It's Teacher Appreciation Week in Hereford schools and Deverick Barnes has heard the old story about an apple for the teacher. However, Deverick also knows about sharing, and he decided to sample the big, juicy apple first before offering it to his kindergarten teacher, Sharon Crawford, at Aikman school. Deverick is the 5-year-old son of JoAnn Barnes.

Brief power outage reported here

About 3500 homes and businesses in northwest Hereford and Deaf Smith County were without electrical power for about fifteen minutes Wednesday evening.

According to Southwestern Public Service Company's General Foreman Bill Bankston, four of the Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative power sub-stations were affected as well as SPS. He said the loss of generators at Muleshoe and Amarillo brought on the brief outage, which lasted from 5:36 until 5:49 p.m.

Koobraey assembly at HHS tonight

A highlight at Hereford High School each year is the Koobraey assembly, which in the past has been scheduled during regular school hours.

This year, however, the event will be held at 7:30 tonight in the HHS auditorium. The public is invited and there will be no charge but donations will be accepted for the annual staff.

During the assembly, all personalities from the yearbook will be presented and the annual queen will be crowned.

Performing during the event will be the drill team, cheerleaders, singing groups and students in skits.

Police arrest two on warrants

Hereford police made two arrests on warrants Wednesday, one for driving while intoxicated and another for public intoxication. The man charged with DWI was also found to be in possession of less than two ounces of marijuana.

A minor was arrested for consumption of alcohol and disorderly conduct, after using an obscene gesture toward a man he was arguing with. A juvenile was arrested for attempting to shoplift candy from a local grocery store, and another pair of juveniles was questioned for throwing rocks at a vehicle.

A burglary at Brandon and Clark Electric resulted in the theft of $691 worth of cash and power tools, police said.

A man who found a reportedly stolen flute was given a $20 reward by the owners after he took the instrument to the police station.

Health care attacks proposal

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Members of the U.S. House Budget Committee have been told that the Reagan Administration's proposals for fiscal 1986 spending on Medicare and Medicaid would be "a major blow to some of the most vulnerable people in Texas."

"The government and administration are not treating patients as individuals, but rather as groups," Dallas physician Dr. Emmett Conrad told the committee Wednesday. "Good health simply cannot be produced by mass production."

Witnesses representing health care providers - including community service groups, hospitals and private physicians - testified during one of the House panel's field hearings on President Reagan's budget blueprint.

"We're either going to have to drop some of the people we're serving or we're going to have to drop some of the services," said commissioner Marlin W. Johnston of the Texas Department of Human Resources, speculating on the effect of a proposed cut in the federal share of Medicaid expenses.

The administration's budget proposal calls for a $1.1 billion reduction during the 1986 fiscal year in the federal portion of the health care program for low-income Americans, Medicaid, which is administered by the states.

Women should ask

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - A woman has nothing to lose by making the first move as long as she's willing to deal with the man's answer, a Texas A&M assistant professor of psychology says. Dr. Charlene Muehlenhard has Valentine's Day advice for women: If you're tired of waiting, take the initiative. Ask him first. In studies on woman-initiated dating, a fairly new development in romance, she looked at the attitudes of conservative versus liberal men toward a woman asking them for a date, and the effect the aggressive woman has on a relationship.

She said some men found it refreshing for the woman to ask first. "Some men commented that 'I'm always the one to stick my neck out and I'd like it if someone else would do that for a change,' or 'I'd be really flattered," said Ms. Muehlenhard.

The response was about the same among both conservative, or traditional, and non-traditional men, she said. Both said they would respond positively to a woman who asked them out if they like her and wanted to date her in the first place, Ms. Muehlenhard said.

The studies, conducted at the University of Wisconsin and at Texas A&M, showed that about half the men wanted women to ask them out. The other half wanted a hint from the woman that she was interested, possibly so they could ask her first.

Kimberly-Clark moving to Texas

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Kimberly-Clark Corp., a $3.6 billion paper and health products company ranked 120th on the Fortune 500 list, will move its world headquarters to Irving by this summer, company officials say.

The new headquarters will include about 75 people, about half of whom would move from the Neenah, Wis., headquarters of 113 years, board chairman Darwin E. Smith said during a news conference Wednesday:

The move to the exclusive Las Colinas area should be completed by June 1, Irving mayor Bobby Joe Raper said.

"I was very excited about it," Raper said. "Anytime you get a ortune 500 company, that can't be anything but good for you." Kimberly-Clark makes Huggies diapers in Paris, Texas, and has a subsidiary, KC Aviation, at Love Field in Dallas. Smith said the company had not yet decided on an exact location, but that Irving and Dallas promised a high quality of life. Irving city officials said they were told the headquarters would be housed in 50,000 square feet of the Williams Square building in Las

"I didn't let myself be sold on this area," Smith said. "This area sold itself to me."

He said he made several trips to Dallas in "an old shirt and blue jeans" to meet the people in the area. The company employs about 35,000 people worldwide, and about 5,000 will remain in Wisconsin in manufacturing plants and an operating headquarters, Smith said.

More people biting people

PITTSBURGH (AP) - More people are biting other people than ever before, and in some cases overenthusiastic affection is behind the toothy assaults, a doctor says.

There were 218 reported cases of people biting other people in Pittsburgh in 1984, said Dr. Guy Catone, director of oral surgery at Allegheny General Hospital. The number has risen about 10 percent each year since 1979, he said.

Catone said in about 10 cases each year, the bites resulted from too much passion between lovers.

"Lovers want to do that - bite each other's earlobe and that sort of thing," he said. "I know that people think it's humorous at first -I know I did. But it is a real problem. Somebody will bite somebody's lip off, or a nose."

Most reported human biting, however, takes place in street fights or other violent attacks.

And Catone said the victims may wish they'd been bitten by a dog, which typically has fewer germs in its mouth than a human being and therefore is less likely to cause infection in the bite wound.

Mexicans will appear in case

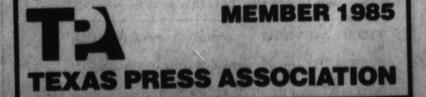

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Two Mexican citizens indicted last month as members of the Central American refugee sanctuary movement will appear voluntarily for arraignment in Phoenix, a lawyer says.

The Rev. Ramon Dagoberto Quinones and Maria del Socorro Pardo de Aguilar of Nogales, Sonora, will appear before U.S. Magistrate Morton Sitver at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, attorney William J. Risner

Both were named Jan. 10 in a 71-count federal indictment charging 16 members of the Central American refugee sanctuary movement - including another priest, a minister and three nuns - with smuggling Central American refugees into the United States.

Risner, who represents Quinones, said Wednesday that neither Mexican citizen had been served with a summons to appear. He said they had decided to do so voluntarily.

The 14 other defendants entered pleas of innocent previously, but Tuesday a federal judge in Phoenix granted the prosecution's request to dismiss charges against two - nuns Ana Priester and Mary Waddell of Phoenix.

Jury chosen for Mattox trial

By GARTH JONES Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - A jury of eight women and four men has been chosen to hear the expected three to fours weeks of testimony in the commercial bribery trial of Attorney General Jim Mattox.

State District Judge Mace Thurman said the state would present the first prosecution witness Friday morning.

The trial was in recess today after Wednesday's daylong jury selection process.

and hightly controversial.

"You are going to hear tapes of him (Mattox) and other lawyers velling at each other and using bad language that you won't like, but your only duty is to decide if Mr. Mattox is guilty of the charge made in the indictment," said Minton. "Does anyone think the attorney general should be free to bribe anybody?" Earle asked the panel. "Does anyone have any problems with deciding whether the attorney general is telling the truth?"

The suit was settled last year.

Most of the would-be jurors said they knew something of the case from newspapers, radio and television, but had made no decisions.

"About half of the people testifying in this suit are lawyers, and lawyers don't think they are right - they know by God they are right," said Minton. "My knees shake at the thought of putting Jim Mattox on the stand, because he is a lawyer. You put McDade and Jim, both lawyers, in a room together and you'll have a terrible fight."

"The indictment has nothing to do with Mattox threatening anyone," Minton said. "He is charged with offering a benefit in return for violating a trust to a beneficiary.

"If you find he is not guilty of what he is exactly charged with, you should find him innocent," Minton

College preparatory project to be discussed here Sunday

Representatives of the Upward Bound program at West Texas State University will be in Hereford Sunday to meet with parents and explain the college preparatory project.

Designed to generate skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school, Upward Bound serves low income service that takes the guts out of peostudents and those whose parents did not receive a college degree.

Students become eligible after completing the ninth grade, and the program begins with a summer session during which time students live on the WTSU campus.

Learning sessions, workshops, group activities, cultural events and career guidance counseling are among the features of the program, which continues through the next school year with Saturday programs and invitations to on-campus activities.

Currently, Upward Bound is serving 25 Hereford High School students. Those who have completed the program and are attending WTSU include Anthony, John and Sylvia High, Diana Hernandez, Belen Mendez, Angela and Sherald Roddy, Mary Lou Trevino and Shannon and Stephanie Valdez.

Sunday's informational program will begin at 4 p.m. at the Hereford Community center. All interested persons are welcome.

CONTENTMENT By Bob Wear

THE NEED for a feeling of contentment is a felt need. Of course, there are obviously numerous notions about contentment; and, it may be that many of us are not quite sure about what constitutes 'contentment' for us. One fact seems self-evident; just about everything being done by people issues from the desire to find the life situation in which this basic need is realized.

WE MUST remember that 'contentment' is not attained by searching for it; but it is a state of being that must be learned. If we ever learn to be 'contented', and we can learn to be so; we will have accomplished one of the most helpful and useful of all possible life qualities. In this life condition, we can live the most stable and effective life of which we are capable. We can do so, because we will be able to make the best of our opportunities and be able to deal most successfully with the usual problems and difficulties of living.

CONTENTMENT IS in us, and not in things or in circumstances, or even in how we may be related to others. Of course, there is a proper place for the wise consideration of things, and circumstances and other people; but all of this can be handled very well within the structure of 'contentment'.

THIS DESIRABLE condition does not discourage or prevent personal growth and progress; and does not prevent the improvement of our surroundings. All of the justified continuing improvement will occur without the destructiveness of feverish anxiety. In fact, it will be a facet in the stability of 'our content-

THERE IS 'contentment' in making the best of what is available to us, and in improving our situation as we have the opportunity.

Local resident relates her faith to others

Staff Writer

While serious illness usually is associated with personal decline and weakening. Wilma Bryan has only gained strength and a desire to tell others of Christ - the result of her heart surgery in 1981 and other sickness.

"I do everything I do because the Lord has been so good to me," Bryan said. "I've had a glimpse of what God will give me, and I have a boldness now I've never had. My life is the Lord's."

A member of Avenue Baptist Church, she is the mission action special coordinator of the Amarillo Baptist Association which covers 52 Panhandle churches. As coordinator, she works with the Tri-State Fair water booth, hauling well water from Hereford. She also schedules entertainment from different churches. In addition, she sees that all nursing homes in the Panhandle have a gift shop three times a year. Last Christmas, the organization gave 300 gifts to Westgate.

Joining ABC in 1983, she currently is the director of the Women's Missionary Union and works closely with the WMU president in Amarillo. She is the Acteen leader, the outreach leader in the adult department and serves on the selecting committee for the church youth director. She also teaches third- and fourth-grade Sunday School.

"I really just do whatever Brother Buster (Grigg, pastor of ABC) calls me to do," Bryan laughed. "My main interest, though, is working with young people and young couples."

In addition to her impressive list of church activities, she is extremely involved with the Laotian mission at the church.

The mission was started after the church received a phone call telling it of the Laotian families in the community.

"Our main goal in working with the Laotians is to teach them the importance of getting an education, a job and getting off food stamps,"

speaker tonight

An Amarillo genealogist is to speak at tonight's meeting of the Deaf Smith County Genealogical Society. Clyde Murray, who has worked at the genealogical library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in Salt Lake City, will speak to the group about the new genealogical library at the LDS Church in Amarillo.

The society's officers for 1985 are Troyce Hanna, president; Edwina Thomas, vice president; Wilma Clark, secretary; Nell Norvell, treasurer and Jeanette Ramey, Tonight's meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Deaf Smith County

Many of the approximately 77 Laotians came to this area to work for Swift Independent Packing Company after the plant in Dumas closed. Most of them were in refugee camps in Thailand before coming to the United States.

When the Laotians first came to the area, Bryan drove a few of them to second-language classes at St. Joseph's Church. Today, she teaches English as a second language every Tuesday and Thursday night at the high school. She also drives many of the school-age children to and from school.

Bryan said the most effective teaching of the Laotians is accomplished through the use of an English and a Laotian dictionary side by side, going over every word. According to her, the students can read English, they are just unable to comprehend it.

"I truly believe God sent them (the Laotians) to Deaf Smith County," Bryan said, "because we can't go there (Thailand). There are no missionaries in Thailand."

In describing the Laotians, she said that their favorte sport is wrestling and their favorite American food is the hamburger.

"They use really strong spices in their food, spices that you can smell on them," Bryan explained. "About the only food Americans enjoy of theirs is the egg roll."

Raised as Buddhists, they love to talk of Laos and its warm climate, Bryan said. They have found it difficult to adjust to the cold weather

"They truly believe in working for what they have," she said. "The children feel that if they do not learn at school, they have degraded their parents. Above all, the parents want their children to know the American way but not to forget their own customs.

"I really feel that Americans can learn from the Laotians," she continued. "We can learn that it's a privilege to learn and get an educa-

As a result of her desire to teach the Laotians, Bryan tested for and received her G.E.D.

"I was going all the time to help teach the Laotians when the regular teacher quit. So, I got my G.E.D. and was able to teach.

Bryan is a one-time member of the hospital auxiliary and North Hereford Extension Homemakers and Westway Extension Homemakers Clubs. She started the Presently, she actively is involved with Pro Family-Pro Life, is a member of the board of the American Heart Association and is on the Cowgirl Hall of Fame committee to select nominees for induction.

"I really enjoy it," Bryan said of the work with the hall of fame. "I enjoy researching the candidates because I learn more about the peo-

She also is active in Bud to Blossom Garden Club. Joining to learn to make arrangements for her home, Bryan now makes corsages, silk flower arrangements for weddings and takes flowers to area nursing homes.

"I started working with silk flowers because it gave me something to do at night," she said. "My goal now is to work for my judge's certificate so I will be able to judge flower shows."

Her husband, Gaylon, is a deacon at ABC. They have moved to Hereford four times. Each time they left, they started a church in the new raised two foster children. Before working full-time with the church, Bryan was the unit salesman for Stanley Home Products for 16 years and the fashion coordinator for Beeline fashions for 11 years.

The Bryans have five grandchildren and two greatgrandchildren.

"We always take time for the family," she said. "We love people. Our main goal is to know that they love the Lord."

Commencement exercises scheduled

AMARILLO - Commencement exercises for Texas State Technical Institute fall and winter quarter graduates will be held Friday, Feb. 22, 7 pm, in the Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium.

State Representative John Smithee, District 86, will deliver the commencement address.

The autonomous churches that constitute Eastern Orthodoxy are organized along mostly national lines. They recognize the patriarch of Constantinople (modern-day Istanbul) as their leader. The churches claim about 200 million members. They include the Greek Orthodox Church, the Romanian Orthodox Church and the Russian Orthodox Church.

Fields added that the Rebels' freethrow shooting had improved over several games prior to Tuesday's contest. But earlier in the season, Tascosa hit only nine of 30 from the line against Hereford as the Whitefaces won, 64-63, in double

In the first quarter, the Rebs were 10 of 12 on free throws. In the second quarter, they were six of eight. In the third, they were six of seven and in the fourth, seven of 11.

The Whitefaces outscored the Rebels from the field, 54-52, shooting 51.9 percent. Kevin Redus paced Hereford with 22 points, and Rodney Torres scored 20.

"It's good to shoot that well on the road," Fields said. "They were putting some pressure on us, but once we were able to get by, we didn't have any trouble."

The Whitefaces were without the services of 6-3 sophomore Bobby Baker for awhile. Baker, who finished the night with only four points, fouled out of the game in the fourth quarter.

In addition, Baker picked up his third foul in the second quarter and sat out much of the game.

"Bobby getting in foul trouble hurt quite a bit," Fields said. "Even when he was out there it wasn't quite the same because he was trying not to pick up another foul."

George Ramsey, a 6-5 post for Tascosa, led the Rebels with 27 points, nine more than he scored in the first meeting between the schools. "I don't think he shot near as much as he did last night," said Fields, looking at the scoresheet from the first meeting. "He had 18 points before, but he shot a lot more free throws last night."

Ramsey was nine of 12 from the Norm Nixon scored half of his game-high 32 points in the fourth quarter and the Clippers survived a late scare. The lead changed hands eight times in the final period before the Clippers took the lead for good 97-94 on a three-point play by James Donaldson with 4:18 to go.

Purvis Short led the Warriors with 28 points. Center Bill Walton, who missed the Clippers' last five games, played six minutes in the first half and scored four points but had to leave the game after his troublesome right ankle became sore.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T Communications"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of rates for its services. The new rates will be effective February 22, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the PUC. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by the proposed rates.

AT&T Communications has filed restructured tariffs designed to more closely recover access and other costs for private line, DATAPHONE* Digital Service, OCC Facilities, WATS and 800 services.

Also proposed is the institution of a charge for directory assistance to begin to recover access costs incurred for such service, and increases in rates for operator assisted AT&T Long Distance calls.

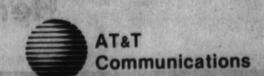

AT&T Communications is proposing to restructure its AT&T Long Distance Service and to reduce its overall revenues from basic long distance approximately $25

While long distance rates will, in most instances, be reduced, certain AT&T Long Distance rates are proposed to be increased to more nearly recover the access charges approved by the PUC for such service.

The proposed new rates for all services would result in an increase in adjusted test period revenues of $123.4 million, or 11.3 percent. A complete copy of the proposed tariffs are on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) When the inaugural $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships tennis tournament began its two-week run, the top-seeded player came from Czechoslovakia and No. 2 from Sweden.

Now, with the field of 128 pared to four, a Czech and a Swede remain along with two Americans. But it's neither Ivan Lendl nor Mats Wilander.

Tomas Smid of Czechoslovakia and Sweden's Jan Gunnarson are joined by Americans Tim Mayotte and 'Scott Davis in Friday's semifinals.

The final four in the women's singles field take to the court today at Laver's International Tennis Resort, with top-seeded Martina Navratilova facing Canada's Carling Bassett, the No. 10 seed, and No. 2 Chris Evert Lloyd playing West Germany's Steffi Graf.

The women's final on Saturday and the men's championship match Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC. Both winners will pocket $112,500.

The men's semifinals were set Wednesday when Smid upset ninthseeded Yannick Noah of France 6-3, 6-3, 7-5; Davis eliminated No. 13 Stefan Edberg of Sweden 6-1, 6-4, 7-5; Mayotte crushed Mike Leach 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, and Gunnarsson shocked No. 12 Vitas Gerulaitis 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Bassett clinched her spot in the women's semis by ousting seventhseeded Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia 7-5, 6-2 Wednesday.

Smid began the long day's program with only the latest in a string of upset that has seen 15 of the 16 seeded players fall by the wayside. The Czech quickly jumped out to a two-set lead in the best-of-five-sets quarterfinal battle before Noah found the range.

Noah played his first three matches at night and his fourth-round match in the late afternoon. Against EST, a time he joked may have helped Smid win.

"I'm not a morning player," said Noah, who won the French Open in 1983. "It was different. I got up at 7 o'clock. I usually get up about 12."

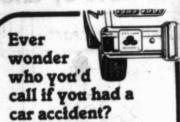

Then, with a smile on his face, he added: "As a matter of fact, I didn't wake up until 12 today."

That was about the time the third set began.

"I just played my game," Smid said. "I came to the net to his backhand and played good volleys at the net. He couldn't pass me. He made a couple easy mistakes and that was it."

Gerulaitis jumped on top, taking the first set against Gunnarsson, the silent Swede - the one that lasted after Wilander, Edberg, No. 3 Henrik Sundstrom, No. 4 Anders Jarryd and No. 8 Joakim Nystrom had fallen by the wayside.

"I thought I was playing pretty good, and then he started playing better," Gerulaitis said of Gunnarsson. "The cold (weather, with temperatures dropping near 40), I think, began affecting me after a while," said the 1977 Australian Open champion.

Moore vaults SMU to top of league race

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) - The smallest Mustang stopped Southern Methodist's stampede off the Southwest Conference basketball summit with his finest game.

Stubby Butch Moore, a 5-foot-9 junior guard built like a bulldog who looks like smokin' Joe Frazier, scored a career-high 25 points Wednesday night to carry the Mustangs to a hard-earned 81-79 victory over Texas A&M.

The victory gave SMU a one-game edge over A&M, Arkansas and Texas Tech in a still-to-be decided league 61-60 and Texas Christian bounced Baylor 81-70.

"Butch Moore is the best player they have," said Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf. "I've said that all along. He's a great competitor."

Moore hit his first nine shots and said, "I haven't had a game like this since I played against Mt. Vernon in high school back at Newburgh, New

"I felt in the warmups like my shot was going to go. So I took it to 'em." SMU made 15 of 18 foul shots in the second half but went 8:29 without a field goal as the Mustangs almost blew a 19-point lead. "The team came back from three tough losses (Arkansas, North Carolina State, Baylor)," said SMU Coach Dave Bliss. "The Aggies made a great comeback at the end but we just gutted it out. The first half of this game showed what this team can do." Bliss said his players had earned a day off with their victory. "We're going to take tomorrow off and work out very lightly on Friday to get ready for Louisville," said conference game on Saturday after-

SMU improved its league record to 9-3 while the Aggies fell to 7-4 before a sellout crowd of 9,007 in jammed Moody Coliseum. The Mustangs are 19-5 overall and A&M is 15-7.

Guard Don Marbury scored a game-high 27 points before he fouled out for the Aggies.

'SMU has a lot of talent but I don't think anyone can leave here saying that we didn't put on a show for the crowd," Marbury said. "In fact, a lot of those folks in the crowd belonged to the Aggies."

Jon Koncak scored 24 points for the Mustangs and had five blocked shots while Kenny Brown scored 24 points for the Aggies.

"It was a great game," said Brown. "It took a lot of pride to come back after we were down 19 points."

Coming off a 94-90 upset win over SMU on Monday, Baylor lost to TCU as guard Dennis Nutt scored 22 points and Jamie Dixon career-high 21 off the bench.

TCU improved its record to 14-9, 6-6 in the SWC, while Baylor dropped to 9-13 and 2-9.

"I thought their outside shooting was outstanding, and Jamie Dixon really gave them a lift off the bench. We tried a lot of different defenses tonight, and nothing slowed them down," Baylor Coach Jim Haller said. "We didn't have the intensity or excitment that we had against SMU. It's tough to play with that kind of emotion twice within three days."

In Houston, guard Bubba Jennings scored 28 points, including a pair of free throws with eight seconds left, to pace Texas Tech, which upped its record to 15-7 overall and 7-4 in the conference.

Rice is 2-10 in the conference and 9-13 overall.

Rocky Marciano, who never lost a professional fight, was knocked down twice in heavyweight championship bouts, once by Jersey Joe Walcott and the other time by Archie Moore.

Know appliance warranty rights

COLLEGE STATION - Consumers to apply to the entire appliance, cautypically compare the features and prices of different brands before buying an appliance, but may neglect to compare the warranties.

"Manufacturers are not required by law to provide a warranty," says consumer economics specialist Bonnie L. Piernot. "But if one is given, it must meet certain standards for either a 'full' or a 'limited' warranty," adds the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Knowing the difference between the two types of warranties can save money and aggravation if the appliance must be repaired later, Piernot maintains.

"A full warranty promises that a defective product will be repaired or replaced free, including removal and reinstallation when necessary," Piernot says.

But a full warranty does not have tions the specialist. For example, a microwave oven may carry a full warranty on the cabinet, fan and magnatron tube but only a limited warranty on the touchmatic control.

Under, a "limited warranty" consumers may have to pay for labor, reinstallation or other charges, she advises. They may also be required to return or take a product to a service location and receive a pro-rata refund or credit.

The term "limited warranty" should alert consumers to the fact that only part of the product may be covered, that it includes just the cost of repair parts or that it lasts only for certain period of time, says Pier-

"A limited warranty does not imply that the appliance is inferior or will not work as promised," states the home economist. "In fact, it may contribute to a lower initial cost for a particular brand.'

Weddings, hug-a-thon highlight Valentine's Day observance

Couples flocked to wedding "Dr. Robert Jarvik Day" in Jarvik's chapels along the Las Vegas strip today seeking to tie a Valentine knot, while a Massachusetts justice of the peace planned to give away free weddings on the 15th anniversary of his own Valentine's Day ceremony.

As a YWCA in upstate New York prepared to stage its third annual charity "hug-a-thon," Michigan remained in the grip of a violent storm that seemed certain to delay many of the estimated 60 million roses the nation's lovers hoped to receive today.

Meanwhile, school children in 45 states were marking the day named for the Roman martyr St. Valentine by spreading messages of Valentine's Day cheer from the heart to underprivileged children around the world.

And speaking of hearts, today is hometown of Stamford, Conn. The creator of the plastic heart that has kept William Schroeder alive for four months will spend the day -Schroeder's birthday - with him in Louisville, Ky.

Las Vegas lovers began lining up Wednesday night outside the wedding chapels that dot the City of Stars

"We have about 110 weddings on the books at the Candlelight Chapel and may do upwards of 150 or more during the 24 hours of Valentine's Day," said Gordon Gust, a former vaccum cleaner salesman who now owns four chapels.

In Cambridge, Mass., Justice of the Peace Richard M. Percoco said he would give away free weddings to celebrate the 15th anniversary of his

Vows are said...flowers overdue, Today's for lovers...and heartmakers too own Valentine's Day marriage.

"I do not charge anyone," said Percoco, 47, a former court constable turned justice of the peace 14 years ago. He had three weddings scheduled in the early morning before leaving on vacation.

For the third year, the YWCA in Schenectady, N.Y., will sponsor a hug-a-thon with some 270 "official huggers" offering hugs and sponsors paying from a dime to $10 for each hug delivered.

Last year the hug-a-thon raised more than $10,000, according to its creator, Marcy Kolchinsky.

In Michigan, the state's flower industry worried that nasty winter weather would stop delivery of roses to loved ones.

"The availability of flowers will still be strong," said Carol White, executive director of the Michigan State Florist Association. "It is doubtful that all of the orders will get out by Valentine's Day."

"Florists will be delivering through the weekend - this may be Valentine's Weekend, rather than Valentine's Day," she said. About 30,000 children are expected to send Valentine cards to needy children in 45 different countries under a program 60-year-old Katherine Peebles runs out of a cluster of cardboard boxes in a corner of her Boston bedroom.

the year we have to call it hunger with their students. They then ask the youngsters to imagine a table filled with food and to invite children from all over the world as their guests.

> The students then design valen-tines with the aim of lifting the spirits of the children in other lands.

"The valentines end up decorating Elementary school teachers in-volved in the orogram discuss world centers," said Ms. Peebles.

GED Testing will be held at the Hereford Independent School District Administration Building, March 6th and 7th, 1985 at 8:30 A.M. both days. Allow 11/2 days for testing. For further information call:

Tyler fur ranch one of largest in nation

TYLER, Texas (AP) -Stroking that silky, luxurious fur coat worn by a model in a Tokyo fur show, would you believe that those chinchilla skins may be from a Tyler fur ranch?

Handling a herd of 2,700 animals that need cool temperatures and dust baths to look their best might appear to be a business best suited to northern climates and wide open spaces.

Yet a Tyler family has developed expertise with chinchillas in a controlled single-building environment on a seven-acre site near the city. Known as the Triple J, the Tyler operation is the largest in Texas and one of the largest chinchilla ranches in the nation.

Typical chinchilla operations usually involve only 400 to 500 animals. With a record 114 chinchilla births since Jan. 1, 1985, Tylerites Ed and Karen Rockwood anticipate pelting more than 2,000 of their steadily increaing top quality herd this year. The Rockwoods aren't joking, however, when they warn that those get-richquick ads and schemes of the early '70s really soured a lot of people on raising chin-

"Unsuspecting people lured by outrageous claims would buy just one pair of 'chins' with no knowledge of how to care for them or the genetic breeding needed to produce top quality fur,' says Mrs. Rockwood.

Despite money and time invested, many of these eager investors gave up when the animals didn't rapidly breed or the fur was poor quality or Part of the blame should be on those who sold the animals without proper instructions, say the Rockwoods. They are aware that ranching chinchillas isn't a business for those not willing to spend quite a few 24-hour days in the year-round activities of breeding, feeding, grooming and pelting.

From their initial purchase of 45 chinchillas in 1978, the Rockwoods had some knowledge of what this hobby-business would in-Spending three days with a nationally known chinchilla rancher of 30 years, Ed Tannich of Almagordo, N.M., Rockwood analyzed the housing facilities and personal non-sociable, rodent-like Wanting to learn more

ed with the Empress Chinchilla Breeders Club and the fur volume remains cons-Mutation Chinchilla Breeders tant

"They are serious about the business, admitting only bona fide 'chin' ranchers. Plus, an identifiable brand and name are required of members," Rockwood says.

Authorized shows evaluate chinchillas through regional, state and national competition. The Rockwoods' animals took several awards this month in a Southwest regional show in Dallas, including the Mutation Breeders Award, the traveling trophy in mutation chinchillas, the reserve show champion, champion female of the show, and first and second place breeders' awards for mutation breeding. The regional competition included breeders from 18 Texas fur

Nebraska. The Rockwoods chose the Triple J name, incorporating first names of their sons James, 11; Jon, 9; and Jason, 7. Brand design is an 'R' for ranches and others in

Rockwood. Indigenous to the Andes Mountains of Chile, chinchillas were brought to California in 1922 for commercial breeding. Squirrellike animals with a fur volume known for its "stand up" quality, standard chinchillas are pale gray with a white underbelly stripe.

Mutation breeding now produces animals with white, dark brown, mosiac gray and white, silver and the Afroviolet, a pale brown shade tinged with violet.

Comparing chinchilla with mink, Mrs. Rockwood says chinchilla fur never wears out, doesn't lose luster, and "A good test is to blow gently on the fur," she explains. "Chinchilla fur separates, then immediately returns to the fluffy position. Other animal furs tend to mat or shed, leaving a dull undercoat."

Priced in the luxury fur range, a full-length chinchilla coat requires 120 pelts and sells for $50,000 to $80,000, depending on style and uniqueness of the animal coloring. Quality pelts sell for approximately $60. Chinchilla breeding is meticulously charted, allowing ranchers to keep bloodlines pure or to develop mutations desired by fur buyers and wearers.

Gestation is approximately four months. Litters of one to six animals occur four times yearly. Breeding females live five to eight years; males, five to 10 years. Born with fur, immediately able to see and mvoe, baby chinchillas stay in the mother's cage until weaned (approximately 45 days), then are housed with two or three others for three weeks At this point, the breeder decides whether the animal will be bred, pelted or sold.

Ear tags identify all Rockwood chinchillas. Cage cards denote breeding date, mates and offspring produced. Hourly checks determine newborns (1508 live births in '84), disease or injuries. Mrs. Rockwood handles the bookwork, keeping track of the animals 'It's sizeble," she says.

Food supplies include two tons of hay cubes trucked monthly from Arkansas, plus thousands of pounds of small fortified food pellets.

Three regents endorsed recently

AUSTIN (AP) - A Senate committee has recommended approval of the three men Gov. Mark White named regents of the University of Texas system, and the full Senate was to consider their appointments today.

Austin lawyer Shannon Ratliff, Houston oil company president Jack Blanton and Midland oilman W.F. Roden got unanimous endorsements from the Senate Nominations Committee on Wednesday after indicating that tuition might have to be raised to keep university finances

"I suppose in a perfect world, raising tuition would be a bad deal," Ratliff said. But he said increasing tuition while protecting financial aid for poor students is better than reducing programs because of budget cuts.

"Certainly raising that tution with those kinds of protections makes more sense than having to make cuts that perhaps don't take just fat but get most of the bone at the same time," he said.

Senators also sought opinions on tenure for faculty members, and Ratliff suggested that it likely is necessary if the Texas system is to continue com-peting for top teaching talent.

Health spa, bingo bills approved

Texans from "sham" health spas that sell memberships and then never open their

Senators on Wednesday also sent to the House bills to prevent any "criminal element" from moving in on bingo and to establish a council that would develop a statewide plan for fighting

A total of 44,500 Texans were diagnosed last year as having cancer, which causes an annual loss to the Texas economy of over $1.5 billion.

Sen. Lindon Williams, D-Houston, said his health spa proposal would require all funds collected as prepayments for membership to be deposited in an escrow account, where the funds would be held until 30 days after the spa had opened for business.

Full refunds would be made if the spa did not open for business within six months of the sale of the first membership. Spa owners in business for two years would be exempt from the escrow provision Spas would have to file a bond of from $20,000 to $50,000 as security against possible financial losses.

Violators of the law could be sent to jail for a year and fined $2,000, and spas that violated any injunction would be subject to civil penalties of up to $50,000.

The Texas Department of Labor and Standards would administer the new regulations. Spas already in business on Sept. 1, the proposed effective date of the law, would not be affected

Two bills were offered by Sen. Carlos Truan to strengthen state regulation of bingo games. One measure would make penalties more consistent and would allow the state comptroller to suspend bingo games if he determines they are a "public threat." The other bill would allow the comptroller to obtain criminal records in investigating those applying for or holding bingo licenses.

'We're concerned that a dangerous element might come into our state and take over these games," said

AUSTIN (AP) - The Truan, D-Corpus Christi. The Senate has voted to protect bingo law of 1983 was designed to benefit non-profit charitable and fraternal organizations.

Sen. Roy Blake. D-Nacogdoches, said, "The criminal element has become involved or there would be no need for this legislation.'

"There is a concern," Truan said.

A measure by Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, would create the 16-member Texas Cancer Council, which would be attached to the state health department.

The council would develop and implement a statewide plan against cancer, which would be based on recommendations next year by a legislative task force established by House Speaker Gib Lewis.

Brooks' bill directs the council to "promote the development and coordination of effective and efficient statewide public and private policies, programs and services for persons with cancer

The Senate, in other action Wednesday, approved and sent to the House bills that

- Authorize the comptroller to postpone the due date of sales tax collections in the event of a natural disaster.

- Authorize special license plates for retired members of the Texas Army and Air National Guards and the Texas State Guard if they have served 25 years.

- Define "veteran" to comply with federal law so veterans' land bonds could continue to be tax-exempt. Interest charges for delinquent land payments would be doubled to 20 percent, and the Veterans' Land Board could establish fees for processing

Authorize the comptroller to prescribe uniform accounting and reporting procedures for state agencies.

- Require state agencies to file financial reports by March 15 of odd-numbered years in addition to annual

HAS GOD FAILED? NO

Oh, Israel, my people! Oh, my Jewish brothers! How I long for you'to come to Christ. My heart is heavy within me and I grieve bitterly day and night because of you. Christ knows and the Holy Spirit knows that it is no mere pretense when I say that I would be willing to be forever damned if that would save you.

God has given you so much, but still you will not listen to Him. He took you as His own special, chosen people and led you along with a bright cloud of glory and told you how very much He wanted to bless you. He gave you His rules for daily life so you would know what He wanted you to do. He let you worship Him, and gave you mighty promises. Great men of God were your fathers, and Christ Himself was one of you, a Jew so far as His human nature is concerned, He who now rules over all things. Praise God forever!

Well then, has God failed to fulfill His promises to the Jews? No! For these promises are only to those who are truly Jews. And not everyone born into a Jewish family is truly a lew!

Just the fact that they come from Abraham doesn't make them truly Abraham's children. For the Scriptures say that the promises apply only to Abraham's son Isaac and Isaac's descendants, though Abraham had other children too. This means that not all of Abraham's children are children of God, but only those who believe the promise of salvation which He made to Abraham. Romans 9:1-8
