La Plata's Bobby Backus had a good time with George Lemon of the Bucketees Monday morning as the cager put on the first of several shows at local schools during the day. Backus made a couple of free throws despite "help" from Lemon to win a free ticket to tonight's Bucketees appearance at the La Plata gym. Lemon is the son of Bucketees' founder Meadowlark Lemon, who will be the featured performer at the show, which begins at 7:30 tonight. (Brand Photo).

Bucketees appear here tonight

Sports and entertainment legend Meadowlark Lemon and his world-famous Bucketees will hit the hardwood at the La Plata gym tonight as the Hereford & Vicinity YMCA presents the team's basketball wizardry beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Lemon, who became famous in his early years as a member of the Harlem Globetrotters, formed the Bucketees four years ago. Surrounding himself with a fresher, faster, funnier team full of new talent and experied pros, Lemon and his Bucketees offer kids, adults, sports fans, and people who like to laugh an irresistible entertainment experience.

Tickets for the Bucketees' game against the California Coasters are priced at $5 for adults and $3 for children ages 4-12.

In a new development, children aged three and under will be admitted free with a paid adult admission according to YMCA director Weldon Knabe.

Halftime highlights tonight include the Bucketees taking on a local team for a brief game, and special drawings for fans to get the chance to win monetary rewards.

He's 'running scared'

Block not making predictions on PIK outcome

By DON KENDALL AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only a few days left before the sign-up deadline, Agriculture Secretary John R. Block is not making any predictions about the outcome of the new payment-in-kind program to cut crop output this year.

"It's still possible for producers to back out or to go in until the last day, and I'm going to be running scared until this thing is over," Block said.

The final day of sign-up in the PIK program at county offices is March 11. Official results, however, are not scheduled for release by the Agriculture Department until March 22.

Block told a group of farm editors in a telephone news conference Monday that he gets "a lot of hints" as he talks with farmers about how the PIK sign-up is going.

"The interest is great. Indications are encouraging, but I will say this much: There are still many producers that are waiting for the last week to make a decision — and those producers can have an important bearing on the final outcome of this program," Block said.

Farmers who reduce 1983 crop acreages under a regular program can sign up to idle additional land under PIK. In return, farmers will get surplus wheat, corn, sorghum, rice and cotton equal to 80 to 95 percent of what they would normally harvest.

One possible hitch has been an Internal Revenue Service decision which would make farmers liable for federal income taxes at the time they receive their PIK grain and cotton instead of when they sell the commodities — as

Stubborn Iran delays full meeting of OPEC

LONDON (AP) — Iran's refusal to accept a cut in oil prices is delaying a full OPEC meeting as leaders of the 13-nation cartel seek a compromise to avert an all-out price war.

A full OPEC meeting scheduled for Monday was postponed until today at the earliest after Iranian Oil Minister Mohammad Gharazi said his country would never accept a cut in the official OPEC price of $34 a barrel.

Eight OPEC members at last week's mini-summit, which Iran skipped, reportedly agreed to trim the $34 benchmark price for Saudi crude to a price between $28.50 and $30.

A $6 price cut per barrel of crude oil eventually would translate into a 15-cent reduction in the cost of a gallon of gasoline, economists say.

After a day of private meetings Monday among small groups of oil chiefs at a luxury hotel, United Arab Emirates Minister Mana Saed Otaiba said there were plans for a full session of OPEC's 13 members today. But he added, "We might change it."

Algerian Oil Minister Belkacem Nabi and Ecuador's Oil Minister Gustavo Galindo said a meeting today was still in doubt.

"I think we have to continue our bilateral contacts," Nabi said.

Saudi Arabia and other Arab members have insisted that the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries reduce its official price in order to stimulate sales. OPEC's market has dropped nearly 40 percent in two years to about 14 million barrels a day.

Iran repeatedly has vowed to fight any price cuts, even though it is reported to have been discounting its oil by as much as $8 a barrel for more than a year in a bid to increase sales to finance its war with Iraq.

Despite Iran's obstinacy, several ministers remained hopeful that OPEC could break the deadlock.

"Optimism is still there," said Indonesian Oil Minister Subroto. "We are still discussing. Everything is negotiable. Otherwise, we do not come here."

Kuwaiti Oil Minister Sheik Ali Khalifa Al-Sabah added: "I am still hopeful. Why not?"

But the official Qatar News Agency said Monday night there were increasing grounds for pessimism, and Iraq's Oil Minister Qassim Hassan Taqi was quoted by the Iraqi News Agency as accusing Iran of "plotting to blow up OPEC."

British queen pleads for international cooperation

SEATTLE (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II made a plea for international cooperation to overcome the "enormous human problems" posed by technology before sailing for Canada on her royal yacht, ending a rain-marred 10-day visit to the United States.

The British queen and her husband, Prince Philip, waved goodbye Monday as the spotlighted Britannia began its cruise toward Vancouver Island and Victoria, the capital of British Columbia.

Earlier, she capped a five-hour whirlwind tour of Seattle with a seven-minute address delivered in a flag-draped basketball stadium at the University of Washington, saying her visit fulfilled a "longstanding ambition" and "will strengthen the friendship between our two nations."

She said last week's visit to California's "Silicon Valley" of computer marvels showed her "the shape of the world economy and therefore the shape of our individual lives, is being changed beyond all recognition.

"With those changes will come enormous human problems," she said, but added, "I am confident that the people of our two countries will be able to transcend them together."

In her brief time in Seattle, the 56-year-old monarch managed to attend a University of Washington convocation, take tea with university officials, visit Children's Orthopedic Hospital and the site of the 1962 World's Fair, attend a reception hosted by Gov. John Spellman and even take a monorail ride.

Rain fell as she arrived Monday afternoon by air from California, and as she departed for Canada aboard the luxurious 412-foot royal yacht in the evening.

Poor weather followed the queen during much of her West Coast tour, which began in San Diego and include visits to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Sacramento, President Reagan's mountaintop ranch and Yosemite National Park.

Demonstrators protesting the British presence in Ireland, who dogged the queen's trip, surfaced again Monday at the University of Washington and in downtown Seattle.

After appearing before about 8,600 people at the university, the royal couple greeted a crowd of more than 4,000 at the Seattle Center, site of the 1962 World's Fair.

Killer found 'competent' to request execution date

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that convicted killer Charles Rumbaugh, wounded in a courtroom shooting last month, is mentally competent to give up the legal fight for his life.

U.S. District Judge Mary Lou Robinson ruled Monday that Rumbaugh was competent to waive his appeals and ask a judge to set his execution date.

Rumbaugh, 25, was critically wounded Feb. 24 when he attacked Deputy U.S. Marshal Olen R. McClendon with a homemade, knife-like weapon and yelled "Shoot me!" during a courtroom hearing.

McClendon fired one shot at the inmate, who was testifying at a hearing on the competency question.

Ms. Robinson said in a six-page order that Rumbaugh "has a realistic understanding of his present position and of the choices available to him."

Rumbaugh's parents won a stay of his scheduled July 22, 1982 execution by lethal injection, arguing that their son was not competent to make life and death decisions. Ms. Robinson issued an order lifting the stay of execution granted July 20.

Rumbaugh was convicted twice and sentenced to die for the 1975 killing of an Amarillo jewelry store clerk.

Attorneys said Rumbaugh, currently held in a prison hospital in Huntsville, will be returned to Amarillo for a hearing before State Judge George Dowlen to set a new execution date. No date has been set for that hearing.

In her order, Ms. Robinson recounted Rumbaugh's testimony prior to his outburst that led to the shooting.

"All I really wanted to say is that it doesn't matter to me; that I've already picked my own executioner and I'll just make them kill me," Rumbaugh said. "If they don't want to do it ... if they don't want to take me down there and execute me, I'll make them shoot me."

Asked if he had anything further to say, Rumbaugh told the court he had chosen his "way to die" and said, "I think I'll make them shoot me right now."

Rumbaugh was treated after the shooting at Northwest Texas Hospital, where surgeons removed part of his lung. The death row inmate also unsuccessfully tried to refuse medical treatment.

Aspects of education probed

Editor's Note: This week is Texas Public Schools Week, and Brand staffer Jeri Curtis is probing the basics, objectives, and different philosophies used in the educational system from the first grade through high school. Today a look at the first, second, and third grades.

By JERI CURTIS Staff Writer

A first grader doesn't know he's getting an education, he's just in the classroom learning.

The key to turning learning into education is to get a child to enjoy that beginning year, according to Ms. Dorothy Brownlow, who keeps her first graders at Tierra Blanca Elementary motivated with sincerity and encouragement.

"The first thing people think of are the three R's, but those are obvious," she said. "One of the real important things for a child is to learn to be self-reliant, and to have self-respect. I feel like probably one of the most important things is to understand and accept differences of other people."

First graders broaden awareness which encourages learning, Ms. Brownlow said, through social studies, music, art and nature study.

The ever so vital skills of reading, writing and math are practiced and practiced in first grade, building the base for the next 11 years.

Since reading is such a gradual process, children may be reading and not realize that something big has happened in their brain. Ms. Brownlow said pupils realize something has been learned more readily with math.

Little fingers in September may not always hit the lines when making letters, but by the spring everybody can print neatly enough to put papers on the bulletin board.

So much positive reinforcement is needed in first grade. In Ms. Brownlow's room, each student has a paper ice cream cone on the wall, filled with paper scoop of ice cream for each library book read. Ribbon badges are decorated with stars for good grades on desk work.

Still, the children are so dependent on the teacher for praise and guidance.

With self-confidence, it's on to second grade for basic skills to be honed and introduction to bigger stuff.

"They should realize they are going to be using reading," says Alice Lockmiller, teacher of second grade at Northwest Elementary.

Kids learn regrouping in math ("borrowing") and are introduced to multiplication.

Spelling gets a little harder along with reading and the pupil is expected to know proper punctuation and how to write complete sentences. More emphasis on writing original stories gives them a chance to practice those skills.

Then after Christmas break, "real writing" called cursive is taught.

"You have to be a clown or

City approves 1983-84 budget

It wasn't the public hearing on the general budget or the revenue sharing budget or the tax ordinance that stirred up citizens at the city commissioners meeting Monday night — all those items were approved.

The $3,735,723 budget for 1983-84 was approved with no comment from the 25 citizens attending the meeting. The $122,458 of uncommitted funds from federal revenue sharing was approved to be used in road repair resulting from heavy snows this winter.

The crowd perked when KPAN-Radio reporter Chip Formby asked, off the agenda, why none of the commissioners attended a recent informative meeting on the dangers of nuclear waste dumping.

Mayor Bartley Dowell said he didn't have an invitation to the meeting, as did Bud Eades and Emory Brownlow.

Wes Fisher said the nuclear meeting agenda seemed biased and commented that he "didn't want to get tied up with that."

The commissioners seemed unified in that they didn't want to hear biased sides and wanted to have presenters for both sides of the issue at one meeting.

Watts to be moved after escape attempt

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Confessed mass murderer Coral Eugene Watts, who rubbed hair lotion over his body and tried to escape from prison through a broken window, will be moved to another Texas Department of Corrections unit, officials say.

Watts was ordered to spend the maximum 15 days in solitary confinement after he tried Feb. 20 to escape from a recreation unit at the TDC's Coffield Unit.

He was to be released from solitary confinement today and transferred to the TDC's Eastham Unit.

Watts is serving a 60-year prison sentence for burglary with intent to commit murder as part of a controversial plea bargain in which he admitted killing 13 women in Texas and Michigan in exchange for immunity from prosecution.

According to TDC reports, Watts went into a recreation room with his commissary items in a pillow case, leather gloves attached to his belt and a tightly-rolled blanket.

He rubbed hair lotion over his body and kicked out a pane in a small window in the room, then tried to slide out while other inmates watched for guards, the report said.

But the window was too small and pulled himself back inside, the report said. As he tried to escape again, the report said, he was spotted by officers.

As a result of the escape attempt, officials said, Watts lost 181 days of "good time" he had accrued since his sentence began in September. Inmates receive one day of credit for each day of good behavior as an incentive for early release.

Capitol renovation slated for 1985

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Roy Blake, D-Nacogdoches, said Monday that plans for renovating the Capitol probably will be made by a special committee after this session and presented to the 1985 Legislature.

Blake said the Senate Administration Committee was revising its plans for care of the Capitol and Mansion since the fire back of the Senate chamber.

"Are you going to move the senators and representatives (offices) out of the Capitol?" asked Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls.

"We'll come back with recommendations," Blake said. "There are other offices here that might be moved."

Blake said he thought the Capitol renovation plans would be drawn by an interim committee, aided by an expert curator. "A plan needs to be presented the next Legislature," he said.

"I have no idea of the cost."

Reconciliation talk led to shooting, police say

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A San Antonio woman has been charged with fatally shooting her estranged husband after reconciliation talks flared into a heated argument, police say.

Rita R. Morales, 53, was released from the Bexar County Jail after posting $5,000 bond Monday morning.

Jose F. Morales, a 45-year-old general contractor, was found sprawled in the living room of her home Sunday night, shot several times in the upper torso with a .357-Magnum pistol, police Sgt. Robert Tart said.

Morales had gone to the house for dinner and to discuss getting back together with his wife, Tart said.

Three children ranging in age from 10 to 18 were at home at the time of the shooting, he said.

Love Story

Henry Martin of Columbia, South Carolina, last Valentine's Day wrote a love letter.

I have his permission to paraphrase it for you.

A love letter: we met one early summer many years ago and within weeks we were going steady.

We had to hide from her parents at first. This led to a sometimes strained relationship. More than once she protested we were together too much; she pushed me aside, sent me away.

But rarely more than a few days.

Yet, when she married in the summer of '54 it was to another. I continued to hang around.

And sure enough, within weeks we were back together.

Her mother had warned her about me, had insisted "no good could come of this relationship..."

But remorselessly I continued just by being there whenever she needed consolation — to seduce her.

Over the years, now and then she has wearied of our relationship. Sometimes she has rudely, spitefully crushed me in front of her friends — even in front of her husband.

But I knew of my hold on her and unashamedly savored it.

And my patience was ever rewarded by her lips and she was helpless to resist my ultimate caress.

Once during one of her periods of resistance and rebellion she cried. Her mother was right, she said, I was no good for her, she reasoned.

Yet, her love for me was beyond reason.

I never really loved her. She was a conquest, nothing more.

Even as her urgent touch and eager lips pleaded for more of me...

Even as she recognized my infidelity... and that she was not my only mistress... and offered to share me with friends... of both sexes...

Though she took me with her on extravagant holidays and sunny summer weekends at the beach...

I learned to hate her more and more.

She could not be without me, she insisted; I had to be with her everywhere — all the time — especially bedtime.

Now she disgusts me. I have watched her grow less lovely and weaker and knew her sickness was of me.

A doctor to whom she confided her love blamed me...

He said I was slowly killing her.

But that is the only way she will ever be free of me now — for she is my love slave — and I am her cigarette.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It seems lately any time our community leaders are approached by either the media or our local citizens for their stands on this proposed high-level nuclear waste facility, they have either said they were waiting for more specific information, or they see no reason to distrust the government. They have also mimicked what they had been told by the Department of Energy (DOE). I don't think you are distrusting the government if you only question the rather dubious track record of one department of that government. My answer to these people is: The information is out there, but it hasn't the legs to walk into Hereford and present itself.

As far as I know, all of our elected officials received a personal written invitation to a meeting, Thursday Feb. 24, 1983, put on by local concerned citizens who are looking for further answers. At this meeting several experts told why they didn't think burying nuclear waste in salt was a good idea and told the hazards of transportation of high-level nuclear waste.

This meeting was in their own community, and few of these officials had the incentive and courtesy to come and hear something that wasn't spoon fed to them by the DOE.

If these people only want to hear the good aspects of the waste dump, all they have to do is listen to Battell, the project contractor, and that's all they will hear. If they really wanted to hear some of the negative aspects of the dump, why were they not at the meeting?

It was reported on an Amarillo Television Newscast that a prominent Hereford businessman who attended the meeting stated, "Most of the people at the meeting were out of towners." I wonder if this man knows who is buying his product. I have the list of people who signed in at the information meeting. Only three people didn't list where they were from, but eighty-one percent of the audience put down that they were from within Deaf Smith County. I would be glad to show the list to anyone interested.

Judge Nelson states in the March 5th edition of the Amarillo Globe News that, "If we can't depend on the government who can we depend on." This is a man who is supposed to be representing our interest on the Texas Energy Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) committee — which is a government watchdog committee.

It sounds like someone left the fox to guard the henhouse. If he had spent any time studying the past track record of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission or the DOE, which is the only thing we can base the safety of this project on, I don't think he would make a statement like that.

He also points out that the DOE took himself and Bill Johnson to some of their facilities to show them off. They were apparently naive enough to think that the DOE showed them the whole story. They came back bragging on the safety and acceptance of these facilities in their community. One of which has already been sued by its own home state for negligence and unconcern for local citizens safety.

I guess if we had paid their transportation costs to the Community Center, they might have attended our meeting. The information is out there, one just has to have the desire to acquire it.

The DOE, in their last meeting in Canyon, Texas, Dec. 2, 1982, stated that they weren't ever considering burying Military Nuclear Waste in this facility. But those of us at their first two meetings here, remember well, them stating this facility would be for both military and commercial waste.

This was a direct play for our patriotic duty and another ploy of the DOE. Now we have been told that we are supposed to take care of this waste problem. Simply because the people building Nuclear powered Electric Generating plants didn't have the foresight to deal with the waste problem before they built these facilities, none of which benefit our area.

Let me ask you, "why us?!" Why choose the number one agriculture county in the state of Texas to bear or (bury) this burden.

I feel that before anyone agrees to a area, first it should be studied by other groups, such as the Union of Concerned Scientists, Public Interest Groups, and Environmental Groups. Not just politicians who by their own admittance are rushing to an all too near deadline of disaster.

I also feel, that before anyone agrees to let them use their area, a scheduled phase out of these waste producing facilities must be agreed on. After all how can anyone effectively speak of a solution to this problem while the source of the problem continues?

So where do the God-loving, peaceful, people of our nation turn for a safe and sane solution to this problem? I certainly don't feel the answers lie in the mismanaged information put together by the DOE. Unless the people make it their responsibility to become aware, informed, and involved, it will be public utility dollars that dictate where it will be buried and how safe it will be!

Sincerely,
Dale Kleuskens

with the Air Force, told the commission that the two major sources of income in Deaf Smith County would be threatened by even one accident at the waste site since all products in the county would be quarantined if such happened. Revell continued to argue against the economic boost the waste site may bring with an explanation of boom-town going to bust. He asked the commissioners how many miners, structural engineers and drilling companies Hereford could provide. Revell warned against the community becoming passive, because the government will use the path of least resistance.

Brownlow said he heard that if the Department of Energy wanted to put the site here, they would anyway.

Spokesmen for the group urged city commissioners to take a stand, or at least study, the waste situation.

Several commissioners voiced that they felt it was not a city commission issue and told the group to confront the county leaders with their request for a stand since the drilling site is in the county.

"I don't know why you've come to pick on the city commission," Dowell commented.

Revell earlier had commented on hazards of nuclear waste leaking into the two aquifers, and contaminating city drinking water.

Dowell asked why didn't the group go to Amarillo to complain, because some of that city's water comes from Deaf Smith County also.

Formby simply told the commission that the group wanted to start at home.

City manager Dudley Bayne told Formby that the waste site issue "is not anything they (commissioners) have legal control of."

Dowell concluded by asking Formby to trace the invita-

"I think this year we're going to see an additional increase of some small magnitude over the year before, but we will be positioning ourselves in 1984 to do much better," he said.

The USDA's Economic Research Service said last month that net farm income this year may range between $17 billion and $21 billion. Last year, revised figures showed net income at $20.2 billion, compared to $19.6 billion in 1981, $24.4 billion in 1980, $26.7 billion in 1979 and $25.6 billion in 1978.

a show person to keep their attention," Ms. Lockmiller laughed. Second graders have broken away from home and are more interested in friends. They are notorious for visiting in class and not listening to the teacher. It's tough to learn to do an assignment "Right now!" when your best buddy sits next to you.

Ms. Lockmiller begins to bring in some social studies, science and special study units to keep the class interesting and make them want to move on to third grade.

"That's the grade they stop being little children and start growing up," is why Mrs. Audrey Powell stayed in third grade for 33 years.

"To me they are old enough to work independently on something, yet they are young enough to accept the teacher and her authority," says the Aikman Elementary educator. "A little bit later they get a little sassy."

Basic reading skills are developed by third grade and the concentration is put on speed. The pupil will learn to use the dictionary, another key to knowledge he will use all his life.

Proficiency in math is stressed and it's repeat, repeat, repeat on carrying and borrowing. The "times tables," introduced in second grade, are now to be memorized. And division with remainders.

Telling time, counting money and measurement are taught in third grade.

The kids are old enough to start thinking.

"We discuss world problems, and they definitely have ideas," Ms. Powell said.

"I think our modern society is such that we have to cram more into them than we used to," the veteran teacher said.

That age is when best friends are important. Ms. Powell said it can cause some social problems when a child has to deal with jealousies in a group situation that threatens best friend loyalty.

(Next, a look at the fourth through sixth grades, what they learn and the changes.)

Bob Nigh, YMCA board president Sid Shaw, and Chamber of Commerce sports committee chairman Jerry Morgan will take the court for a brief game against Lemon and his team.

Special drawings will also be held, including a grand prize drawing sponsored by The Brand, with the lucky winner getting to take a half-court shot to try and win $100 in Deaf Smith County Bucks.

The chamber of commerce will draw three names from the hopper, with the winners getting to try four free throws each and pocketing $5 in county bucks for each shot they make.

Tickets for tonight's game will go on sale at the gym beginning at 6:30 p.m.

would be the case if crops were actually harvested.

The House and the Senate have legislation pending which would reverse the IRS ruling and make the commodities subject to tax when sold. The House was scheduled to take up its version of the bill today.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said that he expected Senate passage of the measure on Wednesday and acceptance of a House-Senate conference report by Thursday.

Noting the priority given the legislation, Block said, "In other words, there are no tax problems" that should deter farmers from signing PIK contracts.

Block said the goal of the program remains unchanged — to idle about 23 million acres of cropland and reduce commodity stockpiles.

"One of the disadvantages is the fact that the government becomes more involved than any of us would like to see," he said.

However, he added, PIK will self-destruct after commodity surpluses are whittled away so that it will not drag on as a permanent federal program.

Block said he thinks a recovery in the farm economy is under way along with the general economy. But PIK will be only one of a number of favorable factors, he said. Lower inflation rates and reduced interest rates are others.

"I do think we're going to have to work these (commodity) stocks down a bit before we see a real surge or a major surge in prices," Block said.

Referring to recent Agriculture Department figures, Block said that 1982 net farm income actually showed a "very tiny increase" instead of declin-

The November-December 1982 premier issue initiated a new communication piece and will enable 4-H families to have the latest information about 4-H opportunities plus an exchange of ideas from other county 4-H programs.

The "Standard" will be issued six times a year. Content will include editorials from the state 4-H leader, highlights from county and club 4-H programs around the state, ideas for fund raising, feature stories about outstanding volunteer leaders and their work with young people, highlights of state activities and schedules of contests, awards, programs and other 4-H events.

The magazine also has a fun page for younger family members plus other feature sections designed to help make the 4-H experience more meaningful to the entire 4-H family.

Advertising is also accepted by the "Standard" from anyone who wishes to make their business or products known.

The "STANDARD" offers unique educational opportunities to 4-H members in learning journalistic procedures and skills. Additionally, 4-H clubs that have reporters to provide 4-H club news to their local newspapers now have an opportunity to write for the "Texas 4-H Standard." Writing for the "Standard" may help some young people decide on journalism as a possible career choice.

All 4-H Families are encouraged to subscribe to the "Texas 4-H Standard," for the latest in 4-H news and information. Subscription information is available from the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, March 8, the 67th day of 1983. There are 298 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On March 8, 1917, riots and strikes broke out in St. Petersburg, Russia, marking the start of the Russian Revolution.

On this date:

In 1765, the British House of Lords passed the Stamp Act to tax the American colonies.

In 1950, Marshal Voroshilov announced Soviet possession of the atomic bomb.

In 1965, the United States landed 3,500 Marines in South Vietnam.

And, in 1971, Joe Frazier became undisputed heavyweight boxing champion of the world with a unanimous 15-round decision over Muhammad Ali in New York.

Today's birthdays: Dancer-actress Cyd Charisse is 60.

Man charged in church slaying

HOUSTON (AP) — A 22-year-old man accused of fatally shooting his girlfriend as she stood to sing a hymn in church has tried twice to kill himself since her slaying, authorities say.

Hickey, who tried to hang himself with his socks, was being held in the Ben Taub Hospital Mental Unit, police said.

David C. Hickey was charged with murder and ordered held without bond Monday in the death of Cynthia Handy, 25, according to the Harris County district attorney's office.

Witnesses told police Hickey whispered something in Ms. Handy's ear during the service Sunday, then put the gun to her head and pulled the trigger. He then laughed and tried to shoot himself but was restrained by an off-duty policeman sitting in the next pew, authorities said.

Ms. Handy died at Hermann Hospital less than 24 hours after the shooting Sunday evening at the Life Tabernacle Church, said a hospital spokeswoman who asked not to be identified.

After shooting Ms. Handy, "He put the gun to his head and hesitated and was bringing it down to his side when several people grabbed him and took it away from him," Osterberg said.

Pam Valentine, 16, who was standing across the aisle from the victim, said the suspect waved his pistol and laughed after shooting Ms. Handy.

Roland Parten included in Who's Who directory

Roland B. Parten from Hereford is among 14 students at Marion Military Institute, Marion, Ala., who will be named in the 1983 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges."

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential.

They join an elite group selected from more than 1300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Skating event to aid retarded Texans

On March 19 Hereford youth will be skating to help Texans who are mentally retarded and will be seeking pledges from area residents.

Hosted by Playhouse Skating Rink, West Highway 60, the Association of Retarded Citizens, the Super Skate event will offer prizes to the participants including: a weekend trip to Six Flags over Texas for a family of four, an Atari video game, a ten speed bike, a stereo cassette recorder-player, AM-FM radio headphones, roller skates, trophies and T-shirts.

The Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) is a statewide, non-profit organization which works to insure that the more than 400,000 Texans who are mentally retarded are afforded the same rights and benefits as their non-handicapped peers.

ARCs across the state provide services including sheltered workshops and vocational training, day care centers, parent counseling, prevention information programs, small group homes and recreational programs.

Many of the 72 chapters also recruit volunteer counselors who work one-to-one with persons who are retarded, helping them manage their money, find jobs and places to live, and locate services within their communities.

All proceeds from the Super Skate go directly to the Association of Retarded Citizens and its local chapters.

The Super Skate begins at 12 noon Saturday, March 19 and will continue until 4 p.m. For information on how to enter and sign up sponsors, contact Debbie Gonzalez at 364-3456.

The Newspaper BIBLE

YOU CAN BE SURE IT IS PURE

Dear Friend who loves God:

Several biographies of Christ have already been written using as their source material the reports circulating among us from the early disciples and other eyewitnesses.

However, it occurred to me that it would be well to recheck all these accounts from first to last and after thorough investigation to pass this summary on to you, to reassure you of the truth of all you were taught.

My story begins with a Jewish priest, Zacharias, who lived when Herod was king of Judea. Zacharias was a member of the Abijah division of the Temple service corps. (His wife Elizabeth was, like himself, a member of the priest tribe of the Jews, a descendant of Aaron.)

Zacharias and Elizabeth were godly folk, careful to obey all of God's laws in spirit as well as in letter. But they had no children, for Elizabeth was barren; and now they were both very old.

One day as Zacharias was going about his work in the Temple—for his division was on duty that week—the honor fell to him by lot to enter the inner sanctuary and burn incense before the Lord.

Meanwhile, a great crowd stood outside in the Temple court, praying as they always did during that part of the service when the incense was being burned.

Dimmitt seeking second straight 3A state crown

BY LES GILES
Sports Editor

To say Dimmitt has not been tested much this season would be an understatement.

The Bobcats, 36-0 and gunning for their second straight Class 3A state championship when the boys' state tournament begins Thursday, rolled through four opponent in the playoffs to reach Austin.

But, Dimmitt has virtually rolled through 36 opponents this season.

En route to their 36-0 record, the Bobcats' average margin of victory is an amazing 27.25 points. In other words, they've won 36 games by a total of 981 points.

Only six wins have been by fewer than 10 points. And, only one has been by less than six points.

Dimmitt has won 23 games by 20, or more points, and 16 by more than 30 points.

And, the Bobcats' 36-0 record is easily the best of any team, regardless of class, in this weekend's state tournament.

The next-best record belongs to Coppell, in Class 2A, with a 33-1 mark. That's who Morton meets in a semifinal clash Friday.

Houston Yates will be trying for a rare "double" this weekend. Yates' girls won the 5A championship in last weekend's girls' state meet. Now, it's the boys' turn, and with a 37-2 record they should easily be the favorite.

After all, Yates is ranked 6th nationally by USA Today, which each week ranks the nation's top 25 schoolboy basketball teams.

No. 1 is Dunbar of Baltimore Md., which is 29-0 this year, and winner of 57 in a row.

The Bobcats' four playoff victories (over Boys Ranch, Slaton, Canutillo and Abernathy) were by point totals of 40, 36, 46 and 23 — an average of just over 36 points per game.

Best bets for state champions this weekend are Snook (1A); probably Coppell in 2A; Dimmitt in 3A; Waxahachie in 4A and Houston Yates in 5A.

Five teams are making return trips to Austin ... Dimmitt, Waxahachie, Morton, Coppell and Snook.

Last year, Waxahachie lost in the finals to Beaumont Hebert while Morton and Coppell were semifinal losers (this year they meet in the semifinals). Snook and Dimmitt are defending state champions.

Former Hereford High graduate Mike Mayberry, currently the head coach at Denver City, was named District 4-3A coach of the year recently.

Mayberry guided Denver City to the district championship, compiling a 9-1 league mark and a 18-8 regular season standard. DC, however lost in bi-district play to Slaton, an eventual loser to Dimmitt in the area playoffs. Mike Wartes is the head football coach at Denver City.

New Hereford head football coach Jerry Taylor, who began work here last Tuesday, is quickly filling his staff.

Expected to join Taylor from Stamford are Ken Fowler, Eddie Richardson and Gary Wilhelm.

They'll replace Mike Purcell, Lester Kirkland (already having left Hereford to join Don Cumpston at Abilene High) and Johnny Taylor.

Coaches, or persons interested in coaching in the Babe Ruth League Boys' baseball program this summer, should plan on attending a meeting tonight at the home of John Bunch, 130 Star here in Hereford.

The league, which had five teams last year, but hopes to have more this summer, is expected to get underway for the first week of May, according to Bunch. Workouts are expected to begin a couple of weeks prior to that. The league is boys ages 13-15.

Palli wins LPGA Samaritan Classic

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Anne-Marie Palli, making a strong comeback on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, admits to being staggered by her triumph in the Samaritan Turquoise LPGA Classic here.

She led throughout the rain-shortened, 54-hole tourney and on Monday finished seven strokes ahead of her nearest competitor.

"I feel like I'm on another planet right now," Palli said after shooting a 5-under-par 68 in the final round of the $150,000 event at the 6,380-yard Arizona Biltmore course.

Palli, a 27-year-old citizen of France, wound up with a 14-under-par 205 over three rounds.

Finishing a distant second at 212 was Lynn Adams.

Adams, who shot a 71 Monday, said she knew she "was playing for second" after Palli rolled in a 15-foot birdie putt at the 13th hole.

"I saw an exciting game of golf today out of Anne-Marie," Adams said. "Everything she hit was right at the pin. Even if I had hit the shots I should have made, it still wouldn't have been a contest."

Ayako Okamoto fired a hot 4-under 69 in the last round to trail Adams by only two strokes.

Going into the tourney, which was scheduled to start Thursday but was delayed by rain until Friday, Palli was planning to follow up the competition with a visit home to France to see her parents.

But her $22,500 first prize will allow her to buy plane tickets for her parents to visit the United States, she said. "I hope they come for the (Nabisco) Dinah Shore (Invitational)," she said. Palli's triumph here qualifies her for the March 31-April 3 event.

Pat Bradley, who won the Mazda Classic in Deerfield Beach, Fla., the tour's opening tournament of 1983, and Janet Anderson, tied for fourth at 215.

Vicki Ferguson and Chris Johnson, tied for third place at 4-under-par after two rounds, couldn't keep up the pace Monday.

Virginia, Louisville follow

Houston remains atop AP cage poll

By The Associated Press

Houston, Virginia and Louisville held onto the top three spots today in The Associated Press' next-to-last college basketball poll, while UCLA climbed from sixth place to fourth — only to lose its next game — and defending national champion North Carolina jumped from eighth to fifth.

The Houston Cougars, who defeated Arkansas and Baylor last week, received 43 of 52 first-place votes and 1,030 of a possible 1,040 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The other nine first-place ballots went to Virginia, which defeated Wake Forest and Maryland and received 987 points.

Louisville disposed of Murray State and Virginia Tech before going into overtime to nip Memphis State and preserve its No.3 ranking. The Cardinals received 919 points.

UCLA, which knocked off Washington last week, received 837 points. But the Bruins were upended 70-68 Monday night by Washington State. North Carolina climbed to fifth with 739 points by trouncing Georgia Tech and Duke.

Last week's No.4-5 teams, Villanova and Arkansas, fell to 13th and sixth, respectively. Villanova lost to Syracuse, while Arkansas was beaten by Houston. However, Arkansas, Houston and ninth-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas are the only major college teams with only two losses.

Arkansas received 690 points, followed by seventh-place Indiana, which was No.11 a week ago, with 656 points. Rounding out the Top Ten are St. John's, UNLV and Kentucky with 646, 575 and 544 points, respectively. Last week, St. John's was 10th, UNLV ninth and Kentucky seventh.

The Second Ten consists of Wichita State, Missouri; Villanova, Boston College, Georgetown, Ohio State, Memphis State, Tennessee-Chattanooga, Oklahoma and Syracuse.

Monday night, Georgetown defeated Syracuse 80-75.

Last week's Second Ten was Indiana, Wichita State, Missouri, Ohio State, Boston College, Georgetown, Memphis State, Syracuse, Chattanooga and Purdue.

Reach SWC quarterfinals

Texas Tech, Mustangs survive

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech will meet in the Southwest Conference Post-Season Basketball Tournament quarterfinals Thursday night, but there were times in their first-round games that they weren't sure they'd make it.

The Mustangs survived two ice-cold shooting spells and relied on freshman Carl Wright's two free throws and a short jump shot in the final two minutes for a 49-48 victory over Texas.

Texas Tech struggled all the way in Lubbock to nip the Baylor Bears 57-55 and earn a trip to Dallas, where the tournament will be played out in Reunion Arena.

"I thought our guys really came out at the start of the first half ready to play," said Tech coach Gerald Myers. "They wanted to get to the tournament really bad."

In the other first round game, Texas Christian's "Killer Frogs" slew the Rice Owls 74-49 and will meet Texas A&M next Thursday at 7 p.m. The SMU-Tech game will follow.

"I think that was the best team game we've played in a long time," said TCU coach Jim Killingsworth. "We ran the offense well, we passed the ball and those are the things we really haven't been doing lately."

The Mustangs, who had finished fourth in the SWC regular season, went almost 13 minutes without a basket during stretches of the first and second half.

SMU Coach Dave Bliss said the Longhorns' ability to slow the pace — the 45-second shot clock is not being used in tournament games — helped keep Texas in the game.

"The shot clock changed the whole style of play," said Bliss.

SMU guard Butch Moore said "The (lack of a) shot clock made all the difference. Texas really made it work for them. They played their game. They outthrust us."

Texas trailed 25-22 at halftime but ripped off 13 consecutive points to start the second half.

SMU, trailing 48-39, scored the last 10 points of the game.

It was the Longhorns' 22nd defeat of the season against six victories, giving the school its worst basketball record ever.

Texas had a chance to win with six seconds to play but

Doug Moe's shot bounced away and a tip-in was ruled too late by referee Lynn Shortnacy.

Texas' Carlton Cooper scored a game-high 20 points but missed a vital free throw with 36 seconds to play.

"It will take us awhile to recover from the realization that we aren't playing Thursday night because we feel we should be," said Texas Coach Bob Weltlich.

Herd wins 2 from Levelland

LEVELLAND -- Robert Martinez' solid pitching performance, coupled with some late-inning heroics enabled Hereford to sweep a non-district baseball doubleheader from Levelland here Saturday.

Martinez scattered three hits, while Jeff Shire unloaded a pair of two-run home runs as the Whitefaces rolled to a 12-4 win in the first game.

Then, in the finale, the Herd overcame a four run deficit by pushing across four runs in the top of the sixth en route to a 7-6 victory.

"We hit the ball with much more authority than we did against Canyon (in the season opener last week when Hereford collected just two hits)," Herd coach David Ashby said.

In the opener, Martinez struck out seven and walked five (those five bases on balls coming in the final three innings).

Shire, who was 3-for-4, belted a two-run homer in the third inning to give Hereford a 3-0 lead, then unloaded another two-run blast to highlight a seven-run sixth.

Mickey Stengel chipped in with a single, double and triple and a couple of RBIs. He relieved sophomore Sammy Suarez in the fourth inning of game two and went on to collect the win.

For the day, Stengel was 5-for-8, including a solo home run in the fourth inning of game two.

Hereford's four-run rally in the sixth inning of game two was highlighted by a two-run triple by sophomore Mike Scott and a run-scoring three bagger by J.D. High. Brian Taylor also had a pair of doubles in the second game, as well as one in the opener.

"He started getting the ball up in the strike zone, and they started hitting some shots.

"Mickey (Stengel) came on and did a good job, though. He shut them down over the last three innings, and we were able to come back.

"I thought we played better, overall. We still are making too many errors, though (the Whitefaces committed five in the two games). I think they only had one unearned run in the first game."

The two wins over the weekend left Hereford 2-1 in the still-young season.

The Herd will host the Deaf Smith County Baseball Tournament beginning Thursday morning at 9:15 at the high school diamond.

Rodriguez sets record

Hereford boys 4th at Lubbock

Hereford's boys placed fourth, while the Whiteface girls were 11th last weekend in area track meets.

The boys, with Armando Rodriguez, Erasmo Gonzales and Alfred Bal leading the way, scored 64 points for a solid fourth-place showing in the Lubbock Invitational Saturday.

The girls, meanwhile, managed only 15 points for an 11th-place showing in Plainview. Coronado scored 151 points to lead the way in the boys' meet at Lubbock, while Estacado's 93 points led the way in the girls' meet in Plainview.

Rodriguez set a meet record in the 1,600 meter run, turning in a 4:41.1. However, teammate Fernando Carrasco was only a step back at 4:41.2.

Gonzales won the discus event with a toss of 144-10, easily outdistancing runner-up Goose Hayhurst of Tascosa (139-8). He also placed third in the shot with a heave of 48-3 3/4.

Softball meeting set tonight

The Hereford Amateur Softball Tournament will hold an organizational meeting tonight, beginning at 7:30 at Anthony's in Sargarland Mall.

All teams interested in playing in the city softball league this summer must have a representative at the meeting to receive pertinent information concerning the league.

The starting date for the league, rules and entry fees will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

Persons needed additional information should contact Jerry Smith at Anthony's, by calling 364-4547.

Astro hurler happier now

COCOA, Fla. (AP) -- Whether he's trading barbs or serving as comic relief for teammates, Houston Astros pitcher Mike LaCoss says he's far happier than a year ago when the Cincinnati Reds released him.

LaCoss, 26, had suffered 1 1/2 years of back ailments after finishing 1979 with a 14-8 record and 3.50 earned run average that won him a spot on the National League All-Star team.

Seasons of 10-12 and 4-7 culminated in his release.

"At the time, you're stunned when you get released, especially if you've had success," LaCoss said. "You think 'what do I do now?' but there were a few other clubs I could have signed with.

"Fortunately, it was the best spring (1982) I ever had and I pitched in some exhibitions on the road, so plenty of clubs saw me. The thing is, they (Astros) came and got me and when they tell you they have plans for you in the future, it naturally makes you feel wanted."

Houston dominates All-SWC cage team

DALLS (AP) - Guy Lewis had the flu Monday but he got some news that made him feel a little better.

He was named The Associated Press 1982-83 Southwest Conference Basketball Coach of the Year in voting by his peers for the Houston Cougar's runaway championship season.

Three of his players made the first team.

Houston posted a regular season record of 25-2 and defeated 16 consecutive SWC opponents for the Cougars' first unblemished league season.

The Cougars won their first SWC title and have now captured 24 SWC games in a row, tying an all-time record.

Houston can set a new record Friday night in the semi-finals of the SWC post-season tournament in Dallas against an undetermined opponent.

Also, No. 1 ranked Houston has 20 consecutive victories.

longest streak in the nation.

One Cougar made the second All-SWC team, and one was on the All-Newcomer team.

Also, the co-offensive Player of the Year was Houston's Michael Young, who shared the honor with Arkansas' Darrell Walker.

The Cougars placed the following players on the first team: the 6-6 Young, who averaged 17.8 points; seven-Akeem (The Dream) Olajuwon, who averaged 12 points, 11 rebounds and had 135 blocked shots, and 6-7 Clyde (The Glide) Drexler, who averaged 17.3 points per game.

Young and Drexler are juniors and Olajuwon is only a sophomore.

Arkansas' Walker, a 6-4 senior who averaged 18 points and three steals per game, was also first team All-SWC along with Texas Christian's classy senior guard, Darrell Browder, who averaged 16.5 points per contest.

Walker was named The Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season.

The second team included 6-9 senior Larry Micheaux of Houston; 6-10 senior Claude Riley of Texas A&M; 5-10 sophomore guard Bubba Jennings of Texas Tech, and two Razorbacks, junior guard Alvin Robertson and 6-11 sophomore center Joe Kleine.

The fiery Kleine, a transfer from Notre Dame who sat out a year, was named the SWC Newcomer of the Year.

The All-Newcomer team included Kleine, Alvin Franklin of Houston, Butch Moore of SMU, and Texas Aggies' Kenny (Downtown) Brown and center Jimmie Gilbert.

DALLAS (AP) - Here is the 1982-83 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference basketball team as selected by the coaches:

FIRST TEAM
Clyde Drexler, 6-4, 210, Jr., Houston, University of Houston; Akeem Olajuwon, 7-0, 240, Soph., Lagos, Nigeria, University of Houston; Michael Young, 6-6, 215, Jr., Houston, University of Houston; Darrell Browder, 6-1, 175, Sr., Fort Worth, Texas Christian; Darrell Walker, 6-4, 180, Sr., Chicago, Arkansas.

SECOND TEAM
Joe Kleine, 6-11, 250, Soph., Slater, Mo., Arkansas; Alvin Robertson, 6-2, 185, Jr., Barberton, Ohio, Arkansas; Claude Riley, 6-10, 215, Sr., Crockett, Texas A&M; Larry Micheaux, 6-9, 220, Sr., Houston, University of Houston; Bubba Jennings, 5-10, 160, Soph., Clovis, N.M., Texas Tech.

ALL-NEWCOMER TEAM
Kleine, Arkansas; Butch Moore, SMU; Kenny Brown, Texas A&M; Alvin Franklin, Houston; Jimmie Gilbert, Texas A&M.

OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR - (The) Young, Houston and Walker, Arkansas.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR - Walker, Arkansas.

NEWCOMER OF THE YEAR - Kleine, Arkansas.

COACH OF THE YEAR - Guy V. Lewis, Houston.

Plainview's boys, Borger girls win Hereford tennis meet

Plainview's boys and Borger's girls captured team titles in last weekend's Deaf Smith County Tennis Tournament, held at the high school courts.

Tim Brown paced Plainview's winning effort as he garnered the boys' single title, tripping Hereford's Blair Rogers 6-3, 2-6, 6-2 in the final match.

The boys' doubles championship was an all-Canyon affair as Mark Johnston and Rhett Mudge outlasted teammates Warren Perkins and Joe Solomon, 6-3, 6-1 in the finale.

Canyon's boys actually tied Plainview in points, but lost the team title on a coin flip. Hereford took third and Pampa fourth.

Borger's win in the girls' division was highlighted by victories in both singles and doubles.

Jill Nelson tripped Plainview's Christy Bentley, 7-6, 6-2 in the championship match.

In girls' doubles, Becky McCoy and Allison Blake of Borger defeated the Hereford duo of Vanessa Sims and Connie Zinser, 6-1, 6-3 in the championship match.

Canyon's girls were second in the team standings, while Plainview and Pampa tied for third.

Hereford's Sharon Mitts and Holly Veigel lost their first-round match, but reached the consolation finals, before losing.

The tennis teams traveled to Canyon today for a dual match against the Eagles.

This weekend, Hereford's tennis teams will be in Borger for tournament play Friday and Saturday.

Cougars upset UCLA, Hoyas outlast Syracuse

By The Associated Press
The Washington State Cougars don't get much respect. They aren't in this week's Top Twenty despite a gaudy 21-5 record.

And up there in Pullman, Wash., just eight miles from the Idaho border, they don't get many headlines, either.

But the Cougars of the Palouse — that area between the moist forests of the Rockies and the dry scablands of Washington — are 22-5 today after preventing fourth-ranked UCLA from clinching the Pacific-10 basketball crown by upsetting the Bruins 70-68 Monday night on sophomore Bryan Pollard's tip-in at the buzzer.

"Sooner or later, those LA writers will realize we have some talent," said WSU Coach George Raveling. "It wasn't the most thrilling win for me, but 20 years from now when I'm sitting around somewhere, I'll remember it."

Washington State led 68-64 on a pair of dunks by Pollard, but two jumpers by UCLA's Rod Foster tied the score at 68 with 39 seconds left to play.

The Cougars let the clock run down to five seconds before calling a timeout. UCLA knocked the ball out of bounds on the first throw-in, but the Cougars finally got it in to Chris Winkler, who missed a shot from the baseline and Pollard tipped the ball in at the buzzer.

"At the end, with three seconds left, we didn't have much recourse. I just told Winkler to go to the ball and shoot," Raveling said.

Pollard scored 21 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, but UCLA's Foster led all scorers with 26 points. Washington State kept its Pac-10 title hopes alive with a 14-3 record, just behind UCLA's 14-2. The Bruins are 22-4 overall.

The triumph, the Cougars' 16th straight in Friel Court, sent a school-record 12,422 fans into delirium.

"I've heard the WSU crowd this loud before. They get sky-high for us," said UCLA Coach Larry Farmer. "Their fans really get up for the Bruins and George really does a good job of getting the fans behind the team."

In the only other game involving a member of The Associated Press Top Twenty, Patrick Ewing and David Wingate keyed a second-half explosion to lead 15th-ranked Georgetown University past

Over $136,000 in prizes

Contest offers big bucks

To all avid fishermen, and even those who aren't quite so avid.

Here's a tournament that'll grab your attention.

The Texas Bass Association, Inc. is sponsoring its First Annual Big Bass Roadrunner Tournament, Saturday, April 30, with over $136,000 in cash in prizes in the offering.

No.20 Syracuse 80-75 at Landover, Md., in a preview of Thursday's Big East Conference tournament matchup. Georgetown, 21-8 overall and 11-5 in the Big East, will meet Syracuse, 19-8 and 9-7, in the first round of the conference tournament in New York.

Wingate scored seven points in the first four minutes of the second half as Georgetown turned a 38-30 halftime deficit into a 46-42 lead. Ewing, who led all scorers with 26 points, controlled the boards, scored four points and blocked two shots during the streak. He finished the game with 14 rebounds and four blocks.

The Orangemen were hampered by the absence of forward Tony Bruin, who was out with a sprained ankle.

Bruin is expected to be ready for the tournament. Erich Santifer, the team's high scorer, was slowed by a sprained wrist and scored only six points. Andre Hawkins led the Orangemen with 15.

"I'm pleased as I can be with what went on out there, but there are still a lot of things we do inconsistently," said Georgetown Coach John Thompson. "We've got to play with more consistency because in tournament play one letdown and it's a summer vacation. It's not an advantage to play a team twice in a season and beat them and play them again. Everyone knows the big game is Thursday."

For Syracuse Coach Jim Boehm, the defeat, following an upset loss to Connecticut last week, was especially hard to swallow.

"I'm very disappointed," he said. "Not only in the way we played, but with the lack of intelligence we showed. You don't win games by taking the ball inside and trying to shoot over Ewing."

At South Bend, Ind., John Paxson scored 20 points to power Notre Dame over Dayton 53-41 in a battle between two independents struggling for a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

At Cedar Falls, Iowa, Brent Carmichael scored 22 points as Northern Iowa knocked Southwest Missouri out of first place in the Association of Mid-Continent Universities Conference 66-60. Northern Iowa never led until Carmichael scored to make it 48-46 with 8:42 left. Southwest Missouri's loss left Western Illinois move into first place.

In the first round of the Southwest Conference tournament, freshman Carl Wright scored four points in the final two minutes and Southern Methodist survived a Texas tip-in that was disallowed at the buzzer to defeat the Longhorns 49-48 at Dallas. The Longhorns led 48-39 before SMU scored the last 10 points of the game to hand Texas its 22nd defeat against six victories, the worst season in the school's history.

In another SWC first-round game at Lubbock, Texas, Quentin Anderson scored 22 points and Bubba Jennings added 19 to pace Texas Tech over Baylor 57-55. The Red Raiders survived despite blowing a 14-point lead early in the second half. And at Fort Worth, Doug Arnold scored 22 points and all-conference guard Darrell Browder added 17 as Texas Christian trounced Rice 74-49.

At Pittsburgh, Craig Helms hit a short jump shot with eight seconds left to give George Washington a 71-70 victory over Duquesne in an Atlantic 10 Western Division first-round playoff game. Mike Brown scored 32 points to lead the Colonials to their first victory in seven years of postseason play.

At Amherst, Mass., freshman John Hempel scored 18 points and pulled down 13 rebounds to lead Massachusetts to a 91-74 victory over Rhode Island in another Atlantic 10 contest.

All star game takes new look

AMARILLO—The Golden Spread High School All Star Girls' Basketball Games, held in conjunction with the 15th Annual Converse NWIT March 17-19 here, have taken on a different look this year.

Instead of one all star game, as in past years, there'll be three.

And, more players will be involved.

The expanded format will allow 40 high school girls from the Panhandle area to participate in a mini-tournament.

The traditional East-West game has been dropped in favor of a three-game tourney, comprised of four teams of all stars, based on classification.

A team of all stars from Class 5A will meet a team comprised of all stars from 2A schools the night of March 17. The next night, a team made up of players from 3A schools will take on a team comprised of players from Classes 4A and 1A, then the two winners will meet on the final night of the NWIT.

Coaches for this year's all star teams include Bill White (5A); Jim Wilcoxsen (the combined 1A-4A team); Reggie Parsons (2A) and Eddie Gibson (3A).

More than 30 high schools in the area are expected to be represented, according to Ed Mills, high school all star game coordinator.

Mahre wins world title

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Phil Mahre, outdusted Ingemar Stenmark to win a World Cup giant slalom and clinch the overall World Cup title, his third consecutive championship.

Black bass, Kentucky and smallmouth may be entered for judging. Only fish caught by qualified contestants may be weighed.

Contestants can weigh in only fish which he caught. Judging will be on fish caught April 30 during tournament hours (6 a.m. until 3 p.m.). Fish must measure 12 inches or over with mouth closed on "belly board".

Each contestant's biggest bass shall be weighed to determine said contestant's standing in the competition. Contestants may weigh in second bass in case of a tie. Tie will be decided by weight of second bass.

All fish weighed become the property of the Texas Bass Association, Inc.

Contestants may enter fish caught from any one of the following lakes on lakes on tournament day:

Jason Lueb honored at Friday morning Mass

Jason Lueb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Lueb, was presented the Parvuli Dei Award for Cub Scouts during a special Mass on Friday morning at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Bishop L.T. Mathiesen of Amarillo was present at the Children's Mass. He concelebrated Mass with the Rev. Mark Traenkle S.A., pastor of St. Anthony's Church.

The Parvuli Dei Award is given by the Catholic Church to Cub Scouts who have completed a prescribed course of deepening their religious experiences. Parvuli Dei translated means children of God. Jason was required to show service to his family, community and church in this activity. The highlight of his activities was to attend the Biblical Art Center in Dallas with his family. Father Boniface Riedman S.A. worked closely with Jason as his counselor.

Jason is a fifth grader student at St. Anthony's Catholic School and is a Webelos member of Pack 54, sponsored by the church.

Following the Mass, members of Pack 54 honored the Lueb family with a breakfast in the school library.

Members discuss spring convention

Bud To Blossom Garden Club met Friday morning in the home of Jane White. The upcoming District 1 Spring Convention which is to be held in Hereford March 14-15 was discussed.

Pat Robinson was nominated to attend the state convention in Dallas set April 27-28. The club decided to pay her expenses for the convention.

Members were informed of a clinic to be held at the Amarillo Garden Center on March 25. Richard Jeffrey of Cornwall, England, will be giving a program on "Victorian and Mass Arrangements." Tickets are available through the Garden Center in Amarillo for $5 each. A program on color was presented by Naoma Spann. She explained why people choose certain colors, and the mood each color reflects. She also discussed the importance of lighting to an arrangement.

Mrs. White served refreshments to Betty Hughes, Ms. Spann, Ms. Robinson, Dixie Porter and Paula Hamby.

Visitors welcomed at Friday evening dance

The Good Timers Square Dance Club met for their regular dance Friday evening at the Community Center. Ronnie Woods from Amarillo was the caller for the six squares of dancers.

Visitors from Denim 'n' Diamonds of Canyon, Boots and Lace in Walcott, and Country Singles of Hereford were welcomed by club members.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Sonny Evers. It was decided to cancel the March 18 meeting due to spring break at school. Club members were invited to visit the Canyon club if they are in town.

Since Good Friday falls on a regular dance night, the club will dance on April 8 if the hall is available that night. A pie supper was enjoyed by those present.

New members welcomed

The Patriarch Militant and Ladies Auxiliary met Friday night at the I.O.O.F. Hall for dinner and a regular meeting. Raymond and Thelma Gage from Sudan were welcomed as new members.

Following the dinner, Ben Conklin and Thelma Gage installed new officers. New rituals were introduced.

Young Helpers

helped make decorations for the annual BB-BS appreciation dinner held last night at the Community Center. The event was attended by local volunteers and supporters and Big Brothers-Big Sisters staff and board members.

Connally receives recognition

Tammy Connally, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Terry V. Connally has been named to the President's List at Mid-America Nazarene College in Olathe, Kan.

This is the highest academic recognition which can be earned by a student at the school. They must earn a perfect record during the current academic term, carrying a full course load.

H & R BLOCK GUARANTEES TAX RETURN PREPARATION

"If we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, WE WILL PAY THAT INTEREST AND PENALTY. Furthermore, if your return is audited, we will accompany you, at NO EXTRA COST, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative."

If everyone was perfect, we would not need to guarantee our tax return preparation. Block has consistently protected its clients from paying more than is rightly owed if a mistake is made by H & R Block on the tax return.

Wherever you are, wherever you go... the H & R Block guarantee goes with you.

Providing a Windbreak

First through third grade students at Tierra Blanca Elementary School braved the brisk wind Friday morning to plant trees on the west side of the school yard. Approximately 450 trees will have been planted when the project is completed.

Tommy Rosson, assistant principal, is in charge of the program. The trees were furnished from the Soil Conservation office in Lubbock.

Police questioning man about murders

HOUSTON (AP) - Police were questioning an unemployed maintenance worker, arrested on an unrelated burglary charge, about the murders of three women found slain in bathtubs at their affluent westside homes, authorities say.

Colon spasms cause pain

DEAR DR. LAMB - I received your letter on diverticulosis and learned more from it than the $35 office call to my doctor who has diagnosed it. He put me on a bland diet.

I have been careful to use lots of bulk in my diet, including bran, cereals and leafy vegetables but I seem to get pains at least once a month and cannot pinpoint the cause.

Would I get pains right after eating the wrong food or do the pains come from foods eaten several days before? I read that it takes 48 hours for food to digest. I am a mother of six children and am 55 years old.

DEAR READER - You have made an assumption that is not necessarily true - that your pain is caused by the food you eat. Diverticuli, those small pockets of the colon, are usually painless. Usually the only time they cause pain is when one is inflamed, like an inflamed appendix. The intermittent pains most people who have diverticulosis complain about are more likely caused by a spasm of the colon.

Many authorities think the little pockets are caused by an underlying spastic colon that causes pressure inside the colon and the little pockets are really pressure blow-outs. The colon is a muscular tube and can go into spasm at any time. With its normal rhythmic contractions it is less likely to do so. And normal rhythmic contractions are more likely to occur if you have sufficient bulk in your colon. Coffee, including decaffeinated brands, may irritate the colon and cause spasms. So can stress.

day afternoon by Bexar County sheriff's deputies in San Antonio on a felony theft arrest warrant issued Feb. 28. He was arrested after an automobile chase through a residential area, deputies said.

Houston Police Detective J.C. Mosier said the man was arrested after investigators received information from an unnamed source. "We want to talk to this man about several things," Mosier said, declining to elaborate.

Armed with the warrant, deputies tracked the suspect to his brother's home but he was not there, said sheriff's Detective Fred Moreno.

"We knew he would return because he had borrowed the car, a '72 Cutlass. So we staked out the area," Moreno said. "As he drove up he recognized us and we recognized him and that's when the chase took place."

Moreno said deputies Monday afternoon chased the suspect at speeds up to 50 mph through a southside residential section. "There were intersections and corners to turn everywhere. It (the chase) was only three miles but it seemed more like 100," he said.

He said shots were fired by deputies but "there were no hits and no injuries."

"About 10 minutes later, he jumped out but left the car in gear and it collided with a pole," Moreno said. "The suspect then ran to a house and jumped a fence into the backyard. Deputies drew their pistols and he surrendered."

Moreno said the man was awaiting trial in Bexar County on an assault charge but would be released to Houston police.

Houston homicide detectives J.G. Burmester and S.P. Ward flew to San Antonio on Monday evening and questioned the man briefly. They planned to accompany the man back to Houston today for more questioning.

The arrest came shortly after one victim, Elizabeth Drake Faubus, the estranged wife of former Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, was buried.

Mrs. Faubus, 44, was found Thursday immersed in the bloody bathtub of her home less than 72 hours after the bodies of two women living in the same area were discovered.

An autopsy report from the Harris County Medical Examiner's Office concluded Mrs. Faubus died of strangulation, Mosier said, and her death was ruled a homicide.

Mrs. Faubus was the third woman in as many days found murdered in her bathtub. Ruth Kottler, 61, was discovered March 1, and the body of Bertie E. Eakins, 74, was found later that night, her hands handcuffed behind her.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

It should be of some comfort to parents to know that in this age of sophisticated communication and premature independence, you can still lay a little guilt on your kids.

Not a lot. Most of the old tried-and-true threats have fallen by the wayside, but there's still one phrase that gets 'em every time: "Never mind! I'll do it myself!"

I have seen a kid pull himself up from the last 15 seconds of a Super Bowl game when the score is even and his team is kicking for a field goal to grab the garbage from his mother and head for the door, just because he heads, "Never mind! I'll do it myself."

The phrase works for several reasons. It's a last resort and both of you know it. You know he's not going to do it the first time you ask, so you build to a climax.

Here's the way it works. You say, "You clear the table this minute or those dishes will never come clean." (He's been sleeping in the same socks all winter. You know he's not going to get too choked up over a little tomato sauce.)

Your second volley: "You clear the table now or you will never watch TV again-go on a vacation with us-receive an allowance-be allowed to grow up." (So what's so terrible about being dropped from a family? You've done it before.)

This one is spoken with feeling. "Okay, I've had it. I'm only telling you one more time. Get to those dishes or I'll come in there and you'll wish I hadn't. (Mom has a history of non-violence. She's faking.)

Finally, it comes: "NEVER MIND I'LL DO IT MYSELF."

It never fails. Bodies scurry, plates are scraped and water begins to run somewhere.

A lot of it is delivery. It has to combine the resignation of St. Joan of Arc, the commitment of St. Theresa, the suffering of a thousand women in labor and the eye contact of Jessica Savitch.

Guilt is hard these days to sustain. I don't know why. Maybe it's because the mystery is gone out of parenting. Kids learn too much too soon and we have no surprises left.

One thing for sure, there is still a mystique around; "Never mind! I'll do it myself." Maybe it's because no one has ever dared to imagine what would happen if she did.
My mother is 72 years old and I still don't know.

Veterans outreach rep named

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has appointed Lorenzo M. Sedeno as Area Representative for the Veterans Outreach program in the Panhandle region of Texas. Veterans Outreach is an extension of the Veterans Land Program of the General Land Office.

Sedeno and four other field representatives will be going out to every county in Texas to establish contact with veterans groups and their representatives. The object of the statewide drive is to acquaint Texas veterans with the benefits of the land loan program and assist them with problems and questions concerning the loan process.

"For all the success this program has had in the past, it has to be upgraded and updated to meet the current needs of our Texas veterans. I'm concerned about each and every veteran in this state, especially Vietnam veterans, and I'm concerned about prompt service. This program is going to run like a business and it will be manned by trained professionals both in the central office and out in the field," said Mauro.

Authorized by the people of Texas in 1940, nearly 80,000 veterans have participated in the Veterans Land Program. The loan program operates at no cost to the taxpayer and actually returns money from proceeds. Long term, low interest loans of up to $20,000 can be obtained for a minimum of 10 acres.

Sedeno is a native Texan from San Angelo who now lives in Lubbock. For three years he was administrative aide to Congressman Kent Hance. In that position he was in charge of Veterans affairs and social programs among his many other responsibilities. Prior to that he was self employed as a life underwriter for 14 years.

He has been a member of the Lubbock Human Relations Commission, the Legal

SW Bell has both good and bad news

There's good news and bad news coming from Southwestern Bell for 1983 and 1984.

The bad news — as most economic indicators reflect — is that the recession has caught up with Texans and Texas businesses, including Southwestern Bell, according to Gary Stevens, the company's spokesperson in Hereford.

The good news? "Despite severe recession and subsequent company budget cuts, Southwestern Bell continued to have a significant, positive impact on the local economy," Stevens said. "Our total payroll statewide was $1.2 billion, and our tax contribution to Texas' economy was $240 million. We spent $1.4 billion dollars on construction in Texas growth pockets in 1982," Stevens said. "It was the fifth consecutive year we topped the billion-dollar mark to meet Sun Belt growth."

The Midland-to-Monahans five optic cable was completed in 1982 — one of the company's first lightwave cable installations. Also, Southwestern Bell installed the company's first local service lightwave cable between Port Isabel and South Padre Island. Lightwave cable increases line capacity by a factor of ten.

Additionally, the company conducted cable and trunking upgrading, maintenance and repair in Texas cities and towns Southwestern Bell serves.

The number of business telephone lines grew seven percent last year — a healthy leap regardless of recession. Residential lines increased little more than one percent.

Plans for 1983 and 1984 construction spending reflect continued tightening begun in 1982, Stevens said.

"Three economic influences indicate lean years ahead," he said. "Recession is one. Secondly, we have the added expenses of getting ready for divestiture from AT&T. The most critical, though, is the cost of maintaining Texas' telephone system. It's rising faster than our growth in revenues."

As in 1982, Southwestern Bell will have to adhere to a restricted budget and hold down costs by minimizing overtime, postponing non-essential construction and not filling vacated positions, Stevens said.

With the flat economy and tight budget, Stevens said, "The company is asking much of its employees. We're still dedicated to doing the best job of providing telephone service that economic restrictions will allow. Our employees already have one of the highest productivity rates in the country — more than three times the national average."

Southwestern Bell finds itself on the threshold of becoming a stand-alone company "with state-of-the-art local telephone equipment and connections already in place, linking your phone to any other phone in the United States," Stevens said. "That's your ticket to the Information Age."

Video games have brought computers into the home, and it won't be long before 'smart terminal' type phones regulate household energy, provide burglar alarm systems and retrieve stock market reports, sports scenes, recipes, news headlines and library information, he said.

"Regardless of recession, we're prepared with the expertise and technology to compete vigorously for our share of investor dollars. We'll need both to maintain high service standards."

As a result of a federal court-approved Consent Decree between AT&T and the U.S. Department of Justice, Southwestern Bell will spin off from AT&T Jan. 1, 1984. As a stand-alone company, Southwestern Bell will sell its own stock in competition with other companies nationwide.

Southwestern Bell's job in 1984 will be to provide local exchange service — from dial tone to customer calling services. We will also provide some short-haul instate long distance service, offer customers access to the long distance carriers, publish directories and Yellow Pages and offer Advanced Mobile Phone Service," Stevens said.

"This year will be equally challenging as we make the transition from an AT&T subsidiary to an independent enterprise," Stevens said. "Yet, despite all the changes, our mission is to serve — and we plan to find ways to keep the gateway to the Information Age accessible and quality service affordable."

SPS launches program to help battle crime

Employees of Southwestern Public Service Company under a new program being developed at SPS will help local and area law enforcement officers stop crime.

The program, called "Partners on Patrol," will unleash almost 750 "extra pairs of eyes and ears" against prowlers, burglars, vandals, and other criminals, said Larry Milner, SPS vice president, communication and public affairs.

"Southwestern Public Service employees who work outdoors in our communities — such as meter readers, servicemen, line department personnel — will be on the outlook for crime, and be ready to report it," Milner said.

"We're just asking our employees to learn to spot suspicious activity, and to make quick reports to law enforcement agencies," he said. "The law officers will take care of the suspects. We'll help by being alert for problems."

Milner stressed that SPS employees are not to try to handle a crime situation themselves. "We do not want them to tackle a burglar — just report him."

Milner noted that many SPS employees already are watching out for crimes in progress or for suspicious events, and that in many SPS communities law enforcement officials and SPS employees already work together closely.

The "Partners on Patrol" program will include training for SPS employees, he said, and will establish that one of the SPS employees responsibilities is to help SPS customers fight crime.

Local office managers in SPS communities in four states (Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Kansas) have contacted law officers this week to explain the program, offer more cooperation, and establish reporting procedures, Milner said.

"There may be other emergency conditions, such as accidents or fires, which our people working in the alleys and on the streets will notice first," he said. "We know we can be of help."

The "Partners on Patrol" program reflects Southwestern Public Service Company's theme, "You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference," both in name and intention, Milner said. "We want to work with as well as for the people we serve."

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electrical service to a population of more than one million in a 70,000-square-mile area in the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.

Committee recommends end of Battleship Texas commission

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Environmental Affairs Committee has decided the Battleship Texas Commission, criticized by its employees for letting the ship fall apart, should be abolished.

The committee voted 9-0 Monday to recommend that the Legislature put the Parks and Wildlife Commission in charge of the tourist attraction docked near Houston beside the San Jacinto Monument.

Ship employees testified about the commission's failures, including a dead puppy and a deteriorating ship.

"We need to sink the commission," said Rep. Lloyd Criss, sponsor of a bill to put the Parks and Wildlife Commission in charge of the Battleship Texas.

"The ship's not going to last too long," said Ed Levy, a ship employee. He blamed the Battleship Texas Commission for the problems, including "chemical bronchitis" suffered by workers because of fumes.

"The Battleship Texas has the name of Texas on it. I couldn't believe any state agency would let it deteriorate that way," said Levy.

The battleship commission ran the ship from 1948 until the Legislature "sunsetting" the commission in 1979. However, the 1981 Legislature put the commission back in business.

Employee Eleanor Green said the battleship commission made a lot of unusual purchases just before it was abolished the first time. She said the commission bought two dogs, a sewing machine, two shotguns and a ski boat and trailer.

Mrs. Green said the first dog — a German shepherd puppy — was to be trained as an on-board guard dog.

"Well, the guard ran over him and killed the poor thing. The dog's buried out there by the ship," she said. A second dog was bought to replace the dead puppy.

Phillip Chumlea of Houston, a member of the National Maritime Historical Society, told the committee that the Texas is the only "first generation" battleship still afloat.

"The Texas was launched the same year the Titanic sank," he said.

Chumlea said he was "embarrassed" at the condition of the Texas.
