Walcott's application for tennis proplsal okayed

County commissioners verify

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Verification Walcott's bid for a tennis facility grant has been approved by the state was made Monday afternoon during a Deaf Smith County Commission meeting.

A telephone call to the Texas Parks and Recreation Department office in Austin confirmed the matching grant was approved Thursday. The funds are to represent half of the project's total cost, which last fall was estimated to be $69,450.

The application has been sent to Washington, D.C. for federal approval, which should occur within 30 days. According to Glen Nelson, Deaf Smith County judge, the county court is then to give its okay so that contracting and construction may begin.

Commissioners agreed at their Oct. 24, 1983 gathering to provide half of the construction site work, which at the time was thought to be around $14,200. The projected $4,900 in lighting costs had been donated by an unnamed source.

Meanwhile Monday, the county court heard two requests for portions of the 1984-1985 revenue sharing funds. Hereford Senior Citizens asked for $15,000. The organization is now conducting a fund drive for a proposed new center, which Director Margie Daniels told commissioners will be open by Christmas.

The other group present to request money was Kids, Inc., a summer baseball and softball program for young area boys and girls. The city of Hereford recently granted Kids $2,000 to help pay for utility bills. Any county donations, explained representative Gayle Cotten, would probably be used for ballpark renovations.

Following the meeting, commissioners went to the ballpark complex in northeast Hereford to examine the fields. Cotten, a local accountant, was there to point out what needed to be done.

The projected revenue sharing fund budget for the next fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1, is almost $288,000. That includes more than $50,000 of unspent money carried over from this year, ac-ording to County Clerk David Ruland.

Ruland said the bulk of the 1983-1984 revenue sharing fund budget was targeted for transportation and general government. He guessed many courthouse offices would be interested in obtaining some of next year's funds for expanding computer services.

Jerry Walker convinced commissioners to have the county contract Hereford Long Distance Service, a firm expected to commence operations June 1. Walker said the telephone company would help save money without imposing minimums or an enrollment fee. More than 100 local businesses have subscribed, he said.

Permission was granted Agriculture Extension Agent Dennis Newton to hire a part-time secretary for his office. The new person would be able to work up to three days per week, 50 weeks per year at an annual salary approaching $5,000.

The move would effectively halt the practice of hiring part-time workers from the local school district's vocational-educational program. Using VOE students, Newton explained, causes problems with training and continuity.

Commissioners are to next gather May 29, the Tuesday following Memorial Day vacation. As with Monday, the meeting is to be at 10 a.m. in Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Jury picking continues today

Selection of jury members for a pending operation trial was to continue today after nearly 80 people were questioned Monday.

According to District Court Judge Wesley Gulley, many of the 225 asked to appear for the selection process had been previously excused.

The number of potential jury members had already been reduced to 57 by the time questioning ended at 5 p.m. Monday. In addition to those excused for such things as work responsibilities and scheduling conflicts, several were sent home because they said they knew Strain or his family and were not sure they could remain unbiased during the course of the trial.

Ten potential jurors who had not shown up Monday made appearances this morning in 222nd District Court, three of whom were excused.

Strain is being tried on one of the 17 counts of theft that resulted from a raid made on his barn last Aug. 15. The offense is a third degree felony. Attorneys have said they expect the trial to conclude by the middle of next week.

Library circulation detailed

Nine thousand, nine hundred and thirty-one books were checked out of the Deaf Smith County Library last month, according to its monthly report.

Included in the circulation were 1,957 works of adult fiction and 1,379 adult non-fiction materials. Almost 4,700 children's books were borrowed, a vast majority of them fictional works.

Added to the library's shelves were 263 books while nine were pulled. That gives the public facility a total of 58,273, a figure which includes more than 4,000 paperbacks.

Police report tire vandalism

Two tires, worth approximately $125 apiece, were sliced sometime Monday at the Lynette Apartments parking lot, Hereford police reported.

Victim of the crime is Dona Gonzales, a resident of the apartment complex. Her 1979 Chevrolet received the damage to its rear tires.

Police also since Friday have investigated eight incidents of vandalism and five minor thefts. Among the arrests were three for public intoxication and one for driving while intoxicated.

Ida Schumacher wins award

Ida Schumacher was named Saturday as "Mother of the Year" in a contest conducted by KPAN radio and sponsored by local businesses.

In the nominating letter, a daughter said, "We get compliments often on what a beautiful and loving lady our mother is...it makes us feel as if we had something to do with it."

The mother of eight received a plaque and several gift certificates from sponsoring merchants. Her husband, W.J. Schumacher, was KPAN's "Father of the Year" in 1970.

Hundreds search jungle for pair

By MANIK DeSILVA

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) — Hundreds of soldiers and police hunted for an American couple in the northern jungles of Sri Lanka today after kidnappers withdrew a death threat and said they were freeing the pair.

In New Delhi, India, Vice President George Bush said

Death threat withdrawn

today that "we are still in the dark" about the newlywed couple's whereabouts.

Tamil separatist guerrillas who abducted Stanley and Mary Elizabeth Allen of Columbus, Ohio, last Thursday night said Monday they were releasing the couple unconditionally, although their demands for $2 million and the release of 20 prisoners were rejected by the Sri Lankan government.

But President Junius R. Jayewardene told The Associated Press by telephone that the Allens "have not been found yet. I have no news of them."

The Defense Ministry operations room in Colombo said the search for the pair had been intensified. Security forces scoured the countryside throughout the night without success. National Security Minister Lalith Athulathmudali said.

In India, separated from the island nation of Sri Lanka by a strait off its southeast coast, Bush was briefed on the case and told a news conference the Indian government was doing "everything it could do to help."

Authorities said Monday night that the jailed high command of the guerrillas had ordered the couple released and said the guerrillas would comply.

The U.S. Embassy in Colombo and the U.S. consulate in Madras, India, said they had received no word on exactly when the couple would be freed.

At first, the kidnappers had set a deadline for noon Monday to kill Allen, 36, and vowed to kill his 29-year-old wife six hours later if the Sri Lankan government did not meet the demands. The kidnappers claim the recently married couple spied for the CIA.

The Tamils delivered a "final warning" note Monday, extending the deadline by six hours.

The kidnappers claimed to be from the People's Liberation Army, a Marxist underground ally of the Eelam People's Revolutionary Liberation Front.

Transplant patient welcomed warmly

By SCOTT McCARTNEY
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Six-year-old Stormie Jones, the world's first simultaneous liver and heart transplant recipient, received a rousing homecoming from family members, friends and three Sesame Street Muppets at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

The usually spunky youngster was tired, but said she felt "fine" as she arrived Monday at 4:20 p.m. from Pittsburgh, where the history-making operation took place last Valentine's Day.

After a quiet dinner with her family, she checked into the Texas Health Science Center's Clinical Research Center where doctors hope to determine whether her disease has been stabilized.

Stormie suffers from homocystinuria, a rare genetic disorder, which resulted in two heart attacks last fall when the cholesterol in her blood rose to dangerously high levels.

Doctors at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh performed the dual transplant operation after determining that Stormie's heart was too weak to undergo a liver transplant.

The blond, brown-eyed girl from the Northeast Texas town of Cumby, wearing an "I'm a Transplant Kid" T-shirt when she stepped off the plane, giggled and squeezed the noses of the Muppets.

Stormie had said before she left Pittsburgh that she dreamed of going to see the Muppets at Sesame Place, a nearby amusement park, but she had to go to the hospital instead.

Also on hand to greet her were her grandfather and great-grandmother, 77-year-old Eva Aaron of Dallas, who said she was "not a bit" surprised that Stormie was coming back home.

"Too many prayers went up for that girl not to come back," Mrs. Aaron said.

Stormie's grandfather, 51-year-old Bert Aaron, said Stormie whispered to him that she loved him as he carried her off the plane.

Dr. David Bilheimer, Stormie's primary physician and professor of internal medicine at the Dallas Hospital, said in a statement that Stormie "is medically stable and recovering well from her operations."

Bilheimer said the girl will be in the hospital four to five weeks.

"Although her plasma cholesterol level has dropped by more than 60 percent since her operation, the purpose of this admission is to determine more precisely how well her transplanted liver is functioning," he said.

Stormie said in Pittsburgh Sunday, "I want to go home so I can go swimming. Except I have to go into the hospital again. I don't like that."

Hospital spokeswoman Jean Morgan in Pittsburgh said the youngster had been living in an apartment near the hospital with her mother since being discharged on March 14.

On Sunday, Stormie and her 9-year-old sister, Misty, gave a small diamond necklace to their mother for a Mother's Day gift.

"If I could bottle all her energy I would sell it," said Stormie's mother, 27-year-old Lois "Susie" Jones. "She is hard to keep up with."

Stormie doesn't resemble a child who five months ago was given less than a year to live. She runs up and down stairs, hangs by her knees on monkey bars at a nearby park and rides roller coasters.

"We spent two hours at the zoo Thursday," Doris Aaron, the child's grandmother told the Dallas Times Herald. "We walked and walked. It was grandmother and mother that were having problems."

Retired Teachers

Eighty-nine years of combined teaching experience are represented by (from left) Marion Davis, Mary Duvall and Sue Inmon, honored on Monday by the Deaf Smith County Classroom Teachers Association. Davis, retiring from Northwest Elementary, taught 25 years. Duvall taught school for 32 years, the most recently at La Plata Junior High School. Inmon also devoted 32 years to the profession and is a retiring Hereford High school teacher.

Inman says problems behind

AUSTIN (AP) — The head of the Microelectronics and Computer Technology Corp. says the toughest obstacles have been overcome and that only a full-scale economic depression could collapse the research consortium now.

"In a depression, all bets are off. Then the companies start cutting spending in order to survive," says MCC director Bob Inman.

Although some top talent has been recruited, experts say some questions about the venture remain. Among them:

— Can the 16 member companies (soon expected to be 18) cooperate on research despite some conflicting objectives and goals?

— Can MCC researchers turn out the kinds of breakthroughs that can translate into eventual profits for the member companies?

MCC is a broad-based computer research firm, designed to explore several pathways toward making the next quantum leaps in computers.

Drought costs herds, help sought

RANKIN, Texas (AP) — The drought which grips West Texas again this year is causing ranchers to sell off breeding stock in record numbers, with some on the verge of liquidating their entire herds, officials say.

"There's nothing out here for the cattle to eat — nothing. And it's getting worse every day," said rancher J. Lane, 71, who lived through the droughts of the 1930s and the 1950s.

"We just thought it was tough last year," said Tommy Owens, another Rankin rancher. His neighbor, Dewayne Lindsey, predicts that "every head of livestock in West Texas" either will be moved or offered at forced sale by the end of the month.

Some movement has begun.

Although experts say it is difficult to specify the number of cattle and sheep being sold from the 22 West Texas counties that are the heart of the drought-hit area, extension service economist Richard Patterson Jr. estimates that herds are down by half this year.

Doggett: Hance took no action

AUSTIN (AP) — Democratic U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett says that although his opponent has chosen to make amnesty for illegal aliens a key campaign issue, Rep. Kent Hance has done little to solve immigration problems.

"Kent Hance has chosen to run as a single-issue candidate on an issue he has never done a single thing about. He has not even so much as given a speech about it on the floor of the Congress in five years, much less offered a bill or an amendment to do anything about immigration problems," Doggett charged Monday.

Doggett said Hance several times was absent when key votes were taken on funding the Immigration and Naturalization Service and beefing up the Border Patrol.

"And when he has shown up, Kent has repeatedly voted against bills that included increased funding for the Border Patrol," Doggett said.

Reagan meets with Mexican head

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan and Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid were meeting today in hopes of preventing profound differences over the turmoil in Central America from impairing the overall relationship between their two governments.

After a meeting of more than an hour with Reagan at the White House, de la Madrid was scheduled to have a working luncheon with Secretary of State George P. Shultz. Reagan also will host a state dinner in de la Madrid's honor tonight.

The disagreements between the two countries over Central America have not yet been debated openly, but privately Mexican and American officials have accused each other of feeding conflict in the region. The two countries have been supporting opposite sides in the civil wars in both Nicaragua and El Salvador.

Man fires 13 shots, acquitted

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A jury agreed with the self-defense plea of a liquor store owner who fired 13 shots at a robber, including three as the man lay dying in a parking lot, and the merchant's son says "the case shouldn't even have come this far."

Ray Verbanic, a 58-year-old liquor store owner, was acquitted of attempted second-degree murder Monday by a Wyandotte County District Court jury that deliberated less than five hours.

Verbanic said he shot Nathan Bell, 21, during a Jan. 3 holdup, and kept on shooting because he feared for his life.

A coroner's inquest found that the fatal shots were fired inside the store and were justified.

Alabama captures three awards

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Alabama, country music's reigning supergroup, pulled off its second three-award sweep in two years at the Academy of Country Music's 19th Annual Awards Show.

Veteran stars Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton, who teamed on the crossover hit duet "Islands in the Stream," won two awards, while Janie Fricke and Lee Greenwood were first-time vocalist winners at Monday night's ceremonies telecast by NBC from Knott's Berry Farm.

Alabama's awards included the group's third straight entertainer of the year prize and fourth consecutive vocal group award.

Marcos foes leading election

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Opponents of President Ferdinand E. Marcos built up unexpected leads in districts across the country today as counting continued in the Philippines' National Assembly election.

The military said at least 57 people were killed in communist rebel ambushes and other violence during Monday's balloting and the previous evening.

Thousands of voters marched on municipal halls in three communities early today to demand that ballot boxes not be tampered with.

Complaints from opposition groups of cheating and efforts to stop the counting were widespread.

With about 30 percent of the vote counted, a nationwide volunteer organization conducting an "Operation Quick Count" showed opposition candidates leading in 88 of the 183 races, while Marcos' New Society Movement candidates were ahead in 95.

Conviction not to affect sanctuaries

By SYDNEY RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Supporters of church-sponsored sanctuaries for Central American refugees say the conviction of a church worker on charges of transporting illegal aliens will not affect the growing movement.

After deliberating for three days, a jury on Monday found Stacey Lynn Merkt, 29, of Colorado Springs, Colo., guilty of transporting and of conspiring to transport three Salvadoran illegal aliens.

"I am not a criminal and neither are those arrested and deported by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Ms. Merkt said after the verdict was announced. "It's a sad day when church people in this country are persecuted for helping refugees, but in El Salvador they'd be dead."

Jurors refused to comment on the verdict.

Ms. Merkt remains free on bond until her June 27 sentencing. She said she plans to work in the garden at the halfway house and run errands for refugees as long as she is free.

She contends she transported the Salvadorans because of religious convictions and her belief that the aliens are protected by the Refugee Act of 1980 which grants asylum to those fleeing oppression in their homelands.

Federal immigration officials contend the Salvadorans are illegal aliens coming to the U.S. seeking jobs and are not necessarily entitled to political asylum.

Lee Holstein, a spokeswoman for the Chicago Religious Task Force on Central America, a network of churches which have agreed to act as sanctuaries, said the prosecution of Ms. Merkt has encouraged more participation.

"In terms of the sanctuary movement, the sentiment for helping refugees is so strong, that no matter what the verdict, it wouldn't affect our sense of commitment."

She said task force membership has increased 25 percent since Ms. Merkt's arrest and the number of member churches is now 125.

The jury received the case Wednesday after hearing four days of testimony from border patrol agents, immigration officials, sanctuary movement supporters, nuns and the Roman Catholic Bishop of Brownsville, John J. Fitzpatrick.

Fitzpatrick said the verdict would not affect operation of the Catholic Diocese-sponsored Casa Oscar Jack Elder has been indicted on charges of transporting three Salvadoran illegal aliens and is scheduled to stand trial in July.

Attorneys for Ms. Merkt said the verdict would be appealed.

She faces a maximum of 15 years in prison and a $9,000 fine, but Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Guerra said that as a first-time offender, Ms. Merkt would probably be given probation.

During the trial, INS district director Hal Boldin of Harlingen testified that all Salvadorans who apply for political asylum are arrested and held in a federal detention camp until they post bail.

Ms. Merkt said she was serving as a translator and helping the Salvadorans get to the next closest INS office in San Antonio when they were arrested Feb. 17 on a rural South Texas highway before dawn.

With her were Sister Dianne Muhlenkamp of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Dallas Times Herald reporter Jack Fischer.

Fischer was not indicted and Sister Dianne was granted a year's probation in exchange for cooperating with the government.

"I think the verdict was fair under the facts and the law," Guerra said. "If people don't like the law, they must go through the proper procedures for changing it."

Hart hoping for victories

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

Gary Hart is pinning his hopes on Democratic voters in Nebraska and Oregon today to sustain his campaign's recovery while Walter Mondale and the Rev. Jesse Jackson concentrate on California's big primary three weeks away.

Latest polls gave Hart the edge in both Oregon and Nebraska, but with the race in the Cornhusker state appearing closer, the Colorado senator flew there for a final pitch, dropping the rest of his Oregon schedule.

Mondale did not campaign in Oregon and spent only a few hours in Nebraska. There are 67 delegates at stake today, 43 in Oregon's primary and 24 in Nebraska's, with voting limited to Democrats only in both states.

Mondale was making a foreign-policy address today in San Francisco on Hart as he wooed Hispanic voters in Southern California.

Jackson, too, was out to win Hispanics, more heavily concentrated in California than anywhere else in the nation and representing 16 percent of the electorate.

And Hart was making a final appearance in Lincoln, Neb., today with Gov. Bob Kerrey, an early supporter, after chiding Mondale on Sunday for ignoring the state.

"I've been traveling around here and in Oregon looking for Walter Mondale, and I haven't found him," Hart told Nebraskans. "Have any of you seen Mr. Mondale out here?"

Jackson crossed into Tijuana, Mexico, on Monday and said he was not sure the flow of illegal aliens across the border is a problem.

"I know of no objective, scientifically legitimate study that has proven that undocumented workers take jobs from Americans, deplete our social service programs, cause undue crime, tax our educational systems or harm our society in any other way," Jackson said.

Jackson said he thinks undocumented workers may actually strengthen the American economy.

Jackson repeated his opposition to the Simpson-Mazzoli immigration reform bill before Congress. It would grant amnesty to illegal aliens but is opposed by many Hispanics because it would impose sanctions on employers who hire undocumented workers.

Mondale, who picked up the endorsement of the Mexican-American Political Association in San Jose on Sunday, spoke at an East Los Angeles school and chided his chief rival as a newcomer to Hispanic issues.

"Gary Hart is trying to introduce himself to you," Mondale said. "Where's he been?"

"He's been a senator for 10 years. He could have been involved in these issues we're talking about. He could have provided leadership."

After two testify

Clore's probation axed

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — A state district judge who administered Billy Ray Clore's three years probation sentence last year in the attempted mercy killing of the defendant's ill father, has revoked that probation and ordered Clore jailed.

State District Judge Ted Poe ordered Clore to prison Monday after hearing testimony from two Euleus, Texas, police officers who arrested Clore in the Tarrant County community March 3.

The officers said Clore drove about 30 feet on the wrong side of the street into a convenience store parking lot and then had trouble walking and demonstrated slurred speech.

Clore was convicted of attempted murder last July 15 after his father, Robert Clore, 65, was shot once in the head with a .45 caliber pistol on March 21.

The elder Clore had been comatose about three months prior to the shooting and died April 2 without regaining consciousness.

A jury in Poe's court granted the defendant probation in the highly publicized case but Poe decided Clore had violated terms of his probation, including leaving Harris County without permission and driving while intoxicated.

Jack Zimmermann, Clore's attorney, said he would appeal the decision because no evidence was presented showing his client was drunk.

Zimmermann said his client admitted that he had had "two or three" beers but was not intoxicated when he was taken into custody.

A Harris County psychologist and a spokeswoman for the Gulf Coast Arthritis Foundation both testified in Clore's favor.

Dr. Victor Elion, a clinical psychologist employed by Harris County, said his evaluation of the defendant indicated Clore's problems could best be solved in a closely supervised probationary program.

Donna Rogers, an employee of the Texas Gulf Coast chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, said Clore worked at the office as part of his court-ordered probation and that he was the best worker among the 26 persons in the program.

Clore's brother Bob Clore, testified that he thought his brother had a problem with alcohol and that the family would help out financially with his rehabilitation.

Euleus patrolman Steve Cokus testified that he arrested Clore in the Tarrant County community last March 3 after watching him drive about 30 feet on the wrong side of a street and turn into a convenience store parking lot.

Zimmermann called for the case to be dismissed because a videotaped recording of Clore's arrest was missing.

Flooding, mudslides

Bad weather takes lives

By RON SIRAK
Associated Press Writer

Rain in the Rockies today added moisture to the snowmelt that already has triggered flooding and mudslides, leaving four people dead or missing, major highways cut off and more than 300 people temporarily driven from their homes.

Unusually high temperatures Monday ate away at the record snowpack piled up over the winter, threatening residents in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho.

"Temperatures today and Wednesday should be in the 80s and 90s in the Rockies from Idaho south," said Bill Sammler at the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo. "There is also a good likelihood of possibly heavy thundershowers in portions of Utah and Nevada that will make snowmelt flooding worse."

By early today, it was raining lightly at higher elevations, he said.

Several days of temperatures in the 90s has awakened the sleeping snowmelt giant, touching off the long-predicted flooding and mudslides. Utah has been the worst hit.

A mudslide 80 feet long and 5 feet deep oozed into the foothill town of East Layton, Utah, early Monday, damaging at least six homes and prompting officials to order the evacuation of 150 others. All but about a dozen families were later allowed to return home, said Layton Mayor Louis Shields.

statement in Madras later Monday announcing the release and expressing hope the Sri Lankan government would make "a matching gesture" by meeting the demand for the release of the 20 Tamil "political prisoners."

Athulathmudali said the couple were expected to be "dropped at some remote road" in the Jaffna province. He said hundreds of Sri Lankan military and police troops were searching the Kilinochchi forest area 45 miles south of Jaffna City and 140 miles northwest of Colombo.

The area is "a jungle infested by dangerous wild animals like boars, tigers, panthers and elephants," he said at a news conference in Colombo. "We hope that they have not been set free by one set of wild animals to be devoured by another."

Paul Harvey Political Rhetoric

Americans understand political rhetoric; our adversaries in the world don't always.

The campaign oratory of these next months could exacerbate some of our world problems.

Our nation has rarely been more at peace with itself; socially accommodating, economically vigorous; these are our salad days.

We are again in position to lead the world by example. Almost nowhere in the world does anybody want to be a communist anymore. Not even in the U.S.S.R. The world is looking for something better. We have something better. But it doesn't sound like that when our partisan diatribes get translated abroad.

The Soviet Union is unsettled. The new head red, Chernenko, has not yet won a consensus.

Moscow has been buying the allegiance of Eastern Europe with cheap (subsidized) oil — but Soviet oil reserves are fast depleting.

The communist outermost outpost, Cuba, is costing Moscow five to six billion dollars a year.

The U.S.S.R. is bogged down in its own Vietnam — in Afghanistan — debilitating, expensive.

Soviet agriculture remains a disappointment.

So to keep the minds of the Soviet people off what they do not have, Moscow must divert public attention to an increased fear of us. There is no way he could make concessions to us while much of his home constituency is hungry and his own authority is unconsolidated.

That is why any campaign clamor for a nuclear freeze, for example, is unrealistic. Chernenko would not dare agree with us on anything right now, even if it were his country's advantage to do so. He needs a "bogey man" with which to rally homefolks.

Understandingly, he can use some of our campaign time name-calling to create that image.

Our nation's former CIA chief, Admiral Stansfield Turner, thinks we should be learning from soviet mistakes.

As the French and British before them, the Soviets are weakened, not strengthened, by overextension.

Admiral Turner notes that our reach exceeded our grasp in Korea, Vietnam, Lebanon.

He fears we risk further humiliation in Latin America where — because we finance and solidify dictatorships — we create a disincentive to necessary reforms.

And as our political campaigners make what's covert — overt — exposing our intervention down there — we furnish ammunition to our country's detractors.

Admiral Turner — despite his background in NATO and in Intelligence — sounds almost isolationist.

Enough observation and experience does tend to encourage that.

Veleda Study Club installs officers

Veleda Study Club President Joyce Ritter installed new officers during a year-end salad supper held recently in the home of Donna Lindeman.

She reminded the group that during the year they had filled their cornucopia but that there was still room to add more — that it was never full. She reminded members to look back as well as forward.

Mrs. Ritter then presented each new officer with a token of her station so that she might fulfill her duties. Installed were Margaret Zinser, president; Donna Lindeman, vice-president; Juanita Brown, secretary; Marcella McLain, treasurer; and Marcella Bradley, historian.

The club collect was recited after the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Ritter. Members answered roll call with programs they would like to have presented next year.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and an invitation to the Diamond Anniversary Tea for Hereford Study Club was received.

Jean Ruther presented Judy Glueck for membership in the club and she was accepted. Members voted to consider purchasing more permanent yearbooks.

In attendance were Betty

Gilbert, Sylvia Khuri, Norma Martin, Norma Walden, Mmes. Bradley, McLain, Ritter and Zinser, and a special guest, Mrs. Khuri's mother, Wedad Salah from Ramallah, Palestine.

4 Around the County

By SUSAN RANEY
County Extension Agent

With the importance of the election year being stressed this year's Texas 4-H Congress seems more important than ever. Texas 4-H Congress is a special senior 4-H activity designed to educate older 4-H members in the area of Texas history and government and provide a fun program that will give seniors a beneficial citizenship and leadership experience.

An international theme will be followed at this year's Congress as the site for the three-day event is in Brownsville, Texas, down on the Southern tip of the state. Delegates attending will be involved in a visit to Mexico, seminars dealing with international issues, a visit to the world-famous Gladys Porter Zoo, tours of South Texas industries and a visit to South Padre Island.

The three delegates from Deaf Smith County who attend will have an excellent opportunity to learn about the rich history and cultural heritage of the Southern Texas area and will visit historic locations that have helped shape Texas traditions and its economy.

Morales wins national award in art program

Benjamin Morales, a student at Hereford High School, has received honorable mention in charcoal through the Scholastic Art Awards Program, conducted by Scholastic Inc., the world's largest publisher of books, magazines and learning materials for young people, schools and home.

This year's national honors included 399 gold medal and 724 honorable mention certificates awarded to teenagers from all over the country.

National winners must first emerge as blue ribbon finalists from among the more than 150,000 entries that receive first professional scrutiny at 61 sponsored regional exhibits across the country in late winter.

The regional finalists — about 8,000 in all — are then judged by panels of distinguished artists and art teachers meeting at Scholastic's New York City headquarters.

National co-sponsors of the Art Awards Program are Hallmark Cards Inc. and Strathmore Paper Co.

Nielson departs NFL

HOUSTON (AP) — After six years as quarterback for the Houston Oilers, Gifford Nielson says he will leave the National Football League team for a post as sports director for KHOU-TV in Houston.

A station spokesman said Nielson, 29, would immediately assume his new position at KHOU, where he has worked as a sportscaster.

The former Brigham Young University football star was a third-round draft pick by the Oilers in 1978. He started in 14 games, seven last season.

"I just felt it was time to pursue another career," Nielson said Monday. "It wasn't a snap decision. I discussed it with my wife (Wendy), and I made up my mind over the weekend. "It was a difficult decision because I know I can still play and win in the National Football League," Nielson said. "But I have to prepare for the future. Although football has been very fun and rewarding for me, it doesn't go on forever. I'm excited about this opportunity with KHOU, but at the same time, I have some regrets about leaving the Oilers."

Nielson played most of his career in the shadows of such quarterbacks as Dan Pastorini and Kenny Stabler. Last year, he shared starting duties with Oliver Luck.

During his career with the Oilers, he completed 273 passes out of 498 attempts for 3,252 yards.

"The entire Oilers organization was surprised to learn of Gifford's decision to retire from professional football," said Ladd Herzog, the Oilers general manager. "The coaching staff and myself felt that Gifford was certainly in the team's quarterback plans for this season.

"I respect Gifford's decision, but I regret it, too," Herzog said. "He was certainly in the team's quarterback plans.

"Gifford's had an up-and-down career. He's been in and out of the lineup, but he always handled things with class. He's one of the classiest people I've ever known in or out of football."

Nielson's departure leaves the Oilers with three quarterbacks, Warren Moon, Luck and Bryan Ransom.

Members of the Property Enterprises bowling team were recognized as first place winners Monday evening at the Strickettes League's end of the year banquet.

Bowlers recognized at banquet

Margaret Collins received the best sportsman trophy and Brenda Pagett was recognized as the most improved bowler Monday evening at the Strickettes League end of the year bowling banquet. Approximately 60 women were in attendance at the Caison House.

High game trophy went to Sheree Rampley, while Suzanne Vogler won high series. The Property Enterprises team, made up of Pat Fowler, La Juan Fowler, Vi Moore and Avis Blakey, won first place in the league. Second place went to Bowling's Bowl, including Vogler, Linda Withers, Pagett and Nancy Acker. Crofford Automotive, consisting of Raelene Smith, Mona Klein, Vicky Wood and Mary Hoffman took third place. Pat Fowler, league president, conducted a brief business session, during which the following officers were elected to serve next year: Suzanne Vogler, president; Myrna Buckley, vice-president; Wilma Clark, secretary-treasurer; and Avalon Bridges, sergeant-at-arms.

Johnson named All-Around Cowgirl

Hereford's Jana Johnson was named All-Around Cowgirl in the girls division of the Tri-State High School Rodeo which took place in Adrian this past weekend.

Miss Johnson won the Goat Tying, placed second in the Barrels and Poles, and finished sixth in the breakaway event to score 16 points. That 16 points was enough to make Hereford the high point team in the girls division.

In the boys division, Shawn McConnell place second in steer wrestling.

The next Tri-State rodeo will take place May 19-20 in Guyman. The finals are scheduled for June 7-9 in Amarillo.

Tennis tourney slated

The entry deadline for the 1984 Hereford Tennis Tournament is June 5 for the junior division and June 7 for adults. The tournament will take place June 7-10 at the Hereford High School courts.

Entry fee for entering singles event is $7 and $13 for doubles. The winner(s) of two of three sets will advance in the tourney.

Players showing up more than 30 minutes from their posted time will default. Also, those displaying poor sportsmanship will be defaulted.

Entry limit is three events in two age groups. Make checks payable to Tournament Director. No entries will be accepted without entry fee. A name and events must also accompany each entry fee.

Celtics eye 15th title

BOSTON (AP) — There are no more tears. Even the nightmares are over. But the haunting memory lingers and get-even time is at hand for the Boston Celtics.

Humiliated by the Milwaukee Bucks in a four-game sweep 379 days ago, the Celtics get another shot, starting tonight at Boston Garden.

The Celtics, eyeing an unprecedented 15th National Basketball Association championship, insist they're not thinking of revenge.

However, only newcomers Dennis Johnson, Greg Kite and Carlos Clark are not personally aware of the embarrassment suffered on May 2, 1983.

That was when the slogan "Celtics Pride" was ripped. Superstar Larry Bird wondered "where our hearts are." Everyone wanted to run away and hide. It was a long, long summer for all.

The Celtics salvaged some wounded pride by beating Milwaukee in five of six regular season games. Now it's playoff time with the Eastern Conference title at stake in the best-of-seven series.

"I don't think anyone will forget what happened, but there is no revenge factor," Bird insisted. "We have a dif-

Bird, who scored 39 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and handed out 10 assists in leading the Celtics to a seventh game victory over the New York Knicks Sunday, said the showdown with the Bucks represents a new season. "You don't think of regular season records when you go into the playoffs," he said. "This is the second season."

Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson, a former Boston star forward, agreed.

"Last year (1982-83) we were 3-3 and that didn't mean a thing in the playoffs," Nelson said. "This year we were 1-5 and that doesn't mean a thing."

"Our makeup is different, our personnel is a little different, we have a new head coach and our philosophy is different," says Boston forward Cedric Maxwell.

In the wake of headlines such as "Selfishness sank Celtics," the club went out and posted a 62-20 record, best in the league.

The Celtics eliminated the Washington Bullets in four games in the first round, then were extended to the limit by the upstart Knicks.

Milwaukee was forced to a fifth deciding game in eliminating Atlanta in the first round. Then it whipped New Jersey in six games.

"We always thought Boston was the best teacy don't, we'll make some changes. The home court advantage? It's only a factor if you play well at home — and win."

BASKETBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's Kevin McHale, who averaged 18.4 points and 7.4 rebounds a game and led the Celtics with 126 blocked shots, was named winner of the National Basketball Association's Sixth Man Award.

McHale received 59 votes to 14 for John Drew of the Utah Jazz. His 18.4-point average was the best among the NBA's non-starters.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Ryne Sandberg of the Chicago Cubs, who had 13 hits in 29 at-bats for a .448 average last week and stretched his batting streak to 16 games, was named the National League Player of the Week.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago White Sox outfielder-first baseman Tom Paciorek, who went 14-for-25 last week to raise his average from .275 to .333, was unanimously selected as the American League's Player of the Week.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Fearing the Minnesota Twins might become the latest sports franchise to jump towns, business leaders and the stadium commission said they've chipped in more than $6 million to fuel a massive ticket drive which may bind the American League team to its lease through 1988.

Unless the Twins draw 2.4 million fans this season, President Calvin Griffith could use an escape clause in his 30-year Metrodome lease to sell to an out-of-town buyer.

HOCKEY

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — Boston Bruins hockey star Craig MacTavish, somber and resigned, surrendered at the Salem House of Correction where he will serve one year for motor vehicle homicide.

MacTavish will not be eligible for work release, but he could visit local high schools to warn teen-agers about drunken driving.

OLYMPICS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department called the remarks of Marat Gramov, head of the Soviet Union's National Olympic Committee, a "classic case of complete distortion and twisting of facts to fit a particular Soviet line."

TENNIS

ROME (AP) — Joakim Nystrom and Jan Gunnarsson breezed to easy victories in opening-round play at the $315,000 Italian Open Tennis Championships.

Nystrom scored a 6-3, 6-4, victory over Victor Pecci while Gunnarsson downed Marco Hocevar 6-2, 6-2.

The 45 saves posted by relief pitcher Dann Quisenberry of the Kansas City Royals in 1983 were a major-league record.

Pirates edge Astros, 3-2

By ALAN ROBINSON AP Sports Writer
Jose DeLeon found his missing forkball, and the Pittsburgh Pirates found their missing long ball. The Pirates, after three consecutive late-inning losses in Atlanta, got home runs from Jason Thompson and Dale Berra to go with a solid eight-inning performance from DeLeon to edge the Houston Astros 3-2 at home Monday night.

"I'll tell you, this feels great. I'm happy tonight," said Pirates Manager Chuck Tanner, who had called Sunday's 9-8, 10-inning defeat to the Braves "as tough a loss as I can ever remember."

"Jose pitched great and it's nice to see a couple of home runs," Tanner said.

In two other National League games, Philadelphia edged Los Angeles 3-2 and Montreal beat San Diego 7-6 in 10 innings.

The Pirates, normally one of the most prolific hitting teams in baseball, had hit a National League-low 11 homers until Monday. No other team in the league had hit fewer than 17.

Thompson, the Pirates' cleanup hitter who had managed only two previous homers, drilled a two-run homer in the fourth following Marvell Wynne's double to give the Pirates and DeLeon a 2-1 lead.

Then, after losing pitcher Bob Knepper tied the game at 2-2 with his fourth career homer, Berra came through with the game-winning solo shot in the seventh.

DeLeon, 2-1, was one of the top rookie pitchers in baseball last season when he flirted with no-hitters three times en route to a 7-3 record. But Monday's start was only his third of the season, and he brought a 7.82 ERA into the game.

"He's been struggling and struggling to find his forkball, and he finally had it tonight," Tanner said. "He needs the forkball to set up the fastball and his other pitches."

Phillies 3, Dodgers 2

Reliever Tom Niedenfuer hit pinch hitter Len Matuszek with a pitch with the bases loaded, forcing in the winning run, and Philadelphia extended its winning streak to four games by scoring three runs in the ninth inning against Los Angeles.

Jerry Reuss went into the ninth with a two-hit shutout but yielded one run on consecutive singles by Ivan DeJesus, Luis and Niedenfuer walked Mike Schmidt intentionally. An error by first baseman Franklin Stubbs, who earlier had hit his first major league homer, allowed Aguayo to score, and Niedenfuer hit Matuszek with an 0-2 pitch.

Charles Hudson surrendered just four hits in eight innings for the victory.

Expos 7, Padres 6

Tim Lincecum hit a two-run homer and doubled home the winning run in the top of the 10th inning as Montreal extended the Padres' losing streak to five games.

AL roundup

Seaver downs Royals

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

A couple of old National League hands — or arms, rather — are wearing out American League hitters these days.

Tom Seaver, 39, pitched a five-hitter to lead the Chicago White Sox over the Kansas City Royals 2-0 Monday night for his first American League shutout after 17 years in the NL.

It was the 277th victory, 57th shutout and 214th complete game of his storied career, which included three Cy Young Awards with the New York Mets.

Phil Niekro, who spent 25 years with the Braves, pitched eight innings for his sixth American League victory in seven decisions as the New York Yankees beat Oakland 3-1. The 45-year-old Niekro tied Detroit's Jack Morris for the league lead in victories while lowering his ERA to 1.04.

Niekro, a knuckleballer, now has 274 career victories and has allowed just four earned runs in 54 1-3 innings this season.

In the rest of the AL, Baltimore downed California 4-1, Boston defeated Cleveland 6-1 and Detroit beat Seattle 7-5.

White Sox 2, Royals 0

Seaver, 4-2, struck out three and didn't walk a batter, while Scott Fletcher singled in one run and scored the other as Chicago ended Kansas City's three-game winning streak.

"I didn't have terrific stuff," Seaver said, "just good."

Seaver said his shutout was special only in that it gave the defending AL West champions a 500 record, 17-17.

"It wasn't any more gratifying than any other game," Seaver said. "We've been struggling to get to .500 and everybody would like to get rocking."

Seaver had both his losses and two no-decisions before finally winning his first game in the American League in his fifth start. He came into Monday night's game with a 4.25 ERA, which he lowered to 3.59, but Seaver said he hadn't really pitched poorly since he was knocked out in the fifth inning of his first start.

"I don't care what the numbers say," Seaver said. "I've pitched pretty well."

Fletcher drove in a run with a single in the second inning, and he tripled and scored on a single by Jerry Dybzinski in the fifth.

Yankees 3, A's 1

Niekro surrendered just four hits in eight innings before leaving with a twinge in his right shoulder.

In Stanley Cup series

Oilers need additional team play to win

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP)—No matter how great the individual talents — and the Edmonton Oilers have as many skillful hockey players as anyone — you win the Stanley Cup as a team. The New York Islanders have proven that for four years and the Oilers are trying to find a way to show they can put things together in the same way.

"We're going to have to win this thing as a team, a group of five-man units doing the job," said Oilers right wing Jari Kurri as his team prepared to host Game 3 of the National Hockey League championship series tonight. "We have 22 guys on this team, not just one line. One night, a couple of lines have to score, the next night another couple. You don't beat the New York Islanders with one line."

The Oilers beat the Islanders with one goal in the opener of the best-of-seven series. They got outstanding goaltending from Grant Fuhr and showed a surprisingly disciplined defensive style in the 1-0 triumph.

But they were blitzed 6-1 in the second game of the series and their big guns — Wayne Gretzky, Kurri, Paul Coffey, Mark Messier and Glenn Anderson — have been blanked thus far.

"First off, I think we were pretty lucky to have scored only two goals and be even," said Messier, who has been converted to center this year to combat the Islanders' strength down the middle. When New York swept Edmonton last spring in the finals, Bryan Trottier, Brent Sutter and Butch Goring dominated the pivot.

"Sure it's imperative that we score goals, but it can't always be Wayne and Jari. Goals are a team effort, they come from a five-man unit. If we expect Wayne to pick up the puck, go the length of the ice and beat the whole Islander team, we're crazy."

One of the Islanders' greatest strengths during their championship run — which is three victories away from equalling the NHL record of five consecutive Stanley Cups, set by the 1956-60 Montreal Canadiens — is the ability to have every piece fit into every portion of the puzzle. Versatility, thy name is Islander.

"We've trained our crew to play against everyone during the season and they are ready to play anyone now," said Islanders Coach Al Arbour. "It's the unit, the five guys out there who have to execute without the puck and work together."

"I think our team has confidence in each other and in themselves. They feed from each other."

And when they get hungry, it's nearly impossible to stop them.

But the Islanders know the Oilers will come out flying tonight before their fans. If New York can stop Edmonton early and jump on top with the first goal, it would be a big edge.

But the Oilers aren't banking everything on a quick start tonight.

"We'd like to get a lead and dictate how the game goes," said Messier. "But we have to do it as a team. We can't go out there thinking as individuals but as a team."

Ann Landers

Finally independent

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have wanted to write this letter for 25 years. It may give other women the courage to get out of marriages that stink. I worked while my husband attended college. During those four years our two children were born. We lived on carrots, oatmeal and powdered milk. I bought no clothes for seven years. Once he asked me what I wanted for my birthday. I said "I'd love to eat out and go to a movie." "It's too expensive." (It would have been around $10). Instead he gave me an iron skillet that cost $11. During all those years, the children and I had no vacations, no meals away from home, and very little pleasure. We put up with daddy's temper tantrums, when he knocked holes in the wall with his fists and slapped us around. After a while he was traveling for a government agency, going to such exotic places as Bermuda, Hawaii and Japan. At the same time he refused to take his family to the ocean for a weekend. Naturally, when he traveled, his pockets were full of government money and it was easy to pick up women wherever he went. He has a good deal of charm when he decides to use it. When I learned he had been traveling with a variety of female companions, we separated. After the divorce his star began to rise. Today he has a much younger wife, a home on the water, and a salary approaching $70,000 per year. He also has two sons who despise him, and an ex-wife who hates his guts. Many times I have asked myself why I stayed with him. I know now it was because I was a dependent person. I grew up at a time when your father took care of you until you married, then your husband took care of you for the rest of your life. If I have anything to thank the louse for it is that he pushed me into the "cold, cruel world," and when put to the test, I did very well for myself. Today I am an independent person with confidence and self-assurance. If I saw him on the street I would look the other way—Happy At Last

These last few weeks I've considered suicide. Please tell me what to do.—Runway In New York
 DEAR N.Y.: There are a half million and a half just like you out there, and I beg each and every one to call a parent or a close friend collect and let them know you are alive. They will be thrilled.
 Another alternative: Phone the 24-hour Runaway Hotline at 1-800-231-6946. In Texas call 1-800-392-3352. Making this single call could reunite you with the human race. Please go to the phone at once and change your life.

You can BUY GROCERIES AT COST OR BELOW!
 It's incredible but true! Grocery store owners have known you can buy all of your groceries at their cost or below, right out of their stores for years.
 For you cost or below means you can cut your food bill by 20 to 40 percent. That means if you spend $400 a month on food you could pocket up to $160 every month—almost $2000 a year!
 Texas: "Buying food for three kids and a husband I was up to my ears in grocery bills. Then I ran across your ad and decided to give it a try. Now I have a special savings account that in just four months has reached $345. It's incredible. I thank you for helping!"

La Madre Mia members visit the classroom

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club met at the home of Mary Beth White on Thursday evening to be transported by "school bus" to President Marlene Watson's second grade classroom at Aikman Elementary School.

After arriving at the school, they were seated at desks to do school work as instructed by the teacher, Mrs. Watson. They then enjoyed sack lunches and cupcakes to celebrate Gladys Merritt's birthday.

Members answered roll call by telling the name of their second grade teacher. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Jeri Bezner.

Joyce Allred reported that the scholarship committee had names of eligible graduates, one of whom will be chosen for La Madre Mia's Scholarship Award, to be presented at the school assembly.

Mrs. Watson used the school theme to initiate new club officers including Betty Owen, president; Mysedia Smith, vice-president; Sarah

State convention report presented

George Kemerer, voting delegate to the state convention of National Association of Retired Federal Employees held recently in El Paso, gave a detailed report of the meeting when the local NARFE chapter met Thursday at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center.

Kemerer represented the 19 members of the local chapter at the state meeting. Ninety-two chapters throughout Texas sent representatives.

NARFE national president, L.J. Andolsek, gave the main convention address, "urging membership growth as a means of maintaining benefits earned during Civil Service NARFE is only asking the government to honor commitments which began when the Civil Service retirement system, which dates to 1920, was formed," reported Kemerer.

He concluded his report by announcing that Galveston was voted as the location for the 1985 meeting place.

A prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance opened the meeting, with Chairman Kemerer presiding. A silent offering was received.

Reports were given from the NARFE Monthly Bulletin and also the weekly Federal Employees News Digest. A tape was played, recorded from Hot Line Washington, D.C., concerning pending legislation for retirees.

Other members in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Miles Caudle, Mrs. Pauline Thompson, Mrs. Adolf Jacob, P.H. Jayroe and Mrs. Mary Alice Frye.

Camp Fire Council to hold day camp

Another opportunity awaits boys and girls in Camp Fire. The annual day camp is scheduled at the city park June 4-8 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Youth may arrive as early as 8 a.m., and parents are asked to bring them as well as pick them up. On Friday the session will be from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., with the closing ceremonial (to which parents are invited) scheduled to last until 2:30 p.m.

The city park is located east of the new golf course, west of Veterans Park. Registration fee is $10 unless the child is not a registered Camp Fire member, in which case an additional $7 fee will be required.

The Hereford Camp Fire Council offers this camping experience to include preschoolers 4 and 5 years of age - papoose campers. Blue Bird and Blue Jay Camp Fire members will be included up through the third grade.

The theme for day camp this year is "nature Conservation" and Wise Old Willie will be there all week. There will be a jug band as part of the learning experience of "Earth, Wind and Rain."

Dr. Anthony Genarzo, national wildlife professional from Eastern New Mexico University, will make a guest appearance. Wagon rides, bagpipes, and other special events will be included in the week-long outdoor experience.

HOUSE DESIGN

by Larry Farnsworth
 DRAMATIC SPIRAL STAIRWAY AND BALCONY FORMAL DINING ROOM AND BREAKFAST NOOK VAULTED FAMILY ROOM WITH ALL AMENITIES ROOF GARDEN RETREAT

Model D2840 - The lavish appointments of this spacious executive 2840 ft. home will suit the most discriminating homeowner.

The large living room features a fine fireplace flanked by elegant french doors, and offers a view of the charming formal dining room through a graceful archway.

The kitchen is perfectly equipped with everything a gourmet cook could wish, including a large, walk-in pantry and a charming breakfast nook. There is an inside, oversized utility room, too, with a hand outside door.

You will especially like the huge centrally located family room with an adjacent powder room located for convenient access from the utility and kitchen area, too. Complete with its own wet bar, the family room is partially vaulted; its drama heightened by the bedroom balcony above. It also offers a convenient door to the double garage, and sliding glass doors on the side overlooking a quiet walled garden.

This home has been designed for gracious living. It offers a perfect setting for the family which demands perfection and good taste. Model D2840 has an optional basement.
