

Metcalf Streamlines Court Procedure

District Judge Covers A Large Area

Here Comes
The Judge

District Judge Mike Metcalf sits on an old roll-top desk he uses outside the district courtroom on the third floor of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse. In an office hidden in a corner on the third floor of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse, a judge with determined concentration pours over documents in cases pending before him one afternoon. Before he enters the 69th Judicial State District courtroom, he must acquaint himself with the facts in both a murder and robbery trial scheduled on the court docket for the next two weeks.

He is already tired from his 12 to 14 hour work days in the preceding week and from his continual 90-mile drives to and from the courthouse. His home is in Dumas, but his six-county judicial district, one of the largest geographical districts in the state, forces him to use time wisely as he spends much time on the road to try cases.

After updating himself, he confers with the prosecutor and defending attorney, dons his black robe and enters the sparsely filled courtroom. Even though a murder trial commences, the interest is low key for those in the gallery but not for this judge.

"ALL RISE," SAYS the bailiff for the entrance of District Judge Mike Metcalf, one of the state's youngest at 36-years-old.

Everyone is seated and the real life legal process is again at work.

This is the basic routine of the judge as he prepares each day for a case load. Metcalf told The Brand in an interview this month. It's not quite as exciting as the television series, "Petrocelli," but it provides the drama that is not always visible—the battle within a judge's mind as he seeks to arrive at fair and judicious decisions.

"It's not like on television. That's theatrical," Metcalf said with a cracked smile while he relaxed in the recliner in his small temporary office located behind the courtroom.

He has been the district judge for only a year, but Metcalf said that even the strain of his particular district could not dampen his enjoyment for his job. He was appointed by Governor Dolph Briscoe to the unexpired term of the late Judge Archie McDonald in April of 1975. Before that, he served as district attorney in Dumas since 1971.

THE ARTICULATE JUDGE moved back to the Panhandle in 1970 to practice law following a four-year Army career. He grew up in Dalhart.

While in the service, he was a member of the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) for which he served as judge advocate. He reached the rank of

Extended Waterfowl Season Sought P&WD Hearing Set Monday

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department will conduct a public hearing Monday at 10 a.m. at the county courthouse that will present local landowners and sportsmen with the opportunity to comment on proposed hunting, fishing and trapping regulations for Deaf Smith County for 1976-77.

WITH WATERFOWL depredation of crops often a problem following the closing of waterfowl season locally, farmers and sportsmen are being encouraged to attend the hearings and speak out on behalf of an extension of the season on ducks and geese.

According to Chuck Cosper of Hereford, state game warden, "the goose season always opens here sometime in mid-October and closes in mid-January. The season opens long before there are sufficient numbers of geese present for local hunters to harvest, and when the geese have just arrived in heavy concentrations in January, the season ends and hunters are deprived of what should be their peak hunting period."

The warden explained that during the waterfowl season, the huge numbers of ducks and geese that make this area of the Panhandle their wintering grounds are kept "pretty well scattered" and depredation problems do not become serious.

"So long as the season is open, the hunters keep the birds moving and they feed in a lot of fields, rather than concentrating on one, but when the birds are here in large numbers and the season closes, they will concentrate on individual fields that bear the brunt of the damage," said Cosper.

A SURVEY TAKEN in January, shortly after the close of waterfowl season disclosed an estimated population of 150,000 geese in the area and a large duck population.

Cosper believes that a slight alteration in opening and closing dates for the waterfowl season could do much to eliminate the depredation problem and benefit local hunters as well. He is encouraging local landowners and sportsmen to speak out for a season dating from Oct. 30 through January 30.

Cosper pointed out that waterfowl seasons are under federal regulations, and testimony at a hearing such as the one to be held Monday will probably not bring about an immediate extension of the waterfowl season here.

"The state follows federal guidelines in setting up seasons on migratory birds, and we can't expect immediate response

Chamber Fun Breakfast Planned Tuesday At High School Cafeteria

Come one, come all is the chant for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce "Fun Breakfast" planned at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Hereford High School cafeteria. It means setting the alarms early but the fun is usually worth the lack of sleep.

The fun breakfasts were started to increase attendance at chamber membership meetings.

Tuesday's affair is sponsored by First Realty of the Southwest.

Games and prizes are again the featured attractions as all chamber members are qualified for a $200 cash drawing and all in attendance are eligible for separate $25 and $75 cash drawings. No one won the membership drawing last time, so it was automatically increased by $50 as it will be again if the person whose name is drawn is not present.

Entertainment will be provided by Susie McGee with her piano and a violin duet by Delphine Ulibarri, Miss Hereford, and Michelle Moore, Miss Teen Hereford. A band to play for the event is being arranged.

Also, games are planned for the lucky few chosen. They ought to have a good sense of humor as a bit of laughter is usually generated.

A highlight of the early meal is the presentation of the Hereford Bull Chip Award by O.G. (Speedy) Nieman, Brand publisher. It goes to one fortunate person who has contributed to worthwhile civic activities within the city. It is the counterpart of the Hereford Bull Award, presented to out-of-town visitors of noteworthy accomplishments.

Reservations for the breakfast are requested no later than noon Monday at the C of C office on Main Street. Members are encouraged to attend and to bring guests.

Scout Circus To Begin Friday At Bull Barn

Tierra Blanca District of the Llano Estacado Council, Boy Scouts of America will hold a Scout Circus in the Bull Barn on Friday, March 26 at 7 p.m.

The circus theme is "Heritage '76." The circus program will feature games, skill demonstrations, contests, skits, and pageantry.

The performers will be Cub Scouts, Scouts, and Explorers from the Hereford area.

Cub Scout Units planning to participate include: Pack 50 Hereford Lions Club, Pack 51-Hereford Jaycees, Pack 53-Bluebonnet School, Pack 54-St. Anthony's Church, Pack 151-First Christian Church, and Pack 155-Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Scout troops include: Troop 50-Hereford Lions Club, Troop 51-Hereford Whiteface Kiwanis Club, Troop 52-First Methodist Church, Troop 55-Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Troop 150-Hereford Kiwanis Club, Troop 151-First Christian Church, Troop 154-Wesley Methodist Church.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts are selling circus tickets for $1 to earn money for the units plus a chance for each boy to earn prizes. The Grand Prize for the most tickets sold by a Cub Scout will be an official Cub Scout bicycle donated by Western Auto.

Tickets will also be sold at the door. Any registered scout, adult leader, or child under eight-years-old gets in free.

Voters Show Low Interest For Absentee Balloting

So far, absentee voting for the school and city elections indicates a dramatic change from last year's voting. This year, the voter interest is far below than this time last year.

As of Tuesday afternoon only six persons had voted in both the school and city races. The total last year at this time was 19 persons, five in the city race and 14 in the school race.

This year, one person has absentee voted for city candidates and five persons for school candidates, according to the city clerk and a spokesman for the school tax office.

Naturally, the number of contested races has influenced the voting with only two local contested races as opposed to four contested races last year. This year only one city and school race each are contested.

A list of the candidates is posted in the bordered box on this page.

Voters have until office closing times on Tuesday, March 30, to cast absentee votes. The school voting is being conducted at the tax assessor-collectors office at 321 Sampson Street across from the courthouse and the city voting is being held at the city clerk's office at city hall at 239 North Miles. Both offices are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Both offices predicted a low voter turnout compared with last year which reached record levels. Also contributing to last year's interest was the volume of candidates with eight in the school race and four in the city race. Four candidates are running for the school board this year and three are running for the City Commission.

The election is scheduled for Saturday April 3 at the Hereford Community Center.

Cancer Drive Has $13,250 Goal

The Deaf Smith County Cancer Drive is now in full swing according to Crusade Chairman Mrs. Dennis Lomas.

This year's goal is $13,250.00 and several different means will be used to attain this amount.

Mrs. Alma Scott is in charge of memorials which will be handled through the 1st National Bank. Anyone wishing to make a donation in memory of a family member or friend should get in contact with her.

Mrs. Alex Schroeter and Mrs. Elmore

Rains are in charge of a door to door canvass of the residential areas of Hereford which will take place on April 5th. Everyone is encouraged to have this date marked on their calendar and their money ready when the volunteer knocks on their door.

Mrs. Virgil Marsh is in charge of the special area of the drive and Jerry Coker is in charge of the special events which will probably be a bikeathon sometime in May.

Mrs. Jan Perrin is in charge of the drive to collect donations in the rural areas of Deaf Smith County.

Anyone in these areas unable to get out can call her at 289-5876 and she will come by and pick up the money.

Jake Webb is President of the local Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The Public is challenged to make their donations as liberal as possible and to get them in as soon as possible.

Checks may be mailed to the American Cancer Society, Box 1835, Hereford Tex. 79045.

Blood Bank Is Wednesday

Representatives from the Coffee Memorial Blood Center in Amarillo will be in Hereford Wednesday for the monthly blood bank.

Donations may be designated for Nina Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle, who is at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, or for Floyd Dunavant, who was recently released from Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Chamber Directors Hear Membership Report

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors heard an update on membership increases recently, reviewed plans for the Fun Breakfast Tuesday, approved the building of a storage building, and considered advertising for the Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girl Rodeo during a regular monthly meeting Thursday morning at the Chamber office.

on a matter such as this, but there's no harm in making our feelings known and getting some people thinking along the same lines," Cosper commented.

"THIS IS ONE OF the finest waterfowl hunting areas in the nation, and even if it takes some time to bring about changes, it would be well worth the effort required in order to allow sportsmen a better opportunity to take advantage of this important area resource, and benefit the landowners," he added.

Testimony from county hearings throughout the state will be recorded and forwarded to the Parks & Wildlife Commission for consideration in setting up the upcoming fall and winter hunting seasons.

captain, served two and a half years in Taiwan and was stationed for the rest of his tour at Ft. Hood, Texas.

A 1966 Graduate of the University of Houston Law School, Metcalf's most challenging and trying experiences on the bench have been connected with child welfare and abuse cases. "It's awesome where children are involved," he said. "You're dealing with a human life and you may determine what happens to them for the rest of their life."

"It's different than being a DA because you're the man in the middle and not an advocate," he noted.

Even though the robbery and murder cases were described as important, the judge said with a pained expression that "the hardest thing I've had to do as a judge is to take a child away from his parents." But he conceded that it's the best thing to do for the child's sake if the facts indicate any abuse or neglect by the parents.

Metcalf's most significant successes so far has been the reorganization of some of the 69th district procedures to speed up the trial process. He has instituted a court coordinator to monitor cases within the district from his Dumas office, created ancillary dockets (to keep track of cases and when they are to come to trial), streamlined the jury selection process and increased the staff of the district probation team.

"The coordinator keeps files on each case and all the information in a case is right there together and up to date," he said. He requires attorneys to file all communications with the coordinator.

THE JURY SELECTION has been speeded up by having all members of a jury panel fill out information sheets in advance which saves the time of cross-examination by attorneys to find out such things as addresses, names, jobs and other biographical data. "Usually, we can select the juries we need for a week in the first day and let the rest of the panel go home," he explained.

This saves the county taxpayers $5 per juror per day, which costs heavily when it took an average of three days to select juries in the past.

During the eight to 10 jury weeks in Hereford each year, Metcalf said the new process has made it possible for at least one more jury trial per week to be added, therefore speeding up action on some cases.

"The defendant has the right to a speedy trial," he said. "And the more rapid a trial, the fairer it is."

membership evaluation committee, reported that his committee's sustaining membership drive have resulted in about $3,500 in increased dues for the chamber. He hopes to end the evaluation by about May with even more memberships added by then.

ANOTHER AREA OF MEMBERSHIP concentration was in a recent new member drive conducted by a committee led by Johnny Cloud. The drive netted 41 new members for the chamber.

Both membership efforts have raised dues payments to the Chamber by about $6,800 according to Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president. The goal for this year is to reach a total membership of about 800 persons or organizations. Membership costs about $84 each for one year.

He said the winners of the drive include John David Bryant, first place; Mrs. Carol Ann Simmons, second place; and Mrs. Gladys Cavness, third place. Each was given $200, $75, and $25 prizes respectively.

Concerning the Fun Breakfast, Albright announced that the traditional prizes for members and non-members present would be given. Members are qualified for a $200 cash drawing and $75 and $25 cash drawings are held for all persons present.

About 225 people are expected for the someday accomplish is prosecution of cases within 30 to 60 days from the time that a suspect is apprehended. This can only be accomplished, he explained, if the DA's office is properly staffed.

Already the probation department, under the direction of Harold Wheeler, has increased by two officers in the last year, one for the northern portion of the judicial district and the other for misdemeanor cases in Deaf Smith and Oldham county courts.

"The law specifies that one probation officer for every 75 probationers be provided and we are closer to that than before," he said. Presently the new officers have cut the ratio down from about 300-1 to about 120 or 150 probationers to each officer.

Of course, the big solution to satisfy Metcalf's concern that "the courts have lagged behind in management," is to separate the present district into two district courts. This has been tried twice but failed due to last minute politics in the Texas Legislature.

"I THINK AN APPROPRIATE district could be made out of Oldham and Deaf Smith Counties," he said. In the Hereford court alone, there has been an increase of 32 per cent in the number of cases from 1970 to 1974.

One time, four judges were helping Metcalf to clear out cases being tried in different towns. "A new district court would allow cases to come up for trial faster," he said.

Concerning probation, Metcalf said he grants it to most first offenders except in murder cases and especially to young defendants. However, he is guided largely by juries on this.

"I think that judges ought to sentence offenders because they have the legal background to do so," Metcalf said. "Younger offenders want to be helped and they should be given probation on first offenses. After that, they are learning responsibility since they have to pay monthly for it as well as report to a probation officer."

Metcalf, who may travel on an average of 2,000 miles a month on his job, said the new Penal and Family Codes need a lot of interpretation. Much attention has been focused on the child abuse. As with any new law, the judges are responsible for their implementation and their decisions may set the precedent for the future.

Along with applying the codes to such cases as child abuse, Metcalf has dealt with all types of cases from murder to civil law suits. The murder trial last October was his first as judge, but he prosecuted three as a DA.

HIS JOB TAKES MUCH TIME, but not enough to keep him from spending as much time as possible with his wife Linda and two children Chris, a 23-month old boy, and Amy, his 3 and a half year-old girl.

"I wouldn't want to spend my spare time doing anything more than spending it with my family," he said. "You just have to call a quitting point on your job and go home."

As any active professional, he has hobbies including handball, reading and putting around in the yard. On occasion, he likes to go to the mountains with his family, or to court.

"I can't wait until Hereford has a YMCA program going so I can play handball in Hereford when I'm here (that is if they are built)," he noted. He is an avid handballer on the Dumas YMCA courts.

But while he is not playing handball, he gets plenty of exercise from his job.

Lucky is the defendant who appears in Metcalf's court, where the scales of justice are balanced as efficiently as anywhere with the new procedures for a fast trial but one that doesn't scrip on fairness.

affair which features games, prizes and entertainment.

PLANS ARE CURRENTLY being implemented to advertise the Cowgirl Hall of Fame Rodeo scheduled for May 14-15 at the Hereford Riders' Arena. The advertising campaign is directed at attracting participants and spectators for the second annual rodeo. About 450 entries are expected.

It will include a parade, coordinated by Harold Wheeler, District Court probation officer, a barbecue, spectator contests and Hall of Fame induction presentations. The rodeo is being planned through a committee headed up by Terry Caviness. Stanley Simmons is the advertising chairman.

Georgia Sparks, Women's Division president, said the recent Miss Hereford Pageant was reported as the best ever according to judges.

She asked for and received authority to save a storage building constructed at the Chamber offices for housing all items used in the pageant. The size of the building is to be determined later.

UNDER THE EXECUTIVE vice president's report, Albright said that a business letter writing seminar is planned for Hereford in May and that all directors and officers of the Chamber are invited to attend the South Plains Association of Chamber of Executives convention on April 13. It will be held at the Lubbock Country Club and include talks and discussions on bettering chamber of commerce activities.

Also, he said that several "good" film strips and movies are available at the Chamber office for civic clubs, women's organizations and schools to use as programs. "We would really like for them to be borrowed," Albright said.

He briefly reviewed efforts to help attract doctors to Hereford, plans to establish a post office drive-up so persons can mail letters without leaving their cars to cross the street, and information dealing with the "Crime Can Be Your Fault Program."

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Thursday, April 15.

Regular Meeting Of Commissioners Court Scheduled

The Deaf Smith County Commissioner's Court will meet in regular session at 10 a.m. Monday morning in the commissioners' courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse.

On the brief agenda are a discussion and possible action concerning the Senior Citizens organization request for funds to remodel two rooms at the Old Central School for use as a meeting and recreation location and a request from Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, to use the Bull Barn. The agenda also includes other routine business items.

The commissioners' court is composed of County Judge Sam Morgan, and Commissioners Bruce Coleman, Earl Holt, Austin Rose Jr., and James Voyles.

Representative George Mahon, in testifying before a subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee on March 18, urged that a way be found to slow down the rate of importation of palm oil into the U.S.

The Congressman stressed the point that excessive palm oil imports also pose a threat to the health of the American consumer because of the highly-saturated fat content of palm oil.

Corlis Wins Top Spot In Lions Club Voting

Clete Corlis edged James Gentry for the president's post as the Hereford Lions Club held its annual election party Thursday night at Civic Club Center.

Corlis, manager of J.C. Penney Co., will assume the Boss Lion position this summer when he succeeds Weldon Dickson.

As is the usual tradition, humorous campaign talks and skits were made Thursday night for the offices of president, secretary, and treasurer. Gayle Cotten won the secretary's race over Ken Hagar, and Buddie Evans took the treasurer's post by edging Ted Higgins.

Special entertainment for the ladies' night program included violin solos and a violin duet by Miss Hereford and Miss Teen Hereford of 1976—Delfine Uilbarri and Michelle Moore. The two beauties were accompanied at the piano by Susie McGee. Club sweetheart Donna Kendall, Miss Teen Hereford of 1975, also made an impromptu appearance on the musical program.

Other officers elected at the party included: Tommy Bowling, first vice president; Victor Cantu, second VP; Lester Wagner, third VP; John Bryant and Philip Shook, Lion tapers; Sammy Gonzales and C.W. Low-Income Workers Can Get Tax Credit

Low-income workers may be missing out on a sizeable tax credit just because they aren't required to file a tax return.

An economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that individuals with earned incomes under $8,000 can receive a special payment from the federal government but they must file a 1975 income tax return.

"Many of the people eligible for the payment, called 'Earned Income Credit,' may not ordinarily be required to file a tax return because of their low earnings," explains Dr. Wayne Hayenga. "However, the credit could be a big help to such individuals."

Earned income credit works like this: Individuals must have less than $8,000 in total earned income, including income from wages, salaries, tips or other employee compensation and self-employment income. Workers must have maintained a home in the United States for the entire tax year for themselves and at least one dependent child who was under 19 years of age or a full-time student.

"Those qualifying for the credit and who have earnings of $4,000 or less receive a credit of 10 per cent of their earned income only, up to a maximum of $400," notes Hayenga. "For those with incomes between $4,000 and $8,000, the amount of credit decreases $1 for every $10 of income over $4,000."

"Tax Benefit for Low-Income Individuals," is also available from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Chamber Directors Hear Membership Report

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors heard an update on membership increases recently, reviewed plans for the Fun Breakfast Tuesday, approved the building of a storage building, and considered advertising for the Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girl Rodeo during a regular monthly meeting Thursday morning at the Chamber office.

Hearing--

on a matter such as this, but there's no harm in making our feelings known and getting some people thinking along the same lines," Cospet commented.

"THIS IS ONE OF the finest waterfowl hunting areas in the nation, and even if it takes some time to bring about changes, it would be well worth the effort required in order to allow sportsmen a better opportunity to take advantage of this important area resource, and benefit the landowners," he added.

captain, served two and a half years in Taiwan and was stationed for the rest of his tour at Ft. Hood, Texas.

A 1966 Graduate of the University of Houston Law School, Metcalf's most challenging and trying experiences on the bench have been connected with child welfare and abuse cases. "It's awesome where children are involved," he said. "You're dealing with a human life and you may determine what happens to them for the rest of their life."

"It's different than being a DA because you're the man in the middle and not an advocate," he noted.

Even though the robbery and murder cases were described as important, the judge said with a pained expression that "the hardest thing I've had to do as a judge is to take a child away from his parents." But he conceded that it's the best thing to do for the child's sake if the facts indicate any abuse or neglect by the parents.

Metcalf's most significant successes so far has been the reorganization of some of the 69th district procedures to speed up the trial process. He has instituted a court coordinator to monitor cases within the district from his Dumas office, created ancillary dockets (to keep track of cases and when they are to come to trial), streamlined the jury selection process and increased the staff of the district probation team.

"The coordinator keeps files on each case and all the information in a case is right there together and up to date," he said. He requires attorneys to file all communications with the coordinator.

THE JURY SELECTION has been speeded up by having all members of a jury panel fill out information sheets in advance which saves the time of cross-examination by attorneys to find out such things as addresses, names, jobs and other biographical data. "Usually, we can select the juries we need for a week in the first day and let the rest of the panel go home," he explained.

This saves the county taxpayers $5 per juror per day, which costs heavily when it took an average of three days to select juries in the past.

During the eight to 10 jury weeks in Hereford each year, Metcalf said the new process has made it possible for at least one more jury trial per week to be added, therefore speeding up action on some cases.

"The defendant has the right to a speedy trial," he said. "And the more rapid a trial, the fairer it is."

An objective the judge hopes to membership evaluation committee, reported that his committee's sustaining membership drive have resulted in about $3,500 in increased dues for the chamber. He hopes to end the evaluation by about May with even more memberships added by then.

ANOTHER AREA OF MEMBERSHIP concentration was in a recent new member drive conducted by a committee led by Johnny Cloud. The drive netted 41 new members for the chamber.

Both membership efforts have raised dues payments to the Chamber by about $6,800 according to Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president. The goal for this year is to reach a total membership of about 800 persons or organizations. Membership costs about $84 each for one year.

He said the winners of the drive include John David Bryant, first place; Mrs. Carol Ann Simmons, second place; and Mrs. Gladys Caviness, third place. Each was given $200, $75, and $25 prizes respectively.

Concerning the Fun Breakfast, Albright announced that the traditional prizes for members and non-members present would be given. Members are qualified for a $200 cash drawing and $75 and $25 cash drawings are held for all persons present.

About 225 people are expected for the someday accomplish is prosecution of cases within 30 to 60 days from the time that a suspect is apprehended. This can only be accomplished, he explained, if the DA's office is properly staffed.

Already the probation department, under the direction of Harold Wheeler, has increased by two officers in the last year, one for the northern portion of the judicial district and the other for misdemeanor cases in Deaf Smith and Oldham county courts.

"The law specifies that one probation officer for every 75 probationers be provided and we are closer to that than before," he said. Presently the new officers have cut the ratio down from about 300-1 to about 120 or 150 probationers to each officer.

Of course, the big solution to satisfy Metcalf's concern that "the courts have lagged behind in management," is to separate the present district into two district courts. This has been tried twice but failed due to last minute politics in the Texas Legislature.

"I THINK AN APPROPRIATE district could be made out of Oldham and Deaf Smith Counties," he said. In the Hereford court alone, there has been an increase of 32 per cent in the number of cases from 1970 to 1974.

One time, four judges were helping Metcalf to clear out cases being tried in different towns. "A new district court would allow cases to come up for trial faster," he said.

Concerning probation, Metcalf said he grants it to most first offenders except in murder cases and especially to young defendants. However, he is guided largely by juries on this.

"I think that judges ought to sentence offenders because they have the legal background to do so," Metcalf said. "Younger offenders want to be helped and they should be given probation on first offenses. After that, they are learning responsibility since they have to pay monthly for it as well as report to a probation officer."

Metcalf, who may travel on an average of 2,000 miles a month on his job, said the new Penal and Family Codes need a lot of interpretation. Much attention has been focused on the child abuse. As with any new law, the judges are responsible for their implementation and their decisions may set the precedent for the future.

Along with applying the codes to such cases as child abuse, Metcalf has dealt with all types of cases from murder to civil law suits. The murder trial last October was his first as judge, but he prosecuted three as a DA.

HIS JOB TAKES MUCH TIME, but not enough to keep him from spending as much time as possible with his wife Linda and two children Chris, a 23-month old boy, and Amy, his 3 and a half year-old girl.

"I wouldn't want to spend my spare time doing anything more than spending it with my family," he said. "You just have to call a quitting point on your job and go home."

As any active professional, he has hobbies including handball, reading and putting around in the yard. On occasion, he likes to go to the mountains with his family, of course.

"I can't wait until Hereford has a YMCA program going so I can play handball in Hereford when I'm here (that is if they are built)," he noted. He is an avid handballer on the Dumas YMCA courts.

But while he is not playing handball, he gets plenty of exercise from his job.

Lucky is the defendant who appears in Metcalf's court, where the scales of justice are balanced as efficiently as anywhere with the new procedures for a fast trial but one that doesn't scrimp on fairness.

affair which features games, prizes and entertainment.

PLANS ARE CURRENTLY being implemented to advertise the Cowgirl Hall of Fame Rodeo scheduled for May 14-15 at the Hereford Riders' Arena. The advertising campaign is directed at attracting participants and spectators for the second annual rodeo. About 450 entries are expected.

It will include a parade, coordinated by Harold Wheeler, District Court probation officer, a barbecue, spectator contests and Hall of Fame induction presentations. The rodeo is being planned through a committee headed up by Terry Caviness. Stanley Simmons is the advertising chairman.

Georgia Sparks, Women's Division president, said the recent Miss Hereford Pageant was reported as the best ever according to judges.

She asked for and received authority to save a storage building constructed at the Chamber offices for housing all items used in the pageant. The size of the building is to be determined later.

UNDER THE EXECUTIVE vice president's report, Albright said that a business letter writing seminar is planned for Hereford in May and that all directors and officers of the Chamber are invited to attend the South Plains Association of Chamber of Executives convention on April 13. It will be held at the Lubbock Country Club and include talks and discussions on bettering chamber of commerce activities.

Also, he said that several "good" film strips and movies are available at the Chamber office for civic clubs, women's organizations and schools to use as programs. "We would really like for them to be borrowed," Albright said.

He briefly reviewed efforts to help attract doctors to Hereford, plans to establish a post office drive-up so persons can mail letters without leaving their cars to cross the street, and information dealing with the "Crime Can Be Your Fault Program."

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Thursday, April 15.

Associated Press writer Mike Cochran had a good article on the gas situation in Texas on the wire last week. In fact, he summed up the plight of gas prices intra-state and gas prices inter-state about as well as possible. He began his in-depth article with the illustration of the shopper and the groceryman which is talking in layman's terms:

"A dozen apples," requested the shopper.

"That'll be 50 cents," replies the grocer.

"But Jones sells them for 25 cents," argues the housewife.

"Then buy 'em from Jones," shrugs the grocer.

"He's out of apples," she admits.

"When I'm out," sniffs the grocer.

"I'll sell them for 20 cents!"

That is the gas situation in a nutshell!

Willard Wilson, secretary of the American Petroleum Institute recently wrote: "If you feel you are too busy to take an interest in government, feel that getting mixed up in politics is beneath your dignity or bad for business, then at least take time for one thing: teach your children to count in rubles - they'll need to with the inheritance you're going to leave them."

Palm Oil Slow Down Favored

Representative George Mahon, in testifying before a subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee on March 18, urged that a way be found to slow down the rate of importation of palm oil into the U.S.

Mahon pointed out that palm oil imports had reached 400,000 metric tons last year, a sharp increase over any previous year, and he predicted that present trends will continue unless remedial action is taken.

The Congressman stressed the point that excessive palm oil imports also pose a threat to the health of the American consumer because of the highly-saturated fat content of palm oil.

Low-Income Workers Can Get Tax Credit

Low-income workers may be missing out on a sizeable tax credit just because they aren't required to file a tax return.

An economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that individuals with earned incomes under $8,000 can receive a special payment from the federal government but they must file a 1975 income tax return.

"Many of the people eligible for the payment, called 'Earned Income Credit,' may not ordinarily be required to file a tax return because of their low earnings," explains Dr. Wayne Hayenga. "However, the credit could be a big help to such individuals."

Earned income credit works like this. Individuals must have less than $8,000 in total earned income, including income from wages, salaries, tips or other employee compensation and self-employment income. Workers must have maintained a home in the United States for the entire tax year for themselves and at least one dependent child who was under 19 years of age or a full-time student.

"Those qualifying for the credit and who have earnings of $4,000 or less receive a credit of 10 per cent of their earned income only, up to a maximum of $400," notes Hayenga. "For those with incomes between $4,000 and $8,000, the amount of credit decreases $1 for every $10 of income over $4,000."

"Tax Benefit for Low-Income Individuals," is also available from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Labor Still Fumes Over Bill Defeat

AFL-CIO President George Meany and other top officials of the big labor federation are still smarting from their defeat over the hotly disputed common situs (site) picketing proposal vetoed by President Ford. Touted as union labor's high priority bill, the proposal would have legalized secondary boycotts on construction jobsites by permitting a single union to shut down a job involving different employers.

According to the AFL-CIO news, weekly newspaper published by the federation, Meany and other officials have vowed to step up their political opposition to President Ford in retaliation to the veto.

They also have demanded investigations into the funds, used by contractor groups which successfully waged a public campaign against the bill.

Despite strong pro-labor majorities in both Houses of Congress, supporters of the picketing bill did not attempt to override the President. They knew they did not have sufficient votes. Meanwhile, W. J. Usery, the new Secretary of Labor, indicates he will not go to bat for such a bill if it is revived. In contrast, his predecessor, John T. Dunlop, resigned because President Ford had vetoed the common situs bill.

For the time being the issue seems dormant. But it does serve to emphasize that Meany is a man to put his money where his mouth is.

According to a tabulation published in Congressional Action, weekly legislative newsletter of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, AFL-CIO political committees contributed $5,758,780 in direct campaign funds to members of Congress who subsequently voted for the common situs legislation.

The list, compiled by Americans for Constitutional Action (AGA), showed Sen. John A. Durkin (D-N. H.) heading the Senate list with contributions of $172,065.93. In the House Rep. Bob Traxler (D-Mich.) received the largest total amount of gifts, $88,355.

Rep. Robert H. Michel (R-Ill.), who introduced the data into the Congressional Record, observed: "It is time to set the record straight on this matter. The American people are entitled to know what pressures are being put to their representatives."

ON GRAIN DEAL

The Soviet Union probably will buy substantial new quantities of U.S. wheat and corn in the next few months, but Assistant Secretary Richard E. Bell said those sales and other exports will not hurt American consumers.

Update Estate Tax

Four years ago when George McGovern was on the campaign trail, one of his pet subjects was tax reform, and he proposed a sharp boost in estate taxes, in effect proposing to have the government take one more tax bite out of dead rich people.

But George was amazed to discover that this was not as popular as he had figured. Blue collar workers, union members and a lot of people who could be described as only in modest circumstances were turning away from his in droves.

The only conclusion he could make was that these people figured they might win a lottery some time and thus accumulate an estate.

McGovern was out of touch with the times on this issue as he was a lot of others.

It doesn't take a rich person to pile up an estate of $60,000 these days. Yet the government continues to collect estate taxes based on this $60,000 figure, even though it was last changed in 1942.

Applying only the standard index of inflation since that time, the estate tax would have to be raised to $210,000.

President Gerald Ford made quite a hit in Illinois recently when he proposed to raise the federal exemption to $150,000.

Since he started plugging this, he has drawn a great deal more interest from ordinary people, especially among the elderly everywhere who are concerned about having the government wipe out whatever estate they have been able to accumulate.

President Ford asked that in the first five years of an inherited farm or business worth less than $300,000 there would be a moratorium on tax payments with no interest and the total tax on that amount could be paid out over 25 years at a reduced interest rate.

This would no doubt keep family farms and businesses from being sold to pay the estate taxes and as such, the proposal makes good sense.

Any individual who has been moderately successful nowadays has an estate tax problem. Estate planning involves hiring lawyers and accountants to help preserve part of an estate.

Last year, 11 per cent of all estates were subject to the estate tax as compared with 1 per cent a decade ago. Even some retired people who never made more than $5,000 a year in their lives have accumulated an estate worth in excess of $60,000, the point at which the estate tax now begins to bite.

If the estate tax change is to become law, it will take some more push by the American people, those who are most involved.

The Perryton Herald

Simple Enough

Russell Baker, the columnist, projects a new theory about what the American people want in their President. The fact that the President can press a button and kill sixty million people is not as important as to have a President with dazzling teeth, he says.

If his theory is correct, Nelson Rockefeller, of course, could win easily. He can display at least thirty white teeth instantly—for camera, voters, magazine covers, etc. The President can also put on a dazzling dental display, back to the upper molars.

Ronald Reagan's teeth are beautifully white but he doesn't show as many. Among Democrats, it's Jimmy Carter by a toothslide. But it's not true he uses chiclets for teeth, according to Baker. The only Democrat around who even comes close to Carter is Sargent Shriver—who is quite good. But his gleamers can't match the display flashed by Carter and thus Carter is the favorite.

The Brand Files

1 YEAR AGO

Further encroachment by the federal government upon the affairs of individuals usually prompts quick reaction. And when a person's whole means of living is threatened, the response comes swiftly and loud such as that from the Deaf Smith County Gas Users Association Wednesday night. While definite optimism runs high for the future Panhandle water supply for irrigation farming, caution seems to be the bedfellow of energy sources needed to harness this natural resource. At least this was the general picture painted by water and energy experts at the annual High Plains Irrigation Conference held at the Hereford Bull Barn Friday.

5 YEARS AGO

Local farm leaders are appealing to lettuce growers-past and present to determine if a proposed new national policy would be a financial windfall or a disaster to this area's lettuce industry. Little Jeanne Hair, who just 24 hours before the County Spelling Bee didn't know if she was even going to enter, outspelled six other contestants Friday to earn the right to represent Deaf Smith County in the district Spelling Bee in Amarillo. Kiwanians and their guests are expected to fill the Bull Barn to near-capacity Tuesday night for a reception and banquet honoring their international president, Ted Johnson of Denver.

25 YEARS AGO

Planting of about 3,000 acres of potatoes in Deaf Smith county, which was started generally last week, is expected to get into full swing during the coming week. Planting work is expected to be completed the first week of April. With a local chapter of the Crippled Children with the remaining 25 per cent going to the state office.

50 YEARS AGO

After consultations between City and County Health Officer, Dr. W.F. Gabbert, other local physicians, the board of trustees of the Hereford Independent School District, and the City Commission last Saturday and Monday it was decided best, in the interests of the public health, to close the schools, the churches and the Star Theatre for a period of two weeks, as a preventive measure against a threatened epidemic of measles. Plans for the extension of eight inch water mains around the business section of Hereford so that fire hazards can be reduced to the minimum and so that the insurance rate can be reduced, were discussed at the weekly luncheon of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY— Being a member of the right lodge once saved the life of Santa Anna, the Mexican general.

Following the Battle of San Jacinto in 1836, the defeated Mexican commander stood before a firing squad. His conqueror, General Sam Houston, prepared to give the signal to fire. The triggers were never pulled, however.

Just before Houston was ready to give the order to fire, Santa Ann, a member of the Masonic lodge, gave a little secret sign. Houston, a brother Mason, recognized the sign and spared the Mexican's life.

It's a story that has never appeared in the history books. It was turned up only recently by Perry Van Arsdale of Albuquerque, N.M. He found it in some secret archives while preparing a comprehensive history of pioneer America.

HOW IT BEGAN— Nachos, that simple, yet delicious snack of toasted tortillas spread with cheese and chili jalapenos, originated because some Eagle Pass ladies wanted a new treat of a cocktail party.

They asked the chef of the Old Victory Club in neighboring Piedras Negras, Mexico, to come up with a new kind of hors d'oeuvre. His name was Nacho, and the appetizer he created pleased them so much that they named it for him.

COOL IT— Texas got its first air conditioned public buildings in 1924. That year, three movie theaters—the Palace in Dallas and the Iris and Texas in Houston—all had the new tangled cooling systems installed.

OLD FISHING HOLE— More than 10,000 years after they supposedly became extinct, a species of fish that once thrived in desert water holes is alive and well in Texas.

Known as "Cyprinodon bovinus," a kind of pupfish averaging about one and a half inches in length, the Texas variety was discovered in 1854 near Fort Stockton, Pecos County. They disappeared and were not rediscovered until the mid-1960's. An Arizona State University professor found the present colony in the Leon Springs Reservoir in the same area as the first discovery.

Only about 15 species of pupfish are known to exist in the world today. The only survivors of these Ice Age fish to be found in Texas are those in Pecos County.

Asking A Question; A Proud Land

The question is a useful and helpful method of communication when used properly. But it can also stand in the way of successful flow of ideas and opinions when the words of the question are mangled and the subject matter is irrelevant.

I have noticed numerous Amarillo television station newsmen try in desperate frustration to come up with meaningful questions while broadcasting a story on the air. They are locked into a time situation where they must state a question instantly or a period of dead silence results as the person interviewed—in most cases—will not volunteer information unless asked for, especially in controversial situations.

In newspaper reporting, I have the mobility to ask questions as they come to mind based on the information provided by the newsmaker. I can then go back and compile them in proper sequence in a written story.

However, this is still based on prior research and prepared questions, which it seems a broadcaster would have to do in all cases. And he would have to do a better job of it even to the extent of conferring in advance with the person he is interviewing.

This situation is applicable to this week's question and answer session with the school board candidates at the PTSO meeting. As expected, politicians, most certainly inexperienced ones such as the school board candidates, presented rather mild and uncommitted opening statements.

Therefore, it was up to the persons posing questions to bring out the opinions of the candidates. This is what newsmen must do at press conferences although some presidential press conferences leave much to be desired. Naturally, a person wants only certain information released, but it is up not only to the free press, but the "free" public to find out what a person stands for or what the issues are.

I refrain from asking questions at open sessions as held Monday to avoid any speculation that the reporting of the news was biased. It is far better to let the voters voice the issues they are interested in and the questions to accompany them to provide a more balanced and broad based forum of discussion.

The exchange Monday was embarrassing and frustrating for the candidates and those listening as well. Not only was there a lack of questions but too many insignificant, personal ones, which offered no insight of the candidates' stances. The average voter just wasn't helped much.

At least several persons filed for election to offer us a choice. As the job being sought becomes less desired due to mounting responsibilities and liabilities, fewer and fewer candidates will appear.

The candidates deserve better questions than "What is your definition of a trouble maker?" and "When was the last time you were in a classroom?"

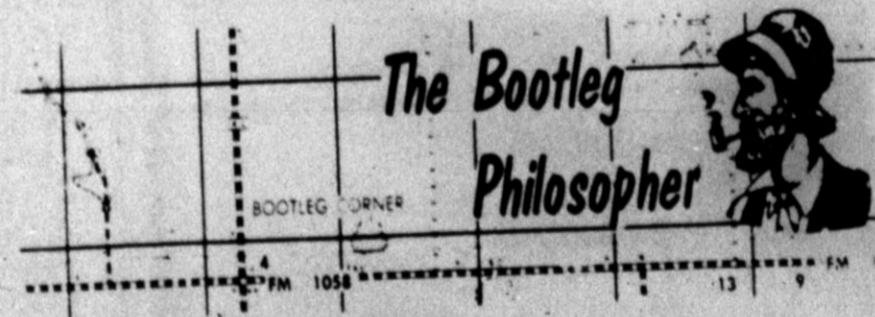

How about asking "Would you hold the line on tax increases?" or "Do you favor any changes in the Bilingual Education Program?" or "In which area of curriculum do you think the school district needs to improve?"

Baptist Church of Dallas, the largest congregation of that denomination in the world, is also one of that city's major employers.

To serve the more than 10,000 communicants, First Baptist is housed in a complex that includes an 11-story office building. Its staff runs a country club, a complete health spa, snack bars, a credit union, a publishing company and television and recording studios, among other enterprises.

First Baptist maintains 22 choirs to provide music for its services, plus a swing band.

THE SIGNS OF TEXAS— On a Dallas meat market: "Your friendly used-cow dealer."

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner takes a sidelong look at the latest proposal of the U.S. Postal Service.

—O—

Dear editor:

According to a news article I read the other night, the Postal Service, alarmed over the drop in first class mail, is considering an advertising campaign to get people to write more letters, because those 13-cent stamps are where the money is in the mail business.

So, the Postal Service is considering spending about $15,000,000 a year on a national advertising campaign, trying to get people to write more letters.

So I got to thinking, what would be some good slogans the Postal Service could use in its ads?

Here's one: "Sure, it costs a little more to mail a letter these days, but it gets there quicker."

Maybe we'd better hold up that one for awhile.

How about: "Write, but be careful about whom you write to. Remember, your Congressman can answer without a stamp."

Or: "Stop. Don't pick up your phone, pick up your pencil. Nobody can bug a letter. Steam it open, maybe, but not bug it."

I'm not getting very far. Let's consider another angle. Take that proposed 15-million-dollar, advertising campaign. Just to get its gross outlay back, the Postal Service would have to sell an extra 115,384,615 stamps. Assume it makes a profit of say three cents on each 13-cent letter mailed. It would have to sell 500,000,000 stamps just to break even. To make a real profit it'd have to sell one billion more stamps.

In other words, the people of this country have got to write 1,000,000,000 more letters than they're writing now, if this plan is going to work. The burden, however, does not fall evenly on the populace. Take away the people who can't write, the babies, the kindergartners, a State Legislature here and there, college freshmen who can't pass a grammar course, the non-writers, the illiterate, the paper-less, the pencil-less the Senior Citizens who have no money left for stamps when they get through paying their utility bills, and the vast unassorted who have nobody to write to and nothing to say if they did—take away all these and that doesn't leave very many people, who, to make the Postal Service's advertising campaign pay off, would have to knuckle down to writing letters night and day.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

These are all issues which have arisen during the year and seemingly need to be discussed in an election. Of course, the candidates themselves need to have some answers, in contrast to the many evasive ones cropping up recently. But the questions come first.

I commend the PTSO and the CTA for at least offering the forum for candidates to express their views and for the voters to air their curiosities.

As one candidate said already, the lack of good questions shows the apathy of the people. There has never been a time in this country when the interest of the citizen is needed more.

-BT-

Barry Goldwater, the leading conservative of the Republican Party at present, predicts a total rebellion in the near future based on the frustration building in people against government. I sure hope this warning of anarchy is unfounded, but it will take a bit of work now to prevent such a catastrophe.

Many a great civilization has been destroyed by a lazy society, which a determined individual or group sees as a chance to establish a dictatorship.

Even with all the problems we have now, we still have the greatest form of government ever known to man and I think it's worth preserving.

We have it better than we really are willing to admit, but that is no reason for copping out to let someone else do the work. If there is as much effort put into solving problems instead of complaining about them, no telling how much success we could enjoy.

Only the person who is willing to work has the right to complain.

-BT-

A tour of the western part of the county was given to me recently. While sparse and scattered, there is more out there than meets the eye.

For the person with a nose for history and fond appreciation of the open spaciousness of the High Plains, then the western portion of Deaf Smith County is a treasure laden land.

First, the success made of this area by the pioneers gives the newcomer a sense of pride that he lives here and a deep thought of the strength it took to conquer a once wasteland and transform it into the most agriculturally productive area of the state.

This is a country that makes a man feel close to his God and identify with his heritage.

While traveling to the distant regions of the county, I found numerous lonely buildings out in the middle of nowhere. Providing central meeting places are such structures as the Bippus Community Church and the Messenger Home Demonstration Clubhouse at Garcia. The origin of these buildings and of such towns as Simms and Walcott are very interesting although too extensive for details in this limited space.

A particular institution as it might be called is "The Tree." No, it's not a hangman's tree as one might first think, but an old landmark which guided travelers to different parts of the county.

Bruce Coleman, county precinct three commissioner, said the Tree is used extensively to direct his workers and area residents to their destinations. He said the Tree was watered daily by a bachelor, who cared for it and made sure it survived.

A water faucet used to be located by the tree but it no longer is, although a sign is tacked on it signifying its place in Deaf Smith County history.

I would give directions to the landmark but I just can't remember exactly how to get there. But apparently, once you know where the Tree is, then you can find anything.

Mahon Supports Higher Estate Tax Exemptions

Representative George Mahon was scheduled to testify Monday, March 15 before the House Ways and Means Committee in support of a House bill which he is cosponsoring with Representative Omar Bursleson and others to increase the value of exemptions for taxable estates under the Internal Revenue Code from the present $60,000 to $200,000. The $60,000 figure was adopted by Congress in 1942.

"When enacted several decades ago, the inheritance tax law was a reasonable measure, but in view of the recent years of heavy inflation, it is now completely inadequate," Mahon said. The Congressman's mail indicates widespread interest in the proposed legislation.

Armour Promotes Barela

Eugene Barela, 117 Avenue G, has been promoted to superintendent of the the fabricating and boxed-beef department of Armour Food Company according to C.R. Taylor, operations manager for Armour.

Barela's new assignment at the Armour Plant west of Hereford will include all responsibilities associated with operations from breaking down of the beef carcasses to loading the finished boxed meat products. His former position was that of a superintendent in the fabricating department.

He has 14 years experience in the meat processing industry and joined Armour in 1972 when Armour acquired the plant here.

"We are quite proud of Eugene's progression as is reflected in his promotion," Taylor said. The same feeling was expressed by Tom Hamlett, plant manager, when the announcement was made. Barela came to Hereford from Clovis where he was employed in the meat industry. He and his wife have five children.

Monterey, LaPlata Win Girls' Titles

Monterey edged Amarillo Tascosa for the high school championship, but La Plata of Hereford swept the junior high titles in the Girls' Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Track Meet here Friday.

Monterey, Tascosa and Canyon duled for the title to the last event, the mile relay. Monterey finished third, Tascosa sixth, and Canyon didn't enter. Monterey tabbed 95 points and Tascosa was a half-point back. Canyon, with just four entrants, had 89 points.

Canyon's Merry Johnson scored 39 points in the meet, winning three events, anchoring the sprint relay team, and placing fourth in the triple jump.

away with their division, scoring 172 points to just 78 for runner-up Vega. The 8th graders had 111 points to 73 for second-place Dimmitt, and the 7th grade La Plata team tallied 98 points, compared to 75 for runner-up Oton. Stanton was a strong third in the 9th grade, but was 9th and 10th in the other grades.

The day opened with a strong wind facing the contestants in the morning preliminaries and in the field events, but eight high school records were broken or tied in the afternoon as the wind eased up a bit.

Merry Johnson of Canyon set a new record in the high jump with a 5-5 leap, and she tied the 100-yard dash mark of 11.4 seconds. Canyon's sprint relay team broke the mark with a 49.4 clocking around the 440, and Kress established a new mile relay record with a 4:12.1 timing. Hereford finished second in the mile relay and also broke the old record of 4:13.4.

High of Dunbar set a new mark in the 80-yard hurdles at 11.3; Rodgers of Tascosa sailed the discus 116-11 for a record; Welch of Tascosa tied the 60-yard dash record with a 7.1 second run, and Cooley of Tascosa tied the century mark with a 11.4 effort.

Hereford finished fifth in the high school division with 40 points, and 28 of those came in the two relays. The HHS crew was third in the sprint relay, and Kress edged the mile relay team for first. Individual placing by Hereford: Ruland, 4th in the 60 Albright, 4th in the 100; Kelson, 5th in the 440; Duvall, 6th in the shot put, and Acton, 6th in the discus.

La Plata placed in the top three in 11 events to roll to the 9th grade team victory. Berryman was a double winner for La Plata in the long jump and triple jump, and she was second in the 220 and third in the discus. Pittard won the 100-yard dash and was second in the 440, while Schilling won two thirds—in the 220 and long jump. Stanton's only blue ribbons came from Moton in the 100 and Lambert in the discus.

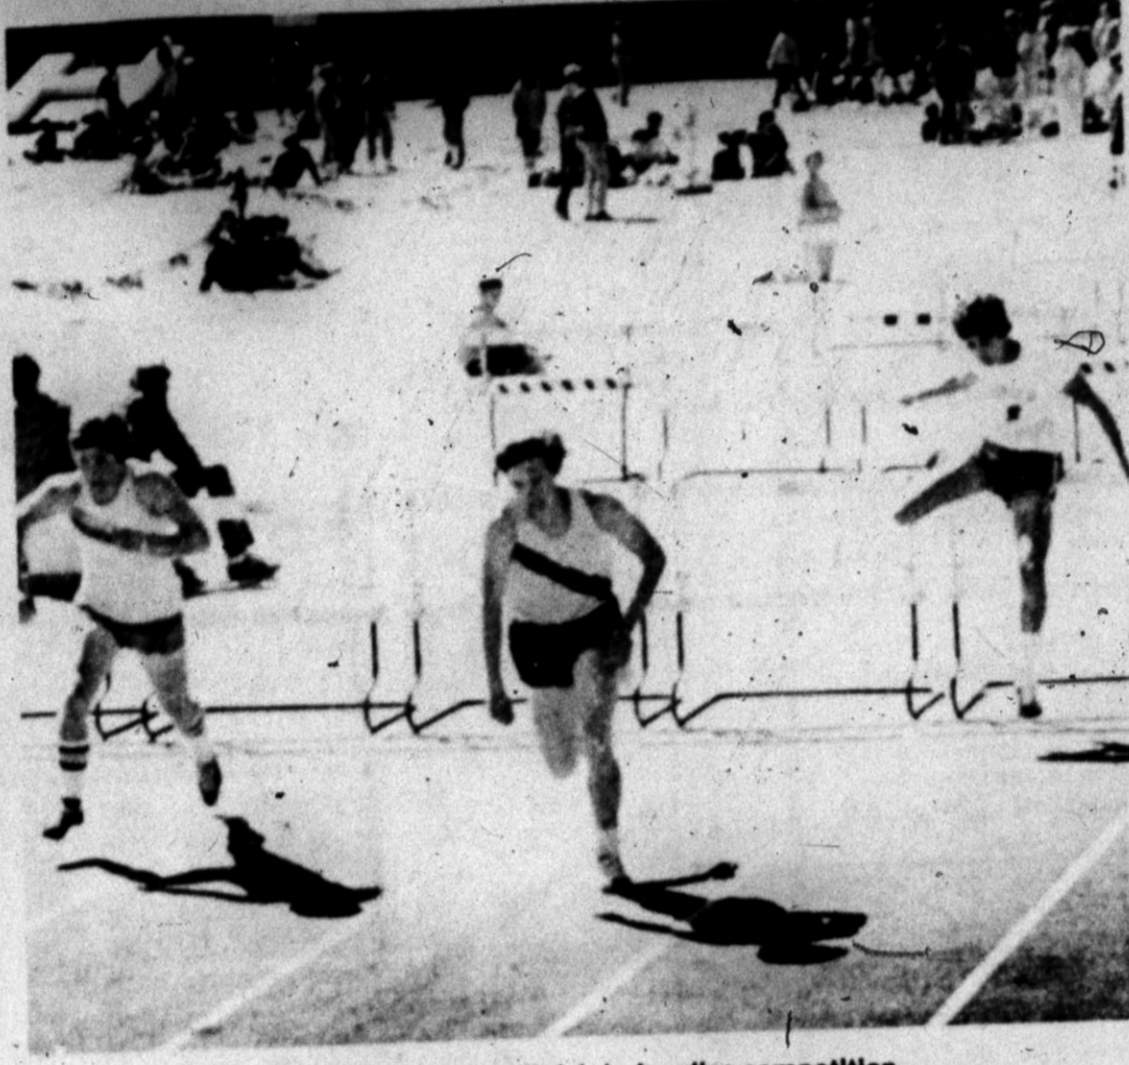

La Plata's 8th grade took first in the 440 relay and second in the mile relay. Other firsts came from Yosten in the 440, Nixon in the 80-yard hurdles, Barrera in the 660, and Tatum in the discus.

In the 7th grade action, La Plata had only two firsts but piled up other places to take the crown. Keating won the 660 and Robinson won the discus. Crawford was second in the long jump, while Walterscheid was third in the long jump and the triple jump. Mays was second in the high jump for Stanton, and added a third in the 220.

Golfers Survive Windy Round

One thing is certain, the first round of the first Deaf Smith County Boys Golf Invitational ever played won't be forgotten for awhile, at least as far as the weather is concerned.

The field of 80 golfers and 16 teams were faced with a typical example of March weather in the Panhandle, that is to say it was windy, very windy and the scores showed it.

Amarillo High was the pre-meet favorite but at the end of the day, they were far back in eighth place with a hefty 343 total.

Plainview led the round with 327 followed by host Hereford with 333, Monterey at 335, Pampa at 337, Lubbock High at 338 and Canyon at 342.

To give an example of how the weather affected the play, just three days ago Monterey fired a 304 over the same course in a District 4-AAAA round.

The top individual performance of the day was carded by Bob Kinkaid of Plainview who fired a 77 over the 6,485-yard course. He was followed by three other golfers at 79-Curtis Stoerner of Hereford, Carey Sudduth of Muleshoe and Derek Hammett of Levelland. No one else was able to break 80.

The linksters returned to action Saturday morning at 8:30 and expected to be greeted with more of the same type weather.

The Whiteface golf team shot a total of 325 in Thursday's action of the second round of the District 4-AAAA race here in Hereford. That figure left them in fifth place overall with a two-round total of 648.

Monterey fired a total of 304 for the day and now leads district play with a 619 total.

Hereford Duo In Semifinals

Hereford's doubles team of David Rudder and Clayton Faubion pulled off an upset on the first day of the Lubbock Invitation Tennis Tournament, defeating David Davis and Tom Rapson of Abilene Cooper 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, to move into the semi-finals round.

They were to meet Scott Jones and Rick Perry of Wichita Falls, the No. 1 seeded boys team in the tournament. Steve Hoover and Rocky Rodriguez lost in the boys' doubles quarterfinals on Friday.

Plainview follows with a 306-623, Lubbock has a 316-627, and Coronado has carded a 314-631.

Hereford's best individual performance for the round was turned in by Curtis Stoerner with a 77.

The top individual total for the day was Plainview's Greg Weathered with a 70.

The next district action will be at Plainview on Friday, March 26.

Clovis Teams Lead Junior High Meet

Clovis Gattis dominated the junior high boys' division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce track and field meet here Thursday, capturing the 7th and 9th grade team championships, while Pampa claimed the title in the 8th grade competition.

Hereford's junior high boys made their best showing in the 9th grade division, where Stanton took second place in the team totals and La Plata finished fourth. La Plata was fifth and Stanton tenth in the 7th grade division, and La Plata took sixth and Stanton 12th in the 8th grade.

Stanton and Pampa made a run at Gattis in the freshman division, but the Clovis team had too much speed-winning both relay events and dominating the dashes. Gys Williams of Gattis was a triple winner-taking the 100, 220 and the long jump.

Gattis tabbed 134 points in the 9th grade results, while Stanton had 81 and Pampa 70. Stanton was a point behind Pampa going into the last event, but Stanton placed third in the mile relay to move into second place in the team totals.

Leading Stanton in the 9th grade were Kevin Bunch, second in the 120 intermediate hurdles; Jackie Mercer, second in the discus and a tie for third in the high jump; Gary Hester, second in the pole vault; and Rudy Castillo, third in the 880. Bunch, Mercer, Tony Garcia and Robert Graves posted a second-place in the sprint relay. Castillo, Graves, Mercer and Ricky Rodriguez placed third in the mile relay.

Paul Bell led La Plata's point production in the 9th grade. He won the 440-yard dash in a fine time of 54.3, won the pole vault with a 12-6 effort, and was second in the long jump. Bell also ran on the relay teams.

Sparking La Plata in the 8th grade division were Joe Tjerna, first in the 660; Edward Dominguez, third in the 440; and the relay teams which both placed fifth. Stanton's Juan Flores took first place in the 880 with a 2:14.7 clocking. Pampa had 106 points and Friona was second with 78 1/2.

La Plata tallied 51 points in the 7th grade division by winning third in the sprint relay and capturing several seconds. Felix Soliz took second in the 440; Wesley Brooks was second in the 660, and Randy Vogel was second in the 880. Brown of Stanton was the only Dogie to finish in the top three, as he tied for second in the long jump.

Gattis totaled 111 points in the 7th grade, compared to just 59 for runner-up Dimmitt.

Pittard's Grand Slam Wins Second Game Herd Nine In Baseball Tourney Finals

SPORTS from the pressbox...

CHRIS EVERT wouldn't want tennis to be an Olympic sport. Too much pressure, she says. But when it comes to pressure, she has handled it well enough to become perhaps the best woman tennis player in the world -- at age 21. HOWARD COSELL's fourth Yale lecture will be an attack on "The Sports Press" and won't that be in the great American tradition of retaliation? Howie's been pinked by some of the slickest sports journalists, such as the late JIMMY CANNON: "Howard Cosell wears contact lenses, had his teeth capped and changed his name."

Jr. High Boys Action

Action near finish line in preliminary heat of Jr. High Boys 100 yd. Dash on Thursday.

The Hereford Whitefaces, sparked by fine pitching performance from Harvey Torres and Roy Martinez, moved into the finals of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Baseball Tourney Saturday evening.

In the game played Saturday morning for the consolation title, Canyon defeated Levelland, 6-4.

Mike Pittard's grand-slam homer helped erase Whiteface miscues' afield Friday as Hereford scored a 6-5 win over Palo Duro, and the 'Faces had an easy time in taking an 11-0 win over Levelland in the opener Thursday.

After a beautiful day Thursday, the weather contributed to some sloppy fielding Friday. Martinez got the mound victory as he fanned eight and walked three in the win over the Dons. It was the second win of the second for Martinez in four starts.

In addition to Pittard's grand-slam in smash in the second inning, Hereford got bat support from Pete Hale and Martinez--each with two singles--and a three-bagger by catcher Mike Artho. All of the Dons' runs were unearned. Palo Duro had only three hits and committed four errors.

In the opener against Levelland, Torres allowed only one infield hit in 4 1/2 innings. The game was shortened because of the 10-run lead rule. Torres struck out four and didn't issue a base on balls.

The Whitefaces staked him to a two-run lead in the first inning and then brought the roof down on the helpless Lobos in the second by scoring nine big runs. For all intent and purposes, the game was over and Coach Aaron Bourland substituted freely.

Hale led the offensive attack in that game with two singles and a double in three trips to the plate.

The pull of gravity is less in Key West, Fla., than anywhere else in the country.

Veck Carries On Alone While The Bickering Halts Practice

By Edward H. Sims

SARASOTA, FLA.--This has been the only Major League spring training camp in operation for two weeks now.

Bill Veck, new owner of the Chicago White Sox, hoped to utilize spring training to get to know his players and stir the promotional and public relations pot. He has succeeded in the latter.

A new uniform for players featuring "sexy" shorts has been modeled and Manager Paul Richards has been on the field daily with his coaches to provide Major League presence at the training camp.

When one can talk to Richards or Minnie Minoso, as they watch some two dozen or more non-roster players working out, it's a good simulation of Major League stuff.

And it was all tourists to Florida had in the first weeks of the normal training season. The press did interviews, TV shot film (for a while at least) and Veck footed the expenses. Other owners wondered how long the unpredictable showman of baseball would continue the financial outlay. But Veck was getting his money's worth. His was the only camp operating. It was the focus of attention.

erating. It was the focus of And he was giving 25 or 30 non-roster players a great experience. And like most of his maverick experiments, one has the feeling this one too will pay off.

HHS Enters Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest

Hereford High School has entered the 1976 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest according to Jerry Don George, principal. State champions, in turn, win all-expense trips to the National Championships at Chicago June 28, 29, 30, where they compete for scholarships and other prizes. Their job is to find the malfunctions using classroom procedures, correct them, and restore the cars to perfect running order. Working against the clock, the first team to find and fix all the problems is the winner, provided the team also receives good grades in the written examination and repairs its car perfectly. The teams at the state championships will be looking for a series of malfunctions which are deliberately hidden in new cars to test the knowledge the students have gained in classes in auto mechanics.

Auto mechanic students at the school are competing in their classes to win the opportunity of representing their school in the State Championship contest on May 12, at Austin. The two students selected will be competing in one of the state championships being held in all 50 states this spring under the sponsorship of Plymouth dealers and the State Education Department.

There are two parts to the contest, which has been reorganized and expanded this year for greater high school participation. There is a written examination through which teams qualify for the state champion mechanical competition. The written exams will be held in schools in convenient locations throughout the state. Students who qualify through the examinations proceed to the state championships.

Hereford State Bank Adds New Directors

Hereford State Bank shareholders this week voted to increase the board of directors of the bank to 10 members and filled the new positions with the election of Floyd Cole and Gary R. McQuigg, both longtime residents of Hereford.

The announcement was made Friday by Harlan D. VanderZee, president, and Jeff R. Carlile, executive vice president and trust officer of the bank. The shareholders meeting was held Thursday.

Both officers of the bank expressed "extreme pleasure" at the acceptance of each of the new directors. "Every effort is made to continually keep abreast of the pulse of the community and area, and with the election of Mr. McQuigg and Mr. Cole to our board, we feel the Hereford State Bank will continue to have access to some of the best possible experience and advice available in a rapidly changing agricultural economy," they said.

Cole has been a resident of the Frio Community since having moved there some 30 years ago with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole. He and his wife, Marguerite, have three daughters—Cheryl, Jana and Beverly, and one son, Bill. Cole conducts farming and livestock operations in Castro, Dallam and Ochiltree Counties. He is a director of Cattle-town, Inc., and the family are members of the Frio Baptist Church. McQuigg is a 38-year-old farmer, having farmed all of this adult life in Deaf Smith County.

McQuigg was born in Hatch, New Mexico and moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.R. McQuigg, to Hereford in 1947, being residents of the city for 29 years. He began farming in 1955, after graduation from Hereford High School.

Married to the former Mary Kay Carr in 1961, they are the parents of one son, 6-year-old Mark. McQuigg has been an active member of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, as well as an active leader in numerous agricultural associations.

Family Violence Rampant

Family violence—wife beating, neglect, abandonment, suicide, overdoses, alcoholism and child battering—is on the rise now. But concerned citizens can help lower occurrences of family violence. Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says, "Prevention is the only tool available to combat the problem. Teachers, doctors or youth leaders are constantly involved and observe children and their families and can be a bulwark in the fight against violence by reporting suspected cases to local police," she said.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Physical abuse may take the form of lashing, bashing, suffocating, head-cracking or scalding.

"Adults, parents or spouses may use fists, belts, hard brushes, baseball bats, chemicals, lighted cigarettes, ropes or water hoses. The bodily harm may be contusions, bruises, fractured ribs, internal injuries, broken limbs or infections caused by stomping, being pushed down stairs, dropping from windows or high places, biting or shaking."

The specialist pointed out that violence or abuse isn't only physical mistreatment. It is also emotional, social and mental abuses such as being ill and lacking essential medical care, being deprived of shelter or sleeping arrangements, being sexually abused or exploited, emotionally neglected or exposed to unwholesome or demoralizing circumstances, she said.

"Wife beating is being reported more now than ever before. Causes, symptoms and bodily harm in wife beating cases are no different than in cases of child abuse—except it takes more violence to accomplish the same amount of abuse because of size differences in adults and children," Miss Taylor noted.

She also said that self-inflicted violence is found in suicides, drug overdoses and alcoholism.

"There are about 24,000 suicides in the U.S. each year. Teenagers are being referred to as the 'new alcoholics,' and it's not surprising that the use of alcohol and the use of other drugs are closely related and have similar causes. What is unique is that alcohol is taking over from other drugs, including marijuana, in teenagers' habits today.

"Causes of violence in families range from loss of self-esteem, jealousy, treating others like you were treated, compulsive discipline, taking the 'rap' for someone else, failure or anger," she explained.

Mrs. Hill Honored With Nomination

Members of Hereford Study Club submitted the name of Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. as a candidate for Bicentennial awards at West Texas State University next month. The nomination was made during a meeting Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Melvin Thompson.

Mrs. Cawthon Bryant served as presiding officer during the business session, which touched on several community topics. In lieu of the next scheduled meeting, club members voted to attend a public meeting April 1 concerning the Opportunity Plan, Inc. The women also considered making a contribution to the scholarship program.

An invitation to Thursday's Colonial Green and Silver Tea was read. The fund-raising tea will be held from 3-6 p.m. Thursday in the J.W. Witherspoon home on Plains Ave. The public is welcome to attend.

Mrs. Sam Long, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lyle Holmes, who reviewed the unusual book, "The Kitchen Sink Papers" by Mike Mc Grady. The author, a syndicated columnist, recounts the intriguing events which transpired after he and his wife exchanged roles at home. Although proving unsuccessful on a permanent basis, the McGradys compromised and alternate their duties on a weekly schedule.

Attending the meeting were Mes. Tommy Braddy, Cawthon Bryant, B.F. Cain, George DeBoer, Merlin Kaul, Roy Hartman, Sam Long, Bob Posten, Don Robinson, Art Stoy and Miss Gladys Settler.

Taggart Given Promotion By Marine Corps

Marine Lance Corporal Lyle P. Taggart, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taggart of 201 Fir St., has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the 1st Force Service Regiment, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A former student of Newcastle High School, Newcastle, Wyo., he joined the Marine Corps in November 1974.

Thomas Chosen For Honors

David W. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Thomas of 206 Sunset Dr. Hereford, has been one of eight University of Texas students who has been awarded a $500 scholarship from the J. L. Mosle Memorial Scholarship Fund for excellence in finance studies.

The fund, designed to encourage and stimulate interest in the investment banking business, was established in 1967 by a gift from Rotan, Mosle, Dallas Union, Inc., a securities corporation, in memory of J. Ludwig Mosle of Houston, a founder of the firm.

Thomas was also one of approximately forty students chosen as Goodfellows for the 1976 Cactus, the University of Texas student yearbook.

The selections are based on campus awareness, participation in campus organizations, outstanding leadership and service to the University community, previous awards and honors, and personality. The recipients were selected from approximately 250 nominations.

Joint Program Given To HD Club Members

Sherry Harder, assistant county extension agent, was guest speaker at the Westway Extension Club meeting Thursday morning at REC Medallion Room. Mrs. Gaylon Bryan served as hostess.

Mrs. Harder presented a program concerning the Deaf Smith 4-H program. In a joint program, Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, displayed clothing fashions, pattern styles and fabric samples that are currently in vogue.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Carlton Richardson was elected vice president to replace Mrs. Wayne Porter who has recently moved to Portales, N.M.

Mrs. Lloyd Vaughan announced that the cancer drive will be conducted April 5. Also reminders were made about the 4-H Bean Supper March 30 at Bull Barn. It was announced that the arthritis forum was scheduled April 1 at Community Center, and Homemakers Day is planned April 22 at the Bull Barn.

Mrs. Terry Johnson concluded the business meeting with a council report. Other members present were Mes. Worth Covington, Merlin Kaul, Bill Bookout and James Perkins.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon April 15 to be held in the home of Mrs. Merlin Kaul, 128 Ave. J. The luncheon will be followed by a tour of Deaf Smith County Historical Museum.

Sorghum Producers Challenged To Finance Market Promotion

Lubbock, Tex. — Grain sorghum producers from a five-state area laid groundwork for a $1 million membership drive to promote their crop during the annual meeting of Grain Sorghum Producers Association here last week.

A.W. (Dub) Anthony, Jr. of Friona, Tex., president of the national commodity organization, pointed out that grain sorghum farmers spend only about $25,000 annually for overseas market development for a crop valued at nearly $2 billion. He said that 10 cents an acre, or a minimum $10 GSPA membership, would raise the necessary funds to continue and expand overseas markets.

Anthony added that until farmers accept the responsibility for promoting their own crop and educating potential customers, they cannot achieve their fair share of the nation's economy. "Just the price of a cup of coffee per acre will open new markets for the grain sorghum producer," he said.

His remarks followed an address by Hubert Dyke, vice president of the U.S. Feed Grains Council, during which grain sorghum farmers were warned not to become complacent in the light of growing overseas markets.

Even with a tripling of feed grain exports over the past 15 years to a current annual value of $5 billion, foreign markets cannot be developed and maintained without producer support, Dyke said.

"Now that one acre out of three goes into exports...most of our farmers think they can produce fence to fence to the limit of their ability, and the overseas markets will keep on growing all by themselves," the USFGC executive said.

But Dyke cautioned that the present policy of full production without acreage limitations puts the farmer in the position of being just a bumper crop away from a price-depressing surplus.

During the afternoon business session, members re-elected the current executive committee members. They are Anthony, president; Mabry Foreman of Felt, Okla., first vice president; K.B. Parish of Springlake, secretary-treasurer; Melvin Barton of Dimmitt, John A. Smith of Cameron, Larry Abeldt of Hope, Kan. and J.L. Massey of Robstown, vice presidents.

In other business, GSPA members adopted several resolutions of policy for the coming year. In addition to the GSPA membership campaign, members voted also to:

—Support legislation that would adequately fund a federal regulatory agency to assure complete confidence in the grain grading system.

—Seek enabling legislation that would "allow producers of any commodity to join in a marketing program to help maintain the price of the commodity at the parity level while still providing a systematic flow into the market and not cause undue hardships on the general consumer."

—Support legislation that would require the President to establish a government loan of 100 percent of parity on any commodity placed under export restriction.

—Continue to work for legislation that would establish the commodity loan program at levels equal to the national cost of production and target prices at a minimum of 90 percent of parity.

—Continue to work with state and federal agencies and private industry for adequate supplies of energy at justifiable prices in order to produce necessary food and fiber for domestic and export markets and to continue research toward development of new energy sources.

Swine Shortcourse Is Offered In Plainview

The annual Texas A&M Swine Shortcourse, which in the past has been offered only on the Texas A&M University campus at College Station, this year also will be presented at Plainview, Saturday, Apr. 10.

"Because of the distance to College Station and the number of swine producers on the Texas High Plains," says Gilbert R. Hollis, area Extension swine specialist, "the shortcourse will be offered in this region. It is scheduled just one day following the Texas A&M shortcourse."

Practically the same topics and speakers are slated for the Plainview meeting that will be used at College Station, says Hollis.

Site of the event is the Hale County Agriculture Center. Registration is at 8 a.m. with welcome and introductions at 8:45. The shortcourse is expected to conclude about 4:15 p.m.

Hollis says special emphasis is being placed on sow and boar selection and management.

A lineup of noted swine specialists, university faculty members and industry representatives have been selected for the shortcourse.

Dr. Jerry D. Hawton, Extension swine specialist from University of Minnesota, St.

Paul, is first speaker of the day, talking on modern trends in visual selection of boars and gilts. Hawton is an Extension swine specialist and a noted swine judge.

During the second session, Hawton will evaluate five breeding gilts as part of a type conference. He will be assisted by Buddy Winter and Herman Lorenz, Winter is a Hampshire breeder from Idalou, and Lorenz is a Duroc breeder from Lubbock.

A third session, this one on the future of swine breeding, will be conducted by Roy L. Poage, general manager, DeKalb Swine Research, Inc., DeKalb, Illinois. A former manager of Lubbock Swine Breeders and a Texas master pork producer, Poage will discuss the value of records in a swine breeding program.

The boar's role in disease transmission completes the morning session of the shortcourse. Dr. John P. McAdaragh, a veterinarian with the Department of Veterinary Science at South Dakota State University, Brookings, South Dakota, is speaker. He has conducted research that involves virus isolations from boars known to have reproductive difficulties.

McAdaragh leads off the afternoon session with a presentation on viral related reproductive problems in sows.

Second topic of the afternoon is by Dr. Don Orr, Jr. He will be speaking on boar training and management for commercial production. Orr is assistant professor in the Department of Animal Science at Texas Tech University.

Dr. A.L. Mellierre, research scientist with Eli Lilly Research Laboratory, Greenfield, Indiana, will speak on managing sows and pigs for optimum efficiency.

Dr. T.D. Tanksley, Jr., professor in the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University, will speak on the need for providing minerals for reproductive efficiency in sows.

The vice-president and general manager of Agrow Swine Corporation in Fayetteville, Texas, will discuss record keeping systems. He is Bill Holladay, who is responsible for a 750 sow farrow-to-finish operation and has experienced substantial success in record keeping systems.

Final topic of the day is on current swine nutrition research, to be presented by Dr. T.D. Tanksley, Jr. and Dr. Howard Hesby of the Department of Animal Science, Texas A&M University.

The swine shortcourse is organized and sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is in cooperation with the South Plains Development Program, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Pork Producers Association and Animal Science Department of Texas A&M University.

On The Turnrow

By Jim Stolert

MARCH MUST surely be numbed among the months that test the perseverance of any Texas Panhandle resident.

It is a month in which Mother Nature can decide to turn mellow, gently warming the day with spring-life sunshine, sparkling blue skies and pleasant breezes.

But there is the fickle side of Mother Nature in March too, when the whimsical lady throws a temper tantrum and lashes the land with biting cold winds filled with the grit from a dust-choked sky.

There are many things that must be endured if a person is to live in this country, but I think one of the most difficult is the windstorms.

WHEN THE SKY is colored dirty brown and every rising gust of wind carries more topsoil into the air to obscure the sunlight, when your teeth are covered with grit and the very act of breathing is a chore because of the fine, suffocating dirt blowing everywhere, it is then that you sometimes wonder, why do I stay here and put up with this?

Dad once told me that in this country, every month which contained the letter "R" was likely to be windy. That means that eight months out of every year, we are as likely to have high winds as not. Seems to me like that's not too far wrong either.

Things worth having don't come easy. It took a lot of work and sacrifice to wrest the agricultural way of life we know from the land, and those who made those sacrifices faced a lot of tough conditions to obtain the beginnings of what we now have.

The wind has always been something that's difficult to cope with, especially when you're running the sandfighter, a disc or home and trying to keep the South 40 from blowing away, but that same wind has toughened the hides of our locals and caused them to send their roots down deep.

I guess it comes down to the fact that people around here are even more persistent than the wind, and a breeze isn't going to push us from a place we've made for ourselves.

TURN

THERE ARE A LOT of important tools in farming, but one that should rank right up there with the most important of them would have to be the pocketknife.

They come in all sizes, from massive pigstickers down to tiny manicure marvels, and they have all sorts of blade configurations and combinations.

They're great for any number of things,—scratching away topsoil to check on sprouting crops, opening cans, stripping insulation on wiring, cleaning battery terminals, cutting bindings, opening boxes and seed bags, working stock, whittling, and eating watermelon, just to name a few.

It's a big step in the world when a boy receives his first pocketknife, and somehow, I think a lot of men never quite overcome that fascination and yearning they had for the perfect pocketknife when they were kids.

ONCE YOU START carrying one, (which most farm boys do at an early age) you never quite feel like you're all together unless you feel the familiar bulge of that knife in your pocket.

There are a lot of things a pocketknife should be, and if you think political candidates and farm policy can get a bunch of farmers going, just listen to a group of them trying to decide which type of pocketknife is best.

Two things a pocketknife shouldn't be though,—dull,—and left on the dresser at home.

CowBelles To Observe Ag Day With Rest Stop Locally

Members of the Hereford CowBelles will join other agricultural organizations from throughout the nation in celebrating American Agriculture Day Monday as they host local residents and travellers at a rest stop.

CowBelles plan to locate their booth on Highway 60, near the Pizza Hut and Play House Skating Rink.

Women of the organization will serve coffee, tea, cakes and beef tidbits and will also be telling the story of the CowBelles to their guests.

The booth will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. CowBelles will be using a CB radio to invite passing motorists to stop in.

Hereford's CowBelles are affiliated with the Industry Information Council of the American National Cattlemen's Association and the American National CowBelles, women's auxiliary of the ANCA.

The Agriculture Day observance is being held in order to increase the awareness on the part of Americans of agriculture and agriculture-related products necessary to their way of life.

"Certainly, food prices have risen in recent years, but so have the prices of everything else," commented Della Hutchins, chairman of the local CowBelles project. "American agriculture has more than doubled its productivity in the last 20 years, making it possible for us to spend less of our total income for food. Americans will spend only about 18 per cent of their disposable income on food in 1976, compared with 38 per cent in 1950," she added.

Agriculture is America's largest industry, with assets totaling nearly $600 billion, equal to almost three-fifths of the capital assets of all U.S. corporations.

With cash sales totaling one-fourth of all farm marketing receipts, the beef cattle industry is the largest segment of agriculture.

"Agriculture Day emphasizes that agriculture is vitally important to the American job market. Every job on the farm creates three in related supply and processing businesses. One out of every five jobs in private enterprise is in agriculture and agribusiness," Mrs. Hutchins concluded.

FmHA Has Loans For Soil, Water Projects

Farm owners in Oldham and Deaf Smith County can share in some 150 million-worth of fund funds now available in the nation for loans to develop, conserve and improve land and water resources, according to Melvin L. Hoover, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

Measures to alleviate problems of waste disposal and pollution control on farms may be eligible for financing through this source.

"These funds are available on a first-come, first-serve basis throughout the nation," Hoover said.

He explained that soil and water loans from FmHA can be used to develop water supplies for home use, livestock watering on irrigation. The funds also can be used for drainage projects, to install water or waste facilities associated with pollution abatement and control and to build other structures that contribute to conservation and meet health, safety and environmental requirements.

Funds also may be used to level land, establish permanent pasture, develop farm forests, and to carry out basic soil treatment practices such as liming, fertilizing, and subsoiling.

These loans may be repaid in terms as long as 40 years with an interest rate of five per cent charged on the unpaid principal.

Applications may be obtained at Farmers Home Administration county offices, including the office at 313 West Third Street, Hereford.

The one time you expect to see Zimmatic broken down.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. Before you buy any center pivot irrigation system, be sure to let us tell you about all the advantages of owning a Lindsay Zimmatic.

Pharmacy Initiates

Beta Upsilon chapter of the Rho Chi national pharmacy society of Southwestern State University, Weatherford, Okla., has initiated 30 new members. Included in the group were these six Texans L-R: Seated—Mitchell and James Farrell, Borger, Marian Jean Cox, Gainesville, and William Bruce McAnally, Bonham; standing—Danny Marshall Carroll, Spearman, Danny Edward Reeves, Gainesville, and Daniel Kendon Anderson, Hereford.

Association Names Officers

A slate of officers was officially accepted by the Hereford Chapter of Association of the W's during a meeting Tuesday at Community Center. Appointed to serve were Mrs.

Leon Vogler, president; Mrs. Dennis Farley, vice president; Mrs. Charles Thomas, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Lindell Fisher, telephone chairman.

Acting as presiding officer, Mrs. Vogler discussed "Why We Need to Be Organized." National and local by-laws were read and approved by members present.

Committee duties were explained and assigned on a voluntary basis with positions on various task forces still open to interested persons.

A report of the recent Child Care Licensing Act hearing at Amarillo was given by Mrs. Farley, who said, "One of the provisions of the law, which became effective Jan. 1, is that a person who keeps even one child who is not related to her must be registered."

She continued, "This provision extends the law even to private babysitters. The law provides that the Department of Public Welfare set forth standards to ensure compliance with the new act. "It was the written proposed standards that were the subject of discussion at the hearing."

Association members voted to conduct at least nine meetings each year, tentatively on the second Tuesday of each month. The next meeting is scheduled April 6, a change due to Easter vacation.

Summing up the club's discussion, Mrs. Vogler commented that future programs of the local chapter will possibly include guest speakers, tapes, filmstrips and debates. The topic for the next meeting will be writing effective letters for legislators.

The public, including men as well as women, is invited to attend all Association meetings.

"Our objectives are to understand the role of genetics in birth defects, to improve the quality of life for both parents and children and to encourage the development of parenting skills, starting in the home."

"Also, we want to emphasize the role of good nutrition in the successful outcome of pregnancy, to understand the position of the pregnant adolescent and to emphasize the importance of mother-infant relationships."

Morning session speakers will include Dr. Jon Aase, assistant professor of pediatrics at University of New Mexico; Helene Botsonis, R.N., volunteer state advisor for March of Dimes; and three area FHA officers, Kathy Wilde, Sharon Lindeman and Anita Ortball.

The workshop will consist of four mini workshops and will be held in the Oak Room and Badger Den on the second floor of the College Union Building on the Washington Street campus.

At 2 p.m., Alexis Herman, national director of the Minority Women Employment Program, will open the workshop with a one-hour lecture.

Beginning at 3 p.m., the first two mini workshops are scheduled, while two other mini workshops are scheduled at 4 p.m., said Gwen Reese, supervisor of women's programs at AC.

"Up the Down Escalator," a workshop on how to get a job; will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Moderator for the mini course will be Maurine Travis, assistant director of Amarillo Social Security, and panel members will be Jeff Auld of the Texas Employment Commission, Virginia Eisenburg of the Texas Rehabilitation Commission and Pat Cooper of Federal Employment.

"Slippery Scales of Justice" will be moderated from 3 to 4 p.m. by Greta Mapes, AC reading instructor. The workshop will include the legal facts of women's working laws. Panel members are Elise Silverman, attorney, speaking on women's working rights; Karen Johnson, attorney, speaking on women's legal rights and Caroline Chamblin, president elect of the League of Women Voters, speaking on the Equal Rights Amendment.

The one-day workshop is opened to the public at no charge, said Mrs. Reese.

Comings And Goings At Kings Manor

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. S.H. Murff, of Tulia (they gave us vegetables last summer) visited Miss Avis Thompson who is in Deaf Smith General Hospital.

While here, they also visited Virginia Rose of the Manor.

Monday, Mrs. M.O. Elliott and Mrs. Emma Woltman, also of Tulia, visited their sister, Mrs. Beth Casad of Westgate. They were dinner guests of Virginia Rose. Fancis and Sally Burgess were pop-callers on Virginia Rose and her aunt, Lois Greer.

Another general session of the U.M. Women of First United Methodist Church was held at King's Manor Wednesday March 10th at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Cox called the meeting to order after which the faithful Nettie Slaton Circle served refreshments.

Mrs. Jordan Grooms, chairman of the committee on study of the Prophets, began by calling on Mrs. Earnest Langley, who introduced the author of our study book, written by Everett Tilson. She spoke also of the illustration on the frontispiece.

Then she called on a few talented persons to read Bible passages pertaining to the prophets. She had made a beautiful map of Palestine and showed an enlightening glossary of words and phrases used by Dr. Tilson.

Mrs. Grooms then gave a resume of the prophets, commenting on the chief prophets and their activities.

The group then broke up into very small groups, whose assignments were to look at a list of traits or attitudes of prophets and number those according to most important. Lists were then compared at the end of the sessions.

There was a browsing table loaded with books, pictures, and material pertinent to the prophets.

About forty-five women were in attendance.

PROGRAM BY LA PLATA

Each year we look forward to Bill Devers' choruses from La Plata Junior High School. Well, on Friday morning, here they came trooping in about 70 strong on a bus.

The first group were the seventh graders, about 30 or 35 boys and girls. They began the program with a scriptural round in three parts. This is the "day that the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." Then came a patriotic song, a combination of the Marine Hymn and the "Caisson Song." Interspersed were snappy orders such as "Keep'em Rollin'" or "Call out your numbers 1,2,3."

"Colorado Trail" and the South African song "We're Marching to Praitoria" we recalled by other groups last year, familiar enough to be enjoyed more this year.

"Oh My Darling Clementine" featured boys voices (Poor dear, she drowned because no boy could swim to rescue her.)

Followed "Not alone for Might Empire" (rather for conquest of one's spirit) then "Never Tell Thy Love" (Poignant poetry of William Blake). She might run away.

Next came ninth graders in whom we saw distinct improvements. Evidence positive of the difference even one or two years practice under Mr. Devers can make.

"We Thank Thee Lord," was a good performance.

The last number was "On the Upbeat" as they did "Brighten up the Soul with Sunshine."

Now that's exactly what these youngsters did for a crowd of old fossils who sometimes get the Ho-Hums and need to be stirred up to live and life. Thanks, boys and girls for your willingness to work and then share your art with us.

Mr. Devers has made his name synonymous with good singing in these parts. Lucky the community, church or schools where he serves.

Howard James of Clovis, N.M. and Michael James of Albuquerque, N.M. were recent visitors of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary James of Westgate and also with Louise Vaughan, who lives in a cottage on the Manor Campus. Michael has enlisted in the U.S. Marines and will be leaving for boot camp soon.

WESTGATE NEWS

Thursday was a very different Thursday morning for the residents of Westgate, as the Sunshine Ladies were absent with the Sunshine Cart. Sorry to hear that all of you were ill with the flu. We do wish each of you a speedy recovery and we will be looking forward to you next Thursday.

We had an interesting Bible study Thursday morning with a group coming from the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Doug Manning, pastor, led the group in singing and then sang a solo. Doug is a man with many talents and we certainly appreciated his time and especially his talent of his message in song.

Mrs. Bessie Hill is an interesting speaker and she gave the Bible study. Others coming as visitors were Mmes. John Seivers, Louis Lemons, Sam Long, and Doris Hair. May each of you be blessed for having come our way.

Thursday was birthday time for the residents that have birthdays in March. We have this each month on the second Thursday at 3 p.m. and we welcome each of you that have loved ones with birthdays to come and help them celebrate that special month.

A representative of the United Methodist Women from our neighboring town, Friona, came over and helped one of their former residents, Mrs. Della Osborn to celebrate her birthday. Also Mrs. Lena Olson, Mrs. Clara Frye and Frank Knabe were our March birthday honorees.

The ladies from Friona bringing all the pretty homemade cakes and punch were: Mavons Burnam, Glyra Harrison, Deanne Duke, Sharon White and Allo Reeves.

The birthday honorees were seated at one of the lace-covered tables with the birthday cake as the center piece. The cake was white with a green shamrock in the center with each of the honorees' name on the cake. Each of the residents enjoyed the cake and punch and helping the honorees celebrate.

Mrs. Allo Reeves gave her interesting presentation of the collection of dolls that she has made brides dresses representing each of the First Ladies of the White House.

We do thank each of you ladies for traveling over to Hereford and bringing all of the delicious cakes as well as the most interesting program.

Monday and Tuesday, Ann and I only gave the residents the Monday morning Activities for we traveled to Amarillo with Mrs. Davidson to attend the "Interdisciplinary Approach to Social Care Planning - a Seminar" given at the Amarillo College. Dan Jones from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas, School of Allied Health Sciences, was the instructor of the course.

Those attending the Alice Ward Circle were Mrs. Jessie Boardman, Mrs. Edna Lippard and Mrs. Marie Huntley.

Since Wednesday was March 17 - St. Patrick's Day - all residents and staff members wore name tags that were green shamrocks and wished each other the luck of an Irishman.

Paula was at the piano in the lobby Wednesday a.m. playing and singing to the residents. The residents welcomed Paula's return for she had been absent for a week or two.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

What's happening in and about American gardens? One of the "in" things for today in American Gardening is indoor gardening. It is rapidly becoming one of the chief trends of today. In some areas, it is given the dignified title of "indoor landscaping," which is really applicable, as many have created beauty spots via indoor gardening, at both commercial and residential sites. R.H. Brusking Associates reported that nearly three out of four families in the U.S.A. live with house plants. The average numbers at least ten plants, and it has been augmented in the last year by about six plants, for which purchasing each family paid approximately $19.

In many of the homes where there are plants used for indoor gardening, the young people are taking the initiative. I have noted this to be true here. When we take an overall picture of this new venture in gardening, nationally it means there are more than 500 million dollars spent on new house plant purchases in 50 million homes.

Philodendrons which are decorative foliage plants for homes and other uses, are probably one of the most popular of all the plant families being used so much in indoor gardening. Philodendrons belong to the Arum Family, Araceae family and are found wild in the West Indies and tropical America. The name is derived from phileo, (to love) and dendron, (a tree) and refers to the plant's climbing habit.

There are many reasons why philodendron (to some growers, "ivy") are so popular. First, because they succeed in becoming very attractive houseplants with minimum maintenance. They succeed with less light than most plants and thrive in temperatures between 60 and 72 degrees. They can be grown in both water and soil. Most succeed with soil, except oxycardium does better in water, to which a few pieces of charcoal have been added. On the other hand, well-rooted specimens that are grown in soil benefit from feeding with diluted liquid fertilizer every week or two. They also grow well without being grown in full sunlight, such as in sifted light and artificial lights. They respond under either.

In searching through the reference books, I found many varieties, and it is difficult to suggest what would be the best type to grow. However, the cultivation in pots is practically the same for each of the hundreds of varieties.

When choosing a philodendron for your home or indoor gardening, use care in your selection and always keep in mind the placement it will have when taken to the home. Then what is the objective in purchasing or raising one?

The soil is an important factor. Most of the philodendrons thrive in the following mixture: a soil consisting of equal parts of turfy loam, sand and peat moss, with some chopped charcoal (to sweeten the soil) bits of broken crocks or brick added, forms a good potting medium.

It should have a good consistency of humus; when squeezed in the hand firmly it should show the imprint, yet fall apart easily. Containers, in which they are to be planted, should be filled to one quarter their depth, with the broken pieces of crocks or bricks placed in the bottom and covered with turf of coarse leaves and other bits of humus. This will tend to prevent the drainage from becoming clogged.

Sufficient soil in turn is placed in the pot, so that when the plant is set in position, the top of soil is then placed in the pot, so that when the plant is set in position on the ball of soil, it is 1/2 inches below the rim of the container.

If needed, add more soil around the ball and tamp it carefully, yet well. Soil should be firmly packed, yet not tight or hard. The space left will be that which is to be used for watering.

It is advisable, when watering, to draw the water several hours before used on the plant. Also, it is advisable that it be at least at room temperature. Plants (potted) do not like cold water, any more than we like cold feet.

Propagation can be done by the following methods; air layering, seed, and plants secured from greenhouses or nurseries. In making selection, make sure that they are not diseased and that they have a good clear green color, are clean and look healthy.

After you have purchased or someone has given you a philodendron give it tender loving care and the correct maintenance. Do not overwater; water only when needed. However, philodendrons thrive much better, if they are misted occasionally, especially if the placement has change of temperature or the room temperature is above 72 degrees.

Also, use lukewarm water and balls of soft cotton to clean foliage. Do not let the plant become dusty, or it will not develop as it should. They breathe through their leaves, therefore the pores should be kept open.

Also, there should be some air circulation for the best results. Feed as needed-use a well tested food-Super Thrive or Rapid-Gro-by directions!

Some of the favorites are Philodendron erubescens. It has coppery undersides. The very favorite houseplant in this family is Philodendron oxycardium, which can be used in so many places.

Another favorite is Philodendron radiatum, (commonly known as split). It is also grown under the name of P. dubium. P. hastatum and is one of the most popular for offices or public buildings. It does best if grown against a rough bark or against a stick support. The leaves are large and shaped like elephant ears. Size and color are very attractive, as is the formation of the split P. Horse Head P. is an interesting variety of the "Phil." It is one which needs something to grow on. The shape of the leaves is where its name is derived. Makes a good conversation piece.

A non-climbing type is the P. Wendlandi. It is short-stemmed with paddle-shaped, spreading leaves. When used with other house plants, it adds to the gradation, and tends to make a more interesting collection.

There are many, many others. If I have failed to mention your favorite, please let me know. Do not be afraid to grow the popular philodendron...they are a gardener's friend, especially popular for house plants, however it may be grown in areas, where climatic conditions are suitable, outside, they do well.

Beauty spots, especially of golden hues, are being created by the daffodils, crocus and forsythia. Remember to have such a planting next year and if you wish a contrast use some blue crocus and grape hyacinths. Also, the fragrant large hyacinths not only add color but sweetness.

An especially attractive planting of crocus is at the Harlan Vanderzee home, it is very naturalistic, all nestled "neath the trees.

Mrs. R.W. Mitchell, has had golden bells of forsythia at her house for several weeks. They are most interesting and very pretty from my windows.

Mrs. Carlos Anderson's daffodils are becoming very colorful. I have derived great pleasure from cut flowers, always thrilling to bring a bit of bright spring color into the house.

SUGGESTION: Do you sometimes wish you had a bottle sprinkler. Then, take a discarded Clorox or similar plastic bottle. Punch a pattern like unto a sprinkler on the upper side of the front of the container, fill with water, and sprinkle your favorite plants. Do not forget to make three holes at the back below the neck, this is to let in air, and make sprinkler perform correctly. Ice pick is the ideal gadget to use to make the holes, both for sprinkler and the air holes.

Another gardener said that she had learned that water from her aquarium was good for house plants. The organic deposits in the water seem to strengthen the plants. They did look much healthier, and the fish do not mind.

Local Sources Contribute Over $14,000 To Cancer

Jake Webb, President of the Deaf Smith Unit said this week that Texans gave the American Cancer Society over four and one-half million dollars this past fiscal year. Hereford, and Deaf Smith County residents contributed $14,833.59 of that amount.

"This money is one way of showing the emphasis now being placed on cancer control. New action programs are continuously emerging to help save over half the lives we are now losing from cancer," Webb said.

According to the 1975 Annual Report of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, now available to the public, the Cancer Society has four main program areas: Professional Education, Public Education, Service/Rehabilitation and Research.

Professional Education provides up-to-date information on cancer, diagnosis and treatment to the medical and allied health professions. The past fiscal year, these programs reached over 81,965 physicians, dentists and nurses. Also, 16 clinics and 13 conferences were supported by the American Cancer Society in Texas.

Public Education helps save lives by increasing public awareness and knowledge about cancer, prompting early diagnosis and treatment of the disease. This year over 44,000 programs were presented to an audience of 1,724,337 people. Programs included ACS educational films, physicians and lay speakers, also thousands of exhibits and millions of educational pamphlets. Over 300,000 Texans participated in one or more of the Society's new "Action" Education Programs. The programs offer the public an opportunity to take direct action against cancer through cancer screening such as the pap test, proctoscopic, oral and breast exams. Other Action Programs include Stop Smoking Programs, and Breast Self-Examination demonstrations. Eloise McDougal is the education Chairman for Deaf Smith County.

The Service/Rehabilitation program seeks to save lives, to ease the pains and lighten the many burdens the disease places on its victims and their families. This year, the total number receiving ACS service in Texas was 26,687 Texans. Margaret Carnahan is the service chairman of Deaf Smith County Unit of the ACS. For example, the "Reach to Recovery" program for mastectomy patients served 2,230 women. Other examples; 315 Laryngectomies were given free esophageal speech lessons and 1,037 ostomy patients were visited by ACS volunteers and given instruction on how to cope with their new body functions.

Research is a crucial phase of the ACS activity which enhances the possibility of ending those answers that will be useful to humanity for control of cancer. During 1975, grants in Texas included: 30 National and Texas Division fellowships, and 31 research grants. The total of these grants exceeded $1,774,244. "One further fact here," stated the local president, "for every dollar raised in the State of Texas, the Cancer Society spent $1.04. The additional four cents came to Texas from research grants made by the National Society."

Webb concluded, "I feel that fighting cancer is a local responsibility and a challenge every concerned individual should meet. Every man, woman and child in our community has a stake in the outcome and each has a responsibility to participate in it."

Clothing Trends Seen At Joint Program

Members of North Hereford and Wyche Home Demonstration Clubs assembled in Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room Thursday afternoon for a program on spring fashions.

Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, described the new trends in women's apparel and explained that hemlines are hovering at the knee. Mrs. Shipp commented that pants are here to stay for women and that "geranium" is a color which has recently been introduced in the fashion world.

The speaker illustrated her topic with several photographs, plus dresses from local merchants.

Following the joint program, members of Wyche Extension Club met in the home of Mrs. H.L. Ward for a business session and refreshments. Mrs. L.B. Worthan presided.

Members voted to conduct a garage sale April 8 at the home of Mrs. Ira Ott as a fund-raising project. Mrs. Charles Packard was appointed publicity chairman.

The next meeting is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. April 1 in the home of Mrs. Norman Hodges.

In attendance from Wyche Chapter were Mmes. E.C. Hewitt, Ott, Lewis Fanning; Bob Thuett, W.P. Axe, Leroy Bodkin, Packard, Robert Trowbridge, Paul Jones and Worthan.

Former Resident Weds In Afternoon Ceremony

A former resident of Hereford, Miss Lori Ann Hopson of Abernathy, was the bride of John Thomas Ray of Lubbock in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at Northside Baptist Church of Abernathy. Officiating was the Rev. Murry L. Brewer of Plainview, a former pastor of First Baptist Church of Abernathy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hopson of Abernathy, former Hereford residents, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Levon Ray of Lubbock.

Votive candles entwined with English ivy formed enclosures at the piano and organ and two floral arrangements of coral, ivory and yellow gladioli were placed on either side of the church altar.

Miss Regina Hampton of Amarillo served as maid of honor and Mrs. Randy Jorde of Topeka as the bride's sisters, was the bride's sister.

Don Hannabas of Lufkin was best man and the bridegroom's brother Mickey Ray of College Station, was groomsmen. Escorting guests to their seats were Glen Hunt of Idalou and Steve Womack of Lubbock.

"The Wedding Song" was sung by Mrs. Jerry Gist, who was accompanied by Mrs. Milt Pope, both of Abernathy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a contemporary gown of moon-glow chiffon peau de soie. It was fashioned with a V-shaped neckline and a chiffon capelet draping over the shoulders. The empire waistline tied in a lover's knot at the gowns' side and tiers of graduated chiffon petals formed the skirt.

She carried a cascade of ivory gardenias and feathered chrysanthemums amid streamers of English ivy. As good luck pieces she wore pearls belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Naomi Murrell of Hereford, and a wedding band worn by her grandmother, Mrs. A. N. Hopson, also of Hereford, at her wedding.

Honor attendants wore floor-length dresses of teal blue crepe over sheer voile blouses in a pattern of coral, yellow and teal rosebuds on an ivory background.

The V-shaped necklines and capelet collars repeated the effect of the bride's gown. They carried bouquets of coral, ivory and yellow carnations interspersed with babybreath and tied with ivory ribbon.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of church. Reception assistants included the bride's sisters, Misses Susie and Kristi Hopson, the bride's cousin, Miss Becky Elliott of Canyon and Misses Kelly Henderson and Shari Cecil, both of Abernathy.

The bride's table was centered with a single floral arrangement of blue silk organza roses, babybreath and coral dried flowers.

The three-tiered wedding cake was accented with blue roses and featured a cascade of roses spiraling around the cake. A pair of wedding rings surrounded by flowers support-ted two doves, crowning the cake.

Leaving for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride wore a gabardine ivory pantsuit with beige accessories. The couple will make their home after Saturday at 3004 43rd St. at Lubbock.

The bride is currently employed at the Abernathy Weekly Review as editor. She is a 1972 Hereford High School graduate and attended West Texas State University.

The bridegroom is employed by Texas Tech University Water Resources Dept and Radio Station KLLD of Lubbock. He is currently working on his masters degree at Texas Tech at Lubbock in civil engineering. He received his bachelor of science degree in zoology from Tech in 1973 and is a 1968 graduate of Monterey High School at Lubbock.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening at the Hickory Inn Restaurant at Lubbock.

Bean Supper Scheduled March 30

Tickets are currently on sale for the annual 4-H Bean Supper scheduled from 5-8 p.m. March 30 at the Bull Barn.

Tickets may be purchased from any 4-H member or at the door and one dollar will buy "all the beans you can eat." Proceeds from the event will be used to fund future 4-H trips, including the journey to Washington, D.C. each summer for the National Citizenship Shortcourse.

The junior and senior 4-H'ers selling the most tickets will each win a $25 prize.

Organizational leader for the 4-H Teen Leaders Association, Mrs. Bobby Kendrick, is chairman of the bean supper.

Husbands Are Guests At Dinner

SINCE THAT Miss Hereford crown was placed on her pretty brown curls, Delfine Ulibarri has been busy filling up her social calendar with pageant appearances out-of-town.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ulibarri, the high school senior has accepted an invitation to attend the pageant at Wayland Baptist College March 25-27. She is one of ten beauty queens who have been asked to attend the annual pageant at Plainview.

Although she had previously planned to visit New Orleans during the spring break from school, Delfine's new title has changed her schedule slightly. Instead, the violinist will be scouting around Fort Worth, so that she will be on familiar grounds during the state pageant there this summer.

On the local turf, Delfine will be appearing at the Chamber Fun Breakfast Tuesday morning in the high school cafeteria. Also, she will be riding a float in the All-Girl Rodeo Parade here May 15.

This is change in policy for me as it has never been an inconvenience to take club reports at night, but due to the time-consuming job of preparing a wedding, I would appreciate it if clubs which meet on Tuesday night could give their reports on the phone between 8-9 a.m. Wednesday, in order to appear in the Thursday edition.

Should this cause any problems for you, please call me and I will make special arrangements for your individual situation. This does not in any way mean that I am not available after hours, however, now that I'm acquiring a husband, my time is more limited than in the past.

Your cooperation is always appreciated.

Not many people think that the dictionary is a good book to study.

If you live by high principles, you won't have to tell many people.

People rarely get mad with anyone who says good things about them.

The people who smile often have more friends than the people who frown.

The individual who postpones a good deed is not putting off a bad deed.

Koelzers Attending Southwest Roundup

Betty and Werner Koelzer of Koelzer Photography will have two prints judged during the print competition at the Greater Southwest Roundup in Fort Worth this weekend.

The Koelzers will join approximately 500 other photographers from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico at the Sheraton-Fort Worth Hotel for the five-state meeting which began Saturday morning and will conclude Tuesday noon with the drawing for a Mamiya RB67 camera.

Program highlights during the meeting will include the following speakers: Helen Trotter, craftsman photographer of Chatham, Ontario, Canada, speaking on "The Photographer and the Print Finisher"; master photographer craftsman Donald Jack of Omaha, Neb., presenting "Sixty Ways of Increasing Business"; master photographer craftsman Joe Van Dolah of Kansas City, Mo. discussing methods for improving "Salon Prints for Exhibition"; Ernie Curtis, master photographer craftsman, and Bill Gooch, master photographer, both of Oklahoma City, Okla., portraying "Bridal Portraiture in High Key"; and Roy Thigpen, master photographer craftsman of Mobile, Ala., presenting "Aerial Photography for the Small Studio."

Monday will be set aside as Great Southwest Roundup Day when one photographer from each member state will present a 45 minute program showing and telling how they operate their businesses and what they do to make money and what they do to make better photographs.

Roy Kendrick of Oklahoma City presently serves as president of the Southwest Photographers Association which meets every two years, with the state organizations meeting during the intermittent years. Bill Weaks, master photographer craftsman from Plainview, is directing the activities of the Print Committee for this weekend's convention.

On their way to Fort Worth Friday, the Koelzers, visited their daughter, Jean, a junior student at Texas Tech in Lubbock. On their return trip, they will visit another daughter, Cathy Coln, and her husband, Greg, in Wichita Falls.

Realtor Roundup

Presented by Hereford Board of Realtors
Jeane Coker, President

This is an agreement between a title insurance company and usually a property owner in which the title insurance company agrees to protect or defend the title to the property against claims not excluded in the policy.

Usually the following guarantees and exclusions are made a part of the policy:

It does guarantee you a marketable title. In some cases it agrees only to defend you against any loss resulting from defects in your title.

It does guarantee the person named in the policy—usually the buyer—that they will defend him in any court action brought against him as pertains to the title to the property described in the policy.

It does guarantee that they will defend the title only as it existed on a certain date. Usually on the date it is conveyed to the buyer.

It does guarantee that they will defend the title only up to the dollar amount specified in the policy. Usually it is the price the buyer paid for the property.

It does guarantee the insured against any loss or damage from liens and encumbrances on the property at the time the policy was issued and which are not listed in the exclusions.

It does guarantee the insured against any defects in any mortgages or trust deeds put on the property by the insured at the time or prior to the time the policy was issued.

It does not insure against taxes or assessments that act as liens on the property.

It does not insure against those things that are listed as exclusions in policy when it is issued.

It does not insure against claims that can be determined by an inspection and survey.

You are not ordinarily given a policy of title insurance at closing. You are given a "commitment" by a title company which states it will issue an Owner's Policy to the person to be named as the recipient. With this commitment you do close your house transaction: you do receive the actual policy after closing.

An abstract of Title is a history of the property, and covers what is written. An Owner's Policy of Title covers the history of the property and covers what is written and unwritten. An Owners policy of Title sometimes guarantees an merchantable title while an Abstract of Title never does.

Also an Owners Policy of Title guarantees against a loss as a result of any claims against your title up to the amount of the purchase with some exceptions. An Abstract of Title never makes this guarantee.

You also do not have to have a
