

Bond Election for Hospital Expansion Ordered by Commissioners Court

COMMUNITY BUILDERS: Mrs. G. R. Jowell

One of Hereford's Earliest Home Makers Recalls Indian Scares and Wagon Trains

Coming to this county 59 years ago at the age of 12 years, Mrs. Eugenia B. Jowell has seen its growth from the days of the covered wagon to the present day of planes.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Cox with the other members of the family left their earlier home in Stevens County in a wagon train of six. Her father and two of his brothers with their families came with every intention of staying and making this their home.

The men folk had been up the year before and brought part of the cattle and on this trip they brought the remainder, as well as their household goods and families. The two brothers stopped at other places of their choice enroute leaving this family to come on alone.

They spent their last night before reaching their new home, at the old T-Anchor Ranch near Canyon.

"I will never forget," says Mrs. Jowell, "how glad I was to see the friendly cowboys there who made us welcome and the good supper we had. They were our neighbors and friends even after we reached our new home." She recalls the country at that time with its clear blue skies, the green rolling prairies. There were no buffaloes then but there were bones to show their recent passing. Herds of antelopes and wild horses roamed the prairies in large numbers. The Tierra Blanca Creek was a beautiful winding stream of some width and much depth at that time.

The site of Hereford was then an ideal round-up ground for the cowboys of the pig ranches. At that time there was one barbed wire fence. It was 52 miles long, running east and west with the west end extending north about ten miles. It was used to keep the cattle from drifting by the T-Anchor Ranch people and was built in 1881.

Eugenia B. Cox, known as "Birdie" married George Ratliff (Pat) Jowell in 1899. She had known him since he was a boy of 12. The Jowells came a few months later than the Coxes to the Panhandle.

It was at the Jowell home that the surrounding settlers and cowboys gathered to make (Continued on Page 8)

Two County Races Are in Run-off Spot

Two county races will be hotly contested in the Democratic party run-off election next Saturday.

Leonard H. Foster, who led in the primary with 704 votes, will oppose a former county judge, W. H. Russell, in the run-off. Russell was second man in the primary with 493 votes, trailed by Judge Fred W. Baird, write-in candidate, with 448, and Mrs. Bess Werner with 333.

In precinct 4, County Commissioner E. T. Allred is opposed for re-election by John I. Morris. Morris led a field of three in the primary with 90 votes. Allred polling 72, and Hardy Benson trailing with 35.

All other county and district races were settled in the primary on July 27.

Election officials, and polling places, will be the same as for the primary election. County Democratic Chairman C. O. Acklen has announced. Polls open at 8 a. m., close at 7 p. m.

Governor's Race Spotlights Run-Off Election on Saturday

The Governor's race holds the Texas political spotlight as the date for the Democratic party run-off election nears.

Beauford Jester of Navarro county, leader by a big margin in the primary election on July 27, will be opposed by former University of Texas president Homer P. Rainey of Travis county.

Jester, who is a member of the Railroad Commission, is the favorite on the basis of his commanding primary lead over a field of 12 other candidates for the office.

Another hot state race is predicted between Boyce House, former newspaperman and columnist, of Tarrant county and Allen Shivers of Jefferson county, for the office of Lieutenant Governor. Shivers led in the primary by a considerable margin.

The third contested state race will be between J. E. McDonald, the incumbent, and R. E. McDonald, one of his former employees, in the race for Commissioner of Agriculture. J. E. McDonald led in the primary race for re-election.

The fourth pits Tom L. Beauchamp of Smith county, candidate for re-election, against Jesse Owens of Wilbarger county in the race for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Interest in the Governor's race, plus considerable local interest in the election of a county judge, is expected to bring out a fairly large vote in this county. Thirty-nine absentee ballots had been sent out by the county clerk's office this week. Tuesday night was the deadline for absentee voting.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, close at 7 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pressly and Gerry and Mrs. C. P. Arthur left for their home in Maricopa, California, Thursday after visiting relatives and friends here.

Increase Prizes Offered by Fair Officials Say

LUBBOCK, Texas, August 3, 1946.—County and community premiums for the 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair to be held in Lubbock October 7-12, have been increased, officials of the Fair Association announced today.

In the county classification cash prizes have been upped as much as $35 with both third and fourth awards jumping from $40 to $75 and from $25 to $60 respectively. First and second prizes are $100 and $85 this year, an increase of $25 each. Fifth place got a similar increase to $50. The county ranking sixth will receive a $40 prize, $15 more than heretofore. Those ranking seventh through fifteenth receive $25 apiece.

Community exhibits must be obtained from within the bounds of the eight school districts in Lubbock County and are confined to those districts only.

Betty June Euler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Euler of Summerfield, has announced plans to attend the Kansas City Art Institute and School of Design in Kansas City, Missouri. She was recently awarded a scholarship to the college. She attended West Texas State College in Canyon last year.

Apparently the fellows who have been shouting "Down with Socialism, Fascism, Communism, and Capitalism" are now down with rheumatism.

Wonder how much of the "take-home" pay that the strikers struck for ever reached home?

$250,000 Bond Issue Will Be Settled in September 7 Vote

A special election has been ordered by the county Commissioners' Court to vote on the issuance of $250,000.00 in bonds for the construction of additions and improvements to the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

The election will be held on Saturday, September 7, with polls set up in each of the ten regular election precincts of the county.

Action of the Commissioners' Court was taken on August 12, following receipt of a petition signed by 178 county property owners and tax payers asking that such election be ordered.

Purpose of the bond issue, as set forth in the election order, is to "enlarge and equip the existing county hospital."

The present building, constructed in 1924, has outgrown the needs of the area which it serves, and hospital authorities have become alarmed at overcrowded conditions in the hospital during the past several months.

Architects were employed several months ago by the board of directors of the hospital, with the concurrence of the County Commissioners, to draw up plans for new additions to the present building, and modernization of the old structure.

The proposed bond issue is to be for $250,000.00, to become due serially in not exceeding forty years, at a rate of interest not exceeding three percent; and the election ballot also proposes that the Commissioners' Court be authorized to levy taxes to pay interest on the bonds and provide a sinking fund for their redemption at maturity.

Bonding companies have already contracted to buy the bonds at interest rates of 2 percent on 10 year maturities and 2 1/2 percent on 10 to 20 year maturities.

Contract with the A. R. Underwood Company of Dallas and the H. L. Shaffen Company of Amarillo for purchase of the bonds was entered by the Commissioners' Court last month, provided that the bond issue is voted.

Polling places and election officials for the special election are:

Precincts 1: Courthouse in Hereford, B. E. Brumley, presiding judge, S. H. Slagle, judge and Mrs. N. E. Gass and Mrs. A. R. Hughes, clerks.

Precinct 2: Courthouse in Hereford, J. C. Ricketts, presiding judge; Herman Ford, judge, and Nona Jowell and Walter

REV. WINGATE RETURNS

Rev. Russell Wingate and family have returned from a three weeks vacation trip to Chicago, Ill. While there Rev. and Mrs. Wingate and little daughter visited in the home of his brother and he took a special course in ministerial work.

Rev. Wingate will fill his pulpit at the Presbyterian church at the regular church hours on Sunday.

Mrs. Barney Castell of Atlanta, Ga. made a brief visit here last week with her father, John L. Wilson, with other relatives.

Nevada, meaning "snow clad," was named for its high, snow-capped peaks.

Naturally, we are glad to be back in our remodeled quarters, and are indeed proud of our new building facilities. BUT, after all,

A Thoroughly Reliable Banking Service is our Chief Aim

We sincerely appreciate the nice things you have been kind enough to say about our Banking House, and we want to again take this opportunity to pledge you our utmost efforts in rendering this community a Complete Banking Service.

We consider adequate facilities as highly important, for they will enable us to handle business transactions in an efficient manner, convenient for our customers. Our remodeled quarters will also enable us to offer the greatest protection in the handling of your money, which we consider a trust even greater than if it were our own.

Several other improvements are planned, including a night depository, and additional safety deposit boxes, which will be installed as soon as possible. We expect to announce our formal opening within the next few weeks.

We consider these things as important for they are the first step in our over-all policy of offering the people of this territory a banking service "Second to none other in the Southwest."

To The VOTERS:

It is with sincere regret that I have to inform you that I will not be able to meet and talk personally with all of you in my campaign for County Judge. Deaf Smith is simply too big for me to make all the rounds between the first and second primary. I have tried to do so; have been on the go all the time; have found many people not at home when I called.

Not being able to see and talk with you in person is my misfortune. I have really enjoyed meeting and talking with the people. Have met numerous old acquaintances; some I was just acquainted with and some strangers. Every one has been exceptionally courteous, which makes me more than ever anxious to serve you as your County Judge.

To all of those whom I have personally met and talked with, I again solicit your vote and support; and to those whom I have not had the pleasure of meeting and talking with in person this is a special invitation to you and my personal appeal to you for your vote and support; and I assure you that the only reason I have not seen and talked with you in person is because I did not have time to cover all the territory, and not because I did not try.

I wish to thank every one and to again assure you that I wish very much to be your next County Judge. If elected, I will not fail you nor let you down in any respect.

Yours sincerely,

W. H. RUSSELL

Bushel? Bushel? Who's Got the Bushel? Spud Shipper's Query Leads Brand Researcher to Webster and Bible

Many strange inquiries come to a newspaper desk, but one of the strangest came last week from a local potato house, wanting to know, of all things, how many pounds were in a bushel of potatoes!

The query came by telephone, and the questioner did not identify himself, so Miss Ruth Tucker of The Brand staff, who had answered the phone, made the obvious suggestion, "Why not call one of the potato houses and find out?"

Back came the reply, "This is one of the potato houses." The identity of the caller will forever be withheld for reasons of security—our security!

However, a little diligent research in The Brand office, involving a Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, The Texas Almanac, and the Holy Bible, elicited some interesting information regarding potatoes and bushels, including the answer to the question.

Down in the B's under the word BUSHEL (n.) Mr. Webster reports, among other things, that the standard U. S. bushel of potatoes weighs 60 pounds, and that this weight is official in all states, including Texas, except Pennsylvania and Maryland, where a bushel of spuds weighs only 56 pounds.

Anticipating other questions, we note that there is no U. S. standard weight for a bushel of onions, and the weight in various states ranges from 48 to 57 pounds. The Texas Almanac is no help on this score, but reports that Texas produced 8,808,000 bushels of onions in 1944 and does not mention Deaf Smith county production.

Webster defines a bushel, among other things, as "a weight assumed as the equivalent of the bushel measure." He adds that the standard U. S. bushel measure will hold 77.8274 pounds of distilled water at 62 degrees Fahrenheit; which does not necessarily mean that anybody could squeeze that amount of Deaf Smith water out of a bushel of Hereford spuds.

Webster also explodes a pet theory about the Scotch by pointing out that the old Scotch bushel contained nearly one and a half times more than the Winchester (English) bushel; and adds, for good measure, that "bushel" is also a word used in the tailoring trade, meaning "to repair or put in order—as men's garments."

The Holy Bible (King James Version) also has something to say about bushels, as in Matthew 5:15, "Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick." Which seems to be the last word on the subject.

Allan Shivers Is People's Favorite

Senator Allan Shivers, in thanking the voters of Texas for the heavy lead they gave him in the July primary to make him the favorite candidate for lieuten-tenant governor, also warned citizens that attempts will be made by "scheming minority pressure groups" to defeat him in the August 24 run-off.

The Jefferson County legislator, lawyer and farmer, pointed with pride to the overwhelming support which he received in his present home county and in the county where he was reared to manhood. Shivers, a World War II combat war veteran (the only veteran in this race), polled approximately 75 per cent of the votes in Jefferson County, his present home, and was a 25 to 1 favorite over his runoff opponent in Tyler County, where he spent his youth. Senator Shivers led his runoff opponent by approximately 100,000 votes in Texas.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence the people of Texas have shown in me and the progressive program for Texas which I advocate," Shivers said. "I shall strive even harder to work for the welfare of Texas."

"Because I represent the masses of the people, there will be those in the runoff campaign who will conspire to defeat me," Shivers predicted. "I will not be swayed by these radical minority groups—the O. I. O. noise-makers in particular. My opponent is welcome to the support which they are giving him. I will continue to fight for the right and welfare and progress of our people who make up the backbone of Texas."

Seven Dawn 4-H Girls Get Club Pins Wednesday

Seven members of the Dawn Girls 4-H Club received 4-H pins awarded for 1945 work at a meeting at the Herschel Miller home at Dawn Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county Home Demonstration agent, presented the pins to Joy Miller, president of the club; Wynell Fain, Helen Faye Rhodes, Myrtle Smith, Patricia Walton, Marilyn Lewis, and Janice Craig.

The pins were earned last year, but presentation was delayed because pins were unobtainable at the time.

The girls earn the club pins by completing five goals for the year. Each girl selects her own goals, which are in various phases of home making, from a selection of 10 offered.

Plans were made to hold a produce sale the latter part of the month in Hereford, the exact date to be announced later. Attending were Mesdames Warren, Burnett, La Plant, Frye, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. H. Smith. Garland Wolf spent several days in Oklahoma on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Frye and children are leaving on a vacation trip to Iowa.

Mrs. Boydston is visiting in Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton spent several days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Johnson near McLean. Visitors in the Fred Walton home are Mrs. Walton's sister and brother-in-law from Littlefield.

Tree Loss Due To Lack of Moisture Can Be Avoided

College Station, August 12 — Many trees and shrubs which were set out in West and Central Texas last fall have been lost due to lack of moisture. J. F. Rosborough and C. E. Heaton, horticulturists for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, say that these losses are due largely to improper watering methods.

The light soils of West and Central Texas must be watered very slowly in order to get deep moisture penetration, the hor(culturists say. "Every 10 to 15 days is often enough to water if it is done properly. A soil covering placed around the trees will hold the moisture in the soil. Hay, weeds, or any cured materials that will make a mulch may be used for the ground covering. Experiments have shown that a mulch will cool the soil as much as 20 degrees. Remember, the boss has to be a crank if you're not a self-starter. Junior contends that the major labor-saving device in our house. We were a firm believer in signs until we read one that said "Drink Canada Dry." That's possible!

THE CATHARTIC HABIT

★ Too many people are influenced by stories concerning "intestinal cleanliness" or "stimulating the flow of bile." Many cases of simple constipation do not require a laxative at all, but only a minor change in diet and habit. The habitual use of cathartics is dangerous. Such misuse is often followed by chronic ill health. Strong laxatives are particularly dangerous when taken to relieve abdominal distress. The source of the pain should always be accurately determined by your physician. The safe procedure is to consult him. If a laxative is needed, he will prescribe a safe preparation with proper instructions for dosage. Then bring your prescription to us for expert compounding.

Deaf Smith County Schools Can Now Make Bid on School Lunch Program

Schools in Deaf Smith county may make requests now for participating in the community school program for the next school term.

According to Dan L. Boyd, District Director, all applications should be sent to the State Department of Education, School Lunch Division, Austin, Texas, the agency which is working jointly with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in handling the program.

The school lunch program has operated for several years on a year-to-year basis but recently was made a permanent government program. State and federal government will contribute to its support, with Federal grants-in-aid being supplemented by funds and other services within the state, Boyd explained.

Primary purposes of the program which has gained in popularity and growth in the county are to provide growing children with wholesome foods they need for maximum health and to create and expand markets for agricultural products.

Any public or non-profit private school of high school grade or under, meeting certain requirements may participate in the program, Boyd continued. As in the past, community school lunch rooms will be operated by local sponsors which may be school boards, Parent Teacher Associations, or other civic groups. Responsibilities include seeing that necessary food is bought and properly stored, that the right amounts and kinds of food are served, that each child may have a daily lunch regardless of his ability to pay, and that there is no discrimination between paying and non-paying children.

Many of the fine things you are enjoying, and are about to enjoy on the Santa Fe are the direct result of riding the line rather than riding an office chair.

You can see more railroad from the cab of a locomotive than you can from a typewritten report. It all goes to prove that foresight is better than hindsight.

That's why you so often find the top executives of Santa Fe at the "head-end" of Santa Fe trains. They ride in front by desire and design to see what lies ahead.

The modern railroad executive, who has grown up with tracks and trains and who has spent a large part of his life in railroading, looks at a section of track not in terms of ties and rails but in terms of the possible improvements for better service to shippers and passengers.

Coupling long experience with mature vision, he translates new ideas into action with immediate decision which is both practical and timely.

This practical "Management's-eye-view" has led to the straightening of curves, improved roadbeds, new bridges and many other things which pay off in terms of better service for both passengers and shippers. It has led also to improvements of design and handling in the locomotives themselves.

During the next few months, Santa Fe will announce a number of new features improving its service and equipment. Watch for them.

Miss Dorothy Banner Is Bride of Wayne Phillips in Sunday Rites

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place here Sunday morning when Miss Dorothy Banner became the bride of Wayne Phillips at 8 o'clock in the morning at the First Baptist Church. Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

The pastel tones of the costumes of the bride's five attendants gave color contrast to an otherwise white and green scene. Light from graduating wedding tapers outlined baskets and bouquets of white gladioluses and moon-flowers against a background of greenery.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Russell Hunter, in whose home she has been reared, the bride wore white net over tulle, styled with basque bodice featuring a high round neckline outlined with ruffle of sheer lace and long fitted sleeves ending in ruffles at the wrist. The short lace peplum attached to the bodice fell over the full skirt which ended in a short train. She wore a finger-tip veil held by a coronet of seed pearls and carried white shredded gladioluses showered with white satin streamers. Her only ornament was a string of pearls belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Russell Hunter.

Mrs. Preston Hagans served as the bride's matron of honor and her other attendants were Florene Lloyd as maid of honor and Mrs. Mary Anna Whitaker, Mrs. Wm. E. Miller and Miss Rosemary Phillips, brides maids.

brown woolen-gaberdine suit with gold hand painted blouse and brown cobra bag and shoes. Both Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are graduates of Hereford High school. She graduated from St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo in 1945 and has been employed in the office of Dr. R. R. Willis.

Mr. Phillips was a student at Texas A. & M. College at the time he entered the service in 1943. He spent a year overseas in Northern Italy and was a Tech Sgt. at the time of his discharge. The couple will leave for Bryan in September where he will enroll at Texas A. & M. to complete his course in Business Administration.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Paul Calet and her son, Paul Calet Jr., of Indianapolis, Ind.

Three Candles For Nickey Nan Noland

Three candles were lighted on the birthday cake for Nickey Nan Noland Friday afternoon, when her mother, Mrs. Otho Noland, entertained with a birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Renfro.

Outdoor games were played and each little guest entertained with a stunt. Balloons were given as favors and pictures of the group were taken.

Highlight of the party was a telephone call from Nickey Nan's aunt, Mrs. Geo. Clark, and Georgina of Lomita, California, with whom Nickey Nan celebrated her birthday last year.

Enjoying the birthday frolic and fun were: Kay and Beth Lemons, Billy Mac, Joe Don and Janie Noland, Ann Lookingbill, Betty Jean Noland, Judy Smith, Randy Dowell, Gall and Gerry Weiman, Margie Sue Muse and the honoree.

Mothers attending were Mrs. Robert Lemons, Mrs. W. B. Weiman, Mrs. Bartley Dowell, Mrs. Mac Noland and the grandmother, Mrs. John Renfro.

Weocantewaste Camp Fire Girls Enjoy 3-Day Camp

Those making the trip were Reba Dones, Joan Hendrix, Joan Witherspoon, Emmarie Turner, Betty Shockley, Mary Katherine Carroll, Patsy Longbottom and the guardian, Mrs. Urlin Streu.

Helping make the trip possible for the girls were Jimmie Gilentine who donated material for the handicraft, Howard Gault who furnished potatoes and E. S. Ireland who provided fruit.

Two Are Honored At Farewell Party

Mrs. C. C. Cox and Mrs. Ross Fuller were honored at a farewell luncheon and party given at the home of Mrs. J. O. Newell Thursday, with members of the Elite Sewing Club as hostesses.

Mrs. Cox, together with her family, will leave soon for Lubbock to make her home and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller leave soon to spend the winter in the Valley.

The luncheon table was centered with an arrangement of red dahlias and red predominated in other floral decorations. After the luncheon gifts were presented to both honorees.

Places were laid for Mesdames Cox, Fuller, Lyle Blanton, J. C. Cummings, H. V. Williamson, E. E. Fridley, T. E. Selger, Edna Jett, Frank Terrell and J. O. Newell, all members of the club. Also Miss Joan Jett and Mrs.

Jim Hughes of Lubbock who was a guest in the Newell home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baker and daughter, Cherie of Odessa, are here for a short stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Baker.

Mrs. M. W. Nobles left Sunday for Dallas, where she will visit friends and relatives.

Atom Year 1 Casts Shadow of Fear in World of Today

Opinion Polls Show Public Confused

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Public opinion pollers have been busy, during Atomic Year 1, asking a great many citizens a great many questions. From coast to coast people have aired their views on the potentialities of atomic power and on means for its control, have confided their fears and revealed the misconceptions under which they have been laboring. Enough answers have been analyzed by the poll takers to allow some general conclusions about John Q. Citizen's state of mind at the end of Atomic Year 1.

First of all, of course, he wants peace, not war. Beyond that, he acknowledges that a profoundly important change has come about, but is not clear about what it's going to mean and what he's going to do about it.

Since the explosion over Hiroshima he has listened to many terrifying reports of what may happen to him and to his city should another war come, and he has also grown uneasy about the condition of the world in general. As an example, the June survey of the National Opinion Research Center reported that 68% of the public believe we will fight in another war within 25 years; 75% think that if this happens atomic bombs will be used against American cities. Sometimes John Q. Citizen decides he'd just like to get away for a while and go fishing. Most often, fortunately, he has been trying to figure a way out.

By and large the public seems

Pictures Show Highlights of Atomic Year One

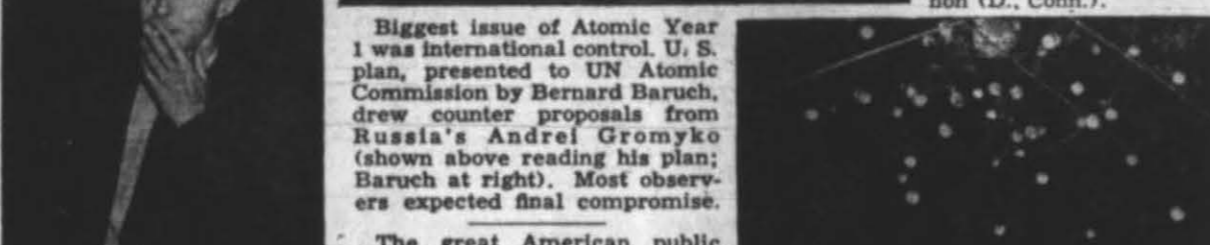

The atomic age opened July 16, 1945, with the New Mexico test of the bomb (1). A few hundred picked observers saw it. A year ago, at Hiroshima (2), the first war bomb left 100,000 dead and injured. At Nagasaki (3) a few days later casualties were 80,000. Only other atomic explosions have been in two Bikini tests (photo 4 shows first one), scored by atomic scientists as long on showmanship, short on science. Along with others, scientists are observing Hiroshima anniversary with pleas for controls to end all use of bomb.

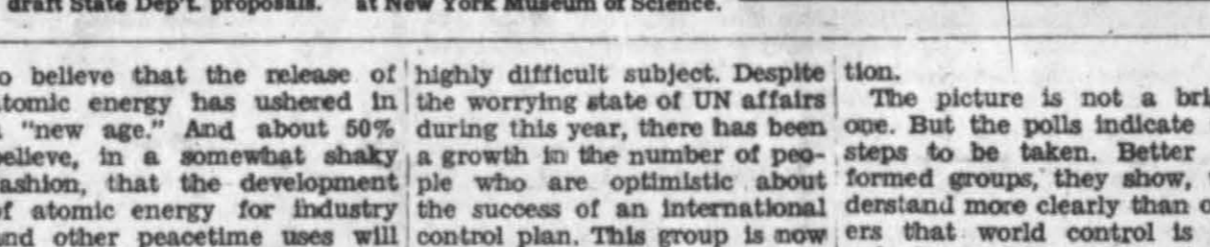

All through the year scientists emerged from their laboratories to speak up on political aspects of atomic energy. Photo (from August March of Time) shows Albert Einstein with Harold Urey (left) and Leo Szilard, all active in fight to control the bomb.

The most lethal way to deliver an A-bomb is by rocket. Army trials of German V-2 type (above) brought assurances by the end of Atomic Year 1 that the day of long range atomic rockets is almost here. Scientists know of no defense.

Biggest issue of Atomic Year 1 was international control. U. S. plan, presented to UN Atomic Commission by Bernard Baruch, drew counter proposals from Russia's Andrei Gromyko (shown above reading his plan; Baruch at right). Most observers expected final compromise.

The great American public spent Atomic Year 1 coping with new words, new fears and new hopes. Scientists predicted blessings from the atom, but not if war strikes. Photo shows exhibit at New York Museum of Science.

to believe that the release of atomic energy has ushered in a "new age." And about 50% believe, in a somewhat shaky fashion, that the development of atomic energy for industry and other peacetime uses will take place within ten years. For the most part, people concentrate their atomic opinions on problems having to do with war, not peace.

The polls show very decidedly that the months since Hiroshima have been months of change in public opinion. Since last fall an increasing number of Americans have become aware of the dangers of uncontrolled atomic weapons and, in the same period, more and more people have accepted the necessity for international control. The Gallup poll showed an increase of 3% in six months—not very large but nevertheless a gain on a highly difficult subject. Despite the worrying state of UN affairs during this year, there has been a growth in the number of people who are optimistic about the success of an international control plan. This group is now a sizable minority.

The fact remains that the majority of people have not yet come to accept the testimony of the scientists and statesmen, that international control of atomic energy is the only road away from fear and toward security. Security through strength is an idea which is easy to grasp. The idea of security through cooperation, it appears, comes harder.

Opinion polls have recorded varied patterns of doubt and insecurity: (1) refusal to accept evidence that the bomb is "anything to worry about;" (2) insistence, despite the evidence of the experts, that we can "keep the secret;" (3) unwillingness to have the United States relinquish "the secret" in international negotiations; (4) the argument that the only safety for the United States lies in continuing to manufacture atomic bombs.

In spite of military and scientific experts, a recent Gallup poll showed that 49% of Americans think a defense will be developed. There are also still those who think that this is the only nation financially or industrially able to make bombs. There are those who find refuge in the prospects of retaliation.

Nature's Forces Hold the Rings Around Saturn... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine! NO one knows just why Saturn is the only planet to have rings around it. We do know, however, that mighty forces of gravitational attraction hold them there. Through extensive research into the forces of attraction between molecules of liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils. Using the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. In fact, so strong is this attraction that cylinder walls are OIL-PLATED. And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits: added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon added smooth, silent miles That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. VOTE FOR YOUR PRESENT COMMISSIONER J. E. McDONALD of Ellis County COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE The Proven Friend of Texas Agriculture J. E. is worthy of Your Support CONSISTENT CONSTRUCTIVE COURAGEOUS (Paid Political Adv.)

Homer P. Rainey THE "LITTLE UNS" CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR (1) Has the support of 98 per cent of the university students who believe he was unjustly fired as University president. (2) Has the support of the old people because he is the only candidate who has a program to actually finance $40 pensions. Rainey is tired of the way the present administration (which supports Jester) has cut pensions every month despite the fact that the state has a surplus of money. Rainey wants the state kept out of debt, but he wants it kept out of debt at the expense of the oil millionaires and not at the expense of the old people of Texas. (3) Has the support of teachers because he is the only candidate that has a program to actually finance an improvement in the educational system of Texas. (4) Has the support of the farmers of Texas because he is the only candidate that wants to see farm products kept at price parity with products the farmers must buy. (5) Doesn't have the support of W. Lee O'Daniel and the Texas Regular oil millionaires because Rainey plans to tax oil, gas and sulphur leaving this state by the millions of dollars every month, and use this tax money to pay pensions, teachers salaries, and put Texas into the fight against polio. (6) Jester and the Texas Regulars have spent millions trying to smear Rainey as a communist and a "nigger lover" the same way they tried to smear Roosevelt two years ago. They hate Rainey because, like Roosevelt, he doesn't favor millionaires. (This ad is being contributed by ex-students of the University of Texas)

Early Days in Hereford Are Recalled by Pioneer Woman

a stand against the Indians at the time of the big "Indian Scare" in 1890. The Indians never came. It is believed the wild-fire rumor started when a cowboy saw a large group of Indians on the move; probably to new territory westward.

"The only Indian that I can remember seeing after coming to the plains was one that came to the door early one morning when we lived on a ranch in the early 1900's. I was alone with the baby when I saw him pass the window. When I answered his knock he wanted to shake hands to show his friendliness and asked to water his horses and for something to eat," she says.

Mrs. Jowell loves to tell of the early days when everyone rode horseback or went by wagon. A shopping trip to Amarillo was a three day affair at best. Later they had buggies for faster and lighter travel.

She knew and loved good horses and was considered a fair judge of them. On her honeymoon trip to Kansas City in 1899 she and her husband attended a big horse show and she picked all the winners. This was better judging than her husband did. She says, "He always admitted this and said he would stick to cattle."

One of her early and most exciting experiences was the runaway of a frightened buggy team that she was driving. She had all she could do for some minutes trying to hold them and slow them down, at the same time circling them in the pasture.

"What complicated things most was the baby that I held in my lap. I could not make up my mind which was best, to throw her out or try to keep her with me. But the decision was made for me when she fell to the floor of the buggy. By this time some of the men folk opened the corral gate and I managed to get the team through the gate and bring them to a stop in a corner, exhausted," she tells of the horse and buggy days.

Those days were never dull and could be amusing too. She says her family enjoys one story of her courting days. She and Rat were driving a little light two-wheeled training cart late one evening. He was doing the entertaining with the harmonica while she drove. The driving was at a good rate of speed and in crossing a little gully, she lost her passenger and the harmonica.

"Of course he was disgusted and my gales of laughter did not help things though he was unhurt," she smiled in memory of the happening.

Mrs. Jowell tells of seeing her first automobile in 1904 though she did not ride in one at that time.

Since then she has seen the coming of aero-planes and three of her children have had lessons in flying. She says she would not be afraid to ride in one.

Besides rearing a large family, a full time job with all the details this involves, Mrs. Jowell has found time through the years to do fine needlework, china painting, and a great deal of reading. The last twenty years have found her a follower of radio and she is very fond of the movies.

She is a strong believer of education though she is a product of the early small 3 month a year school. She had one year of college in Add-Ran at Waco, Texas, choosing a business course at a time when women were "frowned on" in the business and social world.

Mrs. Jowell believes too, that women should make the most of their voting privileges and whenever it is at all possible she goes to the polls to vote. In the past she would "kill" her husbands vote if she thought "her man" better for the job.

"This has always caused some fun and amusement in the family," she says.

"My children say I am a Modern because I refused to have the word, "obey," in the marriage ceremony in the days before it was omitted from the service," she states.

In spite of the years of housework, with cooking predominant, "Mother Jowell" (as she is known and called by neighbors and friends) still likes to cook and try new recipes. Cooking might be called her chief hobby. She had rather cook than to eat and that is literally speaking. She wants people to eat with her and enjoy the results of her handiwork and nothing pleases her more than the comments of appreciation they make.

She has several hobbies but the current interest is in the way of salt and pepper shakers collection. It numbers nearly 150 sets of many sizes and shapes. They have been given by her friends and relatives and come from 21 states and Old Mexico.

Although a home-body, Mrs. Jowell has always been interested in Hereford's growth which she has watched since its beginning. She lived in the little town for the first time in 1899 after she was married and has lived here ever since, with the exception of a few years that were spent on ranches nearby. She is a member of the First Christian Church and her family was numbered among its first members. It was Hereford's first church and Mr. Jowell's father was a charter member.

G. R. Jowell died February 11, 1939. There are two children
