1975 Fiestas Patrias Commences Friday

The local Mexican-American Community will be whooping it up this weekend as they join in the celebration of the Mexican independence movement which gained the country's freedom from Spain.

The activities will kickoff at 8 p.m. Friday when a Dance and coronation of the 1975 Fiestas/Patrias will be held at the Bull Barn. Corina Cervantes has been chosen this year's lovely selection as queen of the celebration. She will be joined by princess Sylvia Alaniz and Duchess Sofia Pena.

The coronation will include a grand march and the singing and playing of two national anthems, Mexico and U.S.

More colorful events will begin at 3 p.m. Saturday when the fiesta parade will form on Park Street near McKinley Street. A large amount of entrants are expected in the procession which will travel west on Park, down Main Street and up second Ave. to the Bull Barn. All other activities for the day will be held at the Bull Barn.

Following the parade, dancing and a variety show will be held.

At 8 p.m. Saturday, the Grand Ball De Las Fiestas Patrias will be held, at which the queen will reign. Special Mariachi dancing will be highlighted as well as general dancing for all.

The celebration recognized the independence of Mexico under Don Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla, who is considered the father of Mexican independence. This occurred around 1810. Hidalgo was later executed for his activities, which are equalled to those of Thomas Jefferson, George Washington and other fighters for American independence.

Corn, Milo Crops Show Outstanding Potential

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

Farmers in the Deaf Smith County area have ample reason to be optimistic these days as they consider prospects of outstanding corn and milo harvests within the next few weeks.

BOTH GRAIN CROPS have been maturing rapidly in light of recent favorable weather, and local spokesmen Hereford's Whitefaces will have a tough opponent on their hands when the Palo Duro Dons provide the opening home game competition Friday night at Whiteface Stadium. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. for the second non-district contest.

The Dons advanced to the quarter-finals last season, losing there on a tie, and wound up as the only undefeated 4A team in the state. Coach Doug James has primarily a senior team, with only a few juniors dotting the lineup. Palo Duro opened with a 20-0 win over Dumas last week.

COACH FRED UPSHAW thinks the keys to Hereford's chances in the game will lie in moving the ball on offense, and keeping the Dons from "breaking the long play." The Herd mentor noted that the Dons are big, averaging more than 200 pounds per man from tackle to tackle.

Uphaw thought his team played well last week, despite the 20-7 loss at Pampa. "We made a lot of little mistakes and they cost us," he commented. "If our defense hadn't played well, we could have lost by a lot more points," he added.

At the Whiteface Booster Club meeting Tuesday night, Coach Roy Shipp gave the scouting report on Palo Duro. The Dons run from the "I" formation, with tailback Greg Towner as the big all-the-way threat. He reported the big offensive line blocked very well, in the game against Dumas.

The dons run just a few basic plays and try to run "over you", noted Shipp. Palo Duro's big man on defense is nose guard Wesley Roberts—an all-state player last season and a candidate for All-American schoolboy honors this year. Roberts is about 6-5 and weighs 245. He has been held out of action because of illness, but could see limited duty Friday night.

Uphaw, noted that the defense spent too much time on the field last week, said the Herd offense would have to be "more consistent." He said the Whitefaces may have to try "more deceptive plays" and "we will have to throw the ball successfully" to sustain some drives against the Dons.

THE HERD IS expected to have about the same starting lineup as in the opening game. The Whiteface defensive unit held Pampa inside the 20-yard line several times last week but was hurt by the option play and gave up more than 100 yards in the air. The offense generated 111 yards passing but couldn't get the rushing attack going. Uphaw hopes for improvement in both areas Friday night.

Hereford's punting game was not a bright spot in the first game, with one kick being blocked for a Pampa touchdown. The kickoff unit and the kick return teams appeared strong, however. Hereford has three return threats in Dave Charest, Mike Dudding and Roy Martinez, and Pampa attempted to keep the ball away from them on punts.

The Herd boss reported the squad in good physical condition for the game. "The young men have a great attitude, and we expect great effort from them

(See FOOTBALL, Page 2A)

Herd Running Backs

These four backs will carry the burden of the rushing attack when the Hereford Whitefaces open the home football season Friday night in a non-district contest against the Amarillo Palo Duro Dons. Kneeling are wingback Roy Martinez and fullback Russell Harkins, and standing are fullback Carlee Graves and tailback Terry Brady. In the opening game at Pampa, Brady was the leading rusher with 57 yards on 11 attempts. All four of the backs are juniors.

A&M SOARS Program Explained To Realtors

The Hereford Board of Realtors were treated to a bit of Aggie humor and some straight forward talk concerning the Texas A&M University program for Studies of Advanced Real Estate Subjects (SOARS) by Gary Housley, coordinator for public education of SOARS, during a called board meeting Tuesday at Dickie's Steak House.

Besides Hereford Realtors, affiliate members and realtors from neighboring towns such as Dimmitt filled all the available spaces to hear Housley outline the offerings of SOARS. He presented a brief introduction into the program, which is held for two weeks each year for three years, and then presented slides of SOARS activities.

"Before I begin, I want anyone who has an Aggie joke to tell it now," Housley said. With none forthcoming, he told his own which brought a round of laughter from the audience.

"Seriously, Soars is actually a graduate degree program for the real estate practitioner," he said. "The program is held at the Texas Real Estate Center at Texas A&M and is funded by half the fees collected from what you pay for licenses."

Besides the real estate curriculum, which was described as a concentrated study of current real estate subjects, the real estate center continuously provides research into current problems affecting the industry. SOARS was started in 1973

School Board To Meet On Lengthy Agenda Thursday

The Hereford School Board of Education will meet in regular session at 4 p.m. Thursday to consider a lengthy agenda. The school board usually meets on the second Tuesday of each month but rescheduled this month's meeting due to conflicting events.

On tap for Thursday are committee reports on the old Central School contract, the finalization of the tennis court complex at the high school, a purchase of land for a Future Farmers of America farm and school board policies.

Other reports to be discussed concern an enrollment update, cafeteria operations, transportation system, the tax office, bids on school cars and a followup on the school boundary changes.

Concerning curriculum, the board members will discuss a proposed program for utilization of state compensatory funds, consider a bicentennial display representing the Hereford schools at the State Fair in Dallas and view a film titled, "To Teach a Child," which deals with community education.

The contract for the eight-court tennis complex was approved last month when the final bid was awarded, but additional items not covered under the original bid, lights and wind screens were to be rebid due to higher than anticipated expenses. Some of the items may not be added until the school district can afford them.

Commissioners' Court Meets

County Health Insurance Premiums Raised

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

Deaf Smith County and its employees will be paying higher premiums for health insurance effective Nov. 1 and the sheriff's department will have the use of two new patrol cars as of the result of affirmative actions taken Monday by the County Commissioners' Court during a routine and lengthy meeting.

The commissioners also approved a resolution concerning retirement procedures for county commissioners, discussed a new law which mandates that persons called on a panel of jurors be paid $5 a day instead of the present $4 a day, rescinded a Texas Highway Department resolution for a new tourist center near Skamrock, authorized Sheriff Travis Skamrock to seek a replacement for one jail cook, and approved a payment of expenses for Lois Gilliland, director of the county museum, to attend a convention in San Antonio.

Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval was called into the meeting to consider a bill for some equipment accessories for a tape recording dictaphone system approved at an earlier meeting. The system is in the district attorney's office. The bill was rescinded. All other bills for the preceding month were approved under a motion to pay bills.

LARRY BERRY, REPRESENTATIVE of Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Co., told the commissioners that based on last year's ratio of premium income to benefit payments, rates for approximately the same amount of coverage would have to go up. He presented the Commissioners Court a report showing that rates for exactly the same amount of coverage for one county employe and no dependents would jump from the present $11.25 to $16.69 a month. This is a $5.44 a month increase.

However, he offered the alternative of accepting a little less coverage through a $50 deductible policy which would lower the rates paid to only $13.35 a month per county employe. Also in this policy, the amount paid in full for hospital visits would drop from the present 365 days a year to 30 days a year. This was termed as basically the same coverage since the county carries a $250,000 major medical policy which picks up expenses on a 80-20 per cent basis up to $2,000 and 100 per cent after that figure. Major medical goes into effect after $100 deductible is paid and is limited to $60 a day room costs.

"I RECOMMEND the $50 deductible policy since rates will be lower," Berry said. "The purpose is to cut down on the first dollar costs."

Bruce Coleman, county commissioner expressed concern over the paid in full limit of 30 days, but was apparently satisfied with the explanation that major medical would essentially provide adequate coverage.

James Voyles, county commissioner, said, "If it was just us (county commissioners) sitting around this table, I would favor $100 deductible or higher. But we have to think about others."

The report showed that for the year ending May 5, benefits paid outstretched premium income by about 89 per cent under Blue Cross Protection and about 50 per cent more under Blue Shield protection. Berry had warned at an earlier meeting of the county commissioners that a rate increase was coming based on a record of double the amount of benefits as opposed to income.

Rates will automatically increase in October only to the $16.69 per employe figure, but drop as of Nov. 1 to the $13.35 figure since that is the beginning of the new policy accepted by the commissioners.

Under the new policy, monthly rates will be implemented as follows: employe and children-$30.48; employe and spouse-$34.27; and employe and family-$39.82. The county pays the

Golden Prospects

Ears of corn such as these, currently drying and maturing in county fields, give prospects of an outstanding corn harvest this fall. Both corn and milo crops are rapidly approaching maturity, and combines will be moving into the fields to begin harvesting the valuable grains in only a few short weeks.

THE GOLDEN GRAIN has been gaining in popularity with farmers here in recent years, and McBride estimates that acreages in corn and milo this year are equal at about 100,000 acres each.

Gene King of Easter Grain reported that milo harvest is at least a month away in that area, but projects for a bumper crop of the red grain are good at this time. Corn, a big crop in the Easter area, is also showing outstanding potential, despite some damage from spider mites. According to King, corn harvest should be in full swing in the Easter area in about two weeks.

Joe Artho of Hereford Grain Corp. commented that the milo crop locally "should be much better than last year" and estimated that the bulk of the milo harvest should get underway around Oct. 1.

The county's first load of milo for the 1975 harvest season was delivered to Hereford Grain Corp. last Thursday by Ray Wilhelm. The dryland milo, grown southeast of the city, had a test weight of 49 lbs. per bushel and a moisture content of 18.03.

DEAF SMITH COUNTY is not alone in its potential for good grain crops this fall, as major portions of the High Plains are also sharing in the optimistic outlook.

According to Eibert Harp of Abernathy, executive director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, "prospects of a high-yielding crop throughout the High Plains are about as good as we've ever seen. There may have been better years for individual areas, but overall, the situation is real good."

Friday night," he added. Palo Duro scored a hard-earned 27-14 victory over Hereford last year, and the Dons went on to win the 3-AAA title and wind up the season with an 11-0-2 won-lost-tied record. Hereford claimed a 31-7 triumph over the Dons in 1973.

The Herd's probable starting lineup has five seniors, five juniors and one sophomore on offense. The defensive unit includes eight seniors and three juniors.

Women Invited To Attend Charm Course Monday Night

Mickey McDonald, well-known beauty authority who has conducted charm courses all over the nation, will conduct a personal improvement course at the Community Center Monday from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The course is sponsored by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and is open to all women and teenagers of the area, whether a member or not.

Tickets are $3 per person and should be purchased in advance. They are available at Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, Hereford State Bank, Panta Cage and The Vogue.

Mrs. Melvin Hoover, chairman, said she feels Mrs. McDonald is very qualified as a beauty authority. Listed below are some of her experience and honors.

Nineteen years experience teaching in the field of charm, beauty and modeling; three years as a director of one of the famous John Robert Powers Schools; member of the modeling Association of American, which is a national organization of executives in the field; and for several years appeared on the Rudy Brend Show on both KGNC and KVIL television stations in Amarillo.

She was the Texas director of the Miss World Beauty Pageant, 1962, finals in London, England, with Bob Hope each year; trained and directed Miss Suzie Glickman who was selected Miss Los Angeles in the Miss World Beauty Pageant, 1967; she is listed in Who's Who in Modeling; and she is making arrangements to take a model to New York to enter the World Modeling Association competition. One of her students won a $10,000 modeling contract in New York competition several years ago.

Mrs. McDonald teaches on the principle that, regardless of what one's position in life may be, his, or her, personality and appearance are the controlling factors; both can be, and should be, improved with exciting results.

She teaches that we can be individually beautiful and beautifully individually. "Furthermore, it is our pleasure and responsibility to bring whatever beauty and harmony we can into the world...beginning with ourselves," Mrs. McDonald said.

Mrs. McDonald, who is national director of the American Beauty Charm School Services in Amarillo, says the clinic will include instruction in such things as how to increase income through personal improvement, make personality and appearance work for you, handle a customer so that he will be happy to do business with you and your firm, how to walk, stand and sit correctly and handle hands and feet gracefully.

Also, how to improve business posture, desk manners, telephone technique, dress appropriately for business, improve co-worker relations and even how to get along better with your boss.

Sunflower Harvest Continues, Holly Preparing For Sugar Beets

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

Sunflower harvesting in Deaf Smith County is nearing the halfway mark, while farmers are gearing up to begin the 1975 sugar beet harvest in slightly over a week, according to local spokesmen.

BILL CORNETT of Dawn Co-Op reported that sunflowers have been coming in at his facility at a steady pace, and yields have ranged from 1100 to 2300 pounds.

"Most of the irrigated sunflowers are yielding in the 1300-1600 pound per acre range, and the test weights are running around 23 pounds per bushel," said Cornett.

Joe Artho of Hereford Grain Corp. estimated that harvesting of the oilseed crop is nearly half complete locally, although the majority of the irrigated sunflower acreage is yet to be harvested.

TEST WEIGHTS registered at Hereford Grain Corp. have hovered near 29 pounds, and yields have varied from 1100 to 1900 pounds.

The local elevator spokesmen indicated that combine operators are operating their machines at speeds of two miles per hour or less in order to do an efficient job of harvesting the oilseeds.

Police Check Burglaries

Hereford police are currently investigating two burglaries involving a city residence and a business here.

Lawrence Cleaners at 141 North Main was broken into Monday afternoon and $20 in cash was taken in that incident. A spokesman reported that the police do have a suspect.

A residence of 206 West 8th was also burglarized. Two stereo speakers and a portable television were taken in that break-in.

Officers are also currently investigating an incident of vandalism which occurred at the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. office at 301 West 3rd Friday. Several windows were broken at the office and damage was estimated at $40.

the county's sunflower fields, the local sugar beet harvest should get underway Sept. 23, according to Bob Ginn, agricultural manager for Holly Sugar Corporation's Merrill E. Shoop Plant here.

"We plan to begin taking beets at our Hereford plant and at our facilities at Dawn, Dimmitt, Friona and Bovina on Sept. 23. We should actually begin processing beets at the plant Sept. 24," Ginn explained.

HE POINTED OUT that Holly facilities at Hart, Wildorado, Farmers Corner and Clovis will begin taking beets as soon as they are ready in those areas.

"Beet yields are going to be down this year due to curly top damage. We're estimating the yield at 18 tons per acre. Sugar content should be good, however, starting around 15 per cent based on samples taken during the last three weeks," said Ginn.

The Holly spokesman reported that harvesting operations could conclude as early as mid-November with favorable harvesting weather.

"Sugar is currently $25.80 per cwt., so 15 per cent sugar beets should be worth about $34 per ton at the current price," Ginn explained.

Ginn pointed out that Holly is encouraging growers to harvest any diseased fields first, in order to cut down on problems that could arise in handling the diseased beets.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Last Friday Hereford lost their opening game to Pampa 20-7. Naturally, much of the talk around town and in the coffee shop Sat. morning had to do with the game. I participated in such conversation myself.

Since many of us are former players and because of exposure to the game due to television, we the public are often critical of a coach's choice of player at a particular position, critical of team play on offense or defense, or critical of a decision that a coach must make on the field in a 15-20 sec. time period. Criticism is part of a coach's life and people do have the right to express their opinion; but when the criticism is unjust or malicious, this is another matter. Hopefully this situation is not developing in Hereford, Texas.

The point of my letter is simply to voice my support of our coaching staff and team. Our coaches are hard workers, students of the game of football and just as concerned as you and I when our team makes a poor showing. I am also convinced that any charges that need to be made, for the good of our team, will be made.

I'm reminded of a situation four years ago when a first year coach was hired and some doubted he was the man for the job. After four games, our team was 0-4 and the pressure on the coach and his staff was increasing. Then the team won a game, caught fire and won district, and advanced to the quarter-finals before being defeated. No one can predict whether our current team will be this successful, but if not, it will not be due to lack of effort on the part of our players and coaches.

I will continue to have my own opinion, but I may not be so quick to voice it in the future. I do hope other fans will join me in continuing to support and encourage our players and our coaches.

Respectfully yours,
James Self

VFD Responds To House Fire

Units of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department responded to a blaze at the L.H. Lookingbill home 11 miles southwest of the city Monday night.

The Lookingbill home was heavily damaged in the blaze. Fire Marshal Jay Spain reported that the cause of the fire remained under investigation at press time.

Hearing Loss May Affect Children

"Can my child hear normally?"

This is a question parents of a school-aged youngster should ask themselves as a new school year starts, according to Lawrence M. Posen, President of Beltone Electronics Corporation and Director of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

The Crusade is sponsored by Chicago-based Beltone, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, to build public awareness of the problems of hearing loss.

The problem of an undetected hearing loss manifests many warning signals according to Posen. These include poor academic achievement, inattention to the instructions of teachers and parents, a reluctance to participate in student activities, anti-social behavior and sometimes an appearance that the child may actually be dumb.

"Because the grade school years constitutes the time of primary learning, an undetected hearing loss at this stage of development can have a devastating effect upon the child's entire life," Posen said. Citing an extreme example, he pointed to the case of a seven-year-old California girl who had been diagnosed as mentally retarded for almost two years until a hearing test showed her problem was simply an undetected hearing loss.

"In this case the girl was able to be helped with a properly fitted hearing aid, started attending a special school to make up for the wasted years, and was then properly identified as actually being an intellectually gifted child," Posen said.

Even during the pre-school years—starting with the first few weeks after birth—the hearing impaired child often registers danger signs.

The Voice of Business

By RICHARD L. LESHNER, President
United States Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON—Does the sale of the U.S. grain to the Russians mean you will have to pay more dough for your bread (or, depending on your generation, more bread for your dough)?

Maybe. But, food prices here are likely to go up even higher over the long run if we don't sell enough grain abroad. While other things may cost less if we do.

Why? Well, there are three major upward pressures on food prices.

One of these pressures, of course, is demand. If there is less food available than potential buyers want to buy, prices will rise as the buyers bid against one another for what they can get. This process is what caused a big jump in food prices after the Russian grain purchases in 1972. But conditions are different now. The U.S. harvest will be much larger, even allowing for recent bad weather. And, worldwide demand is relatively lower today than it was in 1972.

THERE IS nothing alarming about the U.S. exporting food. We usually export about two thirds of our wheat crop. This year, we have so much food we may not be able to sell abroad as high a percentage of it as we have in the recent past.

Another upward pressure on food prices—by far the biggest—is inflation. It will have much more effect on our food budgets in the coming year than Russia's shopping in our store. Responsible control of the federal budget is the only cure for inflation.

The third pressure on food prices is cost increases (other than those caused by inflation) in the production, processing and distribution of food. Energy and fertilizer and two of the major costs of food production—and both come primarily from petroleum and natural gas.

Now, as everybody knows, we're importing a lot of petroleum today—at very high prices. As a country, we have to earn the money (foreign exchange) to pay for those imports; just the way an individual wage earner pays his own bills. We earn this money by selling our products to other countries. And one of the most important products we have to sell is food. For example, in 1974 we spent $24 billion for foreign petroleum, and we earned $22 billion from food sales—almost enough to pay the oil bill.

What if we didn't export food? Unless we made up that $22 billion in income from something else—which is not likely—we would be in big trouble. First, we would have far more food than could be used here, so either many farms would fail or the taxpayer would have to start shelling out for farm price supports again. And second, we would have to cut down on our imports, because we would not be earning enough foreign exchange to pay for them.

IN PRACTICE, what would happen is that imports would grow more expensive for us. (When an American importer buys a foreign product, it is really a two-stage transaction. First he buys the foreign currency to pay for the product. Then he pays the foreign merchant with it. So, if the total amount of foreign exchange we earn is not enough to pay for what we want to buy abroad, the "price" of foreign currency—exchange rate—will go up. That is, it will take more dollars to buy yen, or deutsche marks, or whatever. For us, that's the same as saying it will take more dollars to buy a foreign product.) And, of course, petroleum is a major example of the imports that would become more costly.

Because of the key role petroleum plays in food production, increases in its price eventually show up in higher food prices. That's why limiting exports is not a very good way to cut food costs.

Despite some rough price increases lately, we still pay a smaller proportion of our income for food than the citizens of any other country—thanks to the unrivaled efficiency of our agricultural system. The best thing we can do to keep food prices down is to promote the combined efficiency of the production system by letting the farmer expand to meet a growing market, worldwide.

Chew on that for awhile.

Why is it some people go right on talking when you're interrupting?

by the center and is designed to graduate a class after every three years of study with a class completing every year following the first graduation.

Housley said the spirit developed by each class is strong and that reunions have been held at center by previous classes. The program includes those who have had at least three to five years experience in real estate and therefore is considered more on the level of graduate studies.

"SOARS is the first real estate program of its kind in the nation...and it is taught by the best faculty in the nation," he said. "We spare no expense in getting the best." Besides license fees, the program is funded through tuition fees of $625 per year, which provides food and lodging for two weeks, instructional materials and campus athletic and recreational materials.

Each participant goes to class daily followed by 1 1/2 hours of physical exercise each afternoon including physical fitness tests. Classroom studies involve not only understandable lectures but actual case studies and field trips designed to meet the needs of realtors.

"I feel the SOARS program gives graduates a competitive edge in the market," Housley explained. "We go beyond just the short term goals."

The academic study involves three phases including investment and feasibility analysis, managing the practice of real estate, and government/industry interface. The final phase deals primarily with recent government laws and agencies affecting real estate such as land use legislation and environmental requirements.

The real estate doesn't lose contact with the real estate center following graduation since it is meant for the benefit of any Texas realtor at any time. For instance, Housley said the center through its computer programs can provide instant cost estimates and associated figures on such projects as farm-ranch operations or apartment building complexes which the realtor might be trying to sell or construct.

Each student writes a paper after the regular course of study. The next session will be held from May 16-28, 1976.

Following the presentation, the board met to consider upcoming projects such as a real estate workshop.

amount for the employe and the rest, if desired, is paid by the employe.

COWBOY CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE won the bids for two new patrol cars for the county Sheriff's department with a combined bid of $8,705.26 for two Oldsmobile Delta 88 town sedans. The same company also bid $8,284.96 for two Chevrolets.

Other bids were submitted by Orval Watson Ford which asked $8,755.32 for two Ford LTD's and $9,175.62 for two Mercuries.

McPherson said that the Mercuries and Oldsmobiles were his two top choices as far as quality vehicles but that the Oldsmobiles were better as far as price. Also, he was informed that the Oldsmobiles got three to four miles per gallon better gas mileage. "The city has had good luck with their new Mercuries, but I would choose the Oldsmobiles," he said. Two cars were traded at a cost of about $1,000 each.

The commissioners unanimously agreed with his choice.

Also, McPherson asked the court if he could hire another cook for the county jail to replace an inmate cook who had been hired through a federal Manpower grant coordinated through the Panhandle Regional Planning Council. The last cook was able to accept another job out of state.

A new contract will have to be drawn up for another cook, but the sheriff said he preferred it any way since an outside cook would cut down on jealousies between prisoners. Prisoner cooks have been known to favor other inmates, he said. The commission concurred.

THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT resolution was solicited by State

Representative Phil Cates, who desires a tourist information center where Interstate 40 and Highway 83 intersect near Shamrock. The commissioners, however, felt such a move would only waste more government funds and encourage travelers to go to other parts of the state.

Coleman moved that a resolution be written to support a change in the retirement system as offered by the state County Judges and Commissioners Association. Presently, commissioners and judges must take what they have put into the retirement system before they are 65-years-old if they leave office before that time.

He wants to be able to leave accumulated funds in the system until one reaches retirement age when benefits could be collected monthly. The resolution was approved and will be presented at the Sept. 17 meeting of the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association meeting in Amarillo.

A resolution was accepted in accordance with a new state law which raises the amount paid to those asked to appear for jury duty. It will now go from $4 to $5 a day. County Judge Sam Morgan said it includes all those on a jury panel as those actually called to serve on juries are paid $10 a day.

In other action, the court agreed to fund expenses of Mrs. Gilliland for a convention trip to San Antonio for business connected with the county museum and formally signed into action a contract with the state for reimbursements foster parents caring for child abuse victims. Mrs. George Turentine, president of the County Historical Society, made the request for Mrs. Gilliland.

All commissioners were present.

Obituaries

Charlie F. Burk

Services for Charlie F. Burk, 79, were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home with the Rev. Gene Brock, pastor of Bippus Community Church, officiating.

Mr. Burk died Monday in Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Graveside services were held Wednesday morning in Rose-lawn Cemetery at Denton, his native city.

A resident of this county since 1926, Mr. Burk farmed 28 miles northwest of Hereford. He married Vivian Miles in Denton County in 1942.

He was a farmer and a rancher, a veteran of World War I and a Baptist.

Survivors include the widow; a sister, Mrs. James Hadley of Windthorst; a niece, Mrs. Vince Bencutto of Racine, Wis.; and a nephew, James Hadley Jr. of Windthorst.

Joe Lopez

Services will be held today at 10 a.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church for Joe Lopez, 24, of the 300 block of South McKinley.

Mr. Lopez was found dead in a vehicle three miles West of Olney Sunday morning.

He came to Hereford in 1966 from Littlefield.

Services will be officiated by the Rev. Bernard McGorry, pastor of St. Anthony's. Interment will follow in the St. Anthony Cemetery under direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Ida; three sons, Joe Jr., Vicente and Israel, all of the home; two daughters, Maryann and Rosie, both of the home; and his

Night Classes

Set At TSTI

Evening courses to be offered through the Special Skills office at Texas State Technical Institute, Mid-Continent Campus, are announced.

John Tyler is director of the programs. All classes will be held on the State Tech campus in Amarillo, from 7 to 10 in the evening. All instructors are present or former State Tech staffers.

Intermediate and basic shorthand classes have already begun and will run through November 24 and December 11, respectively. However, students may still enroll. Mrs. Bettye Sanderson teaches the classes Monday and Thursday evenings.

Courses beginning September 23 are office machines, meeting Tuesdays with Bob Lewis; and basic bookkeeping, convening Tuesday nights with Jim Brown as instructor. The classes will terminate November 4 and January 6, respectively.

Intermediate bookkeeping will begin September 25 and end November 30. Brown will direct these classes on Thursday evenings.

Basic drafting will be held Thursdays, September 25-December 12, with Pat Spicer teaching. Mrs. Sanderson will teach typewriting on Tuesdays from September 30 to December 2. Bill Soutle will conduct classes in data processing on Mondays, November 3-January 19, 1976; and receptionist training on Thursdays, September 4-November 6.

Historian Writes Windmill Book

If—as one historian claims—the revolver, barbed wire and windmills tamed the West, Americans are short on some of their history.

Books have been written on revolvers and barbed wire, but there is yet to be produced a comprehensive study on the American windmill.

That lack is about to be supplied, however, by a historian at Texas Tech University, T. Lindsay Baker, a doctoral candidate, has signed a contract with Oklahoma University Press to produce a field guide to the American windmill.

Baker has been compiling material for the book for the past decade. He has photographs and data on the location, types and the manufacturers of more than 100 kinds of American windmills.

He also has windmill catalogues, parts lists and sales brochures. Baker estimated his introductory narrative will be between 40,000 and 50,000 words. This will cover the technical evolution and the social, cultural and economic impact of the windmill.

Each windmill described will have an accompanying drawing, a photo or a copy of an engraving. The text will describe the mill, will state who manufactured it and when, and where it was most common. If a mill is known to exist, its location will be noted.

"It will be a traveler's car-window guide for quick and easy identification of windmills," Baker said.

"Most wooden windmills seen from car windows have lost one major identifying characteristic—the color," Baker said. "Manufacturers chose a rainbow of colors in bright combinations which were as much their own as farm implement colors belong to manufacturers today."

"The paint is gone now, and if they've been repainted the color is different from the original," he said. Occasionally close inspection reveals a little of the original color, but this can't be seen from any distance.

Wooden windmills have fallen into such disrepair that good pictures have become impossible for many types. These will be illustrated by engravings, he said.

The greatest windmill sales were in the Midwest and the Great Plains, and manufacturing was primarily in the Midwest—with some notable exceptions.

"There is a sentimental interest in windmills," Baker said, "and this book should satisfy a lot of people who remember when."

Assisting him in locating some of the rarer types will be Texas Tech Home Economics Prof. Willie Wolfe who for many years has collected windmill photographs.

Baker has spent the past five years working with engineers on a research project to locate and document historic water supply sites in the American Southwest.

Palo Duro Picked

Whiteface fans were naturally disappointed by the 20-7 loss to Pampa in the opener last week, but are much more optimistic about their team than the Harris Rating System, which dropped Hereford from 73rd position to 155th in the state among AAAA schools as a result of the loss to the Harvesters.

The Harris System prognosticators apparently felt that the Pampa game was significant, because as a result of that game and the games played Friday night by Hereford's future opponents, the Harris System moved Lubbock High, Lubbock Coronado, Amarillo Palo Duro, and Plainview from back of Hereford to a position in the rating ahead of Hereford.

Lubbock Monterey is also ranked ahead of Hereford. Palo Duro is an eight-point favorite over the Whitefaces in this week's game, to be played here Friday night. Under the Harris System, the power ratings of the teams playing can be compared to attain point spreads. Therefore, Palo Duro's rating of 134.0 makes that school an eight-point favorite over Hereford's 125.9.

As a result of the loss to Pampa, Hereford lost 8.9 points from its original rating at 134.5. By winning the Whiteface-

Harvester clash, Pampa cracked the top 100 at position number 95. Pampa has originally been ranked 114th.

Longview retained its number one ranking in the state among AAAA teams. Cuero is ranked number one in AAA, Cameron Yoe holds the top spot in AA, Grapeland gets the pollsters nod this week in class A, with Big Sandy ranked first in class B.

Listed below are the top ten teams in each classification and other area teams whose play is of interest to Hereford fans:

Lubbock Monterey was the only District 4-AAAA team to score a victory in the first week of football action, so it's no surprise to see the Plainsmen leading league teams in both the offensive and defensive statistics.

Monterey blanked Canyon by 21-0, mostly on the strong passing arm of quarterback Scott Gardner and receiver Richard Bowles. Plainview was edged by Lubbock Estacado, 6-0; Lubbock High lost to a powerful Midland Lee team by 27-16; Coronado was edged by Wichita Falls, 6-0; and Hereford bowed to Pampa, 20-7.

Monterey had an offensive total of 280 yards in its first game, with 241 yards coming from the passing game. Plainview posted the best rushing yardage in the loop openers, grounding out 97 yards. Hereford's offensive output—82 rushing and 111 passing—ranked them third among league teams.

Monterey led defensive statistics by yielding just 124 yards in the opener. Coronado gave up only 136 yards to Wichita Falls. Hereford ranked last on defense—giving up 180 on the ground and 109 passing.

In the individual statistics, the Herd's Terry Brady was the No. 2 rusher with 57 yards on 11 carries. Lester Fennell of Plainview was first with 60 yards on 12 carries. Gardner hit 14 of 28 passes for 228 yards to take the lead in that department. Hereford's Mike Crim hit only 8 of 21 in the Pampa game, but totaled 111 yards. Monterey's Bowles jumped out front in that department with 10 catches for 181 yards.

With their passing yards, Gardner and Crim rank 1-2 in the total offense statistics. Brady ranks third in tandem offense (rushing and receiving) with 66 yards. Defensive back Dave Charest and linebacker Vance Hennington were high on the "tackles-made" list with 14 and 11, respectively.

League statistics are compiled each week by Danny Andrews, sports editor for The Plainview Daily Herald.

Bufs Take On Lamar Saturday

The saying in the southeast portion of Texas is that Lamar "kicked" West Texas State in the two schools' intrastate football battle a year ago in Canyon.

Actually, it was Jabo Leonard who kicked the Bufs, as it was his three long field goals that gave the Cardinals their 9-7 win.

Now the Buffaloes have the opportunity to do some leg exercises of their own Saturday night (Sept. 13) when they meet Lamar in Beaumont's Cardinal Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m., CDT, with the broadcast on the Shamrock Network with Warren Hasse set to begin at 7:15.

In seven games with the Southland Conference Cards, the Maroon has won four with the last win coming at Saturday's game site in 1973 (13-0). That, however, is the only win WT has had in Beaumont, losing two other contests.

It could be a different story this time around. Coach Gene Mayfield admits to having the best team in his five seasons at Canyon, while Lamar lost seven starters from a defensive unit that was ranked 11th in the nation last year.

Offensively, though, the Cardinals could be better with experienced quarterbacks David Silvas and Bobby Flores the main headlines.

West Texas State, which opened the season last Saturday (Sept. 6) at Wichita State, also boasts of an explosive offense (led by quarterback Tully Blanchard, tackle Jeff Lloyd and a covey of fleet halfbacks) and a rock-hard defense (spearheaded by pre-season all-MVC picks Larry Spears at linebacker, Floyd Jones at tackle, John Ayers at end, and Michael Kelson at strong safety.)

The game will mark the end of West Texas' season-opening road trip. The Bufs open their home schedule on Sept. 20 in an important Missouri Valley Conference game with league title favorite Tulsa.

TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPT.

September is considered a hot, dry month reserved for dove hunting but the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department suggests that state gunners try their skill on another tough target as the annual teal season opens Sept. 20.

The teal season will continue through Sept. 28, 1975, with a daily limit of four birds and eight in possession after the first day.

Included in this species of duck are greenwing, bluewing and cinnamon teal. These small birds can best be identified by their rapid wingbeat. The eating quality is excellent as many surprised cooks have found in the past.

Shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset daily. On Sept., 20, 1975, sunrise will occur at 7:34 DST at Lubbock. For teal hunters east or west of Lubbock, a calculation of time is necessary. For points west of Lubbock, add one minute for every nine miles and for points east of Lubbock, subtract one minute for every nine miles. Check local newspapers for the exact sunrise-sunset time daily.

A federal migratory waterfowl stamp will be required of all teal hunters and these can be bought at most U.S. post offices. These stamps may be affixed to the back of your new hunting license and must be signed in ink by the holder.

As teal are migratory birds, federal law requires that all shotguns be plugged to hold no more than three shells including both the magazine and chamber. Only 10 gauge shotguns or smaller are legal for teal.

Forecasters Get Rough Start

The Brand's "Fearless Forecaster" panel didn't have an auspicious start in picking the winners of the football games from the contest page last week.

Coach Fred Upshaw and booster chief Mac Tabb each picked 16 winners from the 26 games to lead the way. Publisher Speedy Nigman had 15 correct picks, while editor Bobby Templeton trailed with 12 of 26.

There were only three games in which all of the panelists went wrong, however. That was the Stinnett-Panhandle and Vega-Groom contests and the West Texas State loss to Wichita State.

After one week's action, however, the forecasters believe their "expert" analysis will improve. If the panel doesn't improve, we'd advise you make your own selections in the contest—don't rely on our panel!

INSIDE & STRAIGHT: "Hey, I've got this great idea. You could hold a great promotion, guess the day Tommy John pitches again." Then Tommy John laughed and said, "Even I couldn't win that one." It's been 14 months since the left-handed pitcher of the Los Angeles Dodgers sustained a severe injury to his left elbow which required surgery. His comeback had been much slower than had been hoped and still he isn't ready to resume his mound duties. "All You've Ever Wanted to Know About Hitting," is a collection of theories by three of baseball's top stars who can't agree on much of anything about the science of hitting. Cincinnati's Pete Rose, Boston's Carl Yastrzemski and Minnesota's Rod Carew bat left-handed, although Rose does that only part of the time. NBC-TV sportscaster, Joe Garagiola, told me "I've been asked the same question the last few days. How do I feel about Yogi Berra getting fired? Well, I don't mind telling anybody that I'm disappointed. Very disappointed. I feel like anybody would feel if their best friend lost his job, I'm hurt and depressed for my friend. I think he deserved better. I think he deserved a lot better. But this really isn't a sad time for Yogi. He takes this kind of thing better than the rest of us. He'll land on his feet. He always does. Yogi's a good man." ... Bucky Harris, the onetime "boy manager" who entered baseball's Hall of Fame last month at age 78, rates Joe DiMaggio as the best all-around player he ever saw. He selects Lefty

Grove over Walter Johnson as the greatest pitcher and halls Charley Gehring as the finest infielder. ... The sports folks at CBS-TV thought they had a terrific idea when they hired Jane Chastain last year. But the first woman to do network sports found that it wasn't all fun and games. Feminists were unhappy about the obvious tokenism and writers across the country bellyached, screaming, "The broad doesn't know what the hell she's talking about."

HOTLINE ON SPORTS: Mike Ditka, an assistant coach with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, was convicted of battery and fined $100 in municipal court in Calabasas, Calif. Ditka, 35, was charged with striking a bartender, at the Westlake Village Inn near the Cowboys' training camp at Thousand Oaks, Calif., last August. Ditka was a tight end in the National Football League for 12 years. ... Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's all-time leading scorer, recently ended his athletic retirement by becoming an owner in volleyball. The 7-foot-2-inch giant purchased the Southern California Bangers of the International Volleyball Association. Chamberlain's attorney told me. Sy Goldberg said the former NBC star is in great shape and added, "Those reports out of New York about him going back to basketball are ridiculous. Oh, they tried very hard to get him to come out of retirement. They had everyone except the mayor calling, but he's not interested." ... Dining at adjacent tables at Fonda Los Milagros: Joe DiMaggio, Fran Tarkenton and Hank Aaron. ... Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's chief reason for wanting out of Milwaukee was because he couldn't relate to its culture or fit into its lifestyle the way he'd like. He felt too restricted there, practically trapped, and couldn't walk in the street without being mobbed. The places he'd be happiest, he told me, were in New York or Los Angeles.

Travelogues Begin Tuesday In Hereford

Season tickets are now on sale by the Kiwanis Breakfast Club of Hereford who is sponsoring the second annual "Travel and Adventure Series".

The series will include six nationally known adventurers and explorers who are artists in the travelogue field. They appear on such major platforms as: National Geographic, Washington, D.C.; Town Hall, New York; Orchestra Hall, Chicago; and Town Hall, San Francisco.

A season ticket for all six travelogues is offered at the low price of $4 for children and $8 for adults, which is 67 cents for children per show and $1.33 for adults. Tickets may be purchased from any Breakfast Kiwanian or you may call John West at Lone Star Agency, Phone 364-0555 or 364-2616 or call Plains Insurance, phone 364-2232.

The first travelogue will be presented Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford High School Cafeteria. Gary Peterson will present "Scottish Kilts and Castles".

Each of the six adventurers and explorers is a professional photographer with many years experience in travelogue and filming the many beautiful and interesting places around the world. These personally filmed, all-color motion pictures are especially popular because the man who filmed the picture, appears on the stage, (in person), and narrates the film.

Changes May Affect Social Security

Students 18-22 getting social security checks should report changes in their earnings, school enrollment, and marital status to social security, according to Maurine Travis, Acting District Manager in the Amarillo Social Security Office.

Over 680,000 students 18 and over get monthly social security payments because a parent gets disability or retirement benefits or has died. Students can continue to get payments to age 22 or slightly beyond for undergraduates-as long as they remain full-time students and unmarried.

"Students getting checks should notify social security immediately if they marry, leave school, or start attending on a part-time basis so we can stop their monthly payments as required by law," Mrs. Travis said.

Changes in total yearly earnings from part-time or temporary jobs can also affect social security payments to students, she said.

"If you're a student getting payments and expect your earnings for 1975 will be over $2,520, you should report that to social security," she said. "Otherwise, you might get benefits you'll have to pay back later."

Social Security payments are reduced by $1 for every $2 earned over $2,520 in a year. No matter how much they earn for the year, people can get their full social security payment for any month in which they neither earn $210 nor do substantial work in their own business.

Students getting social security payments should also report transfers from one school to another, according to Mrs. Travis.

"If you have questions about social security payments to students 18 and over, you can get answers by calling, writing, or visiting any social security office," she said.

The Amarillo social security office is at 317 East Third Street. The phone number is 476-2241 (area code 806).

District Governor Gives To Hereford Rotarians

"Rotary International is not a scheme to glorify any individual, but an unlimited opportunity to do service for fellow human beings," Rotary District Governor Ralph McLaughlin told local Rotarians at a luncheon Monday.

The speaker at the Hereford Rotary Club weekly meeting, said he knew of no other service organization that could make a claim that it had doubled in size during the last third of its existence. He was in Hereford on his annual visit to the club to evaluate its service program and offer a challenge for the membership to be ever mindful of its obligation to others.

"I commend you (the club) for your service projects such as Camp Wig-Wam...and your 700 per cent support of the Rotary Foundation," he said. "A lot of exciting things are happening in the district and I think you should be proud of them."

RALPH MCLAUGHLIN

Among the district level projects is an exchange program in which five young persons from this district No. 573 will live in London, Eng. for five weeks and become familiar with the country. In return, five young Londoners will live in the Texas Panhandle for five weeks in 1977.

The London visit will be held from March 15-April 23 1976.

McLaughlin said the secretariat in Evanston, Ill., was working hard for the organization and it was available to help individual clubs upon request. One of the larger projects of Rotary International is its magazine, which he said was read more widely than any of its kind.

He referred to the international president's theme for 1976 of "To Dignify the Human Being," as a goal for every member to follow. "Rotary Lives on Main Street and it is as you (the members) will it," he said to emphasize that the membership makes what kind of organization Rotary is.

McLaughlin, a wholesaler in Big Spring, is past president of the Big Spring Rotary Club and has served in numerous civic positions in that community.

Johanne Price, president, reminded Rotary chairmen of the District Information Institute in Plainview on Oct. 15. He also awarded Herman Ford two season tickets to Whiteface football games as the winner of the perfect attendance contest for August.

Roland Saul, secretary, introduced Sheriff Travis McPherson as the officer of the month for September. He will be awarded a plaque at the end of the month.

Temple Baptist Church Schedules Religious Film

TIME TO RUN, a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at Temple Baptist Church at Avenue K & Forrest on Sunday, September 14. The feature, filmed in Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Filed on location in the Southern California area, TIME TO RUN stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill and Gordon Rigsby. Nelson plays Warren

Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife Fran, played by Joan Winmill, or their son Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

TIME TO RUN allows the viewer to become involved on any one or more of the three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the suspenseful story of Jeff's attempts at sabotage in the nuclear generating plant conceived, designed and managed by his father. Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, TIME TO RUN is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart: conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, TIME TO RUN is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel, who is a familiar face to television viewers. Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering with Michelle, where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style based on love and understanding.

TIME TO RUN is a film that can help strengthen love relationships between people. It's a film that was made for families to attend—together.

Ford 4-H Club Picks Leaders

The Ford 4-H Club met Tuesday in the Ford Community Building for election of officers.

Selected as club leaders for the coming year were Brad Glover, president, Barry Friemel, vice president, Dean Howard, secretary-treasurer, Dan Flores, reporter, Jeff Smith, recreation leader, and Cindy Stokesberry, council delegate.

Members voted to change meetings to the second Tuesday of each month and set the time at 5:30.

Entries in the Tri-State Fair were also discussed and Garland Stewart presented a program on parliamentary procedure.

Those attending were Deanna and Cindy Stokesberry, Brenda, Rod and Chad Strafuss, Dean Howard, Brad and Brenda Glover, Jeff Smith, Judy Flores and Dan Flores.

Independencia Mexicana

Fue en atotonilco, una tarde donde don Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla, sacerdote de dolores, quien, al frente de 200 hombres, menciona estas palabras: "Viva La Religion! Viva Nuestra Madre Santisima De Guadalupe! Viva Fernando VIII! Viva La America y Muera El Mal Gobierno!"

Desde ese momento don Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla se convirtió en el principal hombre que luchó por la independencia de la nueva España (actual México); es por eso que nosotros los mexicano-americanos en Hereford, Texas hemos venido celebrando año a año ese clustre memento y al pasar el tiempo, este año celebramos el grito de independencia en su 25 aniversario, aquí en Hereford.

Y para realizar mas la celebracion hemos elegido reinas de las fiestas patrias no solo por su belleza sino por sus cualidades morales y dones artisticos. La Srta. Betty Gomez fue la primera reina en 1950. Estamos en 1975 y la Srta. Corina Cervantez ha sido honorasamente elegida reina de las Fiestas Patrias de 1975.

Por eso nosotros, los mexicano-americanos muy orgullosos de lo que significa el 15 de Septiembre, hacemos una cordial invitacion a todo el pueblo en general en Hereford para conmemorar todos juntos esta magnanissima fecha, recor-dando que los mismos principios que movieron a los padres fundadores de los estados unidos de America del nord, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington et ALII, fueron los que movieron a don Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla, Allende, y Morelos: Libertad y Representacion.

Para celebrar las fiestas patrias este ano del aniversario 25 hay el gran baile de la coronacion de la simpatiquisima reina de este ano la srta. Corina Cervantez este viernes el 12 en el Big Bull Barn a las 8:00 pm hasta la 1:00 am.

Durante esta funcion veremos la marcha, la coronacion, himno nacional de lost estados unidos de America del nord, el grito de la independencia y despues el himno nacional de los estados unidos de Mexico.

Sabado el 13 habra el desfile comenzando a las 3:00 a las esquina de McKinley y Park marchando por la avenida park hasta la calle Main, por la Main hasta la segunda por la segunda hasta el Big Bull Barn. Alla habra una gran variedad de mariachis, bailes tipicos, comicos, canciones rancheras, y corridos. En la noche tendremos el gran baile de las fiestas patrias desde las 8:00 p.m. Hasta la 1:00 a.m.

Summerfield Fertilizer Co. in Summerfield has been selected as your Certified Crop Care Center.

John Bob Drake

In recognition of professionalism as a supplier of farm services John Bob Drake of Summerfield Fertilizer Co. has been named as a member of the new Certified Crop Care network.

Crop Care is a unique concept in farm supply service, especially designed for you, the progressive farm businessman.

Management takes time. Time to plan. Time to think. Time to make decisions. Good management also takes professional help and advice when and where it is needed.

Your Crop Care dealer offers these services, designed to give you the kind of professional help you need to better manage your cropping programs:

1 Complete, accurate, soil testing service. Your Certified Crop Care dealer will assist you in obtaining soil samples and will send them for you to a leading soil analysis laboratory. The laboratory soil analysis and computerized fertilizer recommendations will be reviewed with you and an application plan developed.

2 Plant analysis. Your Crop Care dealer will help you take samples, and handle all details of the tests. He will provide you the printed report analysis along with expert interpretation. This service pinpoints deficiencies in uptake of plant food nutrients.

3 One-source responsibility for your farm chemicals. Your Certified Crop Care dealer offers weed and pest control programs, as well as fertilization of your crop land. Your Crop Care dealer is qualified to render a complete range of services... from planting to harvest.

Your Certified Crop Care dealer pledges to offer farmers:

- Products and services best suited for maximum, efficient crop production under local growing conditions.
- Sound counsel on crop production, based on soil test and plant analysis services.
- Product application equipment and services that fit customer needs.
- A staff of professional people with the experience, knowledge and capability to relate to local grower requirements.
- A progressive retail business dedicated to building and maintaining high standards in quality of products and services.

4 Professional counsel. Your Crop Care dealer is well informed on all matters associated with efficient and profitable crop production. He is a most valuable source of information about successful farming ideas used in the area. And he can draw on the experiences and techniques of other Crop Care dealers, too.

5 Skilled, professional application. As a part of his total Crop Care service, your dealer offers custom application of fertilizer and other farm chemicals. Application may be made by one of your Crop Care dealer crews: Or he may arrange for application by a qualified applicator.

The services your Crop Care dealer offers are designed to help you get maximum yield; and to free up your time to do what you do best. Manage. Your Certified Crop Care dealer can provide professional advice and services to help you do it better.

Remember, you get Certified Crop Care Center services only where you see this sign:

Volunteer Work Stressed By 4-H

Volunteers from all walks of life and all backgrounds contribute their valuable time to the 4-H and youth program, insuring its success, points out Justin McBride, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the National Center for Voluntary Action, one out of every four adults volunteered for some type of volunteer service last year, spending an average of 22 mandays a year in volunteer work. More than one-third of the volunteers served at least once a week. The Texas 4-H and youth program reports that over 20,000 teen and adult volunteers served as 4-H group leaders last year. Based on the minimum wage, their three hours of volunteered time per week amounted to $6.5 million, notes McBride.

How can volunteers be effectively recruited? The potential volunteer needs to feel that he or she can do the job. Volunteer jobs should be within reach of a person's abilities and knowledge. The volunteer should also feel that no one else could accomplish the job as well, so the task should fit in easily with hobbies, talents or interests.

Sharing the personal satisfaction and benefits that come from rewarding volunteer work will insure the volunteer's continued success and confidence in the job, believe McBride.

As one 4-H volunteer commented, "Volunteer work is like an investment that pays off in lifelong benefits for young people's lives—and for yourself."

Peter Breck Stars In ALT Production

Peter Breck, star of the television series, "Big Valley," arrived in Amarillo Monday, to rehearse for the next Amarillo Little Theatre production, "Mr. Roberts." Breck will star in the title role of the play, which opens September 19.

Twelve performances are scheduled for September 19, 20, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, & 30, and October 1, 2, 3, & 4. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m., at ALT, 2019 Civic Circle, in Amarillo's Wolflin Village. The September 28 performance is a matinee, beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The box office opens September 15, and reservations can be made by calling Amarillo Little Theatre, 1975-76 Season. Tickets will also be on sale and may be purchased at this time. "Mr. Roberts" is the realistic war saga of a group of American sailors aboard a Navy cargo vessel in the Pacific. Every man aboard, (including Mr. Robert, lieutenant,) hates the Captain. Roberts has gone to war to fight, and is as bitter about his passive war role of cargo officer, as he is about his fruitless efforts to communicate with the Captain. The result of Roberts' frustrated attempts to transfer to combat duty, his unflinching loyalty to his crew, and his courageous opposition to the cantankerous Captain is a stirring drama of conflict and suspense.

Best known as Nick Barkely, of the "Big Valley," Peter Breck also starred in the television series, "Black Saddle." He is familiar with the Navy, and began his theatrical training at the University of Houston, after his discharge.

Award Presented

Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Lee, center, accept an award on behalf of Summerfield Fertilizer Co. from Tom Finch, regional credit manager for Olin. Looking on is DuWayne Hetzel, right, who is the Hereford field representative for Olin. The award was presented at an Olin dealer conference at Ruidoso, N.M. recently for Summerfield's outstanding contributions to agriculture in the Hereford area.

Summerfield Fertilizer Co. in Hereford has been selected as your Certified Crop Care Center.

Jimmy White

In recognition of professionalism as a supplier of farm services Jimmy White of Summerfield Fertilizer Co. has been named as a member of the new Certified Crop Care network.

Crop Care is a unique concept in farm supply service, especially designed for you, the progressive farm businessman.

Management takes time. Time to plan. Time to think. Time to make decisions. Good management also takes professional help and advice when and where it is needed.

Your Crop Care dealer offers these services, designed to give you the kind of professional help you need to better manage your cropping programs:

1. Soil testing service. Your Certified Crop Care dealer will assist you in obtaining soil samples and will send them for you to a leading soil analysis laboratory. The laboratory soil analysis and computerized fertilizer recommendations will be reviewed with you and an application plan developed.

2. Plant analysis. Your Crop Care dealer will help you take samples, and handle all details of the tests. He will provide you the printed report analysis along with expert interpretation. This service pinpoints deficiencies in uptake of plant food nutrients.

3. One-source responsibility for your farm chemicals. Your Certified Crop Care dealer offers weed and pest control programs, as well as fertilization of your crop land. Your Crop Care dealer is qualified to render a complete range of services... from planting to harvest.

Your Certified Crop Care dealer pledges to offer farmers:

- Products and services best suited for maximum, efficient crop production under local growing conditions.
- Sound counsel on crop production, based on soil test and plant analysis services.
- Product application equipment and services that fit customer needs.
- A staff of professional people with the experience, knowledge and capability to relate to local grower requirements.
- A progressive retail business dedicated to building and maintaining high standards in quality of products and services.

4. Professional counsel. Your Crop Care dealer is well informed on all matters associated with efficient and profitable crop production. He is a most valuable source of information about successful farming ideas used in the area. And he can draw on the experiences and techniques of other Crop Care dealers, too.

5. Skilled, professional application. As a part of his total Crop Care service, your dealer offers custom application of fertilizer and other farm chemicals. Application may be made by one of your Crop Care dealer crews; Or he may arrange for application by a qualified applicator.

The services your Crop Care dealer offers are designed to help you get maximum yield; and to free up your time to do what you do best:

Manage. Your Certified Crop Care dealer can provide professional advice and services to help you do it better.

Remember, you get Certified Crop Care Center services only where you see this sign.

Plainview Opens Center

Plainview's Regional Occupational Center was characterized during dedication ceremonies Friday as "an unique opportunity" for West Texans.

Dr. Raymond M. Hawkins of Austin said the center offers a unique opportunity in at least three realms—education, economy, and service. Hawkins is director of community college programs, Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

"In a very real sense, this Regional Occupational Center brings to the residents of Plainview and the surrounding area the educational programs and services of a comprehensive community college," he said. "Whether the post-secondary learner's educational goals are vocational, technical, academic, developmental or avocational; whether the area resident's skill development objectives are preparatory, upgrading, updating, refurnishing, or retaining; or whether the entering student's career goals are professional or para-professional—each can be met by the unique combination of educational opportunity now afforded through the coordinated resources of South Plains College and Wayland Baptist College."

Hawkins, who works closely with vocational programs across the state, pointed out that with Wayland Baptist College's increased emphasis on future needs for students and the society in which they make their contributions, there are increasingly fewer educational "dead-end streets" for students graduating from the diverse programs of the Regional Occupational Center.

He also emphasized that curricular and degree programs which build linkages between the professional fields of management, education, law enforcement, public administration and their applied science or mid-level counterparts puts Wayland Baptist College in the forefront of those institutions recognizing the new validity of vocational education. Wayland offers the Bachelor of Science in Occupational Education as one example of this new focus in career awareness.

Hawkins also described the center as "a unique opportunity for economy and 'the economy.'" He noted that "a combination of circumstances favorable for the purpose" resulted in the development of the center in an economical fashion "having no like or equal."

He pointed out that early in its planning, the Coordinating Board of Texas College and University System encouraged public community colleges to contract with other educational institutions for courses and services where cost savings could be effected.

As both state and local tax dollars became increasingly more difficult to gain for the support of free-standing two-year colleges in even deserving communities such as Plainview, new delivery systems were sought and fashioned to address these unmet needs," he explained.

Legislative action to authorize branch campus operations by public junior colleges and the creation of higher education authorities by municipal governments provided a legal framework through which the resources of a private institution of higher education and (most importantly) the generosity of private citizens could be applied to effectuate a public educational service unparalleled in this State—and at a cost-savings I'm sure no one has yet calculated."

Hawkins added that the development of this economical public service will undoubtedly have direct impact upon the economy of the Plains area. The impact is expected to have primary, secondary, tertiary effects.

The celebrated educator observed that opportunities for service extend beyond those who staff and administer the center. He said other principals in this cooperative effort—Wayland Baptist College, the Central Plains Higher Education

Authority and its creator, the Plainview City Council, and South Plains College have been and will continue to be in key roles to provide service and support to those who benefit from this unique educational and economy-minded concept.

Other participants included Dr. John Guemple, assistant deputy commissioner, Texas Education Agency; Dr. Marvin Baker, president of South Plains College; Leon Harris, center director; Frank Hunt, Director of Vocational Education, South Plains College; Wyley N. Mauldin, assistant professor of vocational education; Dr. Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland; Dr. Neil Record, development department advisor; Plainview Mayor John Stoneham; J.B. Wheeler, chairman, High Plains Higher Education Authority; and Dr. Joe Wood, Wayland vice president.

Land and buildings are furnished by Wayland. The building is named for Clay and Maudie Muncy of Lockney, major donors of the $135,000 facility.

Lodge Devises Unique Project

Implementing an unusual fund-raising method, 18 members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge 228 met Tuesday evening in IOOF Hall, where Ada Hollabaugh was hostess.

Announcing a "no bake" bake sale, lodge members donated the amount of money which it would cost them to prepare for an actual sale. Funds will be added to the Rebekah treasury.

Members who had been absent due to illness were welcomed back. Also, regular reports stated that 49 visits had been made and 17 cards sent to ailing individuals since the previous meeting.

WTSU Sets Teacher Exam

Students completing teacher preparation programs may take the National Examinations at West Texas State University November 8, February 21, 1976 and July 17, 1976.

Registration for the respective dates will be October 16, January 29 and June 24.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and an Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Results of the examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers, according to the Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers the testing program.

Pulitzer Prize Winner

Schedules Talk At WTSU

Pulitzer Prize winner Jack Anderson, nationally-known columnist will speak at 8 p.m. September 17 in the West Texas State University Activities Center Ballroom.

Tickets are available at the AC information desk at $2 for adults and $1 for students of high school age and younger. WTSU students will be admitted free with ID and tickets for WTSU faculty and staff members are $1. Anderson is sponsored by the Student Activities Council.

Anderson was the first to report that the CIA, FBI, Secret Service and other law enforcement agencies were spying on law-abiding Americans. He began four years ago quoting from files kept on citizens by the agencies.

He was also the first to report that the CIA had attempted to assassinate foreign leaders. He gave names, dates and details of six assassination attempts against Fidel Castro of Cuba in a series of columns in January, 1971.

During Watergate, Anderson implicated John Mitchell and H.R. Haldeman and was the first to report that hush money had been offered to Watergate defendants.

He was the first to report that former President Nixon had no advance knowledge of the Watergate break-in, but had participated in the cover-up. Publication of the grand jury transcripts by Anderson gave testimony of the Watergate crimes.

Anderson's reporting also led to the Senate hearings on the International Telephone and Telegraph Company.

After proving that Nixon and Henry Kissinger had lied to Congress and the public about US favoritism to Pakistan in the India-Pakistan conflict, Anderson received the Pulitzer Prize in 1972.

Born in Long Beach, California, Anderson, 52, got his first newspaper job at 12 for the "Murray Eagle" in the Salt Lake City suburbs, where he was working, for $7 weekly. He was reared on the city desk at the Salt Lake "Tribune" by the time he reached 18.

From 1942 to 1943, Anderson, a practicing Mormon, served as a full time missionary in the Southern states.

During World War II, he served as cadet officer in the Merchant Marine when he resigned to accept credentials as a civilian war correspondent. After accompanying a band of Chinese guerrillas behind Japanese lines, Anderson was inducted in China into the Army after the armistice. He was assigned to the Shanghai edition of the Army newspaper, "Stars and Stripes."

After Drew Pearson's death in 1969, Anderson took over the Washington Merry-Go-Round column which appears in more than 970 newspapers.

He is Washington editor of "Parade Magazine," does a daily radio broadcast over the Mutual Network and has a syndicated television news commentary.

Other SAC events will include the National Shakespeare Company from New York November 9 in the WTSU Field House. They will perform Shakespeare's "The Tempest."

Build a better mousetrap and the world will beat a path to your door, and the same thing is likely to happen if you can recommend a good heat stress standard.

That's been the experience of Dr. Jerry D. Ramsey of the industrial engineering faculty at Texas Tech University. Inquiries have come from more than 15 countries regarding the report of a committee he heads—the Standards Advisory Committee on Heat Stress, serving the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

"We have published recommendations," Ramsey said, "but we do emphasize that compulsory regulations for industry may not be necessary. The reason for this is that the recommendations are so practical that there is evidence that industry will accept them voluntarily."

In fact, one of the reasons there have been so many inquiries in Ramsey's view is that industry throughout the world has been searching for a comprehensive program which would alleviate problems of personnel whose work is done in hot environments.

Regulatory standards are also difficult to devise, Ramsey said, because each situation can vary and individual response to heat also varies.

"It is impossible to generalize with any accuracy," Ramsey said, "and individual standards should be developed only as a sufficient amount of information is available regarding a given task."

"The United States has come closer, however, than has any other country to the development of regulations concerning occupational exposure to heat," he said.

The committee's recommendations included definitions and work practices to minimize the effect of hot environmental conditions on working employees. The recommendations apply to all place of employment, indoors and outdoors.

Ramsey said that in his own research at Texas Tech University initial studies have indicated that there is a difference in the effect of heat on persons with sedentary occupations and on persons whose jobs require muscular effort and higher levels of activity.

Even under very high temperature levels, for brief exposures, there may not be a deterioration of performance for the person occupied in a sedentary task, he said.

This was a surprise finding, according to Ramsey, because when man in engaged in physical work in the heat, his physiological responses, and his ability to perform that work, reflect the influences of the hot temperatures.

Research results published by Ramsey have attracted such worldwide interest that he has been invited to present papers at two international meetings. He will address a symposium on the Physiological Requirements of the Microclimate in Industry in Prague, Czechoslovakia, meeting Sept. 8-10, and an International Mine Ventilation Congress in Johannesburg, South Africa, Sept. 15-19.

Final action on recommendations made by the Advisory Committee are yet to be made by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and the National Institute of Occupational Health and Safety within the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Public Health Service.

DROUGHT & CROPS

Shortages of moisture in the soil of corn fields, in the upper North Central states, are still damaging the crop despite recent long-needed rains, the Agriculture Department said.

ABUSES & MEDICARE

The Social Security Administration announced it will begin denying payment to doctors, hospitals and nursing homes who defraud the federal Medicare program.

TRADE & CUBA

The State Department has announced that U.S. firms based on foreign soil will be allowed to do business with Cuba for the first time in 12 years.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D.C.—At the convening of the new Congress in January, the first session of the 94th, there was hope the many younger members would force economies, modernize procedures and bring a greater sense of urgency and responsibility into deliberations.

At first the Young Turks flexed their muscles with effect. They removed several key committee chairmen, southerners for the most part. They also talked economy.

But in the following months the thrust was lost and Congress has legislated new spending, new office buildings, new salaries for congressional help, etc. The economists who thought they could save five or more billions in the defense budget (and they could have) were caught and defeated by the groundswell of anxiety and emotionalism which swept the country after the fall of South Vietnam—which allowed military spenders to have their way in both houses.

The President meanwhile has been able to sustain vetoes and that has brought progress on many vital issues to a standstill.

The nation's greatest need—enlightened energy legislation—hasn't been forthcoming. The President thinks one way and the majority of members of the Senate and House think another. So as the year reaches its halfway mark, energy legislation which should have been on the books in March, is still not enacted.

In short, Congress is badly failing the nation. It acted quickly on only one major item after convening—and that was probably a mistake—the tax rebates. Now, record borrowing is needed for this and other purposes.

With huge budget deficits for the year ending and the new fiscal year beginning July 1st a certainty, there is no justification for giving away billions in tax rebates, especially since the economy is now showing signs of recovery.

Tough, enlightened energy legislation, prudent spending and major economies are the order of the day for Congress if the dollar is not to be further depreciated and inflation held to reasonable levels. Congress isn't meeting its obligations in these areas.

Scribbles and Scratches

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Women's Editor

SOMETIMES A COLUMN is a corner of the paper where a journalist can bend the strict objective rule and release some pent-up creative inspiration. And then at other times, Scribbles is a catch-all for some lost-and-found tidbits which must be squeezed in somewhere. This particular rendition falls into the latter category.

TO THOSE club reporters who have promptly brought the new yearbooks, blessings on your conscientious souls. As for those of you who have not quite made it down to my office, this is a gentle jog for your memories.

Specifically, I need yearbooks from the following:
Hereford Study Club, Hereford Art Guild, La Madre Mia Study Club, Calliopean Study Club, Lone Star Study Club, Young Homemakers of Texas, El Llano Study Club.

Also Daughters of the American Revolution, Young Mothers Study Club, Alpha Alpha, and Xi Epsilon Alpha societies, St. Anthony's Women's Organization, United Methodist Women, Pioneer Study Club and others.

Some clubs have not received their yearbooks from the printers yet, so of course I will not flog those of you who have valid excuses. However, it would be greatly appreciated if you would delegate some reliable member to check with me if there is to be an extended delay. Otherwise, please bring the book and any questions you might have as a club reporter.

THERE IS STILL time to join Hereford Community Concert Association before the annual membership drive concludes Saturday. Assured of a good response, the local CCA was able to book this year's performances prior to the membership campaign and the billing is impressive.

Nearly all prices have been untouched by inflation over these past years, but CCA season tickets offer the same rates as they were eight years ago when the local chapter was established. Also, for the first time, the membership campaign has reached to neighboring communities including Dimmitt, Vega and Friona.

Should you want to obtain CCA membership, drop by their headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce conference room or contact one of the following drive captains:

Joyce Childers, Pat Fisher, Nancy Hall, Barbara Allen, Beverley Lambert, Donna VanderZee, Selsey Metz, or Mrs. Carl Wimberley, all of Hereford.

Also, Nancy Edelson in Friona, Carolyn Slutz at Vega or Wendy Voit and Sarah Hill, Dimmitt.

SEVERAL COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS are observing the Las Fiestas Patrias this week in connection with the independence of Mexico. To name a few, Deaf Smith County Library and the county Historical Museum have erected displays depicting the rich ancestry of the neighboring country.

The Rev. Joe Gilligan, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church here, contributed material for a story about the fiestas which appears in this issue.

Expressing thanks to museum, personnel, Rev. Gilligan stated, "More understanding is needed between the two communities of Hereford. This exhibition is a step in the right direction."

"We ought to remember that unity does not derive from conformity, but rather denotes diversity," he commented.

"The Mexican-American community has a right to celebrate these fiestas honoring their ancestors in keeping with our North American culture. The Anglo-American community is invited to participate and share with their co-citizens in celebrating these fiestas."

Install Officers

Mrs. Carl Thorell, right, installed officers for Hereford Newcomers Club when it met for a luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Community Center. Officers, left to right, are Mrs. Charles Short Jr., secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bob White, second VP; Mrs. John West, first VP; and Mrs. Freddie Savage, president.

Newcomers Install Officers

Officers of Hereford Newcomers Club were installed by Mrs. Carl Thorell at noon Tuesday prior to luncheon in Hereford Community Center.

Placed into office were Mrs. Freddie Savage, president; Mrs. John West, first vice president; Mrs. Bob White, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Short, secretary-treasurer.

Numerous prospective members, who have recently moved here, were present, including Mrs. Calvin Jones from Montana, Mrs. Dwight Turner from Amarillo, Mrs. Marvin Weise and Anna Weise, both of Kansas, Mrs. Charles Brandon from Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Jim Arnett from Ennis, Mrs. Mike Webb from Lubbock and Mrs. Thong Nguyen from Vietnam.

The public is welcome to view the fall line-up and there will be no admission charge. Club members will assemble for their monthly luncheon at Community Center on Oct. 7.

ANN ZETSCHKE

Hereford YHT Receives Award

Hereford Young Homemakers of Texas was named outstanding chapter at the Area 1 Young Homemakers and Young Farmers convention held in Plainview Saturday.

Also receiving area honors was Ann Zetsche, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Zetsche. She was named outstanding Little Sister. The Hereford chapter was presented $75.00 from rural electric cooperatives serving Texas in recognition for its honor. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Louder, representing Deaf Smith REC, attended the awards banquet.

The convention was held in Harrall Auditorium and the awards banquet was held in Slaughter Memorial Cafeteria that evening. Both are located on the Wayland Baptist College campus.

New area officers were elected, displays were viewed and a style show and talent show were presented. Bicentennial displays viewed included paintings by Mr. and Mrs. Euman Lyles from the Texas Gallery of Hereford and family heirlooms, antiques and Indian lore, furnished by Hereford Camp Fire Council.

In accordance with the convention theme, "Spirit of '76" Hereford Young Homemakers presented a "Then to Now" style and talent show. Stage decorations were furnished by Park Avenue Florist.

The local chapter and Ann Zetsche plan to attend the state convention in Houston in January to compete for state awards.

Local YHT members attending the convention included Mmes. Ronald Rayburn who is president, Bud Kelley, David Hill, Larry Alley, Jim Culpepper, Conrad Urbanczyk, Barbara Weatherford, State Novell.

Others attending from Hereford were former Little Sister, Isabel Pena, Ann Zetsche, club advisor Mrs. M.T. Burismith, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gearn, Monique Maddux, Rick Alley, Sheila Lupton, Kellie Howell, Glenda West and Mrs. R.B. Medley.

County Museum Helps Celebrate Fiestas Patrias

Some years ago our nation was known as a "melting pot." More recently, and perhaps more correctly, the experts are beginning to say the greatness and the unique North American character of the United States flows from the mixture of the immigrants from many nations. Our ranchers have their ancestors from other states or territories and even some have come from Europe or Latin countries. The farmers with their vast fields were and are aided in all phases of farm work by their co-citizens of Mexican origins. As in the past of the nation, our greatness comes from the cooperation of the two cultures.

There are some within the Anglo Community who ask: "Why does the Mexican-American community celebrate the Independence of Mexico?" The obvious and immediate response could be, "and why not?" But the answer comes from the fact that we citizens of the United States of North America are from different races and nationalities. As the Irish celebrate St. Patrick's Day, so do the Mexican-Americans celebrate their day.

In 1810, in the City of Atotonilco, Mexico, a Catholic priest, Fr. Miguel Hidalgo Y Costilla, proclaimed the Independence of Mexico. The day before, Mrs. Josefa Ortiz De Dominguez came to tell that the Spaniards were coming to arrest him.

To the assembled group, Hidalgo said, "gentlemen, we have no other recourse than to pluck Gachupinos (to capture Spaniards). From his own city of Dolores he went to Atotonilco, entered the church there and took the banner of Our Lady of Guadalupe and wrote across the standard: "Long live religion!", "Long live our most Holy Mother of Guadalupe!", "Long live King Ferdinand VIII!", and "Long live America and death to bad government!". From that day until his death in July of 1811 he struggled for liberty of his country.

Hidalgo was in the same mold as our founding fathers. He read and translated the works of the French authors of his day as did Thomas Jefferson. As we know from our own history, in the first days of the Independence movement, the instigators were seeking representation and not separation. So it was with Hidalgo. For that reason he wrote: "Long live King Ferdinand VIII!" At first, he did not seek separation, but representation. But because the crown would not listen, then he sought independence from Spain.

Exhibit Portrays Mexico

Souvenirs from the Mexican culture, encased at Deaf Smith County Historical Museum in observance of Las Fiestas Patrias, are admired by the Rev. Joe Gilligan and Mrs. George Turrentine, who is president of the Historical Society here. Assembled in the collection are photographs, clothing and utensils which date back to the Mexican struggle for independence from Spain.

El Museo Honra Y Celebra La Independencia

Por unos habia gente que dijo que nuestros pais era una "melting pot." Pero, recientemente, hay sabios y expertos que dicen que la grandeza y el caracter Norte-Americano vienen de una mezcla de todos los migrantes de paises extranjeros.

Todos los rancheros de aqui tienen sus antepasados de otros estados o territorios y anos han venido de paises Europeos o Latinos. Los Labradores con sus campos larguinosos eran y son ayudados por sus co-ciudadanos Latinos. Como en todo el pais asi en Deaf Smith la grandeza ha venido y viene de la co-operacion de las dos culturas.

Hay gente dentro de la comunidad Angla que se pregunta: Porque celebra La independencia de Mexico la comunidad Mexicana de Hereford? La respuesta inmediata podria ser: y porque no? Pero la constatacion viene del hecho que nosotros ciudadanos de estos estados unidos son de varias raices y nacionalidades.

Citemos del Hereford Brand del 31 de Marzo de 1974: "That's why there'll be St. Patricks Day celebrations from San Patricio to Shamrock in a state that has forgotten its Irish heritage." Como es posible que Tejas puede olvidarse de su herencia Mexicana?

En 1810 en la ciudad de Atotonilco en Mexico un Mexico un sacerdote Catolico que se llamo Padre Miguel Hidalgo Y Costillo proclamo la independencia de Mexico. La ha venido a el en su Iglesia de dolores la corregidora sora Joseph Ortiz de Dominguez para avisarle que vendria los Espanoles.

En aquella ocasion dijo el padre a sus companeros: "Caballeros, somos perdididos! No hay mas recurso que ir a coger Gachupinos (Espanoles.)"

De alla entro en la iglesia de Atotonilco, recojo el estandarte de la Sra. de Guadalupe por el cual escribio: "Viva la religion! Viva nuestra Madre Santisima" de Guadalupe! Viva Fernando VIII! Viva la America y muera el mal gobierno!"

De aquel dia hasta su muerte el 30 de Julio 1811 luchó para la libertad de su pais. Don Miguel Hidalgo Y Costilla era en el mismo molde que los padres fundadores de este pais. El Padre Hidalgo leo y tradujo los autores Franceses como un Thomas Jefferson.

Como sabemos de nuestro pais, en los primeros dias del movimiento, estuvieron pidendo del rey Jorge III la representacion. Era lo mismo con el Miguel. Era la razon por escribir: "Viva Fernando VIII!" No quiso la separacion de Espana, sino representacion. Pero por que la corona no quiso escuchar, comenzo el movimiento de independencia de Espana.

Para la exhibicion hay articulos y artefactos por unas familias Mexico-Americanas de Hereford: ropa, potos, utensilios, cuadros, de unos de los heroes del movimiento de la independencia. En el mero centro del cuarto grande del museo hay dos maniquis: uno vistido como la reina de las Fiestas Patrias (El vestido es de la Reina Sra. Diana Torres 1973-74.) El otro en traje del charro.

La comunidad Mexicana de Hereford les agradece a las directoras del museo por presentar esta exhibicion. Lo que necesitamos entre las dos comunidades de Hereford es mas comprension. Esta exhibicion es un paso hacia este fin. Es necesario acordar que la unidad no viene de la conformidad, sino consiste en la diversidad—piense: el cuerpo humano o las plantas.

La comunidad Mexico-Americanas tiene derecho de celebrar estas fiestas honrando sus antepasados segun la cultura estadounidense del Norte. La comunidad Anglo-Sajona esta invitada a entrar y entregarse a participar y compartir con sus co-ciudadanos en estas fiestas.

4-H Youth Fair Awards Honors

IT COULD COST 61% MORE TO REBUILD YOUR HOUSE TODAY!

Suppose your house were badly damaged or totally destroyed by fire. The U.S. Department of Commerce statistics show that $100 worth of construction in 1967 would have cost $161.40 in the third quarter of 1974 — an increase of more than 61%! Do you know whether you have enough insurance to cover such a loss? In these days of runaway inflation, costs of repairing or replacing damaged property have risen so high that your coverage may be left far behind.

Don't just wonder and worry whether you're dangerously underinsured. Let us review your coverages today for proper insurance to value. We know how to STRIKE BACK at inflation...let us show you how!

Club Considers Yearbook Theme

Mrs. R.T. Stewart, who was hostess for Dawn Music Club Tuesday in Dawn Community Building, reported that the new yearbooks will have the theme, "I Hear America Singing."

Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger, president, appointed Mrs. Carl

Wimberley reporter during a brief business session.

Music of North American Indians was the program and was introduced by Mrs. Walter Lemons, who described the cultural significance of Indian dances and music. She explained the symbolism of animals in their dances, many of which revolved around religion and nature.

Authentic Indian songs arranged by Schaum were performed during a musical portion of the program. Mrs. James Tilley presented "Pony Pow-Wow" on the piano and provided her own accompaniment while singing "Seminole Serenade." Other Schaum melodies, including "Hiawatha's Childhood," "Sioux Spirit Dance" and "Dakota Evening Flute Song" were rendered by Mrs. Stewart.

Switching to a contemporary theme, Mrs. Curtsinger sang "Indian Love Call" by Friml, accompanied by Mrs. Stewart at the piano. Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Tilley then combined voices in "By the Waters of Minnetonka" by Leaurance with Mrs. Wimberley providing accompaniment. Concluding the repertoire was "Hiawatha's Departure," a reading given by Mrs. Tilley, who also vocalized the hymn of the month, "Wavering Stranger."

The opera "Porgy and Bess" will be the focal point of the next meeting Oct. 14 in the Curtsinger home.

Other members who were present included Mmes. H.D. McCabe, Roy Manning and Alfred Smith.

Young Mothers Hold Salad Supper

The Young Mothers Study Club was treated to a salad supper Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bud Thomas, 136 Hickory. She was assisted by Mrs. Eldon Howell.

Following a short business meeting, secret pals for the past year were revealed and members drew for the coming year.

Others attending were Mmes. Stan Solomon, Jim McDowell, Travis McPherson, Buddy Edwards and Floyd Neill.

The club's next meeting will be Monday, Sept. 22 when a membership drive will be planned.

In ancient Rome the bark of the Linden tree was said to prevent intoxication, and was therefore bound into garlands to be worn at feasts.

CCA Membership Drive To Conclude Saturday

Saturday is the final day to buy Hereford Community Concert Association season tickets as the annual membership drive week draws to a close. Membership will not be available again this year.

CCA membership, which is still priced at the same rates as when the local program was conceived eight years ago, entitles an individual to attend 12 different concerts in four cities. Three of these attractions will be staged in Hereford High School auditorium. Remaining programs will be presented in Canyon, Lubbock and Clovis, N.M., all of whose residents will have reciprocal privileges to attend this CCA circuit.

Ten dollars will gain adult membership with $5 required for a student, who must be high school age or younger. A family membership, including two adults and more than two students, costs $30.

"Scotland On Parade" is the stellar attraction on the 1975-76 CCA bill and will be seen here Oct. 23. The company includes a folk ensemble of 30 singers, dancers, pipers, fiddlers and band.

Also appearing in Hereford will be Paul LaValle and the Band of America in "Stars and Stripes Forever" on Feb. 14. This boisterous concert is a jazzy celebration of the U.S. Bicentennial and is reminiscent of the big band era.

Multi-talented Hal Shane will close-out the local program on March 14 when he flaunts his reputation as singer, guitarist and dancer.

The National Folk Ballet of Korea will vocalize "The Little Angels" in Lubbock on October 4, followed by a Canyon performance the next evening. Also scheduled to appear in Canyon are Jorge Morel, guitarist, on Feb. 1 and the New York Brass quintet on Feb. 20.

Baritone singer Lenus Carlson will entertain CCA members at Lubbock Nov. 13. Also being hosted by that city will be Claude Frank, pianist, on Jan. 25 and the cast of the Broadway musical production of "1776" on March 2.

Opening the Clovis slate will be the folk singing duet of Adliss and Crufut, followed on Feb. 24 by the Branko Kramanovich Chorus of Yugoslavia. "Classics to Jazz," featuring the Ronnie Brown Trio, will be staged in Clovis April 1.

Coordinating the CCA membership campaign week are Mrs. Paul Scott and Mrs. Bill Walden. Hereford CCA officers are: Mrs. George Warner, president; Don Moore, first vice president; Hazen Woods, executive vice president; Mrs. Roy Hartman, secretary; Bill Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Wesley Gulley, publicity chairman.

Canned Green Beans On Bargain Lists

Canned green beans may be the main attraction at grocery stores across the state this week.

One authority says they're plentiful and have very low prices.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, also termed carrots one of the better vegetable values currently.

Other vegetable "reasonables" are cabbage, corn, cucumbers and soft-shell squash.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Fruit-counter "best" features include prunes, plums and grapes—along with bananas, cantaloupes and watermelons.

"New crop apples are a bit more plentiful, and some are offered at more attractive prices," the specialist said.

At meat departments, heavy-beef specials appear on chuck cuts, round steaks, ground beef and liver—while lightweight beef specials include chops and roasts.

"Fryer chicken prices are somewhat higher, though they still compare favorably with other protein food prices—but turkey prices are tempting," Mrs. Clyatt said.

She also termed low-fat milk, yogurt and cheese prices as "non budget wrecking."

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Perk up summer's jaded appetites with fresh vegetables from nearby growing areas.

These vegetables are generally the least expensive, freshest and have the best taste.

Attractions Posted

Mrs. Cecil Guseman, left, and Dorothy Fchory sold Community Concert Association memberships earlier this week in the chamber of commerce conference room, CCA headquarters. Mrs. Guseman is secretary of the CCA office and Mrs. Fchory is the CCA New York representative, who assisted during the local membership drive week—scheduled to end Saturday.

Library Now Forming Discussion Groups

Participants in a Great Books discussion group and American Issues Forum are being sought as a result of an organizational meeting held last week at Deaf Smith County Library.

Scheduled to meet on the first and third Thursday of each month, the American Issues Forum will focus on issues and values of this country's culture and how they evolved. Study will be drawn from a two-volume paperback text. The first volume will cost $5.20. Sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. on the above-mentioned schedule in the library's Heritage Room, beginning Oct. 2.

Classes of literature will be analyzed in the Great Books discussion group, slated to convene at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. Dialogue material will be drawn from a set of six books, costing a total price of $11.

Both formats will meet on a September-May schedule, according to Gwen London, librarian. Interested persons should register this week at the library.

Auxiliary Approves Fund-Raising Idea

Patriotism combined with a ways and means project was a point of business during a meeting Monday night of the VFW Auxiliary in VFW Hall.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Rogers, president, members opted to sell Bicentennial pens in order to raise funds. Also in connection with the nation's 200th birthday celebration, it was announced that VFW Bicentennial Week will be observed April 29-May 1.

A program on heart disease was tentatively scheduled on this year's calendar.

Standing reports revealed that Auxiliary members had made 12 visits and sent six cards to ailing individuals since the previous meeting.

Members were reminded that they and their families are invited to a covered dish supper September 22 after the regular meeting at 8 p.m. in VFW Hall. Those in attendance Monday were Mmes. Leonard Davis, Doris Coffin, Bea Coz, Jim Loving, Ada Hollabaugh, Frances Parker, Bessie Saulcy, P.B. Sowell and Rogers.

Slacks Require Flattering Fit

Women in pants can look really good—or really bad—depending on how the pants fit. Margaret Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist, says.

Selecting styles that suit her body type has much to do with a woman's overall appearance in pants, the specialist added.

"As an example, for the woman with a small waist and large hips, pants featuring a separate band at the normal waistline usually are better than bandless styles.

"This style is more flattering because the eye travels vertically along the pants legs and horizontally at the waist—minimizing the difference between waist and hip sizes."

She said other devices creating vertical lines for the eye to follow are a fly front zipper, pleats or sharp creases.

Miss Vanderpoorten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Deciding whether to have a front or back zipper is also important for figure flattery. Pants with a fly front add inches to the tummy, while back-zipped styles help fill in a hollow or sway back, she explained.

"Jeans and other pants with bands designed to ride on the hips rather than at the waist are generally flattering to the short-waisted figure.

"In contrast, natural waistlines or even high-rise waists and hip-front styles flatter the long-waisted build."

After determining the most flattering styles, be sure the pants legs are long enough. Too-short pants look awkward and are never flattering, the specialist reminded.

"Remember, too, that pants should never fit so poorly or be so tight that they 'smile' in front or form creases under the seat in back," she said.

When is the hurricane season? Why do hurricanes assail the coast almost exclusively? Has the main track of these tropical-bred storms been changing course in recent years?

Hurricanes usually begin in late summer—but sometimes brew in mid-summer. They are unlikely after November.

Merry Mixers Start Classes

Hereford's first Vietnamese refugee family were special guests of Merry Mixers Square Dance Club, who held a "fun night" Monday in Community Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Thong Ngoc Nguyen were among approximately 60 Merry Mixers and guests.

Square dancing lessons were discussed and it was announced that prospective student couples are invited to enroll in the next set of classes. Instruction will begin at 8 p.m. Monday, September 22 in Community Center. All interested persons are welcome. Current students will graduate during ceremonies starting at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Civic Club Center.

Due to a home football game on September 19, Merry Mixers will convene at 8:30 p.m. September 18 in Community Center.

Stuart Rowan called during the last meeting Friday night in Community Center.

It is amazing to see how much denim is used today. We see men's suits and women's sport clothes for every occasion made of this material. The finer garments have been pre-washed and softened and are ready to be worn.

Long dresses continue to be the favorite for formal occasions. Many of these have lace bodices with rather low cleavage. Some have companion capes over sleeveless garments.

Freezing Main Dishes Saves Money

Freezing main dishes can mean menu variety and provide appetizing, nutritious foods on busy days, Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, says.

Older children can help by placing frozen casseroles in the oven when they get home from school and dinner will be ready when parents come in from work.

Miss Springer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"For freezing main dish meals, prepare the food in the usual way, and cook it until almost done.

"Remember to season lightly—because spices such as pepper and cloves become strong in flavor during freezing. Then, just before serving, add more seasonings if they are desired," she said.

To freeze, cook food quickly and wrap it in moisture-vapor-proof material such as freezer paper or heavy aluminum foil, the specialist said.

"In baking combination main dishes for freezing, use pans lined with aluminum foil—allowing extra wrap that will fold over the top later.

"After baking—because hot food must be cooled quickly for freezing purposes, let it stand at room temperature 30 minutes. Then complete the wrap immediately, label, and freeze at 0 degrees F. or below.

Cooling this food quickly stops the cooking, retards bacteria growth—and helps retain food color, flavor and texture, Miss Springer explained.

"Later when ready to heat the food, remove wrappings from the package and place food in the oven in the original pan. Bake until heated throughout."

Of course, homemakers can save even more time if they cook enough for several meals, the specialist noted.

Her recipe for lasagna serves 24 and is excellent for freezing.

- 3 tablespoons parsley flakes
- 3 cans, 6 ounces each, tomato paste
- 3 cans, 8 ounces each, tomato sauce
- 2 1/4 cups hot water
- 3 pounds cottage cheese, cream style
- 18 (about 1 pound uncooked) lasagna noodles, cooked
- 3 cups or 12 ounces process Cheddar cheese, shredded
- 3/4 cup Parmesan cheese
- Line 8-by 8-inch baking pans with heat-resistant freezer wrap. Allow enough extra wrap to fold over top. Use one pan for each six servings or one-fourth of the recipe. Do not line pans for food to be served without freezing.

Crumble beef: cook until lightly browned.

Stir in onion. Cook until onion is tender.

Drain off fat.

Stir in seasonings, tomato paste, tomato sauce and water.

Simmer for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.

In each pan, spread a layer of meat mixture.

Add a layer each of noodles, meat mixture, cottage cheese, process cheese and Parmesan cheese.

Repeat layers until all ingredients are used.

To Serve Without Freezing: Preheat oven to 400 degrees F.

(hot). Bake 30 minutes or until sauce bubbles at edges.

To Freeze: Fold and seal wrapping. Label and freeze immediately.

To Heat Frozen Food: Remove freezer wrap. Place food in baking pan. Bake 1 1/4 hours or until sauce bubbles at edges and center is hot.

Calories per Serving: about 250.

Variation: Italian lasagna—use ricotta cheese in place of cottage cheese and mozzarella cheese in place of process Cheddar cheese. About 280 calories per serving.

BSP To Recognize First Lady

In observance of International Women's Year, Beta Sigma Phi City Council decided to sponsor a "First Lady of the Year" award during a meeting Monday evening in Hereford State Bank Friendship Room.

With moderation by Mrs. Ken Walser, council president, delegates designed the honor as an opportunity to recognize the achievements of an outstanding woman in this community. She need not be a sorority member to receive the distinction, which is also stemming from the nation's Bicentennial celebration.

Preliminary preparations for the annual BSP Valentine Ball were outlined and election of chapter sweethearts will be conducted during the next four weeks.

Letters expressing appreciation for sorority donations were received from Friends of the Library and the Chamber Singers.

Council officers for the 1975-76 season were introduced by Mrs. Walser: Mrs. Calvin Jones, vice president; Mrs. Eldon Kouch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jim Cramer, recording secretary; Mrs. John Schneider, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Carter, reporter; Mrs. Bobby Jones, advisor.

Mrs. Jim Aldridge and Mrs. Warren Hall will be hostesses at the next Council session scheduled at 8 p.m. Oct. 13 in the Friendship Room.

Mrs. Walser and Mrs. Koch served refreshments to these sorority sisters: Mmes. Don Childers, Jones and Carter, all of Kappa Iota chapter; Mmes. Chick Holbert, Bud Thomas, Darwin Heun and Miss Betty Barrett, all of Alpha Iota Mu.

Also, Mmes. Cramer, Aldridge, Jones, Hall and Davis Sorrells, all of Xi Epsilon Alpha; Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Max Stipe, both of Alpha Alpha.

New Members Join Club

Ceramic Art Club enrolled three new members Monday morning when members met in the N.E. Stowers home, 505 Roosevelt, for brunch.

Welcomed into the club were Lorraine Wallman, Louise Dowdy and Elaine Holly.

Programs listed in the new yearbook were discussed during a business session led by Mrs. Lloyd Kirkeby, president. Also, secret pals were revealed and new names drawn for the coming season.

Sgraffito and one-stroke technique will be the subjects studied by art club members Oct. 13 at J-Bar-S in Amarillo.

Present for the meeting were Mmes. Kirkeby, Charles Springer, J.W. Stengel, Calpepper, W.S. Flaitt, W.C. Hromas, Zelma Kuykendall, Leona Seavey.

Boost Given To New Group

These moderators of literary review groups in Amarillo were in Hereford Thursday evening when citizens assembled at Deaf Smith County Library to organize local discussion groups. Present to give format tips were, from left, Anita Pitts of Canyon and from Amarillo, Ruth Thurlow, Wayne Darrow and Mary Louise Loyd. In order to join a discussion group, contact the local library.

Local Library Salutes Mexico

In conjunction with the Las Fiestas Patrias celebration here this weekend, Deaf Smith County Library has scheduled activities saluting Mexico.

The public is invited to view the Braniff Airlines film, entitled "Mexico," in the Heritage Room at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Also, Peter Moll, representative of San Jose Mission, will deliver an address about the independence of Mexico at 1 p.m. Friday. Both of these programs are free.

An exhibit based on the neighboring country is currently on display in the library.

Garden Club Invites Public To Home Tour

Local citizens are invited to cross the thresholds of three homes here Friday, September 19, during the annual Tour of Homes, sponsored by Garden Beautiful Club.

Open from 2-6 p.m. will be the following residences: the W.H. Griffin home, 400 Sunset, the Bill Warrick home, 100 Pecan and the Edward Allison home, 104 Nueces. Tickets, costing $1 each, can be purchased at one of the specified homes or from any GBC member.

According to Mrs. Earl Springer, tour chairman, all proceeds from the tour will be used in further landscaping projects at Deaf Smith General Hospital and King's Manor. The yearly tour has been conducted more than 20 times.

Faded Furnishings Can Be Prevented

Some bright decorator colors so popular now are faster faders than others—and consumers can minimize sun fading by careful selection, Denise Beigeder, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says.

"Whether in drapes, carpets or furniture, primary colors—pure red, yellow and blue—don't fade as fast. They only get lighter in tint.

"But mixed colors—variations of orange, purple and green—may change color completely, because one of the component colors fades faster than another."

"And fuchsia and turquoise are two of the fastest faders, according to research studies," she noted.

Miss Beigeder is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Considering fabric types in relation to fading, the specialist said that solution-dyed synthetic fabrics don't fade too much because the color is "locked-in" while the fiber is still in a liquid state.

Also, woven fabrics are especially colorfast, she said.

Beef prices depends on weather.

Music Club Plans District Program

All 10 chapters of District 1, Texas Federated Music Clubs, will stage a "happening" in January as a Bicentennial project, it was announced by Hereford Music Study Club. Members conducted the first season meeting Monday during a luncheon at Calson Steak House.

Mrs. Ray Stewart of Dawn, state recording secretary for TFMC, reported that final plans for the upcoming program will be made in Gruver Nov. 18. Introduced by Mrs. Paul Lyons, president, Mrs. Stewart told her audience that the National Federated Music Clubs will include chapters from each state in a Bicentennial program at Kennedy Center. She continued, urging music club members to focus on American music during the country's 200th birthday.

Outlining the agenda for the coming year, Mrs. Lyons welcomed the 27 guests and members present. She expressed appreciation to Mrs. W.T. Carmichael for decorating the dining tables with red, white and blue motifs.

Mrs. Allen Cansler opened the meeting by singing "Invocation," accompanied by Mrs. Ken Walser.

Members are reminded that

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"...

There is no doubt that today we see the family unit being attacked from every side; torn apart and fragmented. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family, about listening, about the silences between people, the unspoken moments, and the moments of anger that don't really accomplish anything. TIME TO RUN openly offers the reality of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma.

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children... or your parents... to see TIME TO RUN when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!

September Days

September, according to the calendar, is the last summer month. The days, until the 22nd, are still longer than the nights; warm weather usually predominates.

But one detects a change in the sun's light, in the air, in the trees and fields—a change which is really summer's gentle good-bye. The first cool nights and clear, northern-air skies are autumn's greeting.

For the young in school, free summer is already over. Fall lies just ahead—with its football, hunting, studies and cold weather; when it ends in late December three months hence, Christmas will be at hand and 1975 practically over.

In Macedonia, it is said that a magpie on the roof means guests are coming.

For God So Loved The World

The PEACEABLE KINGDOM

The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatting together; and a little child shall lead them. (Isaiah 11:6)

This writer envisioned that someday all animals and all mankind would live in peace together. We're still a long way from this dream. Yet each of us is capable of making a small contribution toward brotherhood.

Impeachment Personnel Described By Breslin

A revolutionary physical fitness program and the staggering scope and depth of the recent presidential impeachment are reviewed this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

Renowned physiologist Laurence Morehouse, Ph.D., tears down the painful image of succumbing to torture in order to lose weight and refine muscles in his book, "Total Fitness in 30 Minutes A Week." Simple "no sweat exercises" and the correct timetable for dieting are described in layman's language.

"How The Good Guys Finally Won" by Jimmy Breslin is the behind-the-scenes saga of the men and women who dogged the trail of the Watergate defendants and sought impeachment of Richard Nixon. Headquartered on Capitol Hill, Breslin worked directly with those who were eventually responsible for resolving corruption in this country's highest offices.

Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

TOTAL FITNESS IN 30 MINUTES A WEEK

By Laurence Morehouse, Ph.D.

In what may be the most revolutionary as well as the most effective physical fitness program ever published, Dr. Laurence Morehouse demolishes the harmful myths of the tyrannical basis of standard exercise and diet plans.

You can achieve and retain body fitness for once and for all, both easily and quickly. You will look and feel younger, your waist will be trimmer, your hips and thighs firmer and you will probably live longer by exercising, his way, for 30 minutes a week.

Coming from anyone else, this program might seem so easy as to make it incredible. But in the world of physiology, Professor Morehouse is more than a distinguished authority—he is an oracle. He is the author of the standard textbook used in colleges and universities throughout the world. He wrote sections on exercise and physical conditioning in the Encyclopaedia Britannica and in three other distinguished encyclopedias as well. When America's astronauts orbit the earth, they exercise on a machine he invented, according to a system he devised. It is his research of metabolic activity that has enabled astronauts to work successfully on the moon's surface.

This book shows that far from there begin any need to punish yourself in trying to attain physical fitness, intensive exercise and strict diet regimens are actually harmful. You are trying to make yourself fit for what? Professional athletes have one goal; the ordinary individual has completely different ones. The author lays out a program that is geared to each particular way of life.

"Total Fitness" spells out for the layman the spectacular, effective method Dr. Morehouse devised for determining the right rate of conditioning by testing pulse. You will learn why you must fatten up before you diet and why you should not take off more than a pound a week once you start; when to exercise and when not to and why you need a variety of simple, "no sweat" exercises. Additionally, there are special conditioning routines for devotees of the most popular sports.

Thirty minutes of easy, meaningful exercise each week will put you in good physical condition after four weeks, which explains the two-hour promise on the cover of the book jacket. At the end of 24 weeks, 12 hours devoted to this program, you will be in excellent physical shape by any standards and you can stay that way by following the easy guidelines set down in this book.

HOW THE GOOD GUYS FINALLY WON

By Jimmy Breslin

"Impeachment is going to hit this Congress," stated Democratic majority leader Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill in January of 1973. He was addressing Speaker of the House Carl Albert.

O'Neill, an enormous figure of a man who comes from the wrong section of Cambridge, Mass., was not indulging in partisan prophecy; he was speaking, rather, from years of hard political experience about a nasty business which he felt to be inevitable.

In the spring of 1974, Jimmy Breslin went to Washington, D.C. to observe first-hand the creeping progress of the "ubersome governmental machine. Breslin did not, however, spend his time in court or conference rooms. He preferred to work in the offices surrounding Capitol Hill, to talk informally with Congressmen, their lawyers and aides, who were laboriously putting together the mountain of paper that was to bury Richard Nixon. He even visited Allenwood Prison in the "businesslike" hills of Pennsylvania.

The names and faces which became so familiar through a two-dimensional media last summer are now clad in flesh and sweat, as are dozens of men and women who never faced the camera but were equally dedicated to keeping the resolution of a dirty affair clean.

Woven among his revealing and devastating stories of the great and near-great is Breslin's theory about the illusion of power, that strange mixture of mirrors and blue smoke: if the illusion is there, it sustains—if not, its absence destroys.

So it all ended, surprisingly quick, one August evening. And this book provides insight into how it came to pass. The good guys won.

to the Editor

Dear Editor:

If my memory serves me right, I believe there was a song or some part of a song with said "And when the ball is over, well the question to me is, what then?" For some time the people of the U.S. have been having quite a ball and still are. The labor class has never lived so high on the hog as they have for quite a few years and still they are hollering that living is too high.

The trouble is they don't know what high cost of living is. When one dollar a day was the regular wage, living was a lot higher dollar wise. There are some things today that are not much higher than it was then. There wasn't much said about unemployment and no one expected to get paid when not working. Our unemployed people being paid and watching TV without working needs to be changed. They should be put to work if nothing else than leaning on the shovel handle out on some job.

I think it was Paul Harvey who said the unemployed were getting $116 per week doing nothing. Those idle dollars must be stopped. They need to have something to do, not loafing. Labor leader may not realize that they are paving the way for the communists to take over. America is the most powerful country in the world but while controlling difficulties abroad they are neglecting things at home, failing to notice that the termites of idleness are undermining the home plate.

Instead of keeping the spoiled brats at home busy working and earning an honest living, America is just throwing out money encouraging idleness.

Idleness is the devil's workshop, making it easy for the common people. When Hitler took over he made it easy for the common people until he got full control, then he took money and property from the Jews and forgot about the common people, and laid down the law to suit himself without respect for anyone.

And that is what we will have to expect unless people get busy and make an honest living. In the Amarillo News, August 22, 1975, in the "From A to Izzard" column, it was argued that Americans have a bad habit of looking the other way when trouble shows up.

We were asleep when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor, and our eyes were closed when the Berlin Wall went up, and we were taken by surprise by the blockade.

We swallowed the tale that Mao's men were simple agrarian reformers, and we let Krushchev get within hailing distance of Havana with a shipload of missiles. We turned the other way when the Red army smashed into Hungary, and we reacted with a ho hum attitude when "Jones Fighting Ships" revealed to the world that the Russians had more seapower in the Mediterranean than we did.

But we are asleep, no one knows what to do when we say this inflation and labor situation calls for changes. Instead of raising prices and wages there should be percentage cut downs instead of going up. Everybody agrees something needs to be done but no one wants a cut in wages and profits. No one wants to sacrifice but unless we all sacrifice in a small way and start to try to get back to something within reason in a willing way, we will have to make a big sacrifice when the bottom falls out or a dictator takes over, someone who has no respect for anyone.

The communists are not asleep and most people agree to that, but say there isn't anything they can do. It is like when we had the dust bowl, everybody said it isn't any use for me to work my field until my neighbor on the west works his field, so they all let it blow. But when everybody got busy it helped and finally got things under control. If everybody will get busy and make an honest living there may be some hopes. You can't pump more water out of a well than runs in, but everybody can help and keep the pump going at a reasonable rate till things get better.

Honest efforts and a willing sacrifice along with God's help can do wonders but selfishness can ruin any nation.

Yours truly,
Ole T. Larson

Trying Anyway
"Hey, you can't turn around in the middle of the block."
"Oh, I think I can, officer: just give me time."

Her husband was in the capital serving as a delegate to Congress and she was left to run their farm in Massachusetts. But the wife had more than household matters on her mind as she wrote to her mate: "Dear John, whilst you are proclaiming peace and goodwill to men, emancipating all nations, you insist upon retaining an absolute power over wives... and notwithstanding all your wise laws and maxims, we have it in our power to free ourselves and without violence throw both your natural and legal authority at our feet." The letter is dated May 7, 1776. It's signed by Abigail Adams.

Pay Total Balance For Best Economy

Paying the minimum payment on revolving charge accounts means paying the maximum cost for using credit, Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist, pointed out.

Consumers can keep the cost of using credit to a minimum by paying as much of the total balance due as possible, she said.

"Paying only the minimum amount each month keeps the credit user out of trouble, but increases the purchase cost 18 per cent more a year."

"Also, credit users may end up paying 200 per cent or more in interest cost if new purchases are added and the total balance due increases or remains at the maximum amount the creditor will allow.

Miss Bourland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She explained that the minimum payment is the amount you must pay to avoid repossession of merchandise bought, immediate payment of the total due and sometimes legal costs for settlement of credit claims.

"Credit is a valuable consumer tool and creditors who allow consumers to use a line of credit continuously must charge these interest rates to stay in business.

"But it's up to the consumer to recognize ways to cut the cost of living on credit."

"Of course it's necessary to pay at least the minimum payment—but it's smarter to pay as much as possible on the 'total balance due,'" she said.

Geneticist To Aid In Research On Potatoes

Research in the development of new fresh market and processing potato varieties for Texas is taking a big step forward this fall with the assignment of a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station vegetable geneticist to the Main State Experiment Station at College Station.

He is Dr. Creighton Miller, who has conducted impressive studies on various types of vegetables since May of 1972 at the Experiment Station at Lubbock.

Miller is also a member of Texas A&M University's Department of Soil and Crop Sciences teaching staff.

In his new Experiment Station assignment, the scientist will provide research leadership in a state-wide potato breeding program aimed at developing fresh market and processing varieties, according to Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the state agriculture research agency.

The researcher will continue his leadership of potato breeding projects in the High Plains area of the state, Director Miller noted.

In the Lubbock area, Miller initiated and developed a potato variety development program for Texas which has gained national recognition, and has conducted extensive variety trials with potatoes, onions, carrots, cucumbers, southern peas and peppers. He set up interdisciplinary studies on water use efficiency in potatoes and intraspecific variability for herbicidal tolerance in Southern peas. These are being continued on an expanded basis.

Additionally, Miller has conducted anatomical and inheritance studies on earliness, fruit length, wall thickness and pericarp size of cucumbers. He has also conducted studies for salt tolerance in carrots, peppers and cucumbers. Other projects have included inheritance studies on rust and mildew resistance in Southern peas.

Miller, a Baton Rouge native, has B.S. and M.S. degrees from Louisiana State University and the Ph.D. in horticulture (plant breeding-genetics) from Michigan State University.

As a youth, Miller spent his summers working on various horticultural projects at Louisiana State University. He served as a graduate research assistant at LSU and the University of Wisconsin, and briefly as a technician for a U.S. Department of Agriculture corn breeder. Another assignment with a major food company included harvesting pineapples in Hawaii.

He has written or co-authored more than a dozen scientific publications relating to horticultural crops, and has prepared numerous articles for popular vegetable magazines.

Miller is a member of the West Texas Vegetable Growers and Shippers Council, West Texas Greenhouse Vegetable Council, Texas State Horticultural Society, Southern Region of the American Society of Horticultural Science, of which he is currently chairman of the membership committee; and the American and International Societies for Horticultural Science.

Additionally, he is a member of the Crop Science Society of America, American Society of Agronomy, Weed Science Society of America, the American Genetics Association, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Institute of Biological Sciences, and the Potato Association of America, where he serves on the breeding and genetics committee and the pathology section.

ASCS News Wheat Allotment To Be Increased

By DON A. TATUM

1976 FEED GRAIN, WHEAT AND COTTON PROGRAMS:

There will be no set-aside and no conserving base requirements.

Producers may continue to preserve their allotments with conserving crops or with annual nonconserving crops.

The increase in the National wheat allotment for 1976 will increase farm allotments about 15 per cent over 1975 allotments.

Notice of allotments and yields for feed grain, wheat and cotton will be issued jointly after they are established for all those commodities.

PROVABLE WHEAT YIELDS:

Producers wishing to establish a yield for their farm based on actual production rather than the yield established by the County Committee may do so during the next 15 days. You may file a written request within 15 days (last day will be September 19th) from the date shown on this letter.

Production records for the years 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973 and 1974 will be used in proving your yield. To prove a yield on one farm, a producer must prove production on all farms.

APPROVED UGSA WAREHOUSES:

On July 1, 1975, there was a change in the schedule of rates under UGSA. A uniform rate is no longer in effect since warehouses have shifted to an offer rate system. The change in the system requires the County ASCS office to notify producers of the warehouses in Deaf Smith County approved for storage of grain:

Record Rice Crop Projected For U.S.

U.S. rice farmers should harvest a record crop this year—one that will produce about 125 million hundredweights. Texas production is estimated at 25 million hundredweights, valued at $250 million.

Average yields of 4,500 pounds per acre are estimated from 2.75 million acres nationally by Dr. Randall Stelly, marketing economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The first cutting of the 1975 rice crop in Texas is nearing completion and prices have generally been "so-so," says Stelly. Selling has generally been sluggish, with prices averaging about $10.50 per hundredweight for long grain rice and $9.20 for the medium grain types.

"With the current record crop in the making and a large carryover of 8.7 million hundredweights for this marketing year, ending stocks next August 1 should total between 16 and 22 million hundredweights. These large supplies will continue to keep the damper on rice prices although the overall demand for top quality rice seems to be strong," notes Stelly.

Money is only as important as you make it, after meeting the necessities.

PUBLIC NOTICE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Continuing the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the education provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VII, Education, is amended to:

Provide that the Permanent and Available School Funds and the county public school funds are continued for the support of the free public schools. The State Board of Education is retained and the Permanent and Available University Funds are continued for the benefit of The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the finance provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VIII, Finance, is amended to:

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to con-

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. The article is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 9 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. Farmers Seeking Understanding, Not 'Hurrahs'

How ya' gonna keep 'em down on the farm? Today's answer to that near-ancient musical question is...don't worry about it. We just don't need so many folks "down" on the farm anymore.

Jim Mills, Chairman of the National Farm-City Council—an organization dedicated to better communication between farmers and urbanites reassures us: "Although just 5 per cent of our population is directly engaged in agriculture, that 5 per cent is an amazingly productive group. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that each American eats nearly three-quarters of a ton of food in a year, most of it produced right here on American farms. And don't forget that our farmers also provide the rest of the world with 25 per cent of its food, as well."

Mills, who is also an executive of the National Agricultural Chemicals Association, seems to think that farmers aren't as concerned with getting your "hurrahs" as they are with getting "a little more understanding from their fellow citizens in cities and suburbs."

Mills mentions American food—still at bargain prices. "They have gone up, yes, and some by a goodly percentage. But farmers have been wracked with inflation, just like the rest of the consumers. Fuel, machinery, seed, feedstuffs, pesticides, fertilizers...they all cost much more than they did just a few years ago. So, there's no economical way of distributing it to fuel our soils spread out over millions of acres."

Besides that, farmers and chemists know that manufactured fertilizers break down into the same compounds that these "natural" ones change to, and a tomato never knows the difference. Neither will you."

Then there's the matter of pesticides—weed killers, bug killers, worm killers, disease fighters, and the like. Mills goes on, "There may come a day when we'll have gotten to the point where strains of plants will be able to fight their own battles against all of these pests. But that day isn't here, and it isn't near, either."

Next, Mills gets into farming operations, some of which have been questioned by environmentalists. "Organic farming may be an interesting and rewarding backyard hobby," he suggests. "I know I enjoy it in my own garden. But there's no way our farmers could feed 210 million of us if they had to use organic methods."

The so-called organic fertilizers can't do the job. There isn't enough manure or compost;

Grain Supplies May Depend On Exports

Texas Farm Bureau President Carol Chaloupka said future supplies of grain may depend upon the outcome of the current grain export controversy.

"If farmers lose a part of their legitimate export markets because of actions of the federal government and labor unions, they will be forced to reduce plantings for the next crop season," Chaloupka said. "Fall planting for wheat is just a few weeks away and some farmers will be making that decision soon."

Chaloupka said farmers are angered over the Administration's curtailment of future grain sales to Russia until final crop reports are in and also the actions of the International Longshoremen's Association in refusing to load grain on ships bound for Russia.

"These actions will result in less grain, not more, for the American consumer," the Dalhart grain and livestock producer said. "If our farmers find their export markets destroyed and if resulting prices are below cost of production, they may not plant at all."

Mr. Farmer:

When buying or selling farm and ranch lands, your selection of a realtor is of supreme importance. Why not choose a fellow farmer who is also a realtor to help you? If your realtor does not understand well logs, underground line sizes and types, water tables, investment credit, repair costs, fuel costs, irrigation horsepower requirements, friction loss, soil maps, insurance rates, tax matters, and detailed production cost figures, then you may have the wrong realtor. Let us serve you. We understand farmers and farming.

Teetes Will Continue Insect Research At A&M Beef Research Act Benefits Consumer

A scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who with two co-workers developed recent new varieties of grain sorghum resistant to insect attack, has transferred to College Station from Lubbock to continue this vital research and to teach.

He is Dr. George L. Teetes, Experiment Station associate professor of entomology.

Teetes is continuing his current research on development of greenbug, corn leaf aphid, sorghum midge and spider mite resistant sorghums and is expanding this work on a state-wide basis, says Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the state agency for agricultural research.

significant reports in his field of research. Teetes has presented recent lectures on insect problems and research results on sorghums, and various aspects of the ecology, biology and control of the sunflower moth. Earlier this year, he presented an invitational paper at an International Sorghum Workshop in Puerto Rico on insect problems and research results in grain sorghums on the Texas High Plains. Teetes and Johnson traveled to Brazil in recent months to confer with producers, observe and establish a cooperative effort of research with sorghum midge resistant grain sorghums, which are vital to agricultural interests of many nations.

The Beef Research and Information Act will be voted on by the U.S. House of Representatives this month. According to the American National Cattlemen's Association, the bill will provide positive benefits to both the consuming public and the cattle industry.

information and promotion. The program would not go into effect unless producers themselves voted for it. All funds would be provided by cattlemen. ANCA President Gordon Van Vleck stressed the impact of expanded research on beef production. "Frankly," he said, "our industry may have reached a plateau in its technological and production efficiency. We need increased research at a time when the federal government has cut back on agricultural research. This self-help program would provide for research that could make cattlemen even more efficient producers of beef. The ultimate benefit would be to consumers." According to Van Vleck, identification of consumer needs would be vastly improved through expanded research. Once identified, these needs could be met by developing better beef products and methods of handling and preparation.

nutrition is another area of vital interest to consumers and cattlemen. As it is now, cattlemen point out that science knows more about animal nutrition than human nutrition. "We want to take on some of the tougher health questions in research," Van Vleck said. "Some people say beef contributes to heart disease. Beef producers as well as consumers need to have the facts. So far no one has been willing or able to finance the research needed to come up with the answers. This program would take on that task." The proposed legislation calls specifically for information to serve consumers. Under the bill "facts, data and other information that will assist consumers and other persons in making evaluations and decisions regarding purchasing, preparation and utilization of beef and beef products" are required. Distribution of beef is another major concern to cattlemen. Statistics show that 80 per cent of the increase in food prices last year resulted from increased costs in non-farm areas.

Texas Ag Receipts Expected To Pass $6 Billion

Despite poor cattle prices and a weak cotton market during the first half of the year, Texas farmers and ranchers are expected to market products totaling more than $6 billion for 1975.

The increase of some $200 million in cash receipts from agriculture over last year would bring the state total past the $6 billion mark for the second time. Cash receipts from agriculture totalled $6.5 billion in 1973.

Charles K. Baker, economist in marketing with the Texas

Agricultural Extension Service, compiled the estimate for the state's gross agricultural income from projections by county Extension agents and Extension agricultural specialists for each of the major agricultural enterprises.

"The $6 billion total is expected to be fairly equally divided between crops and livestock," points out Baker. "Strong poultry and hog prices should keep cash receipts from livestock at about the same level as last year. However, money from crops should be up sharply this year due to strong prices for wheat, sorghum, sunflowers, fruits and vegetables."

The projected cash receipts from crops of more than $3 billion will be a new record for Texas. This takes into account an additional one million acres in cropland planted in 1975.

"Of course, cash receipts are only one side of the ledger," emphasizes the economist.

"Farmers and ranchers are faced with an estimated 11 per cent increase in production costs over 1974. So, despite higher cash receipts, net income will probably remain near last year's level of $45 million."

Baker notes that agriculture's total impact on the Texas economy continues to grow and should be well over $23 billion for 1975.

Major increase in cash receipts from crops are indicated by these differences in 1974 totals and projections for 1975: wheat—$211,137,000; sorghum—$390,000,000; sunflowers—$753,811,000; 800,000,000; corn—$5,095,000; 89,000,000; peas—$66,510,000; $87,746,000; vegetables—$140,020,000; $190,659,000; pecans—$14,847,000; $24,000,000; grapefruit—$16,551,000; $25,477,000; and oranges—$9,093,000; $13,412,000.

As far as the livestock picture is concerned, the following major increases are projected: broilers—$140,502,000; $160,000,000; and hogs—$114,333,000; $145,500,000.

Feed Prices Key To Dairy

Dairying in both the U.S. and Texas through the remainder of this year and well into 1976 depends heavily on the price of feedgrains. If prices ease somewhat as large grain harvests move to market, milk production will likely increase, believes a marketing economist at Texas A&M University.

"Milk production will hinge mainly on whether or not feeding of the nation's dairy herd increases to boost output per cow," points out Dr. Randall Stelly, with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. "Numbers of cows are expected to remain stable as culling and slaughter will continue at a low level due to poor market prices."

Stelly expects milk output to reach about 116 billion pounds for 1975, up some 600 million pounds from last year. Milk production in Texas during the first half of the year totaled 1.79 billion pounds, up about 3 per cent from the same period in 1974.

"Of course, dairymen are still in financial trouble due to ever-increasing production costs. Their cash receipts were down about 5 per cent during the first half of this year due to lower farm milk prices," says the economist. "Gross income is expected to rise during the remainder of 1975, but the overall increase will only be about 2 per cent above the $9.4 billion of last year."

Stelly predicts moderate seasonal increases in the retail prices of dairy products during the remainder of 1975, but for the entire year the price increase should be less than the 4.5 per cent average annual increase during the early 1970's.

The Class I price for milk formulated under federal marketing orders for the northern area of Texas is $9.67 per hundredweight for September. This is up 24 cents over August and 33 cents over the July price. Such increases will continue in the coming months, but dairymen will reap little profits due to higher costs, contends Stelly.

Screwworm Widespread In August

Screwworms were widely spread across Texas, from Cameron County on the south to Wichita on the north; from Hudspeith on the west to Brazoria, Walker and Houston counties on the east, during August.

More than half the 2,549 August cases came from southernmost counties where an unusually wet summer has led to great numbers of Gulf Coast ear ticks. As many as 60 per cent of currently reported cases are coming from ears of cattle in this region.

The 5,676 Texas screwworm cases confirmed by laboratory identification by the end of August is second only to 54,769 in 1972 by this date in history of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication for the program administered by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

Screwworms are larvae of the primary screwworm fly. Females of this species deposit their eggs on wounds in warm blooded animals. Eggs hatch in about 12 hours and the tiny larvae burrow into the wound to feed on living flesh. The larvae grow to about half an inch in a week and then drop to the ground to pupate.

Millions of screwworm flies are raised in the APHIS insectary near Millington. They are sexually sterilized by brief exposure to nuclear energy, then released in the area of known wild screwworm populations to mate with fertile wild flies.

The female screwworm fly usually mates only once in her lifetime. Any eggs she produces as the result of mating with a sterile male will not hatch. When enough sterile mating occur, eradication is achieved.

Aphis officials rely on laboratory identification of samples livestock owners collect from infested wounds to determine presence of wild screwworm fly populations.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—U. P. C.—It sounds something like the U.F.O.'s we've all heard about, doesn't it? But the initials U.P.C. stand for "Universal Product Code," those patches of bars and numbers many Texans have noticed on their supermarket products lately.

Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division says those patches are part of a new idea taking hold in the grocery industry—computerization. This is the way the computerized supermarkets are expected to work:

Cash registers at grocery check-out counters will be hooked up to a store computer. Instead of ringing up your purchases, cashiers will pass the U.P.C. patch on each product across a "scanner," which will read the symbols and feed the information directly to the computer. The item's description and price will immediately be flashed back on the register or a screen and printed on register tape. The whole procedure is expected to take a few seconds.

Although the idea is only now in the testing phase, some consumer groups are already saying that the "unidentified flying object" comparison isn't so far off base. They say U.P.C. could just as well stand for "unidentified product cost" as for Universal Product Code.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys note that consumers still have a chance to voice an opinion on this new trend in food shopping, and suggest that consumers study available information before making up their minds.

People in the supermarket industry say both consumers and grocers will benefit from U.P.C. They say check-outs will be faster and more accurate, since checkers won't have to look at and ring up each item. And they point out that computers are usually more accurate and more able to handle special cases such as sales taxes, discounts, bottle returns, coupons, food stamps, and so on.

Better inventory control and faster reordering are predicted, as well as lower labor costs, since no product price will have to be marked or remarked. Possibly some portion of the reduced operating costs of U.P.C. may be passed on to consumers in lower grocery prices.

However, several consumer groups have been quick to point out possible drawbacks to the proposed system. The main problem they foresee is that lack of prices on each item could be confusing or perhaps even deceptive. That's because between the time a consumer chooses a product and notes its shelf price, and the time he or she checks out, the price could change. Also, consumers who like to compare shop might find it difficult to remember shelf prices as they move up and down aisles.

Consumer advocates also point out that computer programmers could make errors in pricing information fed into the computer.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—When someone owes $10,000 in delinquent sales taxes, you can be sure it's no Mom-and-Pop operation.
Delinquent taxes of $10,000 represents $200,000 in total taxable retail sales. While $200,000 in sales doesn't make one a business giant, it's plenty big enough to expect the business to be run properly, its book kept in order and its taxes paid.
I point this out to emphasize that in our current crackdown on delinquents we are not picking on "the little guys." The figures speak for themselves:
Between May 7 and August 15 we shut down 31 retail operations whose sales tax delinquencies totaled $1.1 million. That represents $22 million in total taxable sales—or an average of $710,000 in sales each. This is not small potatoes.
Look at some of the individual cases which go into making that average: a San Antonio liquor dealer owed more than $400,000 in delinquent taxes and had inventories on hand worth twice that. A Waco appliance dealer owed $112,000, a Dallas concrete firm $91,202, a Houston area pharmacy chain $64,000 and an Austin tire dealer $47,000.
By the same token, we did shut down some "small" operations who owed less than $10,000 and I don't apologize or feel any need to explain. It is very simple that if a delinquent owed, say, $1,500 last year and didn't do anything about it, he will owe probably $2,500 this year—and if left alone will owe $3,000 or $3,500 a year thereafter.

This is your money, whether it's $100 or $10,000. To let it "ride" only means that many more of your dimes and quarters and dollars are going into pockets where they don't belong.
We will bring into the state and city treasuries the $1.1 million owed by the 31 places we have visited—one way or another. Many of these businesses have already made satisfactory payoff arrangements with us and have been allowed to reopen.
This is particularly true of the "smaller" operations. One Houston restaurant shelled out $9,500 cash in $100 bills on the spot to keep its doors open. Since they had the money, I don't know why they let themselves go delinquent for the past four years! A drug store in Houston handed us $7,000 from the cash register and got another $2,000 from the bank to pay up and stay open.
The Austin tire dealer gave us $12,000 in cash, agreed to pay $2,000 a month and put up a bond to reopen his business.
I think that when the average working man and woman looks at these figures it is clear that we aren't talking about "little people." Even so, the mishandling of a small amount of the public's money is just as bad as the mishandling of a large amount. The law is equal and uniform, regardless of size, and I intend to see it enforced equally and uniformly.
Beyond the $1.1 million worth of delinquencies we have had to settle, our crackdown has had good results with literally hundreds of accounts which were on the borderline of being seized.

The former owner of a Galveston-area supermarket came up with $15,000 for his back taxes because he knew we could get a judgment on his present property. A Houston delinquent "just figures" we might be talking to him and he voluntarily paid $55,000 due. (He was dead right—we were looking at him.)

Since sales tax money comes from the customer's pockets, there is no excuse for delinquencies. As long as there are delinquents, there is no excuse for not doing something about it.
