points in the third quarter.

Armon Gilliam and Walter Davis scored 16 points each for the Suns, who have lost 23 of 28 road games. Center Mark West had 12 rebounds and blocked nine shots.

Sonics 114, Lakers 100

Dale Ellis is convinced that no team, not even the Los Angeles Lakers, can stop him indefinitely. Ellis held himself responsible for Seattle's 116-109 defeat on Jan. 24 that ended the SuperSonics' 17-game home winning streak.

On Tuesday night, Ellis, who was 5-for-21 from the field and scored 14 points in that loss, scored 26 Tuesday night as the Sonics' snapped the Lakers' 10-game winning streak, 114-100.

"The last game against the Lakers, I was my own worst enemy," Ellis said. "I took myself out of that game. I don't think there's any one guy who can hold me down with my shot and my height. I think I present problems for most No. 2 (shooting) guards because I've been playing post all my life."

Ellis, who is listed at 6-foot-7, played forward until last season.

Xavier McDaniel added 24 points and Tom Chambers 22 for the Sonics, while Byron Scott scored 21 points and James Worthy 20 for Los Angeles, who lost for only the second time in 19 games.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was 1-for-7 from the field and scored only two points in 24 minutes, the second-lowest output of his 19-year career. The only other time he scored as few as two points was when he went scoreless in a 1977 game in which he was ejected for punching Kent Benson.

Pistons 117, Hawks 104

Detroit improved its Central Division lead to two games, beating

Atlanta despite 50 points from Dominique Wilkins.

Joe Dumars had 25 points for the Pistons, who never trailed en route to their fifth consecutive victory. Detroit got 20 points from Vinnie Johnson.

Wilkins, who along with Michael Jordan has two 50-point games this season, shot 18-for-35 from the field and made 13 of 14 free throws.

Bucks 117, Celtics 116

Milwaukee, which lost to Boston by 36 points last Friday, saw an 18-point lead dwindle to one before holding on.

Sidney Moncrief scored 12 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter, but the Celtics made the score 117-116 on Danny Ainge's two free throws with 33 seconds left.

Paul Pressey missed a layup with 18 seconds remaining and Boston got the rebound. But Larry Bird's off-balance jumper inside the lane hit the front of the rim at the buzzer.

Jack Sikma scored 20 points for Milwaukee. Bird scored 31 for the Celtics.

Nets 104, Clippers 75

New Jersey made Willis Reed's debut as coach a success as Otis Birdsong scored six of his 18 points in a 14-0 run at the start of the game.

Los Angeles, which committed 30 turnovers, scored only 11 points in the first quarter as the Nets ended a six-game losing streak in a battle between the two worst teams in the league. New Jersey is 13-42 and Los Angeles is 12-41.

Tim McCormick added 16 points and 13 rebounds for the Nets. Knicks 98, Pacers 96

New York came from 20 points behind Indiana in the second half and won its 11th straight home game on Mark Jackson's 10-foot jumper at the buzzer.

The Madison Square Garden streak is the longest by the Knicks since they won 20 in a row at home in 1972-73.

Indiana, held to 12 points on 3-for-19 shooting in the fourth quarter, was led by Chuck Person with 27 points.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Texas Corn Producers Board will hold its biennial election on May 10, 1988. The terms of three present board members will expire at that time. Any person within the following counties who is engaged in the business of producing, or causing to be produced, corn for commercial purposes, is eligible to vote, including owners of farms and their tenants and share croppers, if such person is required to pay assessment that is collected on corn within the following counties: Bailey, Castro, Deaf Smith, Hale, Lamb, Parmer and Swisher.

The election will be held by mail ballot, which will be provided to all eligible voters not later than April 8, 1988. Ballots must be mailed to the polling place at 218 East Bedford, Dimmitt, Texas 79027 before midnight on May 10, 1988.

Any person qualified to vote who does not receive a ballot in the mail may obtain one at his local County Extension Office.

Any producer in the 7 county check off named above subject to paying the assessment on corn may have his name placed on the ballot for anyone of the 3 positions accompanied by 10 signatures of legal corn producers within the counties described above.

Producers have 30 days after this notice to have names placed on the ballot and mailed to Texas Corn Producers, 218 East Bedford, Dimmitt, Texas 79027.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I am an avid recipe collector. As a working mother, I use the crock pot and microwave as much as possible. I have devised a system to keep recipes for different cooking methods easy to sort and identify in my recipe file. I use different color index cards. For example, yellow for microwave, turquoise for crock pot and pink for conventional recipes.

This is a real time-saver when every minute counts and you are looking for your favorite recipes. — Lynn Schultz, Baltimore, Md.

So many of us collect recipes, even if we don't always use them! If you have a special recipe-collecting hint that you'd like to share, please let me know and I'll pass it along. — Heloise

SEND A GREAT HINT TO:

Heloise
 P.O. Box 795000
 San Antonio, Texas 78279

GROCERY LIST

Dear Heloise: I find that by putting my grocery list near my baking or canned goods, I can write items down as I see that I am low on them.

When I know I am going to use a new recipe, I check to make sure I have the needed ingredients on hand.

This not only saves time but money as well, by shopping sales. — Mrs. Rose Wolfe, Wisconsin Dells, Wis.

We all need as many time- and money-saving ideas as we can find. I've found plenty and have put them in my pamphlet, Heloise Saves at the Supermarket, which you can order by sending $2 and a stamped, self-addressed, legal-sized envelope to Heloise/ Supermarket, P.O. Box 19765, Irvine, Calif. 92713 — Heloise

SEAFOOD AND VEGETABLE BATTER

Dear Heloise: Here is a batter I use with very good results. It can be used on shrimp, oysters, mushrooms, Italian squash and eggplant which has been cut into 1/2-inch slices. Rinse but do not dry, flour well and place in refrigerator for an hour or so.

Make a pancake batter approximately one-half the consistency of regular pancake batter.

Dip your shrimp or whatever into this batter and roll gently in bread crumbs. Put in hot oil, stir gently while cooking until golden brown. — B. J. Hinkle, Chula Vista, Calif.

POPCORN

Dear Heloise: A reader had a tip about popping popcorn in a skillet. I can't recall what it was and have lost my clipping.

If you could have this information reprinted, I will be sure to see it. Many thanks. — Emagene Bowels, St. Louis, Mo.

When popping popcorn, line the bottom of your pan with aluminum foil before putting the oil in. This way if the pan does get burnt, all you have to do is lift out the foil. — Heloise

MILK CARTONS

Dear Heloise: After I've opened a milk carton, I put a large paper clip on it to help hold it shut.

To me, it seems to keep the remaining milk fresh longer. — Vera Wilson, Logansport, Ind.

COUPON ENVELOPE

Dear Heloise: Many times when I get to the grocery store I find that I have forgotten my coupons.

My husband suggested putting an envelope between the front seats of the car to hold my coupons. After making out my grocery list, I attach the coupons that I will be using and put them in the envelope.

I have been doing this for over six months and it really works. — Mrs. John Shell, Webster, Mass.

PIE CRUSTS

Dear Heloise: For pie lovers who like to make their own pie crust, I have a really simple way to get a uniform, crumb-like mixture in practically no time at all.

Use a large-hole vegetable grater to "cut in" the butter or shortening which you keep coated with flour, as you grate away.

This method is fast, easy and fun. — A. Franzino, Monroe, Conn.

DEAR HELOISE:

Christmas has come and gone. Some children may have felt let down at the end of the holidays, thinking it was all over so soon.

It is such a wonderful holiday, and most of us build up our anticipation months before.

I have a suggestion for next Christmas. I have done this for a gift, and it seems to carry on the thrill of Christmas just a little longer.

When you give a gift to a child, consider giving some of your time. For instance, a "coupon" good for a movie (or another favorite pastime) with you would delight any child.

This gives the youngster something to look forward to after the presents have all been opened and the Christmas tree has been taken down. — L.K. Oshkosh, Wis.

It not only works for children but also for parents and other adults — an outing once a month, a movie or library visit. Your gift suggestion is wonderful. It certainly would spark up a dreary March day. — Heloise

KEEPING CHINA

Dear Heloise: For my hope chest, I've purchased dinnerware and other items to complete a china collection.

Since it may be a while until my knight with shining flatware comes along, what would be the best way for me to store it? Will it become brittle if not used or washed periodically?

Thank you for your advice. — J.L.S. Widefield, Colo.

It is best to store your china in your hope chest using the box it was originally packed in.

If you no longer have the original box, use foam sheets or paper plates between each of the dishes to keep them from scratching each other. Your china will not become brittle if not used or washed periodically while being stored in your hope chest.

Once you do find your knight and you begin to use your china, a good rule I would like to give you is to always wash the china by hand. — Heloise

STAY-PUT TOWELS

Dear Heloise: When my children were little, they were constantly taking the bathroom towel off of the towel rack and did not put it back after drying their hands.

To cure this, I sewed a buttonhole in the towel and a few inches down I sewed on a button. When I placed the towel on the towel rack, I was sure to button it in place.

This kept the children from removing the towel so easily, and I no longer had to pick it up off of the basin or floor after them. — Dorothy DePante, Charlotte, N.C.

RUBBER SNAKE

Dear Heloise: If you have a bird problem with fruit trees, here's a solution that I have used with great results.

Buy a rubber snake and hang it from the tree. The neighbor next to our office has also done this to keep the birds away from his parked cars and it has worked for him.

You may have to do some explaining to worried guests or scared neighbors. The results, however, you cannot beat. — M.S.M., Indianapolis, Ind.

Michaelangelo's statue David was set in place in 1504 in the Palazzo in Florence, Italy.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT...FOR ALL CANDIDATES PLANNING TO SIGN UP FOR THE CLERK-CARRIER AND AREA LETTER SORTING MACHINE EXAMS AT THE HEREFORD POST OFFICE WHEN THEY ARE SOON ANNOUNCED. LAST GIVEN IN 1985, AND SINCE THEY WON'T BE OFFERED AGAIN FOR AT LEAST 3 YEARS...DON'T MISS OUT.

A recent issue of Newsweek magazine noted that the average Postal workers earns $27,500 in salary and benefits. Men and women, regardless of age or experience are eligible to apply. Courses to help you prepare for the above exams will be offered by Postal Exam Workshops. Instructors Larry Herman and Bill Harold are considered by many to be the most qualified on how to gain employment with the Postal Service. These exams do not test general knowledge. Proper preparation is the key to getting hired, because people are hired for these positions based on their exam score. The way to learn techniques taught in these courses were designed by Mr. Harold. He is a former Postal employee, the author of 3 Postal Exam Guides, and has repeatedly scored 100% on Postal tests.

3 HOUR WORKSHOP: SCORE 95-100%

GUARANTEE: The time saving and accuracy-increasing methods taught in this course are so powerful that we will enter into written agreement.
 * You will score 95% or higher or your money will be refunded.
 * If you do not receive a job application/interview within 90 days of your score, your money will be refunded.

WORKSHOP TUITION IS $30 and includes the guaranteed workshop, workbook, interview hints, study guide with 25 complete take-home exams, follow-up consultation privileges with free information phone number, home study program kit, personal notification of future application dates, and more...WANT TO RELOCATE? We offer the free Postal Alert Bulletin giving you postal exam dates nationwide. You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal review.

Two study clubs host style show, supper

New spring fashions were presented by the Pants Cage and Etcetera during a style show and salad supper held Feb. 26 at the Hereford Community Center. The event was hosted by La Madre Mia and Toujours Amis Study Clubs.

Special guests of the club members included Elaine Gerk, Avis White, Juanita Giesler, Camille Beville, Sandra Martin, Melinda Bridges, Maureen Self, Missy Wilcox, Jan Metcalf, Janice Carr, Karla Vasek, Deann Harris, Kay Hall, Vicki Paetzold, Joan Love, Vel Simpson, Lonidene Edmonson, Shambryn Wilson, Stephanie Walsh, Shirley Wilson, Sheryl Davison, Kathy Allison, Joyce Ward, Nicky Walsler, Peggie Fox, Rachel Nelson and Eva Gilliland.

La Madre Mia members in attendance included Mary Herring, Georgia Sparks, Beverly Lambert, Tricia Sims, Betty Lady, Gladys Merritt, Mary Beth White, Mysedia Smith, Lavon Nieman, Debbie Tardy, Merle Clark, Bettye Owen, Pat Walsh, Judy Williams, Betty Taylor and Marlene Watson.

Present from Toujours Amis Study Club were Shannon Hagar, Patti Brown, Diana Gerk, Nanette Ashby, Marsha Winget, Leisa Lewis, Cindy Cole, Judy Barrett, Elaine McNutt, Pam Perrin and Ange Lauderback.

The gross domestic product of Latin America increased a mere 8 percent between 1990 and 1986, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. However, population went up from 341 million to 394 million, or 15 percent, which means the region's per capita income fell in the period to $2,140 from $2,288.
