Cows Show Gleaming Dentures

By H. A. TUCK
BRAND-NEWS EDITOR
If you should see a herd of cows sniffling broadly at you, don't be alarmed. It's not a mirage. They just want you to notice their beautiful new teeth.
Stainless steel caps are the latest innovation for bovine dental hygiene.
And such dentures were installed in Deaf Smith County last Thursday.
Dr. Gene Cope, a veterinarian, and Dr. H. A. Cavness, a dentist, combined their normal fields of practice to put in the first step.
The relatively-small investment could pay big dividends, according to livestock specialists. They are installed in cows whose teeth have worn down to expose the nerve ends and sensitive parts. Such badly-worn teeth are extremely sensitive to temperature changes and cause discomfort while drinking or grazing.
The caps protect the worn-out teeth, enabling the cow to eat and drink without discomfort. This would make the cows stronger and probably allow them to live and raise cows for several additional years.
Caps have been installed on several head of cows at the Dameron Hereford Ranch and, if as successful as believed, probably will become quite common.

Basically, the process of installing the caps is simple. The cow is put in a small chute and tied in place with her head pulled up. A piece of plastic tubing is inserted deep into the mouth to keep the jaws apart.
From that point, it becomes a typical dental procedure. The teeth are examined and cleaned thoroughly, usually with a small fingernail file.
The caps come in several different sizes and are adjustable on the sides and back to provide a tight fit. Since a cow's teeth are normally loose, the fitting procedure is simple.
A cap is slipped over the tooth and checked, then removed and adjusted slightly before being refitted. Slight filing sometimes is necessary to provide space between the teeth.
After all the caps have been fitted, they are removed one at a time and cemented into place. Once placed, there is little danger the caps will come loose. As Dr. Cavness explained it, "Cows don't chew such stuff as taffy."
And the caps are guaranteed for five years, which makes the $25 investment small on a yearly

State's Money Woes Need A Sales Tax, Speaker Says

An explanation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's program of work attracted more than 65 persons to a luncheon meeting here Friday.
Held at the Hereford Country Club, the meeting concisely covered the major programs now being pushed by the WTCC including a state sales tax.
Prior to the introduction of the main speaker, WTCC director Henry Sears of Hereford said, "I am very pleased to state that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been working extremely hard recently on behalf of our sugar beet legislation."
Sears then introduced Fred Husbands of Abilene, executive secretary of the WTCC.
"You might say that the function of the WTCC is to mold public opinion," he said. "But it would be better to define its main function as being to mobilize public opinion."
The huge organization, largest of its type in the world, is dedicated to the economic growth and the conditions for economic growth in West Texas, he said.
He said that three basic measures now pending federal legislation were quite disturbing: the minimum wage increase, intervention in water pollution and federal school construction.

Fred Husbands

Several other proposed programs at the federal level also are upsetting to the WTCC. These include federal aid to education, compulsory medical care for the aged incorporated into Social Security, and massive public housing measures.
Turning to the state level, he said, "We have growth problems in Texas. The state will need $163-$170 millions for the biennium before considering any new programs."
"After a great deal of study, we have concluded that a retail sales tax is the best answer to the state's financial problem."
"Basically, there are only three types of tax," he explained. "You can tax the property you own, you can tax the money you earn, or you can tax the money you spend."
Of these, Husbands said, the sales tax has the broadest base and would be most fair, particularly since the federal government has almost monopolized the income tax.
"Until January of this year," he said, "not a single state had passed a state income tax in 23 years."
Husbands said the state's current tax problem also was creating problems in the economic growth of Texas.
"Texas needs to create 50,000"

Some Paving Assessments Lowered, Meeting Recessed

City Commissioners voted to lower paving assessments on three streets during a hearing Friday night. They later recessed the hearing for further study of proposed paving along Grand Avenue.
The next hearing was set for Monday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.
There were 18 interested citizens on hand for the meeting, crowded into the city manager's office. Property owners along three streets which now have strip paving told the Commission they felt published front foot costs were too high.
One resident said he thought the costs were excessive, since the city already planned to hot mix the existing paving, most of which is 20 feet wide. The cost of curb, gutter and additional paving, he declared, also included the cost of hot mixing.
The streets involved in the question have petitioned to be included in the current city paving program.
Commissioners agreed and passed a motion to adjust the assessments to a lower figure. Included in the motion were two blocks on Irving, three blocks on Blevins and one block on Wulf.

Grain Program Deadline Near

With signed agreements only 60 per cent completed in Deaf Smith County, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager Faust Collier has urged all farmers interested in the new feed grain program to divert acres at the Hereford ASC office as early as possible this week.
Final date for signing agreements is Wednesday, May 31.
Collier reminded farmers to avoid the last-minute rush as the ASC office would be closed for Memorial Day on May 30. That leaves only seven days that the office will be open for signing agreements.
He pointed out that 587 agreements of the 912 eligible farms had been signed Friday afternoon.
About 60 per cent have agreed to divert 40 per cent of base acreage in this county, Collier said. The contracts represent a

88 Golfers In Monday Tourney

Eighty-eight golfers, including 22 professionals and 66 amateurs, will be on the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course in Hereford Monday to play in a pro member Pro-Am tournament.
The 22 foursomes, each with a pro and three amateurs, will make an 18-hole tour of the course. Starting rounds will commence at 8:30 a.m. and continue through 1:40 p.m., golfers starting at 10-minute intervals.
Local golfers will receive full handicaps in the tourney, according to host pro, Bud Posey of Hereford. The public is invited

Herbicide Control Meet At Stalmate

A meeting held Thursday to further explain an optional state herbicide control act followed the same pattern as another meeting held in Hereford two weeks ago — about half the 50 persons attending indicated strong approval of regulations and the other half was just as strongly against the control law.
Only action taken at the meeting was when a committee of six was appointed to meet with Deaf Smith County Judge Monday evening in an attempt to agree on recommendations which might be made before County Commissioners' Court at a future date.
The committee includes three persons favoring the control law and three who are against it. Judge Zimmerman will meet with the committee Monday evening in his office.
The meeting was held at 8 p.m. Thursday in 69th District Court. Two weeks ago Gene Cupp of Lubbock, district supervisor of the Horticulture and Plant Quarantine Division, Texas Department of Agriculture, explained the act.
During his 45 minute talk, Cupp said that if the optional law is adopted by a county, the entire county usually falls under provisions of the act, and not just a portion of the county. He urged that county farmers give the program careful consideration before any action is taken.
Basically, the optional law provides for the licensing of applicators of certain types of herbicides and sets up regulations for their use.
Recently a group of county cotton and vegetable farmers asked the County Commissioners to consider the law, since they said that herbicide application sometimes damaged their crops.

Deadline Near To Order Trees For Windbreak

The Board of Supervisors for the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District has announced that Wednesday, May 24, is the last day for making applications for Arizona Cypress trees for windbreaks. Applications may be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service offices.
Farmers and ranchers interested in securing trees for windbreaks are urged to make their applications immediately so the trees can be delivered before the first of June.
Since livestock is rapidly becoming one of the chief commodities of this area, the SCD ditches of this area, the SCD the advantages and worth of tree windbreaks. They believe if farmers and ranchers of this area knew the worth in dollars and cents that well planned, well cared for tree windbreaks could mean to them, there would be a great deal more interest.
Experiments have proved that cattle having protection of a good windbreak shrink up to 35 per cent less during blizzards and snow storms than cattle having no protection. One experiment made during an average winter using two identical herds on the same feed revealed that the herd

Local representatives of Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association saw a chance for this area receiving favorable sugar legislation in the near future after returning Friday evening from House Agricultural Committee hearings in Washington, D. C.
Testifying before the committee on behalf of the Association Thursday were James Witherspoon and H. L. Benefield of Hereford. Benefield is president of the Association.
Witherspoon said Saturday morning that two members of the committee told him they are convinced that an overwhelming majority of committee members are in favor of the American farmer producing a much larger share of the sugar consumed in this country.
Witherspoon filed a 40-page statement on behalf of the Association and he and Benefield gave oral testimony before the committee. Hearings were conducted Thursday and Friday.
Basis of their testimony was that America should produce the sugar consumed in America.
"Whatever was really outstanding," Witherspoon said, "was that the hearings showed how widespread this proposition has grown throughout the country and how interested the country is in America being independent in production of sugar."
While committee chairman, Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina issued a news story that he

Whiteface Wins Top State Honor

The Whiteface, weekly publication of Hereford High School, has been awarded the highest honor for school pages printed in regular newspapers.
A certificate of "award of distinguished merit" in journalism, highest award from the Inter-scholastic League Press Conference, was received this week. The IIPC is sponsored by the University of Texas.
The Whiteface is published each Thursday in the Hereford Brand during the school year. It is prepared by the journalism class of the high school, supervised by Mrs. Robert Laceywell.
Winning similar honors for community newspaper school pages were the Claude High School Serbe and the Denison High School Buzz.
Editor of the Whiteface during 1960-61 was Phyllis Ward. Wain Miller served as editor for the last few editions and will be editor during the 1961-62 year.
A record graduating class of about 140 seniors will attend baccalaureate services in the Hereford High School auditorium Sunday evening, which will mark the start of the last week of classes.
The graduating class will receive diplomas in commencement exercises Friday evening, May 26.
Baccalaureate address will be delivered by the Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hereford. Service will begin at 8 p.m., it was announced by high school principal Bill Stanford.

Start Survey Of Local Livestock

Hereford postmaster, J. N. Grady has announced June Livestock Survey cards would be left in a sample of boxes on rural routes next week.
Grady pointed out that it was important that everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier as the United States Department of Agriculture bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to the survey.
Survey cards will go to Carv D. Palmer, State Agricultural Statistician in Austin After adding and analyzing these cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the state's milk production, calf and pig numbers and the number of hens and pullets.
Carriers assisting with the survey are C. L. Wright, Route 1; E. W. Young, Route 2; Howard Armstrong, Route 3; A. Petersen, Route 4; O. J. Stanger, Route 5; and Mrs. J. E. Ford, Star Route.

The session was recessed Friday, and next hearings will be conducted for representatives of foreign countries.

Witherspoon told the committee that increased sugar production here would reduce unemployment because it would mean jobs in building new beet refrinerries and to operate the mills.

He urged that Congress take speedy actions as "every month that a permanent sugar act is delayed which would give the American farmer the right to grow a greater percentage of the sugar consumed by the American public, delays the time with construction of sugar mills can be commenced.

He said, "delay has now placed the American farmer in a position where he cannot grow additional cane or beets for sugar for approximately two years, for the reason it will take approximately two years to construct sugar refineries." In his written statement, Witherspoon said: "The Southwest, comprising the irrigated districts of Texas from Dell City, Pecos and El Paso, on the south to the Northern boundary of the Panhandle of Texas, Southwestern Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico, can grow and produce more beet sugar than the total present Cuban quota. This area desires to be the "Sugar Bowl of the United States."

Several persons questioned the proposed paving for Grand Avenue. City officials explained that the city will pay the larger part of the cost for widening Grand from 25 Mile Avenue east to Avenue I.

Six persons indicated by a show of hands that they did not want Grand Avenue widened. Of these, five said it was just a matter of finances, and that they didn't feel the paving would help their property. Four others said they were favorable.

Most of those present to oppose the Grand Avenue program were from a single block on the heavily-used street.

Commissioners decided to recess the hearings until they could better determine how many property owners along Grand did not favor, or could not afford, the program.

Under present plans, Grand would be widened from 15 feet to 44 feet of paving with curb and gutter.

Payments to date total $697,727 for diverted acres. This will release from storage at market price about 436,079 hundred-weights of feed grain (43,607,900 pounds), Collier said.

Notices were mailed on April 27, and farmers started signing agreements on April 28.

The 1961 feed grain program authorized by Congress is a voluntary program designed to stop the building of a feed grain supply that is now at an all-time record high level.

'Other Side Of Coin' Program At Rotary Meet

Ray Bowden, secretary of Texas Grain and Feed Association, spoke on "The Other Side Of The Coin" at the noon meeting of Hereford Rotary Club Monday in the ballroom of Jim Hill Hotel.

The speaker, of Fort Worth, said people who live in rural areas are knowing more and more about what goes on in metropolitan areas concerning agriculture.

He said that there are 4 1/2 million farmers in the nation, but that only a third of them produce the food and fiber which goes to market. Many of them work in the city as well as on their farms.

He said people today are purchasing a "built-in" maid service in buying many easy-to-prepare foods. He pointed out that consumers are willing to pay more for services which make food preparation more convenient.

In spite of what many people believe, he said, only 40 per cent of farm products have ever had price support. Crops that are not supported ordinarily pay more parity than crops having price support, he added.

The "Farm Journal," a national publication, he explained, in a survey reported about 60 per cent of the farmers want no support prices. Most farmers want no support, or a lower support, he added.

"Farmers want a good, fair price for a good, fair day's work — but they don't quite know how to get it," Bowden commented.

Handlers of produce grown by farmers are "really farmers off the farm," he said. Efficiency in handling grain and its use has increased greatly, the speaker concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Dale Whitlow of Happy, Don Baugous, a Hereford Rotarian, was program chairman.

They are a way of dressing up a farmstead to make it more attractive as well as more comfortable. Windbreaks provide wildlife with food, shelter from winter storms and protection from natural enemies.

new jobs every year just to care for its own crop of graduates. And let me emphasize that you don't do this by taking in each other's washing," he declared.

Of the three major segments for employment, two don't offer much hope at present. Agriculture and livestock is faced with good income and growth, he said, but the trend generally is to fewer rural employees and job opportunities. The second segment, mining and minerals, is primarily the oil business in this state. And that industry, faced with a lower allowable production and foreign oil, is barely holding its own.

That leaves only manufacturing, he pointed out, to provide new jobs. But, manufacturers aren't going to be interested in coming to Texas until the tax picture clears up.

Husbands closed his talk with a discussion of work being done to pass favorable legislation to the Sugar Act. The WTCC, he said, has had a man in Washington, D. C., continuously for the past six weeks working toward such legislation.

"The administration, however, would like to maintain the status quo," he said. Another factor which had been working against such legislation, he contended, was that various segments of the sugar industry were unable to agree among themselves as to the best amendment to the Sugar Act.

The situation, he stated, boils down to a need to cultivate everyone possible and to show a real and just need for such legislation.

"You can be sure," he concluded, "that if we don't get the Sugar Act amended now, we'll be back in Washington before the end of the year to try again before the present extension expires."

In addition to those from Hereford, there were several persons present from Friona and Dimmitt.

Erin Wertheberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Wertheberger, 318 Avenue J, received two drama awards Friday night at the seventh annual awards night in Branding Iron Theatre in Canyon. He was given awards from Buffalo Masquers, West Texas State drama club, and from Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity. Erin, a 1959 graduate from Hereford High, is a sophomore speech major at WT, east director for Alpha Psi and, away from drama, a member of Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity.

In response to many questions about Southwest-Offset, Inc., on U. S. Highway 60: a modern 12-page press is being erected on which newspapers at Hereford, Canyon and Littlefield will be printed. An open house has been slated for June 10-11 and the first issue of the new press for Thursday, June 8. Meanwhile, the company erectors have requested "No Visitors" due to confusion which results from large groups.

Campaign headquarters for John Tower's senate run-off have been opened in the former Chamber of Commerce office on Schley. It will be manned by volunteer workers until election day, May 27. By the way, only 15 absentee votes have been cast in the Blakley-Tower race. Deadline for casting absentee votes will be 5 p.m. Tuesday, May 23, in the county clerk's office.

Chamber of Commerce secretary Linda Parker was serenaded Friday during a report luncheon of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here. Friday was her 21st birthday and the group spontaneously sang "Happy Birthday" to her after it was revealed.

An organizational meeting of Deaf Smith irrigation farmers will be held at the Hereford Community Center at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 23. The group formed will become part of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, which was organized recently to provide irrigation costs. The group already has about 4,000 members in eight counties.

The governmental affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Town Hall Forum on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom, Louis Woodford, county Democratic chairman, and Kenneth Rudd, county Republican chairman, will debate the merits of their respective candidates for Senator. Dr. L. A. Beyer, chairman of the G. A. committee, will moderate the debate. Each chairman will be given ten minutes to speak, followed by an additional period of five minutes for rebuttal. After that, both will answer questions from the audience. Dr. Beyer announced that all six-shooters must be checked at the door. No charge for admission to what should be quite a show.

There is no school menu listed this week. There will be hamburgers at all school cafeterias on Wednesday, but the menu will vary on Monday and Tuesday as the cooks make the youngsters feel right at home ... with left-overs.

There will be gospel singing on Sunday, May 21, at the Westway Community Church, beginning at 2 p.m. A basket dinner will be held after church services and all singers are invited to attend.

COOKING'S FUN when small fry make grow into flowers. And it's even more gelatin desserts that sail the seas and fun when they finally eat them.

Kids Can Learn By Cooking

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
Invite your preschoolers into the kitchen and you can teach them more than cooking. They'll learn enough about number work to stand them in good stead when they do start school. In the meantime it will help keep them happy while older brothers and sisters are off to classes.

So many interesting things to measure and count in cooking! Start with something simple such as mixing a package of fruit-flavored gelatin. For safety's sake Mother should add and stir in the 2 cups of boiling water necessary for dissolving the gelatin in a large package. Then Susie fills a pint glass measure with cold water, learns to read the two cup measuring mark, adds the water to the gelatin and does her stirring.

When Mother rolls out biscuit dough Susie will enjoy putting the biscuits "two at a time" in even rows in the pan. (The biscuits may get a trifle mis-shaped as she handles them but it will be a good cause.) When the pan is filled, Susie can count how many are ready to go into the oven.

Cookies, cupcakes and sweet rolls are other baking-time goodies that preschoolers will have fun counting as the foods go in and come out of pans or are put on the table. There are many times a mother can give a child counting practice:

"Put three apricots and two prunes in each dessert dish!"

"Shell eight peanuts and eat four. Give me the other four!"

"How many peanuts will we need if we put one on each of these six frosted cupcakes?"

This "help from youngsters won't save mothers any time, but it will give girls and boys comfortable familiarity with the counting process.

The young set will adore making sailboats and flower pots to admire and finally eat, and the peach slices and gum drops used in the making can be counted to young hearts' content. Schoolagers will probably be able to make these gelatin desserts all by themselves but preschoolers will need help.

Sailboats and Flower Pots

Make up a large (6 ounce) package of fruit-flavored gelatin. Pour into 4 sherbet glasses and 4 custard cups; chill.

To Make Sailboats: Place a peach slice or gelatin in each sherbet glass; fold a small triangle of aluminum foil in half over a toothpick to make mast and sail; insert in center of peach slice.

To Make Flower Pots: With thumb flatten a small gumdrop into a circle about 1/8 inch thick; with scissors notch edge of gumdrop circle to make flower petals; slide onto end of toothpick. Flatten another gumdrop sideways into a triangle; make two slits from base of triangle toward opposite point; slide onto toothpick next to flower. Slightly flatten another gumdrop into a circle and slide onto toothpick for base; insert stemmed flower in gelatin in custard cup.

A Southern Dish: Fried Pie!

By Cecily Brownstone
Interested in regional specialties? Then you may want to put fried pies in your cooking repertoire.

We first heard of this southern dish when some friends who had been brought up in New York went to Kentucky in live. Opening a coffee shop in the country, they fully expected to serve coffee and sandwiches. But it didn't take them long to discover that fried pies had to be among the snacks offered—or coffee shop out!

What is a fried pie? Nothing but our old friend the turnover—pastry cut in rounds or squares, filled and turned over or crimped in pairs. The fillings may be sweet or savory. But the turnover is baked in the oven, and fried pies come out of the deepfat kettle.

According to our transplanted friends, the sweet fillings for the pies must be fruit. The savory fillings might be beef, ham, chicken or turkey.

The following recipe for fried pies uses cornmeal in the pastry and ground beef in the filling. They were enjoyed for lunch at our house with a crisp accompaniment of carrot and celery sticks and sweet pickles. They're on the rich side, so for dessert we found fresh fruit refreshing.

SAVORY FRIED PIES

2 cups sifted flour
1 1/4 cups enriched cornmeal
2 tablespoons sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/3 cup shortening
1 egg
2/3 cup milk
Beef Filling
Tomato Gravy

Sift together the dry ingredients into a bowl. Cut in shortening until particles are fine. Beat egg slightly; add with milk to flour-shortening mixture, stirring just enough to moisten. (If dough doesn't hold together, add 1 or 2 tablespoons milk.) Divide dough into thirds; roll out each piece on lightly floured board or canvas to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut four 6-inch rounds from each. Place 1/4 cup cooled Beef Filling on half of each round; moisten edge with water; fold dough over filling; seal with fork or fingers. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees) for about 4 minutes or until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with Tomato Gravy or other tomato sauce. Makes 6 servings—2 pies per portion.

Beef Filling
Brown 1 1/2 pounds ground lean beef and 1/3 cup each chopped onion and green pepper in 2 tablespoons margarine. Mix with 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder and 1/2 cup tomato sauce (from 8-ounce can). Cover and simmer 10 minutes; cool.

Tomato Gravy
Melt 3 tablespoons margarine in a saucepan over low heat; stir in 3 tablespoons flour. Add 1/2 cup tomato sauce (from 8-ounce can), 1 cup canned tomatoes and juice, 1/2 cup water and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add a bay leaf and simmer 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove bay leaf.

She Battles Labels

By Jean Sprain Wilson
How not to get along with Joan Leonard is to call her "little lady." (She is not quite 5 feet high.)
Or write about her occasional stunts at golf or hockey as if recreation is unusual for a person born with deformities.
Nor would she be pleased if you tagged her handicapped, because she obviously is not, despite arms that end abruptly beyond her elbows. This pleasant, forthright woman who directs the Queens office here for just One Break, Inc., (a non-profit placement service for the physically impaired) is not supersensitive. But she is battling labels in what she calls an age of them.

THE RIGHT JOB for the right person eliminates the differences among handicapped, Joan Leonard, a placement director (behind the desk), tells an applicant who is asthmatic.

Since her birth 24 years ago Miss Leonard's wise parents have expected as much from her as any other child. As a result she never thought of herself as different, never expected others to. And they don't, so nimble is she with those stubby forearms.

"After we being talking you forget all about it, don't you?" she asks, replacing her coffee cup and gazing directly at you with wide hazel eyes.
"Not much difference" is an attitude Miss Leonard would like to instill in many more potential employers of so-called handicapped. As long as they are properly placed according to their interests, skills and physical limitations, they can do the job "maybe not any better, but certainly not any worse than anyone else."

The personnel director says bosses who can't provide equal opportunities for advancement lose some highly skilled personnel. Recently Miss Leonard found a better job for a crippled, talented young secretary by-passed in promotions because her unimaginative employer could not find more profitable uses for her abilities.

That there is no difference house.

The ever-pleasant young lady was placed in her present helpful position because of her abilities displayed on New York State Employment service occupational tests, not her disabilities.

Even so, she quickly admits that she easily establishes rapport with her applicants because they know very well she understands their problems.

As for employees, a brief talk with Miss Leonard has them forgetting all about any label that she or any other handicapped person is different.

Regular examinations will begin Tuesday, May 23, and continue through Wednesday. Grades will be recorded by teachers Thursday.

Graduation practice will begin at 9:30 a.m. Friday, and commencement will be at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Diplomas will be given by Tom Robinson, president of Hereford Rural High School District Board of trustees.

Title of the Rev. Davis' baccalaureate address is "Out To Win." The Hereford High School Mixed Choir, under direction of Don Moore, will present two vocal selections.

Taffy Is Good Tastin' Fun

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
SALT-WATER TAFFY was born in the 1880s at a New Jersey seaside resort. It's been going strong ever since, with small fry all over the country voting for it.

What makes this candy win friends and influence so many youngsters?

Our guess is that its popularity lies in its soft but chewy texture, bland flavor and rainbow colors.

Dip into a salt-water taffy jar! Each pretty piece is individually wrapped in paper with twisted ends. To our mind salt-water taffy wouldn't taste the same without this traditional wrapping. Twirl open the ends of the paper between your thumbs and fingers, pop the sweet morsel into your mouth!

What color do you choose? Colors are often the key to flavors. A green piece may savor of mint. Lemon and orange taffy look sunny and their flavors may match their names. Pink may be for those who favor vanilla, white for those who adore almond.

When we look into candy-making cook books to compare recipes for salt-water taffy, we got a surprise. Author-experts such as Professor Walter W.

Chenoweth and J. H. DeGros include cornstarch. This trick is borrowed from commercial candy-making and its function is to trap air into the mixture during its pulling and help control stickiness. Our recipe is adapted from Professor Chenoweth's.

If you make a batch of this taffy, work it yourself until it's ready to pull. Then divide the candy into several portions and let your small fry go to it. A taffy-pulling bee is a grand old-fashioned American pastime and kids enjoy every minute of it, including the job of wrapping it in waxed paper and twisting the ends!

Pink Salt-Water Taffy
Ingredients: 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons corn starch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons vanilla, red food coloring.

Method: In a medium-sized heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add corn syrup, water and butter; mix well. Over moderate heat bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Over the same heat cook without stirring until syrup tests 260 degrees on a candy thermometer of 1/2 teaspoon of the mixture dropped into 1 cup of very cold water can be formed with fingers into a firm or rather hard but pliable ball. Remove from heat; add vanilla and 2 drops of red food coloring, stir gently until blended. Pour into a buttered pan (9 by 9 by 2, or 12 by 8 by 2 inches); do not scrape last of syrup from pan. Let stand undisturbed until cool enough to handle. Gather into a ball on pan with fingers and knead a few seconds; pull and twist until taffy is satiny and a pale color. Pull into 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick strands; with kitchen scissors cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Wrap individually in waxed paper; twist ends. Makes almost a pound. Substitute other colors and flavors to suit taste.

ADRAIN NEWS

Area Pioneer, Mrs. Stella Glasscock, Dies In Vega

BY MRS. R. L. PINNELL
Adrian lost one of its oldest pioneers with the death of Mrs. Stella Glasscock this week. She would have been 81 in October. She had lived more than half a century in or near Adrian as the wife of Chafin Glasscock, who died in 1939.

The couple homesteaded land just northeast of Adrian many years ago, but was best known as the owners of the Adrian Mercantile.

Mrs. Glasscock is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jack Dewers of Vega, a sister, Mrs. Nina Fossey of Iowa, and many nieces and nephews. Bill Leslie of Adrian was a nephew.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Adrian Methodist Church with the Rev. J. B. Fowler of Vega officiating, assisted by the Rev. Gene Moore of Adrian.

Pallbearers were N. L. Jacobson, Lorin Creitz, E. N. Jacobson, Elbert Whitten, Bill Tolbert of Vega and Lester Houston, interment was at Llanos Cemetery in Amarillo.

The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom was held Friday night in the school cafeteria. "Old West" was the evening's theme. All lighting came from candles mounted in old whiskey bottles.

Crepe paper streamers in shades of purple formed an overhead canopy. In one corner was a bar, from which punch was served during the prom. The tables were arranged in a semi-circle to make half a wagon wheel.

Food was served family style by waitresses from the Old West: Annie Oakley, Doris Horton; Pocahontas, Myrna Zaring; and Calamity Jane, Linda Pinnell.

Invocation was by Sidney Blankenship with Hubert Bronniman acting as master of ceremonies. Welcome was given by Glenda Homfeld and the response by Gail Brown. Sue Johnson and Sidney Blankenship read the class will and class prophecy. Guest speaker was coach Don Johnson and the benediction was given by coach Jim Clark.

The schoolboard faculty supper was held Saturday night in the school cafeteria. The affair became an appreciation shower honoring Supt. and Mrs. A. P. Jones, who are moving soon to Darrbuzett.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday for the eight graduating seniors. They are Barbara Gail Brown, Marion Arthur Ferguson Jr., Betty Sue Fraiser, Linda Roberta Gruhkey, Linda Sue Johnson, Kenneth Wayne Milner, Twilla Jean Milner and Ronald Ray Morgan.

Services started in the First Baptist Church at 11 a.m. The processional and recessional were played by Mrs. Gene Moore and Mrs. D. W. Morgan. Special music was by the Rev. and Mrs. Gene Moore. The Rev. J. R. Manning gave the sermon and Ross Blassengame offered the benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Caldwell visited in Bovina Sunday, attending Baccalaureate services for a nephew Don Caldwell, who is in the graduating class. They also visited his mother, Mrs. J. R. Caldwell, and his brothers, Bedford and Tom and their families.

Remembered by many old timers, Mrs. Zerrell Thomas died in Colorado recently. She formerly lived in the Simms Community but moved several years ago to Eads, Colo. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Lamar, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Speed were in Muleshoe Monday to attend the funeral of his former business partner, Carl Crofford. They were partners in the Caprock Flying Service. Bobby served as a pall-bearer at the service.

Bert Speed, who is with the U. S. Forestry Service in Tupelo, Miss., visited recently with his parents, the Joe Speeds. He left Sunday after a six-day visit. He had been attending a three-month special school in Yosemite Park, Cal., and was returning to his home base.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Lemke enjoyed a visit from a cousin, Paul Sprotte, and his friend Leroy Grandt of Mayville, Wis., last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mesdames Gene Moore, Edd Olomon, Grady S. Seaggs, V. E. Lemke and N. J. Jacobson attended a district officers' training day in Amarillo last Thursday. The school was held at the Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. R. L. Stinnett and girls, Mary Ella and Lora Fae, visited Saturday with her parents, the V. E. Lemkes. The Stinnetts live in Channing. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loveless and family of Canyon joined the family for a visit Saturday and Sunday.

Simms Study Craft Club held its closing luncheon Thursday in the home of Mrs. James Sessions. Attending were Mesdames Jim Stocks, T. E. Davis, Glenn Hetzler, R. L. Pinnell, James Cavin, Leland Burns, M. W. Blankenship, Claud Bogie and the hostess, Mrs. Sessions. Accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin to the Amarillo Little Theatre production, "The Constant Wife," on Saturday evening.

Look Who's New!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mauck are the parents of a boy, born May 17 at 5:10 p.m. He weighed five pounds, nine ounces.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

It's hard to pick just one year that tells the full story of the man called Army's greatest athlete . . . because Glenn Davis was a legend from his first year at West Point. Three times he made All-American as the famous "Mr. Outside" of Army's backfield, teamed with Doc Blanchard, "Mr. Inside." Davis led Army to three unbeaten seasons during those years . . . and added record breaking track and baseball performances.

But one year in Glenn Davis' career stands out. It was his junior year. Every team that Army met was out to stop Davis. They didn't have much luck. Army didn't lose a game. Davis punted, passed, ran, caught passes. Especially he ran! He carried the ball 82 times that year . . . for 944 yards . . . an "impossible" average of more than 11 1/2 yards every time he carried the ball! He set a new national total offense mark!

Remember the year? The war had ended then . . . and people who had struggled along in pre-war cars were looking forward to the day when new models would roll off the assembly lines. The year was 1945.

The car that's setting records on the road this year . . . and drawing a new high in praise from everyone who drives it . . . is the powerful new 1961 Ford. And you can get a record-breaking deal right now on the 61 Ford of your choice from your low-profit dealer, CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co., Inc. W. Hwy. 60 at Miles, Phone EM4-2727.

Yankees Ease Past Giants 14-13 In Big First Inning

An 11-run first inning Thursday provided the Yankees with a commanding lead, but the Giants narrowly missed on a late rally in Little League action. The Yankees won 14-13 in a wild scramble.

The Giants went down in order before the Yankees went to work in the first inning. Randy Baize walked and Mike Horton got on by error. Gene Duvall singled, Danny Lester doubled and Johnson Benefield walked.

Danny Baize got on by fielder's choice and Felix Albrar singled to load the sacks. Then Jim Allison slammed a knee-high pitch on a line drive over the left field fence for a four-run homer.

Jim Sheppard singled before Randy Baize popped up for the first out. Horton got on by fielder's choice and Duvall and Lester were safe on errors. Benefield and Danny Baize walked to push in runs with another run scoring on a fielder's choice. In the top of the second, the Giants marked up a pair of runs. Jim Childers and Sydney Shaw singled and were forced in on walks.

The Yankees added one run in the second for a 12-2 lead. Randy Baize got on by error and scored on singles by Horton and Duvall.

The Giants closed the gap in the third with an eight-run outburst. They were trailing then. 12-10. Gene Drummond doubled to start the rally out. Childers singled, Shaw doubled. Riddle walked and Robert Wagner and Gene Sparks got on by error. Ronald Otts walked and Charles Brewton got on by error. Drummond walked, Shaw singled and Riddle walked again before the side was retired.

The Yankees made it 14-10 with a pair of runs in the third. Danny Baize got on by error, took second on a passed ball and came in on another error. Allison walked and scored on an error.

That was all the scoring until the top of the fifth, where the Childers singled and Shaw got on by fielder's choice that failed to get the runner at second. Andy Channer then blasted a home run and the Giants trailed 14-13.

But Lester struck out the first three batters on the Giants' order with 12 pitches in the sixth to win the game. Duvall was the leading hitter for the Yankees with three singles in four trips up. Jim Childers and Sydney Shaw got three hits each in four trips, all singles except for a double by Childers.

Felix Albrar started on the hill for the Yankees and was credited with the victory. He was relieved in the third by Danny Lester.

Gene Drummond started and Andy Channer relieved in the fourth for the Giants.

The Giants were charged with eight errors and the Yankees with four during the game. The Yankees beat the Pirates 13-9 in the minor league contest.

THAT'S FUNNY! IT WAS RIGHT HERE. SOMEBODY MOVED IT.

WHO THE SAM HILL MOVED THE SWIMMING POOL?

BUT WE'VE NEVER HAD A SWIMMING POOL.

YOU FORGET, UNCLE LUCKY. YOU'RE NOT IN TEXAS. YOU'RE VISITING US AT OUR HOME.

JUST WHAT I SAID. AT HOME, I HAVE A SWIMMING POOL, BUT SOME DRATTED YAHOO'S MOVED IT.

IT'S YOUR CAR WE'RE WORRYING ABOUT, UNCLE LUCKY.

YES, WHERE'D YOU LEAVE YOUR CAR?

AND YOUR MONEY?

YOU HAD OVER $2,000 IN YOUR WALLET.

YOU MUST BE WRONG. I DON'T SEEM TO HAVE A WALLET.

THEN YOU LOST IT!

THINK, UNCLE LUCKY. WHAT HAPPENED TO YOUR MONEY?

OH, YES! I REMEMBER! I BURIED IT.

I BURIED IT UNDER A COTTONWOOD TREE AT THE FOOT OF THIS MOUNTAIN.

BUT, UNCLE LUCKY, THIS IS AN OAK TREE.

AND THERE ARE NO MOUNTAINS IN FLORIDA!

THAT'S RIGHT! I REMEMBER! IT WAS IN CALIFORNIA. AND I'M VISITING YOU FOLKS HERE IN FLORIDA.

WONDERFUL, UNCLE LUCKY. YOU'RE GETTING BETTER!

AND DO YOU REMEMBER THAT MY NAME'S ROSCO AND NOT FRANK?

YEP. SUDDENLY MY MIND'S CLEAR AS A BELL. AIN'T NOTHING I CAN'T REMEMBER.

EXCEPT ONE THING, FRANK! WHO THE SAM HILL MOVED THE SWIMMING POOL?

Fodder Box

By THE JUNIOR HIGH STAFF
BY JUDY CRUME

The freshmen had their annual picnic on May 10. We heard that they had a wonderful time.

We would like to give out some orchids and onions this month. The orchids go to the people who behaved on the picnic, people who helped with clean-up week, and people who are keeping up their work even though this is the last week of school. The onions go to students not prepared for final exams, those who have slacked off and those who will not help with school activities.

We would like to congratulate the F. F. A. boys on the winning at Texas A & M. We would also like to congratulate Susan Stapp, who passed her torch bearer in Camp Fire. We understand that this is the first one in Hereford in a long time.

The choir presented its annual spring concert on May 16. The choirs taking part were the seventh grade girls choir, the eighth and ninth grade girls choir, the boys choir and the girls sextette. All in all, it was a fine program.

The Junior High Band had its hayride on Friday, May 19. It is reported that they had a really wonderful time. I found this poem to be quite interesting; I hope you will too:

"The Teacher Is my Leader,"
By SHARON MAGNUSSON
A woman is my teacher.
I shall not pass.
She leadeth me to the office.
She guideth me in a straight path.

For my grades' sake,
Yea, tho' I walk through the valley of knowledge,
I shall not learn.
For I am dumb.
My notebook and pen accompany me.

She maketh me to show my ignorance before my fellow students.
She anoineth my head with examples.
My pen runneth over.
Surely Math and English shall follow me for the rest of my days,
And I shall dwell in the Church...

Mrs. J. J. Durham, foods teacher, stated that this was the first year the Senior boys had been invited and that many of them were present with their mothers.

Although known for centuries as a country that stayed out of the many wars that swirled around it, Switzerland nevertheless maintains a reserve army of 600,000 trained men who can be mobilized within a few hours. They are permitted to keep their guns and other army equipment within their homes so they can respond ready for immediate action.

And I shall dwell in the eight grade forever.

We would like for you this summer, while on vacation, to think about naming our cafeteria. We want to know if you think we should name it, and if so, what?

The Dogie staff would like to wish all of you a happy summer vacation and hope to see you all next year.
HAPPY SUMMER VACATION!

Sandra Moore Is Star Attraction

Miss Sandra Moore was the featured entertainer recently when members of the Westway Community Church held their regular Fellowship Supper at the Community Building.

The Rev. V. H. Miller gave the devotional on Family Life and the Rev. E. H. Naugle gave the invocation. Piano solos were played by Judith Morrison and Ken Miller. Mrs. V. H. Miller gave two humorous readings.

Sandra, a graduating senior at Hereford High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore. Hereford school teachers. She has been active in choir and drama and plans to major in dramatics at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales next fall.

Messenger H. D. Club will meet May 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton, with Mrs. Elmer Northcutt giving the program on cooking onions.

What Is Wrong With The American Youth?

By THE JUNIOR HIGH STAFF
BY MYRNA BOTKIN

So often we hear: "What is this younger generation coming to?"

Little do adults realize that every time that they say this, some boy or girl thinks: "Well, they expect me to be bad, so why disappoint them?"

Some adults seem to think that just because a teenager in New York carries a knife, all teenagers do. Some, though, will bring themselves to admit that there are some good "Kids" left.

Are teenagers as wild as they are publicized to be? A majority are not. I think that if parents kept tabs on their children, there would be even less delinquency. I know of several parents who do not care where their children are, who they are with or when they come home. This is one mistake that should not be made.

Then, of course, there are the adults who claim that when they were young they did not do such things. How could they? When they were young they did not have those things to do, but surely they did some things that were wrong. No one is perfect. One reason why adults think we have all gone bad is because only bad things are publicized. If a teenager does something good, no one hears about it.

Then there is the adult who says that teenagers are not responsible enough to have a driver's license. I only say that they give a test and if it does not do a good job, maybe a harder one should be given. If the teen abuses his right, his license should be taken from him.

In closing, I want to quote a saying I've heard all of my life: "You must take the bad along with the good."
Do you not agree?

Jr. Red Cross Has Assembly

On Thursday, May 11, the Junior Red Cross gave an awards assembly. Mrs. O. Wertenberger presented pins to the members of the executive council. The pins were very attractive with the red, white and blue National Red Cross emblem on them. All members who had helped Red Cross in any way were recognized at this time.

Mrs. Wertenberger then introduced Kathleen Kuper, who showed the scrapbook prepared by the executive council. She then introduced David Marconelli and he presented and showed the exchange scrapbook from Bangkok, Thailand.

Sheri Rose displayed the exchange scrapbook we received last year from Japan; Billy Hill presented a report on the Safety Committee and Linda Hig-

Gleanings From The News Basket

Since this is the last issue of the Dogie for this year, we, the Dogie Staff, have decided to clean out the news basket and the following is part of what we found there.

Some of the seventh grade teachers have confessed their most embarrassing moments. Mrs. Shock said that his most embarrassing moment was once when he was doing an experiment and the hose broke and water went all over him and the class. Mrs. Ramey said that she was most embarrassed when she went to a party in a paper dress and it was accidentally torn half way off (She had another dress on under that one.)

From the students' viewpoint, Cynthia Leasure said that her most embarrassing moment was when Mr. Souter had her stand in front of the class and sing "Old McDonald Had A Farm." Joe Ann Ferguson was mortified and slightly bruised when she fell down the stairs head first. Marsh Robinson was embarrassed when she had to sit in front of the class for talking. John Lesly was most embarrassed when the teacher found the notes he had written to Linda Rickman.

Here is an excerpt from a poem written by Nancy Martin:

School's out!
Shout! Shout!
No more lessons to pout about,
But time to sleep out.
Vacations in Hawaii!
(not for me).
It's Colorado or bust,
I'm tired of Texas dust.

The following people have been some of our most loyal reporters for the Dogie this year: Ann Atchley, Sydney Baine, Linda London, Linda

Roving Reporter

After this issue, your roving reporters won't be roving for at least three months. But come next year; watch out, we will be on the loose again. So naturally our question this issue will be, "What are you planning for this summer."

Glenda Flesher, "We are going to completely redecorate our house. My family also wants to visit most of the western states. Then it will be time for next year."

Doris Parsons, "I plan to take driver's education, visit my friends and just loaf."

Sherry Kendall, "My family is going to take a trip this summer, but we do not know where at this time. I hope it's to California, since I have been there one time. While I'm in Hereford, I plan to ride go karts, and go swimming and bowling."

Patricia Houle, "Go to New York for two weeks, and to Corpus Christi and maybe Abilene for about a week."

Eula Holmes, "I am going to stay home and baby-sit for two months and then take a trip to East Texas."

Connie Renfro, "I am going to go on an extended vacation and never return, I hope to eat a lot and don't care if I get fat."

Sue Smith, "I am going to paint my fence, work, and be a good girl."

Sherry Kendall, "My family is going to take a trip this summer, but we do not know where at this time. I hope it's to California, since I have been there one time. While I'm in Hereford, I plan to ride go karts, and go swimming and bowling."

Charles Littlejohn, "I think I will go to Dallas and visit some friends. I also want to teach guitar and most of all chase girls all of the time."

Mystery Girl

BY PHYLLIS WARRICK

The mystery girl was born on February 4, 1948, in Hereford. She is now five feet, one inch tall and has brown hair and green eyes.

Some of her favorites are food, Mexican food; song, "Running Scared"; book, "First Love, True Love"; movie, "Big Country"; teacher, Mr. Shock; and subject, Texas history.

Her most embarrassing moment was when she fell down in the library during fourth period.

Her happiest experience was last summer when she met a certain boy.

Her pet peeve is people who try to be something they aren't.

Stanton F. T. A. Holds Coke Party

BY DONNA BLYTHE

The Future Teachers of America members of Stanton Junior High School attended a coke party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. F. G. Collier Saturday, May 12.

Mrs. Collier showed the club members her horses and her husband's sword collection. One of the swords was from the Civil War, and one was from World War I.

Cokes and cany were served.

Use Of Our Library After School Hours

BY NAN NEAL

Today the time of study and research work is needed in school as well as in occupations to be successful. It is especially necessary for students to have the amount of study needed to pass their subjects in school.

Library work will be of use all through high school and college. We have a good library with material, but it is really of no use when the last bell rings.

Many boys and girls do not have sufficient materials at home with which to work. Our libraries have encyclopedias, magazines and books. Many students who are capable and want to make extra reports and work cannot because of lack of the library and home materials.

My point is that the library should stay open at least one hour after school. It would be quiet so you could really concentrate for the work you need most. Distraction at home can be quite confusing. At school the stressed point would be "absolute quiet" in the library. If you come right after school you would be in more of a mood than to wait until late hours at home to begin studying.

Most parents would be glad, if nothing else, to be rid of us that extra hour. I move that the library stay open at least for one hour for anyone who wishes to use it for studying and information purposes. I think that there would be a great response and better pupils with better grades.

Along the line of the above thinking, a survey was conducted in the seventh and eighth grades this week; by far the greater majority of the students polled indicating a desire to use library facilities after school occasionally. Teachers, too, were polled and with one exception they all indicated a willingness to stay after school to aid and supervise students who would like to have this extra time to study.

FFA Team Wins Tenth At State

BY JUDY CRUME

The Hereford FFA boys entered state competition this year. They entered in the field of poultry judging. The boys entering from junior high were Steve Conaway, Ronny Duncan, David Block and J. Carter.

The boys first entered the competition in Canyon where they took first place. Steve Conaway was high man with David Block coming in second. After their winning there they went to Tech where they took fifth place with Ronny Duncan being the third high man.

From there the boys went to state contest at Texas A & M, where they took tenth place out of a field of over 70 teams.

This may not sound very high, but we happen to know that the competition was pretty rough. We would like to congratulate these boys.

Mystery Boy

BY PHYLLIS WARRICK

The mystery boy was born on July 30, 1946, in Lubbock. He is now five feet, seven inches tall. He has black hair and brown eyes.

Some of his favorites are food, steak; song, "Indian Giver"; book, "Dennis the Menace"; movie, "Giant"; teacher, Mrs. Collier; and subject, world history.

His most embarrassing moment was when he had his boots even better. Everyone felt very relieved and happy. A gift was given to Mrs. Fred Mercer, the director, from the cast and from the faculty.

About $300 profit was made. It is to be used for improvements in the auditorium, particularly the stage.

Mrs. Fred Mercer, director of the play, says: "It was one of the most successful plays I've directed. They were the most cooperative cast I've worked with. All in all, it was a very rewarding experience."

Mrs. Mercer teaches speech and English at Stanton. She is also librarian. She has added a lot to the school since she came here and it is hoped that she will stay. We really do appreciate her.

We want to congratulate Mrs. Mercer and the cast of "The Thread That Runs So True" for doing such a fine job. We all hope that there will be another all-school play next year.

Students See Humorous Play

BY CAROLYN BOYNTON

Miss Dickerson's homeroom presented an excellent program on May 11, and the humorous play was enjoyed by all of the students.

Exchange Student Speaks At Jolly Workers Meeting

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
At the regular meeting of the Frio Jolly Workers 4-H Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Cole, Heidi Rutishauser spoke to the group. She is the Swiss exchange student in Hereford High School. She showed slides and spoke of her native Switzerland.

Members attending were Edana Vinson, Jana Cole and Carol Robbins. Ladies who were guests of the club were Mrs. E. F. Vogler, James Dobbs, Edgar Vinson, Henry Dobbs, Frank Robbins and the hostess. Others were Sammie Ann Vinson, Carleta Vinson, and Pam Vinson. Steve, Genie, Jerry and Patsy Robbins, Beverley, Bill and Cheryl Cole.

On Thursday Edgar Vinson and his father, S. D. Vinson, went to Big Spring and spent the night in the home of a brother and son, Herbert. Friday, Edgar went on to San Angelo to take a load of wool, recently sheared from Vinson's sheep. They returned home Friday evening.

The Edgar Vinsons and Robert Dobbs spent Mothers Day with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dobbs.

Mrs. Wallace of Ardmore, Okla., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Parker, here for the past two weeks, having come home with the Parkers when they were in Oklahoma. On Saturday, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Parker accompanied the Johnny Robinsons to Tahoka where the ladies will visit another sister for a few days. The Robinsons visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson, during the weekend.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin were visiting her relatives at Levelland one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Miller went to Houston Friday for Mrs. Miller to attend a State-wide convention of tax assessors and collectors. They planned to visit his mother at Pasadena, this week.

Carl Miller is staying with the T. L. Sparkman Jr. family this week.

The Floyd Cole family had

Sunday dinner with Mrs. H. M. Mobley and Austin. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mobley and Craig also visited there.

Mr. A. B. Glenn was taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock the first of the week. He was to have surgery.

Attend Executive Council Meeting

The Rev. Joel Treadwell, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Hereford, and Jess M. Carter of Hereford represented the local congregation at the Executive Council meeting of the Diocese of Northwest Texas held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Lubbock Tuesday, May 16.

The budget and program of the Diocese were determined for 1962. Preliminary plans were made for a service of witness to be held at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 11 a. m. on Dec. 3. The event will be to honor Bishop George Quarterman of Amarillo, to commemorate his 15th anniversary as bishop of this diocese.

Choir To Give Program Here

The Junior Choir from St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Lubbock will be at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Hereford Sunday, May 21, and sing at 11 a. m., it has been announced by the Rev. Joel Treadwell of Hereford, vicar.

The 25-voice choir is under direction of Elton Plowman. The choir will lead singing in regular worship and also present a special program of vocal selections.

Following the service, the choir will join the Hereford congregation choir for a picnic lunch in the Carl M. Stapp residence.

visited on Mothers Day with her parents, the F. Y. Moremans, east of Hereford.

Veradelle Andrews and Berk Kaufold visited Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andrews and Hal after church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson of Seminole visited her mother, Mrs. H. M. Mobley Saturday evening. They and Mrs. Mobley and Austin were guests in the Floyd Cole home that evening at a birthday supper honoring Austin. The Johnsons received a message from home that his aunt in California had died, so they returned home that night to prepare to leave immediately to take his mother to California and attend funeral services for the relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harkins are parents of a daughter, born at the Deaf Smith County hospital on May 11. She has been named Sandra D'Lene. Mrs. Harkins' mother, Mrs. A. McDaniel of Kress, came Sunday afternoon to stay a few days and help care for the new baby and the young son, Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harkins, Russell and Sandra ate Sunday dinner in the home of his sister, Mrs. Gene Welch and family at Black.

Spending Sunday with the A. L. Hodges were her mother, Mrs. G. W. Dalton and a brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dalton and sons, Tommy and Jimmy all of Plainview; another brother, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dalton of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roark, Phil, Steve and Mark, Mrs. Mattie Elrod, all of Wildorado.

25% DISCOUNT in cost-per-mile!

Now, for not one penny more than you pay for conventional 1st line nylon tires you can have Gates Air-Float Deluxe in the low profile design that gives you 25% to 30% more miles. You save fully one-fourth of the dollars you spend on tires—a 25% discount in cost-per-mile!

TESTED more than 10 MILLION MILES $19.95

Because it is built lower and wider (closer to the true running shape of a tire) Gates Air-Float Deluxe low profile design greatly reduces the major cause of tire wear—scuffing of the tread caused by excessive flexing as the tire runs. Heat, another enemy of tire life, is also greatly reduced. That's why this tire gives average drivers a bonus of 5,000 miles or more—a fact proved by more than 10 million miles of carefully recorded fleet tests.

Unconditional ROAD-HAZARD GUARANTEE

against ANY tire failure for the entire life of the long-wearing tread—no time or mileage limit! Should tire fail for any reason, you get a new tire, with full credit for unused mileage, based on Gates standard, nation-wide adjustment schedule.

Cooking Onions Program Topic

Preparation of onions was topic of the program at a meeting of the Progressive Home Demonstration Club held in the home of Mrs. Earl Plank Tuesday, May 16.

The program on cooking onions was given by Mrs. P. L. Carmichael, who prepared and served Creole Onions, Henvos Rancheros and Guacamole.

She suggested that onions be stored in a dry, cool place as dampness causes spoilage. A bottom shelf in a cabinet is a good place for storage, Mrs. Carmichael said.

Mrs. Floyd McGehee gave the opening exercise, Mrs. Carmichael presided over the meeting.

The club voted to give $10 to go toward Migrant Ministry work. Next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Floyd Mc-

Ideal Boy

By THE JUNIOR HIGH CLASS BY ANN BRADY AND NAN NEAL

We would like to meet a boy with hair like George Muse and blue eyes like Randy Carver. He would smell our perfume with a nose like Jimmy Higgins. He would listen to our "sweet nothings" with ears like Gary Don Roberson. He would hold our hands with hands like Stan Sigman. He would give us a dimple-filled smile like Terry Hill and showy teeth like Eugene Green.

All the girls would look his way if he were as handsome as Lewis Barnett. He would be as athletic as Mike Ferguson and have a physique like Steve Hodges.

Our ideal boy would be as cute as Gary Stagner and as friendly as Dan Thomas. He would have as wonderful a personality as David Block and he would be as much fun and as talented as Steve Conaway.

At the dances he would be as flirty as John Lesly, as witty as Jesse Joe Write, and as well-dressed as Jerry Don McCaslin. The best dancer, Billy Hill, would dance all night with feet like Larry Hill. In school he would be as intelligent as Frank Cain, and in life he would have to be as likely to succeed as Lynn Cook. We all appreciate the good manners of Ted McWhorter.

Arizona has the largest area of uncut ponderosa pine timber in the United States, most of it under federal and state regulation.

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
 FROM: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
 SUBJECT: My Chamber of Commerce in Action

Sam, surveys certainly do produce some interesting information. My Chamber of Commerce has, during the past week, asked for some information regarding the annual meeting and banquet, which it sponsors. A committee had been set up to study the history of the banquet, its objectives and to come up with some recommendations as to the course that should be pursued in the future.

In order to have a sampling of the opinion of the Chamber membership in this matter a questionnaire was prepared and included in a recent mailing to the complete membership of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the time that I am writing this scouting report 85 of the nearly 400 members had returned their opinion survey. Those who had attended the banquet during the past three years were asked to check certain opinions which most nearly conformed to their opinion.

Some of the choices were: "It was just fine — don't change anything," "Arrangements were OK but ticket price too high," "The program was too long," "The food was not good," and four other similar opinions. Other questions aimed at the price of tickets, while those who had not attended were asked to tell us why.

The results of the questionnaire are fairly objective and give the committee much to go on. The contradictions which have turned up in some of the remarks, though, have been amusing if not downright confusing. Let me quote you some examples.

Here are some in regard to our speaker of last year. "If we can have a full house with Joe Doaks speaking, why pay to have a noted speaker?" "Please be sure to try to secure good patriotic speakers like Paul Harvey for all future banquets." "The last speaker was a mere rabble rouser." "Please don't engage a speaker such as Paul Harvey if you desire our attendance. His views appeal to the lowest common denominator of the populace. We are supposed to be a democratic nation and he opposes the very ideals of democracy while blabbing loudly about what a patriot he is." "The speaker was one of the best I've ever heard, $5.00 is not too high for the type speaker we had last year." "They (the speakers) have been outstanding. Good speaker is a must. Better speakers should always be the aim." "I don't like to pay a fee for speaker way out of line for a little town like Hereford. If there must be a speaker why not have the Mayor give out with some purple prose."

Well, what is the committee to conclude from the above? Simply that any attempt to please everyone is doomed to failure, that the committee can only hope to please a majority of those who will attend the affair. The majority, as of Wednesday noon, has indicated some very definite preferences in regard to the arrangements. Here are the tabulated results:

It was just fine—don't change anything —17
 Arrangements were OK but ticket price too high—31
 The program was too long—46

The food was not good — 3
 Cut the size of the banquet to fit the school cafeteria—8
 Contract a less expensive speaker — 33.
 Make every effort to get a less expensive caterer even at the risk of uncertain food quality — 1.
 I will not attend again regardless of any changes — 0.
 Of those who have not been indicated reasons are:
 Just don't like crowds — 2
 Don't enjoy this type of an affair — 0
 Ticket cost too high — 4
 Regularly conflicts with another activity — 1
 Unable to attend for health reasons — 2

The question as to an acceptable price also brought a wide variance of opinion:
 $2.00 — 1
 2.50 — 0
 3.00 — 4
 3.50 — 13
 4.00 — 18
 4.50 — 1
 5.00 — 14

Well, Sam, that is my report on the continuing opinion survey on the Chamber banquet. More returns still will be appreciated.

School Year In Review — Part 2

By THE JUNIOR HIGH STAFF
 BY NANCY MARTIN AND NAN NEAL

On March 17, there was an F. H. A. Daddy Date Banquet at the Community Center.

April 15, our boys attended a track meet in Plainview. The eighth grade won this meet for the first time since 1950.

On April 20, the F. H. A. Installation was held in Stanton Junior High School auditorium. Many future F.H.A.s were present for this occasion along with their parents.

On April 27, Mrs. Sullivan and Linda Tooley and Royce Ann Gilliland, left for Dallas to attend the F. H. A. state convention.

On April 27-28, the first Stanton Junior High School all-school play was held and pronounced a success.

May 11 we had a Junior Red Cross Program presented for assembly. The group leaders gave speeches on their projects and we had Mrs. Noel and Mrs. Smith give speeches on water safety. Several awards were given for the work on our scrapbooks sent to other countries.

May 16, Mr. Moore's choir presented their spring concert.

May 18 was our annual awards assembly, where many students were recognized for their work during the year in such fields as office work, library work, all school play, athletics, choir, speech, band, perfect attendance and many others.

May 24 is the day that we are all looking forward to — School will be out.

Choirs Present Spring Concert

BY RETHA KELLY

The junior high school choir, directed by Mr. Don Moore, presented their final concert for the year on Tuesday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in the junior high school auditorium.

The seventh grade girls sang "Wonderful Copenhagen," "Let There Be Music," "Titanic," and "I Gave my Love a Pretty Little Ring."

The eighth and ninth grade girls sang "O Mary Don't You Weep," "No Man is an Island," "Master of Human Destinies," and "Song for Evening."

The boys choir sang "Away for Rio," "Beautiful Savior," "Down Derry Way," and a Negro spiritual, "Climin' Up The Mountain."

The ninth grade girls sextette also presented several numbers.

CALIFORNIA VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McGehee had as Mother's Day guests their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark of O'Donnell, and Mrs. R. O. Hupp of Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. Hupp will remain for an extended visit with her parents.

The Portuguese Empire covers 23 times as much land as the mother country. Overseas possessions include the Azores, Madeira, the Cape Verde Islands, territories in Africa, enclaves in India, Macao in China and Timor in Indonesia.

Ideal Girl

By THE JUNIOR HIGH STAFF
 BY WAYNE EDWARDS

My ideal girl would have hair like Donna Williams, eyes like Donna Blythe, and hands like Ronda Neff. She would be as friendly as Ruth Ann Allison and as cute as Sharon Tinnin.

She would smile like Cheryl Parker and laugh like Jo Anne Ferguson. She would have the figure of Betty Mae Scott, and she would be as beautiful as Kathy Boston. She would have ears like Cynthia Seed, a nose like Cynthia Leasure. She would be as versatile as Nan Neal and as intelligent as Judy Wiman. She would walk like Peggy Neff and dress like Debbie Beene. She would be an all-around good girl like Royce Ann Gilliland.

MRS. McIVER RETURNS

Mrs. J. T. McIver returned to her home in Hereford this week after visiting relatives and friends. First, she was in Gallup, N. M. to visit her sister, Mrs. Manson Jones. Her nieces, Misses Mildred and Katherine Jones, accompanied her home. Then the three made a trip to Gainesville, where they attended the Gainesville Cemetery Association's annual gathering. There they were joined by Mrs. Harry Craig of Miami.
