Predicts New Era Of Growth Junior High School Contracts Citizens Here To Totaling $875 Thousand OK'd Double Survey Cites Completion Set Finance Boom

A survey predicting un-precedented growth for Deaf Smith County during the next 25 years was presented to chamber of commerce officials here Friday. Compiled by Burt C. Blanton, Dallas business and Industrial consultant, the 170page comprehensive look at the area's present and future forecasts a new era of exansion for the region.

AND WITH the region's growth, Hereford will emerge as an industrial and financial survey specialist envisioned. The report picks up county and area progress from several years back and carries the itemized pedictions year by year to

"Frankly, this figure is a little less than most of the projects we've seen lately," he told the Brand.

"I am very much encouraged by this."

He attributed the bid results to timing of the building pro-gram, as prescribed by the school board and local administrators.

INCLUDED in the junior high is an 1,800 seating capacity gym-nasium, designed to accomodate high school varsity basketball tilts.

After accepting bids, the board voted to petition the city to con-struct a 60-foot wide street in Revue Shows front of the junior high school between Stadium Dr. and the street which runs on the east side of Northwest Elementary. Included in the motion was a request that the city annex the school property in that area.

One Injured In Leap From Moving Freight

One serious injury resulted when three youths jumped from a freight train after an unauthorized ride from Amarillo, Kenny White, and his cousins, Larry and David Howeth, jumped from the slowly moving freight about noon Wednesday as the train passed through the Labor Camp area near Hereford.

WHITE, 14, is in Deaf Smith County Hospital with fractures of both bones in the right forearm and extensive lacerations of his right leg near the ankle. Attending doctors report his condition as good. The other boys were not treated in Hereford. The White youth is the son of Mrs. Gerald Turner, 829 Brevard. He is spending the summer with his mother. DOTH ALSO NOW (OR NOT?) SAVE US" I PETER 3:20,21

RAPTI

NOTE: Almost all believers in Christ agree that we are saved by the grace of God, faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and His power to save through His blood. Most all of us believe that repentance from sin, and some kind of confession of Christ is necessary before a sinner can be saved. Likewise, most religious groups in Christendom have some form of baptism in their practices. We agree on many things. The question that we do not agree on is: Why be baptized? or, What is the purpose of baptism? Please consider the following:

Moses and the Children of Israel were in Egyptian bondage. Water in the Red Sea stood between them and the freedom in the Promised land. (Exodus 14th Chapter.)

"They were all baptized in the sea." (I Gorinthians 10:2).

The waters in the Jordan River stood between Naaman and his being cleansed of his leporsy. (IlKings chapter 5)

1. THE WATERS OF BAPTISM STANDS BETWEEN THE SIN NER AND HIS BEING SAVED. (Mark 16:15,16).

2. BAPTISM STANDS BETWEEN THE SINNER AND REMIS-SION OF SINS. (Acts 2:38).

3. BAPTISM STANDS BETWEEN THE SINNER AND WASH-ING AWAY SINS. (Acts 22:16).

4. Baptism stands between the sinner and rejoicing in salvation. (Acts 8:35-39).

5. Christ shed His blood in His death. We are baptized into his death where we are cleansed in His blood. (Rom. 6:3,4)

6. "For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ." (Galatians 3:27).

7. Baptism, "washing of water with the word," stands between the sinner and cleasing and justification. (Ephesians 5:26).

8. Baptism stands between the sinner and the "one body, which is the church." (Eph. 1: 22.23; I Cor. 12:13).

9. Baptism stands between the sinner and re generation. (Titus 3:5)

10. Baptism, being "born of water and the Spirit", stands between the sinner and entrance into the kingdom of God. 'John 3:3-5).

Thus reads a bronze plate fastened last week to the courthouse which may have been built by accident.

The plaque was presented by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee which had previously affixed the official Texas Historical Medallion to the structure a few years ago. THE PLAQUE added last week sums up in a few words a saga of county history which had previously been overlooked, it seems, by all except those who lived through those interesting years of 1907 and 1911. . . when the mention of the courthouse proposition was almost sure to bring spontaneous debate among county residents.

The proposal to build a new courthouse first came to the public eye in 1907 when The Hereford Brand reported that a petition was in circulation which would ask county commissioners to call a bond election for that purpose. TWO YEARS of bickering followed before the election was finally called for Sept. 30, 1909. The election passed. . . somewhat to the surprise and dismay of those same county commissioners who had called the election, it was later reported.

The building was then erect-ed in 1910-1911. ALTHOUGH no firm evidence exists along this line, the rumor persisted following the election that the county commission had called for the bond election on the gamble that it would be voted down.

As the election debate warmed, a former county judge urged voters in letters published in the Brand to vote against the proposal, stating that the county "just cannot afford such a luxury."

At the same time, Brand editor J. Ray was all for the proposition, and said so pointedly in editorials. WHEN THE votes were tallied the issue passed by a margin of 308 to 167. But only five votes were cast in favor of issuing the bonds

by persons living outside the city limits of Hereford.

w to th

RURAL VOTERS turned down the proposal by a 53-5 margin, but the city's vote of 303 to 104 carried the election.

"Most notably surprised by the outcome of the election were certain members of the county commission," a Brand article stated following the election. the Brand of Jan. 4, 1907.

It seems commissioners who had been pressured by several leading citizens for almost three years to call for the vote - set a "lavishly high" figure for the courthouse in a move calculated to settle the question and relieve pressure from proponents of the matter.

The petition circulated and presented to commissioners in 1907 was reported as follows in

TRY THIS GRIP — A golf lesson is given Patti Ann Hendon as she is initiated into the favorite sport of the Eugene H. Hendon family, 1101 Union. Her teacher is her brother Paul and extra coaching is by her parents and older brother, Steve. Practice in their yard keeps the golfers in trim for larger ranges. Dr. Hendon began the practice of optometry here in the spring of 1964 and his family came here a few months later.

NOTHING STRENUOUS — Warm-weather pleasure is not all of the kind that consumes energy. There are times when an hour on a shady porch in good company is worth two elsewhere, and a refreshing glass of iced tea adds to the feeling of positive luxury in such a scene as the blossoming back yard of the Don Robinson home, 101 Liveoak. Mrs. Robinson, in a cool and becoming shift, is serving Mrs. Dale Young, left, and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett Jr. First-year improvement shows in the Robinson yard; the couple moved into the new house only in Seplett Jr. They have lived here about a year after a two-year residence in Abilene, but Snyder was their longtime_bome previously.

Federal Aid: How Far Must We Go To Get Back Our Tax Money?

It has probably happened before, but when the Robstown School district last week named three top administrators in their public school system, they listed one of the men under the following title: "Administrative assistant in charge of public accounting and federal programs".

The superintendent pointed out that the Robstown schools do not expect to apply for every program possible, adding: "We believe many of the programs have been developed for communities like Robstown".

Dollarwise, the Robstown school district will probably come out ahead on this arrangement; at least, it stands to reason that an expert who studies the federal aid programs and works at his job will be able to approach the situations with more knowhow and better understanding than the amateurs with whom he may compete. In dollars and cents, you spend $12,000 a year for an expert and drain back $50,000

Fireworks Fade In Changing Era

"Fireworks" is a dynamic word in the English language, often used to express ideas far beyond the realm of pyrotechnics, but we are inclined to predict that it will, in the course of time, cease to be used for such purposes. The reason is fundamental. People simply will not know what the expression means.

While a few fire-crackers were popped here on the Fourth of July, for instance, the shooting of fireworks was absolutely nothing to compare with 10 years ago, or 25 years ago, when it was not safe to walk down the streets on such an occasion, because of the explosions which occured underfoot. Amarillo did sponsor a large and successful fireworks display this year, but we can recall when scores of other communities, including Hereford, did the same a year additional from the governmentand you are definitely ahead.

On the other hand, it appears to us a firm example of the term "creeping socialism". When we have to hire an expert to get back our own money, things have come to a pretty pass-and another heavy cost has been added to the distribution of taxes.

Morally speaking, we would also question the process. Our idea of taxes has always been with a view toward equitable and just distribution, and we believe this is the thinking of most of our federal officials. If we hire an expert, however, our only aim will be that of getting more federal money, and these funds surely must come from the pockets of the more naive school district patrons who still believe in freedom, equality and justice for all.

To say the least, this new approach toward federal money-grabbing, though perhaps shrewd, is a far, far cry from the ideas of Mirabeau Lamar, the father of Texas' public schools, and we doubt if it even crossed the mind of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who instituted and sponsored aid to public schools.

Variety Park Is Mark of Progress

Discussions are general these days as Hereford residents walk up and down Main Street and talk about the innovation of Variety Park. A few are enthusiastic regarding the change, and an even smaller minority plain do not like it but, in general, we would say that it is something most people can "take or leave".

Frequently someone asks us, "Off the record and to go no further, what do you hink of it?" Frankly and honestly, it appears to us as one of the best things to come our way in a long time. It has been 50 years or more since any concerted effort was made to brighten up the "drag" and, like a coat of paint on an old house, the new sidewalks are bound to make things brighter and more pleasant. We still have our parking problem downtown, of course, but the community has set an example which we hope that individual property owners will see fit to follow in the form of some new store fronts, modern fixtures and other general improvements. As a community, we are telling the world that we are alive, energetic, and that our shoppers will find this type of merchant when they enter the individual stores. Traffic conditions, should also show contrasting improvement once the entire project is completed. The talk is a good thing, too; regardless of what people say, the fact that they are talking about the "new look" is definitely worthwhile.

With an American flag waving out the theme of the day in fireworks, Muleshoe's big four-day celebration came to an end Monday night, literally in a blaze of glory. Success crowned the entire event from the hanging of an historical marker Friday afternoon at the old Muleshoe Ranch cookhouse, to the dying sputter of the fireworks spectacular which ended the entire Mule-o-rama late Monday night. Many motorists stopped at Muleshoe entrances for "hospitality" visits. Unveiling of Pete-the-fiber-glass-mule Saturday noon jammed downtown Muleshoe with thousands of visitors who stayed on until the parade was over. —The Muleshoe Journal

The City Council approved the hiring of attorney James Gowdy for the purpose of collecting delinquent property taxes. With more than $33,000 owed to the city in back taxes with some dating back for more than 20 years, it is probable that court action will be taken by the city in cases where the taxes are not paid.

Dan Cupid is falling behind in the game of matrimony in Randall County where divorces outnumbered marriages last year. Judge Gene Jordan's 47th District Court in Randall County last year granted 158 divorces while the county clerk's office issued only 143 marriage licenses. Even the number of divorces actually granted tells only part of the story. Judge Jordan dismissed 75 cases for one reason or another while a total of 259 cases were filed. One divorce petition was denied. The balance presumably still is pending.

Do Denver Citians want public housing for low income groups in their city? A public forum to gain the answer to that question will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall. Opinions expressed in the Tuesday night meeting likely will have much to do with the final decision of the city council. Confronting the city council is a proposal that Denver City embark upon the establishment of lowrent housing units-at no cost to the city.

-The Denver City Sunday Press

In Hereford, along with the majority of communities across the nation, the sale of fireworks is prohibited by law, and this is also true regarding detonation of the various forms of pyrotechnics within most city limits. The laws evolve from danger to human welfare and to personal property, and we are bound to agree that the accident drop in these areas has been phenominal.

In fact, when you sum it all up, the human race is probably far better off without fireworks banging away all over the place, and for this reason the ban has generally been accepted by the population-but not without a struggle, which consistently appears in the form of small stands outside the city limits of every hamlet and village across the country.

At the same time, the transition from fireworks as America once knew them into an orderly well planned exposition perhaps marks a tremendous change in the people of this country. Fireworks became synonmous with the Fourth along with our national Independence; they came to represent a sort of daring rebellion as time passed, and they may have even recorded a tempo of our people. Today, most of us view the change with passive interest, just as we have come to accept political innovations and reforms, mostly because it is easier to go along with the crowd than to resist.

Meanwhile, there seems little question but that the status of fireworks is changing in the United States, and while the word has one meaning to the older generation, it will have an entirely different interpretation to those which are to follow.

Aid and Allies

One of the primary purposes of the foreign-aid program, into which the citizens of the U.S. have poured more than 100 billion hard-earned tax dollars, has been to win friends and strengthen the free-world alliance. How well have we achieved this purpose?

Not very well, if you judge by the stonng of our embassies abroad. But some say that's not a very good indication, that the stone-throwers are a small minority and the people in most lands still love Uncle Sam.

How is it, then, that the governments of so many nations on which we have spent billions are not only refusing to help us in our current war against communism in Southeast Asia, but are actually assisting an enemy who is slaughtering American soldiers in Viet Nam?

The United States and South Viet Nam are at war with North Viet Nam. And where are our allies? Korea supposedly was an allied venture, though the U.S. provided 95 per cent of the troops and paid practically 100 per cent of the bill.

The Citizens Foreign Aid Committee in Washington notes, in a recent dispatch, that " in the last half of 1964 over 200 ships flying the allied flag hauled Red cargoes into North Viet Nam . . . over 40 per cent of the free-world ships going into North Viet Nam fly the British flag . . . Japan, Greece, Norway, Lebanon, Italy, West Germany and Panama also engage in this Red trade . . . The least our friends can do is stop helping the enemy." And the least we can do, even though the money is gone, is to ackowledge that, whatever else it might have accomplished, 100 billion dollars in foreign aid hasn't assured us the "friendship" we had anticipated.

1955 Potato Crop Said To Be 'Best Quality'

10 YEARS AGO

Both the onion and potato deals began to pick up this past week as wheat harvest passed its peak and began to decline. Neither potatoes or onions were anywhere near the peak of harvest, however, and apparently potato growers were still waiting in anticipation of a better market. A Frazer Elevators spokesman said Saturday the wheat harvest would probably be completed some time next week. He said yields had varied greatly in the county, all the way from five to 40 bushels an acre, and blamed greenbugs for greatly damaging this year's small crop. Packers were declaring this year's potato crop to be the "best quality" we have ever had. The onion crop was also said to be "excellent in quality."

THE BOOTLEG -Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses beauty this week, in an odd sort of way.

Dear editor:

I have been reading about a national drive to preserve the natural beauty of this country and I can go along with a good part of it, although first Washington has to understand my definition of natural beauty.

Some people I suppose would consider an electric light pole unnatural, it didn't grow there, but not me. There's nothing more naturally beautiful than a string of poles marching across the countryside toward your house bringing power to an electric water pump to replace a rope and bucket. A rope and bucket may be more romantic looking in a rustic sort of way, but if you want to get completely natural you'd eliminate all hydrants and have everybody cup his hands and drink out of a spring, preferably barefooted.

One of the major goals I understand in the beauty drive is to eliminate automobile junk yards along the highways, or at least screen them from view, and I'd like Washington to know I'm ahead on this. I left a cultivator at the turn-row near a public road 18 years ago when I went to the house to get a drink of water and have now successfully screened it with weeds I estimate to be about 8 feet tall. Furthermore I have not contributed to the junkyard eyesore personally as I am still driving my car. Also, haven't put up any billboards or rickety hotdog stands, and I don't print newspapers to be thrown out of cars to litter up the highways. You might say I'm in almost total compliance.

However, there is one plank in the beauty program that seems to me outrageous. One of the members of the planning group got a little over-enthusiastic and wanted to eliminate sagging fences along the highways. "There's nothing more unattractive," he said, "than sagging wires along a highway winding through the rolling country-

Well, I'll tell you. Tight wires and tight bankers have their usefulness, but not in the beauty department. The prime purpose of a fence or a banker is not to look at.

I'll tighten the wires on my fences only when my cows get out, or actually when they get out so often my neighbors announce what's going to happen if I don't do something about it, today, not tomorrow. That's the way to get a fence tightened, not through Washington.

You let some official tell you how tight your fence has to be, and his next move will be to tell you what kind and color of cows you can graze behind it. Cows, like Congressmen, are not to be gazed at esthetically. They're to be milked as long as they produce, then turned over to the packers.
