Kids start CSF drive

The 1989 Christmas Stocking Fund is off to a good, early, start thanks to Mrs. Jackson's sixth grade language arts class at Bluebonnet School in Hereford. Many of the students brought knick-knacks from home and sold them to other students. The successful sale netted $30.15 from the students, who spent money they would normally use for soft drinks, candy or other things to help less-fortunate citizens in Deaf Smith County.

Contributions will be formally accepted beginning Nov. 24, with the contributions to be listed in the Brand. The CSF committee, made up of volunteers from throughout the community, is hoping to post its fourth-straight record setting year. In 1988, the contributions hit the $16,000 mark.

Hereford schoolchildren will be helping this year's campaign in other ways, with a canned-food drive during September. Similar drives in 1987 and 1988 brought in large quantities of food for CSF.

Applications for assistance this year are now being accepted at the Deaf Smith County Red Cross office at 224 S. Main. Applications may be filled out from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays until Dec. 13.

The Red Cross office handles applications, and the Hereford Brand and KPAN Radio help promote the charity.

Hobby Bill okayed; comp rates up 22%

AUSTIN (AP) - State lawmakers moved a step closer to revamping the Texas workers' compensation system as a Senate committee approved bills that would raise benefits and require employees to carry the coverage.

Action by the Economic Development Committee on the two bills by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby came Thursday after the State Board of Insurance approved a 22 percent increase in workers' comp insurance rates and berated special interests that take advantage of the system.

"Everyone is abusing the system," said board member Richard Reynolds of Flower Mound.

Board member Jo Ann Howard of Austin described the current no-fault insurance designed to compensate injured employees as a quagmire dominated by doctors, lawyers, employers, and employees.

The new rates, upping premiums by approximately $600 million, will go into effect no later than Jan. 1.

The two bills by Hobby would raise weekly benefits from $238 to $416 and phase in mandatory comp coverage by 1995 for all employers that have four or more employees.

But critics of Hobby's plan say it will deprive workers of a basic right - a meaningful jury trial in disputed comp claims and it would set a specific schedule on what an injury is worth, regardless of how it affects the employee.

In the middle of the fray are Hobby and Sen. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, who has co-written an alternate reform plan with Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, that is preferred by labor and by attorneys who represent injured workers in disputed workers compensation cases.

A special Fun Breakfast will help set the spirit for the Christmas season when the chamber holds the annual "Eat-Your-Heart-Out, Neiman-Marcus" event Nov. 30 at 6 a.m. in the Community Center.

The Texas Legislature is attempting, for the third time, to make needed changes in the workers' compensation system. The special session, which started Tuesday, will be a showdown between the lawyer-controlled Senate and the business-minded House.

To have a favorable business climate in Texas, changes are needed and rates must come down. Not only do employers need to call or contact their representatives and senators, but it would help if employees got in on the action.

Both business and the jobs they provide are in jeopardy because of skyrocketing premiums.

The Texas Chamber of Commerce is providing a "hot line" for citizens who want to keep up on the issues. By calling a toll-free number (1-800-635-1407), citizens can learn the latest news on the reform action.

Senate leaders argue that business needs to provide a safe workplace, and we couldn't agree more. But a safe place of work has done nothing to reduce individual premiums. All business is lumped together for rate-making purposes, and even firms with no claims have experienced hefty increases in workers' comp premiums.

Testimony in previous legislative debate has shown that few cases actually go to trial in Texas, but that the threat of going to trial is the major cause of large settlements outside the administrative process.

Injured workers need compensation, but the present system is broke. Today an increase of 22 percent was announced in the workers' comp premiums. Without the right kind of reform, the present system is going to break the state's economic base - the folks who sign the payroll checks.

SB1 and SB2, the business-backed reform bills, passed a Senate committee yesterday and will go before the full Senate Monday. Let your lawmakers know you support these bills!

New GDR cabinet presented

WEST BERLIN (AP) - East Germany's new premier today asked parliament to approve a Cabinet in which more than a third of the members would be non-Communists, and he called for more private enterprise.

Premier Hans Modrow also rejected talk of reunification with West Germany, which began last week after East Germany lifted travel restrictions and opened its borders, including the Berlin Wall.

The Communists would still dominate the 28-member Cabinet presented to the 500 lawmakers in the People's Chamber.

Modrow said Thursday 11 Cabinet members would not be Communists. Their names were not immediately disclosed today.

In his first address to parliament since he took over as premier Monday, Modrow outlined several main points, including a "reform of the political system," legal reforms and steps to clean up one of the most polluted countries in Europe.

He also called for "increasing individual responsibility of the economic units" and allowing East Germans to engage in private enterprise to produce goods and offer services in the shortage-plagued economy.

However, he rejected a "free-market economy."

Modrow also told his listeners East Germany will remain a "socialist" and "sovereign" nation, and he appealed to citizens to support the new government.

"By means of a new reality of life in the German Democratic Republic (East Germany), the dangerous and unrealistic talk of a reunification will be clearly rejected," he said, drawing a long round of applause from the lawmakers.

The Cabinet proposed by Modrow would contain several holdovers from the former hard-line leadership of Erich Honecker, including Foreign Minister Oskar Fischer and Planning Commission chief Gerhard Schurer.

Three women - all Communists - were nominated, including Christa Luft as deputy premier for economic affairs and Uta Nickel for finance and prices.

Parliamentary Speaker Guenther Maleuda opened the two-day session by reading the agenda, which included a vote on the Cabinet.

Communist Party leader Egon Krenz approved the Cabinet makeup on Thursday, according to East German media, and no serious opposition was expected.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a school bus driver and everyone thinks I have a soft job. Please print the enclosed prayer. Somebody stuck it on the bulletin board. I don't know who the author is, but I'm sure he drove a school bus, because he sure knows what he's talking about. -- I'm Another One (Stockton, Calif.)

DEAR STOCKTON: Here's the prayer. Thanks for sending it on. A BUS DRIVER'S PRAYER

Please, Lord, watch over me this day. Please help me remember to watch all five mirrors, two dozen windows, eight gauges, six warning lights, six dozen faces, three lanes of traffic and to keep a third eye open for wobbling bicycles and daydreaming pedestrians, especially teenagers wearing headsets who are in another world.

Please, Lord, help me hear all train whistles, truck and automobile horns, police sirens and the two-way radio.

Please, Lord, give me a hand for the gear lever, the steering wheel, the route book, the radio microphone and the turn-signal lever.

And, Lord, please grant me the self-control to keep my hands away from Johnny's neck. And one more thing, dear Lord, please don't let Mary be sick all over the bus.

And, finally, Lord, please watch over us all so that we can do it again next year. Amen.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: One year ago today, my wife underwent four hours of emergency surgery after which the doctors told her she was terminally ill with cancer. They had removed diseased tissue from her ovary, bladder, colon and liver, but the surgeon told me they could not get it all.

"How long will she live?" I asked. "Only God knows that," the doctor said, "Maybe six months."

It has been a year since that black moment, and after several months of successful chemotherapy and additional operation, she is alive, feeling well and looking beautiful.

Of course there have been days when she experienced pain and discomfort, but on the days in which we have had a wonderful time because we now realize how precious life is.

My purpose in writing this letter, Ann, is to let everyone know that cancer (or any other disease, for that matter) is not necessarily a death sentence. Just as there are no two people alike, there are no two cancer cases alike. Death eventually comes to all of us, but that is no reason not to enjoy today. We never know how many tomorrows we have left, but thinking in a positive way just might provide us with a few more. If it worked for my wife, perhaps it can work for you. I'm signing this -- A Happy Optimist in Dover Plains, N.Y.

DEAR DOVER: Count me as a member of your optimist's club.

There is irrefutable evidence that what goes on in the mind can affect the immune system. So being optimistic and holding a positive attitude can help us keep well and live longer.

Warner to speak Saturday

The public is invited to the Hereford Community Center on Saturday, Nov. 18, to hear Pastor Clyde Warren speak. A banquet dinner is planned for 7 p.m. and will be catered by Caison's. The price for the meal will be $4.50 per person.

Warren grew up in a rural community in Oklahoma and joined the Navy. His experiences with crime ended when he was 25-years-old. Setting in a small cell with other criminals awaiting a potential 45 year sentence he realized there had to be more to life.

Warren is now in full time ministry pastoring a church. His wife, Cleta, is an accomplished musician. They have three sons.

Ritual scheduled Nov. 1

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will be hostess for the Fall Ritual scheduled for Nov. 21 at the Community Center.

Karen Ruland and Barbara Burkhalter gave the program when members met at the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room Tuesday, Nov. 7. Hostesses were Lynda Brown and Murlene Struon.

Thirteen members were present when President Brown called the meeting to order.

Refreshments were served to Ruland, Nan Gauthreaux, Virginia Jackson, Burkhalter, Karen Carter, Phyllis Neill, Gerry Taylor, Brenda Thomas, Alene Tindal, Jan Walsler and Jan Barnes.

NEW YORK (AP) - Actress and comedian Whoopi Goldberg turned 40 and became a grandmother - all in one day.

Her 15-year-old daughter, Alexandria Martin, gave birth Monday to a 6-pound, 15-ounce girl at a hospital in Berkeley, Calif., said Brad Cafarelli, Miss Goldberg's publicist.

Miss Goldberg was at her daughter's side when Amarah Skye Martin came into the world, said Cafarelli.

"They are all doing fine," he said. Last month, Miss Goldberg said she thought the decision of her unmarried daughter to have a baby was "the absolute wrong thing."

But she said she was happy that her daughter was "confident enough in me to tell me" that she was pregnant.

"Women, Nutrition" topic of program

Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday in the home of Susan Shaw with guest, Beverly Harder, Deaf Smith County home economics agent, giving a program on "Women and Nutrition".

President Margie Bell called the meeting to order with 13 members repeating the opening ritual.

Candy Walker was recognized as a guest. Bell noted that a pledge meeting was held prior to the meeting.

In communications, service committee chairman, Peggy Hyer, read an appreciation note from Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center's Hereford Outreach office for the recent donation.

Secret sisters were appreciated by Connie Matthews, Gaye Reily, Pene Copen, Susan Shaw, Bell, Hyer, Harris and Haflinger. Danell Culp and infant daughter expressed appreciation for the recent baby shower.

In the city council report, Hyer noted that rituals will be held Tuesday, Nov. 21, at the Community Center. The silent auction may be changed to Feb. 27, March 8, or March 13.

The chapter's donation of $25 and members' individual donations of $51 made a total of $76 presented to near-drowning victim, Holly King.

A birthday card to Billie Brown, adopted sister, was distributed for signatures.

Ruby Sanders served as co-hostess and the meeting adjourned with the closing ritual and Mitzpah.

Members present were Bell, Bodner, Amy Cole, Copen, Culp, Haflinger, Harris, Hyer, Connie Matthews, Reily, Sanders, Shaw and Melinda Henson.

Sophs throttle Dumas JV, 14-0

The Hereford Whiteface sophomore gridgers overcame a sluggish start Thursday to post a 14-0 win over the Dumas JV at Whiteface field in the final sub-varsity game of the season.

Defense played a major role for the Herd, with fumble recoveries by John McBride and Santos Liscano and an interception by Henry Gallardo in addition to sacking Demon quarterback Paul Dobbins three times.

On offense, tailback Leo Brown gained 135 yards on 29 carries and scored the game's first touchdown.

Herd opened the game by going three downs and punt on its first three possessions before mounting its first scoring drive, which covered 77 yards in 14 plays. Brown got the touchdown from the 9-yard line and ran for the conversion to.

The Herd, which had not made a first down to that point, picked up six during the drive, including four on third down.

Herd held the Demons after the kickoff and a Cody Whitfill sack forced Dumas to punt. Herd took over with only 19 seconds left in the half, and Clay Wallace's pass to Tempie Abney ran out the clock.

Herd opened the second half with another long march to the Dumas goal line, but the drive stalled at the 2-yard line and a wingback reverse on fourth down lost seven yards.

Dumas responded with a long drive of its own, going 82 yards to the Herd 6 in 12 plays. The possession was helped along by Augustine Mata's 31-yard run and Fernando Martinez' 30 yards on three carries.

But the Herd came up with a goal-line stand of its own and Dobbins was run out of bounds at the 5 on a fourth-down scramble.

Herd was able to move the ball to mid-field before a pair of losses by Brown forced a punt. Dumas defensive end Chad Adams broke through to snuff the kick and set the Demons up at the Herd 34.

The Herd defense came through on the next play when Demon fullback Ernie Pena had the ball knocked loose on a sweep and Liscano finally corralled the pigskin at the Dumas 48.

Herd needed only five plays to get the insurance touchdown as fullback Eddie Tijerina ripped off 41 yards on the second play to set up Marty Griego's score from the 6-yard line.

Herd tried to get Dumas on the board in the last three minutes. Manuel Valdez tried to cover a Demon punt, but allowed the ball to get away and keep the Dumas drive alive for four more plays. After taking over on downs, Wallace's pitch to Griego hit the ground at the Herd 35 and was kicked nearly 20 yards before Dumas recovered at the 12.

A sack by Damon Godwin and an incomplete pass ran out the clock from there.

The sophomores finished the year with a 7-3 record with most of the schedule being played against junior varsity teams.

Prep playoff suits get new players

DALLAS (AP) - As attorneys for disgruntled schoolboy football fans press their case today for participation in the state playoffs, another school district is vowing to fight the move, perhaps by halting the championships.

A state district judge in Austin was to hear arguments this morning from Dallas Carter High School fans for a temporary restraining order that would allow the school to defend its Class 5A state title.

The University Interscholastic League's rulings that barred South Garland High School and Eastland High School from championship play were upheld by two judges on Wednesday.

Lawyers for interested Carter fans, in the third legal challenge to the UIL, prepared to seek a temporary restraining order to reinstate the school into the playoffs.

Thomas G. Jones, a Dallas Independent School District board member, said interested Carter fans were retaining an attorney to file the motion in the school's behalf. Carter was banned from the playoffs for playing an ineligible player Oct. 13.

"Whatever happens needs to happen tomorrow morning," Royce West, a Dallas attorney, said late Thursday. "We are just in a holding pattern."

An attorney for the Duncanville

Independent School District vowed that if the Carter motion were filed, he would seek a court order that could halt the championships.

"The minute we find out, we will take action," Duncanville ISD attorney Earl Luna said. "What we will first try to do is to intervene and try to keep the TRO from being granted."

"But it could be granted before we know about it. We would in that case ask the judge to hold up on the playoffs until there is a hearing."

If Carter receives a temporary restraining order, Duncanville will request an expedited final ruling and the district is prepared to take legal measures to postpone the playoffs until a final ruling is issued, said Luna.

Texas law provides that a temporary restraining order is effective for 14 days, beginning the day after it is granted. But a final ruling could take months.

In a similar case involving Carter during last year's playoffs, a judge granted a temporary restraining order in November. But a final ruling was not made until July. The judge did not issue a ruling in writing, upholding Carter's title, until last week.

A federal judge on Wednesday turned back a claim from Garland Independent School District officials that the UIL's decision weakened the district's desegregation plan.

H-SU Cowboys back in the saddle

ABILENE (AP) - Football returns to Hardin-Simmons University next fall, but it will be a far cry from the glory years when Sammy Baugh coached the Cowboys.

The school dropped football in 1963, two years after the Border Conference folded and three years after Baugh returned to the National Football League as a coach.

Dr. Jesse C. Fletcher said Thursday the football team will be non-scholarship and will play against similar programs. They will compete in either NCAA Division III or the NAIA, he said.

As part of the switch in athletic programs, all sports except baseball will become non-scholarship and the school's will drop out of the Trans America Athletic Conference. The university was a charter member of the TAAC and the final conference competition will be this basketball season.

Fletcher said it is possible that the school might eventually join another conference that competes with non-scholarship athletes.

Dr. Merlin Morrow, H-SU's athletic director, said that scholarship commitments for existing students would be honored, but emphasized that the focus would now be on recruiting students who simply want to play intercollegiate sports as part of their collegiate experience.

The school's rifle and cross-country teams will be dropped as part of the transition, Morrow said.

The search for a football coaching staff will start immediately, Morrow said.

"They have very little time to get ready to field a team next fall," Morrow said. "But that's what we will ask them to do."

Parramore Field, where the Cowboys played in the glory days, will be rebuilt, officials said.

In 1942, when the Cowboys were coached by Warren B. Woodson, inventor of the Winged-T formation, they were undefeated with victories over SMU and Baylor.

Woodson moved to Arizona in 1952.

Baugh, former Texas Christian quarterback and member of the NFL Hall of Fame, took over as coach of the Cowboys in 1955.

Under Baugh's leadership, the Cowboys played a tough schedule with games against such teams as Baylor, Ole Miss, LSU, Arkansas, Georgia, Tulsa, Auburn and Rice.

Baugh's 1958 team was undefeated in Border Conference play and lost close games to Baylor and LSU, a top-ranked team that year. Wyoming defeated the Cowboys by a single point in the Sun Bowl to end the season.

Herd attack nears records

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN

From a team which started with little firepower, this year's edition of the Hereford Whiteface football team has developed an offense that should rank No. 1 in school history after tonight's game at Dumas.

The Herd needs just 19 yards total offense to surpass last year's record-setting mark of 3,235 yards in 10 games. And, the strong offensive front and blocking backs are also helping put Matt Bromlow, Jason Walterscheid and Russell Backus in the HHS grid record book.

Bromlow, who missed the first two games of the season, needs just 84 yards to break the all-time rushing record set by Mack Cansler in 1961. Cansler recorded 1,284 yards in regular season, and Bromlow already has 1,201 yards. And, figuring Bromlow's yards in seven games, he is rushing at a 171-yards-per-game clip that will put him far ahead of Cansler's 128.4 record.

Going unnoticed as a record at the time was Bromlow's 267-rushing yards against Levelland. That is a new school mark, breaking the 247-yard effort by Cansler against Canyon in 1961.

JASON WALTERSCHEID

Backus has already moved into fourth place among the school's pass receivers with 33 catches for 603 yards and 9 touchdowns. Walterscheid has not thrown as much as many previous quarterbacks, but his percentage of completions is near the record set by Jason Scott last year when he hit 59.9 percent of his passes. Walterscheid has hit 52 of 87 for 836 yards, 8 scores and only two interceptions.

This year's Whitefaces have scored 247 points in nine games and yielded 142. Last year's playoff team, which also earned a "Cinderella" description by knocking off top-ranked Sweetwater in the area playoffs, scored 299 points in 10 games and gave up only 87.

The Herd hopes to keep its momentum tonight in the final district game at Dumas, then move into the playoffs on Saturday, Nov. 25, against the Big Spring Steers at Lubbock's Lowrey Field.

Manley tests positive

WASHINGTON (AP) - Defensive end Dexter Manley of the Washington Redskins has tested positive for illegal drugs for a third time and faces a lifetime suspension from the NFL, according to a published report.

Today's editions of The Washington Post report that Manley was told by team doctors Thursday afternoon that he tested positive for cocaine about two weeks ago.

Manley and his attorney, Bob Woolf, were to meet with NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue this morning in the nation's capital, league spokesman Joe Browne said.

"It's a private meeting. Other than that, the league has no comment at this point," said Browne, the league's director of communications.

In 1987, Manley underwent treatment for drug abuse at the Hazelden Foundation in Minnesota. He tested positive for cocaine in July 1988 and received a 30-day suspension from then-commissioner Pete Rozelle.

In the latest incident, Manley reportedly tested positive for cocaine following the Redskins' 37-24 loss to the Raiders in Los Angeles on Oct. 29. Manley missed two scheduled television appearances and two other appointments in the two days after that game.

That week he was tested twice, and the positive result likely would be considered his third offense, which would bring a permanent ban.

However, under the NFL's drug abuse guidelines, a third-time offender could apply for readmission after a year.

Only one player, Tony Collins, has been banned as a third-time offender. He was suspended in September, 1988. Manley denied to comment to the newspaper, and Woolf was unavailable.

Manley, 32, leads the Redskins in sacks with nine. His best season was in 1986, when he had 18 sacks and earned a trip to the Pro Bowl for the only time in his career.

Bucks' opening quarter buries Magic

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Bucks showed the expansion Orlando Magic what fast starts are all about.

The Bucks tied an NBA record with 50 points in the first quarter Thursday night and went on to romp 132-113, sending the Magic to its fifth straight loss.

Orlando opened the season by winning two of its first three games. But since then, the Magic has struggled.

"We definitely jumped on them from the beginning," said Ricky Pierce, who finished with 28 points. "We weren't underestimating this team. They'd played Detroit to the wire."

In other games, Houston beat the Los Angeles Clippers 94-82, Seattle stopped Washington 111-98 and New York defeated Sacramento 121-102.

The host Bucks raced to a 13-0 lead. They made 21 of their 24 field-goal tries, including all three of their 3-point attempts, in the first quarter.

Milwaukee matched the mark for points in an opening quarter, set by Syracuse in 1962 and tied by Boston and Utah in 1982. The record for points in any quarter is 58, set by Buffalo in 1972.

"We moved the ball around and got a lot of easy shots in the first half and that enabled us to get the early lead," said Alvin Robertson, who, along with Jay Humphries, got 10 points in the first quarter. "From that point on it was pretty much a fun game."

Orlando was held without a basket until Reggie Theus scored 31 into the game.

"We came out and fizzled the game away. We took a step backward," Theus said. "We were tentative. What have we got to lose? A game? We have to be overachievers."

The Bucks led 77-58 at halftime and were ahead 112-89 after three quarters.

Rockets 94, Clippers 82

Otis Thorpe had 27 points and 10 rebounds as Houston beat Los Angeles, shortly after the Clippers made two major moves.

The Clippers traded holdout Danny Ferry, the second overall pick in this year's draft, and Reggie Williams to Cleveland for Ron Harper and three high draft choices. They also re-signed Benoit Benjamin, who had hoped to join Ferry in Italy, to a one-year contract.

Akeem Olajuwon had 18 points and 10 rebounds for the Rockets. Mike Woodson scored 16 in his first game off the injured list.

Gary Grant scored 21 points and Tom Garrick had 16 for the visiting Clippers.

Knicks 121, Kings 102

Patrick Ewing scored 32 points and New York ended Sacramento's nine-game home winning streak that started last season.

Ewing, who had 43 points Tuesday night in a loss at Portland, shot 15-for-26 from the field and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Gerald Wilkins scored 25 points and Charles Oakley had 17 rebounds for the Knicks. Johnny Newman had seven points during a 9-2 burst that made it 115-95 with 2:07 left.

Wayman Tisdale scored 25 points and Rodney McCray 23 for the Kings. SuperSonics 111, 111, Bullets 98

Rookies Dana Barros and Shawn Kemp sparked a 17-2 spurt in the third quarter.

The Bullets led 68-67 with 6:42 left in the third period. Barros, a 5-foot-10 guard from Boston College, scored seven points and Kemp, a 6-foot-10 center who made the jump directly from high school to the NBA, added six as the Sonics took the lead.

Xavier McDaniel finished with 26 points, Barros scored a season-high 25 and Kemp and Derrick McKey each had 18.

John Williams scored 23, Bernard King had 22 and Ladell Eckles 21 in the Bullets' third straight loss.

Tech, UT chase Cotton

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

While big boys Arkansas and Texas A&M University take the week off, the Texas Tech Red Raiders will be trying to impress scouts from the All-America Bowl.

The Dec. 28 Birmingham, Ala., bowl will have none other than chairman of the board Steve Bradley on hand in Dallas on Saturday when the 7-2 Raiders meet the undermanned Southern Methodist Mustangs at 2 p.m. in Ownby Stadium.

Tech, which has victories over three nationally ranked teams, has jumped up to 20th in The Associated Press rankings. The projected opponent for the Red Raiders is the Duke Blue Deviils of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Tech is 4-2 in the Southwest Conference race and still alive in the Cotton Bowl chase.

Texas A&M and Arkansas, each owning just one league loss, meet Nov. 24 in College Station.

In other games on Saturday, the Texas Longhorns, who also have two league losses, hope to keep their flickering hopes alive by defeating the visiting Texas Christian Horned Frogs in a noon (Raycom TV) meeting in Memorial Stadium, and Baylor hosts Rice in a 1 p.m. game at Floyd Casey Stadium.

Houston is also idle which means quarterback Andre Ware will have to sit back and watch the other Heisman Trophy hopefuls try to make the voters forget him.

Tech coach Spike Dykes said he hopes his players don't get caught up in bowl talk and forget to play the game.

"Worrying about this or that bowl isn't in our job description," Dykes said. "The only effect we can have on the bowls is to go out and win. Everything else is out of our control. We have a lot of fans in Dallas who haven't seen us play there in a few years so we want to give them a show."

Running back James Gray, coming off a 209 yard rushing day against TCU, is ranked fifth nationally with an average of 130 yards per game. The Red Raider senior has established or tied six school records.

TCU is hoping to end its Austin drought like Tech did last week.

TCU's last win in the series came in Austin in 1967. Since then, Texas has won 21 consecutive games.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff is calling the meeting with the Owls "the backup bowl."

"This game can help heal some of the lost hopes of the Cotton Bowl," Teaff said.

"Nutrition" topic of program

Home Demonstration Agent Beverly Harder presented a program on nutrition to members of the Lone Star Study Club when they met recently in the home of Wilma Goettsch.

A vote was taken to give a monetary gift to a needy family for the Christmas holidays. Each member will bring can goods to be given to a Christmas family chosen by the Red Cross or money will be donated to the Empty Christmas stocking fund. Verna Sowell and Grace Tinnen were selected to deliver the food.

Members present were Onieta Davidson, Naomi Hare, Betty Jo Carlson, Bibby Morgan, Ursalee Jacobson, Sowell and Goettsch.

Learn how to cook pasta

NEW YORK (AP) - If you can boil water, you can cook pasta.

The National Pasta Association in Arlington, Va., says pasta is practically foolproof - if you keep in mind the shape of the pasta and follow the recommended cooking time, testing often for doneness.

Pasta tastes best when it is cooked to a firm, tender consistency known as "al dente," which means "to the tooth."

For best results, use a large pot that allows the pasta to move around and cook evenly. Use 4 to 6 quarts of water for each pound of pasta. Add salt, if desired, after the water has come to a hard boil.

Add pasta to rapidly boiling water gradually or in batches, so that the water continues to boil. Stir during the first minute of cooking to keep pasta from sticking together or to the pan.

Follow package instructions for cooking time. Begin testing for doneness after about 6 minutes of cooking. Use a long-handled wooden fork or spoon to remove a strand from the pot and taste for doneness. When done, drain pasta thoroughly in a colander.

Add pasta to a warm, greased bowl and toss with sauce. If sauce is not used, add oil or butter to keep pasta from sticking.

For cold salads, rinse pasta with cold water immediately after draining. Add oil or butter to keep the pasta from sticking.

Reheat leftover pasta dishes in the microwave. Cover the dish and set on 100 percent power (high) for 30 seconds to 1 minute.

PASTA SAUCES

Long rod or string pastas, including cappellini and linguine, are best combined with oil-based sauces. Most meat sauces are not recommended with this type of pasta because the meat chunks fall to the bottom of the bowl rather than being uniformly distributed.

Tubular pastas and those with a cuplike space, such as shells, are designed to trap sauces. Combine with chopped meat and vegetables. The sauce and toppings will be trapped in the pasta's curves.

Short, stubby varieties of macaroni are ideal for cream and cheese sauces such as macaroni and cheese. Very small macaroni and noodles go well in soups.

Egg noodles do best with meats and vegetables; in puddings, strudels and soups; and as side dishes.

Some 170 people died in 1944 when fire broke out in the main tent of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus in Hartford, Conn.

Thanksgiving dinner will bring in less

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has said that Texas farmers will earn only 2.8 cents this year for producing a single serving of Thanksgiving dinner that includes turkey, stuffing, rice, corn, salad, milk, and dessert.

"We all eat too much at Thanksgiving but it's the giant food processors, commodity brokers and shippers who are really getting fat," Hightower said, noting that food industry profits continue to increase while the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar continues to decline.

According to the annual survey conducted by the Texas Department of Agriculture, the ingredients for a 10-item Thanksgiving dinner will cost Texas consumers an average of $2.46 per serving, or 12 cents more per serving than it did last year.

Texas producers will actually lose 3.7 cents for providing an eight-ounce serving of turkey and the ingredients that go into a two-ounce slice of pecan pie. On only three of the menu items--stuffing, grapefruit and a glass of milk--will Texas producers earn more than a penny per serving. Texas farmers will receive only a fraction of a penny for providing each of the remaining five items on the menu--rice, corn, lettuce, carrots and ice cream.

This is the fifth consecutive year that TDA has calculated the cost of purchasing the ingredients that go into a typical Thanksgiving dinner. In 1985, the first year that TDA conducted the survey, Texas farmers earned seven cents per serving.

The costs are calculated based on crop prices gathered by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, producer worksheets compiled by Texas A&M University, and market-basket surveys conducted by TDA marketing specialists across the state.

"Despite all the hubbub coming out of Washington, proclaiming that the 1985 Farm Bill is a success, the truth is farming is still a losing proposition," Hightower said.

"While farm prices continued to fall, the profits earned by food manufacturers soared," Hightower said. "According to a new report by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, major food manufacturers pocketed profits of $11.4 billion last year! How? Because the large manufacturers are able to buy farm commodities from producers at artificially low prices and sell at much higher prices to consumers."

NEW YORK (AP) - The other actresses performed risqué, off-camera gags to make Dolly Parton laugh during a scene in "Steel Magnolias," according to Sally Field. "There was one scene where Dolly was by herself, and she was supposed to be looking off-camera and giggling," Field said in December's Redbook.

"To help her laugh, we did things that would have caused us to be blackmailed forever! ... They should have filmed us and released the footage to porno shops. The crew crawled away in mortification," she said.
