Amendment Extension Faces Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) - Both sides are predicting victory by a narrow margin as supporters and opponents of a new lease on life for the Equal Rights Amendment face a showdown in the Senate.

The final vote is not scheduled until Friday on a House-passed measure that would give state legislatures 39 more months to act on the proposed addition to the Constitution.

But ERA supporters, including President Carter, said the Senate could kill the extension today by approving an amendment to guarantee those states that have already ratified the amendment a chance to change their minds.

The sponsor of the amendment, Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, said he was hopeful despite overwhelming rejection of a similar but more far-reaching amendment on Tuesday.

"I have received personal commitments from a majority of senators that they would support my amendment," said Garn. "They are men and women of integrity, and I expect them to hold firm."

Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., a supporter of the extension, predicted it would pass "by a slender margin." He said the Garn amendment "would kill ERA deadlier than a doornail" if adopted because it would force the extension into a House-Senate conference committee.

At the White House, presidential assistant Sarah Weddington, who said she spoke for Carter, told reporters that any amendments by the Senate would make it very difficult to pass an extension this year.

On Tuesday, the Senate rejected by a 64-26 vote an amendment by Sen. William L. Scott, R-Va., that would have allowed states to rescind ratification and would have recognized the actions of four states that have already done so.

THE GENERAL ELECTION is just four weeks away and, for some, it can't happen any too soon! State Sen. Kent Hance was in town Tuesday, and he remarked that it's been a long, long campaign in his race for U.S. Representative of the 19th Congressional District. Because of Rep. Mahon's early announcement that he would retire, the race started early, and it will be 14 months for Hance. GOP candidate George Bush even started earlier, and the election will be a 16-month undertaking for him.

Great Plains Wheat Predicts More Purchases by China

WASHINGTON (AP) - Great Plains Wheat Inc., a market development association, says that China may soon order more U.S. wheat to help make up its food grain requirements in the coming year.

Recently, the Agriculture Department projected China's imports of wheat in 1978-79 at about 10 million metric tons, up from 8 million metric tons estimated in August.

Great Plains says in its current newsletter that with the increase in China's prospective requirements and uncertainty about wheat production in Australia, one of its traditional suppliers, "various observers are now beginning to expect a larger quantity of U.S. wheat to be purchased" in the coming months.

The Great Plains report said that "there is a strong possibility" of China making "additional and sizeable" purchases of U.S. wheat and that some of this could be announced in connection with Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland's visit to Peking next month.

Hance Says Opponent's Moving Should Hurt Bush in Midland

By PAUL SIMS, Managing Editor

State Senator Kent Hance, running for U.S. Congress, Tuesday called his opponent "a nice guy" but said George Bush has "upset a lot of people because he moves around so much."

Hance, a Lubbock lawyer and Democrat, campaigned Tuesday in Hereford, attending a Hereford Rotary Club meeting then holding a press conference.

Hance, in calling his opponent "nice," was referring to the charge-less battle by the two men for the congressional seat being vacated by retiring George Mahon. "Bush is a nice guy," Hance said. "But, I think it offended people in

Democrats To Band Together

By The Associated Press

The rapidly warming Texas political season is gaining momentum with a new flood of announcements, charges and endorsements.

Top Democrats John Hill and Bob Krueger Tuesday announced they will join with other local and statewide candidates for an all-out highway and helicopter campaign tour of central and east Texas on Oct. 20-21.

Hill is a candidate for governor and Krueger is after Republican John Tower's seat in the U.S. Senate.

"This is definitely a departure from the traditional method of single candidate campaigning," Texas Democratic Party chairman Billy Goldberg said.

"The fast-paced tour is designed to allow Hill and Krueger maximum exposure in rural as well as urban areas. We don't have to hide behind prepaid and carefully packaged advertising. We're taking our campaign straight to the people."

Democrats weren't the only ones heard.

Tower told a crowd of supporters in San Antonio that Krueger "has a way of playing fast and loose with truth as far as the record is concerned . . . He says his absenteeism is unimportant, since he is in Congress to vote for more important measures. Some of us have different view of what is important." Tower said, pointing to what he said were a

Lady Bird Plugs Hill

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Lady Bird Johnson said Tuesday she is supporting Democrat John Hill for governor of Texas and will vote for him.

The endorsement from the widow of former President Lyndon B. Johnson was telephoned to reporters by Liz Carpenter, an associate of Mrs. Johnson.

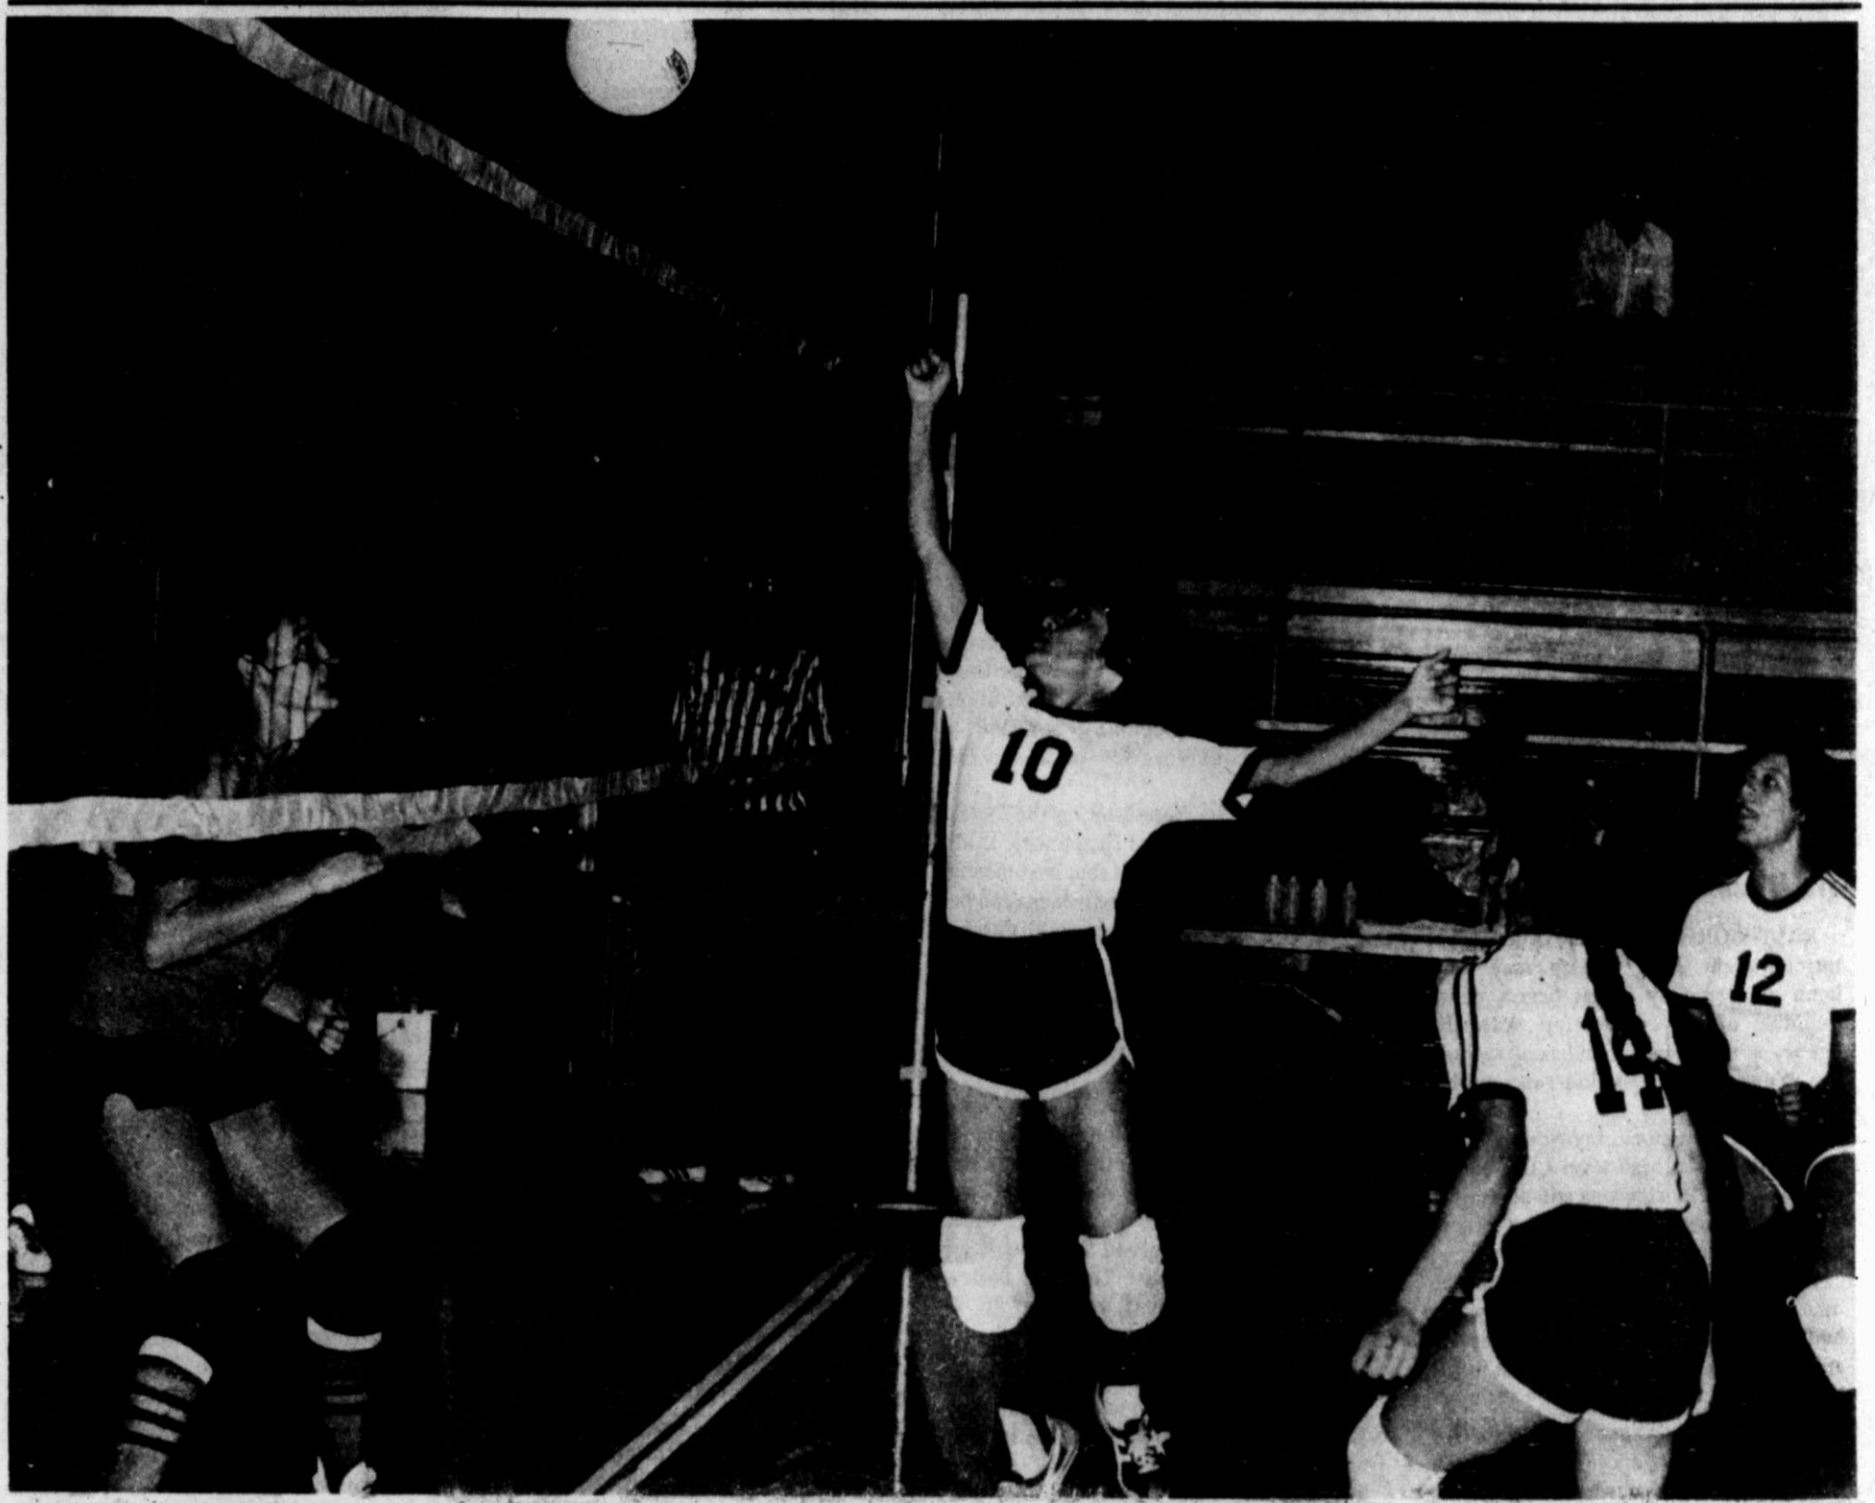

"I have observed John Hill's record and experience and I believe he will serve the people of Texas well," Mrs. Johnson said. "I am going to vote for him."

Hance said that because of Bush's move to Lubbock Hance's chance of picking up some all-important Midland votes are much improved.

Hance said that Bush's charge that a vote for Hance would be a vote for President Carter was ill-founded "because I've always voted for my

Short-Reigning John Paul Buried

VATICAN CITY, (AP) - Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church bid farewell today to Pope John Paul I, the "smiling pontiff" who reigned only 34 days.

In the sadness and joy of ancient liturgy, the cardinals jointly celebrated the funeral Mass on the broad marble steps of St. Peter's Basilica, just as they celebrated the requiem for Paul VI on Aug. 12, and with John Paul, concelebrated his inaugural Mass on Sept. 3.

The funeral marked the beginning of nine days of official mourning. On the 10th day, cardinals will be sequestered in secrecy in the Sistine Chapel to elect John Paul's successor.

Tens of thousands jammed the vast cobblestone square for the funeral, and the Mass was televised to millions more on a worldwide hookup.

The body of Pope John Paul, who died of a heart attack Thursday at the age of 65, lay in a plain cypress coffin, his head facing the world's largest basilica and feet toward the crowd in the square.

Nearly 5,000 heavily armed policemen and soldiers were deployed to protect the official delegations.

The funeral Mass preceded the burial in the grotto of the basilica, an elaborate underground network of chapels and the resting place for 146 other popes, including what are believed to be the remains of St. Peter, the first pope.

Despite heavy rains since Saturday, about 750,000 mourners had trekked through St. Peter's Square to view Pope John Paul's body as it lay in state in the basilica.

Cardinal Carlo Confalonieri, 85, dean of the College of Cardinals, presided over the Mass.

"Father eternal shepherd," he said, "hear the prayers of your people for your servant Pope John Paul I, who governed

Gary Baker, Amarillo United Way campaign chairman and professional fund-raiser, will speak on soliciting juring an orientation meeting of Deaf Smith County United Way captains and workers at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Medallion Room of Deaf Smith Rural Electric Co-Op.

The orientation meeting will be one of at least two for UW workers, according to president Paul Sims, who announced that the campaign committee Tuesday postponed the official drive kickoff from Oct. 11 to Oct. 18.

Sims said that too many conflicting events this week and next made it necessary for the committee - Sims, Lynton Allred, Bob Gentry and Raymond White - to postpone the kickoff.

Rex Easterwood, lieutenant governor of Division 33 of Kiwanis International, will install new officers in the local club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Hereford Community Center.

Also at the annual Kiwanis installation banquet, a Kiwanian of the year will be named.

Delegates from other clubs in the division will be on hand for the event, according to Hereford president R.L. Blakely.

Exports Said To Affect Farmers' Vulnerability

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new government study warns that a reliance on agricultural exports to help ease trade deficits "increases the vulnerability" of farmers and consumers to what happens to crops and trade policies in foreign countries.

The report also discusses the role of federal programs on the future of farming in the United States and their impact on food prices.

Trends toward fewer, larger and more specialized farms are likely to continue, said the Congressional Budget Office.

Today, there are about 2.7 million farmers, representing a gradual shrink in farm numbers over many years. If current policies are continued, they may drop to about 1.6 million by the year 2000, the CBO said.

Shifts in federal policies, such as actions to reduce production costs of large farms, could speed up the erosion and leave fewer than one million U.S. farms by the end of this century.

On the other hand, concerted efforts to protect smaller farmers could ease the drain and keep farms at around 1.9 million to 2 million 20 years from now.

The report, "Public Policy and the Changing Structure of American Agriculture," was requested by Rep. Richard Nolan, D-Minn., chairman of a House subcommittee on family farms and rural development.

For years, particularly since 1972, when huge foreign orders for grain helped push up farm commodity prices, federal policymakers have stressed the need of expanding exports so that farmers can use their resources fully and get larger incomes through the marketplace.

Also, farm exports have been a consistent bright spot in U.S. trade balance, far exceeding the value of agricultural imports.

In the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30, for example, farm exports were estimated at a record $26.6 billion against imports of $13.7 billion, meaning a favorable balance of $12.9 billion for the year.

The report's reference to exports was a minor part of its overall discussion of federal policies and their effect on U.S. agriculture. But it was explicit in warning against the "unexpected shocks arising from the agricultural sectors and trade policies of other countries."

"For example," it said, "good weather and bumper crops in the Soviet Union district. If you took that reason of logic, you'd have to point to Bush's people being involved in the Republican party when Nixon resigned. But, I don't think they did anything--they're honorable people."

The senator said some supporters of Jim Reese, who lost to Bush in the Republican primary, are supporting Hance. "They felt that Reese was a Reagan Republican and Bush was a Rockefeller Republican."

And they know I have four years of experience in state government, and that will help me as far as getting good committee assignments.

Solitary Confinement Among Prisoners' Charges

HOUSTON (AP) - Solitary confinement and poor medical care were some of the abuses heaped on state prison inmates in retaliation for their legal activities and complaints, the prisoners testified.

One of the plaintiffs in a lawsuit against the Texas Department of Corrections, 35-year-old David Ruiz, testified Tuesday he had to remove a cast from his foot and hobble about in pain in order to do work given him.

Ruiz, who is serving a 25-year prison sentence for robbery, said he slashed his wrists and other parts of his body at least 15 times during his 10 years behind bars.

He said he once was placed in solitary for "self mutilation" and while in the cell ripped out the stitches holding the wound together.

Another inmate, O.D. Johnson, said he had headaches caused by an old eye operation, and was given drugs that left him "numb" and "like a zombie."

"I couldn't write or nothing," he said. "I just wanted to lie down."

Eight inmates have filed class action suits against the prison system challenging the way Texas prisoners are treated and seeking major changes in the penal system.

CIA Agent's Death In Russia Probed

BALTIMORE (AP) - The CIA fears that former agent John Paisley may have been murdered by Soviet Secret police because of his connection with the agency's satellite surveillance system, the Wilmington News Journal reported today.

In a copyright story, the News Journal quoted unnamed high-level CIA sources as saying that Paisley was still serving as a consultant with the CIA at the time of his death.

Paisley's body was recovered from the mouth of the Patuxent River Sunday. He had 40 pounds of diving weights strapped around his waist and a bullet hole in his head.

The chief spokesman for the CIA denied that the agency had any fears Paisley had been murdered by Soviet agents.

"That is ridiculous," said CIA spokesman Herbert E. Hetu. "Why would they murder him because he knew about the satellite surveillance program. I know as much about satellite surveillance as he did and I have no fear."

Hetu said Paisley was "an analyst. He wasn't a spy," and confirmed that Paisley was still serving as a consultant with the CIA at the time of his death.

He also denied that the CIA was taking any active role in the investigation beyond cooperating with Maryland State Police.

Examiners Question Need of Agency

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Spokesmen for the state boards of medical and dental examiners question whether Texas needs a central licensing agency, which 26 other states have set up.

Carl Hardin Jr. of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners told a House subcommittee Tuesday "Most state agencies are fearful of any umbrella-type agency."

A central agency could possibly reduce license fees by as much as $2.8 million over a two-year period, said Bill Wells of the Sunset Advisory Commission staff.

Wells said, however, "At the beginning, the agencies did not like it a central agency. There were complaints of unresponsiveness and that licensing had lost the personal touch."

"Everytime you centralize something, you lose basic contact," said Hardin.

The testimony was presented to the Subcommittee on Professional Boards of Licensing. Speaker Bill Clayton instructed the subcommittee to "study the best methods for regulations and registration of professional licensing boards" - including consideration of a central agency.

Sam Stone Jr., representing the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, said, "I doubt in my own mind that cost-saving efficiency or public responsiveness can be accomplished through consolidating boards."

Randolph Hearst Denies Book Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Patricia Hearst's father, Randolph, has denied that a proposed book on the Hearst case by lawyer F. Lee Bailey was part of any fee arrangement for defending Miss Hearst, and Bailey agreed that was so.

Through an associate Tuesday, Bailey said the disagreement was due to a "misunderstanding."

The question came up after Miss Hearst asked for a new trial, claiming Bailey had been ineffective in the trial in which she was convicted of bank robbery following her kidnapping. She said she never wanted a book written about her.

She said Bailey signed a $225,000 contract to write a book about her during the 1976 trial. Bailey responded that he had talked to Miss Hearst and her parents about a book "and our fee was set accordingly."

In a declaration filed Monday in U.S. District Court, Hearst denied the book had any bearing on the fee. Bailey's statement seemed to state that the book arrangement had lowered the fee.

By phone, Bailey's associate, Al Johnson, said, "Patty's father is absolutely correct. It's a misinterpretation of Lee's statement, or its semantics, if people read that the book would be part of the trial fee arrangement."

Police Report

Hereford police Tuesday afternoon arrested a 16-year-old male and 15-year-old female, both Littlefield runaways, in connection with four Hereford burglaries.

Police received a call from Mrs. R.B. Turner, 331 McKinley, around 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. She reported that she was sitting in the living room when she heard a noise in the house, then saw a Mexican-American girl hiding behind a door.

Mrs. Turner said that when she picked up the telephone to call her daughter, she saw a boy run out the back door. Mrs. Turner told police her purse, with $48 inside it, was missing.

Police received a call at 12:20 p.m. from Mrs. B. Lee Coconougher, 108 W. 8th, who reported that a Mexican-American male and female came to her back door and asked for a glass of water. While getting the water, she noticed the male had run to the front and entered the house. Mrs. Coconougher said the youth ran out when she yelled at him. She reported that nothing was taken.

While searching for the two youths, police noticed a car door was open in the driveway of Mrs. Juan Jackson, 704 E. 4th. Mrs. Jackson, after police told her about the door, reported that five stereo tapes had been stolen from the car.

Police received a call later Tuesday afternoon about two hitchhikers on E. Highway 60. The two suspects were arrested after they had received a ride in a pickup.

The youths confessed to being involved in the three incidents and said they had stolen a watch from a bedroom at 308 Jowell and a purse with $8 in it from 511 Roosevelt.

Joe Brown and Vernon Hope were investigating officers in the burglary.

George Ballard, 238 Hickory, in another incident reported the theft of a picnic table and benches from 405 Ave C.

Scotland Yard Checking Into Bulgarian Deaths

LONDON (AP) - Scotland Yard is investigating the second death of a Bulgarian defector in three weeks. The first one died after he claimed he had been stabbed with a poison-tipped umbrella, and the second died in a fall down his stairs.

A third Bulgarian defector survived a poison-dart attack in Paris in August, and the Yard is evaluating the case of a fourth man claiming to be Bulgarian who flagged down a police car in London Monday and said he was being treated.

The defectors all had made anti-communist broadcasts to their homeland. The two who died in London, Georgo Markov and Vladimir Simeonov, were close friends and worked for the British Broadcasting Corporation's Bulgarian-language service. Simeonov's pajama-clad body was found in his south London home by another BBC employee sent to check on him after he failed to turn up for work Monday.

Scotland Yard termed the death suspicious and said after an autopsy that the 30-year-old Simeonov died from asphyxia caused by inhaling blood from a fractured nose.

"Further laboratory and scientific tests will be carried out to try to determine why Mr. Simeonov fell down the stairs," said a police spokesman.

The BBC said that Simeonov was a naturalized British citizen who was a student before he fled from Bulgaria in 1971. His parents still live there.

Markov, a 49-year-old playwright who defected to Britain in 1970, died Sept. 11 from septicemia, a form of blood poisoning, four days after he reported he was stabbed in the thigh with a lethally-tipped umbrella by a man in the street.

Another prominent Bulgarian defector and leading political expert, Vladimir Kostov, claimed unidentified men fired poison darts at him in Paris in August. Kostov, who has lived in Paris since he defected last year, survived.

Scotland Yard said forensic scientists were testing tiny platinum and iridium alloy pellets found in both men that could have been injected into their skins. The pellets, smaller than a pinhead, are officially presumed to have contained a poison or some kind of bacteria or virus.

Harrises Get 10

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - William and Emily Harris were sentenced to 10 years to life in prison Tuesday for the kidnapping of Patricia Hearst.

Their attorneys predicted they would be free within five years.

Alameda County District Attorney Lowell Jensen said the sentence imposed by Superior Court Judge Stanley P. Golde will be quickly converted to meet requirements of a new law. He said the term would then come to 10 years and eight months in prison.

Attorneys for the couple said that with time off for good behavior and credit for time served the Harrises would be released in 1983.

Prior to today's court appearance, court documents were released in which the Harrises denied that the newspaper heiress was ever tortured, raped or brainwashed by the group that abducted her.

It was the first time they had ever replied directly to the version of Miss Hearst's captivity that she had presented while a defendant in a bank robbery trial.

Harris, 33, and his 31-year-old wife, Emily, entered guilty pleas

Carter Campaign Buttons Rare in Collectors' Market

DAVID, Calif. (AP) - Bob Warren doesn't want to offend his famous Republican dad, but Jimmy Carter buttons are commanding a lot of attention these days.

More than Benjamin Harrison buttons; more than Dewey-Warren buttons.

Warren is the son of Earl Warren, former Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, three-term governor of California running mate of Thomas Dewey, the GOP's 1948 presidential candidate.

Bob Warren collects campaign buttons and other political paraphernalia.

He says a 1976 Carter tin button is worth more than his 1888 Harrison cloth button, which was woven with the stars and stripes.

One reason is because about 1,700 series of Carter buttons were turned out for the 1976 campaign.

"The average button for Carter is now $5 to $10," Warren says. "There's an awful lot of interest. There wasn't a large volume of button made, and many were made locally - maybe only 2,000 of each kind."

Cloth buttons of the Harrison type were replaced in 1896 by metal buttons with pins on the back. Collectors are interested only in what has been produced since, he said.

Warren's prize, obviously, is his series of Dewey-Warren buttons. He lacks representation from only a few series.

He has some rare misprints with Dewey on the right and Warren on the left. Button

Aug. 31 in a surprise plea bargain which they said would insure their release by 1983.

However, both defense and prosecution attorneys said that today's sentencing by Judge Stanley Golde of Alameda County Superior Court will give little indication of how long the Harrises will remain behind bars.

They already are serving an 11-year-to-life sentence for a Los Angeles shootout involving Miss Hearst.

The confusion about their ultimate term stems from a recent change in the California law which says that if a tradition requires them to be the other way around.

Warren also has a lot of Nixon items, "not because I like him but a lot of interesting buttons were made because of him. They have a lot of value in the future."

Chamber Women to Fill Vacated Board Positions

Four positions on the board of directors of the Chamber Women's Division will be filled Tuesday night during the last quarterly membership meeting of this year. The meeting will begin with dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Country Club.

Nominated to fill the unexpired terms of Janet Welty and Sharon Davis will be LaJean Henry and Olivia Denning. Under consideration to replace retiring board members Donna VanderZee and Carrell Ann Simmons are Frances Berry and Marcia Snyder.

Presenting the nominating committee's report will be chairman Donna VanderZee. Also serving on her committee are Mrs. Simmons, Pauline Howard, Sherry Hoover and Amy Gilliland.

In other business, it will be announced that the fine arts committee is raising funds for a living Christmas tree, to be planted on the lawn of the Courthouse and decorated each December. A portion of the funds needed for this project will be collected in ticket sales to "Gypsy," which is to be presented Oct. 21 at the Community Center by dramatist Meredith Wilcox and vocalist Jane Gulley. In conjunction with this, the Hereford Art Guild will be displaying a collection of artwork in the foyer.

Tuesday evening's program will mark the kick-off of Women's Emphasis Days here, a series of informative programs and demonstrations geared expressly to women. April Lawrence of St. John's Modeling School in Amarillo, will discuss "Charm after Forty."

For details about further Women's Emphasis Days programs to be presented next week, see related stories in The Brand. (For details about further Women's Emphasis Days programs to be presented next week, see related stories in The Brand.)

Reservations to attend Tuesday night's dinner meeting must be made before Monday by telephone the Chamber office, 364-3333. The price of the meal will be $5.50 and guests are welcome, according to Margaret Formby, president of the Chamber Women.

Ann Landers

Unfair Cop

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Quite a while back you printed something that I think needs to be seen again by a great many people. I was reminded of your column which must have appeared at least eight years ago when a friend of mine was raising the roof because his 17-year-old son got a ticket.

You should have heard the names he called the officer who ticketed him. You would have thought the man was the scum of the earth.

If you will reprint that column I will hand it to my friend personally. Thanks in advance. -- H.H.G. Of Houston

DEAR H.H.G.: The column you are asking about was written by W.O. Newman, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Public Safety. I am happy to rerun it at your request.

SO YOU GOT A TICKET Are you one of those people who calls me on the telephone or writes and complains that my trooper stopped you and handed you a ticket for no reason at all?

You break my heart. You tell me you're a good citizen and a safe driver and some dumb cop gave you a ticket for going a little faster than the law allows. Well, I hope the next time you get caught breaking the speed limit, he gives you another ticket and the traffic judge takes your license away. I pray that he nails you before you crash into a concrete abutment and he has to pull your lifeless body out of a demolished speed engine.

I wish you could spend a few days with me and watch a teenager writhe in agony on the gravel near a highway while he waits for an ambulance which will come too late to take him to the hospital. So instead, he goes straight to the morgue.

I wish I could make you help scrape the bits of bone and flesh of a whole family off the asphalt and put it into baskets. You and vomit. Just as I have done too many times. But afterwards you might think a little different the next time you climb into that car of yours and open it up on a stretch of highway to see what it can do.

So you got a ticket? Mister, you break my heart.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I won't be able to sleep tonight until I say something to the woman who signed herself "So in Love."

"Lolly" said her fiance is very suspicious -- constantly checking and accusing her of everything under the sun. He also slaps her around when he thinks she has been cheating on him. Lolly closed by saying she couldn't live WITH him or WITHOUT him.

I pray Lolly will take your advice and ditch the bum. It may hurt for a while but better to have a few weeks or months of agony than a lifetime of it. Hot-tempered, slapping-husbands never get better. They get worse. The slaps become punches and bones get broken. I know what I'm talking about because I married the same kind of nut.

Any young woman who thinks she is going to make a man over after they are married is kidding herself. I realize I'm singing a pretty tired tune, but some people have to hear it 50 times before it sinks in. So, Lolly dear, call me a bore but do yourself a favor and listen. -- Battered Veteran Of Many Wars

DEAR VET: If just one person gets the message it was worth sitting up an extra 30 minutes to write it. Thanks for writing.

Carson County Plans Museum Day Saturday

Visitors attending the Annual Carson County Square House Museum Day on Saturday will be pleasantly surprised by the newly-completed exhibits in Freedom Hall, titled "Hall of Man in Plains History." This exhibit has been completed under direction of Robert McKenzie, Area Agent, and Dr. Frederick Rathjen, Historian Department of History, WTSU.

This display shows the plainsman from the Stone Age to present day and tells the story of how he gained his freedom. It is one of the most outstanding and comprehensive displays of this type in the United States. All artifacts and persons whose lives and works are included are of regional origin.

Kenneth Wyatt, Western artist of Tulsa, will be showing some of his works which include watercolor, pastel, oil and bronze sculpture. This display will be in the newly completed art galleries in Freedom Hall from October 6th through 8th.

The featured speaker at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium will be Roger C. Zwieg, Aerospace Technologist and Research Pilot, NASA, Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center at Houston. "The Price of the Panhandle" band will also perform.

The 25th Annual Pioneer Day-Thirteenth Annual Museum Day barbecue will be from 5 - 7:30 p.m. in the Carson County Ag Building. Admission to the barbecue is by donation to the Museum Annual Support Fund - Adult minimum is $5. Student minimum is $1.50. A Country Store featuring homemade goods, arts and crafts will be located in the building also.

Hospital Auxiliaries

Convene in Amarillo

Seven members of Deaf Smith General Hospital Auxiliary attended the District I area meeting of the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries (TAHA) Monday in Amarillo at the psychiatric pavilion.

Presenting the President's Message was Mrs. Phillip Clifton of Houston, president of TAHA. Other speakers included Anne Briscoe, assistant administrator for government relations at TAHA facilities in Austin; Jerry Howard, administrator of Highland Hospital in El Paso; and member of the TAHA Council on government relations; and the Rev. Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of First Baptist Church in Amarillo.

TAHA members were entertained at the area meeting by the musical group, "The Other Side" from Amarillo Junior College. Dr. Dale Roller is director.

Following adjournment, TAHA members toured the building with Priscilla Heyrich, administrative coordinator for the Amarillo Hospital District.

Water Witch 'Consistent'

By JULES LOH
AP Special Correspondent
NELIGH, Neb. (AP) - Merritt DeCamp, a well digger, has an edge on others in that business but he doesn't generally talk about it. He is a water witch.

He doesn't talk about it, he says, because too many charlatans have swindled their way through American folklore claiming supernatural powers. Merritt DeCamp, known above all as a man of strictest integrity, wants no part of that heritage.

"I don't know why the stick bends," he said. "I don't know why it works for some and not others. I don't know what it tells about what is under the ground. All I know is that it is consistent."

A water witch, as country people are aware, is a person who can grip a forked willow switch in upturned fists and discover, by watching the tip bend downward, where to dig for water.

In Merritt DeCamp's work-hardened fists, the dipping of the willow is unmistakable, and a bit eerie.

"The best I can deduce - and I'm not claiming this is accurate - is that the stick dips when it is above a gravel formation. Gravel is a water-bearing formation."

He discovered this by walking along a steep riverbank. When the stick dipped, he marked the spot. Then he retraced his path along the riverbed. Sure enough, at every spot he had marked above, he found an outcropping of gravel below.

Merritt DeCamp has never advertised his unusual talent, or boasted about it. Quite the contrary. But it is well known hereabouts, and when a neighbor has asked his help, he has obliged.

"I have never charged a dime," he said, "and I have refused money people try to give me. It would be wrong to take it."

His results have been unerring, and not just locally. On Guadalcanal, he witched a well for the Seabees that far out-produced the Army's two scientifically located wells.

Merritt DeCamp was born in 1913 in the nearby village of Clearwater. Could that be significant? and discovered his water-witching ability when he was 14.

"A friend of mine, Frank McGee, told me he saw somebody get a well that way, by witching. Frank showed me how to cut the stick. We decided to try it and it worked, for me. It didn't work for him."

"I began experimenting. I tried it wearing rubber boots. I tried it under power lines, over concrete. I tried it riding in a car. I tried it with the stick taped to my hands to make sure I wasn't causing it to dip subconsciously."

ly. "I tried it blindfolded. I had people lead me around to see if it dipped in the same places. It did. I still have no answers, except that the laws of physics are violated consistently. The stick dips in some places and not in others."

His family, at least, has come to take his gift for granted. He has located, with astounding accuracy, long-buried sewer lines, water mains, culverts. For this purpose, however, he prefers a pair of steel rods, L-shaped, the thickness of chicken wire.

Merritt's son, Steve, who worked with his father, said he grew up regarding a pair of steel rods in the tool box as commonplace as a wrench.

"Nobody told me they were anything special, so I used them myself. They worked. Not as well as they did for dad, but I couldn't use the other tools as well as he could either."

One summer Steve worked on a farm in South Dakota where men were laboring with much frustration to locate a buried water pipe.

"They were digging up the whole yard," Steve said. As a matter of course, he fashioned a pair of steel rods and immediately found the pipe. "No sweat."

All in the family.

Blast Thunders Through Continental Refinery

DENVER (AP) - Thundering explosions ripped through a Continental Oil-Co. refinery Tuesday killing at least four persons and injuring at least 11 others, police said.

Billowing fireballs rose over the white storage tanks of the refinery and bulk storage plant just northeast of Denver in Commerce City.

Several of the injured were hospitalized in serious or critical condition, and a Continental spokesman said damage could run to between $5 million and $10 million.

Robert Alexander, Continental's manager at the refinery and storage plant, said the initial explosion - heard throughout the Denver metropolitan area - was touched off by leaking flammable fumes. He said the source of the ignition was not known.

The Denver bomb squad was sent into the refinery area after the Adams County Sheriff's Department received a call from a man who said he was a Conoco employee and had placed a bomb near a storage tank.

However, police said no bomb was found. Alexander said 13 men were working in the refinery when the blast occurred, at least nine of them in the area of the explosion. Some of the workers said they had noted leakage of fumes in the area before the blast, Alexander said.

An hour and a half after the first blast shook the city at 6:35 a.m., authorities began to evacuate the area surrounding the plant boundaries. Police at a roadblock two blocks south of the plant said a chlorine storage tank had been blown up in the last series of explosion.

Two hours after the first blast, the flames had subsided in the plant area. Firemen atop aerial ladders sent flat streams of water cascading on the main blaze, but brilliant orange flames continued to burst occasionally over the refinery structures.

The area resembled a war scene with hissing flames, chunks of twisted metal the size of car doors littering the ground and buildings with their sides and roofs blown out.

Interstate Highway 270, one-quarter mile north of the refinery, was closed to traffic as pieces of charred metal rained down on the roadway. Colorado Highway 85, east of the plant, also was closed. Residents reported broken windows and fragments of metal up to two miles from the scene.

Court Declines Roloff Case

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court has refused to hear a Texas evangelist's arguments that state licensing of child care homes run by his religious organization violates the Constitution's freedom of religion guarantees.

Lester L. Roloff failed Monday in his attempt to have the Supreme Court keep him from being under a state law government child care institutions.

The high court ruled that Roloff's appeal presented no substantial federal question. Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises, based on Nueces County, operates the Anchor Home and Lighthouse for boys and the Rebekah Home for girls.

In his appeal, Roloff said the three homes "are wholly supported through voluntary contributions of persons who share the religious beliefs of Roloff's organization."

Texas authorities required the three homes to submit to inspections and evaluations in preparation for state licensing approvals.

The Roloff organization resisted the state's attempts at regulation, and eventually was cited for contempt and fined $23,650.

State regulation of the homes was left intact by the Texas Supreme Court last February. In seeking Supreme Court review, lawyers for the Roloff organization argued that the state law - requiring certain compliances in all such homes - leaves "no room for religion freedom or for any nonconformity of religious practices with what the state of Texas deems desirable behavior."

State courts found that the homes violated state law in a way that "endangers the health, safety and well being of the children" who resided in them.

PUC Recommends State Aid To Poor, Elderly on Bills

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - State government should help pay electric bills for the poor and elderly, the Public Utility Commission staff recommended today in a comprehensive report on Texas electric rates.

Another key recommendation was adoption of time-of-day electric rates that would price energy according to when it was used - similar to long distance phone charges.

The 266-page report culminated six months of research and three weeks of public hearings in June. The three-member utility commission will receive the staff report and can accept, reject or revise its recommendations for submission to the Texas Legislature in January.

The Legislature ordered the commission to study the general structure of electric rates in Texas. Pending federal energy legislation also would require state review of rising electric rates.

State human resource agencies could develop an energy assistance plan, the staff said. State funds would be channeled directly to utility companies.

A direct assistance program would help those most in need, the report said, while lifeline rates and energy stamps could aid middle payment program would require legislative approval.

the day or year when demand peaks.

"Time-differentiated rates are the best, but they should be implemented gradually," the staff said.

The report recommends that utility companies should review whether time-differentiated rates would be feasible and how easily special meters could be installed. After such an industry review, the utility commission should consider requiring utilities with significant seasonal variations to use seasonal rates for all customers.

The staff based its recommendation against lifeline rates partially on a survey of Texas electric consumers. The staff survey showed that only one-third of the poor could trim energy consumption enough to qualify for the lower rates.

Declining block rates and flat rating charges are the most common electric rate forms used in Texas. Declining block charges decrease as volume increases. Flat rates charge the same price for any quantity of electricity.

In other recommendations, the staff suggested the state supplement federal efforts to insulate homes against energy loss.

OIL SPILLS
NEW YORK (AP) - Coast guard statistics show that 481,998 gallons of oil were spilled in New York harbor and adjacent waters during the first six months of 1978.

Officials said this was 3.5 times more oil than was spilled in the last half of 1977.

The Coast Guard said it is unlawful to discharge oil or any hazardous pollutant into U.S. waters.

implement, but the cost of subsidized electric rates could be substantial also," the report said. "A percentage of the poor would not be reached, but some would not be under most lifeline rates, also."

Lifeline rates are below-cost charges to cover a fixed amount of electricity and are aimed at helping low-income customers.

The staff said lifeline rates would force other utility customers to subsidize the lower rates and would not follow the commission's policy of cost-based rates.

Time-of-day pricing instead would be equitable to all consumer classes, the report continued. Time-differentiated rates are based on the fact that it costs more to produce electricity at certain periods of the day or year when demand peaks.

In First Playoff Game...

Yankees Slaughter KC, 7-1 Tuesday

AP Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The sacrificial lamb that had the Kansas City Royals licking their chops turned into a snarling lion.

When the slaughter was over, the New York Yankees had won 7-1 the opening game of the American League playoffs Tuesday night.

Pressed into service because ace left-hander Ron Guidry was needed the day before in Boston, rookie Jim Beattie, the Yankees' No. 4 starter, responded with a gutty two-hit performance for 5 1/3 innings. Young Ken Clay pitched hitless relief the rest of the way while the Yankees pounded four

Kansas City hurlers for 16, capped by a towering three-run home run by the remarkable Reggie Jackson, who has reached base 11 straight times in post-season competition.

"I really didn't feel any pressure tonight," said Beattie, who was 6-9 in the regular season and facing Kansas City's top pitcher, 21-game winner Dennis Leonard.

"I wasn't tricky or anything. I just tried to get ahead. I just wanted to pitch seven innings and give our bullpen a chance to rest."

Beattie was never challenged until the sixth, when George Brett doubled and walks to Amos Otis and Pete LaCock loaded the bases.

Yankee Manager Bob Lemon then summoned Clay to protect his team's 4-0 lead and he retired Hal McRae on a sacrifice fly and Al Cowens on a ground ball.

The Yankees, who once trailed Boston in the Eastern Division by 14 games and may be en route to one of baseball's all-time comebacks, not only defeated the Royals in the first of this best-of-five series. They embarrassed the hosts who figured that with Guidry available for only one game they would win at least one and possibly both contests scheduled for Kansas City.

The Royals were shaky from the first inning - dropping balls, making poor throws and swinging at bad pitches.

The clincher came in the eighth. Mickey Rivers and Lou Piniella singled off Steve Mingeri, who relieved Leonard in the fifth, and Royals Manager Whitey Herzog called upon Al "The Mad Hungarian" Hrabosky to deal with Jackson, who already had singled and doubled. Hrabosky, obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals this year to provide the Royals with the left-handed bullpen heat they had needed so desperately while losing the '76 and '77 playoffs to the Yankees, threw two pitches.

Jackson, the hero of last year's World Series, launched a huge home run over the right field fence.

"Some guys hit .300 all year," said Jackson, assuming a modest pose. "I'm one of those fellows that do it for a couple of months. I wasn't psyched by Al. That's his thing and this time I won. Next time out he could be the one that comes out on top."

Ed Figueroa, who won 20 games with his sinking fastball this year, was scheduled to face Royals left-hander Larry Gura, 16-4 in the second game this afternoon.

Baby Buffs Host NMMI

CANYON--West Texas State's undefeated junior varsity will play its only home game of the season Thursday night when the Baby Buffs host New Mexico Military Institute at 7:30 in Kimbrough Stadium.

The little Buffs pulled a shocker in their season opener, downing the nation's number one team, Ranger Junior College 13-12 in Ranger. They get an opportunity to duplicate the feat against NMMI this time out as the Broncos were ranked fourth in the nation in one of the latest polls.

Expected to guide the WT offensive fortunes are quarterbacks Mark Manley of Stephenville, Mark Tidwell of Vernon

Injuries Bother Coach

By The Associated Press
Texas Coach Fred Akers expects fireworks from Oklahoma's explosive offense Saturday and at the same time worries his own may start not with a bang but a whimper.

Nagging injuries to key players bothered Akers Tuesday as the sixth-ranked Longhorns prepared for their annual clash with top-rated Oklahoma. But Akers said "We're going to be there even if we're held together by tape."

"We worked in shorts and shoulder pads today," Akers said Tuesday, "because of our many injuries. The uncertainty of the injuries is what bothers me."

The list of walking wounded that missed Tuesday workouts includes kicker Russell Erxleben, flanker and Olympic Gold Medalist Johnny "Lam" Jones, safety Johnnie Johnson, defensive tackle Steve McMichael and Billie Acker, defensive end Ron Bones and cornerback Ricky Churchman.

Erxleben and Jones are sidelined with flu, Johnson and McMichael have tight ham-strings, Acker and Bones have sprained arches and Churchman is suffering from a hip pointer.

Baylor walk on Bill Manes will be pressed into service as the Bear's number one field goal kicker in Saturday's game against the University of Houston.

Manes, a transfer student from Kansas, will replace sophomore Robert Bledsoe who missed four field goals in as many attempts in Baylor's first three games this season.

Bledsoe will remain the Bear kicker on extra point conversions.

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said he based his decision on the last two days of practice, adding that "If he doesn't get the job done this week I will try to find someone else."

SMU elevated three players to starting position for Saturday's confrontation with Ohio State in Columbus.

SMU Coach Ron Meyer moved sophomore Robert Gibson to the number one strong safety spot, sophomore Tim Johnson to the fullback spot.

Cowboys, Landry Ready For NY Giants

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) - To the Dallas Cowboys with the lone exception of Harvey Martin, there's not a more welcome sight in the National Football League than the New York Giants.

Even in Cowboys' expansion year in 1960 the Giants let the Cowboys tie them.

The Giants come to Texas Stadium for a 3 p.m. kickoff and do the Cowboys ever need them. The defending World Champions are 3-2 and coming off a harsh 9-5 Monday night loss to the Washington Redskins.

Dallas defeated New York 34-24 in the season opener--the eighth straight victory over the Giants. The Cowboys have won 22 of the last 26 games. The last Giant victory was 14-6 at Texas Stadium in 1974.

The overall series is a lopsided 23-9-2, Dallas.

"The Giants are a very good team and this will be one of our toughest games to bounce off a Monday night game," said Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry.

The Cowboys usually give the Giants a big buildup. For example, quarterback Roger Staubach will tell you about their improved pass defense.

Staubach's career record against the Giants? Thirteen wins and one loss, and 47 touchdown passes.

Martin, of course, only played a half against the Giants in September. He kicked Giant fullback Willie Spencer after getting hot about Spencer blocking at the Cowboy defensive end's knees. Martin was ejected from the game for the first time in his career.

"I thought they took some cheap shots at me and we'll see how brave they are in our stadium," said Martin after the first game.

The improving Giants also are 3-2 in the National Conference Eastern Division. The last 23-20 to the Atlanta Falcons last week.

Coach John McVay said "We're making big progress but the division is really getting cluttered. Washington is off to a strong 5-0 start. This is a very important game for us but there is still a lot of football to be played."

The Cowboys have again gone into a midseason slump which has been a characteristic of past Landry teams.

For example, the Cowboys were 3-2 in 1973 but went on to win the Eastern Division title. In 1971, Dallas was 3-2 and went on to capture its first Super Bowl. Last year Dallas dropped two straight games at midseason and then won Super Bowl XII.

"We must stay within striking distance of at least two games by the half way mark of the season," said Landry. "Washington is streaking-right now and we almost have to streak to get into the playoffs." Dallas was a 10-point favorite.

'Bama Fans Going 3,000 Miles to Watch Tide

SEATTLE (AP) - Don't tell Seattle about the University of Alabama's great football team. Seattle is nervous enough about Alabama's fans.

At least 5,000 Alabamans are said to be streaming 3,000 miles cross-country to watch the Crimson Tide play the University of Washington Saturday in Husky Stadium. The trip reportedly is the longest ever taken by Alabama football players. Furthermore, editors of 10 daily newspapers in Alabama and one in Georgia are sending at least one reporter each.

The flood of southern reporters forced Mike Wilson, Washington's sports information director responsible for allocating space in the press box, to make an uncomfortable choice. Reporters for some Seattle-area weekly papers and radio stations will be bumped to make room for the visitors, Wilson said.

Furthermore, Alabama fans bought all 3,000 tickets allocated to the visiting team by Washington and, "We could have sold 10,000," said Kirk McNair, Alabama's sports information director.

"We announced it was a sellout well before our ticket order deadline. Our people seem to like to make trips." At least 5,000 persons have paid $5 each for a ticket to a closed-circuit telecast of the game over a 120-station network in the South. "We would expect sales to pick up this week," McNair said.

A TV crew will beam the game from Husky Stadium to the 15,000-seat basketball arena at the campus at Tuscaloosa.

Trojan Mentor Pleased With Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The recurring theme song of Southern California football Coach John Robinson this fall has been, "Hey, we're not all that great." But even he has trouble remembering that sometimes.

"The coaching staff went to Palm Springs over the weekend and we sort of fell into that 'Boy, we're pretty good' train of thought," Robinson said.

"But we got back home and looked at the films of our win over Michigan State and wanted to throw up."

The 30-9 victory over the Spartans last Friday came easily enough for the Trojans, now 4-0 and ranked No. 2 nationally. But they did appear flat and did not play with any sustained intensity.

The Trojans, who do not play this weekend, face Arizona State in Tempe, Ariz., Oct. 14. Oregon State the following Saturday, then begin the toughest part of their schedule;

California, Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Notre Dame.

Robinson, reviewing the season thus far, said he's just as pleased with the Trojans' progress as he is with the perfect record.

"One thing that particularly pleases me is the attitude of the players. We put them through a really tough, long drill Monday, so tough they could hardly talk after we finished. They thought it was great.

"Our defense has been the strength of our team," the Trojan coach said. "I'm very proud of them. We're fortunate in that we have good depth defensively and there are actually still battles going on for starting jobs."

Linebacker Dennis Johnson and nose guard Rich Dimler lead the team in tackles with 47 and 34, respectively, while three defensive backs - Herb Ward, Tim Lavender and Bennis Smith - each have three interceptions.

Offensively, tailback Charles White has carried 111 times for 628 yards and fullback Lynn Cain had 317 yards on 64 carries. Quarterback Paul McDonald, who began the year with very little experience, has hit 31 of 55 passes for five touchdowns with four interceptions. Calvin Sweeney has nine catches and Kevin Williams have six apiece.

Rangers Trade Bonds, Barker

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Rangers traded right fielder Bobby Bonds and relief pitcher Len Barker to the Cleveland Indians Tuesday in exchange for relief pitcher Jim Kern and utility infielder Larvell Blanks.

Bonds, who batted .267, led the Rangers with 31 home runs this season and stole 43 bases, runner up to second baseman Bump Wills' club record 52. The trade had been rumored in recent weeks, but Bonds had threatened not to show up if traded to the Indians.

Barker, 1-5, had a 4.82 ERA for the Rangers, and Kern, 10-10, boasted a 3.08 ERA for Cleveland. Blanks hit .254 for Cleveland in 70 games this season with two home runs.

The Rangers also announced they were giving Cleveland two minor league players to complete a Sept. 2 deal in which outfielder John Grubb came to Texas. In exchange for Grubb, who hit .269 this season, the Indians will receive outfielder Dave Rivera and pitcher Bobby Cuellar.

Rivera hit 16 homers and batted .231 for Tulsa this year, while Cuellar had a 4.38 ERA and a 4-8 record for Tucson.

Houston Team Breaks Schoolboy Record

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

When Houston Marion's Rudy Rudison piled up 308 yards rushing on 20 carries at half-time last week against previously unbeaten Houston Memorial Hall, Coach Harry Treybig started looking for a record book.

"We thought the record was around 520 but nobody was," Treybig said, referring to the all-time Texas schoolboy single game rushing record.

"After the ball game we went out and bought one just to see what we had done."

What Rudison, with the help of his Marion teammates, had done was break the 25-year-old single-game rushing record of 520 yards set in 1953 by Sugar Land's Kenneth Hall against Houston Lutheran.

Rudison, a 5-8, 165-lb. senior, gained 291 more yards in the second half and finished with 599 yards on 32 carries, including seven touchdown runs for a 85-22 victory.

Rudison earns mention this week in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll along with Houston St. Pius quarterback Gary Kubiak, who surpassed the all-time career passing record of former San Antonio Lee and Rice University star Tommy Kramer.

Kramer, during three seasons at Lee, passed for 5,485 yards. Kubiak, in his fourth year at St. Pius, surpassed that total by completing 11 of 32 for 148 yards in a 43-12 victory over DeQuincy, La., last week. He now has passed for 5,523 yards in his schoolboy career.

"We talked about it at half-time and decided to go for the record," Treybig said. "We normally don't try to run up a score but we kind of lost perspective of the score. The record became the challenge."

"I told the kids after the game it was an individual record but not an individual effort. I told them they had all done something they could be proud of."

Treybig was faced with a dilemma in going for the record. It was a matter of not running up the score or giving Rudison a shot at the record.

"If you get a reputation for running up the score and stay in this profession long enough it will come back to you," Treybig said. "But if I hadn't let Rudy go for it, I couldn't have looked him in the eye Monday morning."

Hall's record also was in danger from Splendor's, Donald Moore, who rushed 321 yards on only 12 carries, scoring five touchdowns and in a 60-8 rout of Kountze. Moore, however, sat out the second half.

Senior running back McLaughlin of Sonora rushed 199 yards on 10 carries and scored touchdowns on runs of six, eight, 52 and 85 yards in a 33-0 rout of Reagan County.

Quarterback Glenn Opel let San Antonio Randolph run for one touchdown and passed for another in the final two minutes for a 22-14 victory over Karnes

City. A week ago, Opel took Randolph 97 yards in the final minutes for a 14-14 tie with South San Antonio West.

Golf Tourney Postponed Till 21st

The high school's Leo Club has postponed a golf tournament slated this week.

The tournament has been moved to Oct. 21 according to Hereford Golf Pro Mike Horton.

Horton said the tournament will commence at 1 p.m. that Saturday.

He said entry fee will be $10.

Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants threw 36 touchdown passes in 1963.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Decreasing acid in stomach

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—After a few days of barely being able to eat and severe heartburn, I had an X-ray study done and the results were negative. My symptoms began to get worse to the point that I couldn't even swallow water. My doctor had me hospitalized. A specialist did a gastroscopic test and ran a tube down. He found I had a large, deep ulcer in my esophagus.

I am 30 years old and the doctor says it is very rare to find an ulcer this severe in a woman of my age. He thought the ulcer was caused by high acidity in my stomach, although I didn't test out as being that high. He placed me on medicines for one week and tested me again and was surprised to find that the ulcer was healed.

One of the medicines he gave me was Tagamet. He says I am to take it for the next three months. What does this medication do and is it necessary for me to take it this length of time? What causes ulcers in this area and are they likely to recur? The doctor did say I wasn't to have any alcoholic beverages or smoke, but I didn't drink very much and I only smoked a half pack of cigarettes a day so I don't see how that could be the cause.

DEAR READER—You can have an ulcer in the lower esophagus, the food tube that joins the stomach, just the same as you can have an ulcer in the duodenum where the stomach empties into the small intestine.

The stomach itself is protected from ulcers to some degree with a thick coat of mucus that resists the acid digestive juice. This mucus is restricted to the stomach so when the acid digestive juices squirt out the top of the stomach into the lower esophagus or squirt out normally from the stomach against the small intestine (duodenum), the acid digestive juice may literally digest your own tissues and cause an ulcer.

Tagamet is a relatively new medicine which has a different way of decreasing the production of acid digestive juice by the stomach. It has proved to be very helpful in many cases. The antacid that you mentioned taking in the rest of your letter is there to neutralize the other amounts of acid in the stomach.

In many patients with ulcers, if the acid digestive juice is sufficiently controlled, the ulcers heal as in your case. And they may heal rapidly if there is effective control or neutralization of the acid digestive juice.

To give you a better appreciation for ulcers and their cause I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-5, Ulcers—Duodenal, Stomach. Other readers who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The Health Letter I'm sending you explains that stress is often a factor in increasing the acid digestive juice production by the stomach. Although Tagamet and other medicines are very helpful in controlling ulcers, you will do a lot better if you eliminate the factors in your lifestyle that contribute to ulcers. These factors include stress, cigarette smoking, alcohol and the use of coffee. The caffeine in coffee stimulates the stomach to produce acid digestive juice.

Yes, you had better stick with your medicines because individuals who stop taking Tagamet entirely may have a recurrence of ulcers. Small maintenance doses may help to solve this problem.

Writings on Elderly Put into Course

By PETER B. CAWLEY

Associated Press Writer

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," a story about a fisherman who struggles mightily to catch and bring home an enormous marlin, strikes most readers as a tale of courage.

But aging is as much the theme of the story as courage, according to Phyllis Abrams, a University of Hartford professor who has gathered this and other works into a new college course on the elderly in literature.

"There's so much interest in the aged that I thought there should be a literary perspective," she said in a telephone interview, noting that as far as she knows such courses have not been offered before in the state.

Elderly characters aren't often thought of as the mainstays of great literature. But Mrs. Abrams said there is a wealth of novels, poems and films which responsibly treat aging, such as Shakespeare's "King Lear," Thomas Mann's "Death in Venice," and some of the poems of Dylan Thomas and William Butler Yeats.

Literature can dispell some of the stereotypes about the elderly, Mrs. Abrams said, and she hopes the pilot course reaches not only students but also adults.

The works confront "the loss of partners and friends through death or illness, the loss of status, the loss of valued roles in the family and society, and the imprisonment within a deteriorating body," that can accompany aging, she said.

"It isn't all gloomy, because there are so many triumphs," she added. The old fisherman, for instance, reaches home with only the skeleton of the mighty fish in tow, but the villagers respect this evidence of his great accomplishment.

"It has so much to do with the problem of self-esteem," said Mrs. Abrams, herself a published author.

"All the protagonists in these works are old people, and you see all facets of aging and society's attitudes."

She said characters surrounding the protagonists of the works helped readers understand the problem of ageism, or discrimination against elderly people.

Callaghan Stands Behind Strict Pay Curb Policy

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—

Prime Minister James Callaghan Tuesday defiantly stood firm on his policy of strict pay curbs despite its politically humiliating rejection by the Labor Party's annual convention.

In a fighting mood, master-politician Callaghan used the stick-and-carrot formula in an attempt to revive the goal of a 5 percent limitation on normal wage hikes that would exclude special productivity pacts.

Callaghan's stick: "The government will take offsetting action to keep inflation down through monetary and fiscal measures" if big wage increases begin imperiling the nation's recovery program. He meant by that state limits on the supply of money, perhaps by high interest rates, so squeezing all employers of labor. This could lead to bigscale layoffs. "I do not want to follow this path," he added somberly.

Callaghan's carrot: "I would welcome any approach, indeed I would be ready to make an approach myself, if the labor unions agree" jointly to try to resolve the tangled problem of pay. His government is ready for short or long term talks to find a solution. He was offering, in other words, to seek some sort of compromise.

Convention delegates rose to give the Prime Minister a prolonged ovation at the end of one of the most testing speeches he has made to make in 33 years of political life. At no stage, though, did he give any hint or suggestion that he or his government is contemplating quitting or calling a snap election.

Britain's biggest unions teamed up with ordinary party workers on the opening day of the convention Monday in a two-to-one vote that routed the Callaghan administration's hope of restraining wage increases for the fourth straight year. The unions form the industrial wing of the British labor movement with the party as its political wing. Laborites who run for Parliament rely for their funds on union contributions. The vote rejecting not only the 5 percent curb but also the concept of wage restraint was 4,017,000 to 1,924,000. It was the worst setback of Callaghan's 30-month premiership.

Yet in his keynote address to the convention today he displayed no signs of yielding. The government, he argued, had kept its pledge to bring inflation down to single figures—it stands now at an annual rate of about 8 percent—from a 25 percent peak in 1975. Now, he went on, it remains the government's "inescapable responsibility to keep inflation down in the interests of the whole of the people."

Museum Exhibits Unusual

PROVO, Utah (AP)—

When elementary school kids here want to meet a wart hog, they look for it in the Bean Museum.

The Bean Museum is a new three-story life sciences museum at Brigham Young University, housing collections of insects, mammals, birds, fish, reptiles, shells and wildflowers.

The museum and many of the mounted animals found there were donated by Seattle businessman Monte L. Bean.

About 2,000 elementary school children a week tour the museum, where they are introduced not only to the wart hog but to various other animals, among them a gnu, a grizzly, elk, walrus, caribou, African lion, and live puff adder. They might even pet a bobcat or fox (conveniently stuffed for the purpose).

Most of the animals are stuffed, although there are some live snakes and amphibians on display. A full-time taxidermist, Wesley Skidmore, helps with animal preservation. Many of the snakes, amphibians, and fish used for scholarly study are preserved in bottles.

"The Bean Museum isn't designed for any particular age group, but elementary school children love it, so we get lots of them," said Dr. Donald Alfred, assistant director of the museum.

"We're working toward making the museum a place for teaching the concepts of what occurs out of doors. We'll keep adding dioramas and exhibits as we get the money to do it. Future exhibits are planned on the subjects of dinosaurs and mammals as an ecosystem, the Antarctic, tropical rain forests, and endangered species."

Tours of the museum are given by professors, volunteers from the community, or student volunteers, and are geared to the age group being shown through.

"Tree bark is like breakfast cereal to the beaver," explained one guide to a group of 6-year olds who were watching a movie on beavers building a dam.

The students also see the wild birds of Utah — mourning dove, ring-necked pheasant, Hungarian partridge, and wild turkeys — and locate their habitat on a map of the state.

"The snake display usually fascinates the kids, too," said Alfred. "For instance, they learn that you can't tell the age of a rattler by the number of segments on its tail, and that rattlers don't always give a warning before they strike. Or that a rattler uses infrared radiation to detect warm-blooded prey — there's a pit between each eye and nostril of the snake that enables it to tell when its prey is close."

Poisonous plants and insects, found in the Rocky Mountain area are also pointed out in a display to the children.

"The museum was built to help educate the general public about nature, and also to bring together all the collections of plants and animals that were housed in various buildings across campus," said Alfred. "It takes about a year to put together a new display."

"We also have two teaching labs in the museum and a theater where we show Walt Disney nature films every Monday and Thursday. We usually have about 2,000 people come each Monday night, because that's family night around here, when families take time to do things together."

Various other collections are found in the museum.

In 1920, American women were given the right to vote.

Geologists, Workers Still Shaky in Landslide Area

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Geologists and disaster workers in this exclusive seaside community are keeping cautious watch over a still-shaky neighborhood landslides that shoved, shattered and ripped apart at least two dozen hillside homes.

About seven acres of the residential area of Bluebird Canyon with its homes valued between $150,000 and $300,000 were ravaged by the slow-moving landslides that began shortly before 6 a.m. Monday.

Red Cross workers reported only a handful of injuries, most of them cuts and scratches, as residents clad in nightclothes fled down the hill in the foggy darkness. One woman suffered a broken shoulder.

The earth - and the houses, patios, trees and flowers it carried - continued moving in fits and starts throughout the day and geologists warned that some movement might continue for several days. But they had no immediate explanation for the huge slide. There were no earthquakes, no rains.

"We've got about 24 homes that we're considering completely destroyed," said Laguna Beach Police Lt. Al Olson. "It looks like damage at this point is in excess of $3 million."

Olson said a half-dozen other homes were hanging precariously over crumbling cliffs and "they could go at any time." About 200 people were evacuated from endangered homes.

Residents who lived in the most heavily damaged area were not allowed in Monday to examine what remained of their homes. Authorities said they were concerned with possible health hazards posed by ruptured sewers and with the possibility of further landslides. It was not known when the residents could return.

Several hundred yards of roadway were destroyed, telephone and power lines dangled and sparked from uprooted poles tilted at crazy angles and water, sewage and gas lines were ripped apart leaving the fetid smell of natural gas hanging over the neighborhood. There was no fire.

Two residential blocks dropped more than 30 feet below their normal level and the sliding earth tore out a half-mile-long chasm about 40 feet deep and at least as wide. Two shattered homes and pieces of another were smashed together on the chasm floor.

Two rooms of one home tumbled into the crevasse, while the second-story rooms remained in place, hanging jaggedly over the edge with beams, wires and pipes dangling.

Several homes appeared almost undamaged, with cars still in the driveway and carefully tended trees and shrubs intact. But the homes were 30 or 40 feet lower and 25 feet downhill from where they once stood.

Shoes Being Held For 'Cutting Up'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - Convict Marvin M. Morrison's customized shoes were not only made for walking, they were also made for sawing - out of jail.

Morrison, a convicted bank robber brought here from Atlanta's federal prison for a court hearing, has returned to prison, but his shoes - with hacksaw blades inserted in one of them - remain here in the U.S. Marshal Rudy Garza's office.

Acting on a tip from Atlanta authorities, Garza ordered his men to confiscate Morrison's shoes from the jail's storage room.

Inspections by a metal detector and X-ray equipment revealed that two hacksaw blades had been broken and then inserted in the sole of the shoe, which was then resewn.

Morrison, who is serving a 22-year sentence for a Panhandle bank robbery and a firearms conviction, apparently had the blades inserted in the Atlanta prison's shoe repair shop, officials said.

Jail officials here take shoes from inmates, however, and issue slippers.

"We think he figured he would go to Midland for the hearing," said Garza. "He probably could have gotten out of that jail."

Petroleum Fire Work Completed

HACKBERRY, La. (AP) - Officials say firefighters have completed their work at the U.S. Strategic Petroleum Reserve here where a fire raged out of control for almost a week.

Meanwhile, three separate investigations have been started in attempts to find out what caused the explosion that killed one man and set off the spectacular blaze.

Flames shot 300 feet into the air and the huge tower of smoke could be seen as far away as Texas.

Saturday, workmen placed a piece of equipment called a Christmas tree over the well, thereby capping it permanently. The well led down into a huge cavern dug out of a salt dome.

The cavern, one of six at the Hackberry site, held 7 million gallons of crude oil when the fire began Sept. 21. Thousands of barrels of oil went up in smoke.

The storage site is the showcase for a federal program to store a billion barrels of oil in Gulf Coast salt domes as a hedge against foreign boycotts.

"The program is fraught with the possibility of danger," Gov. Edwin Edwards said last week renewing his criticism of the $20 billion program.

A crew of 13 federal investigators began an investigation last week, even before the fire was out. The state is conducting another investigation, and U.S. Rep. Henson Moore, R-La., says he'll conduct a separate one himself.

Moore, a member of the House Energy Committee, says he'll check the Department of Energy's findings against information his office will collect from geologists and other experts in the field.

And Rep. John Breaux, D-La., says it may be time to reassess the oil storage project. "I have requested an outside investigation of the fire," he said. "I have been assured that such an investigation will be made with a final report by late October."

Lighter Side

CHICAGO (AP) - Beauty is indeed in the eye of the beholder, a South Side artist has discovered.

Mike Baur, 27, told police he chained two metal sculptures together in his back yard and left them to rust. But scrap dealers driving through the neighborhood spotted the heaps of metal and thought it was junk.

The "junk" was worth about $1,500, Baur told police.

Baur spotted his work at the S. Gordon & Sons Junkyard when he went there to purchase some materials for new projects.

Police accompanied Baur to the junkyard Monday and the new art materials were refunded without charge.

An international symposium of Mexican cultural activities has been scheduled for Washington, New York and Atlanta between Sept. 29 and mid-November.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—A bitter legislative battle is shaping up over whether Texans should have a direct vote in 1980 on selection of presidential candidates.

The House Elections Committee recommended revival of a Texas presidential preference primary law, which expired by its own terms after single use in 1976.

However, the committee sought to fix the date on which the voting should be held as that of the June runoff primary rather than the May general primary.

That irked Republicans who voted in state convention to hold a presidential primary in May under their own rules.

Democrats are divided on the issue. Many conservatives in the legislature fear the primary would draw conservative voters into the Republican voting boxes to aid presidential candidates like Ronald Reagan, John Connally or George Bush. Cross-overs, they reason, would increase the strength of liberals.

But many liberals have turned against the idea of a presidential primary, preferring the old convention system of naming delegates to national party conventions. Some liberals argue national party rules avoid major proportional representation requirements.

Democratic gubernatorial nominee John Hill has come out firmly for a primary, however, and said he expects the legislature to approve one of them. The Democratic convention, as mentioned the issue, and tossed it to the state party's executive committee for a study and recommendations.

GOP State Chairman Ray Barnhart called the House committee recommendation "hypocrisy" aimed at misleading the people.

missioner Jerome Chapman said the change will provide needy Texans the same amount of food subsidy, while permitting them to retain more of their cash resources for other necessities.

A legislative committee has recommended major changes in the city and county court system.

The House Committee on Judicial Affairs recommended a requirement that all municipal court judges be attorneys and that all be elected rather than appointed.

Most municipal court judges are appointed by city councils and commissions.

The committee's interim report also recommended creation of county courts of appeal to help relieve crowded dockets due to appeals from justice of the peace and municipal courts.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a Dallas heroin conviction and life sentence on grounds the search for evidence was illegal. The court said a passenger in a car cannot be searched on mere suspicion he is drunk and armed.

The same court reversed a 16-year prison sentence for aggravated assault against an Austin man, holding the punishment excessive, and ordering it reduced to the range prescribed by law.

Gossip among jurors about credibility of witnesses may constitute new evidence and grounds for a new trial, the Court of Criminal Appeals concluded in still another case.

Failure of a judge to believe a witness is not sufficient to conclude a defendant guilty, the court said in reversing a Harris County marijuana case.

ing authority over land near Kingsville Naval Air Station if necessary to prevent an airport hazard.

A House study committee on migrant labor refused to recommend collective bargaining rights for farm workers.

The House Sam Houston Caucus, its ranks dwindling since the legislative special session, is still planning to push for major rules changes to give individual legislators more authority.

Rock City To Keep Birdhouses

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) - Balloons and brochures are replacing barns and birdhouses as the advertising media for Rock City.

But operators of the Lookout Mountain tourist attraction say they are going to maintain as many of the barns and birdhouses with their stark black and white "See Rock City" legends as they can - even though they are mostly on little-used byways.

Since the 1930s, shortly after Garnet Carter, trying to survive the Depression, opened his wife's rock gardens as a tourist attraction, the Rock City signs have been part of the landscape in 18 states.

They are so well known to tourists that they have been a favorite foil of cartoonists. One cartoon in a newspaper showed the barren landscape of Mars broken only by a Rock City birdhouse.

But the advent of the interstate highways, the Beautification Act of 1965 barring such signs except in commercial zones, and fewer barns, have gradually reduced the number of signs from a peak of more than 800 in 18 states and Canada to 148 in 12.
