

Step One: Mixing mortar

The initial step is to mix the mortar in order to secure the nearly 44,000 bricks it will take to build the new fire station.

Step Two: Delivering the mortar

After the mortar is mixed, it must then be placed where the bricklayers can get to it. Mortar will be lifted two stories.

Step Three: Leveling the bricks

After the mortar is placed, the first brick of the next level must be placed perfectly in order to keep the wall aligned.

Step Four: Brick placement

Finally, bricks are placed and excess mortar scraped. It takes eight hours to build an additional three feet of wall.

Both sides see victory in upcoming contra aid vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — With congressional votes looming on President Reagan's proposal to give $100 million to guerrillas fighting Nicaragua's leftist government, each side insists that it will win a close vote.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said Tuesday, "We believe we will win," and added that he expected no changes in Reagan's package, despite opponents' predictions that the White House will have to compromise.

At about the same time, Rep. Tom Foley, D-Wash., the chief Democratic vote counter, told reporters, "We win. It's conclusive, not overwhelming, but conclusive."

Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., apparently agreed with Foley. He said Reagan was picking up votes, but added, "I think they're a bit short" in the House.

The Democratic-controlled House was scheduled today to begin 10 hours of debate on Reagan's plan, and a vote has been tentatively scheduled for early Thursday afternoon.

Because of the way the current law is written, the House vote must be a simple "yes" or "no" on Reagan's proposal, with no substitutes or compromises permitted.

Reagan has been lobbying hard to win his program, which includes $30 million in non-lethal aid, such as medicine and clothing, and $70 million that could be used for military aid, including U.S. trainers.

The current package of $27 million in non-lethal aid expires March 31.

After the House decides, the fight moves to the Republican-controlled Senate, where both sides also have predicted victory. A vote there is scheduled for next week.

In the Senate, unlike the House, compromise proposals will be allowed, and some opponents of Reagan's plan have said the chamber might approve a compromise plan, which then would have to go back to the House for another vote.

In other developments:

—Administration sources said the Sandinistas were expected to receive Czech-made L-39 jets and four other types of aircraft, possibly before the end of the summer. The sources said this would threaten the air superiority neighboring Honduras currently enjoys over Nicaragua.

—A poll showing Central American support for U.S. aid to the Contras, used by the Reagan administration to drum up support for the aid proposal, is actually seven months old. But a more recent poll by the same group shows overwhelming Costa Rican opposition to the idea. The old poll, taken in July, was a regional survey that included Costa Rica, Honduras, Guatemala and El Salvador. It showed 69 percent favoring U.S. aid to the Contras. But the second poll, taken only in Costa Rica in November, showed only 39.3 percent supporting Reagan's proposal.

Two survivors of crash remain in hospital

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — The two survivors of a head-on car collision that killed seven people on Interstate 40 in this Panhandle city remained hospitalized, one in critical condition, officials said.

Wayne Scott, 38, of Fritch, was still in critical condition at Northwest Texas Hospital late Tuesday night and Norlailli Mohamed-Yunus, 21, of Malaysia, was listed as serious.

Seven others died after two cars, including one carrying seven Malaysian college students from North Texas State University, collided about 9:50 p.m. Monday.

The university identified the dead students as Mastura Sharif, 21, a senior computer science major; Roseuzana Othman, 22, a senior English major; Maizarah Abu Bakar, 21, a junior in the accounting masters program; Hartini Ismail, 21, a senior finance major; Marina Taha, 21, a biochemistry senior; and Salmiah Mohamed Ismail, 21, a senior English major. Scott's wife, Linda, 38, was pronounced dead at the scene, police said.

The seven Malaysian women, who all came to NTSU in 1983 and enrolled for more than the usual number of classes and would have finished their degree requirements early, were traveling westbound in an Oldsmobile on the westbound lane of

Hospital to consider new building

Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors have agreed to investigate the possibility of building office space on the hospital campus, following a request on the matter by six local physicians — Drs. Howard Johnson, Jesse Perales, A.T. Mims, David Baddour, Nadir Khouri, and Mary Birdsong.

Hospital administrator Jim Bullard said today that in Tuesday's board meeting it was concluded that hospital based physicians are beneficial to the hospital for their services and the hospital is beneficial to the doctors for the facilities available.

Bullard said the project is in the "talking stage."

"It has been made clear by the board," Bullard added, "that if the hospital district constructed the building, then the rental or lease arrangements will be sufficient to carry the indebtedness of the building."

He said neither the six doctors who made the petition nor the hospital is formally committed.

In other business it was reported that the average daily census for last month was 29.4 with 10 surgical procedures and, due to the addition of orthopedics, radiology procedures increased to 490.

Total patient revenue was $482,134 and total operating expenses were $444,458, leaving a net operating profit of $37,676.

Up With People cast members

Amusing things happen on tours

Anytime people are involved, there are going to be some amusing moments.

Ken Brueggeman and Gui Andre De La Porte, who have been in Hereford as an advance promotional team, have had plenty to laugh about during their past eight months traveling with Up With People.

The two have been in Hereford for nearly two weeks making arrangements for Sunday's 3 p.m. performance in the Hereford High School auditorium.

Tending business of tickets, posters, finding host families, doing interviews and basically getting a feel for the community is a good break from the 15-hour days they see when performing.

Brueggeman said one of the funniest things that happened occurred quite innocently to one of the cast members while staying in a host family's home. A young Keyan came out of the bathroom asking for help, and although Brueggeman and the others thought he was unduly alarmed, they followed. The commode had exploded, sort of self-destructed, when the Kenyan flushed it. It was kind of hard to keep from laughing over the demolition of such an important fixture.

In another home, Brueggeman recalled, one of the cast members was making himself at home by looking for a spoon in the kitchen of a host family. The first few drawers were fruitless. Taking the handles under the sink, the fellow tugged and got no response. An even harder pull wouldn't open them, so with great leverage and strength, the chap yanked his hardest—and the fake front ripped from the cabinet!

Andre De La Porte's funniest memories are from on stage. In a routine called "At The Hop", a lot of jumping goes on. One of the dancers came down, hit the stage floor, but kept going. She said the audience simply thought it was part of the act, and the dancer coolly found a way out from under the stage unnoticed.

"In one dance, a gal's skirt wasn't 'velcroed' tight enough and fell completely off during a performance.

There's not much one can do but be poised when things like that happen during a live performance.

Things can get hot, too. In Holland,

House approves bill to pay hostages

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted overwhelmingly in favor of a $4.4 billion bill that would provide cash payments to U.S. employees and their families taken hostage overseas and beef up security at U.S. embassies and consulates.

On a 389-7 vote Tuesday night, the lawmakers approved and sent to the Senate a bill aimed at making U.S. personnel more difficult targets for international terrorism, primarily by making the buildings in which they work overseas less vulnerable to attack over the next five years.

The legislation also addresses terrorist attacks linked to narcotics trafficking and, in the aftermath of the seizure of the cruise ship Achille Lauro, aims at improving security arrangements at international and U.S. ports.

The bill was approved after the House acted to exempt it from compliance with the Gramm-Rudman deficit-reduction act.

The hostage compensation section of the bill embraces all U.S. employees and their relatives, including military personnel, taken captive since 1979.

Those seized at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran in 1979 are included.

They and future hostages would be eligible for payments of $66 a day. That would make those held longest in Iran — 444 days — eligible for payments of $29,304 each.

A federal commission had recommended payments of $12.50 a day for the Iran hostages.

The House, by voice vote, rejected an amendment by Rep. John McCain, R-Ariz., which would have set hostage compensation at $30 a day.

McCain contended that figure was "more than generous" and that the payments should remain "largely symbolic."

"This is not like a windfall," replied Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo. "I cannot think of anyone who would like to be a hostage for $66 a day. They just wouldn't."

She said that the $66 figure was

Police chief wants drug testing

HOUSTON (AP) — If the Houston City Council approves the implementation of a drug testing program for its 4,500-member police force, Police Chief Lee P. Brown says officers who fail such a test should be dismissed.

The department currently requires drug tests of applicants, a procedure implemented about three months ago. Two applicants were not accepted "because they flunked the drug tests," police spokesman Sgt. J.C. Mosier said Tuesday.

Although the drug test program is only in the planning stage, Brown hopes to ask city council members this year for money to pay such a program, Mosier said.

Drug testing is "just something he thinks should be done. There has been no event that initiated this," Mosier, Brown's spokesman, said.

Leaders of the city's two largest police groups, the Houston Police Patrolmen's Union and the Houston Police Officers Association, said they favored routine testing of officers under certain conditions.

Texas commerce writes off loans

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Commerce Bancshares wrote off $44 million in loans made to members of the bank's board, blaming the loss on shaky energy and real estate markets, an executive said.

The bank took an additional $1.1 million loss when a restructured loan was sold at a discount to another bank, Marshall Tyndall, executive vice president of the holding company, said Tuesday.

He said the bank disclosed the writeoffs in the company's proxy statement sent to shareholders in advance of the April 15 annual meeting. Tyndall said problems developed partly because declining energy and real estate markets undermined collateral put up for the loans.

Tyndall said he thought he would be able to recover at least part of the $73 million in loans listed as non-performing on the proxy.

He said bank officials will continue to work with the borrowers and hope to be able to recoup the loans. He said the loans are listed on a non-accrual basis, meaning that payments made apply directly to the principle.

"It doesn't mean that that's a loss," Tyndall said.

Families live below poverty level

AUSTIN (AP) — Most needy Texas families with dependent children live on less money than half the national poverty level, according to information furnished the House Committee on Human Services.

Members of the committee, meeting for a workshop session Tuesday, were told that Texas ranks 46th in support of Aid to Families of Dependent Children.

Rep. Erwin Barton, D-Pasadena, the panel's chairman, said the committee would decide later what recommendations it will make to the 1987 Legislature.

David Latimer, a committee clerk, briefed the committee on a report drawn up by the staff after a November public hearing.

Latimer said statistics show 22.2 percent of the nation's children subsist at or below the poverty level.

"It seems to be getting worse, including in Texas," he said.

Unemployment skyrocketing

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — In this West Texas city, oil industry workers wait in lines that at times stretch out the door of the unemployment office and down the sidewalk.

So far this month, an average 96 new claims per day have been filed at the Odessa office of the Texas Employment Commission, according to TEC area manager Ron Norris.

That's three times more than a year ago, and a fifth more than a month ago, Norris said.

Unemployment skyrocketed when oil prices plunged from more than $30 a barrel to less than $10, Norris said.

Among the unemployed is oil field worker Mykle Hughes. He looked six months for another job, even a dishwashing job, before he applied for unemployment benefits Tuesday.

"I've walked all over this town looking for a job. The only thing I haven't done is pick cans," the 22-year-old said. "I've never been out of work before."

The whole Permian Basin economy is endangered because the oil industry slump could prompt layoffs in other industries, Norris said.

Paroled murderer kills again

DALLAS (AP) — The killing didn't attract much attention — it was 350th in a year of 390 homicides in Dallas.

But the family of the victim, Thomas Christopher Glynn, is outraged because the killer committed the crime 11 months after he was paroled on a life sentence for an earlier murder.

Glynn's family blames the shooting not only on convicted murderer Thomas Edward Williams, but on the system that set him free.

"I'd not say Thomas Williams is responsible for the murder," said one of Glynn's friends, who met Glynn when both were members of a conservative Republican club.

"I'd hold the parole board responsible for letting this man out again," he told the Dallas Times Herald.

But the parole board, faced with overcrowded prisons, has little choice but to release convicts who they think have reformed, prison officials said.

Williams — a middle-aged man who had earned a college degree in prison — fit that description, said a member of the parole board that released the convicted killer.

Documents list contributions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1980 presidential campaigns of Ronald Reagan and Jimmy Carter are listed as recipients of $50,000 contributions on a document brought to the United States by former Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos, congressional sources and a Philippines official say.

Reports said other U.S. candidates also were listed as receiving contributions, including Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

But the document, described Tuesday by congressional sources on condition of anonymity and by Jovito Salonga, head of a Philippines commission investigating Marcos, does not make clear whether the contributions were actually made, the sources said.

It is illegal for foreign citizens to contribute money to U.S. federal campaigns.

The paper was among 2,300 pages of documents detailing what Salonga called Marcos' "unbelievable plunder" of the Philippines treasury that were handed over Tuesday to Salonga by the U.S. government.

Dallas failure rate falls

DALLAS (AP) — The failure rate among Dallas middle and high school students declined to 55.2 percent in the last grading period from 57.1 percent for the previous six-week period, school officials say.

Linus Wright, superintendent of the Dallas Independent School District, said the failure rate is too high.

Wright said the school district will see a budget crunch as more children than expected attend summer school to make up for classes they failed.

The failure rate is the percentage of students who failed at least one class in the last six weeks. Educational reforms enacted in 1984 by the Texas Legislature raised to 70 as the minimum passing grade for each class.

Officials said 57.2 percent of the 51,577 middle school students — grades 6, 7 and 8 — failed at least one class, and 54 percent of high school students failed at least one class.

Among high school seniors, the failure rate dropped to 33.9 percent from 38 percent the previous six weeks.

Wright said the drop in the senior failure rate suggests that the students are trying harder because of new regulations, including the no pass, no play rule that bans failing students from extracurricular activities.

selected because it is the same as the per diem rate for federal officials, and added: "We decided this was fair. We decided this was the way to go."

The overall legislation focuses on what House members called a "brick and mortar" approach to terrorism, providing funds to replace highly vulnerable U.S. diplomatic buildings at high-risk posts and to enhance the security of others.

It parcels out the funds from now until 1991, starting with $56 million during the present fiscal year ending Sept. 30.

Other major provisions of the legislation would:

—Create a new diplomatic security service inside the State Department.

—Authorize $10 million for rewards for information on international terrorists and drug traffickers and set up a most-wanted list of international terrorists.

—Authorize $125 million to improve the security of port, harbor and coastal facilities and to assess the threat of terrorism to U.S. and foreign ports and vessels.

Combest to sponsor Senior program

WASHINGTON — Rep. Larry Combest has announced that he is sponsoring a Senior Citizens Intern Program for 19th District residents who are interested in increasing their role in the democratic process by observing how the federal government functions.

Senior citizens who are interested in participating in the program during the week of May 19-23 in Washington, D.C. are encouraged to request an application form from Congressman Combest by calling (806)763-1611 or (915)337-1669. Applicants must be at least 60 years of age, in good health and involved in senior citizens projects in their community. Two interns will be selected to participate in the program and due to Congressional budgetary constraints interns will not be compensated.

"The Senior Citizens Intern Program is an excellent opportunity for our older citizens to become more actively involved in the legislative process and see first-hand how Congress works," said Combest.

"In addition to spending time in the 19th District Washington office, the interns will have a unique opportunity to attend five days of briefings, seminars and governmental activities focusing on legislation and issue affecting senior citizens. The program will cover issues relating to social security, medicare and medicaid, housing, personal protection from crime, personal health, fitness and nutrition," Combest stated.

"I believe the interns will gain valuable insight and experience and I look forward to their suggestions and observations while visiting my office," Combest said.

Oatmeal for brains

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 21 years old and have been dating a fellow who is 23. We plan to marry when I get out of college next year.

Last night he made a suggestion that just about knocked me out. He had seen a porno movie at a stag party and became very turned on by an actress with tattooed breasts. She had a rose on one and a lily on the other. He wants me to have this done as a gift for his birthday in April.

I know nothing about tattooing. Is it painful? Can it be removed? Is this request as kinky as I think it is?

Please reply in the paper. I have three sisters who are letter-openers and a father who would probably kick "John" into the next county if he knew about this. Thanks for your help—READER IN GARY, IND.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A few days ago I purchased some material and patterns. Halfway home I realized the clerk had made a mistake and undercharged me. I turned the car around, went back to the store and paid an additional $12.

I mentioned this incident to my mother, who repeated it to my father. They made a big deal out of it and said they were very proud of me. I didn't feel as if I had done anything out of the ordinary. As I see it, my parents simply raised my brothers and me to the right thing. It was expected of us. Dishonesty in our family was not acceptable. When I have children I will pass on the legacy.—GRATEFUL IN NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J.

DEAR NEW B.: Values are learned at home. You couldn't give your children a finer gift. Thanks for sharing an uplifting experience.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 14 years old and my legs look like an ape's. My mother won't let me shave them because she says the hair will grow back thicker than ever. Is this true?—Jungle Girl In Atlanta

DEAR GIRL: No, it's not true. I hope Mom reconsiders. Hairy legs can be a major embarrassment to a young girl—and an older one as well.

Appreciation Tea

In conjunction with Young Homemakers Week which is currently being observed, members of the local chapter held an appreciation tea Sunday afternoon at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center. Those given special recognition included past and present

DEAR READER: Tattooing in that area would be painful and extremely difficult to remove. Your friend has oatmeal where his brains belong. If you agree to this, you are crazier than he is.

If you want to give John extra jollies, cut out some pictures from a seed catalog and buy a jar of library paste.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I say a word to "Made the Scene," the woman who said it was not smart to be smarter than one's "significant other"?

In spite of the readers who insisted she was wrong, my experience was the same as hers.

When I became a Life's Master in bridge and beat my husband by two points on a Mensa exam, it sounded the death knell on a 12-year marriage. Two months later, my husband began an affair with a girl 20 years his junior. (Her IQ was the sum of her measurements.)

I was raised to believe it does not matter whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game. I now know this does not apply to the games men play with women.—H.R. (SMALL TOWN IN MICHIGAN)

DEAR H.R.: I agree, but this is not the same as saying men don't like smart women. Most men do, but they don't like to lose to a woman in a one-on-one situation. It creates hostility and turns them off.

4-H Center to host Spring Fling

The Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood will again host a "Spring Fling" this year for people aged 55 and older.

Spring Fling, in its eighth year and boasting almost 4,000 participants, will feature five special camps for individuals 55 and older dealing with a wide range of educational and recreational activities, points out Marshall Crouch, 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Crouch supervises programs and activities at the 4-H Center which is about 11 miles north of Brownwood on Texas 279.

The five sessions are scheduled for April 8-11, April 15-18, April 22-25, April 29-May 2 and May 6-9. Registration is from 2:30 to 4 p.m. the first day of each session.

Those participating in Spring Fling '86 can choose from a multitude of activities, Crouch points out. All sessions will feature educational programs presented by Extension Service specialists in such areas as horticulture, insurance, entomology, gardening, and foods and nutrition.

Nature hikes, boat rides, tennis, fishing, shuffleboard, dancing, bingo, social recreation and table games all are available for the enjoyment of those attending the camp.

Crouch assures that accommodations at the 4-H Center are comfortable and that the food is good. A dietitian is on hand to help with special dietary requirements.

Cost of each of the sessions is $81. Individuals interested in attending should send in their reservations as soon as possible since each session is limited to 100 people. County Extension offices have reservation forms and additional information on Spring Fling '86. Forms should be sent to the Texas 4-H Center, Rt. 1, Box 527, Brownwood, Tx. 76801; telephone: 915-784-5482.

Parents, volunteers form organization

Fifteen parents and volunteers met recently to form a parent support group to the Hereford Satellite Work Training Center clients to be called Hereford Local Chapter of Texas Special Olympics.

Charlotte Clarke stated that the objective and purpose of the group is to help raise finances so that the Satellite clients may attend special olympic activities.

Kay Redwine was chosen as chairman; Bill Shore, treasurer; and Gladys Merritt, secretary. Also, several committees were organized and Redwine was named as the parent to serve as liaison between the HLCTSO and the advisory board. She will attend the monthly board meetings.

Several fund-raising suggestions were mentioned at the meeting. They included collecting Citrus Hill orange juice tops from 16 oz. frozen cans (each is worth 25 cents) and gathering aluminum cans for recycling. The clients are working to collect a truck load of cans to take to the Amarillo State Center which has a processor and will pay 20 cents per pound.

If any resident has orange juice lids or aluminum cans they would like to donate, call 364-3358 or take them by the Satellite Center, 110 N. 25 Mile Ave. All donations are appreciated.

Ornamental Vegetables topic of club program

Members of Hereford Garden Club met in the home of Carmen Angel Friday afternoon with Mary Stoy serving as co-hostess.

A discussion of when to trim roses was held and it was stressed that right after the Easter holiday is an ideal time for trimming.

Mrs. O.G. Hill, Sr. brought an informative program entitled "Ornamental Vegetables." She emphasized that in planning flower beds, vegetables such as carrots and asparagus as they make excellent borders.

Mrs. H.R. Cocanougher mentioned that in 15 minutes one could plant a small moveable garden. She suggested using coffee filters in the bottom of pots to prevent soil from coming out. These pots need six to eight hours of sunlight.

Schedules were distributed for the flower show entitled, "Springtime in Texas." The event will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilcox, 207 Ranger. Mrs. Ray Johnson will serve as chairman.

Others present included Mmes. R.L. Ethridge, Edgar Lemons, Alfred Smith, R.L. Wilson, and visitor, Mrs. C.T. Ward of Paris.

Never on Sunday

Legislation in 1845 ordered elections in the United States to take place during the first week of November because "harvesting is over then and winter has not yet made the roads impassable." Tuesday was designated instead of Monday because many voters lived a day's journey from the polling places and objected to traveling on Sunday.

DR. GOTT Home remedy is harmful

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Our adult daughter has been using a nasal spray she makes herself many times a day, every day. She uses hydrogen peroxide or a mixture of that and spices, such as chili and/or pickling juices. She has gradually been losing her sense of smell and has constant painful headaches and difficulty breathing. She's had tests and X-rays, but never tells the doctor about her nasal spray. I'm very concerned about her problem. She says that since she's not using commercial sprays, she does not have to worry about becoming dependent on this one. Please help.

DEAR READER — From the sound of your letter, I'd say your daughter is picking the inside of her nose — and the nerves of smell as well. The strong components of her homemade spray may certainly be causing tissue damage. If she refuses to tell her doctor about her unusual practice, I wonder what sort of secondary gain she is experiencing by being miserable and overtested.

People do not become "addicted" to commercial nasal sprays. Rather, the problem is that these medicines cause a condition called "rebound": After about a week of use, sprays cause (instead of relieve) nasal congestion.

Try to convince your daughter to give up her kitchen-medicine proclivity. Dilute salt water (one teaspoon per quart) may relieve her symptoms with far less danger.

DEAR DR. GOTT — The last four years I've been getting little whiteheads under the skin on my face and under my armpits. This condition worries and irritates me, as I've always had a nice clear complexion for my 75 years. I take high blood pressure pills and live in Florida.

DEAR READER — The "little whiteheads" you describe may be due to the buildup of sweat in blocked skin pores. These are called "sudamina" and tend to occur on areas of the skin where perspiration is most noticeable, and in hot climates. Check with a dermatologist to determine if he or she can either open the pores or suggest ways to avoid the problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband, 47, had TUR prostate surgery nine months ago. To this date, he sometimes urinates on his own and sometimes uses the catheter, because of blood in the urine. I'm worried he'll become dependent on it. All he gets from the doctor is, "It takes time."

DEAR READER — A catheter is always used after a TUR (transurethral resection) of prostate tissue because the remaining prostate gland is raw and irritated for several days following the surgery. Nine months seems like a long time for bleeding to occur and for your husband to need help urinating. I'm concerned that he may have a complication of surgery. Ask for a referral to another urologist for an opinion.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on THE PROSTATE GLAND. Other readers who would like a copy should send 75 cents plus a long self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this newspaper to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott in care of this newspaper at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Whitefaces, Dumas battle to 8-8 tie in baseball game

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

Hereford and Dumas battled to an 8-8 tie Tuesday in a high school varsity baseball contest that was stopped after six innings because of darkness.

The game was the home opener for the Whitefaces in the 1986 season. On Thursday through Saturday, the HHS varsity will play in the Borger tournament.

After that tournament, Hereford begins District 3-5A competition on Friday, March 28. That game will be at home against Lubbock High at 3:30 p.m. On Saturday, March 29, Hereford plays Amarillo High in Amarillo at 1 p.m.

Hereford built up a 5-0 lead over Dumas Tuesday in the first two innings of the game.

Keith Herrera began the first inning with a triple for the Whitefaces. Stefan Hacker followed with an RBI single for the first run of the contest.

Rodney Torres then reached base on an error, and Philip Webster hit an RBI single. Keith Anderson batted next, and he reached base on an error, with two runs also scoring on the error.

Dumas had runners on second and third with two outs in the top of the second, but the potential rally ended when a batter struck out for the third out. Herrera hit a single to start off the Hereford second inning. Hacker hit a grounder that forced out Herrera, and there was no double play.

Hacker then stole second, and went to third base on a wild pitch. Rodney Torres hit an RBI groundout to bat in Hacker.

Webster tripled into the leftfield corner, and Curtis Cotten walked. The inning ended when Cotten was caught attempting to steal.

Dumas tied up the game, 5-5, in the top of the third. Two of the runs scored on errors, one run on a single, and the other two runs on another single.

In the fourth inning, Dumas gained an 8-5 lead. After a walk and a single, a run was scored on an error. The other two runs scored on the same play. A single was hit, and the runs were scored on an error.

The Whitefaces loaded the bases in the bottom of the fourth when Herrera walked, Hacker hit an infield single, and Torres reached base on a bunt.

The next Hereford batter struck out, but the ball got past the Dumas catcher, and Herrera scored. Anderson walked to load the bases, but the Whitefaces could not get any more runs across the plate. Doug Watts of the Herd tripled into centerfield in the fifth inning. Herrera hit a grounder toward the Demon third baseman, who attempted to throw out Watts at the plate.

Watts was safe at home plate to move Hereford within one run, 8-7. Hacker singled, and Herrera scored on an error to tie the game at 8-8. HHS relief pitcher Bobby Medina helped keep Dumas off the basepaths in the top of the sixth.

In the bottom of the sixth, two Hereford batters walked, but they were stranded on the basepaths.

The game was ended because of darkness when the sixth inning was over.

EXHIBITIONS AT THE MORGAN

NEW YORK (AP) - "Catchpenny Prints" is on view at the Pierpont Morgan Library through April 20.

The exhibition consists of about 50 English and Dutch 18th-century popular engravings. The "catchpenny" print was a single sheet of paper, sometimes filled with illustrations, sometimes with verse, or a combination of both. It was hawked on city streets or sold in printers' shops for as little as a penny.

Also on view at the Morgan through April 13 is "Scientific Autographs." This is a small exhibition of autograph manuscripts and letters by some of the greatest scientists in history, including Galileo, Sir Isaac Newton (his notes on Halley's Comet), and Albert Einstein.

The front and the sides of the tongue are particularly sensitive to sweet tastes. The back of the tongue responds especially to bitter tastes.

Source: Ward's Automotive Reports NEA GRAPHIC Last year was the American auto industry's second most profitable year ever. U.S. car makers earned $8.16 billion in 1985, compared to $9.8 billion in 1984, the most profitable year. Experts say, however, that it will be difficult for car manufacturers to do as well in 1986 and beyond.

The Newspaper BIBLE

WAKE UP! GET UP! LET'S GO!

And now they came to an olive grove called the Garden of Gethsemane, and He instructed His disciples, "Sit here, while I go and pray." He took Peter, James and John with Him and began to be filled with horror and deepest distress. And He said to them, "My soul is crushed by sorrow to the point of death; stay here and watch with Me." He went on a little further and fell to the ground and prayed that if it were possible the awful hour awaiting Him might never come. "Father, Father," He said, "everything is possible for You. Take away this cup from Me. Yet I want Your will, not Mine." Then He returned to the three disciples and found them asleep. "Simon!" He said, "Asleep? Couldn't you watch with Me even one hour? Watch with Me and pray lest the Tempter overpower you. For though the spirit is willing enough, the body is weak." And He went away again and prayed, repeating His pleadings. Again He returned to them and found them sleeping, for they were very tired. And they didn't know what to say. The third time when He returned to them He said, "Sleep on; get your rest! But no! The time for sleep has ended! Look! I am betrayed into the hands of wicked men." 42 Come! Get up! We must go! Look! My betrayer is here!" Mark 14:32-42
