Hereford School Will Open With New Credits And New Course; Latin Is Unpopular

By C. H. DILLSHAY, Superintendent.

All children in the first seven grades are expected to report to their respective buildings on Thursday, September 4, at nine o'clock. It is very important that all students be on hand the first day. Much time and confusion will be saved if all are in their places from the beginning. Books can be issued and room and section assignments can be made to much better advantage if the teachers know how many children must be provided for.

As was mentioned in these columns last week, half-day sessions may be necessary for beginners. If such is necessary a plan will doubtless be used that will enable each child to attend the morning session one week and the afternoon session the next. This will equalize the opportunities for all of the children concerned and tend to prevent inequalities in the second grade next year.

The uncertainty as to the number of six-year-old children who will attend school this fall makes definite plans difficult at this time. The scholastic census of last spring showed a total of 143 children who will be six or seven years of age on September 1. Thirty-two of these attended school at one time or another last year as under age children paying tuition. The 111 children who have not been to school cannot possibly be handled in two sections, and there are only two rooms available for them. There is a possibility that they might be handled in three sections if an-

Certified Seed Is Being Built Up By Roberson

An inspection of pure-line grain programs of J. P. Roberson, one mile west of Hereford, was made Monday by E. A. Miller, field crop man of A. & M. College extension service.

Mr. Roberson has been growing pure-line seed for about four years, using bagged seed developed at the experiment station at Lubbock. He has maize, kafir and hogart.

Prof. Bowers of the agronomy department at Lubbock will probably be here Friday to make a final inspection of the crops of Mr. Roberson, and, according to Mr. Miller, the seed will probably be accorded certification. Last year there were only three men in Texas who were credited with certified pure-line grain sorghum seed. The distinction will be merited by Mr. Roberson who has been giving much time and careful application to his pure seed enterprises.

Hereford Man Is Purchaser of Portales Show

Roy Onstead purchased the Portales Theatre at Portales, New Mexico, last week. L. P. Gulmarian, formerly of the Panhandle Lumber Company here, will manage the theatre. Mr. Gulmarian is an experienced theatre manager and has taken charge of Mr. Onstead's interests in Portales.

Mr. Onstead and family will move to Portales as soon as he can dispose of his interests here.

Judge C. R. Sutton and Horace Schloss, court reporter, were in Amarillo Saturday to receive election returns. While there Judge Sutton met S. A. L. Morgan, an old class mate of his and whom he had not seen for 18 years.

New Boy Scout Troop Planned By Lions Club

Appointment of a committee to consider boy scout sponsorship was the main business of the Lions club Wednesday noon at Hereford Hotel. R. O. Dunkle, B. H. Hopkins and Lee Gason, committee members appointed by C. C. Acker, president of the club, are now at work hunting suitable material for a scoutmaster for an entirely new troop among the boys in and around Hereford.

E. L. Roberts, scout executive for the Central Plains Council, gave a talk on the value of scouting in its effect on boys, primarily teaching them to give and take in the game of life, and pointed out the need for the Lions club undertaking such a sponsorship.

R. P. Conaway is scoutmaster of the present troop, which is fostered by the Methodist church, and it is now proposed to form an entirely new unit to be taken under the wing of the Hereford's Lions club.

Completion of the ornamental gate at the entrance of Whiteface field, the Lions' first activity, was told by B. H. Hopkins, who thanked the sponsors and donors in behalf of the Whiteface team, Hereford public schools and officials, Coach McCollum and himself. An invitation was extended the public to drive out and see the improved and ornamented gridiron.

Summerfield Is County Winner of Ball Meet

Summerfield won the championship in the Deaf Smith county baseball tournament which started August 16 and ran through August 24, losing only one game, Sunday's tilt with the Bulcks. Her percentage was 833.

Westway ran the first half of the race in fine fettle, taking two and losing none, but blew up Friday and Saturday, losing two games. Summerfield came in for second place, and the Bulcks tied Westway for third.

Results of the games: Thursday, Bulcks 11, Wyche 9; Friday, Summerfield 9, Westway 6; Frio 10, Black 3; no games Saturday; Sunday, Bulcks 8, Summerfield 7; Frio 16, Westway 2; Monday finals, Summerfield 9, Frio 5; Summerfield 8, Bulcks 6.

New Appearance Date Is Set to Protest Paving

In a slightly changed grouping of improvement districts for street paving, another hearing date has been set for property owners, the morning of September 12, when interested parties may appear at the city hall and protest if they have any objections to register.

Contract has been made with Henry C. Farmer and Company for laying of vertical fibre brick and putting down of curbs on the blocks included in the districts. The same sections of streets are covered with no additions, the only difference being of a descriptive nature. Also a slight reduction has been made in the estimated cost of each front foot.

Court May Be Adjourned By Sutton Today

An effort is being made by Judge C. R. Sutton to conclude the August term of district court today, after a four weeks session, but the grand jury was reconvened this morning and several matters were before the court. Adjournment will in all probability be made either today or tomorrow.

Judge Sutton will return to his home at Marfa. Horace Schloss, court reporter, will go to his home in Dalhart, and then to Vega September 8, where Judge Reese Tatum will open court.

One of the important cases disposed of was suit of Mary Sue Iveson et al, to recover teacher's salary from the trustee board of Daniel school, in which it was claimed that contract had been made for 1929-30 term. A jury was drawn and a judgment was rendered in favor of the board, disallowing plaintiff's claim for about $800.

Walker Implement company was given a judgment by a jury for $4,092.65 against R. Casey on notes. The implement company's suit to foreclose on this year's crop was dismissed as premature.

J. D. Short entered a plea of guilty on a liquor charge, and was given a two-year suspended sentence.

State vs Earl Clark and State vs D. Y. Edwards were dismissed upon motion of district attorney.

Mrs. A. G. Snyder, daughter and sister, Miss Clara Wedel, were in Plainview last Friday visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kinney.

Confidence In Future Of Vast Empire Seen In Decision To Build Railroad

The new railroad has been chartered under the name of Texas & Pacific Northern Railway Company.

A total of 333 miles of new rails are to be laid; 200 miles directly south from Hereford; 30 miles north to Vega, and 101 miles of two prongs, one from Terry county to Lubbock and the other from Dimmitt to Amarillo.

More than 13,000,000-of-dollars are to be expended in the Plains-Panhandle belt, making the most westward north and south route in the Panhandle. The new railroad is to pass through 13 prosperous counties, touching Hereford, Vega, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield, Lamesa and Big Spring in the western tier of counties.

It will extend into a vast empire, spreading out into three prongs, providing overnight passenger service over one line into Fort Worth and Dallas; also aiding shippers by providing a single line outlet to the port of New Orleans. The two major systems now in the territory have port entries only at Houston and Galveston.

Local Rains Revise Crop Predictions

A regular flood fell at Summerfield Wednesday afternoon, according to Mont E. Baker, who was in Summerfield during the fall. A one inch rain is reported by E. O. Flynn, five miles south of town.

The fall at Hereford Wednesday night around eight o'clock registered one-half inch, coming in a heavy down-pour. The fall was light to the north and east, but was apparently much heavier to the west.

Scattered showers fell last week over most of the Hereford territory, and while beneficial to a great degree were not heavy enough to be called a general rain and to break prevailing drouthy conditions.

The heaviest fall reported was in the Daniel community, 12 miles northeast, where from one-half to two inches were received, coming in time to put row crops back in

Ross Sterling, New Governor

Texas will now have, at last, a business man as chief executive. In the Democratic nomination, Mr. Sterling defeated Mrs. Miriam Ferguson by 92,000 votes.

Confidence In Future Of Vast Empire Seen In Decision To Build Railroad

Decision to build immediately upon the nomination of Ross Sterling, business man for governor of Texas, is being interpreted as a grand gesture to Sterling's ability and a magnificent vote of confidence on the part of new capital in the immediate future of the state, especially West Texas.

"The line will traverse one of the best agricultural sections of the state," says J. L. Lancaster, president of the Texas & Pacific railway system, "and it will enlarge and improve its transportation resources."

Rail Committee Recruited and Armed for Game

In view of approaching railroad activities, the move of the Texas & Pacific of the giant Missouri Pacific system, to establish itself in the Panhandle and at Hereford in particular, the chamber of commerce has recruited its old railroad committee, one of two years' standing, up to full strength and armed it with full authority to build a railroad or have it done.

Judge John P. Slaton is chairman of the committee and the other members are George Muse, G. A. F. Parker, E. S. Ireland, all bankers; E. B. Black and N. E. Gass, merchants, and T. E. Seliger, capitalist, man of affairs, and Hereford breeder.

Helpful showers were also reported in Easter district, 10 miles south in Castro county. Good rains fell in the Scherer community Friday and Saturday, according to the Brand's correspondent; and at Wyche, seven miles southeast, last week's showers are claimed to have aided grass lands materially. The rain at Progressive, seven miles northeast, was rather heavy last week-end and was of much benefit. Row crops in that section are now looking good.

Right-of-way Is Pledged To New Railroad; Crew Of 200 Engineers To Start At Once

Announcement that the Texas & Pacific railroad has filed for building a north and south line from Big Spring to Vega, running thru Hereford, came as a complete surprise Monday afternoon, and the railroad committee of the chamber of commerce, under chairmanship of Judge John P. Slaton, which has been in existence for two years, immediately went into action and began to line up with the unexpected ally from the south through which dreams of 25 years or more for an outlet north and south may become realities.

"We ask no bonus, will have no townships for lot selling and building of rival towns, and ask only donation of a 100-foot right-of-way through the counties and towns," said G. O. Bateman, of Dallas, attorney for the Texas & Pacific railroad, at a meeting of sixty citizens at the court house in Hereford-Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was attended by representatives from Big Spring, Littlefield, Levelland and Dimmitt.

The body of Hereford citizens voted unanimously in pledging the right-of-way for the new railroad and every other assistance required in presenting the territory's claim for the road as a public convenience. Judge Slaton, who presided over the Tuesday session, said he believed the Texas & Pacific would win in its new objective. "All of us are with you; the proposed line fits in with the desires and labors of ours for many years," he told the visiting Texas & Pacific railroad officials. "We offer all possible help and will do what you

Defined Health Program Is Fall and Winter Plan

Significant of the greater activity which the opening of schools throughout the county will make possible, a meeting of the County Health committee was held Monday afternoon and the program of intensive work outlined by Miss Hall was approved. The report, however, submitted by Miss Hall shows that the summer months have been busy ones, though the summer program has really been completed.

A definite health program looking toward the formation of health habits, instruction in sanitation, diet, prevention of disease and the proper home treatment for minor ailments. The value of a sound physical body will be stressed and an effort will be made to impress the danger of neglect of any physical defect.

The health booth which is being arranged for the county fair will contain much of interest and demonstrations to be given each day with illustrate ways and means of utilizing materials which are in every home to provide adequate health equipment and the proper use of this equipment.

The organization of adult health clubs which at the request of the mothers has been deferred until the present, has begun. Three clubs, Frio, Dean and Dawn, have been recently organized. Others, including one or more in Hereford, are to follow.

State Health Officer, Dr. J. C. Anderson of Austin, and Miss Katherine Haquist, state supervisor, of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the state department of health, were in Hereford Monday and met with the county board. They expressed themselves as feeling that the work in Deaf Smith county was progressing satisfactorily and urged the interest and cooperation of the health-minded public as essential to the ultimate success of the work.

Runoff Winners Are Phillips, Beach, Paddock

The vote turnout in the second primary last Saturday was about 200 less than on July 26, and it is probably accounted for in that most of the county offices had been settled in the first primary.

The largest vote cast is seen in the assessor's race where H. M. Beach defeated Ira Ricketts, incumbent, by a margin of 136. W. B. Phillips narrowly won over S. L. Waiser, present commissioner.

Jack Rose, aspirant for precinct 1 commissioner, fell short 75 votes of supplanting J. Paddock, candidate for re-election.

Ross Sterling for governor won over Mrs. Miriam Ferguson by almost four to one in Deaf Smith county. His majority in the state is about 100,000. Mrs. Ferguson polled only 50 votes in the rural boxes where the Fergusons claim their strength lies. In 1926 Mrs. Ferguson received only 158 votes against Dan Moody and her total last Saturday of 295 is perhaps a slight gain over the normal increase in voting population.

In the state races other winners were Allred, attorney general; Lockhart, state treasurer; Witt, lieutenant-governor; McDonald, agricultural commissioner, and Pat Neff, railroad commissioner.

YOUNG NEWSPAPER MAN RETURNS FROM PANAMA

B. H. Kirby, young newspaperman and former student of McMurry College of Abilene, was in Hereford Saturday, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kirby, who own land in this county, south of Adrian.

Young Kirby has just returned from what he termed a "ragabond trip" into South America. He had been on a roving tour of the Latin countries, seeing the world. B. H. was offered a position on a large paper at Panama but declined, preferring to return to Texas.

Problems Of Undernourished Or Underweight Children Discussed By Health Nurse; Causes Are Many

BY MISS NELL HALL
County Health Nurse

The causes of malnutrition are many and the conditions of most undernourished children are due to more than one of them. Sometimes there have been so many things in the child's life that might have caused ill health and poor nutrition that it is impossible to say which are the most important causes in a particular case. These causes may be divided into the following groups:

1. Heredity and natal causes: prematurity or undersize at birth, difficult feeding or repeated digestive upsets in infancy. Small and slender parents are apt to have small children but this is seldom a good excuse for poor nutrition.
2. Past illnesses: Such as severe typhoid or surgical operation, many acute or repeated illnesses (especially the infectious diseases) or over frequent attacks of minor illness, such as common colds and tonsillitis.
3. Present illness or defects: Tuberculosis, diabetes, or other chronic diseases, must not be overlooked. Defects, such as bad teeth, diseased tonsils and adenoids, discharging ears, bad vision, deformities of the spine or extremities, flat feet, mental defects.
4. Bad hygiene and diet: Insufficient sleep, rest, air, sunlight, uncleanness, irregular bowels, bad eating habits, habitually bad appetite.
5. Social and economic factors in the home: Poverty or great wealth, spoiling, lack of discipline, quarreling in the home, bad housing, crowding.

Many more factors might be named but these are enough to show that it is always a simple problem to determine why any individual child is underweight.

It is very necessary that the thorough physical examination by a physician, in order that the definite cause may be found. Then, and not till then, are we ready to deal with the problem.

The first step of course, after examination, is the correction of all defects which are found. Then insist upon regular eating habits and regular sleeping hours.

For the school child special attention to the noon lunches are very necessary and important. The child unable to have a hot meal at home, should be provided with at least one hot dish in connection with the regular lunch of sandwiches, fruit, etc. This may easily be managed with very little extra work on either the mothers' or teachers' parts.

Sometimes it is necessary for the child to have extra nourishment at mid-morning and mid-afternoon. This may be supplied by serving milk and crackers to the ones who are especially in need of them.

The nutrition program should include: 1. Complete physical examination in the presence of parents. 2. Correction of the defects found. 3. More food and better balanced meals. 4. Substitution of milk for tea and coffee. 5. Mid-morning and mid-afternoon lunch of milk and crackers or bread and butter. 6. No sweets between meals. 7. An adequate rest period in the morning and another in the afternoon. 8. A less strenuous school, home and play program, until average weight is reached. 9. No excitement (few parties, movies, etc.) before correct weight is reached, or all symptoms of malnutrition are obliterated. 10. One regular bowel movement a day, preferably after breakfast.

Interest the child in the program and keep his interest up by making a game of it. Let us not neglect the underweights, even though they seem perfectly well in other respects. Give them every opportunity to grow into perfect physical hood and womanhood.

Hersheys Have Pure-Line Seed Grain Sorghums

Ray and Horace Hershey, father and son, who live seven miles northeast of Hereford in the Progressive community, have undertaken pure-line seed breeding this year for the first time. Bagged red top cane and dwarfed yellow maize seed were secured from the Lubbock experiment station this spring.

The two crops are developing nicely, and the Hersheys have now under bags, about 1350 heads of both varieties. They will have none for sale but will plant next year what they have bagged, with the probability of having a large crop of certified seed for sale the following fall.

Horace Hershey is a graduate of Texas Technological College, and the experiment is receiving careful and scientific treatment under his supervision.

E. A. Miller, extension service representative, was taken out to the farm Monday by R. O. Dunkle, county agent, to see the progress that has been made. In the opinion of Mr. Miller, who has observed the superiority of pure-line seed in all parts of the state, the time is not far off when growers of grain sorghums will demand that all their planting seed be certified. The supply now is too limited to meet the demand, and as producers of such seed increase the output, recognition of the value will become more widespread and the demand gradually become universal.

AMOS

A Herdsman Called of God to be a Prophet

Amos 1:1; 7:10-15; 2:11, 12; 8:7, 8.

Amos 1:1. The words of Amos, who was among the herdsman of Tekoa which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

Amos 7:10. Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11. For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

12. Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there:

13. But prophesy not again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house.

14. Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdsman, and a dresser of sycomore-trees;

15. And Jehovah took me from following the flock, and Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

Amos 2:11. And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith Jehovah.

12. But yet gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not.

Amos 8:7. Surely the Lord Jehovah will do nothing, except he reveal his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8. The lion hath roared; who will not fear? The Lord Jehovah hath spoken, who can but prophesy?

Time: Amos prophesied about B. C. 793.

Place: The prophet's home, Tekoa in Judah, twelve miles south of Jerusalem; his preaching in Bethel, ten miles north of Jerusalem.

Golden Text: I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I; send me.—Isa. 6:8.

Introduction

Our last lesson was on Jonathan and David, examples of a noble friendship. Today we are studying Amos, a herdsman who was called of God to be a prophet. About 300 years intervened between these two lessons. After the death of Saul, David became king of all Israel, and Solomon, his son, succeeded him. But when his grandson, Rehoboam began to reign, ten tribes revolted and made Jeroboam their king. Two kingdoms then existed, known as the northern kingdom composed of ten tribes; and the Southern Kingdom, composed originally of Judah and Benjamin though known as the Kingdom of Judah. Amos belonged to the Kingdom of Judah, a native of Tekoa, a village six or seven miles south of Bethlehem. Amos was a missionary from Judah to Israel, having been specially commissioned of God to preach against the idolatrous practices maintained by Jeroboam II at Bethel, in the Northern Kingdom.

Amos, A Pioneer Prophet

Written prophecy really begins with Amos. That he committed some of his messages to writing means much to posterity. He may also be regarded as a pioneer in what we call the "social gospel." As Moses had learned to comprehend the holiness of God in the solitude of his shepherd life, so Amos out upon the lonely Judean hills came to grasp the idea of God's inviolable righteousness. The essence of the law is equality, not sacrifice (522). The day of the Lord is to be one of searching judgment (5:18ff).

"These Old Testament prophets are never out-of-date. This is especially true of Amos. Seven centuries after his death, John the Baptist, our Lord, and Paul were echoing his words. Other centuries later, Savonarola, Luther and Wesley were doing the same. More recently, William Lloyd Garrison, William Booth and Jane Addams have been saying them. In the ears of today they sound very modern, applicable, and called-for; as they will always be where even a vestige of social injustice is found, or religion that confesses God with mouth and denies him in conduct."

A Powerful Preacher

"Although classified as one of the minor prophets, Amos is one of the most powerful spokesmen in the annals of time." Only because his record utterances are briefer than those of Jeremiah and Isaiah is he regarded as a minor prophet. None of them ever dealt more profoundly with the work of the Lord. He enjoined his hearers to "hate the evil, love the good, and establish justice in the gate." And his messages, though delivered nearly three thousand years ago, are very appropriate to our generation.

The Divine Call Of Amos, v. 15 and unmistakable. It was like the following the flock." Here is a statement of a divine call, clear and unmistakable. It was like the "Follow me" of Christ, summoning the fisher from his net, the tax-collector from his booth. So Amos was bidden to abandon his livelihood, cease to be a shepherd, and become a missionary and evangelist. "And Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel." Amos preached to Israel rather than to his own Judah because in Israel the preaching was most terribly needed. To the outward eye it was at peace and blessed with abundant prosperity. But "to the illumined eye of prophetic intuition it was too evident that wealth had led to vice, and that vice was the prelude to decay, and destruction. Amos saw a complication of disorders which were enhanced rather than compensated by the semblance of prosperity. He saw on every side habitual drunkenness, disgraceful self-indulgence, the callous selfishness of ease, murder, oppression, robbery, total forgetfulness of God's essential requirements, a fatal contentment in outward ritual. Debtors were pitilessly sold as slaves, the clothes of the poor were taken in pledge. The priests, like Eli's sons, turned robbers and spoiled the bands of pilgrims on their way to the sacred places."

—F. W. Farrar. All this Amos had seen, and it had sunk deep into his soul. When God's call to raise his voice in bold protest came to him, he was ready and eager to obey.

Religion And Justice

Pure religion and social righteousness go together. They are but the two sides of the same thing. In Israel at this time there was little of either, especially among the upper and ruling classes. Repeatedly throughout his book Amos specifies the social wrongs of which they were guilty. It was a hateful word God told him to speak to them, and they hated him for it (5:10). Many a preacher of social righteousness since has had the same experience. It was even dangerous, and if Amos had been a prudent man he would have kept silence (5:13). "Often it is a good man's duty to be imprudent."—Cran-nell. "Goodness in Hebrew prophecy has almost always a social color; in Amos, particularly, it is doing of justice in society, the securing of fair play between man and man."—(McFadyen).

Hated By King And Priest, 7:12, 13

"Also Amaziah said unto Amos," v. 12. Probably the high priest did not wait to hear from the king, but vented his personal wrath on Amos while awaiting royal authority to arrest the prophet and send him out of the land. "Go, flee thou away into the land of Judah." Amos might say what he pleased against Israel in his own country, where he would not be stirring up disaffection in the high priest's constituency. Probably the Sanhedrin would have taken no measures against Christ if he had confined his work to Galilee. Wrongdoers do not object to preachers of righteousness if they keep at a safe distance! It is when they cry, "Thou art the man!" that they become objectionable.

Amos, A Bold Preacher.

Amos is no demagogue, no soap-box agitator, as he is sometimes regarded. It is the holiness of God that his stern and searching morality reflects, and God's justice that he threatens. Like all the great prophets, and especially like the More-than-a prophet Jesus, he denounces a formal worship that is not backed up with right living. ("Our best is bad as it is mixed with injustice," Crannell). The hands lifted heavenward must be clean, the offering must symbolize loving service. Amos forebodes our Lord addressing scribes and Pharisees at Jerusalem; Stephen and Paul giving plain talk to the high churchmen of that same city; or Luther and Wesley telling their countrymen what's what with God.

The style of Amos is very bold and incisive. No timid heart can beat in unison with his fearless strains. Here is a hero. None but a heroic soul can feel such sentiments or speak such words as his. His style is plain; sometimes abrupt; always vigorous. His sentences are short, perhaps more laconic than the sentences of any other of these Hebrew bards. He is a man under whose fervid preaching nobody can ever fall asleep.—Rev. George L. Petrie, D. D.

Special Lessons

1. "The central thought of Amos is that the God who has called him to speak is a being who, by his very nature, places righteousness in the supreme place."—Prof. W. G. Jordan.

2. "We are endangered by the same sins that Amos was compelled to condemn: Warring nations in this good year have been condemned for crimes similar to those charged up to the neighboring nations of Israel. Domestic wrongs current in the time of Amos are still practised in our day. Nations, as well as individuals, need to heed the admonitions of Amos to 'seek good and not evil.' The message of this early Jewish prophet, therefore, is a warning and an admonition to us. We can well afford to heed it."—President William Bennett Bizzell.

3. The Book of Amos contains many expressions that are often quoted, such as, "They have sold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes." "Shall two walk together, except they have agreed?" "I will smite the winter-house with the summer-house." "Ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning." "Prepare to meet thy God, O Israel." "Ye turn justice to wormwood." "Seek him that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning." "Ye trample upon the poor." "Establish justice in the gate." "Woe to them that are at ease in Zion." "Making the ephah small and the shekel great."

Right to Speak Against Ungodly Rulers Upheld by Pastor; Need for Fearless Leadership Urged

Appearing in the role of a flaming Methodist evangel, an effective exhorter and pleading pulpiteer, revealing why he has more than the usual success as a revivalist, Rev. J. M. Fuller presented the need for courageous churchmen, leaders, and officials and pointed out sound justification of the activities of "political preachers" in the relations of Elijah and Ahab.

The sermon was delivered Sunday evening at the Methodist church to full pews, crowded to overflowing with three congregations. There were over 300 present.

The illuminating and evangelistic address came close on the heels of the Saturday election, which was hailed by the speaker as a Christian victory, a contest in which the churches, or church pastors and members, took an active part; and down through the discourse he drew rather plainly an inferred comparison between the defeated and winning candidates for governor. Ministerial condemnation of ungodly rulers, any time and any place, was strenuously upheld.

The speaker's subject of courageous leadership, of having the fortitude to choose a correct life, to do the right thing in spite of opposition or public opinion, was delineated with a review of King Ahab and the prophet Elijah, using as a text, "How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him".

In part, Rev. Fuller said: "Every community needs men of strong integrity to lead. We need Christian officials to administer our government. It behooves leaders, both civic and religious, to be careful in conduct of their lives, public and private.

"It is a tragedy for a wicked man to come into power, to arise to leadership. Ahab was a weakling; he lacked courage, and as a climax to his errors he married a wicked woman, Jezebel. The dearest thing on earth is a good woman and with equal emphasis the meanest of creation is a bad woman. They are able to make or break the men, so strong are their subtle influence and power.

"Ahab is an example of wicked and weak rulership. Elijah illustrates a man who can face dismaying situations without fear. It is easy to do what everybody else is doing, but hard to stand alone. We need men and women who have courage to back their convictions. When Elijah bearded King Ahab and told him, in the midst of suffering and calamity, there would be no rain for three years, he was facing without fear a threatening consequence. Ahab had torn down the altars of his fathers, set up idols of Baal, and had slain the true prophets.

"Every nation that destroys its true altars go on the rocks. Idolatry comes in through various ways as the altars disappear. Whatever you think more of than of God becomes your idol. Money is an idol for most Americans. Into covetous hands, into hands of a few, the national wealth is rapidly falling.

"Prosperity is one of the biggest temptations. Israel was rich and had plenty; they forgot God and the drought came. The universal drought in the United States may be an act of providence to bring America to her knees. I believe in the providence of God, in miracles. When Elijah prayed for it to come down and consume the meat offering, God intervened and kindled a blaze without natural causes, a miracle to open the people's eyes that they were following false and helpless gods.

"Elijah had the righteous valor to put his God to a test. On Mt. Carmel he plied Jehovah against Baal, and victory was given him for his fearlessness. God will help us win our battles; try him. If you put your trust in Baal, he will fail you for he is impotent. When

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HOME FROM YELLOWSTONE

Mrs. S. L. Easley's Sunday school class of boys returned Sunday from a motor bus trip through Yellowstone Park. They were chaperoned by Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Easley. While much unexpected motor trouble developed to cause annoyance and delays, all enjoyed the tour into new states, returning home awed by nature's wonders. Rev. Fuller came in Sunday morning to meet his pulpit appointment and the others arrived in their bus Sunday evening.

New Bridge Club Is Organized

A new bridge club for the younger set was organized last week at the home of Mrs. Tom Carter, with 12 charter members. The club has not yet been named and no officers were elected. Meetings for games will be held every first and third Wednesdays.

The charter members are Meses Tom Carter, Egbert Bradley, Jewell Murchison, J. M. Posey, Loyd Edwards, Finis Owen, Jimmie Witherspoon, Roger Corbett, Alton Fraser, J. K. Blythe, Meses Dessie Mae Steele, Polly Steele, Eunice Gilbreath and Frances Oberthier.

Two new members are Miss Frances Guinn and Mrs. H. W. Blythe.

HEREFORD SCHOOLS

other room can be found suitable for them.

High school enrollment seems to be ahead of this date last year, with approximately 200 students classified up to Tuesday night. There are many new students, though the total student body in the high school may be somewhat smaller than it was last year. This possibly might be explained by a smaller senior class than usual and a smaller grade promoted from the seventh grade last spring than the year before. The number taking advantage of early registration increases each year, and the fact that books will be issued to high school students on Saturday of this week has doubtless stimulated it more than usual this year.

Credits in trigonometry and occupations were granted the high school this summer. The former was taught by T. E. McCollum, the latter by H. M. Hudson. Credit was not allowed in physical geography, but is expected this year, following improvements in the amount and quality of laboratory work given. A new course in world history will be offered this fall. It may be taken instead of the two year course given in the past and will satisfy the requirements for modern history.

Those who want only the two units of history required should take this in preference to modern history. Credit cannot be allowed for this course if credit is held in either ancient or modern history as there would be too much duplication. The present demand for first year Latin does not justify the teaching of it and it will have to be abandoned unless more students ask for it.

Misses Lucille and Florence Brand reached home last Sunday from Huntsville, where they have been attending the State Teachers College for the summer terms. Miss Lucille will teach here this year and Miss Florence will teach again in the public school in Houston.

All first class roads, all main lines of heaviest steel and best ballasting were promised by Mr. Bateman. He said his company proposed to begin construction just as soon as a permit is secured from the Interstate Commerce Commission. To get the permit, it must be shown that the line is wanted and that it will have sufficient support for profitable operation, he said.

In the hearing before the commission, it will be necessary, Mr. Bateman said, for Hereford to furnish data of resources and witnesses before the examiner. It is expected that a hearing will be set for not later than November 1. Judge Slaton suggested that the commission be invited to meet part of the time at Hereford and another part at Big Spring.

"To reveal how much in earnest our company is on this proposal, I will state that by the end of this week we shall have crews of at least 200 engineers and helpers at work, going over the routes and making up surveys", said Bateman. "And when authority is given to build we shall start at once at various points a number of construction crews, putting up the grade simultaneously from one end to the other.

"This project will cost over $13,000,000, and, in its expending,

Perry McMinn Wedded to Muleshoe Girl

An event of wide interest to residents of both Hereford and Canyon was the marriage of Perry McMinn and Miss Geraldine Beller which was solemnized at the First Methodist church in Clovis Monday evening, August 24, at 9:00 o'clock. Rev. R. E. Jones, pastor of the church, performed the beautiful ring ceremony. Only members of the families and a few relatives and friends were present.

The wedding was a very quiet affair and came as a surprise to the many young friends of the young couple.

The bride was lovely in a beautiful gown of white moire with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white tulips. The attendants to the bride and groom were Miss June Beller, sister of the bride, and Miss Zera Mae Schaffner, and Messrs. Cecil Buhner, Davis Beller, a brother of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Thelma McMinn, who presided at the organ and the only sister of the groom, played McDowell's "To a Wild Rose", after which Miss Estelne Harris of Canyon, sang "Truly I Do" and "How I Love Thee". Announcing the bridal party and for the recessional, Miss McMinn played Mendelssohn's wedding march, and as the bride entered on the arm of her brother, the strains faded into Lohengrin's wedding march. During the ceremony the soft strains of "Because" could be heard from the organ.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Beller of Muleshoe, and is a graduate of the Rocky Ford, Colorado, high school. Later she was a student in a college there.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McMinn of this city. He is a graduate of the local high school and later attended W. T. S. T. C., Canyon. For the past year he has been teaching in Muleshoe.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the couple left on their honeymoon, in the mountains of New Mexico. They will be at home the latter part of this week at Muleshoe where Mr. McMinn will be engaged in school work for the coming terms.

If this immediate section does not get a large part of it through labor costs and otherwise, it will be the community's fault."

A new vision of what the Panhandle is, a fuller realization of how profitable a railroad north and south would be both to his company and the territory served, a great faith in the counties to be traversed, and recognition of progressiveness of its people, were expressed by L. C. Porter, of the T. & P.'s claim department.

Visitors attending the meeting from other towns were: from Dimmitt, L. P. White, T. A. Singer, E. R. Brooks, B. D. Woodlee and Edgar Ramey.

From Big Spring: C. T. Watson, secretary, and R. L. Cook, director of the chamber of commerce.

From Levelland: J. H. Doyle, president of the First National Bank; G. H. Tubb, J. H. Jones, C. J. Rhea, W. D. Cope, Russell Mitchell, P. B. Shannon and Messrs. Vaughn and Clingman. From Littlefield: R. E. McCaskill, E. S. Rowe, J. W. Hammock, B. T. Badger and son.

Star Releases Western On Its First Run Date

The Star Theatre holds forth one of its best picture programs for the coming week, opening a new one today, "The Silent Enemy", a story of the Indian country which also runs tomorrow. Saturday's picture is for one day only, but the very newest and latest. It is Zane Gray's great story of western life, "The Last of the Duane's", and comes to the Star as soon as it is shown even in the first run shows, Saturday being its first appearance anywhere. George O'Brien plays the lead.

Monday and Tuesday will furnish the comedy film of the week, Winnie Lightner coming in one of her favorite productions, "Hold Everything", Wednesday and Thursday's picture will be of a more serious nature and depict some of the tragic results of lives misspent. It is rightfully named "Common Clay", Constance Bennett playing the leading role.

Mrs. J. C. Parker, Mrs. Voline Downs, Miss Willie Allen and Miss Maerita Horn of Wichita Falls, returned Monday from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns, Santa Fe, Trinidad and Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Turnbow and family returned home Saturday from a motor trip to Quitaque and Tulla where they have been visiting relatives and friends the past week.

Friends of Martha Lee Duncan will be glad to learn that she, after going through the Carroll-Driver-Grard clinic, Dallas, has been pronounced as improving nicely and will be home in a few weeks.

Miss Rosabelle Jones of Stoneberg, Texas, is here this week visiting with Miss Mary Lou Roberson. Misses Jones and Roberson expect to leave this week for Lubbock where they will teach again the coming school year.

Rev. M. M. Beavers and daughter, Lovie, of Plainview, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks of Tulla, and Lama and Miss Zoe Beavers of Hereford returned Saturday from a three weeks' tour of the Grand Canyon, Pacific Coast and Yellowstone National Park.

Mmes. Jim and Walter Sprows and children, of Cheyenne, Oklahoma, came Sunday for a visit in the J. T. Cronin home. Monday they with Mr. Cronin and daughters, Molly Ray and Kathleen, and Mrs. J. A. Hornbeak left for a visit to Eastern New Mexico and a trip through Carlsbad Caverns.

Miss Glenna Cox of Plainview spent the week end here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murray. Miss Cox was enroute to her home in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she will be employed for the coming school year as a teacher.

Hazel Megert and David Weeden Married

Miss Hazel Megert became the bride of David Weeden last Monday, August 25, at Clovis, Rev. C. E. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church there, performing the ceremony.

Miss Megert is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Nettie V. Megert, pioneer resident of Hereford, and is a popular member of the younger social set of this city.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weeden of this city, and came here with the family about a year ago from Stratford. Mr. Weeden will manage one of his father's farms near Hereford but the couple will make their home in Hereford in their new apartments on Roosevelt Avenue. The Brand and many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Weeden extend hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Urlin Streu, recent bride and groom, have returned from their wedding trip and are now at home in their new residence in North Hereford.

Texaco Aviation Gasoline and Airplane Oil functioned perfectly in the new Wright Special Whirlwind high compression motor which twice hurled Texaco Number 13, the Travel Air Mystery 5, to transeontinental records. Texaco refueling service was excellent and contributed considerably to my success... Frank M. Hawks Supremacy!

—in your motor
as in the air

JUST as Texaco aviation products proved superior in engine performance for Captain Hawks on his record breaking cross-continent flights, so Texaco motor products will prove superior in the engine of your car.

The new Texaco Motor Oil with its tougher, longer-lasting, crack-proof body gives more miles per quart, and its freedom from carbon-forming impurities and all cold-sluggish substances insures perfect protection, summer and winter.

Texaco-Ethyl, the "dry" Ethyl gasoline, is a surprising motor fuel. It starts quickly and the pick-up, mileage and vital power add much to the pleasure of motoring.

The new and better Texaco Gasoline, the original "dry" gas, is the finest non-premium gasoline you can buy.

Stop today under the Texaco Red Star with the Green T. Try the new Texaco Motor Oil and Texaco-Ethyl Gasoline. See how much better your engine's action.

The mark of quality for petroleum products

Longer Lasting "CRACK-PROOF" Body!

This new "crack-proof" motor oil is a great forward step in the history of refining. It revolutionizes lubrication values as completely as the NEW and BETTER Texaco Gasoline, the original "dry" gas.

The entire motorized world will appreciate this new type of motor oil. The high-speed, high-compression automobile engines of today are in many respects similar to miniature cracking stills. At every combustion stroke the oil in the upper cylinder walls is exposed to terrific heat and pressure. Many motor oils crack under such conditions and leave an excessive coke deposit. Lubricating values are destroyed.

Tweed Weaves to Feature Fall Suits

WITH STYLES MORE FEMININE, HARRIET RECOMMENDS SPORTS TYPE SUITS AS FIRST CHOICE FOR AUTUMN WEAR

BY HARRIET

STRIPES and checks will usher in the autumn days. Most of them are tweeds in a new, soft weave.

Browns, soft, rich bluish greens, black and white and all of the rust tones of red are very becoming.

For your first suit, you cannot go wrong picking a sports type. They are always good. And this winter, when most styles will be more feminine, there will be a certain zest in a tailored sports outfit.

Quite new is the sports suit with coat that comes clear down to the bottom of the hem. Such a coat can be used with other dresses to have a change of outfit.

So far as the dresses are concerned, there are several things to note. All are belted. Most of them have fullness in the skirts. The dress with a light top is newer and smarter than the one without.

One of the smartest outfits is a soft brown tweed, trimmed with a brown and yellow shepherd's plaid collar and lining. The coat is strictly tailored, with a few stitched darts at the waistline to ease it from being a straightline. It has a self-belt that fastens in front while the coat pulls over to the side.

Under this is a cute shepherd's plaid dress in the same colors, brown and yellow. It has a jaunty little bolero effect and its sleeves have deep cuffs coming out from under the rather flaring tops, like boleros themselves.

The skirt of this frock has a pleated flounce all around it, of the material running diagonally. It is most decorative and gives a jaunty originality to the frock. It is belted in yellow.

A typical autumn sports hat is the brown brimmed hat, with facing of yellow and banding of the same. Chamis gloves and a brown purse are good with this suit.

Quite a different type of sports suit is the Worth model in brown and pink. It has one of those light-topped frocks, this one with pink jersey fashioning the top of the waist and all of the sleeves, except the cuffs, which are of the tweed.

A smart sports outfit for fall is the soft, brown tweed, left, trimmed with a color of contrasting tweed. It has a self-belt fastening in front. A different type sports suit is the Worth model, right, in brown and pink. An unusual feature of the coat is its inverted pleats which flare toward the bottom to give fullness.

The frock of tweed is made using the goods horizontally, while the coat, which does not fasten shut but is belted and left open, is made with it running vertically. The coat has several new features.

On the sides are inverted pleats which flare toward the bottom to give fullness. Down the back, below a stitched yoke, is an inverted pleat which flares from the belt down. The collar is made in one with the front facings, and has a separate little piece which curves upward, giving the appearance of an upturned collar. It is an intriguing little touch, quite in keeping with the new mode that grows fanciful and coquettish.

The hat with this is of stitched brown felt. Suede shoes complete the outfit. There is a belt of brown leather, but it may be belted with its own material if one is not quite so slender as she should be. A shiny belt would be likely to emphasize this.

ORDINARY MAN GETS NO MORE

Farmer Claims Partnership Between Mule And Fool

FROM POLITICS THAN HIS MULE

Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule drawing a Dixie plow. The farmer was broadcasting.

"Bill, you are a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man, made in the image of God. Yet, here we work hitched together year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. Sometimes I think this is a partnership between a mule and a fool. For surely I work harder than you do. Plowing here we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two. So, mathematically speaking, I do twice as much per leg as you do.

"Soon we'll be harvesting a corn crop. When the crop is gathered I give one-third to the landlord for being kind enough to let me use this corner of God's universe. One-third goes to you and what is left is my share. But while you consume all your third with the exception of a few cobs, I divide my third among seven children, six hens, two ducks and a banker. Bill, you are getting the best of me; it ain't fair for a mule, the son of a jackass, to rob a man, the lord of creation, of his substance. And come to think of it, you only help to cultivate the ground. After that I put it, shock and husk it, while you look over the fence and he-haw at me.

"All fall and part of the winter the whole family, from Granny on down to the baby, pick cotton to help raise money to buy a new set of harness, and pay interest on the mortgage on you, and by the way, what do you care a darn about a mortgage? It does not worry you any. Not a darn bit. You leave that to me, you ungrateful onery cuss.

"About the only time I'm better is on election day, for I can vote and you can't. But if I ever get any more out of politics than you do, I don't see where it is."

Gifts Are Made Library; July Users Increase

G. A. F. Parker made a most unusual and valuable donation to the Deaf Smith county library recently in the form of bound volumes of the North American Review, being complete for the years, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896 and 1897, together with the unbound numbers of the same magazines complete for the years of 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901 and most of the year of 1902. He also gave the unbound numbers of the National Geographic Magazine almost complete for the years of 1920 through 1929.

Gifts of bound magazines are seldom available to libraries as they are so highly prized by the owners, but Mr. Parker, with his high regard for the public welfare of this community, thought they would serve more people in the library than in his home and thus offered to share them.

Other donations not previously mentioned have been received from the following: J. T. Carroll, Mrs. John Olson, Mrs. Frank Gaspell, Mrs. J. A. Wear, Miss Nell Hall, Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, Mrs. E. C. Eubanks, Mrs. Lee Curry, Mrs. F. T. Roloson and Mrs. J. M. Boone.

There were 140 volumes given to the library during the month of July, besides the unbound magazines. This shows the generous support being given the library by the people of the community.

The circulation for July was 2132 volumes, or an average of 83.9 volumes per day for the days the library was open. The largest for any day was 178, which compares favorably with the circulation in counties of many times the population of Deaf Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stamp of Loving, New Mexico, stopped over here Sunday to visit in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barnhart. The Stamps formerly lived here about six years ago.

CANNOT BE CONTENT WHEN LADDIE IS AWAY

(The verses below were found on the vacated typewriter of a well known business man of Hereford whose little boy had been away for several weeks with his mother on vacation. It was not written for publication, so it is printed anonymously. He may have skipped a metric foot or two, but the human story told shows he has a poetic soul.)

The house is mighty empty
With the little family gone,
The evenings terribly lonesome
When I'm here all alone.

I miss the happy prattle
Of a chummy little lad,
And when I read the "funnies"
It doesn't make me glad.

I feed the silent goldfish
And watch 'em swim around,
And then go feed the chickens
But no comfort there is found.

When friends invite me out to dine
As they've so kindly done,
I spend a pleasant evening
But then, I must come home.

The little toy tractor
Is longing for the hands,
That wind it up and start it off
To cover virgin lands.

The tricycle looks crestfallen
With one wheel bandaged up,
Like "Sparkplug" with a broken leg,
It's never won a cup.

The echoes of those bouncing feet
Are sadly lacking here,
It seems most like a graveyard
Without that youngster near.

The days pass all-too quickly
For I'm busy as can be,
They come the quiet night again
And loneliness to me.

But what's the use o' grumblin'
Vacation times must come,
And the daddy must be contented
To stay alone at home.

Repair Your Buildings
With winter days not so very far away it may not be a bad plan to look over the premises of your home and put the little repair jobs on the mend.
The slight lull in the work season just before wheat sowing time could be most profitably spent getting fences, barns and sheds in good condition for cold, stormy weather.
No matter what your repair problems may be, or whether you plan to build entirely anew, our consultation service on any construction question is at your disposal, and we are glad for you to make use of it.

Old Resident Eager To Tell
What New Medicine Did For Her After Others Failed

MRS. H. L. DRYER

"I was badly run down and even the simplest foods brought on attacks of indigestion," said Mrs. H. L. Dryer, for more than fifty years a resident of Corpus Christi, Texas, residing at 1337
Ocean Drive in that city. I bloated terribly after meals and suffered severe belching spells. Constipation was a source of constant worry and I had severe pains in my abdomen after meals. I was unable to sleep at night.
"I have taken Konjola but a week and I can say that every ache and pain in my stomach is gone. I can now rest well at night and eat what I wish without any of my former miseries.
I have never used a medicine like Konjola and although I am 68 years of age I can do plenty of work. I am more than glad to pass my praise for this medicine on to others."
This is not an exceptional case.
Konjola does work quickly and none the less thoroughly. It is best in most cases to continue the treatment over a period of from six to eight weeks.
Konjola is sold in Hereford at the Corner Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

RE-POSSESSED CARS

You will be surprised when you see them and the liberal prices and terms we are selling them for. If you are ever going to need an A-1 used car, one you know the owner has driven carefully and given the best of attention, and furthermore rechecked and serviced by our "O K That Counts" department, this is your golden opportunity. Come in and see what values they are. For your special consideration we are calling attention to:
