THE WHITEFACE FOOTBALL team took it on the chin at Lubbock Thursday night, being blanked by Monterey in the final game of the season. But many fans considered it a successful year as the team finished 5-5 in what most folks considered a "rebuilding" year, and prospects are bright for next season.

One of the cheery notes, of course, is the fine record compiled by the junior varsity team. They lost only one game this season and, mixed with the younger players who gained experience on the varsity this season, next year's Herd squad could be a playoff contender.

IT WASN'T LONG ago that employees who were late for work feared the pink slip.

Flat tires, non-ringing alarm clocks, non-starting engines, train delays, late busses and bad weather, all received the blame for peoples' tardiness.

Needless to say, all of these excuses were necessary because employers expected their workers to be on time. After all, it's only fair that in order to receive a full day's pay, one must put in a full day's work.

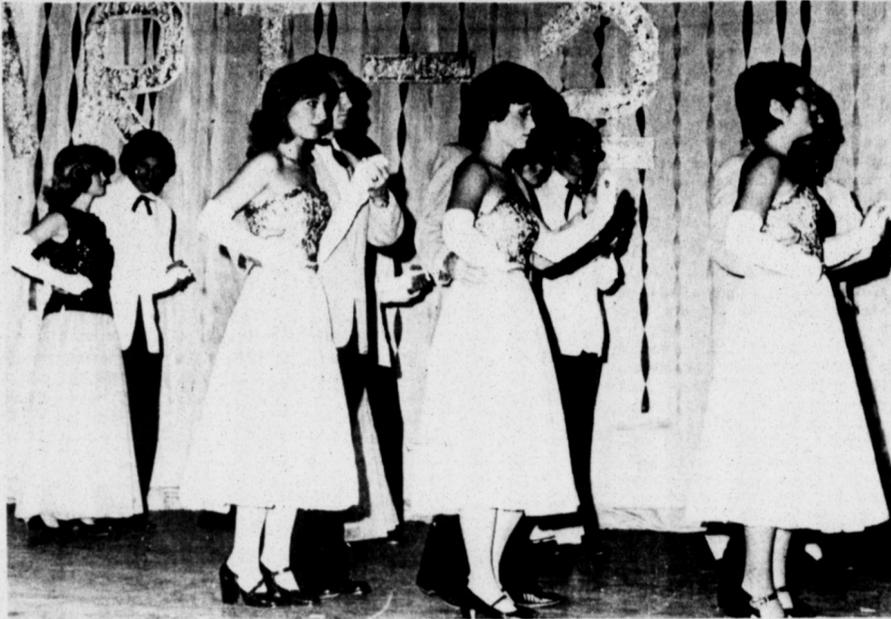

But, labor unions have changed all that.

United Press International reports that the contract negotiations between officials of Deere and Co., Moline, Ill. and their 31,000 striking employees, members of the United Auto Workers, have broken off. A snag has developed between company officials and the local union in the area of paid time off.

At present, Deere gives its workers an "earned bonus hour." Under this program employees can earn an hour and a half of paid time off each week in which they are not absent from work and are not late for work.

As incredible as it seems, employer-

Occupiers Threaten Harsh Action If Shah Taken Out of Country

By The Associated Press

An estimated 80,000 demonstrators marched on the U.S. Embassy in Tehran today and Moslem militants threatened to take harsh action against their hostages inside the mission if the United States forced the shah to go to any country but Iran.

NBC-TV news in Tehran said the march on the embassy was the biggest since the hostages were seized, Nov. 4. After Moslem Sabbath prayers, loud-speakers broadcasting from minibuses led the demonstrators in anti-American chants.

The protest took on a carnival atmosphere, the British Broadcasting Corp. reported, with families and vendors mixing with the demonstrators. A long line of Tehran taxis drove past the embassy carrying stuffed animal effigies of wood and straw which people in the crowd struck while shouting anti-American slogans. It was not clear what the animals signified.

A spokesman for the militants inside the embassy told Tehran Radio: "We announce the message of the Iranian people to the world that if America expels the shah, it will be committing an offense even greater than its previous ones. The shah should be delivered to the Iranian nation with his hands tied. If America expels the shah, it must be certain that harsher decisions will be taken against the hostages."

The Associated Press in Bonn, West Germany reached the embassy in Tehran by telephone and spoke with a student who said, "So far those hostages are safe here and in a comfortable condition."

"But I'm not sure what would happen if the United States lets the shah leave. I'm not sure what action the people will take."

The broadcast, monitored in London, also said the militants would boycott American goods and that they urged other Iranians to ban U.S. products in any way possible during the coming week.

So far the U.S. government has refused to meet the militants' demand for the shah's extradition, and has given no indication it planned to expel him.

Sonnenberg - 'Realtor of the Year'

The accent was on laughter as the Hereford Board of Realtors convened for its annual Installation Banquet Thursday night at the Hereford Country Club. Some 125 realtors and their guests attended the affair, during which Billie Sonnenberg was installed as president of the board for 1980.

Mrs. Sonnenberg completed a sweep of honors for the night as she was also named "Realtor of the Year" by the board, and was recognized for that honor by next year's vice president, James Self. Other officers installed last night include Beverly Lambert, secretary-treasurer; Tommy Bowling, multiple listing chairman; Joe Emanuel and Pat Ferguson, directors, and Neil Cooper, director past president.

The crowd was entertained for some 45 minutes by the vocal antics of guest speaker James "Doc" Blakely, Ph.D. Blakely delighted the audience with a variety of stories using the accent of the English, Irish, Scottish, German, Scandinavian and Japanese people, among others.

Della Dunn of Amarillo, vice president of Region 1 of the Texas Association of Realtors, was on hand to formally install the new officers. Realtor of the Year for 1978, Mark Andrews, presented some other special awards, including plaques to outgoing MLS Chairman Lloyd Shatp, and Mrs. Sonnenberg and Cooper, outgoing secretary-treasurer and president respectively.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is blaming resounding House rejection of the president's standby hospital cost control plan on the medical lobby, but says it isn't about to admit defeat.

Although administration officials were surprised and upset over the House action Thursday, White House press secretary Jody Powell said "the ball game is not over yet" and vowed to get the hospital cost control legislation passed.

The next step may be to try to get the Senate to adopt the bill first.

On Thursday, the House voted 234-166 to dump Carter's plan in favor of a measure that would let the hospitals voluntarily police their own costs. It was a heavy blow to the administration since the bill had been touted as a key element in Carter's fight against inflation.

The new bill, authored by Rep. Richard A. Gephardt, D-Mo., and approved on a 321-75 vote, would also establish a special commission to study the causes of rising hospital costs and report its findings to Congress.

Powell described the House action as a "victory for the highly financed special interest lobby and a defeat for the common good."

He said he was referring to the hospital industry.

As members filed into the House chamber to vote Thursday, they passed through a waiting throng of hospital lobbyists packed in the hallway. There was a handful of administration lobbyists, too.

"We worked our heads off," said one White House representative who asked not to be named. "It was disappointing. We thought more members would come with us.... We didn't think it would be this bad."

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., however, wasn't surprised at the defeat. He said he was never optimistic about passage, even though he pleaded with the House to save the Carter bill.

Asked why the administration pressed for House action, O'Neill said, "I guess they figured they're in as good a shape as they'll ever be."

For two years, the administration has been promoting its own legislation that would have established guidelines for increases in hospital expenditures.

Carter's plan said hospitals that failed

President Becomes Vocal over Iranians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, taking a hard line, says he will hold the Iranian government accountable for the safety of some 60 Americans held hostage in Tehran.

"This is an act of terrorism totally outside the bounds of international law and diplomatic tradition," the president said.

Carter's strong statement, made Thursday in a speech to an AFL-CIO convention here, marked a shift toward a blunt public approach to the regime of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

An administration official who asked not to be named admitted that U.S. diplomatic efforts have failed to produce "the elements of a solution."

He said Iranian authorities have gradually eased off a demand for return of the shah for trial, but added that their control over the students who occupy the U.S. Embassy in Tehran is uncertain.

Asked why the president had chosen to take a tough, public line, a U.S. official replied, "Somebody has to make our position clear."

On Sunday, an administration spokesman asked "politicians and statesmen" to refrain from statements that might inflame the situation.

That appeal was issued by Hodding Carter at the State Department after Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, and former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said there should be no yielding to blackmail.

In his speech Thursday, the president said seizure of the embassy violated basic principles of American law. He vowed the

Audience Review: 'Follies' Receives Praises

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

The first night of "Strictly Bull, Part 2," has come and gone, leaving 10 people in attendance surveyed by The Brand with impressions ranging from "fantastic" to "darling" to "alright."

Favorable reviews strongly outweighed criticisms after the second Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce "Follies" presentation Thursday night. The show will continue tonight at 7:30 and conclude Saturday night.

"I thought it was just darling," said Mary Thomas, who added that she couldn't compare the show with last year's "Follies" since she was out of town.

"I loved every bit of it—it says more for this community than anything I can think of," Mrs. Thomas said. "The gags below the stage were simply hilarious. We had a blast."

The off-stage gags in the first act didn't appeal to everyone, though.

"I would have liked it a little better with fewer gags, but my taste is probably different than a lot of folks," Jim Sears said. "But, I thought it was good show; it was all good."

"I don't think we needed so many gag things," Susan Hicks said, "but I had a good time. I liked Susie Curtsinger in 'I Remember It Well.' And I liked the 'Harem Cuties.' I liked the things you could enjoy without having to listen all that close."

Greg Black enjoyed "Send in the Clowns," performed by John Gililand and Jan Waiser "and the overall singing—the singing was excellent. I really did enjoy it."

In one of the gags, Gililand, dressed as a woman, sat in the lap of John David Bryant.

"I didn't like that ugly lady sitting in my lap, and I didn't get fresh with her, no matter what she says. But, I thought it was a very good show—the routines were real good to have no more practice than they had. They stayed in step and the music was good," Bryant said.

Mrs. Troys Carmichael, liked Mrs. Hicks, enjoyed, in particular, the "Harem Cuties." She said: "It was just a real good show."

Mrs. Mack McCarter called the show "fantastic," adding she felt that was "because I knew most of the people in it and they did an excellent job."

"I thought 'Dixie' and 'Swanee' were good, and the robin (When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along) was darling. I got tickled when he came across the stage. I liked the jokes up on stage, but the lady screaming and yelling, I didn't really care for."

"It was really very outstanding," Dave Hopper said. "I thought the added participation this year over 1st made it a better show. I thought Danny Boyer (a drunk) was the funniest thing around."

"I think people enjoy a little more action, though, a little more dancing, rather than standing and singing."

Mrs. Tom Hamlett said the Deaf Smith County Clerk B.F. Cain said Thursday that any person who has not received a new, white voter registration card by today should come by his office to receive a card.

Cards were mailed Tuesday, and those with incorrect addresses were returned to the clerk's office.

Cain said that persons not receiving cards should come by the county courthouse instead of telephoning.

Gold registration cards are valid until Feb. 29, 1980 and should not be destroyed.

Rice VP Named

President of NTSU

DENTON, Texas (AP) — Civil War historian and Rice University vice president Frank E. Vandiver was named today as the new president North Texas State University.

Announcement of Vandiver's appointment came from NTSU Board of Regents Chairman Winfree L. Brown.

Vandiver, 54, provost and vice president of academics at Rice, was picked from a field of more than 200 candidates. The job pays $43,900, plus a $400 monthly housing allowance and supplemental funds raised among the school's alumni.

The job has been vacant since last April when W.C. "Jitter" Nolen resigned after disclosures of financial mismanagement involving the university's private fund-raising foundation. Nolen was scheduled to testify before a private meeting of the Texas House General Investigating Committee in Austin when he stepped down April 12.

The panel was investigating allegations that state funds and private gifts to the school had been illegally transferred to the foundation.

2nd-Largest Bank

Raises Lending Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Citibank, the nation's second-largest bank, raised its prime lending rate today from 15 1/2 percent to a record 15 3/4 percent.

Citibank said its formula for determining the prime called for a 16 percent rate, but that it had decided on the smaller increase.

The prime rate, charged by banks to their best corporate customer, has no direct effect on consumer loan rates, but is seen as an indicator of where other rates may be headed. Banks use the prime to set rates on nearly all commercial-industrial loans, with all but the most credit-worthy businesses buying rates several percentage points above the base rate.

The prime has been rising rapidly in recent months, the result of credit-tightening steps being taken by the Federal Reserve in an attempt to stem inflation.

Some analysts have been predicting that interest rates would peak soon, and Rep. Henry Reuss, chairman of the House Banking Committee, has lately been critical of banks for their prime rate increases.

Mine Workers May

Have New Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hospitalized Arnold Miller, whose fitness to run the United Mine Workers has come under increasing debate, is giving up control just one week after accusing union vice president Sam Church, his successor, of plotting his ouster.

The union's executive board was meeting today to formally accept Miller's resignation and to name him president emeritus, an action that automatically makes Church head of the 270,000-member union.

Union General Counsel Harrison Combs said in advance of the meeting that he had seen a copy of the board's resolution. He said he learned Thursday that Miller had decided to resign.

In fragile health for many years, Miller, 56, has been hospitalized in Charleston, W. Va., since suffering a heart attack while hunting four days ago.

His frequent absences from the union headquarters here have led more and more board members to question whether he was still fit to run the union. One, who asked not to be identified, said Miller "is incapable because of his sickness. He can't run the union."

District Judge Indicted For Official Misconduct

DENTON, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Bob Scofield, who has been embroiled in a legal battle because of a gag rule he imposed on grand jurors last June, has been indicted on misdemeanor charges of official misconduct in an unrelated case.

A Denton County grand jury — not the same one Scofield tangled with over the gag rule — indicted the judge Thursday night after an all-day session.

Scofield was accused of using an "unauthorized exercise of his official power" against Lt. Gary Matheson of the Denton Police Department.

Matheson has been fighting an unfavorable civil service ruling and previously filed his own complaint against Scofield. The police lieutenant complained that the judge and Police Chief Robert Mills met to discuss Matheson's appeal of the civil service ruling before Scofield issued a ruling on the appeal.

Scofield denied that allegation and asked a grand jury in April to investigate whether Matheson had lodged a "false plotting his ouster."

But the indictment alleges Scofield requested the grand jury to subpoena Matheson to testify about his complaint so that Matheson "would possibly perjure himself," and that Scofield intended to "advise the public of the issuance of the subpoena and...advise Matheson's superior officers of the findings of the grand jury."

Iranians Avoid Detection

While President Carter and diplomats prayed for Americans being held in Tehran, some Iranian students in Southern California reportedly were dying their hair to evade detection and a wave of anti-Iran sentiment prompted new protests across the country.

Meanwhile, FBI agents and Tennessee officials were searching Thursday for a man who told a Nashville television station his organization might kidnap and possibly execute Iranians unless the siege at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran ends.

And in Chicago, a man telephoned newspapers and television stations to claim an Iranian student group was responsible for a bomb that exploded aboard an American Airlines flight from Chicago. No one was injured in the explosion Thursday and the plane landed safely in Washington, D.C.

The man, who did not identify himself but said he was a member of the group, threatened more bombings if actions such as deportation were taken against Iranians in the Chicago area. The FBI had no comment but was investigating the report.

The tensions began last week when Iranians seized the U.S. embassy, taking 62 Americans hostage to demand the return of the shah, who is in New York for cancer and gallbladder treatment. The United States has refused to send the shah back to Iran for trial.

In developments Thursday: —Iranian officials closed their Houston consulate, saying police refused to provide protection during recent demonstrations. Police denied the allegations.

—A Palestinian student at California's Sacramento State University said two friends were hit with broken bottles by students who thought they were Iranian. "Any student with dark hair and a mustache" is subject to attack, said Yousef Ishmial. —An Iranian student in Denver was charged with first-degree murder, two counts of attempted murder and several assault charges in a shooting Sunday that left one high school boy dead and two injured. Police said the youths were harassing Afshin Shariati.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Iranian embassy said a growing number of Iranian students, concerned for their safety and a possible shortage of funds, "are calling us and saying they would like to go back to Iran." Hossein Ava said the embassy had sent a cable to Tehran seeking instructions.

employee relations have come full circle. Rather than getting the heave-ho for being late, workers are now being rewarded if they're on time. Tardiness means nothing more than losing some extra paid time off. But what is even more absurd is the strike itself. It seems that the union wants still more paid time off for being on time for work.

At the bargaining table, the company, according to the report, offered to increase the time off to one and three-quarters hours, a 17 percent increase. However, this was not satisfactory to the union people.

HERE'S ONE for the record. The Louisiana Supreme Court has ruled that a candidate for the governor's office cannot put his new name on the ballot.

The demonstrators holding the hostages reacted angrily Thursday to acting Foreign Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr's suggestion that women and non-white hostages be set free in the next few days without the shah's extradition.

Tehran Radio quoted the militants as saying, "Our conditions are known...We denounce any negotiations concerning the hostages' release before the United States extradites the deposed shah. We remind government officials to pay attention to internal problems connected with, the people, instead of negotiating abroad and paying attention to international public opinion."

U.S. officials say the shah might be well enough to travel in two weeks. The Mexican government is expected to give him refuge again, and he also has been invited to Egypt.

But Iran's ambassador to Britain, Ali Afooz, said that would not cool the U.S.-Iranian conflict.

"Egypt or Mexico — they're U.S. puppets. It doesn't matter where he goes," the ambassador said at a new conference in London.

Deter Youth From Life Of Crime, Warden Urges

SOMERS, Conn. (AP) — As a young man, Carl Robinson nearly had a career as a line-man in professional football. In that sport, an offense is what scores points and wins game. But today, in his job as warden of Connecticut's maximum security prison, Robinson knows that the term "offense" is often a mild legal description for the crime that keeps men behind bars.

"You know that nine times out of 10, they are not going to realize their potential," he said of the inmates, adding, "That's the one thing that I feel is difficult about the job."

The 44-year-old Robinson has been at Somers for seven years. While he concedes that it is sometimes sad work, he says his years in corrections work haven't left him bitter.

"A lot of our people are victims of society. They never had a chance and that's sad," he said. "That's really what we should be addressing. At all cost we should keep young people out of the criminal-justice system because once they get on that cycle it's the end."

Robinson is familiar with that fact. He previously served as superintendent at the state corrections facility for juveniles at Cheshire, and the former state

Robinson is an enormous man — 6 feet 5, weighing 325 pounds — and still resembles the professional football player he was 20 years ago during brief stints with the San Francisco 49ers and the Boston Patriots.

FBI Investigating Reports That Bomb Planted by Iranians

CHICAGO (AP) — The FBI said today it is investigating reports that a bomb which exploded aboard an American Airlines jetliner on a flight from Chicago to Washington, D.C., was the work of a pro-Iranian group. No one was injured in the incident.

The group claiming responsibility for the incident in anonymous telephone calls to the news media here threatened more bombings if actions were taken against Iranians in the Chicago area.

President Carter has ordered the investigation of the visa status of Iranian students in the United States in response to the taking of some 60 American hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Eighty passengers and crew members escaped the smoke-filled plane moments after American Flight 444 made an emergency landing Thursday afternoon at Washington's Dulles International Airport.

The Chicago Tribune, and the television stations, WBBM and WMAQ reported receiving calls from a man claiming an Iranian student group was responsible for the bombing.

The man, calling some 12 hours after the explosion, said he was a member of the group and threatened more bombings if actions were taken against Iranians in the Chicago area.

Investigators say the small explosive device was in a mail container in the plane's cargo hold. A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board, who asked not to be named, said it was a "very low yield" bomb.

Authorities said parts of an explosive device, including a battery and an altimeter, were recovered. An altimeter is an instrument designed to measure altitude and may have triggered the bomb as the plane climbed, authorities said. The 727 jetliner was en route from Chicago to Washington's National Airport when the explosion occurred. "About half way to Washington, there was a sucking sound, like an implosion, in the plane, and a reduction of pressure," said passenger Art Plotnik.

"Very quickly, the whole fuselage filled with smoke. It was as close a call as you can have," he said.

Oxygen masks were lowered, Plotnik said, and "people were really panicking by this time. They were jumping up and down and screaming for the poor stewardesses."

The Washington Post quoted an unidentified source as saying that if the bomb were sent through the mail, the person responsible wouldn't have known what flight it would have been assigned to.

One official, who also asked for anonymity, said the plane

Episcopal Women Meet in Parlor

The Women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church met recently in the Church parlor with Meredith Wilcox presiding in the absence of the president.

The treasurer's report was given by Buddy McBrayer and Francie Farr of the nominating committee announced the slate of new officers. Those installed were: Mary Waldrep, president; Adeline Rush, vice-president; Mary Fraser, treasurer; and Francie Farr, secretary.

These were approved by acclamation. During the business session an announcement was made concerning the luncheon scheduled for Dec. 8 honoring all officers. Ellen Smith, Vera Threewit and Buddy McBrayer are among the committee planning the luncheon.

A discussion was held on forming three Guilds, one of which is to be in Dimmitt. Father Charles Threewit announced that more cook books were on order because the previous order was sold out.

Meredith Wilcox, chairman of the recent bazaar, and Father Threewit expressed their gratitude and thanks to the women for making the bazaar a success. It was announced that some new electrical appliances have been donated to the kitchen, and the Nov. 24 meeting was cancelled.

Bus Tour of Ozarks Taken by Residents

Seven local residents were among 42 tourists who recently traveled on a week-long trip by motorcoach through the Ozarks. From Hereford, besides escorts Robert and Alice Thompson, were Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Cook, Verna Sowell, Helen Sowell and Ursalee Jacobsen.

Departing from Amarillo, the group steered eastward to Oklahoma City for a tour of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame. The lake country of eastern Oklahoma was visited that night at Lake Eufala.

Highlight of the next day's travel was the Talimena Scenic Drive through the Kiamichi Mountains and into Arkansas. Winding their way through the Ozarks, the travelers spent that evening at Fayetteville, Ark.

After visiting the campus of the University of Arkansas, the tourists departed for Pea Ridge Battlefield, Eureka Springs, Christ of the Ozarks statue and on to Branson, Mo. for two nights. In Branson, the group attended the Shepherd of the Hills play and viewed the autumn foliage of the Ozarks while visiting the Shepherd of the Hills Farm. After visiting Silver Dollar City, the travelers attended the Baldnobbers and Hillbilly Jamboree.

From Table Rock Lake, the tourists continued through the Ozarks into Claremore, Okla. for a visit to the Will Rogers Shrine. The tour's farewell banquet was held that evening on Lake Gibson, Okla.

The tourists returned to Amarillo the following day.

BE A FRIEND, HAVE A FRIEND

JOAN DWYER DIRECTOR

GOBBLE, GOBBLE!

by Corda Glover

"Hey you turkey!" "Watch how you say that!" besides whose calling who a turkey?"

I, who will be making a supreme sacrifice, for the privilege of being eaten by some happy holidayer to celebrate what you call Thanksgiving Day, have the right to be a little stuffy.

Thanks to some fool ancestor of mine, my life and the lives of all turkeys has ended for the glorious celebration of YOUR "Thanksgiving." Can you beat that?!

It used to be that a turkey was a TURKEY. The name showed some honor and respect for our worthy plight in life. Now I shudder to think of the implications.

I've tried to unite fellow American turkeys to promote zero population, even spread the rumor of a turkey shortage and talked to Congress to at least change the holiday name to "Turkey Day," but of no avail. Our name is still mocked. Only a silent minority calls the celebration "Turkey day."

So I've lived it up the past year—ate well, slept well, been pampered and such, at least I know I'll die for a worthy cause and contribute some small gift to humanity.

"So, Happy Turkey Day!"

"Gobble, Gobble now!"

History of Holiday Presented to Club

The history of Thanksgiving was traced by Mrs. L.N. Cox Tuesday afternoon for members of Lone Star Study Club during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Guy Newsom. Mrs. Jim Bookout was cohostess.

Mrs. Cox described the different customs related to the observance of Thanksgiving in various parts of the world. She told of the first Thanksgiving in America and traced the observance to modern-day. She read a poem about Thanksgiving and closed by reading George Washington's proclamation declaring Thanksgiving Day. Ursalee Jacobsen, president, conducted a brief business meeting.

Welcomed as a guest was Mrs. James Dunivan.

Members in attendance were Mmes. Bookout, Cox, Don R. Davidson, V.E. Dodson, J.J. Durham, W.H. Goettsch, H.E. Henslee, John Jacobsen, F.O. Naylor, Newsom, John R. Stevenson, Dale Tinnin, J.W. Williams, S.S. Williams, M.H. Wiseman, C.B. Womble, Robert Thompson, Ray Suit and Mildred Elliott.

Ann Landers

Puzzled Bride

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My closest friend is getting married soon and needs your help in making a very important decision.

"Harriet's" mother left her father when she was just a toddler. Her mother has remarried, and Harriet thinks the world of her stepfather—even though she loves her natural father very much and sees him all the time.

Harriet's mother is a very domineering person. She insists on paying for the wedding, selecting the reception hall, etc. She also wants her husband to give the bride away.

My friend is no match for her mother, but she had made one thing clear: if she can't have her own father walk her down the aisle, she will not permit her stepfather to do the honors. The question is this: Would it be proper if Harriet's mother walked her down the aisle? Or should Harriet walk alone? Please don't suggest a favorite uncle, because she has so many she doesn't want to risk hurting anyone's feelings—Friend Of The Puzzled Bride

DEAR FRIEND: It would be inappropriate for the bride to walk down the aisle alone, or with her mother. I suggest that she put the names of her uncles in a hat and ask you to draw the name of the one who is to walk her down the aisle. Then no one will be offended.

DEAR ANN: We raised our only grandchild in a loving home. We saved the money her father sent us for her support. When the time came, she was able to go to college and have a car.

On her 18th birthday, we went to a lawyer and had everything put in her name. She met and fell in love with a boy who didn't have anything. We fed, clothed and loved him as if he were our own. Now they are married, and he has come to our home demanding that we give his wife the balance of the money.

We refused, so they are not speaking to us. I still feel that to give them this money would be the same as throwing it away. But is withholding it worth the price?—Gram And Gramps

DEAR GRAM AND GRAMPS: There are some conflicting statements in your letter. For example: If you put everything in your granddaughter's name on her 18th birthday, why do you still have the legal right to withhold the money from her?

Of course, it would be sad if the young woman squandered her savings, but it's hers to do with as she pleases. Better talk this over with the attorney who handled the transaction when she was 18. If possible, the money should be transferred to the granddaughter and not her husband—just in case.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your letters from "Mama's Boys" and "Daddy's Girls" made me decide to write you one about "Mama's Girl." I need help.

When I was going with Cathy she always said her mother would come first, and now she's proving it. We haven't had an evening alone for six weeks. Either her mother is here for supper, or we are at her place. Last Sunday Cathy got the flu and went to her mother's house to be nursed back to health. I am by myself. Where do I stand?—Lancaster, Pa.

DEAR ANN: Second to your mother-in-law, which is where Cathy said you stood before she married you. You can't say she didn't warn you, Bub.

Using Spices, Herbs For Variety

COLLEGE STATION — Spice is the variety of life—if you know how to use it in foods, says Dr. Rose Tindall, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Dr. Tindall is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M university System.

First, it helps to know just a bit about spices and herbs, she says.

Most true spices come from the hot, steamy tropics.

Herbs and the aromatic seeds, on the other hand, thrive in temperate climates of the Mediterranean, Northern Europe and, more recently, California.

Spice history starts with Biblical days, and we can trace it through the Orient to Europe and then to the United States, now the prime figure in world spice buying centered in New York.

SPICE STORAGE
Flavors of spices and herbs depend on the volatile components they contain.

So protect them from heat, strong light and moisture.

Resealed packages are good for several months, but if you rub a bit of spice or herb between your palms and there is no aroma, then discard it.

USING SPICES, HERBS

If you aren't familiar with spices, then start with a standard recipe direction—or, to experiment, use 1/4 teaspoon to each four servings.

Since dried herbs are stronger and more aromatic than fresh ones, use only 1/4 teaspoon of dried herb leaf for every two teaspoons of fresh minced herb—or vice versa.

To unlock the flavor of dried herbs or spices, always add them to the liquid in your recipe.

Ex-Banker Says Spanking Used To Collect Loans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Former banker David Rhodes says spanking customers was an effective way of getting tardy loan payments — until some of his customers threatened to tell his superiors about the paddlings.

Now the former bank manager, who spanked the delinquent customers in his office with a wooden paddle, has been sentenced to a three-year prison term for misappropriating more than $88,000 in bank funds.

"I didn't want to hurt the bank, yet I couldn't stop what had started," said Rhodes, adding he was relieved when bank auditors detected the scheme. "I wanted to keep the bank's customers, to help the bank flourish, but it turned into a nightmare."

U.S. District Judge Paul A. Simmons issued the sentence on Thursday to Rhodes, former manager of a Century National Bank branch in Baden, Pa., who was arrested in August by FBI agents.

Rhodes, 38 and father of two, told Simmons the spankings started as a joke but snowballed out of control.

He said he paddled more than 50 persons who were delinquent on loan payments. "I never had any trouble with them afterwards," said Rhodes.

Rhodes estimated he averaged about 1,500 loans a year at the Beaver County bank from 1964 until his discharge in 1978.

However, Rhodes told the court he was forced to make eight unrecorded loans totaling $88,268 when six of those who were spanked threatened to report him to his superiors.

One of the six, none of whom has been charged, demanded more money or "he was going to make it out as a homosexual activity," Rhodes told Simmons.

Although he was aware the loans were illegal, Rhodes said he didn't turn himself in because he didn't think the authorities would believe his story. Bank officials said they could have made $348,000 had they been able to use the money in regular channels.

Defense attorney David Joyce said Rhodes, now manager of a cigar and candy firm, had no previous criminal record and enjoyed a spotless reputation in the community prior to his arrest.

"He was involved in a vicious cycle," said Joyce. Psychiatric tests showed that Rhodes did not have a mental problem.

Simmons said the sentence was in line with similar offenses under similar circumstances.

"I'm not trying to hurt you," the judge told Rhodes. "I'm just trying to do what is fair."

Simmons recommended that Rhodes serve the time at the federal regional correctional institution in Mercer County so he might qualify for a work-release program.

Herd Blanked In Final Game At Lubbock

Whitefaces Post 5-5 Record

Monterey had already assured themselves at least a tie for the 4-AAAA district title and a place in the bi-district playoffs, but the Plainsmen showed everyone last night that they were undisputed champions thrashing the Whitefaces 38-0, raising their record to 9-1 and 4-0 in district play.

Hereford Head Coach Don Compton commented after the game. "Everything we did just went sour."

Monterey went to work from the very start of the game jumping out to a 18-0 first quarter lead.

After receiving the opening kickoff the Monterey offense started from its own 23. On the second play of the drive, Plainsmen quarterback Kent Potts hit Ricky Pinkerton on the sideline and Pinkerton raced 75 yards for the touchdown. The PAT failed and Monterey led the game 6-0.

Monterey started a drive from its own seven with 4:21 left in the first quarter. The drive highlighted by a 23 yard draw to Willie Johnson and a 63 yard pass play from Potts to Joe Cockrell which put the ball on the Hereford five yard line. Two plays later Willie Johnson got his first touchdown of the night taking it in from two yards out. Once again the PAT failed and Hereford was down 12-0.

The Monterey defense was closing holes and giving the Herd no time to throw. On its first two drives of the night the Herd accumulated a minus 17 yards rushing and no pass completions.

After the second Monterey touchdown, Hereford set up housekeeping on its own 27. On the first play of the drive quarterback Alan Wartes went to pitch the ball out to Jamie Valdez only to have his pitchout intercepted by Guard Steve Coleman who raced 27 yards for the second Monterey touchdown inside 10 seconds. The extra point was no good and Monterey was up 18-0 with 44 seconds left in the first quarter.

On the Whitefaces next set of downs, quarterback Derek Dirks completed his first pass of the night for 15 yards to Donald Delozier. It was the first time the Whitefaces had got into the plus column on offense all night. The drive was stalled however at the Hereford 34 and the Herd punted the ball away where Monterey started from the 50 yard line. Four plays into the drive Potts handed the ball off to Johnson who hit the whole like lightning and went 31 yards for the fourth Monterey score of the night. Darren White kicked the extra point and the Whitefaces were down 25-0.

Monterey scored later in the half on a two yard run by Potts and with the PAT good. Monterey led at halftime 32-0.

Hereford was held to minus 29 yards rushing in the first half 35 yards passing.

The second half was a little better for the Herd even though they were unable to get on the scoreboard. Hereford mounted 54 yards on the ground and another 29 in the air.

Monterey pulled its first string out in the second half and added only one more score a 10 yard pass from reserve quarterback Darron White to Clay Powell, bringing the score to the final of 38-0.

Dirks completed six of 11 passes for 64 yards while Hereford's leading rusher was Ray Harris who had 18 yards on nine carries.

Willie Johnson gained 75 yards on seven carries to lead all rushers while Potts hit four out of five passes for 160 yards.

Monterey total offense for the night was 338 yards while Hereford was held to 25 on the ground and 64 in the air for a total of 89 yards.

Hereford closed its season with a 5-5 record overall and 1-3 in district play.

Herd JV Quarterback Matt Collier cuts back across the grain mid-way through a long burst against the Monterey JV in the second period of the two teams' game at Whiteface field yesterday. Collier was finally hauled down at the Plainsmen two-yard-line and the Longhorns scored on the next play enroute to a 24-0 halftime lead and a final 38-0 whitewashing on the Lubbock team. ## JV Whips Monterey, 38-0 To Finish 9-1

The Hereford Junior Varsity pounded Monterey for 24 first half points and defeated the Plainsmen junior varsity 38-0.

It was the ninth win for the Herd JV against only one defeat.

Matt Collier opened up the scoring on a one yard quarterback sneak and John Phibbs kicked the extra point and the Herd was up 7-0.

Hereford picked up two more touchdowns in the second period on a 40 yard pass from Collier to Steve Vaughn.

Collier's second score of the night came on a one yard plunge. Phibbs kicked both PAT and Hereford was in command 21-0. The only other scoring of the period was a 30 yard field goal by Phibbs to put the Herd up at halftime 24-0.

Hereford picked up two more touchdowns in the third period. The first on a 50 yard touchdown pass from Collier to Hector Dominguez.

The final score of the night was credited to the defense when Tony Rodriguez blocked a punt and Scot Gentry recovered it in the end zone. Phibbs kicked the extra point and the final score was 38-0.

It was the fifth time this year that the JV defense has shut out its opponents. Hereford has scored 168 points while giving up only 63 points.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bruce Allen, only 22, is a coaching chip off the old block. Bruce is head football coach at Occidental and is one of the youngest in the country, if not the youngest.

Bruce is a son of George Allen, the well-known pro coach, who made famous the slogan, "The future is now."

The young mentor does not go that far.

"Realistically, I think we'll have a winning team in a couple of years."

Akers Denies LSU Offer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A magazine report that Fred Akers is interested in the head coaching job at Louisiana State University has drawn a denial from the University of Texas mentor.

In denying the report, Akers restated that three years ago when he was at the University of Wyoming he said the only two jobs that interested him were Arkansas and Texas and "I'm where I want to be."

Texas Monthly magazine, in its December publication scheduled for release Monday, carried the report in its "State Secrets" column on the back page.

The magazine said Akers — disturbed over criticism of the offensive performance by his sixth-ranked Longhorns — has "let it be known that he might be interested in" taking over the LSU helm when Charlie McClendon steps down after this season.

The magazine also said there has been friction recently between Akers and Athletic Director Darrell Royal and that Akers felt recruiting might be easier at LSU than in the competitive Southwest Conference.

"I'm only interested in the University of Texas and doing the best we can this season and trying to make it to the Cotton Bowl," Akers told Austin television station KTBC Thursday night.

A spokesman for Texas Monthly said that the magazine stands by its story.

Alabama or Georgia In Sugar Bowl

By The Associated Press

A lot of people connected with college football's bowl games will have Georgia on their minds Saturday.

The unranked Bulldogs, with an untidy 5-4 overall record — but a tidy 5-0 in the Southeastern Conference — can clinch a berth in the Sugar Bowl by defeating 15th-ranked Auburn.

If Georgia wins, and top-ranked Alabama beats Auburn Dec. 1, the Bulldogs and Crimson Tide would finish in a tie for the SEC title with 6-0 records. But Georgia would get the coveted Sugar Bowl spot because Alabama went last season as the league representative.

However, if Auburn beats Georgia, then the Sugar Bowl would have to wait for the Alabama-Auburn result. If Alabama wins or ties that game, then the Tide would go to New Orleans for the New Year's Day bowl game.

But if Auburn — which is on NCAA probation and ineligible for bowl participation — also beats Alabama, then Georgia would back into the Sugar Bowl, and the Crimson Tide might get shut out of a bowl altogether because by that late date, all the major pairings would be completed.

Alabama, sporting the nation's longest winning streak (18 games) and winners of 47 in a row at home, faces non-conference opponent Miami of Florida Saturday at Tuscaloosa.

"It is the opportunity of a lifetime," Miami Coach Howard Schnellenberger said about playing the nation's No. 1 team and trying to beat Bear Bryant, his former coach in college and the man he once served under as an assistant.

Bryant said he was wary of the Hurricanes despite their 4-4 record, including a 26-10 upset over Penn State two weeks ago.

"Any time you win at Penn State, and they won going away, you have done something," Bryant said.

Saturday at 6 p.m. is the time when bowl invitations can be extended officially, and many of the choice spots will be filled then.

One bowl not worried about its matchup is the Rose. No. 4 Southern California, idle Saturday, will be the host team for the 10th time in the past 14 years if it beats UCLA next week. The other Rose Bowl participant will be either second-ranked Ohio State or No. 13 Michigan. The two Big Ten powerhouses meet Saturday at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Both coaches, Earle Bruce of Ohio State and Bo Schembechler of Michigan, agree that the game will hinge on defense.

"The defenses will be strong on both teams," said Schembechler.

"It's been three years since we've beaten Michigan," noted Bruce, in his first year as Ohio State coach after succeeding the controversial Woody Hayes, "three years since we scored a touchdown on them."

The other games involving Top Ten teams Saturday include Iowa State at No. 3 Nebraska, Memphis State at No. 5 Florida State, Texas Christian at No. 6 Texas, No. 7 Oklahoma at Missouri, No. 8 Arkansas at Texas A&M, and Utah at No. 10 Brigham Young. No. 9 Houston is idle.

Washington Picked Over Dallas

By HAL BOCK

AP Sports Writer
Everybody knows that when they go head-to-head, American Football Conference teams hold a distinct edge over their cousins from the National Conference.

The margin is 26-10 for the season and the AFC needs just one more victory to clinch the 52-game series for the sixth straight year. Ignoring that evidence, however, the Pro Picker offers a couple of NFC-over-AFC upsets this week, picking Chicago over the New York Jets and New Orleans over Seattle.

As usual, no guarantees, just hunches. But you knew that already, didn't you?

Last week's 9-5 made the season's record 95-57 for .625.

CHICAGO 24, NY JETS 20: Bears are hot with three straight victories and have discovered that Mike Phipps' arm can gain yards almost as regularly as Walter Payton's legs.

NEW ORLEANS 31, SEATTLE 24: Chuck Muncie and Archie Manning give the Saints too much sock for that Seahawk defense.

PITTSBURGH 20, SAN DIEGO 14: Terry Bradshaw says the Steelers were second-rate last week. Their second rate is better than most teams' first rate.

WASHINGTON 23, DALLAS 21: The Cowboys' midyear dip lasts another week and it will cost Dallas sole possession of the NFC East lead.

MIAMI 19, CLEVELAND 17: Dolphin defense makes the difference here. No team has allowed fewer points than Miami's 142.

NY GIANTS 21, TAMPA BAY 17: Confidence builds every week for Phil Simms, who has the once lackluster Giants playing inspired football.

OAKLAND 30, KANSAS CITY 14: Chiefs are in a spin and the defense is starting to show signs of wear and tear.

NEW ENGLAND 23, BALTIMORE 17: Colts won the first meeting in Baltimore. Now it's the Pats' turn to put on a show for the home fans.

BUFFALO 27, GREEN BAY 21: With quarterback Joe Ferguson calling his own plays for the Bills, the AFC vs. NFC formula works here...

DENVER 34, SAN FRANCISCO 10...and here, too, as the Broncos dominate the defenseless 49ers.

HOUSTON 24, CINCINNATI 21: The difference could be a Toni Fritsch field goal as it is so often for the Oilers.

PHILADELPHIA 21, ST. LOUIS 13: A matchup of 1,000-yard rushers with Wilbert Montgomery of the Eagles against Otis Anderson of the Cardinals. Montgomery has Harold Carmichael on his side, though.

MINNESOTA 17, DETROIT 14: Vikings have fallen on hard times, but not as hard as the Lions.

LOS ANGELES 20, ATLANTA 10 (Monday night): Instead of firing Ray Malavasi, the Rams ought to give him a raise for keeping the club competitive with all those injuries.

Carew Goes Home

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — An incensed Rod Carew says he quit the major league baseball all-star tour of Japan earlier this week mostly because he felt major league officials had renege on endorsement and appearance commitments and he felt he was "being used."

The California Angels' first baseman left the tour, scheduled for nine games and 16 days, after four games and six days, returning to his home on Monday.

Robert Fishel, an American League official, had earlier said Carew left the tour only because of a heel injury. Carew said Thursday that the heel injury was just part of his decision to return home.

Carew said he was initially hesitant to make the trip because of the heel injury that had bothered him during the last two months of the past season. But he said promises from the baseball commissioner's office and the Major League Promotions Bureau that he could make "$40,000 to $50,000" in endorsements and appearances convinced him to make the trip.

"Now I can't help but feel that we were told those things simply so that we would say 'yes' to making the trip," Carew said. "Now I definitely doubt that I'd ever make another."

and American League stars, with the series winners receiving $10,000 each and the losers getting $7,500.

"If I left only because of the heel," Carew said, "I wouldn't have gone in the first place. I wanted to stay home...But they made it sound as if it was something I couldn't pass up. They made all these promises to me and the others and they kept passing the buck."

"You either couldn't find them or they'd tell you to go talk to someone else. Nobody knew what was going on," Carew continued. "I don't appreciate people giving me their word and then avoiding me."

Carew, a seven-time AL batting champion, also was upset by what he thought was unequal treatment of National and American Leaguers.

"The worst thing was that they were pushing the National Leaguers and treating the American Leaguers like dogs," he said. "It's the same thing that always happens at the All-Star Game."

Carew said that after he informed AL team Manager Earl Weaver and a few others that he was going home, some of the major league executives approached him and offered endorsement opportunities.

"But by then," Carew said, "the principle was more important than the money."

King Another Good Rookie

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer
Kansas City Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons, who had a Rookie of the Year last season in Phil Ford, thinks he's got another fine freshman this year in Reggie King.

"Someday we'll be able to send him out bear-hunting with a switch," Fitzsimmons said of the muscular young forward. "I think we got us a good one. I can't believe he was still available on the 18th pick."

Even though they didn't get to pick until late in the first round, Kansas City was still able to get the rebounding forward it was hoping for in the 6-foot-6 King, from Alabama. And he's already paying dividends.

King hauled down four defensive rebounds in the last two minutes Thursday night to help Kansas City defeat the Los Angeles Lakers 114-108. Ford provided the offense, scoring 34 points for the second game in a row.

In other NBA games Thursday night, the San Antonio Spurs outscored the New York Knicks 136-132 and the Golden State Warriors beat the Denver Nuggets 120-102.

The Lakers, who had a three-game winning streak snapped and lost for just the third time in 13 starts, led throughout the first half and held a 61-52 advantage at intermission.

But the Kings closed the gap in the third period and played the Lakers even for most of the fourth quarter before going ahead to stay 107-106 on a free throw by King. Baskets by Ford and Scott Wedman, one free throw by King and two foul shots by Ford kept the Kings on top.

"The second half we went out and started playing aggressive defense," said Ford. "And Reggie did a good job on the boards."

"In college I scored a lot of points but I was mostly a rebounder," said King. "This was my best game rebounding as a pro."

Kansas City has now beaten Philadelphia and Los Angeles, following a six-game losing streak. "I think this gives us a lift, beating two of the top teams in the league," said King.

Spurs 136, Knicks 132
George Gervin scored 33 points and Larry Kenon broke out of a slump with 29 points and 12 rebounds as San Antonio handed New York its fourth consecutive loss.

The Spurs, who hit 52 percent of their field goal attempts, outscored the Knicks 18-5 to build a 103-90 lead and coasted home. The Knicks made the final score close by scoring the game's last eight points after the outcome was decided.

Warriors 120, Nuggets 102

Guard John Lucas scored a season-high 27 points and backcourtmate JoJo White added 18 as the Warriors handed Denver its eighth loss in nine road games. Golden State led 56-44 at halftime after outscoring the Nuggets 23-16 in the second period and stayed comfortably ahead in the second half.

Is That It?

REX GOT THE WORD
LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Head football coach Rex Dockery of Texas Tech laughs when he recalls his debut as a coach in September of 1978. His team journeyed to Los Angeles to play Southern California and checked into the L.A. Coliseum for a workout the day before the game.

too good and everyone knows about the great tradition of the Trojans," Dockery said. "There was an elderly guard stationed at the ramp which led to the field and our players went by him with the coaches bringing up the rear. As we passed him, he shrugged and muttered: 'Is that all you've got?'"

Southern Cal won the game the next day, 17-0.

Will Astros Get Ryan?

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros will own two of the strongest right arms in the major leagues if Nolan Ryan joins the Glasshouse Gang, a possibility that seems to have become a probability.

Houston, which already owns the intimidating fastball of last year's major league strikeout king, J.R. Richard, was one of 12 clubs to select Ryan in the recent free agent draft.

Other serious contenders reportedly were the New York Yankees, Texas Rangers and Milwaukee Brewers.

Although no one on either side was saying a word Thursday, all indications were that the 32-year-old pitcher plans to sign a four-year Astros contract for $4 million-plus.

And Ryan, who grew up on schoolboy diamonds 26 miles from the Astrodome, said from his hometown of Alvin that he had chosen the team he would join. But he wouldn't say which one.

"I'll let the club make its own announcement," he said. "But I've made up my mind, you can say that."

When Ryan's agent, Dick Moss, was asked in New York if the fireballing free agent had signed with the Astros, however, he said, "I can't deny the obvious."

But Moss also said he and Ryan felt a "duty to let the club involved make its announcement the way it wants to make it, and when it wants to make it."

When Ryan declared his free-agent status, he said the nearness of the Astrodome to Alvin was an important consideration for him.

"Houston has everything in its power to sign me," he said.

The Houston Post reported

Thursday that the Astros had done just that, and the formal contract signing would be held Monday, but Astros owner John McMullen and Manager Bill Virdon, said they knew of no such plans.

McMullen, a New York shipbuilder, said no deal had been made with Ryan, but he planned to fly to Houston Monday for an afternoon meeting with his partners on the matter.

Virdon said from his home in Springfield, Mo., that he knew nothing definite about a contract. He said Ryan would make an outstanding attraction for the Houston area.

When asked if Ryan's previous team, the California Angels, had made a serious attempt to retain the pitcher, Moss only said, "I'd rather not comment on that right now. Maybe in a couple of weeks Nolan and I will have something to say about that."

Ryan was 16-14 in 1979 while leading the American League in strikeouts with 223. He will be joining a pitching staff that includes Richard, who hurled 313 strikeouts while going 18-13 last year, and Joe Niekro, who was the only National League pitcher to win 21 games.

Coach Indicted, but Townpeople Stand Behind Him

JACKSBORO, Texas (AP) — Folks in Jacksboro say they're behind head football coach Chuck Curtis 100 percent, despite his indictment by a federal grand jury this week on three counts of making false statements on bank loan applications.

"He's no crook," said Leigh McGee, who has published the Jacksboro Gazette-News for the past 30 years.

"We're all going to stand behind Chuck in this if we have to take hostages, like in Iran," McGee said. "He's done more for this town than anybody."

Curtis, an all-Southwest Conference quarterback at TCU in 1955, is the only man to coach state championship teams in three classifications. He won the Class 2A title at Jacksboro over a decade ago and the Class 3A and 4A titles at Garland.

He was out of coaching from 1972, when he resigned as assistant coach at SMU, until this fall, when he accepted the job of trying to rebuild football fortunes at Jacksboro, which was winless last season.

"He doesn't walk on water, but he has taken a team with an 0-10 record last year and with very little talent, and has gotten just about everything out of them that could be gotten," school board president Jerry Craft said Thursday night.

"We've seen an entire turnaround in the student body this year. In a little town, you don't have a whole lot going for you culture-wise. Everything evolves around the schools and the churches. It's hard to define, but he's got something," Craft said.

"He's making football fun for the kids. Instead of being critical, he points out things to them. There are little kids out there who feel like giants when he talks to them."

Jacksboro is 4-5 going into its final game tonight with Decatur, the strongest team in the district. Craft said, and "we're looking down the road to having some great teams over the next few years."

The grand jury for the Northern District of Texas, meeting Wednesday in Abilene, issued indictments for incidents dating back to January 1975.

The panel said he applied for loans at First State Bank of Bryson, Woodson State Bank of Woodson and First National Bank of Graham, using as collateral property and goods already pledged for loans at City National Bank of Wichita Falls.

His arraignment is scheduled for 9 a.m. Dec. 3, in Wichita Falls.

After leaving his SMU coaching job in 1972, Curtis bought the Bryson bank and a year later bought a herd of Polled Hereford cattle and leased the 4,800-acre W.R. Johnson Ranch in Jacksboro.

"What got him was the terrible drop in cattle prices about 1974. It hurt a bunch of us, wiped out a bunch of ranchers. I was one that got hurt, too, but I wasn't extended as far as he was," Craft said.

"He had thousands of head of cattle over this and several other counties. He was operating real big and making an awful lot of money and was well respected for his ranching ability. He has an excellent business mind and excellent charisma and promoted a lot of big cattle deals."

The collapse in the cattle market came about the time the grand jury says he applied for loans with collateral he already had listed for loans with the Wichita Falls bank. Curtis was forced to declare bankruptcy.

"I was ranching myself, right next to him, and I don't know of anything dishonest he did," Craft said.

"With as many cattle as he had, over several counties and different feedlots and all with the same brand and moving them constantly as the grass played out or wheat started or range conditions merited, I would imagine the banks had trouble keeping up with the collateral."

Craft was a director in a

Jacksboro bank that lost money when Curtis declared bankruptcy.

"I'd say that's a good test for the president of the school board going ahead and hiring a man who owed us money at the bank," Craft said.

Curtis alerted the board when it hired him that he could face indictment.

"We talked with Chuck candidly about this possibility, so we didn't go into it blind. We didn't figure it would happen, to tell you the truth, because the five-year statute of limitations was going to run out this next year," Craft said.

Curtis had informed the school board this week that a grand jury hearing was coming up, "so this wasn't any surprise. But at the same time, I'm surprised, and disappointed, that they indicted him," Craft said.

Craft visited with Curtis before an out-of-town junior varsity game Thursday afternoon and said he told the coach he'd be happy to testify as a character witness.

Curtis offered to resign, the board president said.

"He asked me, 'What should I do? I don't want to embarrass the school. And it's going to. Should I resign?' I told him no, in no uncertain terms. And we certainly aren't going to ask him to," Craft said.

"The indictment has absolutely no bearing on his job here. We have the fullest confidence in him as a coach and as a man."

Clements Concerned over Iran

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — Seizure of the U.S. Embassy and American hostages in Iran is "much more serious" than the Cuban missile crisis of the early 1960s or the more recent Mayaguez incident, says Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements was deputy secretary of defense and a member of the National Security Council when the Cambodians captured the Mayaguez and when North Koreans killed an Army officer in a "tree-chopping episode" in the Korean demilitarized zone.

He told a meeting of West Texas bankers here Thursday that the situation in Tehran is much more volatile than the two "management crises" that occurred during his four-year tenure under presidents Nixon and Ford.

The governor has been a frequent critic of President Carter, but he told the bankers he has no bars for the president's handling of the Iranian takeover.

Americans need to understand "that in a management crisis only a very small group in Washington, D.C., has the responsibility for making the decision," the Texas governor said.

"We should stand back and let them make them. Any decisions have to be based on the latest intelligence and its implications," he said.

"No one in the public sector has this kind of information. Those people up there — who we elected — are charged with that responsibility, and we have to let them make the decisions."

Clements returned to Austin Thursday night and will be meeting with other governors on the Iranian situation in Washington today.

Clements also told the Permian Basin chapter of the Banking Administration Institute that he is convinced the prime lending rate will peak at 19 to 20 percent.

The governor based his predictions on talks he has had with financial experts from across the country.

The consensus on interest rates among national and international financial experts, he said, is "They'll go up before they go down."

Texas legislators grappled with raising the usury ceiling from 10 to 12 percent last spring and Clements said he may include the interest rates in his call for a special legislative session next March or September. But he doesn't know what he'll propose, he added.

"My position at the moment is that we in Texas have no business fishing in those troubled waters," Clements said.

"They are problems of national scope, governed by national policy. We should not try to put a bandaid on the problem in Texas."

One banker in the audience claimed that state government discriminates against small banks. He said his bank loses money on small loans.

Clements answered that he isn't sure there is "anything I as governor can do to help. I'm not sure freeing the market is the solution."

"I hope we'll keep our cool, that we'll keep quiet," he said, adding that "Nothing constructive can be achieved through overly enthusiastic rhetoric."

Victim Testifies in Trial

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — John Hensley said he felt and heard nothing Feb. 15 when a rifle bullet tore through both eyes and ripped open the bridge of his nose.

"I just lost my vision suddenly. I thought I had received some kind of high voltage shock. I put my hand up to my face and could feel the damage," he testified earlier this year in the trial of a man later convicted for pulling the trigger in the shooting.

Hensley returns to the witness stand today in the attempted capital murder trial of Dr. Archie Herman Burkhalter, the ex-husband of Hensley's wife.

Burkhalter is accused of hiring two men to kill Hensley, who is a witness against the physician in a kidnapping case. The doctor is charged with abducting his ex-wife from her South Padre Island condominium and taking her to his Pasadena, Texas, hospital.

Assistant District Attorney Joe K. Hendley said after the trial recessed Thursday that Hensley was his last witness.

Defense lawyer Warren Burnett said he had some witnesses but agreed with Hendley that testimony in the case should end Tuesday.

In testimony Thursday, a Pasadena woman said the doctor asked her and her husband to dig up information on Hensley between December 1978 and January.

Elizabeth Fay Shaffer, wife of a private investigator, said her husband was a patient in Burkhalter's Pasadena Memorial Hospital when the doctor asked them for information on Hensley.

"He just wanted some information, anything on this person at all," she said.

Mrs. Shaffer said she called on another private investigator, David Groves, to help.

Burkhalter was interested if Hensley, alias John Hingle, had a criminal record and whether he was actually divorced from his first wife, she said. Mrs. Shaffer said she did not know Mrs. Burkhalter.

Burkhalter is being tried with Scott David Minnick, one of the men the doctor allegedly offered $15,000 and a 1977 Cadillac for the killing.

The other alleged conspirator, S.J. Wilburn, has been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in the case.

Wilburn was arrested minutes after the shooting on the Port Isabel side of the causeway linking the mainland with South Padre Island.

He was driving a 1968 Cadillac equipped with trunk flaps, a tripod and no back seat. The arrangement allowed someone to fire a weapon out the car without being seen.

Minnick was arrested later in the day driving a 1977 Cadillac, part of the alleged payoff, in Refugio County, about a three hour drive from South Padre Island.

Judy Jeter, whose husband testified earlier he helped Wilburn purchase a .223-caliber rifle police say was the attack weapon, testified Minnick told her about the unusual 1968 Cadillac.

Minnick also said Jay was mad at him "because they'd been setting up a deal and Scott goofed up. He had driven down to a corner to get some beer and passed a guy Jay was watching," Mrs. Jeter said.

Employees' Ex-Head Calls State Good, Bad

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The former president of the Texas Public Employees Association says a group of businessmen studying ways of streamlining state government will find good and bad.

"You're going to see some young people in our state government who would go very well in your organizations... We also have some that are sitting on their butts," Jess Irwin told the executives Thursday.

The meeting brought together businessmen and state officials who are working in the Texas State Government Effectiveness Program initiated by Gov. Bill Clements.

Irwin, a retiree who spent 42 years in state government, is helping coordinate the program. He said the program is ambitious and needed.

Paul Wrotenberg, Clements' budget director, told 20 state officials and businessmen part of the problem might be persons who view their appointment to state boards as a non-working honor.

"Too many times board members accept it as an honor and... sometimes because of age... they don't really dig in and participate," said Wrotenberg.

He said a governor makes about 4,000 board appointments in four years.

The dozen agencies to be studied include more than half the state employees. The first "management audit" began in October as a team of private businessmen and state officials reviewed the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Sam Coats, president of the Texas Research League, said MHMR is the largest state agency. It employs 28,000 persons and has a biennial budget of $750 million.

"But not one out of 500 Texans knows a thing about MHMR," Coats said.

The MHMR audit is to be completed by March 1, said Bob Jordan of the governor's office.

TRL is serving as liaison between state government and the business leaders in the program.

The volunteer executives are from Shell Oil, Southwestern Life Insurance, First National Bank of Dallas, Halliburton Company, Dow Chemical USA, Associates Corporation of North America, TeleCom Corporation, Cabot Corporation and Tyler Pipe Industries.

Nixon May Have Received $500,000

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — What investigators believe may be a financial diary of organized crime allegedly indicates former President Nixon received $500,000 for pardoning Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa, the Arizona Republic said today.

The Phoenix newspaper said in a copyright story that authorities in at least three states were examining the ledger. An FBI spokesman told the Republic the agency was looking into the document but had some question about its authenticity.

The newspaper said law enforcement officials believe the diary implicates "Nixon and several key aides, including John Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman and Charles Colson, in the alleged Hoffa deal."

The newspaper said it had obtained a copy of the 19-page document and that "nearly $28 million in slot machine profits, according to the diary, were allegedly diverted from the (Las Vegas, Nev.) casinos during a 15-month period in 1972-73 to certain individuals, including Nixon, and used in various covert activities."

The Republic said the diary was turned over to authorities by Gerald Denono, who it described as "a Mafia hit man who currently is under federal protective custody following his conviction for slaying a former crime partner."

The Republic report could not be independently confirmed late Thursday.

FBI spokesman Otis Cox, contacted in Washington by The Associated Press, said, "I don't know anything about it. At this point, it would be handled by the local office."

Nixon was not available for comment.

State Railroad Commission Has 2 Seats To Fill

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission — an agency that regulates so many things besides railroads that it may be the most powerful such department in the nation — has two seats up for grabs.

Commissioners John Poerner and James Nugent, both former legislators who were appointed to their posts in non-election years, are now running with all the big industry money and political backing traditionally awarded incumbents.

The challengers are a timber baron's son and a muckraking journalist who used his tabloid to criticize the cozy relationship between the commissioners and the very industries they regulate.

What attracts so much attention to the 1980 statewide races for two $45,200-a-year jobs is the commission's duties.

The three-person agency was created in 1891 to control outrageous rail freight rates. Over the years, the commission kept its name but added duties.

Now it regulates the strip mining of coal, lignite and uranium, the rates and routes for intercity buses and trucks and the production of liquefied petroleum gas such as propane and butane.

But most vitally, it sets prices and regulates production for Texas' oil and gas industry, which supplies 25 percent of all fuel consumed in the United States.

"We know a senator can debate energy policy and we've seen a governor can spill oil on our beaches, but a railroad commissioner actually sets energy prices," says Jim Hightower, 36.

Hightower, given to cowboy hats and boots, touts himself as a candidate who owns no oil wells and gets no dividend checks from "Exxon or Lone Star Gas or one of the railroads."

He quit as editor of the bimonthly Texas Observer to run against Nugent, who was nicknamed "Supersnake" for his maneuvers in the Texas House.

Rep. Buddy Temple, one of the richest men ever to run for the commission, will oppose Poerner, whose previous campaign focused on the pronunciation of his name — Pur-ner.

Temple, 37, is the son of Arthur Temple Jr., who was chief officer of the Temple-Eastex lumber company before it merged with Time Inc. several years ago. The elder Temple is now vice chairman of the Time board.

Temple announced first, choosing to oppose Poerner. He estimated his race would cost $600,000 and said about one-fourth of the $200,000 he had raised had come from oil and gas people.

At a news conference last month, Temple told reporters he saw no need to investigate published reports that the oil industry created an artificial gas shortage this summer to jack up the prices. Nor did he see any reason to question data furnished by the industry on oil and gas reserves.

Hightower said he would not accept campaign money from the oil and gas industry. He said he chose to oppose Nugent because Nugent "best symbolizes the industry viewpoint" and way of doing things, which he wants to change.

Before he left Texas Monthly, the paper frequently ran articles on issues which concern the Texas Railroad Commission, such as strip mining and the end of train service to some small towns.

Earlier this year, Hightower's own columns criticized the commission, and he had special jobs for Nugent and Poerner. In a final Observer column, Hightower wrote: "There comes a time when writing about the bastards isn't enough."

Hightower said he has $10,000 in cash and firm commitments and expects to raise $300,000 — four times as much as a similar "consumer candidate" spent in the 1976 commission race.

"No way this is a lark," Hightower said. "At best it's an uphill fight."

The commission's powers of regulation are so extensive that former Gov. John Connally said he was looking for a "miracle man" when he sought a replacement for William Murray Jr. in 1963.

Murray resigned after published reports disclosed he had grossed more than $285,000 on a Throckmorton County oil lease.

The "miracle man" was El Paso civil appeals judge Jim Langdon, who served 14 years. He reportedly once described the commission's primary function as assuring profit persistent criticism that he was too friendly with the oil and gas people. A World War II Navy veteran, Langdon said he would "much rather be in a fox hole than being sniped at like this."

Langdon was succeeded by Poerner.

Nugent was appointed to fill a vacancy created when Jon Newton, also a former House member, resigned. Newton said he wanted to avoid any appearance of a conflict of interest after his wife received some family-owned land where natural gas had been discovered.

The third member of the commission is Mack Wallace. He succeeded former House Speaker Byron Tunnell, who resigned in 1973 to work in public affairs for Tenneco Inc., a huge conglomerate whose natural gas pipelines are regulated by the commission.

Former Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Nugent and Poerner in mid-term, which gives them the incumbents' advantage of running with financing from the industries they regulate.

This method of selection is so common that there have been only two races for commissioner since 1940 that did not involve incumbents.

News Media To Remain

DALLAS (AP) — A state district judge denied a defense motion to bar the news media and public from a pretrial hearing on a minor arson case, saying the defendant had other alternatives to guarantee a free trial.

In their motion, defense attorneys cited a recent U.S. Supreme Court 5-4 decision in the Gannett Co. Inc. vs. DePasquale case that gave judges discretion to close hearings where pretrial evidence is introduced.

"A responsible press and a responsible bar can get together and give the defendant a fair trial," Judge Thomas Thorpe said Thursday.

"Matters sometimes do get into the press that will cause a defendant not to receive a fair trial," said the judge, who said that could be checked through the questioning of prospective jurors.

The defense also has the prerogative of asking for a change of venue, Thorpe noted.

His ruling came after the Dallas Morning News and WFAA-TV intervened to protest the motion.

The defendant, Blair Dewey Baker, is the son of a prominent Dallas civil attorney, B. Robert Baker.

He is accused of setting a fire in a trash receptacle behind a Dallas shopping center last May 12. The fire caused about $50 damage and no one was injured.

Thorpe did order attorneys not to talk to the news media about the case until the trial is over. The trial is scheduled to begin Dec. 3.

An optimist is a fellow who expects to win the lottery just as soon as he grows a third set of teeth.

What this country needs is an electric watch with a buzzer that tells you the battery is about to go dead.

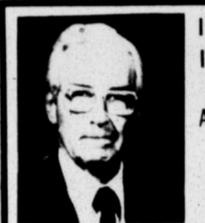

said he filed the motion Oct. 17 to close the pretrial hearing after Thorpe told him reporters had been asking about the case even though the hearing had not yet been set.

"I wanted to protect my client," he said. "The case hadn't even been set for trial or for a first hearing and people were looking around. I didn't want my client hurt from advance publicity."

The prosecution had urged that the motion be denied.

"The public has the right to observe trials, and the press has the right to report trials," said Assistant District Attorney Marston Alexander, who is prosecuting the case against Baker.

"The public has the right to know of any potential danger in their midst. The only publicity concerning this case came after the defendant filed the motion requesting that the hearing be held out of the public eyes," Alexander said.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Too much bran?

DEAR DR LAMB - I have never seen anything about the possible adverse effects of too much bran in the diet. I have read that there is such a thing as too much bran. I eat bran daily because it seems that it's the only effective food, other than laxatives, that will work on my system. Is this all right?

DEAR READER - The old phrase "too much of a good thing" applies to almost everything. We need sunshine but if we get too much, we are sunburned and repeated exposure increases the chances of skin cancer. We need oxygen to sustain life but too much can cause oxygen poisoning and death. We need food but too much, particularly of rich foods, will lead to obesity.

Yes, there is such a thing as too much bran in the diet for some people. The increased bulk appears to decrease the absorption of some vitamins and minerals. For this reason, people who take large amounts of bran won't hurt their system any if they use one standard all-purpose vitamin tablet a day that contains iron. People who use ordinary amounts of bran or just ordinary whole cereal do not need to do this. Besides, most commercially prepared cereals are already fortified with additional vitamins.

The other problem is that some people with disorders of the stomach, particularly gastric ulcers, don't tolerate increased bulk so well. Bulk appears to be good for the colon and not so good for the stomach. However, the bulk in the diet will delay emptying of the stomach which is important to some people, such as those who tend to have low blood sugar an hour or two after eating. The delayed emptying of the stomach seems to smooth things out and prevent such reactions.

Finally, it should be mentioned that particularly in the first three or four weeks of increasing the amount of bran in the diet a person may experience enormous amounts of gas. This is very uncomfortable, particularly to people who are already having colon problems. Usually this phase will pass and the colon will adjust to the increased amounts of bulk. Another approach is to very gradually increase the bran in the diet, thereby avoiding having the colon to have to make such a big adjustment all at once.

There are other important aspects to managing the bowel besides just increasing the bulk in the diet. To give you information on this, I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-11, Irritable Or Spastic Colon And Constipation. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Improved colon function is good enough reason to include at least a modest amount of bran in the diet. You can get a lot of that from using whole wheat products such as real whole wheat bread and whole grain cereals.

There is also some evidence that the improved colon function may help prevent colon cancer - the second most common cause of cancer deaths in both men and women in the United States. This point is debated by different researchers but there is enough evidence to suggest that the prudent person will lean toward improving the amount of bulk in the diet as long as it is well tolerated.

DEAR DR LAMB - I read your column about clean feet and shoes to eliminate foot odors. You didn't mention wearing cotton socks but cotton socks still can be found in some supermarkets and in large department stores. Cotton is much more absorbent than the nylon socks that are so common nowadays. We've had great success by switching to cotton for my husband's smelly feet. I wear my husband's cotton hose with slacks and my athlete's foot problem has been eliminated.

DEAR READER - It wasn't possible to discuss everything in a short column. However, you are absolutely right and I do discuss this problem in The Health Letter number 10-8, Your Feet And How To Care For Them. I am sending a copy for your use. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As I mentioned in The Health Letter I'm sending you wool socks are also useful, particularly in winter. A frequent change of either wool or cotton socks, at least twice a day if you have a real problem, also helps.

Nylon and our synthetic clothes not only fail to absorb but if they're closely woven act to trap moisture which creates body odors. Since most of these fabrics depend on oil as a source of the synthetic, perhaps we'll begin to see less of these and there will be a return to natural cotton and wool clothing which may have some benefits.

DEAR DR LAMB - My 14-year-old grandson has complained of pain that he thought might be a rupture. His mother took him to a reputable surgeon who said he had a varicocele. He's booked for surgery to have this corrected. He's 5 foot 7 and a half, weighs 130 pounds and is very active. He roller skates, swims, hunts, shovels snow and enjoys athletics so naturally he's rebelling at surgery which will require him to be inactive for five weeks. His mother didn't find out too much about the varicocele and there's nothing in my medical book except it does use the word tumor. Can you give me some more information? Is this surgery usually a complete cure and is there a chance of cancer?

DEAR READER - A varicocele can be thought of as varicose veins in the cord to the testicle. They can be quite huge. The large dilated veins tend to accumulate stagnant blood and this does interfere with circulation to the testicle and can cause symptoms in some individuals.

It can also cause sterility and one of the successful methods of improving the fertility of a man who has a low sperm count with a significant varicocele is to remove it. The temperature in the testicle is very important in terms of producing normal healthy sperm cells. A varicocele can interfere with the normal temperature controlling mechanism achieved through normal circulation to the testicles. The reason they're outside the body in the first place is to help regulate their temperature. If the testicles are retained within the body, the individual will be sterile.

Now varicoceles don't have a thing to do with cancer so you can forget about that entirely.

Many men have mild varicoceles that do not require surgical correction. The decision has to be based on the examination of the individual.

Guyana lies on the north coast of South America and is about the size of Idaho. Its neighbors are Venezuela to the west, Brazil to the south and Surinam on the east. Dense tropical forests cover much of the land, although a flat coastal area up to 40 miles wide, where 90 percent of the population lives, provides rich alluvial soil for agriculture.

THOUGHTS

Land has been surveyed at least 3,500 years.
And Joshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and the men went and described it, in a book, and Joshua divided the land. - Josh 18:8-10

With nearly 800,000 words in the Bible, it is surprising how few errors have been found in so many editions. The Placemaker Bible (1563) substituted placemaker for "peacemaker" and the mistake was not discovered until the edition had been printed.

"Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the Children of God." - Matt 5:9

The petrel, a small sea bird, receives its name from Peter's walking upon the Sea of Galilee. Petrels are said to be most active before a storm and a "stormy petrel" is a modern description of one who is fond of trouble.

"And he said, Come, and when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus." - Matt 14:29

The shibboleth of democracy, a party cry indicating the test or watchword, can be traced back to the Gileadites who used the word to detect the fugitive Ephraimites at the Jordan fords.

A woman (Clydia Procul wife of Pontius Pilate) is said to be the only person who made public protest against the crucifixion of Christ.

"When he was set down on the judgment seat his wife sent him up, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." - Matt 27:19

The Biblical "pastor" is a shepherd or one who has care of flocks from the Latin "pastura" to pasture or feed, a figurative meaning has been added, "a keeper of souls" or the "minister of a church."
"And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding." - Jer. 3:15

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
Wash crystal chandelier

DEAR POLLY - I hope someone can tell me a simple way to wash 178 small crystal prisms on a ceiling chandelier. I cannot remove them one by one, wash them and then fasten them back up again. Would it be safe to hold a pan of sudsy ammonia water so the prisms would be immersed? Any chance of shock? I have tried the canned chandelier sprays but they did not work. - LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE - I leave mine in place and wipe each one off with a soft cloth that has been wrung out in either vinegar or ammonia water. I do not find rinsing necessary. The hardest part is standing on a step ladder and I advise you to come down every so often and not let yourself get dizzy from the height. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - If you have a small child who cannot reach the knob to open the screen door remove the old handle and replace it with a vertically positioned towel rack and then paint it the desired color. - JOSEPHINE

DEAR POLLY - I have found an easy way to do that dreaded cleaning of oven racks. Remove the racks and place inside a large trash bag, put a few paper towels between the racks and then saturate with ammonia. Quickly close the bag, tie securely and let the bag stand overnight or several hours. Take outside, remove the racks and spray with the hose. If necessary scrub with a wire brush and hose off again. - JES

DEAR POLLY - I think everyone hates standing over the sink scrubbing a pan with burned food in it. I have found that putting a few tablespoons of baking soda in the pan with water and then letting this come to a boil on the stove will make it easy to clean in a few seconds. - SHERIE

QUOTE/UNQUOTE
What people are saying...

"The doctor put my girlfriend on a 100 percent yogurt diet, and she gave birth to a 100-year-old Russian."
- Mark Shiff, comedian. (Apartment Life)

"We did not bite the apple, we just took a nibble at the peeling."
- James Adkins Jr., Florida judge, referring to a court ruling that banned marijuana smoking in the church of a Miami religious sect, but did not forbid members from using the drug as part of their "religious worship."
