

An Awesome Panorama Of Tuesday's Tornado-Producing Storm

This is how the gigantic thunderstorm which spawned funnels in the Amarillo area — after dumping hail and rain in Deaf Smith County — looked at 7 p.m. Thursday from a point 1 1/2 miles northwest of Hereford. The photo above covers 90 degrees of the horizon. In the foreground, Arvis Southward, 13, stands directly east of the camera. Hereford Brand Photographer Wain Miller panned the horizon with a tripod-mounted camera, using six separate exposures, to obtain this spectacular panorama of the threatening sky. At far left, the row of utility poles marks a road extending due north. According to a weather bureau broadcast, the cloud shown above contained a funnel cloud which was on the ground a mile north of Amarillo at the time the photo was taken. Earlier, this same storm traversed Deaf Smith County, dumping golf ball-sized hail and up to an inch of rain in a 35-minute period. See story in cols. 1-5 below.

HERE FOR TWO-WEEK VISIT

Jordanian Scouts Farms

A Jordanian agricultural specialist is in Hereford for a two-week study of area vegetable production and the workings of the county's agricultural extension office.

Kamel Odel Haddadin — a horticulturist with Jordan's counterpart of the Texas farm extension service — visits Hereford as a part of his 11-month tour of Texas farming centers.

The soft-spoken farm expert, who incidentally has the good fortune of having a nephew at the reigns of Jordan's department of agriculture, arrived here Monday.

HADDADIN SAYS he hopes to gain first-hand knowledge of vegetable production and how farmers utilize irrigation here.

As a district agent for Jordan's national agricultural extension service, he is also taking careful note of how the Texas Extension Service works with local farmers.

His host for the two-week visit is Juston McBride, Deaf Smith County agricultural extension agent.

Agriculture in his native country has many obstacles, Haddadin explained in heavily accented but fluent English. Only about one-eighth of the land is under cultivation, although there are

Hereford Gets Only A Trace

By WAIN MILLER

A rapid-moving thunderstorm took a damaging swing through Deaf Smith County Tuesday, dumping golf-ball sized hail that destroyed young crops and flooded fields in some areas.

The afternoon storm — which apparently matured southwest of Hereford — left a path of hail damage from Westway, through the Ford community, to Wildorado.

Several funnels and some scattered tornado damage were reported as the storm approached Amarillo and moved on to the northeast.

Hereford received a trace of moisture from a wind-blown shower about 5:30 p.m.

THE STORM, WHICH raked the Westway area about 3:30 p.m., dumped up to an inch of rain in a 30-minute period in spots, and cut a three-to-five-mile-wide swath with marble-sized hail.

Hail the size of golfballs riveted an area northwest of Hereford, where the storm concentrated its Deaf Smith County blows.

Sugar beets and potatoes were "cut to pieces" by hail in an area apparently centered by the Frank Barrett and Marvis Southward farms, 12 miles northwest of Hereford.

WHEAT SUFFERED moderate damage in a three-to-five-mile-wide swath extending from a few miles south of Westway to Wildorado.

However, heavy damage appeared to be spotty, according to reports Wednesday morning.

"It came out of the blue," commented an employee at Westway Fertilizer.

"One minute it was clear and a few minutes later it was hailing and raining so hard you could hardly see for a few minutes, then it was over as quick as it came."

THE STORM LEFT the ground blanketed with small hailstones at Westway.

The storm followed a path of FM 1012 northward for six or eight miles before beginning to bear eastward towards Amarillo.

At the Walter Kuper farm, hail and rain lasted for about 35 minutes. More than 9 of an inch of moisture was gauged there.

Two hours after, when a Brand photographer arrived, hail chunks the size of 50-cent pieces were still evident.

OVER '64 TOTAL Slight Increase Shown By Bank Deposits Here

Despite dents from heavy income tax payments by depositors and earlier than usual farm activity, Hereford's two banks put together an aggregate increase in deposits over a year ago, state and federal bank calls showed last week.

The increase was small, however — a mere $16,963.97 at the close of business on April 26. The deposit figure was $23,375,229.12, topping the 1964 call figure on April 15 of $23,358,245.15.

Deposits were down, however, from the traditional high year-end peak shown at the close of business Dec. 31. The $24,530,966.43 in deposits on hand then had dwindled by $1,155,757.31.

Loan-discount tallies showed nearly a million dollar gain over the comparative figures for 1964, reaching a $15,963,331.27 total for

BUT FAA MUST APPROVE

Gun Range For Airport Cleared By Commission

Members of the Hereford Gun Club have convinced the city to let them locate a trap shooting range on the municipal airport — but they have yet to convince the Federal Aviation Agency.

An agreement was reached Monday night at the city commission meeting to extend the gun club a five-year lease on a plot on the west edge of the airport property. Annual rental would be $25, and it would have a 90-day cancellation clause.

The site's 300-foot safety range however, brushes up against a SE-NW dirt runway — a factor which led the commission to label the agreement subject to FAA approval.

TUESDAY MORNING, City Manager Dudley Bayne contacted the FAA regional office in Fort Worth, as directed by the commission, and said their reaction was less than enthusiastic.

The gun range layout was forwarded to them for study.

The city has turned down several requests in recent years to use the airport fringes for a variety of activities, from go-kart racing to cattle feeding.

In the 3 1/4-hour session, the commission also made these decisions:

● A 39-year-old Clarendon man will be hired next fall as a city management trainee in cooperation with West Texas State University's government department. His salary will be $250 monthly, and he will be under the direct supervision of City Manager Bayne.

● The city will not sign a statement, required by state welfare officials, admitting that it considers the King's Manor rest home and Westgate Nursing home — both operated here by the Methodist Church — tax exempt institutions.

● A Hereford area dairyman, seeking to sell raw milk in the city and objecting to regulations laid down by the city health inspector, was told to meet state requirements for production and sale of raw milk and report back to the city manager.

The college trainee is Gayle Pyeatt, a former telephone company employe and repair shop operator at Hedley and Clarendon.

He will report in September. Bayne said he had interviewed Pyeatt and was satisfied that the city could more than justify the salary expenditure with the amount and type of work that Pyeatt can perform.

SOUTH HEREFORD

Thaw Sighted On Annexation Jam

By DUDLEY LYNCH

Approaching the issue in a roundabout way, city commissioners Monday night suggested that a South Hereford developer prepare petitions seeking immediate entry of the Nob Hill addition into the city.

"I think the commission would go along with your annexation," Mayor Ray Cowser told A. N. Hopson.

This casual development, hit upon as the commission sought to resolve a conflict with Hopson over out-of-the-city water taps, could conceivably be the first breakthrough in the South Hereford annexation stalemate.

THE NOB HILL addition, located just east of U. S. Hwy. 385 and south of Country Club Drive, is an expanding cluster of homes in the $15,000 to $25,000 price range.

South Hereford (roughly a half-mile-wide crescent adjacent to the city south of Tierra Blanca Creek) is a variegated, loosely-populated neighborhood with housing ranging from low-rent structures to middle class residential development.

Opinion on annexation has been badly splintered.

(A Hereford Brand reporter talked with about 50 South Hereford residents last December, following a public meeting where

WTCC Re-Elects Hereford Banker

Henry Sears, president of the First National Bank, was re-elected vice president in charge of program development Saturday at the yearly convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene.

The Hereford banker has been a director of the organization for five years, an area vice president for two years and is now serving his second one-year term as a full-fledged vice president.

THE OTHER VICE president, in charge of membership and finance, is former Texas Atty. Gen. John B. Sheppard of Odessa.

Sears was one of three Hereford men attending the chamber convention. The others were Wayne Thomas, attorney and president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber, and Bill Thompson, manager of the chamber.

A FORMER MANAGER of the Hereford chamber, Tom McFarland — who is now manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, Lubbock — was on the program. He spoke on West Texas water resources.

Sears of 145 N. Texas has been a resident of Hereford for 27 years. He was in the grain business until 1960.

City Council OK's Hiring Of Management Trainee

THE MAN'S WIFE will teach in a Hereford elementary school next year.
In bringing up the "tax exemption" status for the Methodist homes here, Bayne noted that the school district and county tax assessor-collectors already have signed the statements in question.
As read by Bayne, they put the city on record as saying that the commission considers the homes tax-exempt and that the city collects no taxes from them.

City Atty. Earnest Langley—who volunteered that he advised the Rev. Don Davidson of Kings Manor in preparation of the statements—said they were needed to secure state welfare assistance for some of the home's occupants.
Langley concurred, however, that technically the homes may not be tax exempt because the question has never been litigated. But he added that none of the taxing agencies have ever levied assessment against them.
Mayor Cowsert instructed Bayne to have Henry Benson, city tax assessor-collector, sign a statement which says only that the city does not collect taxes from the homes.

The dairyman, S. F. Davis, brought his dispute with Wilson Mouser, city health inspector, before the commission. The commissioners later decided Davis has no issue with the city commission—but not before City Atty. Langley and City Manager Bayne searched unsuccessfully for a non-existent updated ordinance governing the sale of milk.

DAVIS SAID THE city health inspector had given him a list of alleged regulations from the city milk ordinance. He found two objectionable. One required, he thought, that glass jugs must have the producer's name and other data "painted" on them, and the other prohibited the use of polyethylene tubing in the bottling process.
These would be unduly burdensome, he felt.

Bayne went searching for the city milk ordinance and later returned with a 1929 action, the latest he could find.
Neither of the two restrictions mentioned by Davis were found in the 1929 ordinance.

LANGLEY SAID HE thought he updated the old ordinance "six or seven years ago," and he and Bayne went off to check the ordinances again. They returned empty-handed. The city attorney said he must have gotten meat and milk ordinances mixed up. (The next day he found that he had drawn up a new milk ordinance several years ago, but it was not adopted by the city commission.)
Bayne noted that Davis had not complied with a long list of regulations stipulated by the state health department and said these, his troubles with the city health inspector would be "taken care of" by the city manager.

on the status of possible installation of traffic signals on Park Ave.
Signals at Ave. K have been approved, the letter said, but a stop light at Ave. B is still pending. Bayne said the state has voiced displeasure at a change in operating hours that the city has put into effect with the traffic signal at Ave. F.
Bayne said the highway department, which ostensibly has control over Park Ave. signals because the street is an official spur around downtown Hereford, wants the Ave. F signal operated only eight hours a day during school days.
The irregular hours created a hazard for unwary drivers, Bayne said, and nearly caused several serious mishaps.

THE STATE department also wants traffic signals at 25-Mile Ave., Ave. B and Ave. F—if signals are ever installed at all three points—coordinated by a central timing device.
Bayne says this irregular traffic entry pattern on that stretch makes such a design ridiculous.
He told the commission that the state's dissatisfaction with the operation of the Ave. F light may hold up approval of any further signals on Park Ave in the near future.

OTHER ACTIONS by the commission included:
— The annexation of a 21-acre plot in the Green Acres addition west of Liveoak St.
— Acceptance of the Zoning Commission's recommendation that property of Vernon Williams on Ave. F adjacent to the city water tower be changed from a B-residential zone to a D-1 trailer park zone.
— Authorization for Bayne to advertise for bids on a chain-link fence to surround the city incinerator.
— Tabling of two plots submitted for city approval, one by Charlie Seeds who proposes a half-mile-long "Hereford Industrial Park" east of Hereford and an adjoining La Villa addition plot.
— Discussion of the possibility of participation in a federal program giving teen-aged boys who can't find summer employment jobs with the city.
— Designation of the next regular meeting on May 17 as a public hearing on the proposed involuntary annexation of about 90 acres along the city's northern boundary.

SPACE LIMITED IN JORDAN

Visitor Impressed By Substantial Amount Of Land Being Cultivated

PRIOR TO COMING to the U. S., he worked as a horticultural specialist at one of the country's eight district farm extension offices.

A farmer himself, Haddadin runs a 500-acre spread devoted mostly to wheat and barley production in dry years and tomatoes in the wet ones. He also has sizable orchards for olives, peaches and apricots.

"When I return, I'll be in pretty good shape for a job," Haddadin laughed. He explained that his nephew became minister of agriculture in a government change two months ago.

He thinks he will go to the national capital, Amman, to work in the country's head extension office, through which the nation's agriculture is steered.

"BUT IN MY country, there is not so much of the government control of the farmers," Haddadin said.

Only one crop, tobacco, has acreage allotment controls.

"Sometimes when the market is bad the government buys the crops from the farmers," Haddadin continued. "But only when they cannot sell it another way."
Last year was such a year, Haddadin said. "We grew a lot of wheat and the price was down, so the government bought it—the government has stores where farmers can sell it at a price which changes with the grade of the wheat like it is here (in the U. S.)."

HE EXPLAINED that although much of the country can be irrigated by canals from the Jordan River and others, irrigation fluctuates with the amount of rainfall.

On an average, the country receives some 25 inches of rainfall annually, Haddadin said.

Wheat—the main crop—is imported when the rains do not come. "But when there is rain, we usually have enough for our country."

Only in the valleys of the Dead Sea, the Jordan River, and a few others is there much diversification in farming, Haddadin said.

Tomatoes rank as one of the country's leading exports. Watermelons are also high on the list, which also includes fertilizers and some petroleum products.

The First Baptist Church will present its youngsters, ages 3 and below, to the congregation Sunday morning in a "Baby Parade."

Parents (both, if possible) will be asked to carry their child across the platform. Sunday school will be dismissed early so parents may go to the nursery, get their child and return to the auditorium by 10:50 a.m. Pictures will be taken for a bulletin board display.

Twisters Sighted In Amarillo Area

MARVIS SOUTHWARD said his beets appeared to be ruined. "It's probably too late to plant them over," he said.

At Pitman Grain Co., 15 miles north of Hereford, only 1 of an inch was registered.

Two miles further north, at the Ralph Hastings farm, some 5 inch of rain fell, accompanied by marble-sized hail.

About an inch of rain was reported at the Ford Community, where marble-sized hail covered the ground about 5:30 p.m.

THE STORM CONTINUED on through Wildorado, dropping more than half an inch of rain and small hail.

Meanwhile, sprinkles fell in most portions of the county, but measurable amounts were scarce other than in the Westway to Wildorado swing.

As the storm approached the Amarillo area, the Amarillo weather Bureau issued tornado warnings.

Texas Department of Public Safety patrolmen observed a funnel on the ground a mile north of Amarillo to set off the alert about 7 p.m.

Hen-g egg sized hail belted Bushland earlier and safety officials were alerted to watch the cloud closely.

There were scattered reports of funnel sightings and slight tornado damage in the Amarillo region for the next hour as the storm moved threateningly on to the northeast.

Construction Sequence Of Variety Park Remodeling Project Detailed

City Manager Dudley Bayne has answered several complaints of Variety Park, the downtown remodeling project.

The difficulty arose early last week when inclement weather forced a two-day shutdown in the 100 block, he says.

A sub-contractor who is to pour the curb and gutter for Bledsoe & Caldwell, Amarillo contractors handling the $90,000-plus job, was forced by the delay to move his crews to another job.

BAYNE SAID FROM now on the procedure on the job will have crews tearing out old sidewalks and concrete work on one side of the street only when replacement crews are ready.

The tearing out will consume one day, and the city engineers will move in immediately and shoot grades. Curb and gutter crews will start the second or third day, pouring the gutter work, the foundations for the canopies and bases for street and traffic light standards.

Electrical crews will follow, installing conduits for the street lighting, beautification circuit and traffic light circuits. This will put the schedule into either the third or fourth day.

SIDEWALK CREWS will report after electrical work is completed, and will pour every other section one day and the remaining sections the next day.

The whole sidewalk job, except for polishing and minor touching-up, should be accomplished in a week of working days, Bayne says.

Crews will advance up Main St., taking the blocks in order. Storm sewers are in place, but inlet boxes were still being worked on early this week. Curb and gutter work started in the 100 block Wednesday.

Bayne also explained why jack hammers, and not saws, are being used to take out the old con-

Double-Office Holder Quits County School Board Seat

County officials revealed Wednesday afternoon that a Deaf Smith County man was elected to two school board positions in April 3rd voting. He resigned one of them—the county school board seat—Tuesday.

J. V. Perrin, who sought and received re-election to the county school board from precinct 4, also was named to the Walcott Common School District board in a write-in campaign, County Judge H. C. Williams said.
(A misunderstanding of vote tally methods at Walcott between a Brand reporter and County Clerk B. F. Cain the night of the election led to the listing of Floyd Brown, the incumbent, as the winner with 11 votes.)

THE RESULTS were canvassed the following Wednesday by county commissioners. Judge Williams said news media were not notified of either the special meeting where the votes were canvassed nor of the canvass results.

Williams said the Walcott results gave 18 write-in votes to Perrin, who had previously served six years on the board, and 11 to incumbent Brown.

An attorney general's opinion was sought as to the legality of Perrin's holding the two offices concurrently.

THE OPINION noted that there might be a conflict of interest in the event that the Walcott school district attempted a bond issue to finance new construction. Perrin was advised to choose one of the posts, be sworn in the other and resign. He would then be sworn in the position he chose to retain.
This was what was done Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the county school board, a session which County Clerk Cain, who is supposed to record the actions taken, was unaware had occurred until told Wednesday afternoon.

Frona Officer Is New Deputy

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Lowell R. Sharp has announced the appointment of a 24-year-old Frona man as deputy sheriff here.
Gary Darragh, a city policeman at Frona for the past year, joined the sheriff's staff here Saturday.

THE NEW DEPUTY resides at 238 Ave. I, along with his wife Margo and two children.

Darragh, a native of Oklahoma City, comes from a family of law enforcement officers. His father was a member of the Oklahoma City police force for 17 years, and he has a brother who has been with that department for more than two years.

DARRAGH completed a three and a half year stint in the Air Force prior to joining the Frona Police Department.

Sheriff Sharp said Darragh's appointment was made possible by the county commission's recent granting of approval for an additional deputy.

Miss Shera Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Harris of 516 Avenue J, was honored for her 18th birthday with a dinner party Monday at Calson's Western Wheel Inn given by Debbie Beene.

day afternoon at a meeting of the county school board, a session which County Clerk Cain, who is supposed to record the actions taken, was unaware had occurred until told Wednesday afternoon.

Perrin took the oath of office with two others—Melvin May of precinct 1 and J. C. Morrison of precinct 2—for the county board and then offered his resignation.

JUDGE WILLIAMS then swore him in as a Walcott trustee.
Perrin's post on the county board will probably be filled by appointment at the board's next meeting in early June.

In Tuesday's meeting, D. D. (Don) Zimmerman, member-at-large, was named president, and Morrison was elected secretary. The county board meets only at called times, usually no more than once a month.

Brothers Get Jail Terms For Thefts

Two Hereford brothers were given jail terms in connection with the theft of hubcaps here last week.

Sentenced to 20 days in county jail and ordered to pay court costs was Angelino Ybarra, 21, of 222 Catalpa. A brother, Lucadio Ybarra, 18, of the same address, was sentenced by County Judge H. C. Williams to 10 days and ordered to pay court costs.

Annexation Views Have Been Split

the pros and cons of annexation were spelled out, and found sentiment evenly divided.)

THE SHEPHERDING of the Nob Hill addition into the municipal fold would be a propitious starting point in bringing in much of the area, a city spokesman said privately.

Hopson appeared to protest a city ordinance, passed last year, which prevents him from adding a new residence to a water line which he paid for as part of the Nob Hill development.
He asked permission to extend the four-inch line to the house.

The ordinance prohibits any further taps of city-supplied water lines out of the city limits.

THE ORDINANCE was passed, it was explained to Hopson, because the availability of city water to non-city-tax-paying residents encouraged development over which the city had no zoning control and discouraged voluntary annexation.
"He's got a point," Mayor Cowsert said, however. "We gave him a contract and he went out there and built and then we passed an ordinance that says he can't use his line. And we weren't aiming at him."

Cowsert voiced reluctance to relax the ordinance's restrictions, though. "The simplest way to solve this whole thing would be to bring the whole thing into the city," the mayor remarked offhandedly.

HOPSON AGREED, but the discussion moved into other areas.

Later, Commissioner Lloyd Sharp asked Hopson how long it would be before he must have water to the new residence and he answered 40 to 50 days.

"The petitions could be drawn up and the area annexed by then," Sharp replied.
Mayor Cowsert suggested that Hopson get his petitions signed "as quick as you can" and forwarded to the commission. Hopson said petitions already were being prepared. Only one property owner in the Nob Hill area is adamantly opposed to annexation, he said.

Loan Tallies Up, Requests Earlier the banks. This was an increase—to be specific—of $968,610.83.

The early undertakings by farmers was cited by Russel L. Carver, president of the Hereford State Bank, for a decrease in deposits from the April, 1964, figures.

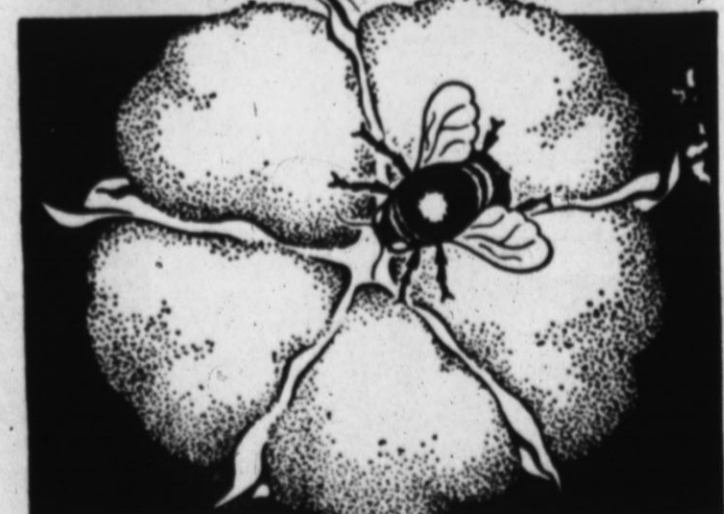

Carver said the mild winter facilitated "earlier than normal" activity by farmers, who began full-scale loan processing about a month before the peak is usually expected.

Deposits at the First National Bank, as of April 26, were $16,103,675.34, compared with the April 15, 1964, report of $15,673,664.43. Hereford State reported deposits of $7,271,553.78 last week, somewhat below the $7,684,580.72 deposited in 1964.

Both banks' deposit totals were below the Dec. 31 figures of (for the First National Bank) $16,920,994.59 and (for Hereford State Bank) $7,609,991.84.

Loan-discount tallies last week were reported by the First National as $11,317,092.28 and by the Hereford State Bank as $4,646,238.99.

Choir, Band Earn Honors At Corpus Christi

Hereford High School's A Capella Choir and Concert Band earned top ratings at the Buccaneer Music Festival last week in Corpus Christi in competition with top-notch choirs and bands from throughout the state.

The A Capella Choir, under direction of Richard Jackson, earned first division ratings—the highest given—in both concert and sight reading at the contest held at Del Mar Junior College.

THUS, THE choir became the fourth class AAA mixed choir in history to earn the top honor in both concert and sight-reading at the Corpus Christi contest. Meanwhile, the Hereford High School Band garnered a first division rating for its concert performance and a three in sight-reading.

The band is directed by Ben Gollehon.

Only four class AAA mixed choirs have earned first divisions in both concert and sight-reading performances in the four-year history of the highly-rated contest.

Some 40 choirs competed at the festival in four divisions. Hereford was one of four choirs in all divisions to achieve the honor.

ONLY CHOIRS and bands who earned Sweepstakes awards at University Interscholastic League events are invited to compete at the Corpus Christi contest—which is considered a "super" contest for top-rated groups.

The choir and band traveled to Corpus on chartered buses, stopping at San Antonio to give a concert at Trinity University.

Other activities on the four-day trip included sight-seeing and swimming at Padre Island, near Corpus.

Hereford teenager Robert Mancillas earned the right to compete in a state-wide safe-driving contest by winning the Hereford Jaycees' Teenage Road-E-O here Saturday.

THE YOUTH topped competition at the local level to garner a crack at state and national honors in the event sponsored by the Jaycees and the Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co. Second place went to Rodney Goheen. Third was Terry Johnson.

Hereford and Patrolmen Cecil McNeil and Dick Birchfield of the Safety Education Office, Amarillo.

Autos for the event were furnished by Stephens-Hudson Motor Co.

Contestants competed for high scores in a driving rules knowledge test and in a driving skills test.

Mancillas will compete later this month in Fort Worth for the state title. Winner of the Texas contest will enter national competition, where a new convertible and a scholarship are offered as prizes.

Herd Drops District Opener To Dumas Demons Tuesday

The wind and the rain were the least of the problems facing the Hereford Whitefaces Thursday at Dumas.

The wind blew hard and the rain fell some but Hereford's biggest woes came in the form of troublesome Demon hitters and a sophomore hurler who became remorsefully known to Whiteface fans as "Dead Eye."

Hereford lost the district opener 11-3 in wind-whipped Demon field.

But the Whiteface aggression has the opportunity to even things up here Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. when the Demons come to town for the second round of a scheduled eight-game conference race.

Dumas and Hereford are the only contenders for the District I-AAA baseball crown.

Coach Jerry Hale's Demons put together 12 hits — including a two-run homer — between wind gusts and raindrops to win.

HEREFORD MANAGED only three hits off Dumas' Wayne Harkrider — a sophomore right-hander with an uncanny knack for catching the outside corner of the plate.

But one of the Herd's hits was a homer... that from the bat of Whiteface second-sacker Gary Victor.

Victor, who had his best day for the Whitefaces this year, made a running stab to come up with a hot grounder to the right of the pitcher in the sixth inning to curtail Demon efforts in their last-time-at-bat.

Hereford scored its first pair of runs in the third inning.

DANNY LOERWALD, who led off, got on with a bunt-down the first base line which caught infielders off guard. Ranspot drew a walk, then — with one away — Larry Minks boomed a double to deep right field, driving in Loerwald and Ranspot.

Scorers credited the right fielder with an error after he momentarily bobbled the ball, allowing Ranspot to score.

The Hereford school board accepted the resignation of Hugh Sullivan, Stanton Junior High School athletic director for the past three years, at a Tuesday noon meeting.

Sullivan has accepted the position of head coach and athletic director at Early High School in Brownwood.

HE CAME TO Hereford in 1963 as head freshman coach and athletic director at Stanton Junior High School. Sullivan said he will remain here until July.

Early High, a class A school, is one of two high schools in Brownwood, Sullivan said. He will take over the reigns of a football team which managed only one win last year.

At Stanton, Sullivan coaches football, basketball, and track.

Five Persons Arrested On Driving While Intoxicated Charges Here

Four persons were sentenced on driving while intoxicated charges here during the week-end by city police and Texas Highway Patrolmen. A fifth was charged but posted bond.

Two other persons were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors on liquor law violations.

Charged with DWI, second offense, was a 33-year-old Hereford man. He was arrested Sunday by city police and later released after posting $1,000 bond.

LUZ L. MORENO, 51, of Hereford, was sentenced by County Judge H. C. (Hank) Williams to three days in jail and fined $100 and costs on a DWI (first offense) charge by city police. Moreno's auto struck a utility pole in a minor accident Sunday, officers said.

Benito Ybarra, 39, of Walsh, Colo., was sentenced by Judge Williams to 30 days in jail and fined $100 and costs after city police charged him with DWI following an accident here Sunday night.

SENTENCED TO three days in jail and ordered to pay a $150 fine and court costs was George Anthony Coffey, 22, of Amarillo. He was arrested Saturday by Highway Patrolmen.

Harold Ray Sutton, 27, who listed his address as the Jim Hill Hotel, was also sentenced to three days in jail and fined $150. He was arrested early Sunday morning by Highway Patrolmen.

Released on $1,000 bond after being charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor was Fermin Avilla, 43, of Rt. 4, Hereford. He was arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $100 on a contributing charge was Raymond Michael Clark, 40, of Jack's Trailer Court, Hereford.

'HAVE BULLET'S IMPACT' Labor-Saving Power Mowers Also Leave Human Carnage Each Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Power mowers pose some safety hazards, says the Texas State Department of Health in this discussion of summer accidents.)

Almost anyone with a lawn to mow will admit that "man's best friend" in the summer time is a power lawn mower.

Although power mowers are tops among labor saving devices, they pose some potential hazards. They can save you time, money and back-breaking efforts, but they can also kill and maim.

IN A RECENT year, some 70,000 accidents involving power mowers were recorded. Lost in the carnage each year are approximately 50,000 toes and 18,000 fingers, not to say anything about other injuries and the loss of life itself.

Perhaps we need to have power handling courses just as we have gun handling courses to promote safety.

A rotary blade on a mower — whirling at some 4,000 revolutions a minute — can hurl a hard object such as a stone or nail much like a bullet. These missiles can have the impact of a 22-calibre bullet, with enough force to kill anyone in its path.

SAFETY WITH a power mower — as in any event — lies with the individual. An understanding of the mower and a respect for its potential could save you a limb, or even a life.

Before you mow next time, make sure your mower is in good shape with all safety devices secured and all nuts and bolts properly tightened — especially the one holding the blade.

Check the fuel before starting the motor. And never add gasoline while the engine is running.

Clear your yard of all children and pets before you begin. If your neighbors are in a nearby yard, wait until they leave before you mow. You wouldn't schedule a shooting match with people standing about at random.

PROTECT YOURSELF with proper clothing when you mow. Wear long trousers, shoes and work gloves.

Watch where you go, particularly for slopes and any objects ahead. And when you leave the mower, stop the motor.

Just like on the farm, the three shared a hospital telephone line.

Points, picas, agate lines, and ABC

Along about 1886, publishers joined with representatives of allied trades in voluntarily adopting common standards of printer's measurements. This is called the "point system." Today, point, pica, and agate line are rigidly defined units of measure universally understood and used in our industry.

In 1914, publishers joined with representatives of advertisers and advertising agencies, and once again voluntarily adopted a common set of standards — this time, to measure circulation values. Further, publishers cooperated in setting up an organization to maintain these standards, and to use them in measuring and reporting the circulations of publications.

In helping to set up this organization, publishers willingly gave advertisers and advertising agencies majority voice in its operation, its standards, and its application of these standards in measuring circulations.

This year the Audit Bureau of Circulations marks its fiftieth year of providing the basic measures of circulation values. Along with more than 4,000 other members, we pause with pride to salute the accomplishments of this outstanding example of self-regulation in industry.

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we, along with other ABC publisher members, voluntarily and regularly give you, the buyers of advertising, more verified factual information about ourselves than is available for any other media at any time.

The distribution of your sales messages in this newspaper is a measured fact, verified by independent audit. Measured facts also provide the basis for our advertising rates.

Whether you use inches or points, ABC is your yardstick for measuring circulation values.

B52 Crews Study Radar Target Scenes Intensely

EL PASO — Deep in the windowless interior of a B52 bomber, the radar-navigator watches a pencil-line of light scan his radarscope in a constant circle.

In each quick sweep, the silver of light reveals what would appear to be a large blot in various intensities of yellow.

To the radar-navigator, it is a crystal clear picture of an area of land, thousands of feet below. Somewhere in that blot lies the target he must hit. In peacetime he hits it with a radio signal. In war he would hit it with whatever weapon his war order specified.

HE KNOWS WHAT might some day be his wartime target as well as he knows his own back yard.

A small group of men assigned to the target prediction and interpretation section of the Intelligence of the Strategic Air Command wings make sure that fliers are intimately acquainted with the sites of any possible targets.

This instructions done through a methodical system of fact finding, analysis, and finally painstaking preparation of images of what the target would look like on an aircraft's radar equipment.

THE MATERIALS for these target simulators are a special paper, sandpaper, cinder blocks and a handful of pencils of differing grades.

Target men at Biggs Air Force Base here can be seen poring over aerial charts varying in size with the ground they represent. For each target they must transfer every characteristic along with the navigational route from about 60 miles out to the bomb drop point into radar-like images.

Depending on the characteristics of the land, they will prepare anywhere from three to 18 drawings, each varying slightly.

"The same characteristic will look different on a radarscope as the aircraft proceeds. For example, the shadow cast on the scope by a mountain will either shorten or lengthen, show up with greater or lesser intensity, block out or suddenly reveal other topographical features on the radar image as the aircraft changes position above it. Therefore, new pictures must be made at certain distances along the route."

RAILROAD TRACKS, for example, will not show on radar if they are parallel to the route. If the air craft changes course, these tracks may appear quite clearly. Such things must be taken into consideration.

Ground clutter, which constitutes the great mass of a radar picture, is drawn by lightly rubbing a pencil point in a distinct pattern across special paper placed on top of sandpaper. Or if less detail is needed, the paper is placed on a cinder block.

THEN THE fine points are added by hand as the men turn each map image of a ground feature into a radar replica. The men must recognize which features on the map will show up at all.

On practice runs on United States cities and towns, effectiveness of the radar training can be determined.

The wing commander at Biggs periodically puts his crews through grueling examinations covering every phase of every possible mission they may be called on to fly. Crew members must literally paint an oral picture of every anticipated action.

ADVICE PAYS OFF

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —

When Dewey Young went to work for the railroad, other employees jokingly told him, "Be good to your water boy, he might be your boss some day." Young retired recently after 42 years with the line, then got bored and applied for a job with the security police here.

He was accepted and went to work for Col. M. L. Gentry, a member of a railroad crew that Young once bossed.

Many Items Set To Be Auctioned At Jaycees Event

Everything from television sets to the kitchen sink will be offered by the Hereford Jaycees at a community auction here Saturday.

Well, almost everything. And there may not be a kitchen sink, but there is a bathtub slated to go on the auction block.

It will probably go on sale somewhere between the boat and motor and the pickup and camper.

Or maybe the auctioneer will offer it after the cotton stripper or the electric range or just before the 35 cases of groceries go on sale.

At any rate, there's about five or six truckloads of goods set to be auctioned. The sale will get underway at 1 p.m. Saturday on the parking lot of the Hereford State Bank.

Literally hundreds of items for person, house, farm and garden, and recreation will be offered, according to the Jaycees.

Auctioneer will be John Powers.

Proceeds from the auction will go to help finance the Jaycees' community projects — such as the recent safe-driving contest.

Jaycees are still seeking more items for the auction. Goods may be donated to the Jaycees or sold at auction on a commission basis.

Persons wishing to place goods in the auction may contact Larry Kaul at EM 4-3896 or Benny Cooper at EM 4-3426.

Freda Beauchamp, Amy Gililand Presented 'Girl of the Year' Awards During Banquet

The Hereford Chapters of the Beta Sigma Phi celebrated their 34th anniversary of the organization's founding Friday evening.

The banquet in which the two local chapters joined for the occasion was held in the Hereford Country Club.

According to Mrs. John Gililand, president of the City Council, the first chapter of the sorority was formed in Abilene, Kansas, 34 years ago. There are now 7,500 chapters and 175,000 members in fourteen countries.

In addition to the banquet, traditional ceremonies were observed. The year's activities of the local chapters were reviewed and each chapter named their "Girl of the Year."

XI Epsilon Alpha girl of the year was Freda Beauchamp and Amy Gililand took the honors for the Kappa Iota Chapter.

Hereford City Council of Beta Sigma Phi served as chairman of the Founder's Day Banquet and the toastmistress for the evening was Amy Gililand, president of the City Council.

Other members who had a part in the program included Freda Beauchamp, president of the XI Epsilon Alpha; Linda Fitzgerald, president of the Kappa Iota Chapter; Olene Williams, making the presentation of awards; Linda Kids and Mary Jean Gore. Linda Kids was selected for the honor of presenting a special message from the sorority's founder. She received the message from the International Headquarters in Kansas City. This was one of the central events of the evening.

By MELVIN YOUNG

It may be pretty dry up here, but elsewhere in Texas, the rains have come and crops are looking great.

We have just returned from a fast trip to Ft. Worth, made for the sole purpose of accepting an award at the Ft. Worth Press sponsored Soil and Water Conservation Awards banquet. The 20th such affair to be held in as many years.

Traveling alone, we had plenty of time to observe the country side. And believe me, it looks a little odd to find water standing in the ditches. Rain water that is.

Rains have apparently been abundant below the caprock. The wheat is as lush as we've ever seen it and the grass is green and plentiful.

Quite a contrast to our own dry land areas.

By the way, we stopped at Olney, Texas on the way down and visited briefly with Bill Penn, former advertising man for the Brand, and now co-owner of the Olney Enterprise.

The Penns are quite enthusiastic about Olney and the Enterprise. They think Olney is a great place to live, with more than 4,000 fine people... and of course, a few old sore-heads.

Bill, his brother David and Lee Brown, former Brand Mechanical Superintendent purchased the Olney Enterprise back in January and took over the operation February 1.

Also attending the Ft. Worth Press meeting from Deaf Smith County was Eldred Brown, Supervisor for the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District, headquartered in Hereford. Brown, who farms in the Walcott community, was accompanied by his wife, the children and his mother, Mrs. N. A. Brown.

The state conservation meeting was attended by more than 300 people from every section of Texas. And, we might add, from every walk of life. It seems that interest in Soil and Water Conservation is not confined to the farmer, but to many, many other folks as well.

Cecil White, vice-chancellor of Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth, also a guest at the awards banquet, was telling us about the "ranch training program" inaugurated a few years ago by the University in which students spend several months actually working on a ranch before leaving school. It sounds like a pretty good deal to us.

White was quite enthusiastic over results of the program. The young men finishing a course in ranch management have a little practical experience when completing the course, therefore giving them an edge over students trained solely in the classroom.

More and more, the colleges today are recognizing the need for practical experience along with the classroom studies.

Deaf Smith Co. Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson has just returned from a trip to the West Texas C of C meeting held at Abilene.

And talk about luck. That guy is about the luckiest one human we know.

Last year while attending a chamber Manager's conference in Amarillo, Bill won an all expense paid trip to El Paso. He took quite a drubbing from fellow chamber managers then, due to the fact that he was serving as president of the organization which sponsored the trip.

This year, he won two out of three prizes given away at the afternoon session. A watch and an electric carving set.

And Bill swears the whole deal was on the level. No gimmicks. Just plain luck.

But it does leave room for a little speculation.

The Variety Park project for Hereford has brought on a lot of comment from various people around town, but we thought the classic remark came from Jess Ford.

An observation incidentally, which could be made only by a man having spent a great many years in this neck of the woods. Jess told a friend that he had seen the walkways along main street go from dirt to wood, to brick, to concrete. And now back to dirt.

We hope however, to see the concrete walks back in real soon.

And Rob Lomas, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lomas was a bit chagrined recently when his mother dressed him in an Indian costume for the annual Boy Scout circus. In fact, Rob took a pretty dim view of the whole deal.

"I don't wanna be an Indian," Rob told his neighbor. "They always lose."

And come to think of it, he's got a pretty good point.

Anyone lost a turkey lately? Byrle Elliston swears he spotted a wild turkey in a tree near his home the other day. The bird flew off before Byrle could get out the old blunderbuss. And probably just as well. Turkeys are out of season this time of year.

Of course, we tried to convince Byrle that the fowl was domesticated, but Byrle says "nay." And he could be right! After all, domestic turks are about as hard to find as the wild variety.

Marlin Gilliland, owner of Gilliland Funeral Home says the two greatest things in the "world of an ambulance driver" is to be awakened by the phone at 2 a.m. by a party who got the wrong number; or, to arrive at the scene of an accident and discover "no injuries."

Mr. Rotarian has been honored at the 20th Anniversary party held by the Hereford Rotary Club this week.

Mr. Rotarian was a charter member of the Hereford club. He served as it's first president back in 1945. He has maintained a perfect attendance record for the entire twenty years, proof enough of his devotion to the principals of Rotary.

And he's made an awful lot of coffee and tea for Rotary barbecues during this time. Not to mention the hundreds of other projects on which he has devoted his time.

Mr. Rotarian has served his club and his community well during these years.

Mr. Rotarian, to members of the local Rotary club, is none other than John Patton, owner of Plains Insurance Agency and a long time resident of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

John was instrumental in founding the Rotary movement in Hereford, and served as it's first president. He has been active in the affairs of Rotary and the community ever since.

But let me tell you a little something about his attendance record.

As all Rotarians know, and perhaps a few others, in order to maintain a perfect attendance in Rotary you must attend your own club or a neighboring club every week. There is no excuse for missing a meeting. Including sickness. If you miss the local meeting, then you must attend a neighboring Rotary club within six days. And that can become a problem at times.

So whenever a Rotarian tells you he has 10 years, or 15 or even 5 years of perfect attendance, you know that man is interested in Rotary.

And John Patton has racked up 20 years to his credit.

BRIDGE FOR PRAGUE

PRAGUE (AP) — A 485-meter-long bridge will be built across Prague's residential areas to help solve the Czechoslovak capital's traffic problems, the news agency Ceteke reported.

Seventeen buildings will be blasted in the preliminary operations which started in early January. The two-deck, four-pillar bridge is expected to be opened to transport in 1968.

The bridge will join two hills in Prague's southeastern part. Like Rome, Prague is built on numerous hills and the obvious solution — underground transport — has encountered unprecedented difficulties, Ceteke said.

America Leads Nations In Pro Women Artists

By PHILIP WECHSLER
NEWARK (AP) — In the early 1700's Henrietta Johnston, the wife of an impoverished South Carolina minister, began painting portraits to support her family. Thus, she became the first professional artist in America. Several years later a New Jersey woman, Patience Lovell Wright of Bordentown, began modeling likenesses in bread dough to amuse her children and then worked with wax figures. Thus, she became the first professional sculptor produced by the country.

In the 20th century, Gerda says, women were among the leading innovators of modern art, a technique where painters are more intent in the method of presenting form and pattern rather than the object they create.

Georgia O'Keefe, a leader of a group called the "Precisionists," which emphasizes geometry and form, is probably the most prominent American woman artist of this age.

Another inventive artist of today is Marisol, who creates what Gerda describes as "constructions . . . painted wooden sections blended together with sculptural assurance and great wit."

Although there recently has been a number of exhibits devoted to the works of contemporary women artists, museum director Katherine Coffey says "We believe this to be the first such show to consider the subject historically."

Rescue Work

William H. Gerda, curator of painting and sculpture, says the exhibit was prompted by the desire to rescue scores of women artists of obscurity, despite the professional recognition they received in their own time.

The show also recognizes the resurgence of women today working professionally. It is difficult to determine the exact number of distaff artists, Gerda says, but "there are thousands of women today who have trained and sold professionally."

From the early 1700's to the beginnings of the 20th century, women were primarily "followers," he points out. They worked in the prevailing styles of the period — portraits and still lifes, executed with a minimum of experimentation in color, composition or form.

Landscape paintings, which became popular in the first half of the 19th century, was one of the major fields where women were conspicuously absent. The rigors of painting outdoors and the unseemliness of women engaging in this "male" activity during the Victorian era acted as deterrents.

More at Easels

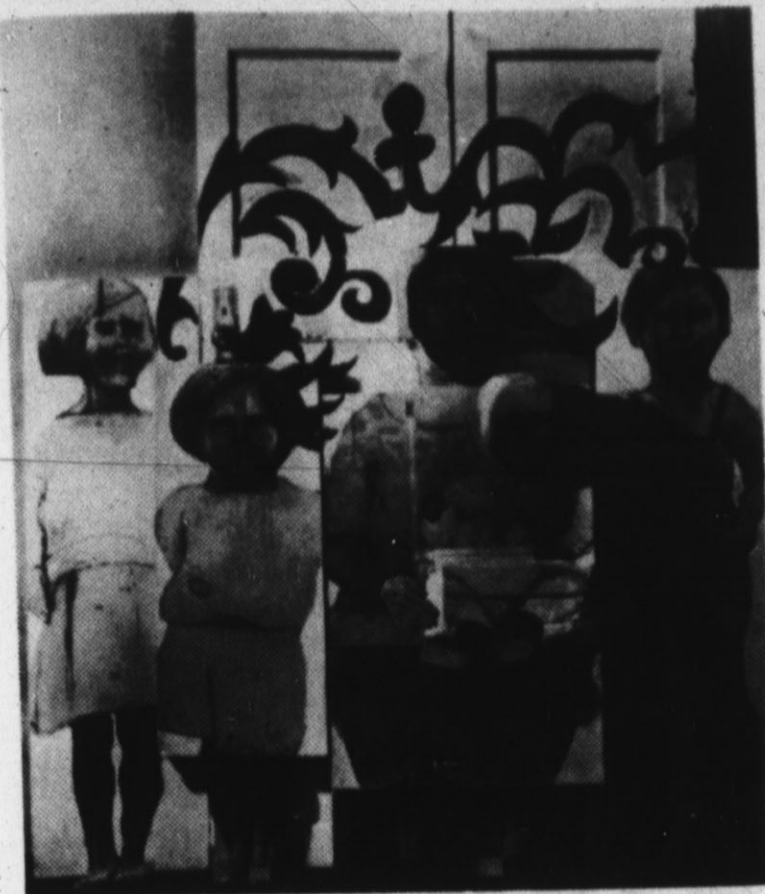

The latter half of the century produced the most famous American woman artist — Mary Cassatt. She was raised in Philadelphia but in 1866, at the age of 21, she fled to Paris against the wishes of her family. She became active in the French Impressionist movement and was best known for her sensitive pictures of mothers and children.

HOW BRONKO WAS NAMED

NEW YORK (AP) — The first day Bronko Nagurski's mother enrolled him in school at International Falls, Minn., the teacher had trouble spelling Bronslau, his first name.

"My mother told her to call me Bronko," says Nagurski "and it's been Bronko ever since. We named our first son Bronko."

The former All-American from Minnesota and a star fullback with the Chicago Bears was here for three days during the National Motor Boat Show.

THE FAMILY TODAY — "The Family" was painted by Marisol Escobar in 1962. It is done in painted wood and other materials in three sections.

Mrs. McBride Wins Award At Amarillo Art Show

Mrs. Juston McBride was the recipient of one of eight citation awards presented in the fourth annual Citation Show of Region 21 of the Texas Fine Arts Association.

This show was held Sunday in the Dord Fitz Gallery in Amarillo and Ruth McBride's winning painting was "Badlands of the Matador," which she describes as a turbulent painting.

Winning pictures will be sent to the annual State Citation Show at Laguna Gloria Art Museum in Austin to compete with other regional winners in the show during July and August.

This is her third citation from the Texas Fine Arts Association and she was also a citation winner in the Governor Connally Citation Show held last fall in Amarillo.

Ruth McBride has studied with Xaivar Gonzales at the North Carolina School of Architecture, the Art Committee at Texas A & M, and with Dord Fitz at the Dord Fitz Gallery in Amarillo.

Paintings entered in the exhibit will be on display from 2 to 5 p.m. daily through Saturday at the Dord Fitz Gallery.

Her paintings have been entered in several exhibits and one man shows and her studio is located in her home at 611 East 4th.

When speaking of her paintings, she said she does sell them, however they are like children, she likes to control where they go.

RECEIVES CITATION — Ruth McBride was presented a citation award at the fourth annual Citation Show of Region 21 of the Texas Fine Arts Association in Amarillo. Winning painting is entitled "Badlands of the Matador." "June's Flowers," the painting at the left, is another of her works, which she painted using a bouquet given to her as a gift from a girl named June. The other painting is by Frances Bell of the central Texas area. (Staff Photo)

A CENTURY AGO — This painting was done by Lily Martin Spencer (1822-1906) and is titled "Celebrating the Victory at Vicksburg." It was painted in 1866.

Hereford Splits Clovis Series

Hereford Whitefaces split a two-game series with Clovis Friday and Saturday, suffering a 9-5 loss in New Mexico Friday then earning a 9-1 win here Saturday.

The games closed out Hereford's non-conference slate, giving the Whitefaces an 8-4-1 mark for the season prior to district play which began Tuesday at Dumas.

In the game at Clovis, Hereford scored four of its five runs in the first inning with Jerry Tucker booming a triple to score three.

Hereford got five of its nine hits in the first inning.

Ed Mims granted only three hits here Saturday as the White-faces took a 9-1 win. Hereford collected nine hits in the game here, with Steve Hodges, Charlie Moreno, and Gary Victor all garnering doubles.

LEADER AND LOSER

NEW YORK (AP) — The first two weeks of the New York thoroughbred racing season were so-so for 19-year-old jockey Mike Venezia, the nation's leading apprentice.

The Brooklyn-born rider who is under contract to Greentree Stable but does most of his riding for public trainers, suffered two 19-day suspensions within two racing days for minor riding infractions. The day Venezia learned of his second punishment he rode six losers in as many races.

When suspended, Venezia had 17 winners in 14 days and was tied for the riding lead with apprentice Willie Mahorney.

Notaries Public!

Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin announced that all qualified Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1967 must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between May 1, 1965 and May 15, 1965, inclusive.

Martin emphasized that Notaries Public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires that the County Clerks approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment should apply to his County Clerk before May 20, 1965. Application during this period will assure that the appointment will be made in sufficient time for the applicant to qualify at the beginning of the new term.

The Secretary of State further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk.

HOODED AMERICANISM
By David M. Cholmers

The Ku Klux Klan is America's oldest secret society for organized mayhem. For a century it has represented the determination of an active segment of the citizenry that the white man must rule in America, and in this century the Klan has insisted that he be native-born and protestant as well.

For a hundred years America has been the home of a secret, mystic world of rituals and strange passwords, of knights and dragons, of blazing crosses and hooded floggers — of responsive, politicians and determined opponents. During reconstruction the Klan lived only in the South: In the 1920's it became a nation wide power with more than four million members, using its influence to elect Governors and senators from New England to California. Now, a century after its founding, the hooded knights still ride across the troubled southlands, from St. Augustine, Florida, to Mississippi — and across the TV screens and newspaper headlines.

Hooded Americanism is the only book ever to tell the whole story of the Klan, following it through time and into every state in the union. It describes the sociological and psychological forces behind the Klan, sets forth its Dogmas, and identifies its friends in the seats of power. It offers the drama and the terrors of the Klan. It tells the secrets of the dark Louisiana swamps and how the Invisible Empire helped make a Mayflower descendent Governor of Maine. It describes the rallying of the Klans in Dallas and how the good people of a little Indiana town went down to lynch the Pope when the rumor got around that he was coming in on a train from Chicago.

Old Courthouse To Art Museum: 'Thanks, But No'

DALLAS (AP) — The old red Dallas courthouse, that looks like something out of the past — and is — is creating its own retirement problems.

A new courthouse is going up. The old one doesn't seem worth keeping, but at the same time has some historical value, probably. Fact is, it just looks too solid to ever be torn down.

RECENT PROPOSALS have been to turn it over to the Dallas Historical Society as an art museum, a historical museum or a library.

Mrs. Virginia Gambrell, the society's museum director, recoiled.

She sent an answer, marking in the society's board members, saying:

"THE CLASSIC list of dangers from which one seeks to preserve museum material are fire, water, insects, dust and atmospheric conditions.

"The structure of the courthouse affords a maximum danger from all such hazards, but the chief of these is fire and resultant water damage."

Mrs. Gambrell said the courthouse might be preserved as an item of architectural interest. Or the county may need the space itself some time.

poverished aristocrats who own it and to move it stone by stone to his estate in Connecticut, there to house a great collection of Renaissance art. The intensity of his ambition is matched by the shocked reluctance of Sir Richard Sedgely and Lady Mary to see their heritage dismantled, scene of a proud and noble past. The role of sympathetic mediator falls to the lovely girl, Katie, who is ostensible a servant in the castle, granddaughter of the elderly butler Wells, but who the reader soon learns is far more than that.

Beneath the surface runs a current of the supernatural that sweeps the plot to its violent climax. For the cattle has obsessed both Sir Richard and Lady Mary. She believes it harbors spirits of past ages who will help save it from demolition. As for Sir Richard, he is haunted by a secret guilt that drives him to relive a tragic episode of centuries past. In the denouncement the author seems to be saying that the past which is all around us can be a force for good or for evil, depending on how we, the living, respond to its voices. She has told a story at once entertaining, suspenseful and provocative.

One spray of Propazine® 80W herbicide controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season. This can reduce or even eliminate the need for cultivating because Propazine takes care of problem weeds for you. Propazine is particularly effective on carelessweed (pigweed) and annual morning glory.

Sprayed before weeds and sorghum are up and activated by moisture, Propazine gives your crop an entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients. The result? Higher yields and more profit for you.

PEARS HELENE — Poached fresh or canned pears make a glorious dessert when paired with vanilla ice cream and semi-sweet chocolate sauce. The chocolate may also be used, shaved thin, as a garnish for a simple pear compote. (AP Photo)

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Pears And Chocolate Make A Good Pair

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

FROM NO less a master than the great French chef, Escoffier, comes Paires Helene.

The French version of this delightful dessert calls for fresh pears poached in a vanilla-flavored syrup and cooled, vanilla ice cream, hot chocolate sauce and a garnish of crystallized violets.

If you keep canned pears and semi-sweet chocolate on your kitchen shelves, and vanilla ice cream in your freezer, you can make this dessert on the spur of the moment. If there are no fresh oranges (for grated rind) or heavy heavy cream (for whipping) on hand, just omit these ingredients.

This is a lovely dessert to serve to guests because it is unfailingly popular and because it can be made so speedily. The chocolate used for the sauce comes in an 8-ounce package, each square individually wrapped; it is designed for baking and candy-making, but it's also great in this sauce.

NEW PEARS HELENE

- 1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) pear halves (4 or 5 large or 8 to 10 small)
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- Butter
- Grated rind of 1 orange
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- Rich Dark Chocolate Sauce
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Turn pears (cavity sides up) along with their syrup into a deep 9-inch size glass pie plate

(8-1/2 inches inside diameter and 1-1/2 inches deep) or similar shallow baking dish. Stir the salt into the pear syrup. Place a dot of butter (about 1/4 teaspoon) and some of the orange rind into each pear cavity. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) until very hot — about 30 minutes.

Place 1 large or 2 small hot pear halves (cavity sides up) with some of the hot syrup into each of 4 or 5 bowl-type dessert dishes. (If small pear halves are used, place these so the two wide ends meet in center.) Place a scoop of ice cream over each serving of pears. Spoon Rich Dark Chocolate Sauce over ice cream. Top with a garnish of whipped cream using a spoon or a decorating tube. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

RICH DARK CHOCOLATE SAUCE

- 4 squares (each 1 ounce) semi-sweet chocolate
- 6 tablespoons water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter

heat, stir together the chocolate and water until chocolate melts and mixture is smooth. Add the sugar; stir until dissolved. Boil gently, stirring constantly, for 4 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in the butter until blended. Serve hot. Makes 1/2 cup.

- Turn salmon (with liquids and bones) into a mixing bowl; add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. With damp hands shape soft mixture into patties.

using 1/4 cup for each. Place on floured wax paper and turn with wide spatula to coat with flour. Fry in hot butter until hot through and browned on both sides. Makes 14 to 16 patties.

SATURDAY LUNCH

Just enough sauce goes in this make-ahead dish.

CHICKEN BROCCOLI

- 1 1/2 tablespoons each butter and flour
- 1 cup light cream
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cooked chicken breast (from a large broiler-fryer)
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
- In a 1-quart saucepan, over low heat, melt the butter; stir in the flour. Add cream, salt and pepper; cook and stir until thickened. Pour one-half the sauce into a regular or deep 8-inch pie plate. Arrange broccoli over sauce; cover with chicken slices. Spread remaining sauce over chicken; sprinkle with Parmesan. Cover and refrigerate for a few hours or until serving time. Heat in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbly and hot through — 20 to 30 minutes; brown top under broiler. For broccoli, separate into even long pieces; pare outer covering of stalks up to buds; cook in a small amount of boiling salted water.

Runaway Youths Picked Up Here

Three runaway Arizona youths — who told Highway Patrolmen here they were on their way to Illinois although they had less than $3 among them — are being held until they can be returned home.

Highway Patrolmen discovered the teenaged trio asleep in their car at a roadside park near Hereford Saturday night.

THE TWO 15-year-olds and a 16-year-old are being held until their parents arrive from Tucson, Ariz., to return them home. Highway Patrolman Ed Richards said the trio said they left home two days before with $67.

of plate with rows of tomato and cucumber; sprinkle with shallots. In an electric blender, blend together the remaining ingredients until smooth; pass dressing with salad. (Cover and refrigerate any leftover dressing.) Makes 8 servings.

but car trouble depleted their funds to just $2.27 at the time they were discovered. Richards telephoned one of the youth's parents, who said they had reported the boys missing to Tucson police two days earlier.

Survey Director Here For Week

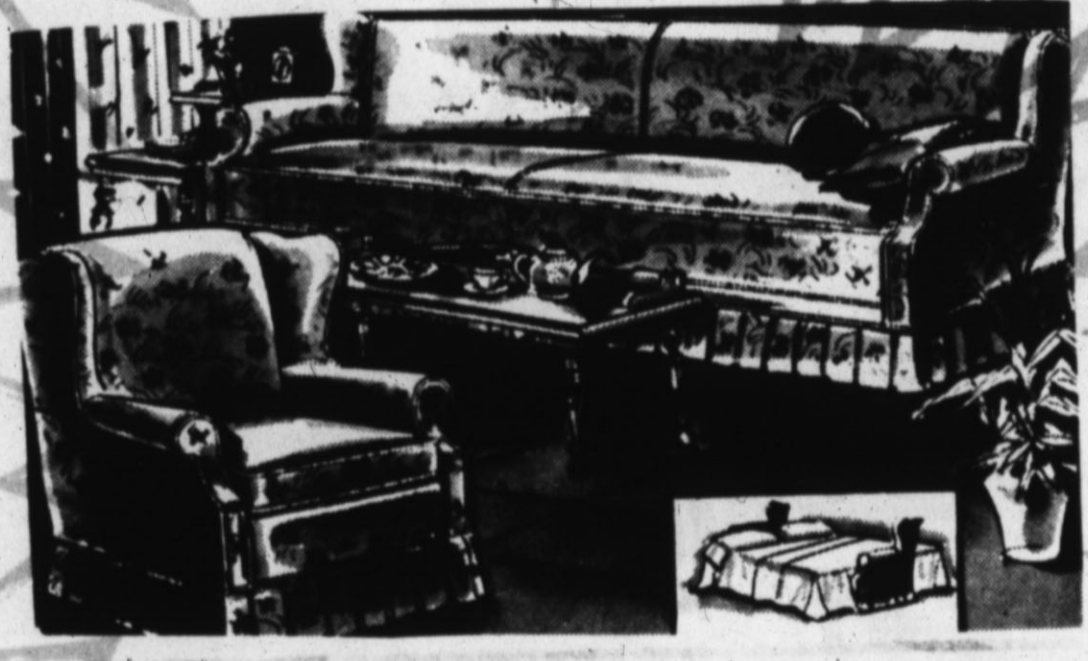

Burt C. Blanton, who is compiling an updated industrial survey for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is spending the week here collecting data for the compilation, due to be released in late June.

Blanton is an industrial engineer and economist who did a similar work for the chamber in 1964. The new survey was ordered by the chamber to update growth projections and other figures useful in attracting industry to Hereford.

Cost of the project is being met by donations from a number of Hereford business firms, the city and utilities.

REP. ROGERS REPORTS

Measure Would Require Foreign Steel Labeling

By WALTER ROGERS
U. S. Representative

There are presently pending before the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce of the House of Representatives several bills requiring that any shipping container manufactured in the United States from imported steel be marked so as to indicate the country of origin of the steel. One of these bills bears my name and I expect to do everything in my power to see that it is passed.

This may be difficult to accomplish, because of the marked opposition by the Administration and the several Departments concerned. A similar bill was before the last Congress and was actively opposed by the Federal Trade Commission, the Department of State, the Department of Commerce, the Department of the Treasury, the Bureau of the Budget, and the Department of Justice. Most of the opposition was based upon the premise that such a proposal would be inconsistent with international trade and would set a bad precedent.

However, between the years 1958 and 1962 imports nearly tripled in volume, rising to nine per cent of world imports, compared to four per cent in the earlier period. Although world trade in steel mill products has more than tripled the 1960 volume, U. S. imports continued to rise and approach 5 million tons in 1963. In 1964 steel imports were over six million tons.

THE LEGISLATION has two major objectives. First, it would permit buyers of steel containers to know when foreign steel is used in the manufacture of these containers. Secondly, it would serve to promote the use of steel produced in our own country. Until the year 1958 the United States exported more steel than it imported.

However, between the years 1958 and 1962 imports nearly tripled in volume, rising to nine per cent of world imports, compared to four per cent in the earlier period. Although world trade in steel mill products has more than tripled the 1960 volume, U. S. imports continued to rise and approach 5 million tons in 1963. In 1964 steel imports were over six million tons.

THIS MEANS THAT unless some positive action is taken the position of the American steel industry will be seriously jeopardized in the domestic markets as well as the world trade markets. It has been estimated that if the U. S. steel industry had maintained its average participation in world export trade and had prevented further erosion of its domestic markets by imports, the industry in 1962 would have provided employment for an additional 50,000 workers and paid out over $350 million in wages and salaries.

It must be kept in mind that the bills pending before the Congress on this subject do not prohibit the use of foreign steel. These bills simply require that when a steel container is manufactured in this country from foreign steel, this fact be made known. In other words, it provides the opportunity for the purchaser of steel containers or the purchaser of products contained in a steel container to know the origin of the products with which he is dealing. It simply affords the prospective buyer the freedom to make a choice — an old American custom which seems to be fast fading away.

THE PRESENT laws require that products imported and intended to be sold at retail in this country shall be identified as to the country of origin. No law presently provides that there be any identification of a product manufactured in the United States, even though the material used in the manufacture may have come from foreign countries.

The boards and bureaus of the Federal government argue that to pass any law requiring these latter manufactured products to be stamped would be to open the door for chaos, and require that the most minute products of all types be so stamped. So far as I am concerned, I know of no reason why the facts as to the foreign origin manufactured products or materials should not be available.

HOWEVER, THE argument of these bureaus and agencies is simply begging the question. Every one of them knows that the steel industry is one of the basic industries upon which the economy of this nation rests, just as is agriculture. Hence, it occurs to me that the people of this country should have the right to make a choice with reference to steel products, and have full information upon which to base that choice.

The choice may not always be in favor of U. S. producers. I have in mind a large rancher in a western state who complained bitterly about the import of foreign beef, yet fenced his ranch with imported Belgian barbed wire because it was cheaper. Another example is a businessman friend of mine who is being adversely affected by excessive imports. He told me about it while wearing a pair of Italian shoes and a Hong Kong suit. He is also known as a connoisseur of imported wines. Another example concerns cameramen here in Washington. Recently there were 14 cameramen taking pictures. Thirteen of the cameras were branded with foreign names — (I counted them) — and the American camera probably had a German lens.

I think it is time to stop talking America, and start buying America.

world there's just one mother. There's much more about my mother and good it all must be. In fact she's as good as goodness is, and that's enough for me. Her words are kind, her faith is strong, and her hope as high as the highest tree. You can see from here that she is a dear, — she means everything to me. Not one single emotion comes nearer the divine than my mother's love for me. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts me to new attempts and the strength I need to see me through. SIX ALREADY HAVE BEEN CLEARED

Amendment Surfeit May Face Voters

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texans will go to the polls on November 2 to vote on at least six, and perhaps 18, amendments.

Six proposals for Constitutional amendments already have cleared the Legislature. Ten to 12 others appear to have a good chance of being approved before the end of the session. Senators and representatives introduced 128 proposals for amendments.

Major interest at the Nov. 2 election will be on the proposal to increase to four years the terms of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and other officials elected statewide.

VOTERS ALSO will approve or defeat amendments to—Extend the Veterans Land Program.

Let the Legislature set the salaries of the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House at whatever level the Legislature chooses) and raise its own per diem expense allowance from $12 a day for 120 days to $20 a day for 140 days; Allow the state to issue bonds for loans to college students; Exempt Hermann Hospital in Houston from payment of ad valorem taxes;

Permit the teacher retirement system to invest its money in corporation stocks, as well as in bonds.

A SEVENTH Constitutional amendment to go to the voters is a housekeeping item to clear up uncertainty about when members of the House of Representatives take office. If approved, Legislators will take office on the date the Legislature convenes. This amendment proposal, however, will be on the regular general election ballot in November, 1966.

REPEAL POLL TAX, BUT House has passed a constitutional amendment to repeal the poll tax, but it went to the Senate with an amendment requiring annual registration.

Proponents of the poll tax repeal bitterly fought the annual registration requirement. They contend that the states where fraud and political bosses reign

TURN DOWN GENERATOR

The county commissioners have ruled out the possible purchase of a surplus generator for emergency-power use at the courthouse. The unit was placed on a short reserve at a Lubbock government surplus property depot.

are the states with annual registration requirements. Resolution proposes a statewide vote in November, 1966.

PROJECT DISAPPROVED—A Neighborhood Youth Corps grant of $381,480 to Texas Farmers Union for summer work projects in 33 small school districts of eight South Central Texas counties was disapproved by Gov. John Connally. Grant previously was approved by the U. S. Labor Department.

Governor said that, while he fully agrees with NYC objectives he "cannot approve of school districts entering into third-party contracts with quasi-political organizations for work-training programs."

Connally has requested Texas Education Agency to assist the school districts in Bexar, Atascosa, Comal, Frio, Medina, Guadalupe, Karnes and Wilson Counties to prepare their own individual applications for work programs.

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman expressed disappointment over the governor's action. He said the proposed program for 790 youths would have been a pilot project for rural job training in other areas of the state and nation.

"DRINKERS' RIGHTS" — Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio presented his bill to legalize sale of mixed drinks in Texas before House Liquor Regulations Committee. Johnson calls his bill a "drinkers' bill of rights." He says it's needed to "bring some sense to the chaotic liquor laws in Texas."

Committee also heard bill to permit families to make up to 200 gallons of their own wine. Both proposals were sent to sub-committees.

HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE — A right to require a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour in Texas was sent to sub-committee.

Committee also sent to sub-panels two other measures: Bill which would declare new "right to work" policies in event Congress knocks out open-shop provisions of Taft-Hartley law.

Resolution which would transfer to Commissioner of State Bureau of Labor Statistics responsibility for determining prevailing wages required on public works projects.

TAX RELIEF — A constitutional amendment to allow a farmer whose property has become urbanized certain tax relief as long as he remains a bona fide farmer passed the House after big-city representatives attacked the measure as a "tax dodge for speculators."

Under the bill sponsored by Reps. Bill Dungan of McKinney, Alonzo Jamison of Denton and Wayne Connally of Floresville, a farmer with land in an urbanized area could pay taxes based on a valuation of the land's worth for farming purposes. When he decides to sell the land, he'll pay the difference between that value and the value of the land for development purposes for three years back. Measure now is in the hands of the Senate.

FREIGHT CARS, TOO — Passenger train in Texas will be allowed to carry mail or freight cars if Governor Connally signs a bill which now has passed both the House and Senate. With the exception of the World War II period, mixed trains never have been allowed in Texas.

Bill also provides that brakemen must ride in the car nearest the rear which has a facility for them.

TERMS FIGHT ENDED — Senate summarily put an end to a week-long deadlock with the House over four-year terms for increasing the Senate from 31 to 39 members.

Without ceremony, Senators killed proposed constitutional amendments for both Senate and House term extensions. They said, in effect, to the House: kill the 39-member Senate proposition if you choose, but there will be no term lengthening for legislators voted this session.

WARNS LEGISLATORS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr warned Texas lawmakers they have a firm deadline to complete congressional and legislative redistricting by August 1 and August 2 respectively.

In a memorandum to all legislators, Carr said the Federal court may begin the reapportionment job itself after the established deadline.

ETHICS BILL DEAD — A House committee gave a bill to establish a course in "social ethics" in Texas schools a very un-satisfactory reception after a sub-committee reported it back without recommendation.

Committee voted to postpone consideration of the bill for four weeks. With hardly more time than that left in the session, the action virtually killed the bill.

FLAG TALKS BALKED — Governor Connally declined to sign a resolution calling for negotiations with Mexico for return of a battle flag captured at the Alamo because of "serious questions as to its constitutionality."

"It is highly doubtful that representatives of an individual state have the authority to enter negotiations of this nature with a foreign country," the governor said. "This is a very delicate proposition and falls within the responsibility of the State Department."

He applauded "sincere motives" of the legislative sponsors of the resolution.

BILL EXPLAINED — Texas Education Agency has called on local school officials to submit their plans for participating in the new federal education program, providing $74,500,000 in aid for teaching-children from low income families.

U. S. Office of Education will determine amount of federal money available to local districts on basis of census data. Indications are that none of the money can be applied toward state's share of across-the-board teacher pay raises.

SHORT SNORTS — Bill to outlaw closed meetings of governmental agencies received House State Affairs Committee approval. Senate passed bill to permit banks and savings and loan association to charge $9 for every $100 on installment loans up to $1,500 and $7.50 per $100 borrowed between $1,500 and $5,000. Texas Highway Department announces a $7,000,000 road development plan for new recreation-industrial complex being created by Toledo Bend, Sam Rayburn and Dam "B" reservoirs in East Texas.

Governor Connally called on prove public services in metropolitan Texas Research League for a three-year study of how to improve political areas. Signers of a petition for local option election to prohibit sale of alcoholic beverages are not legally bound to vote for prohibition if election is called. Attorney General Carr has held. T. Jean Rogers of Graham was named by Governor Connally as district attorney for the 96th judicial district of Young, Stephens and Shackelford counties, effective with May 1 resignation of Jack Q. Neal. Retail sales for first three months of 1965 were six per cent ahead of the first quarter of 1964, says UT's Bureau of Business Research. U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity has approved $106,000 grant for technical assistance program to aid Texas migrants. Court of Criminal Appeals refused to hear arguments on delay of sanity hearing for Jack Ruby, convicted of slaying accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Paper Boy Now Has Rolls Royce

By ROLF ULVESTAM

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Valdemar B. Persson, newspaper-carrier and messenger, doesn't smoke, doesn't drink and doesn't tangle with women.

But — he likes sitting in his Rolls Royce, beaming, while his private chauffeur drives him from his daytime paper-carrying job to his nighttime toll-as-messenger of a printing plant. And he enjoys seeing the faces of other proud car owners as he whizzes by in his 12 cylinder, 400 h.p. Rolls Royce Phantom 3 of the fine vintage of 1937. There exists only a few specimens of this "king of cars" with aluminum body and silver-coated radiator in the world.

"I cannot think of anything more worthwhile to own in life than a Rolls Royce, whether it's a brand new one or a fine old aristocrat. I thought so already as a kid," comments Rolls-owner Persson.

The fact that he doesn't smoke, drink or date girls has to do with money, of course. He has been greedy for years. "Had to," he explains. "I figured it would take me 15 years to save enough money to buy a Rolls. I started five years ago, took on more and more jobs and made it in five years!"

Had it been worth it? Persson has no doubts.

High or low, car-owner or not, all stand amazed as a newspaper carrier comes swaying down the street on his bicycle, stops at the Rolls, nods to the chauffeur, adjusts his tie and nonchalantly slips into the back seat with a firmed gesture to the chauffeur to get the thing started.

Luck came to Persson's help in getting the car. A Phantom 3 stood garaged at the custom house in Goteborg. A Swedish businessman who had brought it aboard could not afford to pay also the $2,000 custom fee. Persson stepped in, paid the tolls and another $4,000 to the businessman.

"I have already been offered double this amount. But I will not sell. It would be a treason against myself," he says.

Youth Society Notes Gratitude

Members of the Hereford Youth Society extended official thanks to Hereford businesses who helped with the club's recent style show. The club met Saturday morning in the Community Center.

In other business, members also gave a vote of thanks to Mrs. Frank Wilhelm and to Mrs. Argen Draper for their assistance in a sewing project.

Contributing to the recent style show were C. R. Anthony's, J. C. Penney's, May Department Store, The Fair, The Vogue, and Perry Bros.

Club members planned a social for May 20 in the Community Center.

Present for the meeting were Barbara High, Shirley High, Betty Black, Uman Black, Willard Black, Joe Johnson, Ernest Williams, Elgin Williams, Walter Williams and Jim Scott Jr. Visitors were Charles Black and Mrs. Will Black. Speaker was Mrs. Wesly High. Walter Williams, vice president, presided.

TALENT SHOW TODAY

High School Red Cross members will be participating in a talent show which is scheduled for 2:10 p.m. today in the high school auditorium. Kathy Miller, spokesman for the group, said admission will be 20 cents and the high school students will present a variety of talent. All high school Red Cross members will participate, decorate and serve in some way for this show. The public is invited to attend.

KENNETH GOTT

We are proud to announce that Kenneth Gott has purchased 49% of our refrigeration business. Kenneth came to Hereford four years ago from Lubbock where he was practically raised in a refrigeration and air conditioning shop. After serving in the Korean War Kenneth worked for the largest refrigeration dealer in Lubbock. We have found him to be trustworthy, capable and willing as an employee. Also we are pleased to have him as a partner so we can keep young blood in our business to assure refrigeration service in the years to come. Kenneth is a member of RSES (Refrigeration Service Engineers Society) and at present is taking his certificate exam which completes two years of schooling on the latest equipment, when completed he will be a "DOCTOR OF REFRIGERATION".
