GAS COMPANY TELLS MAYOR WORK TO BEGIN HERE IN AUGUST

Primary Election Saturday, July 28; Pledge Question is Hotly Debated

PANHANDLE --- PLAINS DRENCHED BY HEAVY RAINS

COUNTY JUDGE AND SHERIFF RACES FURNISH FIREWORKS IN SATURDAY'S CONTEST

Question of How Anti-Smith Men and Anti-Hoover Republicans Will Vote Very Puzzling; Republicans to Hold Convention On August Fourth to Select Their Candidates for November Election.

With only three days remaining until the first Democratic primary, Saturday, July 28, the local campaign has been gradually growing in intensity until it has now reached a white heat, and the last three days will witness some strenuous button-holing and wire pulling.

Main interest of course centers about the races for County Judge and Sheriff. There are three candidates for Judge and six for the office of Sheriff. Doggerate efforts are being made by all these candidates to at least nose into the second primary, and the outcome is problematical. The sheriff's race is especially hot, owing to the large number of candidates. Anything may happen in this contest, and every man in the race is conceded a chance by unbiased observers.

All county boxes will be open all day Saturday. Both Nos. One and Two, city boxes, will be maintained at the court house. In No. One E. B. Black and H. B. Webb will be the judges. In No. Two John Patton and A. M. Jones will preside. C. C. Acker is county chairman and in charge of the election.

In the state main interest seems to center about the lieutenant governor and senatorial races. Great uncertainty has prevailed this year as to the outcome of all contests owing to the lineup of the two national tickets and the Democratic pledge on the primary ballot. A

Snap and Song Injected Into This Luncheon

Beginning with a report of the Hereford Cemetery Association and ending with a glorious new song, "See your troubles in your old kit bag, and smile, smile, smile," over fifty business men ate their dinner and finished a session of short speeches, reports and discussions in exactly one hour Monday at the Cordova Hotel. Secretary Arnold had "camped on the job" by mail, phone and personal work until the Cordova was unable to seat the big crowd at the first table.

President Seliger presided and made a short report of the present conditions of the Cemetery Association. He said the trees were aging nicely, although damaged somewhat by hail. One complaint the directors had to make, he said, was against the owners of stock allowed to range over the cemetery. The shrubbery and trees are being badly damaged by these cattle and horses. Mr. Seliger said it had been decided to prosecute the owners of these animals to the full extent of the law, if they did not keep the animals out of the cemetery in future. "We cannot maintain a modern cemetery and use it as a cow range at the same time," he added.

Secretary Arnold announced that the owners of the Cordova Hotel would make a detailed report of the proposed improvements at next Monday's luncheon, which will also be held at that hotel.

President Seliger discussed the coming bond tax election, set for August 9, and said a special com-

WATER-LOGGED BIRDS CAUGHT IN RAINSTORM

The quantity and the wetness of the recent rainfall over this country was emphatically illustrated Monday afternoon when an eagle and a couple of hawks were so drenched they could not use their wings and submitted lamely to capture.

This unusual story, together with the birds, arrived in Hereford Tuesday with W. H. (Bill) Fallwell. Mr. Fallwell, with his son, Elbert, and brother, Claridge, are putting in a big wheat field south of Adrian, and they were traveling through the heavy rain when they noticed the birds on the ground, apparently wounded. Upon examination they were found to simply be water-logged and unable to fly.

The incident is extraordinary in local annals. And there is no doubt but that Mr. Fallwell could dispose of the birds at a profit to some zoo or recreation park.

GIN AT STAKE

Farmers Urged to Give Cotton Acreage Data So Gin May Be Held and Improved for Crop.

If the cotton farmers of this gin and see it modernized to meet every requirement, it will be necessary for them to lend their cooperation to the Hereford Chamber of Commerce officials in estimating the acreage here and giving their views on the prospects for the future.

This is the opinion of officers of the organization, following an exchange of correspondence between the club and the Guthrie Cotton Oil Company, of Guthrie, Oklahoma, owners of the gin.

The matter of preparing the gin for the coming season was discussed with the owners by letter, and their reply indicated that they wanted to know about the acreage hereabouts this year and the probable yield. They stated frankly that they had made no money out of their venture to date, and hesitated at spending the money necessary to bring the gin up to date without some assurance that they could expect a return on their investment.

It will be remembered that the gin was established at an unfortunate period in the cotton industry all over the South. The first year was an unfavorable one on account of cold and late weather. The second year the price was so low that cotton farmers everywhere were discouraged. Last season was so dry that the cotton did not get a fair start.

But 1928 tells a different story

LAWHON IS KILLED

Stunned by Lightning Flash, Falls On Wagon Wheel; Was Employee of John L. Wilson. Body Taken to Hoxie, Oklahoma, for Burial.

Zacarah Lawhon, aged 34, an employee of the John L. Wilson ranch, 35 miles northwest of Hereford, sustained a fractured skull about four o'clock last Saturday afternoon, and was brought to Hereford about nine that night, and died at the county hospital at 9:00 a. m. Sunday.

It is presumed that Mr. Lawhon was stunned by lightning and fell from his wagon on the wheel, cutting a deep gash in his forehead and rendering him unconscious. He had been plowing, but had unhitched his horses and hooked them to a wagon when the unfortunate accident occurred. When the horses came to the house his absence was discovered and he was found lying in the rain and mud where he had fallen.

Mr. Lawhon is survived by his wife and a five-year-old daughter, who were with him at the time of the tragedy. He came here about two months ago from Hoxie, Ark. L. C. Robbins, an uncle of the widow, with Mrs. Robbins, arrived Tuesday night and Wednesday the body was accompanied by them to Hoxie, Arkansas, for burial. They will be met at Hoxie by T. R. Robbins, father of Mrs. Lawhon.

HURT BY FIRE HOSE

Lon Boyd, Fire Truck Driver, Sustains Painful Bruises While On Practice Drill. Back On the Job Early This Week.

Lon Boyd, or "Dad" as he is affectionately called by those who know him, driver of the Hereford fire truck and custodian of the fire headquarters, suffered painful injuries last Wednesday afternoon when he was tripped in making a practice hose connection.

Mr. Boyd went out with the regular Wednesday practice and was showing the boys how to make a real quick and accurate connection when the accident occurred. His foot caught in the hose before the truck had stopped and he was thrown on his face to the ground. No bones were broken but it was necessary to take several stitches in his lip and chin at the county hospital, and he was very sorely shaken up and disgruntled.

Mr. Boyd is back on the job, looking like he had engaged in a scrap with a wild cat, but otherwise sound and still wearing his usual cheery smile.

Splendid Foundation Work Being Done Here By Dairymen and County Agent; Testing of Cows and Culling 'Boarders'

Foundation work in agricultural and live stock development of an enduring nature is now being worked out in Deaf Smith, Randall and Potter counties through the recent organization of Cow Testing Associations among the dairymen. Potter county has its own association, while the Deaf Smith-Randall County Cow Testing Association now boasts a total of 21 members, with ten of these in Deaf Smith county. Carl Marsh, official tester, co-operating with the county agents of the two counties, is doing some good work that is rapidly separating the "boarders" from the real producers, and soon the owners of cows entered in the association records will be able to weed out the animals that do not

Piping For Gas Mains Expected August Tenth

Natural gas is assured for Hereford this summer, and work of laying the line from Canyon and in piping the city should begin during the first half of August!

That is the cheering information brought home by Mayor E. S. Ireland, who made a trip to Amarillo Wednesday, and conferred with gas company officials. Mr. Ireland was told that the project will go through without a doubt; that pipe for streets of Hereford had been ordered and was due here about August 10; that when it arrived it would be met by a work crew all ready to rush the work of installation, and that when the construction crew gets on the job of laying the main line from Canyon they will "push 'em down and pick 'em up" at the rate of two miles per day.

Mr. Ireland ascertained that six inch mains will be laid in the business district and to the high school building, reductions being made in the size of the mains in various residential districts as the density of population determined.

This will end the uncertainty that has prevailed about the coming winter in the minds of so many Hereford residents. Fuel plans for the future may now be definitely considered.

Another modern convenience for the people of Hereford!

Dangerous Fire Coolly Handled; Boys Rewarded

Hereford's new fire fighting equipment and well trained volunteer crew received a real baptism of fire Monday morning about 10:30 o'clock when the G. W. Brumley wholesale oil and gas station, composed of two well-wooded rooms together, caught fire while the contents of a tank car was being pumped into the standing tanks on the grounds. The fire originated when the electric switch was thrown out. In an instant the

MAIL BOXES NEEDED

Free Delivery In City Lags Until At Least Eighty-Five Per Cent of Citizens Put In Mail Boxes, As Uncle Sam Has Demanded.

If the citizens of Hereford want the free mail delivery recently authorized, it will be necessary for at least eighty-five per cent of them to put up mail boxes, stated Postmaster Donner this week.

Mr. Donner explains that the postal requirements is that delivery cannot start until fifteen days after the inspection shows this percentage of boxes are up. A recent inspection revealed that only about fifty-eight per cent of the boxes had been installed.

A misunderstanding among some of the people about the extent of the free delivery may account for the delay in putting up boxes. The rumor is current that mail will be delivered only on streets with pavement.

Postmaster Donner states that this is in error. The free delivery area embraces all territory between Third and Tenth streets, and between Twenty-Five Mile Avenue and the County Hospital.

Mr. Donner said that many citizens were complaining about the delay, but that he could not put on the service until the people put up their mail boxes. W. B. Christian, who has been an extra man at the post office for some time, will be the temporary carrier when the service does begin.

Have YOU put in your mail box?

GIRL HOG RAISER

Miss Elizabeth Chapman Shows Way in Handling "Ton Litter" Contest Work In State Contest. Stands Good Chance Of Winning.

Elizabeth Chapman, living in the northern part of Deaf Smith county, is showing the way in the matter of pork production. Miss Chapman who is fourteen years of age and a senior in high school, entered the club members "ton-litter" contest, fostered by the Progressive Farmer and bids fair, according to hog raisers to capture the coveted first place in the entire state of Texas.

From a Duroc-Jersey sow raised by the young lady, on March 6 this number she has raised eleven and the contest closes August 8, at which time the pigs will be weighed.

County Agent Dunkle states that this is one of the finest examples of balanced ration feeding that has come under his observation. In the place of corn the pigs have been fed maize chops which is fast

NO VALUATION RAISES HERE FOR ROAD TAX

In last week's Brand the defeat of the proposed fifteen cent road tax, the reporter for The Brand wrote this paragraph:

"Proponents of the move blamed lack of accurate information for the defeat of the proposed tax. Sufficient funds to maintain roads must be obtained, they say, and the only way for this to be done now is to raise tax valuations. Half the funds obtained this way, however, must go to the state so that property must be taxed 30c on the $100 valuation in order to leave for the county the 15c asked for in the tax election."

The publisher of The Brand hastens to correct this statement, which is inaccurate in several particulars and, in the opinion of the Commissioners Court, leaves the impression that the court itself is determined to force this tax upon the people. "The

RURAL BOOM!

Northwest and Western Portions of County Settling Up and Wheat Land Being Broken.

Recent reports received through abstractors, real estate men and those who keep in close touch with rural developments would indicate that 1928 will show the greatest agricultural settlement and development work in this county that has been recorded in years.

Two sections of the county that have heretofore lagged somewhat in population and farming activity have suddenly come to the front this year, and hundreds of acres are now going under the plow in the north and western portions of the county, and in between, where before only cattle pastures and long stretches of unoccupied land has been the general rule.

Up in Block K-11, in the north-western tier of the county, and in surrounding blocks, there has been unusual activity, owing to unusual wheat conditions, and a veritable "wheat boom" has struck that section. W. E. Tomlinson, ex-mayor of Belton, Texas, recently purchased two sections in this territory from Thomas & Heardson of Dallas, and now has tractors working day and night putting the land in shape for fall wheat. All of this land lies in Deaf Smith county, except 35 acres, which is in Oldham county.

H. H. and W. G. Brunson of Potter county have also recently purchased three and a half sections in this same territory and had tractors at work breaking out sod before the papers were all closed

Beginning Friday, July 20, and continuing on through into Tuesday, July 24, a total of four and one-tenth inches of rain fell within the city limits of Hereford. The Brand is indebted to E. E. Ramsey for these figures. Mr. Ramsey has maintained a weather record for nearly twenty years.

While this total was run up within the city limits, there were numerous small sectors of the surrounding territory where the rainfall amounted to six inches or more, and, strange to relate, there were a few isolated spots where there was hardly a sprinkle. But taken as a whole, the entire territory comprising Eastern New Mexico, the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma has been very thoroughly soaked during this series of rains, and the ground is in the best condition for row crops and for fall wheat planting in recent years to this date.

From the best estimates obtainable the wheat crop is about three-fourths cut. The remaining one-fourth is wheat that matured late. There will be some loss to these growers through the recent heavy rains, especially where there were strong winds, and through loss of time and idleness of crews and equipment. But this loss will be comparatively small while the prospects for row crops can hardly

West Hereford To Boast New Sewer Service

Another big step forward in making Hereford a modern city in every respect was announced this week by the City Commission. A new sewer line is to be put in as soon as the weather permits, to serve that section of the city lying west of Twenty-Five Mile Avenue.

A big ditching machine has been on the ground since last Friday ready to go, and when the mud dries up active work will start at once.

The line will run from about First Street north to near the rear of the L. F. Borden home and will serve several hundred people and fill a need that has been recognized for many years. Right of way across private property has been secured and all that population part of the city of Hereford west of the Avenue will be afforded modern sewage facilities.

"The Commission feels that this thickly settled part of Hereford has the right to demand such service," said Mayor Ireland. "We are trying to serve all sections of the city alike. Of course there are some isolated homes that cannot be reached because the cost of installation, with limited connections, would be prohibitive. But where the lines will serve enough people to justify it, the city will make every effort to bring the facilities of the municipality to their doors."

This sewerage service to West Hereford will go a long way toward increasing property values in that section and in making the residents there appreciate the fact that they live in a modern little city, progressive in all things.

Health

HEALTH IS THE GREATEST SINGLE ASSET A MAN OR WOMAN can possess. A local philosopher hit it accurately this week when he remarked: "The average man these days spends the first half of his life tearing down the physical structure that he was endowed with at birth. And then spends the last half of his life trying to build it up again."

Polo

A POLO CLUB FOR HEREFORD? WELL, WHY NOT? HEREFORD now boasts the finest nine hole golf course in the Panhandle, a course that lies on the highway and daily brings words of praise from tourists and travelers. We have a baseball nine that makes any of them travel to win. And many other sporting and entertaining attractions that make life worth while. Polo is a game that demands physical condition, quick thinking, superb horsemanship, instant decision.

Just another worth-while attraction. Something to help keep the young folk entertained and interested in their home town. Something else to cause strangers within our gates to exclaim: "Why, this is a regular little city!"

That Four Feet

JUST WHAT THAT EXTRA FOUR FEET ON OUR MAIN STREETS means to traffic congestion has been aptly described in these words: "It changed the street as much as the addition of an inch to your nose."

School Curtains

WARNING TO THE BRAND AND THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE from points in this section has been received that the annual influx of rural school curtain grafters is now on. Many Panhandle towns are organizing against this custom, which usually costs the schools too much for their curtains, while the merchants in surrounding towns have to pay the bill. If curtains are needed, they can usually be bought outright at a much cheaper rate than through the medium of covering them with advertisements.

Trades Day

IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT SECRETARY ARNOLD OF THE Chamber of Commerce makes a go of a Trades Day in Hereford. It is badly needed. Surrounding towns are making it pay. Hereford has made it pay in the past. A good, live Trades Day, or the lack of one, is simply the difference between a merchant who is studying his business daily and "up on his toes" all the time and one who sits around sleepily and waits for trade to come to his door.

One Big Family

THE TOWN IS FULL OF VISITORS THESE SUMMER DAYS. Coming and going in every direction, visiting local friends and relatives. DEAR FRIENDS:

A man who lives right here in Hereford sent in two suits day before yesterday to be cleaned and pressed. Nothing unusual about that.

Mr. Orr asked him over the telephone when he wanted the suits and he said he wasn't in any hurry. "The suits are in the shop, and we had to throw water in his face to bring him to."

Mr. Orr says that's the first order we've had since the spring of 1926 that the customer didn't want the work done "right away."

But we're so used to quick service that it's no achievement at all any more. We can clean and press it. A rush order doesn't scare us a bit.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SUBJECT: The First Foreign Missionaries.
SCRIPTURE: Acts 13:1-52.

The spread of Christianity up to this time in Apostolic history has been by the most casual means. Christians going from city to city would tell the simple story of Christ. Thus were the first Christians made. In this lesson the program of Christianity takes on a new aspect.

Up to the time of this lesson the Christian effort has been a defensive propaganda. Now it becomes aggressive. In the city of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians, foreign missionary enterprise began.

The conviction nurtured by the Spirit of God grew that the Gospel should be preached to other people also. Thus were set apart five missionaries for this purpose. Take a glance at the personnel of the first foreign missionary enterprise. First of all was Barnabas, the man who gave Paul a chance after conversion.

Symeon, called Niger, comes next in the list. We hear but little of him after this. Along with him are Lucius of Cyrene and Manaen. Briefest comments on these two will constitute all that shall be said of them. The first was of the same city as that of the men who bore the cross for Jesus when he fainted on the way to Calvary. So the second Cyrenian, though differently of course, was called to bear the cross of Christ.

Manaen was the foster brother of Herod the Tetrarch. While his foster brother persecuted Christianity he was being set apart for its defense. The last but not greatest name in the list was that of Paul who shall with Barnabas outstrip the rest in foreign missionary effort.

Ordination accomplished, they proceeded to Cyprus, the home of Barnabas. Those who have access to the National Geographic Magazine will find some local color for this lesson by reading in this month's issue the array of facts presented there under the title, "Unspoiled Cyprus." In location it lies just off the Syrian Coast of the Mediterranean Sea. The traditional birthplace of Venus, the Grecian goddess, an ancient exporter of copper, once well forested, and an exchange point of civilization, an Isle of polyglot population, it is significant that foreign missionary effort should have been directed there.

If one desired to get an unspoiled vision of Bible lands, he could find it in Cyprus today more successfully than elsewhere in the world. There the ancient ploughman coaxes along his oxen in the fields and the loom hums as in the centuries ago. There things modern have made but slight inroads into the crust of the ages past.

But Christianity made its inroads into Cyprus through the efforts of Paul and Barnabas. Here the apostles approached their task through the Jewish Synagogues, and here, after the rejection by the Jews, they shook the dust from their feet and turned to the Gentiles. Thus it was at Cyprus that foreign missionary effort not only left the Continent for the Islands of the Sea, but here also it turned toward its efforts among the Gentiles.

Task done at Cyprus the missionaries returned to Antioch from whence they set out. Let us conclude with the description of their return as recorded in Scriptures: "And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost." The adventure began with the initiative of the Holy Spirit and ended with its benediction.

Republican Convention

—A Republican County Convention will be held in the County Court Room at 3:00 p. m., August 4th, for the purpose of electing County and Precinct Chairmen; to select candidates for the several county offices, and transact such other business as may come before the convention. All Republicans in the county (ladies especially) are urged to be present.

County Chairman

ELECTION SATURDAY

recent ruling by the Attorney General as published in the daily press was to the effect that any voter had the right to scratch the name of any candidate and to write in the name of his choice, and that local election boards should count the ballot. Heretofore, in primary elections, most county election officials have thrown out such ballots as being "mutilated."

The greatest confusion of all has grown out of the Democratic pledge printed at the top of the ballots, which reads: "I am a Democrat, and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary." Jed Adams, Democratic state chairman, and other old line leaders declare this pledge absolutely binding for the entire ticket and that there is no such thing as a "Hoover Democrat."

On the other hand, Thos. B. Love, candidate for lieutenant governor, who is opposed to Al Smith, with other leaders, claims the pledge is not binding except upon actual nominees in the first primary. Judge J. W. Crudginton, of Amarillo, also an anti-Smith man, in an article in the News, claims that the pledge does not effect Smith and the state electors, as they have already been named in separate convention, and that the wording of the pledge, "nominees of this primary," is clear and self explanatory. He maintains that any Democrat may vote in the primary and then vote as he pleases in the general election, due to the fact that Smith's name and the presidential electors are not carried on the primary ballot. Just how the anti-Smith Democrats and anti-Hoover Republicans will line up in the primary provides an interesting and absorbing study for the student of current political history.

Republican Convention.

In this issue of The Brand will be found a call for a Republican county convention to be held in the county court room at 3:00 o'clock, August 4, for the purpose of electing county and precinct chairmen; to select candidates for the several county offices, etc. H. H. Boardman, who was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of E. L. Donner, when the latter was named postmaster, signed the call. Local Republicans explain that the county convention plan was adopted rather than precinct elections at this time, owing to the fact that there are only three precinct chairmen now in office.

Saturday promises fireworks galore, and a study of the returns next week may bring some surprising and unexpected figures.

Christian Meeting Is Powerful and Effective

Revival meetings held by the Rev. J. W. Boutlinghouse at the First Christian church this week have been exceptionally powerful in the calibre and interest of the sermons delivered, and in the splendid singing supporting the evangelist. Those who have been fortunate enough to hear the Rev. Boutlinghouse are much impressed with the message he brings and the manner of its delivery.

The attendance at the services have been very good considering the continued rainy weather, but indications were that the week would see cleared skies and sunshine and an opportunity afforded the people as a whole to take advantage of this unusual chance to hear a gospel preacher of such tremendous spiritual vitality and platform ability.

Archie Dean Is Champion Wheat Raiser This Year

Archie Dean, of Deaf Smith county, holds a record for wheat production this year, says E. E. Fridley of the Great West Mill & Elevator Company. Mr. Dean has already shipped five cars of wheat through the concern, besides a large quantity sold to the Harrison Elevator. He still has 400 acres of standing wheat to harvest. Mr. Dean had a total of 1300 acres in wheat this year. He reports a fair average over the fields as a whole, with some splendid yields in spots and some poor ones in others.

Rev. Cloyd Is Honored By Baylor University

WACO, July 23.—A Hereford man has accepted appointment to serve as a member of the Speakers Bureau, established at Waco headquarters of the Greater Baylor University campaign to raise $2,000,000 in the state at large. Members will be called upon to speak on various occasions to promote the campaign.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hereford, one of the outstanding speakers of the West Texas section, and prominent in denominational activities of the state, has accepted such an appointment and will begin his speaking tour in the Hereford community early this fall.

BRUMLEY-BAKER NUPTIALS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brumley was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock when their attractive daughter, Miss Goldie, and Mr. John Allen Baker, of Mineral Wells, were united in marriage. Rev. Thurman Morgan presiding over the ceremony.

Only the immediate family of the bride and groom were present. The groom's mother and three sisters of Mineral Wells, and two brothers of Canyon attended.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Baker left for a wedding trip to Mineral Wells and other North Texas points, after which they will be at home in Bowina, Texas, where Mr. Baker will be principal of the school and Mrs. Baker will teach with him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Baker are graduates of the W. T. S. T. C., getting their degrees last year.

HOME FROM VACATION.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the Baptist church, and family returned overland Tuesday morning at 2:00 o'clock from a two weeks vacation trip in Central Texas. "We slipped in, rather than drove in," said Mr. Cloyd, laughingly, "as the roads were so muddy we thought we never would get here."

MRS. E. B. BLACK HOSTESS.

foundations of the building were blazing and the tank began to hiss. It was simply a matter of minutes until a terrific explosion would occur and surrounding structures including the Harrison elevator and Rockwell Brothers Lumber Company yards would be enveloped. It's the greatest bunch of boys in the world."

The crowd that gathered immediately sensed the danger and stood at respectful distance from the scene.

It took cold nerve to fight that fire, but Chief Dow Mercer and his youngsters coolly walked in, took their stations and went to work. The chemical Foamite, powerful smothering mixture, was first used but the heat was so intense and gathering force so quickly that Chief Mercer put heavy pressure behind his nozzles and threw streams of cooling water on the floor and grimly awaited results. Gradually the water lowered the temperature, the danger point was passed and soon the fire was out.

Mr. Mercer and every man of his crew are deeply touched by this substantial and heartfelt appreciation of their work and desire to express their feeling publicly through The Brand.

It was a nery piece of work on the part of the boys, and Mr. Mercer was the proudest man in Hereford after it was all over. "Not a man flinched," he said. "They be equalled by any previous year.

HEAVY RAINS

The rain of last Friday was largely local, being confined to a strip north and south from town and being only a few miles wide. But Saturday afternoon a veritable flood descended, covering a much larger territory through this section and including large sections all over the Panhandle. Sunday was a dreary, dripping twenty-four hours and it appeared as though the Weather Man's spigot had become jammed and it never would stop. Intermittent showers continued on through Monday and Monday night. About five o'clock Monday afternoon another furious, driving downpour occurred, covering the largest territory of any of the series of rains. The streets were rivers, the flat roofs of downtown store buildings sprung new and surprising leaks and an awe-inspiring electrical and thunder storm accompanied the moisture. The local electric service was crippled for several hours in a section of the city by these blasts, and numerous reports were received of stunned animals and close calls from bolts throughout the country districts.

The clouds were still threatening somewhat and hanging about Wednesday and Thursday mornings, but indications were that the rainy spell was over for the time at least. The roads during all this time have been almost impassable and road traffic congestion had Wednesday, however, there was a noticeable improvement in road conditions and by Thursday traffic was proceeding almost on normal schedule.

Aside from the damage done wheat growers, the value of this rainfall can hardly be estimated. Now crops are unusually good, the ground is soaked as it has not been for two years, a tremendous acreage in wheat for this fall is assured, and all everyone has to do right now is to buckle down, work overtime and look forward to the greatest crop prospects for 1929 this country has faced in years.

RURAL DOOM

up. This makes five and a half sections almost in a body that is going under the plow. This is the part of the county where Dr. Gist and brother of Amarillo have such fine wheat.

Out in the northwest part of the county W. H. Fallwell and son, Elbert, and Mr. Fallwell's brother, Claridge, are breaking out a vast acreage for wheat this fall.

Carter Brothers of Plainview have broken out several thousand acres of sod and even started a small inland town named "Carterville," which is located about 42 miles northwest of Hereford. They are putting in a filling station, store and other small town development work. It is understood that Pete Collier has erected a new elevator at Adrian.

On Harrison Highway. Westward, toward the New Mexico border, activity is also noted. C. M. Brown has just completed a magnificent 8-room brick veneered home on the Highway, a few miles this side of the line, and twenty-one miles north of Friona. He is said to be erecting a filling station and general merchandise store, and has two sections in wheat. Many from New Mexico are said to be crossing the line and breaking out syndicate land in that neighborhood. One significant feature of this movement is the fact that most of the purchases are made on the crop-payment plan.

It looks like the long deferred settlement of the northern and western portions of this county has finally arrived and that increased activity is the order of the day from here on.

taking the place of Indian corn in the matter of hog raising. Kafir corn, feterita and other grain sorghums which are produced in such abundance are of equal value, according to Mr. Dunkle. In addition to the grain chops the pigs are fed a protein supplement of one pound each day. This supplement includes tankage, cotton seed meal, wheat shorts, bone meal, ground alfalfa and ground oats, and Miss Chapman has adhered strictly to the balanced ration throughout the feeding period of 150 days. She has had entire charge of this project and is really an expert in the matter of hog raising.

In addition to her chance to win the substantial cash prize and attendant honors, Miss Chapman will realize considerable money on her swine venture and this experiment of a matter of mixed rations is causing hog raisers all over Deaf Smith county to give her a great deal of attention. Miss Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chapman who are pioneer settlers in Deaf Smith county.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

mitted to work on it would be named at once.

The diners were advised that an Employment Bureau for the benefit of the farmers would be hereafter maintained in the offices of the Secretary in the City Hall. All those farmers needing help, or men seeking work will be brought together in this Bureau.

County Agent Dunkle reported that officials and superintendents of departments had been named for the County Fair and that the exact dates for the Fair would be given out next Monday.

The question of a regular monthly Trades Day was talked over at some length. The general sentiment seemed to favor the idea. A vote was taken and the ayes had it. Secretary Arnold stated that the question would be handled through the new Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, which he was now organizing.

Rev. J. W. Boultinghouse, who is conducting a revival meeting at the First Christian church, spoke briefly, expressing his appreciation in meeting with the men of Hereford who had civic pride and the right idea of progress and development. He told a story that tickled the crowd. He said a Borger oil man died and went to Heaven. St. Peter met him at the gate and told him he had so many Borger men up there he did not want any more—they were about to ruin the place. "Let me in," said the new arrival, "and I will get rid of all of those fellows."

St. Peter took a chance and allowed him to enter. The latest recruit then passed a quiet tip down the line that there had been an oil strike in Hell, and within a few minutes there was a stampede for the new oil fields. Finally the schemer himself started out. "Where are you going?" inquired St. Peter. "Guess I will go along, too," replied the Borger man. "You know, there MIGHT be some truth in that rumor after all."

Rev. Boultinghouse's singer, Mr. Sparks, was asked to sing a number, but instead recited a short poem concerning Kentucky moonshiners and snakes that was keen and which got a great hand from the crowd.

Mr. Parker told of a letter received from the Guthrie, Oklahoma, Cotton Oil Company about the local gin. Whereupon some wag in the bunch called out: "I would not stand for that if I were you." Mr. Parker stood the chaffing good naturedly and replied that there are two constructions to be placed upon the word "gin" and he was strictly interested in a cotton gin. Details given in the letter are carried in another column of this paper.

Arlie Dean was introduced by E. E. Fridley as the champion local wheat grower of the year, and received an ovation.

Carl Marsh, official cow tester for the Potter-Randall-Deaf Smith county Cow Testing Association, made a brief report of his work to date. Complete details are to be published soon. County Agent Dunkle introduced four of the five local boys who will enter the cow judging contest at College Station next week, after which Secretary Arnold called for a song to end it with, stating that he wanted to hear "all those high tenors and whisky basses," and the luncheon ended in happy vein.

Member Paving Crew Is Hurt When Hit By Car

R. W. Crosswhite, member of the paving crew now at work in Hereford, was struck by a car on Third Street about noon Tuesday and sustained painful bruises on one ankle. He was treated at the hospital and an X-Ray examination made of his foot, but no bones were found to be broken.

Powelson's Top Shop Is Closed for Time Being

Powelson's Top Shop, located in the old McMinn building on the southwest corner of Main and Third, was closed Monday for an indefinite period, after twenty years service to the people of Hereford and vicinity, while Allen Powelson takes a badly needed rest and vacation. Mr. Powelson announced that he had given up his lease on the building. Information concerning the new tenants is not yet obtainable.

Mr. and Mrs. Powelson left overland Wednesday for an indefinite time and indefinite itinerary. "I am tired out and need a long rest," Mr. Powelson stated, "and my wife and myself intend to travel around wherever the notion strikes us until we are thoroughly rested up and have enough, or get homesick, and then we will come home and go to work again."

It is his intention, Mr. Powelson said, to reopen the Top Shop upon his return, in another location, with probably another line of business in connection with it. Mr. Powelson's vaccine business will be handled by Ezra Norton during the time of his vacation trip.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

BE IT REMEMBERED, That a special meeting of the City Commission of the City of Hereford, Texas, was held in said City, at the City Hall, on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1928, at 8:00 o'clock a. m., with the following members present: E. S. Ireland, Mayor; and Commissioners J. O. Newell and C. H. Dyar, at which meeting the following proceedings were had: Commissioner C. H. Dyar offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, T. E. Selgier and 115 other property tax-paying voters of this City, being a number equal to more than ten per cent of the total number of votes cast at the last regular municipal election of said City, have filed with the City Secretary a petition that the City Commission submit to the qualified tax-paying voters of said City, at an election to be held in accordance with law for the purpose, the question of whether or not a municipal band shall be established and maintained by said City, and

WHEREAS, the said City Commission has examined the said petition and the signatures thereto, and has ascertained and here records the fact that the said petition is sufficient, and is signed by the number of qualified property tax-paying voters of said City required by law to require the submission of said question to the qualified tax-paying voters of said City; and

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the City Commission, Thursday, the 26th day of August, 1928, is a

Tulia Baseball Team to Tackle Locals Sunday

The Hereford Whiteface baseball team has it in for old J. P. Puy—they have not been able to play ball in so long that they will have to learn all over again.

For the second time last Sunday a game scheduled with the fast Harley Sadler outfit had to be called on account of the flood. The boys loafed around all day, figuring out just how much they would have licked the visitors. But that was poor compensation for a real workout.

Next Sunday, with permission of the Weather Man, they hope to get another crack at the Tulia bunch, who walloped them a few weeks ago. The game is to be played here, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, and the local hopefuls expect to face Lefty Ward, ex-Bronx twirler. And they expect to beat him, too, behind the pitching of Royal and Carmichael.

Don't forget the date—next Sunday—and the hour—8:30.

proper time for holding said election;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Commission of the City of Hereford, Texas, in Deaf Smith County:

SECTION I. That there be, and there is hereby ordered a special election, to be participated in by the qualified property tax-paying voters of the City of Hereford, Texas, to be held on Thursday, the 9th day of August, 1928, between the hours of 8:00 o'clock A. M. and 7:00 o'clock P. M., at the City Hall, in said City, for the purpose of determining the proposition of whether or not the said City shall establish and hereafter maintain a municipal band.

SECTION II. The vote at said election shall be upon an official ballot, submitting clearly the said proposition, and the same shall be expressed upon the ballot as follows:

"For the establishing and maintaining a Municipal Band."

"Against the establishing and maintaining a Municipal Band."

SECTION III. Said special election shall be held and conducted at the City Hall in said City of Hereford, and H. B. Webb and J. H. Pitman are hereby appointed Judges of said Election. The manner of holding said election and making returns thereof shall be in accordance with the ordinances of said City, and the laws of the State of Texas governing general elections, and returns of said Election shall be addressed to the Mayor of the City of Hereford, and delivered in accordance with law.

SECTION IV. The City Secretary of Hereford is hereby ordered and directed to give notice of said election by causing a copy of this ordinance to be published in The Hereford Brand, a newspaper published in said city, once each week for two consecutive weeks, and by posting notices of said election at

by Edison Marshall

"Did you see it—when it passed our door?" he was crying. "You know what it was—just as I know, too. There's no use of pretending any more. It was there and I saw it, and so did you. And I'll leave this house tomorrow!" He seemed to be talking to himself rather than to us. "We can keep the arrangements we've got and Vilar can tend to 'em. I'll go home tomorrow for good and all! And Vilar can stay with his wench if he likes."

Ernest stopped beside him. "We will remember that word—at a better time," he promised. Then he whirled to me. "The things got away, but this is one thing more I want to do before I go to bed. I want to look in Ahmad Das' room—just to see if he's in bed and asleep, as he ought to be."

"So we took the candle and went on back into the main hall. Then we mounted a flight of stairs. At a little room clear at the end of the corridor we stopped to knock. No answer came, so we knocked again. Then we pushed open the door. Ahmad Das was not in his room."

His bed had not been slept in. "Does it mean anything to you?" Ernest asked me.

"Nothing whatever—any more than the rest of this devilish mystery means. Do your suspect—that Ahmad Das is perpetrating something?"

"I suspect nothing. I only want you to recall a few little points that will undoubtedly be a great source of pleasure to you." He spoke with a grim humor. "You must have heard stories—every man has—of men shooting at hyenas in Africa, wounding them, tracing them to the hunts of natives and then finding—not a hyena—but a black man, dying, with a bullet in him."

"I've heard the stories and they don't make good sense."

"And maybe you haven't heard of the theory of the transmigration of souls?"

"Every man of education has heard it," I replied.

"If you have, just remember these little points. One of them is that the transmigration of souls—that the soul of an animal can live again in the body of a man—is a rather current belief in India. Ahmad Das is of Hindu blood. And he was born at the same hour that my father's tiger was killed."

He laughed grimly and gave me a cigarette. Then we walked out into the hall.

Ernest and I found the elder Hayward in the library. He stood shivering before the faint coals that had been the fire. All of us leaped when the front door opened.

It was Southley and he carried a lantern. His clothes were simply drenched. He wore no hat and his white hair was stringing about his worn face and the water poured from him. His wet face glistened in the candle-light.

"What's this?" he asked.

"Just a little midnight session," his son answered. "Tell us first why you went out in the rain with no coat?"

"The levee is breaking," he announced simply.

Only his son seemed to understand. I looked up from the work of tying my shoes, procured in my room on the way to the library. We made a silent circle in the dim light.

"What does it mean?" Hayward cried. "Does it mean we'll be drowned?"

He spoke harshly, but the announcement steadied me. Floods were material and could be faced. They couldn't run and hide behind the curtains.

"Nothing as bad as that," Southley answered. "Of course it means a flood, but by no conceivable circumstances can the waters reach the top of the hill where this house stands. But we'll be cut off from civilization—for days. The water will sweep all around the hill, flood the railroad bed, and fill all the low places—eight feet deep. We won't be able to reach the heights across the valley."

Hayward seemed to leap toward him. He simply appeared to break before our eyes. His voice rose shrilly and he shook his arm in Southley's face.

"Then get me out tonight!" he screamed. "Get me away from this house while there's yet time!"

"I'm afraid it's too late now," Southley answered.

"Call a car for me at once—hear me? There's still time to make the road. I won't stay here another hour. Get on your feet, you fool—and call a car for me. You'll regret it if you don't."

"There's no one to drive—but Ahmad," Southley answered wearily. "And what about your son?"

"Damn my son! Damn this wicked house! Did you say Ahmad?" For an instant we saw the battle of two fears in his great face. "Get Ahmad, then. I'll be ready as soon as I find a coat. Vilar can tend to our business and he'll communicate with me."

Southley sighed, then got to his feet. He touched a bell on the table. Only a moment we waited. Then through the door came Ahmad Das—calm and imperturbable, his Oriental face quiet at a seer's. Never was there such depth of shadow as we saw in his eyes.

He came swiftly across the floor with that marvelous feline grace.

"Yes, sahib—"

"Get that touring car at once," Southley ordered. "You have to take Sahib Hayward to the station. Don't lose an instant. The levee is breaking. It will be broken before you return, so you'll have to leave the car in the station and come in a boat. Arrange for supplies while you're there—we may be cut off for weeks."

"I'll cut down the walk on the base of the hill," Hayward instructed. "Pick me up there, and we'll have at least a minute."

The Oriental bowed, then slipped away. He went just like a shadow. He found a raincoat in the hall, and in an instant he was out in the flood of rain.

Hayward put on his own overcoat and started out after him. The rain and the darkness swallowed them both.

A window had been left just beside the fireplace and through it we could ordinarily see the garage. Ernest and I gazed through that window. Ahmad was evidently having difficulty in beating his way through the storm. It was a long time before we saw an indication that he had reached the garage. Then we saw his auto lights flash on.

We were barely able to make them out although it was plain that the garage doors were open and they were shining directly toward us. Of course the distance was far and the piercing rays could hardly penetrate the wall of rain. The lightning had entirely ceased. We couldn't hear the roar of the engine at all. Then we saw quite plainly the track of the lights as the car sped about the shoulder of the hill.

Perhaps, in all the walk to the garage and the starting of the car had taken four minutes. The walk to the base of the hill where the postern-path met the driveway was ordinarily two minutes. It was straight downhill and if Hayward had walked swiftly at all he would certainly have two minutes to wait. The car came slowly and still we could see the faint lustre in the rain that was its lights.

They curved on to the base of the hill. Then Ernest uttered a syllable of exclamation. "He is driving past the point!" he said.

"Possibly Hayward has walked on a few feet," I suggested.

The car slowed up and stopped for a single instant, then started slowly on. It was hard to believe that it halted long enough to permit the portly form of Hayward to enter. It looked to us as if Ahmad were trying to throw the car lights onto the side of the road. Then, to our vast amazement, we saw him turn around.

The car headed back, just as slowly and circled about to the garage.

The servant stopped the car in the rain and we waited a long three minutes for him to drive on again. We knew he was standing still from the faint blur of the lights in the downpour. I don't remember that we three men talked at all. Possibly there were one or two wondering remarks—as to what was the cause of the delay.

And just then the dark form of the Hindu came into the hall. The look of question on his face seemed very real indeed. I remembered it afterward as did all the rest of us.

"Where," he asked, "is Hayward Sahib?"

"You mean Vilar?" Southley asked.

"The elder Hayward whom I was to drive to the station."

"For God's sake, Ahmad! Did you miss him? He started out in the rain and was going to meet you at the foot of the path. Didn't you understand?"

"I looked, but he wasn't there. Then I thought I had misunderstood and drove back to the garage. He wasn't there, either."

"Good Lord, he'll be drenched. Go right down the path and find him."

"Yes, sahib—"

My eyes were upon Ernest's face and suddenly his gaze met mine. I think that we had the same thought.

"Wait a minute, Ahmad," he said quietly. "Keep the door shut." Then he turned to his father, and stood for a long instant as if in thought.

"Father, I think that we had all better go, and look for Hayward."

We saw no sign of Hayward at first. We got down to the driveway and flashed our lanterns all along it. We looked up and down the path. We tried to call in the heat of the rain.

"Good Lord!" Southley cried. "He couldn't have got down into the river and drowned?"

We scattered about and began to climb over the hillside. The rain the bobbing lantern, the echo of the catastrophe, the dark house behind us and the gathering lakes in front, gave the scene a singular dream-like quality. Then Ahmad, who walked close beside me, tripped and fell over something on the ground.

He uttered an oath in his own language, then whirled to look. He bent over and felt about with his hand. The place he stood was a little neck of land that dipped down into the flood waters, an isthmus that separated the height on which the house stood from the plateau opposite.

"Bring the lantern," the Hindu called. "I have found Sahib Hayward."

The lantern showed everything very plainly. We understood why Hayward had not met the servant at the house. His neck was broken as if by a giant's blow.

We didn't stop to examine the body on that rain-swept hillside. I had known the neck was broken simply by the way the great head dropped back when we lifted the shoulders from the ground. The four of us carried him into the house, not an easy load at all. Vilar Hayward met us at the door. The effect on the younger Hayward was hardly what I expected. It was true that I didn't look for prostration. He was the kind of man that grows away from his parents in late boyhood.

"My father?" he shrieked. The sound went high and wild in the storm. "Don't dare to tell me he's dead."

"We don't dare to tell you anything else, because he is," Ernest answered.

Vilar leaped toward Southley and for an instant I thought he would attack him. His face was drawn hideously in the half light, only partly dressed.

SIX
VICTORIOUS MONTHS for THE VICTORY SIX

When the Victory Six was announced six months ago it was the talk of the town. What would it look like? What would it do? Would it be different from other cars? In what way? And so on.

Then the public saw the Victory Six! Its freshness of design was a revelation. It was different. Like no other car.

Rakish and trim—low and graceful—smart hued and colorful—it captured the eye. Immediately.

Look again. Wider seats—more leg space. Big! Roomy!

Then it proved, in operation and performance, the promise suggested by its beauty. Swift pick-up—smoothness—speed. Dodge Brothers dependability again!

It was a great car then; it is an even greater car now. It has stood the test. Each month has seen a substantial increase in Victory Six sales.

...been saying for six months. Or because of what we say now.

But because of what the Victory Six is. The snappiest, best looking, speediest car in its class.

A car you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel

Get Your Coal Now

Of course you don't need your winter coal just NOW, but neither are you hungry at just this minute. Nevertheless, everyone knows that if you don't eat you'll starve, and if you don't get your coal now you may freeze later—get the idea?

Use a little common sense now and be thankful six months later. Coal is much better bought and stored DRY that purchased with a blanket of snow over it after it has been hauled around wet for several weeks. AND IT'S CHEAPER.

COW SESTING

Lester Galley of Deaf Smith county, a grade Holstein, producing 1818 pounds of milk; the cow with the highest average per cent of butterfat was owned by S. O. Wilson of Deaf Smith county, a grade Jersey, with 8.2 per cent, milking sixteen pounds daily; the cheapest fat production record for the farmer feeding anything near balanced rations and the high proportion to the milk production of the herd was won by J. L. Lookingbill, of Deaf Smith county. The average cost was .101 cents, with a herd of ten high grade and pure bred Jerseys. The high butter fat average was captured by L. A. Smith with a figure of 5.41 on a herd of 18 pure bred and grade Jerseys. Mr. Marsh found that only four members of the association were using unregistered bulls.

July figures are of course unfinished, but up to this week Mr. Marsh reported that Dr. Heard has a cow with the high butter fat producing record and also another cow with the highest average test. L. A. Smith has the highest average herd test, and J. R. Lipscomb shows the cheapest production.

A Dairy Ration.
A bit of information that will interest every dairy farmer in this section was also given by Messrs. Marsh and Dunkle Tuesday, concerning the best ration they can determine for this vicinity, taking feeds available here and considering all costs. The ration worked out as follows:

200 pounds ground oats.
100 pounds alfalfa meal.
200 pounds maize or kafir.
50 pounds cotton seed meal.
At present prices it is stated that this ration costs $1.63 per hundred, which is from $4.00 to $1.50 cheaper than commercial feeds offered on the market.

This splendid work is growing so rapidly in this county that Mr. Marsh now spends half his time in Deaf Smith county alone. Mr.

Seven Go To Short Course at A. & M. College

Seven club members, five boys and two girls, of Deaf Smith county have been awarded trips to the Farmers' Short Course at College Station, which will be held from July 30 to August 6. All are members of 4-H Clubs of Deaf Smith county, which have been sponsored by County Agent R. O. Dunkle. Mr. Dunkle has organized eight 4-H Clubs in Deaf Smith county and the ones making the trip are the winners in the various clubs. The expenses of the trip will be borne by Hereford business men.

Three of the boys will also enter the state livestock judging contest which will be held in connection with the short course. Accompanying Mr. Dunkle and the winning club members will be J. F. Robinson, manager of the Pure Seed Company, of this city, and Horace Hershey, relief vocational teacher in the Hereford schools and a student of Lubbock Tech. The party will leave July 28 and will be away about ten days. Winners and the clubs they represent follow: Elmer Jones, Frio; Myra Hartman, Westway; Winona Blagg, Progressive; Paul Bagwell, Dawn; Hollis Waiser, Summerfield; Bill Hawkins, Hereford; and Henry Deitz, Rice.

Local firms contributing to the fund for defraying the expenses of this trip include: Thompson & Ireland, Streu Hardware Company, Spruill-Cronin Company, Fox-Merwin, T. E. Seliger, Western National Bank, First National Bank, First State Bank, R. B. R. Implement Company.

Elbert W. Smith Has Resigned from Brand

Elbert W. Smith, who has been Local Editor of The Brand since last September, during the illness of the publisher, severed his connection with the paper last Saturday and left overland for his home in East Chicago, Indiana. Mr. Smith's future plans were not settled at the time of his departure. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the school of journalism, University of Kansas, and his work on The Brand was his first for a country newspaper.

The position of Local Editor on The Brand has been abolished and the publisher, with the help of his wife and niece, hopes to be able to handle the news and advertising assignments personally, after an enforced vacation of a year and a half from active business participation.

SOUTH SIDE SCHOOL NOT TO BE BUILT

A petition which was recently circulated in South Hereford, across the creek, and presented to the trustees of the Hereford Independent School Board, asking for a ward school in that district has been denied by the school authorities. Reasons for the rejection of the petition are given in the letter quoted below, dated July 20, and addressed to L. Baskin:

"Dear Sir:

"The petition signed by you and thirty-three others was presented for consideration at a meeting of the School Board on July 18, 1928. On motion and second, the Board voted unanimously to table said petition requesting a ward school for the section of the Hereford Independent School District lying south of the Tierra Blanco Creek. The Board instructed me to inform you of the action taken and the reasons therefor and to give a copy of the letter to the Hereford Brand for the information of the other signers of the petition.

"In the first place, no additional building is contemplated at present or in the immediate future unless a heavy enrollment forces such action.

"In the second place, we do not feel that the people of the section mentioned or of the District as a whole would want a school so located if they understood that the number of children to be benefitted by it would justify only a one or two room building under present conditions, and could not possibly be afforded the advantages offered in a larger school unit though the cost, per student, of the smaller unit would be greater.

"Finally, examination of the petition reveals that probably eighteen or twenty of the signers would have no children in the grades affected, three do not now live in the district, and many of the others have older children that would have to be sent to the high school building even if such a ward school were erected.

"Assuring you of our earnest desire to serve all of the children of the District to the very best of our ability, I am,

"Very truly yours,

"E. B. POSEY,
"Secretary, Hereford Independent School District."

NEW SON IN HUDSON FAMILY.

Friends in Hereford of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Meyers Hudson will be interested in the announcement of the arrival of Myers Binnlon Hudson, on July 20, at Honey Grove, Texas. The young man weighs eight pounds and bids fair to become an A-1 athletic coach. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson and son will return to Hereford for the school year, Mr. Hudson being principal of the high school.

AUCTION DATE.

Mrs. L. Y. Burch, whose farm is located two miles south and four miles west of Llano Cemetery, Amarillo, announces a dispersion auction sale for Wednesday, August 1. The offering consists of high class farm equipment and live stock, twelve head of good young work mares, from 1200 to 1500 pounds, and several good heavy colts. Ray Barber is auctioneer.

CALIFORNIANS VISIT HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Smith and sons, Theodore and Donald, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Rolson, left Tuesday for their home in Pasadena, California. Mr. Smith and family have been to Cuba and all through the Northern States. He is a child welfare director in the public school of Pasadena.

HOME FROM VACATION.

Miss Bess Hopkins returned home Monday night from a pleasant vacation trip at Eagles Nest Dam in New Mexico. Miss Hopkins accompanied Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Borden and family, who are there for Mr. Borden's health, and she reports that Mr. Borden is taking to camp life and cooking like a veteran and expects to be away until September.

YOUTHS ENJOY TRIP.

Two Hereford youths have been enjoying a trip to California without expense the past ten days, and have been having a great time, according to advices received by their home folk. Keith Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Guthrie, and Edgar Ireland, Jr., son of Mayor and Mrs. E. S. Ireland, left Saturday, June 14, as attendants on one of G. W. Brumley's hog "specials" for the Pacific Coast. The boys have been having a lot of unique experiences and lots of fun on the trip.

Things You Should Know About Your HEALTH

 Jno. Jos. Galnes, M. D.

"VAGRIANT PAINS."

Most every active human being is subject at one time or another, to fleeting, shifting twinges, varying from slight discomfort to severe, pronounced pain. Such may not be accompanied by any inflammatory signs—heat, redness, or swelling. Just transitory pain, often called erroneously "muscular rheumatism."

Such annoyances almost invariably come from disturbed nerves. Organs adjacent to the locality complained of should be studied. Constipation—an impacted bowel—may cause anything from head neuralgia to sciatic irritation, even pains in ankles or head. Unload the bowel, and relief comes. All pains in nerves should be investigated as to local injury. Grandma lifted a heavy rocker yesterday, today she has a sharp pain in the wrist. You "turned" your ankle last night on an uneven sidewalk. Little disturbances due to injuries may be treated by hot fomen-tations, rest and medicaments rubbed on; good liniments are very useful, if persisted in. It is possible that no cause for a localized pain can be found. In such case the physician is a timely resort, if the pain does not disappear after rest and heat. I do not agree that heavy massage does any good to pains that are not understood—and it may do harm. A lazy liver may produce a pain at point of shoulder blade and elsewhere—to disappear of itself apparently after eating plenty of fruit. Most of the fleeting pains in the lower extremities are caused by trouble in the organs within the body above—unless local injury happened. "Diffuse Neuritis" is a warning that demands the physician.

Chicken Puffs Cigarettes.
 Winstead, Ct.—A white leghorn pullet, owned by Louis Cordano, of Danbury Quarter, has taken to smoking after the modern feminine fashion.
 When a lighted cigarette is tossed to the ground this pullet rushes over, picks it up in her beak and proudly begins smoking it, strutting through the barnyard.
 The pullet smokes all brands. So far none of the companies have tried to get a testimonial from the pullet, but she has hope.

Commissioners Court has no intention of raising the valuations," members of the court stated this week. "We are merely here to carry out the wishes of the people. We were presented with a growing demand for new roads and improvements on existing ones, which we were unable to comply with as present road funds allowed us are insufficient for such expansion. Finally a petition for the election was presented to us. Under the law we had no option but to call the election. The people spoke, and that settled the matter for us. All we can do now is to use the funds allowed us by the voters to the best advantage, and the expansion wanted by many of the rural residents must wait until a majority of the people want to allow us the money with which to do the increased work. We would be glad to have The Brand correct this mis-statement concerning the raise in valuations, and put us right before the people."

The Brand is sorry that the reporter made such a grievous error. We have always been jealous of the accuracy of statements appearing in the paper, and regret exceedingly that the court has been embarrassed—by such inaccurate statements.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY ELECTION HOTLY CONTESTED LAST SATURDAY

Mayor Ireland Urges City's Tax Payers To Vote For Municipal Band

CITY COMMISSION MAKES PLEDGE TO ASSESS SMALL FIGURE IF MEASURE WINS

Cost Will Be Very Small and Future of the Band Hinge In the Balance. Unless Voters Allow Tax, Hereford Will Be Without a Band of Any Kind. Is Thought Measure Will Go Over by Good Vote.

Mayor E. S. Ireland, who is an ardent advocate of the proposed municipal tax for the support of a band, has handed the Brand the communication below concerning this matter. The election to settle this question will be held on August 9, and the statement from the mayor, especially that clause in which the commission pledges itself not to assess more than three-fourths of one mill on the one-dollar taxable value, in case the tax carries, is of very timely importance.

The mayor's statement: In view of the fact that an election has been ordered for the purpose of voting on the proposition of establishing a Municipal Band in Hereford, I deem it proper to make some explanation of the provisions of the law under which this election was ordered and a statement as to the intention of the City Commission in the event the people of Hereford authorize the establishment of a band.

An act was passed by the legislature of the state in January, 1925, authorizing cities and towns to establish and maintain a municipal band, permitting a tax levy for that purpose of not more than three mills on each $1.00 of taxable value in the city. Section 3 of this act makes it the duty of the city commission, upon a written petition of at least 10 per cent of the total vote cast at the last municipal election, to order an election for the purpose of submitting the proposition to the property tax-paying voters of the town. A petition signed by some 115 voters of the town was presented to the City Commission and as required by said act, the City Commission has ordered an election to be held on August 9 for the purpose of voting on the proposition.

This Act also provides that the city commission shall elect a non-partisan Citizens Commission to be

Court Term Opens; Jury Called Sixth

Judge Reese Tatum opened District Court Monday with the calling of non-jury appearance docket and appointment and swearing in of the grand jury for the term. John Whitsett is foreman of the grand jury.

Judge Tatum granted a couple of divorces, rendered a few default judgments, and dismissed several cases on the docket that showed no promise of being brought to trial. Next Monday the civil jury docket will be opened for a two week run, followed by the criminal docket. Taken as a whole the dockets of this term are light. The list of jurors for the second week, opening next Monday, reads:

Lewis Dodson, O. T. Larson, M. L. Hammer, W. P. Caraway, E. H. Hare, C. P. Caldwell, John Renfro, J. A. McCowan, Jess Ford, W. J. McClain, J. J. Clark, R. E. Dyer, J. C. Cummins, W. F. City Drug Store Offers New Attractive Feature

The City Drug Store this week completed the installation of a three-booth ice cream unit in their cold drink parlors that is the very latest word in furnishings of this character. The wood work is finished in mahogany, embellished in gold tracings, but the glass-topped tables are the outstanding features. The glass is underlaid with a two-tone color design in black and gold, in deck design, and is exceedingly attractive. George, and Lorie, and Rex and all the others in the City Drug Store are proud of this latest addition to the comfort and convenience of their patrons, and have issued a general invitation to everyone to come in and look it over.

John B. Miller and I. I. West Will Fight It Out In Second Primary August 25. Primary Conducted In Clean, Sportsman-Ship Fashion. State Races Close In Many Cases. Returns Not Yet Complete.

DATE CHANGED

Equalization Board, Independent School District, Sets August 8, Instead of August 9. When Tax Payers Pleas Will Be Heard.

Last week the Board of Equalization of the Hereford Independent School District announced through The Brand and by postal cards that a hearing on valuations would be held on August 9. Since that time it has been found that members of the board will be unable to be present on that date and accordingly the Board has fixed August 8 as the date of the hearing, instead of the 9th.

Breeders of Guernseys In Co-Operation

Another forward step in the dairy foundation work now being laid in the Panhandle was announced this week. And a Deaf Smith county man has an active executive part in this new development. A Texas State Guernsey Breeders Association is being organized in the Panhandle-Plains territory. The members have in mind extending an invitation to all Guernsey breeders in the state to come in, making it a state-wide organization in scope. The official name of the club is the Panhandle Guernsey Breeders Association. The officers are: President, G. D. Davis, Groom; first vice-president, Fred Pittner, Hereford; second vice-presidents, G. A. Anderson, Clarendon, and Edwin B. Carroll, Panhandle; secretary, George P. Grout, Panhandle. A complete set of Herd books will be kept at the Panhandle high school and will be available for all those who wish to check up in the breeding of all animals bred in the United States. A set of the Texas Herd books, owned by the secretary, at Panhandle, Texas, will make it possible to trace animals bred on the Island of Guernsey. Fred Pittner, the first vice-president of the new association, has been a resident of Deaf Smith county for three years and has his place about a mile southeast of town. He is an enthusiastic Guernsey breeder and announced Monday that he had just received a splendid grand daughter of the 26,000 Langwater Steadfast. The heifer in question is out of a cow that made a record of 532 pounds of butterfat at two years old. The mother belongs to the Golden Secret or Nella Jay family and her mother in turn has a record of 618 pounds butterfat. Pittner's heifer is a line bred May Rose and a half sister to a young bull just received by Jack Conner, Panhandle, Texas.

L. F. Borden and Family Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Borden returned last week end from a two weeks camping and fishing trip in Colorado. The party traveled with a most complete camping outfit, including a sixteen-foot collapsible boat with out-board motor. They report fair fishing and a most enjoyable vacation. Mr. Borden is much stronger and browner from the experience and is rapidly recovering from his long sojourn of illness.

But two local candidates will appear on the run-off primary election ballot, which will be presented to the voters on Saturday, August 25. These two names will be those of John B. Miller and I. I. West, contestants for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector.

All other local aspirants were eliminated in the primary election held last Saturday. Interest was keen in the sheriff and county judge's elections, with six candidates for the sheriff's job and three for county judge. The present incumbent, Earl W. Wilson, rolled up a heavy majority over both his opponents and will go on the Democratic ticket as the party nominee in November.

The sheriff's race was closely contested, with West nosing out Miller for the lead by thirty-one votes. These two will fight it out in the run-off August 25.

Other names which will likely appear on this second primary ticket will be Senator Mayfield and Tom Connally, his nearest competitor, Barry Miller and Thos. B. Love, candidates for lieutenant governor, S. M. N. Marrs and John Garner, for state superintendent of public instruction, and possibly J. T. Robinson and one of three opponents for the office of state land commissioner. Complete state returns are not yet available in all races.

Governor Moody won easily from Louis J. Wardlaw. Results in several of the congressional races are in doubt. In this district Congressman Marvin Jones and Clyde W. Warwick, candidate for the state house of representatives, won by large

TO THE VOTERS.

I am deeply grateful to the many good friends who stuck to me through thick and thin in the recent primary. Such experiences bring home to a man the real value and worth of friendship. And to those who could not see it my way I wish to convey the same spirit of good will and congratulation. I am glad to be able to say that the campaign was closed without leaving a single sore spot so far as I am concerned, and I am still able to sit up without assistance and smile genuinely. There is comfort to every good citizen in the knowledge that no matter who is elected sheriff in November Deaf Smith county will be served by a clean, fine man in this important office. With my best wishes to you all,

Sincerely,
T. DOYLE ROSE.

DEAR FRIENDS:

A lady told Mr. Orr the other day that for eight years she had been doing all of her husband's pressing and for the same eight years her husband had been helping her with the family washings each Monday.

Two weeks ago he signed off the washing deal, and now she has cancelled out on the pressing.

The Orr Tailoring Shop is going to save her a lot of work as a result of the new arrangement. Pressing pants and coats with a flat iron on an ironing board is about zero so far as entertainment is concerned.

I don't want to start anything here in Hereford, but if I were a married woman I certainly would not press my husband's clothes—not when I could send them to the Orr Tailoring Shop.

god-forsaken city of Lystra. No, they were not Jupiter and Hermes. They were only the representatives of the true God, whose evidences of love and mercy had never failed from men.

The hounding Jews were not long in taking advantage of the disappointment of the superstitious Lystrians. The Lystrians disabused of the erroneous idea of the divinity of Paul and Barnabas, were by no means cured of their superstitions. Jewish prejudices and chicanery quickly seized upon these remaining roots of superstition to convince the Lystrians that these men were emissaries of the devil.

Superstitious adoration changed soon to an equally superstitious detestation which issued the stoning of Paul. Thinking him dead, they who would have worshipped him as divine dragged his body like that of a dog from their city. Paul, only stunned, rose soon from the place and departed for other cities.

This young man was worth all that Lystra cost Paul. He was none other than Timothy of whom Paul afterward boasted as his son in the Gospel. Lystra seemingly a failure, netted to Christianity a faithful, splendid young man, Timothy, whose deep religious hungers called out from Paul those wonderful Epistles which bear the name of that young man.

Nobly self-foreful, aggressively Christian, Paul stormed the citadel of Paganism at Lystra and came forth with the precious trophy of a Timothy won for the Gospel of the blessed Christ. After all these experiences it is no wonder that Paul explains himself and his achievements by saying: "By the grace of God I am what I am; and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; for I labored more abundantly than they all."

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

H. J. R. No. 20.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION. Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; and places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO GRANT CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS REGARDLESS OF DATE PENSIONER CAME TO TEXAS OR WHEN WIDOW MARRIED PENSIONER OR WHEN SHE WAS BORN.

H. J. R. No. 15.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION. Proposing an amendment to Section 51, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and providing for submission of same to the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows: "The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitation as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations of militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon, "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing the tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing the tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

Sec. 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

Sec. 5. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

Sec. 6. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

Sec. 7. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

Sec. 8. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

SOCIETY

POSEY-BOWEN

A quiet home wedding was beautifully solemnized Tuesday evening when Abbie Raymond Posey was married to Miss Luella Bowen at the home of the bride's parents in Wildorado. Rev. E. B. Bowen, of the Methodist church, Hereford, an uncle of the bride, officiating.

The bride was lovely in a gown of plink georgette. The only attendants were Miss Elizabeth Oze of Wildorado and Russell Whitehead of Hereford.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bowen, of Wildorado. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Posey of Hereford. He is bookkeeper in the First National Bank of which his father is active vice-president and cashier.

They left overland Wednesday morning for a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado points, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Womble accompanying them.

After a two weeks trip they will be at home in Hereford.

MRS. EMMETT RICE HERE.

Mrs. Emmett Rice, of Walters, Oklahoma, spent last week here visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. Rice will be remembered by some as Miss Dora McDonald, who taught school in Hereford about twenty-six years ago.

She is now superintendent of public instruction for Cotton county, Oklahoma.

T. D. MOSS AND FAMILY VISITING IN HEREFORD

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Moss and baby arrived Monday afternoon overland from their home in Ft. Worth, Enroute they stopped over at Wellington, Texas. They expect to be in Hereford about one week.

Mr. Moss was formerly secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, but is now selling life insurance in Fort Worth and making a go of it. He has gained twenty pounds in weight and looks in the pink of condition.

FORMER CITIZEN HERE.

George E. Burns, Jr., of Deming, New Mexico, spent the weekend here with Edgar Johnson. He is a former Hereford boy, having moved with his family to Deming about six years ago. His father owned the City Drug Store here, having sold to the present owners when he moved away.

WHITSON-LINEN

A marriage license was issued Tuesday to W. A. Whitson and Laura Leinen. The couple were married by County Judge Earl W. Wilson. Both groom and bride are residents of this county. Mr. Whitson engaging in farming, while the bride is the daughter of John Annen, rancher, living about thirty miles north of Hereford.

SILVER TEA.

forward Mexican missions in Texas. Mexican music will be an interesting feature of the occasion and a treat will be in store for those who attend.

Success!

June Carroll, formerly of the chorus of the Ziegfeld Follies, will soon carol in grand opera. She is one of two American-born singers who have just been admitted to the Metropolitan Opera Company.

School

High school students will be enrolled on Saturday before the opening of school as has been the custom in the past. It is very important that as many as possible complete their classification by that time in order that books and other materials may be ordered in cases where such things are not furnished by the state. There will also be an advantage to the student in most cases of early enrollment in that he will be more likely to get the elective subjects desired. For the benefit of new students, seniors and any others who might care to have plenty of time for conferences the superintendent of schools will be in his office at the high school building each afternoon from two until four o'clock, beginning on Monday, August 20. Classification and enrollment may be completed at that time. Other conference periods may be arranged by appointment by calling No. 379.

ed in civic beauty and development. The front is of tan brick, trimmed in white stone, with gridded windows, while the side wall is stuccoed. The interior is finished in beautiful new marble and mahogany finished fixtures, with unusually large vault capacity, lobby space, private booths and rooms for bank officials and customers, etc. The bank officials are very proud of their new quarters, and justly so.

Saturday every citizen in this community is invited to visit and inspect the new structure, and announcement is made that souvenirs will be given to all who come, including the children. The latter are invited to pay their visit in a body at nine o'clock Saturday morning and receive their gifts.

J. A. Buckner was contractor and foreman of the remodeling work and met many difficulties in a way that has drawn praise and tribute to his efficiency from the official bank family.

The completion of this work marks another forward step in Hereford's steady march toward larger and better community life.

Wink Valentine Suffers Bad Cut In Accident

W. L. (Wink) Valentine had a very narrow escape from serious injury last Friday but happily escaped with a deep cut over his left eye. Mr. Valentine was lying on his back under a combine making repairs when one of the helpers accidentally pulled the wrong lever and lowered the body of the machine on Mr. Valentine's head. The ground was very soft from recent rains and that was all that saved Mr. Valentine. His head was literally pushed down several inches into the moist ground and the only injury was a severe cut and bruised place on his forehead. He was up and around the day following the accident, thanking his good luck for the heavy rain.

Dyer and Mathis Owners of Buick Service Station

L. F. (Slats) Dyer, who has been traffic officer for Hereford for several months, and Elmer Mathis, an employee of the Marland Oil Company here, have purchased the Buick Service Station on Main Street from Earl Lewis and took charge of the business on Both these young men have had experience in this line of work and state that they expect to give service and satisfaction to the customers of the business. They solicit a share of the business of every car owner in this community.

Mrs. Oscar Easley Hurt When Truck Door Opens

Mrs. Oscar Easley sustained painful bruises and a bad shock Saturday about noon in a most peculiar accident. She was riding with her husband in his oil truck and in making the turn on Main Street in front of the Star Theatre the door of the truck flew open and precipitated her to the pavement. Mrs. C. H. Dillehay, who was following the truck, had to go some quick and skillful driving to avoid hitting Mrs. Easley as she fell to the pavement.

Mrs. Easley was carried to her home and given medical attention. She was up Sunday and it is thought no serious injury resulted, although she is naturally very sore and uncomfortable from the bruises and shock.

THANK YOU, FRIENDS.

I wish to thank the friends who so loyally supported me in the July primaries and would like to say I will do my best in the runoff and will surely need your help. Thanks!

MISS MINNIE DEA COFFIN VISITING RELATIVES HERE

Miss Minnie Dea Coffin, niece of E. B. Black, and formerly teacher of piano in Hereford, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Black. Miss Coffin is now and has been for two years a resident of New York City, and is teaching there, also studying.

She came to Texas for her summer vacation in June, making the trip by boat to New Orleans. Since that time she has been in Itasca with a sister and has visited in other parts of the state.

Miss Coffin has a world of friends here who are delighted to welcome her again to Hereford.

C. C. Rockwell Leaves; Olson New Lumber Head

C. C. Rockwell, for the past fourteen years manager of the Rockwell Bros. Lumber Company yard at Hereford, checked out the first of the week and turned over the management of the business to J. H. Olson, who hails from Amarillo. Cecil Rockwell's father, J. M. Rockwell, of Houston, and head of the vast lumber interests which bear his name, has been here for several days, assisting in the transfer to Mr. Olson, and father and son returned to the family home at Houston.

"Rock," as he has been universally known, leaves a host of good friends in this section who will miss him. He has been a strong factor in civic, business and stock-farming development in this territory, who was always to be found in the forefront of every movement designed for the progress of the community. The loss of his energy, optimism and personal work will be keenly felt here. His plans for the future have not been announced, but the good wishes of scores of friends follow him wherever he may go.

Mr. Olson, new manager of the lumber company, is an experienced lumberman, genial and friendly. He is rapidly making friends in his new environment. He is a man of family and will establish a home here as soon as he can find suitable quarters. The Brand welcomes Mr. Olson to Hereford.

Tennis Experts Plan Big Meet On August 3 to 5

AMARILLO, July 30.—Probably the largest single tennis event to be staged annually in the Southwest will take place on August 3, 4 and 5 in Amarillo, under head of the Tri-State Invitation Tennis tournament. This is an annual affair and is the second to be staged in Amarillo.

More than forty entries have already been accepted and interest is running high, due to the fact that the 1927 title holder has left town and there is no generally conceded successor.

The contest will be refereed by Kenneth W. (Red) Brooks, who engineered the contest last year under auspices of the Amarillo Tennis club. The News-Globe is the direction of a committee composed of Coleman Barnhill, T. A. Reville, Jr., and John White.

Five silver loving cups will be given winners and a cup for consolation has been added.

REPAIRS MADE.

The county commissioners are just finishing up some painting and repairing work on the court house and jail. Parts of the interiors of both structures have been freshened up, the jail has been thoroughly renovated and a lot of small repair work done on both buildings.

Chamber of Commerce Hot After Air Routes

The highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce is keeping busy on air routes, which is beginning to play an important part in the Panhandle's development.

According to L. Baskin, committee chairman, a large sign designating this city to travelers will be completed this week.

The location of the landing field will possibly be held up pending the arrival of an engineer. The Ford Motor Company of Oklahoma City, through their local dealer has offered the services of their air way engineer in this matter. The Ford people are doing a big part toward locating landing fields all over the United States, as the manufacturers of this commodity will be a large factor in their future progress.

Local interests have indicated their willingness to maintain filling station and machine shops on the selected site. Practically all modern fields are equipped and doing repair work and for refueling airplanes. Tentative sites will be inspected next week, according to

Chamber of Commerce officials, and if provisions are not made to buy, then a lease contract will be entered into. Proposed sites include a one hundred sixty acre tract located both on the Santa Fe railroad and Federal Highway No. 33 and is about two miles from the city.

Scottish Rite Reunion at El Paso In October

The Forty-sixth Reunion of the El Paso Bodies of Scottish Rite Freemasonry will be held October 22, 23, 24 and 25. At this same time the Texas Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will be in session in El Paso. At least three thousand members of these two organizations will attend these meetings.

John L. Whitsett is local representative. Indications are that the Hereford district will send large delegations to both meetings. All the degrees of the Scottish Rite from the fourth through the thirty-second will be conferred and a large class of applicants is expected.

Unusually low railroad rates will be in effect and the Rock Island lines will operate special Pullman service out of Amarillo.

A magnificent pipe organ has been ordered and will be installed in the auditorium of the Scottish Rite Cathedral by October 15. This organ will have two consoles, three manuals, embodying the latest improvements. In addition to the 1528 speaking pipes there will be a set of cathedral chimes and a large concert harp. The dedication of this organ as a memorial to the late W. H. McCullough, 33 degree will be held during the reunion and an elaborate musical program is being arranged.

Eggs With Macaroni.

A substantial luncheon dish. A half cup milk, a tablespoon butter or margarine, a half cup canned mushrooms, a cup of boiled macaroni, two eggs, a half teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Heat milk in a double boiler, add the butter or margarine, mushrooms, cut fine and macaroni, then the eggs well beaten. Stir for ten minutes and serve.

The Hereford Brand

Ground Work Completed for Road Program

The West Texas, East Texas and South Texas Chambers of Commerce have joined hands in an effort to formulate a general state highway policy for the future, and have a joint committee who is working on plans toward that end.

While these plans are yet to be worked out in detail, the general outline is contained in a recent report of the joint committee, now being considered by the directors of the three organizations.

The committee report now under advisement follows: "We favor the building and maintenance of state highways by charges upon the traffic or use on the same basis that all other forms of public service are furnished and sustained.

"Under such a policy the state should build and maintain all designated state highways from an independent state revenue, and it would be only just to make the policy retroactive, by providing for the payment by the state of the interest and maturities on the bonds issued by counties and defined road districts, to the extent that the proceeds of such bonds were invested in the construction of highways incorporated into the state system.

"We might well consider at this time the advantage of a permanent highway policy which would give all the motor vehicles fees to the county, and all the gasoline revenues to the state; only impressing the registration fees with the application of such fees, first to the retirement of bonds incurred by the counties and defined districts for the construction of parts of the state system of highways, and then the application of all remaining revenues from such fees to road development purposes of the respective counties.

"The foregoing proposals which we deem fundamental in the establishment of a constructive and permanent state highway policy, may be made effective through statutory enactments under present constitutional provisions, and we would recommend that legislation to achieve such improvements in the state's highway activities be secured at the earliest date practicable.

"Before attempting to formulate a legislative program, based upon the foregoing policy, we recommend that this conference re-assemble for a meeting with the members of the highway commission and its engineering staff.

"Respectfully submitted: CLARENCE OUSLEY, For the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"J. P. WILLIAMS, for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"LEONARD TILLOTSON, For the South Texas Chamber of Commerce."

I wish to thank the voters of Deaf Smith county for the splendid vote given me on the 28th of July for the office of District and County Clerk.

Where Alligator Lies in Wait for Its Prey

The rivers and estuaries of northern Australia spread out over the country in great mud-flats intersected by shallow creeks, while everywhere as a waterside growth one finds the eternal mangrove.

Along the banks of these creeks and across the mud-flats lie the blackfellow's pads or paths, worn and kept bare by the constant passing of feet; and in some reedy bed or muddy pool beside these paths the cunning "alligator" will lie waiting for its prey.

It will remain thus, quite motionless, for days, but let some unwary creature happen along—a woman, a dog, a kangaroo—and instantly it is on the alert. With exquisite judgment the foul brute will await the exact second for action; then a great armored tail lashes up out of the mud, with one tremendous sweep, knocking the hapless victim into the water.

Quicker than a tortoise worrying a rat the terrible jaws follow up the blow, and before the luckless prey quite realizes what has happened the great teeth crush through flesh and bone and all is over.

Many white men have been caught that way, and no experienced bushman will walk alongside or camp close to a creek or waterhole, no matter how enticing the place may seem.

to inspect and study. Mr. Roberson has twenty-seven acres just on the southwest edge of the corporate limits of Hereford. He has the entire tract in intensive cultivation and puts in as much time and hard work on this small acreage as the average man does on 100 acres.

It has been demonstrated that seed selected in this way makes for earlier maturity and larger yield. He has about four acres of higeria, five acres of sorghum, eight of dwarf maize and seven of kafir. All the maize and kafir seed planted came from the Lubbock Station, as did the Red Top cane.

Added to public facilities which our city has come up with in this week's Brand that a modern hotel will be built. This improvement is to be made by a local man and with local capital.

And while we are at it, how about some stronger light bulbs in our white way lights? The customary white way has four standards to the block, and while Hereford has a great part of her territory covered with street lights, still it is a fact that our down town white way is decidedly dimly lighted.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OBSERVATIONS.

BY W. R. A.

According to report there is possibly not a desirable vacant house in the town of Hereford. That is a very healthful condition and is a great deal better than to have fifty vacant houses. Yet the fact remains that our town is today suffering from a scarcity of dwellings in which people might be located who desire to reside in our midst.

Hereford has a volunteer fire department of which they are proud. The manner in which the recent oil tank fire was handled speaks volumes for the training and courage of this organization.

Our magnificently paved streets—especially in the business district—should be kept cleaner. Papers and circulars of every kind are thrown on our streets and blow into the gutter.

Added to public facilities which our city has come up with in this week's Brand that a modern hotel will be built. This improvement is to be made by a local man and with local capital.

Just a few more weeks until our city beautiful contest with Canyon closes. It will be too late then to say, "If I had only cleaned my place a little better we would have won."

And there is another way to keep posted on the doings of the Chamber of Commerce. When the Chamber of Commerce tries to start a movement that you do not like, that is the time to register your complaint.

Election is over and everybody can join the Chamber of Commerce. It looks like we have a fine set of officials and they belong to us.

Yours for more co-operation and less individuality.

Tulia Cleans Up In Good Game Sunday

For seven innings last Sunday afternoon Tulia and Hereford battled desperately through a tight baseball game, with the score one to one. During that time Hereford had managed to amass just two hits, while Tulia could scratch out but three.

In the ninth, however, the visitors tied it up and in the tenth blasted the hopes of the Whiteface supporters by edging over three to the two brought in by Manager Smith's men.

Lefty Ward had been scheduled to pitch for Tulia, but car trouble delayed him. The locals now wish that he had arrived, as Gaines' performance would have been hard to beat by any nine, any day.

THE TIGER TRAIL

by Edison Marshall

"Then you're the devil that killed him. You, I say, Southley! You killed him to get rid of him and you'll be trying to kill me next!"

"Don't be silly," I cautioned swiftly. "I was with Mr. Southley up to the moment that we found him."

"Then it was you, Long, in Southley's pay. I won't believe anything else."

Ernest tried to quiet him, and after he had got him away I took the covering from the dead man's face. I made a close examination of the body. My aged host knelt beside me. Nothing but a superhuman blow could have so broken the neck. It could not have been from a fall, because only a severe fall could have done it, and out on the isthmus where we had found the corpse there were no heights to fall from. Besides, there was plenty of other evidence that some sort of a blow killed him. The worst of them all were two deep parallel grooves on his face from which the flesh had been simply raked. The flesh was discolored, too.

"It's plain as the nose on your face that the man was murdered," Southley said. "Any coroner's jury in Florida would say so. And the sooner we get word into town the better."

"At least," I answered, "the murderer can't get away. Unless he got out before the levee broke. He's on the island with us."

"And it doesn't seem likely that he could get out without superhuman strength and agility. Of course it might have been possible for a speedy runner to reach the highlands across the valley before the flood waters swept over the isthmus, but it's certain he could not get back to civilization. The first thing to do is to post guards to watch over the lowlands and see that he doesn't get out."

Southley's eyes met mine. I had never seen better self control.

"The first thing to do is to quiet the negroes," I told him. "They are terrorized. The next is to send for aid."

"The old man turned quickly. 'Do you mean the coroner?'"

"Yes. The state will send detectives. I will be glad. It is certain that one of us three will have to face a murder charge and the sooner it is cleared up the better."

"But we three were together—"

"That won't matter. They will say we hired one of the negroes to commit the crime. We can't improvise a raft and send a map out tomorrow to bring the coroner."

"We can do better than that. I have a little sneak-boat—just a canoe—that I use for ducks. We'll have to have a bigger one to bring supplies, but it will carry a message to the mainland."

There was little else to do in the rain. We went into the den and just as morning broke we told Ernest and Vilas our plans. The rain was less violent now. The storm was at the ebb.

"I'm sorry I said what I did," Vilas apologized. "It was the excitement of the moment. But I would like to know what you think, Southley. What killed my father—accident or murder, or what?"

The eyes of the two men met.

"Your father was struck down—there is no question about it," Southley replied. "He was killed by a blow from some unknown source. There is every reason to think that his slayer is still about this house and plantation, and all possible effort will be made to chase him down. No one will be able to leave—first, because of a rule that necessity prescribes, and second, because of the flood. Detectives will be sent out here to investigate."

"And what was the blow dealt with?" Vilas asked nervously.

"Couldn't you find the weapon?" Southley looked at him sharply.

"That will be hunted for tomorrow," he replied. "All we could tell was that he was struck with some blunt sort of a weapon and with terrific power—enough power to snap his neck like a reed. The blunt weapon must have had two nails or spikes, because there are two deep parallel scratches in the bruised flesh."

My eyes were upon Vilas' face. He didn't look at us.

"I only know one thing—one kind of a weapon that would leave a mark like that," he said in a strange, harsh tone. "And that isn't a weapon at all. It's an animal's paw."

"And that is the one thing that must be forgotten by all of us, if we are to learn the truth," Southley told him. "It only brings horror, not clear thought. Forget the legend at once and begin with clear eyes. That's our only chance."

With this, our little group broke up. Ernest tried to snatch a few hours of sleep on the sofa. I had plans of my own that necessitated a consultation with the negro that was to carry word to the coroner when the sun rose. And just as I came back from my talk with him I met Josephine on the stairs.

"Where are you going?" I demanded.

She seemed surprised at my tone.

"And what right have you to ask?" she answered me.

She might have been the spirit of the dawn itself in her soft gray drupe and the light of stars in her eyes. I knew from her look that she had heard of the tragedy.

"It is just that I'm afraid for you," I told her humbly. "No one knows what might not happen—in this house."

"And you are still watchful for me—even since last night?"

Of course she referred to the scene in the den. No words can tell how appealing, from the shadows of the stairway, was her voice.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND RELATING TO TERMS OF SCHOOL OFFICERS.

H. J. R. No. 14.

Proposing to amend Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by addition thereto Section 16, providing that the term of all officers of the public free school system, including State institutions of higher education, may be fixed not to exceed six years; proposing to amend Section 8 or Article 7 of said Constitution, authorizing the appointment or election of a State Board of Education to serve not to exceed six years; requiring said amendments to be submitted to the people for adoption and making appropriations therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16 as follows:

"The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the public school system and of the State institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

Sec. 2. That Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"The Legislature shall provide by law for a State Board of Education, whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 3. The foregoing constitutional amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

"Against the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

(2) "For the Amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

"Against the amendment to Section 8 or Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.

Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election. 29-4t

TWENTY ROOM ADDITION PLANNED FOR CORDOVA; WORK BEGINS THIS MONTH

Announcement Made at Weekly Luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. Is Badly Needed. News Received With Cheers. Business Men Discuss Several Projects for Future. Eubanks Leads Song.

Announcement by the management of the Cordova Hotel that a twenty-room addition to the building would be made, work to begin not later than August 20, was the outstanding feature of Monday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. The statement was greeted with a round of applause.

The addition will harmonize with the present structure, being two stories in height, running west to Sampson Avenue, and will be modern in every respect. The lobby will face on the corner and the dining room will be located where the present one is, although it is to be enlarged.

This will give Hereford hotel accommodation that has been very badly needed for years, and will suffice for the present. It is believed, although at the rate the city is growing now it will soon be necessary to do some more enlarging.

In the absence of both the president and vice president, Secretary Arnold took the chair and conducted the meeting. In a short talk he stressed loyalty to and pride in membership in the Chamber of Commerce. He took a census of those present, card indexed by lines of business, and pointed out that there were a number of business enterprises not represented and urged that every man present help in getting out attendance at the Monday luncheons.

Chairman Baskin of the Highway Committee reported that the big aerial sign on the roof of the Panhandle Lumber Company was completed and could be seen from a height of three miles. Questioned by C. A. Skelton as to whether or not he had himself tested out the statement, Mr. Baskin grinned and admitted that he had not been off the ground.

Mayor Ireland gave a report on the gas situation, substantially that carried in The Brand last week. E. B. Black, chairman of the executive committee of the Panhandle Plains Association, outlined the work of the new organization to date, and said the work of financing was progressing satisfactorily, and assured his hearers that a direct and constructive campaign for immigration into this country would begin in earnest shortly.

It was voted to accept the recommendations of a special committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, appointed to draft the groundwork of a state-wide highway policy for Texas. These recommendations are shown in another column of this paper.

At adjournment, Secretary Arnold asked if there were any Irishmen present. E. C. Eubanks innocently raised his hand. "That's fine," remarked the secretary. "I need an Irishman to lead that fine old song 'My Wild Irish Rose,'" and Mr. Eubanks rose to the occasion, after which adjournment was taken until next Monday, at the same place.

Announcing The Opening of Our NEW BANK BUILDING

Saturday Morning, August 4, 1928

TO ALL THE GOOD PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY:

We take pleasure in announcing that the reconstruction work on our New Bank Building is just about completed, at least enough to allow us to move in and to have our "opening" next Saturday, August 4. And, by the way, we will have a little "Party" Saturday—featured mainly by a smiling bunch of bank officials and employees, who are immensely proud of their new quarters. We believe, when you have seen the interior as well as the exterior, that you will pardon us for being a little proud of it all.

YOU ARE INVITED to attend our "party" and inspect our new building, whether you are our customer or not. We have tried hard to make this new bank one that will stir the civic pride of every person in this community, and we want every one of you to come in and take a look at YOUR new bank.

SOUVENIRS!—For the Men Women and Children!

Every man and every lady visiting our bank Saturday will receive a Souvenir. It's a secret, don't miss it. And we have a present for each youngster, too.

We invite the boys and girls to be on hand Saturday morning at nine o'clock, and we will have a pleasant surprise for them. Don't forget the hour—9:00 a. m.

Aside from the natural pride which we feel in our new building, we want to emphasize the fact that in these commodious new quarters we will be in position to better serve our friends and customers than we have ever been before. We offer to our customers banking conveniences, safety, courtesy and accommodations consistent with sound banking, and can meet the demands of our business now in a manner impossible before. We invite your close inspection of the many desirable features offered you by this bank.

We cannot close without paying our tribute to J. A. Buckner, contractor and foreman of the work on our building. He has had to meet many unexpected and difficult problems in carrying through this construction, and has met each difficulty and conquered it with rare skill, patience and efficiency.

NO LOUNGE LIZARDS CAN ENTER CORRAL OF FAMOUS T-ANCHOR BUNCH ROUNDUP

Herd Riders to Examine Credentials of Every Maverick Trying to Horn In On Camp Fire and "Eats." Old Timers Get Ready for Big Jamboree in 1928. Great Story-Telling Contest Held Night Before.

Uncle Walk Bradley brought the following letter to The Brand Monday, which he had just received through the mail. No additions or comment are necessary upon such a punchy piece of literature. It tells completely the story of the Annual Roundup of the T-Anchor bunch.

Amarillo, Texas, July 3, 1928. Hello, You Riders in the Slick:

Round Up Day is set, Thursday, August 23, at the old Round Up Grounds at Mrs. W. C. Baird's Grove, Canyon, Texas, has been fixed as time and place.

One thing you must help us get straight: This ain't no Old Settlers' picnic. This is the Old-Time Cow-Punchers Roundup of each other on the T-Anchor Range. We can't drop the fence to just any old body. Boys, it takes money these days to buy beef, so if you are eligible send two dollars to the president or the secretary at Amarillo and they'll put their brand on a card which will let you and your family get by the puncher who counts the herd as it passes through the gate.

Everyone is eligible who before the last day of 1895 forked a bronc threw a nasty loop, wore red flannel underwear, burned cow chips, scratched gray-backs, or learned to play seven-up on a saddle blanket anywhere in the Panhandle.

Forty gallons of nameless stew is our standing ante. The Three Johns are still on the job.

Skillity Bill Johnson still likes to meet folks the night before. So bring your camp outfit and tell yarns in the campfire by the chuck wagon after supper.

If you know any strays or sleepers, round them up while the gate is open and get them into the branding pen.

Yours truly,
 JOHN ARNOT, President.
 LAURA V. HAMNER, Secty.
 Mr. Bradley will be glad to receive the money of any stray that may come within the specifications outlined in the letter, and will see that he gets a place by the fire and chuck wagon.

Business Is Good, Taken As a Whole

AUSTIN.—Business and industrial conditions at the end of the first half of the year were encouraging, according to Berward Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Favorable influence outweigh the unfavorable factors," he said. "Prosperity over the entire United States so far this year has been due largely to three important industries, automobiles, steel and building. Since only of these, building, is important in Texas, this state has had to look to other lines to account for the half year's progress.

"The outstanding development has probably been the improvement in agriculture, which shows favorable conditions, high prices, and ample labor supply. Livestock is in good condition.

"Business is active, as is indicated by the large volume of checks cashed. Loans and discounts at member banks of the Federal Reserve system have increased seasonally. Interest rates are higher, but there is no change in the four and one-half per cent rediscount rate at the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank.

"A new high record was established in the number of charters granted during the first six months of the year, with a total of 1414 new companies being capitalized at $234,000,000.

"Petroleum as an industry still improves. Textile mills curtailed output seasonally. Cotton sales fell off. Spinners margin also decreased one point. Seasonal curtailment is general in the lumber industry. Wholesale prices were downward."

Hog Profits Hinge Upon Management

COLLEGE STATION.—Success in the hog business depends largely upon good management, which in turn is greatly aided by the use of suitable equipment, E. R. Findley, swine husbandman, Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas, told those attending the dairy and swine section of the nineteenth Farmers Short Course in session here.

"By suitable equipment, we do not mean elaborate and expensive equipment, but equipment that will make possible good management," the speaker said, "such as farrowing house that provide plenty of room and contain properly constructed guard rails, feed troughs in farrowing pens that permit pigs to eat with the sow at an early age, sheds for stock or fattening hog that are cool in summer and warm in winter, self feeders that will not permit the hogs to waste the feed nor the rain to wet it. There should be water troughs to keep water before the hogs at all times and that will not permit the hogs to get in them and dirty the water. Dipping vats should be provided for ridding the hogs of lice and mange. There should be wallows that will keep the hogs cool in summer and that will not be mud holes and they should be located so as to make the hogs lame. Inexpensive loading chutes also come under the head of necessary equipment."

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ashley of near Vernon, Texas, have been here visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Guy Hamm. Mr. Ashley's son, Tom, and wife arrived last Saturday overland from Vernon. The entire party will leave for home some time this week.

August 20 Set as First Trades Day Date Here

The Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is planning to make Hereford's first Trades Day a red letter day for Hereford during the year 1928. After an expression from the merchants of the city that they wanted a trades day, the Chamber of Commerce through its mercantile bureau is working out the details. One thing has been decided upon in advance by the men handling this affair. The public which is invited to our town on that day is going to receive something worth their time and money in making the trip.

Probably unusual in many respects, but few Trades Days inaugurated anywhere, will be more interesting than this one, according to the committee. In addition to the general incentive to bring the public out, practically every merchant will offer the buying public an opportunity to get merchandise at real bargains, and by watching the papers for these merchants' statements, the family purse can be infinitely relieved in the fall buying.

Personal visits into the various communities of Deaf Smith and surrounding trade territory will be made by groups of Hereford business men and all details will be given them, both in this matter and by circular advertising.

Trades Days to be continued all through the fall months will be inaugurated and special entertainment for the crowds will be provided, details of which are now being worked out.

Monday, August 20, has been selected as the First Trades Day, and more particulars will be carried in The Brand from time to time.

Auction sales at which all articles brought in by the rural residents will be sold, is one of the features which is being worked out in connection with the regular features.

Wheat Shipments Grow; Much Held In Bins

Up to Thursday a total of 150 cars of wheat had been shipped from Hereford, fifty-one from Dawn, twenty-six from Summerfield and three from Joel, making a total of 230 cars to date from this immediate territory. Up to about the first of the week thirty-one cars had been shipped from Dimmitt.

Wheat men reported Wednesday that there was still a considerable acreage to be harvested, and that there was a large amount of stored wheat not yet marketed. Last year 329 cars were shipped out of here, in a dry year. The shipments in 1928 have been greatly curtailed by the hail storms that seemed unusually heavy and frequent as compared with former years, but close observers believe the record of last year will be surpassed when grain still in the field and in the bins is brought to market.

Mrs. Lee Kendall, minor operation Wednesday, doing well.

TAX

composed of not more than five nor less than three members whose duty it shall be to negotiate all contracts and formulate rules and regulations and to do all things necessary or proper to establish, control and maintain a municipal band.

From the above it will be seen that if a band is established the City Commission is authorized to appropriate not to exceed three mills on each one dollar valuation to maintain such band, and that is the extent of the City Commission's authority in the matter. It will have nothing to do with the control of the band or hiring a director, as that will be handled entirely by the citizen's commission.

I am sure the question in the minds of every voter is just what will it cost me and how much will the City Commission appropriate for a band. The city commission has discussed this, and we have agreed that in no event will we levy a tax of more than three fourths of a mill on each one dollar taxable value, which means that it will cost the taxpayer 75 cents on each $1,000 of property rendered, which is a very small amount to contribute to so worthy a cause.

An increase in this levy might be necessary at some time in the future, but the amount that this will bring in together with what the school board has been contributing should be enough to maintain a good band at the present time. A band in Hereford will be composed in part of high school students and the practical thing would be for the school authorities and citizen's commission to work together and employ a director to handle both the school and municipal bands as one.

A good band is a great asset to any town and Hereford has the material for making a real one. If a band is an asset to the town, it is a benefit to all, and it is right and just that all should contribute a share to its support. Heretofore what support the band has received has come from a few individuals, but the time has come when we must either give it better support than we have in the past or be entirely without a band. Of course it will cost us all something, but the amount will be small. Anything worth while must be paid for, and a good band in Hereford will be worth more than its costs.

E. S. IRELAND, Mayor.

Misses Gladys and Lucile Hicks returned Saturday from a visit with their sister, Mrs. Dave Raymond, of Higgins.

Mrs. Charles Donald and her daughter, Miss Emma Jean, spent the week-end in Amarillo with Mrs. B. S. Arnold.

Miss Dorie Smith spent last week in Amarillo where she was under care of a physician. She returned much improved.
