Old Santa To Greet Children Friday Afternoon

AROUND TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen
Mrs. Effa Rutherford has one of the toughest jobs in town. She is taking all of the deeds and documents that have been filed in the County Clerk's office during the past six years — and filing them from numerical order to alphabetical order. From the size of the stack, she will keep busy for days to come.

Printing shops are widely known for the fact that they use towels so long that the towels get stiff and break into pieces when they are dropped. John Olson down at Rockwell Bros. Lumber Yard, however, has a towel which would do credit to any printing shop that ever existed.

A lot of people are finding out the truthfulness of the term, "A Wild Goose Chase." Finis Owens saw his record smashed when John S. Porcher bagged four geese at one flush; Finis' record was three.

Harold Close, Alex Bateman and Bill Davis tell a different story, though; they use Jack Wayland as an alibi. A lot of other hunters, including Fred Brown also have good alibis.

Bill McLean, who is studying medicine at the University of Texas, in Austin, laments the scarcity of cats around the school since medical students started dissecting felines. The disappearance of cats, he says, goes hand in hand with the appearance of irate housewives around the lab.

Workmen have just finished a new irrigation well on the Nestor Glass place south of town. This makes Nestor's second well, and both of them are good ones. The new well is pumping a full 9-inch discharge, and was cased with 14-inch pipe.

Mrs. Dyalitha Brady told Lions Club members the best joke of the week, Wednesday: Two young boys were standing beside a court house, which was under WPA construction. One of the boys asked the other what he wanted to be when he grew up, and the lad replied, "Well, I guess I wanta help them finish this court house."

Joe Evans is a booster for this area if there ever was one. Joe is collecting programs from the banquet last Thursday — and is sending them out to friends and acquaintances because of the facts which the programs contained on

County Teachers Plan Christmas Tree Saturday

The County Teachers' Association will hold their regular monthly meeting in the office of County Superintendent Earl W. Wilson, on Saturday, December 18, at 1:30 o'clock. It was announced today.

The afternoon program will be devoted to distribution of Christmas presents, the teachers having previously drawn names; a Christmas tree will be arranged and Santa Claus will distribute gifts to those attending.

Signal Light To Be Installed On Hiway Crossing

Plans arrived in the office of Mayor C. J. Paddock this week for installation of a special "stop" type signal light at the intersection of Main Street and State Highway 33.

Coming from the office of District Highway Engineer W. Van Housen, the contracts indicated the light will be installed in the near future. Mayor Paddock said that the State Department will install the light and that it will be maintained by the City of Hereford.

All Attendance Records Are Broken At Banquet Thursday

... and the Little Runt Gets the Cob

(An Editorial)

Last Thursday night the people of Hereford and its territory heard an old, old story. True, the story was divested of its usual fine clothes and elaborate gestures — a circumstance which made it all the more forceful.

"The big pig gets all the nubbins." John McCarty, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe and president of the Panhandle Water Conservation Association, in speaking those very words, frankly told our people where they "got off." Mr. McCarty went even further. In talking about co-operation he told us, by the use of comparisons, that co-operation was alright — but warned us not to depend upon Amarillo too much.

This warning, in view of past experiences, should not have been necessary. We have to admire John McCarty for his frankness. At least we know exactly where we stand — and once again, we know what we may expect from Amarillo.

Hereford is not bitter because other points are going to get valuable dams and lakes. In fact, Amarillo will tell you that Hereford was one of the first to join in the movement to get Amarillo's big lake at Umbarger. Hereford is going to send a delegation to Canyon to boost the lake next week. Hereford congratulates Hemphill County, its citizens, Gene Howe and other land owners upon the lake they are to get. All of these lakes mean progress for the Panhandle; they will fill a definite need.

The people of Hereford are not mad, but they are vexed. In the beginning they were told to join the Water Conservation Association to present their case, and to wait — with the assurance that dams would be placed upon basis of merits, and not politics. Deaf Smith County joined the Association and has contributed to its existence from time to time; individuals have spent hundreds of dollars in making contacts, to say nothing of their time and effort. Hereford and its territory have done everything which it has been asked to accomplish. We waited, and were told the same old story:

"The big pig gets the nubbins." Should we blame Amarillo because Hereford is a runt? The answer is, No. Should we blame Amarillo because our people go there to buy merchandise which can be purchased at the same price, or lower, at home? Again the answer is, No! We should be proud, not jealous, to have a neighboring city that is aggressive; we should follow their example and likewise become more aggressive. Our merchants need more initiative. Our newspaper needs more pep and life. Our citizens need more loyalty.

Amarillo used to flatter us with fine phrases and lavish gestures. They used to pat us on the back and say, "Hereford, Old Boy, you are doing a swell job." They used to "kid" us along. Now the big pig has outgrown the little runt until he is sure of him; he shows him around any way he pleases, and says,

"Take what is left, and remember. The Big Pig Gets The Nubbins!"

One of the speakers last Thursday night frankly said he did not come down for the tour, because he did not care to waste the time looking at our country and our developments. A further indication of outright rudeness.

Sometimes we wonder just how far a little pig can be rooted. Even "little runts" get hungry sometimes. The time has come for us to answer the question. Will the little pig ever slip his nose through a crack and wrangle forth a single grain of corn? Will the little pig do like the big pig advises, and put up some fight for his own nubbins? Or will he stand shyly aside and watch the big pig gobble up the corn? In the latter case, he will of course, have what is left — the cob!

Answering just as frankly as Amarillo told us, The Brand says, "Those cobs were bad enough when they were sugar-coated with flattery. Let's get together and root for our share of the nubbins. If a little pig — even a runt — gets nothing but cobs, he will surely die."

Hutson Funeral Services Held At Berger Today

Funeral services for Lee Hutson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hutson, of the Ward Community, were held at 2 o'clock from the First Baptist Church in Berger. Hutson, Hutson County constable, died Tuesday, as a result of bullet wounds inflicted on a dirt road in Carson County leading from White Deer to Berger.

Ben Chapman, Berger policeman, was held in the Fort Worth jail pending arraignment at Panhandle on a charge of murder; he told officers that he had no memory of incidents in connection with

Hopper Eggs In This Area Cause General Alarm

Following a recent visit of R. B. Reppert, entomologist from the State Extension Service, reports from Alex R. Bateman, county agent, stated that this section will be over run by thousands of grasshoppers unless farmers take steps toward curbing their spread.

"Mr. Reppert reported an alarming amount of eggs to have been deposited by grasshoppers in this territory," Bateman said. "In some areas there are as many as 375 eggs per square foot."

He also pointed out that eggs are more dangerous than incoming

VISITORS TOUR SHALLOW WATER BELT AND REA PROJECT

An enthusiastic crowd of more than 300 farmers and business men of the Hereford territory last Thursday night gathered in the First Baptist Church, one of the outstanding Chamber of Commerce banquets of this area. In addition to some 250 persons from this section, representatives from Amarillo, Dimmitt and Dalhart attended and contributed to the success of the meeting.

Coming as the guests of Deaf Smith County, visitors from Amarillo and other towns were Thursday afternoon carried on a short tour of the irrigated district and electrification project. The tour was planned by Jim Hill, chairman of the reception committee; members: H. G. Conkright, Harold Close, C. C. Acker, J. A. Pittman, O. T. Williams, J. G. Evans, John Olson, John Patton, John Roberts, Walter Pickett, Fred W. Hood, Jim Gilliland, Geo. L. Muse, Earl W. Wilson, Mrs. Seth B. Holman, G. W. Brumley, E. S. Ireland, John P. Slaton, Jess Stanford, Ike Crosthwait, John McLean, Frank Gyles, Hubert Freeman, Mont E. Baker, Miles Robertson, A. H. Strou, S. P. Rosson, Wiley Robertson, Ernest Medkief, Alex R. Bateman, Grant Fuller, Alton Fraser, Louie LeGrand, Tom Carter, E. B. Hedrick and Gaston E. Baer.

Attending the banquet was one of the largest crowds to ever assemble in Hereford for such an occasion. An estimated crowd of 300 visitors and residents of this section gathered at the church and filed into the basement for the banquet. Jas. W. Witherspoon, district attorney, was toastmaster, and during the meal introduced visitors from Castro County, Amarillo, and Dalhart.

Judge Jno. P. Slaton gave the welcome address, stressing the importance of cooperation among residents of this section as well as between neighboring towns and cities of the Panhandle. State

Telegraph Office Installs Modern Equipment Here

The Western Union Telegraph Office of Hereford this week underwent a radical change with the installation of a modern Teletypewriter machine. The new machine, resembling a typewriter, is connected with telegraph lines and prints off letters as they come in over the wires. The typewriter has a standard keyboard and in sending the message, the operator merely types them off as an ordinary letter.

The new machine was installed Monday night and went into operation here, Tuesday morning. J. F. Wilson, Amarillo official, remained here Tuesday to check the installation. Miss Peggy Valentine, who has been appointed office manager, will be assisted for two weeks by Miss Nell Williams of Dalhart, who will then turn the office over to Miss Valentine. T. W. Welsh, operator during recent months, has been transferred to Wellington, Texas, where the Morse system is still used.

Telegrams which come to Hereford in the future will come on narrow strips of paper, and will be pasted to the regular form books. The new system, a far cry from the old days when the operator sat on a high stool in the depot, is the most modern offered by the company — and is of the same type used in larger cities of the United States.

Trench Silos Come To Plains

Shown above is an 800-ton trench silo on the Cecil C. Jones place, near Texline. The upper picture shows part of the 1,000 acres of hegarl, maize and kafir, while the lower portion shows the silo before it was filled. Jones is putting down 2,200 tons of silage this year.

Trench silos are sponsored by the Extension Service and advocated as a means of retaining abundant feed yields for spare years, for which reason they are finding popularity in this area. Among those who have silos in this section are Lester Galley, O. G. Hill, Paul Mathers, O. L. Rutherford and F. A. Robbins.

Annual Banquet Honors Footballers, Associated Organizations Tuesday

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS AND PEP SQUAD LEADERS ARE SELECTED

Naming of football captains for the 1938 Whiteface eleven and Pep Squad leaders for next year, climaxed Hereford's annual football banquet in the First Baptist Church here, Tuesday evening, Dec. 14. The banquet was sponsored by mothers of the football squad, the band, the pep club, the Cowhands and the Gastoussers.

Leaders Are Elected

Lettermen of the 1937 squad elected captains at the banquet and announced Paul Foster and E. B. Posey as co-captains for the ensuing year. Pep squad leaders for next year will be Pauline Parker and Faye Crosthwait; they were introduced by Nora Jean Russell and Thama Cawthon, leaders for the past year.

A crowd of more than 200 students, instructors, organization leaders and friends of the organizations gathered for the annual celebration, which started promptly at 7 o'clock.

Invocation was pronounced by C. H. Dillehay, superintendent of

Wet Snow Falls Monday; Brings Needed Moisture

The entire Hereford territory was benefitted this week by snow which brought 35 of an inch of moisture to the area. The moisture came as a boon to wheat farmers of this section who proclaimed a general need for rain or snow. Most of the snow fell in Hereford Monday, and much of it melted as it fell. Sunshine Wednesday melted most of the snow in this section.

While good stands of wheat are reported over this entire area, the lack of moisture has left most of it without sufficient root, and the 35 of an inch this week is expected to start the root growth; continued moisture might result in an abundant yield for the 1938 harvest, but more moisture in the near future will be essential to good yields. Many irrigation farmers have been operating their wells extensively in this section.

Gigantic Parade Of Kiddies Will Welcome Santa

COLORED LIGHTS AND GAY DECORATIONS MARK YULETIDE SEASON

Children and adults alike today awaited Old Santa's annual visit to Hereford tomorrow (Friday) afternoon. Hereford this week took on its gay Yuletide decorations in honor of Santa Claus, and after nightfall colored lights blinked a merry invitation to visitors and shoppers.

Jolly Old Santa today again called the Lions Club and signified his intention of visiting here at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Coming by airplane, Santa will descend upon the town in a rush and will distribute thousands of bags of candy, fruits and nuts to his little friends of this area. He will come direct to the Christmas tree on Main Street—and will also bring his mail bag and collect letters from boys and girls while he is here. Each boy and girl in the area may bring his letter and give it to Old Santa right at the tree.

Plan Big Parade. In appreciation to Santa for his visit, the school children of this section will join in a big parade to greet Santa. C. H. Dillehay, parade supervisor, has arranged the formation for the parade.

The parade will assemble at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets as follows:

- Central School—on Fifth Street, west of Main Street, facing east.
- High School—on Fifth Street, east of Main Street, facing west.
- St. Anthony's School—on Main Street in front of Baptist church, facing south.
- Rural Schools—on Main Street, behind St. Anthony's, in order of district number.

Order of Parade

- Santa Claus, Junior Band, Central School, led by first grades.
- St. Anthony's School.
- Rural Schools, in order of district numbers.
- High School Band.
- Seventh grades and High School, Display of 1938 model cars.

Line of March

The parade will march south on Main Street to Second Street, then one block east and north to Third Street, then left on Third Street to the intersection of Third and Main Streets, where sacks will be given out.

Each group is requested to be in its place a short time before 2:30, so that the parade can begin on time and avoid having other children to stand in line longer than necessary. If Santa Claus is on time, the parade will start on

Contract On Remainder Of Power Project To Be Let On January 4th

Following government approval of Rural Electrification sub-station to be located just east of Hereford, and of the second project of 96 1-2 miles of power lines, it was announced today that contracts on both projects will be let at a meeting in the office of H. V. Housh, supervisor, Tuesday, Jan. 4, 1938.

A government engineer will come to Hereford for the letting. Mr. Housh said, and will approve the contract immediately following the letting in order that actual construction may be rushed. At the present time, 65 miles of lines have been finished on the first 50-mile strip, and are ready to furnish power at once as the sub-station is finished and connections are made. The remaining 15 miles is being delayed until 25 proposed changes have been approved.

A total of $25,000 have been allocated for completion of the entire Deaf Smith project, and $45,000 of this amount has been allocated on loan to commence the string of lines and purchase of appliances.

George Smith Given Post In College Lab

CANYON—Laboratory work in agriculture at West Texas State is being done in a manner considerably more serious and productive than that of many recent years.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY IS GIVEN BY CLASS

Home Makers Class of the Baptist Church, held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. C. E. Carl, Thursday afternoon. Mesdames Earl Lance and W. D. Vaughn were hostesses.

Yuletide greenery and burning red and green tapers marked the decorations.

The meeting opened with a prayer led by Rev. W. E. Barnes and a short business session was held, with Mrs. Joe Kendall, president, in charge. Mrs. R. E. McCullough was in charge of the Christmas program. The group sang "Jingle Bells," and Mrs. C. P. Hussey told "The Legend of the Christmas Stocking." Mesdames Wiley Robertson, Raymond Hawkins and Frank Merritt sang "Silent Night."

The age-old, beautiful story of the "Birth of Christ," was told by Mrs. W. E. Barnes.

A clever contest in which names of givers were revealed as links were broken from a chain, ended in the distribution of gifts, from a gaily decorated tree, by Santa Claus himself.

As an expression of appreciation from the class, Mrs. R. E. McCullough presented Mrs. W. L. Alexander, teacher of the class, with an I. B. S. lamp. The gift was presented with the devotional reading, "Light."

Carry on a class custom, the hostesses were presented with a towel shower.

Refreshments accenting the seasonal note were served to Mesdames: W. L. Alexander, Wiley Robertson, Earl Wilson, O. L. Masie, R. E. McCullough, Joe Kendall, Walter Easter, Frank Merritt, C. P. Hussey, John Hacker, Edgar Sowell, J. B. Sowell, L. J. Matthews, Jeff Robertson, Frank May, Lee Cocanougher, Roy Thompson, Raymond Hawkins, J. B. Whitlow, Edgar Moseley, Miss Odie Matthews, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Carl and the hostesses.

AUXILIARY HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY PROGRAM

The annual Christmas party and program held by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church was given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Close. Hostesses were Mesdames Preston Walker, T. C. Benson, Henry Hastings and Close.

Holiday decorations were used throughout the house. An effective multipane display centered the table in the dining room, while the nativity scene adorned the piano in the living room. A shining star and lighted candles furnished an appropriate setting for the pageant "No Room at the Inn," which was given under the direction of Mrs. Jno. Thoms, assisted by Mesdames Arthur Rogers and T. C. Benson. The theme of the story was built around the manger scene with Mrs. Benson taking the part of Mary, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Silent Night," "Angels From the Realm of Glory," "O Come All Ye Faithful," and "Joy to the World," were used as musical interpretations.

Mrs. Henry Hastings presided over the short business session when plans were made for the third annual banquet for the young people of the church which will be held on December 22.

After a social hour, refreshments reflecting the holiday season were served.

VOCO CLUB RENDERS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Members of the Voco Club presented a Christmas program under the direction of Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, Sunday afternoon at Miss Swisher's Studio, 500 West Third Street.

The entire program featured Christmas music, some ensemble numbers, which will be given in the churches some time during the holiday season. Three numbers from Handel's Messiah were outstanding, also old carols, some of them dating back as far as the sixteenth century.

Decorations carried out a Yuletide theme, suggested by a lovely silver and blue Christmas tree. Refreshments were in keeping with the seasonal motif. Favors were candy toys.

Mesdames D. B. Holder, R. P. Conaway and Ralph White, assisted by Mrs. Harry Whitechurch acted as hostesses for the occasion.

Those taking part were: Mary Frances Holder, Sarah Agnes Bryant, Nancy Millard, Virginia Eric Reed, Betty Jane Rolosen, Nadine Newell, Barbara Burney, Norma Jean McCullough, Bess Frances Caraway, Betty June Whit of Dimmitt, Thelma Hershey, Zelma Hershey, Mrs. Ralph White, Billy Bob Jackson, Bobby Jennings and Mrs. A. O. Thompson.

Although Miss Swisher teaches in a wheel chair, she is carrying on her work, as nearly as possible, just as she did before an accident which occurred a year ago. Now pupils are being enrolled now for the rest of the year.

REBECCA LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS

New officers were elected for the Hereford Chapter, No. 228, of the Rebecca Lodge at the regular December business meeting, held at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Tuesday night. Those chosen were Ruth Rogers, Noble Grand; Ruby Sowell, vice-grand; Vera Young, secretary; Edna Rowe, treasurer and Edna Rowe, was elected as representative to attend the annual Grand Lodge meeting which will be held in Houston some time in March. Edna Fincher was elected alternate. Vera Young was chosen team-captain.

The new officers will be installed at the first regular meeting in January. Vera Sowell will be the installing officer. All members are urged to be present at this meeting.

BUSY BEE SEWING CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Ruby Bee Sewing Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Oliver Rudd, Thursday afternoon. Decorations and refreshments carried out a red and a green Christmas motif.

Members present were Mesdames John Kropff, Russell Hunter, Currie Kropff, Oscar Rutherford, Charles Danforth, Lee Caldwell, John Huntzinger, W. A. Hammock, and the hostess. Visitors were Mesdames Wallace Cox, Carl Kropff, Howard Hershey and Miss Maud Swartz.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party at the home of Miss Swartz on December 16.

JUNIOR BAND MOTHERS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Junior Band Mothers held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium at Central School. Mrs. Louie LeGrand directed the business meeting when the meeting date was changed and regular meetings will be held on the first Tuesday afternoon of each month. Plans were discussed concerning the Picture Show, which will be sponsored by the Band Mothers in the near future. At which time the Junior Band will give concerts each night.

THREE ARE HONORED AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

To honor Mary Louise Dean, Virginia Newell and Floyd Ross, whose birthdays occurred near the same date, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean entertained with a "Birthday Party," Thursday evening, at their home on "B" street. The entertaining rooms were decorated with Christmas suggestions and a birthday cake topped with candles was featured. Appropriate games and contests were enjoyed.

Those attending the party were: Jean Williams, Virginia East, Carolyn Frye, Edith Jackson, Paul Lyons, George McLean, Jack Boydston, Dean Dunlap, Raymond Witherspoon, the honor guest and the hosts.

NEWLY-WEDS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Russell, newly married couple, entertained with a "42" and games party, Friday night, at the home of his father, W. C. Russell in the Progressive community.

Guests included old friends and neighbors in the community. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts, Ira Jeanne Ricketts, Glenn Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Caldwell, Eunice Caldwell, Pete Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Powell and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bowman, Virginia Bowman, William Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Neel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Cockrell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Russell and family, W. C. Russell, Wanda Blagg, Lottie Tyson, Forbus Blake and the hosts.

RUSSIA IS SUBJECT OF STUDY FOR DAWN STUDY CLUB

Russia was the subject of study at the meeting of the Dawn Study Club held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilda Womble.

Mrs. Bessie Smith discussed "Russia in the Past." Mrs. Edna May gave an interesting account of a recent trip to the Rio Grand Valley. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, which will be given at the home of Mrs. Bessie Smith, Dec. 21. Gifts will be exchanged.

Arrangements were made for a basket of food and gifts to be given to a needy family during the holidays. Members present were Mesdames Edda Stewart, Edith Burum, Bessie Smith, Martha Galley, W. P. Caraway, Laura, May, Willie Barnes, Vada White, C. C. Gammill, Olive Frye, Bessie May, Mary Alice Frye, Ruth Womble, Lois Miller and the hostess, Mrs. Fleeta Galley was a guest.

JUNIOR PIONEER CLUB HAS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

Attractive in detail was the Christmas party given for the Junior Pioneer Study Club, Tuesday evening at the country home of Mrs. Bill Edelman, near Black. Mrs. Ralph Roden was assistant hostess.

Club members met at the home of Mrs. Buford Crosthwait at 7 o'clock and went in a group to the Edelman home, where tall, red candles, silver bells and a beautifully decorated tree furnished a yuletide atmosphere for the occasion.

Gifts were distributed from the tree by Miss Edna Daughette. Favors were small green cellophane bags of mints with tiny candy canes serving as handles.

Present were: Alice Evans, Katherine Kester, Bessie Patterson, Billie Whitlow, Nora Alice Day, Virginia Miller, Elizabeth Brunley, Nona Willis, Marguerite Nowell, Gladys Freeman, Ruth Marie Crosthwait, Lois Moore, Virginia Woodford, Louise Fielder, Edna Daughette, Anna K. Huckert, Mavis Campbell and the hostesses.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS HAS HOLIDAY PARTY

Friendship Class of the Methodist Church was entertained with a Holiday Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith Monday night. Christmas greenery and other holiday suggestions decorated the rooms. A decorated tree was featured.

Misses Ona Hammer, Ella Alkman, Mesdames Orpha Click and W. J. Smith were in charge of the entertainment. A variety of games in keeping with the season, furnished diversion and gifts were distributed in a clever contest. A large pie centered the table and as guests drew strings attached to the pie gifts were revealed tied to the strings.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. Sylvester Slagle, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Freeman, Mrs. Ralph White, Mrs. Orpha Click, Lama Beavers, Ella Alkman, Eunice Rutherford, Ethel Rice, Mrs. B. R. Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Endeavor met at its regular meeting Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with 27 members and visitors present.

During the business period a nomination committee consisting of Lottie Tyson, chairman; Betty Cockrell and Glenn Ricketts, was appointed to nominate officers for the next six months period. The committee is to make its report Sunday, December 19. Erma Fay Robinson, Nola Margaret Blue and Betty Cockrell were appointed as a committee to make arrangements and plans for the Christmas Welfare project.

The program was on the subject "Christianity vs. Liquor." Those taking part in the program were Wanda Jean Reed, leader; Ira Jean Ricketts, pianist; Robert Peterson, reading of scripture; Betty Cockrell, presentation of a poem, and Erma Fay Robinson, talk on the subject. A short discussion period was held after the program.

PIONEER STUDY CLUB ENTERTAINS WITH CHRISTMAS TEA

Members of the Pioneer Study Club were entertained with a delightful Christmas Tea, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Boyer.

Guests were seated in the large living room, where gay and festive decorations proclaimed the nearness of the yuletide season. Tall, red tapers burned beneath clusters of red Christmas bells. Santa Claus figures adorned the mantel where stockings hung, bulging with gifts. The program included "The Story of Mary and Her Husband," by Mrs. H. D. Reed, Corals sung by the group, and a gift exchange.

After the program, tea was served in the dining room, where blue and silver carried out the Christmas motif. The room was lighted by blue candles in crystal candelabra. The lace-laid table was covered with a miniature tree of blue and silver and decorated with mistletoe. Mrs. H. D. Reed presided at the silver service.

Gay colored sandwiches and red and green cookies decorated the refreshment plate.

Attending were Mesdames Burl France, A. A. Foster, Carl Frye, F. M. Kester, F. L. Lucas, Wm. McGehee, Wirt Phillips, J. M. Gilliland, Cecil Guseman, Bob Higgins, E. S. Ireland, J. B. Jones, Ray Johnson, Jack Ross, H. D. Reed, T. E. Belger, M. D. Womble, O. T. Williams, O. G. Hill and the hostesses.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB ENTERTAINS WITH YULETIDE PARTY

One of the outstanding social affairs of the holiday season was the annual yuletide party given for members of the Music Study Club, Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Dameron.

Snow flakes gilding by candle-lighted windows added to the holiday atmosphere within, where traditional symbols of the season, the wreath, the candle and the evergreen tree were used as effective decorations.

Gifts were distributed from a lighted tree by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, assisted by Mrs. A. O. Thompson.

"Jingle Bells," "Christmas Time is Here," "Joy to the World," and "The First Noel," were sung by the group, with Miss Swisher as leader.

A salad course reflecting the holiday color motif was served to Mesdames B. M. Wiltshire, O. T.

Williams, J. C. McCracken, C. J. Mountz, Wiley Roberson, S. P. Rosson, A. J. Schroeter, Glenn Snyder, C. R. Smith, W. J. Stanford, A. C. Thompson, A. O. Thompson, C. C. Acker, J. E. Beyer, H. L. Broadwell, J. B. Jones, H. H. Hawkins, Jeff Gilbreath, H. K. Fox, C. C. Ferguson, C. H. Dyar, Troys Carmichael, R. P. Conaway, W. E. Dameron, C. H. Dillehay, Misses Eloyse Pitman and Ruth Conkwright.

The committee in charge included ed Mesdames C. C. Acker, B. M. Wiltshire, H. H. Hawkins, Wiley Roberson, S. P. Rosson, A. C. Thompson and J. E. Beyer.

EASTERN STAR NOTICE

Screen Beauties Phone Numbers Guarded In Safe

Who wants a good telephone number?
If you do, make a raid on the safe of Danke Director LeRoy Prinz, at the Paramount Studios in Hollywood. There reposes a list of telephone numbers that would be worth more than rubles to Hollywood's gay Lotharios.
Many hundreds of girls' names—and telephone numbers—are recorded—and while every name represents a girl lovely enough to be a model, and to be included in the cast of "Artists and Models," new Jack Benny musical, which opens next Sunday at the Star Theatre, the list is not for publication, but only as reference, to aid Prinz in casting future pictures.
The girls, all cast as "background" for Jack Benny, Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Richard Arlen and the other film "greats" who make up the cast, are the pick of Hollywood's feminine beauty contingent, insofar as the most exhaustive tests, tryouts and beauty contests have been able to determine. Every one of the girls has been given a thorough "double-O" by the "Artists and Models" beauty board, consisting of Director Raoul Walsh, Dance Director LeRoy Prinz, and the six greatest living artists—Peter Arno, McClalland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Rube Goldberg, John Lagatta and Russell Patterson—who appear in the film.

Services at the CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Morning worship 11-12 a. m.
Christian Endeavor
Societies 6-7 p. m.
Evening, "White Gifts Service" 7-8 p. m.
Our Bible School and Church attendance were on the increase last Lord's Day. We were happy to have the Hi-Y boys, together with their sponsor, Mr. G. M. Hudson, with us in the evening service. Special music has been arranged for all of the services next Lord's Day. At the morning hour the pastor will preach on the theme, "The Star of Bethlehem." A men's chorus will sing, "We Three Kings of Orient Are," and Mr. Leyton

Branson of Canyon, will sing "There's A Beautiful Star." At the evening hour the choir will sing two anthems: "Hark, A Burst of Heavenly Music," by R. M. Stultz, and "Silent Night," by Gruber-Wetzel. Miss Bettye Bruce Jones will sing two solos in connection with the reading by the pastor of Van Dyke's, "The Other Wise Man." At the close of the service the Manger Scene will be dramatized and the Bible Classes will present their White Gifts for the Juliette-Fowler Homes in Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Redford will leave early next week for Dallas for the holidays and will take the gifts of money, food and clothing to the Home.

Intermediate Endeavorers
Twenty boys and girls were present at the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Sunday. After the business, the group presented their Christmas tree and decorations to the Welfare Association. Lily London led the program. "Why We Celebrate Christmas." Rue Wilson read the Christmas story from Luke, and Katherine Henderson told the story, "Why Jesus Came." All intermediate boys and girls who are not active in some other group are invited to be with us next Sunday at 6 o'clock.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS
Our every-member canvass is not yet complete. Pledges have been coming in a great way, but the budget is not yet fully subscribed. We are in sight of victory, but we will not be satisfied until every member of the church has subscribed his part toward the support of the church program, whether it is a penny a week or more. We can sow sparingly and reap sparingly or we can sow bountifully and reap a rich harvest. This is just as true in Stewardship in money as in the sowing of grain. It is well to remember that "the liberal soul shall be made fat," and to give accordingly.
Last Sunday was a good day from many standpoints. Attendance at Sunday School and church were both better, and collections were good. People are always happy when they are doing things for God. Let's keep it up.
The pastor plans to preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Satisfied with Jesus." Read the second chapter of Luke and join with us in the service.
Sunday night we will have a White Christmas service at the preaching hour. The theme, "White Gifts for the King," will be carried out in Christmas numbers by the orchestra, Boys Choir and Church Choir. Further by Christmas stories and will close by brief words from the pastor. It is our hope that every member of our church and Sunday School and B. T. U. will have a part in this service.

Our gifts of food, clothing, toys, etc., will go to the less fortunate of our town. Please bring all gifts wrapped in white. Money gifts will be sent to Buckner Orphans Home in Dallas. Let's give to Christ by giving to those who are dependent upon Him.
Let's make this season truly Christian and this service spiritual. We welcome all who care to come and have a part.
W. E. BARNES, Pastor.

F. WARD TALKS AT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

J. F. Ward gave an instructive talk on trees and shrubs at the meeting of the Garden Club held Friday afternoon at the court house. Mr. Ward discussed the different types of trees and shrubs, both fruit-bearing and ornamental and discussed at length their care and cultivation.

Others on the program were Mrs. Joyce Kilmer, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, who told "What to do in the Garden in December," and Mrs. H. L. Broadwell who gave an illustrated talk on "Interior and Exterior Christmas Decoration." Mrs. Broadwell showed what can be done with weeds and wild flowers of the plains by the use of paint and cellophane as she explained her display of Christmas decorations.

Those present were Mesdames L. H. Lookingbill, B. E. Roberson, B. C. Roberson, H. L. Broadwell, B. L. Brown, Drew Ridgway, Homer Brumley, A. O. Thompson, J. P. Blanton, Ray Johnson, A. J. Schroeder, F. M. Kester, Miss Lillie Hostetter, J. F. Ward and H. L. Broadwell.

FAST BREAKFAST FOR PEP CLASS LAST SUNDAY MORNING

A number of the members of the Pep Class of the Christian Church gathered in the basement of the Church last Sunday morning to enjoy an hour of fellowship and a good breakfast. Both men and women did the cooking and the washing of dishes. Following the breakfast, the class discussed some proposed Christmas projects in connection with the local community and in connection with contributions to be made to the Juliette-Fowler Old People's and Orphans' Home, in Dallas, which is supported by the Christian churches of Texas. The following members of the class were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Coombes, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trimble, Mr. Clyde Gregg and Frances Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bedford. Also Larry Trimble, F. Lucas, Jr., Dorothy Coombes and John Samuel Coombes, Delmo and Duane Williams, and Richard and Robert Petersen.

The Pep Class meets every Sunday morning at 9:45. Mrs. A. Petersen is president of the class and M. Redford, the pastor, is the teacher. For the past quarter, he has been studying Religion as it functioned in the lives of the Hebrews during the time described in the Book of Judges. Next quarter, the class will take up the study of "Human Nature and Religion."

New members and visitors are always welcome.

KNITTING CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. DAMERON

Members of the Knitting Club were entertained with a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Travis Dameron on Wednesday of last week. Silver and Crystal appointed the table, which was laid with white linen and centered with Christmas flowers and tall red candles in silver holders.

Seated were Mesdames Tom McCollum, Ernest Medkief, O. C. Holt, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., W. J. Stanford, Woodrow Ireland, W. M. Emmons, Mrs. Meade Halle, a guest of the club, and the hostess.

Knitting, sewing and conversation furnished entertainment for the afternoon.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES BROOKS ARE COMPLIMENTED

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brooks, who are to make their home in Shreveport, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon entertained with a bridge-party on Wednesday night, December 7, at their home. Seasonal decorations and bridge accessories carried out a Christmas theme.

High score awards went to Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Milburn.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Grant Fuller, Ernest Medkief, Lee Morgan, Nelson McRight, C. M. Evans, N. E. Milburn, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Willis, the honor guests and the hosts.

CLUB HONORS MEMBER

Mrs. Charles Brooks who left last Saturday for Shreveport, La., where she will make her home, was honor guest at a bridge-luncheon, given Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath Jr. Members of the London Bridge Club were hostesses for the affair, which was in the form of a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Brooks, a member of the club.

The table was laid with lace and centered with a bright-colored gumdrop tree. Tallies for the games and prize wrappings further emphasized the holiday motif.

Gifts were exchanged from a brightly lighted Christmas tree.

High score prize in the games was won by Mrs. Nelson, McRight.

Those attending were Mesdames R. R. Willis, O. C. Holt, Nelson McRight, Ernest Medkief, Emmitt Milburn, Lee Morgan, Mrs. Meade Halle, a guest of the club, the honor and the hostess.

BILLIE STOKER TO RETURN SOON FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

FORT WORTH — Miss Billie Stoker, of Hereford, a student at Texas Christian University here, will leave the campus at noon Saturday, Dec. 18, to spend the two weeks' vacation period at her home.

Almost every organization at T. C. U. has held a Christmas party during the last week or so. All students living out of Fort Worth were entertained Monday evening, at a Christmas dinner in the school dining room.

Enrollment at T. C. U. during the present semester totals 1587, according to Registrar S. W. Hutton, the largest figure since 1929. Of these, 1062 are enrolled in regular day classes and 525 in the evening college.

Billie, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stoker, and is majoring in English. She is a member of the Poetry Club and of

SIX COUNTIES WILL BE REPRESENTED HERE IN SPECIAL SESSION

The United States Department of Agriculture today announced special six-county public hearing to be held in Hereford, Dec. 17, for the purpose of a preliminary examination and survey of run-off and waterflow retardation and soil erosion prevention on the watershed of Upper Red River and its tributaries, above Palo Duro State Park. The hearing will begin at 10 o'clock next Friday morning, and the public is invited to attend.

Representatives from Deaf Smith, Randall, Parmer and Castro Counties in Texas, and from Quay and Curry Counties in New Mexico, will attend the session.

"All interested parties are invited to be present," said H. H. Fennell, district official. "They will be given an opportunity to express their views, especially upon the exact improvements and remedial measures desired, the advisability of the improvements and remedial measures, and the interests that will be benefited thereby, together with monetary benefits expected to accrue therefrom."

Information on the following points will hold prominent attention at the meeting: Extent and character of damage by floods; estimated average reduction in yield due to erosion and loss of runoff water; contour furrows, terraces, contour cultivation, strip cropping, small impounding dams, small water diversion dams, water spreading devices, proper distribution of stock-watering places, grazing control, regrassing of land unsuited for cultivation, and other moisture conservation measures; extent to which land owners, operators and local and state agencies and other interested parties are willing and financially able to cooperate in a program of water conservation, runoff and waterflow and retardation and soil erosion prevention.

Oral statements will be heard at the meeting, and written statements will also be accepted before and at the meeting.

Miss Pollyanna Crawford spent last Sunday with Miss Lottie Allred in Willadoro.

METHODIST WOMEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. D. H. Bryant led the devotional. Reports from the Harvest Day meeting held in Amarillo, last week, were given by Mesdames S. L. Easley, E. W. Harrison and Frank Terrell. At that meeting a gift from Zone Two was presented to Mrs. J. O. Haynes, district of-rice, by Mrs. W. P. Nidder, zone leader, of Bovina.

Annual reports were given and a letter was read from Mrs. T. C. Willett of Lamesa. Mrs. Cawthon Bryant was nominated chairman on arrangements for the box for a needy family.

The next meeting will be held January 5, at which time the following new officers will be installed:

Mrs. J. F. Ward was again chosen president. This is the twenty-seventh year. Mrs. Ward has been president of a Missionary Society and the fifteenth year she has been president of the local society. Mrs. Howard Hershey, vice-president; Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. B. Jones, treasurer; Mrs. I. H. Spratt, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Wm. McGehee, social service; Mrs. C. C. Cox, supt. of supplies; Mrs. E. W. Harrison, supt. of study; Mrs. J. E. Beyer, local supt.; Mrs. Frank Terrell, World Outlook; Mrs. E. B. Hedrick, publicity; Mrs. Fred Millard, kitchen custodian and Mrs. W. J. Stanford, pianist.

ELSIE CLOR CIRCLE FINISHES STUDY PROGRAM

A series of study programs on the book, "The How and Why of the Woman's Missionary Society," under the leadership of Mrs. H. G. Conkright, was completed at the meeting held by Elsie Clor Circle of the Baptist Church at the home of Mrs. Raymond Hawkins, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wiley Roberson conducted the devotional. Mrs. O. T. Williams, general chairman of the W. M. U., gave a talk on the Lottie Moon offering and urged members to co-operate in the drive for funds. The next meeting will be held at the church on Wednesday, December 29.

Y. W. A. HAS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

A Christmas program was featured at the regular meeting of the Y. W. A. of the Baptist Church held at the home of Miss Dot Owen, Monday evening.

The opening prayer was given by Nina Burleson, and Thornton Shirley, president, presided over the business meeting, when it was decided to take part in the White Christmas program, which will be given at the church, Sunday night. Roll call was answered as the story, "The House of Do What You Can," was told by Miss Owen. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Billie Roberson, dealt with "Good Things to All the People." Christmas bells were used as illustrations and Miss Owen conducted the devotional. Mrs. A. O. Thompson read the poem, "We The Heathen." Topics discussed were: "To All People," Odessa Russell; "Great Joy from Many Lands"; "South America," Thornton Shirley; "Europe," Audrey Cockrell; "Palestine and Assyria," Nina Burleson; "North America," Dorothy Funderburg; "Go Preach," Genece Standifer.

Special Christmas music was furnished by Mesdames A. O. Thompson and Billie Roberson. Those attending were: Audrey Cockrell, Nina Burleson, Dorothy Funderburg, Genece Standifer, Thornton Shirley, Mrs. Billie Roberson, Mrs. Edgar Russell and Miss Dot Owen.

The next meeting will be held at the church, Monday evening, Dec. 30.

LAYMAN'S LEAGUE HOLDS REGULAR MONTHLY MEET

Not oysters, but chili, was the menu at the regular monthly meeting of the Laymen's League of the Christian Church last Wednesday night, December 8. Somehow the chili didn't draw the numbers as well as the oysters, but it seems that the cold weather was not sufficiently cold for chili. However, a number of the members were present to hear L. L. Gough of Amarillo, the Governor for the Panhandle District of the Laymen's League, and a former resident of Hereford, deliver a challenging message upon the work that a Laymen's League ought to do.

INTERMEDIATE G. A. ENJOYS CHRISTMAS PARTY TUESDAY

The Intermediate G. A. met Tuesday, Dec. 14, in the home of Bernadine Phillips. Each member was requested to bring a gift. They drew names after all were present and put the gifts on the tree. Mrs. R. E. Perkins played Santa Claus and told a Christmas story.

Those present were Maxine Beach, Joyce and Louise Cross, Annie Jo Owen, Bernadine Phillips, Mollie Jo Robinson, Kitty Kloe Harlin, Grace Marie Bowen, and Mrs. R. E. Perkins.

The next meeting will be the week after Christmas.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. L. Wilson left Tuesday for Slaton, where they will visit for a week or ten days in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Saunders. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Hornbeck, who will visit in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. J. D. Saunders, Jr.

Miss Estelle Gilliland arrived home this week from Los Angeles.

BASKET BALL TEAMS WIN OTHER VICTORIES PAST WEEK

Vega was the victim of another victory for the Hereford girls' basket ball squad. Hereford made goal after goal for a 47 to 8 score over the Vega girls.

Starting off slow, the girls had only a 7 to 2 lead at the end of the first quarter. Then the sextet started scoring. They scored forty more points during the rest of the game. The guards held Vega to three points each the second and third quarters, and blanked them in the fourth period. The Hereford machine piled up their 47 points by continual faking and good passing.

Russell was high point girl, with 12 points. Atchley and Lovelady were two points behind.

The following night, the girls scored 50 points against Bovina's 8, for their highest score so far this year.

It was the same old story for the girls. The first string piles up a large score and the second string holds their own, and even scores more than the opposing side at times. With Lovelady scoring 15 points, Suttle 12, and Russell and Atchley 10 apiece the guards could ease up a bit. The guards did not, for they held Bovina to four field goals, two in each half.

The girls' team gives such an exhibition of passing and guarding that it is certainly a pleasure to watch them. The starting lineup composed of Russell, Atchley and Lovelady at forward, and Cawthon (c), Whitehead, and Snyder at guards have been playing together for three years now and are going to show Hereford what they can do.

Although they put up a grand fight the last half, the Hereford boys lost their third straight game this season. The boys lost to Vega 29 to 25 here, Friday night.

The Whitefaces fell fourteen points behind the first half. They sunk only two field goals and three free shots while Vega had piled up twenty-one points. Hereford missed altogether too many setups for their own good.

The second half, Hereford fared much better. They scored eighteen points to Vega's eight. If there had been much more time left, the boys would have put up an even stiffer fight.

Ashlock was high point man for Hereford with 11 tallies. Halliburton of Vega had 12.

Saturday night, J. C. Vaughn, with 23 points, paced the Hereford team to their first victory, 37 to 12 being the final score over Bovina. Hereford piled up twenty points the first half, while Bovina man-

SENIORS ELECT REPORTER, ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE

The Senior Class meeting was called to order Wednesday, December 8, in the regular meeting place. An athletic representative and class reporter were elected for the remainder of the year. They were Jack Boydston and Evelyn Lovelady.

Mr. Dillehay has given his permission for the Senior Class to make the planned trip to Carlsbad Caverns next spring.

The class party was postponed because of basket ball games scheduled for the next two weeks.

Librarians Present Sponsor With Gift

The Librarians presented Miss Crawford with a picture in the regular library meeting on December 13.

The librarians, Viola Phillips, Glenn Ricketts, Lottie Tyson, Bonnie Jean Smith, Virginia Harman, Mildred Curtsinger and Elise Wilkins, chose this means to express their gratitude toward their sponsor, Mildred Curtsinger acting as representative of the group, presented the picture. It is a large, handpainted water and landscape.

BASKET BALL GIRLS HAVE NEW RULES

The basket ball girls are all working hard to learn the new rules that have been made by the coaches in the A. A. U.

Instead of taking the ball at center after every goal is made, two forwards jump at the beginning of each quarter; the ball is thrown in from under the goal when a goal is made. When the guards have the ball the one who throws it over the black line in the center of the court, to the forward on his side, may go across the black line and play forward until his side loses possession of the ball. That is a general outline of the new rules.

These new rules will first be used by the Hereford team at the Dimmitt Tournament this week end.

ed five points. Bovina scored first, but Hereford then caged a few goals for themselves.

The second half saw Hereford score fourteen points, the third quarter and the second team score three points the last period. Bovina scored seven points to bring their total up to 12.

J. Vaughn and J. C. Vaughn at forward, Ashlock at center, and Nunn (c) and Posey at guards was the starting lineup both games.

B. H. Hopkins Visits School

Mr. B. H. Hopkins, former vocational agriculture teacher and F. A. sponsor, was a visitor in the Hereford High School, last Friday.

Mr. Hopkins is now associated with the Soil Conservation office in Dalhart, Texas, and was in Hereford for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet, last Thursday night.

All the students were glad that Mr. Hopkins paid our school a visit and we hope that if he is ever down Hereford way again, he will come to see us, as he is always welcome.

HLV GIVES FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held Thursday, December 2, 1937, in the Home Economics room of the Hereford High School.

Clinton Massey, president, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers of the evening. Frank Phillips of W. T. S. T. C. was the first speaker, who introduced W. W. Bennett of Dallas, who told of his travels in Europe. Others on the program were A. R. Goodman, sponsor, and Branch Archer, president of the Canyon H. Y.

Supt. C. H. Dillehay and W. J. Stanford, president of the school board, also made talks.

Band Receives New Instruments

Two new French horns and a set of tympani—commonly known as kettle drums, were received this week by the Band Parents' Association for the band.

The French horns are gold plated and their voice is between the cornets and trombones. The tympani is the bass voice of the percussion instruments and tuned with the same notes. They are hand-tuned and fill in a voice in the bass instruments.

The Band Parents, having acquired these new instruments for the band and planning to purchase more in the near future, voted unanimously in their last regular meeting to have insurance of all private and association-owned musical property. This will insure all of the private and association-owned musical property, such as instruments, music, music-stands and uniforms against theft, fire, accidental damage and conveyance damage. This insurance will cover the property in the home, school or wherever the property may be and will be paid in part by assessing each student according to the value of this individual instrument and the association property will be paid by the Band Parents' Association.

Public Speaking Class Presents Christmas Program In Assembly

STUDENTS ARE SORROWFUL

The school has been in sorrow the past few days because of the absence of Miss McMinn, caused from sickness.

Many activities stop when Miss McMinn cannot be here. The Glee Club will be unable to present its Christmas cantata. The entire student body misses her smiling face and charming personality. She is a friend to all, as well as a teacher.

We sincerely hope that she will be able to return soon.

NEW INMATE

Our school has a new inmate. His honorable Johnny is James Isom (I-sum). He enrolled as a Junior. He came here from McLean. When asked his opinion of HHS, James said he liked it very much, but everything was still new to him. He also said everyone was friendly. Keep up the good work, comrades, and make him feel at home.

CORRECTION

In the advertisement last week which announced a free radio contest at the Witherspoon Electric Company, the radio to be awarded was listed as a 1937 model. The advertisement should have read "Free 1938 Model G-E Radio."

Mr. Witherspoon said that the only requirement for entrance in contest will be signing of special entrance blanks at the electric shop on Third Street, and that no purchase will be necessary for entrance.

Committee On Home Economics Is Named Here

A special committee on Home Economics in Education Through Libraries has been appointed for this section, according to announcements today. The committee includes Miss Lillie Hosteter, county librarian; Miss Rheta Sullivan, home economics instructor in Hereford High School, and Mrs. Pink Gilliland, head of the WPA home economics project for county.

One of the chief purposes of the committee is to encourage economics study in the community by furnishing books of the program and content, assisted by organizations and educational groups with newspapers, by home economics workers and by librarians.

"It is no longer enough that homemaker be able to do herself to an all-electric kitchen needs to be able to do to social change in the family community at large," the committee members declared. "It is enough to know values in clothing and shelter; learning live successfully with other people is increasingly important if individual is to have a rich, worthwhile life."

Many books along this line already available in the community and through the library, and committee plans to secure additional books from time to time.

Representative Jack Little of Amarillo made the response on behalf of visiting delegation.
Briefly outlining the Chamber of Commerce program for 1938, A. O. Thompson, president, also reported on accomplishments of the organization for the past year. He stressed the need of a sugar factory, the proposed dam, and a post office for this area.
"REA on the Texas Plains" was the topic of H. V. Hennen, supervisor of the Deaf Smith Rural Electric Co-operative and secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hennen reviewed activities on the power lines in this area, and reported that allocations have been made on the 196 1-2 miles of lines which were sought. He

of the plan with sugar beets. Tests this year reveal gross revenues from sugar beets ranging from $90 to more than $200 per acre.
D. L. McDonald, pioneer in irrigation development in the Hereford area, told of the experiences with beets in the area 25 years ago saying a good yield with a good sugar content was obtained. He lauded the interest in irrigation in the region and suggested the farmers pay particular attention to cattle, alfalfa grain sorghums and cattle. He warned against reaching to far out and overlooking the good things at hand.

John McCarty of the News-Globe spoke on the results possible through community and regional co-operation.
Outstanding on the program was a short play, "How Come Christmas," a Roark Bradford skit, presented by Miss Katherine Kirby, Miss Eloise Pitman, Miss Mary Francis Holder and Mrs. Eva Pitman. The play started the program and met with wholehearted approval of the crowd.
The banquet was served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church and in addition to being one of the largest banquets ever served here, was decidedly one of the best. The menu included: turkey, dressing and gravy, combination salad, candied yams, creole corn, rolls and butter, pumpkin pie and whipped cream and coffee.

Music was furnished during the meal by Pick Harmon's orchestra this part of the program also met with spontaneous approval.
Out-of-town guests who attended the banquet were: Henry Wilkinson, Amarillo; Dan P. Chisum, Amarillo; K. E. Turner, County Judge, Dimmitt; Percy Estes, Dimmitt; O. V. Mayben, Canyon; G. B. Batten, Ben Golding, W. H. Bryner, O. H. Bargett, W. F. Nix, A. A. Meredith, Clay Thornton, Wm. Conway, C. W. Furr, J. O. Hynes, H. W. Blackburn, J. W. Seigel, J. C. Ritter, Paul Boxwell, Jim Golding, Guy McSwain, G. H. Tyson, H. M. Bainer, Chas. W. Whittemburg, E. S. Cancher, H. H. Fennell, C. Loken, G. A. Tomlinson, L. J. Cassell, Col. W. S. Williams, Jim Florey, C. W. Humble, H. C. Smith, Bill Gilstrap, L. Gough, A. W. DeRelle, Joe Stensaas, D. L. McDonald, Bill McDonald, Owsa Curry, E. L. Davis, James C. Foster, John L. McCarty, Mrs. John L. McCarty, Henry M. Pevenhous, C. K. Hughes, W. E. Guffin, Tom Fletcher, R. E. Halcomb, Earl J. Sparks, J. A. Somerville, Gardford Wilkinson, J. D. Anderson, Warren Babb, Bob Crundkinton, all of Amarillo.

"Here we have a natural country for feeding out livestock," he said, and stressed the fact that stock feeding can be more profitable than agriculture, pointing out that this country is fortunate in having access to both industries.
O. T. Williams of the Soil Conservation Service showed a number of motion picture slides illustrating the results obtained from water and soil conservation practices. He declared, "No nation ever goes any higher than its soil."

"There are six and one-half million acre feet of water going to waste annually in the Southern High Plains region," said H. H. Fennell, regional soil conservation chief, in a short address. "The productive capacity of that much water stored in our soil would astound you."
He declared that water conservation practices generally pay for their cost the first year.
Beet Experiences
H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe, discussed the sugar beet experiments in the Panhandle and ventured the opinion that this profitable money crop could be made a success in the Hereford area. He suggested, however, that livestock must be a part of the plan with sugar beets. Tests this year reveal gross revenues from sugar beets ranging from $90 to more than $200 per acre.

D. L. McDonald, pioneer in irrigation development in the Hereford area, told of the experiences with beets in the area 25 years ago saying a good yield with a good sugar content was obtained. He lauded the interest in irrigation in the region and suggested the farmers pay particular attention to cattle, alfalfa grain sorghums and cattle. ## Annual Banquet

Hereford schools, and Rev. W. E. Barnes, acting as toastmaster, made introductory remarks. Rev. Barnes contributed much to the success of the banquet with humorous stories and spicy introductions, which will be the talk of the campus for several weeks to follow; his manner of conducting the banquet met with hearty approval and general applause and laughter.

Elyse Wilkins gave a reading, "Football," which also made a touchdown with the crowd.
Name Letters
R. C. Ashlock, co-captain of the 1937 team, introduced the lettermen for the past season, and each of the following players were given a round of hearty applause by the crowd: Bill Boyer, Bud Bradley, Paul Foster, Ferrill Miles, Harvey Nunn, Ray Nunn, Robert Peterson, E. B. Posey, Jarrell Rutherford, Ernest Schumacher, Frank Venhaus, Jasper Vaughn, J. C. Vaughn and R. C. Ashlock.
Helen Frances Streu was next presented in a saxophone solo, which met with such approval that she was kind enough to render an encore number.

Hudson Is Speaker
G. M. Hudson, the principal speaker of the evening, was introduced as the man who had to have his clothes altered because he has recently gone on a diet—a fact he disapproved when the meal was served. Mr. Hudson spoke on "The Value of Athletics and Its Co-operating Societies to Hereford High School." He pointed out that athletics can prove a liability to a school instead of an asset, but stressed the fact that Hereford is proud of its record for clean, wholesome athletics.

"Athletics can be over-emphasized," he said, and pointed to some schools which place athletics above all else. "Athletics and its affiliated organizations, can work a hardship on individuals; they can result in physical injuries to players, and can give them a distorted mental complex; they can create a spirit of poor sportsmanship."
"However, in Hereford, we are fortunate that most of our players and students have a balanced view."

Switching to the other side of the picture, Mr. Hudson said that athletics are also a form of physical development—and raised the question of how the physical appearance of Rev. Barnes and Mr. Dillehay might have been changed had they had advantage of a balanced athletic program. Likewise, he indicated such organizations as a means to good sportsmanship and improved scholarship among students.

Miss Lois Standifer, accompanied by Mrs. Sherman Morgan, was next presented in a vocal solo, which also met with such approval that an encore number was given. The meal at this point occupied general interest, and proved to be a highlight of the banquet, consisting of tomato cocktail, turkey, dressing and gravy, creamed potatoes, buttered peas, cranberry sauce, celery, tomato and pepper salad, rolls and butter, strawberry whip, wafers and coffee. Table decorations of gay holiday things, individual place cards of football shapes, and red tapers added much to the atmosphere gaiety and the approaching Yuletide season.

Immediately following the meal, Kenneth Lisenbe was presented in a French harp solo; this number was also given hearty approval which demanded an encore.

Gifts For Sponsors
In a series of presentation speeches representative students of various organizations honored their sponsors with gifts. The first presentation was made by Jasper Vaughn, co-captain for 1937, who also announced captains for the 1938 squad. He presented gifts to Coach Tommy McCollum and to John Willoughby, assistant coach. Coach McCollum responded and introduced boys who will not be with the team next year, along with those who will be candidates for the 1938 squad.
Martha Nell Ewton, in behalf of the band, presented a gift to Ralph Smith, director; Jarrell Rutherford, representing the Cowbards, presented a gift to R. A. Muller; John Estes, in behalf of the Gas-housers presented a gift from the youngsters to W. M. Emmons; Nora Jean Russell represented the pep squad in honoring their sponsors, Miss Neville Wrean and Miss Ruby Dutton, with a gift.
Nora Jean Russell and Thama Cawthon introduced leaders of the 1938 pep squad and the group led the crowd in a cheer for mothers who made the banquet possible. Several other yells were given by the audience.

The banquet closed with the school song, "Hall, Alma Mater," by the entire group, accompanied by Virginia Newell, Helen Ann Snyder, Helen Frances Streu, Clifford Estes and Merlin Conklin.

THRIFTY SHEEP CUBES

INGREDIENTS

Milo Head Chop, Cottonseed Meal, Cane Molasses, Yellow Corn Meal, Wheat Bran, Linseed Meal, Soybean Oil Meal, Corn Gluten Feed, Special Steamed Bone Meal, Ground Limestone, 1%, and Salt, 1%.

FEEDING DIRECTIONS

During the past few years tremendous progress has been made through experimentation and research, in feeding of cattle and sheep. More thought and study is being given this problem today. There has been a lot said about protein. Cow's milk contains 3 1-2 per cent protein and wheat pasture 4 per cent protein. Variety and kind of protein is far more important than quantity of protein.

It is an established fact a hen lays the maximum number of eggs when her diet contains a variety of proteins, which provide the necessary vitamins and minerals—the same is true as to beef, milk and mutton production.

FEED THRIFTY CATTLE OR SHEEP CUBES the same as you would Cottonseed Cake, if you want the following results:

FOR CATTLE—

Better Condition.
A Good Milk Flow.
Strong Calves.

Less Trouble at Calving Time.
Cattle on Feed.
Better Finish.

FOR SHEEP—

Lower Death Loss.
Bigger Lamb Crop.
Bigger Wool Clip.

Better Quality of Wool.
Good Milk Flow.
Ewes in Better Condition.

We have Plenty of this Feed in Stock—at Low Prices!

Gray dawn, at two o'clock found them five miles down country. An hour later the flaming three-o'clock sun slanted above the northeast horizon and started swinging up the bright sky.

Craig was heartened by their progress. Seven swift miles, nearly a sixth of the distance to the Bay—and no sign yet of the Chiwaughimis! If he and Sam and Poleon could only hold that fast clip, they might outrun the metis to Resurrection mouth.

He had shaken off his numbness within the first half hour; and the crisp night air and vigorous pace had cleared up his nauseating headache. In better shape in fact than either Sam or Poleon, he was carrying the rifle and dynamite and leading the way.

His two partners were in worse condition than they had told him or than he had reckoned on. With no sleep and very little to eat, they had foot-slogged almost 90 miles and they were badly worn down; but the worst was their snow-blindness.

Sam especially was hard hit. Within two hours after sunrise his inflamed eyes were nearly closed, and his face was contorted with pain. Gradually going blind, he kept stumbling, falling; and on steep slopes or through thick fogues Craig had to lead him by the hand.

Their route, arrow-straight toward the Bay, led across a monotonous succession of stony watersheds and timbered valleys. Up one treeless crest for a glance back; down the opposite slope into the first straggle trees; on down into the valley timber, and up the next granite slope—with little variation that was the story of their trek.

Near eight o'clock Craig paused on a high bare range and glanced back across the watersheds, searching the route they had come. With a shock he saw the five distant man-figures whip over a rocky crest, wing down the western slope and vanish in the timber. The Chiwaughimis! Following the trail with the ferocity of lean March wolves. Less than five miles away, they were traveling almost twice as swiftly as he and his two faltering partners.

"We've got to keep ahead, got to by down fast tracks," he said. He encouraged Poleon and Sam: "We've reeled off eleven miles already. A fourth of the way to the Bay. Every mile is a mile for us. If we can keep out of rifle range till late this afternoon, we can make a running fight of it, string out our five shells to the limit, spin out the slip. But we don't dare let 'em close in now."

He took Sam's arm and hurried down the slope. He knew that the Chiwaughimis would close in, that a death fight was drawing nearer and nearer; but in him was that bulldog quality which kept him battling away where lesser men would have wilted; and so he fought stubbornly for the miles. Each mile brought him closer to the Bay and into territory where by lucky chance they might run across prospectors or Indians and secure weapons.

To stop and try an ambush was suicide, with their five cartridges. A dynamite mine on the back trail was impossible, for they had no way of timing the explosion as the Chiwaughimis passed. There was nothing to do but struggle on and on, till the metis caught up and started the rifle talk. When that happened—well, cross that river when they came to it.

He and Poleon, by themselves, could have kept ahead of the Chiwaughimis, at least for several hours longer; but Sam held them back. By nine o'clock Sam's eyes had swollen shut; he was totally blinded; he had to be led every step of the way.

Steadily and swiftly the metis whittled down the lead. When Craig had first sighted them they were seven ridges behind. In an hour they were but five. By ten o'clock, only three.

They evidently saw that Sam was snowblinded, and guessed that the party had only one rifle, Cesar's missing gun; for they came whipping over the ridges without pausing to scout out possible ambushes.

One of them, swifter or more daring than the others, had drawn away out in front. Craig thought at first that this metis was intending to circle around, head them off and hold them till the others caught up. But the man showed no signs of that. Instead of swinging to one side, he kept straight on the trail. Outstripping the other half breeds, he drew closer and closer till he was within long rifle range.

Whirling on a hilltop for a glance at this lone pursuer, Craig saw him, only two ridges behind, and recognized him by the bright-colored ceinture fleches that he wore. The man was Cesar Chiwaughim.

"We got to stop and peek him off, Craig," Poleon panted, as they hurried down the boulder slope and into the trees.

"No, not here. We'll peek him off, but not here," Craig answered, leading the way across an icy torrent in the little valley. "We've got to make it up this slope and over the top. Then, while you hurry on with Sam, I'll stop just over the ridge line, and wait for him to come whooping across. He'll run headlong into my ambush, that way; and I'll not only get him but his rifle and cartridges too."

The hill was steep and tollsome. Fairly pulling Sam along, Craig smashed through the buckbrush, reached the belt of scraggly timber, climbed through it to the bare slope above, and reared for the rocky crest.

They had come within 20 yards of it, when—kri-ling!—a sharp-sounding rifle cracked, across the valley. A bullet zinged over their heads, glanced off a granite rock and sang its ricochet song out through the air.

"Get on over the ridge!" Craig yelled at Poleon, who whirled to look at the Chiwaughim. "Sam come on—faster!"

Kri-ling-ling—the savage sent a stream of steel-packets across at them. A bullet hit the stock of Craig's gun and knocked the weapon out of his hand. He grabbed the rifle up again and guided Sam over a stretch of slippery ice-hard snow. A second bullet burned through his jacket sleeve and seared along his forearm—a red-hot flash of pain. He swung Sam around a boulder that barred their way. Only a dozen feet to the top. Poleon was already there. Kri-ling! Sam stumbled and fell, tearing loose Craig's grasp. Craig bent and seized his arm. "Sam! S-r-ramble up! It's only a jump—"

He broke off. Sam did not get up or answer. His arm was limp, his whole body had gone limp. He rolled over, blood trickling from his mouth; and lay still.

In horror Craig gazed down at him and saw that he had been shot through the head and instantly killed.

Poleon came running back down to help, thinking Sam had merely been wounded. Craig lifted his eyes from the body of his dead partner, and looked across the valley. A quarter way down the opposite slope, Cesar Chiwaughim was kneeling in a patch of gray snow and clipping a fresh magazine into his gun. He was yelling, a taunting, exultant yell, at having killed one of the three white men.

A fury swept Craig. He jerked up rifle, steadied it against the boulder, took quick aim. At his first shot Cesar Chiwaughim cut short his yelling, leaped up, and sprang down the slope toward a clump of blackish rocks. Craig's second bullet hit him, for he lurched and fell to his knees; but he scrambled up, panic-stricken, and scurried on toward the rock shelter.

He did reach it but not alive. For one of Craig's vengeance-screaming bullets struck him squarely, knocked him off his feet, spun him around; he fell in a sprawly heap, rolled slowly down the steep slope, and lodged against those blackish boulders where he had thought to find safety.

Across Sam's body Craig and Poleon looked at each other in a daze of disbelief. Sam was dead. They could not realize it. Poleon bent and shook him by the arm. "Sam—Sam!"

Craig touched Poleon's shoulder. "Don't Poleon. Don't you see that he—that he's gone? You leave here; you hurry on. I'm going to whip across and get that Chiwaughim's gun and shells."

"You can't do it. Dose utters are too close."

"I've got to! Where are those others?"

"Dey're coming op dat east slope now! I saw 'em—from on top dis ridge, wile you was helping Sam. You can't ever make it."

Craig groaned at the evil luck. Except for that one fatal bullet which struck Sam down, they would have got across the ridge-line; he would have waylaid Cesar Chiwaughim, secured the bre-d's rifle and precious cartridges.

Poleon stooped, picked up Craig's empty shells from the snow, and silently held them in his palm, for Craig to see.

"I— shot five times!" Craig jerked out. "I didn't know, didn't realize—"

The rifle slipped from his hands to the ground. He let it lie. It was useless. He had shot all their cartridges.

"It's aw-right, Craig," Poleon said. "You had to keel de man dat keeled Sam."

After a few moments the two of them turned away from the body of their dead partner, and went on. They had no weapon or defense now, but they were thinking less about their own hopeless plight than about Sam, lying back there, stark and lifeless.

The Chiwaughimis finally trapped them, late that afternoon, in a little timbered valley 12 miles from the Bay.

With the Chiwaughimis only 700 yards behind and occasionally dropping a splatter of bullets around them, they had plunged down into the valley, waded breast-deep across its rushing torrent, and started up the slope opposite. Before they were out of the timber, the four Chiwaughimis came whipping over the ridge, and ran part way down the west slope. Glancing back, Craig saw them halt, there on the hillside, and wait, with their rifles at ready.

He looked up at the slope ahead of him and Poleon. Steep and bare, it was a suicidal gantlet, with those four deadly rifles less than 350 yards distant. The Chiwaughimis were only hoping that Poleon and he would venture into the open and try to climb that slope.

In desperation he swung down valley with Poleon in order to keep to timber, which gave them at least a scant protection from those pitiless rifles.

In that move too, he was speedily headed off. One of the metis left the other three and started south along the open slope. Craig thought that he recognized the man as Lupe, but he could not be sure of this, for his own eyes were stinging and watering after 15 hours of that blinding white glare.

The half-breed easily passed them up, and ran on south to a place where the belt of timber was broken and the valley was bare. There he crouched down and waited, squarely blocking their path.

Like a trapped creature Craig stopped and looked around him for a way of escape. There was no way. He was cornered, he and the now blinded Poleon, in that drogue of black spruce.

The three metis on the west slope had moved down to timber edge, down to easy rifle range; and now their guns began backing at him and Poleon. Bullets started singing around them, snapping twigs from the spruces, splitting into the tree boles, zinging murderously close.

Thirty yards ahead Craig saw a little tangle of backbrush and boulders. If he and Poleon could squeeze down among those rocks and find shelter, they might force the Chiwaughimis to come near enough that he could fling a dynamite stick at them.

He made a break for the refuge, dragging Poleon along. A bullet hit Poleon, but the huge fellow merely grunted and plowed on, following Craig like a blinded bull moose. Then a screaming steel-jacket hit Craig. He felt a sudden terrific pain-blow in his right ankle, his leg gave way, he fell to his knees, at the edge of the tangle. He tried to stand up again, but his leg crumpled. Looking down at his shoe-pac, he saw that his ankle had been hit and shattered.

Groggy from bullet shock, he crawled on hands and knees into the tangle, wedged Poleon into a secure niche between two rocks, and then untied the dynamite bundle.

Down valley the single metis yelled a sharp order at the other three. In spite of pain and groggi-ness Craig recognized the voice as Lupe's.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and if you get the genuine product and what you want. (Adv.)

WELCOME NEW STUDENTS

Hereford High School is glad to have two new students, Jack Hawkins and James Isom. Jack is a previous member of the Hobart High School in Oklahoma, and James is a former student of McLean High School.

The students of Hereford High School are glad to have these two added to the student body and hope that they can learn to feel as much at home here as they did in their former home.

F. H. A. HAVE CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

What shall I give her? What can I give him? Would it be all right to give him (or her) this? How am I going to wrap it? These questions were asked and answered at the informal meeting of the F. H. A. girls at the home of Doria Elaine Dillehay, Wednesday night, December 8.

Margaret Higgins gave suggestions on what to give to boy and girl friends; Billy Davis gave a list of some appreciative and inexpensive gifts; and Mary Tiefert demonstrated the wrapping of gifts and gave several attractive ways to wrap different types of gifts.

The high school girls' quartette sang "The Hills of Bethlehem," and Marion Kuper read a poem. Preceding the program there was a discussion of ways to make money. It was decided that the girls would make and sell candy at basket ball games if possible.

Santa Is Coming

Hurrah! Hurrah! School is out at 2:15 o'clock and everyone gets to march down and see Santa come in his airplane, Friday, December 17.

We have all been promised a sack of candy and a free picture show. Gee, but we are glad that all of us HHS students are so good that Santa remembered to make us his annual visit this year.

Adrian Malador Basket Ball TEAM

Seven boys are coming out for basketball. They are practicing on passing the ball at present. Ray Long, Clifford Chapman, and Jake Fortenberry will be out Monday, December 12. They have been delayed on account of playing on the Wildcat football team.

Social Courtesies Needed

Social courtesies are an essential necessity needed in the school room. There should be more courtesy shown to the teachers and to each other by the students. Do not be noisy when a teacher leaves the room—it disturbs other students. Do not loaf in the library, for conversational purposes, as it hinders some students who are trying to concentrate on a reference. Courtesy is needed in the outside world as well as in school, and in order to acquire more perfect ease in using courtesy, we must practice it in our everyday life.

Tip on Health: When you go out of doors in cold, damp weather, do you go without a coat or cap, or do you wrap up carefully so you can keep warm?

Seniors Select Rings: Thursday, December 9, another ring salesman called on the seniors; however, he was more fortunate than the others have been.

The girls wanted to get bracelets, but decided it would be better to wait until after Christmas, when the salesman is to come again. The bracelets are very mod-

Friend

Of all the blessings Heaven doth send,
Of all the gifts that life doth lend,
Of all the rewards the upmost end,

Of joy the essence and the blend,
Here's to the one who'll not pretend,
But is, and stays—the steadfast friend.

DEBATE CLUB HAS INTERESTING DEBATE

The Debate Club met December 8, for a very excellent debate on the state question, Resolved, That Texas Should Have a Unicameral system.

Those on the affirmative side were June Dameron and Elma Shugart. Those on the negative side were Glenn Ricketts and William Bowman. The debate was a tie.

BOYS' HI-Y ATTEND CHURCH

On Sunday night, December 12, the members of the HI-Y, accompanied by their sponsor, Mr. G. M. Hudson, were guests of the First Christian Church of Hereford. Rev. H. M. Redford delivered a special sermon for the HI-Y, entitled "An All-Round Boy."

The HI-Y has voted to go to church every second Sunday of each month beginning with the First Christian, then the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian, which are the only churches represented.

Although the HI-Y boasts a total membership of 18, only 10 boys were at church Sunday night. The ones that were absent without a good excuse will be given the "hot hand." The HI-Y voted unanimously to give the "hot hand" to the absent members.

Christmas Holidays Are Here

Christmas holidays will soon be here! Yes, the Hereford schools will turn out December 17, and classes will not be resumed again until January 3. This is an unusually long vacation and the students want to thank the school board for voting this vacation.

Freshmen Meet

A meeting of the Freshman class was called to order by Calvin Brumley, December 8, 1937, in the regular meeting place.

The representative of the Student Council gave a report on their last meeting.

Boy Scout Meeting

The Boy Scout meeting, Monday night, December 5, was a very uniform meeting. The Scouts started by playing "pass ball." Then Mr. Baker and Clifford Chapman took tests from the boys as follows: Ray Long, George Worsham, J. J. Carter, Edward Chapman, Jim Morris, Robert Lee Morgan, Verne Jacobson, Robert Speed, and Jimmie Ross.

Up-to-Date For Girls

1. The first way to make a hit is to be ready on time for any date.

2. Be careful in choosing color

7. Boys have never loved "Gold-diggers!"

Why?

1. Does Miss Rigler talk to Jean Williams so much about her posture?

2. Does Mr. Willoughby ask J. C. Vaughn the same question so many times when he knows J. C. can't answer it?

3. Isn't Charles Virden going to check anymore books out of the library?

4. Does Mr. Hudson think Andy should stop courting all the girls?

5. Does Mr. Muller's shorthand class remind him of a circus?

6. Does this new boy, James Isom, always have a match in his mouth?

GIRLS' BASKET BALL IS READY FOR TOURNAMENT

The girls' basket ball team showed that they are in good shape and ready for the Dimmitt Tournament next week end, by their playing Friday and Saturday nights. For the Vega game, the starting line-ups are:

Loyd, Walcott, McCombs, Binford, Campsey and Artz. The Hereford line-up was: Russell, Lovelady, Atchley, Snyder, Whitehead and Cawthon.

Vega made two free shots and one field goal.

Hereford made eight free shots and sixteen field goals. The score ended with 47-8 in Hereford's favor. Russell and Lovelady tied for high points with their achievement being 14 points each. Atchley followed closely, making 12 points.

Bovina Game

—Bovina line-up: Holmes, Davies, Davidson, Gaines, Venable and Dial. Hereford line-up: Lovelady, Russell, Atchley, Cawthon, Whitehead and Snyder. The girls played well and the game ended with a high score of 50-10, in the favor of Hereford.

Girls' Hi-Y Gives Christmas Program

"Who got your present?" "What did you bring?" "May I see your Christmas card?" These were included in the whispers floating around the auditorium after an exchange of presents and the giving of Christmas greeting cards to the girls of the Girls' Hi-Y by their sponsor, Miss Crawford, in their meeting on December 13.

The following Christmas program was given: "Silent Night," by the club; scripture, Dorothy Trimble; vocal duet, "Joy to the World," Virginia Earl Reed and Nancy Millard; poem, "The Wise Men" by Mary Tiefert.

Kiddies, Bring Your Cards To Old Santa At Christmas Tree Friday

Santa Claus today issued his last call for letters from his little friends over this section, and made special arrangements to publish the entire group in The Brand next week.

Old Santa said he will be glad for all boys and girls to bring their letters to him personally at the big Christmas tree party in Hereford, or to leave them for him at The Brand Office. He urged all kiddies to sign their letters, and said that he would absolutely have to have them by Saturday, Dec. 18.

county, made by Mrs. Dyalinda Brady, County Welfare Worker.

Mrs. Brady stated that as a result of the county-wide meeting of representatives of county and city organizations October 11, thirty-seven groups and organizations for the city and county have undertaken projects, or have indicated their intention of doing so. Records show that twenty-seven different contributions have been made by individuals, business organizations, church groups, school organizations, civic and study clubs. The major project, which is being carried on by the county is of course, the Cafeteria which is taking care of 40 needy children daily. Other contributions have been made and are being made to meet needs as outlined by the County Welfare organization. Mrs. Brady and members of the committee wish to express to the citizens of Hereford and Deaf Smith County their sincere appreciation for this unusual response. At the same time the committee wishes to remind our good citizens that the winter is young and the need is great. We sincerely solicit your continued and increasing support." Rev. Redford said.

Some groups are preparing Christmas baskets for needy families. Such baskets should be in the County Welfare Office by Dec. 20 and 21, in order that deliveries can be made Dec. 22 and Dec. 23.

Hutson Funeral

the slaying of Lee Hutson.

Hutson, Warren and Chapman were returning to Borger by automobile, after having testified in a district court trial at Wheeler.

Warren told the district attorney, the latter said, that Chapman ordered him to stop the car, telling him, "I'm going to kill you both."

The car was stopped, Warren getting out on the left side and Hutson on the right. Chapman, riding in the rear seat, opened fire on Hutson, Warren said, one bullet striking him in the back of the head. Warren left afoot and went to Panhandle, where he reported to Sheriff Harris.

Funeral Set for Today

Chapman was taken in custody by Harris, his deputy, John White, and Sheriff Dan Hardee of Borger, together with Warren.

Hutson, a resident of Borger for ten years, had served as city policeman most of the time. He was a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and enlisted in Battery of the 35th Coast Artillery at Camp Kearney. He served as second class gunner and participated in the battle of St. Mihiel, Meuse, France, and Argonne. He was discharged at Camp Kearney, February 25, 1919. He also lived in Hereford for a short time.

Hutson married Miss Toy Mayo of Goodnight in 1922. He was a member of the Methodist Church of Goodnight.

Surviving are his wife and two sons, Edwin 14, and Wayne 10; three brothers, John L. of Borger, Sam of Littlefield, and Bill of Hereford; five sisters, Mrs. Lillie Saffron of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Naomi Williams of Abernathy, Texas, Mrs. Lucille Sartien of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Beatrice Wharton, Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Howard Ledbetter of Hereford; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hutson of Hereford.

to us next year."

He also pointed out that the eggs were laid by migratory hoppers, distinguished by blue wings with yellow borders, and not by native, or yellow hoppers.

McConnell Youth Buried Friday

Bascomb McConnell, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McConnell of Amarillo, died in an Amarillo Sanitarium, last Thursday morning as a result of pneumonia, which set up a few days after he had been operated on for appendicitis.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. Harvey McConnell was a resident of Hereford for a number of years and is the brother of George McConnell of Hereford. Harvey is now employed by the News-Globe in Amarillo.

Hereford is Ready

The occasion will mark Santa's sixth annual visit to Hereford. Sponsored by the Lions Club, the act a lot is made possible through the efforts and co-operation of the merchants of Hereford. Stores have also gone in heavily on Christmas stocks this season and are showing merchandise which is not to be found in many of the larger cities of Texas; merchants have also decorated extensively this year to make Hereford a more enjoyable place to shop.

Letters have already been written to rural schools of this area, inviting them to participate in the parade and the big Christmas tree hoppers, because, for a period of three weeks after they hatch, the grasshoppers do not have wings. Experiments have shown that during the three-week period they do more damage than at any other time, flying away when their wings are matured.

"We have poison on hand and will furnish poison grain when the time comes to kill the grasshoppers," Bateman said. "Every farmer is urged to watch closely for signs of hoppers, and to report them as soon as they begin to hatch out. This will probably be along in May — and if poison grain is spread then much of the damage may be averted. Lack of co-operation in stamping out the grasshoppers may prove disastrous
