Rat Jowell Gives 33 Ways To Judge Herd Bull

By G. R. Jowell

About the year 1896 we stepped upon the threshold of a new era in the Southwest, insofar as Registered Herefords were concerned. Prior to that time we had boasted some Registered Herefords, but there were very few pure-bred herds, and not many ranches, and only the larger of these, used registered bulls.

Before that time, we had the habit of turning out bulls from the herd as they were branded on the range. This was an old custom of long standing; long before I was born. And we used to have quite a lot of argument about the relative value of the different beef breeds, and talked about Herefords not being large enough, and not giving enough milk to raise their calves; and a lot of other such things.

The improvement in these conditions began under very unfavorable circumstances. About nine tenths of the bulls brought to this section from 1896 to about 1904 were brought in by speculators, and were the commonest bulls that could be found in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska. The reasons for this were that in the first place the Western range man was not very well informed as to results to be expected from the importation of these bulls, and in the second place he believed that any Registered animal was as good as any other, especially after he owned him.

Undoubtedly this early misunderstanding of the entire theory of pure bred bulls operated as a severe handicap upon the industry, but in spite of it all the handicap was carried and we won, hands down. This condition did not exist all the way down the

Baccalaureate Sermon Delivered By Asbell

The annual Baccalaureate sermon to the school children was delivered last Sunday morning by the Rev. J. M. Asbell at the Christian church in a big Union-Service. The subject of the address was "Loving Worthily In The World He Boys Died To Make Free."

Rev. Asbell's effort was a thoughtful and notable one, and made a profound impression upon a huge audience. The program follows:—

Commissioners Will Appoint Equaliza- tion Board Soon

The Commissioners' Court held its regular monthly meeting Monday. Only routine matters were disposed of. It had been planned to appoint an Equalization Board at this meeting, but due to the absence of Commissioner Gibson this was postponed until a later date this month.

Chatauqua Begins Friday; Arrangements Completed; A Week's Entertainment

Rev. McClurkin Secures A Nickname

There is a Minister in New Jersey, near the state line, who has a national reputation as "The Marrying Parson" from the fact that couples from several closely adjoining states cross the line in great numbers to avail themselves of his services as official knotter.

Friends of the Rev. J. E. McClurkin of Hereford are facetiously beginning to attach the same name to our Baptist minister, as Mr. McClurkin has been worked overtime of late in the same capacity.

Saturday he officiated at the ceremony uniting Claude Burns and Miss Eva Reedy. Sunday morning he speeded up and married two more couples before church time rolled around, arriving at the church in the nick of time, out of breath but triumphant.

The two couples who married Sunday were Frank Ball of Missouri and Miss Goochie Sisk of Hereford, and Luther R. Gregory of Watrous, N. M., and Miss Ruth Kemp of Hereford.

Red Cross Nurse Here Interested Workers

Miss Laura Kraemer, Field Secretary for the Nursing Division of the American Red Cross, with St. Louis headquarters, visited Hereford Tuesday in the interest of a local class for the study of Home Hygiene and Nursing. Owing to absence from town and illness of several local Red Cross officials, no meeting of the Executive Committee was held, but Miss Kraemer conferred during the day with interested parties, while at night she delivered a notable address at the Graduating Ceremonies of the Schools at the Christian church, where she related many entertaining experiences she had undergone while in service in France.

Miss Kraemer was taken to Dimmitt for an afternoon conference by Dr. Stanley, and while there organized an enthusiastic Class.

Canteen Ladies Still Strictly On The Job

The indefatigable ladies of our Canteen Service are still at it. Their latest stunt is the purchase of a lot of specially printed Postal Cards for the use of soldiers and sailors who pass thru in writing to their friends and relatives.

The cards are attractively designed and will be quite an advertisement for Hereford.

Our School Ball Team Takes One Licking

We are sorry to relate that the ball game the first of the week, between Canyon High and Hereford High resulted in an awful walloping for the home talent, 8 to 0. We are told that while our young men battled manfully and desperately, the outfit from the east of us were simply too smooth and too good for us.

Better luck next year.

The 1919 Chatauqua is at hand, beginning Friday afternoon, May 16, at 2:45 o'clock.

Our people have a very kindly recollection of the 1918 Chatauqua. We derived much clean, wholesome, instructive and entertaining benefit from it. A study of the 1919 program promises even more than that of 1918. A Chatauqua of the class of the Redpath-Horner means that we are enabled to enjoy talent that otherwise would not reach us, and which would cost us many times what a season ticket here does.

should we travel abroad in search of it.

This year the big tent will be in charge of Superintendent L. E. Durham, assisted by Mrs. Durham and the crew consists of R. E. Pinkerton, Property Manager, Miss Gladys Adams, Cashier, and Mr. Bill Mayne, Gateman. The local Ticket Committee is C. H. Dyar, chairman, D. F. Ashbrook, W. D. Kelchior, Cliff Acker, and others. Tickets are on sale at the Drug stores.

The weather promises to clear off for this particular occasion, and all prospects are bright for a real successful Chatauqua.

Hon. T. J. Tilson Will Address Us May 22

The Brand is in receipt of a communication from the Hon. T. J. Tilso, State Representative for this district, who lives at Plainview, stating that he will probably address the voters of this county at the Courthouse on the afternoon of Thursday, May 22, on the proposed constitutional amendments to the state constitution.

The matter has been referred to Rev. W. H. Terry, Acting Chairman of the local Committee, who will have charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

Baptist Protract- ed Meeting To Begin Soon

The Rev. J. E. McClurkin announces that the Baptist Protracted Meeting, which has been planned for some time, will begin on the third Sunday in June, and last through the fifth Sunday. The revival services will be conducted by Dr. E. C. Ruth of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard, assisted by Rev. McClurkin.

A top-notch singer will accompany Dr. Ruth, and the local congregation is planning to do great things during the duration of the summer drive.

Just a Moment Please

On Saturday, May 24, the people of Texas are to decide by their vote some of the most vitally important questions that have ever been submitted to them for decision in the history of Texas.

The Constitution of Texas was made, or adopted, by the voters and it can be amended or changed only by the voters.

We are to vote on the adoption or rejection of four amendments to the constitution on the above date.

One of these amendments is so far reaching in its economic significance that no intelligent citizen can afford to ignore it. It will determine the state's attitude toward the question of Tenantry and Home Owning among the farmers of Texas.

Another amendment has to do with our suffrage regulations. While it involves Woman Suffrage, it also involves other matters of equal importance. We are to decide whether Texas shall in future be ruled by intelligent Americans, or whether the balance of political power shall be left in the hands of ignorant and vicious aliens. Hitherto many thousands of men have been voting in Texas whom we could not place in our army, because they are aliens. Let us place the future of Texas in the hands of men and women like those who went across the sea to die, if need be, for our ideals.

Another important amendment is the Prohibition provision. Let's go to the polls and put this question permanently out of our politics.

Whatever your views on these amendments, be man enough to stand up and be counted. Don't be a stacker?—Come out and line up!

Horse Kills 7-Year-Old Clyde Pogue

Little Clyde Pogue, Junior, aged 7 years, grandson of Mrs. J. W. Hough of Hereford, was killed last Tuesday while riding a young horse on the farm of Raleigh Hough, his uncle, who lives southeast of town. Indications point to the fact that death was caused by kicks from the horse.

The small boy, who with his brother and sister, lived with his grandmother, was visiting his Uncle and, accompanied by his little cousin, near the same age, went for a horseback ride Tuesday morning. It appears that his hat was blown from his head, frightening the horse, which plunged and threw Clyde off, his leg catching in the stirrup leather. The horse ran some distance with the child in this position. The small cousin summoned his father and Clyde was dead when found.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence of Mrs. J. W. Hough at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. J. E. McClurkin. Besides the relatives here the little boy's father, grandmother, Mrs. Pogue, an Aunt Mrs. Riggs, and an Uncle, Mr. Pogue's brother, came to Hereford for the services.

Mrs. Clyde Pogue who was formerly Miss Lottie Hough of this city, died last summer, a victim of the Flu.

Damp Weather Continues; 7.6 Inches Rain

Up to Thursday of this week the weather had continued gloomy and tearful, with sudden squalls of rain, thunder and lightning. Late Tuesday afternoon we were visited with a heavy downpour and a streak of hail. In town the frozen moisture did little damage. C. O. Norton, ten miles north, reported a total loss of about 70 acres of fine wheat and about 30 acres of oats. Several neighbors suffered more or less.

Thursday the sun is out brightly and hopes are entertained that clear weather will prevail, at least during our Chatauqua.

The official rain gauge at the First National Bank shows a total of 7.6 inches of rain here since January 1.

Total Of $94,100 For V Liberty Loan Drive

Final figures on the amount raised by Deaf Smith County in the Fifth Liberty Loan Drive show that the total was $94,100 officially reported, an excess of $1,600 over the quota assigned us. In addition to this, $1,200 was subscribed by local railroad employees through the Santa Fe railway company, and with which the county quota was not credited.

Rice Hughes Writes Will Be Home Soon

Judge Jas. A. Hughes is in receipt of a letter from his brother, Rice Hughes, written from Fort Worth, stating that he expects to be discharged from the Army and return home almost any day. Rice has been a member of the Fortieth Division in France.

KITCHEN HONORS IN AEF

142nd Infantry Makes Spotless Showing In Contest

"The Arrow Head," official newspaper of the Thirty Sixth Division published at Yonks, France, in its issue of April 18, has a most entertaining article describing a Kitchen Contest between the various units. Deaf Smith County has several boys in the 142nd Infantry, a unit of this Division, and the article describes how Sergeant Jack Jones, son of J. S. Jones of this city, won second prize in the contest.

The article is headed with: "Arrow Head Kitchen Contest brings forth remarkable achievements under most adverse conditions; K. P.'s and Cooks blossom out in White, in Kitchens festooned with flowers."

The article continues: "With the odor of perfect cleanliness permeating the dining room and the appetizing flavor of good things to eat in the kitchen, Mess Sgt. Charlie O. Lightsey, K. Co. 144th Inf. sold to the Div. inspectors the kitchen and mess hall of Co. K, 144th Inf., for first prize, 250 francs, in the inter-regimental kitchen contest. The average credited to the company was 96.7 per cent.

The efforts of J. H. Jones, Mess Sgt. Co. G, lifted the 142nd regiment into second place with an average of 95.3 percent. Supply Co. 141st Inf. finished a close third with the Hdq. Co. 141st Inf. and Hdq. Co. 111th Eng. The percentage for the Supply Co. was given as 94.6. J. Hefley, Mess Sgt. Supply Co. 141st is attributed with the success of the 141st Inf.

The total sum of 500 francs were contributed to the winning kitchens by The Arrow Head and Gen. Hulen. The second prize was 150 francs; 100 francs for third prize. The sum of 300 francs was

Prof. Duflet Ad- dresses High Graduates

The formal graduating exercises of the High School were held at the Christian church Tuesday night, and, in spite of the inclement weather, the big edifice was comfortably filled. The principal address was that of Prof. Duflet of the Canyon Normal who made, in the opinion of those present, the best effort he has yet presented in his several great addresses to our people. Miss Laura Kraemer of the Nursing Division of the Red Cross also made an impressive address.

Diplomas were delivered to the graduates, as given in The Brand heretofore, by Prof. Fortsch, who gave a class history of great interest to local patrons of the school.

BUILD NOW!

"More Americans Should Own Their Own Homes."

Somewhere in the heart of every man is the desire to be INDEPENDENT. Independence is the measure of one's standing in the community.

The first step along the road to independence is to own one's home. The man who owns his own home is the respected, the trusted man in every community.

One of the largest employers of labor in the country ordered a canvass of his factories to determine what percentage of his employees owned their own homes. At the same time he urged all employees in the establishment to become home owners or home buyers.

Sound logic prompted this action. The responsible man is the valuable employee. The HOME OWNER has a deeper sense of civic pride. He is established; he is responsible; he is interested in everything that tends toward the peace and security and upbuilding of the community.

The example set by one manufacturer will be followed by others. It will daily become more requisite to a man's securing respossible employment that he Owns His Own Home.

There is little excuse for a man not owning his own home. The great Liberty Loans have instilled into the American people lessons of thrift that will endure through the coming days of peace. Every man can and should own his own home.

There is no appeal from the man who seeks a position that is treated so lightly, by private and public employer alike, as the appeal which comes from the man who has everything to gain and nothing to lose.

The INDEPENDENT MAN always Owns His Own Home—BUILD YOURS NOW—U. S. Dept. of Labor, W. B. Wilson, Secretary.

SHARE IN THE VICTORY

The Victory Loan has been oversubscribed. The Eleventh Federal Reserve District made a wonderful showing at the last and raised its quota. Nobody outside the District knows how hard the struggle was on account of local conditions, but the Southwest responded as ever.

Many there were in the Eleventh District who were unable to buy a single Victory Bond. They can share in the Victory by investing in War Savings Stamps. The "V" in War Savings Stamps stand for Victory; just the same as a Victory Bond. And War Savings Stamps are within the reach of all. A quarter will buy a Thrift Stamp and sixteen Thrift Stamps and a few cents will get a War Savings Stamp.

Not only are you sharing in the Victory by buying War Savings Stamps but you are creating a fund which you can use in an emergency and which grows automatically, thanks to the interest. War Savings Stamps can always be redeemed at the postoffice on ten days' written notice.

HOW THE STATE WOULD PROFIT.

(By Upshur Vinhent)

Austin, Texas May 12—Where would the State of Texas profit from the Hobby Land Settlement plan incorporated in the Constitution? That question has been asked by the uniformed ever since Gov. Hobby first proposed that the State lend its financial aid to the landless man in acquiring a farm home.

In the first place Texas would profit by securing a large number of home owners—content citizens, with a deep interest in their State and its government.

That alone would be worth more than the cost of the plan's operation—for it will not cost the State very much to put into successful operation this plan. Indeed, it is likely the small expense will be taken care of in the selling price of the improved farms.

But the State will have a real profit in the increased taxes paid on the lands so improved and sold to actual settlers under the terms of the amendment.

Lands that are now taxed at from five to ten dollars an acre would be assessed at three and five times these amounts after their improvement and sale—and the home owner does not and cannot escape his taxes as does the owner of vacant land.

But that would not be the only means of increased revenues to the State. The home owner builds towns—and towns pay taxes. Also, the improved condition of the farm homes sold by the State under the terms of this amendment would force other land owners to improve—at least to some extent the lands they rent; and this would bring in more revenue.

The Hobby Land Settlement plan is not intended as a revenue raising measure; but those who have watched the operation of similar plans in other counties and in California believe the State would at the end of a ten year period be receiving more than half a million of revenue as a result of its operation in Texas.

Annual Meeting of The Alumni and Ex-Students of the West Texas State Normal College.

The Alumni and Ex-students of the West Texas State Normal College will have their annual Social Hour the evening of Saturday, May 17, 1919, at the Normal College. Refreshments will be served and a short musical program rendered.

There will be a meeting the same day at the Normal College to boost the Grand Home-coming for the Alumni and Ex-students in 1920, the tenth year of the college.

What is believed to be the Mississippian formation has been discovered in the Hueco Mountains in El Paso county by J. W. Beede of the Bureau of Economic Geology and Technology of the University of Texas. According to J. A. Udden, director of the Bureau the Devonian formation is the only important geological system which has not been found in Texas.

Most of the gardeners have a good garden during the spring, but do not have one during the summer. There are quite a few vegetables that will go through the summer producing food, or they will keep growing and put on edible fruit sooner than if planted in the fall, says G. D. Everett, Garden Specialist, Extension Service, A and M. College of Texas. The following vegetables will go through the summer:

Kentucky pole beans; Henderson Bush, Speckle Bush and Pole, and Sieva pole Lima Beans; carrots; parsnips; salsify; Swiss, or beet chard; New Zealand Spinach, tomatoes; peppers, hot and sweet, egg plants; parsley; collards, okra; horse-radish; and sweet potatoes, while Black-eye, Lady and Cream field peas, and tepary, soy and Pinto beans will go through the summer with the proper season, in most sections of Texas.

It is not too late to make another planting in the central or northern part of Texas of snap beans, beets, corn, Kohl-rabi, mustard, leaf lettuce, radish, cucumber, pumpkin, squash, cantaloupe and watermelon. There should be a good season in the ground before the planting of these seeds. If possible, soak the seed over night in water, except the beans, which should be soaked only for several hours.

The garden should not be watered too often during the summer. It is best to give the soil a good soaking at one time and then a good mulch should be kept at the surface by cultivating. A small canvas hose, made of eight or ten inch duck, will save a lot of water, put the moisture where it is needed, and the oil will not crust so badly, as it does when put on by the furrow system. This hose can be used only in a small garden.

FEED MUST BE WELL-BALANCED; HEN HUNGER MEANS FEWER EGGS

Poultry Dietetics Means Something More Than Table Leftovers and Angeworms; Owner Who Wants Big Yields Must Give Attention to Food Elements Needed.

Bobby Brown, with an apple-pie appetite and empty pockets, is no more disconsolate than are the hens when they are hungry. Hen hunger means discomfort not only to the flock but also to consumers with healthy likings for eggs. Hens raise the "No Food, No Egg" sign whenever their owners neglect to provide them with ample nourishment; the fowl, furthermore, are steadfast in their decision to abandon production until their craving for food is appeased. Hen hunger may result not only from lack of food but also from sire of the fowl as emergencies arise.

Fortunately farm fowl are lovers of both grain and meat foods. The birds circulate about the range during the daytime, rounding up grasshoppers and insects with such trimmings as clover, vegetable tops, grasses, weeds and other green stuff. Then at night they return to their quarters where they are served with allowances of whole or cracked grain, such as corn, wheat, oats, barley, kafir corn, buckwheat, and rye, although the latter grain is not relished particularly by the fowl. Discrimination must also be used in feeding corn, as where this material is used alone continuously the fowls are apt to accumulate excessive weight.

They Fight For Mash

Hens go after a mash in the

Feed Flock Well for Profitable Returns: Ten Elements of Balanced Rations, Including Cracked Corn, Wheat and Oats; Meat Scrap, Middlings, Bran and Cornmeal; Green Feed, Grit and Oyster Shell, Are Shown in the Lower Photograph

use of rations of unbalanced composition, or from feeding mixtures deficient in lime, grit, oyster shell, or other elements highly essential to flock well-being. The successful poultryman is the one who heeds the danger signals when hens get "off feed" or egg production declines. It is up to him to cater to the disposition and de-same way that small boys tackle plum pudding at Christmas. Usually ground feeds, such as corn meal, corn chop, corn and cob meal, wheat bran, middlings, shorts, ground oats, cottonseed meal, linseed meal, gluten meal are used in the mash, with the addition of some such animal protein as beef or meat scraps, fish meal or scrap, and milk. Where the hens have access to table scraps or a good free range, it is not necessary to feed so much animal protein. Skim milk or buttermilk contains a large percentage of water and will not entirely replace the meat feed unless fed as cottage cheese. Ten pounds of skim milk are equal to one pound of meat scrap in feeding value. From three-quarters of an ounce to one ounce of green cut bone to the hen may be used daily in place of beef scrap. Small table scraps or garbage must be in good condition, as moldy or sour feeds and salty meats are injurious. Green feeds, such as cabbage mangel wurzel beets, alfalfa meal, chopped alfalfa or clover, and sprouted oats, should be supplied to the hens during the winter when range is not available. Oyster shells and grit should be accessible to the fowl at all times.

All the ground grains mentioned above, except the cottonseed and linseed meals, may be combined with meat scrap or skimmed milk by providing 10 to 25 pounds of meat meal or its equivalent to a 100-pound mixture of mash. Because cottonseed and linseed meals are rich protein feeds, they should be used in limited quantities. The poultryman should regulate the proportion of scratch grains and mash so that the fowls will consume about equal parts of each.

Rations For Whole Year

Are You Doing Your Part?

The sentiment of this country is crystallizing into an unprecedented demand for HOME BUILDING.

NO IMMEDIATE FEEDING NEEDED BY NEW CHICKS

Young chicks should not be fed for from 24 to 36 hours after hatching, and will not suffer if given no feed until the third day. The yolk of the egg, which is absorbed by the chick, furnishes all the nourishment required during this time. It is this provision of nature for the first sustenance of the chick that makes it possible to ship newly hatched chicks considerable distances.

At the start it is advisable to feed five times a day, dividing the day into equal periods, and alternating a mash or soft feed, such as Johnnycake, with a hard grain or scratch feed.

Remember that 10 to 15 dozen eggs put down in waterglass will come in mighty handy next fall and winter. Ask the woman who knows.

Reports show that backyard-poultry keeping which was taken up by many on patriotic motives will be extended, because a very large majority of these people became so interested in the work that they are going to keep on, as they find it instructive and profitable from both a physical and a financial point of view. It is, therefore, urged that all who can and so far have not adopted a backyard flock do so.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

MISS CECIL GILLILLAND, Phone 28

On Sunday morning, May eleventh, at the home of Mrs. R. G. Sisk, the marriage of her daughter Miss Goochie Margaret Sisk, to Mr. W. Frank Ball was solemnized. The ceremony was performed at nine o'clock by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. E. McClurkin, of the Baptist church.

The pretty home lent itself admirably to an elaborate scheme of floral decoration which culminated in a veritable summer garden on the spacious veranda, chosen as the scene of the ceremony. Here was indeed a vision of floral loveliness. A most successful grouping of palms and ferns filled the spaces between the columns and caught on their glistening foliage the rosy gleam of an ideal May morning. Relieving the prevailing color tone, baskets of pink and white roses were effectively placed. Here were gathered the family and a number of close friends when the tender strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by

Mrs. H. D. Reed, announced the coming of the bridal pair. Down an improvised aisle of flowers and ferns they came unattended, through the reception hall to the gallery entrance. Here they were met by the officiating minister, who, with the simple ritual of his church, spoke the beautifully solemn words of the marriage service. After congratulations the entire bridal party went at once to the station to bid a hearty Godspeed to this fortunate young couple as they started on their honeymoon journey to their future home in Farber, Mo.

Hereford claims no sweeter, truer womanhood than is embodied in the person of this charming bride. After completing the high school course she fitted herself for teaching and for the past three years had been a successful teacher in the country schools. To a most attractive personality and mental attainments of a high order she adds a voice of unusual sweetness which has received careful training and has afforded much pleasure to her friends.

Mr. Ball is held in high esteem among a large circle of acquaintances. Several years ago he had farming interests here and kept in close touch with the business and social life of the community, becoming recognized for his sterling worth, business ability, and integrity. He has transferred his interests to his former, Missouri home, and is a successful farmer there.

For the ceremony the bride wore a handsome traveling costume of navy blue cloth with white accessories and corsage bouquet of bride roses.

That the future may fulfill in the lives of these excellent young people, the bright promise of the present will be earnestly hoped for by many Hereford friends.

Thursday afternoon a shower was given in honor of Miss Ruth Kemp at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ray. At six o'clock the guests arrived and were served to punch. A well arranged program was then rendered which was a treat to all. Miss Edith Rayzor gave an original poem, Miss Helen Lambert played in a charming manner and Miss Elzina Mounts in her most pleasing way favored the guests with a solo. At this part of the afternoon the climax came when little Miss Frances Ray brought in a large basket and placed it at the feet of the bride-to-be. The basket contained many beautiful things and as the young lady lifted each one out a shout of admiration arose from the happy bunch of "less fortunate" girls.

The hostess served delicious ice cream and cake after which the guests departed each whispering a small secret to the bride-to-be, only the fairies can guess just what this was.

GREGORY—KEMP

Last Sunday morning May eleventh at the home of the bride's parents, with a simple and beautiful service, the marriage of Miss Ruth Kemp to Mr. Luther Gregory was solemnized.

At ten o'clock "At Dawning", sung by Miss Helen Lambert, followed by Mendelssohn's wedding march was played to the strains of which the bridal couple marched into the living room and took their places before Rev. J. E. McClurkin who performed the solemn rites. At its close congratulations and good wishes were extended.

The bride wore an exquisite costume of white georgette and a picture white hat, which emphasized the natural attractiveness of the young woman.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kemp and has a number of loving friends who will miss her cherry smile and always happy disposition.

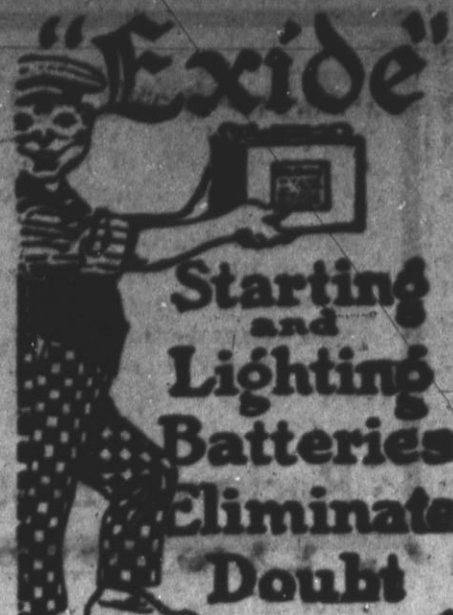

The groom is a prominent young ranchman of Watrous, New Mex., and formerly lived near Hereford. He holds the high esteem of all.

An informal twelve o'clock dinner was given at the home of the bride only the family and a few intimate friends were present.

The happy couple left Monday for Watrous, New Mexico, where they will make their future home. All who knew them wish them the most of happiness and success as they begin life's voyage together.

One of the most enjoyable evenings that the Liberty Girls have ever spent was that of Monday, May 12; at which time their good friend "Jolly" John McLean gave them a regular "George" party in the Ice Cream parlor of the Corner Drug Store.

At 7:30 the hour appointed for the festivities to begin; the Liberty Girls arrived in full dress parade. Waiting in front of the store for the arrival was the HOST. When

Mr. McLean came up with his million dollar smile, the "Lucky Thirteen" immediately felt at home, stepped down from their exalted perch of Dignity, and took possession of the "Corner" from the peanut stand to the back door.

As would naturally be expected the Playerphone was kept busy throughout the hour, the degree of classical music ranging all the way from "Abide With Me" by Alma Gluck and Louise Homer to the "Alcoholic Rag" repeated several times for the benefit of Miss Helen Lea.

At length the happy throng was ushered into the parlor where Mr. McLean assisted by his able assistant "Dubs" had every thing in absolute readiness for the proposed "Feed". The girls needed no second invitation to be seated. At this most opportune time in came Mr. Jonathan Archibold Pitman and Lieutenant Clifford Acker, the Liberty Girl Annex, and Mr. Wellborn all Ex-soldier boys.

Nor did the merriment in the least abate when the guests discovered brick ice cream, wafers and ice tea placed before them. Instead joy ran riot for not only this, but behold! the profusion of sweet peas and there too the tickets for the line party.

The feast over, the party soon dispersed because of their numerous social obligations on this particular evening; but not until they had given many cheers for their most hospitable host.

"Showers" seem to be the order of the day; not only are we having showers of rain but the Brides-to-be seem to be having their "Showers-of-useful-things" for their new homes. Last Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips Misses Matthea McClurkin and Douglas Wilson gave Miss Goochie Sisk a most charming entertainment in the form of a shower.

The afternoon fun was started in a very unique way when little Billie Ross-Phillips gave Miss Sisk a telegram telling her to look behind the window blind and upon looking a package was discovered, thus from time to time a telegram was given her until a number of gifts were found. Then as the guests gathered around the happy girl each package was unfolded and admired.

The hostess served brick ice cream and angel food cake to the happy-bunch of young girls.

TAG DAY SATURDAY

Every voter in Deaf Smith County must wear a prohibition tag Saturday, May 17th. The Woman's Good Government League, assisted by the Local Prohibition Campaign Committee is putting on a "Tag Day" for this date in the interest of state-wide prohibition. This is a co-operative movement with the state organization and is the final big pull together for the polling of a big prohibition vote on May 24th. The committee is anxious to provide every voter with a tag. These will be furnished free. Show your colors by securing one Saturday. The committee will do its best to find you, but if you haven't secured a tag by Saturday afternoon, you will have an opportunity at the close of the Chautauqua. Stand up and be counted with the forces of decency and righteousness by wearing a "Texas Dry" tag on Saturday.

Mrs. B. F. Guthrie, Vice Pres.
Miss Annie Preece, Sec'y.

BURNS—REEDY

Miss Eva Reedy and Claude Burns were united in marriage by Rev. McClurkin, Saturday evening at the Baptist parsonage. The young people will make their home near Wildorado, Texas.

Mother's Day, the sweetest of all days as it has been termed by some, was celebrated Sunday, May 11, at four o'clock in the District court room. The members of the Mothers Club had charge of the program and as is always the way when these good ladies have charge of affairs, the afternoon's entertainment was a great success. The program was good and beautifully rendered. Every moment was filled with loving tributes to "Mother," and as each number was given all present were made to know how much the word mother means to the world.

On last Monday evening Misses Minnie Dea Coffin and Matthea McClurkin presented their pupils in recital in the auditorium of the Central school.

The program was one of great variety, and showed fine taste in arrangement. Each number was so well rendered that one could scarcely say which was the best, while the applause was so fairly distributed that each number seemed to be the favorite.

The size of the audience, and the ready response which each number brought paid high tribute to the pupils. Misses Coffin and McClurkin and their pupils were congratulated at the close of the program, upon the splendid results of the pupil's work and their teachers' careful tutoring.

A goodly number of Methodists and a few from other churches met at the Methodist church Monday evening for a Centenary Rally and luncheon. Judge Slaton, Campaign Director of the Centenary drive at this place, acted as

The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.

If you have not used these husky, de luxe tires for the Ford car, go at once to a Goodrich dealer and say to him, "Give me a Goodrich Three-Seventy-Five."

Compare it with an ordinary Ford-size tire, and you will find it bigger and burlier in every way.

As a matter of figures and measurements, it is an inch bigger on the circumference, and much thicker in the cross section—that is, a 31 x 3 1/2 inch tire.

That extra size means a finer looking, easier riding Ford car to begin, and a longer lived car and tires in the end.

Though "Three-Seventy-Fives" cost a little more at the outset, built to meet the special needs of the Ford car and bring out its known virtues, they soon reveal a greater dollar economy, which makes it the better buy in the long run.

toast master and very appropriately introduced the speakers of the evening.
The first number on the program, a Centenary song was led by Miss Swisher, and for once every body in the Methodist church sang; this included Mr. Parker. Our thanks to God was then voiced in prayer.
The first course of luncheon was served which consisted of sandwiches, pickles and coffee prepared by the Missionary ladies and served by girls of the Sunday school. After a social half hour the program was continued. Judge Slaton said in introducing Mr. Turner of Amarillo, the main speaker of the evening: "Mr. Turner is a christian lawyer." Mr. Turner brought to us many helpful thoughts; spoke of the sacrifices made during the war; of present conditions; also of world reconstruction; that this was a work our church must have a great part, a leading part in. It is our duty as a church to advance necessary funds to help in this great work and furnish young men and women to carry the message to a needy world. Along with the many good things he said, he gave us the scripture about "bringing all the tithes into store house and I will pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." He spoke of the tithe and our duty to pay to God what we owe.
Mr. Slaton followed with an earnest, forceful talk, referring to the above scripture, saying, something the blessing we were to receive was material, but stressed the point that God meant spiritual, and how much more important and necessary the spiritual was than the material; that our greatest need in Hereford was a revival! Also stating how much this great Centenary movement had meant to the M. E. Church of the north and east. We must make it mean much to us; a deepening of the spiritual life a more earnest prayer life. Let us give God our best. Delicious cake and coffee was served and again some time was spent socially.
Miss Swisher sang very beautifully, "Will I Empty Handed Be" which was appreciated by all.
Mr. Eli Dunlap was then introduced, his subject being "Shall we subscribe our full quota?" He said in part: "we educate our children; we give them the best. Shall we do less for our church. We must do our part in helping to carry the gospel to those in darkness. The only thing for us to do is to subscribe and pay our quota, $1500.00 per year, for the next five years."
All present entered heartily in singing the closing song, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning". All wended their way home at a late hour, many speaking of the benefit received and the pleasure the few hours spent together had meant to them, and expecting great good to come to the church as a result of the great Centenary Movement.

Woodall, added to the effect planned by Sgt. Lightsey, Chap. M. S. Garriga, and Sup. Sgt. Swan H. Miller helped materially in decorations.
"I was determined to make the place look like a place to eat," said Pvt. Vonrox, "not a conservatory, into which a mess hall had been moved."
"A delightful odor of good things to eat, (not blum) that permeated the kitchen helped in getting the prize for the Company. The cooks are Wayman C. McCollmey, W. E. Henderson, Wylie Gilstrap and Jno. D. Alexander. The details responsible for put-

"As a mark of appreciation for the aid rendered by the French citizens of Comissey, the members of Co. K, tendered a dinner to the French civilians, Sunday, April 13, Brigade, Regimental and Company commanders were present.
"After the majority of the companies had been inspected Mess Sgt. J. H. Jones, Co. G. 142nd Inf. surprised the inspecting party by another kitchen that was near perfect. A fine system of drainage, clean utensils, sawdust floors, seats for all tables, tables of corrugated iron in the mess hall and each table in the kitchen of sanitary construction together with perfect facilities for the storage of food more than a made up for the handicap of lack of decorations. Cooks W. J. Pritchard and J. Hardin ably assisted the Mess Sgt. in winning a place for the Company.
"A close fight for third place was held by the Sup. Co. 141st Inf., Hdq. Co., 11th Eng., and Hdq. Co., 141st Inf. The Sup. Co. won by a narrow margin. Mess Sgt. J. Heffley chief boss of K. P.'s and Cooks in the Regiment had the extra polish and the extra touches on his property that enabled the Company to nose into third place a winner by a point and a half. The mistake of some excited cook or K. P. in leaving a few articles out of place probably kept the company from second place. The cooks of the Supply Co. are E. Mullen, H. V. Mudd, Joe Baker. The K. P.'s are: M. Peto, Jim Sands, Arthur Huck and W. J. Bingham.

Want Cook's Contest
"Mess Sgt. Benavido and Cooks Tannenbaum and Bennett were responsible for the decorations that made the kitchen of Hdq. Co. 141st Inf. a close second for third place. Mess Sgt. Benavido, started the kitchen war several weeks ago by boasting of his kitchen and inviting competition. According to members of his Company his kitchen and mess hall have always been in excellent shape and ready for a general's inspection at any time.
"Cooks Tannenbaum and Bennett are howling for a contest for cooks only. They claim that any one can doll up a kitchen for one day, but that the real test comes in preparing food each day that will take first prize among the kitchens of the division and still keep one's kitchen in excellent shape.
"Mess Sgt. Newt. Borrow deserves mention for the kitchen of the 11th Eng. at Chesley. Camouflaged on the outside, and neatly decorated within, with all the talent of the Company and the civilian population, it won the admiration of the party accompanying the inspectors. The cooks are Anders and Jones, first Lassick Lang, second.
"Of the separate organizations, C. Co., 132nd M. G. Bn., easily led. No attempt beyond cleanliness was made toward winning the competition. Mess Sgt. Ernest Miller and Cooks Coke Black and Hugh L. Dye, are responsible for the high class condition of the mess hall. Cadet Arno Tausch, acting mess Officer, has been in charge of the mess."

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royle City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days when I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

A number of men of the town gathered in the middle of main street Thursday afternoon and hoisted a flag pole. The pole is fifty feet high and is made of several sections of iron tubing. This pole is the property of the town and will be used on all patriotic and other special occasions.

A deal was consummated last week by which O. A. Gamble transferred his store building and stock of general merchandise to John Gischler of Hereford, who took charge of the business on Saturday morning. This is the third time this store has changed hands in the past two years. Mr. Gischler was the original owner and sold out to D. M. Ballard and Co., who later sold to Mr. Gamble. It is reported that Mr. Gamble will move to Floydada in the near future.

A $5,000 cow passed through here one day last week in an express car. She was enroute from Los Angeles to Kansas City. She is a Jersey and holds the world's championship for the production of butter-fat on a year's record. Her name including numbers is about a yard long so we are unable to remember it, but the first part of it is Mary.

There will be a meeting at the Congregational next Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of making arrangements for a Memorial Day program. Every body interested is asked to attend.

Large numbers of cattle are being shipped in here from points south and west. They are coming in here for pasture as the grass here is the best it has been for years. This is quite a contrast to last year when so many of the cattle men were shipping their stuff out to find pasture elsewhere.

Many of those coming in are dying from poverty.

Fred Clark and son Jed returned Monday from near Adrian, with their cattle. They have had them up there feeding during the winter. They report the grass much better here than where they came from.

We had three fine rains last week, as a result of which there was very little farming done but the way the wheat and oats are growing keeps the smile on the farmers' faces.

Some of the War Activities of the Ford Motor Company.

Without going into particulars, the following items will give some idea of the value the Ford Motor Company was to the Government of the United States in its call for the sinews of war:

More than 2,000,000 steel helmets.

Order for 5,000 12-cylinder Liberty Motors. Over 1,500 had been delivered when the armistice was signed, and we were just striking our producing capacity.

10,000 Caissons, mainly for 155 mm. guns. Something over 8,000 delivered.

Order for 112 "Eagle" boats, 200 feet long, 25 feet beam. Some thing like 25 delivered, when the order was reduced to 62. The balance will be finished by the 1st of August.

More than 8,000 Trucks. More than 25,000 regular Ford cars. More than 6,000 Ambulances.

400,000 Cylinders for Liberty Motors. Because of the superiority of the work on this article, the Government placed the order with the Ford Motor Company to make all the cylinders for all the Liberty Motors made in America. The original order was practically completed when the armistice was signed, and a new order for 300,000 had just been entered.

700,000 Bearings for the Liberty Motor. Here again the Government recognized the superior quality of the bearings made by this Company, and placed the order with us for all the bearings for all the Liberty Motors made in the United States. On this order over 400,000 bearings had been delivered.

700,000 Cylinder Forgings for Liberty Motors. Once again the Government recognized the superiority of Ford Work, and placed orders with the Company for all the cylinder forgings for all the Liberty Motors made in America. Over 400,000 had been delivered.

A larger volume of experimental work was done in building three ton military tanks, and the Government had just placed orders for 15,000 of the small, two man, military tanks, and 3,000 of the six ton, military tanks. Cancellation came before more than a dozen or so tanks had been delivered. But the foundations had been laid and the super-structure almost completed for an enormous building in which we intended making tanks alone. Of course, this building comes in mighty useful in the enlargement of our business.

Motion picture reels in behalf of Liberty Loans, Red Cross, and Patriotic Fund work were made by the Company and supplied to the Government in sufficient quantities to serve the entire United States in Motion Pictures. Motion picture reels in volumes sufficient to serve the armies of the United States in France, Italy and Palestine were furnished by the Motion Picture Department of the Ford Motor Company.

We also did more than $1,000,000 of work in the production of special devices for the Naval Department of the British Government.

We also furnished the Government with 275 skilled mechanics for work in France.

We also, through our Chemical Laboratory, cooperated with the manufacturers of gas masks for the United States Army.

An average of 34,000 men and women were employed by the main factory at Highland Park; 6,800 men at the Ship Building Plant on the River Rouge; 4,000 men employed at the new Blast Furnace in course of construction on the Rouge; 250 men employed at the Carburetor Plant, or an average of 45,000 employees, practically all on 100 per cent Government work, under a standard eight hour day and a minimum wage of $5 a day.

The first volume of The Cactus, the University of Texas annual, was issued twenty-five years ago. The student body at that time consisted of fewer than 400 persons; this year the registration is 2500. The total number of graduates in 1894 was 20. From The Cactus of 1894 it is learned that the football team was first organized that year, and that it won the state championship. The Ashbel, Rusk and Athenaeum Liberty Societies were active at that time and served jointly as editors of the University Magazine.

Picking A Winner

But as we have for quite a number of years brought this way quite a lot of good ones; our share at least, if not more. I have sold quite a number of bulls for $500 and better to go to the range, and when you sell a range man one bull of this kind, and he keeps him long enough to see the results, you generally make out of him a rather particular buyer. Or at any rate, he will buy better bulls thereafter, and won't have the other kind.

In other words, we have successfully passed the first steps in the educational work of building up better herds, and have gotten entirely away from criticism of the Hereford, from any source whatever.

The best proof of this comes through the men who visit this section to buy young steers in the way of qualifying the seller before leaving town to look at the cattle. His first question is, or should be: "Are your cows all Whitefaced, and do you use a registered bull?" When the ranch is reached probably the first thing he asks is: "Let's see the bulls. And if he don't he should."

Improving Herd

If we are to continue the improvement in registered cattle the range man will have to put in far deeper study of the subject in the future than he has in the past. I doubt if we have done with them what we should have done, since I have begun to study that part of the business. We can undoubtedly see herd bulls over the entire country that should be with grade cattle, and some of them in the steer pastures. However, I believe our herd bulls generally are better than 15 or 20 years ago, but still will have to be convinced that we have individual bulls that are better than some we had then, if as good.

Take bulls like Wild Tom, Climax, Beau Real, Lamplighter, Beau Corrector, Sir Bredwell, Thickset, Dale, Perfection, Christopher, Cherry Boy, and quite a few others. Most any of us could use these bulls and get by with them. Compare them with our better bulls today, and see if they would do to put with them.

You remember Beau Real's Maid, a 2250 pound cow and Sweepstakes winner in '96 at five State Fairs. And Dew Drop, Mischief Maker, Benison, Lady Laurel, Dolly 5th; also Lady Matchless 2nd, standing second in a strong class at Kansas City, suckling a bull calf ten days too old to show as a Senior calf and standing first in the Junior yearling class. Some record, is it not?

Well, if we improve them, which can be done if the right move is made, I would suggest that one move be to disqualify cattle from showing with extreme flesh, and instruct the Judge to judge the cattle entirely from a breeding standpoint. And make our Shows breeding cattle competition rather than fat cattle competition; which appears to be the case to a large

That is one reason why we treat our customers right—they are our friends and we do our best to please them, not just because it pleases them to treat them right, but because it is RIGHT that we should treat them that way. extent. Of course they should be in good condition in order to prove what they will do toward carrying a covering of flesh on the carcass, at the same time I contend that they should not be covered up with fat to the extent that they can't get around, and are ruined in great degree for future usefulness.

We see articles on the value of herd bulls written by our best talent, but still we can put in all our spare time figuring on this one point and then never learn enough to put us straight on this one point, as some times a bull will not do what he should, and others do more than is expected of him.

No man ever paid too much for a herd bull, if he got one when he bought.

I believe we have bulls living today that would be a good buy at $100,000, considering the present prices of Hereford cattle.

And we all know that a common bull, as a herd bull, would be very expensive, as a gift.

The Herd Bull

One idea of what a herd bull should be:

- A bull with a big, full nostril
- A bull with big, full eye, and a mild expression.
- A bull wide between the eyes, and a square forehead.
- A bull with a short, strong head
- A bull with a horn plenty big at the head
- A bull with a neck tying into the head the proper way
- A bull with a neck tying into the shoulders the same way.
- A bull with a broad, fat shoulder in at both sides
- A bull with a strong, big forearm
- A bull with a broad, flat knee
- A bull with plenty of size in the shank bone.
- A bull with an exceptionally short ankle.
- A bull full in the heart, and above
- A bull broad between the legs, and properly filled in
- A bull with a clean-cut neck, and full
- A bull deep in body and flank
- A bull with a well sprung rib
- A bull with an extra strong loin, tied in well at both ends
- A bull with a short rib as wide as the hip
- A bull as wide in the hip as any where
- A bull just as wide through the thigh

A bull with a tailhead like Lamplighter, or Wild Tom

A bull with wide twist on hind leg

A bull with a certain twist on leg that will insure a deep flank, and which will put the foot squarely under the hip

A bull with a hide not too thick nor too thin

A bull with a hide not too hard nor too soft

A bull with a strong constitution and compact conformation

A bull with an agile movement

A bull that is hard to whip but not quarrelsome

A bull that responds quickly to feed

A bull, by all means, with a good disposition

A bull that leaves his stamp on his calves

After all, the vitality of the car depends on the battery

If the ignition is not absolutely right, no part of the car can function properly.

Many a car stays in the old-age class while in reality its life is barely half spent—because its nerves are paralyzed by a failing battery.

The Eveready Storage Battery has proved a veritable fountain of youth for thousands of such cars.

The guarantee is exceptional—but the performance of the Eveready makes it easy for us to make good. Yes, a year and a half.

A bull weighing a ton in breeding condition

I think the bull is easily three-fourths of the herd, but a real good one must have a dam as well as a sire to be a real herd bull.

The Future

As to the future of Hereford cattle, it looks to me as if they will soon dominate the Western Hemisphere, as they make good wherever tried. I have seen them from Mexico City to the northern end of the Rocky Range, and they are filling the bill with their owners wherever I have seen them.

As long as we have people they are going to eat meat, and lots of that meat is going to be Hereford; so why should it not be a safe business. And then, consider the men you deal with when you handle White Faced cattle, either pure bred or grade.

In Western Canada, in the fall of 1904, I had the pleasure of meeting a gentleman who had just bought a train of aged steers for importation to England. I helped him pen them, and was with him most of the day. I asked him what he would get for these cattle in Liverpool, as that was where they were going.

He told me they would bring fourteen cents on foot, which almost took my breath, as you will remember a Mr. Black of Ohio that same fall marketed some Long 8 two year old steers he had been feeding corn for some 12 or 18 months, they going to Chicago weighing 1500 as twos past, and brought a nickel. Their picture was in the papers, and quite a little was said about them.

Figure the same cattle on the Chicago market today. This has happened in the short period of 15 years. Do you think raising a good grade of beef cattle looks all right or not?

We have more people to eat them now, and far less open range to raise them on; and higher priced corn to feed. And conditions are bound to continue in this direction, as western grass is not free now, to any great degree, and all of the best has long since gone.

We are gradually coming to the time when younger steers and better ones must go to the block.

TOWN MARKETS OFTEN SUCCEED; PRODUCER AND CONSUMER MEET

Many Communities Find New Method of Selling Surplus Food Products Benefits Both Buyers and Farmers; Method of Operation Must Note Local Conditions

Community markets have helped to solve the problem of better utilizing locally grown food products in many parts of the country, practically in the New England States. In almost every community there are usually a number of farmers or small gardeners who produce above their own needs a small surplus of food products, an amount often too small in the individual case to command much, if any consideration from the wholesale dealers or even retail grocers. These small surpluses represent in the aggregate a very considerable addition to the community's food supply and, says the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, if such supplies can be economically placed in the homes they are well worth utilizing, especially in this day of high living cost and need of conservation of both supplies and transportation.

To conserve this source of food and to benefit both producers and consumers a number of cities last year set aside portions of streets, public squares or vacant pieces of property on which the farmers and gardeners could offer their products for sale. At these community or public markets the consumer deals directly with the producer and gets fresh fruit and vegetables often at a lower price than could be possible at retail stores.

Community Market Successes

One such market in a Massachusetts town last year reports that 30 farmers and 1,800 customers were in attendance in a single day, and the business done during the four months through which the market was conducted totaled about $45,000. Another open market in the same State reports that within two and one-half hours farmers sold ten tons of produce for $1,500, and this lot of food-at a community market, taking the difference between wholesale and retail prices for his service as salesman.

Making Markets Pay

Community markets have not been successful in all instances, but where there are a reasonable number of producers who can be interested in attending a market which is conveniently located for the purchasing public, success in many cases has been marked. To be most successful the market should be supported by some public-spirited organization, such as the chamber of commerce or a woman's club, and the city government should be interested in the movement. Experience shows that there always develops a need for a market master who will have direct supervision over the conduct of the market and see that all rules are enforced. Every market should have regulations as to allotment of selling space, uniform opening and closing hours, no price-fixing or profiteering, fair weights and measures, no loud solicitation of trade, and the proper disposal of refuse.

Local conditions of supply and demand will determine whether the market should be daily or less frequently. In most places two or three days a week will be all that is required. It is better to have a flourishing market for short hours on two days a week than an unthrifty one on three or more days. Simple knock-down counters or tables for the display of vegetables and other products may be provided, or sales may be made direct from the wagons. Each producer should be required to pay a nominal price for his stand or privilege of selling, this money to go for the upkeep of the market.

Prices at the community market to attract farmers must be higher than wholesale quotations, while if they are not lower than at retail stores the consumers gain nothing in patronizing them. Some markets have found it desirable to have a bulletin board in a conspicuous place upon which are given current wholesale and retail store prices to be used as a guide in establishing prices of products on the market. Growers are then either encouraged or compelled to sell about midway between the two.

Lettuce is being grown on a field scale in the Imperial and Salt River Valleys of California, fields of from 30 to 40 acres being not extraordinary. At the height of the production season—January and February—it is not uncommon for 26 carloads of lettuce a day to be shipped to the middle western and eastern markets. This lettuce, grown under irrigation, is produced by hand labor and is of extra fine quality. The industry was developed on a commercial basis about three years ago and during the last two years has been one of the leading agricultural occupations of the State. These localities also produce carrots, peas, cauliflower, and table beans on a less extensive scale.

stuffs was carried away by the purchasers.

The community market idea does not appeal to all producers. The commercial truck gardener or the farmer who grows and markets a considerable amount of produce usually prefers to sell in wholesale quantities. He considers that the difference between wholesale and retail prices is not sufficient to offset the value of an equal amount of time devoted to his regular farm work. The small producer, however, whose time is not so fully occupied with his farming operations, often finds it possible to devote a part of certain days in disposing of his products

"U. S. TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES."

I was much pleased with the advertisement of automobile tires. I saw the other day. I had been passing many enormous board-notices, gaudy in hue, striking in design, and each claiming superlative merit for their tires. "Buy Liveforever Tires! They last like steel!" "Use Rockaway Tires! No other rides so smoothly!" "You'll come to me Ne Plus Ultra Tires! Don't wait!" "The Best of all Tire! Nothing like it!" So the shrieking advertisements vibrated through the landscape.

Then I saw the quiet announcement: "Smith tires are good tires." Just that. You can't imagine how restful it was. Immediately a sense of solid satisfaction came over me. "Good tires." No need to bluster and howl. No need to ransack the dictionary for superlatives. No need to run down competitors. "Smith tires are good tires." I wanted to buy some at once. Those are the tires for me henceforth. "Good tires." That is the acme of advertising.

Ah, when will people learn the delicious value of quiet, self-respecting simplicity!—From Christian Endeavor World.

Proclamation By Mayor

Reinvestment of Second Liberty Bond interest in Thrift or War Savings Stamps is urged upon the citizens of Hereford by Mayor Knight. The Government will make a semi-annual interest payment on the Second Liberty Loan, May 15th, at which time a vast amount of money will be turned over to investors in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District. "Many of our citizens own Second Liberty Loan Bonds," the Mayor said. "The Treasury Department has urged that all who can, take this interest money and reinvest it in Thrift or War Savings Stamps. By this means, they can turn their interest into more interest. It is profitable patriotism and I trust that the citizens of Hereford who own Second Liberty Bonds will do as the Treasury Department has requested. Arrangements have been made so that you can exchange your Liberty Loan interest coupons for Thrift or War Savings Stamps at the postoffice. Our Postmaster has a sufficient supply of these Government securities on hand to exchange for your coupons and will be pleased to accommodate you. War Savings Stamps are always cashable at the postoffice on ten days' written notice. I appeal to all patriotic citizens of Hereford who own Second Liberty Loan Bonds to get Thrift or War Savings Stamps with their interest coupons, May 15th. We have too much civic pride to do less than our neighboring cities. They are planning to roll up a big total in War Savings Stamps sales on May 15th and to do it largely through their interest coupons. Let's get busy and make Hereford lead the procession."

Seventh Grade Puts On Very Fine Play

Again, on Wednesday evening at the Star Theatre, the pupils of the Hereford school entertained a crowded house with a Class Play. The pupils of the Seventh grade were responsible for this evenings entertainment.

This class is one that should indeed be praised, for a large percent of them started in school the same year, and it has the honor of having kept the largest percentage of pupils in the class from the first grade through the seventh, of any other class for several years past.

The play was well rendered and each part was carried through perfectly. The continued applause that each number caused was an excellent guide to the attitude of the audience.

Both the Plays put on by the Seniors and the Seventh Grade pupils were coached and handled entirely by Miss Mattie McClurkin, teacher of Expression. Many sincere compliments have been heard the past ten days over the most excellent showing made by the pupils of this young lady, and for her public spirit in devoting so much of her time to this work. Miss McClurkin will leave shortly for a summer course in Expression in a Chicago School.

Reports have been received from Orvell C. Wheeler, who is representing the Bureau of Economic Geology and Technology of the University of Texas, and the United States Geological Survey jointly, to the effect that tests show the briny lakes in Terry county contain potash and that private interests are preparing to exploit these deposits and erect plants. Some of the brines show 6 per cent potash with higher per cent in the mud in the bed of the basins. It is thought that this potash comes from a richer deposit farther beneath the surface. Briny lakes of the same character as those in Terry county are found in Lynn, Gaines, Andrews and Yoakum counties. Mr. Wheeler's headquarters are at Amarillo.
