Acreage Survey Begins

Postmaster Nolan Grady announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1967 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about September 14.

The Post Office Department assists U. S. D. A. in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1967.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Grady urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are:

Coleman Wright, Route One; Le Roy Price, Route Two; Howard Armstrong, Route Three; Owen Stagner, Route Four; Eursel Young, Route Five; Max Goforth, Star Route.

Final Day For Vote

Farmers have been reminded that Wednesday is the last day for voting in the election of ASC Community Committeemen.

Frank J. Bezner, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, explained that ballots were mailed Sept. 7 to eligible voters of record; they must be returned to the ASCS county office — by mail or in person — not later than Sept. 26th.

Qualified voters in the election are all farmers who are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committee administers. Lists of eligible voters in each community are available for public inspection in the ASCS county office.

Anyone who believes that he is eligible to vote but who has not received a ballot is urged to get in touch with the ASCS county office immediately.

For each community where an election is being held, three regular committee members and two alternates will be elected. The chairman, vice chairman, and third regular member of the elected ASC community committee will also serve as delegates to the county convention, Sept. 27, where farmers will be elected to fill vacancies on the ASC count committee and where the committee's chairman and vice-chairman will be chosen for the coming year. The county convention will be held at the ASCS County Office on Sept. 27, 1967 at 8 p.m.

Chairman Bezner urges farmers to be sure to sign the statement on the back of the outside envelope containing the ballot for the community committee election. This statement is a certification that the ballot was marked by the farmer personally without undue influence by any person.

First Grain Delivered To Local Elevators

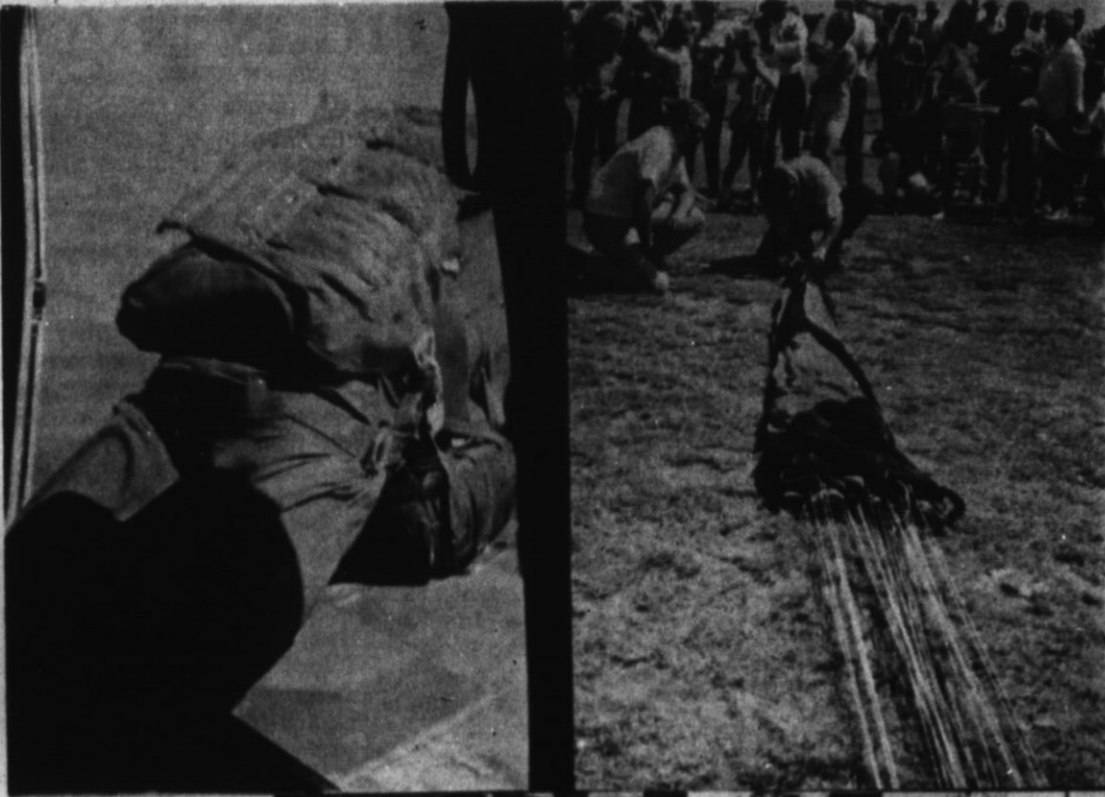

A sampling of grain, all high in moisture, started rolling into Hereford elevators this week as farmers started testing fields to determine whether it was ready.

Pitman Grain Company reported four loads late last week brought in by C. N. John, and Hereford Grain Corp. accepted a load Tuesday from Elmer Reinart. John farms six miles east of Hereford and Reinart farms some 13 miles southeast of Hereford. All the grain was over the recommended .14 moisture level.

Johns returned to the field Wednesday morning and harvested a load that tested .15 moisture.

A spokesman for Pitman Grain Co. said it would be at least 15 days before an appreciable amount of milo would come into the elevators.

Milo is the largest crop grown in the area with approximately 175,000 acres of milo in Deaf Smith County alone.

EASTER AIR SHOW — More than 1,500 area residents gathered at the Easter community Sunday for an air show sponsored by the Easter Lions Club. Of main interest to the spectators was the jumping contest, in which there were three classes—novice, intermediate and advanced. Scenes show the jumpers loading their chutes, waiting to go up, jumping and landing. Jumpers wear an altimeter on their chest so they know when to pull the parachute cord. Of the three jumps made by each of the 29 jumpers, there was only one injury—William Rush of Albuquerque, N.M., had a broken ankle.

Beet Crop Payments To Be Earlier

The Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, Inc. was advised last week that the first payment for the 1967 crop of beets will be 90 per cent of the actual realized net selling price for the 1966 crop.

Jay Boston, President of the Association, stated that the relationship with Holly Sugar Corporation officials is presently one of working for the mutual interest of its growers and the factory. This cooperation between the two is essential and affords means for progress of both, Boston said.

Holly Sugar Corp. has agreed, according to a release from the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, that the first payment for the 1968 beet crop, when harvested, will be based on 90 per cent of the final realized net sales price of the sugar processed from the 1967 crop.

Since the net selling price of the sugar from the 1966 beet crop now being sold is considerably higher than the net selling price of the sugar from the 1965 crop, we can expect the first payment on the 1967 beets to be harvested to be considerably higher than the first payment for the 1966 beet crop. This should save the growers some interest on money borrowed and will enable them to have the majority of the money from the crop much quicker than has been the case in the past. The company has also offered a minimum guarantee provision in the 1968 beet growers contract of 83 cents over the average New York raw price less 3c bulk bin storage with certain limitations which the Board of Directors at its next meeting will consider. The guarantee, of course, would not be applicable in the event of a national emergency and government control of the price of sugar and would have a limitation in the event the average New York raw price exceeds by 105 per cent the target price as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

James W. Witherspoon, Executive Secretary of the growers association, states that although this provision sounds good and demonstrates the attitude on the part of the Holly Sugar Corporation to obtain the best net selling price possible for the sugar, that the limitation will need to be considered carefully by the Board before it is accepted.

Boston states that with the two increases in the scale price of 1966 and 1967, and with the accelerated harvest, the larger first payment for the beet crop and particularly the increase in the net sale price of sugar, it appears that many farmers are evidencing a much greater interest in growing sugar beets.

Witherspoon said Wednesday that the "Texas-New Mexico association has acquired a distinct position of leadership among the old grower associations throughout the country. The President, Boston, and the past presidents, Shirley Garrison, Virgil Marsh and Austin Rose Jr. have all guided the association in this direction hopefully resulting in a fine agricultural industry for the area as envisioned by the late Lee Benefield, President of the association for many years, along with many other hard-working citizens successful in obtaining the industry for this area."

Venire Excused

The veniremen who were scheduled for possible jury duty in 60th District Court today have been rescheduled for Oct. 9.

Judge Archie McDonald said the veniremen will not be needed as anticipated because attorneys asked for continuance in the trials which had been set for Thursday.

Nominating Committee Named By C of C Board

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors at its regular session Wednesday morning, named a committee of three directors and three non-director chamber members to make nominations for the 1968 Board of Directors.

Four new directors will be elected from a slate of eight candidates to replace Johnny Pool, W. R. "Dub" Hair, Pete Caviness, Neil Cooper and Raymond White whose terms will expire this year. White has served an additional year on the board as immediate past president, and Neil Cooper will probably be retained on the board for another year, subject to action of the board and his own willingness to serve the additional year. It is optional, according to W. T. "Bill" Thompson, Chamber Manager.

The nominating committee this year consists of Directors Earnest Langley, chairman; Melvin Young, and Raymond White while non-board chamber members serving will be Wayne Thomas, Clint Formby and J. R. "Monk" Johnson. The three latter men are all past presidents of the chamber.

In other business during the early morning session, the board voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of the Christmas Lighting Committee and authorized the Chamber Manager to purchase 16 of the 14 foot Christmas trees to be mounted on top of the main street canopies. The trees will be green circled with a string of red Christmas lights. Purchase price of the trees is $4234. Also to be purchased is approximately 1650 ft. of plastic garland for the highways at an estimated cost of $1250. The trees are guaranteed for three years service.

The giant chandeliers that adorned the highway intersections last year will be sold, according to Thompson, if and when a buyer can be found. The new Christmas decorations will be shipped about November 1.

The board also approved the actions of the Beautification Committee, the Industrial Committee, the Human Relations Committee, the Membership Committee and the Education Committee. These committee meetings were held last week. See COMMITTEE Page 2

Caravan Set For Olton

Members of the Hereford Booster Club voted Monday to take a caravan to Olton Friday night to watch the football game between the Whitefaces and the Olton Mustangs.

The caravan will form on the industrial road in front of Case Power and Equipment Co. and leave from there at 7 p. m. Tickets for the game may be picked up at the Hereford Bakery.

It also was decided Monday night that the club's regular pre-game breakfast will be held each Friday at 7:30 a. m. at the Hickory Log Restaurant. The first meeting will be Friday.

Don Chaney of KPAN radio presented 10 Hereford business recognition awards for having participated "in the broadcasts of all Hereford Whiteface football, basketball and baseball contests". The firms also have sponsored the Booster. See CARAVAN Page 2

New School Considered By Board

After studying current enrollment figures and taking a look into the future, members of the board of trustees for the Hereford Independent School District began the groundwork Tuesday night for a new elementary school.

Making sure that they were not obligating themselves in any way in the project, board members authorized Supt. Johnny Clark to begin working with his personnel in drawings.

Discussion on the new school came just after trustees had studied enrollment figures which showed an increase of nearly 250 students in the entire school system. Clark pointed out that there now is only one elementary school classroom not being used and three junior high school classrooms.

Central Elementary School, which has a total enrollment of 476, presently needs another classroom to handle the students there, Clark stated. Arrangements probably will have to be made to move the students to another of the schools.

Clark said the school's architect had stated he would make a drawing for a new school without charge to the board if the school is not built. The superintendent told board members he liked to have the faculty members submit drawings for a building because "they are the ones who will be using it and it should be functional."

Drawings made by the faculty and administration then will be submitted to the architect, who will use them as guidelines in his planning. It is estimated a new elementary school building will cost about $400,000 and would be financed through a bond issue.

The enrollment figures show 4,744 students in the five elementary schools, two junior highs and high school. There were 4,499 at the same date last year.

Concert Teams Report

Progress toward the goal of 1100 memberships in Hereford's Community Concert Association was detailed at the first report meeting of team captains Wednesday evening, and the campaign will continue until Saturday noon.

Newly organized in the city, the Association is conducting the drive to enroll members for its first concert season which will feature programs by pianist Peter Nero Nov. 13 and the Texas Boys Choir next Feb. 22.

At least one other concert, and more if the sale of memberships provides a larger budget, will be booked at the close of the campaign Saturday. Community Concerts first enroll members, then use all funds raised for programs of that season so that no deficit can result.

No single tickets to concerts are available through the year; admission is by membership only and it must be secured during campaign week.

However, concert officers explain that use of membership cards is transferable, and a member who is unable to attend a concert is encouraged to permit someone else in his family, or a friend, to use his card. Dale Young is Association president and Bill Thompson, See CONCERT Page 2

DSCWA Representative Attend Oklahoma Meet

Water resource developments for Oklahoma and Texas were the subjects of discussion in Sulphur, Oklahoma Saturday morning, Sept. 9, at the organizational meeting of the Oklahoma Water Users Association. Visiting as guests and representing Deaf Smith County Water Association were farmer R. C. Godwin, President, and Bruce Brown, Holly Sugar Co. Hereford plant manager and member of the Information Committee.

Discussing long-range water planning, speakers emphasized the need to deal with present water shortages in the southwestern part of the State and future shortages in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Included in such planning is the water importation project for central and western Oklahoma, the High Plains of Texas, and eastern New Mexico being studied by the Bureau of Reclamation and Corps of Engineers. The joint-agency project proposes the inter-basin and inter-state movement of large quantities of water from the Mississippi River in Arkansas to the areas of need in the three states. Garcia Lake in Deaf Smith County is one of the water impoundments included in the federal appraisal study which was presented at the meeting. A proposed water canal passes just north of Hereford from Buffalo Lake to the Garcia reservoir.

The massive water importation plan to provide the means for economic survival of much of the areas to be served, was presented by John Thompson, Assistant Regional Director of the Bureau of Reclamation, Region 5. Points emphasized by Thompson included the gaining recognition of the concept of large inter-basin, sometimes interstate, transfers of surplus water, as opposed to small systems within river basins. He stressed the necessity for any state desiring federal assistance first to utilize fully its own water supplies. Also, the exportation of water from any basin or state must presume the complete consideration of and provision for the water needs of the source area.

Forrest Nelson, Director of the Oklahoma Water Resources Board, explained the Board's analysis of state water problems. An evaluation of available surface and ground water, cor- See DSCWA Page 2 related with municipal, industrial, and irrigation needs, shows that southwestern Oklahoma is in critical need of supplemental water. Due to costs and the extensive nature of water development needed, federal assistance is necessary.

Commenting later, Godwin and Brown felt encouraged by the enthusiasm of dedicated Oklahoma citizens and water authorities anxious to fulfill water needs in their state. Bruce Brown explained that Oklahoma realization of the need to import water to its southwestern and northwestern parts lends added support to DSCWA's efforts toward the federal plan of diverting Mississippi River water to the Texas High Plains. "Cooperation among the three states for the mutual benefit of each, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, should be able to produce the results — the actual design and construction of the federal water importation plan presented at the Sulphur meeting. The cost to beneficiaries in any one state might be more than they can bear, but sharing the cost of transporting a large volume of water should be within the capability of all the recipients. The combined concern," Brown concluded, "and political effort of the three states toward the one plan can get the job done."

At the Sulphur meeting, an extensive outline of Texas water planning was presented by Joe Kilgore, Jr., Executive Director of the Texas Water Development Board. Expecting a legislative increase in authorization for water development construction bonds from $400 million to $1 billion, Kilgore explained the Preliminary Water Plan for diverting surplus north-east Texas Water to areas of need in central southern and coastal areas. Importation of in-state water to west Texas is still undetermined, according to Kilgore, but new studies involve consideration of deliveries to the South Plains. He described the new "I" Plan, with the upper portion representing the East-West transfer of water from northeast Texas to the Lubbock area, the middle portion being the North-South movement to central and coastal areas, and the lower part of the interstate importation of water from the lower Mississippi River diagonally from southwestern Louisiana to the Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Back home, Godwin showed dismay at the "I" Plan. "We already have information," he asserted, "that the pumping of water uphill from the Lubbock area, after its transfer from northeast Texas, is not feasible from the cost standpoint. It just doesn't make sense to carry water uphill around the sides of the triangle. The shortest, least expensive route to benefit the largest area in need of supplemental water is to follow the hypotenuse of the triangle, for example, from the Cooper Reservoir directly to Buffalo Lake, thence downhill south to the Lubbock area, while permitting our counties here to purchase a fair share according to their willingness to contract for water."

Coach Ray Nabel figures his Iowa football team will be stronger this season. Iowa won only one of seven Big Ten games last fall.

Preston Smith Announces For Governor's Race

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who says some of the recent tradition-shattering trends in state government are disturbing him deeply, announced today he will be a candidate for governor and indicated he would file for the No. 1 political office in Texas at a later date.

Smith, 55, said he would focus all of his 17 years of experience in state government on the pressing problems tending to unbalance the multi-billion dollar business of Texas government.

The Lubbock businessman, now serving his third term as lieutenant governor, also was elected to three terms in the Texas House of Representatives and won State Senate seats twice.

"Texas had made excellent progress," Smith said in his announcement. "But new challenges resulting from this development cannot be met by simply spending more and more state money, and paying more and more taxes. I feel that lasting with current unsettling trends in state government," and added solutions are necessary if Texas is to continue its progress to the betterment of all Texans."

Smith said he is "dissatisfied with current unsettling trends in state government," and added "we are not going in the proper direction."

"Beginning September 1, total appropriations for the year from all funds of state government will be $2,382,969,301.00 as compared with $1,802,918,301 annually for two years ago — an increase of more than half a billion dollars — or an increase of 32.7 percent," Smith explained.

Pointing to the general revenue appropriations, Smith said the first year of the biennium, beginning Sept. 1, "will be $503,107,034 as compared with $316,738,638 for the year two years ago, or an increase of $187,369,151, or an increase of 59.16 percent."

"Since the 60th Legislature appropriated for only the first year of the next biennium, an over-all comparison is not possible of the total amount appropriated during the two bienniums," Smith added, "but with the way things are going, the overall comparison is going to be much worse than most people think right now, with the special session coming up."

"I personally believe that this strategy is more for the political advantages of a few Texas leaders, and not in the general interest of all the people of Texas," Smith said.

"Such activities of centralizing more and more power in the Governor's office is bound to cause a taxpayer's nightmare unless more businesslike management is made possible very soon," Smith said.

Smith, who has long dreamed of being governor, is widely known for his conservatism. Moreover, he has often indicated that he didn't intend to make a profession out of holding one political office — an apparent reference to the lieutenant governorship, which has won him esteem since he first captured the seat over six opponents in 1962.

In becoming first to announce for governor in next year's election, Smith explained his early decision by saying, "I cannot make my future plans on the basis of what any other potential opponent might do."

The habit, or maybe the necessity, of making decisions for himself without reference to what others might think began early for Smith.

Smith parlayed a deep-rooted determination and confidence in an education in his youth, overcoming many hardships — including the depression.

Born the seventh of 13 children in Williamson County, the Smith family moved to a farm just on the line between Dawson and Gaines counties in 1923.

At 17, Smith decided an education would elude him if he remained on the farm. So he chartered his course early and walked 17 miles to Lamesa, where he worked his way through school by picking cotton and working at service stations.

After his graduation from Lamesa High School, Smith moved to Lubbock to attend Texas Tech and operated a service station at Broadway and Avenue Q, a job he shared with fellow students.

In applying for the service station job, Smith told the owners he intended to run for the legislature. "But they just laughed," he recalls.

Later, he went into the theatre business and opened a movie on College Avenue, directly across the street from the college.

Smith encountered many difficulties in his early enterprises, but things have smoothed out since the rough years. He finally made that race for the legislature in 1944, and those who had laughed at his dream quit laughing when he won handily in his nine-county district.

Three terms as state representative whetted his appetite for higher office. He jumped into a 12-man race for lieutenant governor in 1950 and ran third.

He was elected State Senator in 1956, was re-elected in 1960, and two years later took a new look at the lieutenant governor situation. The time was ripe.

Ben Ramsey, who had held the office a dozen years, had moved to the Railroad Commission. It was anybody's race and Smith made the runoff.

That's when Smith's lifetime of free enterprise effort and development as a conservative-minded businessman paid its first big dividends.

Business leaders across the state swarmed to his support.

Although he won, skepticism over Smith's ability to handle the powerful office of lieutenant governor continued. There were dire predictions that the Senate would fall into disorder and confusion.

But when the gavel fell, and Smith took over in January, 1963, there was, to put it mildly, surprise at the smoothness and ease with which the man from Lubbock took control.

The Senate set the tone for Smith's first term with an almost unprecedented move. As the new lieutenant governor strode to the lectern, the 31 senators broke into a rising, spontaneous burst of applause. In that August body, such sincere praise is not often forthcoming.

Looking back, Smith says there were times when he wielded a stern gavel, but there never has been a time when a senator failed to get a fair and just hearing on a piece of legislation.

In the strange and demanding world of politics, where timing, appearance and "who you know" are almost everything and nice guys don't always win, Smith stands out like a windmill on the plains.

A solidly built, trim man, Smith stays in shape with regular workouts at a gym, and he travels thousands of miles annually, speaking to organizations and carrying out the duties of his office.

The obvious love and dedication he has for his work and the unbounded supply of energy carried over from his youth serve him well.

Because of his background and his interest in people, Smith has become an excellent judge of character. Always observing his life-long open-door policy, he confers with liberals and conservatives when legislation is at stake and has become staunch friends with a number of Senate members.

He has never believed in "punishing" his political foes — an attribute not always found among the victors at the polls.

Smith has brought to the office of lieutenant governor a new scope in the eyes of the public. He has made more public appearances — some in places where such a high official has never appeared — than any other lieutenant governor in history.

For the first time, Texans are beginning to realize the importance of the job. Its power also surprised Smith when he assumed the office.

Smith is active in civic work in Lubbock, serving on the board

He and his wife, Ima, have a married son, Preston Michael, 26, who, with his wife, Shirley, lives in Austin, and a married daughter, Jan Schmid, 22. Jan and Conrad live in Lubbock.

Smith feels he has widespread backing throughout the state because, "I am honest with the people. I don't kid about governmental matters. I don't mislead them about fiscal responsibility. They know what kind of man I am and I will always do the best I can for them. I will always serve their best interest."

COMPETENT CHRIS

During his last voyage to the New World in 1502, Christopher Columbus warned other Spaniards of an impending hurricane. They ignored his warnings, and about 20 ships were lost with all their crews. However, World Book Encyclopedia says the four ships under Columbus' personal command came through safely.

tor met one deadline on Sept. 1, said Clark, and has reported that he will make the other one on Sept. 30.

If the contractor does not make the deadline by Sept. 30, he will lose an additional $1,500 which was part of the contract. It is expected that the building will be occupied in about a month.

Clark explained that the teacher for the course will be paid entirely by the state and the supplies one half by the state.

Trustees were told that two new bus routes have been approved by the state agency. Already being used, the routes are in the west and southeast parts of Deaf Smith County. There now are 25 bus routes being used by the school district.

A report and breakdown on 1966-67 tax collections was presented by Orpha Click, tax assessor-collector for the school. Figures presented by Click showed $1,234,622.94 — or 93.80 per cent — of the current taxes have been collected and $28,500.24 of the delinquent collections completed for a grand total of 95.97 per cent of the 1966-67 taxes collected.

In 1963, a total of 96.89 per cent of the taxes were collected, 96.15 per cent was collected in 1964 and 96.98 per cent in 1965. As of Sept. 1, 1967, reported Click, there was $110,061.44 on the delinquent tax roll. That included $57,871 in real estate, $39,956 in personal taxes and $12,433 in outlawed taxes. In 1966, there was a total of $82,397.12 in delinquent taxes.

Approved by trustees was the reassignment of Larry Brown and Thomas Millegan. Brown becomes assistant principal at Shirley Elementary School, replacing Don Dorman, and Millegan becomes assistant principal at Aikman Elementary School, replacing Roy Harris.

Resignations accepted by trustees included Robert Renfro, Don Dorman, Roy Harris, Earlene R. Krueger, Donna Sue Johnson and Andre Alexander.

Hired by trustees were Mary Ann Austin, Betty Barnes, Amanita Holman, Robert Holman, B. F. McDowell, Carole McGilvary, Reuben Russell, Sidney Thompson, Martha Tipps, Glenda Whisenant and Cagle Davis.

In a progress report on the new vocational building, Clark told board members that the cosmetology class has moved into the building. The contrac-

Herd Travels To Olton Friday Night

Something new may be added to the Hereford Whiteface football team Friday night when they travel to Olton to take on the strong Mustangs.

Head Coach Larry Wartes told Whiteface Booster Club member Monday night that the team had been prepared to use the new strategy on Floydada, but it had not been necessary. "From the looks of this Olton team, we'll have to have it," he stated.

Whatever the new strategy was, it was good that the Whitefaces didn't use it against Floydada or the score might have been more than 41-6. Immediately after the game, however, Wartes warned his players that the contest with Olton would be different.

The Mustangs, who returned 14 lettermen back from the team which had a 5-5 record last year, were unanimous cho-

An estimated $250 damage resulted when two cars collided Monday afternoon at the intersection of Park Avenue and Avenue B.

Officers said a 1964 Plymouth driven by John Frank Hickman of 115 15th Street was north on Avenue B and a 1959 Oldsmobile driven by William Lacombe of 115 Avenue G was going east on Park Avenue when the vehicles collided at the intersection.

During the Booster Club meeting, Whiteface coach Bill DeFee presented a scouting report on Olton, this week's opponent; Bill Narrell described last Saturday's "B" team game which the locals won 20-12, and Jeff Smart, coach at Stanton Junior High, told of the coming season for his school.

Athletic director and head football coach Larry Wartes detailed Friday night's opening game against Floydada and showed the game film. He stressed to the Booster Club members that Olton would be a much tougher opponent than Floydada had been.

A 35-year-old Latin American man was arrested and charged with burglary Tuesday morning by a Deaf Smith County deputy sheriff who spotted the man while on his way to work.

Levi Leo Lopez of 505 E. 2nd was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade, who placed in jail in lieu of bond.

Deputy Sheriff Travis McPherson said he was driving to work just after 7 a. m. Tuesday when he saw the man walking from Moe Hacker's meat Market at 510 E. 2nd with his arms filled with goods. Thinking at first that the man was employed by Hacker and had opened up early, McPherson then saw a window broken in the market and summoned aid to make the arrest.

Lopez told McPherson and police officers that someone had run through his house just before officers got there.

Cars Collide; $250 In Damages

An estimated $250 damage resulted when two cars collided Monday afternoon at the intersection of Park Avenue and Avenue B.

Officers said a 1964 Plymouth driven by John Frank Hickman of 115 15th Street was north on Avenue B and a 1959 Oldsmobile driven by William Lacombe of 115 Avenue G was going east on Park Avenue when the vehicles collided at the intersection.

There was about $150 damage to Hickman's car and $100 damage to Lacombe's car. A citation was issued for disobeying a red light. The accident occurred at 5:40 p. m.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q— Last year I attended college part time, but will attend full time, beginning in September. Will I qualify for student deferment?

A— Ordinarily, a student who attended part time last year would not qualify for Class II-S this year because he was not then full time. Your board's consideration of circumstances might, however, result in deferment in II-S.

Q— My sick friend won't be able to complete high school until he is nearly 20. Will he be drafted before he gets out?

A— A young man who is a high school student and satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course shall be deferred in Class I-S for high school study until (1) he is graduated, (2) reaches age 20, or (3) drops out of school, whichever occurs first

Q— I was 24 years old in July. If I become an undergraduate student this fall, will I qualify for the II-S student deferment?

A— No, because you're 24. You will qualify for classification in Class I-S for an academic year if you're ordered for induction while you're a full-time, satisfactory student.

Classroom Teachers Host For Banquet

The annual Get-Acquainted Supper was held for old and new teachers of the Hereford School system Monday night at La Plata Junior High Cafeteria, hosted by the Hereford Classroom Teachers Association. Special guests were school board members administrators, and their wives.

Some 200 people attended the covered dish supper and were entertained by the Garza Brothers, a musical group, Lester and Percy Mays, who gave imitations, and a girl's singing group.

Teachers from all Hereford's schools were present at the event designed as a social gathering in which teachers, board members, administrators and their families can become acquainted.

Mrs. James A. Brown has just returned from an eleven day trip in which she visited her brother and family, T. Boyd Woods, of Victoria, Texas, her son in Austin, Larry Todd and family. (Todd is formerly an Amarillo newscaster on TV), and her father A. C. Woods, at his ranch in Stephenville, where she hunted or fished almost every day. She flew home on a jet, and after arriving at the Amarillo airport, she met Mrs. A. O. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson was on her way to Paris, Texas.

THE TIES THAT BIND

TOKYO. The president of Japan Uniform Center says people who wear neckties, don't like to work. He says they wear them to conform to society.

A major Japanese newspaper interviewed Wajiro Kon on neckties and their introduction to Japan from the west.

Kon was quoted as explaining: "The necktie is worn by people who have no desire to work. The necktie is a yoke that restricts freedom of movement and causes labor efficiency to drop."

He did not elaborate how a dislike for work was linked to the tie.

Because herring sleep on the bottom of the sea in daylight, commercial fishing is done after dark when they rise to the surface to feed. One fisherman increased his catch ten-fold.

The star-spangled street where you live

You can't always see the stars and stripes on the homes and apartments in your neighborhood, but they're there just the same.

A big percentage of American families own U.S. Savings Bonds. Many of these star-spangled families have been buying Bonds since they were first issued 25 years ago.

Altogether, Uncle Sam has sold $150 billion in E and H Bonds. About $100 billion of these have been cashed in for college, retirement, new furniture, emergencies, and down payments for those homes.

Americans still own a nest egg of nearly $50 billion in Bonds for tomorrow's needs. And as the nest egg grows, Uncle Sam uses the dollars to help support our fighting men in Vietnam—and help keep our economy strong.

You can help make Uncle Sam's future, and your own, more secure by joining this star-spangled savings plan. Why not start now? Sign up for Payroll Savings where you work, or buy Bonds regularly at your bank.

PR Director Speaks To Lions

Ed Weber, Public Relations Director for Southwestern Public Service Company from Amarillo spoke to the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at their regular luncheon meeting, outlining some of the mechanics pertaining to the transmission of electricity and told the Lions a few things about the 25 year old company.

Southwestern Public Service Co., Weber said, is a local business because almost all decisions are made on the local level by the local manager and the farthest away one every has to go for information is the Amarillo office. Weber said the company now has 25,000 stockholders and that no one individual or company owns more than 1 per cent of the stock.

It is, he said, an interconnected generating and transmitting system with over 4300 miles of transmission lines. During the talk Weber explained to the Lions some of the reasons for power failures in other areas and pointed out that the local company has enough power in reserve to take care of emergencies. He also pointed out that the organization pays annually more than $33,000 in local taxes, school, county and city.

SS Benefits Also Aid The Young

Many people think social security means only retirement benefits and medicare for older people.

But that is not the whole story according to Bruce Grady, social security field representative. Social security can also mean a lot to younger people. It can help a young disabled worker and his family receive cash benefits. It also can mean monthly checks to young widowed mothers and their children.

Young people earn protection under social security while they

Witnesses To Hold Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses of Altus, Oklahoma are preparing to host to 14 other congregations in circuit assembly, September 29 to October 1.

Buster Templeton, overseer of the Altus Congregation, said they were preparing to accommodate about 500 delegates from Texas in a circuit bounded by Wichita Falls, Haskell and Muleshoe.

Carl Silva, visiting supervisor of the 15 congregations, has been preparing some of the associated ministers for talks, demonstrations and discussions to highlight the theme from Apostle Paul's words, "Walking Orderly by Spirit."

Silva is being transferred from Texas Circuit 9 to another circuit farther south in Texas. Robert N. White will take Silva's place in preparing semi-annual assemblies and visiting the congregations three times a year.

A. A. Catanzaro, Watchtower Society representative over 10 circuits in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will supervise the three-day assembly program and analyze the circuit's ministerial activity offering suggested remedies to bring existing weaknesses up to district and national levels.

District Supervisor, Catanzaro, will give the public talk on Sunday, 3 p. m., "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?"

Whitefaces "Bs" Trim Dimmitt

After watching the varsity rack up Floydada Friday night, the Hereford Whiteface "B" team decided they would do a little racking themselves. The Dimmitt "B" team was the victim and fell 20-12 before the onslaught. Tailback Woody Woodward began the scoring for the Whitefaces by ramming over from about the one-yard line. Tailback Lynn Betts picked up the two points with a run and the locals were never behind. Quarterback Paul Hendon sneaked over from two yards out in the second quarter to put the Whitefaces out of reach, although Dimmitt continued to battle. The Bobcats scored in the second and third periods, but couldn't catch Hereford. Fullback John Frank Martin capped the scoring for the Whitefaces early in the third period when he went in from the three. About 46 Whitefaces — mostly sophomores — played in the game and all received praise from the coaches for their efforts. The team continues its season at 10 a.m. (MST) Saturday when it plays the Portales, N.M. "B" team at Portales. The Junior Varsity is scheduled to begin its season Sept. 23 when Nazareth is visited at 8:30 p.m. Stanton Junior High begins the season at 6 p.m. today when the Dogies take on Canyon in Canyon. La Plata will begin Sept. 21 at 6 p.m. by hosting Canyon.

A three-year probated sentence for Ronnie Underwood, was continued after testimony before Judge Archie McDonald.

Rescheduled for Oct. 9 were the cases of Joe Floyd Umsted, 39, and Bill Hartsfield, 27, both charged with conspiracy in the Feb. 5 burning of the Butcher Boy Market here. From Amarillo, the two are represented by Frank Baughman and Hal Oschner, Amarillo attorneys.

Also reset for Oct. 9 was the case of Ernesto Lira, 32, who is charged with the rape of a 14-year-old Latin American girl on July 15. He will be represented by F. B. Godines of Pharr. Jurymen who were ordered to appear today will not be needed until Oct. 9, said Judge McDonald.

Air Force Marks 20th Anniversary

On the 18th of September, 1947, the United States Air Force was established as the air arm in the defense establishment with the stature of the other military departments. The Hereford Composite Squadron of Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the Air Force, joins in celebrating this 20th anniversary of the creation of a separate Air Force.

The theme of Air Force 20 is Aerospace: people — Progress — Power. People are the foundation upon which the Air Force is built. Progress is the tremendous advances in weapon systems; in the research, technological and industrial bases which produced these weapon systems, in logistic support by which weapon systems are operationally maintained; and, advances in fiscal and management procedures by which the Air Force operates effectively and efficiently.

Power is the product of people and progress. Superior aerospace power in the responsible hands of our government has repeatedly demonstrated its value to our national security and the security of free nations everywhere.

Experience in global war had convinced many military leaders, as well as the American people and their Congress, that a separate organization should be established to specialize in air operations at all levels of warfare. The purpose of the law setting up separate military departments of land, sea and air operations was to achieve peak combat effectiveness with greatest economy through specialization and unified control.

The Air Force specialty is the development and employment of aerospace power. Because of the specialized training and experience of its people and the nature of its facilities, the Air Force has a particular competence to supply the nation with the primary air and space capabilities it needs. The Air Force provides the nation's primary capability to maintain general aerospace supremacy and thus support our policy of deterring every intensity of conflict; defend the United States against aerospace attack; control vital aerospace areas; conduct strategic and tactical aerospace warfare against selected enemy targets if deterrence fails; furnish tactical air support for the ground forces; provide logistical support including airlift, support and resupply of airborne and ground support operations such as strategic and tactical reconnaissance and meteorology study; meet the major space requirements of the Department of Defense; provide research, development, test and engineering of satellites, boosters, space probes and associated systems necessary to support specific projects and programs arising under basic agreements between the Department of Defense and NASA. However, no matter how much is said about the wonder of new weapon systems, the common denominator is and always will be, the men who develop and make them work.

Training for an Air Force career is not easily achieved nor cheaply bought. The service requires a continuing and dependable supply of men educated in the traditions of national service and trained to the ready acceptance of great responsibilities and to the discipline which such responsibilities place upon them.

The Hereford Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol seeks to aid the Air Force in some of its basic military discipline, history and traditions of the Air Force and the moral-patriotic basis of national service. Cadets also can earn their private pilot's license within two years of their active participation in CAP training.

ONE POINT LANDING — One of the jumpers participating in the parachute jumps Sunday at the skydiving show in the Easter community appeared to be headed for a rough landing, but he came out unscathed. There was one injury, however, in the more than 70 jumps made by the daredevils. More than 1,500 persons attended the show, which was sponsored by the Easter Lions Club.

Will Accept Paving Bids

Deaf Smith County Commissioners voted during their regular meeting Monday to accept bids for the paving of approximately three-fourths of a mile on the road which connects 15th Street with Progressive Road in northeast Hereford.

Bids for the project, which will include 3,961 feet of paving, will be received until 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 25. They will be opened during the commission meeting that day. The project is listed in detail in a legal advertisement in this issue of the Brand.

Commissioners discussed briefly a letter from Sam Nunnally inquiring whether bar ditches could be sprayed with a new, cheaper chemical. The idea, commissioners said, was good, but they cannot do it because the chemical would not work too well since water runs so much in bar ditches and the spraying also may hurt crops near the ditches.

"I think we will be able to do this in the future," said Marcus Latham. He added that "I do feel we should set up some kind of program and experiment with killing them." Action on the spraying was tabled.

In other action, commissioners discussed tax evaluations with Donald Henslee, transferred $10,000 from the general fund to the officers fund, and studied the monthly fire report, which showed that there were 19 fires during August — 16 in the city and three in the country.

Members of the board who will complete their terms within two to three years are W. G. Albracht, F. L. Eicke, Andrew Kershen, Gary Mason, and Tony Hoffman.

The meeting was held for the purpose of informing the stockholders and members of the condition of the corporation and of the events of the past twelve months. An audit report by Bill Sands of Merriman & Co., of Lubbock, was heard.

Other visitors speaking to the members included Truman Miller, president of Producer's Grain Corp. of Amarillo, Bob Booth, public relations department of that company, and Jack Cain of Southern Supply Co. of Amarillo.

Area Teams Play

Hereford opponents, and District 1-AAA members in particular, caused a few raised eyebrows during weekend play as they won easily, were beaten just as easily, squeaked by or tied.

Most pleasing to local fans was the 41-6 victory by the White faces over the Floydada Whirlwinds. In that game, the six touchdowns scored by the Herd included two by fleet Halfback Gary Goodin and one each by Halfback Elgin Williams, End Lenny Petree, Guard — Randy Kriegshauser and defensive half back Donnie Fangman. The 85-yard punt return by Goodin was the longest punt return by an area football player last week.

In other games involving District 1-AAA teams, Perryton looked strong in a 21-0 win over Class AAAA Pampa; Tulia nudged Class AAA Vernon 14-13; Muleshoe barely beat Class AA Dimmitt 14-13; Dumas fought Class AAA Amarillo Palo Duro to a 9-0 tie, and Canyon was slaughtered by Class AA Phillips 65-0.

This week, Hereford will be at Class AA Olton; Dumas goes to Pampa; Canyon hosts Levelland; Muleshoe goes to Littlefield; Perryton entertains Woodward, Okla., and Tulia will be at Floydada.

The results of games Friday night involving other Hereford opponents later this season included Monahans winning over Alpine, 39-0; Hale Center beating Post 40-6, and Olton winning over Morton 41-0.

FHA Chapters Include Guests At First Meet

All chapters of the Future Homemakers of America, from Hereford High School Stanton and LaPlata Junior Highs met together for the first time this school term at high school home making rooms Monday evening.

Parents of the students and civic club presidents of the city were invited as guests. Theme of the program was Memory Days; each activity of the FHA last term was portrayed in a skit with Cindy Lea as narrator.

Roberta Albracht president of Royal Rose chapter presided and welcomed guests. Joyce Benzner is president of Chapter 1. Junior High chapters have not yet elected officers.

The next FHA activity will be a salad supper to be served as a fund-raising project Sept. 22 before the Hereford-Springlake football game. It will be in HHS cafeteria with the public invited.

TWO JURISDICTIONS AT DAVE'S PLACE

BELEN, N. M. — At Dave's Tavern in Belen, the patrons dance in the county and drink in the town.

This is because the city limits line runs through the middle of the tavern with the bar section inside the city and the dance hall in the county.

This hadn't bothered anyone until recently.

Burglars broke into the dance hall and went through it to cross the city-county line and rob the bar. This left Belen Police Chief Felix Quintana and Valencia County Sheriff Jack Elkins with a question of jurisdiction.

They solved it by having Quintana investigate the crime. He made duplicate reports to Sheriff Elkins.

SUBS ARE COOL AND QUIET

YORK, Pa. — In a submarine, noise levels must be held to an absolute minimum, since vibration interferes with the sub's sonar system and can lead to detection by enemy vessels. Also, a submarine would have to surface if its supply of conditioned air were cut off.

To insure smooth performance, engineers have developed an electric forecasting method to test each submarine air conditioning unit before installation. By "listening" to the units in operation, engineers of Borg-Warner's York Division can tell whether each unit will meet the Navy's exacting standards over a prolonged period.

Engineers also have adapted the same technique to test air conditioners that will be used in homes, offices and stores.

In Cambodia, a funeral is a festive affair. There are days of feasting and dancing, and the climax is reached when a torch ignites the funeral pyre. Then fireworks explode, filling the sky with flares, pinwheels and blinding splashes.

Gifford-Hill Fetes Employees With Banquet

Two years without a lost time accident were noted by employees and guests of Gifford-Hill Western Monday night at a banquet held at the Caison House.

Speaking to the group were J. D. "Pete" Nash, Division Manager of Gifford-Hill Western; Bruce Spencer, Executive Vice President, Newton Vance, Regional Sales Manager, both from Lubbock, and Safety Director Earl Hitt of Dallas. Attending the banquet also were guests from Plainview and Farwell.

Some sixty people were present to note the event and to view movies on safety presented by Hitt. Games of Bingo were played later in the evening.

Chamber Group Attends Confab

The group, including Dudley Bayne, Neil Cooper, Harlan Vanderzee, Jerry Detwiler and Thompson left this morning at 6 a. m. and will be home in time for the football game tomorrow night, according to Thompson.

Olin Parris of Whiteface Aviation will fly the group to College Station and will also attend the conference while there.

Tompkins To Be Meeting Speaker

Jack Tompkins, farm editor of KFDD-TV in Amarillo, will be speaker during the regular meeting of the Hereford Young Farmers at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Hereford Community Center.

L. D. Taylor, vice president, said the meeting also will serve as a membership drive since the organization will be trying to enlist new members.

The Young Farmers meet twice a month, the first meeting being a business session on the first Thursday of each month and the second meeting on the third Tuesday including speakers and entertainment. Clark Andrews is president of the organization.

Two-Week Visit Downstate Begins

Mrs. A. O. Thompson left Tuesday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Margaret Hayes, in Paris, Tex. Mrs. Hayes, who recently moved to Paris from Phoenix, Ariz., is recovering from a broken hip and shoulder.

After her visit in Paris, Mrs. Thompson will go to Kerrville for a board meeting of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs Sept. 25 and 26. She is state chairman of the department of music service in the community. Her club membership is in the Music Study Club of Hereford.

Protest Dam On Palo Duro

AUSTIN—Action on an application by J.R. Hickman of Hereford to build a dam on Palo Duro Creek was postponed Tuesday until March 12 following three protests against Hickman's application.

Hickman is proposing construction of the dam to catch runoff along the Palo Duro Creek and use the water to irrigate his land.

The City of Amarillo filed a protest that the dam would intercept enough water to impair the water rights of the city. Also filing protests were Harold D. Harris of Lubbock and Mrs. Ruth Conkwright Allison of Hereford. Harrison proposes building an acre-foot dam on the creek and Mrs. Allison claims that Hickman's dam would dry up a lake down stream which serves as her water supply.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I can't believe that the Brand needs money so badly that you would run an ad such as the one regarding topless waitresses. I found it very distasteful.
Mrs. Rita Hoffman

Dear Editor:
I wish to express my disappointment and shock at the improper advertisement you allowed to be printed in the Hereford Brand for topless waitresses in a Clovis, N. M. Lounge. Such lack of Christian principle, the very foundation of the whole community.
Theresa Kubacak

Dear Editor:
I would like to register my objection as a private citizen to your publishing advertisements calling for our local young ladies to enter the "top-less" set. Such advertising does not contribute to the moral well being of our community. I hope that this will be the last time that you will stoop to such a low level.
Pray that you will realize more your responsibility in handling our local news media, I am.
Fr. Aedan Davis, S. A.

Dear Editor:
I am sure, if you were asked, you would say that your paper upholds all that is true and good; that your paper is concerned with the moral welfare of the community and is totally opposed to anything that is degrading to the human person. That is why I must ask you why in the name of all that is good you allow such degrading and degenerate type in advertising in regard to topless waitresses to occur in your paper.
Father Timothy MacDonald, S. A.

Editor:
In reading the want ads in this morning paper, I noticed an ad there-in from Clovis, N. M., that seems to be pretty degrading to your newspaper.
It seems that a paper that ads would not accept an ad from a place that makes a living out of selling liquor and half naked women.
Hoping you keep your paper clean of this type of advertisement, also a little cleaner movie ads.
Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Koenig.

Editor:
In the last five years that I have lived in this prosperous community of Hereford, nothing has stirred me. Everyone seems to be happy-go-lucky people, doing the thing they enjoy most, mainly farming. About the only business left with any moral standards.

Armstrong
505 W. Park
364-1868

But Sunday, the tenth day of September, 1967, I had the misfortune to pick up the Sunday Brand. In the want ad section, bigger than heck, you, the editor, had the guts to publish nothing but Trash for some Topless pigs to work in Clovis.
Man, if you have to stoop that low to make money for your paper, I think you should resign your position as editor.
Kenneth Artho

Dear Editor:
I had not realized that The Brand was in such financial straits that it was necessary to take any advertisements. Rather than ads for Topless waitresses, may I suggest an offering from your friends to keep the paper going!
Gene Brink

I was very disappointed in that you allowed such an improper advertisement in your newspaper as the ad calls for topless waitresses from 21 to 29 to serve in a Clovis restaurant. I hope that no such ad will ever appear in this community newspaper again.
Mrs. Wm. Ohlig

Dear Editor:
The following members of our club seriously object to the advertisement you published in the Sept. 7th issue of the Brand under "want ads" as regards topless waitresses in Clovis, N. M. We understand that you have a policy of not accepting advertisements for "strong drink." What kind of a double standard permitted you to accept this degrading advertisement from Clovis? We all enjoy our home town paper's fine coverage of the news, but we are amazed that you should contribute to the decay of our society by running such ads as that filth from Clovis.
Hoping that the above referred to ad will be the last piece of trash to be seen in your paper, we are,
Sincerely,
Tyler Vance, Tommy Betzen, Ralph Loerwald, Joyce Bezner, Mary Ellen Marnell, Robert Drerup, Donald Vasek, Weldon Knabe, Rodney Herr, Jim Loerwald, Roberta Albracht, Sheila Hamilton, Carla Stengel, Rose Mary Scheetz, Chris Loerwald, Jane Wiekowski, Jan Turrentine, Mary Jane Kriegshauser, Teresa McAndrews, Sandy Betzen, Jane Bezner, Rose Mary Fangman, Mary Brinkman, Mary Alice Burrus, Carmen Malouf, Karen Jesko, Mary Husmann, Dolores Betzen, Joann Sciumbato, Juanita Reinart, Evelyn Kuper, Rita Schumacher, Barbara Huckert, Mary Ellen Huckert, Janie Reinart, Linda Kleuskens, Cissie Reinauer, Jane Zinser, Phyllis Reinart,

Editor:
Having just read Ted Dakil's Letter to the Editor, I too will have to express my sincere disappointment in Mr. Dakil's judgement of improper advertisement. Does he not read the want ads and the section entitled "For Rent?" Would you not call "For Whites Only" improper advertising too?
I hope that Mr. Dakil will, in the very near future, begin to use a little more proper judgement in his criticism of what is right and what is wrong in advertising if something like "For Whites Only" is allowed. Should not "Topless Waitress" advertisements be allowed? Do we live in a country where freedom of speech for everyone reigns or not?

Read The Classified Ads Today.
PORNOGRAPHY, of any nature, has no place in our local community. The two classified ads in The Brand requesting interviews for topless waitresses for a Clovis lounge is a type of pornography, whether one wishes to admit it or not. I'm sure you would not publish a picture of the applicants, but the fact that your paper accepted such ad (for a fee, I feel sure) shocks and disappoints me—and many others, I am sure.
I have noticed that the activities of our Youth Clubs, such as 4-H, F. H. A., Little League, have not been receiving the attention or recognition in The Brand that they deserve (as well as their sponsors), and it behooves me to think that the price of a commercial ad, such as published twice within a week, would make such a difference. Delinquency is something we must repel, children and adults alike; and such an ad or public notice is no way of doing it.
I thought the first ad may have gotten by you, without your attention, but am dismayed that it was repeated after the harm was done, of course.
Kindly consider the repulsion this ad has caused in our community to all good-thinking people.
Genevieve Guseman

TOP WINNERS — Don Prigmore of Lubbock watches closely as Buddy Hamilton of Amarillo digs out near the edge of the green for a short shot in the weekend Hereford Invitational Tournament. Hamilton defeated Prigmore on the third hole of a playoff to settle second place. Otis Gollighugh of Amarillo, putting at right, finished in a three-way tie for second place but lost out on the second hole of the play-off. Don Kaplan of Guymon, Okla., won the tournament.

Kaplan Takes First In Hereford Tournament

Don Kaplan of Guymon, Okla., fired a 135 — seven under par — to take first place in the Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament which was held Saturday and Sunday at the John Pitman Golf Course.

Kaplan, a former professional, carded a round of 66 on the opening day and shot 69 during the windy session Sunday, to win his first tournament since regaining amateur status.

Close behind Kaplan, who was presented a $100 gift certificate, were three golfers with identical scores of 138. They were Buddy Hamilton of Amarillo, Don Prigmore of Lubbock and Otis Gollighugh of Amarillo. Gollighugh had the lead after the first day with a 65.

To settle the three-way tie, a sudden death playoff was held. Gollighugh shot four on the second hole and was eliminated, as the other two players had three each. Hamilton got another three on the next hole, but Prigmore had a four and Hamilton was declared second place winner and awarded the $60 gift certificate. Prigmore, the defending champion, got a 40 gift certificate.

Jim Young of Hereford shot rounds of 66 and 76 to finish in fifth place in the tournament. Other scores in the championship flight included Dick Dyer of Dimmitt, 72 and 72 for 144; Conrad Young of Lubbock, 70 and 75 for 145; Steve Hendon of Hereford, 70 and 75 for 145; Neil Duffy of Lubbock, 76 and 71 for 147; Larry Kaplan of Borger, 70 and 78 for 148; Bobby Scott of Amarillo, 73 and 76 for 149; Jack Keith, 73 and 76 for 149; Ken Bailey of Amarillo, 75 and 75 for 150; Rusty Fuqua of Amarillo, 74 and 77 for 151; Burns Hamilton of Hereford, 74 and 78 for 152; and Ken Gowdy, 75 and 77 for 152.

Winners of the different flights in the tournament received gift certificates which included $50 for first place; $30 for second and $20 for third. Winners were:

Theatre Career Spans Half Century For Hardwick

Commuted To Operate Movies

Francis Hardwick, a man always in a hurry, was a weekend resident of Hereford for two years before making his permanent residence here in 1947. Born in Kansas, reared in New Mexico, and transplanted to Texas, Hardwick is a well known figure on Hereford's Main Street. Active in several organizations, with little time for hobbies, recollections of his youth are as exciting as stories of the old west.

Hardwick's father, E. F. "Gene" Hardwick came to the Roswell area on an excursion train in 1898, along with a party of others to look over the land. Stopping at what is now the community of Summerfield, he bought that section from the train and leaving the area the next week, sold the same section at the same place. Hardwick went on to the newly opened Indian Territory in Oklahoma making three trips and acquiring land on each trip. Coming back to the Roswell area, he moved his family there in 1902, and entered public life as an inkeeper.

While living in Roswell, between 1910 and 1915, Hardwick opened theatres, a novelty for that part of the country at the time. Operating one theatre on Saturday afternoons, he built and operated another in a vacant lot between the theatre and another building. Called the Air-dome, the theatre boasted of night-time open air movies of silent films. The theatre was rectangular, and enclosed by a high wooden fence. Benches served its patrons as seats, with a projection booth located in the rear. No concessions or refreshments were sold. The theatre was suitable for good weather performances only, and could be called the pioneer granddaddy of the modern drive in theatre or amphitheatre.

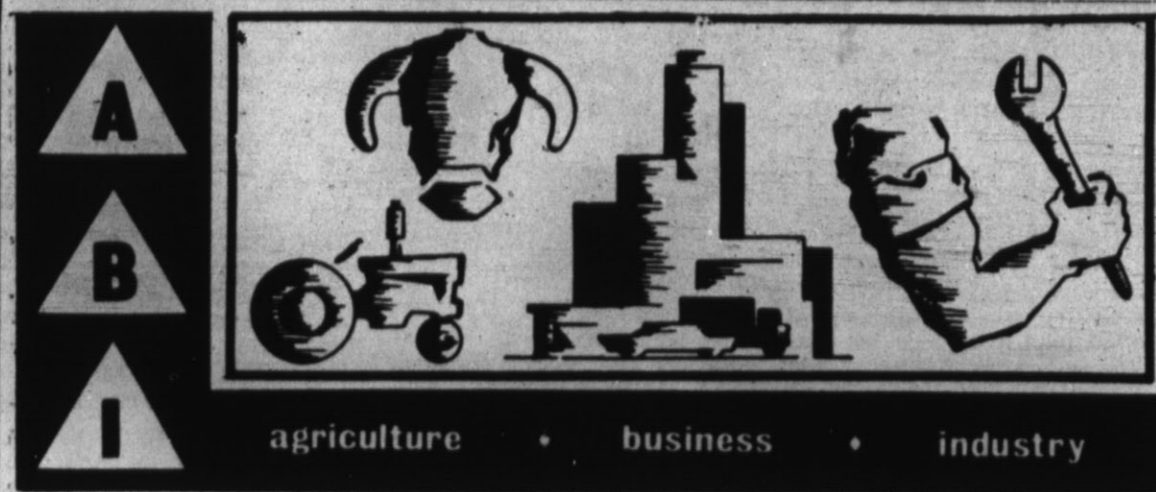

Francis Hardwick, as a small boy, had a variety of chores, the earliest of which was to awaken traveling salesman, overnight guests at his father's hotel, in plenty of time to catch trains leaving town.

At eleven years, he began his career in the retail end of the motion picture industry at the bottom rung of the ladder. Known to some people as "custodian superintendent" or "maintenance engineer," Hardwick called his job "Just plain janitor." His duties were the keeping of the theatre and the distribution of handbills, the best form of show advertising at that time. These duties were paid on a contract basis, a proposition TAKEN ABOUT 1905, Francis Hardwick gets a drink from an early day "concession stand". Hardwick's father entered the theatre business in about 1915 in the Clovis area.

SECTION TWO HEREFORD, TEXAS, 79045, THURS., SEPT. 14, 1967

between Hardwick and his father. Hardwick recalls times when the chores were too much for one person, and on those occasions, he hired boys to help him, and paid them out of his own wages.

Coming on up the ladder, at age 13 he was entrusted with the operation of projection machines still complicated machinery even for silent movies. He describes this ascension as a necessity, because it was occasionally necessary to take over their operation from a sometimes inebriated and more than undependable projectionist.

At age 15, Hardwick was made house manager of the theatre, seeing to the numerous jobs necessary to keeping a theatre running smoothly. His job included the recruitment, training, and supervision of personnel, a job uncommon for so young a man, even then.

The Hardwick family moved to what is now Clovis in 1915. Recalling the past, Hardwick related that the country was little more than prairie then, with only a few towns scattered along the way, and they were small. The family maintained residence in Clovis for quite a few years, with the elder Hardwick again being in the public service business.

The Star Theatre in Hereford was purchased in 1920, and run by Hardwick's sons. Francis Hardwick came over on weekends to run the show, catching the train at Clovis on Friday afternoon and leaving again on Sunday morning. The trip by train required about an hour, according to Hardwick, but the same trip by car in that year would have necessitated several hours on unimproved roads. After about a year of commuting, the theatre was sold.

Operating a ranch near Clovis was Francis Hardwick's next occupation, one that kept him busy until he moved to Hereford in 1947. After having one year of college at Kansas A&M, in 1923 and 24, with emphasis on agriculture, he began farming some 3000 acres and running 500 head of mother cows on 24,000 acres of grassland.

It was while he was looking after the ranch that he met his wife, who was visiting in Clovis from her home in California. Dorothy, the daughter of one of the pioneer families of eastern New Mexico, and Hardwick were married in 1925, and made their home on the ranch.

Hardwick remembers the ranch life well, and has memories of searches for stolen cattle. He recalls one incident when he rode horseback around the property for two days, armed with a rifle, looking for cattle that had been stolen. He admits that to this day he hasn't found those cows. Also included in the memories of those days were hired hands on the ranch who wouldn't think of even going out to milk without carrying a gun on his person.

During the depression, Hardwick raised and fed cattle on a per-pound-gain basis, in much the same manner as feed lots are operated in this area today. When asked his thoughts about the future of the Hereford area at that time, he admits that he never thought the area would boom. He considered the land suitable for the raising of cattle, and never imagined it would become rich, irrigated farmland.

In 1937 the sons and daughters of "Gene" Hardwick, doing business as Hardwick Brothers, and R. E. Griffith formed a partnership and bought the Star and Texas Theatres in Hereford. Finding himself in the management of theatres once more, Hardwick again commuted to and from Clovis on weekends, actively superintending both the theatre and ranch. From 1945 until 1947 the theatre was managed by other persons. In 1947 it was necessary for reasons of health for Hardwick to give up the ranch and move to Hereford, at which time he devoted himself full time to the theatres.

The drive-in was built in the fall of 1949, and opened in the spring of '50. It was destroyed by fire in 1957, and rebuilt again shortly thereafter. In 1962, all three theatres, the Star, Texas, and the drive-in were put under a manager, and Hardwick devoted his time to other interests in Hereford. In 1965 he again resumed the management and has worked at it steadily since that time.

Hardwick is and has been active in several organizations, among these the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, serving as president in 1948 and the Hereford Rotary Club of which he served as president during the 1958-59 Rotary year. Hardwick is a long time member of Rotary and helped through this organization, to establish the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism. He now serves the latter organization as a member of the board of directors.

Now holding an appointive post in the Presbyterian Church, Hardwick admits that other than these activities, he has little time for hobbies. He is almost always found in his office on the second floor of the theatre, and is often sighted each night about dusk on his way to the drive in theatre in order to get the show running on time.

JAMES CASH PENNEY, shown above with a cane that he uses "just-to please the doctors", will celebrate his 92nd birthday Saturday. Mr. Penney, who fully expects to reach the century mark, is especially proud of the above cane, loaned to him for life by a collector of objects once owned by Benjamin Franklin. The cane was especially made for and carried by Franklin. It is in dark wood with a silver handle, and is inscribed "B. Franklin, 1785." The rubber tip is a modern addition. Mr. Penney, who has not been involved in direct management of the Company for many years, yet he continues to serve as a director and is deeply interested in the firm's continued progress.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Girlstown Is Hobby

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A full-time job, Mrs. Viola Williams calls her volunteer work for Girlstown USA, and the energetic Hereford woman's interest in the residence home for girls has grown into just that in the three years she has been working to aid it.

ONE OF GIRLSTOWN'S MOST enthusiastic backers, she has been made a member of its board of advisors this year, after serving as its representative to Deaf Smith County.

Whenever I work at anything, I want to do my best to meet its needs," she says. "I've talked to people here in Hereford about Girlstown, and asked for their help so often, they know what I want when they see me coming!"

Her efforts have resulted in truckloads of food, clothing and other necessities being sent each year from Hereford to the home near Whiteface.

"RIGHT NOW THERE is a carload of clothes and food in my garage, waiting for my next trip down there, and I take about as much whenever I go. People know how what is needed, and they bring things here to the house constantly," she explains.

Visits to Girlstown are frequent occurrences for Mrs. Williams and she often brings girls who reside there, one at a time or in groups, home with her for visits. Sometimes a homesick girl or one who has been ill needs special mothering, she feels, and sometimes she thinks a trip would be worth while just for fun — for the girls or for herself.

This week she is at the new Girlstown annex near Borger, where land and buildings recently given to the girls' home are being occupied for the first time. She is helping a house-mother and seven of the younger girls get settled, start to school and feel at home in the new surroundings.

GIRLS AT THE HOME, who almost all come from broken or disturbed homes, vary in age from 5 to 16 years. Mrs. Williams likes to explain. This year two are in their second year of college, one is a college freshman and one in a school of hairdressing.

Because she spends so much of her time on trips to Girlstown and on errands concerned with the girls, Mrs. Williams uses short-cuts in homemaking duties and cooking.

Just for herself or for a group of girls who are visiting, she likes to prepare chicken in a quick-and-easy oven dish which is delicious served hot, or keeps well in the refrigerator.

OVEN-COOKED CHICKEN
Cut up a large fryer, coat each piece well with vegetable oil and then roll in cheese-cracker crumbs.

Place in a baking dish; put in an oven pre-heated to 250 degrees and bake about an hour and a half.

Served with a tossed salad and a dessert, this makes a good meal, or it may be served as the main dish for a company dinner with potatoes, vegetables salad and dessert.

TINY OF STATURE, Mrs. Williams has white hair above lively dark eyes to make a striking contrast with the bright colors she likes to wear. She was born near McLoud, Okla., when it was a part of Indian Territory, but "I'm Irish, not Indian," she avers.

Her family moved to Texas when she was four years old and she grew up at Burkburnett. While she was a student at Deatur Baptist College her parents moved to Denton. There she attended CIA, now Texas Women's University, until her marriage.

A resident of this area since 1929, she went to Amarillo when her daughter was a student in nursing school there, and remained for a number of years as a saleslady in womens shops. She was an employee of a store here for some time also.

Nine years ago she became a member of Cultural Home Demonstration Club and has served as officer, committed worker and delegate to the County H. D. Council. She has also been a council officer and is now recreation chairman.

She has enjoyed attending state and national H.D. Association meetings, and this summer went to the national convention in North Dakota.

A longtime hobby of Mrs. Williams' is china painting; she still studies and paints and has numerous pieces of her work in her home in addition to many she has made as gifts.

She has a 125-piece dinner set which she painted in the 1920's, in a stylized design which she says is now outmoded. A newer piece is a coffee table with top made of ceramic blocks in a rose design and gold border.

She enjoys work in her yard and cultivates some vegetables along with flowers in her backyard. At present she is harvesting fine tomatoes from her own vines.

Her children are Mrs. Tillie Miller of Hereford, who has two daughters, and Fred C. Williams who lives in California and has a teenage daughter.

Pioneer Club Members Reviews Book At Lunch

Review of Stewart Udall's book, The Quiet Crisis, by Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. featured the program on conservation which began a new year for Pioneer Study Club Tuesday. The meeting was at a luncheon in the Hickory Log Restaurant.

A substantial cash gift to Girlstown was voted in the business period with Mrs. Delmar Sigle presiding. Assistance to the girls' residence home at Whiteface has been given by the club in various ways in past years.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, program chairman, presented yearbooks which outline the 1967-68 program with the theme, A Forward Look — A Backward Glance, to be followed by the club which has been active in Hereford since 1909.

Luncheon hostesses, Mrs. Johnson, Paul Rudd and Fred Barrett, decorated tables with wide arrangements of roses in varied pink and yellow shades.

Mrs. Mary Seigler opened the program with a meditation based on the tradition of the rose as an emblem of love. Mrs. Rudd, the club chairman of conservation, presented Mrs. Hill a club member, for the interesting review.

She quoted the author's statement, "Each generation must deal anew with the waste of natural resources," and his thesis that the "myth of superabundance" has been responsible for much waste of American resources.

Succeeding chapters she sketched began with the description of the Indians' use of land before white men settled America, early American land and settlement, nineteenth century "raids on resources" by hunters, land giveaway frauds, machines, mining and oil drilling.

Work of conservationists which began soon after the Civil War was traced, and mentioned the names of George P. Marsh, Gifford Pinchot, John Muir, Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and others. Now the chief problems are pollution of air, land and water which effect cities, she said, and the book closes with discussion of a land ethic for tomorrow.

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot spoke of Beautification As Conservation, and gave suggestions for September planting which will result in spring bloom. She emphasized effective use of bulbs for spring bloom, since sale of bulbs is a club project continued from past years.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough reported on bulb sales and reminded members that now is the time for planting — and selling.

Other members present were Mrs. Frank Ball, Allen Bell, D. K. Brook, Burl France, N. E. Gass, J. M. Gilliland, Henry Hastings, W. C. Hromas, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., H. E. Miller, John Patton, Wirt Phillips, J. V. Pickens, M. L. Simpson, P. B. Sowell, Bess Werner, R. L. Wilson and William Wimberley.

Past Presidents Usher In Year

In an annual custom which started in 1930, past presidents of the Music Study Club preceded the regular club year with a luncheon Monday noon honoring the new president, Mrs. R. C. Godwin, at the home of Mrs. Jesse Stanford whose term was in 1957-59.

Recalling some highlights of the past, Mrs. C. J. Mountz, club historian who was president for the 1935-37 term, said the past presidents organized in 1930 and joined the National Federation of Music Clubs in 1944.

Mrs. H. K. Fox, retiring president, presided Monday, extending a welcome to members at the opening of a season and especially to Mrs. Godwin, beginning a two-year term succeeding Mrs. Bill Bradley.

Mrs. W. T. Carmichael was elected to head the past presidents for the coming year, with Mrs. J. C. McCracken as vice president, Mrs. Alex Thompson treasurer and Mrs. Mountz secretary. Members voted to continue meetings in homes of members.

A covered dish luncheon was served to those named and Mrs. Ray Conaway, J. D.

Neill, W. E. Dameron, B. Y. Crosthwaite, A. J. Schroeter, S. O. Wilson and T. W. Roberson.

Past presidents not present are Mrs. J. R. Allison, Mrs. Ellis Combs, Mrs. C. H. Dillehay who now lives in Bonham, and Mrs. Howard Close whose home is now in Lubbock.

The club will begin a year of study and music Sept. 25, with a Federation Day luncheon at the Caison House. Hospitality committee members, Mmes. Dale Young, Joe Frank Clark, Steve Clements, D. W. Palmer and Crosthwaite, will be hostesses.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank those who were so generous in giving us vegetables and fruits to be served at the Harvest Dinner. To those who came to share with us the joy we have in the preparation and serving of this meal, we also want to express our gratitude.

We are looking forward to this occasion again next year.

AT COMPLIMENTARY TEA — Mrs. Mrs. Melvin Cordray, Mrs. Wheeler Percy Rosenow, Miss Odessa Rosenow, Sears.

Visiting Bride-Elect Is Introduced At Tea

Introducing an attractive bride-to-be to friends of her parents here, a tea Saturday afternoon complimented Miss Odessa Rosenow, whose marriage to George Eddie will take place Sept. 16 in Bismarck, N. D.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rosenow, who moved to Hereford earlier this year from Hardin, Mont. She is a student in Montana State University at Bozeman, and attended the summer sessions. Her fiancé is a graduate of that school.

Mrs. Melvin Cordray's home, 125 Kingwood, was the scene of the tea. Mrs. S. F. Clements and Mrs. Francis W. Hill were other hostesses.

Mrs. Wheeler Sears poured tea as approximately 45 guests called during the tea hours.

Pink roses in a silver bowl and matching candles in silver sticks centered the lace cloth which covered the table. Other roses and early fall blossoms lent color to the rooms.

The Rosenow family left Wednesday for Bismarck, where the wedding ceremony will be read in St. George Episcopal Church. The couple will be at home in Bozeman immediately afterward.

Leftover baked beans in the refrigerator? Add lots of diced celery to them (for crispness) and a little minced onion. Use with brown bread for sandwiches.

Old Drug Store Set For Party

An old-fashioned soda fountain arranged in the dining room of the Ed Warren home dominated unique decorations for Lone Star Study Club's first fall meeting Tuesday afternoon, a Coke party with the hostesses in caps and jackets of "soda skeets".

Other departments of the old corner drug store were typified in the rooms where an informal program was given. Yearbook committee members, Mmes. Vivian Major, Bruce Brown and Warren, were the hostesses.

Staging "man on the street" interviews with members as they arrived, Mrs. Major secured tape recordings in which each told of the highlight of her summer vacation. These were played back at roll call time.

A mock drawing for prizes produced a "prize" for each member, her 1967-68 yearbook. Mrs. Major briefly reviewed programs outlined for the season. Mrs. Brown read two poems, Edgar A Guest's "Fall Poem" and a humorous number titled "Boy's Essay on the Goose".

Mrs. Hardy Benson, new president, directed a business session in which Mrs. Jim Book-out reported on a shower given before the club dismissed last spring, for a girl sponsored by Lone Star Club at Gristown.

Others registering were a guest, Mrs. N. D. Bartlett III of Lubbock, and Mmes. J. J. Durham, Robert Thompson, R. G. Blue, Thelma Chisum, Coy Phillips, Guy Newsom, S. A. McCathera, Homer Henslee, C. D. Kelton, Mevin Cordray, Olen Caviness, Virgil Dodson, Rcy Suit, Jim Higgins, and Floyd Dunavant.

REPORT

The first meeting of the WA-CAN-KI-YA Campfire group met last Monday September 11 at the home of Mrs. Winona Seyfert. Officers were elected for the new year. They were: President, Becky London; Secretary-Treasurer, Elizabeth Lyons; Reporter, Nancy Barrett.

The main subject of discussion was concerning the candy that will be sold in November of this year, and the group worked on their Fire Makers rank in order to complete it at the end of this year.

BY SUE COLEMAN
WOMEN'S EDITOR

Well, there are curtains and a window shade up on the new window in my bedroom, but it was no simple task to get them there. First, the window is new because it replaced a door that wasn't needed, and the carpenter naturally didn't leave things too tidy.

AFTER THE SHAVINGS were swept up an old pair of curtains, no relation to the curtains on the other windows, were hastily hung to serve temporarily, and temporary became a pretty long time. It took a day or two to remember, when there was time, to measure the window for a shade.

When the yardstick was finally located, it seemed like a good idea to measure that dining room shelf unit which was in the way after winter fires are lighted, and see if it would fit on the other side of the room. It did, so it had to be moved.

Some of the bric-a-brac on it really needed to be put in the buffet shelves, and there was room for it when a couple of items were taken out and put in a closet, where they fit all-right now that some old magazines are in the garage.

I CAN'T BEAR to discard magazines, so they go in a box to be taken out to Casa de Amigos and passed on to someone else.

The box was too big for just the magazines, and the clothes closet really needed to be checked for used clothing which may as well go to a rummage sale. It left a vacancy which was just right for some warmer dresses needed to wear to work these cool days, so they were dug out of storage.

That pretty well took care of the evening, but the window did get measured and the shade was bought next day. Only another day was required to hang it, first moving a small table when had been tried as a possible piece of furniture in front of the window, and bringing the step-stool from the kitchen.

CURTAINS TO GO permanently on that window had to be taken from the dining room window, for reasons which we won't go into here, but they do match others in the bedroom. That left a shortage in the dining room which was bridged by putting a half-curtain above the evaporative cooler. It was available, but had to be hemmed to the proper length.

And when the sewing machine was pulled out, there was no reason for not sewing up a couple of rips in a housecoat and mending a pillow case which had been stacked on the sewing basket for some time.

OH YES, while the step-stool was in the bedroom was a good time to get up to that high shelf of the closet and put the luggage straight instead of somewhat crosswise where it had been pushed after the last trip.

After that it took only a minute to shift the curtain rods to the proper curtains, and there they were!

Do you suppose there is anybody else in the world who gets into so many inconvenient angles trying to get one ordinary chore done?

WHEN THE BIRTH of Amy and John Gilliland's son was reported about two weeks ago, his name had not been listed on the hospital records and so was not in the paper.

His father informs me that the young man is most remarkable, smart and handsome, and guess who wants everybody to know that the name is John Matt Gilliland II? And don't blame him. We've already made an appointment to take a father-and-son picture next Father's Day.

WHEN AN AMARILLO youth group gave the rousing patriotic program, Sing Out America, to wide approval here lately, I hope a lot of people were remembering that the same show provided the program for this year's Camp Fire Girl father-daughter night and that a lot of Hereford girls can sing those songs and say the speeches with the same heartfelt love of country.

It's a good show to see more than once, and it's fine that the visitors were brought here to present it, but I just hadn't heard any mention of it being the same one the local girls did, and think that ought not to be overlooked.

Daytime Duplicate Play Set At Weekly Sessions

Daytime play each week for duplicate bridge enthusiasts will begin at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, at Community Center, with all interested bridge players in the area invited.

These weekly games will be in addition to customary Thursday evening bridge nights at Community Center, and are planned for the convenience of residents who cannot play in evenings. They are open to any who wish to take part, women or men.

Each is to bring a sack lunch, and coffee will be served. Play will continue until about 3 p. m. Further information may be obtained by telephone calls to Mrs. Francis W. Hill or Mrs. Dick Gholson.

At last Thursday evening's session, John E. McCleskey was elected as the Hereford representative on the board of the Top of Texas District, American Contraception Bridge League.

No local games are scheduled next Thursday, date for beginning of the annual Sectional Duplicate Bridge Tournament at Amarillo Sept. 21-24. Several from Hereford will enter that event.

Mrs. F. W. Hill is a defending champion as a member of the winning team of four in last year's tourney. She and Mrs. Russell Carver are ranked as Life Masters by the ACBL, the highest rating for bridge players. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Schroeter are other Hereford players who are defending champions.

Thursday evening games are scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. today. Last week's winners were Mrs. Frank Cogdell and Mrs. Dwain Pittenger.

NEGRO MISSIONARIES

NEW YORK — "It's not necessary to be a Negro to live and work in Africa, but there are advantages," says Ivan D. Alphonse, a Methodist missionary on furlough from the Congo.

A Negro himself, he says that personality counts more than color in missionary work but that "it would be better if more Negroes were sent as missionaries" to Africa.

CHOOSE ANY Church

...to help you grow a better man out of your boy. Regardless of the Faith of the particular church you choose to help you... your child will have more Faith if he is raised in the church. Of course the 'punk' will deny this but we have the assurance of a great God, that His Word and His Church will help to build great men; dependable men; men who can be trusted.

Then parents, say as Jesus said to you, "Take My Hand." And once your child takes hold... lead him straight to church. God has led both old and young alike to very high places. He can do it again. We can be conquerors if Divine strength and wisdom flows in upon our souls. Then let us abide in the will of God, obey His inviting voice and march like soldiers to victory.

Glad's Garden

Since our garden club was to study and grow African Violets, I contacted some of the ladies of Wichita who are members of the American Violet Society. Mrs. Dirksen, was one of those whom I visited. She is an avid African violet grower, and had hundreds of plants. It was difficult to select, but finally I chose White Perfection (a good new white) Tommy-bou. (variegated foliage) Black Foot (deep blue) Flash, (two tone pink) and Shell Pink (profuse bloomer)

Her plants are grown both under artificial light, and in sunlight. She explained that the chief essential in growing them was that they MUST have tender loving care; and one must use good sanitation practices: care in watering and feeding; air passage; correct light exposure; turning of plants to promote uniform growth, and last but not least share them with friends shut-ins etc. For the latter she had a special area where she had used the potted violets in novelty containers, and arrangements. A gift she had ready for delivery was for a new mother. It was attractive, sweet and dainty and for it she had used an attractive novelty container and pink violets.

The visit was both pleasant and profitable. As we were leaving I called attention to the nice bed of scarlet zinnias. They were lush and green, no signs of powdery mildew. I inquired as to how she had prevented the mildew, and she said, "Oh never plant zinnias only in July." (Let's write this in our planting calendars) As we were talking a large cat appeared, and she quickly scared him away explaining that he scared away the birds, then she told of how the Purple Martins had befriended Wichita during the time of mosquitoes.

It was good to have had this contact with another garden club friend. Friday was Garden Club Day in Hereford. It is good to be starting another year of study and work, and we trust our town can be known as a town of Garden Clubs, who contribute some to its civic beauty. Many of the towns on our trip publicized the fact "That This Is A Garden Club Town." Often large markers were placed at the approach to the city limits.

There are many beauty spots in Hereford, the chrysantheums are starting to bloom, late summer blossoms are taking on more intensified colors, the roses are having a final fling, and the dahlias are at their height. The dark red dahlias at the Foster home on Douglas are lovely. The pure white, lacy verbenas, in the Deaf Smith County Hospital planter are very pretty.

Share your flowers, and you will be

Home Decor Is Topic For Club

From cave man days to the present, influence of home decoration on lives and personalities was sketched by a guest speaker, Mrs. Lloyd McGee, for Veleda Study Club at its Welcome Back Supper which began a new season Monday evening. Mrs. Don Baugous was hostess in her home for a salad supper with back-to-school motif and Mrs. McGee's talk, which preceded a visit of the entire group to McGee Furniture store in downtown Hereford.

The speaker had discussed color coordination, mixing of furniture from different periods, textures of wood and fabrics and carpet quality and styles. These points were illustrated in the inspection of furniture and decorative accessories in the store, where club members wandered and looked at their leisure. Home decoration as we know it began only about the time of Elizabeth I in England. Mrs. McGee said.

To continue the study of decor, the club will meet next, on Sept. 26, at The Chandelliers shop in Sugarland Mall for a talk by Mrs. Jack Renfro. Coffee at the Hickory Log Restaurant will follow.

Mrs. Robert Willmot presided for a brief business period. Yearbooks listing programs for the remainder of 1967 were distributed.

Places were marked at supper tables with little red school-house replicas, for the program guest; Mrs. August Dorman, Mrs. Baugous' mother; and members including Mmes. Bill Brady, D. W. Durham, Armon Lauderback, J. R. Oglesby, Billy Wayne Sisson, Glenn Watts and Gene Parsley.

Test Scheduled For Peace Corps

Hereford area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 P. M. on Saturday, September 16, at Amarillo Post Office, Rm. 322.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test, which takes about one and one half hours, requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

A Peace Corps Application, available from local post office or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. 20525, should be filled out and presented to the tester before taking the test.

Things are tough all over. When India gained independence in 1947, her maharajas, princes, etc. lost their power. Now the central government may even reduce their privileges and annual tax-free payments— one as high as $267,000 per year.

Teen Film To Be Shown At Church

The film, "Teen Revolt" or "Youth in a Fix" which is in full color and sound, and the ministry of Teen Challenge will be presented at the Assembly of God Church, Union and G Sts. on Saturday, Sept. 16. Rev. H. T. Goodwin cordially invites you to attend this inspirational service. Rev. Howard Foltz, Director, will be the representative from the Dallas-Ft. Worth Teen Challenge ministry.

Teen Challenge is a dynamic youth ministry of the Holy Spirit that is reaching the troubled, disturbed, lost and lonely youth of our day, as seen in his film which is shocking the Nation. There are 18 Teen Challenge Centers in major cities of the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

Teen-age crime, drug addiction, immorality and homosexuality are the bitter fruits of the moral polio which we all know exists in our present society. These sins grip youth that leaves social work and psychiatry helpless to unshackle. Jesus Christ is the ONLY answer. This is the mission of Teen Challenge; lifting these fallen youth out of the darkness of sin into the transforming light of the Gospel.

Don't miss the presentation of this youth outreach, the stirring message, film, and esplanade youth.

Rev. Foltz will also speak at the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning Sept. 17th.

For a bounteous fruit accompaniment for pork, you might like to serve pear halves (fresh or canned) filled with drained crushed pineapple and mint jelly. Good, too, with lamb.

IN RADIO

Hams Contribute To Technology

This week the members of the Hereford Amateur Radio Club join with nearly 100,000 fellow "hams" across the nation to celebrate Founder's Week commemorating the birth of Hiram Percy Maxim, first president of the American Radio Relay League, national "ham" fraternity.

Amateur Radio dates back to the turn of the century when a number of scientifically curious Americans, inspired by the internationally publicized exploit of Guglielmo Marconi in achieving the first trans-Atlantic wireless signal transmission, began to experiment with the fascinating idea of "wireless" communication.

One evening in March 1914, the late Hiram Percy Maxim, famous scientist and inventor — and ardent radio amateur — wanted to communicate with a fellow amateur in another community. Although the distance was less than 30 miles he was unable to make contact. On an impulse he contacted another amateur in a community located midway and asked him to relay the message. Out of this experience was born the idea which led to the founding of the American Radio Relay League which now serves its "ham" members in many important ways — publication of a monthly technical magazine, technical reference works, liaison with the Federal Communications Commission which licenses all amateur operators, and with sister organizations world-wide, and many more.

Most Americans are familiar with the great work of hams in providing emergency communications in time of disaster. Not so well known, perhaps, are the very substantial contributions made over the years by amateurs to the development of radio technology. It was the amateur, for example, who first demonstrated the effectiveness of true short-wave distance transmission. It was the amateur who developed "single signal reception," a refinement now used in all radio communications — commercial, government and military. Amateurs, again, were responsible for most current knowledge of reflection of signals from the aurora and meteors. The president of one of the large radio manufacturers has said, "Every great advancement in wireless and radio was discovered by amateurs. All that our great scientific laboratories have done and are doing is merely refining what the young fellows have discovered."

This is quite a "hobby." In Hereford there are five licensed amateur members of the Hereford Amateur Radio Club and four associate members. The licensed members are Dr. Roy Grubbs, Marvin Kearns, R. L. Etheridge, Bill Thompson and Steve Castillo. Associate members are members of the Tommy Goheen family who hope to have their licenses in the very near future.

Worth Your Reading

G. I. Nun written by Robert C. Healy as it was told to him by Sister Mary Xavier Coets, is well worth your time. It is of her experience as dramatic director of a small college, and of a tour of GI bases.

The characters who make up the story are two nuns, fourteen beautiful and talented college girls and two men teachers. They formed a troupe to take USO entertainment to the GIs in Germany.

Clarke Coffee House Troupe was chosen for the name of the group, with the idea that the programs presented would be based on the present day coffee house. Most little college towns and university cities now have these popular meeting places for social and discussion groups.

The first idea back of this tour was advanced by the Sister-Director as offering a service to humanity. The GIs were chosen to be the recipients. At the same time there were side benefits. The girls of the drama department could use their talents, and have the broadening influence of travel. After a year's training and planning they were ready for the tour. A young army lieutenant was assigned to clear travel and other requirements because they were making the trip on a military basis.

Each base presented a challenge to the troupe as they had to win over each audience. Since this kind of thing had never been tried before the servicemen's response to the sight of the nuns was as interesting as their reaction to the attractive girls.

The Sister states that all American GIs are gentlemen if approached as such, and that they went out of their way to be helpful.

She found that our servicemen have not had enough help at home, from parents, schools and even the church, in developing inner resources which they need to meet the world. She does not mean religion alone. Since they are not trained to meet life's problems they often go AWOL, commit suicide, or go on too many beer blasts and commit other acts which get them into trouble, mostly because they are lonely or bored in this way they seek to forget it all.

This book is recommended for anyone connected with the service in any way, but is good reading for all because of the result of the tour. It has some amusing incidents to give the story a lift.

LEADING CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

"Ran off the road" was the leading cause of fatal traffic accidents in Texas last year. Noting that 27.1 per cent of all rural fatal traffic accidents occurred when a vehicle left the roadway, TEXANS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY said that accidents of this type are frequently caused by inattention and high speed.

If you don't have time to spare you need a HESSTON BEET HARVESTER

Here's capacity and speed to get your beets FAST—without sacrificing cleaning ability. You get maximum tonnages for better operating profit! Higher row speeds with a Hesston are possible as the big 29-inch lifter wheels run shallow for light draft and compress the dirt to "pop out" the beets. Large rienc beds and optional grab rolls match cleaning ability to lifting speed as you fill the tank to its 7,500 pound capacity.

Hesston's Beet Harvester is designed to shift more weight on the tractor drawbar as the tank fills, improving traction to keep you going...fast...even in the most adverse field conditions. Depth-frame toppers can be added to let you top and lift in one operation. Optional Hydraulic Row Finders pay their way by helping you get all the beets. Wheel-width adjustability lets you match row spacing and assures proper centering of the lifter wheels. Come in today and let us show you the model that will meet your acreage and capacity requirements!

We Invite You To Come See A FIELD DEMONSTRATION Of The Hesston Beet Harvester WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 20 from 10 am to 4 pm on the Cecil Hart farm - 1/2-mile North of LaPosta on Hiway 385 EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO ATTEND!

Mammouth Tax Bill Will Face 60th Legislature

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Texans will face a $192,000,000 new tax bill before the 60th Legislature gets through with its work next year, Legislative Budget Board staff predicts.

Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes contended the Board's figure is far too high. Barnes says the estimate is "wrong by $90,000,000."

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, on the other hand, feels the staff not only is within the ball park but is actually conservative.

"I would not be surprised to see the new revenue need soar to over $200,000,000 by the middle of next year," says Smith.

Connally made clear he will not call lawmakers into special session to appropriate funds for the second half of the biennium and pass a tax bill until next year. He refused to state what date he has in mind, although speculation persists that there will be no session until after June primary elections.

At the first budget board meeting since the legislature adjourned last spring, staff members predicted the present general fund spending level will jump from $452,800,000 to $479,300,000 next fiscal year.

Staff projections see need for a $6,000,000 increase in funds for health, hospitals, special schools and youth council facilities, a $5,600,000 cut in executive and administrative agency spending; $15,800,000 for education; and $1,000,000 more for the Legislature.

SMITH ANNOUNCES CONNALLY MUM

Four days after Governor Connally returned from an African hunting safari, Lieutenant Governor Smith told him of his plans to run for governor. He asked, but did not get, Connally's pledge of support.

Smith then released his official announcement, which contained a criticism of the Connally fiscal policies and complained of too much power centralized in the governor's office. Connally said he will decide whether to run again himself or not after swapping talk with Texans in all areas and figuring out "what is in the best interests of the people and the state."

As for supporting Smith, he commented: "You are not every very enthusiastic about supporting anybody who announces against you."

Speaker Barnes told voters in his home district (Brown, Coleman, Comanche and Runnels Counties) that he probably is going to run for lieutenant governor, although he might still be a candidate for governor if Connally retires. The speaker will not make a formal announcement before next month.

OIL OUTPUT CUT

Railroad Commission ordered a big whack in the Texas oil production allowable for September.

Slacking off of Mid-East tensions will mean more oil than found. Its order reduced the 64 per cent of potential allowable factor to 46.7 per cent. Net effect is that production was at old high figure for first week of the month and will be some 44.5 per cent for the remaining 23 days.

Cut is about 180,500 barrels a day or 5,415,000 barrels for September. Scaled-down allowable will amount to 3,133,500 barrels a day.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

Texas draft boards are being called on to provide 677 men for induction in October. This compares with quotas of 1,180 for September and 2,421 for August. Quotas for July and June were 974 and 975.

The 156 boards are scheduled to send 4,000 for pre-induction mental and physical examinations during October, according to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director. The same number was forwarded for the pre-induction exams in September.

Quota is the state's share of a national call of 17,000 men for the Army in October.

STATE JOBS INCREASING

Texas industrial employment growth has been ahead of the nation-wide figure for the last five years, U. S. Department of Labor reports.

Non-farm employment increased 21.7 per cent in Texas while the national increase was 18.3 per cent.

Only Texas and California among the six biggest industrial states remain above the national average. New York, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania have fallen below.

COOPER CONTRACT APPROVED

Water Development Board has approved Cooper Dam and Reservoir contract on Sulphur River after charging federal government attitudes threatened the state's $3,500,000,000 water plan.

Contract as approved does not abide by U. S. Army Corps of Engineers demand for allocation of 43,000-acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana for Red River pollution control.

Board voted to notify President Johnson and other appropriate officials that Texas "faces potential permanent loss of 192,000-acre feet" of water from the lower Red River below Lake Texoma. Members said the state also may suffer "potential ultimate loss of from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000-feet" from all Texas water to federal jurisdiction if a Corps of Engineers interpretation of U. S. statutes is not changed.

APPOINTMENTS

Charles W. Corke, formerly of El Paso, has been named director of State Archives, succeeding Dr. James M. Day who joins the teaching staff of the University of Texas at El Paso. Speaker Barnes announced House membership of two key committees:

To Emergency Hospital Treatment Study Committee — Reps. George Richardson of Keller, Chris Semos of Dallas, Tati Santesteban of El Paso, Arthur Vance of Houston and Don Hand of San Antonio.

To Committee on Faculty Compensation in State Supported Colleges and Universities — Reps. W. Reed Quilliam Jr. of Lubbock, Bob Thomas of Waco and Tom Bass of Houston. He reappointed Wales Madden of Amarillo.

HIGHWAY ANNIVERSARY DINNER SET

Texas Highway Department's golden anniversary dinner will be held here September 26.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers heads a committee of prominent Texans who are arranging a program marking the department's 50 years of service. Governor Connally will be principal speaker.

Special feature will be presentation of an endowment fund in the name of retiring State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer to provide engineering scholarships at Texas A&M University. Greer's alma mater. Money was raised by private subscription over the state.

VOTING MACHINES STUDIED

A panel of experts conducted a day-long hearing here on new table-top electronic, punch card voting devices.

Attorneys Dean Turner of Henderson and Jack W. Hayden of Houston and computer expert J. B. Williams of the University of Texas at Austin will advise Secretary of State John Hill, chief Texas election officer.

Legislature authorized use of the new small machines, which cost $150 apiece compared to conventional lever-type vote machines which sell for $1900 each, subject to Hill's selection of brands which counties should invest in. Three firms have asked approval.

TEXAS ECONOMY FALTERS

Texas' fast-growing economy faltered slightly in July, when the Index of Texas Business Activity dipped 2 per cent, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

This second consecutive monthly decline left the index at a level of 191.1, only marginally below the all-time peak registered in May and still 12 per cent higher than in July of 1966.

FT. McCLELLAN, ALA. (AHTNC) — Private Elizabeth G. Varner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Varner, Friona, Tex., completed eight weeks of basic training at the Women's Army Corps Center, Ft. in salt water injection rules in East Texas field (Gregg, Smith, Rusk and Upshur Counties).

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, says the law now requires that any Texan applying for first driver's license must have a birth certificate or other legal document showing birth date.

State Building Commission has awarded a contract to Zack Burkett Co. of Graham for construction of piers at Lake Brownwood, Possum Kingdom Lake, Lake Corpus Christi, Fort Parker State Park, Daingerfield State Park, Huntsville and Martin Dies Jr. State Park.

With Texas' new clean air law, the Air Control Board is looking for a way of measuring odor in order to set up regulations under which the discharge of smells into the air may be limited.

BIG PROPERTY OWNER

NEW YORK — Closing its 1967 assessment books, the New York City Tax Commission reported the city had 826,898 parcels of ordinary real estate, including tax-exempt properties. Total taxable assessed valuation for ordinary real estate was $27,824,337,435. Real estate of utilities was assessed separately, totaling $3,207,189,660.

Booklet On Grassland Restoration Available At Local SCS Office

"Worthless brush and weeds waste nearly as much water as is used for all other purposes in Texas", according to H. N. Smith, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, in Temple.

"One of our greatest potentials for saving water is reducing this waste by non-economic plants" explained Smith. He added that at least 10 million acre-feet of water could be saved annually by a complete grassland restoration program in Texas. This is about three-fourths the amount now used by all consumers. This saving would go a long way to assist in easing future water shortages, he said.

This is part of the information in a new publication, just released by the SCS, "Grassland Restoration, Part V, Effect of Water Yield and Supply", by C. A. Rechensthan and H. N. Smith. The booklet is the fifth in a series dealing with Texas rangelands. It documents huge water losses that occur each year from brush and weed infestation. It shows how municipal, industrial, and agricultural water supplies are reduced on watersheds infested with brush and weeds.

In a 1964 survey, SCS found that 88 million acres, or 82 per cent of Texas' 107 million acres of grassland, are infested with brush. Range conservationists say that four out of every five acres are producing less than half their potential.

More than one-third of the rain that falls in the state each year is being used up by non-economic plants, according to estimates made by Dr. J. R. Johnston of the Agricultural Research Service. He says that 138 million acre-feet are being wasted by weeds and brush each year.

Since grass uses less water than most other plants, there are vast opportunities for cutting water losses by improving infested grasslands.

Using the limited research available, Rechensthan and Smith give a detailed study in the new booklet of the effects of grassland improvement on water supplies. For example, treating salt-cedar infested areas could save as much as three feet of water per year for each acre would vary from more than 6 inches in the eastern part of the State to smaller amounts in drier sections.

Annual water savings could total 2 million acre-feet each in the Brazos and Colorado River watersheds; one million each in the Nueces and Red River watersheds (Texas portion); three-quarter million each in the Rio Grande-Pecos and Trinity watersheds; and more than one-half million acre-feet in the Guadalupe-San Antonio watersheds.

Smith said that water has always been one of Texas' most valuable but least abundant resources. He said saving water benefit all Texans.

The booklets are available at SCS offices.

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3706

Since the recent riots around the country, I have had many letters from Panhandle citizens expressing concern not only over the near state of insurrection in some of our cities, but also over firearms legislation that has been introduced in both the House and the Senate. Earlier this year, I testified in hearings held by the House Judiciary Committee against such legislation. So far the Committee has not acted on the bill which would further restrict the sale and ownership of small firearms but the proponents of the "take their guns away from them" movement are again pressuring both congressmen and senators to bring such legislation out of Committee.

THE WASHINGTON POST, champion of any and all liberal causes, never misses an opportunity to editorialize the evils of firearms, and would do away with them entirely. Any crime or mishap committed with or the result of a pistol, rifle or shotgun, brings forth a renewed demand from the POST for legislation to literally do away with firearms and the sponsors of the legislation now in Committees point with horror to the growing homicide rate and insist that humans are not competent to have firearms in their possession. And they are serious about it.

In opposing such legislation, I am certainly not condoning the all too frequent and tragic mis-use of firearms. But balanced against the inherent and constitutional right of a U. S. citizen to own and use firearms for any legal pursuit, I can visualize such restricting laws as proposed by these bills, only as a further infringement by the Federal government on individual rights and another step in a veiled threat by the do-gooders to totally disarm our citizenry.

Additionally, I do not believe there is any practical way to legislate human behavior or stop people from killing themselves or each other by making guns impossible or difficult to obtain. The homicide and suicide rate is tragic but so is the death and injury rate on our streets and highways, in spite of all of the licensing, inspection and safety procedures we have been able to devise.

In view of the alarming increase in serious crimes, especially those committed with firearms, it would seem that our Federal government would be more concerned with some tough and realistic laws, or enforcement of laws, for the protection of citizens rather than the continued coddling of those who prey on law-abiding citizens.

The situation is so bad here in the Nation's Capital that one of the young ladies in my office who lives only a few blocks from the Capitol felt compelled to buy a pistol after another Capitol Hill secretary was murdered in her apartment in the next block.

In the first edition of a new weekly newspaper here, the EXAMINER, A newswoman, Edith Kermit Roosevelt, wrote an article titled, "The Feminine View...And so I bought a gun". Miss Roosevelt lives in the apartment house in which this girl was murdered and another raped. "My neighbors have had their homes robbed in broad daylight. In no case has anyone been punished," she wrote. Although she had never owned or fired a gun and had an abhorrence of them, she took out a license and through the National Rifle Association was referred to a gun club for an instruction course in the use of the small pistol she bought. "I decided on the necessity of my having a pistol as an equalizer. At a time when fellow citizens - even males - no longer can be depended upon to heed a woman's screams or come to her aid, and when violence is virtually justified as a social right of the dissenter, a lady simply must restore the balance." Miss Roosevelt concluded. She is the granddaughter of former President Theodore Roosevelt. In the face of the rantings of the rabble rousers and riot inciters such as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown to "get yourself some guns," what form of mentality is it that believes that the likes of these and those gullible enough to follow their advice would rush down to the police station to register their guns should such legislation be passed?

The real problem, in my opinion, is the need for enforcement of existing firearms laws rather than the enactment of new laws and the urgent need for Federal courts - and especially the U. S. Supreme Court - to recognize the rights of the victims or intended victims of crimes as well as the rights of those who commit the crimes.
