FNB files suit against ex-chief

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
and AP Wire Reports

James H. Sears, terminated as president and chief executive officer of First National Bank in March, has been sued by the bank's board of directors for alleged improper insider lending.

Sears and his brother, Wheeler M. Sears, a former board member, are named in a suit filed Tuesday in 222nd District Court in Hereford by the bank's board. The suit accuses Wheeler Sears of defaulting on three loans totaling more than $1.2 million made to him by his brother, James Sears.

In addition to alleging improper insider lending, the suit states the two brothers "acted with a conscious and reckless disregard for the financial solvency and well-being of the bank. Their acts and commissions were grossly negligent and were willful and malicious breaches of their fiduciary and statutory duties."

The bank's board also accuses the two of fraud for making "misrepresentations or false statements of material facts" concerning the loans as directors of the bank. Finally, the suit charges the Sears brothers with illegally conspiring against the bank's board of directors to obtain the loans.

The bank asks for actual, punitive and compensatory damages in the suit.

Board members of First National Bank said today the financial strength of the $100 million institution has not been jeopardized and that the bank remains highly capitalized. James Witherspoon, the board chairman of FNB, says the bank has a capital standing of 11 percent, referring to the ratio for assets compared to liabilities.

The latest lawsuit follows a restraining order granted on April 14 by the court against James Sears, who, was accused of, among other things, "threatened to kill all the (bank's) board of directors" after he was dismissed as president and CEO on March 27, according to court documents.

The injunction also stated that James Sears disrupted business at the bank and caused "severe emotional distress" to bank officers and employees.

Majority interest in the community's oldest bank is held by the Sears family. That includes the two brothers, their stepmother, Ruby Kendrick Sears, and their sister, Helen Sears Cox.

Board members say the Sears family owns slightly more than 50 percent of the bank's stock.

Donald R. Graham, executive vice president of the Texas American Bank in Amarillo, will replace Sears as bank president, according to James Witherspoon, the bank's chairman of the board.

Witherspoon said Graham is expected to assume his duties at the Hereford bank in mid-June. Jonny Cloud, an officer at the bank, is serving as interim president.

The feud among the Sears family members apparently stems in part from three loans granted by James Sears to his brother, Wheeler Sears, former officer who left the bank several years ago to go into the oil business in Dallas.

At Dallas, he became president of Marron Corp., while still serving as a member of the bank's board. He served until March 11 when he wasn't re-elected by the board.

Court documents show that James Sears approved a $170,000 loan to Wheeler Sears in June 1985.

In December 1986, James Sears approved a $250,000 loan from the bank to Union Trust Co., headed by Wheeler Sears, according to court records.

James Sears also approved a $599,421 loan to the Cimarron Corp. employee stock ownership plan, court records show. Trustees for the company's stock ownership plan included Ivan B. Yerger, Raleigh S. Usry and Wheeler Sears, all of whom are named in the suit.

The notes have since come due without payment, records show.

The suit alleges James Sears, as the bank's president and chief executive officer, failed "to obtain adequate collateral for the loans," failed "to obtain loan committee approval of loans" and failed "to obtain board of directors approval of loans."

Witherspoon said the bank was "fortunate to get a man the caliber of Graham" as the new president. With (See BANK, Page 2)

Tort reform debate scheduled Monday

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says he will recognize Sen. John Montford Monday for a vote that could start a two-day Senate debate on tort reform.

"We've got the vote to get it up," Montford said Thursday. "We had hoped to be able to go on Friday, but there are technical difficulties in getting the bills printed."

"Our agreement still stands," he said of a compromise worked out Thursday with Sen. Kent Caperton.

Montford said he planned to start Monday with his omnibus measure to make changes in civil justice procedures in handling personal injury cases, then follow with individual bills on related issues Tuesday.

Montford, D-Lubbock, and Caperton, D-Bryan, have finally agreed on joint and several liability and comparative negligence, two issues they have been negotiating for weeks.

Montford has led the Senate movement for revising civil justice procedures in personal injury cases to make it more difficult for plaintiffs to collect large judgments from defendants.

Caperton has negotiated in defense of current laws.

Supporters of tort reform have said it is needed because of rapidly rising liability insurance costs — caused, they say, by the big judgments in personal injury suits. Opponents blame insurance companies for seeking higher profits.

The major areas of the agreement between Montford and Caperton included:

— Compromise legislation that would say a co-defendant must be found at least 50 percent responsible for an injury before he can be forced to pay 100 percent of the damages, should other defendants not have the funds. Under current law, a co-defendant can be forced to pay 100 percent of the damages no matter how small his share of responsibility.

— Legislation to prevent a person bringing a suit to recover damages if he is found to be more than 50 percent responsible for an accident.

The compromise says, however, that in a case involving a defective product, a plaintiff can't recover damages if he is more than 60 percent responsible for his own injury.

Domestic Violence Outreach

Newly named director of the Hereford Domestic Violence Outreach program Juliann Thompson, left, visited on Thursday with the local interest group which worked toward placement of the program in Hereford. Here she is seen with JoAn Dwyer, center, who is the Executive of the Domestic Violence Center of Amarillo and Gloria Murillo who is a contract manager with the Texas Department of Human Services which is providing initial funding for the project. See the Sunday edition of The Hereford Brand for an in-depth look at the problem of domestic violence in Hereford.

Lions conventions starts here

Registration got underway in Hereford Community Center this morning for the District 27-1 Lions Club convention, hosted by the Hereford club today and Saturday.

Approximately 300 Lions and their wives from clubs throughout the Panhandle will attend the convention, according to Sid Shaw, Hereford's convention chairman. A business session, necrology ceremony, awards dinner and queen's contest are on the program today.

Business sessions, elections and special programs highlight Saturday's schedule, and the convention climaxes with a banquet and ball honoring Dist. Gov. Jimmy Ross of Quitaque Saturday night. Golf and tennis tournaments are slated Saturday morning.

Lions International Director John D. Buffington of Charleston, W.V., will be guest speaker at the governor's banquet. Most of the activities will be at the Community Center.

DOE moving here next week

The Department of Energy and Battelle Memorial Institute employees will move into newly-remodeled offices in Hereford next week, according to Linda McLain, DOE project manager.

The DOE's eight people in the temporary offices near Vega will be the first to move into DOE offices located in the old bowling alley building. Parsons-Redpath, a general contractor for the project, will move 10 to 12 people into the office in mid-May. McLain said more DOE personnel will be moving from Columbus later in May.

Battelle Institute will also start moving into the former Barrick Furniture building next week. About eight Battelle personnel will move into the offices next week, followed by more later in May. Groups of workers have been coming to the area for week-long stays.

Police report

On Thursday Hereford police arrested a 24 year-old man for assaulting his wife, no other arrests were made.

Six citations were issued and no accidents were reported. Police responded to a call concerning a dumpster fire in the 600 block of Irving.

Offenses reported include the theft of a 4-wheeler which was recovered later in the day, a bicycle which was lent out and not returned, payment for a bicycle which was not delivered, neighbors complaining about one another, payment for a car which has not been received, speakers stolen from a car, a family disturbance in which both husband and wife were scratched and bruised but no charges were filed, a fight between teenage girls in which one sustained head injuries, theft of a bike valued at $85, theft of tapes from a car parked at the high school and neighborhood children and mothers engaged in a dispute.

Sheriff's report

A civil report was filed on Thursday as the result of neighbors fussing about placement of a clothesline.

The sheriff's department reports the recovery of a grill which had apparently been stolen a month ago.

Weather

Tonight, a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. Lows mid 60s. South wind 5 to 15 mph. Saturday, partly cloudy with isolated afternoon thunderstorms. Rain chance less than 20 percent. Highs upper 80s. South and southwest wind 10 to 20 mph.

Clements raps lawmakers, suggests special session

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says he likely will summon legislators to a July special session if they can't pass a budget within his $36.9 billion limit by their scheduled June 1 adjournment.

If one is needed, Clements said he probably wouldn't call a special session immediately because he wants lawmakers to go home and hear what taxpayers are saying.

"I want them to go home. I want them to listen to their constituency and see what's going on back there," the governor said Thursday.

Clements has been touring the state urging public support for his spending plans. He wants a $36.9 billion budget for 1988-89, combined with a $2.9 billion tax increase to be obtained by continuing temporary sales and motor fuel hikes now scheduled to expire Aug. 31.

But in a meeting with reporters, Clements complained that the Legislature's budget proposals are too high. The Senate has passed a $40 billion budget, and the House on Monday will debate a $39.4 billion spending plan.

"Those appropriations are wishful thinking," Clements said. "Certainly the progress that we've made to date in solving the budgetary problem would not indicate that we're going to get there by June 1. But who knows? Miracles can happen."

Clements repeatedly has said he would veto any tax increase higher than $2.9 billion.

If lawmakers can't get Clements to approve more taxes than that, any higher budget they pass won't be certified by the state comptroller and can't be sent to the governor for his signature or veto, Clements said.

Two more banks close in Texas, bringing year's total to 23

By LAURA TOLLEY Associated Press Writer

Texas is teetering on the brink of another record-setting year for bank failures now that two more have collapsed under overwhelming loan losses, officials say.

One of those banks that failed Thursday — Unitedbank-Houston, with $218 million in assets — was the largest to be shut down in the nation this year, state banking officials said.

With the additional closing of Peoples State Bank in the Panhandle town of Turkey, the state's depressed economy has claimed a total of 23 banks this year in Texas and edged the national total to 71. The state set a national record of 26 failures last year, breaking its 1985 mark of 12.

State Banking Commissioner Kenneth W. Littlefield closed Peoples State Bank and Unitedbank-Houston and turned both over to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for sale or liquidation.

The collapse of Unitedbank-Houston is the largest this year and second-largest in Texas behind the October 1983 failure of the $1.4 billion First National Bank in Midland, FDIC spokesman Alan Whitney said. The Houston bank had $161.1 million in 13,400 insured accounts, said Frank D. Norris, FDIC closing manager. About $5 million was not insured, most of it interest on jumbo certificates of deposits.

A recent bank examination revealed the bank was "insolvent by the tune of about $7 million," Littlefield told a press conference Thursday afternoon at the downtown Houston bank.

The examination also showed severe deterioration in the bank's loan portfolio, he said. Efforts to recapitalize were not successful.

"Huge loan losses, coupled with a mounting deficit from bank operations, rendered the institution insolvent," Littlefield said. "Loan concentrations for purposes of residential and commercial real estate development and construction and bank stock financing are major investment losses."

Whitney said officials were working to find another bank to assume Unitedbank-Houston. The negotiations included several banks, but he declined to provide any specifics.

The FDIC has already found a buyer for the Peoples State Bank, FDIC spokeswoman Julie Amberson said.

Memphis State Bank in Memphis, Texas, was to open the collapsed bank's only office today as one of its branches. Peoples' depositors automatically will become depositors of the assuming bank. "Substantial losses on loans to various out-of-territory borrowers as well as to local agricultural customers were cited by Commissioner Littlefield as a primary cause of the bank's failure," state banking spokeswoman Heidi Cottingham said.

"Liberal and ill-advised lending practices, coupled with lax collection efforts, contributed significantly to overall poor loan quality," she added. "Efforts to recapitalize the bank were unsuccessful."

State House backs new tuition plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis has won preliminary House approval for his bill that would let state college boards double tuition.

In a rare move, Lewis on Thursday came down from his House podium to present his bill. In a development almost equally as rare, the speaker's bill drew heated debate before winning tentative approval in a 96-10 non-record vote.

"If we think that higher education is wasting money, and then we give them the authority to raise tuition, it's like telling your teen-age son, 'Look you're spending too much money, so I'm going to raise your allowance,'" said Rep. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi.

Also Thursday, the House voted tentative approval to a select committee recommendation for a required basic skills test for college students. Students would have to pass the test before they could take junior-level courses.

Cavazos and several other House members want to keep lawmakers in charge of setting college tuition. Under the Lewis provision, part of a comprehensive bill resulting from the Select Committee on Higher Education study, the tuition schedule approved by lawmakers in 1985 would be a minimum.

Imaginary shuttle troubled

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery landed safely in a simulated spaceflight that had all the cliff-hanging tension and sweaty palms of the real thing, officials say.

The 56-hour pretend spaceflight ended Thursday with a mock landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California after astronauts and flight controllers found correct solutions to 180 problems created in computer simulation.

Discovery experienced a simulated rocket malfunction just as it was to return to Earth. The astronauts and engineers had to reprogram computers in just 90 minutes to make the successful landing.

Stokes McMillan, the simulation supervisor, said the mock mission had all the stomach-knotting feeling of the real thing. To heighten the effect, films of an actual launch and landing were projected in Mission Control.

"I've never gone through emotions like that before in a simulation," McMillan said. "My palms were sweaty and you could cut the tension with a knife."

Officials said the object of the pretend spaceflight was to train flight controllers who will have a key role in future shuttle missions.

Mission flight director Charles Shaw said the exercise was "an unqualified success, showing that we are ready to start flying."

More than 600 engineers took part in the exercise, with Mission Control flight team shifts working around the clock at the Johnson Space Center.

Plan would violate civil rights

TORNILLO, Texas (AP) — Authorities have junked a plan to punish children for speaking Spanish at school after state and federal agencies said it violated civil rights.

The local Board of Trustees also scrapped a requirement that teachers in the Tornillo Independent School District speak only English to students, school superintendent Francis Brooks said Thursday.

"The Justice Department just said there was a chance it could violate civil rights, but they recommended we withdraw that action," Brooks said.

Two TEA officials from the accreditation unit were in Tornillo Wednesday and spoke to Brooks before the board held a special session Wednesday night. Brooks also presented recommendations from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division.

"This thing has been blown out of proportion," Brooks said. "We didn't intend for publicity to get out like it did."

Brooks said he received a scathing telegram from Ruben Bonilla Jr., chairman of the Corpus Christi-based Mexican-American Democrats of Texas.

"I filed that complaint" with the Justice Department, Bonilla said. "They (Tornillo school district officials) like their accreditation more than they like their prejudices."

Since the board's action became known last week, Cable News Network, ABC-TV and area news media have descended on Tornillo, an agricultural community of 1,100 residents some 40 miles from El Paso.

National House questions Medicare watchdogs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Rep. Ralph Hall angrily accused Health and Human Services officials of running a medical watchdog program that discriminates against doctors from rural areas.

Nearly 40 doctors have been barred from collecting Medicare payments from patients because peer review organizations, or PROs, reported that they were providing poor medical care.

Seventy-five percent of those doctors are from rural areas, and two-thirds practice in rural Texas.

Hall, a member of the subcommittee on health and the environment, said at a hearing Thursday the sanction decisions are made without giving the doctors adequate chance to defend themselves in closed sessions.

In some states, physicians can't bring an attorney or expert witnesses to the PRO review sessions in their behalf.

"This total lack of due process has created a very serious concern among the physicians, hospitals and the Medicare patients of our country," said Hall, a three-term Democrat from Rockwall.

Several Texas doctors testifying before the subcommittee echoed Hall's sentiments, saying that in addition to the lack of an appeal process, they fear being judged by big-city doctors who don't know the idiosyncrasies of country medicine.

"I can say unequivocally that doctors in rural Texas are confused and are scared about the process of peer review by the PRO," said Billy Bob Brame, a doctor from the West Texas town of Eldorado and president of the Texas Medical Association.

"I know that there are doctors in West Texas who are afraid to admit patients to the hospital because of the excessive scrutiny of their records by urban physicians with a very high-tech practice perspective," Brame testified.

Reserve Board tightening policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board, facing up to the continuing fall of the dollar on world money markets, has moved to tighten federal monetary policy, and some economists predict more drastic intervention by the board may come soon.

Chairman Paul A. Volcker told a House subcommittee on Thursday that the board has engaged in "a somewhat less accommodative policy ... a slight snuffing" in response to economic conditions.

In market jargon, a "slight snuffing" is a way of describing policies under which the Fed becomes more cautious in releasing its money to banks.

Volcker did not define the exact extent of the Fed's action, which is aimed at affecting the money supply and, thus, the amount of money banks have to lend.

The tighter monetary policy has contributed to the recent increase in interest rates, Volcker said. He encouraged foreign central banks, particularly in Japan, to lower their interest rates in response.

Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, in Washington talks with President Reagan and members of Congress, announced at the same time that he was directing the Bank of Japan to move toward lower short-term interest rates.

Congressional hearing reveals North tried to stop FBI probe of fund raising WASHINGTON (AP) — Fired White House aide Oliver L. North twice sought to interfere with an FBI investigation into people North was using to raise money for the Nicaraguan Contras, it was disclosed at a congressional hearing.

The interference, which came in 1985 and 1986 during a two-year congressional ban on U.S. military assistance to the Contras, was detailed Thursday at a Senate Intelligence Committee confirmation hearing for FBI Director William Webster to head the CIA.

North's actions were in connection with a federal investigation of an Iranian, Mousalreza Zadeh, a swindler under FBI investigation who was posing as a Saudi Arabian oilman and who falsely offered to raise millions of dollars for the Contra rebels, Webster testified.

The committee released FBI documents showing North personally asked an FBI agent on July 18, 1985, to delay interviewing Zadeh for four days until he had made a promised donation to the Contras.

Another document said North told the FBI he held personal discussions in June 1985 with President Reagan and then-National Security Adviser Robert A. McFarlane about Zadeh's interest in contributing money.

Meanwhile, The Washington Post reported today that Carl R. "Spitz" Channell, who pleaded guilty Wednesday to tax conspiracy charges surrounding his Contra fund-raising activities, paid former presidential assistant David Fischer $20,000 a month in late 1985 to arrange meetings between Contra contributors and President Reagan.

The original arrangement was for Fischer, who retained access to the White House after he quit on April 7, 1985, to receive $50,000 for each meeting arranged with the president, the Post reported, quoting sources close to Channell.

Fischer finally gave up his White House pass on Nov. 24, 1986, the day before Attorney General Edwin Meese III disclosed that funds from the Iran arms sales had been diverted to the U.S.-backed Contra rebels fighting Nicaragua's government, the newspaper said. The Post said Fischer arranged seven meetings of major Channell contributors with the president.

Reagan, asked about the Channell case Thursday night, said: "I'm kind of a stranger to this whole thing. I never knew anything about it."

"I was told they were people raising money for TV ads. ... I didn't know he (Channell) had a foundation or anything else," Reagan told reporters after a state dinner for Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone.

Bobby Griego of Griego Dragline and his crew have been working hard this week to build a new road to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center located behind Sugarland Mall.

The new road, composed of caliche and lime, will turn off of 15th Street and make a right angle just behind the Hall and is expected to provide easier access to the popular attraction.

Former Brown Beret leader to speak at weekend rally

Former drug user Gilbert Herrera of Lubbock, will be the evangelist at the Reach Out '87 Rally in the Bull Barn today and Saturday.

Herrera was once part of a para-military Hispanic group and at one time was a $400-a-week heroin user. He now is in full-time Christian service.

Following is an account from the Baptist Press on the gun-toting militant who became a Bible-quoting evangelist:

"The son of a Lubbock, Texas, police officer killed in the line of duty, Herrera turned against the law early in life. He served two terms totalling five years in the Huntsville, Texas, Walls Unit, first for a burglary to support his $400 a week heroin habit and later for parole violation.

Herrera led an armed group of Brown Berets to meet them.

"We went to the border with automatic weapons to face the KKK, ready to die if we had to," he says. "I'm glad now that they didn't show up, because if they had, I know someone would have been killed."

Hated and feared by many for his militant stance, Herrera accepted death threats as routine business, and he escaped several attempts on his life. A former companion in prison, Juan Perez, served a his personal bodyguard and as a major in the Brown Berets with 28 men under his command.

In spite of his para-military trappings and questionable reputation, Herrera was courted by respectable politicians who recognized his ability to deliver votes. After actively being involved in one gubernatorial and two presidential campaigns for others, Herrera ran for mayor pro tem of Lubbock, placing third among a field of 12 candidates.

With Perez as his business partner, he began nearly five years ago promoting musical groups for nightclubs and concerts. In spite of his success as a businessman and political powerbroker, he felt unfulfilled.

One evening during a cocaine-induced fit of depression, Herrera put a .38-caliber revolver to his head and pulled the trigger. As if by a miracle, the gun did not fire, but the click of the trigger brought him to his senses. He noticed his television was on, and an evangelist was talking about God's plan of salvation.

"That got my attention," remembers Herrera. "I was tired of being hated. I was tired of being shot at. I said 'I wish I could serve the Lord someday.'"

Although he admits some Christians still find it hard to believe he has changed, the Lubbock evangelist says his conversion was as complete as Paul's was on the road to Damascus.

"Ten years ago people saw me on TV carrying weapons, wearing long hair and a military uniform. For me to come back 10 years later and talk about God is hard for some people to accept," he notes. "The story of Paul keeps me alive. It keeps me going."

further changes built around Graham as president, Witherspoon said the bank will become the "outstanding bank in the Panhandle."

Witherspoon said the board is scheduled to meet again May 13 and is considering expanding its board from six members to 15. Present board members are Witherspoon, Lynton Allred, Joe Reinauer, Earnest Langley, and Ruby and James Sears.

Graham will take over the president's position here after almost 35 years with Texas American Bank of Amarillo. He and his wife, Pat, have two married children and plan to make their home here in June.

Graham, in an interview Thursday, said he considers his move to Hereford a promotion which "will be quite challenging and exciting." He said he wants to assure the bank and its employees are more visible in the community and become more active in civic organizations.

Graham said he plans to be a stabilizing force, "and that's what they need now—stability."

J.D. Bryant, a former bank officer now with Lone Star Agency in Hereford, said it's "tragic" that James Sears is no longer with the bank, a man he said "carried Hereford, Texas, the past 15 years."

"Hereford would be in a lot worse shape than it is now if it weren't for Jimmy," Bryant said. "He's not a PR man, but he took care of the community."

James Sears, 49, has been questioned by the board in recent months for his ability to perform fully his duties and lead the bank because of his health, board members said. The son of the late Henry Sears, James Sears served as vice president of the bank until taking over as president in 1970. His father died in 1971.

Henry Sears bought controlling interest in the bank in 1969 from V.P. Patterson, Rip Underwood, Lawrence Hagy, Harold Dunn, Gene Edwards, W.N. Durham Jr. and Stanton Thatcher, all of Amarillo.

Letters to the editor

Dear editor:

Not long ago, the good Lord asked me to write you about the life and death of a precious young man in our community. The loss of Casey Smith touched the lives of people throughout the Texas Panhandle. I have often heard it said, "Why didn't we tell someone how much we loved or appreciated them while we had the opportunity."

The Lord has come to me again with the same calling, this time He has asked me to exhalt a close friend of mine who is still very much alive. I'm glad I have the opportunity to say, "Thank you, Jim, for all that you have done for me personally and for my community."

Not long ago, Jim Sears stepped down from the president's position of First National Bank. For 17 years, he served this position. No one has any idea the burdens that he carried for the community and the individuals who live and work here. He is a quiet man and the majority of the people of Hereford probably never heard him say more than "Hi do Sir." But it was always said with respect.

It can be very lonely when you are at the head of such a large corporation and decisions have to be made, but it can be even more lonely when you have stepped down from such a position. I just lift Jim Sears up to the Lord and pray that he shall receive peace of mind and find a new way to serve Him. Jim has so many good friends throughout this community. There is not a soul living that can make it without these friends and, most of all, without you, Lord.

Lord, I just want to thank Jim Sears for proudly serving Hereford, and being a friend of mine while I still have the opportunity. I also pray for the unity of our community and a revival of the Holy Spirit within.

We give all the honor and glory to you, Lord, and ask you for your forgiveness of our sins.

Sincerely,
John David Bryant

Some kinds of remodeling doesn't add to home value

By HEREFORD BOARD OF REALTORS

The game room you added a few years ago has turned out to be a great place for your children. And the jacuzzi on the deck outside is quite a luxury. But when the time comes to sell the house, how much return can you expect from these expenditures?

Remodeling enhances your home and provides additional pleasure and comfort for your family. Unfortunately, though, it doesn't always add much to the value of your home. So if you're considering improvements with thoughts of a big financial return in mind, think twice before installing that diving board or skylight. You and your family will enjoy them, but they won't necessarily bring you extra money when it's time to leave.

If you want to play it safe, add air conditioning, a fireplace and a garage, or possibly update the kitchen. These improvements will add to the home's comfort and probably provide you with the best possible return on your investment.

You might think particularly expensive improvements will increase the value of your home, but in actuality, such additions can hurt a sale. Take, for instance, a swimming pool. A pool is considered a luxury and is probably one of the most enjoyable, entertaining facilities you can add. But as an investment, a pool is risky. In most cases, prospective buyers don't want to deal with the maintenance a pool requires or the risk of liability. If you want a pool, go ahead and build one. Just don't expect it to increase the value of your home by a significant amount.

Perhaps you're in a position where money isn't an object and there are numerous items you want to add. That's fine, but be careful not to out price your home so much that it becomes incompatible with surrounding ones. If all the homes in your neighborhood are worth approximately the same amount of money, and you spend $30,000 on remodeling, you most likely won't get your investment back when you move. Take a good look at your neighborhood and don't overbuild. Your house can wind up on the market for several months, and most people cannot afford to be in that position.

Keep in mind, too, what the trends are in homes being built today. Upgrading kitchens and bathrooms seems to be more popular than adding bedrooms. And whatever you decide to do, make sure it flows smoothly with the original floorplan.

Hiring remodeling experts is smart. Don't try to do it yourself unless you know what you're doing because inferior remodeling can actually lessen the value of your home.

And if you're already planning on moving, it might be wise to invest in new carpet and paint. Such improvements won't necessarily add to the value of your home, but they can sometimes speed up a sale.

Some of the best remodeling ideas to consider (based upon their percentage of return) are: major and minor kitchen remodeling (80-100%), bathroom remodeling (50-75%), an energy-efficient fireplace (80-100%), exterior painting (30-50%), and a room addition (50% or more).

And the worst? A solar greenhouse (0%), an operable skylight (0-10%), a sauna (0-10%), and reroofing (0-20%).

It's nice to add features to a home that you and your family can enjoy for years. But if you're even the slightest bit doubtful that you're in your present home to stay, keep in mind the kind of improvements you want to make, and how they will affect the sale of your home in the future.

It's a good idea to contact a real estate agent who is a REALTOR when you're thinking about remodeling. A REALTOR can advise you on neighborhood growth patterns, current housing trends and features that make a home particularly easy to sell.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Reach Out 1987 is planned at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday at the Bull Barn. Gilbert Herrera will be the guest speaker for the rally which will feature special music and testimonies.

The Easter Opry Gospel Road Show will perform at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 9, in the Hereford High School auditorium. Proceeds will go to the Deaf Smith Chapter of the American Heart Association.

Senior students wishing to apply for the WMU scholarship must make a written application by May 10. It should include two letters of recommendation: one from a teacher and one from another source. A resume and a paper designating future goals must also be included. Scholarship requirements may be picked up in the church office. If there are any questions call Lavon Nieman at 364-6957.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Caravan Searchers will be taking a trip to Palo Duro May 9 for hiking and a cook-out.

The Nazarene Christian Academy school board would like to know how many students would take advantage of grade four if it were offered this fall. Call the school office or come by the church if interested.

The Sixth International Laymen's Conference is planned July 1-5 in Fort Worth. Featured speakers include Tony Campolo, Charles Colson, and Ann Kiemel Anderson. The Speer Family, Steve Green and Hicks and Cohagan will provide entertainment. There will also be workshops and seminars to attend. The cost is $40 per person. If interested, contact the Rev. Bob Hufaker.

During the five Sundays in May, Ted Taylor and the teen instructors will be teaching an overview of the Old Testament. This will be based on the "Walk Thru The Bible" materials. All teens are encouraged to attend the teachings during Sunday school. This Sunday, the groups will meet at 9 a.m. and the following Sundays at 9:35 a.m.

The community organizations are joining together for a Drug Awareness Week, which begins today and concludes May 8. On Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. at La Plata Junior High School, there will be a rally featuring Lynn Blais' "Mother" and "The Junkie Priest," Father Joe Egan's brother. There will be no L.I.F.E. that week in lieu of this community service.

The Easter Opry Gospel Road Show is planned at 7:30 p.m. May 9 in the Hereford High School auditorium. Proceeds will benefit the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Heart Association. Tickets are priced at $2.50 per person and are available at K-Bob's Steak House, Senior Citizens Center, First National and Hereford State Banks, Pants Cage, Boots and Saddles, Caryn's, and The Vogue.

The Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Hereford is in need of two big brothers from the church. If you are interested, call Alva Lee Peeler at 364-6171.

The Nazarene Christian Academy now has over 80 students enrolled for next year. There will be a special awards assembly at 10 a.m. May 27. Parents and friends are urged to attend. The children will be taking their achievement tests May 5-7.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier's sermon for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service is entitled, "Don't Get Caught Watching the Paint Dry." The scripture to study is Luke 24:13-35.

The Scripture For Lunch Bunch will not meet next week.

Kerygma will not meet during the summer months but will continue this fall.

Beginning Anew Together, the new members class, will conclude at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Ranch weekend is planned May 15-17. All men interested in participating are asked to contact the Rev. Kochsmeier.

The senior high youth will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday at 138 Liveoak and the junior high youth at 5:30 p.m. at the same address. Hoopa Hoop Night is planned for the junior youth.

The Women's Association Luncheon will be held at noon Wednesday. Meat will be provided.

Mission Yearbook: This week we are asked to pray for the Spanish Evangelical Church and the Spanish Reformed Episcopal Church as they cooperate closely in their Protestant witness to the gospel, especially in the fields of theological education, Christian education, the human rights. It is the will of the two churches to work toward greater service to Spanish society by offering assistance to persons who suffer from extreme poverty, loneliness and drug addiction. Please pray for The Rev. Carlos Morales as he heads this ministry.

GRACE GOSPEL CHURCH

Dennis Latham, longtime Hereford resident, is the new pastor at Grace Gospel Church, located on the corner of Ave. K and 13th St.

The Sunday worship service begins at 10:30 a.m. and the Sunday evening service at 7. A nursery will be provided.

Wednesday night prayer service is at 7. The early morning prayer and praise begins each day from 5-7 a.m., Monday through Friday, at the church. Come join the group.

For further information, pray or counseling, call 364-6258.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Parker will be ministering at the United Pentecostal Church, 908 Lafayette, at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Rev. Parker is a pastor in Belen, N.M.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Youth of First United Methodist Church have started a plan of inviting one of the adult Sunday School classes to the youth prayer breakfast held on the first Sunday morning of each month. Guests for the first Sunday in May will be the Friendship Class.

The breakfasts begin at 9 a.m. in Fellowship Hall, preceding regular Sunday School class sessions at 9:45. Afternoon meetings of youth are at 5:30 p.m. for a snack supper, then separate programs for Junior High and Senior High groups.

Summer church camps for youth will start next month at Ceta Canyon. Those interested in attending are asked to notify Robin Roth as soon as possible.

First UMC has established a scholarship to be awarded to a graduate of Hereford High this spring, for use in a college of choice. An application form is available at the church office or the youth director's office.

A donation from a member of the church started the fund, which will provide a $500 scholarship. Others may make donations so the scholarship may be available at the beginning of the school term each fall.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Men interested in participating in the Men's Retreat May 16-17 at Conchas Lake in New Mexico may sign up now at the church. Activities which will be available include fishing, boating, skiing, swimming, horseshoes, and crafts.

This Sunday, there will be a Celebration Service. The Rev. Mac McCarter will speak on "The Light of the World." Prepare for the sermon by reading Mark 4:21-25.

A Marriage Enrichment Retreat is set May 15-17. The cost will be from $250-$275 per couple. This fee includes Friday and Saturday night at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dallas and all conference materials. A $90 deposit is required per couple by May 10.

Some of the things to be discussed during the retreat include the following: how to experience God's plan for oneness in a marriage, living with the good, bad, etc., how to handle conflict before it handles you, candid sessions about sex in your marriage, men only and women-only sessions about husband and wife roles, understanding why your spouse thinks differently than you, what it means to be the head of the home and special projects that bring you closer together as a couple.

Tickets are still available for the performance of The Toymaker's Dream beginning at 8 p.m. today at Amarillo High School auditorium. Cost is $1 per person.

The peanut, native to the Americas, was imported to Africa by Portuguese traders. It returned to America again in the 18th and 19th centuries on ships transporting slaves. Primarily intended as food for slaves during the long ocean crossing, the peanuts that were not eaten were planted. This was the beginning of one of the most important crops in the United States.

Alleged abuse involving loan to athlete

WTSU basketball program probed

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — West Texas State's basketball program has come under scrutiny in an NCAA inquiry into alleged abuse involving an athletic department credit card, the school's athletic director said.

Bruce Grimes, WTSU athletic director and vice president for internal affairs, said a loan to player Eric Carmon came while he was still on academic scholarship to West Texas State and would be a violation of NCAA rules.

Grimes said an NCAA investigator, Joe Buffington, visited the WTSU campus several weeks ago.

"I asked him, 'Is this an inquiry or really an investigation?' He said it is really an investigation," said Grimes.

Ronnie Mankin, a WTSU booster who is a former football player and former assistant coach at the school, said he loaned $250 last summer to a former basketball player thinking he no longer was on scholarship.

"He (Carmon) was not off scholarship until Aug. 10. Money was loaned on July 10. And that is a violation of NCAA rules," said Grimes.

Mankin said that Carmon has not repaid the loan.

Grimes told The Associated Press that officials last year began looking into telephone calls made from the rooms of basketball players. One player identified was Carmon, Grimes said.

"By registered mail, we sent a letter to that player, saying his athletic scholarship had been cancelled," said Grimes. He said the cancellation came after Carmon got the loan from Mankin.

NCAA officials in Mission, Kan., confirmed the investigation but would not discuss allegations.

"We have been on campus to make inquiries concerning the men's basketball program," Chuck Smrt, assistant director of enforcement for the NCAA, told The AP.

Carmon, a former guard-forward, said he received money from Mankin several times and had no problem receiving money when he needed it. He said the money came only from Mankin.

"One time, we went to get a hamburger and he (Mankin) gave me $20 and said for me to get something," Carmon said. "The next day, we went to his ranch and he gave me twenty again. I asked him for $250 to get my car fixed and he (Mankin) gave it to me."

"When school was out, I think that was, I didn't give Eric Carmon any money," said Mankin, who lettered in football at WTSU from 1964-66 and was an assistant football coach there 1968-1976. "I loaned Eric Carmon money where he could go home, because he told me his car was broke down."

Carmon also said former WTSU men's head basketball coach Gary Moss made arrangements for him to fly home to Columbus, Ohio. Moss accepted the head coaching job at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville on April 2.

Moss said he would not comment on the allegations. He referred questions to his attorney, Philip Russ.

HHS girls' golf team third at regionals

Hereford High School's girls' golf team missed out on a trip to the state tournament by 13 strokes, and team member Amy Coneway missed out on a trip to state by two strokes.

Hereford had a team score of 728 for the two regional tournament rounds in Brownwood, played on Wednesday and Thursday. Hereford shot a 362 in the first round and a 366 in the second round.

Andrews won the regional title with a score of 659, and Snyder finished second with a total of 715.

Coneway's two-round score was 163, two strokes behind a pair of Andrews golfers who had scores of 161.

The other Hereford individuals' two-round scores were: Suzanne Hardage, 186; Brenda Martinez, 188; Andrea Wall, 200; and Kathy Neill, 203.

Houston beats Portland 113-101, Dallas loses to Seattle 124-98

Rockets advance in playoffs; Mavs ousted

By The Associated Press

The state of Texas and the Pacific Northwest each have something to celebrate and something to bemoan from the NBA playoffs.

Basketball fans in Houston rejoiced Thursday night as the Rockets eliminated the Portland Trail Blazers 113-101. But the Dallas Mavericks, who owned the second-best record in the Western Conference, were eliminated 124-98 by the Seattle SuperSonics.

The Rockets, who lost in the NBA finals to Boston last year, easily won Game 4 of their series with the Trail Blazers, whose 49-33 record was third in the West and seven games better than Houston's mark. Their Twin Towers were too much for Portland to handle.

Akeem Olatuwon scored 27 points, grabbed nine rebounds and blocked five shots as the Rockets clinched a playoff at home for the first time. Ralph Sampson scored 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

"They were playing so well I wanted to run for cover," Portland forward Kiki Vandeweghe said. "I wanted to find a foxhole."

The Mavericks probably felt the same way after being bombed by Seattle in Game 4. The SuperSonics lost all five regular-season meetings with Dallas this season by an average of 18½ points.

But it was Seattle which dominated the postseason series. On Thursday night, Tom Chambers scored 31 points and Xavier McDaniel added 29.

"If we played these guys for 10 years, we wouldn't be able to beat them," Dallas Coach Dick Motta said.

Houston hosts Seattle in the next round's opening game on Saturday.

In games tonight, Milwaukee is at Philadelphia, with the Bucks leading 2-1; Atlanta, ahead 2-1, visits Indiana; and Utah tries to end its series, which it leads 2-1, at Golden State.

"We penetrated against the press very well and when we kicked the ball out, the guards hit timely shots," Houston Coach Bill Fitch said.

Houston staged a 20-4 surge over the final 4:23 of the third quarter to take command. Robert Reid hit for 22 points, including 10 in the fourth quarter, to keep the Rockets in control.

"Now was a good time for us to come together as a team," Reid said. "The other team's coach knows that if Akeem breaks out and you get on him, Ralph will hurt you. It's nice to have that Triple Tower effect with Jim Petersen coming off the bench."

Blazers Coach Mike Schuler said the matchup disadvantage finally caught up with his team.

"The Rockets are so much bigger than we are, we played absolutely the worst team for us to play in the playoffs because of the matchups," Schuler said.

Dallas couldn't overcome the absence of 7-foot-2 center James Donaldson, who was out with a sore right leg. Seattle barely missed injured center Alton Lister as its high-scoring trio of Chambers, McDaniel and especially guard Dale Ellis were unstoppable. It was Ellis, who had 21 points Thursday, who led the Mavericks in their other two victories. The former Maverick had 118 points in the series, including 43 in Game 3.

"We wanted this series badder than anything," said Ellis, who pointed to the Mavericks' bench as he left the court late in the game. "I might look back in a few years and regret that but I got caught up in the moment. That was a little out of character for me. It was spontaneous."

Rolando Blackman scored 25 points and Sam Perkins had 24 for Dallas. Mark Aguirre of the Mavericks, who has had strep throat, was held to 13 points and did not score in the second half.

Placed In Four Events

Jose Gutierrez, a member of the Stanton Junior High School seventh grade boys' track team, placed in four events in the district junior high track meet last weekend. He is pictured here in the 400-meter dash, in which he placed second. Gutierrez also placed third in the shot put, ran on a first place 1,600-meter relay team with Joe Lucio, Edward Tijerina, and Joe Riojas, and also was a member of Stanton's third place 400-meter relay team along with Tijerina, Santos Rincon, and John McBride. The Faces Tell The Story

Among the competitors in the shot put at last Saturday's West Texas-New Mexico Junior High District Track Meet were these La Plata athletes: eighth grader

Ninth Grade High Jump Winner

Tate Smith of La Plata Junior High School won the ninth grade boys' high jump in the district junior high track meet last weekend. His winning leap was five feet, 10 inches. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

The hashmarks in the National Football League are 70 feet, 9 inches from each sideline.

Man o'War, the winner of the 1920 Belmont Stakes, sired three winners of that classic. They were American Flag in 1925, Crusader in 1926 and War Admiral in 1937.

John Henry, racing's all-time money-winnings champion, was so accustomed to winning that after one losing race he jogged into the winner's circle and had to be dragged out.

In the first 20 Super Bowls, Don Shula was one of the competing head coaches six times, a record — once with Baltimore and five times with the Miami Dolphins.

200-Meter Dash Finals

Two Hereford tracksters take off in the finals of the ninth grade 200-meter dash in the district junior high school track meet in Hereford last weekend. They are Cande Robbins, left, of La Plata Junior High School, and Marisa Arriaga, right of Stanton Junior High School. Arriaga placed sixth in the event with a time of 28.96 seconds. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Second Place In 1,600-Meter Run

Doenna Torres, a member of the Stanton Junior High School ninth grade girls' track team, is pictured here in the 1,600-meter run, an event she placed second in the district meet with a time of 6:16.04. She also placed second in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:45.77, and teamed up with Cindy Kuper, Michelle Hamby, and Lisa Zepeda to win the 1,600-meter relay in 4:38.41. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Canonero II, the winner of the 1971 Kentucky Derby, was grouped in the betting with five other horses as the mutual field. The others were the last five to finish in the 20-horse field.

The horses were so unruly at the barrier for the 1886 Kentucky Derby that the start took 20 minutes. Ben Brush won the event.

About 40,000 flowers decorate the infield at Churchill Downs near the winner's circle for the Kentucky Derby. There are 250 varieties.

Bull Lea, later one of the great sires of the American racing scene, finished a tired eighth in the 1938 Kentucky Derby, won by Lawrin.

Jockey Bill Hartack won the Kentucky Derby five times and three of his victories were in photo finishes.

Ben Jones trained a record six Kentucky Derby winners, five for Calumet Farm and one for the Woolford Farm.

CLASSIFIED ADS
Classified advertising rates are based on... cents a word for first insertion ($2.00 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	14	2.80
2 days per word	24	4.80
3 days per word	34	6.80
4 days per word	44	8.80
5th day FREE

Ten days (2 free) is $15.00 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is $23.00 minimum; one month is $31.80 minimum.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS
Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.
