

Karen Abney teacher of year

By JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer

When a sixth grade instructor boosted her ego by allowing her to present some of the math lessons, Karen Zinck Abney knew she wanted to be a teacher.

Her commitment to that goal and the dedication she has put into that career earned her the honor of Hereford's Teacher of the Year. She was named to the honor at the Hereford Educators Association banquet Monday night.

Teaching math at Stanton Junior High since 1979, Mrs. Abney joined the Hereford schools in 1973 to teach at La Plata. She previously taught at Dumas Junior High.

She has been a faculty sponsor of Pep Clubs, the spelling bees, the math team and has served on the textbook adoption committee and the communications committee.

She is a member of the Classroom Teachers Association, Texas State Teachers Association, and the National Educators Association.

Mrs. Abney graduated third in her high school class in Clayton, N.M., and finished college at West Texas State University with a teaching certificate in math and English. She later received her master's degree with a concentration in math and a professional teaching certificate.

On July 20, 1969, she married her sweetheart of 7 1/2 years, Temple Abney. They have three children, Kristen Amber, 11; Temple Houston III, 8; and Cassie Suzanne, 4.

Her civic activities include membership in The American Association of University Women, Beta Sigma Phi, P.E.O. Chapter, El Llano Study Club, the Women's Division of Chamber of Commerce. She is active with her children in Girl Scouts, Camp Fire, Y.M.C.A. and Kids, Inc.

As a member of First United Methodist Church she is the leader of the Acolyte Program, serves on the Pastor-Parish Committee, plays church league softball and is active in Sunday School.

In her folder which was used for another school district to choose the award, Mrs. Abney said:

"I am a teacher because I love school, students, and

Administrators' contracts renewed by HISD board

Administrators were granted two-year contract renewals Monday night at the Hereford Independent School District board meeting.

The board faced a routine agenda other than the contracts and preliminary looks at the 1983-84 school calendar.

Coach Don Crompton's resignation was officially accepted, as he moves to an Ablene coaching position. David Balch, a Shirley teacher, also resigned.

The board announced the election to fill the rest of Bobby Griego's post following his resignation last month would be April 2. Absentee voting will be done at the central school offices and filing will close 30 days before the election.

Enrollment for the district is at 4,781 which is 27 over last year's at this time.

Mel Holubec gave the curriculum report on the Hereford High biology program. He presented slides and told about the trips to Aransas Pass.

The YMCA was granted use of La Plata's gym.

Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Karen Abney, left, was named Teacher of the Year at the Hereford Educators Association banquet Monday night and presented the honoring plaque by HEA president Margaret Bell. Mrs. Abney has been teaching math at Stanton Junior High since 1979. She and her husband, Temple, have three children.

Commissioners 'subsidize' dance at Bull Barn

BY BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR

The Mexican-American seniors at Hereford High School will hold their annual dance at the Bull Barn this year after the four Deaf Smith County Commissioners dug into their own pockets Monday to help pay the $1,500 deposit required to use the county-owned facility for dances.

Representatives of the HHS group met with the court Monday, asking that the deposit to use the Bull Barn be lowered so that they could hold their dance there this year. The group held the annual event at a smaller site last year because they couldn't come up with enough money to use the Bull Barn.

In the end, the four county fathers pledged $250 each to place the deposit with the county. The deposit is part of the county's formal policy regarding use of the structure. The seniors will be responsible for coming up with the other third of the deposit, as well as providing insurance, the $200 usage fee, and hiring personnel for security for the May 27 dance.

Gloria Dela Paz, speaking for the group, said that efforts to raise the deposit have proved very difficult above the other necessary funds needed to pay for the band, and that efforts to get backing by parents was also hard, due to the state of the economy.

The deposit amount will be refunded after the dance, providing that no damage to the Bull Barn is incurred.

The Mexican-American seniors have held a dance annually since 1968, when the group started with only 13 members.

In the other major item on the agenda Monday, the court met with Joel Goucher, President of the Buffalo Lake Heritage Association, about efforts to form a three-county water district to help get the lake back into a usable state.

Both Potter and Randall Counties have already passed resolutions approving the formation of the water district, which hopes to include Deaf Smith County.

The multi-county water district was the brainchild of State Sen. Bill Sarpalius, who came up with the idea at a meeting with Goucher's group in January. Goucher said the senator will sponsor a bill concerning the formation of the water district in the senate, while State Rep. Bob Simpson has agreed to sponsor it in the house.

The move is among the latest by area individuals or groups to get Buffalo Lake restored, along with the wildlife refuge that adjoins it.

Goucher said that engineers working with his group have estimated that it will take $3 million to repair the spillway at the lake and restore it. That's far beneath the $13-15 million price tag placed on the work by Department of Interior officials.

The county fathers agreed in principle with the formation of the water district, but tabled action on a resolution.

Their main concerns were ensuring that county taxpayers have a vote in deciding whether or not to expend any funds by the water district, a hesitation to approve it before the final draft of Sarpalius' bill is ready, and a provision for the dissolution of the water district after the lake project is completed.

In other business Monday, the court:

-Approved The First National Bank of Hereford as the County Depository. The county will receive the Treasury Bill rate plus 1/4 percent interest for funds deposited with the bank.

-Approved a bid of $11,158 from Plains Insurance Co. for coverage for county vehicles and certain county-owned property. The bid was the only one received for the service.

-Agreed to allow County Auditor Alex Schroeter to place in the county's 1983-84 budget funds to have records

Bill alleviates DWI 'loopholes'

AUSTIN (AP) — The state's current law against drunken drivers is an "empty threat" because of loopholes that allow violators to escape punishment, says the director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Col. Jim Adams joined Sen. Bill Sarpalius, D-Amarillo, Monday in support of a bill to toughen Texas' DWI law by eliminating loopholes and increasing mandatory penalties.

"Instead of hanging out an empty threat, which has been the case in the past, we will be able to create a deterrence to drunken driving" with the passage of Sarpalius' bill, Adams said.

"It plugs the loopholes to the point that an individual who does drive while intoxicated will know he will be apprehended and certainly punished," Adams said. "At present we're arresting drunken drivers, but little happens to the vast majority of them."

Sarpalius said, "The current law is a good one. It's just not being used." Under his proposed law, there could be no plea bargaining, no probation, and no "deferred adjudication" by which the defendant's criminal record is wiped clean if he stays out of trouble.

Mandatory fines would start at $300 instead of the current $50.

DWI suspects who refuse to submit to breath, urine or blood tests when arrested could lose their drivers licenses for up to one year, and the refusal to submit could be used as evidence in a DWI trial.

On first offense, his bill calls for a minimum, mandatory fine of $300, a jail term of up to two years that can be

TENRAC sets up office on waste

The Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) has recently established the Office of High-Level Nuclear Waste Affairs in response to the Department of Energy's (DOE) current study of two areas in Texas (Deaf Smith and Swisher counties) for a potential nuclear waste repository site. On Jan. 7, President Reagan signed new legislation, the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982, setting up the timetables by which the Federal government would implement a nuclear waste disposal program.

The purpose of this Office is to oversee the work of DOE relative to Texas high-level nuclear waste investigations. A major assignment of the Office is to ensure a high level of technical quality in the completion of geological studies conducted by DOE and to ensure that the State's voice is heard to the maximum extent allowed in the new Federal law.

This Office will ensure that DOE's activities in Texas conform to the requirements set forth in the recently passed Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 and will serve as a focal point in Texas for citizen participation in this area. The Office also will coordinate the activities of the High-Level Waste Subcommittee of the TENRAC Nuclear Advisory Committee.

Steve Frishman, Manager of the Office, has considerable expertise in dealing with the DOE program, particularly the geology and environmental regulatory issues. Danny Smith, Assistant Manager, has a technical background in Nuclear Engineering and has several years of experience dealing with DOE on the high-level waste program and with details of the Federal legislation.

Liberals applaud squeal rule ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — Civil libertarians applauded a federal court ruling that blocks the so-called "squeal rule" for teen-agers who receive contraceptives, but one religious leader said the decision could drive a wedge into the American family.

U.S. District Judge Henry Werker on Monday temporarily blocked the Reagan administration rule from going into effect as planned Feb. 25. The rule would have required federally funded family-planning clinics to notify parents when teen-age children receive contraceptives.

"There is little doubt that the plaintiffs will suffer irreparable harm from the operation of the ... regulation" issued by the Department of Health and Human Services, Werker said. Russell Mack, a spokesman for the Department of Health and Human Services in Washington, declined to comment on the decision until officials received formal notification.

The state of New York, its health department, two doctors, and the Medical and Health Research Association had filed joint suits against the department, challenging the regulation's constitutionality.

"We're delighted about it," said Ira Glasser, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, after the decision. The ACLU provided legal assistance to some of the plaintiffs.

"We said from the beginning that the regulation was illegal and unauthorized by Congress."

Simpson accepts committee gavel

AUSTIN — State Rep. Bob Simpson, D-Amarillo, accepted the gavel as chairman of the House Committee on Insurance for the 68th Legislature from Speaker Gib Lewis in recent ceremonies.

Rep. Simpson, who is serving his fifth term in the House, was also appointed to the Regions, Compacts and Districts House Committee.

The Committee on Insurance has jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to insurance and insurance industry, including fire, life, casualty, and other types of insurance. In addition, the committee is responsible for legislation concerning all insurance companies and other organizations of any type writing or issuing policies of insurance in the State of Texas, including their organization, incorporation, management, powers and limitations.

"Regulation of the vast insurance industry of Texas to assure equity for both the insured and the insurer, is an on-going concern of the Texas Legislature and the regulatory agency — the State Insurance Board — which enforces the laws passed by the Legislature affecting the industry," Lewis said in announcing Rep. Simpson's appointment.

Search for fugitive focus on farmhouse

HEATON, N.D. (AP) — Police backed up by a National Guard armored personnel carrier today surrounded a fog-shrouded prairie farm where a

"fanatic" tax protester suspected of killing two U.S. marshals was believed to be holed up.

"I'm not going to let them take me again," Gordon Kahl, 63, told a neighbor shortly before he got into a shootout with U.S. marshals who tried to arrest him Sunday for violating probation imposed in a 1977 tax evasion case.

Another man suspected in the slayings, Scott Faul, 29, of Harvey, was arrested Monday night in nearby Fessenden, N.D., said U.S. Attorney Rodney Webb. Faul was believed to be in the car with Kahl at the time of the shooting. Four other people were arrested earlier.

FBI agents, sheriff's deputies and police officers late Monday began searching the 320-acre farm where Kahl used to live and his son now lives. But darkness and fog prevented them from getting as far as the house, according to Dick Hickman, a Crime Bureau agent from Williston.

Neighbors said Kahl had been known to carry a gun. "But I wasn't afraid of him," said one man, who would not give his name. "He was a good neighbor and helped us tune up our equipment. I just wouldn't talk to him about the other things. If you just said one word about things like taxes, he was off."

Kahl is a "fanatic. He's one of those income tax fanatics," said U.S. Deputy Marshal Ordean Lee.

The search for Kahl focused on the farm when authorities spotted tracks leading out of a grove of trees across the road. They followed the tracks to a car which

The recent NCAA decision to require athletes to achieve a certain grade level in "solid" subjects such as English and math is long overdue. College administrators seem determined to bring back academics to their athletic departments and demand that athletes perform to a certain standard in the classroom.

There have been some objections to this NCAA ruling, and most of them come from black organizations who view this as discrimination against black athletes. They claim it is aimed at denying blacks an opportunity to perform in college and then achieve financial success in professional sports.

Such objections seem to assume that blacks are not capable of making their grades, or that they should not be required to study because of past racial discrimination by a white society. Both assumptions are wrong and some black leaders think it is time the same standards are applied to everyone.

Some interesting stories have come out concerning how athletes have been allowed to perform without making their grades. One concerned young man who attended a university for four years, captained the basketball team and finished his eligibility only to discover that he couldn't read or write.

It is to his credit that he is now enrolled in a private school where he attends the fourth grade and is mastering arithmetic and reading. He displayed rare athletic skills at an early age and was moved along in high school and college without studying. When his usefulness ended to the university, he was set adrift.

Athletics are a vital part of the school systems, but we should never lose sight of the primary aim of schools — to educate.

Cruise within 50 miles of Gulf Coast

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squadron of four Soviet warships has ended a two-month operation in the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico that at one point brought the ships within about 50 miles of the southern U.S. coast, Navy officials say.

The officials, who spoke on condition that they remain anonymous, said the operations were similar to maneuvers conducted by Soviet vessels during 21 previous trips to the Cuban area since 1969. The squadron is heading back to home waters, the officials said.

The four ships include a Kresta-class guided missile cruiser, a Kribak-class guided missile frigate, a diesel-powered Foxtrot-class attack submarine and an oiler.

Navy officials said they were not sure whether the ships were nuclear-armed. But they noted that Soviet warships are normally equipped with both nuclear and conventional armament.

However, these officials stressed that the kind of weapons carried by the Soviet warships are intended for use against other ships, airplanes and submarines but do not constitute any threat to land targets.

The officials said the squadron approached closer to the U.S. Gulf Coast than had been the case in previous such voyages, but they said this was no cause for alarm.

Scientists examine mysterious rock

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — University of Arizona researchers are checking a small greenish Antarctica rock they think may have been a chunk of the moon.

The pebble, picked up a year ago on a routine scientific sweep of debris that collects in the ice of Antarctica, closely resembles lunar rocks brought back by astronauts on missions to the moon, said Michael Drake, a planetary scientist who heads one of two University of Arizona research teams studying the sample.

Drake is using an electron microprobe to analyze a thin slice of the tiny meteorite. Another University of Arizona planetary scientist, William Boynton, is doing trace-element analysis of a BB-shot-size piece of it, by using the school's research nuclear reactor and gamma-ray spectrometer.

Since no positively identifiable lunar rocks ever have been found on Earth before, the discovery of this sample is "like nature giving us a free space mission," Drake said.

If this pebble were knocked off the moon by a huge impact estimated to happen no more often than every 100 million years or so, "it would be the first meteorite unambiguously associated with a planetary body," Drake said.

He said most meteorites are believed to originate in the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter.

New service has inauguration

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Mayor Richard Berkley called the city's new 911 emergency telephone service "the perfect Valentine's Day present," but one caller didn't extend the service's operator a holiday greeting.

A woman made an obscene call to the system, which was inaugurated Monday, linking 1.1 million people in the Kansas City area to their nearest police dispatchers.

"It really irritated me," Capt. Don Musterman, commander of the police communications department, said after he received an obscene call.

The caller, however, learned a lesson in the system's effectiveness. A digital readout automatically locks in the number of the caller, and within moments, the switchboard was listening to denials.

"We knew it was her," Musterman said. "I don't think she will do it again."

Beauty contestant has jewelry stolen

COVENTRY, R.I. (AP) — On her way to winning the Mrs. Rhode Island title, Sharon Condon returned to her hotel room in a sleek swimsuit to find a stocky man rifling her jewelry case.

Angrily ordering him out, she called police and changed into an evening gown. A few minutes later, the 41-year-old high school English teacher coolly returned to the competition and won the right to represent the Ocean State in the national finals.

"He took the jewelry I was planning to wear," Mrs. Condon said Monday. "I was so angry I forgot to comb my hair. Everyone told me, 'Don't cry, don't ruin your mascara.'"

Mrs. Condon said the jewelry and cash stolen from her room in the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Newton, Mass., Sunday was worth $4,000. Many of the items were family heirlooms, she said.

"It was a high price to pay," said Mrs. Condon, adding that the idea of dropping out of the contest never occurred to her.

Mrs. Condon said she had just finished the swimsuit competition and was returning to the room to change into a gown when she noticed her door ajar.

"He had my wallet in his hand. The jewelry I laid out for a quick change was gone. I said, 'What are you doing here?' He said 'Lady, let me out of here.'"

Mrs. Condon said the thief pushed her out of the way and fled, tearing the number from her swimsuit in the process.

"I really wasn't frightened. I think that's because I'm a school teacher," she said.

She locked the door and called the police, who interviewed her about the theft as she changed into the gown.

Paul Harvey News Leukemia among housecats preventable

Usually, medical science manages a disease before learning to prevent it.

In the instance of feline leukemia, however, presently a widespread disease among housecats, we have a preventive before we have a remedy.

Maybe ten million years ago in the arid deserts of northern Africa there roamed an ancestor of your housecat.

At the same time and in the same region there roamed ancestors of present-day rats. The cats ate the rats and thus became infected with a tumor virus present in the chromosomes of the rats.

Today's descendants of that ancestral cat are transmitting through their saliva that oncovirus — now known as the feline leukemia virus — from one to another.

Once a cat gets it there is little we can do about it. The cat wastes away and dies, 83 percent within three years.

It can be readily diagnosed by a veterinarian and infected animals isolated.

When infected cats have been isolated or removed, the household should be thoroughly cleaned with detergents. Three months after the first test, all of the uninfected cats remaining in the household should be retested.

Only if that retest reveals an infected cat is a third test required three months later.

Any new cats brought into the household should come from an environment free of the virus — and the pet should be tested before being allowed to mingle with other cats.

Is there a hazard to humans? While it is difficult to prove a negative, there is no evidence of any human hazard.

Some researchers have their fingers crossed because this is the only known tumor virus of any species to which humans are frequently exposed. Also, because children might be more susceptible.

This concern should add urgency to the acceptance of a vaccine — hopefully to eliminate feline leukemia virus once and for all.

There are three vaccines, all experimental.

Because one is a liver-virus vaccine which poses the possibility of infecting uninfected cats, it is not available in the United States.

The second, while inactivated, is only marginally effective.

Dr. Richard Olsen of Ohio State University has developed a "safe" vaccine which Norden Laboratories is testing.

Against an overwhelming challenge it proved 70 to 80 percent effective.

An "overwhelming challenge" means that test animals were exposed to megadoses of the virus. A comparable field test would be expected to demonstrate an effectiveness of 95 percent plus.

Norden's research director, Dr. William Beckenhauer, is optimistic that the present six-dose inoculation can be reduced to three, perhaps to two.

Assuming his optimism is justified, completion of testing and licensing by the United States Department of Agriculture comes next.

Anybody lucky enough to be loved by a cat, I wish I could offer you more immediate encouragement than that.

But a vaccine could be available next year.

authorities said was stolen at the shooting scene Sunday.

Two marshals were killed, one was wounded critically and two police officers suffered less serious wounds when they attempted to arrest Kahl near Medina, about 50 miles south of Heaton. Authorities said occupants of a car opened fire with an automatic weapon as the officers approached.

Kahl's wife, Joan, 62, and his son, Yori, 23, were arrested after the shooting Sunday at a Jamestown hospital where Yori Kahl was being treated for gunshot wounds.

On Monday, authorities arrested David R. Broer, 53, and Vernon A. Wegner, 25, both of Streeter, who allegedly were in another car with Kahl's wife and son.

In Carrington, 20 miles east of Heaton, people recalled him as having changed in recent years.

Theft suspect in Houston

Houston police have in custody a suspect Hereford police believe may have stolen a $110,000 tractor-trailer rig from Ralph Owens Trucking here last Friday or Saturday.

Lt. Vernon Hope said the incident is still under investigation with the Houston authorities.

The 1962 Kenworth, white with gold stripes, was reported missing Saturday morning.

Other weekend reports include theft of fender skirts, theft of a gas cap, theft of cosmetics from a home, and a stolen tricycle.

Police also checked reports of harassing phone calls, a disturbance with a pellet gun, a family squabble, and a children's fight.

Sarpalius is also sponsoring separate bills prohibiting open containers of alcoholic beverages inside vehicles, and raising fees paid by liquor dealers to use the money for local alcoholic rehabilitation centers. Another bill he said he supports would raise the drinking age to 21.

"This isn't hanging anybody by the thumbs," Adams said. He said the main deterrent would be in the "certainty" of punishment.

"We have individuals in Texas who have been found guilty 10 to 15 times for DWI but never go to jail, never lose their license — because each time they start as a first offender" by virtue of deferred adjudication, said Adams.

Sarpalius said another loophole closed by his bill is plea bargaining, which is attractive to prosecutors who would like to avoid the time and expense of a trial. Sarpalius said it undercuts the intent of the state's DWI laws.

He said he checked the records of one drunken driver who had killed another person in an accident, and found 11 previous speeding violations. Then he found out the defendant had actually been arrested for DWI each time, but had agreed to plead guilty

4-H Firsthand

Concession stand deemed successful

BY PENNY REINART
County Extension Agent
Well, it is now February - and another Hereford Young Farmer's Livestock Show has come and gone along with the 4-H Concession Stand.

Thanks to many individual people, merchants, and local clubs, 4-H Parent Leaders will once again be financially able to send deserving youths to State Roundup, Electric Camp, County Camp, Career Day, National 4-H Congress and many other trips. Awards will be given to Best Rookies, Gold Stars, a scholarship to college, county pins, year pins, and more.

None of this would be possible without your support. Many people ate our "greaseless" chili and lots more; we thank you for your business. There were others who contributed financially: the Extension Homemakers Clubs - Westway, Cultural, Draper and Ford. We had merchants who gave us good deals, especially Frosty's Meat Market.

There were those who even donated goods and/or services: Swift, K & A Meat Market, Savage's, MacClain's Nursery and Flower's West. Plus, one very special couple who donated onions and Penny forgot to get their name.

4-H is a very active and sometimes costly organization. This project is a way to insure that all deserving youth are provided the opportunity for countless awards and opportunities without their financial capabilities playing a factor.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts! Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Midland College offers journalism scholarships

Students wanting to study journalism on the college level are invited to apply for scholarships to Midland College, it was announced this week by Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Allison Professor of Journalism at Midland College.

The scholarships will pay for books, fees and tuition at MC, Sellmeyer said, and are provided through an endowment fund left the school by the James Allison family, former publishers of the Midland Reporter Telegram.

Midland College's journalism program can provide a student an Associate of Arts degree in journalism which will enable him/her to transfer to any four-year journalism program around the state, or equip him to work on community or mid-size daily newspapers, Sellmeyer said.

In addition to the Allison scholarships, students may also apply for paid staff positions on the Midland College weekly newspaper and/or magazine (published each semester) and also for the college-work study program. Those who participate in the paid staff and work-study programs can earn much of their room and board cost, the MC journalism instructor said.

Those interested should request applications from Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Journalism Department, Midland College, 3600 North Garfield, Midland, Texas 79701. Applications should be received by June 1, 1983.

Hereford Garden Club members meet Friday

Members of Hereford Garden Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Jacobson, 115 Oak. Mrs. R.L. Ethridge was co-hostess.

In the absence of the club president, Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to make a spring tour of wild flowers.

Mrs. Dyal Garner presented the program on wild flowers of Texas and New Mexico. She explained that planting a wild flower garden takes the same amount of care as a new lawn. The ground must be kept damp for six weeks but once established, it must just be watered two or three times a year.

Native grasses blend in well with multi-colored wild flowers. The approximate cost of the seed is $50 an acre.

Mrs. Alfred Smith spoke on the potato and said a potato has as much vitamin C as an orange. She also explained that over the centuries potatoes have saved millions of people from starvation and that the potato may be used in as many as 150 dishes.

Other members attending included Mmes. H.R. Cocanougher, R.L. Ethridge, W.G. Hroma, Edgar Lemons and R.W. Mitchell.

Guest speaks on colonial America

Members of Calliopean Study Club welcomed 18 guests Thursday evening for their guest night.

Bringing a presentation about the 18th century was Jean Hull from Borger. Dressed in colonial costume, Ms. Hull began the program by starting with the 16th century Tudor period, focusing on the New England colonies, showing slides of the countryside, houses, mode of dress, culture, and religious practices.

Bringing the history up to the colonial period during the time of Martha Washington, she discussed plantation life in the colonies. The plantation was a community within itself, stated Ms. Hull. All food that was eaten by the family and slaves was grown on the land and all clothing was made from material woven by the family.

Candles for light were made by a special candlemaker and each plantation had its own medical helpers, such as midwives. The women who lived there worked very hard and received little recognition, said Ms. Hull in conclusion.

Hostesses, Kathryn Ruga, Audine Dettman, and Vera Threewit, served Valentine desserts to 40 members and guests.

Top track athletes scheduled to attend WT clinic March 3

By LES GILES
Sports Editor

Top track athletes such as sprinter Harvey Glance, pole vaulter Billy Olson and former long distance standout Jim Ryan are scheduled to be featured speakers March 3 at a clinic, which will be held at West Texas State University in Canyon, beginning at 4 p.m.

The clinic will be held in conjunction with the International Pentathlon Championships, which will be held at WTSU.

All Panhandle area high school track and field athletes, as well as coaches, are encouraged to attend the clinic, and will be admitted free of charge. Non-high school athletes and coaches will be charged $1 at the door.

The clinic will provide area athletes (both boys and girls) and coaches a first-time opportunity to witness world class track and field athletes demonstrate their respective events.

In addition, there'll be a classroom segment in which the athletes will share their ideas on technical aspects of their event, as well as thoughts on motivation and success in competitive track and field.

The events in the clinic, and the clinicians involved include:

Harvey Glance (sprints); Jim Ryan (distance running); Dave Laut (shot put for boys); Jane Frederick (shot put for girls, high jump for boys and girls and hurdles for girls); Tony Allen-Cooksey (long jump and triple jump); Billy Olson (pole vault) and Greg Veatch (hurdles for boys).

For additional information, coaches or athletes should contact the WTSU Sports Information Office at 656-2131.

While in the area, Ryan also will speak at a noon luncheon (March 3) at the YWCO banquet facilities (1006 S. Jackson) in Amarillo.

Tickets for the luncheon are available at the downtown YMCA located at 816 S. Van Buren in Amarillo.

They must be purchased by Feb. 24, at a cost of $9.50 per person. There is a 175-person limit.

For additional information, contact Bill Wagner at the YMCA (374-4651) in Amarillo.

From an 0-8 district mark, and a 4-21 season standard...a year ago or, better yet, how about a 1-4 district start and a 6-12 record on Jan. 4 to a spot in this year's schoolboy basketball playoffs.

Sound a bit far-fetched? Well, that's what's happened to Caprock's boys.

Not known as a basketball power, Caprock never had won more than 15 games in any season in the school's history.

But, after a slow start this season, things turned around for the Longhorns.

They won their first district game, lost the next four, but came back to win 10 in a row and earn a playoff berth for the first time in the school's history.

For all practical purposes, the boys' 3-5A race is over, although the teams still play tonight and Friday to complete the regular season.

Plainview and Caprock have locked up playoff berths.

The girls' regular season wound up last Friday. Plainview finished first and Monterey second to gain playoff tickets. Amarillo High, a state semifinalist last year, wound up with the best regular season record (20-3), but finished third in the district chase.

Plainview's girls open their playoff quest Thursday in Brownfield against Midland High. Monterey opens the playoffs Saturday in Lamesa against Midland Lee.

Hereford's boys will try to avert a winless district campaign with two games this week. They travel to Amarillo tonight to meet Palo Duro, then wind up the regular season Friday at home against Lubbock High.

Caprock closes out the regular season Friday in Plainview, and gain a share of the loop crown by winning. The Bulldogs are 11-3 starting play tonight, while the Longhorns are 11-4.

Remember, deadline for entering this year's city men's bowling tournament is Friday night at 10 p.m. Entries should be sent to L.V. Watts at 109 Ave. C.

The tournament will be held the weekend of Feb. 26-27 and March 5-6. Team entries will bowl at 1, 3:30 and 6 p.m. Feb. 26 and March 5, while doubles and singles entrants will compete at 1 and 3:30 p.m. Feb. 27 and March 6.

Entry fee is $7 per event, with an additional $2 for all events.

Also, registration deadline for a YMCA basketball league, designed for boys and girls in grades 1 through 6, is Feb. 22.

League fees for members is $5, while fees for non-members is $12. Games will be played at the Hereford High School courts, Stanton Jr. High courts and other courts in town. The league is expected to begin March 5.

Third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders will play on Saturdays, while 1st and 2nd graders will play after school during the week.

Runnin' Rebels No. 1!

SPORTS

Page 4-The Hereford Brand-Tuesday, Feb. 15, 1983

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — In this hype-happy town, where superlatives reign supreme, No. 1 has a new meaning.

The University of Nevada-Las Vegas Runnin' Rebels were perched atop the Associated Press college basketball poll today for the first time in their 25-year history.

The Rebels, 22-0, and the only unbeaten team in the nation, took over first place after Villanova upset last week's leader, North Carolina. The Tar Heels fell to third place while Indiana slipped into second.

For Rebel guard Danny Tarkanian, the rating was particularly sweet. He had watched his father, UNLV Coach Jerry Tarkanian, roll up 12 straight 20-victory seasons en route to becoming the winningest active coach in college basketball.

Yet until last week's No. 2 rating, a Tarkanian club had never been ranked higher than No. 3.

"When you're ranked second, third or fourth, you're always behind somebody," the younger Tarkanian said. "In 10 or 15 or 20 years from now, I can say to my kids that I was on the No. 1-ranked team in the country."

"If they ever dreamed of not making us No. 1, it'd be the biggest ripoff ever. Everybody else has lost, and some more than once," the fiery guard said.

The news of the latest poll by a panel of sports writers had hardly cleared the AP wires when signs began popping up on Strip marquees proclaiming the Rebels as the nation's best college basketball team.

Coach Tarkanian held something of a different view.

Tarkanian has said since last Spring that his 1982-83 edition didn't have the raw talent of last year's team, and certainly not the power of the 1975-76 club that went 23-0 before finishing in the elite Final Four.

But Tarkanian says he has always liked the way this year's team worked together. What they lacked in talent, they made up in hustle and determination, he said.

Now the Rebels are sneaking up on that old victory string, and could break it with wins over San Jose State and Utah State at home this weekend.

Detractors ask if the Rebels are for real in light of their schedule. Defenders note the club has beaten the nation's top offensive club, Oklahoma, and twice whipped Fresno, the country's top defensive team.

The ranking was hardly a runaway, with UNLV gaining 31 of 54 first place ballots, finishing with 1,031 points, just 19 ahead of Indiana. The Hoosiers, 19-2, received 13 first place ballots.

Following North Carolina, 21-4, was Houston, 20-2 — now riding a 15-game winning streak. Virginia, 19-3, slipped from No. 3 to No. 5. Sixth place went to St. John's, 20-2, followed by Arkansas, 20-1, and Villanova. Louisville was rated No. 9 and UCLA slipped from No. 5 to No. 10 after its loss to Oregon State.

Kentucky was ranked 11, followed by Missouri, Memphis State and Georgetown. Wichita State was 15, followed by Iowa, Syracuse, Boston College, Oklahoma and Ohio State.

The acre was originally the area a yoke of oxen could plow in a day.

H & R BLOCK GIVES COMPETENT SERVICES

Nearly nine million Americans continued to place their trust in H & R Block at tax time last year.

Why do millions of people keep coming back to H & R Block? Because they like many things about the service, including the care and accuracy of the work; the competency of the tax preparers and their thorough knowledge of all the new tax laws; and, especially, the tax dollars many have saved.

But that's not all. Block's customers value the good year-round service; the courteous treatment they receive; the personal, confidential attention; and the peace of mind attained in knowing a difficult task was completed at a reasonable charge.

Join the millions who go to H & R Block! You'll be glad you did!

Rams name Robinson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The past two years have been forgettable for the Los Angeles Rams, who have had two of their worst seasons and have experienced a number of front-office shakeups.

But Rams owner Georgia Frontiere, who has drawn much fan and media criticism for her handling of the club, seems to be putting things in order.

On Monday, she hired John Robinson, who had seven highly successful seasons as head coach at the University of Southern California, as the Rams' new coach.

He replaces Ray Malavasi, who coached Los Angeles for five years and was fired after the team's record fell to 2-7 this past season after a 6-10 campaign in 1981.

Last month, Frontiere hired Ray Nagel, who was the University of Hawaii's athletic director, as the club's executive vice president. Nagel, credited with making significant improvements in the Hawaii athletic programs, now supervises Rams operations.

The hiring of Robinson, 47, was unexpected, but only because he had indicated three months ago that he wasn't in the market for an National Football League coaching job and because he had turned down a lucrative offer to become the New England Patriots' coach one year ago.

He had resigned as Trojans coach to become a vice president for university relations at the school.

Explaining his decision to leave the university, Robinson said: "I had made a big decision in my life then, and now this past weekend, I had the opportunity to make another big one. I thought I wanted to be out of coaching, but I think the environment with the Rams is something I want to be involved in."

"I love football, it's in my blood ... I considered it too good an opportunity to pass up," Robinson said.

During his seven seasons as the Trojans' head coach, Robinson guided the team to a 67-14-2 record, giving him one of the best winning percentages among active college coaches.

He was replaced as Trojans coach by Ted Tollner, who had been an assistant.

Public Notice

In order to implement prior orders of the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Docket No. 3957, notice is hereby given of Southwestern Bell's proposal to implement a new schedule of intrastate long distance rates, effective April 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the proposed rate schedule will not increase the company's net intrastate revenues, but rather, the increased rates will offset increased settlements paid to certain other telephone companies.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

Changes in intrastate long distance rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide intrastate long distance service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, con el objeto de cumplir con el decreto previo del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) del Estado de Texas, Acta No. 3957, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia, con vigencia a partir del 1o de abril de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel de tarifas que Southwestern Bell se propone establecer no aumentará sus ingresos netos intrastatales, sino que servirá para compensar el aumento de los ajustes que se les paga a algunas otras compañías de teléfono.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) en Austin, Texas, y esta disponible para inspección pública en todas nuestras oficinas en el Estado de Texas.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Cambios en las tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen servicio intraestatal de larga distancia en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Junior High Action
 The race is on for a loose ball during Monday afternoon's girls' basketball action between Stanton and LaPlata's 9th graders.

LaPlata wins district

Gloria Marquez tossed in a dozen points, while Shelly Edwards added 10 and Adelia Rodriguez eight as LaPlata's 9th grade girls rolled past Stanton, 42-22, Monday, and in the process claimed their first-ever district title.

The LaPlata 9th finished the season with a 16-4 record, but more importantly 8-1 in the district race.

In Monday's other games, which completed the regular season for the girls, Stanton won the 7th grade contest, 27-13, while LaPlata took the 8th grade tilt, 30-17.

In boys' action between the two schools, Stanton won two of three games.

Stanton won the 7th grade contest, 35-34, as Marcus Brown and Ross Torres each tossed in 14 points.

LaPlata, paced by Bobby Baker's 16 points, won the 8th grade game, 48-39. Kyle Streun and Keith Herrera each had eight points for Stanton.

Stephan Hacker tossed in a game-high 14 markers as Stanton rolled to a 57-40, win in the 9th grade battle. Brett Clements scored 10 for LaPlata.

In last weekend's junior high boys' tournament, held in Hereford, LaPlata won the 8th grade division, beating Stanton, 54-36, in the championship game Saturday.

The Plainview Red team won the 7th grade division, beating LaPlata, 43-37, in the championship clash.

White wins Sarasota Classic

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Donna White says she needs to practice more to improve her golf game, but a self-imposed, three-day exile from the practice tees may have given her the edge she needed to win the $175,000 LPGA Sarasota Classic.

The triumph Monday in the rain-delayed 72-hole event was White's third career victory, but her first in three years. She shot a final round 68 for a 4-under-par 284 total, one stroke better than Alice Miller, JoAnne Carner and Nancy Lopez.

"I came in here with a refreshed attitude and felt like if I could be patient with myself that I could do it," said White, who took three days off last week after missing the cut at the Elizabeth Arden Classic, the tour's previous stop.

"I didn't practice any. I just tried to relax and enjoy my family and take some of the pressure that I've been putting on myself off," she added.

White said she has felt a burden to perform well since launching a comeback last season following the birth of her first child in April 1981.

"It looked like a 40-footer that was actually about 12," said Miller, who was seeking her first tour victory.

She had taken the lead from defending champion Beth Daniel on the 6th hole. Daniel lost her grip on the lead with three bogeys in the first six holes. She later dropped out of contention with a triple bogey on No. 16 and a double bogey at No. 17.

Miller, however, said she was unaware that she was ever on top.

Ordinary personal liability insurance could leave you holding the bag.

Traditionally, homeowners or auto insurance policies include liability coverage. But that coverage has fixed upper limits. Suppose someone suffers a serious injury on your property and then decides to sue you. Courts and juries have been known to award injured parties sums far in excess of the upper limits of standard liability coverage. This excess could then be made up from the sale of your home and other personal assets, your savings and from a portion of your future earnings.

A far more comfortable solution is personal excess insurance, which we can provide through CNA, or other major insurance companies. For a relatively few dollars, personal excess insurance protects you against the financial disaster which could occur as the result of an inflated judgment against you.

For more details about how we can help protect you, your home, auto, or business, visit or call us. We're an independent insurance agency anxious to go to work for you.

The recession makes Mardi Gras 'nicer'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Early celebrants cruised the streets of the French Quarter with painted faces and drinks in hand for today's Mardi Gras revels, but officials said rainy skies and a poor economy could dampen this year's fun-making.

Arrests were down leading up to the annual Shrove Tuesday debauch, there were empty rooms at city hotels and rain was forecast for today's parades, authorities said.

Police spokeswoman Ruth Asher said Monday there had been 1,626 Carnival-related arrests — down sharply from last year, when the total reached 3,467.

“People are being good this year,” she said.

Mardi Gras, French for Fat Tuesday, is a festival with origins tracing back to pagan times. In predominantly Catholic New Orleans, it is the climax of Carnival — a long season of parties and formal balls that begins shortly after Christmas and ends at midnight Tuesday with the beginning of Lent and its 40 days of penance before Easter.

Before midnight tonight, Carnival will have seen 54 gaudy, noisy parades of papier mache floats and brass bands that social krewes, a cute spelling of crews, put on in the New Orleans area. To the east, officials in Mobile, Ala., said 50,000 people would attend that city's festivities.

In New Orleans, each krewe has its own royalty, but the two undisputed leaders are Rex and the masked King of Comus, who close the festivities at midnight by toasting each other at a gala in the municipal auditorium.

Longtime residents steered themselves for the annual party.

“At 80 years of age, I can't have much of a good time but I am happy to see it,” said M. G. (Baron) deBaroncelli, who lugged groceries to his apartment in the Quarter on Monday.

“I never miss Mardi Gras, though it's not as much fun as it was when I was a young man and we danced in the street. Too many people now and they are all excited, agitated.”

Commercially, this Mardi Gras has been a disappointment. Sidewalk vendors said profits were down. Tourists were less plentiful. The recession hurt hotels long accustomed to boosting prices and refusing to accept less than four-day reservations.

Operation Good Shepherd is in need of children's clothes, especially baby clothes, and also used stove and refrigerator.

Volunteers are needed to help sort clothing at the clothes closet located at Wesley United Methodist Church on Thursday afternoons and Friday mornings.

Anyone who would like to donate any of these items or help as a volunteer should call the Good Shepherd office at 364-0382.

Valentine Royalty

Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Benson, 141 Hickory, were crowned king and queen at the Hereford Senior Citizens' annual Valentine party Monday afternoon at the center. Mrs. Benson is one of the most enthusiastic quilters at the Senior Citizens Center according to Director Margie Daniels.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dizzy not description enough

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 41 years old and I have a ringing in my right ear which causes light-headedness and occasional dizziness.

Three years ago I went to an ear specialist and had several tests done. He said the cavity in my inner ear was not draining properly and prescribed Benadryl. After taking this for a while the condition disappeared but now it's starting again. Have you any suggestions? And can you tell me what Benadryl is? I'm sure it's a drug because it makes me drowsy.

DEAR READER — With that history you should see an ear specialist. There have been a lot of new ways of evaluating a patient with dizziness in the past few years.

DALLAS (AP) — Amarillo led the state in job growth during 1982, followed by Victoria and the Killeen-Temple area, according to a real estate study released here.

The report by M-PF Research, Inc. also targeted Galveston-Texas City, Lubbock and Texarkana as areas ripe for development this year.

While Dallas ranked first in the actual number of new jobs, Amarillo had the fastest-growing employment with 5 percent more jobs than in 1981. Victoria was second with a job gain rate of 4.5 percent. Killeen-Temple was third at 2.3 percent and Dallas, Fort Worth and Texarkana tied for fourth with 1.6 percent more jobs.

On the other end of the spectrum, the study advised developers that Houston, Brownsville, Longview, Midland and Odessa "do not appear to offer attractive potential for development activities."

The study compared the job growth rates, or demand, to current real estate development, or supply, to rank 27 Texas metropolitan areas for development opportunities.

The state has grown by 372,300 people annually since 1980, with 202,000 of them coming from other parts of the country, the study said.

More people moved to Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth than the other areas, but Bryan-College Station, Midland, Odessa and Austin also drew a substantial share of the migrants, the study said.

In Victoria, Killeen-Temple, Laredo, Texarkana, El Paso and Tyler, however, more people left than arrived. The number of people moving in and moving out virtually was balanced in Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Amarillo and Sherman.

Most of the migrants cited job availability as their reason for moving to Texas, but "only eight Texas markets exhibited positive growth in employment for the year ending October 1982," the report said.

Dallas' 16,400 new jobs represented "the second lowest level of growth in 10 years and less than one-half its rate of 34,500 jobs gained annually over the past decade," the study said.

Fort Worth placed second in the number of new jobs, followed by Amarillo, Killeen-Temple, Lubbock, Victoria, Bryan-College Station and Texarkana.

Job losses were reported in all the other metropolitan areas, with the largest declines in areas dependent upon manufacturing and mining, including oil and gas extraction.

"The largest job loss in the state for 1982 was shown in Houston with a loss of over 50,000 jobs," the report said.

More than 13,000 jobs were lost in Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange; almost 9,000 in El Paso; 6,500 in Odessa, and almost 6,000 in Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito.

"The varied employment composition of Texas' metropolitan areas helps to explain the divergent performance of these economies recently," the study said. "For example, heavy reliance on manufacturing employment — which has shown particular weakness statewide — has slowed the Beaumont, El Paso, Longview and Tyler markets during this recessionary 1982 period."

"Losses in mining (oil and gas extraction) employment have had greatest impact in Houston and Odessa. Increases in trade and services employment have buoyed the economies of Amarillo and Dallas-Fort Worth. Devaluation of the peso has affected trade employment in Brownsville, El Paso, Laredo and McAllen."

Job losses combined with over-development will result in a glut in both apartments and office space in Houston, the study predicted.

Apartment building permits jumped 126 percent last year in Houston, "the largest annual increase in over 10 years," the study said.

An overabundance of office space already is being experienced in Dallas, where 21.6 million square feet — five times the amount of office space absorbed from August 1981 to August 1982 — is under construction.

Office space gluts also were forecast for Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Supply was ahead of demand in light industrial and office-warehouse space because of overdevelopment in most of the metropolitan areas, the report added.

Office buildings accounted for half of all commercial building activity in Texas through last July — and Texas accounted for more than a fifth of all office building permits in the United States in 1981-82, the study said.

Statewide, the amount of retail space under construction continued a decline that began in 1979 "as many shopping center developers postponed planned retail centers during 1982," the study added.

Texas was among 13 states reporting an increase in single-family housing starts during 1982, the report said.

Abilene's estimated 760 single-family starts in 1982 represented a record for that city, the report said, and "the Midland and Odessa areas have experienced rapid growth through 1979-1981."

seemingly unaffected by the recession or interest rate situation ... Almost regardless of other factors, when the oil industry booms, so does Midland-Odessa."

Victoria and Galveston also performed well, with "both areas expected to post the highest level of starts of any year in the past decade."

The number of single-family housing permits more than doubled in Killeen over 1981, and Longview recorded a three-year high of 540 units permitted, a 42 percent increase over 1981.

Single-family housing starts were up 26 percent in Houston, 20 percent in Dallas, 64 percent in El Paso and 30 percent in Austin.

The study concluded that while Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth continue to dominate the Texas real estate market in absolute terms, "numerous smaller Texas markets are following strong growth curves as well."

CAN THESE BONES LIVE?

The power of the Lord was upon me and I was carried away by the Spirit of the Lord to a valley full of old, dry bones that were scattered everywhere across the ground. He led me around among them, and then he said to me: "Son of dust, can these bones become people again?"

I replied, "Lord, you alone know the answer to that."

Then he told me to speak to the bones and say: "O dry bones, listen to the words of God for the Lord God says, See! I am going to make you live and breathe again! I will replace the flesh and muscles on you and cover you with skin. I will put breath into you, and you shall live and know I am the Lord."

So I spoke these words from God, just as he told me to; and suddenly there was a rattling noise from all across the valley, and the bones of each body came together and attached to each other as they used to be. Then, as I watched, the muscles and flesh formed over the bones, and skin covered them, but the bodies had no breath. Then he told me to say to the wind: "The Lord God says: Come from the four winds, O Spirit, and breathe upon these slain bodies, that they may live again." So I spoke to the winds as he commanded me and the bodies began breathing; they lived, and stood up—a very great army.

Then he told me what the vision meant: "These bones," he said, "represent all the people of Israel." (Ezekiel 37:1-11)

A Valentine party and business meeting was held for members of the Cultural Extension Club Friday afternoon in the Energas Flame Room.

Mrs. George Pope hosted the affair. She served party snacks, heart-shaped mints, individual heart-shaped cakes with members' names on them, punch and coffee.

The main refreshment table was covered with a white lace overlay and red cloth. It was centered with a large heart-shaped cake and a heart tree stood on the officer's table.

Mrs. Charles Coneway opened the meeting with a reading entitled "Try". Roll call was answered with "What do you see in your mirror?"

Recreation chairman, Mrs. John Hunter, gave several pointers on coping and winter survival.

Louise Walker, county extension agent, presented the afternoon's program entitled, "Dressing to Enhance Your Appearance", pointing out that color, line, design and texture are important factors in dressing correctly. She was quoted as saying, "Know the facts about proportions and accent the positive".

Mrs. Marie Thames was welcomed as a new member and Christina Conway was a guest.

Members attending included Mmes. M.H. Wiseman, Art Lewis, Johnnie Townsend, Tom Hargrave, Carrie Mae Doak, Jewel Rogers, Grady Parsons, A. Dettmann, Jim Gandy, J.T. Stehr, and John Spinhirne.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I've been following the inequities of women for years. The salary differences, the tax laws, Social Security benefits and appropriations for women's sports in schools. The list goes on.

But what it comes down to...the thing that people seem to get hung up on the most is the restroom facilities. Mention unisex bathrooms and everyone goes crazy.

Believe it or not, it was one of the major points in the election of Barbara Jordan in 1966 as the first congresswoman to join the all-male body of the Texas Legislature.

The question wasn't what can she do, but where will she go to the bathroom? (They built one. It's done all the time.)

I've been associated with unisex bathrooms all my life. I've cleaned them, coaxed kids out of them and barricaded myself in them for a little peace and quiet and frankly I don't know what the flap is all about.

In fact, I've been wondering how the women made out in the Bass Club competition in Tallahassee, Fla. It seems every year, male and female anglers pair up in a boat to see who can outsmart the local bass. This year, the men announced the competition would be restricted to men only. Their reason was some wives might object to their husbands spending the day with another woman and - you got it - the old where-would-they-go-to-the-you-know-what.

The first complaint seemed rather invalid when you tried to figure out what you could do in a boat on a lake bobbing with other boats and fisherpersons.

The response to the second reason came from the women anglers themselves who said, "The men are just afraid the women will show them up."

The association finally compromised by letting each entrant check off whether or not he was willing to fish with a member of the opposite sex.

What the critics don't realize is that these things have a way of working themselves out. Women who have traveled with men before are well aware of the problems. I am married to a man who has bionic kidneys and has been known to travel an entire day on the road without stopping for so much as a chili dog or a gallon of gas. And I have sat beside him in a boat all day long waiting for the six most beautiful words in the English language, "They're not hitting. Let's go in."

As for unisex bathrooms: They're not so bad. They work real simple. First the man goes in and locks the door and comes out. Then the woman goes in, locks the door and comes out.

Smart people, these airline companies.
