Sand work at Dameron Park

Johnny Carr, driving the tractor, smooths out sand in the playground area at Dameron Park. City workers and subcontractors have been working on the area for over a month, and have also been working on refurbishing the playground equipment for the park.

County okays new precinct boundary lines

New boundary lines for Deaf Smith County commissioner precincts were adopted Monday and will be submitted, with appropriate documents, to the U.S. Department of Justice for preclearance.

Commissioners' Court accepted Plan D, prepared by the Austin law firm of Jim Allison and Associates, consultant hired for the project, during a special meeting.

The new lines will not become effective until elections next year, providing the Justice Department gives approval.

As drawn, three of the four precincts have a majority population of ethnic minority residents.

The largest minority population is in Precinct Two with 72.48 percent Hispanic, Black, Indian, Asian and others. Hispanic alone is 70.02 percent.

Within Precinct One, 60.53 percent of the residents are Hispanic in a total minority of 62.83 percent.

Precinct Four's minority population stands at 51.17 percent, with 48.09 percent Hispanic.

Minority residents in Precinct Three make up 17.02 percent of the total.

Based on 1990 U.S. Census Bureau figures of 19,153 residents in Deaf Smith County, each precinct should have 4,788.25 residents.

Counties are allowed some deviation from the ideal. Deaf Smith County populations are 4,834, Precinct One; 4,767, Precinct Two; 4,782, Precinct Three, and 4,770, Precinct Four, for a maximum total deviation from ideal of 1.4 percent.

Federal legislation on voting rights requires that minorities have a "meaningful opportunity" to elect their candidates.

Voting age numbers to some extent change the percentages of ethnic representation in each precinct.

Statistics gathered in census data show that 2,936 residents of voting age reside in Precinct Two. The number of identified Hispanics is 1,902, or 64.7 percent, and voting age Anglos, 952, for 32.4 percent.

Precinct One's voting age statistics reveal 1,646 Hispanic and 1,319

Anglo residents within the boundary lines. Hispanic residents are 54.1 percent of the total and Anglo, 43.4 percent.

In the Precinct Four breakdown, 1,259 persons, 42.1 percent, are Hispanic and 1,672, 55.9 percent, Anglo.

Among residents of Precinct Three are 2,956 Anglos of voting age, 89.2 percent, and 434 Hispanics, 12.6 percent, in that age group.

Although the new proposal from the consultant was adopted unanimously, John Stribling, Precinct One commissioner, said the plan "doesn't really suit me" because the lines could not be altered to permit changing some territory in Precinct One to Precinct Two.

Some county roads within Precinct One are being managed by Lupe Chavez of Precinct Two, noted Stribling. He said at an earlier meeting that he believes "people should vote for the commissioner taking care of their roads."

"I'd like to reserve the right to take over those roads and adjust the budget accordingly," Stribling said.

"But, I really don't have the equipment and personnel to do the job," added Stribling.

Chavez remarked that a problem with maintaining the roads in question came up during the summer because of "more rain than usual and equipment breakdowns."

The proposed adjustment in the precinct for the area in question came too late for Allison and Associates to draw the lines to accommodate the change, officials said.

"They would have to start all over," said County Judge Tom Simon and County Clerk David Ruland.

There are 449 people living in that area, Ruland said.

To make the alteration would have required extensive changes in lines that had met with general approval from county officials.

Rodolfo Mares Jr., attorney with Texas Rural Legal Aid who had reviewed proposals, also, was not present Monday at the meeting. Earlier, he had not indicated opposition to the proposals.

Chamber plans special seminar

A seminar to help local businesses and others comply with the American With Disabilities Act will be held Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center.

The seminar is being presented by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Law Office of Sid Ham, Panhandle Action Center for Independent Living, and the Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

The Americans With Disabilities Act will take effect on Jan. 26, 1992. The law has been dubbed "the Emancipation Proclamation for those with disabilities," and will provide civil rights protections for some $3 million Americans with disabilities. The law has five major sections and will bar discrimination by both private business and state and local governments in employment, accommodations, public services, transportation and telecommunications. The Act requires handicap accessibility to virtually every area in which a business or service is conducted.

The seminar will introduce the provisions of the law and help develop strategies for cooperative implementation of the act's provisions through the use of available community resource groups. Economic means of compliance through imaginative business approaches will be emphasized.

To register for the seminar, call the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office at 364-3333.

UN team searches for scuds

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) - A team of U.N. ballistic weapons experts flew to Baghdad today to test Iraq's willingness to allow U.N. inspectors free use of helicopters to search the country for Scud missile launchers and rockets.

Inspectors tracking Iraq's nuclear, chemical, conventional and biological weapons programs have until now been able to operate only near Baghdad because of the lack of helicopters.

The U.N. Special Commission overseeing the weapons search announced a few hours after the team left that Baghdad had given "diplomatic clearance" today for the United Nations' three German helicopters to enter Iraq from Turkey.

Alastair Livingston, head of the commission's regional office in Bahrain, said the helicopters would make the four-hour flight to Baghdad on Wednesday and should be ready for use by the ballistics team by Thursday morning.

The delay on allowing the helicopters into the country was just one in a series of confrontations with Baghdad in recent weeks.

Saddam Hussein's government has repeatedly stalled on compliance with Gulf War cease-fire conditions set by the U.N. Security Council that call for the elimination of Iraq's weapons of mass destruction.

Douglas Englund, an American who leads the 20-member ballistics team, said he would use the helicopters to search western Iraq and supervise destruction of the 28 Scud fixed-site launchers used to attack Israel during the Gulf War.

He also intends to blow up one assembled and one still incomplete "supergun" halfway between Baghdad and the city of Mosul and plans to make several surprise calls on undeclared Iraqi sites that may still harbor Scud missiles, which also were fired at Saudi Arabia.

Meanwhile, David Kay, leader of the 44-member U.N. team involved in a five-day standoff in Baghdad last week over documents detailing Iraq's secret nuclear weapons program, was preparing his report for his superiors.

The documents are said to prove Iraq has been trying to develop nuclear weapons, including researching triggers for warheads.

Iraq has denied that. But Kay said upon his arrival in Bahrain on Monday that he was astonished at the extent of the Iraqi nuclear weapons program.

"If you look at the quality of the work done, the depth of it, the impressive nature in which they documented their own program, not hundreds but thousands of documents, you can't help but be impressed by the sophistication of it," Kay said.

4 may hold nuclear summit

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States and the Soviet Union are setting up a series of talks beginning here Oct. 9 to implement President Bush's proposal for deep cuts in nuclear weapons stockpiles.

Administration officials said Monday the result could be a four-nation meeting of foreign ministers in November or even a summit with Bush, Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, French President Francois Mitterrand and British Prime Minister John Major attending.

The U.S. aim is twofold: to quickly get from the Soviets a proposal to match Bush's move on Friday to remove all battlefield nuclear weapons from Europe and to arrange a speedy accord to ban long-range, multiple-warhead nuclear missiles based on U.S. and Soviet soil.

The talks will be opened by Undersecretary of State Reginald

Bartholomew and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Alexei Obukhov on Oct. 9 and followed by expert-level discussions soon afterward "to flesh things out," the U.S. officials said.

The next step would be a meeting of Secretary of State James A. Baker III with the Soviet, French and British foreign ministers, or a summit, said the officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Mitterrand has proposed a four-power summit. Bush said Monday while traveling in Florida he was "not familiar with that."

He told reporters "it's early" to think about meeting with Gorbachev. He said he had not talked with the Soviet president since a telephone conversation Friday spelling out his arms plan.

The Soviets, responding favorably Monday to Bush's initiative, indicated their priority goals would include a ban on nuclear weapons tests and bringing other nations in the expanding nuclear club into the discussions.

Bush, in his detailed proposals, did not offer to halt weapons tests. He expressed concern about nuclear proliferation and suggested the United States and the Soviet Union consider defensive measures.

Also, the president's offer to outlaw ground-based strategic missiles with multiple warheads did not include similar devastating missiles carried on U.S. Trident submarines. The Soviets do not have a comparable arsenal.

Referring to Bush's overall plan, First Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Petrovsky said Monday in Moscow: "We have accepted these proposals and we stand for the immediate start of dialogue on all these subjects."

Three arrested in grand jury cases

Three persons who were indicted during the Sept. 19 session of the Deaf Smith County grand jury have been arrested and released on bonds.

Freddy Gonzales, 17, named in five indictments for burglary of a building, posted bond of $2,000 on each charge.

A $5,000 bond was posted by Isabel Martinez Claudio, 41, indicted for tampering with government records.

Danny Maeder, 17, indicted for criminal mischief, over $750, also is free on bond of $2,000.

Only one of the 18 persons named in the indictments returned in the September grand jury session remains at large.

Lloyd winner in weekly contest

Shavon Lloyd of Hereford missed just four games and came out tops on the tiebreaker game to win last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Lloyd will win $25 in Hereford Bucks for her first-place entry.

Also missing just four games, but further away on the tiebreaker, was Freddie Gamboa Jr. of Hereford. He will win $15 in Hereford Bucks for his second-place finish.

Topping the list of five persons who missed five games was Tony Edwards. Edwards will win $10 in Hereford Bucks for a third-place finish. Also missing five games, but missing out on the Hereford-Frenship tiebreaker, were Jim Hillwig, Pete Vargas Sr., Chris Carter and Dorothy Collier. Another 13 entrants missed just six games.

This week's contest games appear in today's Brand.

Each week, contestants get to pick from among 25 games and the tiebreaker for up to $25 in Hereford Bucks. There is a $500 cash prize for anyone who picks the inner in all 25 games and the winner in the tiebreaker game.

World/National

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti - President Jean-Bertrand Aristide is apparently deposed in a bloody coup by military hard-liners opposed to the popularly elected leftist priest's attempts to bring the long-dominant army under civilian control. At least 26 people are killed and hundreds wounded.

WASHINGTON - The United States and the Soviet Union are setting up a series of talks beginning here Oct. 9 to implement President Bush's proposal for deep cuts in nuclear weapons stockpiles.

WASHINGTON - Falling interest rates are good for borrowers, bad for lenders. The problem is most of us are both.

WASHINGTON - The Senate and House prepared to send President Bush a $6.4 billion measure extending benefits for Americans who have been out of work the longest, setting the stage for a likely veto fight.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska - Exxon Corp. agreed to a $1 billion settlement of state and federal lawsuits over the nation's worst oil spill - $25 million more than a similar package rejected earlier by a judge and Alaska lawmakers.

FAIRCHILD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash. - The Air Force crews that waited around the clock for the Doomsday order that never came are looking at a new world order these days. The nuclear weapons have been put in storage, and the bombers that were supposed to drop them on the Soviet Union have been sent to the shop.

JACKSON, Miss. - The state-funded agency that worked to preserve segregation during the civil rights era died in 1973, but its ghost refuses to rest in peace.

BEIJING - Chinese say they have perfected the art of dealing with bureaucracy after a lifetime of standing in lines, filling out forms and dealing with rude, unhelpful officials. Young women play damsel-in-distress, grannies scold and badger and nearly everyone smiles and grovels.

Texas

AUSTIN - A mock cemetery outside the Texas Water Commission contains tombstones inscribed, "Earl E. Graves," "I.M. Polluted" and "I.C. Toxics." The epitaphs garner smiles from some passersby. But environmental protesters say they're serious about asking officials to vote against new hazardous waste disposal permits until stronger state rules can be developed.

HOUSTON - A Houston-area man is recovering from a failing heart with the help of a portable, battery-powered heart pump implanted at the Texas Heart Institute.

HOUSTON - Worldwide recession, a soft energy demand and continued low natural gas prices are threatening to shrink the domestic drilling industry next year in a period that could rival the disastrous mid-1980s, an oilfield supply company predicts.

WACO - A Dallas minister is attempting to derail a proposed compromise between Baylor University and the Baptist General Convention of Texas to aid his own political agenda, the school's president contends.

CORPUS CHRISTI - State inspectors did not investigate thoroughly enough before accusing a school for the mentally retarded of health and safety violations, the school's superintendent says.

AUSTIN - Austin and several other Texas cities may be forced to alter, scale back or scrap their newspaper recycling programs because of a glut in the recycled paper industry, city and industry officials say.

BEAUMONT - Unusually heavy rainfall is being blamed for ruining the soybean crop in Jefferson County, costing farmers and agriculture-related industries more than $5 million, a federal official says.

AUSTIN - Texas oysters may be prevented from being sold when the harvest season begins Nov. 1 because of action by a Calhoun County judge, the state Department of Health said.

LA VERNIA - Law enforcement in this South Central Texas town is a little on the skimpy side these days after the entire five-member police force was suspended.

CHICAGO - Midway Airlines Inc. showed little interest in Southwest Airlines Co.'s offer to buy 10 of its Chicago boarding gates for $10 million and lend it an additional $20 million to help Midway out of bankruptcy.

HOUSTON - Southeast Texas boat and equipment dealers say a depressed economy and a series of recent fees and taxes are taking their toll on sales.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) - Exxon Corp. agreed to a $1 billion settlement of state and federal lawsuits over the nation's worst oil spill - $25 million more than a similar package rejected by a judge as too easy on the oil giant.

The agreement announced Monday by Gov. Walter J. Hickel guarantees more money for restoring Prince William Sound, but otherwise closely resembles the plea bargain rejected in March by U.S. District Judge H. Russel Holland.

Holland said then that the criminal penalty in the package was not severe enough to deter polluters. The judge has final say over the agreement.

The Legislature also voted down the first deal, but Hickel said he wouldn't give it a chance to kill this one.

"I think this is a good settlement," he said Monday.

Like the first package, this one, if approved, would be biggest settlement of an environmental damage case in U.S. history.

"This is basically the same bad deal the judge, the Alaska Legislature and the public rejected before," said Sarah Chasis, a lawyer with the Natural Resources Defense Council in New York, which is suing Exxon for damages over the Exxon Valdez spill of March 24, 1989.

"I would be mystified if Judge Holland accepts it this time," said Pamela Brodie, Alaska representative of the Sierra Club.

"The criminal fine is still woefully inadequate," said state Rep. Dave Donley.

Exxon is scheduled to go on trial on federal criminal charges Oct. 7. Holland will not discuss the case outside the courtroom.

The deal would settle the state's civil claims against Exxon and any the federal government might have brought. It would not affect the private lawsuits seeking a total of $59 billion from the oil giant.

Under the original proposal, Exxon would have paid a $100 million criminal fine - $50 million to the U.S. Treasury and $50 million to Alaska.

Under the new plan, Exxon would pay a criminal fine of $150 million, with $125 million forgiven because of the company's voluntary expenditures to clean up the sound. The rest, $25 million, would go to the federal government.

Exxon would pay an additional $100 million in restitution, split evenly between the state and federal governments. All $100 million would go to restoring Prince William Sound, which Alaska Attorney General Charles Cole said made this deal "substantially better" than the first.

As in the previous settlement, Exxon would also pay $900 million over the next 11 years to settle the state and federal governments' damage claims. Hickel said state negotiators tried to hasten the payment schedule but failed.

The net difference between the two plans is $25 million.

Like the old deal, the new one includes a "re-opener" clause that would let the governments seek an additional $100 million if new spill damage is found.

Exxon and its shipping subsidiary agreed to plead guilty to four misdemeanors. Two federal felony pollution charges would be dropped.

Exxon officials in Irving, Texas, declined to discuss the agreement.

The tanker Exxon Valdez spilled nearly 11 million gallons of crude oil after it hit a reef.

Joseph Hazelwood, the ship's captain, was accused of drinking on shore before the tanker left Port Valdez. But he was acquitted of state charges he operated the ship while intoxicated.

United Way donation

A check for $400 from the Hereford Rotary Club is presented by Alex Schroeter, left, club treasurer, to Lewis McDaniel, president of the United Way of Deaf Smith County. Looking on is Don Cumpton, chairman of the United Way drive as well as president of the Rotary Club. The donation by Rotary represented a $50 increase from 1990.

Remarks may derail agreement on Baylor

WACO, Texas (AP) - A Dallas minister is attempting to derail a proposed compromise between Baylor University and the Baptist General Convention of Texas to aid his own political agenda, the school's president contends.

Baylor President Herbert Reynolds called a press conference Monday to criticize a Sunday sermon by the Rev. Joel Gregory of First Baptist Church of Dallas.

"Gregory, who has wanted very much to be a trustee, cannot tolerate the accord that has developed between Texas Baptists and Baylor because of his uninvolvedness, and he apparently will stoop to any level to try to be destructive of the BGCT-Baylor affiliation agreement at the Nov. 11-12 convention at Baylor," Reynolds said in a prepared statement.

In the televised sermon, Gregory criticized the change last September in Baylor's 146-year-old charter to drastically cut the BGCT's influence over the school, the world's largest Baptist-supported university.

The convention, under the change, would pick only 25 percent of the school's trustees, mostly insulating Baylor from its control. The school would pick the other 75 percent.

Baylor officials have called the proposal a move to ward off a fundamentalist takeover.

Reynolds told reporters in Waco that Gregory used falsehoods and distortions in the sermon.

"Even though he has little credibility with me, there are people out there who will accept distortions and lies and misleading statements," said Reynolds.

"It is unfortunate that someone could get up in a pulpit like that on television and make those kind of sweeping statements and there will be some who will believe him," he said.

Gregory, who received a doctorate in religion from Baylor, urged messengers at the November convention to reject the compromise, which essentially ratifies Baylor's independence from the denomination.

He shares the pulpit with Dr. W.A. Criswell, who Reynolds called patriarch of the Southern Baptists' fundamentalist faction.

FHA/HERO officers installed during candlelight ceremony

The Hereford High School FHA/HERO installed its 1991-92 officers on Sept. 19, following a week of campaigning.

Those students elected to serve within Chapter One included Oralia Aallar, president; Yolanda Tovar, vice president; Rose Torres, secretary; Maria Garcia, treasurer. Those serving in Chapter Two include Sylvia Fuentez, president; Ester Tovar, vice president; Loren Aguiar, secretary; Shelly McIntosh, treasurer.

The installation included a candle lighting ceremony with an explanation of the eight purposes of the club and its emblem.

The evening concluded with refreshments prepared by the students.

Members and officers attending were Zallar, Fuentez, Tovar, E. Tovar, Torres, Aguiar, Candy Cuellar, Margie Madrid, Brenda Trevino, Miriam Chavarrias, and Mrs. Kris Dollar, sponsor.

Guest included Norma Mata, James Kelly, Antonio Velasco, Angelica Velasco, Elizabeth Velasco, Jesse Velasco, Eva Trevino, Cynthia Trevino, Sandra Matrinez, Rosalinda Enriquez, Mary Jane Enriquez, Jesse Enriquez Jr., Blanca Enriquez, Rosa Fuentez, Ana Fuentez, Micala Chavarria, Alberto Chavarria, Alonzo Chavarria, Robert Chavarria, Hilda Contreras, Sylvia Luna, Alyssa Nicole Luna, Jennifer Dunaway, Rosa Garcia, Isbel Martinez, Manuela Tovar, Placido Asua, Sandra Aua, Steve Tovar, Maria Torres, and Omero Torres.

The goal of the FHA/HERO organization is to help youth assume their roles in society through home economics education in areas of personal growth, family, life, vocational preparation, and community involvement.

NEW YORK (AP) - Marla Maples, whose engagement to Donald Trump is over, will appear as herself in the CBS show "Designing Women" next month to offer advice about dating high-flying financiers.

In the Oct. 14 episode, Maples counsels the character Allison

Sugerbaker after the latter becomes involved with a wealthy Wall Street financier, CBS officials said Thursday.

In the show's premiere two weeks ago, Sugerbaker, played by Julia Duffy, said she'd been invited to be one of the bridesmaids at the then-planned wedding of Maples and Trump.

Friends and family of the late Joe Paetzold gathered recently for the dedication of the "Joe Paetzold Memorial Field." The baseball complex is located north of the Hereford Church of the Nazarene. The complex was begun by Paetzold before his death in 1989. Pictured are (l-r) Bud, Theresa and Martha Paetzold.

McBrayer completes continuing education

Mr. Duffy E. McBrayer, Jr. has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years.

The Academy, the country's largest medical specialty association with more than 69,000 members, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

McBrayer, has been an AAFP Active member since 1969. As a family physician, Dr. McBrayer is qualified to work in all major medical areas and trained to treat up to 90 percent of all patients. Family physicians care for all family members.

The academy, headquartered in Kansas City, MO., was instrumental in establishing the medical specialty of family practice in 1960. The Academy is the advocate for patients and endeavors to educate the public in all health-related matters.

The organization works to preserve and promote quality, cost-effective health care. It promotes the science and art of family medicine and works to ensure an optimum supply of well-trained family physicians. The academy also provides advocacy, representation and leadership for the specialty of family practice.

Almost all spikers successful Saturday Varsity falters vs. Demonettes

The Lady Whitefaces fought back from an 11-0 third-game deficit to Dumas but eventually lost 15-10. Hereford lost 15-10, 9-15, 15-10 in the opening match of District 1-4A play.

The loss was the Herd's second in a row after falling to Amarillo High Sept. 24, and leaves their record at 15-3. Dumas raised its record to 20-2.

The Lady Whitefaces had to face not only the three-time state champions, but a large crowd as well. Though nearly a hundred Hereford fans made the trip to Dumas, many times more than that showed up for the home team. When the Demonettes scored the first point of the first game, the crowd roared.

"I think logically our kids were trying to play it down, but I think it made it tough," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "The crowd magnified every mistake. That wears on you mentally, but its not an excuse."

The first two games were similar to each other. In both, the eventual winners broke out to an early lead but let the other team back in. Both games became tied at 9-9 before the teams got started again.

When Hereford made its move to pull ahead for good in the second game, it was because of the outside hitters.

"We came alive on the outside," Reeh said. "That helped a ton. We want our outside hitters to pound the ball."

Jennifer Hicks had two kills in the span, including a particularly inspiring hit which went off the dig and into the crowd. Brek Binder also had two kills in the final six points, and the game ended when Shantel Cornelius stuffed Taylor-Ann Harbert's hit.

The Herd carried none of that momentum into the third game, as the Demonettes streaked to an 11-0 lead. Hereford started a comeback. With Angie Jowell serving, Lori Sanders had two straight kills to make the score 11-3, but Jowell served the ball out of bounds. Cornelius and Kathy Hernandez also had bad serves in the next few rotations to kill possible rallies.

Dumas got its lead to 14-6 before Hereford started coming on again. Sanders had a kill down the line for a point, then two aces by Cornelius and a kill on an overset by Binder got it to 14-10.

Dumas coach Jack Wilson called a time-out, and it worked: Cornelius' next serve was long. Dumas' Kirah Cowley got the game-winning kill when Jowell's diving dig was out of bounds.

Reeh said that though the comeback was a good thing, the Lady Whitefaces shouldn't have let themselves get in such a hole.

"I can compliment the kids on having the guts to stay with it, but we logically know our chances are not great if we get down 11-0 to a state championship team. We've got to take that knowledge and put it on the court. It's got to show in our actions. We've got to be a tougher team."

In the opening match Saturday, the Hereford junior varsity came from behind in the second game to beat Dumas 15-10, 15-13.

Dumas had the JV down 11-4 in the second game but only scored two more points the rest of the way. Katie Young had a pair of kills for two of Hereford's last four points, including one that gave Hereford a 14-13 lead. A Dumas player hit a Hereford overset into the net for Hereford's final points.

"We went into the second game with the attitude that we can't lose it—that there's no third game. We couldn't consider a third game," coach Jill Harrison said.

"They just kept fighting in the second game. One of their goals was to win for the varsity to set the stage for the varsity and to quiet the crowd," Harrison said.

It was a bittersweet day for Reeh. Though her team had lost a heart-breaker, every other Hereford team was wildly successful Saturday--some against Dumas.

"I'm thrilled to death for all the other teams," she said. "I got to sit and watch the JV. They just kept plugging away. As the situation got closer to the end they got more aggressive."

The junior high and ninth grade teams won in tournaments in Borger.

"I don't know if we've ever sent teams out to tournaments where they've been as successful," Reeh said.

HJH spikers win Borger Tournament

All four of Hereford Junior High's volleyball teams were victorious in Saturday's Borger Tournament. The two seventh grade teams would have met in the Division I finals but declined to play the game, and both were declared co-champions. Above is the Maroon team, which consists of, left to right, front row: Kari Barrett, Annie Jackson, Shawna Lindsey, Lori Paetzold, and Erica Shipp; and back row: Jennifer Jones, Joni Beltran, Danielle Cornelius, Cassie Abney and Katie Bone. Below is the seventh grade White team. They are, front row: Christy Haney, Lauren Caviness, Annie Hoffman, J.J. Hill, and April Ford; and back row: Raquel Villareal, Rachel Beznar, Jessie Salazar and Marie Crox. Hereford's ninth grade team also won a tournament in Borger Saturday.

Freshmen whip Harvesters

Hereford's ninth grade volleyball team won the Borger Tournament Saturday, then continued their ways Monday by drubbing Pampa. Only the "A" team played in the Borger Tournament, but both played Monday, with the "B" winning 15-0, 15-13 and the "A" winning 15-3, 15-3.

In the "B" match Monday, Raquel Vallejo served the first seven points of the first game and added six points in the second. Karen Manchec closed out the second game with eight straight service points.

Jessica Evers led the "A" team with 11 points.

The "A" team won four matches Saturday to take the tournament. First they beat Perryton 15-4, 15-3, then River Road 15-11, 15-4. Next up was a close game against Dumas' "A" team, which Hereford won 7-15, 15-7, 15-8. Then in the finals they beat Dumas' "B" team 15-11, 15-5.

"Everybody played really well, and Kit Jones and Kelly Jowell had really outstanding days," coach Brett Steagall said. "They were really excited. They said their teams had never beat Dumas."

HJH takes over Borger

All four of Hereford Junior High's volleyball teams won their divisions at the Borger Junior High Tournament Saturday.

It was the first time HJH had ever won with all four teams, coach Jane Radford said. Maria Eck and Kathryn Hatla also coach the teams, but Radford said a lot of the credit belongs to varsity coach Brenda Reeh.

"We just do what we're told to do," Radford said. Of course, the players deserve some credit: "These kids are going to be good some day."

The only match an HJH team lost all day was when Valleyview's 8th "A" team squeaked by Hereford's "B" or White team 15-8, 15-17, 15-13 in the first round. The Whites went in to the Division II bracket and didn't lose again.

It's called "Division II" instead of "losers' bracket" because the tournament pits "A" teams against "B" teams in the first round, which usually turns out unfair to the "B" team.

Hereford's 7th grade White beat the system when they beat Valleyview in the first round. Then they beat Borger to advance to the finals against Hereford's 7th Maroon team. Both teams declined to play the match and were declared co-champs.

Hereford's 8th Maroon team was the only team to play four matches Saturday. They started by beating Perryton 15-13, 15-5, then they beat Canyon 3-15, 15-10, 15-8. Next was Pampa, 15-10, 6-15, 15-9, then Valleyview in the finals, 15-11, 15-5.

The 8th Maroon got 17 kills on the day from Krista Beville, and Tarabeth Holmes added 14. The teams serving stars were Aimee Alley and Carlotta Ruiz, who had nine points alone in the second Perryton game.

The 8th White, after falling to Valleyview in the first round, cruised through Division II with victories over Canyon, 15-2, 15-13, and over Dumas 15-6, 15-9 in the finals.

The Whites were led by Lyndsi Ames with 13 kills, and Julie Cole had nine. Deanna McCracken had seven blocks and Ames added six. Ames also was one of the leading servers, as were Natalie McWhorter, Jami Bell and Shay Henderson. Bell had 13 of Hereford's 30 points in the Canyon match.

The 7th Maroons played three matches, opening with a 15-13, 15-4 win over Perryton. They followed up with a close one with Dumas, 15-7, 13-15, 15-9, then beat Borger 16-14, 15-6.

Katie Bone and Kari Barrett were the serving leaders, with Barrett serving 11 points in the first game with Perryton.

Finally, the 7th White team only played two matches. First they beat Valleyview 15-8, 5-15, 15-0, then polished off Borger 17-15, 10-15, 15-11. Raquel Villareal and April Ford were the top servers, and Villareal served up 14 of the points in the 15-0 game with Valleyview.

The junior high teams' next scheduled matches are Oct. 10 at Borger. The starting times have been changed to 5 p.m. for the White teams (both grades) and 6 p.m. for the Maroon teams.

Harriers go to Seminole

Tired of running with the same old crowd, cross country coach Martha Emerson changed her teams plans to run in the Amarillo Meet Saturday and instead went to a meet in Seminole.

In Seminole, the girls' varsity finished third to a pair of 5A schools and the girls' junior varsity won the JV division. Hereford did not have enough boys running Saturday to get a boys' team score.

"This was a good meet for us," Emerson said. "The competition was good, and we got away from the usual teams around here and got a look at some new ones, including some 4A schools in other districts."

Ricka Williams led the way for the varsity girls, finishing seventh with a time of 13 minutes and 39 seconds. The team received 112 points, third only to San Angelo Central with 62 and Odessa Permian with 89.

Williams was followed by Andrea Chapa in 17th (14:08), Jill Dutton in 22nd (14:25), Nora Herrera in 32nd (14:37), Veronica Hernandez in 36th (14:44) and Rita Soto in 49th (15:09).

Lubbock Cooper was fourth in girls varsity with 153 points, followed by San Angelo Lakeview with 166, Sundown with 179, Big Spring with 199, Levelland with 201 and Frenship with 246. In all, 17 teams ran in the meet.

Only four boys ran for Hereford Saturday. Jack Borden rebounded from a disappointing finish at the Hereford meet Sept. 21 to finish sixth, with a time of 17:07. The other boys to run were Aurelio San Miguel, 32nd in 18:14; Pedro Dominguez, 37th in 18:37; and Chancy Bainum, 73rd in 20:13.

In winning the JV team title, Hereford put its top five runners in the top 10: They had 29 points, edging Frenship with 35. Sundown was a distant third with 83 points.

Hereford's JV runners were Belinda Murillo in third place in 14:28, Monica Diaz in fifth (14:33), Gina Haschke in seventh (14:44), Karon Harder in eighth (14:45), Laura Rangel in ninth (15:00), Isabel Chapa in 17th (15:30) and Rachel Martinez in 21st (15:35).

Rickman gets all-around

Chasity Rickman used a first place in goat tying and a second place in breakaway roping to capture the all-around cowgirl title at the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association's Dumas rodeo.

Rickman, who lives in Hereford but rodeos for Adrian, won goat tying with a time of 9.205 seconds and had a time of 3.486 in breakaway roping.

She was also fifth in barrels at 18.291.

Hereford's Jennifer Smith was sixth in barrels at 18.414.

This Saturday, the TSHSRA will be in Wheeler. The first performance is scheduled to start at 10 a.m., the second will be at 3 p.m. and team roping will be at 1 p.m.

Hereford netters have busy weekend

The Hereford tennis team played two team matches Saturday and won them both.

The Whitefaces played at Randall in the morning, winning 14-4, then came back to Hereford and played the Amarillo High team, which was on its way home from a morning match in Clovis, N.M. Hereford beat the Sandies 10-8.

It was a good day for the Hereford girls, as they swept their matches against both Randall and Amarillo High. They were especially dominant against the Raiders, winning 108 games and losing only 22.

Against Randall, the girls' singles matches went like this: Bri Reinauer def. Karolyn Wolfran 6-3, 6-2; Robyn Sublett def. Jamie Segedy 6-1, 6-2; Emily Fuston def. Jennifer Jones 6-0, 6-0; Sherry Fuston def. Dianne Riley 6-2, 6-1; Michelle Berend def. Tiffany Dearman 6-2, 6-0; and Jennifer LeGate def. Traci Cerka 6-0, 6-1.

In girls' doubles it was Fuston/Fuston def. Wolfran/Segedy 6-4, 6-0; Reinauer/Sublett def. Dearman/Cerka 6-0, 6-0; and Berend/LeGate def. Jones Riley 6-1, 6-3.

The Hereford boys also had some success against Randall. Hereford's top three singles and the top two doubles won: Torey Sellers def. Kevin Morgan (score unavailable); Jamie Kapka def. Caleb Cameron 6-0, 6-3; Donnie Perales def. Chad Hanson 6-4, 6-3; Kapka/Sellers def. Morgan/Chris Miles 6-4, 6-1; and Perales/Chris Lyles def. Cameron/Ray Packard 2-6, 7-6, 7-5.

In the rest of the Randall matches, the Raider boys came up winners: Larry Stephenson def. Lyles 6-1, 6-4; Miles def. Jarrit Edwards 6-2, 6-3; Packard def. Richard Drager; and Hanson/Stephenson def. Drager/Edwards 6-1, 6-2.

In the afternoon match, the Hereford girls swept the Amarillo High girls, while Jamie Kapka was the only Hereford boy to beat his opponent.

In singles: Reinauer def. Carrie Clarke 6-3, 6-0; Sublett def. Monica Clark 5-7, 6-2, 6-0; Emily Fuston def. Andrea Patrick 4-6, 6-1, 6-1; Sherry Fuston def. Jonna Sougstad 6-2, 6-2; Berend def. Jill Dinger 6-0, 5-7, 6-0; and LeGate def. Adrian Flythe 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles: Fuston/Fuston def. Clarke/Clark 6-3, 6-3; Reinauer/Sublett def. Patrick/Sougstad 6-1, 6-2; Berend/LeGate def. Dinger/Flythe 7, 6-3, 6-4.

Kapka beat Chris Miller in the second boys' singles match, while the rest of the boys lost.

Coby Hyman def. Sellers 6-4, 3-6, 5-7; Jeremy Fisk def. Perales 6-4, 6-2; Matt Patterson def. Lyles 6-3, 6-2; Stuart Campbell def. Edwards 6-2, 6-3; Dan Walton def. Mario Martinez 6-4, 7-5; Hyman/Miller def. Kapka/

Sellers 6-4, 4-6, 7-6; Fisk/Patterson def. Lyles/Perales 7-6, 6-3; and Campbell/Clark Wooldridge def. Martinez/Richard Drager 2-6, 6-3, 4-6.

The tennis team is scheduled to play Dumas at 1 p.m. Saturday at Whiteface Courts.

The junior varsity and junior high tennis players were taken to Plainview Saturday by coach Lee Seman, and the boys led the charge as Hereford won a total of 21 sets and Plainview won 20.

The boys won 15 of their 20 matches with Plainview, many of which were played in pro sets to save time. The girls won only 6 of 21.

Here are their results. Kids from Hereford have an "H" following their name.

Boys' singles: Rob Reinauer (H) def. Ruben Mendoza 9-8; Jonathon Keenan (H) def. Sam Lawson 8-5; B.J. Lockmiller (H) def. Kryl Buddeker 8-0; Pete Vargas III (H) def. Michael Price 8-2; Scott Shaw (H) def. Lonnie Brown 8-4; James Stanbol def. Tommy Munoz (H) 8-3; Tommy Campbell def. Jody Hodges (H) 8-5; Tom Jarecki (H) def. David Branscom 8-5; Lupe Perez (H) def. ## Race continues in NL West

By The Associated Press

If pitching wins pennants, the Dodgers and Braves might be heading for a tie.

Both teams won again Monday night behind outstanding starting pitching, keeping Los Angeles one game ahead of Atlanta in the NL West.

At Cincinnati, Atlanta's John Smoltz overcame control problems to pitch two-hit ball over eight innings and Sid Bream singled home a pair of runs in a four-run third inning for a 4-0 victory over the Reds.

Atlanta recorded its 90th win for only the second time and reached 23 games over .500 (90-67) for the first time since 1983, the year after its last title.

Smoltz (13-13) stayed unbeaten

Boston blowing big leads

By The Associated Press

These are tough times for the Boston Red Sox: blowing big leads, losing big games and falling behind bigtime in the AL East race.

Finally, something right happened for them on Monday night.

They characteristically blew a big lead, but uncharacteristically came back to beat the Milwaukee Brewers 9-8 for possibly their most important victory of the season.

"It's been a tough series, and this game looked like it easily could have gone the other way for us again, and it would have been a tough one to swallow," Tom Brunansky said. "We battled back. We had to win. Hopefully it will give us some sort of momentum for the last six."

Mariners 3, Rangers 2
Rangers 2, Mariners 0

Nolan Ryan reached the 5,500-strikeout mark in the doubleheader opener with six in six innings, and Ken Griffey Jr. became the youngest player to drive in 100 runs since Al Kaline did it for Detroit in 1956.

since Aug. 15. He walked three and threw three wild pitches, but used 10 strikeouts to avoid trouble. The only hits off him were clean second-inning singles by Bill Doran and Billy Hatcher.

"It's a great feeling to put the pressure on the Dodgers. They know we already won," said Smoltz (13-13). "We can sit back and relax, knowing we've done our job. That's all we can do."

The Dodgers went out and answered the Braves' strong pitching with some of their own as Orel Hershiser shut out visiting San Diego for seven innings to preserve Los Angeles' slim lead.

Hershiser (7-2) struck out six and walked two in the opener of the Dodgers' final home series of the regular season.

For the second straight night, the Dodgers began play aware that a loss could drop them into a tie with the Braves.

But Hershiser's pitching and more big hitting by Darryl Strawberry, his 26th homer, kept Los Angeles in the division lead with five games remaining.

"I knew the Braves had won, I knew that we needed a good, solid outing, but I tried to focus on doing my job," Hershiser said. "Pressure is only what you put on yourself. I really felt we had a baseball game to play, and win or lose, it doesn't matter if there is pressure or not, it's just a ballgame."

Atlanta has two more games at Cincinnati before finishing the season at home with three games against last-place Houston. On Wednesday night, Jose Rijo (15-5) is scheduled to start for the Reds.

The Dodgers play host to the Padres for two more games before heading to San Francisco to finish the season.

Elsewhere in the NL it was Pittsburgh 6, New York 5; St. Louis 11, Montreal 1; Philadelphia 6, Chicago 5; and Houston 2, San Francisco 0.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: While going through my wife's wallet after her death, I found she had been carrying a column of yours. I recalled how we roared with laughter as we read it together, both well aware that after 43 years of marriage our love for each other had little to do with the physical.

My wife had an illness which we both knew was fatal. She knew she would die first and wanted me to find that column in her wallet. In a very real sense, it was a message of love from the grave.

I shall carry that column in my wallet until I die, with a little note of my own. Perhaps our children will hear our voices expressing the love we had for each other.

Although the description of the woman who wrote is hilariously self-deprecating, I considered my wife the most beautiful woman in the world. I'm writing in the hope that others may recognize real love when they are lucky enough to have it.—Anon. in Pa.

DEAR ANON.: What a love story! Here's the column your wife carried:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for "Marvin," who complained because his wife undresses in the bathroom. Here I am, my love, in the nude (at your request). My bra that pushed me "up and out" now lies in a heap on the floor. My breasts, now flat and pendulous, look as if they might reach my navel.

The foundation garment I wear to keep me tall and straight (with a nice flat tummy), I have shed like a snake. My fanny is drooping and my abdomen is amazingly round. If I still have toes, I sure as heck can't see 'em.

Now, my love, is it lights on or off? It's hell to be old, but I'm yours—you can make book on it.—E in Oregon, Which is Not Where I Live

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I have several children, most of whom are married and have children of their own.

One daughter has a different lifestyle. She has been living with another woman for several years, and we have accepted this as best we can.

I want to have a picture taken for the purpose of recording our family genealogy. Copies will be sent to other family members, as well as the local historical society.

My daughter insists that her "friend" be in the picture since she has lived with this woman longer than her brother has lived with his wife. I am opposed to this and she is furious.

I suggested a separate picture for the book without her friend but she says it is out of the question because the woman will be hurt if she is not included.

Am I wrong in wanting to exclude my daughter's live-in woman friend from the picture? Please respond in print.—A Troubled Mother

DEAR TROUBLED: Genealogists include only members of the family by blood relationships or marriage. Live-in partners, whether straight or gay, do not qualify no matter how long they have been together.

Perhaps it would help if you showed your daughter a statement from the Historical Society describing the guidelines. I recommend it.

Gem of the Day: (Credit Meryl Streep): People who say they "sleep like a baby" never had one.

What's the truth about pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, crack, speed and downers? "The Lowdown on Dope" has up-to-the-minute information on drugs. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Lowdown, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Club studies WWII camp

The La Madra Mia Study Club enjoyed an informative evening with Jody Rogers last week, as he conducted a tour of the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp.

The camp itself is the second largest camp in Texas and was in operation from 1942-1946. It housed Italian Prisoners of War during World War II.

President Nancy Paetzold conducted the meeting and announced the Home Tour committee. The election of a new member, Trudy Phillips, was conducted and Linda Cumpton was introduced as a guest. Hostesses included Judy Williams and Trece Sims.

The next meeting will be Oct 10 and is a sealed party. Members are urged to bring auction times as this is a fundraiser for the club.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Singer Billy Joel came to Washington to help save a polluted bay near his home on Long Island, New York.

"The Peconic Bay is one of a kind," Joel said at a news conference Thursday on the Capitol lawn. "I know this because I live there. Unless the Peconic is protected soon, it will be lost forever."

Joel, who lives in swank East

Hampton with his wife, model Christie Brinkley, urged Environmental Protection Administration officials to include the waters of Peconic Bay in the National Estuary Program.

That would make it eligible for federal money to study and clean up an invasion of brown tide, a mysterious algal bloom that Joel said has nearly decimated the bay's scallops industry.

A Big

Oktoberfest set

Sister Patricia Connolly, D.C. (l) is making plans for Oktoberfest '91, a major fund raiser for Amarillo Catholic Schools, with Wade and Annamarie Henthorn. They are wearing traditional German costumes. The event is set for Oct. 5 from 6:30-11 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center.

New Arrivals

Louis and Brenda Paschel of Hereford are the parents of a son, Branden Donnell, born Sept. 21 at Northwest Texas Hospital. Branden weighed 6 lbs. and 15 3/4 oz and was 21 inches long.

Proud grandparents are Mrs. Don Avent of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Paschel of Vega. Great-grandparents are W.L. Avent of Amarillo, Margaret Borman of Hereford and Fred Paschel of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carl Paetzold of Galveston announce the arrival of their first child, Paris Mae Paetzold, 6 lbs. 7 oz., on Sept. 20 in Galveston.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paetzold and Gene and Juanita Koetting and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bean, all of Hereford.

Club discusses recycling

The Cultural Extension Homemakers club met recently at the Hereford Senior Citizens to discuss recycling.

Beverly Harder, extension agent, presented a program on things that were made and recycled. She showed a sweater and a place mat apron.

Roll Call was answered with a celebration that was enjoyed.

Fannie Townsend read the minutes. Byrdie Fellers gave a finance report. The council report was given by Nell Pope.

The club voted to change the date for the beginning of the year to correspond with the state's year.

The club decided to help the council with decorating a tree for the festival of trees.

Those attending include Jewell Rogers, Vernis Parsons, Ruth Gandy, S.T. Walton, Daisy Steele, Winnie Wiseman, Carrie Mae Doak, Jewell Hargrave, Naomi Hare and Marie Thames.

HISD food service elects new officers

The Hereford Independent School District Food Service personnel held their first meeting of the year on Monday, Sept. 23 at the High School Cafeteria. Officers for the year were elected.

New officers for the 1991-92 school year were elected with Frances Kerr re-elected as president, Marilyn Benjamin as secretary, and Christine Evans as treasurer.

The evening began with a covered dish supper hosted by Junior High and High School cafeteria workers.

Forty five people were in attendance. Plans for the Christmas party were also discussed at this time.

Door prizes were awarded to Christine Evans and Agnes Betzen. Evans received a decorate cake and Betzen received a plant basket with ivy.

The next meeting of the H.I.S.D. Food Service personnel will be the sanitation meeting at the High School cafeteria, October 28th.

Plans in works for Oktoberfest

Plans are being made for Oktoberfest '91 Oct. 5 in the Amarillo Civic Center. The event is a major fund raiser for the Amarillo Catholic School System.

Those attending will enjoy traditional German music as well as contemporary and country and western music for dancing. The Clyde Logg Band will be performing.

A committee of ladies who work at the cafeterias of St. Laurence, St. Mary's, Our Lady of Guadalupe and St. Joseph's schools will prepare the true German food.

Children, ages three and up, will be entertained in a separate area under the supervision of a group of volunteers. Theresa Piggott, of the St. Joseph's Day Care Center, has planned a series of organized games and activities. TV and videos will be available also.

American Airlines, the official Oktoberfest airline, has donated two round trip tickets to Germany for the door prize. All adult ticket holders will be eligible for the drawing. Transportation will be provided by American Airlines and some travel date restrictions apply.

Tickets are available through all Amarillo Catholic schools. Adult tickets are $37.50. Youth tickets (10-18) are $10. Children's tickets (9 and under) are $5.

For more information contact Alamo Catholic High School at 355-9637.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I just found the possible reason my magnetic (ATM) bank card was getting demagnetized and wouldn't "read," so I couldn't get my money!

It always happened at the most inconvenient times, resulting in a trip to the bank, a 10-day wait for a new card and another trip to the bank to select a new "pin number." It was a hassle!

The bank clerk said the culprit could be my eelskin wallet. Eelskin wallets and purses are quite popular here. Thought you might do a lot of people a real favor and print this. — Susan Foss, Rahway, N.J.

I checked with a major bank-card company and was told that the eelskin should not affect the magnetic strip on bank or credit cards.

The magnetic clasp on the wallet is probably the culprit. Any time the magnetic strip on your bank or credit card comes into contact with any magnet, it can be wiped out.

If the magnet is strong, like the one holding a wallet together, it can wipe the card out instantly. A weaker magnet gradually reduces the strength of the signal the card puts out until it's gone.

This applies to all magnets, even one as small as the one on the refrigerator door, so beware. — Heloise

NOISY CLOCK

Dear Heloise: In your column a person asked for a hint for quieting a noisy alarm clock.

A great idea is to get a clear glass bowl and put it over the clock. Not only does the glass muffle the noise but since it's clear you can see what time it is.

When I use a pillow or a drawer I always worry about the alarm being accidentally turned off. This way I don't have to worry about the alarm — I can see it is on! — Debbie Nickila, Hibbing, Minn.

I use rubber-cement thinner — it works great. It evaporates quickly, so don't leave the top off the bottle for very long. — Jan Voss, South Pasadena, Calif.

Always test a small spot first since this could dull plastic or other finishes. — Heloise

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, P.O. Box 795000, San Antonio TX 78279. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

COFFEE FILTERS

Dear Heloise: If your coffee filters are hard to separate, blow on them very gently and they will separate every time. — Mrs. C.F. Smithwick, Henderson, N.C.

EASY LABEL REMOVAL

Dear Heloise: I want to suggest another way to remove stubborn price labels from glassware.

SOUND OFF

Dear Heloise: I am writing to express my extreme dissatisfaction and absolute bewilderment with the manufacturers' use of narrow-necked mayonnaise jars! I simply cannot understand why they use these jars. It is practically impossible to get all the mayonnaise out from under the rim, even with a rubber spatula. And the mess! Even with a long-handled spreader, you can't get it out when it's less than half-full without getting it all over your fingers.

It would seem that jars that are straight would be so much better. Hope this will be corrected by some bright person in the near future! — Alice Crane, Culpeper, Va.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

CHILI WEATHER

When it's fall, it's chili time. Here's a chef who's really hot.

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) - "Chilihead" is what insiders call someone who loves to compete in chili contests - someone like chef Jim Heywood, a self-confessed "chili fanatic" and seasoned veteran of the chili circuit.

"These events are always fund-raisers," says Heywood, an instructor at the Culinary Institute of America, "and many worthwhile organizations benefit from the proceeds of chili competitions. Camaraderie and the thrill of competition are also part of the attraction."

The first chili cook-off was held in Terlingua, Texas, in 1967. Only two contestants rose to the challenge: Wick Fowler, a dedicated Texas chili cook, and H. Allen Smith, writer, humorist and author of "Nobody Knows More About Chili Than I Do." The contest ended in a dead heat.

This year, about 80 state and district winners will compete in the International Chili Society's world championship cook-off, scheduled Oct. 20 at the Tropic Gold Mine in Rosamond, Calif. The first-place prize is $25,000.

Heywood, a 1988 Connecticut

State Champion, provides the following recipes for chili and chili topping sauce. The chili recipe is a good one, he says, but not even close to his award-winning "Big Jim's Hogbreath Chili." Like any true "chilihead," Heywood is keeping his prize-winning recipe a closely guarded secret.

Not Big Jim's Hogbreath Chili
5 pounds lean beef (chuck or round), cut into 1/2-inch cubes
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 1/2 pounds onions, cut into 1/4-inch cubes
6 cloves garlic, minced
2 cups dark beer

1 pint beef broth
One 6-ounce can tomato paste
1 1/2 cups diced green chilies, cut into 1/4-inch cubes
2 to 3 fresh jalapeno peppers, minced very fine
3/4 cup chili powder
3 tablespoons ground cumin seed
1 1/2 tablespoons dried oregano

Salt and pepper to taste
Brown beef in oil. Remove beef, reserving oil in pan. Cook onions and garlic in remaining oil until soft. Add dark beer, reserved beef, beef broth and tomato paste; bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 1 hour, stirring frequently. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer for another hour, stirring frequently. Salt and pepper to taste. Makes 5 quarts.

Chili Topping Sauce
1 pound skinless hot dogs
1 pint water
2 medium onions, peeled and coarsely chopped
1 pound 80-percent lean ground beef

One 28-ounce can crushed tomatoes
1 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon ground cumin
3 teaspoons chili powder
1/2 cup beer
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Salt to taste
Cook hot dogs in water until heated through. Remove hot dogs; reserve water. Grind hot dogs and onions using a meat grinder. Combine with the 1 pound ground beef in a large frying pan; cook over medium heat until beef is cooked through. Add the reserved water, tomatoes, hot pepper sauce, Worcestershire sauce, cumin and chili powder. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Combine beer and cornstarch; mix to form a smooth paste. Stir into meat mixture and cook until slightly thickened, about 3 to 4 minutes. Season to taste with salt. Sauce can be served with hamburgers and hot dogs. Makes 1 1/2 quarts.

Chili fanatics will enjoy different recipes, flavors

By The Associated Press

For the chili fanatics in your house: Beef and Black Bean Chili, made with boneless beef chuck eye roast, and Chili con Puerco, made with pork shoulder roast. Plan on letting these dishes simmer about two hours on top of the stove.

Beef and Black Bean Chili

3/4 cup dried black beans
One 2-pound boneless beef chuck eye roast

3 tablespoons olive oil
2 large green bell peppers, chopped
1 large onion, chopped
2 to 4 jalapeno peppers, seeded and finely chopped
3 cloves garlic, minced
1/4 cup chili powder
1 tablespoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

One 28-ounce can crushed tomatoes in puree

1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
3/4 cup dairy sour cream
Sourdough bread
Soak beans in cold water to cover

12 hours or overnight. Drain and rinse beans. Combine beans and 1 quart water in large saucepan, heat to boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes or until beans are tender.

Meanwhile, trim excess fat from boneless beef chuck eye roast; cut beef into 1/2-inch cubes. Heat oil in Dutch oven over medium heat until hot. Add bell peppers, onion, jalapeno peppers and garlic; cook 10 minutes or until tender, stirring frequently. Increase heat to high; add beef. Cook 6 minutes or until beef is no longer pink, stirring frequently. Reduce heat to low; stir in chili powder, cumin, salt and pepper. Cook and stir 1 minute. Stir in tomatoes. Cover and simmer 1 hour and 20 minutes. Drain beans; add to pan and simmer 10 minutes. Transfer chili to serving bowl. Serve with cheese, sour cream and sourdough bread. Makes 6 servings.

Chili con Puerco

2 pounds boneless pork shoulder roast
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or shortening

3 cups chopped onions
3 cloves garlic, minced
3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes
1-3rd cup chili powder
1 tablespoon dried oregano leaves
1 to 2 teaspoons cumin
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, to taste

1 bay leaf
One 14 1/2-ounce can chicken broth

Slice pork roast into 3/4-inch slices. Cut slices into 3/4-inch cubes. Heat bacon drippings in Dutch oven over medium-high heat. Brown pork. Add onions and garlic. Cook and stir until onions are tender. Stir in remaining ingredients. Simmer, uncovered, about 1 1/2 hours or until meat is very tender and liquid is thickened. Stir occasionally. Makes 8 servings.

(Recipe from: National Pork Producers Council)

Hot 'n Spicy Beef And Corn Chili

1 pound lean ground beef
4 teaspoons Spicy Seasoning Mix (recipe follows)
Vegetable cooking spray

1 medium onion, chopped
Salt to taste
Two 14 1/2- to 16-ounce cans tomatoes, undrained

2 cups frozen whole kernel corn, or one 15-ounce can kidney, pinto or black beans, drained and rinsed
Sprinkle beef with 2 teaspoons of the spicy seasoning mix. Coat a large deep skillet with vegetable cooking spray. Heat the skillet over medium heat for 5 minutes. Brown ground beef with chopped onions about 5 to 6 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season with salt, if desired.

Break tomatoes up with the back of the spoon. Add undrained tomatoes, corn and remaining 2 teaspoons spicy seasoning mix to the beef mixture. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to medium-low, and simmer 18 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Spicy Seasoning Mix

3 tablespoons chili powder
2 teaspoons ground coriander
2 teaspoons cumin
1 1/2 teaspoons garlic powder
3/4 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
1/2 teaspoon ground red pepper
Combine all ingredients. Store, covered, in an airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Makes about 1-3rd cup.

(Recipe from: Meat Board Test Kitchens)

Chili and Sausage Pasta Salad

8 ounces rotelle, uncooked
1 pound Chorizo sausage or hot Italian sausage
1 bunch scallions, finely sliced
1 medium red pepper, seeded and chopped

Dr. Lamb

DEAR READER: I had an insulin-producing tumor, an insulinoma, removed two years ago. I was reading your article about people with hypoglycemia and how important it is to maintain a good diet, and that there are tumors in the pancreas which can cause low blood sugar.

What are the chances of a tumor coming back in a person who has had an insulinoma? What are the causes? Could eating too many sweets cause the problem? I feel very lucky to be alive. Could I become a diabetic later in life? Sometimes I feel a bit thirsty after I eat sweets.

DEAR READER: An insulin-producing tumor is rather rare. They are almost always benign. Once such a tumor is removed, a person is cured. The catch is to be sure that there is not more than one such tumor present and to be sure to get all of them if there are more than one. If that has been done, it is unlikely that you would have another one.

I can't tell you why anyone has a tumor that produces insulin. Although we understand how tumors are formed, the reason they are formed is not established. I can tell you that eating sweets does not cause an insulinoma. As you probably know from your experience, they will cause you to be hungry all the time and lead to overeating and obesity. Fatigue is a common symptom with low blood sugar. I always remember the animal caretaker in pharmacology at my medical school who was vastly overweight with many problems. He was discovered to have an insulinoma, which was removed and his weight returned to normal. He was then on the lean side.

Hypoglycemia from an insulinoma is quite different from the more common complaints attributed to reactive hypoglycemia after consuming sweets or starches. I have discussed the forms of hypoglycemia in Special Report 88, Your Blood Glucose Level and Hypoglycemia. Those who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/88, P.O. Box 5537, River-ton, NJ 08077.
