Hereford Municipal Airport gets grant

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Hereford Municipal Airport has been granted $285,000 for storm drainage and paving work by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), it was announced Thursday afternoon.

According to Dudley Bayne, city manager, Hereford - which owns the airport - applied for more than $300,000 in FAA funds last spring. There is still some information concerning drainage plans needed by the federal government branch, he said, which probably explains why the entire requested amount has not yet been approved.

Ten other Texas airports were granted FAA funds Thursday, said Brad Shanklin, staff assistant in U.S. Senator John Tower's Austin office. He confirmed the awards during a telephone interview this morning. Joining Hereford as area recipients were Amarillo, Dalhart, Dumas and Lubbock. Bayne, who did not learn of the grant until this morning, said he was not surprised Hereford received the money. "You never know with federal funding," he said. The suddenness of the award, however, was something Bayne did not foresee. "I guess this has happened because, in clearing out their grants of last year, they slipped us in," he said. "All of these agencies want to clear their funding." "Our problem, what we're trying to solve, is the asphalt out here," said John Smith, whose wife Donna is president of Hereford Aviation. The ground at the airport is so flat, he explained, that water and ice tend to settle on parts of the runway, taxiway and ramps. Such exposure eventually causes the surface to crack and crumble. The lack of proper drainage has plagued the airport since its construction in 1957. "It's just a continual repair," Smith said. "Everytime it gets wet, that's when we have problems. As long as we have the water problem, we're going to have the repair work." With the grant funds, a storm drainage system would be constructed and parts of the runway, taxiway and ramps would be repaved.

Bayne said he thought the airport renovations could be completed by the end of the summer. Thursday, he was in Amarillo to show Hereford would adhere to the Minority Business Program, wherein in federal government requires minorities be allowed to work on federally-funded projects. Bayne said the city was in compliance. B.R. McMorris and Associates, an Amarillo architectural firm, is in charge of the current renovation plans for Hereford's airport, which it designed 27 years ago. Shanklin said the FAA grant for Amarillo International Airport was for $1,246,049. Dalhart received $275,000, Dumas $247,671 and Lubbock $1,442,216. According to Bayne, FAA allocations generally are intended to pay for 90 percent of the proposed work.

Financial woes plaguing PARC

By KIM THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

Financial problems continue to plague Panhandle county judges as they strive to keep the doors of the Panhandle Alcohol Recovery Center (PARC) in Amarillo open.

"We must raise $100,000 or it will be closed by March 31," Deaf Smith County Judge Glen Nelson said today after attending a meeting Thursday in Amarillo. Nelson is the newly-elected vice chairman of the Panhandle County Judges Chemical Control Abuse System, Inc., which sponsors PARC.

alternatives. I hope we'll be ready to discuss it in February." Most Panhandle counties are already paying 10 cents per capita to help keep the center going. Deaf Smith voted last year to send 20 cents per capita in an effort to keep the detoxification facility operating. That was not enough though, and that center closed last fall. "We're not thinking about the detox center right now," Nelson commented. "Without PARC, we don't need it. But not having the detox center makes it more difficult for a patient to be accepted at PARC." The judges also talked Thursday about possible legislation that would add $100 or more to each DWI or

Treated And Released

Karen White, 38 of 813 Baltimore, received some facial lacerations Thursday afternoon as a result of an accident involving three cars, one of them parked. White was treated at and released from Family Medical Clinic. She was a passenger in a 1973 Chevrolet pickup struck in the 600 block of Avenue K by another Chevrolet pickup - this one a 1977 - driven by David Gonzales of 501 N. Lee Ave. The car she was in, driven by husband Harry Wayne White, was bumped into a parked 1959 Chevrolet pickup owned by Lorenzo Contreras, 321 Ave. K.

Beet banquet Saturday

The Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association will hold its annual banquet again in Hereford Saturday night at the Bull Barn, and the general public is invited to attend the event. Featured speaker for the banquet, which starts at 7 p.m., is Ace Reid, nationally-known western cartoonist and creator of the "Cowpokes" cartoon series. Tickets are $7.50 each and are available at both banks and local commodity offices. Other highlights of the banquet, according to president Bill Cleavinger, include presentation of awards to top sugar beet producers, reports on the sugar beet industry, and presentation of the "Man of the Year in Agriculture."

Ace Reid to speak

Officers of the association will be recognized, as well as visitors from sugar beet areas throughout the nation. Luther Markwart, executive secretary of the National Sugar Beet Growers from Washington, D.C., is scheduled to make brief remarks. Special music for the banquet will be provided by the Flatland Bluegrass Band of Dimmitt. The "Ag Man of the Year" award is sponsored by The Hereford Brand, and the recipient is selected by a secret committee of farm officials. The honoree does not have to be a sugar beet grower. The sugar beet growers were to hold the annual business meeting today at the Community Center, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm was to be one of the featured speakers. Congressman Kent Hance, U.S. representative from this district, was on the program but had to cancel his appearance Thursday. Cleavinger, president of the association, and officials of Holly Sugar Corp. were also on the program Friday. New directors were to be elected during the business meeting.

Reid, the featured banquet speaker Saturday night, has become known around the world for his down-home sketches of old worn-out cowboys and beat-up pickup trucks. His self-syndicated cartoon series, "Cowpokes," appears in about 500 newspapers and his calendars and books have sold in the millions. He and his wife, Madge make their home on a ranch near Kerrville where they manage the various works spawned by Ace's cartoons. He spent most of his youth on his father's ranch near Electra. A native-born Texan, Reid has lived on ranches and handled cattle all his life, except for military service with the Navy during World War II.

Doctor, nurse testify in trial

By KEN HERMAN
Associated Press Writer

GEORGETOWN, Texas (AP) - Prosecutors in the Gene Jones murder trial have started to tell the tale of a baby's mysterious death, but the state's witnesses have yet to point an accusing finger at the nurse-defendant. Kerr County District Attorney Ron Sutton opened his case Thursday with a promise that jurors would see "this tragic story of the life and death of Chelsea Mc-Clellan unfold before your eyes." Ms. Jones is charged with injecting the 15-month-old girl with a muscle relaxant that baffled doctors and killed the baby in September 1982. Sutton started telling the story somewhere in the middle, beyond the point when Ms. Jones allegedly gave the injection at a Kerrville pediatric clinic. It may be up to Dr. Kathleen Holland, who owned the office and hired Ms. Jones, to clearly implicate her former nurse. Thursday's prosecution witnesses recounted a tale of a baby they didn't think was in a struggle for life. Ambulance driver Steve Brown was called to Ms. (See JONES, Page 2)

Formby named 'Woman of Year'

Women's Division says Thursday

Margaret Formby, president of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center and past president of the Women's Division, was named "Woman of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Thursday evening at the organization's annual installation banquet. The program followed a buffet of hors d'oeuvres served to approximately 75 members at the Hereford Country Club. The presentation was made by Carrell Ann Simmons, who received "Woman of the Year" honors last year. In announcing the award, Mrs. Simmons commented, "she loves life and lives it to the fullest. She has discovered and shared the strengths and talents that are uniquely her own. She puts her best into each task and leaves each situation better than she found it." Mrs. Formby, a native of Van Horn, saw the Women's Division membership double under her presidency. She helped to form many committees which are still active today, including the annual action committee. She worked diligently with the chamber-sponsored follies while on the chamber board. Helping to keep the Cowgirl hall of Fame alive while it was located in the basement of the library, Mrs. Formby now continues to publicize the facility, and has earned the attention of the national media. A graduate of Texas Tech University, where she was an honor student and Miss Texas Tech, she currently serves as a member of the board of overseers of the Ranching Heritage Center at that university. The honoree was one of only two women in the state selected to serve with a dozen legislators on a blue ribbon study commission on child pornography in Texas, and she recently concluded service on a special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to study teenage pregnancy in Texas. She has served as advisor for the Hereford Panhellenic Council, has done volunteer work at King's Manor, and is a member of the First Baptist Church. A former English and speech teacher, drama sponsor, and speech coach in the Hereford school system, Mrs. Formby was instrumental in organizing the Hereford school volunteer program. ## Friday's Local Roundup

Juvenile arrested today

Hereford police arrested a 14-year-old male early this morning in connection with several burglaries which have occurred within the last couple of days. Lieutenant Vernon Hope reported. The youth, now being detained in the Deaf Smith County Jail, was arrested at approximately 1 a.m. in the 800 block of Lee Avenue. Hope said the suspect's footprints matched those found at two local stores - C.R. Anthony's and Winn's - burglarized within the previous 100 minutes. At 11:22 a.m., Sergeant David Wagner and Corporal Sammy Sanchez found one of the big front windows broken at Anthony's, 303 N. Main. Thirty minutes later, another busted window was reported at Winn's, located just west of the Highway 385 intersection on Park Avenue. Hope said the arrested juvenile is also suspected to have been part of Wednesday night burglaries at Anthony's, Rainbow second-hand store and Whiteface Barber Shop. Some items taken from Rainbow have been recovered, Hope said, and more recoveries are expected. Nothing for certain was taken Thursday night, though Hope heard radios may have been lifted from Winn's. Police also arrested two men for DWI and had one incident of minor theft.

Board takes no action

No action was taken Thursday night following a three-hour closed session of the Hereford Independent School District Board of Education. School board members, from 6 until about 9:05 p.m., consulted with their attorney about a lawsuit recently filed against HISD. The legal action, initiated by the local Texas Rural Legal Aid (TRLA) office, claims minorities do not have a fair chance of being elected to the now all-white school board due to an at-large election system. Kelly Frels, a Houston attorney representing HISD, said he and the school board members are exploring various options available for avoiding litigation. "We had a good discussion and we're prepared to go forward on various fronts," he commented during a telephone conversation this morning. He thought there exists a "good relationship" between the defendants and plaintiffs in the case, and he said he foresees a chance for the matter to be settled out of court. Frels explained he has, in the last eight years, worked on two similar cases - both in the Houston area - which did not go to court. Frels planned to fly back to Houston this afternoon after having gotten here by the same mode of transportation Thursday. THURSDAY'S HIGH: 27 (normal high this date: 49 record: 76 (1911 and 1971)) OVERNIGHT LOW: 17 (normal: 22 record: 0 (1935)) OUTLOOK: Low tonight near 7, with high Saturday in the mid-30s. Winds of 10 to 20 miles per hour are expected from the southwest.

Jury deliberates landmark case

DALLAS (AP) — The longer a jury deliberates today the case of a man paralyzed by a shot from a cheap "Saturday night special" revolver, the more likely it is to rule gun makers and retailers can be held liable for shootings, attorneys in the case said.

The jury deliberated the case 2½ hours Thursday and will resume at 9 a.m. today.

Windle Turley, the lawyer for shooting victim David Clancy of Amarillo, urged jurors Thursday to "send a message" against "Saturday night specials" and levy a penalty of $20 million against the maker and seller of the $19 Armsco Inc. .22-caliber, snub-nosed revolver.

Clancy, 15 when accidentally shot in the neck by a school friend, sued Armsco and Dallas-based Zale Corp., the retailer that sold the weapon for $19 in 1971. Turley also asked for $5.4 million for the care of Clancy.

Autry case in Federal Court

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — The Texas attorney General deliberately misled a prison employee and caused James David Autry to spend 30 minutes expecting to die after a Supreme Court justice had already spared his life, an attorney argued in federal court.

Stefan Presser said Thursday that Texas lost the right to execute the 29-year-old Autry when Attorney General Jim Mattox failed to give prison officials a clear understanding that Justice Byron White had stayed the execution.

Because of that, Presser said, Autry spent an extra half-hour on a gurney with an intravenous needle in his arm. He was to be killed with an overdose of an anesthetic. Presser argued Autry's death sentence should be commuted to a life term in prison.

U.S. economy grew in 1983

The U.S. economy grew 3.3 percent in 1983, recovering its recession losses in a frenzied spring and summer and then moving on to a calmer expansion, government figures showed today.

The year's advance was the fastest since the 5.8 percent of 1979 and followed a drop in growth of 1.9 percent and a gain of 2.6 percent in the recession years of 1982 and 1981, respectively, the Commerce Department reported.

Last year's gain was fueled largely by a strong comeback in final sales, in part because of a boom in consumer spending, and business investment to rebuild inventories sharply depleted during the downturn.

Toddler making miracle recovery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A toddler who was making an "absolutely wonderful" recovery today from liver transplant surgery has already shown appreciation to the one she thinks made it possible — "Thank you, Mickey," she told her Mickey Mouse doll.

Trine Engebretsen, 2½, of Miami, is a "tough little cookie," and she awoke from the life-saving surgery to find her stuffed friend Mickey — and Minnie — propped at the foot of her hospital bed, her parents said.

"It's just a miracle, it really is," Mary Ann Engebretsen said after seeing her daughter following a 12½-hour transplant operation Thursday at Children's Hospital.

"We told her that we loved her and that we were proud of her that she got through it OK. She responded to my voice, and her eyes started to tear. She moved her arms and was kicking her legs. She knew we were there," said Mrs. Engebretsen, 29, who appeared on NBC-TV's "Today" show Jan. 5 to appeal for a donor.

Jewel robbers make London haul

LONDON (AP) — A gang of robbers armed with sawed-off shotguns raided Christies auction house today and snatched jewels from a $3.5 million collection that was being displayed before going on sale in New York in April.

Christies said in a statement that the robbers took two pieces from the Florence J. Gould collection and two other jewelry items, but the auction house declined to put any value on the stolen items.

The entire 42-lot collection of Mrs. Gould, who died last February, was tentatively valued at 2.5 million pounds — $3.5 million — when it was put on display earlier this week.

No one was injured in the mid-morning robbery, John Herbert, Christies' public relations director, said.

Herbert said two of the four robbers carried sawed-off shotguns and threatened the people in the display room, forcing them to lie on the floor. The robbers smashed the display cases and grabbed the four items of jewelry, he said.

Novelist says U.S. losing touch

BERLIN (AP) — Fiery novelist Guenter Grass says the United States has lost touch with its revolutionary past, and deployment of new U.S. nuclear missiles in Europe typifies what he calls a mindless competition with the Soviet Union.

"I believe there is no anti-Americanism in the Federal Republic (West Germany), but there is disappointment, and from this disappointment a turning away and a feeling that we can't expect anything new from there," Grass said in an interview with The Associated Press at his West Berlin home.

His critically acclaimed anti-war novels — "The Tin Drum," "Cat and Mouse" and "Dog Years" — examined the evil of the Nazi era in an innovative style he calls "extended reality."

Druse insurgents fire on Lebanese

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Druse insurgents pounded Lebanese army positions in the hills above the U.S. Marine base with tank fire today and showered the Christian sector of Beirut with artillery and rocket barrages, police said.

Police said shells crashed into several neighborhoods in and adjacent to Christian east Beirut as army positions exchanged fire with Druse gunners in the Aley bluffs about seven miles east of the city.

The Christian-controlled Voice of Lebanon radio said Druse militiamen pounded army positions around the hilltop town of Souk El-Gharb with Syrian-supplied T-54 tank cannons, triggering the duels.

The town overlooks the Marine base at Beirut's airport, but the Americans were not involved in the skirmish.

Investigators suspected suicide from start in Gen. Ownby's death

By KRISTIN GAZLAY Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — An Army Reserve general lashed his hands behind his back and hanged himself, and although he planted a typewritten note that suggested terrorism, investigators suspected suicide from the start, the medical examiner said.

Maj. Gen. Robert G. Ownby was mired in financial troubles when he stepped into a stairwell at Fort Sam Houston, a noose looped around his neck, Bexar County Medical Examiner Dr. Vincent DiMaio said Thursday.

The ruling sent the family "into a state of shock" when they were told of it Thursday, the family minister, the Rev. Buckner Fanning, told the San Antonio Light.

And Ownby's brother, Dr. Ralph Ownby Jr., told the newspaper he would seek "legal review and representation" concerning the ruling, but he would not elaborate.

Ownby, 48, was found hanging in a headquarters building early Jan. 11, a note pinned to his sweater saying he had been "sentenced and executed" for "crimes by the U.S. Army."

"It was fairly evident from the beginning that it was a suicide," DiMaio said. "It was obvious that he had tied his own hands and there were no marks on his body indicating a struggle. There was no sign of foul play."

Both DiMaio and the FBI refused to elaborate on the financial problems of the two-star general, who owned and operated Bristow-ONB Corp., a company that manufactures steel doors and frames.

"It remains absolutely inconceivable that Bob committed suicide," the general's brother said from his office in Richmond, Va. "I will work with the other members of my family to do everything appropriate in the interests of my brother's memory. My brother would have done the same thing for me."

"This is like a bomb has dropped. They have to get over the blast before they can start picking up the pieces," said Fanning, who was at the Ownby residence when the FBI came by Thursday to tell family members of the suicide ruling and to explain it to them.

Fanning is the pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of San Antonio, where Ownby was a deacon.

Ownby was the head of the 90th U.S. Army Reserve Command, supervising 63 combat reserve units in Texas and Louisiana.

The medical examiner said investigators were only momentarily diverted by the string of misleading clues planted at the 90th ARCOM headquarters building.

The FBI discovered the typewriter on which the note was written "at a place Gen. Ownby had access to," DiMaio said, but would not disclose the location.

"Occasionally, suicides are bizarre," DiMaio said. "These people who do this are under great emotional stress. Sometimes what they do doesn't make sense. He probably thought it might just pass off as a terrorist killing. He probably wanted to save his family from disgrace."

DiMaio said Ownby already had typed the terrorist-styled note when he entered the 90th ARCOM headquarters the night of Jan. 10.

When it came time to kill himself, the general "put the noose around his neck, lowered the rope over the railing, slipped his hands through a looped belt and tightened it, straddled the railing and just sort of slipped off," the medical examiner said.

A handwritten note left at Ownby's desk said he had startled some intruders in the building and was going to investigate and that the telephones in the building were not working.

But DiMaio said none of the statements in the handwritten note checked out.

"It's the whole amalgamation of things — the phones were working, there was no evidence of forced entry," he said. "You wouldn't leave such a long note if you thought somebody was in the building."

FBI agent Pat Cowley issued a statement Thursday saying "it is expected that nothing will be revealed that would alter Dr. DiMaio's conclusion that the death was by suicide."

Army prepares to extend program

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — The Salvadoran army is preparing to launch the second phase of a major counterinsurgency and reconstruction plan in one of the country's key agricultural regions, military officials say.

Since June, more than 3,000 troops have been dislodging leftist guerrillas from the east-central province of San Vicente and guarding villages there to keep the rebels from returning while peasants are resettled in the area. The second phase will extend the program eastward into Usulután province.

"I think it's going to start very soon," Lt. Col Ricardo A. Cienfuegos, the armed forces spokesman, told a news conference Thursday. He declined to cite a starting date to avoid giving the guerrillas an edge.

Sugar cane, corn and beans have been replanted during the San Vicente operation, but rebels have continued hit-and-run operations in some parts of the province.

The army has carried out dozens of smaller drives in Usulután, which has major guerrilla supply routes, but rebels appear to be stronger there than ever. The province is a major cotton and coffee-growing area that has been plagued by rebel activities for three years.

Cienfuegos said the guerrillas aim to stage major attacks in the next few weeks in an attempt to disrupt elections planned for March 25.

"They can't give the people a chance to elect their own president," he said. "They don't want the country to prove to the world that we are doing what the communists don't do. I think they will do anything they can to try to prevent the elections."

Bitter cold weather grips entire nation

By RON SIRAK Associated Press Writer

A curtain of cold descending from Canada plunged temperatures to below zero today from the northern Rockies to the Northeast, and readings in the teens were recorded as far south as Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia.

"In fact, if you want a nice, warm vacation, you can go to Alaska," said Nolan Duke of the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo. Juneau and Anchorage were both to be at or above the freezing mark, he said.

The mercury sank to 31 below today in International Falls, Minn., and 24 below in Fargo, N.D. Minneapolis reported a reading of 19 below, and most of Minnesota was in the minus-20 to minus-30 range.

New Orleans hovered around the freezing mark overnight, and south Florida could do no better than the 40s and 50s.

But dense cloud cover apparently spared the Florida citrus belt from another killer cold like December's.

"Think of the clouds as being a roof, and it keeps the heat in," said Emmett Ricks of the National Weather Service in Miami.

That protective roof has been blown off most of the nation by a jet stream of icy air from the depths of the arctic. And while the sun was expected to shine on most of the nation today, it will be an empty light bringing little warmth to a nation weary of cold.

Duke said temperatures will moderate somewhat over the Rockies and the Plains but warned that "it's still only January."

From the Rockies to the Northeast and as far south as Kansas and Missouri, the mercury was stuck below the zero mark.

Chicago checked in at minus 6 this morning. It was 6 degrees below zero in Pittsburgh, 15 above in New York City and 12 degrees in Boston.

In the Northeast, the bitter cold compounded problems caused by the snowstorms of the last two days.

"Whatever you got from the storm, if you didn't scrape it off you can forget it for the next couple of days," said Jim Eberwine of the National Weather Service in Newark, N.J., where it was 7 degrees. "It's going to be rock solid."

"All the emphasis is on the cold. Just cold, cold, cold," he said.

Thursday the mercury settled at 42 below in Gunnison, Colo.

Strike force may depend on decision

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Reagan administration is urging Jordan's King Hussein to go public with plans to create a U.S.-financed strike force to respond to Persian Gulf emergencies, arguing it is the only way Congress will vote the funds.

After being once rebuffed, the administration has decided to renew its request to Congress to approve the $200 million needed to arm and equip two brigades of Jordanian troops, about 8,300 men.

A unique aspect of the plan is that the Jordanian troops would be ferried by American military pilots in American C-130 aircraft to assist friendly Arab governments in times of emergency.

But administration officials have concluded the plan stands little or no chance of getting congressional approval unless it can be discussed publicly. However, they aren't sure Hussein will agree to open consideration because it could hurt his standing in the Arab world and endanger his regime.

There have been seven attacks on Jordanian diplomats recently in which two diplomats were killed. A reporter was told that in all cases a fundamentalist Islamic group claimed responsibility, saying they

Jackson wants rules changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson says Democratic rules for picking a presidential nominee exclude people and should be changed even though the start of the nominating season is just a month away.

The black presidential candidate was making his case to the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee at its regular meeting today, but party officials don't see much chance there will be any changes made, particularly with the primaries and caucuses so near.

"I'm proud of the rules," said DNC Chairman Charles T. Manatt. "I'm proud of the process."

The party chief added that the rules do not lock people out, requiring for example that about half of the 3,933 delegates be women and about 20 percent be black — with other minorities assured seats as well.

The party committee will also take another step toward punishing Iowa and New Hampshire for holding their primary and caucuses earlier than the party rules allow.

were in protest against Jordanian military ties to Washington.

Six terrorist bombs have gone off in Jordan in the past six months, further underscoring the potential threat to Hussein — long a moderate Arab leader with close ties to Washington.

Administration officials don't doubt Hussein's commitment to establishing a strike force with American help if it can be done secretly, but worry he will walk at risk of a public debate in Congress.

However, Hussein is being told that is probably the only way the proposal can win approval. Congress refused last year to finance the plan unless it could be considered publicly.

The underlying purpose would be to maintain access to Persian Gulf oil supplies by protecting moderate Arab governments from Islamic fundamentalist movements, such as the one that seized power in Iran.

The force could augment, or even substitute for, the U.S. Rapid Deployment Force. The thinking is that the Jordanians would be more acceptable in other moderate Arab countries, even in emergencies, than would American troops.

Congress will be asked to appropriate the funds as part of a supplemental budget request for the Defense Department for fiscal 1984. The funds would be diverted from previously authorized defense programs.

The request could go to Congress on a classified basis, if Hussein hasn't yet given his go-ahead, and then would be declassified if and when Hussein approved.

Interior design topic of program

Members of L'Allegra Study Club met Thursday morning in the home of Barbara Kerr with Naomi Schroeter serving as co-hostess. They were greeted with hot coffee and hot spiced tea along with sweets.

The program was presented by Carmen Flood on "Solving Your Decorating Problems." The interior design student at TSTI in Amarillo gave a design from beginning to finish with sketches, floor plan, fabric swatches and furniture. She concluded the program by solving decorating problems submitted by club members.

Betty Martin, club president, presided over a brief business meeting. It was decided that May 6 would be the date for an upcoming art show and plant sale. Other members in attendance included Janice Carr, Kay Lynn Caviness, Janice Conkright, Kitty Gault, Mary Kay McQuigg, Karen Payne, Hilda Perales, Jody Skiles and Judy Wall.

Enjoying Buffet

Approximately 75 members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division and their guests enjoyed an hor d'oeuvres buffet during the quarterly meeting held Thursday evening at the Hereford Country Club. During the event, Margaret Formby was named "Woman of the Year" and officers and other board directors were installed.

Entertaining Guests

Seventeen members of the La Plata Junior High orchestra, conducted by Ray Jenkins, presented 10 musical selections at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division quarterly meeting held Thursday evening at the Hereford Country Club. The group performed while members of the division and their guests enjoyed an hor d'oeuvres buffet.

Gilliland discusses book by Erma Bombeck

Mrs. John Gilliland reviewed the book, "The Second Oldest Profession -- Motherhood" by Erma Bombeck, when members of Bay View Study Club met in the Heritage Room of the QUESTION: What is a Pap test and how did it get its name?

ANSWERline: The Pap test analyzes the cells normally shed in a woman's womb for signs of abnormality that might indicate malignancy. It is named for the great physician and scientist who developed it, the late George Papanicolaou, M.D.

QUESTION: What is Hodgkin's disease and what are its symptoms?

ANSWERline: Hodgkin's disease is a cancer of the lymphatic system. It was named after Thomas Hodgkin, an English physician who first described it in 1832. About 56 percent of the cases of Hodgkin's disease occur between the ages of 20 and 40, less than 10 percent before the age of 10 and less than 10 percent after 60. More than 7,000 Americans develop Hodgkin's disease each year; about 2,600 die from it annually. The most common first sign of Hodgkin's disease is a swollen lymph gland, usually in the neck, less often in an armpit or the groin.

The state of Idaho entered the Union on July 3, 1880.

MVC officials emphasize

WTSU to remain in conference

By STAN GODEK
Sports Editor

Regardless of any coaches efforts to kick West Texas State University out of the Missouri Valley Conference, one thing is for sure - WTSU will remain in the conference for the foreseeable future.

Bradley University basketball coach Dick Versace, in Peoria, Ill., is trying to start a campaign to oust WTSU and add St. Louis University and Loyola University of Chicago to the MVC, according to John Askins, sports information director at WTSU.

But conference officials say Versace is flapping his gums and does not have any authority in such a matter.

"I don't know how well you know Dick Versace, but there are presently no discussions or legislation to change the make up of the Missouri Valley Conference. And let it be known that West Texas State is a member in good standing," MVC Commissioner Dick Martin said Wednesday from Tulsa in a telephone interview.

Martin said it would take a vote by a joint committee made up of the athletic directors and faculty representatives of the nine MVC schools for such an action to take place.

The joint committee recently announced a resolution to move the National Collegiate Athletic Association's MVC commission headquarters from Tulsa to Kansas City.

"The move is to a more central location and will be easier on travel between schools," Martin explained.

To ease travel between the MVC schools is precisely the reason why Versace and possibly other coaches would favor any legislation to drop WTSU.

The MVC encompasses an enormous area with schools such as Indiana State, Drake University in Iowa, Creighton University in Nebraska, Wichita State in Kansas, Tulsa University, and Bradley, Illinois State and Southern Illinois, along with WTSU.

Since New Mexico State University dropped out of the MVC and joined the Pacific Coast Conference last year, that leaves WTSU the school farthest west in the MVC, Askins said.

Askin's dismisses any thought of WTSU leaving the MVC as a rumor. "It's a rumor that has been going on for a few years now. It's totally false and I'd hate to see something like this hurt us with regard to recruiting," he said.

"I don't think there's a move to get us out...I've even heard rumors that they're going to do away with football," in the MVC, which also is not true, Askins added.

If any high school athletes in west Texas hear reports that WTSU's standing in the MVC is in jeopardy "it probably came from recruiters from the other schools in the conference," Martin concluded.

While helping a friend

Snead finds golfing solution

PHOENIX (AP) — J.C. Snead found a solution when he was trying to help a friend, and now has something he thinks he can take to the golf course.

"Instead of messing around trying to find something, like I've been doing for a couple of years, I'm gonna go with it; just try to play for a while," the 42-year-old veteran said after a no-bogey 5-under-par 66 had given him a share of the lead Thursday in the first round of the $400,000 Phoenix Open.

He was tied with Gary Hallberg and rookie Corey Pavin.

Lanny Wadkins, once a winner and three times a runner-up in Phoenix who calls this "my most successful stop on the tour" led a group of eight at 67, four under par and a single shot off the pace.

Also at that figure were veteran Al Geiberger, Ben Crenshaw, Larry Mize, lefty Russ Cochran, Mike McCullough and Donnie Hammond.

Johnny Miller put on a birdie-birdie finish to join the group of 12 at 68. Tom Kite, Jim Simons and Rex Caldwell, a playoff loser here a year ago, also had 68s.

John Mahaffey, a winner last week, and defending champion Bob Gilder were in the huge group at 69. Lee Trevino shot a 70 in his first competitive round of the season.

Snead has been in a slump since scoring his seventh tour victory 2½ years ago.

"I feel better about things now than I have in a long time," he said.

Snead said he was playing a practice round with Gene Littler when he found at least a partial solution to his difficulties.

"I was trying to help him and I helped myself," he said.

Snead missed only one green and saved par there with a deft little pitch to five feet. He did not have a 5 on his card and got a share of the top spot with birdies on three of his last four holes, capped off by a 15-footer.

"I noticed he had the ball too far forward in his stance. Then, when I got over the ball, I found I was doing the same thing.

"I moved the ball back in my stance. And I got my power back. I'm getting my legs and hips into it more now."

Raiders must stop Riggins and Theismann to win Super Bowl Sunday

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The first thing the Los Angeles Raiders have to do is stop John Riggins.

Nobody else has. Why should they be any different?

The second thing the Raiders have to do is stop Joe Theismann.

Nobody else has. Why should...
The third thing they have to do is find a way to break Marcus Allen loose for 100 yards or so.

Except for Tony Dorsett's 151 in the season opener (and he got 73 of them on one play), nobody else has. Why should...
The fourth thing they have to do is find a way for Jim Plunkett to find the seams in the secondary.

Everybody else has, so why shouldn't he? After all, the Washington Redskins are great — but they're not that great.

Well, three out of four's not bad. That should be enough to give Washington a 27-20 Super Bowl victory on Sunday and keep the Raiders' "commitment to excellence" from carrying them to the National Football League championship.

The Raiders' defense is one of the better ones around — but it hasn't faced anything like Washington's offense since... well, since it faced Washington's offense last Oct. 2. That's the offense that rolled up 37 points against L.A. Only one other team did that all season, and Seattle did it compliments of eight turnovers.

Riggins ran for only 91 yards then. He probably would have had more, except Washington was busy playing catch-up in the fourth quarter. You know, when the Raiders knew that Theismann had to throw on almost every down and still couldn't do anything about it.

Security tight around team training sites

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Security has been routinely thick around the training sites of the Washington Redskins and Los Angeles Raiders as they prepare for Sunday's Super Bowl showdown.

Officials went so far as to drape the cyclone fence around the Redskins' practice field with heavy material to discourage intruding eyes, a move that pleased Washington Coach Joe Gibbs.

He's no more paranoid than any football coach, but Gibbs prefers privacy as he prepares for the big game.

If an interloper could peek into their playbooks, though, there would not be any great surprises in the basic approaches of these two teams.

The Redskins will use the straight-ahead power plunges of 1,000-yard running back John Riggins to take them down the field. That is their style.

Expos sign Rose

MONTREAL (AP) — Gambling that Pete Rose and his winning mystique can transform their star-studded roster of also-rans into champions, the Montreal Expos have agreed to a one-year contract with the aging veteran.

John McHale, president and general manager of the Expos, says the 42-year-old Rose, who is chasing Ty Cobb's major-league record of 4,191 hits, will earn a reported $700,000, although McHale concedes the amount could surpass $1 million if the Expos win the World Series.

"This is a proposal to win," McHale said Thursday in confirming that the Expos had reached agreement with the 21-year major-league veteran. "I like his attitude. He wants to have a good year so he can get a bigger contract next year when he will be closer to the record. Hopefully, that will be with us."

McHale denied that signing Rose is a publicity gimmick. "This is not a show-business stance on our part," he said. "There are incentive clauses, but they are all based on us winning."

Rose, who could not be reached for comment, was scheduled to arrive in Montreal today for an early afternoon news conference. Rose said earlier in the week that he was not worried about breaking Cobb's record.

"I'm not worried about that," he said. "Some time in 1985, I will break the record. Right now, I want to help the Expos win."

Rose is 201 hits shy of Cobb's mark. He already holds a number of major-league records, including most seasons with 200 or more hits (10), most seasons with 150 or more games played (17) and most at-bats (13,037). He also holds seven NL records, including the most career hits.

The switch-hitting first baseman-outfielder was released by the Philadelphia Phillies after the 1983 season in which they won the National League pennant but lost to the Baltimore Orioles in the World Series. Rose played five seasons with the Phillies after signing as a free agent.

During the first 16 years of his career, he was an integral part of Cincinnati's Big Red Machine which dominated the NL and won two World Series in the mid-1970s. He has a career average of .306 with 156 home runs, 1,209 runs batted in and 2,047 runs scored.

The only problem is where Rose will play. An all-star at five positions during his career, he played mostly at first base with the Phillies. But Al Oliver, who has hit at least .300 in each of the last eight seasons, is the Expos' first baseman.

Rose could play in left field. That would result in speedster Tim Lincecum switching to right and leave youngster Terry Francona on the bench.

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Manager-Community Relations

1984 brings a new corporation

With the coming of the new year, Southwestern Bell has a new beginning. The operating company that was once part of the Bell System has become a stand-alone entity. Southwestern Bell Corporation, or SBC as it appears on the New York Stock Exchange. Southwestern Bell Telephone is just one of four companies within Southwestern Bell Corporation. Southwestern Bell Telephone will continue to provide:

- Installation, maintenance and repair of local telephone lines
  - Local telephone service
  - White Pages directories
  - Custom Calling Services
  - Monthly billing statements, which will include invoices for SWBell Telephone, AT&T Communications long distance, AT&T Information Systems and possibly other companies
  - Long distance within Service Areas
  - Public telephones
  - Directory Assistance
  - CO Centrex and ESSX-30
- Southwestern Bell Telecom will provide terminal equipment and modems for business customers and also sell residence telephone sets.
- Southwestern Bell Publishing will handle Yellow Pages directories and other services.
- And, Southwestern Bell Mobile Systems will handle cellular mobile phone service.
- Each of the four companies of Southwestern Bell Corporation will exist separately and apart from each other. In fact, one or more of the subsidiaries will form their own subsidiaries to enter other competitive fields.

Directory deliveries

You may have wondered how you will receive telephone directories during 1984. If you are a new customer, or a customer transferring service from one area code to another, your directory will be delivered to you once you order your telephone service from Southwestern Bell Telephone.

You will be provided with the directory in which your name is listed. If you want copies of other city directories, you may order these for a fee through your local telephone business office.

Modular jacks

Today, most houses and apartments are equipped with modular phone jacks. When you move, there is usually no need to take your modular jacks with you. Removing these jacks can damage telephone wires connected to the jacks.

Ann Landers

Caught in the middle

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My parents are getting a divorce. I love them both and this is very hard on me and my younger brother. (I am a 16-year-old girl). We have known for a long time their marriage was not happy, but we never thought they would actually split.

I worry most about whether we will have to move out of this house. I love it here and my best friend lives across the street. Both my brother and I are doing well in school and would hate to change to another district. I want to graduate with my class.

Dad makes a good salary (he's been with the same company for 17 years) and Mom works part-time as a secretary for her uncle. She plans to work full-time after the divorce, but we are far from rich.

Nobody has talked to us kids about college or moving or anything. They are trying to pretend that everything will work out lovely, but I worry a lot. Mom is quite depressed and I don't want to add to her problems, but I am getting nervous about all the uncertainty. My brother is in worse shape. He has nightmares. Can you give us some advice?—Muddled In The Middle (N.Y.)

DEAR M: Ask your parents to sit down with you and talk about your feelings. Let them know how important it is for you and your brother to stay in the same schools. Ask about their plans regarding your college education. Will it be possible? Who is going to pay? In some states child support is mandatory until age 21. In other states it's 18.

If you have a problem getting into the subject, hand this column to your mom and dad and tell them this letter is yours. Good luck, Dear, and welcome to the club. You have lots of company.

Local Church Roundup

FIRST UNITED METHODIST

The senior high youth will sponsor a roast beef dinner at 12 noon Sunday after church in the Fellowship Hall. Youth and sponsors will be serving up delicious portions of roast beef, baked potatoes, tossed salad, green beans, hot bread and homemade dessert.

The senior highs will use the proceeds to help finance their activities.

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will climax with a community worship hour Sunday, with Dr. Weldon Butler, pastor of First United Methodist Church, bringing the message. The service is set for 8 p.m. in St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Charles Threewit, vicar of St. Thomas Church, is chairman of the committee on the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. The committee extends an invitation to all residents of the area to attend the service.

A nursery will be provided to care for small children.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

"How God Sees You," the third and final in the Zig Zigar film series, "Living Your Potential," will be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Church of the Nazarene.

Self-image is a crucial step in attaining life's objectives, according to Zigar. In this film the causes and manifestations of a poor self-image and ways to improve it will be discussed, as well as what it means to be "created in the image of God."

The film is free and everyone is invited to attend.

AVENUE BAPTIST

Christian training in learning to live with a new situation is available at Avenue Baptist Church's single-again Sunday school class. The class meets every Sunday at 9:45 a.m.

The single-again share group for Christian fellowship and recreation is meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays at 213 Avenue J during the month of January. The group is currently studying "Picking up the Pieces" by Clyde Besson.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I must go to another city to visit a relative and we need some advice. The only way I can describe her is to say she is a female flasher. "Aunt Lily" frequently walks around the house naked to the waist and says, "I hope you don't mind...after all, we are 'family.'"

The woman is 70 years old and weighs nearly 300 pounds. She has answered the front door exposed in this manner and said, "You caught me!" (How anyone can be "caught" answering the door is beyond me.)

I hope you won't suggest we ignore her gross behavior. It is offensive and creates tension because we never know at what moment she might decide to expose herself.

We realize Aunt Lily is not a stable person, but this doesn't make it any easier. Please don't say, "Stay home." We must go to see her every year at this time.—Flash-Frozen In San Jose

DEAR FROZEN: There is no way you can control the behavior of a person who is mentally ill, especially one who has a compulsion to engage in bizarre behavior. I suggest you buy a pretty kimono for Aunt Lily and keep it on hand at all times. When she begins to disrobe, cover her at once and treat her as you would a child. Say, "No, Dear, you must not do that or we will go into another room until you behave." Then go.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious—lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Did you move in '83?

Income adjustments reduce tax

By Robert Metz
(Eighth of 14 articles)

Moving expenses were an important item for many Americans who found new jobs in 1983.

Moving expenses are one of several categories of a powerful tax reducer, adjustments to income. Adjustments to income are taken from gross income to determine one's adjusted gross income.

TAX TIP: The adjustments are particularly important if you do not itemize because you can claim adjustments even when you use the zero bracket amount.

TAX TIP: Those who do itemize should also do adjustments to income carefully. They reduce adjusted gross income, the figure setting the medical, casualty and charitable expenses one can deduct.

The rules say that if you moved to a new location during 1983 because you were transferred by your employer, found a new job in another community, or are self-employed and moved for business-related reasons, you may have a moving expense adjustment.

While there is no limit to how much you can claim for moving your household goods and traveling to your new home, the costs must be fair and reasonable. The maximum adjustment for other moving expenses is a total of $3,000. There is a $1,500 limit on the combined expenses of house-hunting trips and temporary living quarters.

There are two important qualifiers: distance and time.

The distance between your new job and your old residence must be at least 35 miles greater than the distance from your old job to your old residence.

Let's say that your old job was 10 miles from your home. Your new job must be at least 45 miles from your old home for a moving expense adjustment. So, if you moved within a city, you might not qualify.

The time requirement varies according to your employment status. If you are an employee, you must be employed full time for at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months immediately after the move.

If you are self-employed, the time periods are doubled. That means that you must have been employed for at least 78 weeks in the two years immediately following the move, with at least 39 of those weeks occurring within the first 12 months.

TAX TIP: You may deduct your moving expenses if the time test has not been met by the date your 1983 return is due, if you expect to meet the time test for an employee by the

Adjustments to income

Once you've figured your income, you should determine what if any income adjustments you are eligible for. This is the first step — and an important one — in whittling down your tax liability.

There are eight adjustment items. They are:

- Moving expenses.
- Employee business expenses.
- Payments to an Individual Retirement Account.
- Payments to a Keogh retirement plan.
- Interest penalty on early withdrawal of savings.
- Alimony paid.
- Disability income exclusion.
- Deduction for married couples who both work.

After these adjustments are made, you can either itemize deductions or take the zero bracket deduction.

end of 1984, or the test for the self-employed by the end of 1985. But if you then fail to meet the time test by the deadline, you must report the moving expenses claimed as income for the year in which you did not meet the test.

TAX TIP: Under extenuating circumstances, the time test can be waived. These circumstances are: You lost your job, and it was not due to willful misconduct; you moved a second time in a transfer that was for your employer's benefit; disability or death.

TAX TRAP: Note, however, that there would be no waiver if you reached mandatory retirement age before the end of the 39-week time test and your retirement had been anticipated.

You may claim:
— The cost of moving household goods for you and family members. In addition to the hauling charge you may include charges for packing and crating, in-transit insurance and storage.

— Travel expenses for you and your family from the old location to the new one. This includes meals, lodging and transportation. If you traveled by plane, train or bus, the actual fare can be claimed. If you traveled in your own car, your transportation expenses can be claimed. Either total all out-of-pocket expenses for gasoline, oil, repairs, parking and tolls; or claim 9 cents for each mile driven. If you claim mileage, you may also claim the actual cost for parking and turnpike tolls.

— The cost of house-hunting trips made after you obtained your new job, but before you moved to your new place of employment. Such costs include transportation, meals and lodging for you and your family. You all don't have to travel together, or even at the same time, but only one trip for each person qualifies. You may deduct the cost of house-hunting even if you didn't find a new residence.

— The cost of temporary quarters. This is solely for meals and lodging for any period of 30 consecutive days after obtaining work.

— The costs incurred in selling the former home and buying a new one. If you rent your quarters, you may claim the costs of settling your old lease and obtaining a new one. Typical home-sale costs include the realtor's commission, closing costs, attorney's fees, points charged on a mortgage if they are not deductible as interest, and your share of the escrow fees. Losses on the sale of homes are not deductible.

TAX TIP: The homeowner taxpayer has an option in determining how the selling expenses on his home can be charged. The selling expenses can be used to reduce the gain, if any, on the sale of the first residence. The purchase expenses can be added to the purchase price to increase the cost basis of the newly purchased home. While the same dollars cannot be used twice, the taxpayer can apportion the figures and use them to his greatest advantage. For example, because of the $3,000 limitation, it is possible that not all of the selling expenses on the sale of the home could be claimed as a moving expense. You may include such expenses up to the maximum allowed as a moving expense and use any remainder to reduce the gain on the home sale.

TAX TRAP: The goal of this adjustment is to free you from paying tax on money you had to spend on a move that is business related. If your employer reimbursed for the move, you must offset the reimbursed sum.

The Newspaper BIBLE

"LOVE GOES ON FOREVER"

If I had the gift of being able to speak in other languages without learning them, and could speak in every language there is in all of heaven and earth, but didn't love others, I would only be making noise.

If I had the gift of prophecy and knew all about what is going to happen in the future, knew everything about everything, but didn't love others, what good would it do? Even if I had the gift of faith so that I could speak to a mountain and make it move, I would still be worth nothing at all without love.

If I gave everything I have to poor people, and if I were burned alive for preaching the Gospel but didn't love others, it would be of no value whatever.

Love is very patient and kind, and never jealous or envious, never boastful or proud, Never haughty or selfish or rude. Love does not demand its own way. It is not irritable or touchy. It does not hold grudges and will hardly even notice when others do it wrong.

It is never glad about injustice, but rejoices whenever truth wins out.

If you love someone you will be loyal to him no matter what the cost. You will always believe in him, always expect the best of him, and always stand your ground in defending him.

All the special gifts and powers from God will some day come to an end, but love goes on forever. Some day prophecy, and speaking in unknown languages, and special knowledge—these gifts will disappear.

1 Corinthians 13:1-8

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Fisher

DEAR POLLY — After I pickled my red beets, someone told me that they would be poisonous if they were even a little frostbitten before I pickled them. My beets may have been subjected to a little frost and some of them may have been showing above ground. Should I throw them away? — AGNES

DEAR AGNES — I don't know where this notion came from, but don't worry about it. Your beets should be perfectly safe to eat so long as you pickled and processed them according to the directions in a reliable guide on home canning. Being touched by frost in the garden will not harm beets. Their quality may suffer if they undergo a hard freeze, but light frost will not generally damage them — and it will NOT make them poisonous. After all, an excellent way to preserve beets is to freeze them. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Whenever I see a recipe that I would like to keep, it's on the back of a coupon in the newspaper or on the back of a good story in a magazine. Since my friends and I share all our magazines, we copy our recipes on notebook paper and put them in looseleaf notebooks. We divide the recipes according to categories using subject separators, and label them appetizers, soups and salads, main dishes, casseroles, desserts, kiddie specials, etc.

When you want to use a recipe, remove the sheet of paper from the notebook and fasten it to your refrigerator or some other metal surface with a magnet. It will stay clean and out of the way and will be easy to read. You can also use a book such as this as a bridal-shower gift or as a gift to any very special person. It's nice, since they can also add their own recipes to it. — JUDY

DEAR POLLY — For letter writing, I dress up plain white tablet paper by pasting on pretty flowers cut from greeting cards and seed catalogs. Folks love to get my letters. — MARJ

FAITH TEACHES US THE MEANING OF REAL WEALTH

From the great love of money, the evil that springs is the same kind of trouble that avarice brings. With the habit of wanting material things That we usually cannot afford.

When we shorten our lives with all work and no play. Then our taxes increase while the years fade away; And the loss of our health is a high price to pay For excessive financial reward.

If you'll go to the Church of whatever your creed, There's a lesson you'll learn on the evils of greed; For the only true riches that you'll ever need Will be found in the love of the Lord!

— Gloria Nowak

"Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy."
— 1 Timothy 6:17

Heaven does not choose its elect from among the great and wealthy.

— William M. Thackeray
