NUMBER 40

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION

Usual Routine Work Completed—
Much Civil Business Passed—Suits Pending—Grand Jury
in Session.

District Court convened at Hereford Monday morning at ten o'clock for the fall term of the Deaf Smith county court, with Judge D. B. Hill of Dalhart presiding. Other officers of the court present were J. W. Sellers, district attorney; Floyd A. Cooper, court reporter; J. S. Jones, district clerk and R. W. Baird, sheriff. The first matter to be taken up by Judge Hill was the empanelling of the Grand Jury for the term, of which W. B. Dameron of Hereford was appointed foreman. That body was then charged briefly by the court as to its duties. The next matter to receive the attention of the court was the non-jury and jury civil dockets which were called for orders. The criminal docket was set down for Monday of the second week. The appearance docket was called Tuesday morning.

The following cases have been disposed of up to this date:

First State Bank & Trust Co., of Hereford vs Southwestern Engineering & Construction Co., et al, suit on note for $1,330.60 and foreclosure of attachment lien. Trial by a jury and verdict under direction of the court against plaintiff and in favor of defendant, Dr. F. M. Barden.

C. G. Witherspoon vs Thos. Cook, suit on note and foreclosure. Trial by the court and judgment by default in favor of plaintiff for the amount of notes sued on and order of sale.

L. P. Landrum, administrator, vs J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co., suit to recover and for damages. Dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

Western National Bank of Hereford vs Charles F. Harting et al, suit on note and foreclosure. Trial by the court and judgment by default granted plaintiff for amount of note and foreclosure of Vendor's Lien.

First State Bank & Trust Co., of Hereford vs N. T. Miller et al, suit on note and foreclosure. Trial by the court and judgment by default given.

R. N. Mounts vs E. E. Rohrbach, suit on foreclosure of Chattel Mortgage. Dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

Western Union Land Co., vs E. H. Fretz, suit on note and foreclosure. Trial by the court and judgment by default granted plaintiff for the foreclosure.

A. W. Levitt vs Sam Segall, suit on note and foreclosure. Judgment by default granted plaintiff.

First National Bank of Hereford vs Dow Mercer, suit on note. Judgment by default for plaintiff as prayed for.

First National Bank of Hereford vs J. M. Smith, suit on note. Judgment by default for plaintiff as prayed for.

W. S. Higgins vs E. E. Brubaker, suit on note and foreclosure. Judgment by default for plaintiff as prayed for.

First National Bank of Hereford

vs C. S. Richards, suit on note. Judgment by default for plaintiff.

City of Hereford vs J. P. Thorp, tax suit. Judgment by default with writ of enquiry.

Henry Von Lienen vs Geo. W. O'Brien, suit for damages. Dismissed by administrator, plaintiff being dead.

The case of Henry Hicks vs Will O'Brien went to trial Wednesday morning and it is now on trial before a jury.

The following out-of-town attorneys have been attending court at Hereford this week: Geo. W. Bacus of Weatherford, A. A. Lumpkin, C. B. Reeder, A. S. Rollins and H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo, Otis Trulove of Plainview.

Birthday Party.

On last Thursday afternoon quite a crowd of children, both girls and boys, responded to invitations to make merry with Cristine Nutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nutter, on her 12th birthday. Indoor and lawn games were played and much enjoyed by all present. The dining room was very prettily decorated in gold and white, yellow and white chrysanthemums being used in the color scheme. The table, around which the merry lads and lasses gathered for refreshments, was the center of attraction made so by the arrangement of long streamers in the colors adopted. The little hostess was the recipient of many nice presents and favors as remembrances. The mother was ever thoughtful for the pleasure of the children, who were made merry on this happy occasion and went away in the highest glee of childhood pleasure.

The Allison Liquor Law

JUST what effect the Allison Liquor Law will have upon the shipment of liquor into dry territory remains to be seen. This drastic measure will become a law on Nov. 20, and the whisky dealers are taking advantage of the situation by sending out bushels of literature advertising their wares and warning the thirsty that they had better stock up before the new law goes into effect if they wish to slake their thirst at Christmas. In consequence, the dealers and the express company are doing a rush order business. The new law, if effective, will prevent shipments of liquor from wet to dry territory even from one state to another. Thus Texico and Clovis cannot ship whisky to Hereford. It is also held by some attorneys that it will be a violation of the law to give a drink of whisky to another when in a dry territory.

Appointed Evangelist.

Elder T. G. Nance of this city has been appointed evangelist for the Panhandle District by the convention of the Christian churches which met recently in Amorillo. Elder Nance will visit each county in the district and solicit funds for the support of the work and will also preach at the places he visits.

The Week's Weather.

Sunday was partly fair. Monday, however, the wind veered to the northeast and brought a heavy rain with some sleet. The thermometer stood at 40 at 5 o'clock. The precipitation for the day was 0.65 inches and to this was added enough to make 0.80 inches. Since the weather has been cloudy, but not severely cold.

COMMENDS EDITION.

Randall County News.—The Hereford Brand, one of the most enterprising newspapers in the Panhandle country, issued an unique edition last week, showing on four pages the blue and red ribbons in colors which were received by the Hereford exhibit at the Panhandle State Fair. It is seldom that a country newspaper attempts color work in their newspaper editions, but this issue of the Brand shows that the office force of this paper can deliver the goods. We rather wonder just what will be the result of this edition. We know that the work of Editor Elliott will be a great advertisement to the Hereford country, but will the people of Hereford appreciate it? Will half a dozen or more men come in and say, "Here, Elliott, that edition was worth the money to our country. Just take this little old iron dollar in part payment for the large sum of money you expended on this edition and in part payment of what I believe I shall realize in your exceptionally bright manner of advertising the Hereford country." Or will there be a bunch of half a dozen stinky cusses come in and say, "Elliott, if you have any extra copies I wish you would GIVE me a dozen to send to some friends who I'm sure will come buy land of ME. And besides you know that if I send these papers out it will be an advertisement for the country." Verily, verily, I say unto you, the newspaper has to take out in heartless thanks a great part of the money it expends in putting on special features to boost the good of the country.

The Brand appreciates the commendatory words of Editor Warwick of the News. If he had dropped in on the office force at 1 a. m., when all Hereford, including the night watchman, was asleep, he could tell the folks something more about the labor and time it requires to produce a de luxe edition. But the News question is of far more interest than the work: Will the people of Hereford appreciate it? They certainly did. No one called for a dozen FREE copies, but, instead, the Chamber of Commerce, thru its President and Secretary, promptly ordered all extra copies sent to the Deaf Smith County Booth at the Texas State Fair for distribution. Not only this, but many of the local friends said words to the editor that makes him believe that Hereford appreciated the efforts on the part of the Brand. No, my dear sir, Hereford has no such men as you describe, the real estate men and others are fully aware that it costs something besides ink and air to run a newspaper and when any extra effort is made to show up the resources of the county, they are ready to do their part.

RAISING BOYS.

Randall County News.—There is hardly an issue of the magazines and newspapers in which the reader does not find articles telling how to raise and protect the girl. But never a word about the boy. In other words, it may be inferred that the boy is to run loose on the streets where he hears the vilest and most vicious language and learns all the devilment there is going on, while his sister is kept at home under parental supervision and carefully shielded from all the rebuffs of life, and her ears out of range of the vile language which certainly would corrupt.

State Press in Dallas News.—The boy has to go out into the world and wrest a living for it. Not only must he get a living for himself, but for the girl (some girl) who has been sheltered all her life. It is not desirable that the boy in his tender years should be associated with evil when he sees it. It is impossible to keep a healthy boy in his teens from hearing or seeing a good deal that is disgusting to refined natures. If he has been properly born and properly taught through the example of his parents, and has normal resisting qualities, he will recognize the value of cleanliness and avoid the dangers of uncleanness to that degree which assures his triumph over the temptations which drag so many weak characters to ruin. The boy and man must contact with the foug edges of life; the girl need not if she is fortunate. That is the why of the wherefore. To raise boys and girls properly it is not necessary to keep either in ignorance of the well-paved pitfalls, but it is advisable to give them characters that resist and discernment's which light them through the darkness of temptation. And the way for parents to give character to their children is to have character themselves.

Judge Hill Will Be Candidate.

Hon. D. B. Hill, presiding judge of the 69th judicial district, will sojourn in the city for a few weeks attending to his official duties, the district court for Deaf Smith county having been opened Monday last. When seen the other day by a reporter, he was asked if he would offer his services for a second term and he, in his modest way, replied that, according to the universal Democratic custom of a second term for elected officers, he would again ask for the high office. This announcement will be a pleasant bit of news to his many warm friends over the district and, as far as it is now known, he will be the only candidate for that office. Judge Hill has made an efficient officer of the bench and has discharged his duties under the law without "fear or favor." He is now serving his first term as an elected officer, having been chosen by the votes of the people to succeed himself as an appointee of the governor when the district was organized. Judge Hill claims Dalhart as his home, but, in fact, his ardent duties keeps him in other places a greater part of the time. He is, however, "at home" to his friends wherever his duties call him for his congenial nature and attractive personality makes for him friends, and lasting ones, wherever he finds himself. The Brand is happy to count him on its list of friends and it sees no reason why he should not be entrusted with the office again without the trouble of an expensive campaign, and in consequence it affords the Brand pleasure to place his name at the head of announced candidates who seek the sovereign votes of the people.

Will Resurvey Block K-3.

County Surveyor R. O. Whyman will begin next Monday on the resurvey of Block K-3, this county. This is a work that has been needed for a long time and most of the owners of the land in that block are pleased that the work is to be done.

Last Sunday.

At the Methodist church next Sunday morning a special installation service will be held. Come and see and hear this. At night a review service. This will be the closing service of the year. We invite all and especially urge the entire membership to attend.

MAYOR TALKS ABOUT CITY

Gives Information About City's Indebtedness—Shows How Financials Stand—Discusses Street Improvement.

To the Brand:

I have read with interest Mr. Baskin's communication in the issue of the Brand of Oct. 17th and appreciate his public spirited sentiments. I gladly seize the opportunity to make known to him and others who more than likely share his views, something of the condition of the City's affairs, but before doing so, I would like to assure him that the Commission feels that there is much work that ought to be done and it is willing to do all that it can do and to go as far as it can go towards improving the City's streets.

We agree with Mr. Baskin that it is important that the proper foundations be laid as early as possible for the systematic improvement of the City so that whatever may be done shall be done right and that work and money spent will not have to be undone or wasted. The streets are in poor condition and a system of drainage and street improvement ought to be adopted so that whatever is done in the way of labor or improvement will be done in developing the system, as to avoid the necessity of undoing it or throwing it away in the future, even if done a little at a time. Of course, it is a waste of money and labor to put in culverts and drains so that to get through them, the water will have to run up hill. Streets and road ways ought not to be graded and worked over a greater width than their reasonable use requires. To grade and work out roadways 50 feet wide in a street when 30 feet is amply sufficient is a great waste of money and labor. Hence, the economy and necessity of adopting a system and working to the system even if the work is done gradually, some one year and some the next. Nothing has been done on our streets for several years as Mr. Baskin truly says. The Commission has had little opportunity to do any thing but to wrestle with problems of debt. But still, if as Mr. Baskin seems to think, men can be found who will volunteer their services to assist in the improvement, the City will go just as far as it can and will do all it can.

Now, a little about the City's affairs. When the Commission was elected there was less than five dollars in the treasury available for current expenses. Since that time it has paid all of its current expenses in cash and has incurred but two additional debts. One for $133.00, which is not yet due, and a debt of $50.25 per month for 22 months on the hose truck. It has paid off over $2600.00 of old indebtedness. It has sold the fire horses and wagon and bought in place of them an auto fire truck and thus decreased the monthly expense of maintaining the fire apparatus. It has materially increased the income from the Water Works and has systematized and perfected the system of keeping accounts and records so that no property within the City can now escape taxation, and so that entries and vouchers can be shown for every dollar expended. A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run-down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful, strength creator and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Sazo Salva. We guarantee it.

Builds Silo.

Lawrence Johnson, merchant and stock farmer of Summerfield, was in Hereford this week and incidentally mentioned that he had erected a stave silo, 20 by 22 feet and had it filled with good stuff. He intends to feed milk cows and a few yearlings for beef. If the experiment proves satisfactory he will build another silo, as he has the material for another.

Illinois Man Writes for Information.

J. E. Cox of Illinois writes to his friend, Troy Womble, for information about irrigation around Hereford and receives a favorable reply. Mr. Cox says that he has been reading about the good crops raised under irrigation and wants Mr. Womble to verify the statements made. This was done in good style, and as the report goes from one who usually would pick a flaw in a steel saw, the Brand feels that irrigation around Hereford is more than a promising success. Mr. Cox asked the straight forward question of Troy: Is irrigation a success in the hands of the general farmer? And the answer was this: That the soil, the water and the proper management would bring success to the farmer; that the reports as published in the Brand from time to time were in keeping with the facts. Mr. Cox also wanted to know if the irrigated land was selling. The answer was somewhat evasive, but he stated that when a man got a good well and plenty of water on his land, it was worth so much more than a dry section that his price exceeded the cost of raw land and the additional cost of a well. The Brand would like to add right here, that no business was ever so easy that all men succeeded at it. Even the peanut vander sometimes went dead broke and sometimes great railroad corporations "hit the ceiling." So it will be with irrigation farming even around Hereford; some will succeed eminently, others only partly and some will go broke. But this year, around Hereford, the crops from the irrigated farms have been good, and all have succeeded fairly well with possibly one or two exceptions and they did not make a failure, but were only partly successful. With as fine soil and suited to irrigation as will be found anywhere and with plenty of water, there is no reason, except the lack of good judgment or the inherent laziness of men or the accidents of nature, but that every irrigated farm around Hereford should produce good crops every year. In conclusion, Mr. Cox admits that the corn in his section was very poor this year on account of the drought. Is it not strange that a drought in Illinois that ruins the corn does not scare anybody out of the country, but a small size drought in the Panhandle makes folks homesick. The Brand stakes its good reputation upon this statement: That Illinois could not stand a three years' shortage of sky water as well as the Plains of Texas and that, if the test could be made, many of the people of that good state would have to be fed by the government, while on the Plains we would still live and could be happy if we wanted to. Do you take the wager?

TEXAS SUGAR INDUSTRY

Built Up by Home Patronage State Sands Second in Production.

Sugar and related products are obtained from three widely different classes of plants, to-wit: cane, beets and maple trees. In Texas cane is the only article producing sugar in commercial quantities. The soil and climate of the coast country from the Mississippi to the Rio Grande are especially adapted to the propagation of sugar cane.

We have 40,000 acres in cane, producing 400,000 tons, valued at $4.50 per ton, and the average production is ten tons per acre. The sugar cane crop for 1912 approximated $2,000,000 in value. The entire production is manufactured in Texas. We ship into the state from Porto Rico for refining at our mills 10,000,000 pounds of raw sugar per annum and approximately 50,000,000 pounds from Cuba. We manufacture per annum in Texas 250,000 barrels of sugar and 20,000 barrels of syrup. One-half of the Texas production is compelled to seek a market outside the State, although we consume four times more sugar than we produce. The investment in this industry approximates $2,000,000 and gives employment to 2,000 people. The annual output has a factory value of $3,000,000. Texas ranks second with the states in the Union in production of sugar cane, Louisiana leading with almost ten times the acreage of Texas. In the United States 6,240,000 tons of sugar cane were produced in 1909, according to the federal census reports. The West Indian Islands furnish the bulk of the raw sugar manufactured in the United States.

The beet sugar producing states are on the Canadian border and the Pacific Coast. The production in the United States in 1909 was 3,288,000 tons.

The average consumption of sugar per capita in the United States is 87 pounds per annum. A little more than one-half the sugar consumed is for household purposes; the remainder is used in the manufacturing establishments chiefly in the preparation of articles utilized for food and drink.

Church Suppers, Teas, etc.

The Brand wants to be understood about the charges for local items in the paper. Where the society gives a dinner, tea, play or program of any kind and expects to receive a financial benefit therefrom, the rate is one cent per word for each issue. There is no difference between a free will offering and a door admission charge, if the purpose is to make money. Announcements of the regular church services, the programs of the societies, announcements of special services or any public program, where no financial gain is expected, will be published freely without charge. All such announcements, however, should be written out just as they should be printed.

Mayer Talks About City.

dollars of the City's bonded indebtedness has been paid off and the 5 per cent interest thereon stopped. Taxes have been reduced from 80 to 65 cents on the $100 of property. Now, here is the situation that confronts us for the year 1914.

We may safely count on the following revenue (if we collect it):
 Amount of taxes due the City shown by the tax rolls $7859.00
 Revenue from the Water Works 1596.00
 Occupation taxes 100.00
 $9555.00

The following items of expense
 should be met and a part of them
 must be met:

Total expenses of running the City for the year $4000.00
 Int. and sinking fund from the special tax of 25c 3003.00

The law does not permit this to be used for any other purpose than to pay interest and create a sinking fund. The following items of indebtedness ought to be paid and it has been the policy of the Commission to pay the City's debts as fast as possible, even if our streets were not repaired:

Warrant due for Water Meters bought by former Council $ 516.00
 Warrant due for the Hose
 Reel bought by the Com. 133.00
 Old warrants now held by
 First State Bank & Trust
 Co. 1047.00
 Other old warrants out standing held by different parties 304.00
 $9000.00

And this does not cover all that the City owes for we have a suit pending in Fort Worth in which an effort is being made to hold the City liable for something over $1000.00.
 The City also owes some vendors lien notes on lots bought for Pump House, Sewer Disposal Grounds and Gravel Pit. But the V. L. notes do not have to be paid in 1914. The interest can be paid and the notes extended.

Our bonded indebtedness is $42,000.00 for Sewer and Water Works bonds, which bear interest at 5 per cent. This interest must be paid annually in June. Now, the thoughtful citizen with these facts
 before him can figure some for himself. It must appear to him that the City cannot do much in the way of improving streets in the year 1914,

 if we make any substantial payments on these old debts. Some might argue that we should make improvements and postpone paying the debts until times get better, but so far the Commission has not thought so.

The City has a lot of brick with which to make crossings where needed, and if the citizens in a neighborhood want a crossing bad enough to raise the money to cover the rest of the expense, the City will furnish the brick. Considerable improvement can be made in this way. It costs about $30.00 to $35.00 to put in a crossing where the City furnishes the brick. The brick are on hand and might as well be used, but the City has not had the money to put in crossings, no matter how badly needed.

Texas Sheep Herds Rapidly Increasing and Quality Improving.

The sheep has butted more political parties out of power and trampled more politicians under its feet than any other influence in public affairs.
 Congress has recently ejected him
 from legislative halls and, as he run-through the market places bleating
 for protection against the withering winds of Australian competition and seeks in vain, shelter from floods of free wool from foreign countries, he may arouse the sympathy of the American farmer. The sheep is a statesman of proved ability and wide experience in political affairs and he may make his fleece the paramount issue of the coming campaign.

Some of the most prominent sheep of the nation who are leaders of the ruling families will meet at the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show on November 22-28 and talk over their recent political defeat and lay plans for future campaigns. Every candidate for office, student of political economy and voter as well, should attend the Fat Stock Show and study
 the issue which the sheep will present.

The sheep provides food and clothing for man and enjoys the distinction of being the only animal that renders a dual service. King Cotton is a strong rival of wool but, notwithstanding the humiliating competition of vegetable fibre, the production of wool in the United States has increased more rapidly than that of cotton during the past half century.

The 1910 federal census report shows 10,257,779 pounds of wool produced in Texas; 289,419,977 in the United States and 2,695,732,000 in the world. We furnish less than one-half of one per cent of the world's supply and 3.2 per cent of the United States production. Wool is produced in 207 counties in Texas. The farm price per pound of wool last season was 28 cents under an eleven cent tariff, which has since been removed. The annual production per capita in Texas is 2.6 pound, and the average consumption per capita is 5.75 pounds. The world's average consumption approximate-one pound per capita.

The report of the United State Department of Agriculture shows we had on January 1st, 3,073,000 sheep valued at $6,012,000. During the past ten years our sheep herds have doubled in number and value per head.

GUBERNATORIAL HANDICAP.

The Amarillo Daily News under the above caption discusses the "situation" as to the attitude of the people of Texas towards the candidates for the high office of governor. It opens its essay by announcing the different entries, thus:

Already in the lists are Chester H. Terrell, Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-third Texas Legislature; John G. Wilfacy, member of the State Senate, and one of the ablest public men of Texas; Will H. Mayes, Lieutenant Governor and newspaper publisher; W. P. Lane, Comptroller of Texas, and avowed in to the death candidate, and Dr. Worsham of El Paso, with Cullen-Thomas on the edge of announcing, and rumors of other entries tumbling in the distance. All are ready to fight for victory, which pretends activity and months of strenuous campaigning.

And since the publication one more candidate, Leopold Morris, representative from Victoria, switches himself into the arena. It appears that the News left out one important candidate, a man by the name of Hanger, who resides in the Panther City. This makes only eight entries and the track is 100 feet wide.

The News starts out by saying that it had rather discuss potatoes than politics, but, no doubt, this was just put in because the two words rhymed and as a sort of a starter. "Texas has suffered through the narrow and niggardly policy of her chief executives in recent years," it declares. And in the next paragraph says: "The News believes that a man should be chosen for governor who seeks the suffrage of the people upon some other issue than the prohibition question. It is well that a candidate's attitude on this issue be known, but that attitude should, in no sense, determine the decision of the doubtful voter. Texas cannot afford to make another mistake in selecting a governor. No man of narrow ideas can render worthy and able service to a great people."

These sentiments are worthy of consideration. True, Texas has suffered for years, not so much as the lack of a competent governor, but for the lack of business men in the halls of legislation. Many of the members are there, not for the public good, but for political pie making, as is evidenced by the large number of legislative members as candidates for governor. But if it seeks to eliminate the prohibition question from Texas politics, it had as well try to satisfy the Mexicans with a bag of friolas. The whisky question is the main and will be the main issue in the approaching campaign and it will ever be as long as men differ in tastes. Even if the state should go "dry," this would not quiet the matter. The whisky business has too much invested to submit without a struggle. The whisky organizations throuth the country are conserving every resource for the final struggle for existence. They have long controlled legislation, not only on the prohibition question, but many other important questions have they "fixed." The prohibition question will not down and the next governor of Texas will so be because he was a pro or an anti. If the anti's are successful, it will be for the reason that their leaders have keener political perceptive powers and are able to send the "word down the line," while the pro leaders are fighting among themselves, deceiving their own people in thinking that a great battle is being waged with the enemy.

Yes, the next governor ought to be a man of experienced business qualifications. He should be fully informed upon the needs of the state in the matter of schools from the ungraded country school to the university. He should know the resources of the state and his attitude should permit their development; he should be a man of keen business acumen so that he could deal properly with the great money interests who seek investments in the state; he should foster further railroad building and improvement in the railroad service by giving the roads a "square deal;" he should be able to comprehend some other matters besides his little circle of political followers, who live out of the public cribs. Texas needs a governor and needs one bad, but in selecting a chief executive, let's not forget that Texas needs more than all, a set of honest men in the legislature, without which no governor however competent can serve his state well.

Built Up by Home Patronage
State Sands Second in Production.

Sugar and related products are obtained from three widely different classes of plants, to-wit: cane, beets and maple trees. In Texas cane is the only article producing sugar in commercial quantities. The soil and climate of the coast country from the Mississippi to the Rio Grande are especially adapted to the propagation of sugar cane.

We have 40,000 acres in cane, producing 400,000 tons, valued at $4.50 per ton, and the average production is ten tons per acre. The sugar cane crop for 1912 approximated $2,000,000 in value. The entire production is manufactured in Texas. We ship into the state from Porto Rico for refining at our mills 10,000,000 pounds of raw sugar per annum, and approximately 50,000,000 pounds from Cuba. We manufacture per annum in Texas 250,000 barrels of sugar and 20,000 barrels of syrup. One-half of the Texas production is compelled to seek a market outside the State, although we consume four times more sugar than we produce. The investment in this industry approximates $2,000,000 and gives employment to 2,000 people. The annual output has a factory value of $3,000,000. Texas ranks second with the states in the Union in production of sugar cane, Louisiana leading with almost ten times the acreage of Texas. In the United States 6,240,000 tons of sugar cane were produced in 1909, according to the federal census reports. The West Indian Islands furnish the bulk of the raw sugar manufactured in the United States.

The best sugar producing states are on the Canadian border and the Pacific Coast. The production in the United States in 1909 was 3,923,000 tons.

The average consumption of sugar per capita in the United States is 87 pounds per annum. A little more than one-half the sugar consumed is for household purposes; the remainder is used in the manufacturing establishments chiefly in the preparation of articles utilized for food and drink.

LIVE STOCK INSTITUTE

Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show Will Be Attended by the Leaders of Herds.

A state institute for instructing livestock in the art of correct shape, personal appearance and market conditions will be held at Ft. Worth, on November 22-28. For eighteen years the Fat Stock Show has been giving the livestock of this state a course of instruction annually in physical culture and the translation of the rules and regulations of the National Feeders' and Breeders' Association into the language of the animal has done more to improve our livestock than any other educational influence in Texas.

The best stock on the farms and ranches will be sent as delegates to the Fat Stock Convention and receive a special course of instruction in the latest models of physical perfection and how to acquire it. These dumb animals are close students of market designs, breeding models and feeding standards of animal flesh. They listen attentively to the ruling and interpretation of the judges and return to the pastures, determined to build flesh and blood to conform to the verdict of those in authority. They are given higher ideals in life. It is here they are taught lessons in high-thinking and cheap living. They are taught that producing revenue for man is the highest calling to which they can aspire and they are thoroughly instructed in the science of living economically and fattening cheaply and rapidly.

They are given authoritative information on diets and shown how to take on the greatest quantity of flesh within the least time and with the smallest expense.

These cultured animals when given a course of instruction and decorated with blue ribbons, enter the elite of packing house society and parade at the head of the market, and the newspapers, with flaming headlines, give glowing accounts of their record-breaking triumphs.

The Texas steers once traveled overland under their own steam to Fat Stock Shows, piloted by cowboys with six-shooters, but since they have become more refined and cultured, they travel in palace cars and uniformed attendants anticipate their wants. They are met at the train by the mayor with a brass band and conducted to palatial stalls, where they prepare for the exhibits.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

SOCIETY and CLUB NEWS

Hallowe'en Party.

On last Friday evening the old tradition that ghosts appear at midnight, was shattered. Between the hours of eight and nine ghosts and even witches could be seen coming from every direction. Each in his own characteristic manner, trying to reach the ghost headquarters for the Hallowe'en eve of nineteen hundred and thirteen, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hawkins.

Some ten days previous "spooky" invitations had been sent out asking the young ladies to come robed in white and bring with them a ball of twine. The young gentlemen were likewise told to be robed in white and to be prepared to meet their fate. The ghosts were modern ghosts, and true to the customs of the present era, the ladies came first. They were met at the door by Mesdames Hawkins and Arnold and Miss Meda Woodburn. After giving over their passes, the ball of twine, they were bidden to enter. Each young lady kept the end of her ball of twine, and as she wandered through the reception suite, she wove a web which some young gentleman would have to unravel before he could have a partner to visit the many strange corners of Ghost-land. Much suppressed merriment followed when the gentlemen came and began the tedious and ardent labor of finding their partners. Mrs. Arnold then passed programs to the gentlemen which read:

- I. A visit to the Fortune Teller.
- II. A visit to the Departed.
- III. A chat with the Witch and Wizard.
- IV. Which old witch will you take home.

How their hearts throbbed at a real gypsy told them of the future. They were still delighted with the thoughts of the future when they were led by Mrs. Hawkins to visit the Departed. Their delight was turned to horror as they stumbled over skeletons, had spiders crawl on them, and worst still, found that they must shake hands with the Ruler of the Imps. After this ordeal they were led by Miss Meda Woodburn to chat with the Witch and Wizard. On this night the Witch and Wizard were happy and they made all happy who visited them. The gentlemen next drew their ghosts and witches for the homeward journey. At a late hour a ghost repast was served, at which time all unmasked. Exclamations of surprise and mirth were heard from all. The Hawkins home was never so pretty nor more artistically arranged than on this occasion. The entire reception suite was dimly lighted with Jack-o'-lanterns, made of the old, old pumpkins which have helped the ghosts so many times in past. Black cats, bats and witches with their brooms were every where. As midnight came the ghosts began taking their departure, each hoping that they might reach his respective places of abode on time so that they might be permitted to spend the next Hallowe'en eve with the same charming hostesses.

One of the finest Hereford bulis, it is said, that was ever brought to the Plains, was shipped in recently from Kansas City by J. D. Burkett, who made the purchase while at the stock show. Mr. Burkett is quite proud of this White Face Hereford Beauty and had him on the street last week exhibiting his fine qualities. Drug Store Invoiced.

The task of invoicing the stock of drugs of E. T. Woodburn & Son was completed last week and Geo. Burns, the purchaser, has taken charge. This trade by which Mr. Burns becomes proprietor of this popular establishment and Mr. Woodburn becomes owner of a fine farm and ranch, southeast of town, has changed the complexion of the business firms of the town and especially has the Bench Congress changed in political coloring. It is not known whether this institution of far fame will be maintained or not during the winter, but as likely as not, next summer when the breezes begin to blow, Col. Woodburn will again take his place as chairman emeritus of the Bench Congress and will, at the same time, have a sort of fatherly care over Rex and the others at his old place of business.

Norway Adopts New Language.

Norway, for centuries under Danish rule and influence and for 400 years using the Danish language, has, by a recent election, thrown off the last vestige of Danish influence by adopting a new language, known as Landsmaal. It was devised by in 1850, by that eminent Norwegian philologist, Ivar Aasen, and its spelling is purely phonetic, making it easy for the people. It has been taught in their schools for years and many speak the new tongue now, but the recent election adopts Landsmaal as the official language.

A New Enterprise For Hereford.

The good people of Hereford never tire in their endeavors toward the advancement of a splendid educational system. Another proof of this fact is the organization of a splendid private school, which will be conducted during the ensuing winter months in the building just South of the photograph gallery. Aside from the regular courses in English, Mathematics, etc., a complete course in Bookkeeping, Commercial Law and Penmanship will be given without any extra cost. The committee has secured the services of Mr. Fred Baird, a university student and commercial graduate, who will be placed in charge of the school this year. Any one, boy or girl, in the 9th or 10th grades, desiring entrance should see Mr. Baird or J. S. Jones, sec. and treas., at once and arrange for their tuition as only a limited number can be admitted. School will begin promptly at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 10th. Committee.

Baskin Makes Report on Fair.

To the Brand: Agreeable to your request for a statement of my impressions at the "Dallas State Fair," I submit the following:

With the exception of two pretty days, we had miserable weather during almost the entire 16 days. This cut down the attendance to about one half million. With favorable weather the attendance would have almost doubled. I talked with a great many exhibitors and failed to find a single one that felt satisfied. Of course, the weather had much to do with this feeling.

There is much grafting at Dallas during the Fair, and the fact that only 18 counties had exhibits there this year, against 46 last year, is in a measure attributable to this. In addition to paying $20.00 for a small booth, 12x14, we were compelled to put in two electric lights, which cost $7.90. (1/2 this amount would have been too much), and we had to pay for the current besides. By right, the Fair Association should make no charge for booth and in addition they should furnish lights free. I make this statement for the reason that the counties are put to very heavy expense in gathering up exhibits, paying transportation charges and furnishing men to arrange and take charge of the booths. This being a part of the show to which people pay the 50c admission fee to see, it hardly seems fair that those furnishing the show should be compelled to pay so dearly for the privilege. There are many other reasons I could mention, but limited space forbids.

Another important item is that of board. The moment the Fair opens the price of board and lodging jumps from 100 to 500 per cent. Rooms that ordinarily rent for $3.00 per week are equipt with two or three beds and rented for that much per night, and often it would take three 35c meals to satisfy your appetite for one meal and even then you could get up hungry. The people of Dallas are to blame for this condition and unless they act more in reason they will eventually kill the Fair.

Another thing I must mention in passing, our exhibits shipped out of Amarillo on the evening of Oct. 11, did not reach Dallas until about noon of the 20th. We were compelled to pay $30.80 freight charges on 2,270 pounds, while Hall-county exhibits, shipped in the same car, and weighing over 1,800 pounds, were only charged $6.05. The Wheeler county exhibits, weighing 1,360 pounds, and also shipped in the same car, was charged $21.80. Mr. Reid, in charge of the exhibits, however, threshed the matter of freight charges out with the railroad agent and finally settled it for $4.04. These freight charges were not settled at the same time and we do not learn of the different rates charged until later. A claim for refund of more than $20.00 excessive charges collected has been filed with the railroad company, which, in course of time, will likely be paid back to us.

A big majority of the people of east Texas have peculiar ideas about the Northwest part of the state. Most of them seem to think it a land of wind and sand storms and the winters similar to Alaska. One lady living almost on the Texas and Louisiana line, said it would be a great pity, indeed, for anybody from east Texas to have to live way out there. This good woman, by the way, looked like she had suffered with chills and ague all her life, and when told that people never had such things in the Panhandle, that the water and air were 99.99 per cent pure, that the soil was extremely rich, and above all that the climate was far superior to east Texas, she began to open her eyes and take notice. She was so impressed with what we had to say that she spent fully 30 minutes in the booth, and being a newspaper woman, took notes and promised to make extensive mention of our county. We had people in our booth from almost every state in the Union, and, strange as it may seem, the women seemed more interested than the men. Many of these women lived in cities or towns and expressed the desire to get out on farms where they could be genuine producers.

The following Hereford or former Deaf Smith county citizens called: Odell Elliott and wife, Dallas; Geo. Irwin and family, Waco; S. S. Evans and wife, Dallas; Claud Meadows, Comanche; W. B. Beach, E. B. Black and son, D. R. Gass, Mrs. Emmett Cardwell, Jack Cardwell and sister, Elmer Dameron, G. A. Lewis, E. A. Hurst, A. H. Elliston, Frank G. Elliott, wife and children, Dallas; Geo. A. Stambaugh and son, Matt Gilliland, wife and son, Marlin; E. H. Fretz, Quincy, Ill.; Prof. W. G. Bridges, Homer Wilkinson and wife, L. Gough and wife, also sons, Earl and Roy; C. W. Dodson and son, Charles, Waco; Ruth Churchill, Bertha Witherspoon, Rufus Brazil, Jim Robinson, Baron Hester, J. F. Barker and family, Waxahachie; A. J. Lipscomb and wife, A. E. Thomas and mother, W. M. Cogdell and wife, T. M. Palmer and wife, Albert Johnson and wife, Tushka, Okla.; C. L. Sullivan, wife and sons, Sam G. Elliott, Ted Estes, D. L. McDonald, Walter Dunlap, Red Smith, R. P. Brazil and son, Dutch; Dr. Joel Massie, Sea Drift; Fred Oberthier, Lester Wilkinson, Jim Rutherford and Lloyd Snyder, all attending A & M College and all in Cadet uniforms.

Congressman John H. Stephens and wife from Vernon spent half hour in the booth. They are both very agreeable people and seemed greatly impressed with our exhibits. Mr. Stephens made inquiry about several of his old friends and acquaintances in Hereford, and was especially anxious to know how our new postmaster, Ralph Barnett, was doing and if he was giving general satisfaction.

Respectfully submitted

Castro County Has Modern Country School Building.

Castro county, our good neighbor on the south, has outstripped many other counties of the Plains by the erection of a modern country school building. It is located in the Hart community. The house is up to date in every way, constructed upon the lines of utility adopted by the State Department of Education at Austin and those who have seen the new building tell that it is by far the best country school house on the Plains.

MONEY REFUNDED WITH A SMILE

Leading Drug Store Will Give Money Back Should There Ever Be a Case Where Dodson's Liver Tone Fails.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a mild, vegetable Liver Tonic which operates so successfully in cases of constipation, torpid liver or biliousness that it has practically taken the place of calomel—the drug which is so often dangerous. Betts-Clark, who sells Dodson's Liver Tone, recommends it as a reliever of constipation, sour stomach, biliousness and sluggish liver. It works gently, surely and harmlessly. If a bottle should ever fail to give satisfaction Betts-Clark will refund the price paid without question. The price of Dodson's Liver Tone is 50 cts per bottle. Be sure you get Dodson's Liver Tone and not some medicine put up in imitation that is not backed up by a guarantee and that may contain harmful drugs.

School Notes.

The teachers are now studying McKeever's Training the Boy, and would be pleased to lend their copies to the parents.

Second Grade.—On Friday afternoon, Oct. 31, the second grade gave a Hallowe'en program and were visited by some of the mothers.

During the entertainment the room

was darkened and a jack-o-lantern display was given.

Third Grade.—The Hallowe'en
 program given by the third grade

was very interesting and the mother visitors were highly entertained.

Fourth Grade.—Ruth Whaley was enrolled Monday.

Fifth Grade.—Ruth Lee, who has been absent for several weeks on account of sickness, has returned.

Sixth Grade.—The number of pupils was increased this week by the enrollment of Ella Whaley.

Carl Lewis is on the sick list.

Seventh Grade.—A new pupil enrolled this week is James Hall.

High School.—The senior class was increased to fifteen Monday by the enrollment of Hal Fullerton.

Miss Ora Curtis is out of school on account of illness. As Ora is one of our best pupils, the teachers and pupils hope to see her with us again

soon.

Euel and Glen Sullivan are in school again after ten days at the Dallas Fair.

Our basket ball girls are very much "put out" this week on account of the condition of the courts.

They have challenges for games in the near future and with no practice

it will make it a little difficult to play a good game. The directors are trying to find a building in town

 large enough for an indoor court.

The Sophomore class has greatly improved in deportment and attention and they are now doing better work than ever before. The class was very much interested in the vi-sition of a cat. They had a good view of the tender heart of Tom which once beat so eloquently when he had an amicable conversation with Sallie on the chimney top. They also saw the vocal chords which were wont to emit such melodious sighs to his lady love. One of the Sophomore girls was so affected by the sight of poor mutilated Tom that she broke forth into the following stanza:

A pleasant smile he smole

A pleasant wink he wunk

And oh, it was a glorious thing

To think the thoughts he thunk.
