Reagan calls for 'strength' to deter Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, avoiding tough economic sanctions in the wake of what he says "can only be called the Korean Air Line Massacre," called for U.S. strength to deter the Soviet Union.

Central America and Lebanon, the president worked a reminder about the Soviets' "massive military build-up" into his nationally broadcast address Monday night.

Reagan, turning to Congress for a condemnation of the downing of the Korean jumbo jet, decided not to delay arms negotiations, reimpose a grain embargo or try to halt high technology shipments to the Soviets.

The president acknowledged that a U.S. RC-135 spy plane operated in the area where the Korean plane had flown before it was downed, and used a tape recording of a Soviet pilot reporting to a ground controller that "the target is destroyed" two seconds after a missile was launched.

But he said the plane was back on the ground, in Alaska, one hour before the Korean plane went down, and declared, "At no time was the RC-135 in Soviet airspace."

The 16-minute speech from the Oval Office, used tough language to characterize the downing of the aircraft.

"Our immediate challenge to this atrocity is to ensure that we make the skies safer and that we seek just compensation for the families of those who were killed," Reagan said.

see that this never happens again," the president said. "It was an act of barbarism, born of a society which wantonly disregards individual rights and the value of human life," he declared.

Sheriff Sworn In

It took only a few moments this morning for Joe Brown to be sworn in as Deaf Smith County's new sheriff. David Ruland, county clerk, administers the oath of office in the commissioners' courtroom.

Brown sworn in as sheriff

Joe Brown said he does not plan to make any sudden, drastic changes as the new sheriff of Deaf Smith County. The former Hereford policeman was sworn into office this morning at a brief ceremony in the county courthouse.

our decision, and I'd a whole lot rather we'd not received the letter."

Last week, Brown agreed the letter had no effect in his nomination. "The people don't mean to hurt anybody," he said. "I know they're trying to help. But the decision was made by the commissioners and the county judge."

In order to prepare for being sheriff, Brown claimed he spent "at least a couple of hours" each day at the county courthouse. So far, he said, sheriff's department (See BROWN, Page 2)

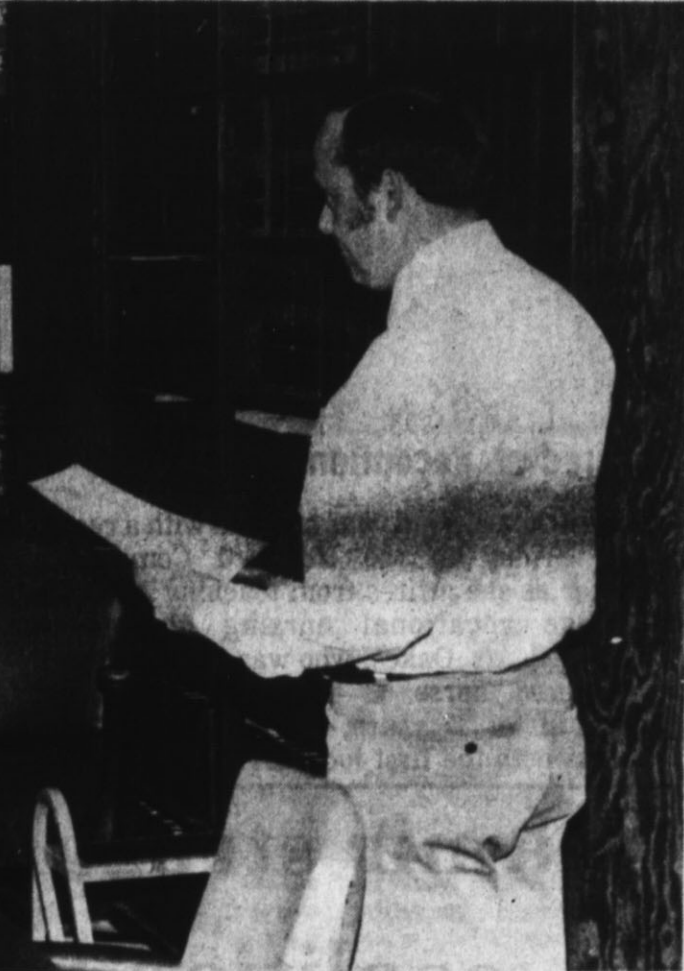

Brown ended a 12-year stint with the Hereford Police Department in order to assume his new job. While working for the city's law enforcement agency, Brown served as patrolman, patrol sergeant, sergeant in criminal investigation and, for the last six months, lieutenant for criminal investigation.

"The city has been really good to me," Brown said, citing the promotions he has received during his dozen years on the police force. "It really is tough to leave here." According to Brown, his decision to run for sheriff was not an easy one. He waited until four days before the deadline to apply. On August 24, he was selected over five other candidates to be the successor of Travis McPherson, who is retiring after 13 years at the county post.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners handily approved Brown's appointment. "We considered every applicant," County Judge Glen Nelson said, "and this was our unanimous choice after considerable consideration."

Brown was supported in the sheriff's "race" by a group called MAD (Mexican-American Democrats). It presented commissioners a letter which stated the hope "his appointment will improve relations between the sheriff's department and the Mexican-American community."

While moving Brown to be named new sheriff, commissioner Austin Rose of Precinct 3 remarked, "The MAD letter to the court had no influence whatsoever in

Workers protest 'Bonzo economics'

By DEBORAH ZABARENKO
Associated Press Writer

Hundreds of thousands of workers rallied against President Reagan and "Bonzo economics" on Labor Day, while some employees made peace with management and millions of others took a break from their work to revel in summer's last long holiday.

Americans thronged beaches, parks and backyards, dousing the 90-degree heat that swamped much of the country in pools, lakes and ocean surf. At least five drownings were reported.

The three-day weekend proved deadly on the nation's highways, where 436 perished between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday, 14 less than the 450 fatalities safety officials had predicted.

For construction workers in Michigan, autoworkers around the nation and symphony musicians in Utah it was a time of harmony, as they moved away from confrontation and towards contract settlements.

Workers paraded through America's cities by the thousands, but in New York City, the 425,000 marchers far outnumbered the 50,000 spectators who sparsely lined Fifth Avenue.

"It's a disgrace," said Mrs. Paul Gutenstein. "I'm ashamed that people would rather swim than come to the parade, after what kind of government we've got."

AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, who reviewed the New York parade, lashed out at the Reagan administration's economic policies, saying the recovery "has bypassed working people and benefited only a handful of corporate entrepreneurs and corporate profits."

"The current occupants of the White House have so identified the general welfare with enriching the rich and pandering to the powerful that everything else strikes them as 'special interests,'" the nation's foremost labor leader said.

For laborers in about 150 U.S. cities, Labor Day was renamed Solidarity Day III to show the strength of the nation's unions.

The Solidarity Day bash in Austin, Texas, drew 10,000 people to a march starting at the state Capitol, bearing picket signs with slogans such as "Bust the Union Busters Today" and "Hallelujah, I'm a bum, thanks to Reaganomics."

In Cleveland, about 15,000 union members joined in a 350-foot parade through town, as some marchers hefted signs reading "C'mon, Ron, stop the Bonzo economics." One of Reagan's films was called "Bedtime for Bonzo," about a chimpanzee.

United Auto Workers President Owen Bieber said Monday was "one of the nicest Labor Days that I've (See BONZO, Page 2)

Thieves get guns; assault reported

Approximately $5,700 worth of items, including eight guns valued at a combined $4,850, were stolen sometime last week from Kenneth Helms of 815 Baltimore Dr., Hereford police reported this morning.

Among the other lifted goods were two cameras, a stereo and a $400 color television. Police said entrance was gained by cutting a bedroom's screen and prying its window.

Police also reported an attempted murder occurred at 5:30 a.m. Saturday near Highway 60 and Main St. Victor Manuel Sevilla, Hereford, was cut several times during a fight and required treatment at Deaf Smith General Hospital. A machete was apparently the weapon used against Sevilla, who told police about a suspect and said he planned to press charges.

Meanwhile, a 1972 Chevrolet was stolen at about 4 p.m. Friday from Bill Rawlings, 103 S. Douglas St. The police report cited one suspect who was 17 months behind payments on the automobile and supposedly shoved Rawlings away from the car before driving away with it.

Blaze damages trailer house

Several thousand dollars damage was caused to a trailer house by a Monday afternoon fire, according to Jay Spain, local fire marshal. The structure, located at 1617 Seventeenth St., began burning shortly before 3:30 p.m. Spain said a electric fan apparently ignited, thereby prompting the blaze. Chris Neal was living in the home, which is owned by Elwood Smith.

Charest wins grid contest

Melvin Charest, 213 Greenwood, missed just six games on the first Hereford Brand Football Contest to claim the $25 first prize. Charest edged out Teri Morgan and Patsy Hampton, each of whom missed seven games, for the top prize.

Mrs. Morgan claimed second place and the $15 prize by being closer on the tie breaker score. She guessed a total of 27 points for the Detroit-Tampa Bay NFL contest, won by the Lions, 11-0. Ms. Hampton's tie breaker guess was 54 points, and she won $10.

Five entrants finished just out of the money this week, missing eight games of the 26 on the contest. Those included Danny Boyer, Teresa Baker, John Streun, Joy Stagner, and Zane Foster. Eight other entrants missed nine games, while 30 missed 10. Those missing nine games included Sammy Davison, Scott Keeling, Gladys Caviness, Jack Andrews, Tracy Shepherd, E.H. Loerwald, Earl Stagner, and Donna Jones.

There were a total of 300 entries for the first week of the contest.

The second contest appears in today's issue. Entries are due by 5 p.m. Friday at the Hereford Brand office, located at 313 N. Lee.

Two more marines killed in Beirut fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Rockets and mortar shells slammed into U.S. positions at the Beirut airport today, killing two Marines and wounding two in the third day of Lebanon's renewed Christian-Druse civil war.

Marine spokesman Maj. Robert Jordan announced the casualties as Christian forces conceded the fall of the central mountain highway town of Bhamdoun to Syrian-supported Druse attackers.

"They (Druse) have entered Bhamdoun. They are committing massacres and crimes unprecedented in the history of humanity," said the Voice of Lebanon radio station of the rightist Christian Phalange Party in admitting the fall of Bhamdoun, 12.5 miles east of Beirut.

Jordan said the airport bombardment started at 4:05 a.m. (10:05 p.m. EDT Monday), forcing the Marines to scramble for cover. The source of the barrage was unclear, but Marines responded by firing 155mm illumination rounds.

Another Marine spokesman, Warrant Officer Charles Rowe, said the Marines did not return fire because the fatal barrage came from a densely populated Shiite Moslem neighborhood northeast of the airport.

It was the first deadly attack on the Marines since Aug. 29 when two leathernecks were killed during intensified fighting between Christians and Druse, who have been battling for dominance in mountains near Beirut. Those were the first Marine combat deaths in Lebanon in the year since the Reagan administration deployed them at the Lebanese government's request.

Shuttle crew resting at home

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Happy with Challenger's "fabulous" flight and eager to do it again, the five shuttle astronauts rested at home today and tried to readjust sleep schedules turned upside down during their six-day mission.

The astronauts, who returned to earth Monday, praised their "wonderful machine" which now gets a breather as its sister ship, Columbia, prepares for a flight next month with a European research facility in its payload.

On the nearly flawless eighth shuttle flight, the Challenger's success with a variety of experiments and with launch and landing in darkness prompted the crewmembers to speak of a hopeful future for the space plane.

"It will be doing some very good work over the next 15 years," said mission specialist Guion S. Bluford Jr., the first American black in space, who said the flight was "a fabulous experience."

Said 54-year-old Dr. William Thornton, the space

Pampans arrested for theft

Two Pampa men were arrested this morning in Perryton in connection with a theft at the Dawn Coop, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office reported this morning.

After Raul Tarin and Ramon Acosta were stopped for a traffic violation, Perryton police reportedly saw several tires and gloves in the back of the twosome's truck, became suspicious and discovered the items were from the Dawn Coop.

Also taken during the crime, for which no estimated value has been established, were several odds and ends, according to the sheriff's office.

The Dawn Coop is located near the intersection of Texas Farm Roads 809 and 1,062 and is owned by Harold Dillehay.

Newcomers with familiar names return to town

By SANDY PANKEY
Staff Writer

"Yes, operator," the caller explains, "I want the number of Greg and Debie Black in Hereford. Oh, there are two Greg Blacks listed! Well, how about giving me the number of both and I will go from there."

After the caller reaches the Blacks' residence at 106 Redwood, he then realizes that he has the wrong number.

Confusing? In the town the size of Hereford, it's amazing that there are two couples with exactly the same first and last names and it's often perplexing to someone that doesn't personally know either couple.

To set the record straight, it's the Greg and Debie Blacks at 229 Ironwood that have recently moved to Hereford from Denver City, Texas, located approximately 140 miles south of Hereford.

"It's been rather funny," Debie says. "My husband, who is co-owner of Owens Electric, is in the process of purchasing the business and even the lawyers that are retained get confused."

Greg and Debie aren't exactly newcomers to this area. When Greg graduated from Texas Tech in Lubbock in 1971 after receiving his degree in wildlife biology, the couple moved here where Greg was employed for approximately seven years with Owens Electric.

They then moved to Greg's hometown, Denver City where he worked as an electrician. Finally when financial conditions were right, they sold their home in Denver City and moved back to Hereford June 12. "We were very fortunate," Debie recalls. "Within a week, we closed the deal on our house in Denver City and signed the papers on our house here."

The Blacks' spacious home is tastefully decorated and the den features a very unusual decor. Trophy mounts are hung on the walls of the high ceiling room and include hunting treasures such as antelope buck from Wyoming; caribou from Canada; wild turkey, white tail bucks and javelina (a form of wild pig species) and pheasant, all from Texas; and two very unusual mounts, a cinnamon colored black bear floor rug and a standing mount of a black bear, both killed in Red Stone, Colo.

Greg is an avid bow hunter and has been seriously hunting for 10 years. Debie shares his enthusiasm for hunting but admits she isn't as adept at the hobby as her husband.

"I love to go bow hunting with Greg," she says. "I have gone on most of the hunting expeditions with him. We have gone on a 19 day expedition in Canada and go to Wyoming every other year as well as hunt in Texas and in New Mexico."

"I have tried hunting a few times, but mostly I observe the wildlife or stay at the campsite, reading, crocheting or fishing."

Debie also has personal hobbies such as dry brush ceramics, crocheting and growing plants. When they purchased their home on Ironwood, Debie was delighted that she had a sunroom located next to the den to grow a variety of house plants.

The couple, who attend First United Methodist Church, have two children, 11-year-old daughter, Becky, who attends West Central, and their four-year-old son, Clifton.

Hopefully, the mystery concerning the two Greg Blacks has been eliminated.

Camera shy

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you stand one more letter about stupid clods and their cameras? Why do these jerks insist on taking your picture when you tell them in plain English that you don't wish to have your picture taken?

These creeps have followed me around hoping to catch me off-guard, yawning, sleeping or talking with food in my mouth—in the most awkward and unflattering poses imaginable.

I have even had my picture taken by a fellow houseguest as he was passing me in the hall on my way to the bathroom — hair in rollers, barefoot. The pictures ended up in his album for all the world to see.

This crummy behavior burns me up and I don't know what to do about it. Please, Ann, give me some suggestions. I would like to pass your reply along to several people.—Seething In Shamokin

DEAR S.S.: Unfortunately there isn't a darned thing you can do about these clods. Your only defense is to be alert to the lens hounds and keep your back to them whenever possible. (P.S. Snatching a horrible photo and ripping it up is no solution. The jerk has the negative.)

DEAR READERS: I want to share with you excerpts from a piece that appeared in the American Medical News recently. Every parent should read it carefully. Your children, starting in the fourth grade, are the kids under discussion. You don't believe it? Well, let me assure you the facts are correct.

About 25 percent of all fourth-grade children in the United States say they feel pressured by their friends to try drugs and alcohol.

By the time children reach the seventh grade, 60 percent say they feel pressure to try liquor and 50 percent say they feel pressure to try marijuana.

The survey, conducted by the classroom publication Weekly Reader, owned by the Xerox Corp., measured attitudes and perceptions of drug and alcohol use among some 100,000 children nationwide.

The study also revealed that many children, even as early as the fourth grade, believe some children their age have used hard drugs such as cocaine, LSD or "angel dust" (PCP).

The motivation for trying drugs and alcohol among young children was the desire to "feel older." Among those in the middle grades it was a desire to "fit in" with peers. Among high school students it was "to have a good time."

I am pleading with you parents to take this survey seriously. It tells us we are producing a generation of young people who are succumbing to peer pressure to try booze and drugs. This means you must make every effort to keep the lines of communication open, set a good example for your children and show them how to "have a good time" without getting involved with alcohol or drugs. This also means you must spend more time with your kids, know what they are doing in their leisure time—and with whom.

Inside Elmer's barn, a world of delights

COOPERS MILLS, Maine (AP) — In this sleepy little town between the capital and the coast, the scene is framed by totem poles.

There, amid old plastic barrels, deteriorating lobster traps and a flock of wandering sheep, stands Elmer's Barn, packed with everything from jewels to junk.

Inside, its proprietor, Elmer Wilson, sits on an old car seat, presiding over four floors crammed with motley merchandise that could put grandmother's attic to shame.

In between zig-zag paths lie chests of glass prisms, boxes of antique post cards, shelves of wooden duck decoys, cradles full of porcelain dolls, bags of shucked corn husks, and whatever else a connoisseur of knick-knacks desires.

Dozens of old violins hang from the ceiling next to the egg beaters. In a pile of books is a 1906 seed catalog. In cupboards under counters are hundreds of wooden eggs and spindles.

There's no cash register, but Wilson gives receipts. The king of castoffs, dressed in a T-shirt and pants held up by suspenders, doesn't take inventory or hit his customers with a high-pressure sales pitch.

"If I had a bigger house, I'd just keep filling it," Wilson says with a chuckle.

He says he loves everything in the barn and deliberately overprices some things so they won't sell. But they do.

"One time I sold everything in the building to an auction house," he says. Within weeks, he had combed enough barns and garages to fill the four floors again.

Modern postage stamps came into use in 1840.

Drunks, speeding blamed for deaths

AUSTIN (AP) — The highway slaughter continued in Texas on the last day of the Labor Day holiday weekend, raising the state's traffic death toll near the 51 fatalities that had been predicted by the Department of Public Safety.

At least 44 deaths were reported by midnight Monday. During the same 78-hour period last year, 50 people were killed on Texas highways and seven others died of injuries suffered over the weekend.

Of the fatalities reported by Monday night, 27 were victims of one-car accidents, including three people who were killed when a car struck trees in Travis County and two people who died when their car hit a bridge abutment near Waxahachie.

Among the deaths reported Monday were Kimberly Peden, 21, of Houston; David Todd Graves, 20, of Austin; and Clay Trailer of Austin, who died after their car ran off the road west of Austin, and was sheared in half when it hit two trees.

Wendy C. Campbell, 21, of Kerrville, was killed when two vehicles collided Monday afternoon just east of Ingram in Kerr County.

Patsy Pallas, 40, of Austin, died when her car ran off the road and into a pond Monday afternoon near Austin.

Yvette Valadez, 9, of Weslaco, was killed in a two-vehicle accident three miles west of Harlingen Monday. The accident also injured eight people.

James Coleman, 45, Mount Pleasant, died when his car ran off the road Monday north of Pine Mills in Wood County.

Damon Hughes Williams, 31, of Houston, was killed in a three-vehicle accident west of Austin on Monday. Six other people were injured in the accident.

Defense weak

Oilers need more blending

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler Coach Ed Biles is pleased with the blend of veterans and rookies he hopes will soon break a seven-game regular season losing string.

But it likely will take more of a blend of offense and defense for the Oiler to break out of their skid.

"We've had the influx of an excellent draft, new assistant coaches and a more experienced head coach," Biles said Monday in explaining the Oilers have an improved attitude despite the continuation of the losing string.

"Our veteran players are extremely hungry for some wins and they realize that we have drafted some talent."

Although Biles praised an overall good team attitude, the major improvement in performance has been on the offensive side of the field.

The Oilers offense put 38 points on the scoreboard Sunday against Green Bay but the defense allowed 41, including a 42-yard field goal by Jan Stenerud in overtime for the clincher.

The offense rolled up 498 total yards but the defense allowed 479, including a team record tying five touchdown passes by Green Bay quarterback Lynn Dickey.

"We've put in a lot of changes on defense and I've just got to have a lot of patience that in time we are going to get it done," Biles said. "There is still a degree of learning to get it done on defense."

"But I can't fault the effort of our defensive football team."

The Oilers invested heavily in the draft in offensive linemen and it has been reflected in immediate improvement. The defense, without the transfusion of high draft choices, is taking longer.

The Oilers have not won a regular season game since Sept. 19 when they edged Seattle 23-21. The Oilers lost six in a row after the NFL players' strike ended and also dropped all four exhibition games.

"There's no question that we got better and maybe they grew up a little in the second half," Biles said of his defensive unit. "They (Green Bay) got one touchdown and that came on a play where unfortunately, a young player slipped."

Dickey tossed his fifth touchdown pass of the game, a 74-yard pass-run play, to James Lofton, in the fourth quarter after rookie cornerback Steve Brown fell down during pursuit.

The Oilers' pass rush remained frail despite the fact that the Oilers were chasing relatively immobile Dickey, who played the game with severe headaches.

"You would always like to have a little more pass rush," Biles said. "Many times he (Dickey) was just going back and setting up and delivering the ball."

Earl Campbell rushed 123 yards on 21 carries and scored three touchdowns but left the game late in the fourth quarter with a bruised knee.

Head Wins Tournament

T.J. Head of Hereford won the Boys' 12-year-old singles championship in the Tri-State Tennis Tournament at Amarillo Monday. He defeated Lloyd Banks, 6-4, 6-3, in the title match. Blair Rogers of Hereford made it to the finals before losing to Chris Thrutchley of Borger, 7-6, 6-4.

Game, too

'Pokes win second half

WASHINGTON (AP) — Danny White and the Dallas Cowboys wrote a new ending to what was beginning to look like an old, familiar script.

For 30 minutes it was 1982 all over again for the Super Bowl-champion Washington Redskins before White rallied his team with three second-half touchdown passes and a 1-yard run for a 31-30 Dallas victory.

"It was kind of like two games out there. The first half, I don't think I ever saw a team play better than Washington," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

The Redskins, who whipped the Cowboys 31-17 in the National Conference championship last Jan. 22, took up on Monday night where they left off, opening a 23-3 halftime lead.

Joe Theismann ripped the Dallas secondary for 181 yards and a touchdown in the half, John Riggins ran for 64 yards and a score and Mark Moseley kicked field goals of 23, 30 and 39 yards.

White, who had completed just one of nine passes to that point, and the rest of the Cowboys were on the ropes. "We had terrible field position in the first half. "It was embarrassing for our offense," said White.

Landry's halftime speech to his team included the admonition to be "cool" and "play with your heads."

"We felt we had to keep up the tempo the second half," said Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs. "We didn't want to go into a shell; we wanted to keep working the way we had been working. I felt the first five or six minutes of the second half, we couldn't let anything happen."

Gibbs' halftime talk was prophetic.

The Cowboys struck the first two times they touched the ball, wide receiver Tony Hill beating cornerback Vernon Dean on a 75-yard touchdown pass and then cornerback Anthony Washington on a 51-yarder.

"On the first play, we adjusted and had Vernon covering man-to-man but he didn't hear us because of the crowd noise. Vernon thought he was getting help inside and he was all alone out there," said defensive captain Mark Murphy.

"The first pass to Hill was the play that turned it around," Theismann said. "It didn't kill us but it woke up the Cowboys."

The Redskins, trying to regroup, marched to the Dallas 14-yard line before the drive stalled on a 10-yard holding penalty against tight end Don Warren.

Moseley attempted a 31-yard field goal but was wide to the right, only his second miss in 27 attempts in the regular season dating back to 1981.

Moseley's miss was the opening the Cowboys needed. They marched 80 yards for the go-ahead score.

Tony Dorsett, who finished with 151 yards, including 77 on one play in the first half, picked up 27 yards in the go-ahead drive. He got 18 of them in one carry to the Washington 9 and Ron Springs ran it to the 1. White got the final yard himself, bootlegging it in around right end for a 24-23 Dallas lead with 6:59 to play.

Theismann, who completed 28 of 38 passes for 325 yards, tried to rally Washington — but cornerback Ron Fellows stepped in front of Charlie Brown, intercepted the ball and returned it 33 yards to the 4. Two plays later, White completed the Cowboys' scoring with a 1-yard pass.

Cornhuskers maintain top AP ranking

By The Associated Press
Nebraska strengthened its hold on the top spot in the Associated Press' first regular-season college Top Twenty football poll, while defending champion Penn State slipped from fourth place to 20th.

The Cornhuskers, which ripped Penn State 44-6 in the inaugural Kickoff Classic last week, took 44 of 50 first-place votes and 993 of a possible 1,000 points Monday from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Nebraska had 976 points in the preseason poll.

Oklahoma, which opens its season this weekend at Stanford, received three first-place votes and 868 points for second place. Texas, which gets under way Sept. 17 at Auburn, got two firsts and 865 points for the third spot.

Auburn, which opens its season this weekend at home against Southern Mississippi, received the other first-place vote and moved from fifth to fourth with 757 points.

Notre Dame, which opens at Purdue on Saturday, rose from sixth to fifth with 659 points and Michigan, which hosts Washington State in its opener, climbed from 10th to sixth with 593 points. However, Florida State slipped from seventh to 12th after barely beating East Carolina 47-46.

Ohio State, No. 9 in the preseason poll, replaced Florida State in seventh place with 586 points. The Buckeyes open at home against Oregon on Saturday.

North Carolina, a 24-8 winner over South Carolina, moved up from 11th to eighth with 568 points. Southern California, which plays host to Florida this weekend, slipped from eighth to ninth with 560 points.

Georgia, which knocked off UCLA 19-8, jumped from 15th to 10th with 528 points.

The Second Ten consists of Arizona, Florida State, LSU, Alabama, Southern Methodist, Iowa, Maryland, Florida, Washington and Penn State.

Bullard-Anderson team captures top honors in CC Member-Guest tourney

Reggie Anderson-Jim Bullard
Championship Flight

Jim Bullard of Hereford and Reggie Anderson of Amarillo teamed up for a 54-hole total of 198 to capture the top flight of the sixth annual Hereford Country Club Member-Guest Golf Tournament Monday.

The Bullard-Anderson team edged out Charles Skinner of Hereford and Dennis Richardson of Tyler by three strokes. Skinner had teamed with his son, Scott, to win the Bulls flights last year.

The teams played a low net ball on the first day and followed with a partnership scramble on Sunday and Monday. Bullard and Anderson opened with a 70 then followed with 65-63 to take the Bulls title. Tommy Bowling and Ken Hagar finished third with a 203.

Other flight winners included Don Davis of Hereford and Ron Davis of Bakersfield, Ca.; in the Stockers flight; Steve Nieman of Hereford and Ron Bartley of Lubbock in the Packers flight; Dwayne Cassels and Larry Daniel in the Feeders flight (won with coin flip over Lewis Block and Clay Richerson); and Bill Lyman of Hereford and Quinten Martin of Canyon in the Steers flight.

There were 40 teams in five flights for the annual tourney. The program included a "freeze-out derby" Sunday, bridge and gin games for the ladies, parties Saturday and Sunday nights and a brunch Monday morning.

Ten teams competed in the freeze-out derby, with pairings made on the 10 best and 10 highest scores Saturday. The team of Mike McWhorter and Bill Reinauer won the derby Sunday evening.

Numerous prizes and awards were presented during the holiday-weekend event. Stagner-Orsborn Buick offered a new car for a hole-in-one on Nov. 14 but there was no winner.

Virgil Marsh was tournament chairman. The tourney committee included Joan Coupe, Lewis Block, Tommy Bowling, John Stagner, Danny Boyer, Bill Davis, and Dwayne Cassels.

Tourney results by flights:

BULLS: J. Bullard-R. Anderson 7-65-63-198; C. Skinner-D. Richardson 7-64-67-201; Tommy Bowling-Ken Hagar 7-66-67-203; Kent Lindsey-Jerry Heller 7-69-65-205; J.A. Upsets greet first week of play in schoolboy ranks

By The Associated Press
Upsets greeted the first week of play for teams ranked in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll and the fallout rate was especially severe in Class 4A where four ranked teams lost season openers.

Houston Memorial in Class 5A, Fort Bend Willowridge in 4A, Panhandle in 2A and Bremond in A all retained their No. 1 billings but Decatur, the preseason favorite in Class 3A, was upset by Class 2A Boyd 25-18.

Littlefield won a close battle with Navasota to replace Decatur as the new Class 3A leader. Littlefield and Navasota polled nine first place votes each but Littlefield gained a slim 170-166 advantage in total points.

Second-ranked Gainesville,

No. 4 McKinney, No. 7 Brownwood and No. 8 Paris were Class 4A losers and all were replaced by the AP's panel of Texas sports writers and sportscasters.

The new 4A lineup No. 7 Jasper, No. 8 Corsicana, No. 9 Waxahachie and No. 10 Bay City.

Third-ranked Irving Nimitz and No. 10 Galveston Ball were losers among the Class 5A ranks. Nimitz lost a 24-21 decision to Richland Hills and dropped to No. 9 this week.

Galveston Ball lost a 14-7 decision to Bryan and was replaced in the poll by Midland Lee, which blasted Lubbock Coronado 38-7.

Fifth-ranked Refugio, the defending 3A champion, lost its opener to Sinton 14-7

Ruidoso race winner has Hereford ties

On A High, a 2 year-old quarterhorse owned by Jerry and Myrna Rheudasil, Preston Carter, and B.F. Phillips, Jr. of Lewisville, won the $2.5 million All America Futurity Monday at Ruidoso Downs, N.M. The horse won an even $1 million for its owners, some of whom have a Hereford connection.

Mrs. Rheudasil is the sister of Mrs. Norma Coffee of Hereford.

On A High outran a pair of longshots to the wire for the win in the world's richest race. Mr. Suspenders finished second, while Racy Roman was third. The winner paid $29.80, $16.20, and $7.20, while Mr. Suspenders paid $8.80 and $5.20, and Racy Roman paid $10.40. The win-ing time for the 440-yard dash was 22:08.

On A High almost failed to make the field for the race in the first place after tying two other horses for the final two spots in the field during qualifications. The horse then survived a court battle following a special draw to get into the race.
