County Will Accept Highway Department Proposal

Elevators Ready to Receive New Wheat Crop; Harvest Season Begins This Week

Hail Storms and Dry Weather Leave Scant Crop Hardly Worth Cutting.

Hereford elevators are preparing for the wheat harvest of this territory, the properties being overhauled and being put in readiness for receipts. It is expected the first loads will come into town the last of this week or the first of next. Several fields are nearly ready for combining and owners have indicated they will get the machines adjusted for running the last days of this week and be ready to get at this work properly after Sunday. It is expected the first wheat will be green and require careful handling.

McLean & Pitman, S. E. Coar Grain Company, Great West Mill & Elevator Company, and Erwin Grain Company will care for the greater part of the crop as delivered in Hereford, having large elevators for storage before shipping and well equipped to handle the grain rapidly and economically. The Packard Mill has added more storage capacity to its property during the year and will be able to care for larger receipts than heretofore.

So far, the one elevator reporting bonded warehouse facilities to care for those who wish to store wheat is McLean & Pitman. This service gives a guarantee of absolute security to the owner of the wheat to protect his interests while the wheat is in storage.

The Erwin Grain Company elevator is the former Farmer Elevator Company, recently acquired by J. Milton Erwin, former grain operator here, who with his son, J. Edwin Erwin, will conduct the property under their own name.

Other elevator service rendered this territory is that of the Farmers' Associated Elevators, owned by a local group of business people and operating elevators at Black, Summerfield and Dava, which receive wheat from over an extensive region and provide a market and shipping facilities with a shorter haul to farmers near them.

At the best, wheat production in Deaf Smith county will be pitifully short. This condition was further affected Thursday and Friday of last week when destructive hail storms passed through some of the best wheat sections of the county and laid the crop waste over a wide area. With the price at the lowest level ever known at this season and the production almost negligible, prospects for wheat harvest and its usual beneficial results to the county in general are the darkest known here for years. There will be a number of fields that will, under the circumstances make excellent yields, but they are so few and far between that they can scarcely be noticed among the fields whose yield is so sparse that it will not pay to cut them even for the seed.

Hereford Furnishes State University Three Graduates

Hereford is well represented at State University this spring in the graduating class, three from here receiving degrees Monday of last week, June 6.

Ella Louise Broadwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, was given the bachelor of arts degree; Howard Joseph Eberlee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Eberlee, received the bachelor of arts degree, and William L. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, received the degree of bachelor of business administration.

First Wheat of Season Reaches Hereford Today

McLean & Pitman's elevator reports the first load of 1932 wheat received this morning from the B. E. Robertson farm of near Summerfield. A premium above the regular market price will be paid Mr. Robertson for being the first to get to town with new crop wheat.

Lions Choose New Officials for Next Year

The weekly luncheon of the Lions club Wednesday noon was annual election day for choosing officers and directors to guide the destinies of the organization for the coming year, and it was made quite an event by the members. One of the largest attendances of recent weeks was in evidence, an industrious nominating committee had selected two or more candidates for each of the officers and announced them two weeks previous so that each member could carefully determine whom he would not vote for.

Guests of the club for the day were E. H. Petty, visiting Lion from Amarillo, who is also a member of the Panhandle Lumber Co. general office force and was likewise the guest of D. H. Alexander, local manager; Burl Alexander, and petite Miss Jo Ann Rosson, daughter of Boss Lion S. P. Rosson.

Business of the club for the day was taken up with campaign speeches by the nominees, speaking in favor of their opponents, and balloting for the election. B. H. Hopkins being absent and not able to speak in his own behalf, was elected over W. Jesse Stanford for president; Cliff Estes defeated H. A. Close for vice president; R. E. Kessie was re-elected secretary-treasurer because the nominating committee did not put up anyone against him; Mont Baker ran away with the tail-twister's job from Homer Fox and Jimmie Robinson; a landslide put Elmer Giesler in as Lion tamer over Ralph Smith, while E. S. Ireland and Hubert McIntire went in over Gaston Baer and Tom McCollum as directors by very slim majorities.

The new officers will be duly inaugurated into their respective duties in a ladies' night program to be held in lieu of the regular luncheon the first week in July, at which time the Lions' wives and lady friends will be guests of the club.

MIDGETS SMOTHER CLOVIS TEAM TUESDAY

Putting up an excellent exhibition of the national pastime, the Hereford Midgets hopped on the boys' team here from Clovis Tuesday afternoon and ran them ragged in a baseball game that ended 13-1. The visitors never had a look-in.

It was expected the battle would be a hard one as the two teams have met on several occasions with resultant close scores, but the presence of a new pitcher for the Midgets, Oscar Greenwood, was too much for Clovis, and they could not solve the riddle of his performance. Much credit is given his work, also for the drubbing the Midgets gave the Odd Fellows in the twilight league game of last Friday.

Mrs. H. K. Whaley and little daughter returned Thursday of last week from a visit with home folks in Weatherford and Dallas.

Men's Chorus Will Feature Baptist Revival Tomorrow

Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist church, continues preaching masterful sermons with excellent results in the series of revival services being conducted there last week and this. A number of conversions have been made, the attendance is reported increasing each day, and real cooperation is being extended by members and various religious organizations of the city.

A feature of pleasant anticipation for tomorrow night is the presence of a choir of all men's voices. The men of the city have been training for the occasion and a real treat is assured those who hear them.

Evangelist

Rev. C. R. L. Vawter, who will do the preaching for the evangelistic revival to begin June 20 in a tent erected on the vacant lots south across the street from the Methodist church, under Christian church auspices.

Bible Class Keeps Lead In Twilight League

The Bible Class continues to lead the city twilight league for the week, although not appearing in the schedule of games. They tie into the Midgets tomorrow, and the little fellows have a rejuvenated outfit that turned in the nearest game of the whole season against the Odd Fellows Friday, tying the count in the seventh inning, pushing over the winning score in the extra inning play of the eighth, and setting down the murderers' row of heavy hitters of the Odd Fellows in one-two-three order to draw themselves out of the percentage column.

The Legion team struck hard sledding the past week, losing both games played, Thursday's play-off against the Firemen going against them 9-7, although they were 4-0 ahead when rained out Wednesday; then the screeky old Lions jumped on the Legion again this Wednesday for an 11-6 count.

The Standing Today.

Odd Fellows	5	3	.625

SANK RAMEY TO BE OPERATED ON TODAY

Sank Ramey, genial agent for the Railways Express here, who has been in poor health for the past several weeks, was taken to the Deaf Smith county hospital this morning for an emergency operation as soon as Dr. R. D. Gist of Amarillo could come down to do the work.

Destructive Hail Sweeps Wheat Fields of County

Destructive hail storms extending from the north to the south side of Deaf Smith county thru its central portion last Friday afternoon played havoc with what little wheat prospects that rich farming region had for this year. Losses in many instances were complete. On a few scattering farms the hail lifted and only slight damage was done, but as a general thing the fields were swept bare.

A number of fields that had indicated yields of 10 to 20 bushels to the acre were completely threshed out. Various estimates place the loss to the wheat thru that region at from 75 to 90 per cent. There was very little of the crops insured because the low price of wheat did not seem to warrant paying the premium.

Some of the largest hailstones on record in the county are reported to have fallen, the largest being nearly the size of hen eggs. The greatest destruction, however, was done by smaller hail that fell in such quantities as to sweep all crops before it. The damage done by the larger stones was in killing jackrabbits and birds when a direct hit was made.

Storm Northeast Thursday.

A hail storm of smaller proportion but of almost equal destructiveness is reported to have swept a number of fields about 15 to 20 miles northeast of Hereford Thursday afternoon of last week. The storm reached as far as into the eastern part of the city, but the most damage is reported farther out.

Clyde W. Warwick Asks Re-Election As Representative

Clyde W. Warwick, representative of the 123rd district of the Texas Legislature, composed of Potter, Carson, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Armstrong and Randall counties, has authorized the announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the office he now holds. Mr. Warwick's statement follows:

"I appreciate very much the honor that has been given me in being State Representative in the legislature the past four years. In offering for re-election I do so with the feeling that the greatest crisis of many years now faces the State of Texas, and that men of experience are needed in the legislature. If the legislature of Texas has made serious mistakes in the past, it may be charged largely to the fact that too many new and inexperienced members are sent to the law-making body every two years. It is a well known fact that in legislative bodies, experience is badly needed to improve the class of legislation, and secure for the state the best kind of laws. Right now the great need of Texas is not the passage of more laws, but the strengthening of existing laws which are good, and the repeal of laws which are ineffective.

CLYDE W. WARWICK of Randall County for Re-election as State Representative, 123rd District.

Question of Economy.

"At the present time one question is more serious with every citizen than any other—the question of economy. Every citizen is facing the problem in his own life. The state government is likewise facing the question of economy, and this question is of paramount importance in the selection of the members of the legislature. The

Local Golfers Win and Take Interest In Wheat Belt League

The Wheat Belt League golf match with Happy, postponed from June 5 because of bad weather, was played last Sunday on the local course, and the Hereford squad was going good. The score stood 11 to 1 at the finish, one of the best cards any team of the league has turned in thus far.

Clovis is the next opponent of the Hereford club, the match to be played here Sunday after next, June 20. Since Tulsa tumbled down the mighty Plainview aggregation at the former's course June 5, and Hereford humbled them in their recent match here, the locals seem to have picked up interest and have again taken after the league championship. The Clovis game will be hard fought, but with an even break the Hereford club should be able to tuck the visitors' scalp under its belt.

Soloist

Mrs. C. R. L. Vawter, soloist, who is a member of the evangelistic party to conduct a tent revival here commencing June 20. She and two others are artists supporting the ministry of Rev. Vawter.

Federal Taxes Go Into Effect After June 21

New federal taxes made necessary by the large appropriations of the present Congress in its plans to bring financial relief to the country at large, will begin being collected next Tuesday, June 21, and a number of the articles of every day use will be affected in price.

Possibly the greatest among these, or at least the most noticeable, will be a tax of two cents upon each check, draft or other order for payment of money from one person or firm to another. Instructions from the internal revenue department, as received by the banks in Hereford, specified that the banks shall pay to the internal revenue department at the close of each month two cents for each check or similar instrument written by their depositors, the money therefor to be taken from the customer's account. A tax of ten per cent is also assessed against the retail price of safety deposit boxes, safes, and other receptacles used to rent for the safekeeping of valuables.

The postage increase does not become effective until July 6, according to advice given by Postmaster E. L. Donner. After that time all first class letters mailed in Hereford must carry three cents postage for each ounce or fraction thereof, air mail must carry eight cents postage for the first ounce and 13 cents for each ounce over that, and postage due mail will carry, as has heretofore but not generally known, a one-cent penalty for each unit of weight beside the necessary postage lacking.

Newspapers and periodicals will find their advertising rates increased an average of 25 per cent or more after July 1. Parcel post rates will be increased at a later date in the year.

O. F. Ott and C. E. Steen, who live northwest of Hereford, were trading in town Monday afternoon. Their version of the hail-storm traversing the northwest part of the county Friday afternoon describes the scenes as anything but pleasant.

Commissioners Court and District Engineer Agree On Plan Saturday Afternoon

Fourth of July Picnic Planned for Community

There has been suggested a good-time-for-everybody Fourth of July picnic for Hereford, Deaf Smith county and nearby citizens to be held in an all-day session at some convenient place along the Tierra Blanca. It is proposed the venture be sponsored by various civic organizations, and general preparations made to make the day a memorable and enjoyable one for every person for miles around.

It is suggested that plenty of basket dinners could be brought and spread together to make one of the most pleasant gatherings the county has witnessed. Several of the twilight league baseball teams have been approached on the question, and the discussion so far has been all in favor of the idea.

Grasshoppers May Be Serious Menace to Crops

R. O. Dunkle, county agent, reports indications of an approaching grasshopper menace to the farms of Deaf Smith county, similar to those appearing in other sections of the Panhandle. The trouble is not evident in destructive quantities as yet, according to Mr. Dunkle, but the indications are right, and the plagues affecting other regions can easily be upon Deaf Smith county.

The grass pasture lands of the western part of the county seem heavily infected with hoppers now, according to Mr. Dunkle, and they are apt to stay there as long as the rains keep up. Should dry weather set in for any length of time, the grass hoppers will go to the fields and crops will suffer seriously.

The drug stores of Hereford have assured Mr. Dunkle they will cooperate with farmers in combatting the pests should their numbers increase to destructive proportions. The necessary chemicals and ingredients for mixing poison mash to spread out and kill the hoppers will be furnished at very little more than absolute cost.

A formula that is being used successfully in killing out grasshoppers is given by Mr. Dunkle as 25 pounds bran, 1 pound white arsenic, 1 pound salt, 1-ounce amyl acetate, 2 quarts sorghum syrup and 2 gallons water. Mix the dry ingredients together and the liquid ingredients together, then pour the latter over the bran mixture, gradually stirring until thoroughly mixed. Add sufficient water after the mixture is prepared to make the whole lot moist but not wet. Scatter by broadcast method over infected areas before 9 o'clock in the morning before the mixture dries, as hoppers eat it better when moist than after it has dried out.

Harry Rice Drives 500 Miles to Get Ad In The Brand

Harry L. Rice came home Wednesday evening from a visit spent with his daughter, Miss Ethel, who is attending the university at Boulder, Colorado. Mrs. Rice, who accompanied him up, did not return but will stay with their daughter this summer. Harry reports conditions along the way as varying in different sections, being fine beyond Colorado Springs, very poor between there and Raton Pass, and excellent moisture conditions from there on home. It is thought Harry made the drive of over 500 miles yesterday to get here in time to have his advertising in the Brand.

Right of Way to Be Furnished When State Is Ready to Begin Work.

The commissioners court of Deaf Smith county during the past week has been investigating the possibilities of the state highway proposal to do the grading and build the drainage structures on highway 33 across this county if a right of way approved by the state will be provided. W. J. VanLondon, district highway engineer, and E. H. Gohmert, engineer in charge of the paving program now in progress in Randall county, met the members of the county commission and other interested citizens here Saturday afternoon, and the details of the proposition were carefully gone over.

At the conclusion of the discussion, members of the court expressed themselves as desirous of taking advantage of the state's proposal if it could be done without working a hardship on the county. The wording of the letter recently received from the state highway department was so vague that it had been construed to mean the county had to vote bonds and provide one-third of the cost of the proposed work, and the commissioners were opposed to such measures.

Mr. Van London assured the court such was not the meaning or intention of the highway department, and the proposition stood as had been given out—that is, if the county will furnish the 100 foot or more right of way as required, the state will construct without further cost to the county, all the grading and drainage structures necessary for a paved first class highway. The "one-third of the cost" clause in the order of the state highway department authorizing the work, as published in the Brand last week, Mr. Van London explained, was worded in such a way that its payment was left strictly up to the county, as it read "when funds are available" and should the county not provide the funds they would never have to pay them.

Mr. Van London further assured the court that instead of making the right of way as one complete project across this county,

CANDIDATE COMES OUT IN DISCUSSION OF POLITICAL QUESTIONS

P. J. (Jack) Rose, candidate for commissioner in Precinct No. 1 in Deaf Smith county, comes out in the Brand this week with some definite observations of what he thinks is proper in conducting the office to which he aspires, and promises to endeavor to put into operation if he is elected.

Many of the questions Mr. Rose raises are pertinent ones, uppermost in the minds of the voters of the county, and he must be admired for the fearless way he steps out in stating what he thinks is right and just, and that if given the opportunity he expects to back up his statements by putting into practice what he proposes.

Much electioneering is done by conversation, talking to each citizen as a candidate meets him, upon subjects suitable to their mutual interests, and skillfully ignoring questions that might be unsuitable for discussion, but when a candidate puts into print what he thinks and says relative to conduct of the office he is running for, everybody is being told the same story, and all know exactly what his platform is. Verbal platforms may have as many planks as there are voters in the county, but a published one is open to all to consider, whether they like it or not.

Sunday is Father's Day. I know most folks have the opinion that every Sunday is father's day, and he just about does as he pleases, although the rest of the family give him the dickens for taking the liberty.

What I meant, though, was next Sunday was a day set aside by whatever does those things, as a day to pay honor, respect and tribute to the dad of the land. While I am one of them, I believe I can be disinterested in myself enough to take the part of all dads for a little while, and add my appeal to that intended to give the world pause to reflect on fathers and give them a little praise for what they are in their own rights and what they try to do.

It isn't much use to say fathers are misunderstood, most everybody is, and dad just gets an even break with the rest of the family on that score. A father's job seems to be mostly that of keeping the family bread basket filled and doing the fighting for the rest of the bunch. In fact, those things are considered his business by the others to such an extent that they seem to have lost their significance in the scheme of things and plans are constantly being laid for something else for dad to do. Of course, that fighting part is repulsive and seldom mentioned, but the point in question is that such things do occur, and it usually checks up to the "old man" to see it through when it comes.

These dads might not be strong on moral issues as some of us would like perhaps, and they might not see some things as others do because they come in contact with them in a practical way that faces life as it is lived. Things might not be done, even by himself, sometimes as dad would like to see them, but he is responsible for definite results and he goes after the situation in a way he sees to bring things to a conclusion.

Dad knows just a little bit better than the other folks exactly what his job is, and he accepts it without saying much about it. The months to feed and the bodies to clothe, the real or possible dangers that surround that little group of his, and the knowledge that it is up to him to shoulder the load, make up a rather big program of operation extending over a consistent length of time.

Dads are human just as other folks, despite appearances to the contrary and they cherish the little niceties and attentions that make life pleasant. He might not go as immaculate as other members of the family, and sometimes the old clothes he wears seem to indicate a carelessness or indifference, but most of the time what would have materially improved his own appearance has gone to make brighter and happier some member of his group, and their rapture brings a glow within him that he guards zealously as a treasure without price.

A dad's job is a hard one, but it is seldom you hear one complain. His life has its compensations in the joy he gets out of successfully bringing to his loved ones the things to make them happiest. He doesn't ask a great deal of life. To accomplish his purpose he doesn't believe in asking for things—it is up to him to go and get them—and by his work and determination he does it.

I am going to take back what I said last week about the county commissioners not going to do anything about providing the right of way for the proposed state highway department free construe-

Nineteen Years Ago In Hereford

(From the Files of The Brand, June 13, 1913.)

The new auto fire truck had arrived and been accepted by the city commissioners. The fire boys had made an experimental run with it and were highly elated with their new equipment, which was the newest thing out, no other city in the state of the size of Hereford possessing fire fighting apparatus of such speed and power.

Big rains had fallen over the entire Panhandle, and crop prospects for that year were given a big boost. All roads were full of water and impassable.

The meeting at the court house to consider the advisability of putting domestic science among the courses of training at the high school, was not very largely attended because of stormy weather, but much enthusiasm prevailed and a later date was set for another try at getting a larger representation.

The combined deposits of the three banks in Hereford as officially published that week was $300,000.70.

The city and county were planning an immense entertaining feature to be known as a Water Carnival to be held the following July 14-15-16-17-18-19, at which time thousands of visitors would be shown the tremendous supply of shallow water available for irrigation here, and its adaptability for intensive agriculture.

A census showed there were over 1000 mules in Deaf Smith county, with a total value of $127,000.

The big candle, the burning of which evoked a guessing at the Corner Drug Store, had reached bottom and gone out at the end of a little over 56 hours. Guesses varied from 24 to 130 hours.

Ralph Barnett had received word from President Woodrow Wilson of his appointment to the postmastership of Hereford.

The big rains of the preceding week had put the Tierra Blanca creek out of its banks, calling citizens attention to itself, and much controversy brought out whether it was a "creek" creek, or river.

Common Questions, Sound Answers.

Farm Wife: How can I keep my Irish potatoes on the farm without losing some from decay?

Home Agent: The Irish Collier variety is best for farm storage. If best results are expected by storing potatoes on the farm, only the sound ones should be stored. Damaged potatoes will not improve any in storage and if they are placed in storage with sound potatoes the entire lot will likely be lost. Potatoes should be left in the open a few hours after digging to allow them to dry. They should then be moved carefully into storage. The place where the potatoes are to be stored should be clean and thoroughly ventilated so as to allow an air current through the potatoes at all times. If storage chambers are an outhouse, cut several holes in each end of the house, top and bottom to allow for circulation. About 70 square feet of ventilation space should be provided for each 1000 cubic feet of storage space. Floors made of small poles or slats held six inches or more from the bottom of the structure will insure better circulation of air. It is preferable to spread the potatoes out on false floor, but where this is impractical and the potatoes must be piled together, an allowance of air circulating through the pile must be made. Funnels one to two feet in diameter made of woven wire extending the depth of the pile should be placed every four or five feet throughout the mass of tubers to allow vertical as well as horizontal ventilation. It is best to keep the storage space house dark to prevent the potatoes turning green.

Farm Wife: How can I store my onions so they will keep?

Home Agent: Bermuda onions are poor keepers and in spite of extreme care in storing them there is sometimes heavy loss. Spanish Valencia, Prizefighter or Australian Brown varieties are better adapted for farm storage. As soon as the

JACOB THE AGED FATHER

Genesis 46:1-7, 28-30, 47:7.

Gen. 46:1. And Israel took his journey with all that he had, and came to Beersheba, and offered sacrifices unto the God of his father Isaac.

2. And God spake unto Israel in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here am I.

3. And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation.

4. I will go down with thee into Egypt and I will also surely bring thee up again; and Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.

5. And Jacob rose up from Beersheba, and the sons of Israel carried Jacob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent to carry him.

6. And they took their cattle and their goods, which had gotten in the land of Canaan and came into Egypt. Jacob, and all his seed with him.

7. His sons, and his son's sons with his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Egypt.

28. And he sent Judah before him unto Joseph, to show the way before him unto Goshen; and they came into the land of Goshen.

29. And Joseph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Israel his father, to Goshen; and he presented himself unto him, and fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.

30. And Israel said unto Joseph, Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, that thou art yet alive.

Gen. 47:7. And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharaoh: and Jacob blessed Pharaoh.

Introduction.

Last week we studied Joseph's reconciliation with his brothers. Immediately after he made himself known he set about preparing to bring his aged father and the entire household down to Egypt to remain during the five years of famine yet to come, little thinking that it would not be years and decades, but centuries before their return to the promised land.

So highly did Pharaoh honor Joseph that he was greatly pleased when he heard of the coming of his eleven brothers, and at once made him, prime minister, and his brothers back to Canaan for his aged father, that the entire family might settle in Egypt. As the famine was still at its height, and as Pharaoh promised to give Jacob and his sons the best of the land in Egypt. It was a most gracious offer, a fine illustration of the way in which the faithfulness and nobility of one member of a family at length rebounds to the blessing of all other members.

Joseph Sends for His Father.

Gladly therefore did Joseph carry out Pharaoh's orders, giving his brothers wagons with ample provision for the way. Changes of raiment were given to all the brothers, but to Benjamin five changes of raiment with 300 pieces of silver or shekels, while to Jacob were sent 20 asses and she asses loaded with "the good things of Egypt" and with provision for the way. All these proofs that Joseph was still living were needed, for at first the aged patriarch could not believe the story of the eleven sons, even when Benjamin joined in telling it. The tale was too amazing for belief—one of the most astounding recitals of human history. At length, however, Jacob was forced to believe that Joseph was still alive. It was enough for him to know that his beloved Joseph was living. Old as he was, 130 years, Jacob plucked up courage and said, "I will go and see him before I die."

The king's wagons took Jacob up to see his lost boy, and so I really think that the king's wagons will take us up to see our lost kindred.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D.

Jacob Starts for Egypt.

It was no easy thing for Jacob to consent to go down into Egypt, however much his heart yearned for Joseph. It was much like transplanting an old tree. Canaan was the promised land, his inheritance from Isaac, the land that God himself had chosen as the home of the nation of which Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had dreamed and which God had foretold. Would he be doing the will of God in abandoning it even under the urge of famine and the call of Joseph?

Jacob Seeks Divine Guidance.

At Beersheba, the place made sacred by Isaac's worship, Jacob stopped to seek the guidance of God. He offered sacrifices. And in the night God spoke to him, giving him a reassurance that banished all fear. God said, "I will there make of thee a great nation, and I will go down with thee," and "I will also surely bring thee up." Canaan was not being abandoned forever. Egypt would serve the purpose of God for his people. Acting on this promise Jacob hesitated no longer.

Jacob Trusts the Divine Promise.

Jacob needed no more. God's will decided the question, even though he did not reveal how the promise would be fulfilled. Jacob had learned to trust God, to walk by faith, not by sight. Blessed is the man who, like Jacob, seeks the guidance of God and when it is given, accepts it with courage and full trust. There is a great wealth of meaning in the words, "And Jacob rose up from Beersheba . . . and came into Egypt."

Joseph Chooses the Best for Jacob.

In Joseph's eyes no part of Egypt was too good for Jacob and his family. It was the true son choosing a home for his aged father. And what is more beautiful than to see an aged father or mother resting in comfort in some quiet place that answers every wish and need through the provident love of dutiful sons and daughters? Jacob was a shepherd and the place chosen for him was Goshen, the best possible pasture land. A son less understanding might have insisted that Jacob leave his flocks to others and come to live in his fine house. How many aged parents have been uprooted, never to find rest again, because love was not wise. And, alas! how many have been left to wither away because there was not love enough. Joseph sent for Jacob and gave him the best.

Joseph, Mighty Ruler, True Son.

The meeting of Jacob and Joseph was a scene of great tenderness. Joseph went out from his home with his usual dignity, riding in his chariot, and receiving, no doubt, the respectful salutations of many along the way. But when he came to Goshen he was just Jacob's son. Other men presented themselves to Joseph, but he "presented himself" to Jacob; and, we are told, fell on his neck, and wept on his neck for a good while. The years of separation, suffering, royal service, melted away in the warm glow of joy and love. He was as much a boy in Jacob's presence as on the day when he received his coat of many colors. The reverence and affection had never waned. Every man or woman who reads the story honors him the more for such genuine love and for the reverence with which he came into his presence. There is something in all of us that understands the sacred justice of the commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother."

A Father's Joy Over a Long Lost Son.

Jacob was as deeply affected by the meeting as Joseph was. For twenty years he had thought of Joseph as dead—but he never ceased to think of him. The boy had gone away when he was 17 years old. The whole experience of Joseph's tragedy was made fresh and his heart still further crushed when Benjamin was taken down into Egypt. Then the unbelievable thing happened. Benjamin and all the brothers returned, saying that Joseph was alive and the ruler of Egypt, and had sent for Jacob to come to live in the land of plenty until the famine should pass. And here now he was with his beloved Joseph weeping in his arms. The old man said, "Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, because thou art yet alive." He counted his life fulfilled; there was nothing else in all the world to be desired.

Jacob's Death and Burial.

Jacob charged his sons not to bury him in Egypt, but to carry him back to Canaan; and bury him in the cave of Machpelah beside Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, and his own wife, Leah—Rachel being buried near Bethlehem. So, when the patriarch passed away at the age of 147 years, his body first received the wonderful Egyptian embalming and then it was borne in state by Joseph and his brothers and their households, "chariots and horsemen, a very great company," and laid away in the cave of Machpelah.

Questions and Answers about Conoco Germ Processed Oil

Q: WHAT DOES "GERM PROCESS" MEAN?

A: The words "Germ Process" describe the scientific method by which this oil is manufactured. Such processing adds immeasurably to the oil's lubricating properties. North American patent rights to this Process are owned by Continental—only CONOCO oils are Germ Processed!

Q: IS IT DIFFERENT FROM OTHER OILS?

A: Yes. It is the only oil of its kind that does what no other oil can do. The Germ Process gives it the ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces in your motor. The Germ Process also gives more "oiliness" than any other oil. Any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed.

Q: WHAT IS THE "HIDDEN QUART"?

A: The "Hidden Quart" is tangible evidence that CONOCO Germ Processed Oil penetrates metal surfaces and gives safer, safer lubrication. During the first 250 to 350 miles after your first fill with Germ Processed Oil, a pint to a quart seemingly disappears. On later fills, it does not. That's the Hidden Quart—it stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away when your car is idle, leaving vital parts unlubricated during the starting period, when almost half of all motor wear occurs. CONOCO'S Hidden Quart lubricates before your motor starts—cutting down costly starting wear!

Q: WHY SHOULD I CHANGE TO CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL?

A: Because, by cutting down starting wear, it gives your motor longer life, keeps it sweet-running and saves expensive repair bills. Because Germ Processed Oil's extra oiliness makes your car run better. It forms a stronger piston-ring seal, making starting easier and giving more power. It withstands crankcase dilution and high temperatures: CONOCO Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you the safest, surest lubrication you can buy. Change now to this better oil at any CONOCO Red Triangle station.

Semi-Precious Stones

Chemically the beryl, and its varieties, is described as a silicate of beryllium and aluminum. It is found in a good many gardens of the globe. Royalston, Mass., and certain parts of North Carolina supply the best aquamarines found in the United States. Some are found also in New Hampshire, California and other states. Older sources are the gem gravels of Ceylon, certain Russian and Siberian localities and Brazil.

Sign of Evil

The "mark of the beast" as it appears in the twentieth verse of the nineteenth chapter of the Revelation of St. John the Divine, refers to following the path of evil as distinguished from following the path of good. Those who take the latter course are said to have the seal of the lamb, in contradistinction to the mark of the beast.

Cross-Word Puzzles

The first genuine cross-word puzzle of the modern type was composed by Arthur Wynne, and appeared in a supplement of the New York Sunday World on December 21, 1913. The outbreak of the World war arrested the cross-word puzzle craze temporarily, but it was revived as a feature in the World in 1916.

SANDALS FOR ALL OCCASIONS, STYLE

Sandals for all occasions is the decree of shoe designers who have looked over the summer trends. And the more original the material out of which the sandal is made the better. Sports sandals are shown in pastels, suva, linen, shantung and basket weaves combined with a touch of leather. The linen and shantung are the only fabrics used stone. Buck, calfskin kid are the predominating leathers. But bright colors combined with white will be in good taste this season—red, green, blue and the pastel shades may be used for striping, piping and heels of the new spectator-sports shoes. And for evening, sandals so cut out that you practically have no shoe at all will be the rage.

Epaulettes New Effect in Silhouette Gowns

The slim, soldierly silhouette is certainly the darling of the French dressmakers this season. Epaulettes in some form or another and trim, strict lines convey the wooden soldier effect. These are sometimes designed simply on top of the shoulder seam to tip the point, but more frequently lap over into short tabs. Reminiscent of Elizabethan shoulders in one instance, the motif changes to a twisted roll of the material. A tiny jacket closing in sharply at the waist resembles a caraco, the brief jacket worn by the French peasant woman. It comes in velveteen and in more or less a fine wool flock. Short cap sleeves over long ones give width at the shoulders.

On Texas Farms

The Texas 4-H pantry demonstration plan represents the extreme limit to which living at home can be pushed. It shows that it is possible to produce 87 per cent of the food requirements for a family of five on the farm. A few of the most efficient home demonstration club women and their families have actually accomplished this, and large numbers are producing as much as 80 per cent of the food at home. There are nearly 30,000 of these 4-H pantry demonstrators and co-operators in the state.

The influence of 4-H pantry demonstrators extends far beyond the limits of the home demonstration clubs. Members have set as goals the coaching of from 50 to 85 per cent of all the farm families in their counties in gardening, budgeting, food requirements, canning and organizing efficient pantries.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE EXPERT INSPECTS FOOT ROT

L. W. Boyles, plant pathologist of the U. S. department of agriculture, has been working in Deaf Smith county the past week collecting data relative to the extent of damage done by foot rot in wheat, and looking toward measures to control the disease. Mr. Boyles says foot rot, which attacks the wheat plant in the first joint above the ground, is prevalent in all the semi-arid regions of the United States, extending from the Texas Panhandle to the Plains of Montana. Its increase in recent years has led to investigation of its causes. Deaf Smith county wheat fields are all more or less affected by the disease.

It is thought the time of planting may have something to do with the extent of foot rot in each crop, and experiments are being conducted this year over the whole eastern slope of the Rocky Mountain farming region by the federal government and its assistant agencies trying to verify that supposition. Plantings will be made under supervision at two weeks intervals over the whole area, beginning September 1, and it is thought the time element feature may be more fully determined when harvest comes next year.

FRAISES COUNTY AGENT WORK AND ITS EFFECTS

The following clipping from the Friona Star gives testimony of the opinion of neighboring communities of extension work and its value to those who will avail themselves of its uses:

Pure-Bred Farm.
The above title applies to one of the most modern and practical farms to be found in the Friona territory, and is owned and managed by Lawrence Lillard. This name applies to the farm in fact and practice, since Mr. Lillard has on his farm for breeding purposes only pure bred registered stock and poultry. Not only is this farm abreast with the progress of the times as to its stock and poultry, but the home is also modern in its equipment and although seven miles out of town it is supplied with equipment for the use of gas for light and fuel, and has running hot and cold water. Farming operations are carried on by aid of modern farming machinery, which enables him to cultivate a large acreage in crops common to this area. One of Mr. Lillard's regrets is that the county has no farm adviser or agent to introduce and supervise the operation of 4-H clubs for benefit of the boys and girls growing up on our farms. He has two boys, a son and nephew, whom he wishes to grow up as practical farmers so they may enjoy the beauties and privileges of country farm life and at the same time be able to get the greatest possible emolument for their labors. In order that these boys may have these advantages, Mr. Lillard visited R. O. Dunkle, farm agent of Deaf Smith county, to learn if arrangements could be made to have them enrolled in the 4-H club work of that county, and was delighted to find that such could be done, and Mr. Dunkle at once visited the farm, and with one arm around each boy, started off to the fields, pasture, stock lots and barns to introduce them to the work of the clubs. Mr. Lillard keeps up with the registration of the pedigrees of his farm, and to make this work a bit easier and more attractive he is ordering through the Star office this week a lot of neatly printed stationery, including letterheads and envelopes. In all his farm activities, Mr. Lillard is most ably assisted by Mrs. Lillard.

Blue delphians and pink roses formed a colorful background Tuesday morning, when Miss Emma Jeanne Donald entertained with a lovely informal breakfast at her home, 119 Lake, in honor of the recent bride, Mrs. Dave McCurdy.

The guests found their places at bridge by tiny bride and groom place cards. In the center of each table were small bride and groom dolls. All other decorations carried out the bride and groom effect.

When cocktails and main course had been served, the tables were cleared and several rounds of bridge were played before the guest of honor was presented an appropriate gift. Those present were the honoree, Mrs. Dave McCurdy, Mrs. B. M. Wiltshire, J. C. McCracken, J. M. Posey, E. L. Brady, J. W. Witherspoon, Preston Heath, H. K. CLEVER BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT

Last Friday night at 8:30 o'clock Mrs. J. M. Posey and Miss Eunice Glibreath gave a very clever bridge party, featuring a color scheme of green and white.

At the end of the game prizes were awarded in a very unusual way. All during the playing each guest kept both her score and that of her opponent, and then subtracted her opponent's score from her own. Miss Eva Skelton had the highest plus score and Mrs. J. W. Robinson the highest minus score, and both were rewarded.

A lovely salad course was served to Misses Travis Dameron, M. C. Alston, Raymond Come, J. H. Patton, Hubert McEntire, O. E. Easley, J. W. Robinson, Jess Carter, H. K. Whaley, Burt Witherspoon, Misses Eva Skelton, Bertha Dameron, Frances Dameron, Lucile Hicks, Viola Carpenter and Ines Clark.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

Manager J. C. Parker of the Star is bringing some excellent productions to the local theatre-goers. Some of the best pictures of recent release have been shown or are booked for the immediate future.

Showing tonight for their last appearance are Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery in "Letty Lynton," said to be one of Miss Crawford's best characterizations.

Friday, for one day only, the Star will play a tremendously popular production, with Eddie Quilian in "The Big Shot." This picture has received some of the most favorable comment of any during the past few months and deserves much consideration, according to press reports.

Also Friday evening will witness the presenting of the fifth Star theatre is giving away with the assistance of a group of cooperating merchants.

Saturday's matinee and evening shows will be presented by Tim McCoy playing a typical western entitled "Texas Cyclone," which should be everything its name implies.

Sunday's matinee at 2:00 and 4:00 o'clock, and Monday and Tuesday evenings' performances will bring what is possibly the star attraction of the coming week, when the nonsensical two, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, will strut their foolishness in "Glori Crazy." They are supported in their riot of ludicrousness by players capable of starring in productions of their own, such as Eddie Quilian, Mitzil Green, Dorothy Lee, Arline Judge and others, so "Glori Crazy" should be plenty good.

The regular one-cent feature picture of next week brings that excellent player of heavy character parts, George Bancroft, starring in a feature play of unusual merit, "The World and the Flesh."

At these concerts both the chimes and marimba will be played, as well as other instruments, including the saxophone, Hawaiian guitar, piano, etc. In addition to the musical features of the revival, Howard House, who is a splendid crayon artist, will draw a picture every night in many brilliant colors illustrating some song while it is being sung. These pictures are beautiful and are eagerly sought for framing. They are given away at the close of the service every night. There will be special work for the children, consisting of Bible drills, chorus work and Bible stories, and the meetings will be inspirational and helpful to all who are privileged to attend.

Fat Man Reduces 53 Pounds—Oh Boy!

Don't be stubborn, you big fat men—throw off your fat before your fat throws you into the discard. Do as Mr. S. A. Lanier of Sautelle, Calif., did—read his letter:

"I have used two reducing belts to no benefit, but since using Kruschen Salts every morning in my coffee I have taken off 7 lbs. in a week and eat most anything I like. I weighed 243 lbs. 6 months ago and now I weigh 190 lbs."

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—now you know the safe way to lose unsightly fat.

For a trifling sum you can get a jar of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks at the City Drug Store or any drug store in the world—but be sure and get Kruschen—your health comes first.

THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS MUST DECIDE THE FATE OF TEXAS RAILROADS

● THE WELFARE of Texas and Texans has gone and will always go hand in hand with the welfare of Texas railroads. Their dependency upon each other is absolute.

In 1929 Texas railroads gave employment to 82,956 employees, to whom they paid annually $126,674,543 in salaries and wages. In 1930 this number decreased to 70,739 while the payroll declined to $109,892,226. In 1931 the number of employees fell to 57,098 and the payroll to $89,505,918.

This represents a decrease of more than $37,000,000 in purchasing power in Texas communities. There has been a corresponding decrease in purchase of materials and supplies by Texas railroads. The ability to have maintained railroad payrolls and purchases would have been a very important factor in overcoming the present trying economic condition.

The decline in railroad payrolls and purchases is due only in part to economic conditions. The revenues of the railroads have been affected not only by business conditions but to a very large extent by loss of traffic to trucks and buses using the public highways in competition with the railroads.

● The time has come when the people of Texas must decide whether the traffic of this state can best be carried by the railroads, using facilities which they built and maintain at their own expense, or by trucks and buses using the highways built and maintained at the taxpayers' expense.

Jack Rose Says Tax Receipts to Fix Salaries

To the Taxpayers and Voters of Deaf Smith County:

In my candidacy for county commissioner from Precinct No. 1, I am placing my salary on an equal basis with the taxpayers' ability to pay.
Taking seriously into consideration the present financial condition of our people and our country, I believe our commissioners should give this problem serious thought, and place their salary at $50 per month—and, if that proves unjust to the taxpayers, go back to the old basis of $3.00 per day for what time they serve.
As we all know, one dollar now has the purchasing power of two dollars a few years back. As you may know, we have political rings and cliques who manipulate our government to the advantage of their personal interests or for greed. I, for one, am for taking these evils out of our country.
I am for letting the people say what we shall or shall not have in our government. If elected your commissioner in Precinct No. 1, I want to prove to you that I am working for the people's interests as much as for my own as a property taxpayer.
If I should have a commissioner who is not willing to sacrifice his personal financial gain to help put our county on a par with the taxpayers' ability to pay, I will leave it up to you if we should have that man in office.
I will say without fear or favor that I will not have to go out of our county to get men to do our road work. I will promise no man a job to get his vote or influence. I have asked no church to get into politics for me.
I want to give the taxpayers a published report of what and how I am spending their tax money.

OUR TAXES MUST BE REDUCED!
—P. J. (Jack) ROSE.

J. M. POSEY HANGS UP NEW RECORD FOR HEREFORD GOLF COURSE

J. M. Posey, president of the Hereford golf club, not satisfied with his record established several weeks ago when he broke par by four strokes to shoot 18 holes in 68, Wednesday of last week climbed another stroke from that total to again hang up a new mark for the Hereford course.
His card reads as follows: Out-
3 (par), 4 (birdie), 3 (eagle),
4 (par), 3 (par), 3 (par), 4 (par),
4 (par), 7 (two over), total 35.
In—3 (par), 4 (birdie), 4 (birdie),
3 (birdie), 3 (par), 4 (lover),
4 (par), 3 (birdie), 4 (birdie), total 32, making 18 holes in 67.
Mr. Posey has shot nine holes of the Hereford course in 31, one stroke less than the best nine made last Wednesday, but the 67 is a new record of 18 holes of consecutive playing.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Robison visited his brothers in Claude Sunday.
Misses J. W. Witherspoon and

Court Will Accept

he would recommend that part east of Hereford as one unit to be handled separately from that part leading west of the city to the Castro county line. This was logical inasmuch as the western end of the proposed right of way will follow a direction to be determined by the location of the highway as it reaches counties farther west, which would not effect the portion between Hereford and Randall county. At the same time, while locations are being settled in Parmer county, the state highway department can be going ahead with the east end of its program in this county.
The highway department's proposal did not include the paving of the route through this county, just the grading and drainage structures; but members of the department have stated it is their intention to carry the work through to completion without further cost to the county unless their present plan of program is interfered with by authority beyond their control, which might develop through later acts of the state legislature. As far as the present highway department and its plans are concerned, the work of a finished paving will be done without cost to the county, except for the right of way as asked for.
Mr. Van London estimated the time of getting the work under way to be from 30 to 100 days.
Following the acceptance of the proposal by the county, it would take some 30 days to get state and federal approval details worked out, and about two months after that to get the machinery on the ground and actual construction to begin.

Tentatively Approve Plan.
While in regular session Monday and Tuesday of this week, the commissioner's court decided to approve the state's proposal, and work in cooperation with the highway department's plan, if its details as suggested by Mr. Van London and are being worked out by him for the court, cannot be seen to be detrimental to the county's interests.

These plans in substance are that the county accepts the state highway department's proposal, and will provide the right of way as required "if and when" the highway department is ready to begin the actual grading and construction work free of any further cost to the county.

Personal Record.
"I came to the Panhandle 22 years ago this summer. What little worldly goods I possess is due to hard work and saving habits.
While I have engaged primarily in the newspaper business, other interests in farming, merchandising and banking have given me a clear understanding in the problems which today confront our people. I have been schooled in the college of hard knocks and long hours of labor. I owe a debt of gratitude to the people of this district for their kindnesses in the past, and if I can be of service to them as their State Representative, I shall feel amply repaid for the time and expense incurred.
"I am offering my record as your Representative in the past two sessions as an index as to what you may expect should I be returned to Austin. I believe that there is a vast amount of importure next January, and if I am elected your Representative again I shall do my best to represent the people of this district, intelligently and faithfully."
