Grand Jury Empanelled-Non Jury Business Transacted-Number of Cases Disposed of.

District Court convened here Monday morning at ten o'clock with Judge D. B. Hill of Dalhart presid-Other officers of the court in attendance were District Attorney J. W. Sellars of Hereford, Reporter Floyd A. Cooper of Dalhart, Sheriff R. W. Baird and District Clerk J. S. Jones.

The first thing done by the court was the empanelling and charging of the Grand Jury for the term, J. T. Jowell of Hereford being appointed foreman of that body. Judge Hill charged the grand jury as to their duties and method of procedure in his usual brief and comprehensive manner and they immediately commenced their investigations.

There being no petit jury summoned for the first week, the time is being used in disposing of default cases, non-jury business and preliminary motions, pleas and demurrers in jury cases so that there will be no delay on that account after the juries are assembled. criminal docket has been set for Monday of the third week, but it is not likely that there will be any great amount of such business this term unless the present grand jury returns felony indictments which require immediate trials. There will be petit juries for the second, third and fourth weeks of court and there being about seventeen cases on the civil jury docket, some cases will probably not get a trial at this term unless a picked-up jury is agreed on.

The following gentlemen compose the grand jury for this term : J. T. Wilkinsoa, D. P. Vaughn, A. O. Thompson, J. A. Stegall, C. R. Smith, H. F. Shelton, A. L. Gibson, J. H. Cardwell, R. E. Dyer, J. P. Wood, J. H. Head and J. T. Jowell, Cleaned Up Trash.

Upon the call of the Mayor, number of citizens cleaned up their premises in good style, yet there were a number of alleys, especially along the business section, that did not get the attention they needed. Fly time is now on and a little precausion just at this time will cut down the crop of flies. It is difficult to kill or catch the files after they come and the best way to rid the town of these pests is to destroy their hatching places. Trash piles, filth accumulations, manure piles around stables and lits, all furnish the necessary conditions to hatch out millions of flies. But it is an unwise thing to clean up only spasmodically; it should be done often and regularly, especially in the business section. A visit to the rear of most any of the stores next week will show little evidence of the clean-Commission may pass a dozen ordinances about keeping the places clean, notices may be posted and the occupants notified, still unless there be that co-operation on the part of the citizens, the filth piles will acwill become a part of the pile. Let's every one take a pride in keeping clean places, even if there were no reason whatever to do so.

MAJORITY NOMINATIONS.

In a dispatch from Washington some weeks ago, Congressman Rufus Hardy of Texas was called out upon the question of majority nominations. Judge Hardy says it will not do to go back to the convention system. He realizes the defects which have appeared in the primary election system as applied to large districts and States, but expresses the belief that ways will be found to remedy these. To reduce the burden of expense upon the individual candidates, he would limit the amount to be expended in campaigns.

"There are two difficulties not yet solved in Texas," he says. "One is that of finding a way for the majority to have its opinion as to policies surely and truly expressed by primaries, and the other is to have the real choice of the majority made the party nominee. We are in danger under our present system of falling more under the domination of minority combinations than we were under the old convention system. No manery was ever devised more capable of being used by cunning, scheming interests and selfish, unfaithful public servants than our existing law for plurality nominating primaries. "Until our law is changed we must work under it as best we can to conserve the best interests of Texas, of God and his spirit passed quietly but we ought to lose no time in changing the law, so as to require all party nominations to be made by majorities. I believe this can be practically accomplished by ballots expressing first and second choice."

Whereupon the Waco Tribune

makes the following comment: The conviction gains ground steading done this week. While the ily, as Texas Democrats think of our plurality method of making minations for elective offices, that the procedure is essentially unwise, with tendencies that are far from wholesome. It was a blunder to enact such I heard as I stood amazed at the gate a law, ane we have all seen enough of its workings to realize that it was cumulate rapidly and even the notices a departure from time-honored and time-proven methods. There is no need to dwell on the matter-how it operates and the results that are in evidence. The instances are numerous, in State and local politics, of its unwisdom, of its standing as a menace to the will of the majority. More E. H. Fullwood, salesman for the than once, in State and local contests, the people have seen it utilized to promote the political fortunes of men who, but for this system, could not have hoped to secure office as

Church in Amarillo when but a baby and was baptised by Bishop Joseph Key, and was also named by and for him. At the time of his death he was a member of the M. E. Church at Quanah, Texas. He was also a member of the State Militia enlisted in Company F at Crowell, Texas, under Captain Adams, and but a few days ago answered a call from his captain to join his company at Chilicothe to go to Brownsville under orders of the Government. Though hardly able to walk because of poor health for several months, he answered that call and joined his company with the courage and grace of a soldier indeed. After having joined the company, the Governor ordered them to return to their homes. He arrived home Thursday morning at ten o'clock and lay down broken in body but brave in spirit. He was so cheerful and courageous that not even his father and mother suspected that he was seriously ill until Saturday night, when it was discovered that the surgeon's knife was the only possible hope. The suffering nor the sureness of fast approaching death neither quenched nor quelled looked over the surrounding counhis brave spirit nor changed his gentle, affectionate nature. He assured those around him hours before passed away that his every sin had been forgiven and that if he died he would go home to heaven, and in the last hour of his earthly pilgrimage there came over him that unmistakable quiet peace that knows no fear that can only come to the redeemed out amid that company of angels their home. that had brought the summons to report to the great commander and God eternal, in heavens head quarters.

Interest in the Thompson Forty Section Ranch Goes to Kansas Men-Will Organize Company For Operation.

Last Monday a deal was closed between the well known and popular Ex-Gov. W. R. Stubbs of Kassas fame, his brother, J. E. Stubbs, also of Kansas, and J. D. Thompson of this place, by which the two Kansas men become interested in the J. D. Thompson forty-section ranch in this county. This ranch is one of the best improved in Deaf Smith county, the home section having a fine set of improvements, 600 acres under plow. and for this year 200 acres of wheat and rye in good growing condition. At present there are 800 stock cattle on the ranch. The entire forty sections consists of owned and leased land and no better location could be had in the country. The three men will, at once, form a corporation for handling the ranch, and it is their intention of spreading out to a considerable extent.

Gov. Stubbs and his brother were in Hereford for several days and try. They were highly pleased with what they saw. On Sunday both attended church in company with Mr. Thompson where they met a number of Hereford people and former acquaintances. On Monday, they met a number of the business men at their places of business, closed up their trade and left Tuesday for Baby Beef Goes to Market.

D. L. McDonald shipt from his north farm last Friday 98 baby beeves to the Kansas City market. Leshe Moreman accompanied the shipment and reported a sale on Monday by wire at $8.75 for the first load, the second fetching a little less. These yearlings had been fed during the winter on kafir silage, alfalfa, ground maize, all raised on the McDonald irrigated farms. A small quantity of cotton seed meal was also used in the ration. These calves were a fine looking lot of white faces and when shipt would do for the killers or for extra finishers.

In talking about the results, Mr. McDonald stated that he felt fully repaid in the outcome of the feeding as the experience would be worth more in his further feeding than the nice profit made on this bunch. Every one that had watched the growth of the calves from the time they were put in the feeding pens have been pleased with the way they took to the ration as given. Next year will find many more baby beeves in this section.

School Catalog Issued.

The Brand has just issued from its press a catalog containing the course of study and other information concerning the Hereford Public Schools. The catalog required 50 of study as outlined therein and as it has been taught during the last session or more, is equal to the first class schools of the state. Especially should Hereford feel some pride in the high standing secured by the high school department. During the year 1909-10, affiliation was secured with the State University in History, English, Latin and Mathematics; the next year Physiology and Physics were added to the accredited list. Applications are now in for English History, Manual Training and Domestic Science. Affiliation simply means that the graduates from the Hereford High School may enter the State University without examination upon the subjects accredited. The catalog shows the course of study of the two new departments: Manual Training and Domestic Science. It is feared that the patrons of the school do not appreciate these two departments as fully as they your enthusiasm several degrees.

Q.—What gdepel was it that God reached before to Abraham (Gala-lane 3:8)? (K. M.)

Answer.-If you had read the rest of this text you would have found the gospel stated, "in thee shall all the fams of the earth be blessed." How evintly some great mistake has been made when the message of eternal torment for 999 out of every 1,000 of earth's teeming population has been called gospel. The truth could not have been more seriously perverted, for that surely would be bad tidings of great musery for practically all people. This first message of the gospel to Abraham tells of the blessing of all the families of the earth—it excludes none. It extends backward as well as forward. Have all been blessed yet? Assuredly not. Blind indeed, would be the eyes of understanding or judgment that could suppose that this gospel blessing has yet come to all the families of the earth. Note again a very similar statement in the New Testament, the message of the angel at the time of our dear Redeemer's birth. He said to the fear stricken shepherds, "Fear not, for behold we bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be unto all people" (Luke 2:10). All Christian people, whatever trumpet they blow, by whatever name they are known, claim these records and translate them just as here given. It is when they come to apply them, in conformity with their various creeds, that differences arise.

Q. Thy reiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy feet swell these forty years" (Deuteronomy 5:4; 29:5). Does this mean that the Israelites during their 40 years' wilderness journey possessed perfect clothing and shoes? If not, how was this? Were their lethes kept new by divine power, by miracle, or otherwise? (I. D. R.)

Answer.-The quotation which you give contains all the information there is on the subject. If we were to go further than that we would have to guess, and our guess would be no valuable than that of anyone We know that the power that created the universe could easily keep the clothing of the children of Israel. and that is sufficient for us. It is the guesses of the past that got our theology into the tangled up condition in which this century found it. The light which Bible students are now getting on the Word of God comes as a result of their laying aside imaginations and confining themselves to a "thus saith the Lord." "The secret things belong unto the Lord our God; but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever" (Deuteronomy 29:29).

Q-Would this text indicate that Jesus will not come again until the world is converted: "Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool" (Pealm 110:1)?

Answer.—An idea held by many regarding this text is that it means that Christ atts on a material throne some where in the heavens until the work of subduing all things is accomplished for Him through the Church, and that then He comes to reign. This is a misconception. The throne of God referred to is not a material one, but represents His supreme authority and ruler ship; and the Lord Jesus has been exalted to a share in that rulership. "God hath highly exalted Him and given Him a name above every other name." He hath given Him authority above every other, next to the Father. Christ will, by virtue of the power vested in Him, "subdue all things unto Himself" and not leave the work to the Church or anyone else. Emperor William though on the throne of Germany spends little time on the actual bengh, nor does the man at his right hand occupy the literal position often. "Hereafter shall ye see the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven" (Matthew 26:64). He will be on the right hand when coming, and will remain on the right hand forever.

Q-Would it be rational to suppose that the murderer who has lived a vile life at war with the laws of God and men can, by mere confession on the scaffold and prayer to God, be instantly fitted for the fellowship of God and the saintly? If so, then where is the incentive before him to an earlier conincentive before him to an earlier conversion and renouncement of sin? And if the saintly and self-secrificing ence seek to walk in the feetsteps of Jesus, and for years seek to mortify the desires of the flesh and to cultivate the fruits and graces of the hely spirit—if these are to understand that these effe. To overcome the world, the flesh and the devil profit them nothing, where is the incentive to them to become saintly and, as the Apostle says, "present their bedies living secrifices, hely, acceptable to God, which is their responsible service?" (8. C.)

Answer.-Your question seems to an swer itself and we quite agree with the answer especially as we are not able to find any Scriptural authority for the belief that one can live his life for self and sin and die for the Lord. "To him that overcometh and keepeth my works to the end, to him" is the reward (Revelation 2:7, 11, 17; 2:26; 3:5, 12, 21; 21:7). "If you continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the Gospel" you will be presented to God "holy and unblamable and unreprova- sold. ble in His sight" (Colossians 1:22, 23).

Congressman Stephens on the Toll Question.

On March 30, last, when the House had under consideration the Toll Bill, the Hon. John H. Stephens of Texas, representing the Panhandle District, delivered a speech on the subject and his opening paragraph was as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, the treaty of Feb. 22, 1902, known as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, says that-

The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and war of all nations observing these rules on terms of entire equality, so there shall be no discrimination against any such nations, or its citizens or its subjects, in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise. Such condition and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable.

Mr. Speaker, the term "all nations" as here used does not, in my judgment, include the United States, but does include all other notions except the United States; hence Congress can, if it desires, pass our American ships through our own canal free of tolls. Why should it not? Have we not built this canal with American money, through American territory? Have we not placed our eastern and western American coasts 8,000 miles pearer than they were before? Have we not practically doubled the strength of our Navy? Will we not reduce the cost of railroad freight one-half from coast to coast? Homes for the Homeless

No State can hope to maintain she should advertise the still reagricultural state, the highest gree of citizenship can be obtained ly by having the greatest number her people making their substance om the soil. The stability of the roportion to the number of farm nits as compared with the number people. With such a wide range soil and climate, giving a greater ariety of farm products than may hould furnish engaging occupation or an army of small farmers.

But Texas has hundreds, yea, nousands of earnest, good men with amilies who do not own a farm nor ave they been able under the presnt and past conditions to obtain ossession of any land. And as me passes, it will become more and nore difficult to make a purchase. he gradual and sure increase in rice, cuts off more and more each ear, when finally there will be an rmy of roving tenantry, dissatisfied with burdensome conditions, which vill give more trouble to the State han an invading army.

But how can the homeless be furushed with homes? Is it the duty of he State to give a man a farm fully equipt with machinery and teams? We think not. Would it be wise to nake the man who owns a large number of acres "divide" his subtance with the man without? This would be confiscation and would realt in civic chaos and civil war. Then how? That IS the question. The solution to the question is not easy We do not believe it the duty of the State to provide "Homes for he Homeless" by gift, but we do believe that it IS the duty of the State to provide "conditions" under which they may purchase homes. The State has been doing this. The millions of acres of school land held by the State has for years been sold to "homesteaders" at a reasonable price on long time and at a low rate of interest. The school lands of Texas has enabled many thousands to get a start and to own a home. And the State is still doing this, and at peace and tranquility among its maining lands for sale to actual settople where they do not keep close tlers. The sale of these lands has the soil. Texas being primarily made a cash permanent school fund not equalled by any country in the world and it is still growing. - But there are those who wish to purchase homes in sections of the State where no school lands can be had. Then tate may be counted as in exact why should it be impractical to take some of this money obtained from the sale of school land and use it to float the indebtedness for another citizen in another part of the State. If he wishes to make a purchase, the Her sides are slick-no bones profound in other states, Texas State could buy the mortages executed for long time at a low rate of interest, under the same authority that gives her a right to sell land under long time mortages. Or if a farmer has a debt on his farm and has been unable to meet it on account of conditions whatever they may be, could not the State take up his mortage and extend the time to as many years as conditions may warrant? We think so, but if the law does not permit such a transaction, it should be made so.

The present school fund is invested in bonds at from 3 to 4 per cept, and they yield a large amount of interest. The man who wishes to pay off an old debt, or improve his little farm, or to buy a small tract to make a farm, would be pleased to pay 5 per cent interest and he would be able at that rate to clear his land of debt and at the same time make a living for his growing family and to educate his children as they should be. We believe the State should way. It would place thousands of roving tenants permanently upon soil of their own. The self same thousands would become contented and prosperous citizens and, instead of their own. Section 2. Black M-7 there will on the 30th day of May, 1914, assemble at S. · LOST

N EVERY SECTION of the country there are farmers who are unable to make their financial ends meet, who work ourly and late, think they know how to economice, follow the old blood of bands ing and feeding stock, handle their crops and work the soil in the same old way, but try as they will, the milletone, in the shape of a mortgage, is always tied good and fast around their necks.

He has a farm worth from ten to twenty thousand dollars and it only nets about five hundred to one thousand dollars each year for interest and perhaps a small payment on the principal. His wife sells enough produce (eggs, butter and poultry) to keep the family going; consequently he is netting five per cent and sticks in the rut with his added labor thrown away.

How long could a merchant live on that income from the same capital invested? He would be bankrupt in a year. The merchant constantly keeps his eyes open to stop leaks and make gains. Just show him a chance to make a gain and he jumps at it. Some chances must always be taken. No gain was ever made without some risk, and why some farmers will not use the same common sense business judgment that any good merchant uses, passes comprehension.

How is it with you, brother? Are you winning? Are you perfectly satisfied? Are you failing? Going down hill each year? If the latter, will you come in and let us give you some good advise?

You say this talk sounds strange, We know it does—we intended it to be strange. Our interests and your interests should be mutual; consequently we have now adopted a new idea, a new department you might say, something in the line of aiding to develop the country, and that in time will develop ourselves.

We would like to go into partnership with you on our new plan. Come in and let us have a heart to heart talk about it; we may be able to do you some good. You know the old saying that "two heads are better than one," and we believe you will find that it will hold good in this case, We are making a strenuous effort ef late to learn how to make farming pay better and save waste, We have some new pointers to share with you and all it will cost you will be your time.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the first of a series of Articles on AGRICUL-TURAL PROBLEMS prepared by Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the Texas Farm Life Commission.

I am to write a series of short articles relating to agricultural problems. In this one I shall would be foolish to lend money at show that it is possible for money 5 and 6 per cent when they can to be had by Texas farmers on get 8 and 10 per cent. German good land security at 6 per cent and on cotton at 5 per cent. It which keep money from land securities.

That there is much money in the world to be had at 4 and 5 per cent if the security is satisfactory.

All will agree:

That there is no better security than agricultural lands and cotton, if the land is good, well improved and kept in that condition, and the cotton is first-class staple, well ginned, baled, wrapped and dry, securely housed in a warehouse and insured.

If evidence is required here it is: All over Europe land security gets money at from 3 to 41/2 per cent. Money is not chained down in Europe and a difference of 1 per cent will bring it here provided the security is the kind that the investor is accustomed to. In many Sorthern and Eastern states money is seeking investment in good land securities at 5 and 6 per cent. The cotton warehouse people in Memphis borrow money, all they want, at 4 per cent. I have seen apples 25 cents a bushel in Missouri and $2 a bushel in Texas; pesches 40 cents s bushel in Texas and $3.75 in Colorado. Why? For the same reason that money is 4 and 6 per cent in other states and countries and 3 and 10 per cent in Texas, which is that fruit growers and fruit consumers have no means of dealing directly with each other and the agencies that bring the two together take the difference.

Last summer while discussing the subject of rural credits with Messrs. Wolf and Cahill of London, the two best authorities in the world on the subject, one of them said: "Money talks to such only as understand its language. All one has to do to get cheap money is to learn to speak its language and go where it is. Money has no home affections. It hunts security and interest rate. The first thing one thinks of when contem plating rural credits is, where is the money to be obtained. This is an unwarranted uneasiness. Arrange the security so it speaks the language that money understands and it will come."

The other day a Texan giving testimony before the congressional committee having before it the subject of rural credits mentioned "vendor's lien notes"; the discussion that followed showed that congressmen, senators and financiers had never heard of a vendor's lien note. The only ones who understand the Texas vendor's lien security are Texans, and they money understands the meaning of Landshaften debentures; Austrian money the bonds of the land mortis only a question of arranging the gage banks and the French money, security and taking down the bars the language of the credit Foncie. If we want German, Austrian or French money at their interest rates, or Eastern money at rates prevailing there, we must arrange our securities so they can speak the language of these monies.

In my next article I will tell how this may be done. I will also point to an abundance of cheap Texas money which would safely cross the barrier to the farms of Texas if we do not by law keep the fence up.

A good barn, has room for two horses, and buggy, feed bins, loft, run-way, coal bin. Will sell cheap. Ralph Barnett.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fourth of a series of Articles on AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS prepared by Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the Texas Farm Life Commission.

The tenant problem is less simple than the getting of cheap noney on land worth twice the amount borrowed; all that is required in that case is to arrange the security (the best in the world) source of cheap money. All this is cold-blooded business between the investors in securities and those selling same. The transaction is: give me security and I will give you money. The state is not interested in this and should take no further hand in it than to provide the law by which the organization for invading the cheap money market may be effected, and then giving such organization opportunity to borrow such trust funds as the government may be lending.

The problem of inducing shifting tenants who are merely in partnership with the landlord in robbing the soil of its fertility and dividing the swag, to induce them to buy, improve and build up the soil they till and become fixed units of strength in their communities is clearly a concern of the state. This problem is close akin if not entirely identical both in purpose and result to that of general education. The strength and vigor of the state is as much dependent upon conserving the fertility of the soil as upon the intelligence of the people. The family is the unit of the state and the home surroundings, the prosperity, the optimism and education of the members of the family spell the strength and vigor of the state. If the state would be strong and enduring it must educate its citizens and attach them to the soil. There is something strengthening in the possession and proprietorship of a piece of land. Deprive people of this strength and We may not be the nearest to you, they become socialists because their

do the drowning. Mr. V. T. Hoggatt, Register

State Land Board of Colorado told me the other day how his state is attempting to convert tenants into land-owners. He said Colorado has $6,000,000 of permanent school funds. This money is being made available in this way: The counties are given the privilege of investing their proportionate part in the notes of purchasers of homes. This is done through commissioner's courts. court considers each individual case. If the man is honest, intelligent, industrious and capable of paying out the land and the land is worth the money, the court buys the land for him, or takes so that it is acceptable at the up his notes and gives him 40 which to pay. The county must see that the state does not lose its funds. Every proposed loan is advertised and the people knowing the county to be responsible to the state assist in preventing an unworthy or unsafe case from getting through.

Inasmuch as the people of a state have adopted this plan let us consider it closely, before dismissing or advocating it. For remember we are not writing a political platform but studying a modern question in economies or statecraft which is now upon us for colution.

This discussion will be continued in my next article.

Bradly Pasture Posted.

The land and pastures of the Bradly Estate have been posted. As we are going to use our creek land this summer, we cannot allow the public to mix things up as in the past. So please do not go in or ask to go in. While we regret very much to have to post our pasture, we hate worse to be imposed upon as we have been.

After Four Years of Discouraging I had gotten so weak I could not stand, Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky .- In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere as all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. 1 can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him.
