Bentsen said during the past 10 years crime has increased 122 per cent because of the decline in authority of the higher courts. He said the only way to halt the crime increase is to go through the courts. To this he cited Yarborough's rejection of the two nominations to the Supreme Court by the President.

"Yarborough voted against both men for the court seat," Bentsen said, "and both were considered conservative men—the type of men needed if the court is to regain its authority."

Attacking Yarborough's campaign efforts, Bentsen told the group "Ralph Yarborough can sling more mud than anyone on the scene today in Texas politics."

"So I doubt that very many people will pay much attention to his wild charges. He's the grand-champion switch-hitter when it comes to slinging mud and then accusing his opponent of being unfair. But he's going to strike out in this campaign because the people are weary of his double talk," the candidate said.

In speaking of the present farm situation Bentsen said, no one has shared less in the American economy than the farmer.

"I want to work for the farmer," he said.

Bentsen said the Panhandle and high Plains can "become the beef capital of the world, and the people here are working on this right now." He said he doesn't agree with Eastern Congressmen in their idea of control of the beef industry.

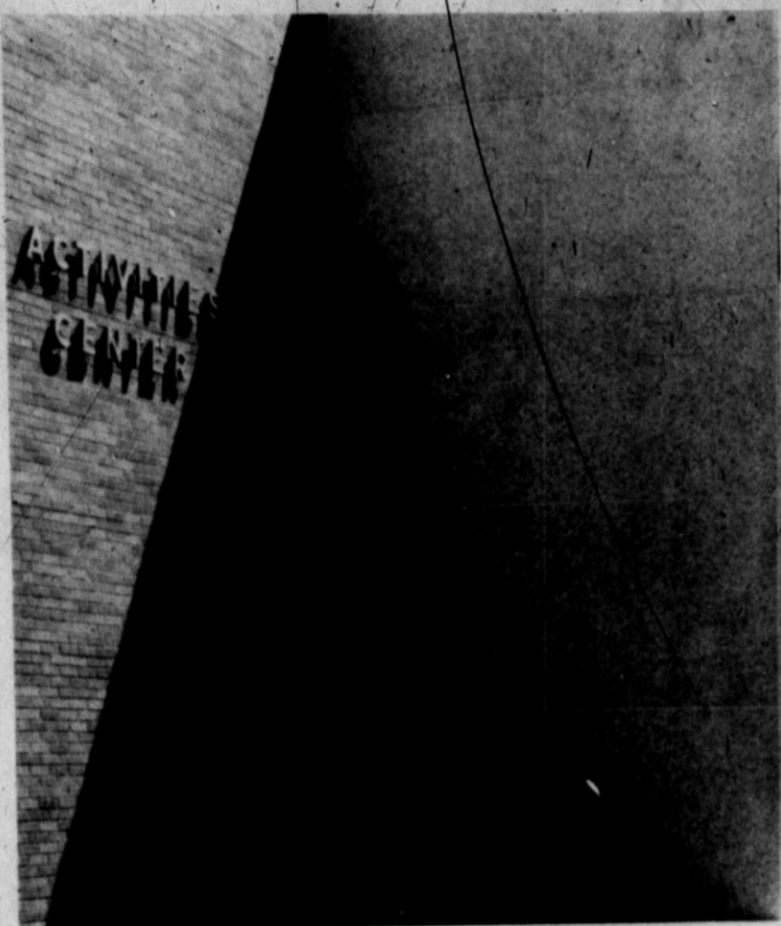

"Because the Easterners don't want their textile and other industries to suffer so they want to take it out on the industry of the South-beef," he said.

"I ask Texas: What has our incumbent Senator done all of this time to fight inflation and the high cost of living? I ask them to search their memories and try to come up with something. They will come up with one answer. Precious little."

"He does not know the meaning of the word 'prudent.' His self-proclaimed reputation is that of a spender, not an economizer. He spouts big budget figures like a laundry list—but those are your dollars he's talking about, not his."

"We can't continue to put politics above prudence in our handling of taxpayer's money," Bentsen said.

Lions Conduct Radio Auction This Week

The 3rd annual Lions Club Radio Auction will be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday over KPAN from the auction headquarters in the building just south of the Whiteface Barber Shop.

Local merchants will provide merchandise for the auction, and the proceeds will go to the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University.

Bidding for the various items will be by telephone only, between 4 and 6 p. m. each of the three days. Special telephone numbers will be given over the radio that bidders may call during the auction.

The auctioning will be conducted primarily by Lions Club members Robert Holman, Charlie Riggan and Charlie Bell.

The Opportunity Plan was initiated by Milton Morris, director of financial aid at West Texas State University in the 1950s.

The plan was formed so young people could borrow money to attend college. The loan, limited in most cases to $1400 a year, may be paid back to the fund as the student finds himself in a position to do so.

The plan is open to young people throughout the area, primarily for attending WTSU, but during the past two years, loans have been granted to students wishing to attend other schools.

She's The Mama That Kisses Santa Claus

BY BARBARA SWIMMER
Women's Editor

Mama kissing Santa Claus is a common sight around the Ted Acton home, where the merriment of Christmas lasts the year-around.

Pat Acton and her family are looking forward to that season when Santa will again make an extended visit to their home.

This year Hereford will have its own Santa Claus. He can be seen in the decorated yard of the Acton home at 205 Fir each evening during the Yule season.

Bringing happiness to children at Christmas has long been a hobby of Ted and Pat Acton, who moved to Hereford in January from Kansas City.

For several years, both at Kansas City and at Omaha before that, they took great pride in "going all out" in home lighting and decoration contests at Christmas. They have been awarded in their efforts by winning first place in the events.

To complete the scene, Ted Acton has for several years been impersonating Santa Claus each Yule season, playing host to hundreds of children.

This year, their three lovely pixie daughters will be just that—pixies—and they will assist their dad in entertaining the children who visit. Mrs. Santa will also be there as Santa's hostess to greet the guests.

Pat Acton is originally from Oklahoma and feels she's almost home again since they moved to Hereford.

"The Texas hospitality is just wonderful," she said, "and we couldn't be happier."

Pat spreads happiness and friendship wherever she goes and never meets a stranger.

She is adept at working with her hands, which is apparent when viewing the decor of their home. She has taught handcraft classes to children and women at Kansas City and Omaha, Junior Chamber of Commerce groups and other clubs. Various Camp Fire and Girl Scout groups have benefited from her efforts to help whenever she is needed.

Pat joined the Hereford Newcomers Club when they first moved here and has recently become a member of the newly formed Elkettes. She is active in both groups and serves as Elkette treasurer.

Bowling is another hobby of the Actons' and they are members of local leagues. When time permits the family enjoys camping and fishing. They attend the Church of Christ.

Her role of wife, mother and homemaker comes first in her

Mrs. Ted Acton and daughters, Debbie, Tammie and Regina. Santa's helpers schedule, and she enjoys cooking and baking which is always on hand to be served to guests. The Actons' three daughters, Debbie, Tammy and 6-year-old Regina, reflect the personality of their mother. They make friends wherever they go. Debbie, 12, attends La Plata Junior High and Tammy is a 9-year-old student at Northwest Elementary. Regina is a kindergarten student at Northwest.

The Acton family also includes a son, Gary, who has just returned from Vietnam and is stationed at Fort Knox with the Army.

Another daughter, Donna, and her husband, Ted Gillihan, live at Omaha, where he is serving in the Air Force. They have a 2-year-old daughter, Teresa. Ted Acton is superintendent at Wilson and Company, where he has worked for several years.

"In years past, Ted's job required traveling for the company," Pat said, "but those days are over and maybe now we can stay put."

There are so many helpless bachelors in Aldershot, England that the Further Education Center for adults is arranging do-it-yourself courses for single males. The center says the classes will give "practical advice on everything from cooking steak and chips to washing shirts."

Guard Units Will Aid Litter Fight

AUSTIN — More than 20,000 Texas Army and Air National Guardsmen are expected to physically join the ranks of the anti-litter workers, during the month of May when Operation "Clean and Green" is launched, Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers, Texas Adjutant General, announced in Austin.

The project, which calls for National Guardsmen to voluntarily devote one hour during the May drill to cleaning up public property in their communities, was adopted to assist in Governor Preston Smith's efforts to clean up Texas roadways and public facilities.

Since National Guard units are located in 134 communities of the state, the cleanup effort is in effect a statewide project.

"Our objective is to see each National Guardsman collect at least one bushel basket of litter during the one-hour period," Gen. Ayers said in announcing the project. "It will also serve to dramatize the amount of litter which can be found in our communities and along our public roads."

"It will also emphasize the fact that Texas National Guardsmen are willing to give more than lip-service to community activities which improve living conditions for every citizen," he added. Smith, who has been invited to join Austin Guardsmen in Operation Clean and Green, lauded the project and the idea behind it.

"I am proud that our Texas National Guardsmen are expressing personal interest in the litter problem through this operation. Too seldom do we of the civilian community realize the contributions which the project will be a major success and serve as a guide to other groups for similar endeavors." The Governor indicated he would "don work clothes" and be on the scene with an Austin unit if his schedule permits.

Units of the National Guard will take part in Operation Clean and Green during the regularly scheduled May drills. This means that in some area of the state Guardsmen will be out each weekend putting in their hour as litter collectors.

A few units, due to scheduled training, already have devoted an hour to the project, including an extremely successful drive by the 149th Tactical Fighter Group of San Antonio.

All cleanup operations will be restricted to public property such as parks and roadways.

"We feel this is a very practical method for the Texas National Guard to show fellow Texans our vital concern in helping to solve community problems of any nature," the Adjutant General said.

Elks To Initiate New Members

Twenty-four new members will be initiated into Hereford Elks Lodge 2269 Monday at 8 p.m. according to C. D. Kelton, Exalted Ruler of the local lodge.

An indoctrination program will precede the initiation, Kelton said, and he urged members and their wives to attend. The indoctrination program will be given by the Exalted Ruler of the Clovis lodge with Clyde Burkett, also of Clovis, to perform initiation.

An officers meeting will follow the initiation.

"All good new men who wish to be of help to our people in our town, county, state and nation are cordially invited to become members of our progressive Elks Lodge," Kelton said.

The local lodge began with an active membership of 18 persons in February and now totals over 100.

In addition to the increase in members, the lodge is now starting construction on a new building, on Country Club Drive. Construction is expected to begin Thursday, with completion in about two months.

CROCODILE FIGHT
SALISBURY, Rhodasia — An African and his wife fought a grim tug-of-war with a crocodile in the Musarangadhli River and emerged alive. They were wading across the river when the crocodile seized the wife, who had a baby strapped to her back. Her husband attacked the croc with his fists, pounding it on the head, so it released the woman and snapped its jaws shut on his right hand.

Hanging by the branch of an overhanging tree, the African fought desperately for 15 minutes to stop the croc dragging him into deeper water. Then he had an idea. "I told my wife to remove the cloth holding the baby to her back. I stuffed the cloth into the crocodile's mouth and forced it to release my hand. We then ran for safety," he related later. The African had to have several stitches in his hand and his wife was treated for a crushed wrist bone.

Visitor From India Tries To Learn American Farming

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson have a visitor from Shelapur, India, in their home for the next six months who they needn't feel hesitant about asking help from regardless what the problem is.

For Prabhuraj Ligade is a farmer, an attorney, a journalist, member of a prominent family, and an authority on politics.

Prabhuraj, who says "Just call me Rog," is 34 years old and has a wife and four children, ranging in age from 5 to 11, in India. He is in the Hereford area under an exchange program sponsored by Farmers and World Affairs, a non-profit organization financed jointly by the United Nations, farmers, industrialists and the U. S. State Department.

"He will help on the farm, learning through actual practice how we do things here," Jackson said of Rog. "He will enter in our social activities and everything."

The purpose of Farmers and World Affairs is to promote peace and make friends with persons in other countries, particularly in undeveloped countries, Jackson said. Ligade is the only person selected from India under the program.

"This is a wonderful country, but the rural life is completely different than I had imagined it would be. I thought it would be something like life in India, or slightly advanced, but it is completely changed, so different from what I thought it would be. It is certainly more advanced," Rog said.

"It will take some time for me to mingle with the society and understand what's going on."

There are radios in most homes in India, but not television—"only in Delhi, but it's coming to Bombay and Madras very soon. And we have cars, millions. Not everywhere, but in the big cities, they have as many cars as you would find in any city in America."

While learning the advanced arts of American farming so he can take it back to India and teach others, Rog says the hospitality is wonderful.

"Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are extremely kind," he says. "That is most important."

Under the same program, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson went to Pakistan last year for two months.

When Rog returns to India, he'll resume the presidency of the Sholapur district, a political unit that is "bigger than a county, and it has local governments within it," he says. He also is founder of a cooperative sugar factory, he adds, that is scheduled to go into production in 1972 with 23.5 million rupees—more than $3 million.

His mother, Mrs. Tayadevita Ligade, is a noted poet-writer and Hindu spiritual leader and the family is close to Prime Minister Gandhi, he said. The president of India recently honored his mother for her literary works.

CAP Member In Nationwide Test

Captain William T. Thompson, member of the Hereford Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, and thousands of other CAP volunteers participated in a nationwide test, March 7.

Some 10,000 CAP communicators were engaged in a nationwide test, manning a nationwide network of radio communications stations, checking their ability to respond to a simulated emergency. The exercise, CAP Comm 70, was directed from National Headquarters of CAP at Maxwell AFB, Ala., which sent a host of simulated emergency messages across the network of more than 18,000 stations which reaches from Maine to Hawaii and from Alaska to Puerto Rico.

LOOKS TERRIBLE IN BLACK

FRANKFORT Ky. — Republican Edith Stanley, one of the only women who ever ran for circuit judge in Kentucky, had a prepared consolation remark when she saw she was losing the race at Louisville.

"I'll just tell them I look terrible in black robes anyway," she said.

The one-day test of its communications facilities enabled CAP to measure the efficiency with which it can be operated. The net is intended for use in case of enemy attack or other national disaster.

Civil Air Patrol radio stations are widely used during air search and rescue operations and other local emergencies.

Longest word ever to appear in literature occurs in Aristophanes' The Ecclesiazusae, and contains 170 Greek letters.

Big change for the better Bentsen.

Lloyd Bentsen believes we must have a change... that we can't afford another six years of the policies of our present Democratic Senator. He does not believe his opponent's proven record of "old politics," partisanship and divisiveness is the answer to our problems.

He offers depth of experience that prepares him well to serve in the U. S. Senate. He's willing to put this experience and ability on the line for the people of Texas.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE

By Red Hagan

With the advent of the home freezer in American life, our food habits have undergone a considerable change. Where before nearly every meal was preceded by a trip to the grocery store to pick up some last-minute perishable item necessary to the family meal, the housewife now can stock up literally for weeks in advance. She can process and preserve food for herself with relatively little effort, especially compared to the rugged and cumbersome chore of canning. The wise homemaker knows how to use her freezer to the best advantage. For example, she realizes that regular turnover of frozen goods results in less cost per package for freezer operation. Consequently she doesn't hoard frozen food. She also checks her instruction booklet to know how long foods can be kept.

Were you counted in Census '70? With the 1970 Census of Population and Housing virtually completed locally, District Manager R. L. Butler announced the beginning of a "Were You Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked. If you think you or your family might have been missed, you are urged to notify the census district office by means of a "Were You Counted?" form.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the District Manager. He pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census. "Representation in the U. S. Congress and the State Legislature is determined by the population count as ascertained in the census. Federal Funds are allotted to States and State funds in turn, are allotted to counties and municipalities on a per capita basis. So a short count means under representation in the Federal and State law-making bodies and under allotment in government funds. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

History Of Tuberculosis Is H. D. Club Program

Mrs. Henry Solomon, school nurse, presented a program explaining the symptoms and history of the dreaded disease, tuberculosis to members of Cultural Home Demonstration Club

Friday in the home of Mrs. Mrs. Paul Corbett, president. "Of all diseases," she said, "TB is probably the oldest and most puzzling enemy." The study of ancient skeletons shows the disease has existed at least 6,500 years.

Before discovery of streptomycin in 1944, there was little else effective except bed rest, correct diet and hope. Symptoms of the disease are loss of weight, loss of strength and pep, irregular appetite, mild fever in normal circumstances, rapid pulse, cough and chest pains and a large flow of thick mucus. Mantoux TB test is the best to show infection, she said. Every new case is contracted from an old case.

Mrs. J. G. Gandy announced that stamp books and Betty Crocker Coupons are being collected to obtain an airplane for Girlstown. Container displays for collection have been placed at both banks, Piggy Wiggly, Furrs, Taylor and Sons, Coopers Drug, and Sugarland Mall.

Mrs. Corbett was nominated as delegate for the state meeting in Galveston Sept. 18-19.

Members voted to serve coffee at the Pioneer Day celebration.

The next meeting May 8 is W luncheon at the Casin House. Guest speaker will be Dr. D. E. McBrayer.

Others attending were Mmes. M. W. Sumner, George Parker, Ira Scott, P. M. Houser and Art Lewis.

Cincinnati Manager, Sparky Anderson started as a shortstop with Santa Barbara in the California League in 1953. He played second base for the 1959 Phillies but hit only .218.

Lloyd Bentsen will take a stand for you in the U.S. Senate.

It's time we had a Democratic Senator from Texas who will stand up and be counted when your best interests are at stake.

Our senior Senator has a bad habit of ducking out on critical votes. When an issue like forced busing was on the Senate floor, for example, Ralph Yarborough was nowhere to be found.

The date was February 28th. The Senate met in a highly unusual Saturday session to consider the Education Act of 1970. Three extremely important amendments were considered and defeated. One would have made compulsory busing of school children illegal. Another would have established freedom of choice as a proper school guideline. The third would have required that all federal education laws be enforced equally in every state. Our senior Senator failed to answer the roll call. He wasn't sick. He wasn't out of the country. He just chose not to be there.

The wrong votes Ralph Yarborough casts are bad enough. The votes he runs out on are inexcusable.

Lloyd Bentsen believes that forced busing solely to achieve racial balance is wrong. He believes that freedom of choice is a basic right of our citizens — black and white. He believes in neighborhood schools.

If you believe as Lloyd Bentsen believes, help him help Texas. Vote for Lloyd Bentsen in the May 2nd Democratic Primary.

Help elect Lloyd Bentsen United States Senator.

Chamber Warns Of Defective Popper

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, which is affiliated with the National Better Business Bureau, said last week that a report from Underwriter Laboratories indicates there is a "popcorn popper with potential for electric shock or fire on the market", and warns against the purchase of the item.

The popper, which was manufactured by Hudson Corp. of Newark, New Jersey, was never submitted to UL, but the manufacturer had affixed the UL label without UL's authority or knowledge.

Samples purchased in stores by UL inspectors proved dangerous when examined at the Laboratories. It was revealed that heat generated in the normal operation burned away the power cord insulation and melted its protective bushing after a few minutes of operation, which may permit the live wire to contact the popper's metal base. Smoke and flame were emitted as a result of the burning of the protective bushing and the insulation on the wire.

The potentially dangerous popper is identified as Hudson's Model CP-1, and may also bear the brand name "Crown".

UL said the Laboratories are taking necessary action to warn retailers and the public of this potentially hazardous product."

Chamber Manager Bill Thompson stated that to his knowledge this item is not marketed in Hereford but it may be available through some catalog mail order firms.

Rabbit Fricassee
By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Mrs. Bud Fisher is always good for an interesting story. The Fishers raise rabbits and are quite active in the area rabbit association. Mr. Fisher is serving on a committee to assemble a collection of recipes using rabbit meat. We are reading the list to get one of the cookbooks when they are published.
We haven't eaten much rabbit in a long time. In fact, I encouraged a 4-H boy to have a rabbit project telling him we'd buy dressed frozen rabbit from him. I can still see him now coming to our house delivering an arm load of dressed frozen rabbits. It was delicious meat and economical. I got skilled in preparing the rabbit in different ways but I believe our favorite was Southern fried or smothered. I'm glad the Fishers are making this nutritious food available. Try this menu for a taste of spring.

RABBIT FRICASSEE
Cut rabbit as for frying. Brown rabbit in 1/4 cup fat. Brown the pieces evenly on all sides, adding more fat, if necessary. Add: Boiling water to cover; Small onion, sliced; few stalks or tops of celery. 1 small carrot, sliced; bay leaf; 3 peppercorns, or 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Cover and let simmer over low heat.
After rabbit has cooked 45 minutes; add 2 teaspoons salt. Cover and continue cooking until rabbit is tender when pricked with a fork. (Probably another 45 minutes) If fat collects on top, spoon off. Use this fat or other fat. Melt 1/4 cup fat, blend in 1/4 cup flour, heat to boiling point, stirring to thicken evenly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add a few drops of steak sauce or lemon juice. Pour sauce over rabbit. Serve piping hot.
Browning meat improves both flavor and appearance. Meat can be dipped in batter or floured before browning.

Local Postal Officials Find 70-Year-Old Record Books

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

Local postal officials unearthed an almost complete history of Hereford's post office the past week.

Postmaster Nolan Grady and assistant Billy Hutson Wednesday unpacked boxes of record books dating back to the origin of the local office on December 23, 1898, when Lyman A. Montgomery was the first postmaster.

These books, records of postage and money orders sales, mail negotiations, etc., are complete, with the exception of years 1902 and 1904.

Postage sold the first nine days, from December 23 to 31, amounted to $11.44.

The first money order recorded, April 4, 1899, was from L. J. Mathis to T. F. Collier for $2. At that time, a money order fee and war tax were added, and in this case, for five cents.

Interesting entries in the early records include money orders sent to Gospel of Health, U. S. Matrimonial Agency, Perry Mason, and American School of Magnetic Healing, Montgomery Ward and Signs of the Times.

Family names appearing in the register are now names of streets scattered about the original town of Hereford, such as Fuller, Jewell, Bradley, Norton, Higgins, Kibbe, Womble, With erspoon, Gough, Wyche and Knight.

Money orders sold during the first three months totaled $305.49.

Another record book shows 23 subscribers to post office boxes in 1899, growing to a sum of 32 in 1900 and leaping to 75 rentals in 1901.

According to postal accounts of July 31, 1901, the salary of the postmaster was apparently based on commission of sales.

Although no plans for placement of these books has been determined, Grady hopes to compile from them a record of signatures of all of Hereford's postmasters since the opening of the facility.

Women Plan Forum Friday To Air Mexican Complaints

Church Women United will sponsor an open forum Friday evening, in an attempt to answer in detail matters of concern to the Mexican-American citizens of Hereford, without duplicating previous public discussions.

Scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. at the high school cafeteria, the program will present a panel of representatives of community and federal governmental agencies, such as city and school officials and farm-home authorities.

Rev. Jacinto Alderete, director of the Wesley Community Center in Amarillo, will moderate the program. A graduate of Southern Methodist University and Perkins School of Theology, Reverend Alderete often operates as coordinator for Mexican-Americans and Amarillo city officials.

Church Women United has a tradition of using the first week of May to emphasize creative and healing relations among people within communities. Mrs. John Douglas Pitman, president of the community, expresses hope that all Hereford citizens, men and women, will promote improved community relations by participating in this program.

Nursery facilities will be available at the First Christian Church during the program.

A CWU business meeting will be conducted at 10 a. m. Friday in the First Christian Church. After election of officers, the group will have a vigil of prayer for all interested church workers for all interested church workers of the community.

Jacobson Aids In Bush Drive

Cong. George Bush of Houston has announced the appointment of Robert Jacobson of Adrian as his co-chairman for the Bush for U. S. Senate campaign in Oldham County.

Bush previously announced Gerald Hall of Vega would serve as chairman for his Republican candidacy for Ralph Yarborough's Senate seat.

"The campaign is really moving," Bush said, "and I'm delighted to have Robert Jacobson helping in Oldham County. He and Gerald Hall and other campaign workers have a difficult task, but I'm confident our team will work to win in May and November."

WHAT'S IN A NAME
DUBLIN: Ireland — The only claim to fame enjoyed by the sleepy little Irish town of Navan was that it was spelled the same way backwards.

Then local authorities changed it to the old Irish name of An Unaimh.

However, businessmen complained that nobody can pronounce the new name. Consequently, a plebiscite will be held to see whether people want it changed back to Navan.

Silver Tea And Style Show Of By-Gone Days

HOSTESS CLUBS' PRESIDENTS — Hats dating back through the years which are on display at the Museum are modeled by the hostess clubs' presidents, left, Mrs. Guy Walsler, Summerfield Study Club; Mrs. Bill Nelson, Bud To Blossom Garden Club; and Mrs. Delmar Sigle, Pioneer Study Club.

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Women's Editor

A style show featuring costumes dating back through the years will be the highlight of a Silver Tea to be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Community Center. Sponsor of the event, working in conjunction with directors of the Historical Society, is the County Federation of Women's Clubs.

There is no admission fee but donations are welcomed and proceeds will benefit the Deaf Smith County Museum. Hostess clubs are Pioneer Study Club, Summerfield Study Club, and Bud To Blossom Garden Club.

The Fox Mercantile, a pioneer store opened here in 1917 by J. A. Fox, will furnish the costumes of by-gone days which now belong to Mrs. Homer Fox. The show will feature styles as early as 1941 and through the 1940s.

Mrs. Austin Rose Jr., narrator for the event, has written the script and selected music appropriate to the year of each costume. The public is invited to attend the event.

The County Federation, with 41 years of progress and contributions to the Hereford community, was organized in 1929 and anticipates years more of service.

Mrs. Lee Curry led in the organization of the group which was federated the same year, and she was named as its first president.

Many presidents have succeeded her and the aims for which the Federation of Clubs was organized have been carried out through the years. These projects include fine arts, civic contributions, cultural advancement, good public relationships and international relations, just to name a few.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, who served the most number of years as president, is the only Federated Club Woman of Deaf Smith County that has been awarded Life membership in the District, Top O' Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Elmer Patterson served two administrations and contributed in many ways to its success, and Mrs. C. D. Kelton will soon be installed for her second administration.

One of the Federation's first projects was the raising of funds to establish the County Library. Traveling many miles over dirt roads in buggies club members made personal visits to all the rural homes as well as the local residents.

The Federation was instrumental in establishing the position of a county health nurse and re-establishing the home demonstration work in the county after a period of inactivity.

The organization also promoted the planting of shade trees at the rural schools and later organized the Hereford Garden Club and the Child Study Club which Mrs. Ray Conway sponsored for many years.

During the first administration of Mrs. Patterson in 1950, the idea of selecting "The Woman of the Year" from names submitted by each club was initiated. Written applications stating qualifications of the nominees, with an entry fee, were judged by a committee headed by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. was named the first Woman of the Year. Named in the following years were the late Mrs. Homer Brumley, Mrs. Hartland Caraway, the late Mrs. Dyalithia Bradley Benson and Mrs. Ray Johnson.

The money derived from the contest, $76, was set aside in the Hereford Credit Association to be the first contribution for a Community Center.

In the following years the Federation was very active in raising money and pledges for the Community Center which resulted in contributions of several thousand dollars.

During the administrations of Mrs. R. L. Ethridge and Mrs. W. C. Hromas during the 1960s, the Federation was instrumental in furnishing crystal, china, stainless steel, a punch service and many other needed items for the kitchen of the Community Center.

The next administration, led by Mrs. John J. Jacobsen Jr., purchased and installed a dishwasher.

During Mrs. Kelton's term of office, the group donated a desk, chair and lamp to the Center. The group's project to provide hostesses for the museum resulted in cooperation by the members to the extent of donating antiques and money and many of them became members of Deaf Smith County Historical Society.

Mrs. Bess Werner was a most avid membership enlistment promoter and has continued to solicit membership.

Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, current president of the Federation, undertook as a project, to select and dedicate the Victoria Wilson Rockwell memorial given by the Rockwell Foundation. A lovely oil painting by Salisbury was painted by special request for placement in the Center. Dudley Bayne, city manager, gave valuable assistance in this project.

At the recent Top O' Texas Annual Convention the Federation was presented the award for the Best Overall, and Outstanding Programs on Public Relations.

Members who have been honored with Life membership in the Federation are Mmes. Lee Curry, O. G. Hill Sr., A. O. Thompson, Ray Johnson and the late Mrs. John P. Slaton.

Problem Solving Process

By JOY STILLEY
AP Newsfeatures Writer
The more knowledge you have about the working of the mind and the dynamics of personality, the better equipped you are to handle life, believes psychologist Lee M. Shulman, co-author with Joan Taylor Kennedy of "When to See a Psychologist."

"Psychology is no longer the bugaboo it used to be. People are more willing to consult with psychologists and as a result are more able to cope with the pressures life imposes on us," says the deceptively youthful-looking 46-year-old psychotherapist.

"Living is a problem-solving process and the proper use of that organ in our head called the brain is the best tool for problem solving," he continues. "My job as a therapist is principally that of a teacher — of teaching people how to think."

A practicing psychologist for 21 years, Shulman has worked in the fields of vocational counseling, marriage counseling, individual and group therapy and has done extensive diagnostic work with both adults and young people.

He undertook the book project because he feels most people have the mistaken impression that psychologists deal only with "crazy people who are ready for a strait jacket or a padded cell." Most psychological problems, he points out, are experienced by the majority of people in everyday life.

"I wanted to make psychological problems more clearly understood, to identify them in nontechnical terms, to talk about the kinds of conflict normal people have which, if ignored, could grow and become more damaging and disabling," he explains.

What is his answer to the question posed in the book's title? "A person should see a psychologist when he is experiencing pain and feels overwhelmed by life," he advises. "He should recognize that psychological problems can be understood and resolved and that in the process of learning how to do this an individual can learn a way of thinking that will help him live a happier, more productive existence."

He has found people usually come to a psychologist because they are experiencing a crisis, mostly in the areas of love relationships or work. They feel that getting some objective feedback would be helpful.

"I don't believe that blaming someone is ever a productive way of attacking a problem," he says. "I help people evaluate their responsibilities. Erroneous or irrational things may have been learned in childhood, possibly from parents, but the fact that we retain them into adulthood is our responsibility."

"If as a child you are taught, for instance, that sex is bad to the extent you come to believe it as an adult, you carry responsibility for challenging that belief," he continues. "Sex is potentially the source of man's greatest satisfaction and to blame the parent who taught that child puritanical ideas is wasted energy."

No parent deliberately sets out to distort his child, and every parent desires to bring up a rational, healthy, happy individual, Shulman is convinced. He thinks parents have the responsibilities in achieving this aim:

- (1) — To be as rational a human being as possible;
- (2) — To be sure what they are teaching the child is reality oriented — the good and the bad of life — even if it isn't the way you'd like it to be;
- (3) — To help the child develop his thinking capacity, to learn how to use his mind properly, how to reason;
- (4) — To encourage the child wherever possible to make decisions for himself.

"I see many teen-agers today hung up on the drug problem," Shulman notes. "In every case the drug dependency is a symptom of other problems that are going on in that person's life. Use of alcohol and drugs is a handy way of evading the realities of life but those seeking this means of escape are damaging themselves psychologically and physically and not really dealing with the crucial underlying issues."

On his own an individual can work to identify, evaluate and make judgments for action, the psychologist believes. He suggests such aids as writing down the alternatives facing you, talking with a trusted friend, talking into a tape recorder — "Anything that can help you objectify your thinking and your feeling is useful."

Shulman received his master's degree in clinical psychology from the University of Michigan and later served as counselor there to students having difficulty in adjusting to college life. His father was an engineer and he started out to be one, too, in deference to his family's wishes. But after his freshman year he switched to his first love, psychology.

"There is much too much pressure on youngsters to pick a profession when they haven't had a chance to weigh alternatives," he reflects. "What you do as a life work is a crucial part of your sense of self, your well-being. It's never too late to make a change and the same is true in marriage. If you made the choice on faulty premises I would advise the couple involved to take a serious look at the relationship and give serious consideration to major surgery. There are times when divorce is a happy solution just as a career change is."

Both Shulman and his wife, Joyce, were divorced when they met. From their previous marriages he has four children and she has two. A licensed pilot as is her husband, Mrs. Shulman serves as copilot for the family's twin-engine four-seater plane in which the psychologist commutes between offices in Detroit and Manhattan.

Widow's Life Characterized

Available at the Deaf Smith County Library this week is the suspenseful story of a man who enters the life of a self-sufficient widow, Mrs. Moffat, and changes her peaceful, secluded life to something peculiar. Also available is a rare and witty murder story. Check into them today.

THE PROTEGE

Plucky, self-sufficient Mrs. Moffat is a widow who lives in peaceful seclusion. At church one Sunday morning a bearded young stranger inexplicably joins her in her pew. He tells her he is Simon Warren, who lived next door to her as a child and has returned for a look at the old place.

Grateful for company, Mrs. Moffat invites Simon home. They chat away the afternoon but the visitor displays no eagerness to be gone. The afternoon becomes a day, the day a week, the weeks turn into months. Having insinuated himself as a companion, gardener, and jack-of-all-trades, Simon settles down with the old woman for an indefinite period of time.

When Alexandra, Mrs. Moffat's granddaughter by marriage, arrives from New York for a short visit, she almost immediately expresses concern over the peculiar relationship between Mrs. Moffat and her youthful protege. Her suspicions aroused, she wonders what the young man who calls himself Simon Warren hopes to gain. Was he really a neighbor of Mrs. Moffat's? Is there a connection between him and the prowler seen stalking the vicinity? And what is his interest in the sundial?

Here is one of Charlotte Armstrong's most intriguing novels of suspense. A nerve-jangling, brilliantly executed story. The Protege begins quietly and builds relentlessly to an explosive climax as this widely acclaimed author again demonstrates why she is known as "America's queen of suspense."

DEATH'S BRIGHT DART

by V. C. Clinton-Baddeley
The First of V. C. Clinton-Baddeley's mysteries to be published in America, My Foe Outstretch'd Beneath the Tree won instant and youthful acclaim (Book World listed it among the 100 best books published in 1968).

Here, Dr. Davie, the estimable Cantabrigian, again has the opportunity to cloak his meticulous curiosity under the guise of detection. This comes about when the chief speaker of an international symposium on science is felled by strange means just at the time a blow pipe was discovered missing from a nearby exhibition of primitive weapons. Rare and witty, this entertainment places Dr. Davie squarely in his native environment, Cambridge, England; and surrounds him with a gaggle of precocious faculty children, highly pedants, and chilling motive for murder.

Club To Host Student Day

Student Musician's Day is to be hosted by members of Music Study Club at 2 p. m. Monday at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Paul Lyons and Mrs. C. J. Mountz will be hostesses.

ROCK ON THE WAVES

NEW YORK — There have been classical music cruises of the Mediterranean. Now there's going to be a rock cruise to Bermuda.

From March 20-26, about the Queen Anna Maria, 1,000 passengers — who have to be over 18 — can hear rock almost any time they want to. A number of rock groups booked for the cruise ship will pay three times a day and whenever else they think it's groovy. Groups signed thus far are Catfish, Boffalongo, Love Cry Want, Cherry Family, Mustard Family and Tractor. Moonog also will be on board, to write music for the cruise.

Richard Groff, president of Love Promotions Inc., which has arranged the rock cruise, is doing it because he liked Woodstock but he didn't like the mud, and wants to get away from it all.

About 25 students of private piano and voice, as well as members of the school band and choral ensembles will perform contemporary selections.

All parents of the students are cordially invited. The program will be introduced by Mrs. R. C. Godwin.

END TO COLD FEET

EDINBURGH, Scotland — Fifty-year-old John Kennedy Kennedy solved his chronic problem of cold feet by inventing a pair of electric shoes. Tired of trying to stamp warmth back into his toes he decided to put his army training as an engineer and his experience as an electrician to work.

The result — electrically heated innersoles for his shoes and boots which look like mini electric blankets.

A wire runs from the shoes up John's trousers leg to a battery in his pocket. An effective gadget, John says, but not for the ladies unless they wear slacks.

Largest cheese ever made was a cheddar weighing 34,591 pounds.

Only two of the sextuplets, two boys, were born alive, but all four of the quadruplet girls were born alive.

Of the total multiple births, 8,697 were twins and 84 triplets.

Miss Carole Grasmick Weds Jerry G. Collier

Marriage vows of Miss Carole Lynn Grasmick and Jerry Glynn Collier were read at 4 p. m. Saturday in Avenue Baptist Church with the Rev. Don Larkin, pastor, conducting the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grasmick, 115 Juniper, and Mrs. and Mrs. R. J. Collier, 620 Stanton.

Baskets of gladiolas at the altar were flanked by candelabra holding cathedral tapers to form a background for the nuptial setting. White satin bows marked the family pews on the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Jim Hill was matron of honor and best man was Gary Gene Grasmick of Petaeuma, Calif., brother of the bride.

The bridegroom's brothers, Jimmy and Ronnie Collier, were ushers. Ronnie also lighted candles. Matt Gallier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Collier, was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of lace and nylon acetate complimented by a chapel train. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and bell sleeves.

Tiers of scalloped lace made the full skirt and her veil of English net fell from a lace Camelot cap. She carried cascade bouquet of blue miniature carnations centered by a white catleya orchid.

The bride's attendant wore a blue satin gown with chiffon petals extending from the back neckline. Blue bridal net and flowers made her head piece and she carried a nosegay of blue carnations with matching satin streamers.

A reception followed in the church parlor where wedding guests were registered by Miss Sherri Gibson.

The service table was laid with white lace over blue and held the bouquets of the bride and matron of honor flanked by blue tapers. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped by the traditional bride and groom.

Refreshments were served from cut glass appointments by Mrs. Jim Collier and Miss Sharon Worthan. Mrs. Ronnie Collier and Mrs. Gary Grasmick assisted.

For a wedding trip to Tucson, Ariz., the bride traveled in a navy and white princess styled dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet. They will be at home at 503 So. 25 Mile Ave. in Hereford where he is employed by Consumers Fuel Co-Op.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL BY VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex.—Adequacy of planned public school education programs on the dangers of drug abuse drew a challenge last week from Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes as the war on narcotics increased in tempo.

Barnes told newsmen he feels the program can be "redecorated" and straightened out by the beginning of the next school year. He suggested that bona fide authorities on drugs and former addicts should be included among teacher-resource personnel.

Meanwhile, the Lieutenant Governor told a narcotics seminar for law officers and prosecutors that Texas is spending too little money on drug law enforcement.

Gov. Preston Smith, in the opening address to the conference, said the primary obligation of law enforcement is to rid society of pushers who traffic in narcotics for profit. Smith also said education is the key weapon in fighting drug abuse by addicts and experimenters.

Barnes said the new school course on narcotics should be made as "personal" as possible. Both Smith and Barnes agreed that teaching must be done by those who know what they are talking about.

Lieutenant Governor believes that lowering of penalties for first-offense possession of marijuana to misdemeanors would end the reluctance of juries to convict. He reported heavy response to his suggestion, and said that correspondence is running four-to-one in favor of lighter sentences. Pushers, he emphasized, should get tougher punishment than at present.

Spending for enforcement, the lieutenant governor claims, could be increased "200, 300 to 400 per cent" without undue burden on taxpayers — by "revaluation of priorities."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — State Board of Health may adopt reasonable rules and regulations relating to minimal equipment for ambulances, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Members of Chambers-Liberty Counties Navigation District are authorized to receive $25 a day or "reasonable per diem" or time spent on duty as fixed by county commissioners.

Board of trustees for a firemen's relief and retirement fund may not invest in mutual funds.

Changes in boundaries of county election precincts may be made only during July and August terms of county commissioners' court and the month of September, 1970. Changes do not become effective until the following voting year. Voters in the new Bailey County precincts must vote where they are residents.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith named Wayland Holt of Snyder, Judge of the 132nd judicial district to succeed Judge Sterling Williams who resigned. Holt had been serving as district attorney, and Governor named Tommie J. Mills, also from Snyder, to replace him in D. A.'s office.

Smith also filled these positions:

Runnels County Water Authority Board of Directors—E. E. King of Ballinger and Harley Hilliard of Norton for six-year terms.

Tri-County Municipal Water District—W. W. Siddons Jr. of Hillsboro.

Judicial Qualifications Commission—F. Howard Walsh of Fort Worth and Vernon Butler of Carthage.

Governor named group of Texas A&M University scientists to advise him and the legislature on safe use of agricultural chemicals. Members include Dr. P. L. Adkisson, Dr. William B. Davis, Dr. John Griffiths, Dr. Morris Merkle, Dr. F. W. Plapp Jr., Dr. Jack Price, Dr. Sammy Ray, Dr. Rudolph Radeleff, Dr. James Teer, Dr. J. Vanoverbeeke, Charles Chapman, assistant commissioner of Texas Department of Agriculture, will work with group.

Smith also appointed the twelve-member advisory council for children with learning difficulties.

OIL PRODUCTION—Texas Railroad Commission trimmed statewide oil allowable for May to 64.5 per cent of potential. Reduction follows four months at a high 68 per cent level. Commission said a restudy of the producing ability of Texas oil wells and increases in above-ground stocks of crude oil led to the cut-back.

May allowable will mean maximum production of 3,505,375 barrels a day, or 147,530 less than April. Estimated actual production will decline only about 43,750. Commission figures.

Nominations by major producers actually totalled 20,922 barrels a day more than April. HOSPITAL GRANTS CLEAR—State Board of Health has approved $10.1 million in federal grant allocations for 24 hospital-health facility construction or improvement projects. Program pays up to 50 per cent of construction of modernization costs.

Grants of $1 million each went to El Paso's Hotel Dieu Hospital, Houston's Christian Home for the Aged, Dallas County Hospital District and Weatherford Memorial Hospital. Other projects and allocations included:

San Antonio Metropolitan Health District, $153,000; Brownsville-Cameron County Public Health Center, $312,500; Crossroads Community Center of Dallas, $639,350; Fort Worth's Tarrant County Public Health Center, $262,625; Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital at San Antonio, $106,000; Children's Rehabilitation Center at Amarillo, $228,472; Spohn Hospital at Corpus Christi, $250,000; San Jacinto Methodist Hospital at Baytown, $171,100; Youens Memorial Hospital at Weimar, $206,900; Holy Cross Hospital at Austin, $750,000; Goodall-Witcher Hospital Foundation, Clifton, $789,973; Teague Hospital Authority at Teague, $230,285; M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor

Institute at Houston, $660,000; New Braunfels Hospital, $450,000; Trinity Memorial Hospital, $281,500; Fayette Memorial Hospital, La Grange, $200,000; Mercy Hospital, Laredo, $50,000; Northwest Texas Hospital; Amarillo, $237,500; Good Shepherd Hospital at Longview, $75,000 and San Antonio Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center at San Antonio, $106,217.

COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court held that an El Pasoan should be repaid his investment on a car repossessed by a finance company and resold, although the man claimed he was promised more time on payments. High court threw out punitive damages assessed against the finance company in a lower court, finding no proof of malice.

Fifth federal circuit court of appeals ordered Crosby Independent School District to implement a school desegregation pairing plan by June 1. District previously had been given until September 1.

CHOLERA FUNDS PROVIDED—Governor Smith has asked the Comptroller to Transfer $50,000 to the nearly depleted Hog Cholera Eradication Program. These transferred funds are to be used to indemnify owners whose swine are exterminated to prevent the spread of the disease.

This program, administered by the Texas Animal Health Commission as part of a nationwide campaign to eradicate the disease, is about to run out of money. Smith said only $5,000 of the $200,000 appropriated for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1970, remains for the program. Money will come from un-budgeted funds of the meat inspection program of the State Department of Health.

Money is needed for the state to maintain its Phase III status in the program, Smith said. Phase III is the top federal classification in eradication of the disease.

PARKS—Parks and Wildlife Commission is being called upon to renovate Abilene and Possum Kingdom State Parks and five historic West Texas Forts. Last Legislature appropriated specific money for each of the projects, and the P&W staff has drawn up proposals which are to be approved by Commission members.

Restoration Project includes Fort Richardson at Jacksboro; Fort Griffin, 15 miles north of Albany; Fort McKavett, 23 miles west of Menard; Fort Lancaster, 14 miles east of Sheffield, and Fort Leaton at Presidio.

Where People Are, That's Where She Is

BY SUE COLEMAN

"That's why I pulled the dandelions out of our yard," declares the president of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, about her personal contribution to the city cleanup which is the Division's current project.

Pulling dandelions, or doing any other gardening chores, is not Irene McKinster's favorite recreation. She prefers pastimes and work which bring her into contact with other people rather than tasks which are done alone. So her yard work proves her endorsement of the cleanup being pushed by the Civic Beautification committee of the Women's division, she avers. Mrs. McKinster is enthusiastic about accomplishments of that committee and others which make up the division.

The vivacious brown-eyed housewife and bank receptionist has been a member and served in an office of the Women's Division since it was formed here about two years ago. She was appointed to the top office by Virgil Marsh, the 1970 Chamber of Commerce president when he named chairmen of various work divisions for the year.

With those chairmen, she is on the Chamber of Commerce board and attends its breakfast sessions as the only woman member. She doesn't mind that, but complains laughingly that "It's hard to get up early enough for those 6:30 a.m. meetings!"

Proud of the Women's Division growth, she reports it now has more than 70 members, "even more than the Amarillo Women's Division." Several of the group including her, have enrolled enough new members to earn the prized red "Hereford Hustler" jackets awarded by Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce.

The Hereford women's organization has become a model for other chambers of commerce in the Panhandle and Mrs. McKinster has been called upon to help form similar bodies at Canyon, Dimmitt and Tulla -- a task she likes because she gets acquainted with women from all those communities.

Her civic activities are not confined to the C of C. She is on the board of the American Cancer Society's local organization, and has been a helper with such campaigns as those of the United Fund, Heart Fund and March of Dimes. She attends the Presbyterian Church.

In her job as receptionist at First State Bank she not only greets customers and visitors and dispenses information, she engages in such public relations duties as visits to hospital patients and "selling tickets to everything -- all sorts of benefit events".

This job is her first in a bank, although she says "I've been a working woman all my life." She was 12 years old when her father died and as a schoolgirl went to work to help her mother support the family. In her first job, a part-time elevator operator in a department store, she earned all of $2.50 a week.

She was Irene Smith then, living in Hobart, Okla., where her family had moved from her birthplace, at Sulphur, farther east in the state, when she was a baby. She completed high school at Hobart and a year in junior college, taking business courses.

Later she worked on a livestock raisers' newspaper, in a carpet and drapery shop and for a number of years in ready-to-wear sales. In training for her present work she had a short course to familiarize her with banking operations, stressing public relations.

She and Jack McKinster, also in Oklahoman, were married during World War II in South Carolina, where he was stationed. She accompanied him as he was transferred to bases in several other southern states, then they lived a decade in Oklahoma City and 13 years in North Platte, Neb.

From that city they came to Hereford. They still chuckle at a statement made by a secretary in McKinster's office that he and his family were "moving to Heifer, Texas".

The family has diminished during their residence here. Their daughter, Sue, moved to Tulsa when she married Alan Brown, and is a teacher there now.

At home at 111 Fir, Irene and Jack McKinster have no wish to leave Hereford; in fact he changed jobs when Armour & Co. was about to transfer him, and now is a cattle buyer with Missouri Beef instead.

Both of them enjoy sports, active and spectator, although Mrs. McKinster says she does not find so much time for them now as formerly. She enjoys fishing, a game of golf although she claims to be no great player, and archery, in which she has held a state championship in her division.

School games of all sorts entertain them and were especially enjoyed when their daughter was a student. Mrs. McKinster was involved in various parental activity connected with the school during those years, and for ten years she was a Girl Scout leader.

Bridge is a pleasant diversion for her now, and she likes "just visiting with people" in her home or friends' homes on the job or in such volunteer community service as her work with the Women's Division.

Huntsville House Marks Sam Houston Burial Ground

HOUSTON HOME — Sam Houston built this story-and-a-half house at Huntsville in 1847 while he served in the U. S. Senate. The kitchen is housed in the log building on the right. And Houston built another log building in front of the house to serve as his law office.

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (Special) — General Sam Houston, who more than any other man gave Texas its independence, is enshrined here on the grounds where he lived his last years.

The shrine is set among tall, old trees on the hills Houston loved. Here he found his happiest days at the height of a tumultuous career in war and politics. And it was to these hills and woods he came to find a final quiet before death.

A spring of cool, silver water breaks from beneath the trees near where Houston used to meet with visiting Indian friends and etches its course across the red earth to feed a small pond before it winds under a footbridge and loses itself in the folds of a hill.

The scene is a tranquil one, contrasting with the familiar image of Houston as a bold figure who carved a legend in war and politics. But out of the shadows cast by the oaks and the sycamores and from the timeless music made by the tiny spring emerges Sam Houston, the gentle husband and father as well as the sturdy frontiersman.

Down one of the grassy slopes is the main building of the shrine, the red brick Sam Houston Museum, with four magnificent white columns in front. Two of Houston's homes are nearby. Across a footbridge and surrounded by a white picket fence, just as it was when Houston lived, is the house he built in 1847. The white, story-and-a-half structure has six rooms divided by an open breezeway, or "dog run," and furnished with pieces from the Houston era.

Children were born here. And Houston worked in the log law office nearby. Writing to a friend about the home, Houston described it as a "bang up place." Beyond this house is another Houston home, the one in which 117 years ago he died. The house, built in 1858 to resemble a steamboat, was brought from across town to the site of the shrine. Houston retired to the steamboat house in 1861 after a secession-bent legislature removed him from the governor's office when he refused to swear allegiance to the Confederacy.

"I love Texas too well to bring strife and bloodshed upon her," declared the old general. Brokenhearted, the man who had led Texas' fight for independence and defeated Mexican Dictator-General Santa Anna at San Jacinto took his wife, Margaret, back to Huntsville. He died two years later when a cold turned into pneumonia.

In his long and often stormy career Houston was representative and governor of Tennessee, commander of the tiny Army of the Republic of Texas, president of the republic, senator from Texas and twice governor of the young state. Once he had dreamed of becoming president of the United States, as was his friend and mentor, Andrew Jackson. All of these colorful episodes in Houston's life are depicted at the shrine. The story begins in the museum with a mosaic of the Houston family coat of arms set in the floor of the central room. Towering over the room is the commanding figure of General Houston. He is pictured standing in the halls of Congress and lying beneath an oak after he was wounded in the leg at the Battle of San Jacinto.

In a case hangs the leopard skin vest he wore to Congress in 1846, shocking some of the more proper residents of Washington. Other displays speak of the days he spent with the Cherokee Indians who took the giant man from Tennessee into their tribe. Houston the tender husband is revealed in the letters he sent his young wife, who wrote poetry to him.

"My dear Margaret," began the tough, old campaigner in one letter, "I have little news but my love. I am so unhappy while separated from you that I feel myself most happy when writing to you."

Visitors to the shrine may be shown the museum and introduced to General Houston by a woman who has come to know him well.

Mrs. Grace Longino has been its director since 1953 when annual attendance was only about 18,000. Under her enthusiastic direction the shrine today attracts 50,000 visitors a year. Mrs. Longino, her staff, and the citizens of Huntsville each year celebrate the birthday of Margaret Houston. They dress in costumes of the Houston period and host thousands of visitors to the shrine.

This year, the eleventh of these "birthday parties" is scheduled for April 5 at the Huntsville shrine, situated on Interstate Highway 45, 69 miles north of Houston.

Visitors are escorted over the grounds and told about Houston; they are shown the home where the two children were born, and they are shown the steamboat house where he died with two final words: "Margaret, Texas."

GROWERS REPORT...

Improved Dollar Income FROM ENERGIZED SEED!

The following on-farm crop reports provide many good reasons why any grower of major crops should consider planting energized seed.

SEEDXCITERS of TEXAS

CORN John Born, —Earlier emergence, 4.5 bushels per acre increase over non-energized seed. 1.6% less moisture.

Gordon Craft, —5.5 bushels per acre advantage for energized seed over control plot, with less moisture.

Lawrence Anderson, Energized high lysine seed produced 11 more bushels per acre with 3.5% less moisture.

SOYBEANS Larry Anderson, 9.7 bushels per acre advantage for energized seed.

Leroy Cosgray, —Energized seed produced 3.8 more bushels per acre—a cash benefit of over $8.00 per acre!

SORGHUM Lawson Fedder, Energized sorghum seed produced 13 percent yield increase with 2 percentage points more protein.

WHEAT Everett Cooley, —3 days earlier emergence, 20% heavier stooling, 5 bushels more per acre for energized seed.

George Kasper, —Energized seed showed earlier emergence, earlier heading out, matured faster, produced 20% greater yield. Protein analysis revealed over 2 points more protein from energized seed.

These winter wheat plants were pulled from a northern Indiana farm, six weeks after drilling. Clearly evident are the longer and more numerous roots, greater stooling, plus larger and more vigorous top growth from energized seed.

A pre-harvest check on an Ohio farm indicates the benefits obtained from energized seed. The .12 treated plants had more branches, more pods and .139 more beans than 12 control plants from the adjacent row.

This harvest result shows a highly visible difference in favor of energized seed — longer ears, with 16 rows of kernels!

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manieot

Springtime, clean-up days, brilliant flowering tulips flaming their brilliance in the spring-time sunlight. Lovely flowering shrubs. A wish that all was well with the world.

To give added strength for gardening, and other tasks, and to add that certain needed lift, I am giving you a prescription given by our state Garden Club President, Mrs. H. B. Horn:

"May these spiritual vitamins help: Have a hobby....Develop a Philosophy....Share your thoughts and ideals....Face your fears....Balance Fantasy with Facts....Exercise, both physically and spiritually....Enjoy your Garden....Don't Worry....Love and Trust....Live each day with simple faith in a God of Love and understanding."

We as gardeners desire to enjoy good health, so then our plants, shrubs, trees, vegetables, and lawns, should enjoy good health too. The following are some tips to help in having a healthy garden.

Healthy, beautiful trees spread shade, bear fruit, bring greenery to home surroundings. If they are to do this well, they must be pruned. By pruning, it is possible to aid the rejuvenation of sickly trees, plants, and shrubs. Also, it assists in the control of insect pests and fungous diseases. Pruning can be used to correct faulty habits of growth, to promote interesting formations, and to bring about earlier blossoming. In certain cases it is possible to develop larger flowers on longer stems by pruning to reduce the number of flowering shoots. The complete removal of dead and dying branches is an operation that can be safely performed at any time. It is a continuous gardening chore. There are some basic principles that should be practiced.

1. Trees should be pruned either in the early winter months, or early spring. This gives cutting wounds on the tree a chance to heal during the late spring growth.

(a) When pruning trees, there are some exceptions, which are known as bleeders. They are maples and birches. They should be cut during the full growth in summer, because they will exude much sap if cut earlier. When pruning, the cuts should be made at a joint and made clean and even. Don't tear bark. If the removal of any limb leaves a cut larger than a 25 cent piece, the wound should be dressed to speed healing. Asphalt mixtures, or pine tar are recommended on such cuts.

(b) Keep in mind that pruning is to accomplish good, in that it directs the growth shape, and increases foliage and blossoms.

2. Early flowering shrubs and trees should be pruned AFTER flowering. For example, the forsythia and jasmine shrubs can now be pruned, but do not prune the pyracantha now, because you will cut away many of the lovely dainty blossoms which will soon be appearing.

3. In pruning, no stubs or rough cuts should be left which will die or decay. The cut should be made close to the supporting branch or trunk, or just above a bud. The cut should be straight, not on an angle, and should be near the bud.

4. One of the first removals in the pruning process is the dead wood, and broken limbs, or branches.

5. Know your trees, shrubs, and plants before you start pruning. Their natural growth habits should be considered, and also the effect which you wish them to create as they take their place in your landscape plan. For example forsythia, and spirea grow with a natural loose growth pattern, while other shrubs have an upright habit of natural growth. Then oriental effects can be created, by correct pruning. I have learned that pyracantha, can be made to have an oriental appearance if so pruned.

6. There is a certain art to pruning roses. Some pruning can be done, when they are being put to bed in the fall. For instance if there are tall willow canes, which can be damaged by wind, these should be pruned. Roses should be pruned with SHARP pruning shears, and the gardener should protect themselves from the thorns. Small or large thorns, in the flesh can cause much discomfort, and sometimes sores. (I know, because I have been pruning roses the last week)

(a) Correct pruning of roses promotes blossoms, and good stem growth.

The cut should be made about one-fourth inch from the top of the bud, and make it straight. Use care that it is also a smooth cut. Rough ragged cuts promote trouble. Coured and dead canes should be removed. If the canes have a dark brown color, they too should be removed, because they will soon die. Don't be too severe with the pruning shears, as often too much of the growth which is stored up for summer blooms and future growth are removed. Use good judgment in pruning your roses.

It is well to remember some of these principles in the summer when cutting the blossoms, because the life of the plant can be endangered. Do not let just anyone go into your rose garden and cut the blossoms; there is a correct way for this.

7. Chrysanthemums can and should be pruned when they reach a sizeable growth in the early summer months. I usually prune mine in July or late June, and cut them down so that they will not become tall and leggy, and will grow more compactly, thus adding beauty to the garden. Some of the shaping of the plant can be done, when the pinching process is started.

Keep in mind, always be kind to your garden treasurers. They are an entrustment and loving tender care is always best.

When you have finished some of the garden chores, take out time to see some of the beauty spots in Hereford. The tulips have been exceptionally pretty at the Cordray home, 125 Kingwood; in The Pioneer Study Clubs' Park, on North main and Park; the Post Office; First Baptist Church; Camp Fire Lodge; Court House; Warner home, 805 N. Main and Gilliland Funeral Home, 411 E. 6th. Also be sure and see the Golden California Poppies at Mrs. McGehees, 504 N. Miles. If you wish to know the variety or names of any of these call me or a member of the Pioneer Study Club. Don't forget to do your part in the clean-up campaign. Unity is the word.

PLEASE don't throw trash on the streets.

Favor de no tirar basura en la calle.
