AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, PLACES SEEN

W. I. "Wink" Valentine, pioneer Hereford resident, was reported to be in critical condition in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo. The report came in just as The Brand was going to press.

Lions club members have their eyes on Joe Easley, who they believe has the potential of becoming the country's best "tail-twister." Jackie McCracken had two calves in the big 4-H show Saturday and recruited Joe's assistance. One of the calves continually kept wanting to lie down, and Joe kept changing the calf's mind—by twisting its tail. The event was one of the most popular pre-show features from the spectator standpoint.

Cliff Gleaton is running competition with the County Clerk's office in recording cattle brands of this area. Cliff recently re-decorated his "Ike's Cafe" and completed the top border work with brown circles six-inches in diameter. In the center of each circle, painted in silver, is a cattle brand. Cliff says he has most of the brands recorded in Deaf Smith County, plus quite a few other popular brands over the country. In addition, so many customers mentioned absence of their brands that Cliff has painted more brown circles above the woodwork to accommodate persons omitted from the original list.

Dudley Green and Archie Scott recently opened their new tractor and Dearborn equipment house at 209 Miles Avenue. The line was switched out of the Hereford Motor Company, and operates under the firm title of "Green and Scott."

Hobby show winners were judged Saturday with the following winners in each of the four divisions:

Adult Creative: Mrs. R. C. Childers, first; Mrs. Charles Newell, second; Mrs. Lowell Sharp, third.

Adult Collective: Mrs. D. E. Roberson, first; Joe Green, second; Mrs. Wayne Evans, third.

Junior Creative: Mary Ruth Strange, first; Billy Joe Kelly, second; Nelson Pierce, third.

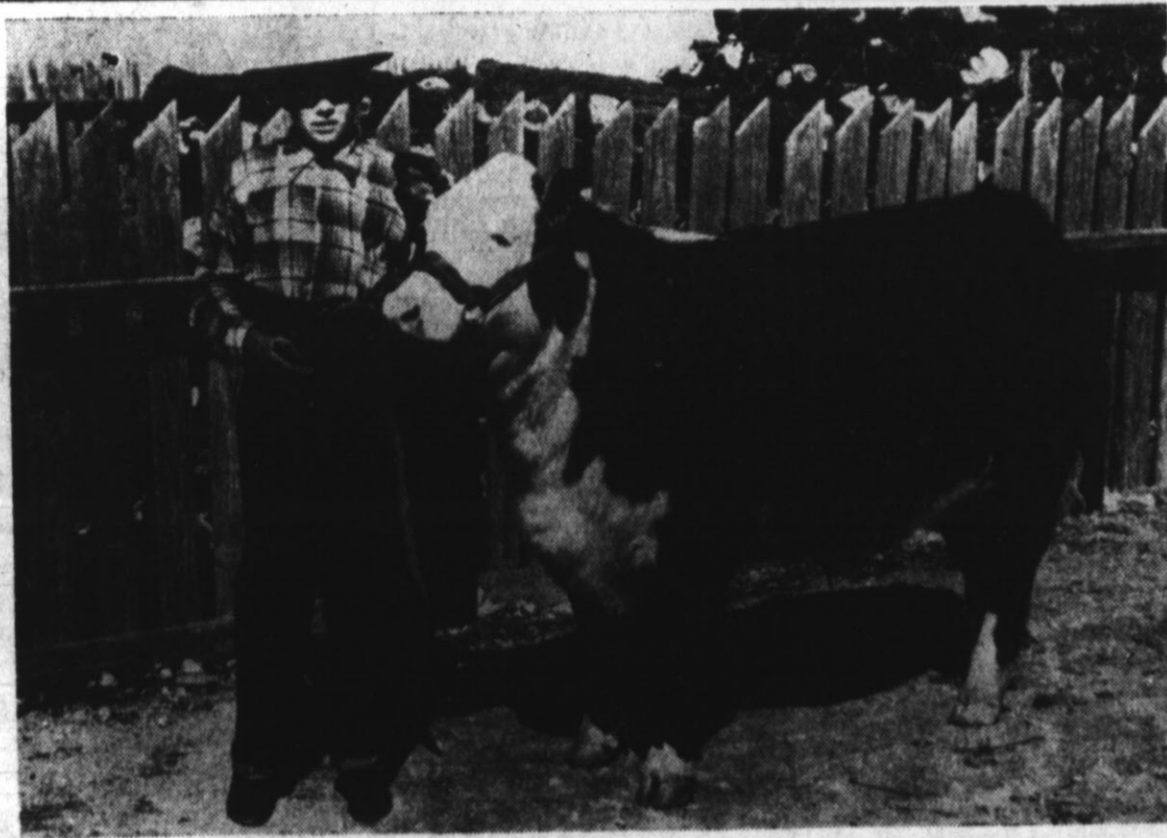

Junior Collective: Earline Plank, first; Nancy Patterson, second; Mary Ruth Strange, third.

More complete details on the hobby show will be found page 6, Section 3 of this issue.

SOMETHING NEW has also been added in your Sunday Brand today. On Pages 5 and 7, Section 3, will be found Walter Winchell's world-famous column and Drew Pearson's equally popular "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column. The Brand operates on the policy of being "The only newspaper in the world that gives a darn about Hereford and Deaf Smith County," therefore, specializes in news about hometown faces and facts. However, since no daily papers circulating here offer these two columns, we believe you will enjoy them.

A road is now under construction to the wildcat oil well site, 2 1/2 miles west and two north of here, on the W. F. Ponder place. Work on the preliminary water well, as reported Thursday, is also underway. No official announcement has been made, however, by "Honolulu," drillers of the "wildcat," which is scheduled to go down 13,000 feet.

District 1, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., will hold its annual convention in Hereford April 8-9, according to last-minute announcements Saturday. Mrs. Lyle Blanton is Councillor of the district organization and Mrs. A. L. Manjot is Vice-Councillor. Mrs. Homer Brunley will serve as local chairman on arrangements.

Grand Champion

Junior Champion

Above is Charles Ralph Springer with the 1949 Grand Champion Calf of yesterday's big 4-H Club Show. Charles' prizes totaled $60 on the animal—$35 for Grand Champion and $25 for first place in the senior division. He also placed the calf in the auction ring Saturday afternoon and received another $740, bringing the total to $800. The 925-pound calf brought $740 in the auction, an average of slightly over 60 cents per pound; Hereford State Bank made the purchase.

Bill Kelly, below, is standing with his champion calf of the junior division. Bill took home $25 in first-place money and, like Springer, sent the animal into the sales ring. The 820-pound calf brought him $410—an even 50 cent average. Robert Veigel, Hereford farmer-stockman was the buyer.

Insurance Rates Up 10 Percent

Fire insurance premiums in Hereford will jump 10 percent, effective after Feb. 28, 1949, according to information released this week through the State Insurance Commission.

The increase on rates is attributed to change of Hereford's 1948 five percent "good fire record" credit, to a five percent penalty status. The "credit-penalty" set up is based on fire losses in the community and varies from year to year. Hereford in 1945 maintained a 25 percent credit, which changed into the penalty brackets due to heavy losses over the period, including two large elevator fires.

Key rates in Hereford advanced from 26 cents to 30 cents last year, which also gave insurance buyers an advance in premium prices. The key rate will this year remain at 30 cents. Key rates are based upon equipment, compliance with state regulations and fire department operation.

Thieves Get $142 In Close Drug Robbery

Thieves entered Close Drug between 5 o'clock and 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and robbed the store of $142, most in $5, $10 and $20 denominations.

Harold Close, owner, said the thieves entered the vault in the rear of the store and took the money, leaving $37 in silver, and several checks. He checked the vault at 5 o'clock and in checking the cash registers at 8 o'clock, discovered the loss.

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Today's 4-H Pictures Set Record With Winners In Show Yesterday

Pictures in your Sunday Brand today will probably set a world-wide all time record for small-town journalism. In addition to the Grand Champion and Junior Division Champion pictures on this page, additional pictures will be found on Page 1, Section 3.

When you stop to consider that the winners were announced at noon Saturday, and the pictures appeared in the paper on The Brand's Saturday evening street edition at 7:30 o'clock—it was quite a feat.

To our knowledge, this is the first time a small-town newspaper ever gave such fast photo coverage, and few metropolitan newspapers can equal the record.

Want to know how we did it? Watch for details in a feature story next week.

'Shirley School' Selected As Name For New Building Under Construction

Hereford's new school, now under construction north of the High School, will be named "Shirley School" in honor of T. E. Shirley, pioneer resident and school benefactor.

The announcement was released Saturday by school trustees, who said that the name was suggested by Mrs. W. A. Vaughn, another Hereford pioneer.

"Recognition of Mr. Shirley came as the result of numerous contributions to the schools of the community," George Graham superintendent, said. Mr. Shirley almost 50 years ago donated the land upon which the new school is located. He also gave the land upon which the present football field is located and was active in school and community affairs. Mrs. Vaughn's suggestion was awarded with a $10 prize from H. H. Miller, trustee, in cooperation with the school board to secure an appropriate name for the new school. Trustees expect to occupy the new building next fall.

Annual Four County, 4-H Show Sets Records In All Divisions Saturday

Winners Listed All Divisions Of Annual Show

A capacity crowd filled the judging arena in the rear of Hereford's Bull Barn Saturday to witness the third annual "Four County, 4-H" Club Fat Stock Show, and found the largest collection of 4-H Club livestock ever to be gathered in Hereford. W. L. Stangel, Dean of Agriculture at Texas Technological College, who recently served as judge at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, judged all entries; he also gave a running commentary on the good points of the winning animals and his reasons for selecting them.

Charles Ralph Springer, Hereford 4-H member, took home the blue ribbon for his 925-pound Grand Champion Whiteface calf, bred by H. D. Robbins. Charles was awarded checks totaling $60; $35 for Grand Champion calf, and $25 for first place in the Senior Division, as well as various other prizes from individual sources, including a registered Whiteface calf from Ted Walhauser, Clovis rancher.

The Reserve Champion calf was brought to the show by Joe Dell White. This 940 pound Whiteface was bred by J. M. White of Hereford, and brought its owner $35 in prize money, after winning both Reserve Champion and second place in the Senior Division.

Checks in the amount of $20 and $10 went to Floyd Acker of Nazareth, whose family specializes in raising prize hogs. His Chester White barrow took both Heavy Division and Grand Champion hog honors.

Dennis Acker, owner of the Reserve Champion hog, received a check for $10.

The best lamb of the show brought Harold Brannon of Dimmitt $10. Brannon came through stiff competition, provided by John Bridges of Hart and Dowe Foster of Dimmitt, who won second and third places, respectively. Bridges and Foster were given checks for $5 and $2.50.

Even the weather-man did his part to make Hereford's Four County 4-H Show a success here Saturday when crowds thronged the streets and sales pavilion for the third annual Rotary-sponsored show. The day lived up to all advance predictions with a record breaking number of entries, top-quality livestock, outstanding judging, a barbecue to long remember, Hereford's most colorful parade—and closed with a lively auction sale which brought smiles to the 4-H faces and put money in their pockets.

Calves Average 34 Cents Pound In Auction Sale

Calves which went through the auction ring here Saturday afternoon averaged 34 cents per pound, according to unofficial estimates released by H. V. Hennen, clerk. Pigs averaged 29 1/2 cents per pound and sheep averaged $37 per head.

The calf average was more than 10 cents per pound above the market price of $23.50 per hundred on top, fat calves Saturday.

A total of 44 calves were put in the ring of $23.50, bringing a gross of $14,119.08. The average price per calf was $320.89.

Following are tabulations of individual sales in the auction.

Calf Sale
Charles Springer, Hereford, 925 pounds, $740, to Hereford State Bank.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK CLOSSES TODAY

Church Pageant Unfurls Fifty Years' History

By CORINNE JENNINGS

Success, failure, joy and sorrow of church history passed in review during the pageant at the First Christian Church Thursday night, as a part of the church's fiftieth Anniversary Week celebration. The pageant was written and produced by Ina Gregg Seed.

Twelve scenes made up the pageant with 30 members of the church taking part in the cast. Pantomime, tableau, music and song gave variety to the program with important and trivial events intermingled to tell a story of the church's growth.

Charter Members
Scene I portrayed the organization of the church, in a room marked to become a saloon, by five charter members F. T. Denton played by Earl Phillips, G. R. Jowell played by Pat Sullivan, L. Gough played by V. O. Hennen, R. H. Norton by Ellis Coombes and Troy Wombie by Virgil Dodson.

Scene II was a tableau showing the first communion set presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stambaugh. In the second part, choir members of the first little church were portrayed by Doris Jean Smith as Miss Mina Dameron (Mrs. A. M. Jones), Rosemary Phillips as Miss Louella Howard (Mrs. C. C. Ferguson), Betty Joe Carnahan as Miss Bruele Gass, Mrs. C. H. Culpepper as Mrs. Lee Clark; Mrs. John Robinson, Jr., as Mrs. W. Davis, Mrs. Wilma Carnahan as Mrs. F. T. Denson, A. Petersen as W. Davis, R. G. Blue as Lee Clark and Mrs. C. R. Smith, organist for the choir, as herself, Miss Zula Vanderburg.

Scene III. Five of the original members of the first Ladies Aid Society played themselves, in presenting a quilt and sun-bonnet sale to raise money for the church. In part two, an ice cream social showed the five making ice cream in old fashioned hand turned freezers; also coffee by first grinding it in an old time hand grinder. Those taking part were Mrs. A. H. Elliston, Mrs. C. R. Smith, Mrs. A.

Vaughn, Mrs. Beryle Elliston and Mrs. A. G. Bell.

Scene IV was a tableau depicting the new pulpit in the first little church, with Pat Sullivan portraying Rev. T. G. Nance early day circuit rider and minister in the Panhandle.

Companion Aids

Church Founder Honored

Troy Wombie, left, only living charter member of the First Christian Church of Hereford, was honor guest Thursday night in the pageant which traced history of the church back to its original meeting 50 years ago. Standing beside Mr. Wombie is Virgil Dodson, minister of the church today. Mr. Wombie, 1881 a resident of Hereford, took part in the final scene, a tableau honoring the eleven men and women who founded the church in February, 1899.

A MATTER OF SOUND BUSINESS, PLUS SECURITY

Savings On Insurance Could Finance Fire Department

Hereford fire insurance rates are jumping. There is a reason and, we believe, a remedy. Hereford will lose its five percent "good fire record" credit on March 1, 1949, and will automatically assume a five per cent penalty, according to statistics released Thursday through the State Fire Commission of Texas. This means a 10 per cent increase on insurance rates, which will cost buyers of insurance in Hereford more than $3,000 during the next 12 months. In addition, the announcement follows increases in 1948, which sent Hereford key rates soaring from 26 cents to 30 cents. The 30 cent key rate, like the five per cent penalty, will remain in force until Feb. 28, 1950.

These terms of "key rates," "credits," and penalties are so complex that it is only natural for the average man to shrug them away with the thought, "Oh, well, I'll have to pay it anyway."

First, however, let's look at some facts and figures.

Take, for instance, a frame stucco home with shingle roof, located within the city limits of Hereford and within 500 feet of a fire plug.

In 1945: Key rate, 26 cents; 25% credit; each $1,000 worth of insurance coverage cost the buyer $2.18.

In 1948: Key rate, 30 cents; 5% credit; each $1,000 insurance cost $2.85.

After Feb. 28, 1949: Key rate 30 cents; 5% penalty; each $1,000 insurance will cost $3.15—an increase of 30 cents on each $1,000 worth of coverage.

In Amarillo, after Feb. 28, 1949: Key rate 15 cents; 15% credit; each $1,000 coverage will cost $2.21, or 94 cents less per $1,000 coverage than we pay in Hereford on the same type dwelling.

It is also well to keep in mind that a continuation of our present trend will increase the five percent penalty to the maximum 25 percent penalty, which on our present 30 cent key rate, would raise the cost to $3.75 for each $1,000 insurance coverage.

On the other hand, under correct conditions, Hereford's key rate could drop to par with Amarillo's 15 cent key rate (Dallas now has a 13 cent key rate), and the town could again acquire the full 25 percent good fire rating credit. This would price Hereford's insurance at $1.95 for each $1,000 worth of protection.

Such a situation represents a possible saving of $1.20 on each $1,000 worth of coverage, when compared with the cost after February 28, 1949. Only last week conservative estimates showed more than six million dollars ($6,000,000) in new construction in Hereford within the past three years. Still being conservative, let's use ten million dollars ($10,000,000) as an estimated amount of insurance coverage purchased in Hereford each year.

Take the $10,000,000, multiply it by the possible saving of $1.20 on each $1,000, and you will have a possible over-all net saving of $12,000 for insurance buyers in Hereford each year.

Regardless of these figures, the facts show that your fire insurance premiums are costing you almost one-third more than you were paying in 1945. This does not take into consideration the increase in amounts of insurance bought due to inflated values of property. The situation is due solely to fire losses in the past three years—plus failure to maintain required equipment, necessary water reserves, specified mains, recommended drills and training of fire department personnel, necessary full-time paid firemen, adequate building codes and laws, regular inspections, complete fire marshal reports, and other specified requirements.

Already some of these faults have been corrected in the form of increased water storage, installation of larger mains, and reports to the State Commissioner; others have not been corrected, but are now under consideration of the City Commission. The fire department, too, has taken a new lease on life and is seeking in every possible manner to improve. The situation can be explained with two words, "Growing Pains"—the same cause which rendered our schools, our sanitary facilities, and our hospital inadequate.

The Brand has no quarrel to pick with any person or any organization; we believe those directly concerned are doing their best, and we believe they are on the right track. On the other hand, we do believe the people are entitled to the facts in order that they may advise and discuss the situation with their councilmen.

Furthermore, if we can pay $8,500 or $10,000 more in taxes each year to hire the required full-time firemen and furnish proper equipment, thus saving more than $12,000 in actual insurance premiums paid each year it is a matter of sound business. Add to this the all-important factor of adequate protection and you will have: "Sound Business," plus "Security" and "Safety"—which sums up our opinion on a subject important to all.

THE VOICE OF PUBLIC OPINION

Letters To The Editor

BASIC SCIENCE BILL

The following material was submitted to The Brand by Dr. R. E. Lingenfelter of Hereford, and regards the controversial "Basic Science Bill" which is under general discussion over Texas. Parts of the release have been omitted, due to scarcity of space.

"Another Basic Science Bill has been introduced in the Texas Senate under the sponsorship of the Texas Medical Association. This time the bill is disguised as a Minimum Standards Bill. The public, in whose interests the bill is supposed to have been presented, is entitled to the facts.

"The bill duplicates the Texas Medical Practices Act. . . . This is a part of the examination for license before the present State Medical Board. The law requires two years of pre-professional training in basic science subjects. . . . Physicians are examined and licensed by this board to practice medicine and surgery in Texas only after passing these examinations. Why require these men to take an additional examination in these same subjects before another board? . . .

"If the Texas Medical Association thinks the public needs more protection in the healing arts, it certainly should not be concerned with the doctors who have already taken such examinations. It appears that the protection should be against those practitioners who are not at the present time taking these examinations. Let the Medical Association suggest that the legislature make laws regulating the unlicensed practitioners and include a basic science examination as a part of the requirements for them to be licensed. This would be a real public service.

"Two years ago a vicious and highly monopolistic Medical Practices Bill was introduced as a companion bill to the identical Basic Science Bill which is now proposed. It would have given the medical profession in Texas a stranglehold monopoly in the healing arts and would eventually have so limited the osteopathic and other forms of practice that they would cease to exist. This year this bill is not mentioned in connection with the Basic Science or Minimum Standards Bill, but it is a safe assumption that it will certainly follow. . . . The right of Texas citizens to make a free choice of their doctors would be gone should such a bill be enacted into law. The proposed Basic Science law is a step in that direction."

Submitted by Dr. R. E. Lingenfelter, D. O.

Editor The Brand: About twenty five years ago when the late Mr. Borden was visiting his son Bill Borden in Hereford, he told me this story about Edison: Mr. Borden was a young man and going to school in Louisville, Ky., and Mr. Edison was telegraph operator for the L. and N. Railroad in that City. Mr. Edison was greatly interested in electricity but hadn't made any worth while inventions up to that time. He was trying to interest some one to invest some money with him for the purpose of making experiments in electricity.

He called a meeting one night for the business men of Louisville to meet in the opera house to see some demonstrations that he would make. He didn't have anything but some galvanic battery and some other very crude things to show. He called onto the stage a prominent man out of the audience to assist him. Mr. Edison proceeded to make some flashes of light but they didn't amount to much and did not impress the audience. Mr. Edison stated that he thought the time would come when houses would be lighted by electricity. He was asked by the man who was on the stage with him, how much had it cost him to put on the flashes of light that they had just seen. He studied for a minute and said about six dollars. Then he was asked if he didn't think six dollars for that much light would be pretty high price for lighting a house. He had to admit that it would. The demonstration was considered a failure.

The next day a bunch of men were gathered on the street discussing the events of the night before. In the bunch was the President of the L. and N. Railroad who said he thought that young fellow Edison had better be attending to his job in the telegraph office and not be throwing his time away on fool experiments. But the President lived to see Mr. Edison's fool experiments light all the houses in the City including L. and N. depot. I consider Mr. Edison the greatest inventor of all time.

Resp. Yours, F. H. Oberthier

WANTS GOLF COURSE

Dear Editor: The value of the golf-course to a community is being realized more and more each day. As examples of progressive towns, and communities, may we cite that Plainview is adding another 9 holes to their golf course; that Littlefield is building a $100,000 golf course and club-house. Tucumcari put into operation a beautiful 9-hole course last year. Nine more holes were added to the Huber Golf Course in Borger, and of course, Hereford is trying very hard to complete a 9-hole course, which there is no doubt will be the most beautiful spot in the Panhandle due to its natural rolling terrain with the beautiful Tierra-Blanca Creek winding its way through the property.

During World War II the Army and Navy realized the need for a good outdoor participants game, and golf was introduced. Continued on page 5

DID YOU KNOW

That in 1925 Ira Foster was "hot as a two-dollar pistol" pitching ball for Hereford High School? Ray Cowser was back there receiving them behind the plate, J. M. Posey was holding down first base, Charles Sowell on short, Bernard Roberson and J. C. Gilbreath in the outfield, and that's a pretty fair percentage to still be around one place after 24 years.

Glenn Boardman on the violin and George V. Stambaugh on the clarinet and sax were members of about the hottest dance orchestra that Hereford ever had.

One time, Joe Pitman had "two front teef."

the BOOTLEG philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg philosopher seems to be in a solemn mood this week. He is probably as well off worrying about the state or his own farm instead of the world, but somebody else can tell him, not us.)

Dear editor:

For months now I been neglectin my plannin for spring plantin just to study the Russian situation, combin this area thoroughly for every newspaper that turned up, even includin yours, as I was desperate to figure out what the trouble is, and after considerable meditatn and reflectn I have come to the conclusion that while no-body knows what's happenin, Russia is out-smartin us for the time bein, in a diplomatic sort of way.

That is, we don't know what Russia is gonna do, don't even know what we're gonna do, but Russia knows what we're gonna do and herself to boot.

That is, we got different systems. Before this country could declare a war, we got to think it over and debate it in congress and find out how everybody feels about it, which is a good thing, but in Russia it's different. Over there the people can wake up some mornin thinkin about spring plantin and turn on their radios and discover they're at war. Just one man, or two or three at the most, has to make up his mind over there.

Russia knows, for example, that we ain't gonna start no war. We ain't gonna attack nobody unless they jump on us first. But Russia ain't got no such rules.

For that reason, Stalin figures he has a marked deck and is playin the game like he pleases. For example, there ain't been a newspaper editorial writer or a radio commentator or any statesman yet who can explain to me why, if the United States wants to haul food into Berlin, which we captured, from a hundred miles away, it has to do it by airplane at the risk of American lives instead of haulin it in by truck or train, just because Russia says the ground belongs to her. I'll admit after weeks of careful study and thought on this problem, at the neglect of my entire farmin program, I can't figure it out, and I haven't found anybody else who can tell me why this country can't just load up some trucks and tear out for Berlin. It seems to me it would be a good opportunity to find out who's bluffin, and I'll bet my next year's crop against next year's loan to England that Russia wouldn't start no shootin war, and if she did, now's a better time to find out, she means bullets than later on. But I'm sorry to say this country seems to be bogged down in diplomatic maneuvers which don't mean nothin to you and me, although one commentator did hint this country might, if driven to it, stiffen its backbone and take the extreme step of ignorin for six weeks a Russian diplomat in Washington, not even invite him to tea parties to teach his country a lesson.

It's out of my province, but if you ask me, this is a good time to throw away them diplomatic top hats and silk gloves and polite sneakin around and use hard common sense. There ain't nobody left to fight but Russia. If we have to fight her, which I

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Interviews Find Opinion Divided On Question Of Poll Tax Repeal

With the question of abolishing payment of poll tax in Texas being discussed this year in the State Legislature, along with much comment on the subject from Washington, The Brand sought the opinion of the following community leaders in an effort to determine opinions on the subject in Hereford. The question was:

Do you favor the repeal of poll tax in Texas?
Glenn Weir: "I am opposed to the repeal of the poll tax. I don't feel that the issue is to keep negroes, poor people, or anybody from voting, though that was the original intention of the tax. Poll tax is a tax—justifiable, like any other tax, and one should feel proud to pay. I'd favor repeal of any and all taxes if someone could figure out a better way."

Mrs. Emil Dettman: "I definitely favor the repeal of the poll tax. The original purpose of the tax was discriminatory, and I believe it still is. No voting should be taxed—revenue gained from poll taxes should be acquired by raising other taxes, or taxing some other commodity. It would be nice if all the southern states would repeal the poll tax, so that the matter of state's rights vs. federal control would not enter into the picture. However, when it comes time to vote, I believe there should be no discrimination as to race, color, creed, social or financial standing."

W. H. Russell: "If it comes to a vote, I'd vote for repeal. Of course there are things to be said on both sides. Anybody ought to be allowed to vote, but the poll tax isn't very discriminatory. You have to pay for just about anything—you might as well pay to vote. People without any real property seldom pay any tax at all—except those who pay their poll tax, thus it is an added revenue. The Texas Constitution is out-moded in so many ways that, as a general rule, most any of the amendments which come up for approval are an improvement. However, when this question is settled, there'll just be another one to argue about."

Mrs. Elmer Patterson: "I think that the poll tax does take away the right of franchise for some people—not only because they don't have the money, but sometimes people just forget. Forgetfulness should be no cause for losing the right to vote. If it's going to be democracy, I feel there should be nothing to stand in the way of people's right to vote."

Fred Baird: "I agree with the purpose of the poll tax, both because it is partly a school tax, bringing in $1,000,000 a year for the schools of the state, and because it helps to keep our state elections free from fraud, in some measure. In addition, the tax automatically serves as a registration of voters. However, due to the fact that so many people—good thinking people—are conscientiously opposed to the poll tax, I would not be opposed to its repeal."

James W. Witherspoon: "Don't think they should repeal the poll tax law—it is an awfully cheap price to pay for the privilege of voting. Anything that's worth having is worth paying for. The poll tax cost is no impediment—most anybody can afford that much. Besides, it works as a registration certificate, which any voter has to have. So far as the revenue the tax brings in, it doesn't amount to much, and so far as the original purpose is concerned—to keep negroes from voting—that doesn't have much to do with it anymore, although it does help to keep elections free from fraud. The poll tax has been workable in the past, and there's no need to change the old things that are good."

BOOKS ON PARADE

'Young Fry' Sports Fans Improved Winter Days With Action Stories

By MARGARET BARRETT

Most children in this part of the country are sports fans, especially the boys. At the county library can be found a number of good fiction stories built around the world of sports, stressing the importance of developing the ideals of team work, fair-play, and good citizenship.

A long-time favorite with the youngsters in "The Four Winners" by Knute Rockne, who stressed in his book about Elmer Higgins, a boy with a great desire to play football, the importance of Head, Hands, Feet, and the Ball on the playing field. The narration of Elmer's victories and failures is climaxed in the final chapter when "the great game," Elmer's final one in college, is described.

Jackson Scholz, former Olympic Champion, has written several children's sport classics, including "Gridiron Challenge," the story of a high-school prize-fighter who learned, in college football, the greater value of hand-shaking as opposed to face-punching. "Goal to Go" by the same author has its setting amidst the long-standing football competition of Army and Navy.

A tale of the remarkable friendship between two All-American college players is told by Philip Harkins in "Touchdown Twins." Younger children, fifth and sixth graders, will enjoy reading "Tommy Carries the Ball" by James Renick, director of athletic publicity at Ohio State University.

Basketball Fiction
In the basketball field, a story, "Yea, Wildcats," relates the trials of a coach who takes over a city high school five in mid-year and pushes them into the state finals. The book is written by John R. Tunk, who also wrote "All American," a football story centered around life in a large city high school. How the characters of the story learn practical democracy in the midst doubt, now's the best time on earth to find it out. If a man is bent on causin trouble, I'd rather find it out while he's out of breath than after he builds up his strength and resources by hoggin half my farm.

Items Of Interest To Readers

A few years back, we heard lots of stories about towns "over building." The following excerpt from the Curry County News indicates that Clovis is nearing the saturation point.

Making a survey of the housing situation in Clovis, at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, the American Problems class at the Clovis High School found a total of 377 vacancies of various kinds, after completing a house-to-house canvas of the city.

The survey shows: 157 rooms, 172 apartments and 48 houses which owners are ready to make available for occupancy.

Larry Crouse, faculty member under whose direction the survey was made as a practical project in community service, points out that the totals do not include commercial establishments such as hotels and auto courts. The survey was made in anticipation of the possible reactivation of the Army Air Base west of Clovis—Curry County News.

WHICH WIFE?

Air lines have resumed the practice of allowing a discount for purchase of round trip tickets says W. H. Conrad, America's most traveling country editor. The discount was discontinued during the war, when planes were loaded to capacity regardless of cost of the transportation and so many people were traveling at government expense.

Hotels, too, are beginning to ask for business in courteous letters to credit-established patrons. Continued on page 5 of racial prejudice and social snobbery might help young readers to make the proper adjustments to their own problems. Football, basketball, baseball, tennis, ice-hockey—books on these sports activities, plus others, can be found on the children's shelves at the library. It's a good way to spend a long cold evening, or to get in the mood for the coming onset of spring sports.

YOUTH LEARNS AND PROFITS

Annual 4-H Show Is Best Post-War Project

Thousands of people thronged to Hereford yesterday for the annual Four County, 4-H Club Show and for the third consecutive year saw all previous records shattered.

Extolling the virtues of the 4-H show is unnecessary. Cattleman of this area realize better than anyone else the benefits derived by that industry, and the ever-growing list of entries each year speaks for interest being shown by the boys and girls of Deaf Smith, Oldham, Castro and Farmer Counties.

To the Hereford Rotary Club, originators and sponsors of the project, The Brand again extends congratulations for a job well done. Tireless efforts on the part of members of this organization are directly responsible for the growth and progress of the annual event. The 4-H show is unquestionably Hereford's finest and best post-war development. We hope it is possible for Rotary International to realize what the Hereford Club has done for the community.

The agricultural agent, who bears the brunt of preliminary work, also deserves commendation for, to him the 4-H show is a twelve-month job. Interest in club work over the entire area has resulted from his cooperation and efforts.

To the bidders of last Saturday afternoon is also due much credit. Cattleman, merchants and individuals interested in boys and in livestock have made the annual 4-H auction at Hereford of nation-wide fame. Year after year, 4-H price averages of the Hereford auction stood near the top throughout the country. In 1947, they were the highest in the United States. This factor, alone, contributes greatly to success of the annual event.

To the boys and girls who compete in the show, however, probably goes the highest reward, especially those who worked hard all year and did not win. In addition to learning fundamentals in livestock feeding, these youths are also learning "how to play the game of life"; they are learning, as the case may be, "How to Win" and "How to Lose"—and certainly no two more important lessons will come their way. Growing interest each year indicates, furthermore, that they are learning these two lessons well.

community job, think about Dr. Barnett before the tireless, unselfish example which he has set.

Next time you are asked to help on a community job, think about Dr. Barnett before you answer, "I just haven't got the time." This will be the greatest tribute you can pay Hereford's "Man of the Year, 1948."

When a person is polite enough to ask you how you feel, you should be polite enough not to bore him by telling him.

Texans in Washington

AP Special Washington Service
Washington, (AP)—The Fanchandle's Congressman Gene Worley of Shamrock is interested in a matter which may not make big headlines but can help a lot of people if it pans out.

It's a proposal to build ramps alongside the steps of every Federal building in the nation, "to help cripples get in and out."

The idea came during a recent dinner conversation here between Lewis Nordyke of the Amarillo News Globe, Mrs. Nordyke, the congressman and Mrs. Worley. The newspaper man told Worley a survey had shown one-third of the nation's people are disabled to an extent that ramps instead of stairs would be a godsend.

This number, he noted, includes victims of infantile paralysis, accidents, war veterans and the aged. It doesn't account for innumerable mothers who would find it easier to push a baby carriage up a ramp than bumping it up steps.

"The more Worley thought of the idea, the more practical it seemed. He then made a little survey of his own, and concluded that most able bodied individuals would welcome the chance to use ramps."

He conducted his checkup in the block-long tunnel that connects the Capitol and the two House office buildings. Ramps are placed to one side of the steps at each end of the tunnel, for the convenience of the few legislators who use wheel chairs.

"I've discovered that about 90 per cent of the congressmen prefer to use the ramps instead of the steps as they hurry back and forth to the House chamber," observed Worley.

Anticipating sponsorship of legislation which would provide for such ramps, Worley has asked the Public Buildings Administration for its views. He has asked the Public Health Service and other agencies for data as to the number of handicapped people in the country. He hopes also to get the views of individuals throughout the country, to see what they think of the idea.

If the cost isn't prohibitive—and he says it shouldn't be since little work and material would be involved at each building—and if there are enough people who would be benefitted by the availability of ramps, he intends to push legislation to get them constructed.

Around the Capitol: The Texas Forum of the Air, a regular weekly transcribed radio broadcast originating in Washington, is scheduled to go back on a number of Texas stations Sunday, Feb. 20.

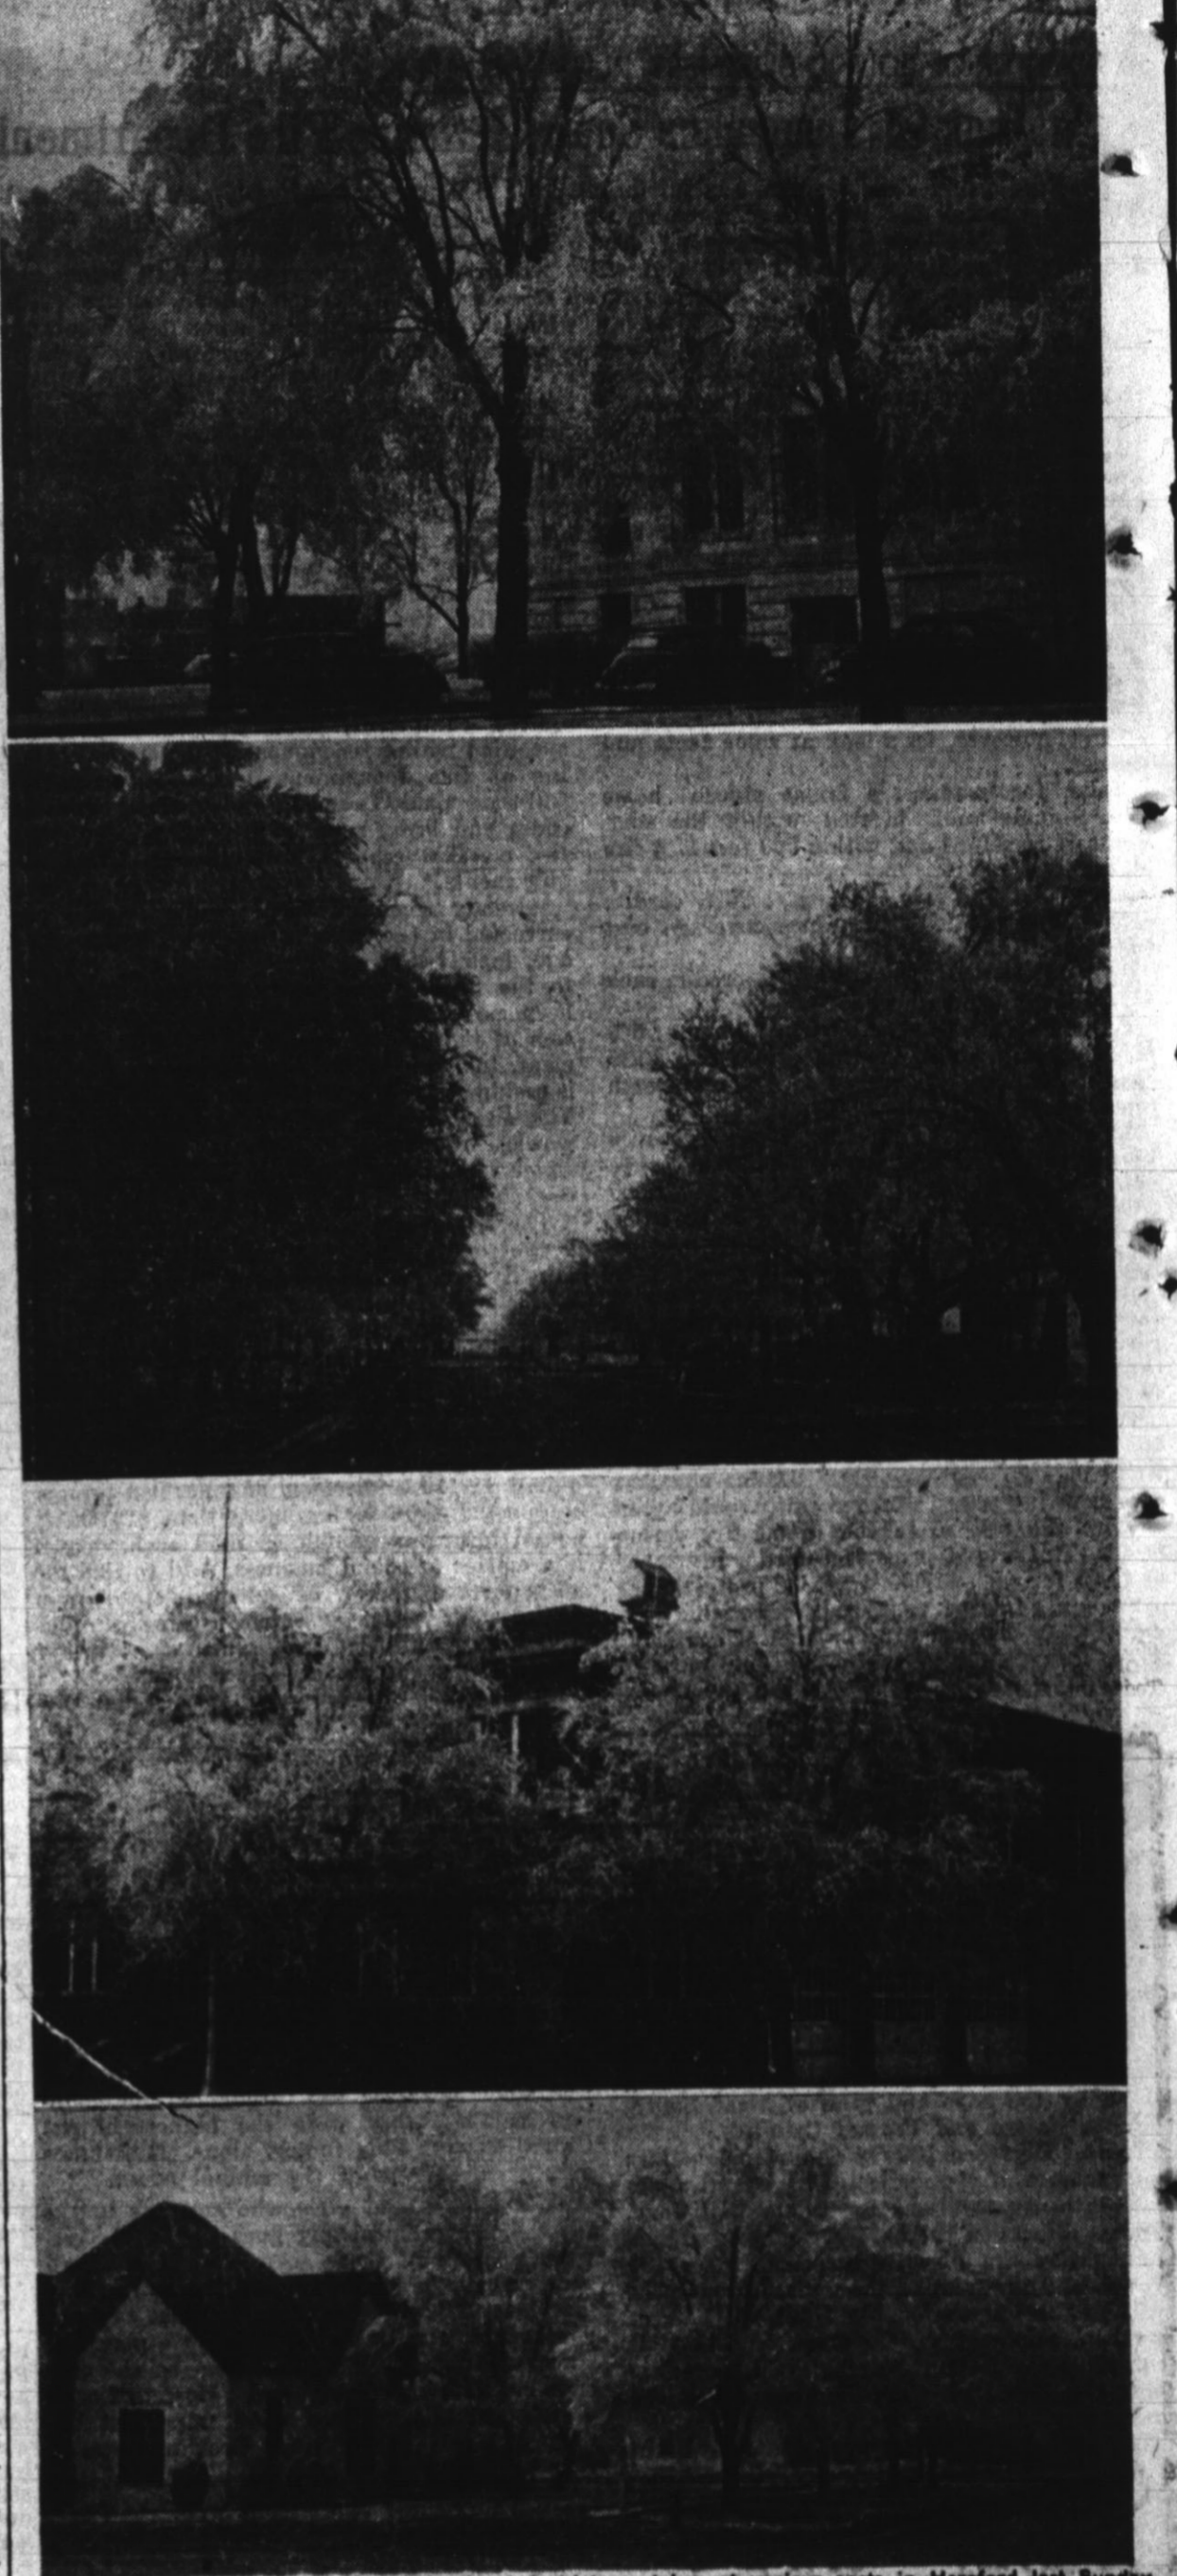

The feature was dropped about two years ago. Rep. Wright Patman of Texas-arkana manages the Sunday evening forum, aided by Robert Coar, director of the House radio studio where the recordings are made.

Each week, Patman plans to have different members of the Texas congressional delegation and various high government officials talk on topics of current interest. Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson are lined up to speak on the first forum.

Hal Sayles, editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, stopped here en route to New York to attend a seminar conducted by the American Press Institute for leading newspaper men over the nation. He visited with his congressman, Omar Burleson of Anson.

In the capitol he encountered Speaker Sam Rayburn, who paid tribute to the late Bernard Hanks, publisher of the Reporter-News. The meeting with Rayburn took place just as the speak-

Ice Storm Weaves Winter's Most Beautiful Scenes

"Winter in all its glory" might caption the above pictures taken at various spots in Hereford last Sunday when a severe ice storm hit this area. Damage down-state to roads, telephone poles and wires was serious, but here the drop in temperatures and the freezing mist did little but make the beautiful formations on trees and shrubbery shown above—and remind localites of that storm some nine or ten years ago which caused the town to be isolated for several days.

Top picture was taken from the North side of the Courthouse; second from top was snapped facing north on Schley Avenue; trees framed against the City Hall make the third scene; bottom view is Mrs. A. H. Elliston's home with its surrounding trees on corner of Third and Lee. Photos by Wm. H. Patton

Mrs. J. M. Boone, 83, Injured In Fall, Is Found Three Hours Later

Mrs. J. M. Boone, 83, who broke her right arm in an accidental fall at her home Wednesday, was reported "improved, but still in critical condition" at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Unable to recall the accident at all, Mrs. Boone apparently fell on the floor of her bedroom at her apartment, Eighth and Lee, around noon Wednesday. She was discovered by J. C. Beck, telegrapher, who works nights at the Santa Fe depot and lives in an adjoining apartment. Beck, who awoke during the day, said the doorbell rang and when he went to answer the door, he heard moaning sounds from Mrs. Boone's apartment. Investigating the sounds, he found her on the floor, unconscious. He called the doctor, and said that the time was around 3 o'clock.

In addition to the broken arm, Mrs. Boone also suffered bruises from the fall. Little hope was held for her recovery Thursday, but on Friday she began showing improvement, but could remember nothing which happened during the three-hour period. Mrs. Boone has resided here for the past 41 years.

Mrs. Leta Barnett, her daughter, and James Barnett, a grandson, both of Wichita Falls, arrived Thursday to be with her. Mrs. Hugh Eastman, another daughter, and Mr. Eastman, of Plainview, also arrived Thursday. Mrs. Barnett expects to remain with her mother until Monday, and Mrs. Eastman plans to remain here two weeks.

Thomas Jefferson, in 1801, was the first President of the United States to be inaugurated in Washington, D. C.

Mile Long Parade

Farm Machinery Latest farm equipment, ranging from self propelled combines and rear-engine tractors to the utility rotary hoe, was paraded by Hereford machinery dealers, and this amazingly complete display proved a revelation to farmers and city onlookers, alike.

Furnishing parade music was the colorful West Texas College band and Hereford's own outstanding high school band.

A bit of horse-play came with the Junior Chamber of Commerce float, which probably attracted the most comment of any unit of the parade with auctioneer Lloyd Otten at the mike and Dub Reeves showing the prize steer-humbug tho it was!

The current film at the Texas Theatre, "Valley of the Giants" was cleverly promoted with a picturesque float with a nature in the rough atmosphere.

Thirty-two members of the neighboring Clovis Mounted Patrol led the mounted division of the parade, with Hereford's general ambassadors of good will, Pat Lawhon and Forrest Minton leading the Deaf Smith County Riders, 48 strong.

Letters To

The result is that a small town that does not have a golf-course is not keeping itself attractive to its younger people or providing its middle-age men and women with a community recreation asset they'll appreciate and support.

There are a number of successful golf-courses in towns of 3,000 population. In providing play facilities that add to the attractions of the community as a place to live, these towns attract and hold a high grade of employees. There is no "dead town" with a "live" golf-course. For community advancement, support the Hereford Golf Association. # Citizens Petition County To Buy Fire Truck

A petition, signed by 292 persons and sponsored by the Hereford Fire Department, was Monday presented to the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County asking that an election be held to determine if the County should purchase $15,000 in fire-fighting equipment for the purpose of combatting fires in areas outside the city limits of Hereford.

The petition cited "fire trucks, booster tanks, pumps and units of other necessary appliances" to be used in furnishing protection to residents of the county who do not reside in Hereford. It was circulated by Richard Jowell, under sponsorship of the Hereford Fire Department and was presented to the Court by Fire Chief Earl Phillips, Richard Jowell and Jiggs Hartman.

"We did not go into the matter at length," said County Judge L. H. Foster, "but we turned the petition over to the county attorney (Owen L. Bybee) to pass on the legality before taking any action."

Phillips said the petition was circulated by the Fire Department as the result of criticism extended the City and the Fire Department for taking the equipment outside the city limits of Hereford.

"As you know, taking the equipment away from the taxpayers who bought and maintain it is illegal through the City Statutes," he said. "Such action also jeopardizes the insurance and insurance rates of the town, and is contrary to ruling of the State Commission."

"This question is not new. It exists all over Texas and has come up several times at the annual firemen's schools which personnel of our department attend each year. Boys from several counties attending the schools report that satisfactory results have been secured through purchase of individual county equipment. This led us to believe that such an election in Deaf Smith County might solve the problem which exists here," he concluded.

General idea expressed through presentation of the petition was that operation of the county equipment by the fire department would afford protection for the area immediately surrounding Hereford, and for outlying areas as well.

The complete petition follows:

Copy of Petition
"We, the undersigned resident citizens and property owners, tax payers and qualified voters of Deaf Smith County Texas, hereby respectfully petition to your Honorable Body to call a county-wide election upon the proposition as to whether or not the County should purchase fire equipment and thus furnish protection and fire fighting equipment to the citizens of Deaf Smith County, residing outside the City Limits of Hereford. Said fire fighting equipment to consist of fire trucks, booster tanks, pumps and units of other necessary appliances and equipment to the extent of, but not to exceed, $15,000.00.

"In this connection, we respectfully represent that it would be for the best interest of the citizens of Deaf Smith County, Texas, for your Honorable Body to furnish such trucks and other units of fire fighting equipment to the citizens of such county, as provided in Article 23.5-A-1, Acts, 1941, 47th Legislature, page 567, Chapter 130.

"And to also determine by such election whether or not the County should issue bonds therefor, and to annually levy a tax in payment thereof."

Cardinal Tried

Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, above, 66-year-old Catholic primate of Hungary, was sentenced to life imprisonment by a people's court in Budapest for crimes against the state. The trial of the cardinal, along with six co-defendants, for alleged treason and black market operations, touched off a series of denunciations of communism from church and civil authorities in all parts of the world.

St. Anthony's Parish Honors New Pastors With Basket-Lunch Party

Father James, new pastor, Father Raymond and Father Edwin, new assistants, all now serving St. Anthony's parish, Hereford, were honor guests at a gathering at the church here last week. The affair also coincided with the ordination anniversaries of the two fathers.

FR. EDWIN Hereford K-C Chaplain

Ladies of the parish decorated the hall in festive fashion, and the tables were "laden with every imaginable kind of viand that tended to make a basket dinner complete." And amidst all were three finely decorated cakes. One displayed candles, another six and another two, commemorating the anniversaries of Father James, Father Raymond (anniversary in June), and Father Edwin.

Father Edwin, the new assistant, arrived but a few weeks ago from New York. His previous assignment had been to teach at St. John's Preparatory Seminary at the Friars of the Atonement Monastery at Graymoor, New York. Already he has entered fully into the parish activities.

Among his other clerical duties he speaks at the Holy Hour on Thursday evenings and serves as chaplain on Sunday at Bovina. Among other activities he has accepted the chaplaincy of the Knights of Columbus. He is working, too, towards the formation of a ball team to represent the Knights in Hereford. He is also planning to form teams among the boys and the girls. Coaching of the dramatic club, also will claim his attention.

The past week marked Father Edwin's second anniversary in the priesthood. He received his degree and was ordained at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. This occasion marked the culmination of twelve years of study, spent at schools in New York and at the College and University.

MOSCOW (AP)—It has been officially announced that nearly 1,000 buildings are scheduled to go up in the Capital this year. This is about twice as many as were built last year, when Moscow exceeded the peak pre-war construction pace of 1940.

Roughly the same rate of progress is scheduled also for other branches of municipal economy, such as improvement of housing, streets, and the transport services.

A highlight of the building development is the laying of the cornerstone for the new Moscow University.

Church Pageant

Sunday School teacher, of that time, on Saturday night preparing for next day's activities. Before going to bed she applied a beauty treatment of cucumber juice and buttermilk as a complexion aid and curled her hair with old fashioned curling irons, heated over a kerosene lamp, after which she donned a night cap to keep it "just so" for the next day.

Scene VI. The organization of the first Sunday School of the church was represented by a Christmas tree scene in the first and second year. The first tree, because of a lack of evergreens in this country, was a two by four with criss cross pieces nailed thereon and then covered with white muslin with the toys tied on the pieces.

The second tree was an idea of Troy Womble's to improve over the first year's tree. He made one out of a tall cedar post and then plugged in short branches of any green shrub which could be found at the time. Toys were tied on and when removed sometimes took a branch with it. Mrs. W. E. Dameron and some of her present class of youngsters depicted these scenes of the long ago.

Christian College
Scene VII. The first glee club of the old Christian College did some harmonizing, wearing plain old fashioned dresses with white sailor collars, red bows and red ribbons in their hair. They looked like Gibson girls of the gay nineties. Those taking part were Mrs. Nona Jowell, Mrs. John Robinson, Jr., Mrs. A. Petersen, Mrs. Earl Phillips, Mrs. Roberta Dyer, Mrs. W. E. Dameron, Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, and Mrs. Harry Seed.

Scene VIII. Mrs. Roberta Dyer and Mrs. Harry Seed played a piano duet which was originally a part of a four-some with two others who played at a second piano. This number was a part of a home talent benefit concert staged 30 years ago in the new courthouse, then the biggest auditorium in town. The concert was sponsored by Mrs. W. A. Gregg to raise funds for the present church building.

Easter Sunrise
Scenes IX and X presented an Easter Service and Nativity Scene in tableaux depicting two customs originated by the Women's Missionary Society for those two seasons. These customs are still carried out each year. Purrie Williams played a cornet solo off stage for this scene.

In the Nativity scene, Ira Scott played the part of Joseph and Betty Jo Carnahan the part of Mary.

Scene XI. The present robed choir directed by Mrs. Roberta Dyer and accompanied by Mrs. Ellis Coombes, contrasted in appearance and song with the early day, first choir.

Scene XII. This tableau presented a scroll in memory of the first charter members for part one and a tribute to the only living charter member, Troy Womble, closing the story of the first fifty years of the church's history.

Activities End Today
Today will bring the week's activities of the church to a close. Rev. Keith of T. C. U. will make the morning address, and Rev. Roy O. Snodgrass of Amarillo will be in charge of the ordination services for Glenn Ricketts in the afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Rudd Named Outstanding Woman Of Year By Westway HD Club

The Westway Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. S. A. Duckworth last Wednesday. Mrs. R. L. Wilson, president, presided over the meeting; Mrs. J. C. Morrison discussed proper footwear and care of tired feet. Mrs. Paul Rudd was voted outstanding club woman of 1948.

Refreshments were served to visitors: Mrs. B. B. Northcutt, Mrs. G. G. Harrison, Mrs. Jack Deans of Sims, new members, Mrs. Jimmy Thomas, Mrs. J. B. Cooonauger; members, Mesdames Sally Buck, Mrs. Nat Thomas, Johnny Townsend, Carl Schroeder, Elmer Combs, M. S. Roe, J. G. Morrison, Bess Werner, G. C. Merritt, R. L. Wilkins, Bud Hopson, Edgar Skypala, H. H. Millard, Paul Rudd, and the hostess, Mrs. Duckworth.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. G. C. Merritt on Wednesday, February 23. Givemaking will be demonstrated.

Reds Claim Role In U. S. Discoveries

MOSCOW (AP)—A recent book by a Russian geographer claims that in the exploration and settlement of America Russia played "no small role."

The book, "From The History of Russian Expeditions In The Pacific Ocean," was written by A. V. Efimov and published by the Military Publishing House of the Ministry of the Armed Forces of the Soviet Union. It claims that "immense areas of northwestern America were discovered, investigated and described by Russian navigators and only by them, and then by right of discovery and settlement Alaska was united to Russia."

The book states that "the role of Russian people—state figures, scholars, travellers, sailors, soldiers—all those who by heavy labor conquered the elements, battling with death, discovered new routes, new lands, the role of those who in the most direct sense discovered America from the West—cannot be exaggerated."

Gib Sandefer, former manager of the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band, is promoting a tour of the U. S. A. Air Force band throughout the nation. He is writing to heads of civic organizations in various cities inquiring whether they wish to sponsor the Air Force band's appearance in their localities. Last year Sandefer managed a tour of the U. S. Navy band.

He started off his testimony by stepping up to the committee chairman and laying down grapefruit and a cabbage. Then he started a graphic description of the output of Texas farms and citrus groves. Shipments from the state last year totaled 22,065 box cars of citrus and 48,106 cars of vegetables, and in addition, 20,314 cars equivalent by truck.

Canadian Bridge Is No. 1 Project

Citing need of a Canadian River crossing between Vega and Dalhart as the foremost need of the entire South Plains area, representatives from every county located on Highway 51, from Dalhart to Mexico, met in Levelland Wednesday and formulated plans toward securing the crossing.

Jas. W. Witherspoon of Hereford was named on the executive committee of the 51 Association, and plans were announced for each county to contact the State Department regarding a bridge or dam across the Canadian.

Attending the meeting from Hereford were: O. P. Cowart, J. H. Sears, G. T. Higgins and Wilson Oyles.

Golf Association Sets Green Fees, Seeks Members

With preliminary work in reconstructing Hereford's once beautiful golf course south of town well underway, the recently organized Hereford Golf Association Thursday announced green fees and opened a campaign to get 50 new members and raise the association roster of 100 voting members.

"The golf course will be open to the public," said Wayne Evans, membership drive chairman, and will operate with the following green fees:

Man and wife—$50 per year, paid in advance or semi-annual.

Women—$25 per year. Junior membership, open to high school and college students—$15 per year.

One round—50 cents per person on week days; 75 cents Saturday and Sundays.

All Day—$1 week days; $1.50 Saturdays and Sundays. Daily green fees will be one-half price to students.

"We expect to make the Hereford golf course a show place of the Panhandle," said Edward Roberson, president. "Greens will be of seaside bent grass, which will be planted in March. We plan to have the course open to the public by July 1, 1949."

Irrigation pipe has been installed and the course has been leveled. Further work will be done as soon as more memberships are secured, according to Evans, who said the association is operating on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. The stone clubhouse, secured from the City, is also being remodeled to serve club members.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF DEAF SMITH To all persons interested in Blocks No. 10, 11, 12, 13, 26 and 27, all other owners of the Welsh Addition to the Town of Hereford and all adjacent owners to said Welsh Addition, Deaf Smith County, Texas, GREETING: Notice is hereby given that W. N. Hodges, Jimmie Jones, Mrs. Helen Pipkin, Gaylord Newell, V. A. Halley and E. U. Cook did on the 14th day of February, 1949, file in the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, a petition for authority to close a portion of Centre Avenue located in the Welsh Addition to the Town of Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, which portion of said street is described as follows: Beginning at the North line of the intersection of Moreman Avenue and Centre Avenue and extending North between Blocks No. 10, 11, 27, 12, 13 and 26 to the North boundary line of said Welsh Addition.

Said petitioners allege that they (First published Feb. 17, 1949.) are the owners of all the above described property, that said portion of Centre Avenue has never been opened, is not now and has never been used as a street, road or right of way and that a cancellation of the above described portion of Centre Avenue will not interfere in the established right-of-ways of any party owning any portion of such subdivision or any adjacent land owners; and, WHEREAS, the Commissioners Court has ordered a hearing to be held in the Commissioners Court Room of Deaf Smith County, Texas, at Hereford, on the 14th day of March, 1949, at ten o'clock a. m., at which time all persons interested in said Welsh Addition, or any adjacent owners thereof, may appear and contest said petition if they so desire.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of office at Hereford, Texas, on the 14th day of February, 1949. (SEAL) R. L. THOMPSON, County Clerk, Deaf Smith County, Texas.

New F. H. A. Sweetheart

Presentation of the honor sweetheart of the Future Homemakers of America as she stepped through a flower arch in a garden scene climaxed the annual F. H. A. Sweetheart Party held at the high school gymnasium Friday night, Feb. 11.

Miss Bobbie Brownlow, Junior, pictured with her escort, Don Davidson, a senior, was the sweetheart elected by secret ballot as the members of the group arrived at the party. Emma Jan Brown made the presentation presenting the honoree with a bouquet of red roses as "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was sung by the group. Earline West, freshman, placed second for the honor with Eva Pearl Robinson, freshman, placing third.

Entertainment features included music by the F. H. A. sextet accompanied at the piano by Evelyn Benson, and various types of floor games under the direction of Colleen Brown. An informal buffet supper was served with some of the mothers of members assisting when approximately 95 guests were registered. Mrs. Don Little is the F. H. A. sponsor.

La Plata Club Elects Officers, Studies History Of XIT Ranch

New officers were elected at the meeting of the LaPlata Club held Tuesday night in the Ullin Streu home with Mrs. Charles Newell serving as hostess.

The new leaders, to be installed in May, are: President, Mrs. Bill Blood; vice-president, Mrs. Harry Cayler; recording secretary, Mrs. Emil Dettman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Morris Thomson; treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Wilson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Liston Wilson, and reporter, Mrs. J. R. Johnson.

During the business session completed plans for the hobby show, scheduled for February 19-20, were discussed.

The program consisted of an historical review of XIT Ranch given by Mrs. S. S. Dodson and Mrs. Willis Edelman. Mrs. Dodson said "The XIT Ranch was started on the same day that the cornerstone was laid for the state capitol building. It comprised 3 million acres deeded to the syndicate by the state of Texas. The ranch comprised 10 counties in the Panhandle and did not begin to break up until in the 90's. The last cow was sold in 1912."

Mrs. Edelman quoted from two

Hereford men who were one-time cowboys and later foremen at the ranch.

Former Hereford Cowboys

C. R. Smith recalled that supplies were brought in car loads, including a car-load of cigar papers at one time. Bob Higgins commented that the cowboys didn't eat bacon for they preferred beef, but when the lamps gave out bacon flares made good enough light for poker games. Mr. Higgins said "the early day school teacher in those parts had no more chance of remaining single than one lone grasshopper had of keeping alive in a flock of turkeys. I know—I married one."

Mrs. Bill Wolfe told of the Yellow House Ranch near Littlefield which was a division of the XIT Ranch. This ranch has been recently operated by O. G. Hill.

Members present were Mesdames Milton Adams, Clell Best, Bill Blood, Homer Brumley, Emil Dettman, J. R. Johnson, Elmer Patterson, A. J. Schroeter, Morris Thomson, Charles Spurlock, Liston Wilson, Bill Wolfe, S. S. Dodson and the hostess.

TO IMPROVE PARK

Mrs. Lyle Blanton, who is Councillor for District One of Texas Garden Clubs Incorporated, a territory which includes 40 clubs in over 50 counties is leading a major project of garden clubs in a movement to beautify and improve Palo Duro Park. Garden club members have been asked to send letters and appeals to Austin, in the hope of furthering legislation for the improvement of the park. All three of the Garden Clubs in Hereford are taking an active part in this project.

Husbands and Escorts Are Honored Guests At Beat Eta Valentine Party

February parties are pretty apt to be centered around a Valentine theme and although husbands and escorts are entertained at all times of the year, the Valentine season usually heads the list.

One of the year's highlights for Beta Eta chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, was the Valentine party given for husbands and escorts at the club rooms Monday night. Garlands of red hearts vied with huge red hearts and chains of valentines in decorative attraction and table games provided entertainment. A big red heart-shaped box of candy was presented by the sponsor, Mrs. Ellen Carter. Games were directed by Bettye Hodges and Troyce Hanna.

The decorating committee was made up of Bess Hagar, Marian Plummer, Virginia Curtsinger, and Frances Young.

Refreshments carrying out the "Hearts and Flowers" theme were served to Hugh Clearman, Foster Whaley, Matsy Heck, Jo-lyene Curtsinger, Marie Denton, G. D. Calson, Jean Williams, Frances Young, Doris and Jack Pickens, Troys and Grant Hanna, Pauline Loerwald, Bill Howard, Werner and Adeline Koelzer, Alton Kemp, Bess Hagar, Bettye Hodges and Bobby Owen, Ruth Pickens, Carol Newsom, Harold Loerwald, Pat Longbottom, E. Ward, Jr., and Wanda Ward.

MRS. RAY JOHNSON

Rich In Protein And Food Energy Cheese Makes Excellent Main Dish

Thrifty housewives will do well to include cheese often in their meal planning for few meat cuts provide a main dish as inexpensive as one that is based on cheese. High in protein it is both nourishing and satisfying and rich in food energy, too. Today's recipe for Cheese Casserole serole was adapted from an old southern recipe by Mrs. Ray Johnson who has the knack of taking ordinary foods and coming up with something special. Cheese casserole resembles a souffle but it has more body and is easier to make. Like souffle, however, it should be served as soon as it is taken from the oven.

Let's Cook Something

Cheese Casserole

- 2 cups diced celery
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 pint milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1/4 pound cheese
- 3 slices buttered toast
- dash of pepper

Cook diced celery until tender in salted water and drain. Make white sauce by blending together melted butter and flour and gradually adding the beaten egg and milk. Add salt and pepper and stir, cooking until thick.

Place the celery in a buttered casserole, add the grated cheese and then cover with the white sauce. Grate the toast and place on top of the sauce. Bake in moderate oven (350 F) for twenty or thirty minutes or until mixture is brown and bubbling. Serve at once.

Note: For variety, Mrs. Johnson sometimes uses 2 cups of cut asparagus instead of the celery.

Mrs. Bill Brady and Mrs. R. G. Blue attended a tea and Guest-Day program of the McDowell Study Club in Amarillo Thursday. Mrs. Brady was a guest-speaker on the program.

NEXT TO VISITING WITH PEOPLE, SHE LIKES TO CROCHET

Mrs. S. E. Askren Planted Trees Here In 1891

The fascinating art of crochet provides a maximum of pleasure with the minimum of actual labor. At least, such has been the experience of Mrs. S. E. Askren, who has taken a keen delight in crocheting since early childhood.

The art of making things grow, whether with bits of thread into intricate patterns of lace, or with plants and flowers in gay little pots on the kitchen shelf, has long been a hobby with Mrs. Askren.

She learned the secrets of crocheting when she lived on the ranch in the eastern part of Deaf Smith County before there was any such town as Hereford. The Askrens didn't have any neighbors, although there was plenty of company—for those were the days of the prospectors—and she spent hours of spare time making almost anything and everything out of crochet thread.

Class Is Entertained At Jackson Residence

Mrs. Clinton Jackson and her fifteen year old girls class of the First Baptist Church entertained Mrs. John Winkler's class at Come-As-You-Are breakfast Saturday morning. Members of the guest class were routed out by the hostesses and taken to the Jackson home where a buffet waffle breakfast was enjoyed. Members from Mrs. Winkler's class were Molly Bettis, Melba Wall, Earline Nipper, Nora Jo McLallen, Isetta Lynch, Nan Buckner, Emmarie Turner, Pat Hall and Mrs. Winkler.

right away to try to make things pretty inside and out, and the things I crocheted helped a lot. We built a big barn and it still stands, just as Mr. Askren built it; we carried rocks from the railroad for a pond. You should see today those trees we planted around that pond.

"If some of those people who came out here in the early days, and hurried away because they didn't like it, could only see our town now! I keep wishing they could see our wheat fields, our herds of cattle and even the wonderful snow last month. I wish they could see what I see and know what I know about Hereford. One woman who came with her prospector husband and stopped at our place, even hinted that the Panhandle changed a woman's looks and that she was having no part of it," Mrs. Askren recalled.

Thousands of Items

Mr. and Mrs. Askren moved from the ranch to Hereford in 1915 and there seems no end to the list of things she has crocheted since then. She has made bed spreads, table cloths, chair sets, toy animals and dolls, table mats, pot lifters, medallions, and lace by the yards, point-lace baby caps, dainty aprons and so many other things that the number is in the thousands—in hundreds of different patterns. She hasn't made one of the lovely hats, so popular just now, but she thinks she will have a try at one.

After Mr. Askren's death she clerked at Cronin's Dry Goods Store for a number of years and she still gets a thrill out of remembering when customers would ask for her to wait on them. She likes people and has never lost her enthusiasm for the people of Hereford, nor her interest in the progress of the city.

"The pioneers are the ones who are proud of Hereford; they are the ones who love the churches, and appreciate our fine school system and hospitals, for they know better than any one just what it was like when there wasn't even a railroad. I take both the Thursday and the Sunday Brand, its wonderful for Hereford to be big enough for two papers and I wouldn't be surprised if we should be big enough for a daily soon. At any rate I don't want to miss anything and I like to lend my support to anything good for Hereford," she continued.

Likes to Visit

Crocheting isn't her only hobby, however. She has a hemstitching machine and she wouldn't hazard a guess at how many hundreds of yards she has hemstitched. She charges a small fee for her work, but finds her greatest pleasure in visiting with the people who come for the hemstitching. She loves to give and has given away enough crocheted pieces to fill a trunk; having no children of her own, she has devoted both time and money to numerous young people needing assistance. A life-long member of the Christian Church, she rarely misses a Sunday morning service.

Mrs. Askren will be 81 years old next Friday, February 25, but she is as young in heart as Springtime and as warm and refreshing as her memories of the pioneers and the horse and buggy days in Hereford.

Young Mother's Club Entertains For Husbands On Valentine Day

Members of the Young Mothers Club chose Valentine Day as the appropriate time for the annual husband's party, which was held Monday night in the form of a dinner-party at Engman's Cafe. Long tables were decorated in big red hearts and boxes of candy, and club members were presented with corsages fashioned of red sweet peas and lacy valentines.

Mrs. John Winkler was mistress of ceremonies and gave the welcome to guests with Lowell Sharp responding. Bingo games provided entertainment after the dinner and husbands wrote pet peevs about the things their wives did not do which were read aloud and the author identified. In flattering compliments, the wives described their husbands with Mrs. G. W. Edwards and Mrs. Don Martin winning the prizes for the best descriptions.

Those attending the party were Messrs. and Mesdames Delbert Bannum, Richard Barnard, Bartley Dowell, G. W. Edwards, Norman Gray, Preston Hagans, Paul Harvey, William Hull, Don Martin, Lee Kent, Cecil Malone, Lowell Sharp, John Winkler, Neill Young and Pat Robinson.

Class Is Entertained At Jackson Residence

Mrs. Clinton Jackson and her fifteen year old girls class of the First Baptist Church entertained Mrs. John Winkler's class at Come-As-You-Are breakfast Saturday morning. Members of the guest class were routed out by the hostesses and taken to the Jackson home where a buffet waffle breakfast was enjoyed. Members from Mrs. Winkler's class were Molly Bettis, Melba Wall, Earline Nipper, Nora Jo McLallen, Isetta Lynch, Nan Buckner, Emmarie Turner, Pat Hall and Mrs. Winkler.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
Stringfellow-Hume Hardware Co. almost monopolized the front page of the Hereford Brand for February 18, 1904 with big black heads "Stoves! Stoves! We carry a complete line of stoves and can save you money on same. See our line before purchasing. Come around and let us tell you how you can get along this winter with twenty-five per cent less coal than you used last winter."

And right beneath that reminder that winter's chilly draughts were still in progress is E. W. Harrison Company's optimistic view of the future, "Spring Suits, $8.50 up."

Toothaches in 1904

Hereford may be the "Town Without a Toothache" nowadays but in 1904 they weren't bragging about it. A front page story giving "The best in the Panhandle" a boost states: "DR. W. E. Robertson, Hereford's mechanical dentist, has recently installed in his dental parlors in the second story of the G. R. Hay brick building, a fine lot of new dental appliances, consisting of a dental cabinet (which has to be seen to be appreciated), the new crown and bridge system, a dentist's 'engine', a vulcanizer, a gas administering apparatus and other additions to his equipment too numerous to mention. It is safe to say that Dr. Robertson has the most home-like and best equipped dental parlors of any dentist in the Panhandle." What they didn't know then!

Not to be left entirely out of the laurels, the Brand describes itself: "A clean, 8-page Weekly Newspaper, devoted to the Up-Building of Hereford and the Surrounding Country. Has the Largest Guaranteed Circulation of any Paper Published in the Panhandle of Texas. Valued for its Class of Readers. Official Organ of Deaf Smith and Castro Counties."

Vega Postoffice

Under Panhandle News items, the 1904 Brand mentions: "A Farmer's Institute was organized at Dalhart of the 13th inst." "The Office of mayor of Amarillo is a much coveted one. There are five candidates seeking it." "A new postoffice has been organized in the southern part of Oldham county to be known by the name of Vega;" "H. Trow of Hereford purchased about 500 head of steers in this county (Childress) this week. He paid $7.50 to $11 for calves, $13 for yearling, and $17 for two-year olds. The stuff was shipped to Hereford." "There is a united effort on the part of the railroads and land owners to induce renters to come from the boll weevil districts to the Panhandle."

Announcements in the Brand include: "... Rat Jowell announces his candidacy for the office of sheriff and tax collector of Deaf Smith county. Mr. Jowell is too well known among the voters of this county to need any recommendation from the Brand, having lived here for many years, and being a former sheriff of this county. That he will make a good officer, if elected, is evident to all." "President Roosevelt will now have an open way to a victorious nomination on the part of the Republican party. It seems that Mr. Roosevelt is a creature of circumstances, or rather that fortune is determined to smile upon him." Republicans in Deaf Smith County were scarce in 1904, too!

Among the short news items were: "J. B. Roberson was in from Boom Tuesday on business"; "W. M. Curfman, a substantial ranchman living east of town was among our visitors Saturday"; "Harvey Cash and sisters went to Amarillo Tuesday afternoon, returning Wednesday"; "A. Laird came up from Bovina Tuesday afternoon and spent Wednesday in Hereford"; "S. H. Mount this week orders the Brand sent to his mother, Mrs. K. F. Mount at Rhome, Texas."

Hereford 'Aggies' Pass Up Corsages To Donate 'Dimes'

For the first time in the long procession of Texas A & M College annual military balls, no corsages were presented to dates by members of the cadet corps who sponsored the ball Saturday night, Feb. 12. It was all right with the girls, some of whom had come miles to attend the ball, they proved to be as interested in the plan initiated by the cadets as they themselves were.

It all came about when cadets decided the best manner in which they could honor First Lt. Audie Murphy, the most decorated hero of World War II who was special guest of the ball and who became the first person ever to be made an honorary member of the cadet corps, would be to support the March of Dimes in a big way.

J. W. Robinson, member of the corps, advises his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Robinson, that the idea went over in a big way and from the very first was okayed by the feminine guests. Each student placed his corsage money in the March of Dimes fund which totaled three thousand dollars. J. W. commented in the letter to his parents: "It was a wonderful affair with seven generals and other military top-flight officers present, and we thought it was a wonderful way, for the Aggies to show appreciation of Lt. Murphy and to help in such a worthy cause."

Fifteen boys from Hereford are enrolled at Texas A & M College.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful during the long illness and death of our loved one, Fletcher Cole. We especially wish to thank the doctors and nurses who were so good to him and to us while he was in the hospital. Also Brother Fields and Brother Eldridge for their kindness and their comforting words.

Mrs. Fletcher Cole and children.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parvin and family.
Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Noyes and family.

Have New Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Lester Miller of Albuquerque, N. M., are parents of a daughter born February 9. The baby who has been named Mary Linda, weighed seven pounds and six ounces. Mr. Miller is coach at Jefferson High School, and is one of two persons named to be coach at the new Heights High School next fall. He is a former Lobo football star.

Mrs. Miller is the former Miss Mary Louise Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Dean of Nara Visa, N. M., and former Hereford residents. She is former woman's page editor of the Albuquerque Tribune.

ATTEND ORGAN SCHOOL

Donald Gaetz, son of Mrs. John Gaetz, is now in New York City where he is taking a special course with the Wurlitzer Electric Organ Company. Gaetz has recently completed an eighteen months course in a Radio and Television School in Wichita Falls, and is employed by the Wichita Falls Music Company. His wife is remaining in Wichita Falls while Gaetz is in New York City.

Hereford Has 33 Students Enrolled At WTSC, Canyon

CANYON, Feb. 16—With enrollment almost completed at West Texas State College for the spring semester, records continue to be broken. By the middle of the second week in February 1162 students had registered for on the campus study, each carrying a full course of classes. This figure, added to the 367 already enrolled at Amarillo Center, gives an aggregate of 1529. Approximately 100 more are expected to enroll at the Center yet. Campus figures surpassed the old record set in the spring of 1947 by only 11 students. Amarillo Center shows the largest increase for the same periods with a complete enrollment in the spring of 1947 of 252 as compared to the present incomplete figure of 367. Plainview rolled up to number three in sending the most students to WT with 35 enrollees. Canyon and Amarillo have 179 and 169 students respectively. Childress has 34, Hereford 33, Pampa 32, Floydada 31, Borger 27, Happy 25, Perryton and Tulla 23 each and Vega 22.

CARD OF THANKS

Since it has been impossible to express our appreciation personally to the hundreds of friends for their many kindnesses when tragedy struck our home recently, we take this means to thank each and everyone of you. May God bless you all. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dyer, John and Ann.

County Okays Paving Strip, Names Judges

Approval of the paving program, covering 2,300 feet of surface work to the stock yards southeast of town, and appointment of election judges for 1949, were chief points of interest handled by the Commissioners Court in regular meeting here Monday.

Approve $1,233 Paving
The paving program, which includes surfacing of 2,300 feet to the stock pens, totaled $3,151 of which $1,233 is to be paid by Deaf Smith County and $1,918 by individual parties, represented through the court by J. A. Pitman and Cecil Guseman. Following previous action, the court approved payment of the $1,233 in county funds. The road will have a six-inch caliche base, 22 feet wide, with an asphalt topping 18 feet wide.

Election Judges Named
Acting in accordance with state regulations to appoint election judges to serve in any general or special elections, the court appointed judges for each of the 10 election precincts. They follow: Precinct No. 1—R. G. Lewis, S. H. Slagle, Glenn Weir, G. W. Newsom; Precinct 2—John H. Patton, S. O. Wilson, R. L. Mc. Gee, and Grant Fuller; Precinct 3—B. B. Northcutt, P. B. Sowell, Precinct 4—J. G. Fortenberry, C. H. Hammock; Precinct 5—R. L. Campbell, Neil Downing. Precinct 6—C. G. Richardson,

George Larson, Precinct 7—H. H. Miller, August Frye, Precinct 8—Lewis Smith, Ben Bates, Precinct 9—C. F. Rickles, J. W. Ardian, Precinct 10—C. L. McBroom, Erwin Shugart.

The list of judges is practically the same as last year, Judge L. H. Foster, said, except in Precincts 1 and 2, which made two Democrats and two Republicans, a feature which the said is required by law in all precincts composed of 250 or more voters.

"Many Sided Roosevelts", Is Topic Heard At Bayview Club

Panel discussions of "The Many Sided Roosevelt" made up the program for the Bay View Club meetings held in the home of Mrs. Henry Benson Thursday afternoon. Opinions of those very close to the late president were presented with Mrs. J. P. Slaton, leader, giving the views of the White House physician, Vice-Admiral E. T. McEntire, who was both physician and friend of the family.

Mrs. Slaton—"As his physician saw Roosevelt, it was his unconquerable spirit that carried him through, but he never showed as much determination in all his political career as he did in conquering the battle for health. His courage took full command of his life and he was never considered a cripple, always giving an impression of strength and vitality. No life of our time was better fitted to serve as a pattern even though cruelly handicapped."

Mrs. J. W. Spradley—"Jim Farley saw Roosevelt as a spoiled boy, motivated by decisions from the heart rather than from the mind. Farley helped set Roosevelt's candidacy for president, coming and was appointed first master General. He went with enough the first term and the first ripple came during Roosevelt's second four years in the white house, until finally Farley knew nothing about the president's plans. Farley opposed the third term but the tradition was broken and Farley resigned as chairman of the democratic committee and post master General."

Mrs. Phillip Barkley—"Frances Perkins who was the first woman in the United States to become a cabinet officer, saw Roosevelt as an arrogant youth who, stricken with infantile paralysis when 21 years of age, emerged in 1928 with a great human heart filled with compassion. She watched him grow to greatness by the full realization of all his faculties and by the ignoring of his handicaps. His own version of his philosophy of life was "A Christian and a democrat."

Mrs. Bob Wilson—"The backstage story of Roosevelt is told by his son Elliott who accompanied him on many missions and conferences during the war. He recalls his father's first conference with Winston Churchill who was interested solely in winning the war for England. Elliott saw his father battle the bitterness and hatred of leaders at Casablanca and marveled at his vision. The president was planning a United Nations as early as 1942 and the structure of peace was taking form in his mind for he knew the United States would have to take the lead."

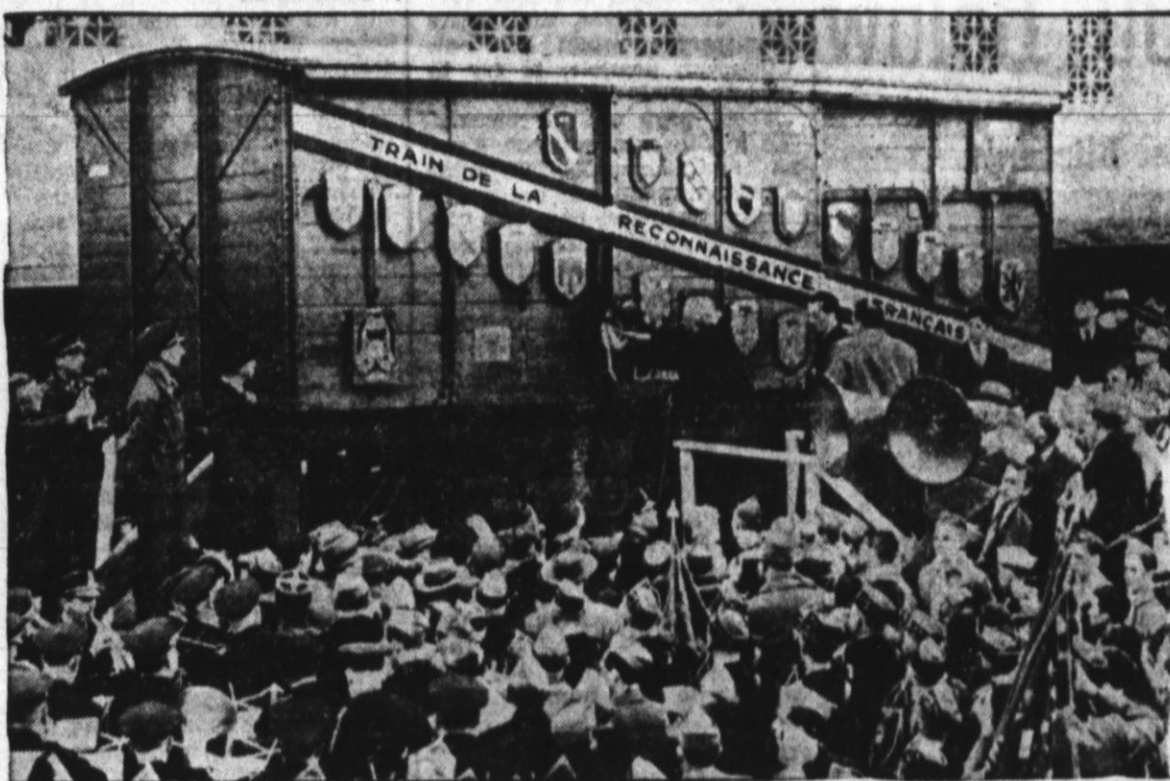

A short business session was conducted by the president. Mrs. Colby Conkright, when plans for the annual guest day program were discussed. Members will invite guests to hear a special program given at the Presbyterian Church on March 5.

Mrs. George Heard presented the "Woman of the Year" project when clubs will vote on the outstanding woman in the respective organizations and from them the outstanding woman of the year will be named at the County Federation 20th Anniversary in April.

Members of the club present were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, Lee Benefield, Essie Cardwell, Colby Conkright, Howard Gault, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, A. M. Jones, J. W. Kirby, John McLean, J. P. Slaton, J. W. Spradley, Bob Wilson, Wayne Evans and the hostess.

"BRIDGE OF UNDERSTANDING"

Hereford Groups Exchange Ideas With Groups In Occupied Germany

(Editor's note: The North Hereford Home Demonstration Club is one group included in those mentioned in the following item, which was sent The Brand from Headquarters, European Command. There may be others.)

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY — Various groups and clubs in Hereford have entered into a group correspondence with German youth groups throughout the U. S. Zone of Germany, the Armed Forces Assistance Program to German Youth Activities announced today and added that the project "Youth Helps Youth" has been received with great enthusiasm by German groups.

To date 500 groups are being brought together through "Youth Helps Youth" correspondence. A goal of 1000 such groups is expected to be reached during 1949.

This project of group correspondence between German and American youth groups was started in April of 1948 to bring about an interchange of information and ideas which would promote international friendship, bring about a greater understanding of mutual problems, and provide a natural outlet for the boundless, wholesome curiosity of youth about other peoples of the world. It enables the American groups to appreciate and assist in solving the critical problem of adequate supply of materials which are necessary to carry out Youth Activities in Germany. Above all it serves as a bridge of understanding between the youth of nations which were enemies.

European Command Headquarters GYA office has communicated with all of the major youth serving organizations in the United States explaining the project and requesting their cooperation. Through the Radio Section of the Public Information Division spot announcements about "Youth Helps Youth" have been made on 2300 Stateside radio stations. More than 2000 letters both from Americans and Germans have been necessary to get the "Youth Helps Youth" project into motion. A steady flow of letters is now being received from the United States requesting that their group be paired with a similar group in Germany.

TROY MOORE IS FUND DRIVE CHAIRMAN

County Red Cross Quota $5,028 This Year; Fifty-Two Workers Named In Rural Areas

Listing 52 workers in 18 rural communities and districts of this area, Troy Moore, fund drive chairman, said today that the annual Red Cross drive will open in this county on Tuesday, March 1. The quota for 1949 will total $5,028 an amount $1,612 less than the $6,640 quota last year.

Area Keeps 85 Percent

"Of all monies collected, 85.5 percent will remain to be used exclusively in this county," Dyalthisa Brady, chapter secretary said. She reported that the Deaf Smith chapter is at present "hard pushed" due to assistance over the area as a result of the unforeseen blizzards and cold weather in recent months.

"Count welfare funds and Red Cross funds run approximately 50-50 in defraying of cases," Mrs. Bradley continued. "We will be extremely glad for any interested persons or representatives of club groups to visit the office and check expenditures for the year."

The following committeemen were listed as drive leaders for their communities, and all persons wishing to contribute to Red Cross during the drive were asked to contact their committeemen:

Workers Are Listed

Westway—Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. Elmer Combs, Mrs. R. L. Wilson, and J. C. Morrison.
 Bippus—Mrs. E. K. Pinnell, Mrs. Clint Homfeld, Mrs. Carl Perrin, Mrs. J. V. Perrin.

Progressive—Mrs. H. L. Hershey, Mrs. Ira Ricketts, Miss Augustine Gregory.

Northwest Hereford — Mrs. Raymond Childers, Mrs. J. I. Finley, Mrs. Louie Olson.

North Hereford — Mr. Tandy Legg.

Walcott—Mrs. Fred Wolfington, Mrs. Henry Melton.

Dawn—Mrs. William Wimberly, Mrs. Walter Galley, Mrs. Dick Frye, and Anton Grotgeuk.

Messenger—Mrs. J. T. Gulnn, Mrs. Alta Wylly, Mrs. N. A. Brown.

Boottleg—Mrs. Don Guseman and Herbert Hoover.

Daniel—Mrs. C. L. McBroom, Mrs. J. F. Matthews, Mrs. Wayne Higgins.

Ward—Mr. and Mrs. Altus Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutson.

South Hereford—Liston Wilson, Mrs. Leo Forrest.

Summerfield—Mrs. J. B. Noland, Mrs. B. E. Roberson, Mrs. Ray Johnson.

Helselman—Mrs. Henry Kinsey, Mrs. V. E. Lemke.

Mr. Moore said that workers known as Circassian walnut for Hereford will be announced in The Brand next week.

The word "walrus" means "whale horse."

The beautifully grained wood comes from the English walnut tree.

Unity in Fashions and Furniture

You're not just seeing Trojan horses before your eyes. Model Alyse Debnay is really wearing a dinner dress in Trojan horse design, which is repeated in the rest chair, the drapery, the place mats and no telling where else. The matching furniture, fabrics and clothes were created by designer Robert Dorr, Jr., and shown at a furniture show in Los Angeles. Heaven help Pop's pocketbook if the idea should spread.

School Enrollment Now Totals 22; Walter Beaver Undergoes Operation

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Airhart, both rated the honor roll at West Texas State College, making 5 As last semester.

Dona Airhart and Patricia Walton were honor students in their high school work.

Walter Beavers has been returned to his home after an appendectomy in the Canyon hospital.

The W. W. Wilcox family have moved to the Norman Miller place.

Mrs. Airhart and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pursley and family in Pampa last week end.

Darroll, Carroll and Harold Adams are new first grade pupils at the Dawn school this week, transferring from Canyon. Since the first of the year moving shake-up, there is now an enrollment of 52.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Caruthers, Linda Sue and Johnny from Colorado have moved to the Fain place. Linda Sue is a second grade pupil.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Parker were in Plainview last week for church work.

Walter Beavers is recovering from the measles.

One-fifth of the British Isles' coal is produced in Wales.

Most whales live on fish, but some species also eat seals and porpoises.

The English walnut is not a native of England, but comes from the mountains of Greece, Persia and from Afghanistan.

L'Allegro Club Hears Review Of Religious Novel

Mrs. Elmer Patterson was guest speaker for a religious program featured by L'Allegro Club Thursday afternoon when the club met in the home of Mrs. Charles Hill serving as hostess. Mrs. Robert Lemons was assistant hostess.

Mrs. Patterson reviewed the book "Behold Your King" by Florence Maryvne Bauer. She said in part "Behold Your King is a novel with an authentic Biblical background in which the characters live, giving a deeper appreciation of the people of the time of Christ and his teachings in Palestine. Special consideration is given the various classes of Jews and their reactions to Christ and his teachings."

Members present were Mesdames Jack Brown, Bartley Dowell, James Edmonson, V. C. Hopson, Walter London, Jr., Lee Kent, Leroy Price, John Winkler, O. G. Hill, Jr., Harold Meacham and the hostesses.

Win One Class Has Business-Social Meet

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Win One Class of the Methodist Church was held in the home of Mrs. Cliff Hicks Tuesday afternoon with Mesdames Hicks, Joan Jacobsen, Sr., and J. B. Jones as hostesses. Mrs. M. M. Beavers gave the opening prayer.

After the devotional lesson led by Mrs. Hicks, a quiz program on Washington and Lincoln was conducted by Mrs. C. B. Williams and Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Cherry pie and coffee were served to Mesdames J. F. Ward, A. C. Thompson, I. H. Spratt, E. W. Harrison, A. L. Thomas, H. M. Benefield, T. M. Coursey, E. J. Hudson, Luther Peevely, J. I. Funderberg, C. B. Williams, C. A. Rettman, Fred Millard, M. T. Burgin, Wes Brady, William McGehee, M. M. Beavers, L. Ellis, D. H. Bryant, Miss Lula Botsford, and the hostesses.

JOINT LEGION MEETING

A joint meeting of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday night in the American Legion Clubhouse, with Mrs. Kenneth Rudd and Mrs. Ray Hardy serving as hostesses. A Western theme was used to carry out the decorations for the covered-dish supper. The evening was spent playing games and listening to music.

One-Minute Interviews Reveal "Trials, Tribulations, Hopes" Of 4-H Boys

The Sunday Brand

Hereford, Deaf Smith, County, Texas, Sunday, February 20, 1949

Section Three

Editor's Note: The following sketches were compiled by Charles Skelton, a former Hereford 4-H boy and calf exhibitor. They were secured through interviews and 4-H records. We think Charles did an excellent job and hope you enjoy these sketches, which give you a glimpse into the "Trials, Tribulations and Hopes" of the average 4-H Club boy.

DICKIE AND JERRY MONTGOMERY

Dickie and Jerry are the "top hand" for the Montgomery Brothers ranch at Vega. They took their club calves from the ranch, and, in the vernacular of the cowpoke, they have "done themselves up proud." They are the sons of B. M. Montgomery of Vega. They are just getting started in 4-H work, and look forward to many more years of it.

BOBBY AND DON VEIGEL

Don Veigel was another of those guys who turned out to be tougher than the calves at the calf scramble last year, and has nursed his Whiteface back to health after the beating it took from him in that event. His brother, Bobby, decided it was easier just to buy a calf, and may have succeeded in proving his point to Don this year. Both boys have been in 4-H two years, and are sons of Robert Veigel.

MARION METCALF

Another Vega boy who came up with sad news for his competitors was Marion Metcalf, who is 16 years old and a member of the Hereford chapter of the 4-H. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Metcalf of Vega.

FRANKLIN SPRINGER

For the past 11 months Franklin Springer has been grooming a pair of beauties for the show. He bought these calves from Clarence Kimble. Franklin has spent three of his 14 years in the 4-H, raising calves on his father's farm two miles south of Hereford. He is the son of J. E. Springer.

CHARLES RALPH SPRINGER

Charles made a good showing last year with a Black Angus calf and decided to find out if his luck would hold with a pair of Whitefaces this year. He got these calves from H. D. Robbins of Hereford. Charles Ralph is the 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Springer.

JOHNNIE MCBROOM

Johnnie got his calf from Jim White. This is his first show, but to look at the job he's done with his Senior Division calf, you would think he originated the calf feeding idea. Johnnie has been in the FFA two years, and has worked hard for the past 12 months on his entry.

BILL KELLY

Bill Kelly has shown up with a whiteface calf purchased from Colby Conkright. Bill has been in the 4-H Club for three years. He has handled all of his projects at his home ten miles north of Hereford, where he helps his dad, W. T. Kelly.

BILLY ROY THOMPSON

Billy Roy Thompson was seen at the Bull Barn Friday, industriously currying his calf and occasionally whispering in its ear. We don't what he was telling the calf, but we do know that the man who bought it will have some of the best steak he ever ate. Billy Roy is 16, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson of Hereford.

DICK AXE

Seen in the company of two of the fattest barrows at the show: Dick Axe, 16 year old FFA member, who said that since he got these pigs from C. B. Service last fall he has become exceptionally fond of them and really hates to sell 'em, but business is business. Dick is the son of H. L. Axe.

JIMMY AND WOODROW NORTHCUTT

This pair of youngsters went into partnership on a deal with Phillip Miller of Hereford and got themselves off to a good start in the cattle business with a peach of a Whiteface calf. Although there were quite a few heated arguments during the year about whose turn it was to feed the calf, peace again reigns in the Northcutt family and the boys are looking toward a bigger and better year of stock raising. They are the sons of B.B. Northcutt, and live in the Walcott district.

HAROLD MORTON
Harold Morton is in his first year of 4-H and confines his interest in livestock to raising prize hogs. Despite his being new to the game, he took the fourth and fifth prizes in the hog show at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair last fall. Mr. Robert Boyd of Hereford sold him another hog last October and Harold is again ready to compete with the best of them.

RAYMOND CHILDERS
At his home, five miles west of Hereford, Raymon Childers has a pair of Whiteface calves which he modestly states "Look pretty good to me." This is Raymon's second year in 4-H, and with two calves he figures to do twice as well as he did last year with one. Mike Baird of Hereford furnished this season's herd to Raymon and is displaying much interest in their chances in the judging. Raymon is the 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Childers.

JOE HERSHEY
A veteran of four years of 4-H and 2 years of FFA, Joe Hershey, 15 years old, is entering his calf in the Senior Division this time. He is another lucky boy who took his calf from the fine stock that Mike Baird has been raising and, after a year of concentrated feeding, he believes he has a prime example of what good care and feed will do for a calf.

RAYMOND MORRISON
Raymond got off to a late start with his Whiteface, and has had only eight months to prepare it for the sale. In spite of the fact that most of the other boys have fed their calves longer, 14-year-old Raymond has shown real ability in bringing his calf up to par in record time. He bought this calf from his uncle, Marvin Morrison.

JACK MCCrackEN
After shopping around a bit last year, Jack picked out two calves to fatten for the 1949 show. He was a little "picky" wanting nothing but the best, and got one from Mike Baird and one from Colby Conkright. Jack is 14 years old, the son of J. C. McCracken of Hereford. People who know him are sure he will make a good showing.

Comments By Visitors

Lloyd Otten, auctioneer at yesterday's 4-H show and qualified judge of fine cattle, said that in his opinion calves shown this year were fully as good as any previous year, and probably more uniform. Otten, Clovis auctioneer who is well known for his interest in boys' livestock projects, donated his services and time throughout the day.

Among the dignitaries at yesterday's show was Mrs. Bob Campbell of Wildorado, president of the state organization of Home Demonstration Clubs. Evidently it not only is our youth who is going places in farm management activity.

H. C. Winburn, Amarillo representative of the United States Weather Bureau, attended the show—his first one in Hereford. (Continued on Page 8)

Loaded Trailer Crashes Into Parked Cars

STANLEY SLAGLE
Stanley has long been interested in stock-farming, and has consistently turned up with above average calves. He fed two this year, one bought from his father, Sylvester Slagle; the other from Colby Conkright. Stanley is 14 and has been in 4-H for the last three years.

DON AND LLOYD PARSONS
These family combinations keep turning up and this time it's Don and Lloyd, sons of Buck Parsons, whose farm is located four miles north of Hereford on 25-Mile Avenue. Each of these boys has a calf, and they have had many years of experience in feeding stock with their father.

RONALD KERSHEN

Ronald Kershen anticipates making big money out of the hog business someday, and he has gotten off to a flying start with a fat barrow which he fed out at his home in southwest Hereford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kershen.

A. L. WILLIAMS

When we saw A. L. Williams Friday we were afraid he had been trampled to death by his two prize lambs. It turned out, however, that he was only lying under them to trim the excess wool from their undersides. A. L., in his second year with the Future Farmers of America, got these fine lambs from Clinging Smith of Dimmitt. A. L. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith of Hereford.

SURROUNDING TOWNS ARE "GOOD NEIGHBORS"

Livestock Entries Include Other Counties

Saturday's club sale was one of the biggest ever held in Hereford. Not only were the Hereford chapters of the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America attending in full force, but delegates and their entries from many of the surrounding communities helped to make the show a big success.

Farmer County, Boys
Bringing calves to the show from the Farwell 4-H chapter were Wayne Massey, Marvin Massey, Leon Langford, Ross Miller, and D. O. Roberson. Farwell's hog entries were ham, and Lynn Isham. Dimmitt—Nazareth Dimmitt and Nazareth combined to send enough prize livestock to fill the Bull Barn to overflowing. Calves were entered by Richard Hunter, Donnie Ray Brock, Don Mobley, and Bob Anthony, all of Dimmitt, as well as—Kenneth, Floyd, Jack, Anthony, and David—the Acker boys from Nazareth. Entering hogs in the show were Alfonso Huseman, Gilbert Schulte, Tom Acker, and Dennis Acker of Nazareth, and Joseph Bauman and Truman Swopes of Hart. One lamb entry was made by John Bridges of Hart.

James Tidenburg, Troy Chris-

Four vehicles were damaged Friday afternoon when a loaded trailer, released when a hitch snapped, "ran wild" and plowed into automobiles parked south of the Bull Barn on Highway 60. Spectators said that serious injuries and loss of lives were averted only because no one happened to be in the path of the trailer at the time.

Hundreds of people, gathered to view preparations for the Saturday 4-H Show, witnessed the incident. George Milford, youthful ranch hand employed by Frank Miller, operator of the Palo Duro State Park, Canyon, was driving the truck, heavily loaded with corn. The hitch connecting the truck and a trailer which also carried a capacity load, suddenly snapped. The trailer swerved sharply to the right, crashing into a jeep, owned by Montgomery Brothers of Vega. The jeep, parked parallel to the curb, was struck with such force that it was forced into the rear of County Agent Hugh Clearman's 1948 club coupe, parked immediately in front. The impact lifted Clearman's car into the air and sent it approximately five feet to the right, where it landed right side up. Clearman's car was, in turn, forced into the rear of another car parked in front—a 1947

sedan belonging to Robert Morton of Farwell; bumpers of the two cars were locked. An automobile mechanic, who witnessed the accident, estimated damage to Morton's car at $50, Clearman's car at $75, and the jeep—with a crushed cab—at $250. Police Chief W. S. Buckalew, who checked the accident, said that he believed the trailer was over the 4,000-pound gross allowed for unregistered trailers.

WAYNE AND DONALD PINNELL

Although Wayne Pinnell attends school in Adrian, he is a member of the Hereford 4-H Club and evidently proud of it, because he did a top-notch job of raising his Whiteface calf for the sale. His big brother, Donald, ran him a close race all the way with his calf, and both boys have done exceedingly well. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Pinnell of Adrian.

HOMER HERSHEY

This lad faces some stiff competition every year from his older brother, Joe, but he prepared himself for the contest this year by feeding for the last 11 months a calf sold to him by Mike Baird. Homer lives in the Progressive district with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hershey. He is 12, and has been a member of the 4-H Club for two years.

BOBBY AND EDWARD DZIUK

This is another one of those "brother" stock feeding teams that seem to be producing fine stock this year. Bobby has a calf and a pig. He bought his calf from Jack Frost, but the ancestry of the pig was not divulged. Edward got his calf from Colby Conkright. The brothers are 12 and 14, respectively, and live two miles south on Highway 51.

DWAIN WALKER

Dwain literally "took the bulls by the horns" this year and fed two calves. Colby Conkright sold him both of them, so this embryo cattle magnate had no trouble in doing an excellent job of fattening them. Dwain is the son of V. P. Walker, whose place is located five miles south of town. He took "grand champion" prize in 1948.

JACK FLOWERS

Jack Flowers is 17 years old, in his fifth year of 4-H work and is doubling up this year by taking on FFA work on the side. This is his second year to enter in the Hereford Show. He bought his calf from Bill Cavanaugh 11 months ago and has been feeding it a diet of heavy concentrates ever since.

JIMMY DODGIN

When Jimmy Dodgin joined the 4-H Club, he was living in Vega. He has since moved to Amarillo, but wild horses couldn't have kept him away from Hereford's sale. He has one calf, bought from Cliff Wimberly. Jimmy is 14 years old and new to the organization.

KENNETH DEHART

Kenneth can well be proud of the two fine lambs he has raised for the show. He got the lambs from his father, Earl DeHart, and made two of the few lamb entries in the show. The DeHarts live two miles west of town.

LLOYD PARSONS

With a glint in his eye, Lloyd Parsons will tell of how he won first place in the heavyweight division when he was only 11 years old. He now has three years of 4-H work behind him. Lloyd is 14 now, and has been devoting his spare time for many months to the fattening of a good whiteface calf he bought from George Muse.

PAT C. MILLER

Pat is one of those muscular young men you saw battle a calf to a showdown last year at the calf scramble. He is an experienced stock feeder with two third places and one second place awards to his credit, won in local shows. With the calf he won last year, he entered in the Senior Division of this year's show.

LARRY — WALTER LYNN KAUL

Although they are two of the younger members of the stock-farming brotherhood, Larry and Walter Lynn Kaul have taken on man-sized projects this year. Each of these industrious young men is feeding out both a lamb and a Hereford calf. Larry, age 11, and Walter Lynn, age nine, both have been members of the 4-H Club since they have been big enough to whip Hugh Clearman, and have done excellent work in raising their stock. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kaul of Hereford.

GEORGE AND GENE RAY JURY

Two calves will be put through their paces at the show by George and Gene, whose home is four miles southeast of Hereford. These young cowhands are the sons of A. E. Jury.

POULTRY WINNER NAMED

Fair Sex Moves In On 4-H Show — Takes Over Poultry Division

For the first time, the fair sex has this year taken an active part in the Hereford 4-H show, and literally monopolized the poultry division. Mrs. Tom Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, assisted by Jack Wright, conducted the show, and aided Mr. U. H. Mleur, Amarillo poultry expert, in selecting the winners. Jo Eddy Scott, personable young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Scott of Hereford, made off with the Grand Champion award of $5.00 for her Jersey White Giant pullet. Winner of the $2.50 prize for the best part-colored male was ten-year-old Pluma Metcalf, who also had a Whiteface calf entered in the show. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Metcalf. Ann Dyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dyer of Vega, was awarded $2.50 for the best part-colored female, a Barred Rock pullet.

Kershen Slipped In

Ronald Kershen, son of Andrew Kershen, took enough time from the hog show to slip in and win first prizes in both male and female sections of the solid color division of the show. Ronald took some $5.00 in prize money. Other young ladies entering their poultry were Doris Stortz, Lyla Bronniman, Sue Wilson, Nancy Erwin, Patricia Childers, Bettye Henry, Gracie Fotheringham, Mary E. H. a b e t h Hunt, Marilyn Henderson, Nell Walker, Doris Wilhelm, and Martha Heard. Norma Sue Cook made the only entry in the rabbit division. Dora Ruth and Frelia Jean Inman left the poultry exhibit to others and succeeded in making a good showing in the hog show.

7-Year-Old Enters

The youngest and perhaps the cutest participant in this year's show was little Nancy Parsons. Nancy had entries in the poultry show as well as the hog division, where she showed a Hampshire pig, which she had fed since early fall. Her father, Buck Parsons, says the seven-year-old tyke has done all her own work, and although he doesn't let her know it, he is mighty proud of her.

'Fabrics In Fashion' Discussed Before Calliopian Club Program

Mrs. Clyde Cave was director of a program on "Fabrics in Fashion" at a Calliopian Club meeting in the home of Mrs. W. L. Davis, Jr., Thursday night.

In discussing the topic of fabrics, Mrs. Cave told of materials and how they are made, pointed out ways to recognize good materials and how to understand labels. She also stressed the value in being able to select clothes worth the purchase price.

She concluded her program by displaying new spring dresses from "The Vogue," calling attention to new style trends.

Members attending included Mesdames J. T. Carroll, Richard Bernard, Clyde Cave, Paul Conaway, Wayne Evans, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Will Graham, N. E. Milburn, Millard Nolles, Elizabeth Womble, Dayton McWhorter, Miss Genevieve Ebdle and the hostess.

The pigmy whale of New Zealand is 20 feet long.

Mrs. Dickey Hostess For LLL Class Party

LLL Class of the First Baptist Church was entertained recently in the home of the teacher, Mrs. O. M. Dickey at a Valentine party with dates as honor guests. Games were directed by Ruth Pickens.

Those attending were Elizabeth Varbro, S. L. Harmon, Jr., Frances Young, Bill Phillips, Velma Harper, David Phillips, Betty Craig, L. H. Lookingbill, Virginia Curtisinger, O. T. Vardell, Virgie Lee Sparks, G. D. Calson, Ruth Pickens, Carroll Newsom, Marchetta Hutchinson, Norma Lee Edwards, and Mr. and Mrs. Dickey.

The pilot whale or blackfish yields from its head a fine oil used in watchmaking.

The principal food of the sperm whale are squid and cuttlefish.

Pilot Takes Prone Position

Hans Ammann, test pilot at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, lays down comfortably in the "pilot bed" and prepares to take off in a Boeing B-17 bomber. The unusual cockpit furniture, developed by the Air Materiel Command, produces less fatigue and permits the pilot to take steeper dives without blacking out. The pilot's bed may replace the seat in many future planes.

Mrs. Fowler Is Shower Honoree

WILDORADO, Texas (Special)—Mrs. H. D. Fowler, a recent bride, was honored at a tea and shower in the home of Mrs. W. N. Cretzinger. Co-hostesses were Mrs. L. F. Tapscott, Mrs. E. E. Sharp, and Mrs. W. E. O'Neal.

Misses Georganna and Betty Jo Cretzinger presided at the attractively appointed serving table which was covered with a lace cloth of Irish linen and centered with an arrangement of Red Carnations on a reflector. Other table accessories carried out the Valentine motif.

Mrs. L. B. Fowler, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. W. N. Cretzinger, Mrs. W. E. O'Neal, and the bride, Mrs. H. D. Fowler, made up the receiving line; Miss Lawana Gwyn, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book.

Guests calling during the receiving hours were Mesdames Glen Allred, Ira Allred, Floud Mitchell, P. M. Elrod, G. R. Grantham, A. N. Green, F. E. Tinsley, Edd Peacock, Buck McGaushey, Sidney Sharp, J. L. Tidwell, W. W. Cook, T. T. Jarnagin, W. Hoehning, Bernie Cannon, Thomas W. Watson, Joe Allred, Johnnie Jenkins, Alma Moore, Orval Davis, Truman Miller, Winston Evans, Dick Allred, Mary L. Blain, John Broadus, and Misses Alma Allred and Alma Jo Moore.

Guests from Amarillo were Mesdames Warren J. Freeman, Conni Hubbard, Charles Houseman, Floy Wise, Ray Daniel, Vernon Stanley, C. O. Comingore, L. Patterson, Earl Norman, Woody Howell, and Mr. W. E. O'Neal. Many gifts were sent by people who were unable to attend.

Garden Clubs Hold Joint Session

Members of Hereford's Garden Clubs met for a joint session at the court house Friday afternoon with the Hereford Garden Club and the Garden Beautiful Club guests of the Bud To Blossom Club.

The purpose of the joint meeting was to view a color film of Texas Wildflowers shown by Robert Thompson. James E. Pittman of Lubbock, assistant landscapist for the Texas Highway Department, served as narrator.

After the showing of the film, Mr. Pittman told of plans of the Highway Department to beautify highways in this area mentioning two drive-outs or roadside parks which will be placed between Hereford and Canyon. He also stated that trees will be planted on Highway 51 wherever farmers will keep them watered.

In a question and answer program Mr. Pittman recommended the honey-locust for use in the Panhandle and told of other Texas towns where the garden clubs are assisting in beautification programs.

Mrs. H. H. Caraway, president of the Bud To Blossom Club, presided over a brief business session when Mrs. Homer Brumley, president of the Hereford Council of Garden Clubs, announced a change in the dates of the District Convention which was scheduled for April 15-16. The convention will be held on April 8 and 9.

After adjournment each club held business sessions when further plans for the convention were discussed.

Sims HD Club

Sims Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Donald Guseman Wednesday afternoon. Plans were made for a forty-two party and pie supper to be held on February 25 and members of the club voted to donate five dollars to the March of Dimes Fund. Mrs. Edd Thomas discussed glove making.

Those present were Mesdames V. L. Reece, Zerrell Thomas, G. A. Ferguson, J. A. Crofford, Glen Hetzler, Clarence Hollabaugh, M. W. Blankenship, Edd Thomas, Jack Dean, Glen Burrus, Orville Gronerman, Homer Brooks, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Glen Hetzler.

The proportion of Negroes in the population of the United States has decreased from about one-fifth in 1790 to less than one-tenth today.

SOUTH HEREFORD CLUB

South Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Feb. 15 in the home of Mrs. John P. Slaton with nine members present. Those attending were Mesdames S. S. Williams, Clarence Hollabaugh, Oren Russell, Ray Hershey, Ronald Mathews, John Draper, Miss Evelyn Bell, and the hostess.

Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh gave a talk on care and selection of footwear. Next meeting, on March 1, will be in the home of Mrs. Oren Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Brumley plan to leave next week for a month's stay in Mineral Wells, Dallas and Houston. In Dallas they will be guests of his sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Baker, and in Houston they will visit her sister, Mrs. Richard Fly and family.

All-Day Meet
An all-day meeting with a chill dinner featured at one o'clock, was featured by the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mary Bodkin. Roll call was answered with members telling why they buy good work shoes and Mrs. Paul Hoff gave a lesson on "shoes and how to take care of good shoes." Special music was presented by Dorothy Wilde who sang "Tree in the Meadow." Miss Wilde also reported on the 4-H Club work. Rules of the home department were read by Mrs. Harold Pettyjohn and the hostess displayed a flower-garden quilt she had scheduled for March 3, in the home of Mrs. Otto Massie. Members present were Mesdames M. H. Kozler, Frank Brinkman, Otto Olson, Paul Hoff, Ruby Virden, Oscar Vaughn, Fred Saltzman, R. A. Fullwood, Frank Wilde, Harold Pettyjohn, R. E. Barrett, Fred Barrett, Miss Dorothy Wilde and the hostess.

enjoyed during the recreation hour. When a business session was held Mrs. Jentzen was elected vice-president to fill a vacancy and plans were completed for a St. Patrick's Day party and pie-supper. The prettiest girl and the ugliest man will be chosen at the party. Two new members were welcomed into the club. They were Mrs. J. G. Spinhorne and Mrs. Glen Spinhorne. Others attending were Mesdames Herman Both, Kenneth Neal, Roswell, N. M., Howard Clayton, Denver, Colorado, George Epting, Cecil Cayton, F. G. Smith, R. C. Childers of Hereford, Hardy Benson, J. E. Dyer, L. J. Struffuss, Tom Draper, May Hall.

Cultural Club
Cultural Home Demonstration Club members enjoyed an all-day meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. I. Findley. A lesson on fabric painting was directed by Mrs. R. C. Childers and Mrs. R. N. Cooke. During the business session plans for 4-H Club activities were discussed. Members present were Mesdames R. C. Childers, R. N. Cooke, Earl DeHart, C. S. Barclay, Pat Robinson, Louie Olson, J. I. Richardson, George Parker, A. L. Hargett, Foster Duckworth, Grady Parsons, J. A. Pool, Christine Denson and the hostess.

Poetry Proves Interesting Theme Of Study For Summerfield Ladies

Summerfield Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Lee Curry Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Walk Boston as co-hostess. During a brief business session Mrs. Ray Johnson explained the plan to select an all-around member, in each club, whose name will be placed with others for the choice of the outstanding club woman to be presented at the County Federation Twentieth Anniversary celebration in April. Plans were also made for the club to serve lunch at the Lynn Powelson farm sale. Mrs. Earl Lance was in charge of the program on "The Middle westerns" reading "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight." Mrs. Jim Clark read a collection of James Whitcomb Riley poems, including "Tradin' Joe, 'Little Orphan Annie" and "Dea Lord, Kind Lord." Refreshments were served to Mesdames H. H. Langford, who was welcomed as a new member L. Cannon, Jim Clark, Br Clark, Ray Johnson, Earl Lance, L. B. Lookingbill, L. H. Lookingbill, Charles Noland, J. B. Noland, Mack Noland, Glenn Olson, B. E. Socialite Mrs. Frank Henderson strikes a fighting pose against a rather startled Marcel Cerdan, new world middleweight champ, at a party in his honor in a New York night club. Mrs. Henderson is remembered for her antics at the Metropolitan Opera when she hoisted her leg onto a table.

Presbyterian Ladies Hear Review Of Conditions Existing In Europe

The Mary Palmer Group of the Presbyterian Church met last week in the home of Mrs. J. O. Wilkins with eleven members present. Mrs. A. R. Rogers, new chairman, opened the meeting reading a few verses from the Bible, and giving a prayer. Mrs. C. C. Ferguson gave the lesson from the study book, "Learning for Life," and "The Promise Unto You," a study from "Acts," interpreted by Ralph G. Turnbull.

Giving the second lesson, "The Conversions," Mrs. Ferguson read the following topics: "The First Fruits of the Gospel," "The Conversion of the Cutthroat," "The Conversion of the State Official," "The Conversion of a Soldier," "The Conversion of a Business Woman," "The Conversion of a Jailer," "The Conversion of the Open-Minded," "The Conversion of the Cultured," "The Conversion of the City of Commerce," "The Evangelizing of Rulers," and "The Conversion of Displaced Persons." Each topic was accompanied with Bible readings by members of the group. Closing the lesson was a round-table discussion of the topics, led by Mrs. Ferguson. Mrs. Lee Conklin, Mrs. Harold Close, and Mrs. D. H. Alexander made reports of the meeting they attended recently in Amarillo. Mrs. Irvine, representing Presbyterian National Council of Presbyterian Women, told of her trip to Amsterdam, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. During the business session, Mrs. Rogers appointed the following committees: Mrs. J. G. Weir, cheer; Mrs. J. T. McClung, Spiritual Life; Mrs. O. I. Crosswait, Telephone; Mrs. H. R. Hastings, made a report on a release of a day of prayer. Plans were made to serve W. S. Kerr Implement Co. dinner in March. A chain letter was sent to Mrs. H. Witherspoon in Hot Springs, New Mexico. The meeting was closed following prayers by Mrs. J. T. McClung and Mrs. A. R. Rogers.

Sewing Club Meets

Jolly Workers Sewing Club was entertained in the home of Mrs. Charles Callaway Thursday afternoon with embroidering for the hostess providing the diversion for the afternoon. Members answered roll call by recalling how they met their husbands. It was decided for the club to adopt a shut-in for personal attention including a gift each month. New year books were distributed by Mrs. Travis Caraway. Mrs. T. O. Covington won the heart-desire gift. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Callaway to Mesdames W. Bradley, Roy Boyd, Elton Brooks, Travis Caraway, T. C. Covington, Jimmie Mercer, Ray Sullivan, S. S. Williams, M. H. Wiseman, J. W. Terry and the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Daniel of Lubbock visited Sunday with his father, Russell Daniel, in Hereford.

FERTILIZER FINDINGS DOES FERTILIZER PAY?

Did you read the column by M. K. Thornton in the Brand of Feb. 10th? Mr. Thornton is the Agricultural Soil Chemist of Texas A&M College. He devoted three paragraphs to wheat fertilization in the Texas Panhandle. Increased yields were officially checked ranging from 50 to 100%. Experiments were also quoted of Nitrogen on cotton. The results were of such significance that a Cotton Grower cannot lightly wave them aside.

If you have not read the article mentioned get a February 10th copy and study the article captioned "TOP DRESSING OF SOIL PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS." If you have read it, do so again and transfer the increase given to your farm so that you can answer the question DOES FERTILIZER PAY.

This is the time to use ample amounts of fertilizer on wheat as Mr. Thornton points out that best results were obtained when application is made before wheat begins to joint.

For your convenience the new warehouse makes it possible to always have on hand the best fertilizers available at all times. Let us serve you for your fertilizer needs.

Modern Songs

By DWIGHT WILSON

Do you have a bad case of tortured nerves? If you do, here is a sure-fire remedy. Cut your radio off when the be-boppers hit the air waves. It is a known fact that the insane people's homes have grown fifty per cent in membership since the be-boppers started their infernal racket.

Some people who patronize this type of music have defended themselves by saying that they love all types of music. If they love bebop, they could probably get just as much enjoyment out of the pigs squealing at the stockyards in Chicago. At least there is something to back up a pig's voice, but you can't say that about the bebop music. The only so-called musicians who will play for bebop friends are those whose wives have run them nuts. So, to soothe your frayed nerves, just turn your radio dial over to a program of good, hot jazz. But for all this, there is one good thing you can say about bebop, it keeps the crazy people contented.

Condron Talks On Home Influence At P-TA Session

Dr. F. H. Condron from West Texas State College was guest-speaker at the regular meeting of the Hereford Parents-Teachers Association Tuesday night at the high school. Dr. Condron, whose topic was "Home a Democratic Unit for World Peace," stressed the importance of the home in setting a pattern for international living which, he declared, is essential to world peace. Also asserting the importance of overcoming racial and religious prejudice in obtaining world peace, Dr. Condron climaxed his remarks with the thought, "Humanity must pay the price to eliminate war." More than 100 people attended

Tuesday night's meeting. Following the regular business session, a tea-towel shower to benefit the high school cafeteria was given.

Next regular meeting time has been changed from March 15 to March 22. At the March 22 meeting a panel discussion on the subject, "The Home a Practical Laboratory of Training for Homemaking and Economy," will be given, with representatives of the parents, the teachers and students participating. A skit by high school students is also scheduled for the program.

HEREFORD LIONS TO SPONSOR A CAPPELLO CHOIR MARCH 1

Famous Amarillo Choir Heard Over Network,

The Amarillo High School Capella Choir will make its appearance in Hereford under the auspices of the Lions Club on Tuesday evening, March 1, at the High School Auditorium.

Under the direction of Mrs. Julia Dean Evans, the Choir presents classical, religious, Negro spiritual, novelty and popular numbers.

The boys and girls in the Choir sang for the Lions District Governor's formal dinner, and for the Illinois and Texas breakfasts; they gave a 15-minute program over NBC and were on a television show. Many times they sang at the Hotel New Yorker, where the Texas delegates had their headquarters.

After auditioning for Fred Waring at Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Waring said "You are the finest high school choir I have ever heard" and was so impressed he invited all of them to be his dinner guests at the Shawnee Country Club.

More than 1300 boys and girls have at one time been members of the A Cappella group since its beginning in 1939.

Tickets will go on sale this week for the Choir's Hereford concert.

For the past three years 50 members of the Choir have made a state tour, travelling by bus to the various cities and towns of Texas. For the past two years they have served as demonstration choir for the annual convention of the Texas Music Educators. Organized in 1939 by Mrs. Evans, the original membership of 44 has grown to such numbers that there are now seven different choirs in the high school system; some are conducted by Mrs. Evans, and some by Miss Tennie Thompson.

Mr. Bill Bradley, of Canyon, and Mrs. Sam Jolly of Amarillo visited the greater part of the week in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue. They attended the 50th anniversary functions at the First Christian Church.

Tax Plan Snyder's

Administration spokesmen on Capitol Hill are beginning to wonder whether President Truman's tax program may be another victim of "government-by-crony." In this case the -crony is good old John Snyder, secretary of the treasury.

The re-enactment of a modified excess-profits tax on corporations was recommended by Truman in both his 1948 message to the state of the union and in his address to the special session of congress last July. It was recommended, however, despite the violent objection of John Snyder, who was so opposed that the President had to turn to his council of economic advisers for tax advice.

This year, with corporate profits at an all-time high, such administration stalwarts as Rep. John D. Dingell (Mich.), Rep. Herman Eberharter (Pa.) and Sen. Jos. O'Mahoney (Wyo.) came to the conclusion that another excess-profits tax recommendation was certain to come from the White House. So they prepared bills for an excess-profits tax to be introduced early in the first congress.

Much to their amazement, however, they were left out on the limb when the Truman state of the union message significantly omitted any reference to an excess-profits tax.

Inside story is that economic councillor John Clark, head of an interdepartmental group of fiscal policy, finally gave up the fight for an excess-profits tax because of the obdurate sabotage and opposition of Secretary Snyder — long considered the President's closest personal friend.

Snyder has even gone to the extent of placing his treasury tax technicians "under wraps." They are not available for conferences with the President's staff or with administration leaders at the capitol. Snyder even went so far as to refuse a request from budget director Webb for the major outlines of a treasury tax program to be included in the President's budget message.

Secretary Snyder now is conferring in secret session with congressional leaders, but for the first time in recent history a secretary of the treasury will have no affirmative recommendations to present. Instead he will submit several "alternatives," thereby abdicating presidential leadership in tax policy.

The chaos within the treasury is emphasized by Snyder's refusal to choose between Assistant Secretary John Graham of North Carolina and general Counsel Tom Lynch of Ohio to represent him in policy discussions with congressional staffs.

White House aides privately admit that the lack of cooperation from the treasury is frustrating and that the Truman-Snyder friendship presents a serious hurdle to the attainment of a "fair deal" tax program.

Bricker vs. Dewey

Governor Dewey was tongue-stabbed in the back by his former running mate, Sen. John Bricker of Ohio, one day before President Truman's inauguration. At a testimonial dinner in honor of Sen. Margaret Chase of Maine, Bricker was introduced as Dewey's running mate in 1944.

"It is true," snapped Bricker, "I campaigned with Dewey in '44, for Dewey in '48—and if Dewey had campaigned for himself, we would be inaugurating a different man tomorrow."

Housing Revolt

Another revolt has broken out against the President's public housing program. This time, however, the shooting doesn't come from the real-estate lobby, but some of Truman's strongest housing allies in the congress.

Sen. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina and John Sparkman of Alabama, Rep. Frank Buchanan of Pennsylvania and other liberals are up in arms about the administration's bill, introduced by Senator Ellender of Louisiana, which does nothing about the plight of war vets and others in the $2,000 to $3,000-a-year income group.

Inside fact is that the Ellender bill was written chiefly by Ray Foley, director of the housing and home finance agency, reportedly chummy with some of the big real estate lobby groups.

Foley and his aides made no provision for helping to finance the $2,000-$3,000 income group, though President Truman has repeatedly told housing leaders that this group—which Truman called the "backbone" of the nation—should be helped to buy homes by direct government loans if necessary.

Senator Maybank is firing the first shot in the revolt against the Ellender-Foley bill by introducing an entirely new housing bill—with government loan provisions for middle-income home buyers.

Two-thirds of Kire's three million people are farmers.

Accompanied by Mr. McDaniel of Memphis, only other dealer from the Amarillo Branch who was able to attend, Evans studied sales and personnel management, and attended a brush-up course in public-speaking. There were 66 dealers from 23 states present at the Chicago school. Dealers were given the opportunity of discussing problems with heads of the General Line and Motor Truck Divisions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Collier and son, Skeet, Mrs. L. E. McBride, of Dallas, Mrs. Ethel Williams and Mrs. E. J. Williams spent the week end in Socorro, New Mexico, visiting with their son and brother who is very ill.

Mrs. Ed Warren spent Wednesday shopping in Lubbock. En route, she visited with Mrs. Flora Dodson in Hale Center.

Hobby Show Features Over 50 Exhibits Ranging From Baby Shoes To Old Hats

By MARGARET BARRETT

More than 50 separate exhibits are on display at the Cogdell Motor Company building today, representing the pet projects, both creative and collective, and featuring the hobbies of many people in the Hereford area. Sponsored by the LaPlata Study Club, for benefit of the Hospital Nursery, the Hobby Show was open yesterday afternoon and evening, and will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 this afternoon. First, second and third class ribbons have been awarded to outstanding displays in both sections of the adult and junior divisions, chosen by popular selection.

Mrs. Wayne Evans has on display a collection of demitasse cups, one of which came from Japan, and many antiques, which she started collecting after receiving some as gifts from her mother. An unusual item in her collection is a flax-wheel, more than 100 years old, which came from Missouri.

Old Coins, Newspapers
Among many outstanding exhibits in Elton Brooks' collection of old coins, paper money, and newspapers. Starting his coin collection when 16 years of age, Brooks has a dollar dated 1769, a half-dollar dated 1801, an 1835 20-cent piece, and a U. S. issued half-dime. A complete copy of the Boston Post, dated March 30, 1808, and several advertisements and deletions clipped from old newspapers are also among his collection.

A number of the articles in Buri Elliston's collection are relics found in Palo Duro State Park, including a dinosaur hide, dinosaur teeth, an Indian stone hammer, many arrowheads and hide-scrappers. A Kiowa Head Bag, 160 years old, given to Elliston by Amos Smokey, is an unusual exhibit in the collection.

Shell-Craft Display
Starting to make shell-craft articles several years ago, Mrs. R. C. Childers has many intricate designs on display including shell-craft flowers, corsages, ash trays, brooches, and combs. A large number of the articles she makes are given to friends and relatives for gifts.

'Three Dutch Dolls

A recent visitor to the U. S. is 8-month-old Roelina Sypkens, who peeks curiously from her sleeping basket on arrival in New York by plane from Holland with her parents and her two dolls. She is en route to Grand Rapids, Mich., where her father will supervise a dairy farm.

In 1942 Marian Jo Wilson started collecting extreme styles in hats. She has 19 hats in her collection now, and several of them are on display at the hobby show.

Collecting, polishing, shaping and mounting stones has been Joe Green's hobby for over 20 years, and picking up arrowheads has been a hobby with him since he was a small boy. Most of the arrowheads on display were picked up within a 50-mile radius of Hereford, and the Indian jewelry are articles he has made himself.

George Millard used to laugh about Green's collection, until one time he was induced to make a trip with the latter. Every since then, Millard has been collecting arrowheads himself, and has three cases of them on display at the Cogdell building.

After teaching art for several years in the Amarillo schools, Mrs. H. E. Wester has settled down to painting as a hobby. Most of her pictures are landscape scenery, among them a view of farm territory and a scene of river and hills done in soft pastels, which are on display.

Vividly flamboyant colors characterize the landscape and still-life pictures entered by Purris Williams, in the creative section, and an understanding and affection for animals characterizes the oil paintings of Mrs. Ray Cowser.

Japanese Articles
With an aunt living in Japan, Earleen Plank has an excellent opportunity to add to her hobby, which is collecting various Japanese articles. Among her exhibits are kites, footwear, fans, and a doll used at the annual March 3 Doll Festival, all from Japan.

In five years, R. O. Douglas was able to find over 238 shells, representing 91 different kinds. His shells, which he picked up in Rockport, Texas, Old Mexico, and California, are on display at the Cogdell building.

Inheriting a collection of post-cards from her great grandmother, Bobbie Jean Walser started adding her own finds about two years ago, and now has something over 300, from such distant places as Spain, France, Rome, Sweden, and the Philippine Islands.

Makes Baby Shoes
Making baby-shoes is one of the hobbies of Mrs. S. L. Easley, who has in her collection 168 pairs. Mrs. Easley also has a collection of pitchers gathered from many states, and fancy-work on display.

After receiving an erector set for Christmas one year, Billy Jo Kelly started making things in earnest. His ferris wheel, one of the biggest projects he has undertaken, is on display at the hobby show, but at home he has an oil-derrick, an elevator, airplanes and trains.

A plate which is 100 years old, a fruit bowl also 100 years old, and a candy dish over 75 years old are outstanding items of Mrs. C. O. Lee's antique collection on display. Spoons from 38 states and 15 foreign countries make up Mrs. B. E. Robersons' collection of over 200 spoons.

Doll-houses, doll - furniture, miniatures, bottles, dolls, fuzzy animals, wood-carving, leather-tooling, drawing—creative and collective hobbies of almost any type or description are on display at the Hobby Show. Everyone is invited to go in and see for himself just what his friends and neighbors do in their spare time. Admission charges are ten and twenty-five cents, proceeds benefit hospital nursery.

Engagement Of Doris Miller Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Willier announce the engagement of their daughter Doris, to C. V. Burgess, Jr., whose parents live in the Progressive Community. Miss Willier is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Parker. The marriage will take place on Wednesday February 23 in Hereford.

Evidence indicates that the caste system—including Untouchables—were introduced in India by light skinned conquerors to maintain racial and ruling supremacy over the dark-skinned tribes and other subjects.

More people now are working on U. S. farms than at any time since 1940.

School Bill Study Starts

Communist Strategy

The ultimate objective of Communists is world communism. Their tactics frequently vary: They zig-zag, flip-flop, leap-frog and go in circles—but the aim remains constant. To achieve their goal Communists will temporarily support international cooperation, or even pose as human beings. This type of political and diplomatic expediency is merely used to gain their final objective. That fact must never be disregarded.

Communists wage a relentless war in various forms: Propaganda, treachery, deceit, espionage and infiltration are all weapons. The battlefield may be a political or social club, a government agency, a labor union—or your mind.

A nation's economic sinews provide the power for its military fist. That is why Communists hover over democracies like vultures—ready to swoop down as soon as a depression strikes. That is why they're always instigating labor-management unrest. . . . Americans who beat a drum in the gimme parade play into the dirty paws of Communists. By weakening our economy we give strength to Communism. . . . Oddly enough, the mightiest allies of Communists are industrialists who allow inflation to zoom—or Wall Streeters who put the skids under the market. Such financial flagging only profit those whose business consists of destroying democracy.

When you spot a weasel in the works of any international machinery—it's a cinch to be a Communist. They enter such organizations not to solidify global cooperation—but to be in a strategic position to whiz monkey-wrenches. Andrei's Vishinsky in the UN offers a vivid illustration of that method.

Such nefarious maneuvers aren't new: When the Soviet Union accepted membership in a commission created by the League of Nations to study the problem of European union, Pravda bluntly confessed in 1931: "By taking part in the work of the European commission the Soviet Union will wreck the plans of the commission."

Like all criminals, Communists make frequent use of aliases. Not do individual Communists agents switch names but communist agencies are often disguised. . . . In Canada the communist party is called "Labor Progressive." In Colombia it's tagged "Democratic Socialist." In Panama it's "The Party of the Public." In Bulgaria, "Worker's Party" and in Germany, "Socialist Unity."

Communists pose as foes of val mobsters intent on committing the same crimes—robbing liberty and murdering decency. . . . It should be remembered that Russia fought nazism because it was wretchedly attacked. The Soviet Union had no other choice. When Russia did have a choice it took the side of nazism by inking a friendship pact.

It's important to realize that Communists rejected morality a long time ago. Lenin said: "When people talk to us about morality we reply: For the Communist, morality consists entirely of compact, united discipline to attain our ends. We do not believe in eternal morality." With that depraved viewpoint as a guide—it's simple to savvy why Communists are ready to condone the most despicable crimes to achieve power.

The extent of Communist lunacy can be gauged by a typical slice of Stalin's incoherency. In 1924 he declared: "The dictatorship of the proletariat is the new democracy." . . . Imagine! He considers democracy a synonym for dictatorship. Is it any wonder that logic has no effect on Communists? Should anyone be surprised when they break pacts and treaties? . . . Lies are their weapons.

That is why Communists call others warmongers while committing acts of war. That is why they call all others imperialistic while acting like imperialists. . . . They are ready and willing to use any means to serve their ends—from lies to murder.

There has never been a more shameful illustration of hypocrisy than the noisy babbling of native Communists about their devotion to liberty. Of course they desire freedom until they are powerful enough to destroy it. . . . Their embrace of liberty is a shotgun wedding. It's another temporary advantage they use to reach their objective. If tyranny would serve that purpose, Communists would be devotees of tyranny here.

The Rankin-type of wild anti-communism inspires vodka toasts in the Kremlin. Spreading bigotry and impairing civil liberties only invite the disunity that communism feeds upon. A united democracy is the most potent antidote against the Red plague.

The Welsh people are of Celtic stock, like the Irish.

Choice Of Good Work Shoes, Topic Discussed Before Progressive Club

Mrs. Floyd McGee was hostess in her new home to the regular meeting of the progressive Home Demonstration Club on Tuesday.

"Why I Choose a Good Work Shoe" was the question confronting each member as she answered roll-call. Due to the bad roads and excessive illness, it was decided to postpone the monthly community party. Purchasing shoes on a co-operative basis was voted by members of the club during the business session.

Members present were Mesdames Bert Coffin, V. E. Dodson, D. Y. Edwards, Horace Hershey, M. T. Sparkman, Floyd West, Clyde Russell, C. E. Watts, P. L. Carmichael, T. J. Parsons, Miss Augustine Gregory, and the hostess. Visitors were Mrs. Pat Livesay and Mrs. J. J. Goodin.

Club will meet with Mrs. P. L. Carmichael on March 1.

Guild Has Meeting

The Presbyterian Guild met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Elizabeth Bonesio. Mrs. Leona Blood conducted the devotional lesson "Consider the Tree." Mrs. Bruce Wooddell, chairman of the group, conducted the business session when plans for the coming year's work were discussed.

Those present were Mesdames Leona Blood, Will Graham, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Charles Hill, Russell Wingert, Bill Blood, Bill Smith, Jr., N. E. Milburn, J. D. Neill, Emil Dettman, Bruce Wooddell and the hostess.

Winburn relays the message to Earl Phillips that he sincerely believes that John Snider, barbecue maestro of Amarillo, could get a few pointers from the local barbecue kings. Henry Teubel, Tulla and South Plains civic leader, was getting a few pointers for the Tulla show to be held Feb. 24-25. While staunchly defending the quality of Tulla beef, he was amazed at the large crowd at the Hereford show and hesitated to predict a similar crowd or interest at Tulla. Among Tulla's ambassadors to the show were John Keim, Frank Cobb, Teubel, and Pat O'Daniel.

Mrs. R. B. Latham Is Named New President of Dawn Study Club

Mrs. Carl Wimberley was hostess for the Dawn Study Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. R. B. Latham was elected president of the club, and Mrs. Gayle Neal, vice-president, both to fill vacancies.

An interesting paper on "What's new in Medicine" was read by Mrs. Norman Miller who told of the new drugs now on the market and of research being made by scientists.

Mrs. E. C. Reinauer directed group singing of Negro Spirituals.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Lloyd Airhart, A. T. Frye, R. B. Latham, Ernest May, Norman Miller, H. V. McCabe, Gayle Neal, David Rodgers, E. C. Reinauer, Zed Stewart, Floyd Walton, C. S. Parker, and the hostess.

Held On Murder Charge

Robert Bagwell, 18 (above), charged with murder in connection with the slaying of C. C. Ross of Stephenville, Tex., Feb. 7, is shown standing by a table on which are displayed numerous items which Sheriff Ed Luttrell of Vernon, Texas, said he took in robberies in Texas and Oklahoma. (AP Photo).

Mr. Bagwell, 18, of Dallas, Mr. Hedrick will attend a banker's convention in Fort Worth next week and Mrs. Hedrick plans to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lamar Hamilton and other relatives in Palestine. They expect to return to Hereford the latter part of the week.

Pitchblende is the chief uranium-bearing mineral sought by modern prospectors; the second is monazite.

Although uranium-containing ores are plentiful and widely scattered, it is itself rated almost as scarce as gold—and hard to extract.

About half of Eire's imports come from, and almost all its exports go to, Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

The Indian caste system, in steps leading down, were the Brahmins, originally priests and scholars; the Kshatriya or warriors, now Rajputs; the Vaisya or merchant group; the Sudra, or followers of "clean occupations," and finally, Untouchables, originally assigned to the lowest of menial labors.
