"Just Little Girls At Play, But What Darlings," Local Girl Describes Quins

County Teacher Tells Of Seeing Famous Dionnes

PAPA DIONNE PROFITS BY SELLING OF SOUVENIRS

The following article, by Miss Stella Fortenberry, was written by special request by The Brand following Miss Fortenberry's return from a special educational tour, sponsored this summer by West Texas State Teachers College.

BY STELLA FORTENBERRY

The sight of the five blooming, alert and lovely little girls who celebrated their third birthday this spring in Calendar, Ontario, is as great a miracle almost as the coming of spring itself to the Popular and Birch forest that fringes the northern lakes nearby.

Five Husky Girls
Yet, they are five husky, healthy, sparking little girls who are entering their fourth year of life with the greatest zest. Yvonne, Annette, Emilie, Cecile, and Marie have duties and responsibilities, and are learning to take care of themselves. The matter of putting away their personal things presented a problem at first, for none of the children could read her name. Symbols were used to solve this problem. Yvonne a bird; for Annette, a maple leaf; for Cecile, a turkey; for Emilie, a tulip; for Marie a little dog begging.

The same principles are applied to the outdoor playground. The equipment is kept in a storehouse at the end of the observation pavilion. Each child must put up her own toys.

Many Visitors There
We visited the Quins July 27, and were allowed to see them from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. and from 2:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. Already a couple of lines of people were waiting one-half mile in length, and people were still coming in droves.

We found the children in their outdoor playground which was a large room, made of glass in order that they might be seen — but they could not see us. We were allowed to pass through the hall, and observe about three minutes. Policemen were on guard, and a nurse stays with the children to settle all misunderstandings.

They Look Alike
To strangers, who see the children for the first time and perhaps the only time, they all look alike and act much alike. But to the nurses, to the parents, and even to their other brothers and sisters, there is a vast difference.

Papa Sells Autographs
The children were dressed in little tan, winter coats and caps, and it was cold enough for us to wish for our winter coats. We saw their father, who is in charge of a prosperous business in souvenirs, pictures, and autographs. We also saw their sister, nine years of age, who favors them very much and their little brother, 11 years of age, in the father's shop.

The family lives just across the road in what appeared to be a four-room house, built of wood. The hospital is also constructed of wood.

We had expected Calendar to be rather a large town, but were disappointed to find that it is just a small village.

Yvonne was the first to receive a proposal of marriage; the proposal came from a nine-year-old boy who says he will be president after Roosevelt.

Blooming with health, alert, bright and pretty, the five little Dionne Quintuplets have every reason to hail their third birthday with glee, and to view their four sisters with joy and happiness. They are learning to speak their native tongue — French — first, and all five are lovers of music, dancing and swimming.

Although one of the most interesting, the visit in Calendar by Miss Fortenberry was only one of the many places of importance on the tour. The educational tour this summer included a party of 53 students from the college at Canyon.

They also visited three days in Washington, while Congress was in session and were dinner guests of Congressman Marvin Jones of this district, also special guests of Senator Tom Connally. They inspected the new Supreme Court building and went on a special tour through the White House.

While on the tour they visited 22 states, returning to Texas over a southern route.

Miss Fortenberry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fortenberry of the Bippus community, will teach during the coming year in the Walcott Schools in this county.

Shucks, it bent! And like many another lady before her, Emilie has to resort to the claw to remove the nail that just wouldn't go straight. Cecile, left, seems sympathetic, Annette watches closely, Yvonne already has turned to something else, but Marie looks as though she was getting ready for another attempt, and this time the nail will go straight. Just five little girls at play, but Miss Stella Fortenberry in the accompanying article, says they have to put their toys away when play hour is over.

School Budget For Ensuing Year Is Listed

TAX RATE WILL REMAIN SAME AS SEEN HERE FOR PAST YEAR

BY C. H. DILLEHAY

The budget for 1937-38 which was recently adopted for the Hereford Independent School District provided an appropriation of one hundred and forty-five dollars more for the total current expense than was actually expended during the year that closed August 31, 1937. This may be increased if the enrollment forces the addition of one or more teachers, who have been dropped during recent years. The increase is small in spite of the fact that the twenty-two dollar per capita apportionment made by the State, made it possible to restore a part of the heavy cuts in salaries which were made during the depression. The reduction of the teaching force by the elimination of the services of a half time teacher is contemplated in the budget estimates.

Items Are Given
The first figure for each item below shows the amount actually expended for the year just closed, and the second gives the expected expenditure for the new year. General Control, $6,275, $5,505; Instructional Service, $29,000, $27,750; Operation of School Plant, $4,008, $4,100; Maintenance of Plant, $413, $500; Insurance, $674, $660; Total Current Expense, $40,370, $40,515; Capital outlays for the new year are estimated at $1,950, and include part payment on the new bus and payment for new typewriters, chairs, etc. Debt service is allotted an additional $9,750. Capital outlay and debt service cannot be very well compared with those of last year, as both were abnormal due to the Central Building project which came out of the former and the bond refunding operation which came out of the latter.

During the past year the bonded debt of the district was reduced $7,500 and outstanding five per cent bonds were converted into four per cent bonds at a saving of eighteen or twenty thousand dollars over a period of years. The refunding bonds were issued in such a way that they can be retired as fast as the sinking fund will permit.

The tax rate will be the same as it has been for the past several years and indications are that the valuation will be about the same also. The tax rate of one dollar on the hundred dollar valuation is divided as follows: maintenance, 70c, debt service, 30c. Last year it was 55c and 45c, respectively, the lower bond service rate being due to refunding.

MRS. R. C. VALENTINE

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kuper of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoffman have just returned from Colorado, where they have spent the past week looking over the farm recently purchased by Mr. Hoffman.

Mr. J. D. Dickerson has just finished painting his home. He has stuccoed it about three fourths of the way up and shingled the rest, which he painted an attractive green.

The beautiful lawn and large trees, especially the willow trees that protect the large cement swimming pool from the road, makes such a pretty background for his house.

Quite a number of improvements are being made in this community — Mr. Ira Otts has had his home repainted inside and out. Mr. N. G. Elliston have installed a very modern bath in their home. Mrs. Ben McBrayer, until recently of this community, has been taking care of the new baby in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luke McBrayer of Progressive.

School began Monday, Sept. 6, in this community, with Miss Lucille Park and Miss McClure as teachers. Mr. H. B. Elliston and R. C. Valentine as bus drivers.

Miss Lucille Park and Miss McClure have both attended Canyon this past summer.

Miss Park has just returned from a short vacation spent in Santa Fe, N. M., and the Cimarron Canon in northern New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Gilliam of Junction, Texas, spent Thursday in the home of his brother, R. H. Killiam.

Mrs. Ira Otts leaves the first of the week for Panhandle and Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Roberson and children, spent four days of last week at Carlsbad visiting and seeing the wonderful sights in Carlsbad Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paetzold spent Sunday with Mr. Paetzold's brother at Nazareth.

Mrs. Wesley Bradley was shopping in Amarillo Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Oliver of Houston, and Mrs. Pearle Penn, the mother of Mrs. H. B. Elliston, also her two sisters, Gladys and Ruth Penn, have been visiting the past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Elliston. They left for their home in Altus, Okla., Sunday.

Miss Peggy Valentine spent Monday night in the home of Miss Thornton Shirley of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gandy left to make their home in Vega, where Mr. Gandy is employed.

School opened Monday with an enrollment of twenty-four pupils. Mr. Ben McBrayer has been working on the irrigated farm of George Robertson.

A revival meeting will start at the Wyche school house, Sept. 15.

There has been an abundance of fruit on the N. G. Elliston farm this year.

In the spring she started canning cherries — three different kinds. One the compass cherry, which is a cross between a plum and a cherry, and a dark blue-red when ripe. From cherries she started canning the early peaches (clings), then grapes and free stone peaches and still has two different kinds of plums and pears yet to can; besides many kinds of garden stuff — as corn, okra, peppers, beans, peas and has put up all of the cucumber pickles they will use this winter.

Mrs. Louie Olson gave a shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Gandy, who recently were married.

Mrs. Griffin and sons, Meryle and Wayne and two daughters, from near Liberal, Kan., have been visiting in the home of Mrs. Griffin's mother, Mrs. D. R. Carmichael.

HOWDY TEACHERS...

glad to have you back with us again!

Hereford, in our opinion, has one of the best groups of teachers to be found in any town or county in the State of Texas. We further believe that our children have the opportunity of their lives to receive a high school education right here at home in a modern, fully equipped school.

Our school system here is worthy of every ounce of support that we are capable of giving. We should boost them, take an interest in what is going on and lend encouragement and cooperation wherever needed and whenever asked.

There should be no strife, bickering, gossiping, knocking — in fact, we should pull together to the end that no schools anywhere will "outdo" ours here at home. It can be done with the cooperation and support of each patron.

Lions Trounce Farmers In Title Softball Games During Past Week

BY HOMER FOX

Monday night, after a week's conversation and arguments, the Lions and A. & M. teams arrived at a perfect understanding and the Little Worlds Series started off with a bunch of bangs.

The Lions used their regular lineup, while the Farmers had to go outside for a few players due to the fact that Lefty Donovan, their regular chucker, Bull Marzium, manager and regular short, Chief Bateman, regular second baseman and heavy slugger and Dick Coffee, regular short outfielder, were all out of town. Ernie Schumacker took the mound and Onias Carroll right field, Tubby Robinson, catch, and V. G. Fuller, center.

The Lions failed to solve Schumacker's smoke ball in the first half and went scoreless. The Farmers hopped on Peterson who started for the Lions. Kelly walked, Fuller singled, Clayton flew out to center, Morgan blasted a double, Robinson singled, Carroll walked, Barnett popped out to short center, Johnson was safe on an error by pitcher, Schrader was safe on a FO and Johnson was thrown out at second, 4-run lead for those cotton pickers and they were really stepping high. Russell, first man up for the Meat Eaters in the second, singled, but old Ernie was blazing them in there and Russell died on third. The Farmers didn't get a man past first in their half. On a single by Posey, and three errors, the Lions made a lone tally in the third. But that Pig slopping outfit came back in their half like the Thundering Herd; Clayton was safe on an error by third, Morgan smashed one so hard that it looked like a small comet as it crossed Frio Draw; Robinson was safe on an error by second, Carroll singled, Barnett flew out to center, Johnson was safe on an error by first and was caught off the base; Schumacker whiffed, had 3 more tallies and leading 8 to 1. What a ball game, what a ball game! Three licks by J. Russell, Emmons and Willis netted more for the Lions in the fourth. But the Corn Huskers came back with two, when Clayton crashed a home run, followed by a single by Tubby and Morgan. The Meat Eaters made one more on a single by Brown and a couple of bobbles in the fifth. Seemed like the Boss Lion Posey, gave Close some tough instruction about his chunking and the boy started rolling poison pills from here out, cause this bunch of Clod Hoppers couldn't hit the side of the barn with a bale of hay from here on out.

Two home runs by Houser and Russell gave the Roaring bunch two more, in the sixth, and in the seventh four runs behind the Meat Eaters, started roaring and scratching and hitting, everybody hit the pills. Farmers made perfect Balloon ascension, which it in nicely with the Lions' plans and when the smoke cleared away the score was tied. The seventh was bad for the Farmers. Emmons and Willis pulled a play that broke the boys' hearts; Ox snatched one to Emmons, Ox said something to Doc, and Ox struck out his knee, the ball rolled up his chin and bounced over to Willis' waiting hands and he threw Johnson out by yards.

FISK Saftflight Tires

With the opening of all schools in the area last Monday, many farmers will transport their children to and from school each day! The tires upon which you are accustomed to riding may be worn, and although you take a chance on them yourself, you will not want to keep your children in constant danger. Then, too, Fall and Winter months bring cold, rain, snow and sleet, which are certainly not the best of times to have tire trouble, especially with little ones along. Switch to FISK today... get plus-protection in the Non-Skid zone... get longer wear... Greater Safety... and more for your money! Drive into our modern station just across the tracks... our low tire prices will surprise you, and we will give a good allowance on your old tires.

Mr. Farmer:

Buy your tires at FRASER OIL & GRAIN CO. — The finest make of all... F-I-S-K T-I-R-E-S in all sizes and treads, built for hard, constant, day-after-day wear. We have the tire you want — AT THE RIGHT PRICE! FISK TIRES for your passenger car, for your truck, and for your tractor... Multi-Grips and Safti-Flight treads. Save here on Tires, just as you save on gasoline, oils, power fuels and greases.

Hereford, Texas, September 9, 1937.

Mr. John Farmer,
Dear John:

Yes John, the price of wheat is down right now, but we can do nothing about it but hope it goes up soon; however, we still want to sell you your field seeds, tires, fuels, oils and such feeds as you may buy. We want to buy your maize and other grain sorghums, but the market is still unsettled. The market will probably be better when the grain dries out and the "bear fight" is over.

John, be sure and don't take a chance on having smutty wheat next year—treat your seed wheat with CORONA COPPER CARBONATE, a pure preventative for smutty wheat and it will cost you less than 1 1/2 cents per acre and may save you many dollars! Sold at our store. Come in and see us — ours is a farmers' business!

COLLECT FOR CLUB WOMEN

Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.
Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.
May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face, without self-pity and without prejudice.
May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.
Let us take time for all things; make us to grow calm, serene, gentle.
Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.
Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are as one.
And may we strive to touch and to know the great common woman's heart of us all; and, oh Lord, God, let us not forget to be kind.
—Mary Stewart.

Derivation of Word Scaramouch
The term Scaramouch is derived from Scaramuccia, a famous Italian buffoon, who acted in England in 1673, and died in Paris in 1694. It is also applied to one of the grotesque characters of the Italian stage who was dressed in black, wore a mask and represented the swaggerer and poltroon. In France, the scaramouch was used for a greater variety of parts.

SYNOPSIS
Craig sends a party north to search for a rich claim that Phil Kessler, a green prospector, had located and lost the year before. Craig surprises Lupe Chiwaughimi.

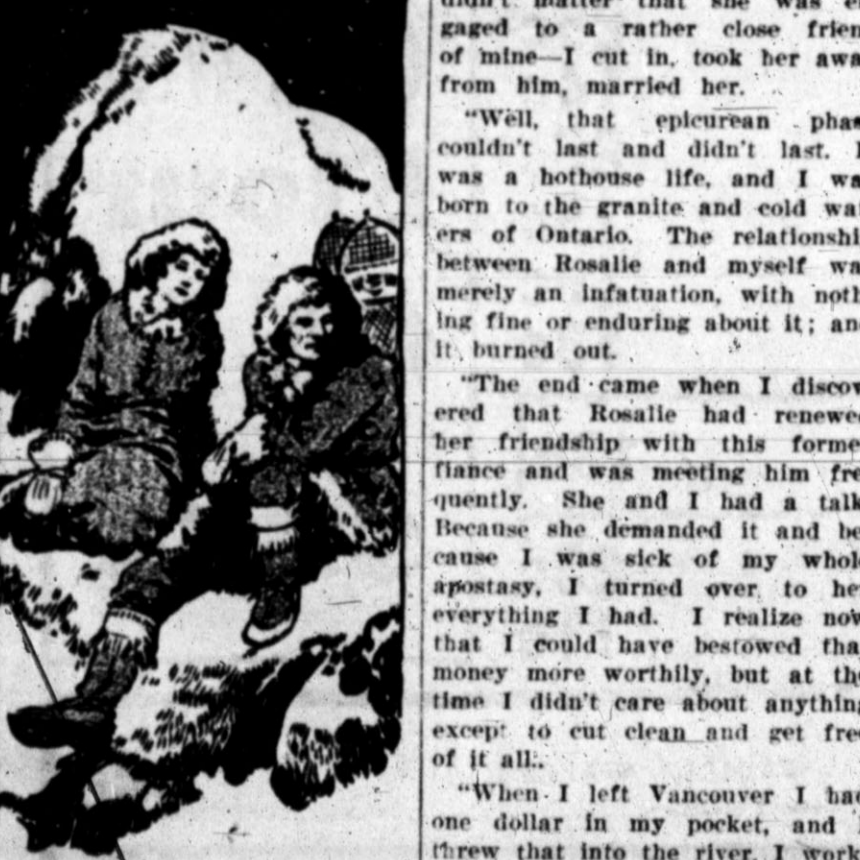

CHAPTER IX
After a day of hard work, Craig had called past Patricia's cabin around nine o'clock and taken her on a long night walk—to a rocky islet three miles out upon Dynamite bay.

In the last fortnight their days had become so cramped, their time so limited, that they had begun taking walks at night as a way of lumping together their association, their outdoors and their "war talks."

Now and then Craig peered through the ghostly half-light toward Resurrection mouth, trying to glimpse the shadowy Lupe Chiwaughimi. Twice, while Patricia and he were coming across the bay, he had heard the squeak of a racquet beam on the dry snow behind them; and he knew that somewhere among those hummocks yonder the metis leader was hidden, watching Patricia and him.

It was seldom, during these night walks that he and she talked of any personal matter. Little by little the easy friendship of the New Year's period had receded till now it was definitely gone; and in its stead a tension had grown up between them, a sharp quivering tension that threatened to snap at a word or a glance.

Not mortally sure just how Craig felt toward her, Patricia had kept flinching from one extreme of belief to the other. At times she indulged in the sweetly anguishing notion that Craig considered her only a friend and ally. At other times she believed, ecstatically, that his friendship had become quick with passion.

In the night silence the long-drawn howl of a wolf came floating down from some granite ridge far up Resurrection. Miles distant, but clear and vibrant on the frozen air, the cry was packed with all the loneliness and savagery of those Arctic wastes. As it died away it was taken up and echoed by a score of other wolves.

Craig broke the long silence abruptly. "Treeshia, Warren told you that I was married at Vancouver, didn't he?" Patricia straightened up with a jerk. "Y-yes," she managed. And then she suddenly realized that Craig had brought her on this long walk, out to this islet under the cold stars, for the express purpose of telling her about his marriage.

again?" Craig laughed ironically. "You think she'd have any interest in a man who's making eighteen hundred a year?"

"Was it part of your agreement that she would get a divorce?"

"Yes. I don't know why she didn't, unless from plain inertia. Just as soon as this fight eases up enough so that I can spare the time and money, I intend to get the divorce myself. There's no question that I can ultimately get the decree. If I didn't know this positively I wouldn't say so."

He seemed to believe that Rosalie was out of the picture and would cause no trouble; but Patricia was worried. In the eyes of the law Rosalie was still Rosalie Tariton. Warren, the lawyer, was looking at this situation from a legal viewpoint, whereas Craig was seeing it in a common-sense and human way. If there was any legal technicality by which Craig's marriage could be used as a weapon against him, Warren would seize the chance.

With a shock of misgiving she recalled that Warren was flying out to the city country in a day or two. He had told her so, just that morning. She wondered what business was taking him south. Was there any connection between his trip and this Rosalie situation?

It was after midnight when she and Craig got back to camp. At the door of her cabin they stopped, awkward and uncertain, with that painful throbbing silence between them. In the last half hour neither had spoken once.

"Won't you come in, Craig?" she invited. "We haven't spared time for a cup of tea in the last week."

"I'd like to, if you don't think it's too late, dear."

Patricia trembled at that word "dear." It was the first token of affection that had escaped Craig's lips. Maybe he'd been holding back because of his marriage—not knowing definitely how she would react to it.

"I'm not tired at all," she lied. "And I'd like—I want to give you those three books I borrowed."

Craig stood their snowshoes by the door and stepped inside with her. Except for the Aurora glow beating against the north window, the cabin was entirely dark. Patricia groped across to her dresser and fumbled for matches, to light a candle. She was ashamed of herself for urging Craig to come in. Why didn't he say something, do something? There was no longer any reason for his holding back. Surely she had made it plain to him, out yonder on the rocky islet, that she considered his marriage dead and meaningless.

She heard him lean his rifle against a chair and start over toward her.

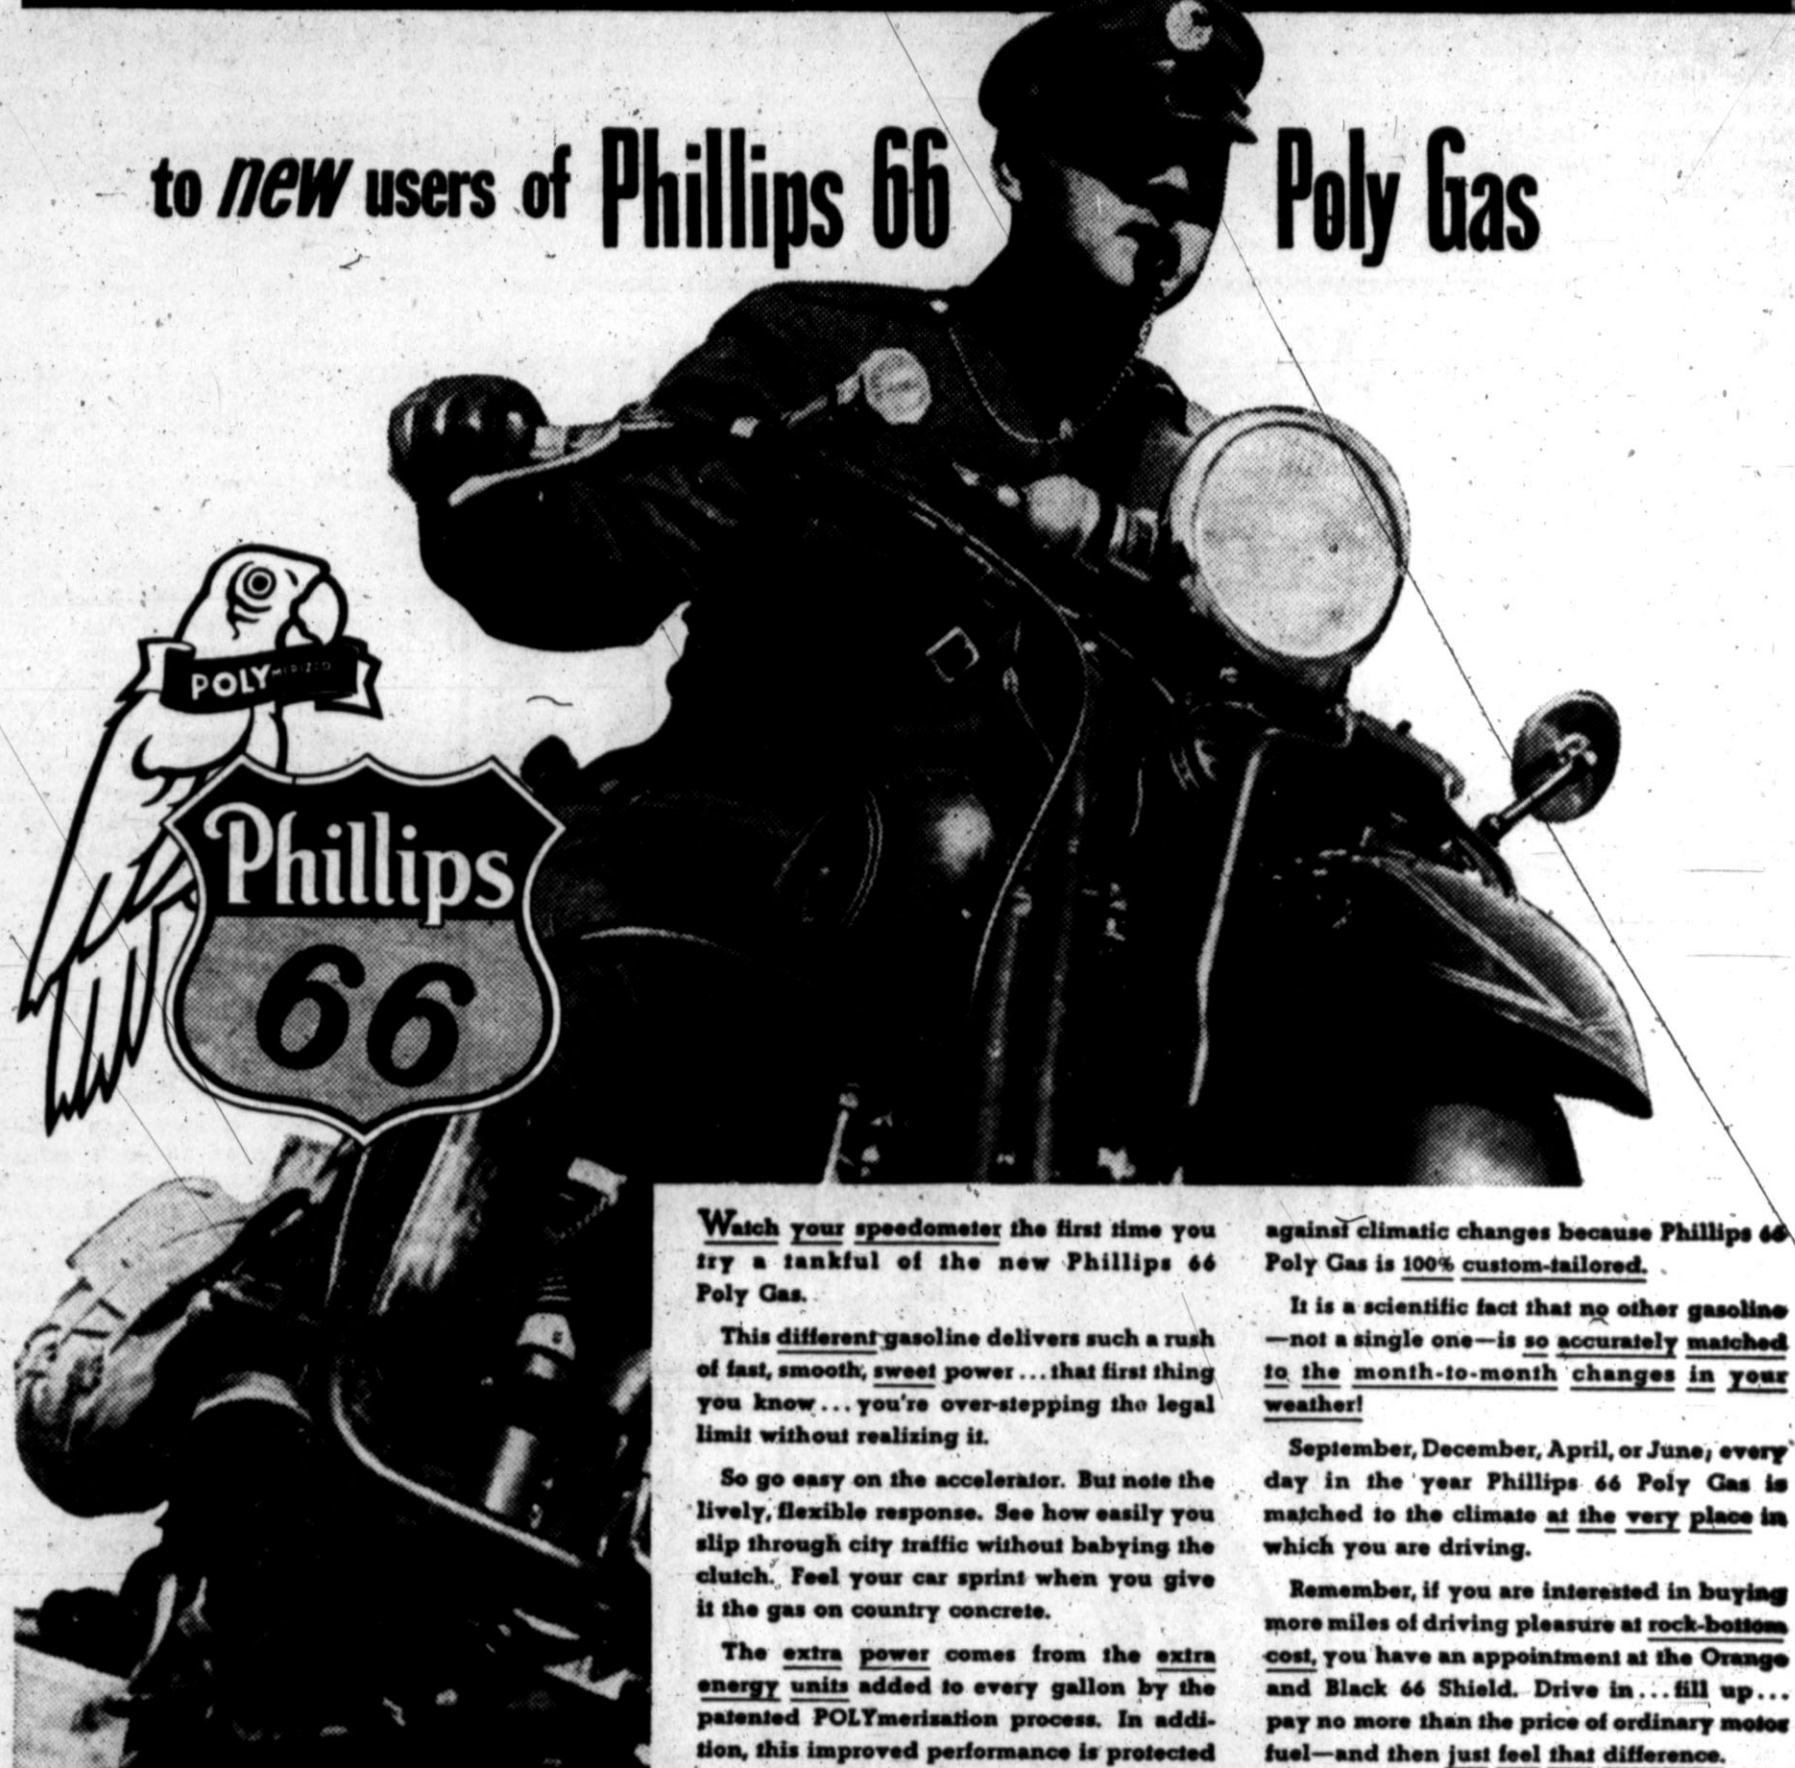

"Treeshia!" His strange tone made her twirl around. No, wavering uncertainty in that tone! It was like a summoning call.

A FEW COMMENTS on electric cookery

"THE COOLNESS of electric cookery appeals to me. It simply cannot heat your kitchen because the thick insulation of my Westinghouse keeps the heat in the oven where it belongs."

"THE CLEANLINESS of my Westinghouse range is its big feature. No pots and pans to scour... my curtains remain fresh because there is no smoke or soot."

"THE ECONOMY of Westinghouse is essential to my budget—not only to buy but to operate. The savings as well as the delicious flavor of the cheaper cuts of meat will surprise you."

"THE POSITIVE RESULTS of my Westinghouse is uncanny. I thought the oven timer was just a gadget but now it is a necessity in case I forget or want to leave the house."

Outing Almost Ends In Tragedy

A trip which started as an outing almost ended in a tragedy when Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson and party entered Palo Duro Canyon Saturday afternoon — and were met by a deluge of water which almost over-turned their automobile.

The water struck the Johnson car, which was in the lead, but little damage was reported since the car was heavily loaded. The party was en route to a cabin in the Canyon, where they expected to spend the week end. Following the incident, they returned to the Johnson home at Summerfield.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the party included Mrs.

Johnson's cousin, Mrs. J. W. Slaughter and Mr. Slaughter and family of Dallas, and Mr. Johnson's brother, Alton Johnson of Commerce.

Victory Meeting

Those who attended the meeting in Amarillo Wednesday expecting action in regard to lake construction were disappointed. The meeting took the form of a victory celebration in which Marvin Jones, chairman of the House agriculture committee, and other congressmen from the dust bowl region were honored. However, delegates from the five-state region asked the federal government to appropriate another $80,000,000 for continuation in 1938-39 of a water and soil conservation program.

"In view of the basic agricultural conservation law enacted at the closing session of Congress through the efforts of Chairman Marvin Jones and his committee representing the Great Plains states and as supplemental aid for the appropriations already authorized, we urge Chairman Jones and his committee to ask new appropriations for the next Congress for the continuance of the program. It being our conviction and opinion that a sum of not less than 60 million dollars will be needed to adequately continue said program," said the resolution, adopted by unanimous vote.

A WPA commitment for $40,000,000 already has been made in Washington for building dams and reservoirs in the 10-state region and $10,000,000 has been appropriated for the purchase of sub-marginal lands in the five-state area as result of a program launched by the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority of Texas and joined in May by sections of Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma. Three New Mexico counties affiliated themselves with the Panhandle organization soon after it was established.

McCarty Lauds Jones
More than 800 delegates — twice as many as attended the convention which drafted the Texas constitution — attended the sessions. The delegates stood and gave a ringing ovation to Marvin Jones after he had been given full credit for success of the program by John McCarty, president of the Panhandle Authority.

"I think we have presidential material in Marvin Jones," McCarty said.

Jones exhorted the associations linked in the conservation movement to build soundly.

"I want every dollar spent on this program to be a worthwhile dollar," he said. "We have got to be fair if the program is to be a national one, and it must be supported by the national government."

"We have a program that I believe is sound. I want it started right away but started right, and I want you people to help prove that it can be done right."

Schools

Several New Courses
Three new courses are being offered this year in high school and are attracting much attention with 25 students enrolled for shorthand; 15 in boys' home economics, and 37 in commercial civics occupations. Typing, which started last year, has an enrollment of 66 students this term.

The Higgins Progressive Independent District is this year sending all students above the fifth grade to Hereford, while Summerfield and Wyche are sending their high school students here; all three schools are operating their own busses. Several other schools are also sending in high school students but are not operating special busses.

Foresees Good Year
As the schools opened Monday and began operating in mid-season form, Mr. Dillehay predicted one of the best years in the history of Hereford Schools. A few additional students are expected, but the major portion of the students have already matriculated and have swung into the beginning of the school year.

right row. Some of these children have not been able to start to school due to lack of necessary clothing.

The WPA Economics Project, under supervision of Mrs. Lavina Gilliland, will alter clothing to fit the needy persons. Therefore, send any and all of the articles you can, for they can be made to fit some one or used to repair other garments.

The Legion, the Boy Scouts, and County Welfare urgently solicit the co-operation of every family in Deaf Smith County in this effort. Housewives can help tremendously by having their articles of clothing ready when the Boy Scouts call at your door next Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the committee are: C. O. Wilkins, Post Commander; Ellis Coombs, Adjutant; H. M. Redford, Chaplain; Mrs. Dyalthis Brady, County Welfare Worker; and J. C. Thorns, Scoutmaster.

along this line." Mr. Hennen also declared that he would announce the definite location of all lines at the meeting, and would be in a position to answer in detail all questions which members might desire to ask regarding the lines, and the use of power from the standpoint of the consumer.

"Everything is now completely ironed out," he continued. "We will be in a position to answer any questions which may be bothering you in regard to finances, consumption of electricity, payments on appliances and other details. It is highly important that each farmer who will be served by the lines attend the meeting Saturday."

To Begin Monday
In announcing that construction on the first 80 miles of lines would begin Monday, September 13, he said that the delay in beginning actual work was due to the fact that the work order from Washington has been misplaced.

"However, it was located and will be rushed out by the central office," he said. "We believe that the additional 98 1-2 miles of line will mean much to the Cooperative and to farmers who might not otherwise have been served."

with which to build a team for this year. This is not the first time that the Adrian team has faced the task of building a team from new material, and the boys are entering the fight for places with the determination that makes a fighting club.

The season's schedule is as yet incomplete, but a number of games have been scheduled for the early part of the season. The following games have been scheduled: Vega at Yega, Sept. 17; Friona at Friona, Sept. 24 (night game); Dimmitt at Adrian, Oct. 8; Dumas at Dumas, Oct. 15; Vega at Adrian Nov. 24. This makes a tough schedule for a light team, but we are hoping to come through with a few wins.

he worked until 1926, when he came to Amarillo, and accepted a position as pharmacist in the City Drug Store. In 1929, he went to Dalhart, where he remained until 1931, when he came to Hereford and established the Close Drug Store.

With a limited stock, the Close Drug Store launched upon its career September 9, 1931. Since that time it has undergone many changes and many improvements. Twenty-five feet have been added to the length of the store, and during the time it has been generally improved. Only recently the store was remodeled, repainted and decorated throughout, and stools were added to the modern fountain, which also boasts a new backbar.

Keeping up with the times is one of the chief policies upon which Mr. Close operates his store. He also believes in carrying a large stock in all departments and today boasts one of the most complete prescription stocks in this area.

Modern in every respect, Close Drug Store today stands as one of Hereford's most aggressive and complete business institutions and rivals any of the larger drug stores in the Panhandle as to modern appearance, service, quality merchandise, and a complete stock in all departments.
