Ford elected hospital board president

By SPEEDY NIEMAN Editor-Publisher

Newly-elected directors took the oath of office and the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board elected new officers during a regular meeting Tuesday at noon.

Marjorie Ford was elected as new board president; Frank Zinser was named vice president, and John Gililland was elected as secretarytreasurer. Ralph Detten and Dr. James Herbertson were recently elected as new board members, and Dr. Gerald Payne was reelected as a director. County Judge Tom Simons administered the oaths of office.

During a lengthy business session, the board approved several items recommended by the medical staff, discussed an offer from St. Anthony's Hospital to place a portable C.A.T. scanner here, discussed a communications problem with King's Manor and that board's decision to contract for medical services outside the county, reviewed the financial statements, and heard a report from Jim Bullard, hospital administrator. His report included an overview of his recent trip to Washington, D.C., to seek help for rural health care facilities on the medicare reimbursement system.

Dr. Mary Birdsong, medical advisor for King's Manor, told the board that apparent conflicts in the past and a lack of communications had created a problem. She said King's Manor had contracted with the Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon for home care and physical therapy services, and contracted with St. Anthony Hospital for a hospice care

Dr. Birdsong said she felt that "we should not dwell on past events but approach this with a positive attitude and look to the future." She suggested the board write a letter to the King's Manor board expressing a desire to offer home health care and physical therapy. She added that she believed the King's Manor board did not set out to circumvent the local health care but acted "without adequate information." The hospital board agreed that a letter should be sent to King's Manor directors. Bullard told the board that he had received a letter of intent from St. Anthony's Hospital about the availability and the idea of placing a portable C.A.T. scanner at Deaf Smith General Hospital. The proposal is to place the scanner here for area use and it would be available to the local hospital four half-days per week. A technician would be provid- action at the next meeting.

The scanner would also serve Dimmitt, Friona, Canyon and any other area south of Amarillo they could put on the route. Bullard pointed out the hospital currently has the expense of transporting patients to Amarillo for a C.A.T. scan. The hospital did 385 scans last year. The board will consider the proposal and probably take

During the medical staff report, Dr. Howard Johnson said that the bylaws were being updated, that a hospice program had been incorporated here, and then presented several recommendations on emergency room and admitting privileges for physicians. The board approved the granting of full admitting privileges for Dr. Gary Beach, and temporary emergency room privileges for Dr. William Benjamin, both with South Plains Health Pro-

Fr. Charles Threewil, retiring board president, presided at the meeting until the new president was elected. Threewit and Dr. Hap Cavness did not seek reelection to the board, and members expressed ap--preciation for their service

Schlueter said that under the proposal, any income tax plan placed allow voters to decide whether Texas before voters first would have to pass both the House and Senate. That means voters would know precisely what kind of tax they would be paying, what the rates would be and what deductions would be allowed if they appoved it, he said.

This allows the people to find out what is going to be in an income tax before the Legislature passes it in the dark of night - which is the only way (without the constitutional amendment) it would pass if it could pass." Schlueter said.

The proposed constitutional change also would require the Legislature to return to voters if lawmakers wanted to raise the rates after an income tax was approved.

The House committee arranged to take a vote on limited immunity for Poindexter today.

Investigators want to question Poindexter about any conversations he had with President Reagan about the secret sale of arms to Iran and Contra funds. #### Two tribes granted federal status

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House of Representatives unanimously voted to grant federal trust status to two Texas Indian tribes faced with a cutoff of state benefits that protect their reservations and tribal governments.

The federal trust relationship ended more than 20 years ago when Texas accepted the responsibility to care for the Tigua and Alabama-Coushatta tribes of Texas. But a 1983 Texas attorney general's opinion questioned the state's role in providing for the

IRS resisting burden of proof

WASHINGTON (AP) - In a country where "innocent until proven guilty" is a basic right, the Internal Revenue Service is resisting a bill that would shift to the IRS the burden of proving that a tax return

"I don't think it's (a question of) guilty until proven innocent," IRS Commissioner Lawrence B. Gibbs says in drawing a contrast between civil tax law, which places the burden of proof on the taxpayer, and criminal law, which requires the government to prove its case.

Since the taxpayer has access to all the information to show whether a return is correct, Gibbs said, "the burden is on the taxpayer to show he's reported all income and is entitled to deductions and credits claimed.'

The commissioner told a Senate Finance subcommittee Tuesday that shifting the burden of proof to the IRS would result in a system that is more intrusive than existing law.

The provision shifting the burden of proof is one of several in a measure, called the "taxpayers' bill of rights," aimed at curbing the powers of the IRS. The measure, which is being considered by the subcommittee, grows out of years of complaints that some IRS employees have trampled taxpayers' rights.

"The question before us here today is what can we do to protect the rights of our citizens without handicapping the tax-collection system," said Sen. David Pryor, D-Ark., subcommittee chairman and a sponsor of the bill. "If we find that it is impossible under the existing procedures to preserve the basic due-process right of taxpayers, then Congress is obliged to make reforms."

They were performing some kind of anti-submarine warfare maneuvers," said Lt. Col. Isiah James of the 125th Fighter Interceptor Group in Jacksonville.

The Pentagon reported two weeks ago that the Soviets were conducting their largest submarine exercise off the East Coast in two years. Sovereign U.S. airspace extends three miles off the coast, said Capt. Tom Christie, a spokesman at Langley Air Force Base in Virginia. But when U.S. military radar detects any unidentified aircraft entering a zone extending about 300 miles off the coast warplanes scramble to make visual contact. Two Soviet planes were detected Friday and two Monday off the coast of Virginia and intercepted by F-4D Phantom fighters from Seymour Johnson Air Force Base in North Carolina, James said. The planes approached as close as 190 miles to Myrtle Beach, S.C., before the Air Force handed off the job of shadowing them to F-16 Falcon jets from Jacksonville, he said.

AIDS test for sex assaulters proposed

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Sexual assault suspects should be tested for the AIDS virus so authorities can file additional charges possibly even murder - against those who test positive, a prosecutor says.

But Alan Nudelman, supervising deputy district attorney in Santa Clara County, acknowledges that legislation or a statewide referendum may be needed to make his proposal legal.

And civil rights advocates oppose Nudelman's idea, saying such mandatory testing for the AIDS virus is an invasion of privacy.

State law allows the prison term of someone convicted of a sexual assault to be increased by five years if he is proven to have transmitted venereal diseases to his victim.

It would be illegal to do that in cases involving acquired immune deficiency syndrome, however, under a state court ruling last week that mandatory testing for the AIDS virus is prohibited by a 1985 California law.

"It's absolutely untenable to take the position that you can punish someone for transmitting syphilis, gonorrhea or herpes in the commission of a sexual assault, and not prosecute for the transmission of AIDS," Nudelman said.

Troops end revolt in Argentine

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) - A company of army engineers ended a six-hour revolt in the northern city of Salta as Argentina was shaken anew by military discontent over human rights trials and the makeup of the general staff.

Late Tuesday, Defense Minister Horacio Jaunarena said the situation at military bases throughout the country was "one of absolute normality."

The unrest followed two related rebellions last week by groups of officers who oppose the army's leadership and want amnesty for soldiers accused of torture and killing under military governments that ruled from 1976-83. At least 19 high-ranking officers have resigned or been fired in the unrest.

The five-man Supreme Court met in extraordinary session Tuesday and decided to request reports from all federal courts hearing human rights cases. The court is considering taking charge of the cases, two legislators and court sources said Tuesday. The court will meet again today.

It also is considering changing the interpretation of a law so as to exempt some officers from prosecution on the grounds they were following orders. About 250 officers face charges of human rights abuses during the military's "dirty war" against suspected leftists, in which at least 9,000 people disappeared. The army long has sought a court ruling that many officers who may have committed crimes acted under orders from superiors.

President Raul Alfonsin, whose election in 1983 ended military rule, held an emergency session Tuesday

No pass - no play has helped grades

tion from no-pass/no-play.

Some improvement in the failure rate may be a result of teachers grading more leniently, the report also speculates; however, no evidence was foudn to support that assuption. Results of standardized tests in the future will be used to test the assumption.

The report shows that 50 percent of students in grades 7-12 statewide participated in some type of extracurricular activity during the second six weeks of the 1985-86 school

. In most districts, the failure rate among the total student body in grades 7-12 has improved.

In Dallas ISD grades 7-12, the percentage of all students failing one or more classes the first six weeks declined from 55.6 percent in 1985 to 46.4 percent in 1986.

In Houston ISD grades 9-12, the overall failure rate fell from 53.4 percent in 1984 to 41.1 percent in 1986.

The effect of the no-pass/no-play rule is more dramatic when looking at only students who participate in extracurricular activities rather than the total student body.

A survey of the top ten ranked football teams in each UIL classification conducted by UPI and Texas Football magazine at the end of the first six weeks of the 1986-87 school year showed only a small failure rate among varsity athletes. Only 37 of 1,751 varisty players (2.1 percent) from these 50 high schools failed a class and 29 of these teams reported no failures. The report points out that frequent critics of the no-pass/no-play rule state that it has no effect on students who do not participate in extracurricular activities and who are not penalized if they do not pass their classes. Although this statement may be true, it has no validity as an argument for doing away with the rule, according to the report.

The report concludes that more students need to become involved in extracurricular activities so that they too will be benefited, not penalized, by the no-pass/no-play

Pitching and fielding helped carry the Hereford Whiteface varsity baseball team to a 5-1 victory over Lubbock Dunbar Thursday in a District 1-4A game played in Hereford.

Bobby Medina limited Dunbar to four hits in recording his seventh pitching victory of the season against no losses, and the Herd defense achieved a pair of inning-ending double plays.

The first of those double plays was turned by the Whiteface infield in the first inning. Centerfielder Rodney McCracken made a great catch in the sixth inning to lead to the other double play.

Dunbar had a baserunner at first base with one out, and the ball was hit deep-into right centerfield, almost to the fence. McCracken caught the ball, and seeing that the baserunner had gone all the way to third base, threw to first baseman Kyle Streun for the double play

"It was way out in the gap. Rodney went a long way to get it." Hereford Coach T.R. Sartor said in complimenting his centerfielder.

Sartor also spoke with praise for his starting pitchers, Medina and Keith Anderson: "With the wind blowing in, you had to expect a lowscoring ball game.

But when we've got Bobby or Keith on the mound, we feel we will win or at least we feel we'll have a good chance to win."

We left a lot of runners on base, but we got a lot of key hits to get runners in. I was real pleased," Sartor

Hereford appeared to be headed for a big first inning, but was able to move just one runner across the

Keith Herrera hit the first pitch to him into centerfield for a single, and Medina also hit the first pitch to him for a single in a hit-and-run play, with Herrera advancing to third

Glenn Parker, a courtesy runner for Medina, attempted to steal second base. Parker was safe at second and the ball got away from a Dunbar infielder for an error. Herrera scored on the play to give Hereford a 1-0 lead.

McCracken then hit an infield single, but two baserunners were left stranded in the inning.

Hereford scored a pair of runs on sacrifice flies in the third inning. Medina began the inning reaching the basepaths on a walk.

Courtesy runner Parker went to second base on an error. McCracken singled, moving Parker to third base, and then McCracken stole second base.

right field to drive in McCracken.

Dunbar scored its only run of the game in the fourth inning when a player hit a double, advanced to third on a groundout, and scored on a wild pitch.

The Whitefaces scored a pair of insurance runs in the sixth inning for the final margin of 5-1.

Ross Torres and Keith Herrera both singled, and Medina walked to load the bases. The bases remained loaded on a forceout at home plate. Streun then hit a two-run single for those sixth inning runs. Hereford had 11 hits in the game.

Medina, in upping his record to 7-0, walked only two Dunbar batters and struck out two while allowing just

The victory kept Hereford undefeated in district games at 9-0, and 16-3 overall. Canyon remained one game behind the Herd by defeating Pampa 11-5 on Tuesday. Hereford plays at Canyon Saturday at 1 p.m.

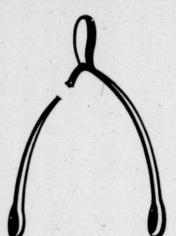

Hereford is ranked third in the Texas Baseball Coaches Association-Longview News-Journal poll, and Canyon is ranked fourth. Canyon is 8-1 in the district and 17-4 overall.

The gap in the district between second place Canyon and third place Dumas increased on Tuesday when Dumas lost to Borger 7-4. Dumas now has a 5-4 district record.

In the other district game Tuesday, Levelland and Lubbock Estacado battled to a 10-10 tie in 13 innings.

The Pledge of Allegiance and Americans Creed were led by Mary Williamson followed by the singing of the national anthem led by Reinauer. Rose read the Preamble to the Constitution and the President General's message.

Ruth Knox, national defense chairman, gave a report from the National Defender by M. Stanton Evans titled "SDI Should Be Reagan's No. 1 Objective." The author stated that "among the many items on the President's agenda, one stands out above the rest: deployment of his proposed Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI). This is incomparably the most important project of the Reagan years in Washington, involving as it does the bedrock security interests of the nation." He further notes that SDI is a head-on challenge to the Doctrine that has brought about this dangerous impasse.

The conservation program, landscaping with wild flowers, was given by Cathy Lust, a student of landscape architecture at Texas Tech University, and wife of Dimmitt area farmer, Joe Lust. Mrs. Lust stated the native plants allow for conservation of native animals, birds, butterflies, while requiring less maintenance once properly established. She stressed that there are natural community sites for plants etablished on relationships between plants and their surroundings. Each plant has a range of tolerance for temperature, moisture, and soil type. One can select plants that fit one's site, or plants to modify one's site. In either case, there must be good soil-seed contact, and willingness to exercise patients of twoto-three years while the plants became established. The program concluded with a slide presentation of wild flowers growing in Castro County and the surrounding area.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter you published recently from San Antonio prompted me to write. The pain medication the woman wrote about is similar to the Brompton's cocktail, prescribed by cancer specialists and surgeons in the United States. Brompton's is a mixture containing morphine or methadone, cocaine or amphetamine, syrup or honey and alcohol. Occasionally other drugs are added to increase the analgesic effect and prevent nausea.

The Brompton's cocktail originated in Brompton Hospital in England to keep terminal patients pain-free and in a euphoric state. To maintain this feeling of well-being, the Brompton's must be administered around the clock. I am a registered nurse in the New Orleans area and I have administered the Brompton's cocktail for many years. While I trained at the Cleveland Clinic in Ohio, I saw marvelous mixture. A patient no longer need suffer with a terminal disease. Every person has the right to die with his pain controlled. After five years we will have a solid body of facts that will enable us to make an informed decision. Along with Sen. Daniel Inouye of Hawaii and Rep. Henry A. Waxman of California, I am sponsoring this legislation again this year. I hope your readers will urge their U.S. senators and representatives to support it. Sincerely, Dennis DeConcini.

DEAR SENATOR: Your legislation is humane and sensible. If every reader who has stood by and watched a loved one die a slow, painful death would write to his or her senator and congressman and say, "I want you to vote for S. 143/H.R. 1470," they would generate such a blizzard of letthe tremendous benefits of this ters the bill would be a lead pipe cinch to pass.

My senators are Alan Dixon and Paul Simon. My congressman is Sidney Yates. Please, gentlemen, consider this a request to vote for S.143/H.R. 1470 from your constituent Ann Landers in Chicago. I hope minally ill cancer patients in whom Capitol Hill gets inundated with requests like mine. Go to it, folks! A post card will do. The address is U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 or U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

> DEAR ANN LANDERS: How much should a 12-year-old kid know about the family's finances? He wants me to tell him how much money I make and asks "Are we rich?" We are definitely upper middle class. What should I tell him?-W.in Minneapolis.

DEAR MINNIE: Tell him that you make enough to get along and that you are very rich because you have good health, the opportunity to be whatever in life you want to be and you have each other.

What's the story on pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, downers, speed? Can you handle them if you're careful? Send for Ann Landers' all-new booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." For each booklet ordered, send $2, plus a long. self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landeres, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill.

NBC's win marks year of sitcom

NEW YORK (AP) - It was the year of the sitcom as "The Cosby Show" and "Family Ties" helped carry NBC to its second-straight season as king of the ratings, while CBS suffered its lowest season average ever.

"Cosby," the highest-rated primetime program for the second season in a row, and "Ties," No. 2 for the second-consecutive season, also became the two most-watched series in history, the A.C. Nielsen Co. said Tuesday.

In the season ending April 19, situation comedies had the highest three-network average rating - 18.2 - of all program types. Sitcoms made up 18 percent of the networks' schedules this year, up from 15 percent last year.

Action-adventure series take up the most room on the schedule, 24 percent, but had an average rating of 14.3, lower than news-information shows, which had an average rating of 14.6.

The rating is a percentage of the nation's estimated 87.4 million homes with televisions.

According to the A.C. Nielsen Co., NBC won the season with an average, prime-time rating of 17.8. CBS' average was 15.8 and ABC's 14.1. That was a 1 percent increase for NBC from last season, when it averaged 17.5.

CBS and ABC were down 5 percent each and NBC, which was in third place only four years ago, beat second-place CBS by even more this year than last, when CBS had an average rating of 16.7 and ABC 14.9.

It was CBS' lowest season-average rating ever and ABC's lowest since NBC Entertainment President Brandon Tartikoff, in a telephone news conference from Burbank, Calif., was already looking toward next season. "I still look at the schedule as a work in progress, and I'm far from NBC won't be open to many more sit-"Going into next year, we're going to be highly selective in what we'll add to the mix in terms of situation satisfied," he said. But Tartikoff said

Though NBC finished the season winning three nights - Monday, Thursday and Saturday, Thursday night was the key. NBC won it with an average 12.5 rating point lead over its nearest competitor, CBS.

In the news ratings, the "CBS Evening News" and "NBC Nightly News" ended the season in a firstplace tie, each with an average 12.0 rating. ABC's "World News Tonight" had 10.8.

"60 Minutes" ended its 19th season tied with "Bonanza" for number of consecutive top-10 finishes — 10 in a row - exceeded only by "Gunsmoke," with 13 straight.

The lowest-rated, regularly scheduled series were: "Sidekicks." "Starman," "Twilight Zone," "ABC Friday Night Movie," "Life with Lucy," "Dads," "Gung Ho," "The Ellen Burstyn Show," "Heart of the City" and "Our World."

Small business week winners announced

Security Industries, Inc., Amarillo, has been named as Lubbock District's Small Business Person of the Year by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Alternates in the Small Business Person of the Year competition, in the 71-county area which comprises SBA's Lubbock District, are Eddie and Joy Piland, Eddie's Pharmacy, Inc., of Colorado City, Texas.

Advocates of small business to be recognized and honored during National Small Business Week activities May 10-16, 1987 include Paula Kay Montoya, Lubbock insurance executive, named Minority Advocate, and Ray Westbrook, business editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, who has been named a Media Advocate National Small Business Week is proclaimed each year by the President to honor the nation's 15 million small businesses.

Outstanding small business advocates and men and women who have been chosen by their peers as outstanding small business persons will be recognized and honored in each of the states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

'Awards will be presented to the various winners during Small Business Week in activities being planned to honor and recognize their days Dale Elliott, president of Alistate individual accomplishments," said Walter Fronstin, district director of Lubbock's SBA office.

> Nominees for Small Business Person of the Year are selected based on documentation that their business best fulfills this basic criteria; Staying power; growth in number of employees; increase in sales volume; innovativeness of service offered; response to adversity; and evidence of contributions by nominees to aid community-oriented

Criteria applying to nominees for Advocate of the Year awards includes: Engaging in civic and community activities that promote small business; volunteering his or her services to assist small firms experiencing management, financial or legal problems; communicating publicly through speech or the written word; actively participating in small business organizations; or pursuing initiatives that will help a large number of small businesses.

Baptist commission condemns lottery, supports new taxes

In response to the Texas budget crunch and the need to fund essential human services, The Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission unanimously endorsed a statement promising support for state lawmakers' in their efforts to create new tax revenue.

The Christian Life Commission is the social action and moral concerns agency of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The commission Hanna, chairman of the Chrstian speaks to, but not for, Texas Baptists on public policy issues.

"The Christian Life Commission urges Texas churches to take up the call for leadership. Oppose the lottery as bad public policy. Support responsible taxation as good public policy. Tell our government leaders that we will support their courage to The revenue resulting from a statepass a tax bill to solve our problems We will back them on this moral issue." the statement said.

The statement commends Governor William Clements and the Texas House for their support of an initial $2.9 billion tax increase which made permanent the sales and gasoline tax increase passed by the Special Session of 1986. Comptroller Bob Bullock also is praised for his plan to broaded the sales tax to apply to many exempt services.

Lottery is condemned as a regressive, inefficient and irresponsible means of raising revenue.

"The lottery does not bring in even ten percent of the current shortfall and less than one percent of total budget needs. It does put the state in the gambling promotion business, drawing dollars from the private economy and targeting the poor and middle class to pay for government," the statement reads.

The commission issued the statement based on a recognition that legislators must choose between cuts and taxes and based on a conviction that further cuts in human services will result in genuine human suffering, according to CLC Director Phil Strickland.

"If Texas had a historyof generosity in the area of human services, perhaps we could afford some additional cutbacks," said Strickland. "But tragically, our history is just the opposite.

"In literally every category of meeting human need, Texas ranks near the bottom. There is no room to cut without the lost dollars directly impacting our ability to respond to the needs of children, the elderly, the abused, the hungry and the sick.'

"The motivating factor in adoption of the statement by the commission centers in the fact that we are being hit by cheap, easy solutions to the state's financil needs-solutions that involve immoral choices," said Tom Life Commission.

The statement has been endorsed by several prominent Texas Baptist pastors. W.A. Criswell, pastor, First Baptist Church, Dallas, said, "Few things would be more destructive to multitudes of Texans than a lottery. sponsored lottery would be too insignificant to affect the state's total budget needs.

"It is far, far better to consider responsible taxation than to be beguiled by this regressive, reinous means of securing revenue. At First Baptist Church in Dallas, we will do all that we cna to support Good Government Day on May 3 and to encourage responsible leadership by our legislators,"he added.

I CAN'T! GOD CAN!

The disciples were incredulous! "Then who in the world can be saved, if not a rich man?" they asked.

Jesus looked at them intently, then said, "Without God, it is utterly impossible. But with God everything is possible."

Then Peter began to mention all that he and the other disciples had left behind. "We've given up everything to follow You," he said.

And Jesus replied, "Let Me assure you that no one has ever given up anything-home brothers, sisters, mother, father, children, or property-for love of Me and to tell others the

Who won't be given back, a hundred times over, homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, eluldren, and land-with persecutions! All these will be his here on earth, and in the world to come he shall have eternal life.

But many people who seem to be important now will be the least important then, and many who are considered least here shall be greatest there."

Now they were on the way to Jesusalem, and Jesus was walking along ahead; and as the disciples were following they were filled with terror and dread. Taking them aside, Jesus once more began describing all that was going to happen to Him when they arrived at Jerusalem.

"When we get there." He told them, "I, the Son of Mankind, will be arrested and taken before the chief priests and the Jewish leaders, who will sentence Me to die and hand Me over to the Romans to be killed They will mock Me and spit on Me and flog Me with their whips and kill Me; but after three days I will come back to

USDA proposes rules for foreign workers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Foreign workers would be allowed to harvest wheat and corn but prohibited from working in cotton and soybean fields or helping with the milking under rules proposed by the Agriculture Department.

The proposal, announced Tuesday, involves definitions of fruits, vegetables and other perishable commodities that will be used to carry out the Immigration Reform Act passed by Congress last year.

Officials said the rules would help determine eligibility for temporary legal status of alien workers involved in seasonal agricultural jobs in the United States.

The proposal, which is open three weeks for public comment, is expected to attract a wave of protests from some agricultural interests that would be barred from hiring foreign workers, mainly migrants or temporary help from Mexico.

Al French, a USDA farm labor specialist, said the proposed regulations would prevent most farmers from employing alien workers. When grain producers are counted, about 78 percent of the farms that hire workers would be barred from employing foreigners.

The 1982 Census showed that about 850,000 farms had hired workers, either full or part time, he said. But those included all hired workers, not just aliens.

"We had received considerable comment from the livestock and dairy industry" wanting the rules to include them for alien workers, he said. But those have been excluded, and "I expect we'll hear about that."

On the other hand, all plant crops grown for human consumption would be approved for the alien work force, French said in an interview. Corn is a commodity that is expected to stir controversy because it is mostly a livestock feed in the United States, he said. However, much of the grain is exported to countries where corn is important as a food grain.

New federal regulations, including the definitions, are being drafted and will begin to take effect next month. A general amnesty is provided for aliens who can prove continuous U.S. residency since Jan. 1, 1982.

The law also provides several avenues allowing legal work in the United States by alien farm workers who have a history of helping with fruits, vegetables and other perishable products.

Qualified aliens who performed seasonal agricultural services in the United States for specified periods of time before May 1, 1986, would be allowed temporary legal status.

The language of the law defines seasonal agricultural services as

"field work related to planting, cultural practices, cultivating, growing and harvesting of fruits and vegetable of every kind and other perishable commodities, as defined in regulations by the secretary of agriculture."

Under the proposal, "other perishable" commodities that meet the definition of fruits and vegetables, the seasonal field work requirements or "critical and unpredictable labor" demands, include: Christmas trees, cut flowers, herbs, hops, horticultural specialties, Spanish reeds, spices, sugarbeets and tobacco.

Field crops such as wheat, corn and rice would be among the commodities qualifying for seasonal alien labor.

would be commodities that "are not produced as a result of field work, or for which production and harvesting do not entail critical and unpredictable labor demands," the USDA

These include: farm-grown catfish and other aquaculture products, birds, fur-bearing animals and rabbits, hay and other forage and silage, honey, horses and other equines, livestock of all kinds including animal specialties, poultry and poultry products, trees, soybeans, sugarcane, wildlife and wool.

French said USDA has has "heard 202-447-4737 from all over the country about farmers with long-time employees who are coming forward and asking to be legalized." It may turn out that "we've been underestimating the number of alien workers" all along, he added.

The proposed rule will be open for public comment until May 13, Comments can be sent to Al French, Acting Special Assistant for Labor Affairs, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Economics, Room 227E, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. The telephone number is

Peabody will replace Fuston

Ted Peabody of Follett will take the Deaf Smith County ASCS Direcor's post next Monday, filling the vacancy left by John Fuston who became a District Director.

Peabody has been with the ASES since 1975 and is moving from Lapscomb County where he has been since 1981.

not cotton or soybean, and would disallow foreign workers from helping with milking operations.

According to Texas A&M University economist Richard Edwards, the the proposed rules would allow impact of the U.S. Agriculture oreign workers to enter the United Department proposals would be severe on Texas' cotton, livestock and poultry industries.

"The pool of resources (workers) from which to draw from would shrink dramatically," Edwards said.

The federal rules would help determine the eligibility for temporary legal statues of alien workers involved in seasonal agriculture jobs in the nation, officials said.

· In Texas, Edwards said there are between 50,000 and 85,000 agriculture workers, and a lot of them are not documented.
