Spectacular Derailment Wrecks 23 Santa Fe 'Piggyback' Cars

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Staff Writer

A fast-moving Santa Fe Railway freight train bound for Chicago via Hereford came to a sudden and unexpected halt along Highway 60 midway between the Black and Summerfield communities about 1:15 Thursday afternoon when 23 flatbed cars derailed.

TRAIN 991, headed by four engine units, was carrying "piggy back" truck trailers loaded with everything from toys to dynamite caps. The train had left Los Angeles early Wednesday morning, en route to Chicago via Amarillo, according to company spokesmen.

The train was traveling at 68 miles per hour in a section zoned for a maximum speed of 70 miles per hour according to L. Ray Kemp, conductor.

The derailment began about 12 cars behind the engine and damage halted just four cars short of the caboose. Although a Santa Fe section crew was working along the track at the site, there were no injuries in the derailment.

Wreckage from the derailment piled high along the railroad bed, and one car landed in half of the south lane of Highway 60.

TRAILERS AND their contents were strewn along the railroad for a quarter of a mile and the strong odor of chocolate greeted emergency units arriving at the scene.

Other items scattered along the railway included clothing, toys and school supplies.

Emergency units responding to the derailment were the Deaf Smith and Parmer County Sheriff's departments, the Hereford and Friena fire departments and the Highway Patrol.

Although there were some small fires at the scene, fire damage was minimal. Fire units were kept standing by, however, when it was determined that small arms ammunition, dynamite caps and some flammable liquids were

Devastation

The Santa Fe Railway tracks between the Summerfield and Black communities were a picture of devastation Thursday afternoon after the derailment of 23 flatbed cars carrying truck trailers. Many of the trailers broke apart in the derailment, scattering their contents over an of approximately 1/4 mile. Railroad ties at the scene were shattered like toothpicks. Emergency units from Friena and Hereford responded to the mishap, and guards were posted Thursday night to prevent looting.

'Hereford Story' Is Presented To Guests At Teacher Banquet

By O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher

"The Hereford Story" was presented to honored guests at the annual New Teacher Banquet Thursday night when Argen Draper, former county home demonstration agent, converted facts and figures into a delightful account of the community's history and progress.

APPROXIMATELY 200 persons attended the 10th annual welcome to new teachers, an event sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Tom Simons served as master of ceremonies, with the chamber executive vice-president Bill Albright extending the welcome and president Bud Eades recognizing special guests.

Mike Patrick recognized the new teachers, introducing each and giving his or her teaching assignment and former residence, as well as the business sponsoring the honored guests.

The Hereford Community Singers provided special entertainment, and the 30-member group—under direction of Bill Devers—drew two standing ovations from the appreciative audience.

Mrs. Draper, county HD agent for almost 30 years before her retirement last year, termed the Hereford story a familiar saga, "starting with grass and going to rails, farms and industry." She characterized the people of the community as those retaining "the courage, stamina, and fence-me-not-in attitude of their forefathers."

While outlining many of the factors and statistics which make the county a rich and progressive area, Mrs. Draper sprinkled her talk with anecdotes and humorous remarks that kept the audience attentive and interested. She listed the facts and figures which make Deaf Smith County No. 1 in cattle and agriculture, as well as the related industries which add to the economic picture.

THE SPEAKER also advised the teachers: "the opportunity is here, the action is up to us." She added that citizens expected loyalty to the school and the community, but "prove yourselves, and the community is yours!"

Mrs. Draper praised the chamber of commerce for having volunteer leaders "who are far sighted and working for the best interests of our community. She pointed out that a Goals for Progress committee is now working to plan goals for the next 25 years, and urged teachers to attend a public meeting which GoPro will hold next month at the Bull Barn.

There are at least 200 organized groups in Hereford, but if you don't like

Hartman Writes Protest Letter To Commissioner Of Education

Hereford School Supt. Roy Hartman, irked by arbitrary increases placed on the district's property valuations, has written a letter of protest to the Commissioner of Education and other state officials.

Hartman gave copies of the letter to school board members at a meeting earlier this week. "I am personally annoyed, disappointed, and frustrated to believe that we cannot expect fair, honest, and unprejudiced treatment from people at the state level."

The superintendent was referring to a tax base for each district as computed by consultants hired by the governor's office of education research. School districts were asked to submit values on the basis of 100 per cent market value.

"Believing we would be treated fairly in our attempt to be honest, we reported as closely as possible the actual values and then were treated like everyone else in rural areas of Texas by being increased an additional 20 per cent from the figure submitted," stated Hartman.

Hartman said the action was appealed to the Review Committee but, at this time, have been led to believe at least some of the members of this committee

Grid Contest Set To Begin

With the football season starting Friday for the Hereford Whitefaces and other schoolboy teams, The Hereford Brand will launch its annual Football Contest under sponsorship of local merchants and institutions.

The contest will feature cash awards of $15, $10 and $5 for weekly winners, as grand prizes of $100, $35 and $15 for the top three season winners. To be eligible for the grand prizes, entrants must participate in at least 12 weekly contests. If entries are submitted for all 13 weeks, the worst score will be taken out.

There is no cost or obligation to enter. Turn to the contest page, read the simple rules, and submit your entry this week, and every week! Use the entry form on the page, or a reasonable facsimile (the same size, please). Only one entry will be accepted from each person and entrants must be at least 8 years of age.

Entries must be turned into The Brand office by 5 p.m. Thursday, or mailed to P.O. Box 673 and postmarked by Thursday.

The contest is made possible by the participating merchants and firms listed in the page. Weekly winners will be announced in the Thursday paper, and a running tabulation will be carried on those participating in the season-long contest.

Courts Decide Cases During Two-week Period

Five convictions developed from cases heard in County Court during the two-week period ending August 22. During this period two convictions were handed down in District Court, and probation was revoked for two individuals in District Court.

During the same period there was one conviction on a bad check charge in Justice of the Peace Court.

The JP Court conviction was: —B.L. Martinez; bad check; fined $30 plus court costs; restitution made.

Total fines assessed during the period on issuance of bad checks in JP Court were $30, and total fines assessed during 1975 on issuance of bad checks are $976.50.

Convictions handed down in County Court were:

—Raymond Martinez; driving while intoxicated; fined $150 plus court costs; sentenced to 15 days; one year probation.

—George Vannada; driving while intoxicated; fined $150 plus court costs; three days in jail.

—Paul Rodriguez; driving while intoxicated; fined $150 plus court costs;

15 days; one year probation.

—Nieves Griego, Jr.; driving while intoxicated; fined $150 plus court costs; three days in jail.

—Carl Joseph Woodard; possession of marijuana; fined $150 plus court costs; 10 days in jail.

Total County Court fines assessed during the two-week period were $900. Total County Court fines assessed in 1975 are $20,078.00.

Convictions and probation revocations in District Court during the two-week period included:

—Leroy Carlton; probation violation; probation revoked; two years in County Jail.

—Patricio Guerrero; driving while intoxicated felony; 135 days in County Jail.

—Eaka Lee Rogers; driving while intoxicated felony; two years in County Jail.

—James David Walker; probation violation; probation revoked; three years in state penitentiary.

Total District Court fines assessed in 1975 are $14,860.00.

MET Office Serves Migrants

By JOE LACKEY
Brand Staff Writer

An attempt to upgrade the level of the skill of area migrant and seasonal farmworkers, in order to obtain and sustain full-time employment, is currently being made by an organization called Manpower, Education and Training, Inc.

Manpower Education and Training is federally funded through the United States Department of Labor. Ester De La Cruz, job developer and counselor, said that her office (MET) utilizes several forms of training. This includes on-the-job training and contract training, in which classroom training is sub-contracted with local firms.

Complete social services are provided during the student's training period. Counseling is utilized to "prepare the student as a dependable employee," Mrs. De La Cruz said.

The MET office will be conducting courses in welding, plumbing, and secretarial work beginning the middle of October. Migrants and seasonal farm workers interested in these classes should contact the MET office, which is located at the Hereford labor camp. The telephone number is 364-4981.

The secretarial training will include courses in Business English, accounting and bookkeeping, math, business machines, shorthand, and typing. Stipends will be paid to students as they train.

Mrs. De La Cruz said that "Mechanical and technological advancements which are now being employed in the field of agriculture are leaving the migrant farm worker without hope of finding a job. MET is a program especially designed to elevate the migrant worker and his family to a better standard of living."

The MET program offers vocational and academic training for the migrant. It pays a reasonable salary during training. The program transports all the furniture of the migrant worker to his area of employment at no cost to the trainee.

MET attempts to find permanent jobs for migrants with opportunities for advancement in wages and positions. Attempts are made to find a house in the area of employment; MET pays the first month's rent and utilities.

Officials of the program make necessary arrangements with school administrators so that migrant children will continue to be educated.

In addition, MET has a one-year follow-up procedure in which a representative of the program will visit the placed trainee and will review his problems at home as well as in his place of employment to provide better solutions.

Manpower Education and Training is a non-profit organization, Mrs. De La Cruz said.

She also said her office is authorized to pay employers directly for training costs, usually 50 per cent of wages, for a maximum of 17 weeks.

She also said that migrants in the Hereford area are particularly in need of good clothing. Anyone wishing to donate clothing should contact the MET office. The Manpower Education and Training staff will pick up the clothing, if necessary, and will see that it gets to the right people.

Holiday Set For Many

Some city businesses may remain open Labor Day, according to Bill Albright of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

The postoffice will be closed Labor Day, as will the Deaf Smith County Library.

City offices will also be closed, as will the county offices in the courthouse.

This means that the office of the city clerk will be closed, as will the city manager's office, the tax department, and the water department in City Hall. In the courthouse, the county probation office, and two county extension offices, the county clerk's office, the county judge's office, the county treasurer's office, and the offices of the county tax assessor-collector and the welfare administration will all be closed Monday.

City Meeting Is Changed

Hereford's City Commission will not meet in regular session Monday night, because of the Labor Day holiday.

The next scheduled meeting for the city commission is September 15.

any of them you can see its very fashionable to start one." Mrs. Draper quipped. The median age in Hereford is 22.5 years, and the per capita income is $2,894, she told her audience.

The new teachers also learned that only 16 counties in the state are larger than Deaf Smith County, and that some folks live 62 miles from the courthouse. "some of our children have to catch the school bus before daybreak—the parents object, but the children think it's fun." She added the area is blessed with wonderful weather. "but you may have to live here a few years before you agree."

MRS. DRAPER also announced that only two counties in Texas have more bachelors than Deaf Smith. "But I'm not about to tell you the names of the other two."

Johnnie Turrentine was chairperson for the teacher banquet, while Mary Herring headed up the decorations committee for the Women's Division of the chamber. Invocation for the event was worded by County Judge Sam Morgan. The dinner was catered by Dickie's Restaurant.

Sunflower Growers Will Meet Tuesday In Amarillo

Farmers who have contracts on their sunflowers with Plain Co-Op Oil Mill will meet in a special growers session Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

THE MEETING comes after a decision on the part of the mill directors Aug. 27 to ask farmers to take 10 cents per pound on their new crop now and wait until March of next year for an additional nickel.

Plains Co-Op has contracted about 225,000 acres of sunflowers throughout the Texas Panhandle, with most of the crop contracted at a price of 15 cents per pound.

The mill's executive committee recently dismissed its general manager, John Herzer, over contract disagreements, and the part payment proposal came 10 days after the dismissal action.

In their meeting in Lubbock Wednesday, mill directors voted to ask farmers to carry a nickel of the 15 cents per pound guarantee until March 31 of next year. The package includes a promissory note, at eight per cent interest from the date of delivery until paid on or before the March due date.

THE AMARILLO meeting has been called to explain the board's proposals to area growers.

A spokesman for the cooperative reported that arrangements can be made if farmers want a deferred payment on the crop until next year.

In addition to the 225,000 acres of sunflowers under contract, 50,000-70,000 acres of sunflowers have been grown in the Panhandle with no contract.

According to Wayne Martin, interim manager for the mill, Plains Co-op's contract with farmers at 15 cents per

Dialing Defies Dystrophy

Miss Isabel Pena will be among several volunteers at Hereford State Bank tonight and tomorrow taking telephone pledges during the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon against muscular dystrophy. Contributions can be made from 10:30 p.m. today until 5 p.m. Monday by calling 364-3456 or by bringing cash donations to the bank. Drive chairman is Sam Mazurek of Frio.

Labor Day Telethon Commences Tonight

Funds needed to wage battle against the crippling results of muscular dystrophy will be sought nationally today and Monday during the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon.

Headquartered at Hereford State Bank, the local drive will take contribution pledges over the telephone, 364-3456, according to the campaign chairman, Sam Mazurek. Cash donations may be brought to the bank.

Local youngsters are urged to participate in a door-to-door march, scheduled to leave the bank at 9 a.m. Monday. Proceeds from this youth activity will be utilized to purchase equipment for MD patients, whereas telethon income is used for research expenses.

A challenge has been issued to Panhandle youth, who are dared to raise the highest sum through a MD carnival.

For instructions in staging an MD carnival, contact Mazurek.

To be broadcast by KPDA-TV, channel 10, the telethon will be seen in this area from 10:30 p.m. today until 5 p.m. Monday. Hereford State Bank will be open during this 18-hour period and volunteers are needed to answer telephones, Mazurek said.

"Hereford citizens are urged to support the muscular dystrophy campaign as enthusiastically as in the past," Mazurek commented. "MD patients, who are nearly always children, have come to rely on the emotional and financial brace provided by the Jerry Lewis Telethon."

"Monetary contributions and time given as a volunteer worker are the backbone of the Labor Day campaign and it is hoped that this community will act as a mainstay for the area," he stated.

Levelland Man Faces Cattle Theft Charge

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

A Levelland man has been charged with larceny of livestock in the connection with the theft of 53 head of cattle from a local feedlot.

"DON LEONARD of Levelland, who is charged in the matter is in Lubbock Methodist Hospital at this time, after suffering an apparent heart attack. A warrant for his arrest has been issued and he will be taken into custody by Deaf Smith County sheriff's officers following his release from the hospital.

According to chief deputy Art Burton of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office, Leonard had been buying cattle from various Texas Panhandle feeders.

A 53 head lot of cattle was allegedly purchased at the local Moorman's feedyard for shipment to Oklahoma City, out the animals were allegedly taken directly to Missouri Beef Packers Inc. in Plainview and sold, Burton reported.

The charges filed against Leonard stem from the incident at Moorman's Feedyard, but the deputy reported that a similar incident involving approximately 105 head of cattle occurred at the Summerfield Feed Yards.

BURTON reported that the local sheriff's office received a complaint on the matter Aug. 13 and had completed the major portion of its investigation into the matter by Aug. 15.

Kenneth Chambers of Hereford, a field inspector with the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association reported that as many as 300 head of cattle may have been stolen in the area, and the thefts may have been taking place for as long as a year.

Chambers estimated the value of the 53 head of cattle taken at Moorman's at $20,000.

He explained that Leonard had been ordering cattle through Panhandle feedlots to ship to various packers in Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas.

Officials of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Packers and Stockyard Association and Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers met Friday in Amarillo concerning the matter.

OFFICERS AT the scene acted quickly to restore movement of traffic along Highway 60 and halt looting.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson reported that some 15 National Guard members, plus Highway Patrol officers from the surrounding area and the local game warden helped stand watch over the scattered cargo Thursday night.

Santa Fe officials had no estimate of the damage to the cargo or railroad equipment. Company officials were to examine the mechanical parts and rail Friday in order to determine cause of the derailment.

Santa Fe train master John McPherson of Amarillo reported that the line was to be ready for traffic by midnight Friday. Derrick units were sent from Clovis and Amarillo late Thursday to aid in clearing the tracks, and bulldozers were already at work at the site Thursday evening.

It will take some time for company workers to clear the debris of flatbed cars and trailers, according to McPherson.

PLAUDITS WERE flowing freely after the New Teacher Banquet Thursday night—especially for guest speaker Argen Draper and for the entertainment by the Chamber Singers. Mrs. Draper took some facts and figures on Hereford and skillfully presented them in an entertaining style. New teachers should think Hereford is a special place!

The Chamber Singers started their program with a series of six patriotic numbers that left "goose bumps" on many of the people in the audience. From comments around the banquet room, you know that the new teachers were highly impressed with the community group.

A HEREFORD resident, on the scene of a car-bicycle accident in Amarillo Thursday, reports that Whiteface football coaches and student trainer David Sledge took command of the situation until the police and ambulance arrived. The coaches and junior varsity and sophomore grid teams were in Amarillo for a scrimmage session.

The coaches praised Sledge, student trainer, for his emergency first aid to the teenage cyclist. "All we did was direct traffic," commented one of the coaches. Hereford coaches on the bus were Carroll Tucker, Marvin Thouvenal, Danny Haney and Roy Shipp. The youth was reported in critical condition late Friday.

THE FOOTBALL scrimmage here Friday night between Hereford and Amarillo Tascosa drew a large crowd of interested fans. The Whitefaces showed some great potential and should draw a large following when they travel to Pampa Friday to open the 1975 grid season.

The Herd defense appeared to be ahead of the offense, as might be expected early in the season. On defense, some outstanding individual plays by Luis Marquez, Gary Schumacher, Rowan Alexander, Mike Dudding and Dave Charest had the fans buzzing. Terry Brady and Carlee Graves drew some excitement with their running, while quarterbacks Mike Crim and Mike Dudding also turned in some good runs. It should be an exciting season!

have no sympathy or understanding of Hereford's particular situation.

Computation of the tax base came after the new school finance bill was passed by the recent session of the Texas Legislature. The new plan is being blamed for local tax increases, elimination of teaching jobs, and reduction of teacher pay raises in some school districts.

The new law was supposed to eliminate inequality between rich and poor school districts, but angry area educators say the inequity remains—the new law just created new victims.

"The bill is strictly for urban schools" said Hartman. He added that the 23 per cent in Hereford school taxes is 99 to 100 per cent mandated by the state.

Tax increases are not the only complaint reported by some school chiefs. The Lamesa School Board lopped off $400 teacher salary supplement so that the tax increase wouldn't be so high. The elimination of the supplement (Hereford's is $800) means Lamesa teachers will realize only $1,000 of the $1,400 teacher pay raise voted by the legislature. Other schools are reportedly looking at reduction of personnel by not filling vacancies created by resignation.

Hartman's letter went to Marlin L. Broquette, commissioner of education, with copies also to Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Sen. Max Sherman, Rep. Bill Clayton, Dr. Richard Hooker, the Tax Review Panel, and Hereford trustees.

Following is the text of the letter:

Dear Marlin:

"It is now 3:00 Friday morning and, for the first time in two years or more, I am unable to remove from my mind a school related problem.

"The longer I consider the unfairness and inequity of what is happening to this school district and its taxpayers, as a result of the Management Services Associates' report on school values, the more concerned I become. I am further distraught by the possibility that you and the Review Committee members may give credence to this inequity and allow its continuance now that will surely result in the courts settling the dispute.

"When we were asked to submit values to the state on the basis of 100 per cent market value, we took the matter seriously and did exactly as we had been asked, with the assurance that we would not be penalized for our honesty in submitting actual data. We were told by Dr. Richard Hooker at the time that those districts not submitting correct figures would be embarrassed if proper information were not reported. During that time we met with several other districts, and the Hereford Independent School District was the only district that made it plain and clear that we were submitting actual figures as result of a recent ratio study we had conducted. All other districts at that meeting stated they had no intention of submitting correct figures.

"Still believing we would be treated fairly in our attempt to be honest, we reported as closely as possible the actual values and then were treated like everyone else in rural areas of Texas by being increased an additional 20 per cent from the figure submitted. It is now my understanding this did not happen to districts with heavy industrial, oil and gas properties.

"Once again, believing we would receive fair treatment, we appealed to the Review Committee and you for a reduction to what we submitted earlier; but, at this time, have been led to believe at least some members of this committee have no sympathy or understanding of our particular situation.

"I want it clearly understood that we are asking for no special treatment, but simply fairness in the values placed in this district and would further invite you and all members of the Review Committee to come to our district to conduct your own appraisal. I am further convinced, should you do so, you will discover the values submitted are higher than any other district in rural Texas, and the total value you would arrive at will be far less than the figure submitted.

"Marlin, I am further concerned when professional educators are led to believe a committee is appointed on the pretense to review discrepancies as they exist, when in reality there is no intent to do what is right, but rather sustain an arbitrary and capricious value placed on districts by some state committee, we are in one sad state of affairs. There is nothing right about this kind of treatment and simply indicates a trend toward further bureaucratic state control and forgetting the individual at the local level. Furthermore, it is discriminatory and unjust.

"What Richard Hooker, the Management Services Associates' study, the Review Committee, and you, if the adjustment is not made, have taught me is a lesson in total and absolute lying and cheating. I was not trained that way, nor do I sanction this type of behavior, but I am learning the hard way. It would have been far easier and more convenient to have submitted our market values on our old schedule which would have been about $250,000,000, but rather we chose to be honest. Our Board of Trustees, the community, and this school administration deplore a leadership at any level that sanctions and sustains this type of situation.

"I am personally annoyed, disappointed, and frustrated to believe that we cannot expect fair, honest, and unprejudiced treatment from people at the state level. Knowing that Review Committee has not made their recommendation on the Hereford Independent School District appeal is also a point in question as we were the first district in the state to be heard while a reduction has been approved for at least eight other schools.

"It is an interesting analysis to consider when over 1100 Texas school districts' values were increased the additional 20 per cent, only eighty-six filed an appeal to be considered by the Review Committee. One must assume either the other one thousand plus districts are disinterested and have no genuine desire for tax equity in their district or that all of them submitted fallacious reports and inaccurate values to the Governor's Committee. I hesitate in believing either to be the actual case but am fearful that such is the condition.

"I guess what I am saying, Marlin, is when an unfairness such as this is sustained and promoted at any level, we have reached a point of moral and ethical decay almost beyond repair; and individuals and committees responsible should be held accountable for the injustice incurred. There is no way you, or any member of the Review Committee, can justify the value placed on the Hereford Independent School District when you study the information with an open, unbiased, impartial, and fair attitude."

Sincerely,
Roy Hartman

MAN'S AT HIS WEAKEST WHEN A FEMALE'S TELLING HIM HOW STRONG HE IS

The Abundant Life

Sort It Out

By BOB WEAR

An orderly arrangement of our mind is absolutely essential to an orderly life pattern. It is also essential to our peace of mind, and to our over-all effectiveness. If we let our mind function without this orderly arrangement, we will be pulled apart by the legitimate demands for our time and energy. This unnecessary condition soon becomes one of great distress and over-whelming discouragement.

We will have many things on our mind, because of the nature of the life we must live. It is a life of varied interests, and responsibilities. If these are not handled wisely, we will be confused or worse. Some folk feel torn apart, by being pulled in so many different directions. This is not an inevitable condition, and we are being most unwise; if we permit it to happen to us.

"IF YOU HAVE known how to compose your life, you have accomplished a great deal more than the man who knows how to compose a book. Have you been able to take your stride? You have done more than the man who has taken cities and empires. The great and glorious masterpiece of man is to live to the point." -Montaigne.

"Sort it out" is the wise solution. We can arrange the things which are on our mind, the things which demand our attention, on the basis of the degree of urgency and importance. Some things may have to be dismissed for the time being;

and the others can be "sorted" according to carefully-thought-out priorities. We can put first things "first", and then the other things in order; as indicated by their inherent characteristics.

WE MUST MAKE distinction between what we want to do, and what we must do. If we let what we want to do have precedence over what we must do; we will be in a continual state of strain and stress. On the other hand, if we do first, what must be done; we relieve our selves of most personal difficulties. We have a good feeling, in the satisfaction of having done what had to be done; and in the freedom we now have, in which to do what we want to do.

If we procrastinate, after we have "sorted everything out"; we are still in trouble, because of the procrastination. We are tormented by a collision of duties. Of course, it is a mistake for us to let this happen; but, if it does happen, we can handle the situation by the same procedure. "Sort it out", and make an orderly arrangement of these pressing obligations. The principal consideration, in this aspect of living, is that we make sure not to become panic-stricken.

Patience and pleasantness, as constancies, will help us to be completely effective; in this important phase of the good management of our life situation.

Resolutions Endorse Economic Program

Resolutions endorsing the TEXAS FIRST economic development program are pouring in from throughout the state. Chairman Reagan Brown has revealed.

Brown, special assistant to Governor Dolph Briscoe, said chambers of commerce at both the local and regional level are officially endorsing the program through their boards of directors and agreeing to serve as coordinators in carrying out the Governor's Job Creation Campaign portion of the massive program.

In addition to the chambers of commerce endorsements, resolutions in support of the program have been received from the general convention of the Texas AFL/CIO, Texas State Building and Construction Trades Council and the board of the Texas Manufacturers Association.

Thus far in the four-month-old campaign pledge cards have been received from industries agreeing to hire more than 1,300 new employes. In addition to the actual pledges secured, a letter from Governor Briscoe resulted in commitments to expand by more than 6,000 jobs from the top 1,000 industries.

These are now being turned to official pledges to allow posting in Texas Employment Commission offices across the state enabling unemployed and underemployed Texans to apply for the jobs.

Besides the Texas Employment Commission, state agencies cooperating in TEXAS FIRST include the Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Department of Community Affairs, Texas Education Agency and Governor's Division of Planning Coordination.

Switching To Cigars From Cigarettes No Solution

There is still more bad news for cigarette smokers—switching to cigars doesn't help.

The problem seems to be, reports the Texas Medical Association that smokers who learned to smoke cigarettes can't "unlearn" the habit of inhaling. Cigar smokers who never became habitual cigarette smokers usually don't inhale, but "reformed" cigarette smokers carry the habit over to their cigar smoking.

Some of them apparently don't even realize they're doing it, but most of them inhale intentionally. They have been convinced that cigars are "safer" than cigarettes and believe they can inhale with impunity.

These findings were reported recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The physician who conducted the study found that inhaling cigar smoke may be much more harmful than inhaling cigarette smoke. All of the patients in the study were referred to the hospital for evaluation of lung disease. Each was given a blood test to measure a factor known as carboxyhemoglobin level.

This substance in the blood increased some four times in cigarette smokers compared to nonsmokers, and eight times in cigar smoke inhalers. Both levels provide risk to health. "From this and prior studies it is concluded that cigarette smokers should quit smoking entirely. Patients who smoke cigars should be specifically warned against inhaling," the report stated.

Hustle
H3 Hustle
Hustle
By Bill Albright, Executive VP
Chamber of Commerce

As most of you know, your Chamber is working for you and for the good of this community.

Through the Chamber you have really accomplished some wonderful projects. Of course there is still much to be done. So as we progress in quality growth we must grow in strength, in order to meet the ever increasing requirements.

We are challenged to increase our membership. Thus, you can help! If you're not a member you can apply for active membership in this great organization.

If you are a member, you can enroll others and you may want to increase your current investment.

A strong Chamber is representative of all sectors of our society and since our economy is essentially agriculture, we really need to strengthen and increase our rancher/farmer membership.

This is an opportunity for us to support our community through our organization.

Congressman Mahon asked a question when he visited Hereford last week. He asked what we thought we should do about the importation of water for our agricultural requirements. My answer was essentially as follows:

There's no question that the production of this area is vital to the total economy of the United States. The fly in the ointment is in convincing others of this essential fact. And it will take a whole lot of convincing. First, we need to make sure all of our own folks have the facts and are motivated in the direction of conservation of our existing water supplies and fully in support of a program to import water. Also we need to eliminate any negativism—it can be done, it must be done and we will see that it is done.

The media needs to be oriented and educated. And of course the consumer must be made aware of how much our continued efficient production means to reasonable food prices. This is not a "hit and miss" type of campaign. It must be carefully planned and skillfully executed. It will take federal funds and state funds, and it will take time. Guess we'd better hustle too, cause time is running out and so is the water.

tomake your views known—a strong Chamber like ours is "heard" all the way to Washington. But you can't expect the other guy to do it all!

Well, I've heard those wonderful Chamber Singers for the fourth time and they get better with each performance and they were magnificent to start with. We should really be proud of their representation of our community. Praise and appreciation from Austin and San Antonio and still coming in to the office and I'm sure their notoriety and fame will continue to spread. We can say "we knew them before they turned professional!" we can also say they really exemplify that old Hustle, Hustle, Hustle!

The Congress will be back in session after this Labor Day Holiday and believe me there are several pieces of legislation that will have a bearing on us here in the Panhandle. Some of it applies to energy, some to agricultural activity, and some to our environment. We'll keep a close eye on it and speak for those things for which you express interest. Don't hesitate

Rotary Governor

An official visit to the Hereford Rotary Club will be made by Rotary District Governor Ralph McLaughlin of Big Spring on September 7 and 8. McLaughlin has been an active Rotarian for 18 years.

Rotary Governor To Visit Hereford

Rotary District Governor Ralph McLaughlin of Big Spring will make his official visit to the Hereford Rotary Club, holding a Club Assembly meeting on Sunday Sept. 7, and speaking at the regular Rotary Club meeting Monday, Sept. 8 at noon.

McLaughlin will discuss the program of the coming year for the 45 Clubs in this 573rd District of Rotary International, which covers most of Northwest Texas. The Theme for Rotary this year is "TO DIGNIFY THE HUMAN BEING".

McLaughlin is a native of Ralls, and is a 1949 graduate of Texas Tech. He has been in business in Big Spring for 25 years in the wholesale firm of Saunders Company, Inc., which sells plumbing, piping, valves and pumping equipment. He is President and Chairman of the Board of that firm. He is also a Director at the Security State Bank & Trust Company of Ralls.

McLaughlin has been an active Rotarian for 18 years, and is a Past President of the Big Spring Club. He is also a member of IFFR (International Fellowship of Flying Rotarians). He and his wife recently flew their plane to the International Assembly at Boca Raton Florida, on to the International Convention at Montreal Canada, and back by the International Secretariat at Evanston Illinois.

In civic work, he has been active in a host of affairs. Recently he has served on the Big Spring Ind. School District School Board, has been President of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, and is serving on the Industrial Foundation of that city. He has been active in his Church, has served as Senior Warden and Junior Warden several times, and is a Lay Reader.

McLaughlin and his wife, Billye, have three daughters and one son. Sheryl, the eldest lives in Austin. Scott is a student at the University of Texas, Kao is a student at Texas Tech, and Marianne is a student at Texas A&M.

FOR YOUR SHOPPING CONVENIENCE!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As I was reading The Brand two Sundays ago, I was very disappointed with the dress code that the school system put out. I believe that the school system, here in Hereford, is depriving the students of their rights.

I can understand where the school system would enforce the dress code on a male student if he came to school without a shirt, or on a girl that came to school in hot pants or a short dress. What I can't understand is the school enforcing the dress code on students who wear big bell-bottom slacks, on those with long hair, and on those wearing patches.

The long hair is a style that has been out sometime and will probably stay around for awhile. I have talked to students who have had to cut their hair two or three times to meet with the likes of the teacher or principal. I don't think that's a dress code. I think it's what the teacher or principal likes. Why should the football players be allowed to wear a Kojak hair style and the long hair students not be allowed to wear their long-hair style? They are both styles of hair cuts, so why should there be an exception?

What really excites me is that, as the article stated, the students would not be allowed to wear any kind of patch except those of the school. I believe that a student has the right to express his or her feelings by wearing a patch. I'm a Mexican-American and I wore a patch saying "Chicano Power", it would be a way to express my feelings for my people.

What I am trying to say is that I cannot believe students lose their rights to free expression, under the first amendment of the Constitution, when they enter school. It surprises me that there aren't enough parents here in Hereford that are willing to stand up against the school system to defend their children's rights. No matter how we look at it, these students are citizens and they do have their rights, so let's give it to them.

/s/ Freddie Torres

Social Security

(Have you a question about social security? Address it to the Social Security Administration, 317 East Third Street, Amarillo, Texas 79101. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

Q. My husband and I have been married for ten years. I have a 15 year old son from a previous marriage. My husband will be age 65 in November and plans to retire. Will my son be entitled to benefits on my husband's record?

A. Yes. Step-children can become entitled to benefits on a step parent's record. In addition you may be eligible to receive payments on his record regardless of your age until your son reaches age 18.

Q. Do teacher retirement pension payments affect social security payment of benefits?

A. No.

Spanish Lance Point Found

The discovery of a lance point of Spanish origin at the archaeological dig at the Merrill-Taylor site near Quitaque may help determine whether Comancheros once lived at the site.

Dr. Gwin Morris, executive director of the Llano, Estacado Museum on the Wayland Baptist College campus and chairman of Wayland's Division of Social Sciences, said that the archaeology crew has unearthed several "specimens" at the site in their efforts to determine the kind of people who once lived there.

"We hope that the discovery of the lance point specimen will help us determine whether there could have been Comancheros living at the Merrill-Taylor site," explained Morris. "The archaeology crew would like to find concrete evidence of a Comanchero culture at the dig because archaeologists have never before excavated a known Comanchero site."

Morris added that the Comanchero, usually a mixture of New Mexican and Indian blood, existed primarily on the profit made from trading with the Plains Indians and rarely settled in one spot.

Under the direction of Eddie Guffee, the crew has made several discoveries that indicate that the inhabitants of the Merrill-Taylor site a hundred years ago were of Spanish origin. The corner fireplaces found in the dugouts were of Spanish origin, and the broken trade pottery found on the slope below the dugouts was of Taos Indian origin. The Spanish lance blade, however, has been the most convincing evidence that the Merrill-Taylor inhabitants, if not Comanchero, were at least of Mexican or Spanish origin.

The lance blade, approximately nineteen inches in length, was found inside one of the dugouts, not far from the tunnel-like entry way. It is identical to a lance blade found at a Comanche burial site in 1911, and is thus indicative of the type of trade item popular with the Plains Indian tribes. Guffee feels that the lance blade, definitely of Spanish origin, gives evidence that the Merrill-Taylor inhabitants could very possibly have been Comancheros.

The archaeology crew plans to finish digging soon, at which time the artifacts found will be cleaned and classified and a final report made.

Some Dog, Cat Bites Cause Infection

The chances are good that the family dog or cat is carrying around a microscopic organism that can cause a nasty infection if the animal nips you.

The offender is known to physicians as Pasteurella Multicoda. It is often found in the mouths of healthy dogs, and cats, and is a common cause of infection following bites or scratches.

Researchers have found the offending organism in the mouths of up to half of all dogs and up to almost three-fourths of all cats, the report says.

Some 550,000 domestic animal bites and scratches are reported each year, most of them dog bites. Many of them transmit Pasteurella Multicoda. This infection responds well to penicillin and some other antibiotics, but it is so common that it is often not diagnosed promptly, a recent study declares.

The research report is based on a 10-year study at the Oregon State Public Health Laboratory, Portland.

The only prevention is to avoid getting bitten.

The researchers advise physicians to consider that the bite might be infected until proved otherwise, and to institute proper antibiotic treatment.

Many Survive Bites From Poisonous Snakes

Snakebites very seldom kill. Some 45,000 persons are bitten by snakes each year in the United States, says the Texas Medical Association.

Of the 45,000 bites, some 3,000 are by venomous snakes. Despite these many bites by poisonous snakes, deaths from snake venom poisoning have not exceeded 12 per year in the past five years.

In some 20 per cent of the bites of poisonous snakes, no venom is actually injected.

While there are more than 3,000 species of snakes, only 300 or so are sufficiently poisonous to be of danger to man. In the United States, there are some 120 species of snakes, about 20 of which are venomous. These latter include rattlesnakes, cottonmouth water moccasins, copperheads and coral snakes.

Injection of antivenin as soon as possible after the bite is highly important in treatment.

Incisions over the fang marks and suction from the cuts are helpful only within the first 30 minutes after the bite. A tourniquet above the bite may help. The patient should be kept warm, not allowed to walk or be given alcohol, and should be given constant reassurance.

The most important act following snakebite is to get the victim to a hospital or doctor as quickly as possible. New studies have shown that the antivenin is most effective when given within four hours of a bite, the earlier the better. It is of less value if delayed for eight hours, and of questionable value after 24 hours.

What role do the sun's ultraviolet rays play in molding the earth's weather?

Ultraviolet rays from the sun are short wave rays which, curiously, tend to heat the earth's equatorial zone more than the polar zones, for example. This has a great effect on the winds which circle the earth, as can readily be seen—heat being a producer of wind and cloud.

Generally speaking, when the sun's ultraviolet rays are more numerous than usual, the greater area of the United States is due for stronger west-east weather movements and wetter weather.

Fewer ultraviolet rays from the sun mean warmer and drier weather for most of the country.

In Friday Scrimmage With Tascosa

Herd Defense Appears Tough

Hereford football fans got a sneak preview of the Whitefaces here Friday night in a controlled scrimmage session against Amarillo Tascosa, and Herd supporters came away talking about the great defensive play of the team.

There is no scoreboard winner in a scrimmage, since both teams are experimenting and coaches are looking for strong points and weaknesses. Fans couldn't help but notice, however, that the Herd first unit tallied once on offense and once on defense, while keeping Tascosa from crossing midfield.

Each team's first unit ran 20 plays in the scrimmage, then the second units took over and ran 15. The first teams came back with 20 more plays later in the practice session. The teams started on their 25-yard line and had three plays to make a first down. There was no kickoff or punts. A team could use four downs when it crossed its opponent's 35.

Hereford's scores from the first units came on a great defensive play by safety Mike Dudding, and a 11-yard pass from Mike Crim to Roy Martinez. Dudding stepped in front of a wide pitchout from the Amarillo quarterback and dashed 30 yards for his score.

Tascosa managed only five first downs in 40 plays, reflecting the toughness of the Whiteface defense. It was a team effort, but fans were thrilled at some outstanding performances by linebackers Dennis Evans and Vance Hennington, tackle Luis Marquez, and ends Rowan Alexander and Gary Schumacher.

Aside from Dudding's touchdown gem, Dave Charest and Mike Artho made some key plays in the defensive secondary. Artho had a pass interception, while Marquez, Schumacher and Alexander were in on several quarterback "sacks".

On the fourth play of the scrimmage, Dudding intercepted the delayed pitchout and waltzed 30 yards for a Herd score. Tascosa managed only two first downs in the first 20 plays.

Hereford recorded five first downs during its first 20-play series. The Whitefaces drove to the Tascosa 13 on the first try as Terry Brady ran for 17 yards and quarterback Mike Crim led the way. Crim broke on a 24-yard run, then hit brother Archie with a 15-yard pass. With first down at the 13, the drive stalled and a third-down pass to Harvey Torres was just off the fingertips. A pass was tipped and intercepted by Tascosa on Hereford's next series.

In the next 20-play series, Hereford held Tascosa to just three first downs—all coming on short passes. Hereford then took over and made three first downs before a pass was intercepted. Brady got off runs of 13 and 12 yards, and Crim chipped in a 17-yard run in that drive.

The Whitefaces went back to the 25 and drove for its only offensive score by making four first downs in the sustained drive. Carlee Graves had runs of 11 and 30 yards, and Crim hit Martinez with a 17-yard pass to set up a first down on the Amarillo 11. Crim then connected with Martinez in the end zone for a score several plays later.

The Tascosa second unit tallied on two long touchdown runs of 72 and 60 yards in a session in between the first-unit battles. Hereford tallied once when Graves broke on a 62-yard touchdown scamper. Dudding, the back-up quarterback, showed great running potential in his stint with the second unit offense. He played on the junior varsity last season after moving here from Colorado.

Coach Fred Upshaw said Friday night that he was "pleased" with the results of the scrimmage session. He thought the defense looked real well, and admitted the offensive unit performed good in spots.

One of Upshaw's main concerns had been the defensive and offensive lines, where potential was good but there was little experience. He said the Whitefaces had not practiced against the type of defense that Tascosa used in the scrimmage. Pass protection for the quarterback broke down on several occasions.

The scrimmage served as a good test for the team before going through another week of practice and opening the season next Friday at Pampa.

FISHING LIMIT

WASHINGTON — The House Marine and Fisheries Committee has approved a 200-mile limit for protection of fishing grounds historically worked by American boats.

Quarterback Keeper

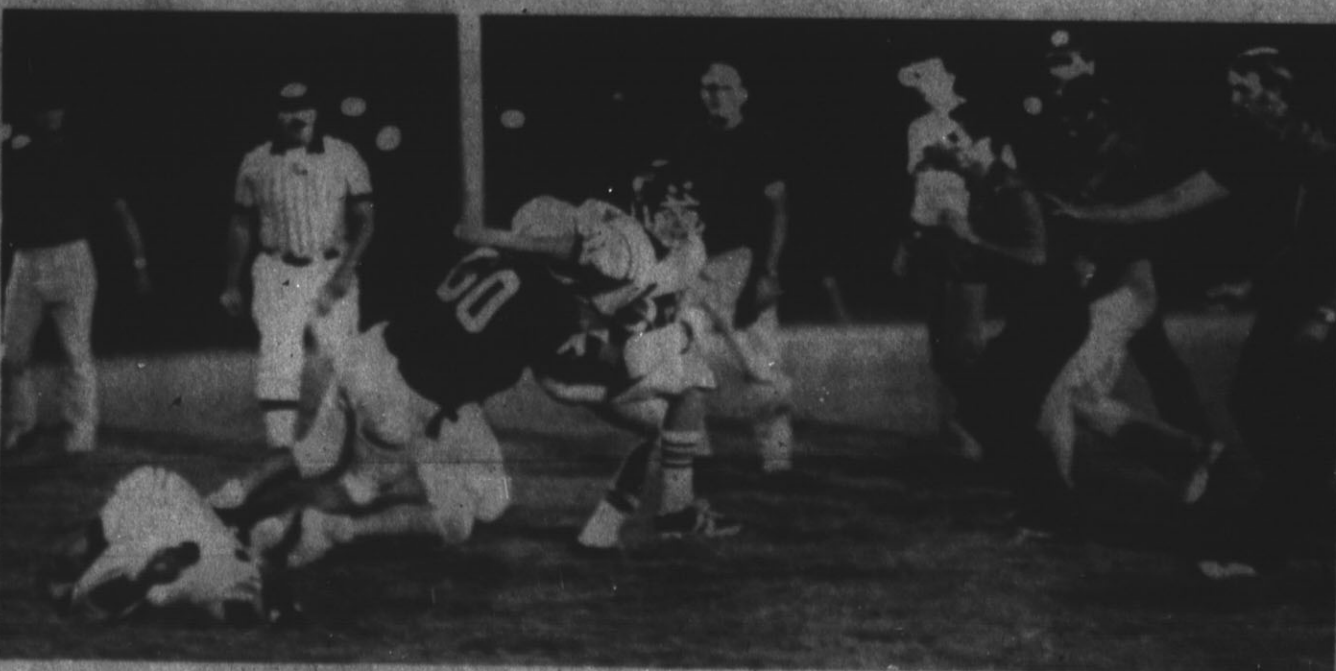

Hereford quarterback Mike Crim keeps the ball and heads around end on a 12-yard gain in the Friday night scrimmage against Tascosa. Providing a key block for Crim is tackle Barry Acton [70]. The Herd sharpened up some skills in preparation for the first game against Pampa next Friday.

Herd Scrimmage Action

middle behind some great blocking enroute to a long run. A shoe-string tackle by the Rebel safety was all that prevented a long touchdown run. Hereford's first unit scored twice—once on offense and once on defense—while the defensive team stopped Tascosa without a score. The Herd opens the season Friday at Pampa.

Whistling Wings

By Jim Stolert

Another bird season is upon us, and with the first hint of the evening flight of doves on opening day, hunters who quietly disappeared during the waning days of last season will suddenly emerge once again, optimistic, and ready for another long fall and winter of hunting the Panhandle's colorful furred and feathered game.

WITH A NEW season here and our own optimism at a reasonably good level, we're launching a column on one of our favorite obsessions. We're calling it "Whistling Wings."

This column will roughly parallel the local hunting seasons.

Every hunter knows that a season has its slow times, and coming up with suitable outdoor material can be kind of slow at times too, so we won't promise anything on a regular basis. We will try to make our occasional offerings interesting, however.

WHISTLING WINGS...The man who has been patient enough to sit quietly and allow the birds to come skimming in, just over his head, knows the sound I am referring to.

It's the sound of a dove darting past at close quarters, the startling rush of air as a flock of teal come whooshing in from behind you, the light whistle of a Mallard's sturdy wings as he makes a wary overhead pass.

It's a sound you don't forget once you've heard it. One that grows on you with each season, one that every man should take the time to hear.

-WW-

The North Zone dove season is set for Sept. 1 through Oct. 30. Daily bag limit is 10 and possession limit is 20 birds.

SHOOTING HOURS are the traditional noon to sunset.

Doves rank among the most popular game birds in this country.

country. Maybe it's because they're a fair weather bird, with a good portion of the hunting coming in shirt-sleeve temperatures. Many scattergunners will go for the dove, but lose heart when the tougher weather which accompanies hunting other birds gets here.

Harvest figures indicate the popularity of this little gray speedster, with as many as 40 million being bagged by hunters in recent years.

Undoubtedly, dove hunters rank high on the list of favorites with ammunition manufacturers, with hunters expending an average of four shells per each bird bagged.

THE DOVE can be a frustrating target, especially later in the season when he resorts to an array of fancy loops, rolls and spins to evade the carefully timed shots of hunters.

If he's so hard to hit, then why is he so popular? Probably because he's sporty, numerous, and the first bird most gunners get a crack at each year.

It's a long time for a scattergunner to wait from the end of one hunting season to the beginning of another. Doves give the gunner the opportunity to break out of that long period of doldrums and into hot action.

On a good day, a dove hunter can very possibly get off more shots and be involved in faster shooting than he will in pursuit of any other game during the season. If you're going to break out of the doldrums, might as well do it in an action-packed manner.

DESPITE THE fact that dove gunning can be fast and furious, it's a sport that can also be participated in at a casual pace.

An early season dove shoot is the perfect excuse for getting a gang of old friends together. Lots of gunners help keep the birds moving, and in the slack periods between flights, there's plenty of time for visiting and the good-natured kidding that goes with blown shots when the little gray-feathered bombs go darting past in a blur.

Above all, doves are reminders. Reminders of how good it is to be out in the field once more, with prospects of a long season filled with memorable experiences awaiting those who will only take the time and make the effort to go after them.

JV, Sophs To Play Thursday

Hereford's junior varsity and sophomore grid teams scrimmaged at Amarillo High School Thursday evening, and coaches of the two squads were happy with the performances of the young gridder.

Coach Carroll Tucker reported that Amarillo's JV scored once against Hereford's JV Longhorns. The lone score was set up on a long pass play. Hereford did not score in the drills, but Tucker said he was pleased with the practice and "we found out some things we needed to know."

Coach Danny Haney reported the soph Shortorns were scored on twice by the Amarillo sophs, while Hereford failed to score. "Overall, we thought the young men worked hard in the practice and did a good job," commented Haney. He added that he and Coach Roy Shipp thought the team had made "great strides" since the opening of fall drills.

The junior varsity has its first game Thursday, getting the honor of playing the first home game of the new season. The Longhorns will host the Pampa JV in a game beginning at 7 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium. The sophomores also open Thursday, but travel to Pampa for the season's kickoff. The game at Pampa is also set for 7 p.m.

GOLF

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Jack Nicklaus, in winning the P.G.A. title recently, seems to have established command again on the pro golf circuit.

At the beginning of the season Johnny Miller was a serious challenger to the Golden Bear—especially when he won several western tournaments with record scores.

He was saying then he was ready to challenge Nicklaus; but Jack beat him at Augusta and has now added the P.G.A. title.

How long Nicklaus can remain at the top of the pack is a good question—certainly not more than a year or two. But it's now clear 1975 is not to be the year of his demise.

Delivering Sermon

The world-famous evangelist Billy Graham delivers one of his sermons. Graham will conduct a West Texas Crusade in Lubbock beginning Sunday. This will be Graham's third crusade in the United States this year. Seats at the Crusade, to be held in Jones Stadium in Lubbock, are free.

Billy Graham Plans Crusade

The Billy Graham West Texas Crusade will begin Sunday, August 31 at the Jones Stadium in Lubbock and continue each night through Sunday, September 7. The meetings will begin at 8:00 p.m. each evening. Dr. Graham is coming to Lubbock by invitation of clergy and business leaders of the community.

George "Beverly" Shea, Crusade soloist, will sing with a choir of several thousand voices directed by Cliff Barrows, Crusade Music Director. Three of the meetings will be taped for national television, and be shown just prior to Christmas.

Special guests at the Crusade will include: Ethel Water, TV and Motion Picture Actress, will sing on Sunday the 31st. Grant Teaff, Baylor Football coach, will give his testimony on Labor Day, Monday, September 1;

Steve Davis, Oklahoma Quarterback, will speak on Thursday, September 4. Steve Sloan, Texas Tech Coach, will speak on Saturday night, September 6.

This is the third Crusade in the United States for Dr. Graham this year. He has just recently concluded a Youth Crusade in Brussels, Belgium with youth coming from all over Europe to attend. Following the West Texas Crusade, Dr. Graham will conduct Crusades in Hong Kong and Formosa this year.

The Crusade is directed by a local executive committee assisted by members of the Billy Graham Team. The Crusade Chairman is Bob Nash of KFYO. The Vice Chairmen are as follows: Dr. Sam Nader, Pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Dr. Dudley Strain, Pastor of the Christian Church, Dr. Floyd Perry, Associate Vice President of Academic Affairs and Dean of Admission Texas Tech University, and Dr. Jaroy Weber, Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

All seats at the Crusade are free, however, delegations of twenty or more may receive special reserve seats by writing the Crusade office at West Texas Billy Graham Crusade, P.O. Box 836, Lubbock, TX 79408, or call 806-763-9436 in Lubbock.

Youth nights for the Crusade are Monday, Thursday, and Saturday.

Governor Stresses Highway Safety

Governor Dolph Briscoe said today he is appalled at the prediction of fatalities for Labor Day weekend issued by the Department of Public Safety.

Said Briscoe, "In 1973, 38 persons were killed over the holiday. Last year 51 were killed and now the estimate is set for 42 deaths for this Labor Day. While this is lower than 1974, it is ridiculous for us to accept it as routine. When we know in advance the number of people to be slain in traffic wrecks, it would appear that we could take additional action to avoid this unnecessary killing. Frankly, I think it is high time we all take a second look at ourselves and revitalize our efforts to stop these fatalities and injuries."

Briscoe said that in addition to extra state troopers on the highways, the statewide Jaycee organization would be operating the many rest stops. "These dedicated men and women are giving up their holiday to help the motorist take a break from tedious, long hours of driving. And, Texas has many fine facilities provided by the State Department of Highways and Transportation that can be used by highway travelers," said the Governor.

Annual 'Texas' Season Ends; Memories Abound

The echoes of TEXAS FOREVER rolled through the canyons of the Palo Duro August 21 in the 1975 performance of "Texas", Paul Green's musical drama about the Texas Panhandle.

During this tenth anniversary season, more than 92,000 people have seen "Texas", making the largest audience in the history of the show.

The memories of the season include one cast member with so many duties that he ran 2.8 miles each evening to fulfill them; two elderly dear ladies who were disturbed because their seats were not together. One was heard to say: "Never mind. We can get together during the interruption;" one fall which was defended fiercely by a young lady in the audience: "These professionals never fall. It must be written into the script;" and a little boy who attended one night when it rained just before, and after, and slightly during a performance. He listened to the thunder in the canyon and the thunder in the show and asked in a quiet moment when his voice could be heard: "Is that the thunder's mating call?" Only one performance was cancelled because of rain.

The 1976 season will open on Wednesday, June 16 and run through Saturday August 21. There will be no Sunday performance except the fourth of July.

Auditions will begin in January for the eleventh season. For information, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Earl L. Butz, Secretary of Agriculture: "We've got a massive production this year. The wheat's in place, and the corn is coming."

George Meany, AFL-CIO President: "The question I'd like to ask is, if the recession has ended, when does the next one stop?"

Chain Letter Schemes Swindle

If someone asks you to join a money-making plan involving chain letters and U.S. Savings Bonds, you'd better refuse.

You aren't likely to make any money—it's more likely you'll lose your "investment" to get in on the deal—and it's possible you may be prosecuted for violation of federal, state or local laws.

A few months ago, a number of endless-chain schemes were launched in Southern California. The intermingling organizations were active under several misleading names—"Your March of Bonds", "Inflation Defense Foundation", "Century Club", "Exclusive One Million, Inc.", "Uncle Sam Investment, Inc.", "Six-Pack Club".

The scheme most often used worked this way—the victim became an "active member" by paying $37.50 to a "sponsor".

In return he received a membership list of 10 names and a $25 Savings Bond, recently purchased for $18.75, made payable to the first person on the list.

The new "member" made two membership lists, crossing off the top name on the original list and adding his own name at the bottom. He then purchased two $25 Bonds, payable to the person who was then first on the new lists. He delivered the Bond that came with the first list to the person named—personally or by mail.

As a "new member", he was required to pay annual dues of $3 and to purchase membership books, at $1.50 each, to give to the two "new members" he brought into the scheme. The victim had spent $81, but was told he would recover most of his investment when he sold his two lists. He did, in fact, recover $75, if he was able to do so.

However, for one member to receive $19,200—the promised windfall—1,024 new members would have had to join after he did, without the chain's being broken. To achieve "optimum success", the schemes required a membership of 250 times the entire population of the world.

Since the membership lists were originally prepared by the promoters—with their names and addresses or those of their associates heading the lists—the scheme would provide Bonds for the promoters long before—if ever—new members reaped any harvest.

The promoters of that plan used two variations—the "Six Pack", involving lists with only six names, and the "Century Club", which used $100 Bonds, in lieu of $25 Bonds.

The California Attorney General, Los Angeles County District Attorney and the Los Angeles City Attorney cooperated in the investigation, arrests and convictions of the promoters, who were held in violation of the California Penal code concerning endless-chains and lotteries.

Rather than circulate the lists or the Bonds through the mails, those promoters relied upon meetings in private homes to further their schemes. Had the mails been used, the promoters would have been in violation of the U.S. Code, Title 18, Section 1302—the "lottery" statute—which prescribes the mailing of material concerning a lottery promotion.

It establishes criminal sanctions of a $1,000 fine or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, upon conviction. They would also have been in violation of Section 1341—the "Mail fraud" statute.

Most of the "bottom-liners" involved in such schemes are relatively innocent of wrongdoing. They have no intention of perpetrating a fraudulent scheme or otherwise using the mails illegally.

In addition to the promise of a dollar reward, they are often persuaded that they are being "patriotic"—helping their government's Savings Bonds Program.

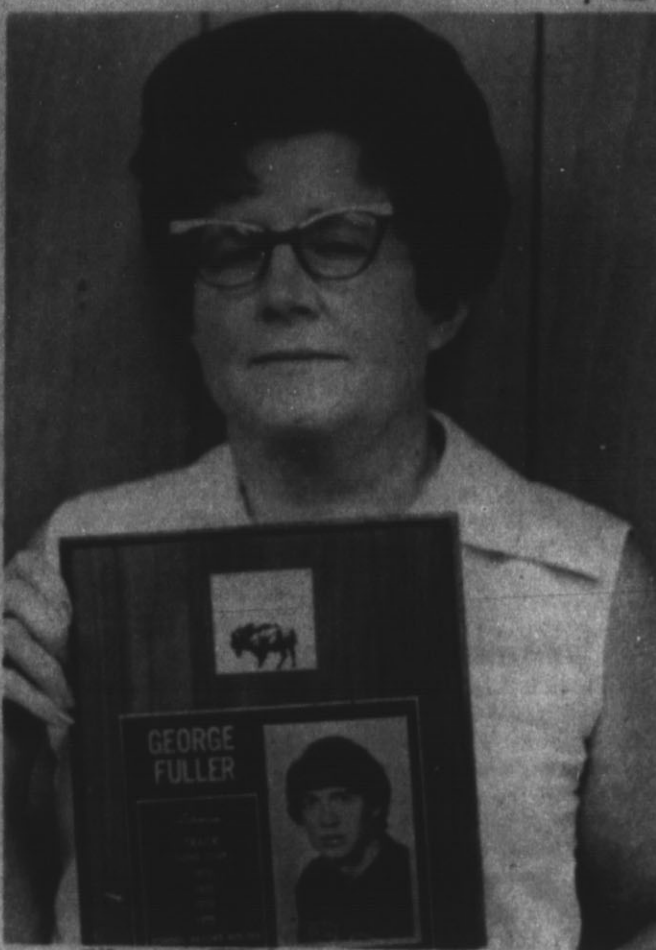

Over the years, the Department of the Treasury has advised the public that chain-letter schemes involving Savings Bonds—which are essentially get-rich-quick endeavors—do a distinct disservice to the Savings Bonds Program.

Instead of encouraging individuals to develop genuine savings plans, they create the illusion that participants are both aiding their government and themselves. Even in the rare case where an individual receives a large return, it is likely that he would quickly redeem the Bonds, thereby placing a further burden on the Treasury.

From time to time, the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division distributes news releases warning of the illegality of chain-letter schemes involving Savings Bonds. When a specific instance is brought to its attention, special releases are distributed to news media in the areas involved.

Individuals who purchase Savings Bonds for such chain-letter schemes, and who discover that participation may violate certain laws and regulations, may request a refund, using Treasury Form FD-2966.

This form is available at many banks; it may also be requested from the Bureau of the Public Debt, 200 Third St., Parkersburg, W. Va. 26101.

Holding Plaque

Mrs. H.S. Fuller holds a plaque presented to her son, George, by the WTSU Athletic Department recognizing him as a letterman in track [long jump] from 1972-1975, and as a school record holder in the long jump. George Fuller graduated from Hereford High in 1971, where he ran track. He is 22 years old. He will assist West Texas State University track coach Bob Kitchens in track this year. His parents live here. His wife is the former Lynne Inmon, also of Hereford.

4-H's To Observe Citizenship Day

September 17 is Citizenship Day. It marks the beginning of Constitution Week, a time for study and reflection on the events that led to the signing of the U.S. Constitution in 1787.

Among the many Americans observing Citizenship Day and Constitution Week will be 368,000 young people from 9 to 19 in the national 4-H citizenship program. Under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, these 4-H'ers take part in year-round activities intended to increase their interest, understanding and knowledge of the rights and duties of American citizenship.

4-H members learn by doing to fulfill their responsibilities as citizens of the community, county, state and nation. They show concern for the welfare of others through participation in service projects and meaningful involvement in civic organizations.

The national 4-H citizenship program was established in 1948 to honor Thomas E. Wilson, Founder of Wilson & Company meat packers and Wilson Sporting Goods Company. Wilson, nationally recognized for his support of 4-H, was one of the founders of the National 4-H Service Committee and served as its president from 1924 to 1958.

In 1973, friends of Kenneth H. Anderson established a scholarship fund to recognize his many years of service to 4-H. Anderson is associate director of the Service Committee and has served the organization for 37 years.

Awards for 4-H'ers, who excel in citizenship activities are donated through the Service Committee in memory of Thomas E. Wilson and by friends of Kenneth H. Anderson. Award winners are selected by the Extension Service on the basis of their accomplishments in 4-H and civic projects.

This year, six outstanding 4-H'ers will receive expense-paid trips to the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago, and college scholarships of $800. During the congress, the high-ranking boy and girl will be presented with silver trays in the name of the President of the United States.

Additional information on the national 4-H citizenship program is available from county extension agents.

Governor Stresses Safety

Governor Dolph Briscoe released a statement today in regards to the beginning of the school year. Briscoe issued an appeal for "an accident free school year."

"This school year, 10,894,006 students will be returning to Texas classrooms. And, as we all know, education is the key to insuring a successful future for our youth. But, we must remember that in addition to providing these students of Texas a good educational opportunity, we must also allow them the opportunity to not be killed or injured in a senseless traffic accident. "During 1974, 533 people under the age of 18 were killed in traffic accidents. These youngsters were in the prime of life: starting their education or beginning their lives as productive citizens. And yet, we accept these deaths as a common occurrence.

"Therefore, as Governor of Texas, as a citizen and as a parent, I ask that our youth be given the opportunity to have an accident free school year.

In addition, I ask that every Texas citizen, make themselves aware of the need for safe and sensible driving habits to reach this goal."

In releasing the statement, Governor Briscoe pointed to the cooperative effort of the various police agencies, state agencies and private associations that are working to reduce the number of fatalities and injuries in Texas. He called for an intensified effort as the new school year gets underway.

GRANTS PARDONS
The Presidential Clemency Board reports it has granted about 6,000 unconditional pardons to persons who received punitive military discharges or were convicted of desertion or draft dodging in the Vietnam war era. The board also reported that the CIA monitored Socialist party activities in 1950.

Dads Day Set At Texas Tech

An expanded program of activities for Dads Day at Texas Tech University Oct. 24-25 has been announced by Lawrence Solomon, Dads Day chairman, and other officials of the association, to include both entertainment and business.

The entertainment highlight will be the traditional Texas Tech-Southern Methodist University football game at Jones Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 25.

Solomon, association president Howard S. Gray of Houston, and executive director James G. Allen have joined in an invitation to students of Texas Tech to encourage their parents to participate in the weekend activities, to make their hotel and motel reservations early, and to get their football tickets as soon as possible.

The activities begin with a trustees dinner meeting at 6 p.m., Oct. 24, to be followed at 7:30 by the "House of Hospitality" in the University Center. All parents are invited to attend the get-acquainted gala that night.

This is the third year for the "House of Hospitality" and Allen said it had proven a popular event with parents who get an opportunity to visit informally with deans and administrators and to discuss various phases of the educational programs at the university.

Texas Tech President Grover E. Murray will be the speaker for the Dads Membership Luncheon at 12:15 p.m., Oct. 25. Special guests at the business meeting and luncheon will be recipients of student scholarships awarded by the Dads Association, inductees to the Athletic Hall of Honor, and the recipient of the Spencer A. Wells Faculty Award, Dr. James Osborn.

Twenty-nine scholarships have been awarded by the association this year, two more than last year, and the scholarships have been increased from $250 to $300, Allen said. The new scholarships are underwritten by Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company and the W.B. and Mabelle Rushing Foundation.

A luncheon for mothers and other family members will be served in the Wall-Gates Halls Cafeteria and a fashion show will be presented by Hemphill-Wells Company.

Members of the Women's Service Organization (WSO) are in charge of arrangements for the Mothers Luncheon and will serve as hostesses at the registration coffee the morning of Oct. 25. Georgene Fox, senior French major from Dallas, is the WSO Dads Day chairman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Fox of 4446 Myerwood Lane, Dallas.

All visiting dads and their families are invited to participate in afternoon bus tours of the campus which will include a one-hour visit to Texas Tech's Ransing Heritage Center. There will be two afternoon tours beginning at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Again this year members of the Saddle Tramps, men's spirit organization, will serve as tour guides on the bus tours.

A special recognition program for the visiting fathers is scheduled for the football game.

Susan Balden Graduates

Susan J. Balden, daughter of Charles R. Balden, of 328 Centre, Hereford, Texas was one of eight students from the Department of Medical Record Administration graduated on August 22 at the Seventh Annual Commencement Exercises of The University of Texas School of Allied Health Sciences at The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston.

The graduates received Bachelors of Science and Certificates of Proficiency in medical record administration for successfully completing a one year professional curriculum.

As members of the health care team, medical record administrators are responsible for maintaining complete medical records on individual patients and releasing information to authorized persons. The medical record is of vital importance to the patient, for it is often essential for correct diagnosis and swift treatment and valuable in verifying insurance claims and authenticating legal documents.

Baylor Holds Commencement

College graduates of 1975 will not find the times ahead easy, but "they will be as interesting as a 10-ring circus," Baylor University President Abner V. McCall told a Waco Hall audience Saturday (Aug. 16).

McCall presided during the commencement exercises that closed the university's 86th summer session. He addressed

Air Force Searching Musicians

Air Force Recruiting Service is seeking qualified musicians for the Air Force Band and field bands officials at Randolph Tex. recently announced.

The Air Force Band needs vocalists, and violin, viola, cello players, and other instrumentalists to fill positions in the Washington, D.C., area.

Directors of the Air Force Singing Sergeants and the Strolling Strangers will travel to locations throughout the United States to audition potential candidates. Recruiting Service officials stated.

In addition, interested musicians and vocalists may travel at their own expense to Washington, for a personal audition, or to a base where an Air Force band is located. When auditioning, applicants should take their own instruments and any music they feel will best demonstrate their musical capabilities.

At present, 17 Air Force bands throughout the United States and overseas have their own symphonic concert, dance, and show bands, and other musical ensembles.

Musicians who qualify for an Air Force Band will be getting the musician's most precious asset—experience. High quality professional performances include all periods and styles of music, officials here said.

People interested in auditioning for the Air Force Band or one of the field bands should contact the Air Force recruiter in their area for more information.

Program Get Safety Award

The 4-H Wheels program, a pre-driver education course for teens, will receive an Award of Honor from the National Safety Council at the council's National Safety Congress Sept. 30 in Chicago.

The award is the highest recognition given by the council for an innovative safety program undertaken by a youth-serving organization.

Wheels was developed jointly by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, the Cooperative Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee. Each of the three groups will receive a citation plaque at special presentation ceremonies during the youth sessions of the congress at Chicago's Midland Hotel.

Designed to promote safety consciousness among young persons 14-16, Wheels is part of the national 4-H automotive program sponsored by Firestone and conducted by the Extension Service. Enrollment in the course is open to all teens without charge through the local county extension office.

degree candidates before awarding 257 bachelor's 159 master's and 28 doctoral degrees.

During the commencement exercises Ira Lynn Campbell of Hereford was awarded an MA in History.

Highlighting the morning program was the conferring of an honorary doctor of laws degree upon Baylor benefactor and university trustee Ben H. Williams of Fort Worth.

In his traditional charge to the graduating class, McCall noted that change has been the chief characteristic of society in the last 20 years.

That change, at a rate unprecedented in history, has been coupled with a multiplicity of problems confronting society, he said, enumerating the "many very grave problems" of foreign wars and the threat of nuclear war, domestic unrest and turmoil, increasing domestic crime and juvenile delinquency, the corruption of government and abuse of governmental power, drug and alcohol problems, environmental pollution, fuel shortage, monetary inflation, economic recession and poverty.

"These are problems not only of our American society," he said, "but of all the world, and the problems are related and aggravated by each other."

Efforts to find solutions to the problems and to direct change in our society have had very limited success, McCall said. He cited the Civil Rights movement by which we have attacked discrimination on the basis of color and sex.

"This has brought great unrest and change to occupy one generation," he said, "but we have not had the luxury of dealing with only one or two serious problems."

"We have also tried to end economic poverty, provide adequate medical aid for everyone and provide mass higher education for all who desire it. The ecology movement and the consumerism movement have wrestled with the problems of environmental pollution and the shortages of food and energy."

McCall quoted one observer who has stated, "It's like 10 Industrial Revolutions and Protestant Revolutions all rolled into one—and all taking place in a single generation."

McCall told the graduates, "In short, it is not a stable, tranquil, safe world into which you go. America will need tens of thousands of educated leaders to wrestle with these almost unsolvable problems and the rapid changes of our society."

"Though you may not find an immediate demand for your education and services," he said, "in the long run America will need you and you will have many opportunities to make your contribution. I envy you your opportunities to participate in the coming decades."

Twelve of Saturday's graduates received bachelor of science degrees in criminal justice. They were the first to complete the program that was created in 1972 to prepare individuals for leadership roles in police administration, police personnel management, advanced criminal investigation, juvenile procedures and corrective penology.

The program provides an in-service educational opportunity and is patterned after the open university concept with curriculum-guided individual study, directed readings, intensive seminars and progress examinations. Baylor was the only school in the nation having such a program at the time it was adopted.

Thirty-seven master of hospital administration degrees were presented to graduates of the Army Academy of Health Sciences at Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio. The academy is a program operated jointly by Baylor and the Army to provide military personnel with medical and allied health training.

Eighteen of the degrees awarded recently were doctor of psychology degrees and 10 were doctor of philosophy degrees.

The Baylor School of Law awarded 31 juris doctor degrees, seven cum laude, on Aug. 9 in ceremonies ending the school's summer quarter.

That Noon Break

Recently a hale and hearty 80-year-old farmer discussing farm practices of times past made the remark that in the old days it wasn't uncommon for farm people to labor in the fields from sunrise to sunset.

This is hard for young people to realize, but people of a generation or so did turn out a remarkable amount of hard labor and nobody seemed worse off for the wear incurred in these 13 and 14 hours working days.

The secret was an hour-and-a-half break at noon that contributed to the well being of old time farmers and helped them maintain their energy and endurance often years past their allotted span of three score and ten.

As he told it, after plowing, hoeing or pitching hay for a good half a day and then hiding away a big meal such as only a farm can afford, most farmers of old simply sought out some comfortable spot and went to sleep.

With the head resting on a cushion of some sort and the frame stretched out full length on a cool back porch or on the soft grass under a shade tree in the yard, the relaxing, restorative results of that mid-day snooze were little short of amazing.

The regenerative machinery of the body could almost be felt in action and a man awoke with his "dinner settled" and ready for business.

The noon-hour siesta was a custom many old time farmers followed religiously. They claimed it added years to their lives. The Mexicans south of the border have always had a long siesta at noon to "settle their dinner" and business comes to a standstill at this time.

It's too bad that today's farmers are too busy for a noon hour sleep. To keep ahead of the game, they have to eat on the run, their tractors roaring all day and often well into the night.

Our current society is so shaped that the farmer is not allowed to slow down. He must, along with the rest of us, keep moving so he can eventually make enough money to relax and be able to indulge in a noon time siesta.

It's too bad that a custom like this had to be wiped out in the hustle and bustle of modern day living.

There's something to be said about a noon day siesta that can apply to a lot of other people in addition to farmers. Maybe that's what this country needs—more noon time sleep so that workers can get back on the job in the afternoon with both muscle and mind refreshed. Or is this just another custom that has become outmoded?

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner gives a scientific explanation of why Russia can't produce all the food it needs.

—O—

Dear Editor:

A neighbor the other day asked me a question. "Why," he said, "can't the Russians grow all the grain they need? They've got more land than we have, they've got more people, they've got enough tractors, they're even exporting tractors, so why can't they feed themselves?"

Obviously, he doesn't understand the soil of Russia. You see Russian soil is not all the same.

For example, as you know, the state over there owns all the land, and what a farmer produces on that land goes to the state with one exception. Each farmer is allowed a small plot, maybe a fifth of an acre, maybe a half, but not more than one whole acre, on which he can grow what he pleases and keep it all himself or sell it and keep the money.

It's amazing how much better those small plots are than the rest of the farm. Why the average Russian farmer can grow ten times as much per square foot on his part than he can on the state's.

On Wall Street

By BOB HILL

U.S. Although Secretary of the Agriculture Butz is talking about selling 5 million additional tons to the Russians, current discussions now being held with the Russians are in the range of 8 million to 10 million tons.

The Russians will buy more wheat from the U.S. this year. In fact, there is a real probability that the Russians will be net importers of grains until at least 1985. Right now, the Russian shortfall of grain this year will exceed the 1972-73 shortfall when the Russians quietly picked up 29 million tons of grain and the price of food world-wide went through the roof.

Thus far the Russians have picked up 14 million tons of grain from the U.S., Canada and Australia. There isn't a great deal of excess grain left anywhere in the world but the

This has baffled the Soviet leaders. They just can't figure it out. The land is the same, they say, one part gets just as much or as little rain as the rest, yet invariably the small plots out-produce.

I understand this matter has come up before the Politburo year after year, but not a single Russian leader has found the answer. Even Russian scientists are baffled by the problem, or if they aren't baffled they ain't saying nothing. It's cold in Siberia.

I can see the Minister of Agriculture tackling the problem himself. "Ivan," he says, after Ivan has just come in from an 8-hour day on state-owned land driving a state-owned tractor that needs oil but he'll get around to that tomorrow or sometime, "how is it that you always produce better cabbage in your garden here than you do out there in the fields?"

"I've always wondered about that myself," Ivan probably says, "It's hard to explain. Maybe the soil is better. Here, take this nice head of cabbage home to your wife and kids. Want some of these potatoes? They taste better than those field-grown ones."

There's a great opportunity in Russia for better soil scientists.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

opposition to legislation in Congress which would help the U.S. merchant marine become more competitive and also require more U.S. grain shipped to Russia carried in U.S. ships.

Not only are the Russian grain purchases embarrassing to the Russians because of the obvious inability of their agricultural industry to cope with their needs, the Russians have also had to go and borrow the money with which to pay for the grain. The three reasons why we have a shortage of food in the world are Russia, China and India. The agriculture industry in each of those three countries is a disaster area.

The Voice of Business

BY RICHARD L. LESHER, President
United States Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON—That "ol' country lawyer" from North Carolina, Sam Ervin, Jr.—one of the heroes of the Watergate investigation—has roused himself from retirement to try to save the country from another potential disaster: Creation of a federal "Consumer Protection Agency."

Since business opposition to such an agency might reasonably be suspect as self-serving, I'd like to share with you Sen. Ervin's delightful letter on the subject. It was sent to Rep. Jack Brooks (D-Texas), chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, on June 23. Rep. John Erlenborn (R-Ill.) put it in the July 31 Congressional Record. (For reasons of space, I have had to condense it slightly.)

Dear Chairman:

I am one of the people of the United States. I respectfully ask that you hear my concerns.

The federal bureaucracy has become like the third curse of Moses—a suffocating plague of frogs brought forth from out of where they belong into the villages and the very houses of the people.

My concerns about the creeping intrusion are well illustrated by the proposed Consumer Protection Acts of 1975 which are being considered now by one of your subcommittees.

These proposals would add yet another self-willed federal agency to the burgeoning mass that now exists.

A review of the current bills, H.R. 7575 and S. 200, shows...both bills contain all that was revolting in their unsuccessful predecessors. And, sadly, there are even new dangers in these 1975 versions.

If one of these bills should be passed by Congress, it will demonstrate that the national legislature has lost touch with reality.

These bills simply cannot withstand rational scrutiny. One need only consider their premise: Because the bureaucracy has become too pervasive to enable consumers to appear before existing federal agencies, it is proposed that Congress create yet another federal agency before which consumers also will not appear.

It cannot work. There is no such thing as a single, clear-cut interest of consumers in government decision-making.

I am well aware that, during the hearings in the House last Congress, Ralph Nader offered what he said was an example of an interest of consumers which was "quite clear." His example? Mandatory installation of seat belt devices in automobiles!

Can he not see the danger in his own thinking! He is not really supporting an advocate of the views of the missing consumer. He is supporting an advocate only of consumers who agree with the advocate.

Further, the danger of this authoritarian approach is severely compounded by the extraordinary powers the bills would confer on the new agency, powers put there to assure that the positions advocated by the agency get implemented.

The new bureaucracy would have all the rights of a regulatory agency, yet none of the responsibilities.

Indeed, it seems that the immensity of these powers is finally being discovered by some of the ardent supporters of a new consumer bureaucracy.

Organized labor saw to it that a complete gag was put on the new consumer bureaucracy's intended advocacy in labor-related matters. Then came the broadcasters, who proved to a majority of the Senate that the consumer unit could, and probably would, put them out of business at license renewal time. Their special interests were exempted.

If labor unions and broadcasters deserved protection from this new bureaucracy, farmers must need equal protection through a majority of the Senate, and so farmers received a broad special interest exemption.

Following these, a host of narrower special interest exemptions were put into S. 200. If the trend continues in the House, we may see created a consumer agency with nothing to say. This would be a refreshing approach to creating federal bureaucracies. Maybe such an agency would have time to listen to the people.

In summary, Mr. Chairman, the bills before you are not merely bad bills, they are dangerous bills poorly conceived.

I ask you to do everything within your power to see that these bills suffer the fate of their predecessors.

Since I consider this bill one of the most unwise legislative proposals ever made to the Congress, I ask that this statement be made a part of the hearing record before your Committee.

Sincerely, Sam J. Ervin, Jr.

Talk of Texas

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—The mayor of Palestine once "doubled" as the president of the United States for half an hour.

Bob Bowman tells the story in his delightful new book about East Texas, "They Left No Monuments" (Lufkin Printing Co., Lufkin, $6.95).

In April, 1891, President Benjamin Harrison stopped in Palestine during a tour of Texas aboard a special train. Col. George Anderson Wright, the town's mayor, hosted the president and was invited to join the party for a journey to Crockett.

President Harrison was dining when somebody reminded him that crowds had gathered along the railway to wave at him. Harrison looked over the other members of his party and his stopped on Wright, a large man with a thick beard like the president's own.

"Mr. Wright, you're about my size," Mr. Harrison said. "Go out and wave at the crowds. You can be president while I finish my breakfast."

For 30 minutes, Mayor Wright stood on the train's rear platform and waved as the crowds cheered the president of the United States.

A huge, locked safe sits in the Capitol basement in a room assigned to the governor's office. Nobody knows where the safe came from, how long it has been there or what is in it. It's too large to move through the existing doors and windows.

Nobody has tried to open it. Not recently, at least.

AUSTIN'S TUNE—"Wait for the Wagon and we'll All Take a Ride," a popular song around the turn of the century, was inspired by a picnic on Austin's Mount Bonnell.

Legend has it that some members of the legislature hired a wagon to take them and their dates to Mount Bonnell, long a trysting place for courting couples on the western edge of the city. The picnic was so memorable that one member of the party wrote a poem about it and placed a copy on each of his colleague's desk the next morning.

Later it was set to music and became a popular song. The Studebaker Co., then makers of a best-selling wagon, acquired rights to the tune and used it to advertise their product. It was an early "singing commercial."

HOW IT BEGAN—Architects say that the townhouse, which more and more urban residents seem to favor today over traditional homes and apartments, did not originate as a city dwelling.

The first true townhouses in Texas were built in Fredericksburg, Gillespie County, in the late 1840's. They were small houses, often of limestone, which neighboring farmers build on town lots for use on their visits to Fredericksburg.

Called "Sunday houses" now because that is the day they were most often used, the farmers who built them called them "town houses."

Sorghum Has Bearing On Quality, Price Of Beef

The amount of sunlight, water and nitrogen that grain sorghum receives has a direct influence on the quality and cost of beef of the consumer's plate.

How these environmental factors affect the growth and yield of several sorghum hybrids was reported to some 3,000 crop scientists meeting in

Bennett and Dr. Dan R. Krieg of the university's Agronomy Department conducted research in West Texas to determine the effects of sunlight, nitrogen and water stress on yield compo-ponents of grain sorghum, one of the region's top cash crops and a product used by the cattle feeding industry in the area.

Grain sorghum needs a maximum of direct sunlight to produce the best yield, Bennett said. In making their study, Bennett and Krieg conducted two separate experiments using several sorghum hybrids differing in seed characteristics. In the first experiment, three sorghums differing in seed tannin concentration were evaluated as to their response to light and water stress at various stages of plant development. Water stress was imposed during late boot through bloom and was estimated as a function of leaf water potentials, Bennett said. Light stress and stage of plant development interactions were evaluated by using shading periods beginning at panicle initiation and continuing to physiological maturity of the grain.

"Shading one to two weeks prior to bloom decreased the number of seed per head," Bennett said. "Shading two to three weeks after bloom decreased the weight of the seeds. The response to light stress seemed to be the same for all genotypes."

"A water stress, light intensity, genotype interaction existed in that two of the three genotypes did not exhibit the reciprocal relationship between seed weight and seed number in the water stressed plots," he said.

In the second experiment the same water stress treatment was imposed on four sorghum hybrids differing in seed color and endosperm texture. The effect of rate and time of application of nitrogen was also evaluated. The genotype environmental stress interaction was evaluated as a function of yield and yield components, Bennett said.

Texas Top Exporter Of Breeding Cattle

Texas remained at the top of the ranks as the leading exporting state of beef breeding cattle during 1974.

"About a third of all the beef breeding cattle shipped from the United States last year came from Texas," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Other leading beef breeding cattle exporting states were Montana, North Dakota, Florida

"For the nation as a whole, 41,999 head were shipped out of the country, an increase of 56 per cent over 1973 levels," notes the Texas A&M University system specialist. "Total value of the 1974 exports was $33.9 million, up 51 per cent from a year earlier. Animals went to 43 different foreign countries."

Texas led in exports of Angus, Beefmaster, Brahman, Brangus, Charolais and Santa Gertrudis cattle.

What breeds were most popular and where were they shipped?

Crossbreeds led the list of exports, with 99 per cent of these animals moving to Canada. Canada was also the most important export market for all U.S. breeding cattle, accounting for 47 per cent of the exports, points out Uvacek. Charolais were the second most common exported breed, with about half of them moving into Mexico.

The third largest number of exports were Brahman cattle, with the Republic of South Africa taking almost a quarter of them. More than half the Santa Gertrudis cattle, which ranked fifth in numbers, also went to this country.

Hereford cattle ranked fourth in breed popularity and the bulk of them went to Hungary.

Sorghum Board Sets Election

Grain sorghum producers in the High Plains area will elect four members to the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board on Oct. 16.

Nominations will be accepted through Sept. 16 at TGSPB offices, 1708-A 15th St., Lubbock, Tx., 79401.

Directors whose terms will expire are Ralph Mabry of Petersburg, C.P. Smith of Hale Center, K.B. Parish of Springlake and Larry Witten of Olton. All are eligible for re-election.

Persons in the 29-county TGSPB area who produce grain sorghum and pay the board assessment are eligible to vote and to seek election. Any person wishing to be nominated for membership should make application by Sept. 16. The application must be signed by the nominee and 10 other eligible voters.

Eligible voters who do not receive ballots Oct. 2 may obtain one from a county agent.

Counties in the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board area are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castor, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Oldham, Farmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

R.A. Metcalf Assigned To Holly

The assignment of Richard A. Metcalf as a management trainee at Holly Sugar Corporation's Hereford factory has been announced in Colorado Springs by George W. Miles, Jr., senior vice president-operations.

Metcalf is a 1975 graduate of the University of Wyoming where he earned a B.S. degree in industrial management. He worked full time at various jobs while going to college. His mother has been employed by Holly for 19 years as a secretary in the Worland factory agricultural office.

While in college, Metcalf married the former Armetta Jelinek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jelinek of Laramie, Wyoming. Metcalf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Metcalf of Worland.

Farm Equipment Prices May Ease, Says Hayenga

Farmers shopping for needed equipment in the coming months may be faced with a rather pleasant change—wider selections and, maybe, somewhat lower prices.

After a year of record low farm equipment inventories in 1974 and the resulting skyrocketing prices, equipment supplies are once again increasing to the point that prices may ease somewhat during the remainder of the year.

That's the contention of Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Although farm income was down last year and is projected to be down again during 1975, expansions in crop acreage and the recent strength in livestock prices may stimulate some equipment purchases later in the year," points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Of course, a big factor would be the softening or at least stabilizing of equipment prices."

During the first half of 1975, tractor sales have been 19 per cent below the pace set during the first six months last year. However, the sales of self-propelled combines increased 25 per cent during the first half of 1975 compared to the same period last year.

The average price farmers paid for farm machinery rose 14 per cent during the first half of this year while wholesale prices increased only 5 per cent. Also, motor vehicle prices rose only 5 per cent. "This indicates that dealer margins on farm equipment have increased in recent years, and with inventories increasing, the time may be ripe for farmers to do some bargaining," points out Hayenga.

Water Stress Is Being Investigated

When the growing gets rough, the tough keep on growing—what sounds like a high school coach's pep talk actually may be a forecast for agriculture.

Three Texas Tech University Scientists are investigating the effects of water quantity and water quality on crops commonly grown on the South Plains to see how tough they are when the growing gets rough.

The investigators, Dr. Joe R. Goodin, associate professor of biological sciences; Dr. Dan E. Krieg, associate professor of agronomy; and Dr. Robert G. Stevens, assistant professor of agronomy, are trying to determine when water may be restricted without harming the productivity of the crops grown in the area.

"There is evidence that in some areas up to three times more water is used than is necessary for irrigation," Stevens said.

"This is not necessarily true on the South Plains where there is a great awareness of the need to conserve a dwindling water supply.

"Even with our water consciousness, we probably can do more to conserve water and to make more efficient use of all the types of water which are available," he said.

According to Krieg, "Most agricultural crops are capable of withstanding far greater water stress at certain times of their development than at other times. We are trying to identify those times for cotton, sorghum, corn, potatoes, soybeans, alfalfa, sunflowers, millet and four-wing saltbush."

The team is growing six test plots of each of the crops under study. The plots are on acreage belonging to Southwestern Public Service Co. which also provides water for the project.

Three of the plots for each crop receive fresh water at different intervals. Three plots receive treated sewage effluent from the power plant. The treated effluent contains seven to eight times the amount of total salts found in the fresh water.

Irrigation intervals are determined by measurement of leaf water potential—measure of the free water status in the leaf.

When the crops are irrigated, only enough water is used to bring soil water to capacity within the top two feet. Soil water concentrations are determined by neutron probe analysis.

"Productivity in one of our test crops, alfalfa, is directly related to irrigation," Goodin said. "Any decrease in water quantity or quality results in reduced yields."

"We are looking at Atriplex canescens, or four-wing saltbush, as a possible alternate forage crop for arid areas," he said. "Four-wing saltbush is tolerant of less water and poorer qualities of water than alfalfa. It is a high-protein forage which has some potential as a cultivated crop."

The Atriplex test plots will be cultivated and harvested in the same manner as the alfalfa test plots throughout the experiment, Goodin said.

The experiment began in January 1975 and will continue through two growing seasons to December 1976. Yields of each test crop will be determined with respect to dry matter production, leaf area and plant height.

The chemical composition of the harvest will be analyzed to determine the possible effects of the stress treatments on nutritional quality.

"We hope to define, to some extent, plant species responses to increasing levels of water stress and what aspect of development and yield are most sensitive to stress," Goodin said. "This information should help determine when to apply irrigation water to produce the best yield and quality under conditions of limited water supply."

"We also hope to determine the effects of water quality on plant response and yield."

Krieg said. "Many semi-arid areas have available low quality water that may be used if properly managed on certain crop types."

The research project is funded through a grant from the Office of Water Research and Technology, U.S. Department of the Interior. Southwestern Public Service Co. is cooperating in the project by providing recycled industrial water and acreage for the experiment.

Weed Control Stop Set For Field Day

A potential volunteer sunflower weed problem along with the latest information and equipment in weed control will be spotlighted Tuesday, September 9, as the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock marks its 66th Annual Field Day.

Heading up the field day weed control program is Dr. John Abernathy.

The TAES weed scientist reports that research information gathered from several thousand test plots will be stressed in the field day tour stop set to focus on resistant annual and perennial weed species plaguing area cotton, sorghum, soybean and sunflower fields.

Says Abernathy, with some 400,000 acres of sunflowers being grown on the High Plains this year, a potential volunteer sunflower problem exists. The threat is especially significant in the rotational crops like cotton and soybeans, notes the scientist.

Resistant weed species on tap for the field day discussion are lanceleaf sage, morning glory, thornapple, wild sunflower and watergrass. Perennial weed problems scheduled to be covered are yellow nutsedge, lakewood, johnsongrass, Texas Blueweed, and Whiteweed.

Current status and use of new herbicides such as Roundup will also be highlighted in the weed control tour stop, Abernathy adds.

Several new types of herbicide application equipment can also be viewed during the tour of weed control research plots.

A recirculation sprayer for Johnsongrass control in cotton and soybeans, a shielded sprayer for directing powerful herbicides beneath cotton plants and new types of spray nozzles and additives for controlling spray drift will be detailed in the TAES' comprehensive review of weed control research.

TAES Lubbock Field Day Activities begin at 1:00 p.m. continuing until 5:00.

On The Turnrow

By Jim Stolet

The moment of truth is rapidly approaching for this year's corn and milo crops, the moment when producers will learn just how their grain crops are going to yield.

THERE'S STILL a period of maturing ahead of the crops, and some of the later corn and milo may still require some additional irrigation, but it's coming down now to the wait-and-see game that's difficult for any farmer to play.

Despite all of the carefully calculated inputs on the part of any farmer and the management measures he takes, in the end it all boils down to just how lightly Mother Nature is going to let the crop off.

Any crop can have outstanding potential, but it doesn't take long for an unusually early freeze or a prolonged wet spell right at harvest time to wreck potential. When the corn or milo is down and the fields are too muddy for even the stoutest of combines to slog through, all the potential in the world won't put grain in the bin.

SO, SHORTLY, it will come down to hoping that the combines get through the fields quickly with a minimum of problems, and ultimately, the success of another corn and milo crop will be told at the scales of local elevators.

Meanwhile, Mother Nature will continue to add her element of suspense until the crops are safely in.

—TURN—

Potato and onion harvesting locally are virtually completed, and after the disaster in the marketplace last year, I'm sure growers were glad to see the market firm up this summer.

VEGETABLE GROWING is just another of the risky enterprises which a farmer can enter, and with the spiraling cost of producing potatoes and onions the past few years, it's not hard to understand why many farmers decided to give up these two crops. It's good to see that things got a little better for those who stuck with it this year, however.

good reception from the local folks on his visit here Wednesday.

Basically, I suppose, farm people respond to Mr. Mahon because he responds to them.

REP. MAHON has been earnest in his desire to find out just what's going on in the agriculture industry "back home." That was part of the reason for his visit here Wednesday. He didn't miss the opportunity to visit with the local farmers while he was in town, and obtain their opinions on current matters concerning agriculture.

Rep. Mahon has always been one to act swiftly and decisively on behalf of the agriculture industry. His testimony on behalf of the agriculture industry at the FFC gas hearings in Washington on behalf of local irrigation farmers is just one of his recent and outstanding efforts.

Deaf Smith County residents are always ready to stand behind a man such as Mr. Mahon, a man who is a genuine public servant and is ready to stand behind his constituents.

It's just too bad there aren't more men in Washington like him.

Payment Law Effective As Of Sept. 1

Legislation of monumental importance to the livestock industry in Texas goes into effect on September 1, 1975—with little fanfare.

The "prompt payment" law, as it is commonly called, gives livestock producers greater assurance payment for livestock by speeding payment and giving the seller a superior lien against the packer.

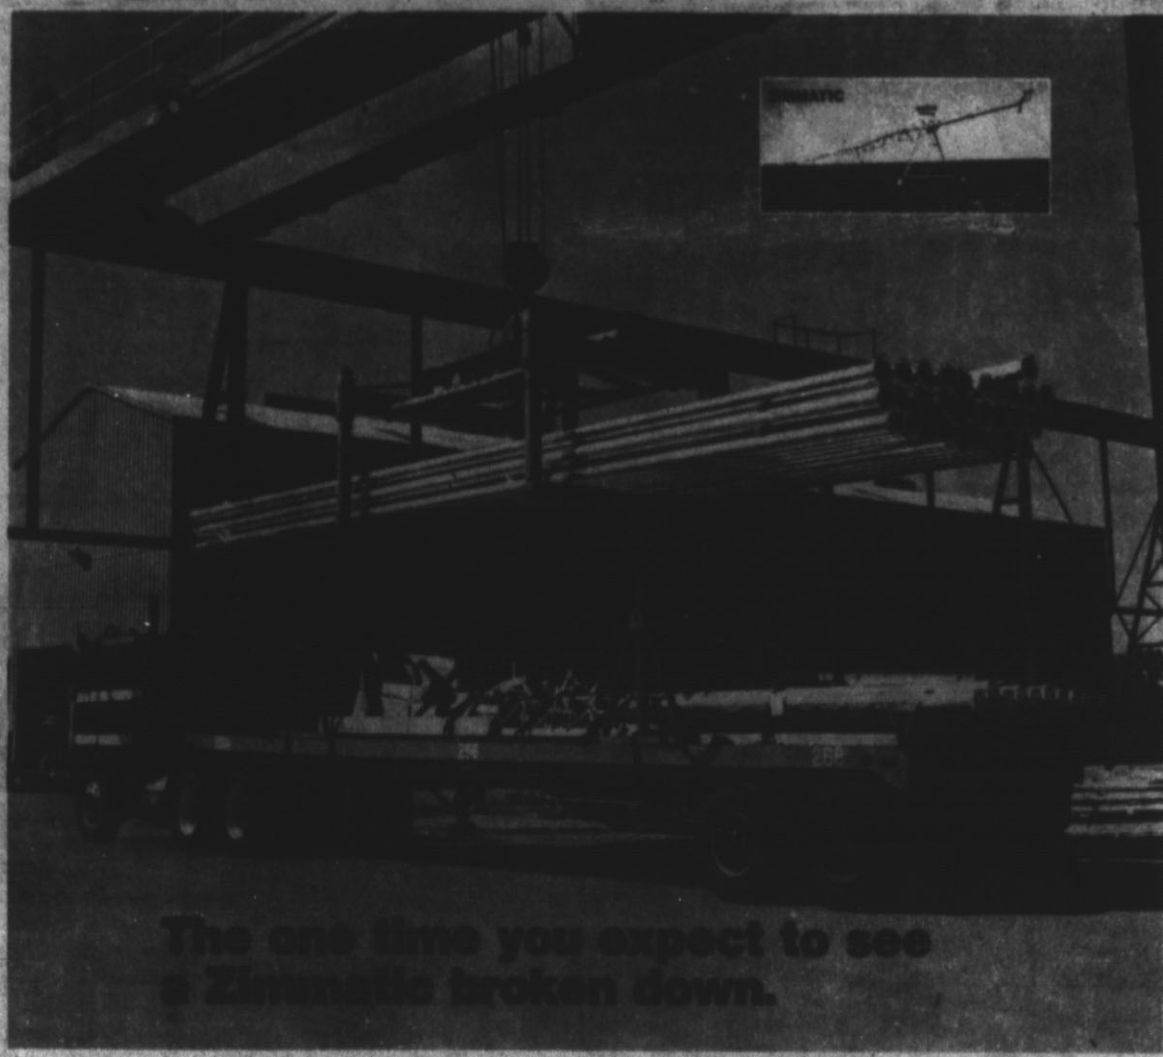

Basic provisions of the law are: (1) Livestock sold for slaughter must be paid for by check, cash or wire transfer of funds on the day that transfer of possession occurs. (2) The seller maintains a superior lien on animals sold for slaughter.

Up to this time, the seller of livestock has not had any protection which assures payment in case of default by the packer.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week, usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and factory trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. Before you buy any center pivot irrigation system, be sure to let us tell you about all the advantages of owning a Lindsay Zimmatic.

Field Day Will Underscore Weed Control

Increased levels of weed control in corn due to introductions of more selective herbicides and herbicide combinations will be one of the premier research programs set for display Thursday, September 11, in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway Field Day.

Field day tours of the experiment station at Halfway are set for 1:00 p.m. continuing throughout the afternoon until 5:00. The research center is located 14 miles west of Plainview on Hwy 70.

According to TAES weed scientist, Jim Schrib, the field day weed stop will feature control of one of the Texas High Plains' most prolific annual broadleaf weeds—pigweed.

"Even though the weed continues to present problems, its susceptibility to triazine herbicides has made the species relatively easy to control," reports Schrib. "However, grassy weeds such as barnyardgrass, shattercane, fall panicum, and crabgrass have increased in importance in recent years.

Another of the weed tour's highlights are herbicide combinations for weed control in corn. Combinations such as Aatrex plus Sutan, Bladex plus Sutan and Aatrex plus Lasso have indicated in most instances such better weed control than either herbicide alone.

In addition to providing a wider spectrum of weed control, herbicide combinations will allow a lower usage rate of the more persistent herbicides, which would be beneficial for corn to cotton rotations, notes Schrib.

Several highly effective herbicides on grassy weeds which have been recently developed for use in corn, will also be discussed, says the TAES scientist. Most of these herbicides are short residual compounds, which offer advantages for certain double cropping and crop rotation systems.

In the future with the availability of these new herbicides," Schrib concludes, "producers will be able to match the correct herbicides to his particular weed problem and crop rotation system."

Other research topics scheduled for the Experiment Station at Halfway Field Day include cotton variety tests, greenbug resistant sorghum, corn and sunflower research, insects studies, water conservation, and cropping systems.

Land Program Deadline Near

AUSTIN—As the August 31 deadline for mailing applications to the Family Land Heritage Program approaches, persons interested in applying are urged to get their forms completed and turned in as soon as possible, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

"Any applications received by the Department after the August 31 deadline will be considered in the 1976 Program, rather than this year's Program," White said.

Nearly 230 applications have been received by the Department so far.

If persons wishing to apply cannot get forms from the county judge's office, they should write John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Family Land Heritage Program, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

The program will honor families who have farmed or ranched the same land for over 100 years at the 1975 State Fair.

Last year, the program honored over 560 families.

More than $200,000 in scholarships will be awarded to national winners during the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

Grass Control

Weed scientist Jim Schrib with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway, evaluates a new experimental herbicide for the control of barnyardgrass [watergrass] in corn. Grassy weed control problems in corn have increased in importance due to their difficulty to control, reports the TAES researcher. Weed control in corn will be one of the spotlighted topics set for discussion at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Field Day at Halfway, Thursday, September 11.

$921 Million In Ag Products Sent To Communist Bloc

According to figures compiled by the Texas Farm Bureau, during the year ending June 30, 1975, $921,417,000 worth of U.S. agriculture products were shipped to the Communist bloc countries.

The Communist bloc of countries includes Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Russia.

The major U.S. product sent to this bloc of countries was corn, which amounted to 42.01 per cent of the total value for the year ending on June 30, 1975 and 29.9 per cent of the value during the previous year.

Corn sent to the Communist bloc for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to 2,815,000 metric tons, compared to 4,795,000 metric tons during the previous year.

Average cost to the Communist bloc countries for corn according to these figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, was $137.57 a metric ton, compared to $64.68 during the previous year.

Naman Says Wheat Sales Halt Could Cause Big Losses

The amount that retail food prices deserve to rise because of the Russian grain sales will be hardly noticeable to consumers, while the loss taken by farmers if these sales are shut off would be truly devastating, according to Jay Naman, member of the executive board of the National Farmers Union (NFU).

Naman, who is also president of Texas Farmers Union and represents a major wheat production area, made the statement following a meeting of the NFU executive unit at Denver.

"In the first place, the news of the grain sales did not come until early in July so it could not have any effect on retail prices yet," Naman explained.

"Normally, it is three to six months before an increase in raw materials prices is reflected through the production and marketing channels.

"Secondly, it takes a one dollar change in the price of wheat to justify a 1.2 cent change in the price of a pound loaf of bread, so there is no basis for the hysteria that bread may go to a dollar a loaf."

The NFU Executive Board noted that there is only 3.6 per cent worth of wheat in a one-pound loaf of white bread now selling for 36 cents. A bushel of wheat provides enough flour for 70 loaves of bread.

Farm wheat prices would have to go to $45 to $50 a bushel before a dollar price-label on a pound loaf of bread could be justified, Farmers Union insisted.

The Farmers Union leaders maintained that while the retail price impact of the Russian grain sales would be nominal for consumers, the hold on grain sales ordered by Secretary Butz and the dock workers boycott could have a disastrous effect on farmers if it continues for any length of time.

The statement cited estimates that Russian grain purchases, if consummated, could improve the wheat market prices by 75 cents a bushel and the corn market price by 30 cents a bushel.

"If the sales are shut off, farmers will not only have to forego that potential gain, but the value of the whole crop will be depressed," Naman said.

Work Underway On Pinkeye Vaccine

Infectious Bovine Keratoconjunctivitis, better known to cattlemen as "pinkeye," is a troublesome eye infection primarily in white-faced cattle. The aggravating problem is initially an eye irritation caused by glaring sunlight, wind, dirt, plant pollen or other eye irritant. Then with the eye red, inflamed, and swollen the infection is produced almost always by a bacteria, Moraxella bovis, but occasionally by other bacteria or a few viruses.

The worst pinkeye signs are seen in cattle less than two years old, but all ages are susceptible. The signs of an impending pinkeye problem begin with the animals showing sensitivity to light, blinking and squinting. Soon there will be redness on the inner eyelid lining and maybe some swelling of the whole lids. The eyes will begin to run with the early drainage down the face being watery, but in a few days the fluid becomes pus-like. In white-faced cattle dirty streaks run down the face below the eyes. Often by this time the eyeball itself is affected. The eyeball is irritated and will develop a white film. Following in a few days will be an ulcer in the center of the eye with a white ring around it. If the disease is untreated finally the eyeball ruptures and the eye is ruined permanently. It is believed that cancer eye can follow chronic pinkeye with the death of the cow being the final outcome.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association says that pinkeye can easily be treated and controlled if cattlemen will take the time and effort to do so in the early stages of the infection. Limiting the early causes of irritation by clipping high woody pastures, providing wind breaks and shade, and controlling face flies which spread the infection from animal to animal are most important. Antibiotic therapy is necessary to stop current infections and should be used on the advice of your veterinarian. It is advisable to treat all animals in the herd when an infection gets started.

Work is currently being done on a vaccine for pinkeye. Since it is still in the early stages the very best that a cattleman can do is be diligent in eliminating the causes of early eye irritation and treating early cases quickly.

Excellent management practices can virtually eliminate pinkeye as a herd problem.

BACON-VEGETABLE CHOWDER

8 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of potato soup
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water
1 cup cooked vegetable or combination of vegetables

Fry bacon until crisp, then crumble. Cook onion in 2 tablespoons of bacon fat until tender. Add crumbled bacon and remaining ingredients. Heat to serving temperature, stirring frequently. Makes 2 or 3 servings. Note: You may use leftover vegetables in this chowder, or any fresh vegetable, such as corn.

Solid Waste Disposal To Get More Attention

The disposal of solid wastes from residential, commercial and institutional sources may soon be regulated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Guidelines were published in the Federal Register July 11 that concern methods of storing and collecting solid wastes of homes, businesses and various institutions, points out Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer in waste management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to Sweeten, the guidelines will become mandatory for all Federal facilities, and are recommended for adoption by local and state agencies.

Some of the requirements set forth in the EPA guidelines include a limit on container size (35 gallons maximum), collection vehicle design standards, and a provision for collection of solid wastes at least once per week.

Certain specifications are set forth on reusable waste containers and paper and plastic bags.

The guidelines also spell out certain recommendations, which include vehicle selection and routing for fuel conservation, safety training for collection crews, curbside or alley collection, and disposal of solid wastes.

Sweeten points out that comment on the proposed guidelines is invited from the public as well as from state and local government officials. All comments should be mailed before Sept. 9 to the Deputy Assistant Administrator for

Solid Waste Management Programs (AS-562), U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M. St. S.W., Washington, D.C. 20460.

ON ECONOMY

The drop in the unemployment rate for July signaled that the jobless rate over the long term will be lower than the administration originally expected, President Ford's top economic adviser reported.

Press Women Plan Workshop

Ways and means of fund raising will highlight a Sept. 6 workshop to be conducted by Texas Press Women, Inc. of District 15.

The two-hour workshop will open with registration beginning at 9 a.m. in the Common Lobby of the Amarillo College Concert Hall/Theater, 2200 S. Van Buren.

Registration is $2 per person attending from any club or organization interested in learning new ways of raising money. An information packet, coffee and donuts will be available.

Winifred Moore of First Baptist Church of Amarillo will moderate a four-member panel composed by Mrs. Pies Harper, Mrs. Robert Kerr, Mrs. Ralph E. Randal, and Joe Russell. The workshop will begin at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Harper will discuss how to obtain money from both private and governmental sources for a specific goal. She also will discuss how to gain regional support for such an effort.

Mrs. Kerr will relate the need of an organization to determine how necessary a project is, if the project is worth the effort that will be expended, and, once decided, how to organize the project.

Mrs. Randal will tell how to build a specific facility for public use. This includes gaining regional support for a structure to be located in a smaller community. Mrs. Randal will discuss how to recruit and maintain volunteer help, also.

Joe Russell will inform the audience on how to raise money through a specific project to further a club activity such as a scholarship fund.

All four panelists have been involved in many community fund-raising endeavors.

Mrs. Harper spearheaded the money-raising campaign to build the amphitheater which houses the summer production of the musical drama, TEXAS.

In 1961 she wrote playwright Paul Green to visit the Texas Panhandle, view Palo Duro Canyon, and write a drama that could be produced in the canyon.

In the fall of 1961, the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation was organized with Mrs. Harper as its founder.

Mrs. Kerr began working with the United Way of Amarillo in late summer of 1973 to lay out the promotion campaign and develop citizen leadership to reach a $1 million goal. Now, Mrs. Kerr is currently working on the third $1 million plus campaign which has proved successful for the past two years.

A charter member of the Amarillo Art Alliance, Mrs. Kerr aided in locating monies for the Amarillo Art Center by going to area cities to develop regional involvement via monies for construction and people as volunteers.

Mrs. Kerr has been associated with the Amarillo Globe News Publishing Company for 11 years, nine of which were as editor of Woman's Page Department. She was founding editor of ACCENT WEST magazine in January, 1972.

Mrs. Randal is director of the Carson County Square House Museum in Panhandle. For almost 40 years she has been active in state and area history, educational and youth programs.

During the early thirties, Mrs. Randal was a newspaper reporter for papers in Clarendon, Memphis, and Amarillo, and edited the Paducah POST.

Mrs. Randal has authored many articles in national and state publications including Reader's Digest. In 1971, she was presented the Ruth Lester award for outstanding contributions toward the state's heritage. The award has been presented to such notables as Ima Hogg, Lady Bird Johnson, and Nellie Connally.

Russell, with Southwestern Public Service, is on the Board of Directors for Amarillo Little Theater, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Amarillo Press Association, and Amarillo Better Business Bureau. He has been a past president of the Advertising Club of Amarillo and received the club's silver Medal award.

Stamp Exchange To Begin Soon

Food stamp recipients will be able to exchange old food stamps for new ones after the old stamps expire on August 31, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has announced.

Until Aug. 31, food stamp recipients may use their old stamps in authorized retail food stores. After that date, recipients will be able to exchange the old stamps at local food stamp offices designated by state agencies. The exchange will be dollar for dollar, new food stamps for old.

USDA introduced the new food stamp series on March 1, 1975. The new $1, $5 and $10 denomination replace the 50 cents, $2 and old $5 stamps.

CCA Orientation Tea Set Tuesday

Captains and drive workers for the Community Concert Association will assemble for last minute instruction Tuesday from 2:30-4:30 p.m. in the Bill Allen home, 203 Sunset. Materials will be distributed at the orientation tea.

"Family memberships" is a key phrase which will be promoted by the CCA workers during the annual membership week Sept. 8-13.

Membership fees remain the same as eight years ago when the CCA was organized in Hereford. A single adult membership is priced at $10 and a student membership, who must be living at home and high school age or younger, costs $5. Thirty dollars will grant admission to 12 different performances in four cities, including Hereford, for two adults and more than two students.

Hereford High School will be the site of three concerts on the CCA circuit, which has booked its entire program in advance of the membership drive.

Appearing on the local stage will be "Scotland On Parade," incorporating 30 singers, dancing, pipers, fiddlers and band on Oct. 23. The second concert will feature Paul LaValle and the Band of America on Feb. 14, followed by Hal Shane, singer guitarist and dancer, on March 14.

CCA programs are limited to members and new members can join only during the annual drive week. Renewal memberships will be conducted Sept. 2-13.

Directing the upcoming drive will be Mrs. Paul Scott and Mrs. Bill Walden, who are serving for the second year as co-chairmen. President of the local association is Mrs. George Warner.

Charm Course Set Sept. 15

A "Career Girl Charm Course" will be sponsored by the Womens Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce September 15. The course is open to all women of the community, especially women in the business community.

Instructor for the course will be Mrs. Mickey McDonald, national director of the American Beauty Charm School in Amarillo.

There will be a charge of $3 per person and pre-registration is required. Women can register at Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, Hereford State Bank and Panteo Cigo.

The course will be held at the Community Center from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. with a 10 minute coffee break.

MRS. JERRY TYLER

Family Heirloom Adds Meaning To Wedding

Wearing an heirloom watch from Norway, Miss Charlotte Rachel Doan of Tulla was the bride of Jerry Douglas Tyler, a local resident, Saturday afternoon in Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lubbock. Officiating was the Rev. Sam Laine, pastor.

The antique timepiece belongs to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. N.E. Tyler Sr. of Dallas, who came from Oslo Norway at the age of 18. The watch originally was owned by Mrs. Larse Halverson and was worn by the bridegroom's mother at her wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Doan of Tulla and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N.E. Tyler Jr. of 111 Ranger Dr.

Lighting the altar area for the ceremony were nine-point candelabra entwined with greenery.

Miss Sharia Cosby of Canyon was maid of honor and James Head of Hereford was best man.

Additional bridesmaids included Miss Holly Porter of Houston, Miss Patty Klunder of Richardson, Miss Kandy Keiss of Tulla, Miss Cassie Dillidine of Roswell, N.M. and Miss Sheryl Pinto of Waco.

Serving as groomsmen were the bridegroom's cousin, Mike Simpson of Floydada, David Paetzold of Amarillo, and Tom Timberlake, Woody Woodward and Richard Lyons, all of Hereford.

Guiding guests down the aisle were the bridegroom's brother, Kelly Tyler, his brother-in-law Gary Victor of Hereford and Harold Keeter of Tulla.

The bridegroom's father sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. Larry Douglas of Lubbock was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Renaissance gown of candlelight silk organza and imported Chantilly lace. The moulded empire bodice made entirely of lace was patterned with a high duchess neckline of natural scallops which emphasized the oval Egyptian sunburst yoke, also of scallops.

Long candlestick sleeves of lace were edged in natural scallops over the wrists. Her controlled A-line skirt was shirred to back fullness, creating a chapel train, encircled by a deep band of Chantilly lace.

A matching lace diadem held her illusion veil which was sprinkled with lace flowerlets and drifted over the length of her train. A solitary orchid surrounded by feathered carnations and gladiolas formed her bouquet.

In addition to the Norse watch, the bride wore a gold bracelet borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. Hugh Parker of Tulla.

Halter dresses of rust-colored polyester knit were worn by bridesmaids. The long A-line skirts flared at the hemline. Complementing their ensembles were hooded battle jackets and baskets of preserved autumn flowers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Doan was clad in a floor-length shirt-waist dress of emerald green fabric. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a sleeveless empire gown of yellow knit.

Fall colored flowers adorned the wedding cake which was served during a reception in the church parlor. Miss Jana Watts of Groves and Miss Nancy Brorman of Houston officiated at the refreshment table which was centered by a white candelabrum. Miss Janis Farguhar of Brownfield and Miss Margaret Maki of Houston ladled fruit punch. An ivory cutwork tablecloth was used. Mrs. Jim Doan of Tulla assisted.

Miss Judy Smith of Tokio presided at the guest registry.

For a honeymoon trip to Kansas City, Mo. and Sioux City, Iowa, Mrs. Tyler wore a rust-colored pant ensemble with brown accessories. The couple will be at home at Sioux City after September 6.

A 1972 graduate of Tulla High School, the recent bride is a senior student at Texas Tech University where she is majoring in child development. She is a member of Phi Mu social sorority.

Tyler, a 1970 graduate of Hereford High School, attended Tech, where he was a member of the meat judging team, Block and Bridle Club, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and Big Brothers of America.

The bridegroom's parents treated the wedding party to a rehearsal dinner at Supten's in Lubbock Friday evening.

Out-of-town wedding guests who attended the Lubbock marriage included:

Messrs. and Mmes. Tom Hall, Gary Victor, Johnny Wall, Steve Jones, Gaylon Jack, Tommy Stoy and Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Tyler and Jim, all of Hereford. Other local residents present were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall, Rhonda and Don and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Womble, Dustin, Denise, Dudley and Dane of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Wo Ho Simpson Jr., Steve, Mike, Cindy and Dough of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Doan, David and Michael of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Doan, Patrick and Matthew of Houston.

Scribbles and Scratches

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Women's Editor

SEPTEMBER IS CHARACTERIZED by a peculiar magic which, in my opinion, is second only to the Yuletide charms of the twelfth month. The coming weeks signify new beginnings set against a sentimental backdrop of turning autumn leaves and crisp mornings laden with winter's promise.

The wondrous reincarnation of school children, football and club meetings evokes an excitement burgeoned by a faith in the constant cycles of Nature and society. September is a return to familiar phases of life whether they be homework, Whiteface Stadium or conviviality in revived social circles.

Shaking the gypsy dust from ourselves, we are slipping from summer's nomadic paradise into a season which restores our bonds with a real world of responsibility and pleasurable involvement. There is a satisfying commitment brought about by September.

S&S

BEFORE YOU GET caught up in the melodramatic symbolism of the seasons, stay on this stratum for a moment and mark your calendars for two impending events.

The Career Girl Charm Clinic, devised by Mickey McDonald of Amarillo, is scheduled from 7:30-10 p.m. September 15 at Community Center. The cost is only $3 per person and several valuable tips, especially for working women, are expected. It is asked that persons planning to attend pre-register at the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

Also, Garden Beautiful Club is amending its activity schedule slightly and will sponsor its annual Tour of Homes this month rather than later in the year. As usual, proceeds from this project will be used in local beautification work and there's the added plus of getting to view some attractive Hereford residences.

ACCOMPANIED BY her son, Mabel Wagner recently ventured to Englewood Colo. to visit her daughter, Mrs. Leo Meyers and grandchildren, Donald, Theresa and Alan. Mrs. Wagner, Clyde Wagner and the Meyers family all returned to Hereford to visit another son, Lester Wagner. On the route back to Colorado, the Meyers stopped in Amarillo to see relatives. Also making the trip to the mountains with their grandmother were Eddy and Arnold Wagner.

MRS. ADRIAN ASHLEY and daughters, Dana and Julie, of Alexandria, Va., recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Young. While here, she was also reunited with a sister, Mrs. C.E. Leasure, and a brother, Virgil Young of Amarillo.

Mrs. Ashley is the former Mary Ann Young. Her husband is a major stationed in Washington, D.C. where he serves in the U.S. Army.

Luncheon Held By 3-F Women

Mrs. John Heard delivered the devotional Wednesday for members of Fun-Food-Fellowship organization of First United Methodist Church in the church Fellowship Hall.

Prior to the noon meal, Mrs. Henry Wilhelm gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Ross Stark delivered the closing prayer. Betty Olson assisted.

Other members present were Mmes. J.D. Love, E.B. Miles, Ophelia Dotson, William McGehee, M.L. Simpson, Claude Ricketts, E.D. Cox and Mabel Wagner.

Gender Affects Rivalry

Awareness of sibling relationships within a family can improve interaction among its members, a family life education specialist contends.

Roberta Dix further says the sex of children in a family affects how well they get along.

"More jealousy seems to exist in a girl-girl combination than in either a boy-girl or boy-boy combination."

"For one thing, the older girl is likely to resist attempts by the younger sister to give directions.

"Similarly, boys fight more with their brothers than with sister," the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, specialist said.

She also noted that many parents seem willing to permit over-aggression between brothers more readily than between sisters.

"Sometimes parents even initiate and foster rivalry between siblings of the opposite sex—and the first born may get special preference.

"No matter what sex the child is, each individual temperament may need special consideration in the family."

"And parents need consideration too. Understanding the need to make adjustments for all temperaments in the family should help better total family relationships," she added.

Discussion Groups Meet Thursday

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Deaf Smith County Library Heritage Room to organize literary discussion groups. Persons interested in participating are urged to attend.

Mary Louise Loyd, group services director of Amarillo Public Libraries, will be present at the meeting to offer suggestions for discussion topics and format. Gwen London, local librarian, announced that Mrs. Loyd will probably be accompanied by discussion moderators.

Exact subject matter for the discussions will be determined by the participants, who can select books, short stories or other library material.

Possible forum members are invited to register at the library prior to the organization meeting, Mrs. London stated. Approximately 40 have already volunteered and there is no limit for membership.

Another meeting is scheduled Oct. 23 at the library to form a genealogical society. Library resources will also be available to those interested in this field.

Couple At Home After Nuptial Mass

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Reinart, who were wed August 23 in Immaculate Conception Church at Vega, are at home now near Hereford.

The former Mary Schenk, the recent bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Schenk of Wildorado. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.N. Reinart of Frio.

Witnessing the exchange of vows during the twilight nuptial mass was the Rev. Pete De Benedetto of Amarillo.

For the double ring ceremony, the sanctuary was decorated with bouquets of white daisies, yellow carnations, babybreath and greenery, tied with satin bows. Similar arrangements flanked the altar.

Music was provided by Mrs. Don Dolle of Canyon, who accompanied the vocalist, Rick Browder of Amarillo.

For her wedding, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta, which was designed with a fitted empire bodice. Her high Victorian neckline of Venise lace rose above a seamed organza yoke edged in lace. Deep cuffs caught her full bishop sleeves, which were embellished by lace motifs.

The A-line skirt ended in a double ruffle of Venise lace, which swept to back fullness, forming a chapel train. Her veil of bridal illusion was bordered in lace with a separate blusher veil and extended over her train. She wore a Camelot cap of Venise lace adorned with a satin bow. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of yellow carnations, white daisies and babybreath.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Diana Donathan served her sister as matron of honor.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Clara Grotegut of Gruver, the bride's cousin. Other attendants included Ann Schenk, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Elaine Frische, another cousin. Julie Stork, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greg Stork, was flower girl.

Dale Reinart was best man in his brother's wedding. Other groomsmen were David Spinhirne, Randy Welch, the bridegroom's cousin, and Deaf Reinart, brother of the bridegroom. Ushering guests were the bride's brother, Eugene Schenk, and the bridegroom's cousin, Joe Reinart. Carrying the wedding rings was Greg Brozman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brozman.

Assisting at the chancel were the bride's brothers, Roger and Kevin Schenk.

White cloths edged in lace covered serving tables in the parish hall for a reception after the ceremony.

Miss Janice Spinhirne served the four-tiered wedding cake, which centered the main table. Tea and coffee were poured by Misses Joyce Blasingame, Brenda Batenhorst and Monica Brozman. Guests were greeted at the guest registry by Karen Reinart, the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

A 1972 graduate of Hereford High School, Reinart is engaged in farming in this county. He was formerly employed by Coldwater Industries in Dalhart.

Mrs. Reinart is a 1974 graduate of Vega High School. Among the out-of-town guests were:

The Carl Frische family of Dawn, the J.R. Stork, Henry Grotegut, Louis Schenk and Gregory Stork families, all of Gruver; Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Frische and family of Hartley.

Mrs. Paul Schenk Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Garry Syrus and Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Schenk, all of Scotland; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fortin, the Leonard Batenhorst family, the Sylvester Batenhorst family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst, Mr. and Mrs. John Batenhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bradt, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Frimmel and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wieck, all of Umbarger.

From Hereford, Mrs. J.H. Reinart, the Arhart Reinart family, the Elmer Reinart family, the Leander Reinart family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reinart, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reinart, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Stengel and Babette, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schilling, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dillard and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Paetzold.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Meal, Social

About 45 members of the Senior Citizens Organization met Thursday evening in the Community Center for a covered dish dinner. This was one of the largest crowds the new organization has enjoyed.

The Hereford Kiwanis Club donated a large barbecued roast beef prepared by Bob's Barbecue to highlight the menu. Home made pies, cakes, salads, vegetables and relishes completed the menu.

Following the meal, many games including "42", dominos, pinocle, canasta and bridge were played until a late hour.

Lucille G. Guinn, president, said each meeting seems to grow more enjoyable than the last. "We would be delighted to have any one age 55 or over to come and visit our wonderful organization," she said. The organization meets on the second Thursday of each month 7:30 p.m. for a social and on the fourth Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. for a dinner followed by a social.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

If you still have green tomatoes when the first frost arrives—make this relish to serve with vegetables and meats.

Green Tomato Relish

- 1 peck green tomatoes
- 6 green peppers
- 8 sweet red peppers
- 7 large carrots (cook separately)
- 10 onions
- 3 stalks celery
- 2 T mixed pickling spice (tie in cloth bag)
- 5 c vinegar
- 5 c sugar

Cut or grind all vegetables except carrots and soak in salt water brine overnight (Brine: 1/4 cup salt to 1 quart water.) The following morning drain or squeeze out brine, add carrots which have been chopped or coarsely ground when raw, then cooked. Mix vinegar, sugar and spices together, bring to a boil. Add vegetables and cook 10 minutes. Seal while hot in sterilized pint jars.

Miss Karen Ella Rinks will be the bride of Arthur Wayne Polan October 25 in First Baptist Church of Canyon, it has been announced. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Watson Rinks of Albuquerque, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Polan of 119 Kingwood. The bride-elect is employed by Hereford Independent School District and her fiancé is an accountant for Polan Grain and Cattle Corporation. The couple are graduates of West Texas State University.

Bayne-Carroll Vows Exchanged At Dallas

The Rev. James Dorff read marital vows Saturday afternoon in a ceremony uniting Miss Rena Daphne Carroll of Canyon and James Porter Bayne of Hereford in Cox Chapel, Highlands Park Methodist Church, Dallas. Rev. Dorff, pastor, is married to the former Barbara Langley of Hereford.

The bride, who is a recent graduate of West Texas State University, is the daughter of Mrs. Musetta Carroll of Raymondville. The bridegroom, graduate of Hereford High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dudley Bayne of 514 Star.

Large candles and baskets filled with yellow and white chrysanthemums and daisies flanked the altar where vows were voiced.

Mrs. Kenneth Young served her sister as matron of honor while Dudley Bayne Jr. attended his brother as best man.

Also appearing in the bridal procession were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Sally Bayne of Hereford, Miss Kathy Baker of Electra and Mrs. Gene Drummond of Canyon.

Additional groomsmen included Gene Drummond of Canyon, William Radinger of Dallas and the bridegroom's brother, William Bayne of Hereford.

Escorting guests to their seats were Craig Parker of Amarillo, Ben Sargent of Austin and Donnie McDermitt of Hereford.

Nuptial music at the organ was rendered, including "Praise To The Lord," "Dialogue For Trumpet by Vivace," by Handl, "Aria" by Pectevs, "Sonata Number 1" by Mozart, "Wedding March" from Logenren and "Recessional" from Midsummer's Night Dream.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Leroy Carroll. She wore a slipper-length gown of snowflake nylon organza over bridal taffeta, trimmed in daisy and leaf crochet lace. The portrait neckline on her shepherdess bodice swept to a partial collar. Bands of floral lace were scattered over her sheer bishop sleeves, which were caught at the wrists by deep cuffs.

Falling from an empire waistline, the A-line skirt swept into a chapel train. Valenciennes traced her chapel veil, complemented by another elbow-length tier of bridal illusion, both clasped by a wedding ring headpiece of lace.

She carried a bride's bouquet of yellow peace roses and daisies.

Her attendants were clad in empire gowns of white nylon organza with embroidered yellow daisies over yellow peau de sole. Each dress was patterned with brief sleeves. They carried nosegays of yellow and white chrysanthemums and daisies.

Delicate daisies formed from frosting dotted the three-tiered wedding cake, which was served at a reception in the church's Storm Room after the service. Presiding at the refreshment table were Miss Dayna Burnett, Mrs. Dudley Bayne Jr., Mrs. Ben Sargent of Austin and Mrs. William Radinger of Dallas.

The newlywed couple will be at home after a wedding trip to Galveston.

While attending WTSU, Mrs. Bayne was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. Bayne, who also attended WTSU, joined Phi Delta Theta.

Miss Anne Bradford of Denver, Colo. registered wedding guests, who included:

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Langley of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Parker of Canyon; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J. Edwin Brown of Amarillo; Miss Carolyn Langley of Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sargent of Amarillo; Mrs. C.J. Cressley and Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Haynes, all of Baytown; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Well of Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Bradford.

Mrs. Sam Ogan, of Amarillo, has been staying in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jackie Andrews. She is helping care for the new baby, who was born on August 18 in the Hereford hospital. The baby has been named William Hayden. The Andrews also have a daughter, 3 years old, Holly.

Mesdames Richard Price, Gary Hatheway, Owen Andrews, J.E. Warrick, T.L. Sparkman, Jr., Al Johnson, Harvey Manion, Kenneth Frye, Ronnie Andrews, Norman Harder, Joe Shultz, Frank Robbins, John Robinson, Billy Warrick, Weldon Stephan, Carlton Dobbins, D.F. Yandell, Harlan Barber, Olin Parris, Jerry Richardson, Ronnie Hatheway and Miss Alma Andrews.

Visiting the Earnest Harders, on Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Watson and children, of Greeley, Colo. The Watsons are former residents here and were also visiting relatives in Amarillo, Clovis and Grady N.M.

Mrs. Ronnie Andrews is a member of the class of W.T. Nursing Program to receive honors in a capping ceremony on Friday night Sept. 5 in the Activity Center of W.T.S.U. Canyon. She is now a Junior Student working to a B.S. Degree and finally becoming a R.N., after two more years of training and study.

Mrs. Len Conner was honored at a "pink and blue" shower, in the First Baptist Church parlor on Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Tommy Sparkman, H.M. Mobley, Clark Andrews, Earl Harkins and Eugene Baldwin. Green and yellow table covers and refreshment colors were used for decorations. Others attending included

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Richardson, of Plum Branch, A.C. have been visiting their son, Jerry, and family for several days. They brought their daughter, Brenda, to begin her work as a freshman at W.T.S.U. The Richardsons have also visited Jerry's "in-laws" the T.L. Sparkman, Jr family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary, Sunday.

Their sons, Gerald J.D. and Norman and his wife, Sherry, honored the Harders with dinner out in a restaurant. J.D. is from Dalhart and works at "Winrock Farms" near Texline as a supervisor. The others live here. The Norman Harders will be moving in a few days as they are building a new home on Cherokee, Street. The home they now occupy, also on Cherokee, will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hill, who have lived most recently in Friona. The Harders sold to the Hills and plan to stay with his parents until their home is ready to move into.

Original Compositions Sung During Wedding

Songs written especially for the occasion were heard Saturday afternoon in St. Bonaventure Mission in Thoreau, N.M. for the marriage of Miss Ruth Koelzer to Thomas Quisenberry of Gallup, N.M.

The bride, a secondary English teacher in the Navajo Indian Reservation at Thoreau, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Koelzer of 611 Knight, who are observing the anniversary of their wedding this week. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Quisenberry, who resided at Buffalo, Mo.

Red and white carnations adorned the altar in the small mission and red streamers marked pews where the couple's relatives were seated.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fanning attended the bride and groom.

Barry Bordejon accompanied himself on the guitar while he sang selections which he composed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of imported organza fashioned with an empire bodice of Chantilly lace. A small satin bow centered on a lace band emphasized the high waistline. Lace trimmed her cameo neckline and long camelot sleeves.

The hemline of the A-line skirt was denoted by Valenciennes, which also bordered her chapel veil of bridal illusion, attached to a looped halo bow.

As an heirloom piece, the bride wore a gold cross necklace which belonged to her paternal great-grandmother. She carried red carnations.

A carpet-length dress of red dotted Swiss was worn by the matron attendant. Lace embellished the neckline, sleeves and center front of the gown.

A three-tiered cake accented with red carnations was offered at the wedding reception in the mission. A bouquet of red carnations centered the serving table, which was draped by a long satin cloth edged by red satin ribbon.

Mrs. Harolwyn Wilson and Mrs. Rozane Blackburn served cake while Miss Mary Tompkins poured coffee.

For a honeymoon trip to Albuquerque, N.M., Mrs. Quisenberry wore a long-sleeved navy blue dress styled with a basque bodice which was accented with red. The couple will reside at Thoreau.

In addition to teaching on the Navajo Reservation, the recent bride taught for one year on the Zuni Indian Reservation. Her husband is currently employed by FUHS Automotive Center at Gallup.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Stengel, Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Koelzer, Mrs. Tolbert Painter, and Mrs. and Mrs. McRight, all of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Williams of Goldsmith.

Marriage Solemnized In Church Courtyard

White pedestals supporting floral bouquets flanked the kneeling bench in Tallwood Baptist Church courtyard Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Myra Helen Bonenberger and Russell David Phillips, both of Houston. Dr. Lester E. Collins Jr., pastor, performed the outdoor ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bonenberger of Stillwater, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Phillips of 108 Ave. I.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Bob Curry and William Wayne Phillips, the bridegroom's brother.

Serving as ushers were the bride's brother, Bob Bonenberger of Stillwater, Marsh Pitman of Hereford and Wade Seidel of Houston.

"I Give To You" and "It Seems I've Always Loved You" were vocalized by Bob Curry while Dr. Don Looser provided musical accompaniment.

Designed with a high-rise silhouette, the bride's gown was made of candlelight voile. Tracing the fitted bodice front and inset comberbund were bands of white embroidery, which formed a V-neckline and encircled the midriff. The dress was fashioned with brief, circular capelet sleeves.

Her slightly gathered skirt fell to a deep Victorian flounce at the hemline. Complementing her ensemble was a wide-brimmed hat garnished with Venise lace and bridal illusion, which fell to fingertip length.

Her white bouquet included baby carnations, white roses, fleur d'amour, babybreath and stephanotis.

For jewelry, she chose an antique diamond cameo pendant from Italy.

The single bridal attendant wore an empire-waisted dress of powder blue fabric trimmed in lace. The floor-length gown was designed with square neckline and camelot sleeves. She carried a rounded bouquet of white baby carnations, stock blooms, white roses, white Jack straw pompons, babybreath and pale blue fleur d'amour.

The wedding party received guests after the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall West. Miss Sue Lollar and Mrs. Jerry Speer offered cake while Mrs. David Stedman ladled punch. Assorted white flowers mixed with baby blue carnations and babybreath formed the centerpiece, which was flanked by lighted tapers.

For her wedding trip to Nasa, Mrs. Phillips wore a three-piece suit. The couple will be at home after September 3 at 7575 Bissonnet, Apartment No. 279, Houston.

The recent bride has been employed by Sears, Roebuck and Co. for five years and is now division manager of the Junior Bazaar at Houston. She graduated from C.E. Donart High School and attended Oklahoma State University, both at Stillwater.

A graduate of Hereford High School, Phillips earned a bachelor's degree of business administration in accounting from Texas A&M University. He is now employed as a certified public accountant by Arthur Anderson and Company, Houston.

Feminine tones of pink and green decorated cake squares which were served Thursday afternoon in the Willis Duggan home during a bridal shower honoring Miss Terry Hamilton of Dimmitt.

The honoree will wed Steve Robison, a local resident, September 6 in First Baptist Church, Dimmitt.

Wearing a corsage of her chosen colors, Miss Hamilton greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Freddie Hamilton of Dimmitt, her fiance's mother, Mrs. Jimmie Robison of Hereford, and Mrs. Duggan.

Kathy Seale served refreshments from a table centered with an arrangement of white tapers, pink roses, pink asters, crepe myrtle and greenery. Guests were registered by the prospective bridegroom's sister, Miss Brenda Robison.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Duggan were Mmes. J.T. Tice, Carl Alford, Jim West, Kenneth Artho, Kenneth DeHart, Roy Blevins, Bobby Owen, E.O. Baird, Roy Carter, A.W. Self and H.E. Owens.

Poultry Prices Edge Into Bargain Bracket

Poultry products edged into the "bargain" spotlight at supermarkets this week with fryer chickens wearing "reasonable price tags, while chicken hens and turkeys represent good values," one marketing specialist said.

"Also, turkey rolls and roasts in foil pans are gaining favor as convenience items," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, added.

Of beef buys, "Chuck cuts are good choices, and boneless rolled roasts, excellent for rotisserie cooking, are featured in some markets," she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

At fruit counters, cantaloupe and watermelon are in good supply at moderate prices, along with a wide variety of soft fruits—white seedless grapes, nectarines, peaches, bananas, prunes, and several plum varieties, the specialist reported.

"Also, new-crop apples are a bit more plentiful.

In vegetable sections, "fresh corn has moderate prices and good quality. Other good vegetable choices are okra, cabbage, carrots, cucumbers, tomatoes, yellow and zucchini squash."

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: No single test will assure that a cantaloupe is ripe and delicious—only a combination of several tests.

—There should be no stem—only a smooth symmetrical, shallow basin.

—Netting, or veining, should be thick, coarse and corky, standing out in bold relief over some parts of the surface.

—The melon should have a heavy, sweet "must-like" aroma.

Joyce's Journal

By Joyce Shipp
County Extension Agent

Group action is a distinct characteristic of a democratic society. Most people belong to numerous groups. In some we study, in others we work and in others we play and enjoy a wide range of social relationships. Often, our most rewarding experiences come when we work with other people to achieve some common goal. Progress in the community and other institutions in our society is dependent upon organized effort. In fact, survival itself depends upon our cooperation with other people.

Successful group effort, in a large measure, is dependent upon the effectiveness of the leadership that is a part of the group. So, as a practical matter, leadership is important to everyone.

What is meant by the term

"leadership"? Individuals form different ideas about the nature of leadership. Sociologists agree that there are three general patterns of leader behavior: authoritarian, laissez-faire, and democratic. Where authority of position is involved, a leader can use this authority to control and direct his group with little regard for the will or desires of members. Perhaps this type of leadership has its place in certain situations, such as military organizations. However, with informal, voluntary groups, this kind of leadership is inappropriate.

Laissez-faire leadership allows the group to run its course without direction or assistance. In this situation, both leaders and followers, may deny the responsibilities which are theirs. Too often, cooperation decreases, conflicts arise and the group tends to lose its purpose, to fall in its action, to disintegrate, and consequently, to look for a strong leader to pull it out of its difficulties. Laissez-faire leadership is inappropriate for most volunteer groups.

Democratic leader behavior, most authorities agree, is an appropriate pattern for most voluntary organizations. Democratic leadership is consistent with overall cultural pattern of democracy. Experience has demonstrated that it works. In democratic relationships, a leader has full opportunity to carry out the functions of leadership and members have opportunities for full participation. Such a situation provides rich learning experience for democratic citizenship. Finally, the group is more likely to reach its goals.

Some authors feel that leadership can be viewed best as a set of qualities or traits possessed by the leader; others feel that leadership represents a set of functions that must be performed for and with the group; others insist that leadership is a function and a product of the situation.

Behaviors that help a person to be a leader in one situation may not work equally well in others. The fact that a leader exhibits a certain behavior in one group does not guarantee he will or can do so in others. Leadership shifts from situation to situation.

The effectiveness of leader behavior is measured in terms of mutuality of goals, productivity in the achievement of these goals and maintenance of group solidarity.

Research indicates that in the democratic pattern of leadership, is important to (a) increase group interaction and cooperative planning and (b) create a favorable climate for the growth of individuals and the emergence of potential leaders. These results are achieved through the active participation of all group members as democratic leaders regularly share their authority and responsibilities.

Personal qualities or traits do not make a leader, but the possession of certain ones enable an individual to be a more effective leader because he thus is able to engage in cooperative activities with others. Some of the personal qualities or traits that often are identified with effective leaders are: sincerity, courage, optimism, dependability, loyalty, judgement, modesty and confidence, idealism and practicality, drive and accomplishment, adaptability, humor, initiative, foresight, patience with honest effort, sympathy for the other man's difficulties, respect for the personalities of others, sense of fair play and spiritual insight.

Most people have some of these qualifications in varying degrees. As one participates as a group member and assists with the leadership functions of the group, these qualities will be awakened or further developed, thus equipping him for more productive service.

Earth Colors Featured for Fall

Hereford Country Club was the setting for a fall style show and buffet luncheon Wednesday. Theme of the show was "A Day With a Gadabout" and was presented by The Vogue. About 160 members and their guests attended the event.

Mrs. Richard Ottosen, one of the new owners of The Vogue, described the fall fashions modeled by 14 women. The show began with attire for the early morning and concluded with the modeling of a pajama set of leopard print and a dreamy gown. Pant suits, dresses and hemlines below the knee and long dresses were featured in an array of earth colors with black stressed for evening wear.

Dining tables were laid with bright yellow cloths and were decorated with miniature potted plants, which were plate favors. Fall flowers and leaves decorated the serving tables.

The event happened to fall on the birthday of Mrs. L.W. Combs and she was surprised with a gift and the group sang "Happy Birthday" to her.

Comings And Goings At King's Manor

By FAY GAUGGEL

Mrs. Don Davidson and Fay Gauggel have as guests this week the Robert Kennedy family of Due West, S.C. Mrs. Kennedy is the former Thelma Davidson, sister of Don Davidson. Her husband Robert is former Dean of Men and professor of chemistry at Erskine Presbyterian College in Due West.

Mrs. Don Davidson spent three days in the home of her daughter and family in Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Sumrow from Seminole visited their parents over the weekend, also Jobe and Donna Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Sumrow, Shad and Shane of Amarillo visited the D.E. Sumrows last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Sumrow are visiting in Celeste, attending the homecoming celebration. Also, Mrs. Sumrow is going to Dallas to have an eye check-up.

OPEN HOUSE

Our Manorites, Roxie Travis and Mrs. Ruby Jennings, both of 420 Sunset, gave an open house reception to KM residents Aug. 21 from 3-5 p.m. The two are comfortably settled in their new, well-appointed home.

Mrs. Cora Belle Jennings and Mrs. Pat Nichols helped serve refreshments while Miss Belinda Nichols furnished piano music. All three were from Muleshoe. Mrs. Jennings, hostess, helped at the piano also.

As each guest registered, she wrote the number of beans guessed to be contained in a certain jar. Mrs. Martha Shirkey gave the closest estimate and received a prize.

Favors were Bicentennial stickers for envelopes. Refreshments included punch, coffee, fruit balls, cookies, nuts, mints and sandwiches.

Conversation was easy and lively. Forty-seven guests registered.

NARRATED SLIDES

On Wednesday evening at the Manor, our interim pastor, the Rev. Roger Knapp of the Presbyterian Church, brought us a lecture on slides made when he traveled to Africa for a conference of Presbyterian ministers assembled in Nairobi, Kenya. They also were in Uganda and Tanzania, probably the three most interesting countries in Africa. He and his five companions traveled by Land Rover. Having no American embassy in Uganda, they were required to report to the Uganda government every six hours.

Some of the terrain over which they traveled resembles that of New Mexico. Communist strong holds exist in both Tanzania and Uganda where a semi-socialistic life prevails. We saw the following animals unfamiliar to our region: zebra, lions, ostriches, gazelles, giraffes, hyenas, water buffalo and rhino. The rhino are the most fierce and dangerous to travelers.

Food was a problem. Natives eat mainly milk mixed with animal blood and meat. They prepare bananas in many ways as we do potatoes. They even make an insipid beer from bananas and water.

The blood-milk mixture is most repulsive. To the natives, the blood is life, reminding us of the blood concept in our own faith. Drinking water seemed to be risky business, anywhere. Once the speaker and four friends shared a warm cherry cola and were pleased to pay $1 for it--no ice ever.

Living quarters also posed a problem. As in so many places everywhere, one sees plush, affluent housing and nearby, the most abject poverty. In some areas, the slums are torn away every three months.

Some tribes are purely nomadic. They follow the lure of grass and oasis where animals can feed. All three provinces are rife with lively colors. Bougainvillea seem prevalent.

The natives dress as well in vivid color. It seemed Rev. Knapp's group spent the most time in Nairobi. It was the place with more seminaries and other spots of learning as well as sanctuaries.

There is almost no mechanized farming in Africa but many groups and forces are pulling for such. We were shown a number of highly trained leaders who bid fair to improve conditions. Mr. Knapp was impressed with the extreme youth of these promising young men.

A striking scene was groups of 300,000 African Israelites (Nivevah) peoples. (They probably claim to be children of the covenant.) Mr. Knapp's high point of the entire trip was an opportunity to speak to some of these and he was aided by an interpreter in Swahili. He thrilled even to relay the experience to us. He must have been inspired.

Ready for Fall

Modeling a casual two-piece dress in the style show presented at Hereford Country Club Wednesday is Mrs. Ernest D. Flood. The mock wrap rayon skirt features mirrored stripes and is parsley and wine. The parsley nylon knit top is accented with a matching striped scarf. Fashions were from The Vogue.

Church To Send Bus To Lubbock Crusade

Summerfield Baptist Church has engaged a bus to take interested persons to the West Texas Billy Graham Crusade at Jones Stadium in Lubbock Thursday. Departure time is 5 p.m.

Designated as special youth night, the September 4th assembly will feature a Christian testimonial by Steve Davis, All-American quarterback for the University of Oklahoma. A special invitation is extended to local youth.

The summer crusade will be held nightly in Jones Stadium at 8 p.m., beginning tonight and ending September 7.

Dr. Graham, who visited Lubbock in May to emphasize planning for the crusade, said it would be aimed primarily at youth and students.

Each crusade service will involve a choir of 2,500 voices, 800 ushers, 1,500 counselors for inquirers plus a core labor group of more than 200 persons.

For more information concerning the local delegation, contact Dixie Porter, 357-2343 or Susie Harris, 357-2300.

GARDENING: Who comprehends it? From whom can be secured all the answers regarding the miracles wrought? And who can keep up with all the needs, and who have time enough to drink in the beauty created thereby...as well as the tasty foods grown in the good earth?

These late summer days, with a cool reminder that fall is not far away, are busy times for gardeners and all the many kinds of insects which have shown up this season.

Preparing soil for replanting vegetables (time for greens to be planted) also late flowers. Zinnias will give some bright colors for fall days. All these things run through the gardeners' work program like a hustling refrain.

It is necessary that a continuous spray program be carried out, as the first spraying will not get all of the fuzzy worms, aphids, grasshoppers etc. All of these will still be attacking the foliage and some will ruin open flowers. (Some of my choice gladioli were damaged.)

It is a very opportune time to do some spading and preparing the soil for the spring flowering bulbs which will be planting soon. Any extra time from the immediate chores could well be used for this chore. Spade deeply, add humus and plant food (suitable for bulbs, I use bonemeal) and have the soil ready for those good bulbs, as well as the small flowering bulbs. Be sure and add some of these to your list.

The following are some of the small bulbs which do well here: crocus (a full planting of crocus yellow or crocus snowstorm makes a striking beauty spot); anemones are colorful and really catch the eye with their spring colors; grape hyacinths, the dark blue or purple are excellent border planting material. Allium-Ostrowskianum, allium moly and fritillaria are interesting and pretty plants for the rock garden or used around the fountain. I have planted these for two years and have been delighted with the beauty and form of the flowers.

This is an excellent time to take stock for the garden, both the flower and vegetables. Check all of the various things you have planted and grown. Check for growth, production and adaptation to soil and weather conditions. All plants which we grow should earn their space in the garden. Those which have not should be replaced by those that will yield and create beauty.

Rotation should also be practiced in gardening. Do not plant beans, peppers, etc. in the same ground each year, but change about. This is also true of the annual flowers. I have learned that dahlias and gladioli both do much better if rotated and tried in new locations.

Also, it is good that we use some of the ground which has not been previously used for gardening. If there is water available for spaces in the alley, vegetables can be grown there (my friends H. Ford and N. McLight both have utilized their alleys). Also, beauty spots can be created through broadcasting seed in the fall such as larkspur and cornflowers. Anywhere weeds grow and mature, vegetables, flowers, trees and shrubs can also be grown if given proper maintenance.

Check ground covers for weeds. They can choke out the ground cover plants, especially if they are not well developed. Some of this will have to be done by hand, because it is not wise to use hoe on some of the trailing types and the more tender ones. The growth pattern such as oxalis, cannot be freed of these enemies by hand.

A well recommended herbicide should be used to control weeds for these.

Watch your plants and if you find those which show sudden wilt, pull (root and all) and destroy. After doing this, be sure and wash your hands carefully with soap and water. If you have on gloves these should be removed before other plants are touched. Diseases can be transmitted if care and cleanliness are not practiced.

Roses not responding too well these hot days? They are like people—they need good fresh air which circulates around them. Also look for bad drainage after watering the rose bushes. Roses do not like "cold feet," so they should have a good drainage. Do not let water stand too long. Tight soil does not drain well, so it is therefore important that the soil be correctly prepared before roses are planted.

Also, in planning walls, fences, etc., they will cut off air circulation, along with keeping out noise. Choose the best location for the roses, other flowers and shrubs. Like people they must have good atmosphere and growing conditions.

GARDENERS should keep in mind that we are in big business. Horticultural crops produced in this country represent a value annually of 7 1/2 billion dollars—exceeded in all agriculture only by the production of beef. This was reported by T.W. Edminister, administrator of the Agriculture Research Service. Another interesting figure from U.S. Agriculture reports is that agriculture consumes about 100 gallons of gasoline to feed one person for one year; this is from a recent report.

Athens, Georgia, the birthplace of the first garden club in America, has been selected as an official "Green Survival City." It is the second city in the country to be thus honored in the current Bicentennial project. The American Association of Nurserymen sponsored the project. Last year, Raleigh, N.C., was designated the winner.

With little fanfare, the increase in gardening has been far reaching. Perhaps more people have been involved in some kind of planting and producing than at any time in many, many years. In surveying grounds around our home town, this seems to be true.

YUCCA HILLS NORTH

PROBLEM: I want a Country Home, BUT I want to be sure it will be sound long term investment, and that my neighbors can't "JUNK IT UP." My family likes paved roads, and lots of room, handy to town. I need good telephone service and cheap dependable utilities, and I need all of this at a modest price with good long-term financing. And - yes, my family wants to have animals - even a horse or so! See my Problem?

SOLUTION: Yucca has sensible restrictions, Horses and animals are allowed, and you can buy the acreage you need. A paved winding main thoroughfare, lined with city quality utilities solve the Electricity, Gas & Water problem. You may be surprised to learn that the minimum living area for some lots is only 1800 sq. ft. Lot prices start at only $3000 and terms can be arranged. Best of all you can build and finance a brand new home, just like one in town, and have a low down payment. Now doesn't Yucca Hills make a lot of sense?

College Scholarships Available For Seniors

College scholarships from $500 to $5,000 are available to all high school seniors through the Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, now under way in its 22nd year. Invitations to enroll in the program have been mailed to high schools across the nation. Schools new to the program may write the Betty Crocker Search, P.O. Box 1113, Minneapolis, Minn. 55440, for information.

Enrollment deadline is October 31, 1975.

On Tuesday, Dec. 2, each participating school will administer a 50-minute written examination. Prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, this general knowledge and attitude examination is the first important step of the scholarship program.

From the examination results a Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow will be chosen for each participating school. School winners are acknowledged with special awards and their examinations are entered in state competition.

Each State Family Leader of Tomorrow receives a $1,500 college scholarship while every state second-place winner receives a $500 grant. State winners also earn for their school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. State winners, each accompanied by a faculty advisor, will be the guests of General Mills next spring on an expense-paid tour of Washington, D.C.

Joke: "Now, this is just between you and me."

PUBLIC NOTICE BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS Sealed bids addressed to the City of Hereford, Texas will be received at the City Hall until 2:00 PM, September 15, 1975, and then publicly opened and read for furnishing all plant, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for water and sewer lines and appurtenances.

Bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes upon the blank form of the proposal attached hereto and marked in the upper left hand corner.

All proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check or certified check upon a national or state bank in the amount of five per cent of the total maximum bid price payable without recourse to the City or a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond within ten days after notice of award of contract to him.

The bid security must be enclosed in the same envelope with the bid. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish performance and payment bonds upon the forms which are attached hereto in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality in bids received.

Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the office of the City Manager or at the office of Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc., 6300 Canyon Dr., Amarillo, Texas 79109, on deposit of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per set which sum so deposited will be refunded, provided: (1) All documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc. not later than 48 hours prior to the time for receiving bids; or (2) The Contractor submits a bid and all documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc. not later than five days after the time that bids are received.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS HAVING CLAIMS AGAINST THE ESTATE OF GEORGE V. STAMBAUGH, DECEASED NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT original Letters Testamentary upon the Estate of George V. Stambaugh, Deceased, were issued to me, the undersigned, on the 25th day of August, 1975, in the proceeding indicated below my signature hereto, which is still pending, and that I now hold such Letters. All persons having claims against said estate, which is being administered in the County of Deaf Smith, are hereby required to present the same to me respectively, at the address below given, before suit upon same are barred by the general statutes of limitation, before such estate is closed, and within the time prescribed by law.

My address is 207 Sunset Drive, Hereford, Texas 79045. DATED this 26th day of August, 1975.

Mabel L. Stambaugh, Independent Executrix of the Estate of George V. Stambaugh, Deceased, No. 2566, in the County Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas; S-70-1c

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO: JOHN CLEMENT, JAMES FRANCIS CLEMENT, KIMBALL ERSKINE CLEMENT HULL and JOHN F. BARRY, Trustee of the Testamentary Trust of Mary Louisa Adams Clement, Deceased Defendants. Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 69th Judicial District Court of Deaf Smith County at the Court House thereof, in Hereford, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 13th day of October A.D. 1975, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 31st day of January A.D. 1975, in this cause, numbered DC-7332 on the docket of said court and styled MARGARET SCHROETER, ET AL Plaintiffs, vs. JOHN CLEMENT, ET AL Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: Plaintiff's sue for title to and possession of All of Block 86 and all of Block 90 of Whitehead Addition to the Town of Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, alleging that they have title to the said land and improvements thereon under the three-, five-, ten- and twenty-five-year Statutes of Limitation, and Plaintiff's pray that all of the right, title and interest of the Defendants, and each of them, be divested out of them and invested in Plaintiff's, and that the cloud cast upon Plaintiff's title by the Defendants, and each of them, be removed; as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Hereford Texas this 27 day of August A.D. 1975.

Attest: Lola Faye Veazly Clerk, District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas By Ruth Lueb Deputy. S-70-4c

When you have selected your contractor, have him draw up a contract or written agreement spelling out in complete detail all of the above—plus a provision requiring your written approval for any changes in the plans or specifications. Make sure the contractor's name, address, and telephone number are in the contract, and remember to get his signature.

Keep two other things in mind: Most home improvement contractors ask for payment when the job is completed according to the contract, or in large jobs, in installments as parts of the job are satisfactorily completed, so never sign a contract calling for large payments before work is begun. Also remember that any guarantee that isn't in writing may be worthless, so always check the contract to see that all promises are spelled out in detail.

And if you have a consumer problem about deceptive or misleading practices in a home improvement job, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

In the 46th Psalm of the King James Bible the name Shakespeare is thought by some to be concealed. This version of the Bible was authorized in 1604 but was not completed until 1611. The year before the King James was published, Shakespeare was 46 years old. Some students believe he aided in the translation of this Psalm the year before publication.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill Attorney General

AUSTIN—Recent summer storms in many parts of Texas caused considerable damage to roofs from wind, rain, and hail. Many consumers discovered that they needed to put on a new roof or patch up the old one as a result of the bad weather.

And now, a few weeks later, our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division reports an upsurge in the number of consumer complaints received about some roofing contractors.

Many of the complaints concern shoddy workmanship, unfinished jobs, unmet schedules—even contractors who have vanished with advance payments before beginning the job. These are the same types of complaints we receive about other deceptive home improvement contractors, too.

And, while our Consumer Protection staff works to see that all such complaints are resolved, we have found that the best solution for many consumers' home improvement problems is to know in advance how to avoid them.

Even though there are different types of deceptive practices in the home improvement field, our suggestions for avoiding them are quite similar. The main thing is to choose a reputable, experienced individual or firm to handle the job, someone with a good local reputation.

An itinerant contractor may "fly by night" with your money, or leave you with a half-finished job. So always ask the contractor for names of people he's worked for, then check with them to find out if they were happy with his work.

Always talk with at least three contractors about the job you are considering. Tell each one exactly what you want done, then ask for written estimates for the job.

Be sure each estimate contains a full description of the work, specifications about types and grades of materials, starting and completion dates, total cost, guarantees on work or materials, and what method of payment is required (lump sum on completion, periodic payments, or other).

Avoid dealing with a contractor who has submitted an estimate without ever coming to your home to see what's needed, one who won't give you a written estimate on the job, or one who tries to rush you into an immediate decision.

When you have selected your contractor, have him draw up a contract or written agreement spelling out in complete detail all of the above—plus a provision requiring your written approval for any changes in the plans or specifications. Make sure the contractor's name, address, and telephone number are in the contract, and remember to get his signature.

Keep two other things in mind: Most home improvement contractors ask for payment when the job is completed according to the contract, or in large jobs, in installments as parts of the job are satisfactorily completed, so never sign a contract calling for large payments before work is begun. Also remember that any guarantee that isn't in writing may be worthless, so always check the contract to see that all promises are spelled out in detail.

And if you have a consumer problem about deceptive or misleading practices in a home improvement job, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.
