More hearings scheduled

DOE to make site nominations soon

By T. LEE HUGHES Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Energy will soon propose nominating sites in Texas, Utah, Mississippi and Louisiana for consideration as the nation's first permanent repository for high-level nuclear waste, an energy official says.

William Bennett, director of the department's geologic repository division, said Monday that hearings have been tentatively scheduled in the four states to obtain citizen comment on the proposed nominations.

Bennett said letters are expected to be sent out this week informing governors of the four states of the proposals.

The department has already proposed nominating sites in Washington state and Nevada as possible locations for the repository.

Under a 1982 law, five sites must be nominated nationwide for further detailed studies, to be reduced to three by January 1985.

However, the department is planning to dramatically accelerate that schedule and recommend by next fall the three sites for detailed study.

Following the studies, the president must by March 1987 choose the site for the first repository, a deep underground mine where high-level nuclear waste would be stored for thousands of years.

Seven sites have been under consideration in Texas, Utah, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Bennett said the department had originally hoped to propose three of them for nomination before the hearings, to complement the two sites proposed in Washington and Nevada. But he said final guidelines for the site selection process have not been completed.

"We had been prepared to make a recommendation (on three sites) earlier until it became clear to us that the process laid out by the (law) really required us to wait until we had the guidelines, and rightly so," said Bennett.

So he said hearings would be held to receive comment on all seven sites and a decision made on which to nominate after the site selection guidelines are finalized.

The sites are in Swisher County and Deaf Smith County in Texas, at Davis Canyon and Lavender Canyon in Utah, at the Richton Salt Dome and the Cypress Creek Salt Dome in Mississippi, and the Vacherie Salt Dome in Louisiana, Bennett said.

He said the hearings have been tentatively scheduled for April 25 in Tulsa and Hereford and April 26 in Austin, Texas; April 28 in Richton and April 29 in Jackson, Miss.; May 3 in Monticello and May 4 in Salt Lake City, Utah, and May 10 in Minden, La.

In Texas, the energy department has delayed action on a recommendation by a private contractor that a 16-square mile area of Deaf Smith County be proposed for nomination, Bennett said.

Bennett said the department had been prepared to accept the recommendation but changed course after Texas objected that more time was needed before reaching a decision. He said Texas wanted broader areas of both Deaf Smith and Swisher counties considered during the hearings.

At POWER meeting

DOE spokesperson here tonight

Linda McClain of the Department of Energy (DOE) will be the featured speaker when People Opposed to Wasted Energy Repositories (POWER) holds an informational meeting beginning at 8 p.m. tonight at the community center. Ms. McClain is expected to provide an update of activities by the DOE as the search for repositories of high-level nuclear waste continues.

She will also be available to answer questions posed by those in the audience. POWER, headed by Dr. Tim Revell, was organized here recently in a move to oppose the location of such a repository in Deaf Smith County or the immediate area.

The organization presented views by Steve Frishman of the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) at their meeting last Tuesday.

Frishman said then that one of TENRAC's goals is "to slow down" the DOE, which has indicated that it will accelerate its timetable for the selection of the location of the first repository.

According to an Associated Press story today, the DOE will soon propose nominating sites in Texas, Utah, Mississippi, and Louisiana for such consideration. The DOE has already proposed sites in Nevada and Washington for location of a repository.

It was announced that the DOE plans hearings in Hereford and Tulsa on April 25 to gather public comment on the possibility of the repository being located in either Deaf Smith or Swisher County.

Candidates offer views at forum

Local voters will get the opportunity to meet those persons running for public office tonight when the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce's Legislative Affairs Committee hosts a "Meet the Candidates" night at the community center.

The event is set to begin at 7 p.m., according to committee chairman Dr. Milton Adams. All city, school, and hospital board candidates in the Saturday, April 2 election have been invited to attend to present their views. Each candidate will be allowed to make a statement regarding their qualifications and plans, if elected.

Time will also be set aside for questions from the crowd from among those who submitted questions in written form to the chamber of commerce.

Candidates in the school board race include incumbents James Gentry and Paul Ramirez, along with Dale Pierson, Cal Jones, Trini Gamez, and Marilyn Culpepper. Those six persons are seeking one of two HISD seats available, while Paul Mason is unopposed to fill out the unexpired term of former trustee Bobby Greigo.

Hospital board candidates include incumbents Dr. Gerald Payne and Eddie Reinauer, Jr., along with challengers Dr. Charles Allison and Judy Neumayer. Three openings exist in the hospital board election.

In the city races Wes Fisher is unopposed for Mayor, while Melvin Jayroe is also unopposed for the Place 1 city commission seat. Incumbent Ed Coplen faces challenger Lynn Jones for the Place 2 commission position.

Police arrest money-changer

Hereford police made an arrest and have another pending after two men pulled a money-changing scheme on a third man. The trick involved a staged argument and reconciliation, while one man asked the innocent party to hold some money. When the two men left, the third man found some of his money missing and the handkerchief supposedly containing the money was full of newspaper.

On Monday's blotter police:

—Filed a report on $400 of tires and wheels stolen from the back of a pickup parked in the 400 block of Avenue G.

—Checked a residence at 452 Avenue F where a door was broken.

—Went to 307 Bradley for a complaint about a knocked out windshield.

—Checked a civil dispute between a landlord and a tenant.

—Investigated a city accident, resulting in the arrest of a person for driving while intoxicated.

During the weekend, police arrested a shoplifter at Thriftway, Fifth and Main, and the subject was found to be in possession of a controlled substance.

A man lost $4,800 in tools and a toolbox while his pickup was parked at a local church.

A former boyfriend went to his ex-girl's home and knocked out the windshield of her car, then went to her sister's house and did the same to her vehicle.

Police also had three small theft reports, a criminal mischief call, and a domestic case.

Anti-White PUC measure set for senate vote April 6

AUSTIN (AP) — A compromise bill that would keep the Public Utility Commission a three-member appointed body has been approved by the Senate State Affairs Committee and set for Senate debate April 6.

The 13-0 vote Monday was in opposition to Gov. Mark White's frequent demands for an elected PUC.

White has said he will personally lobby with senators and representatives before the measure is debated and may take his campaign to the public via radio and television.

The compromise bill, which makes numerous changes in PUC operations, was approved after 10 days of negotiations among legislators, consumer representatives and

Opposes federal jail standards

County passes pair of resolutions Monday

BY BOB NIGH MANAGING EDITOR

Deaf Smith County officials passed a couple of resolutions Monday and took a stand on a proposed constitutional amendment when the commissioners' court met in regular session at the courthouse.

The county fathers passed a resolution okaying the participation of the city of Follett in the Panhandle Regional Housing Finance Corporation, and approved another resolution backing intervention by the Texas Association of Counties (TAC) concerning federal standards being imposed upon Texas jails.

The second measure approved support of the TAC action in the form of $500 to help pay for the legal battle to be taken up by that association. The county fathers felt that a move to have federal jail standards binding on county jails is not in the best interest of local governments.

The court went on record opposing HJR 91, which would amend the constitution to provide for one justice of the peace and one constable in all Texas counties with less than 30,000 population.

The Deaf Smith County officials felt that the present system of allowing each county governmental body to set up those districts was better than the proposed change, and their action supported a resolution drawn up recently by the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners' Association opposing the measure.

In other action Monday the court heard a presentation concerning optional insurance coverage for county employees. The court approved the presentation of plans offered by the American Family Life Assurance Company to county employees, provided the presentations were done by county time. The court also heard a presentation from Lien Services representative Ray Robl. Robl proposed his firm's "bacteria control" service in the courthouse's restrooms at an annual cost of $4,438. The commissioners agreed to consider the expense when they begin preparing the county's 1983-84 budget over the next few months.

The court received an early invitation to ride in the Town & Country Jubilee parade, which will be held Aug. 13 by Jubilee co-chairman Sallie Strain. Mrs. Strain also said that preliminary plans call for this year's county fair to be held in the community center instead of the bull barn as in the past in order to have that activity located closer to other jubilee events, which are concentrated in the Dameron Park and community center area.

The court was spared another round of discussion on the use of the Bull Barn when Margaret Formby, representing the Hall of Fame Rodeo Association, was unable to make the meeting due to an out-of-town commitment. Mrs. Formby was scheduled to make a request regarding the use of the Bull Barn for a dance by her organization in August.

A special meeting has been called by the Hereford Independent School District board to consider two items. Business will begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the administration building.

The board will conduct a hearing for several expelled students wishing to return to school and call for bids for razing of a house on the corner of Union and Whiteface.

The house lot will be used for parking space.

Sarpalius named to committees

AUSTIN — State Senator Bill Sarpalius, District 31, has been appointed to key posts within both the National Conference of State Legislatures and the Southern Legislative Conference for 1983-84. The appointments were made by Lt. Governor Bill Hobby.

Sarpalius will serve on the Agriculture, Food Policy and Nutrition Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures. This committee has jurisdiction over export of agricultural products, farm credit, Farmers Home Administration, farm prices, costs and price supports, federal and state meat inspections, foreign ownership of farm land, insect infestations and animal disease, rural development and the farm economy, rural transportation and soil and water conservation programs.

In addition, Sarpalius has been appointed as a member of the Agriculture and Rural Development Committee and the Southern Growth Policies Board of the Southern Legislative Conference. Sarpalius will be working as a liaison for Congressional Districts 13 and 19. It will provide a quick response mechanism for state and federal issues of concern to Texas.

"I am very pleased with the appointments," Sarpalius said. "It provides us with a great opportunity to address the most pressing state and federal policies which need our attention. I look forward to serving on the committees and working on the issues that will affect all of us."

Insanity would be tougher to prove

AUSTIN (AP) — A criminal defendant would have to prove he was "severely" mentally ill and did not know his actions were wrong before a jury could acquit him on insanity under a bill approved by the Senate on Monday.

Currently, a defendant can try to prove either that he did not know his actions were wrong or that he was incapable of conforming his behavior to the law in question, a difference that led defense lawyers to oppose Sen. Ray Farabee's proposal.

Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, acknowledged that John Hinckley's attempted assassination of President Reagan "certainly heightened" interest in an insanity bill.

Hinckley was found not guilty by reason of insanity in the shooting of the president.

"Your bill would make it more difficult to prove insanity," said Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso.

"That's right," replied Farabee. The Senate adopted an amendment with Farabee's approval that would prohibit telling a juror what the consequences would be if a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" was returned.

The Senate sent Farabee's bill to the House on voice vote in apparent preference over another measure that would have abolished the insanity plea in criminal cases.

Farabee's bill also would allow judges to keep up with defendants found not guilty because of insanity.

Forced to sign confessions

Couple spends 148 days in Cuban prison

HOUSTON (AP) — An airplane crash and 148 days in Cuban prisons interrupted their courtship and ruined plans for a December wedding, but Gina Strickland and Berni Hofstadter were free today and planning a wedding.

Miss Strickland, 22, and Hofstadter, 29, both of Brownsville, arrived by private jet at a Houston airport Monday afternoon after a four-hour flight from Cuba. They were released to U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Houston, after the congressman met with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro over the weekend.

"I love you, America!" shouted Miss Strickland after she and Hofstadter stepped onto U.S. soil. They both fell to the runway to kiss the concrete and were immediately enveloped by more than a dozen relatives.

"This is the happiest day of my life," shouted Hofstadter.

The couple was arrested after their small plane crashed in Cuba on Nov. 12 during a flight from Grand Cayman to Miami. They were forced to sign confessions of drug trafficking and spent 43 days in solitary confinement, they said.

Cuban officials repeatedly promised their release, said Hofstadter.

"If you've been in Cuba you would understand that you can't believe anything until you see it happen. It's a land of manana (tomorrow)," he said. "They always said 'tomorrow, tomorrow, tomorrow' and we saw 148 tomorrows."

Asked about the couple's immediate plans, Hofstadter said: "Get married and raise a family and live happily ever after."

They couple, who plan to wed next month, said they would have been married last December, but instead spent most of that month in solitary confinement in Cuba. The sweethearts were separated throughout their imprisonment for all but a few minutes.

"The only time we saw each other was on her birthday, Dec. 7, and that was only for 15 minutes," said Hofstadter.

Leland, who helped in the 1979 release of American prisoners and again last year, said the Cubans were "forthright and cooperative with us" in arranging the release of the couple.

The congressman said he and his party "were treated with courtesy and dealt with in a spirit of extreme cooperation."

Leland said he met with Castro for about two hours and also discussed the release of another Texan, Neal Nichols, 29, of El Paso. Nichols was a passenger in a small plane that crashed in Cuba 26 months ago and the congressman said he has been sentenced to six years in prison. Leland said he is "convinced" Castro will release Nichols soon.

The congressman said he and his staff are "digging down" to pay most of the $5,000 cost of fuel and pilots' fees it took to affect the release. He said the use of the airplane to return Miss Strickland and Hofstadter was donated.

Hofstadter said Cuban authorities gave him and Miss Strickland a choice of confessing to one of two crimes — one for drug trafficking and one saying they were working for the Central Intelligence Agency. The CIA confession carried a sentence of "20 to 30 years," he said, and the drug charge only "four or five days."

They signed the drug confessions, but Hofstadter said he noted beside his signature that it was "under duress."

Paul Harvey News

Headlines can scare you to death

Weather forecasters err on the side of pessimism, purposely.

They'd rather you be pleasantly surprised by tomorrow's sunshine than that you fly off or drive off into danger weather.

Maybe that makes sense but it also dilutes and eventually can destroy the credibility of weather forecasting.

And for you to be constantly over-warned needlessly sustains anxiety and stress and these may be more deleterious to more people than tomorrow's weather, whatever it is.

To often we tend to worry you about the wrong things.

Love Canal: In 1980 the news media emphasized, if it did exaggerate, EPA warnings that toxic chemicals were seeping into the basements of houses near Love Canal.

We drove 700 families from their homes—needlessly.

Now we learn that the EPA report showing a chromosome breakdown among that area's residents was completely false, completely bogus.

Now a panel of distinguished physicians headed by the chancellor of Sloan-Kettering reports "no evidence past or present of any public health problem" at Love Canal.

But you can't unring a bell.

It can be argued that your safety must get the benefit of any doubt and surely bureaucratic heads would roll if some real danger went unmentioned.

But while the bureaucrats are thus covering themselves, mass media focus may incite hysteria.

Three Mile Island was mostly a media event, much ado about almost nothing.

Our Skylab watch altered the world for weeks; false alarm.

With warnings about a "swine flue epidemic" we tried to spoil your bicentennial year. That turned out to be three cases nationwide.

Now our EPA is finding and our media are dramatizing a potential health menace from dioxin in Missouri.

Residents have already fled one location and are fleeing others where tests reveal dioxin contamination as much as "one hundred times the known safe level."

Again, evacuation may be a proper precaution.

But TV coverage of men in moon-suits can inflame what should be a rational concern for environmentalism.

Indeed, in a future day of increased enlightenment we might be embarrassed by our present handling of the "herpes" scare.

I am beginning to see updated studies of Herpes Simplex affirming that it is not a venereal disease, not necessarily transmitted sexually. Yet, meanwhile, our government's CDC and our media mistreatment of the subject are wrecking a lot of marriages.

And that's not all. To the degree that we unnecessarily create anxiety and fear we decrease resistance to, and increase susceptibility to, a wide spectrum of diseases.

We can scare people to death.

Indeed, after Gulf Coast Hurricane Allen the only fatality was a man who had been "scared to death by the warnings."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I believe the Chamber of Commerce's old excuse of not having enough information to make a decision about the establishment of a nuclear waste dump in Deaf Smith County is about worn out.

The information is as close as the library, if the so-called leaders of the community would take a half-hour to look at the documents. There is no reason the Chamber of Commerce and Hereford City Commission cannot make a decision on something that could affect Texas and several other states who get water from the Ogallala Aquifer.

It has been estimated the waste will be radioactive for 250,000 years. A leader is someone that leads, not someone who straddles the fence. If they straddle the fence long enough, they are apt to run into a barb or encounter a post.

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners made a decipossibly think there would not be some kind of accident in a period of 250,000 years. The DOE tried a waste dump in Lyons, Kan., and this could not even keep it from leaking while it was being built.

This is an appropriate year for a "snow job" but this is ridiculous, besides being an insult to every Texan's intelligence. It is time for every citizen of Deaf Smith County to stand up and be counted. I have always thought of our county as a leader, not a lag-behind follower.

Get behind this cause and stop the dump for your children and their children's children. Let's leave them a green, productive land with pure water, not some barren, radioactive wasteland with contaminated water and land that will not support life for thousands of years.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Fowler

Dear Editor,

The Dawn Lion's Club would like to congratulate the commissioners of Deaf Smith County for adopting the resolution resisting Deaf Smith County being used for one of the High Level Nuclear Waste Repositories.

We are quick to condemn when things go wrong & too slow to show our appreciation when we feel our county officials have acted wisely. Please accept our "Thanks" for the action you took last week.

Sincerely,
Glenn Barbee, Sec.

Committee approves Hollowell plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Bill Hollowell says the Russians are "rattling their sabers and missiles" and it's time the Texas Legislature did something to prepare for a nuclear attack.

Hollowell, D-Grand Saline, won House committee approval Monday for his bill lining up successors for lawmakers killed in a foreign attack.

"If Houston was destroyed, you'd lose 26 members of the House and five state senators," Hollowell told the House Committee on State Affairs.

Committee members voted 14-0 to recommend approval of the Hollowell plan, under which retired lawmakers would be called on to replace legislators killed in an attack.

"We've heard the Russians rattling their sabers and missiles," Hollowell said. "We have to deal with reality."

The East Texas lawmaker wants each representative and senator to prepare a list of ex-legislators. The people on those lists would be looked on to replace nuclear attack victims.

Hofstadter said they were interrogated, presented the confessions and then left in solitary confinement. Later, they were put into a prison with other Americans.

Asked what they did in prison, Miss Strickland said: "I prayed a lot and cried a lot and took a lot of pills. They gave us tranquilizers."

Hofstadter, who looked fit, said he lost 15 pounds and spent much of his time in prison exercising, because "there wasn't anything else to do."

They were put into a hospital immediately before their release, they said. Hofstadter said he was suffering from vitamin deficiencies and Miss Strickland said she was given an medicine intravenously for "headaches."

Both adamantly denied they were smuggling drugs.

Hofstadter said he and Miss Strickland had flown from Brownsville to Jamaica on a business and pleasure trip. He said they started back from Jamaica, made a stop in Grand Cayman and were trying to reach Miami when their rented airplane developed engine problems.

"We landed late at night — about 9:30 — in a sugar cane field," said Hofstadter. They grabbed their luggage and left the scene, he said, and hid for four or five hours after seeing people with weapons.

Later, he said, they found a road and tried to hitch a ride. When they came to a sign, he struck his lighter and realized the sign was in Spanish.

"It was only then that we knew we were in Cuba," said Hofstadter. They turned themselves over to

Mrs. Wynne testified Monday that she and Mathis had been having an affair intermittently since 1969, and said they were unaware that her husband had seen them.

Wynne said he had seen Mathis following his wife on several occasions and suspected they were having an affair.

He tried to confirm the suspicion Oct. 14, told his family he was going to Houston for a convention, drove to the Amarillo airport, rented a car and unsuccessfully tried to follow his wife after work, he said.

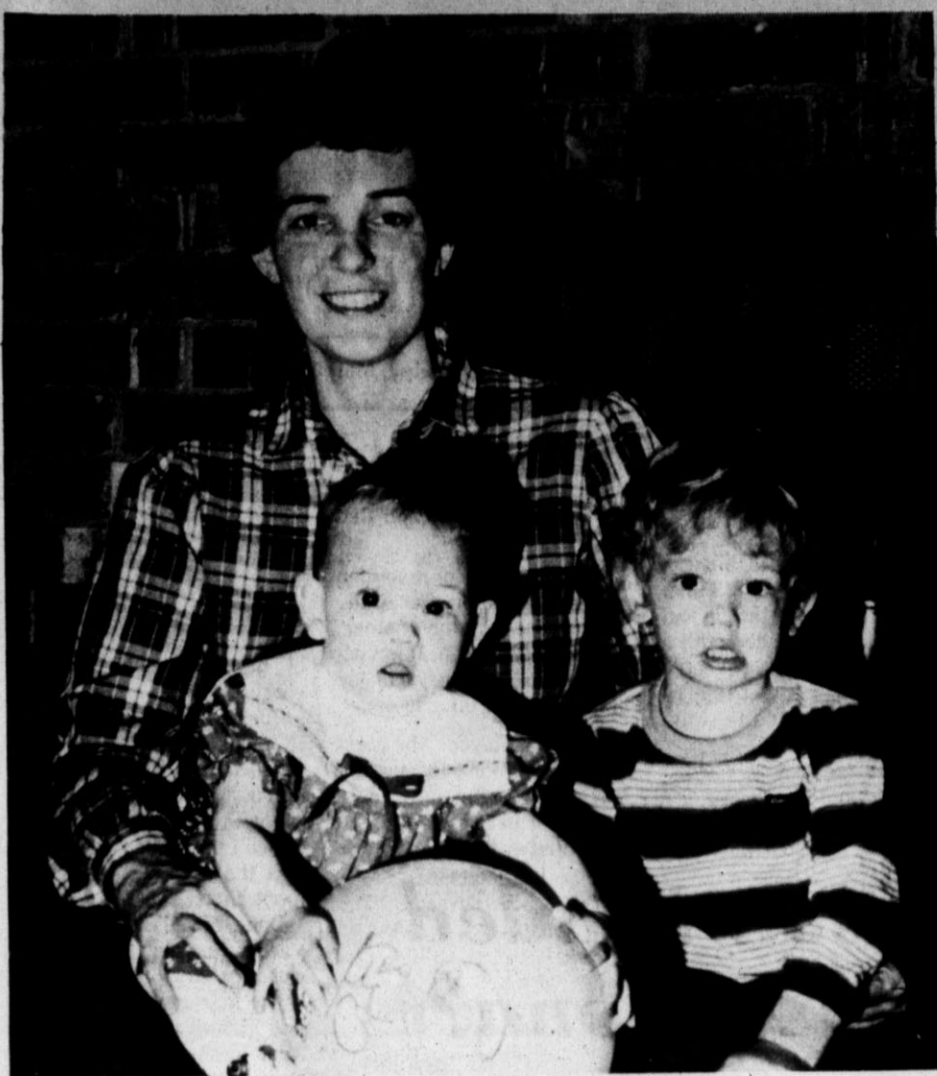

The next day, he followed her to a hospital parking lot where he said she met Mathis, got into his truck and drove with him to a road on land he owned outside the city. Wynne said he followed them in the rented car, parked near the entrance of the land, and walked to within 25 feet of Mathis' truck.

Businesses, industries impress new resident

By SANDY PANKEY

When homemakers are asked what their hobbies are, many respond with typical replies such as club work, painting, etc.

Some get right down to the nitty-gritty and tell it like it is, as did Sara Cook, wife of Dr. Ronald L. Cook, new First Baptist Church pastor.

"I'm involved in raising my children and cleaning house," laughed Sara. "But when time allows, I enjoy doing counted cross-stitch, sewing and I love English smocking."

"I first learned to smock while living in Decatur, Ga., a suburb of Atlanta," explained Sara. "I was pregnant with Claire at the time. I was so certain that I was going to have a daughter, that I made her a coming home dress, hat and bonnet. I was very optimistic or very silly one."

The Cooks moved to Hereford in February, and reside at 108 Oak. Sara saw the town in December for the first time and recalls that it was fairly dusty.

Her first impression of Hereford was very positive. "I was amazed at the many businesses and industries a town of this size had," explained Sara. "I have a Bernina sewing machine and was wondering where I would have to go to have it serviced and was pleasantly surprised that there was a Bernina Sewing Center here."

A 4-H leader is many things—an artist making a float for the Fourth of July, a doctor prescribing for an underfed calf, a counselor at camp, a lawyer filling out reports, and a shoulder to cry on when that dress just won't fit.

Nobody else is so early to rise and so late to get home at night. Nobody else has so much fun with so many boys and girls.

We sometimes forget them, but we can't do without them. They receive no salary, but we never can repay them.

They are angels in aprons, saints in straw hats. Their only reward is the love of the kids and the respect of the community. But when they look around them at the skills they've taught, and the youth they've built, there's an inner voice from somewhere that says, "Well done."

Sara was reared in Mineola which she says has only one resident less than Friona. After her father's retirement as a car salesman, her parents moved to Canton, 60 miles east of Dallas. She has a brother who resides in Dallas.

Although Sara and her husband both attended Baylor University in Waco, she didn't meet him until they were both in seminary in Louisville, Ky. They will celebrate their eighth wedding anniversary in August.

She received her degree in elementary education while at Baylor and later received her Master of Religious Education degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1974.

Sara has done work on her Master of Education degree and was Children's Minister at the Seventh and James Baptist Church in Waco while in college there.

She has also taught second and third grade students for five years at Louisville. "I was a teacher long enough to get Ron through school at seminary," explained Sara.

Dr. Cook is a native of Dumas and grew up in Eunice, N.M., where his father was a teacher and football coach. He later moved with his family to Anaheim, Calif.

He graduated from Baylor in 1971 and received his Master of Divinity Degree in 1975 from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. His doctoral work was done at the same school where he was presented with his PhD in 1980.

He also did graduate study at Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Cooks have two children, Claire, who will be a year old in April, and Graham, who will turn three in May.

Ann Landers

17-year-old not ready

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In regard to "Ellen in Colorado," who kept getting used sexually by every guy she went with only to be dropped, I have a different kind of story.

I am 17 years old, a high school senior. I am not as handsome as your son-in-law, Ken Howard, but I'm no slouch. I'm good at sports, make A's and B's and have plenty of friends. The problem: I have never tried to hit on a girl because I don't feel I am ready for sex, but plenty of girls have tried to hit on me. When I tell them I am not interested, they drop me.

Why can't girls enjoy a "clothes-on" friendship, or at least wait until they are asked?—No Saint, Just Average In L.A.

DEAR L.A.: It is a privilege and a pleasure to print your letter. Thanks for letting us know you exist.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Here is the other side of the story recently published in your column from "Weary Hairdresser, USA." Please do every customer a favor and print this letter. Thank you very much.

Dear Hairdresser: It is now 15 minutes past my scheduled appointment and I am sitting here in your shop waiting. You have just removed the curlers from the hair of the appointment before me, so I know it will be several more minutes before you get to me.

I realize your time is valuable, but so is mine. I had to leave work early to get here and will have to make up the time I miss. If I walk out now you will be angry and it may be two weeks before I can get another appointment. Had I known you were going to be so late, I could have worked longer or run some errands. But I will be polite and remain silent and you will probably expect a tip even though you were 30 minutes late.

Please give me a break. I like the way you do my hair, but it is very frustrating to have to wait when there is so much I could be doing.—Your Weary Customer In Chattanooga.

DEAR WEARY: At least 500 women have written with similar complaints. Here's a suggestion: Your hairdresser should have your phone number. When he is running late, he should let you know. This won't always work, but when it does it will help take the edge off the situation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem occurred six months ago, but I couldn't bring myself to seek help until now. The wonderful girl I went with for three years died suddenly. We were engaged.

The wedding date was set.

A few days after the funeral my sweetheart's mother came over and brought her daughter's engagement ring and several nice pieces of jewelry I had given her. I put the jewelry in a drawer under my shirts. I cannot bear to look at it. I could never give it to anyone else. I would feel uncomfortable selling it. Please tell me what to do. Whenever I take a shirt out of the drawer I sense my beloved's presence. Please help me, as you have helped so many others.—Midwest Heartache

DEAR M.H.: Take the jewelry to a reputable jeweler. Sell it and donate the money to a charitable cause in the name of the girl you loved.

Daughter of former AFS student to visit

The daughter of a former American Field Service exchange student to Hereford from Italy will be in town Wednesday through Saturday visiting in the home of Mrs. J.J. Durham.

Paola Asselle, who is currently an exchange student with AFS in Smithville, Mo. is the daughter of Silvana Felicia Asselle, who lived

Mrs. Asselle and her husband and two children including Paola, and her parents visited in Hereford five and a half years ago and were guests in Mrs. Durham's home.

Mrs. Durham will host a coffee at 10 a.m. Saturday for Paola. Friends and former classmates of her mother are invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Paetzold, now of Snyder, will be in Hereford as will their daughter, Betty Northrup of Los Alamos, N.M.

WTSU kicks off spring blood drive this week

West Texas State University students, faculty and staff members will attempt to break a 1981 record of 818 pints during their annual spring blood drive, which began Monday.

WTSU is teaming up with Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers in sponsoring the drive. Last fall, Coffee Memorial Blood Center in Amarillo collected 1275 pints from WTSU students, faculty and staff, which surpassed a previous record of 971 pints collected in the fall of 1981, said Cindy Pearce, director of residential living.

This spring, campus organizations will compete for a $100 prize. The winner will be determined by the total number of pints donated, Pearce said.

Organizations may recruit anyone to donate for them, and donors may give for a residence hall and an organization. Last spring the WTSU football team won.

WTSU is the single largest supplier of blood in the Texas Panhandle, supplying hospitals with 10 percent of the blood needed. Since the drive began in 1978, WTSU students, faculty, and staff have given more than 8000 pints.

Blood donors will receive a year's worth of blood insurance, a 30-ounce tumbler with soft drink, and every 50th donor will receive a coupon for a free hamburger, fries and soft drink at Wendy's in Canyon or Amarillo.

Semifinals set Saturday

NCAA climax near

BY LES GILES
Sports Editor

And the 'dream' still lives on.

It lives on for Houston, again trying to become the first Southwest Conference team in history to capture the national collegiate basketball championship.

It lives on for Louisville, in the final four for the third time in four years, and going after its second national title during that span.

And, it lives for North Carolina State, a group designated this year's "Team of Destiny" and Cinderella Georgia, not only making its Final Four appearance, but in the NCAA tournament for the first time ever.

The national semifinals are set for Saturday in Albuquerque. Houston and Louisville will meet in one game ... N.C. State and Georgia in the other.

The two winners will play for the big prize Monday. Of the four, only North Carolina State was not seeded by the NCAA selection committee.

Two of the four - Houston and Louisville - were the top seeds in their regions. Georgia, although seeded, was not expected to make it, with the likes of defending national champion North Carolina and top-seeded St. John's in the East region.

The Bulldogs got there, though, with 2, 3 and 5-point victories. They beat Virginia Commonwealth, 56-54, on a last-second shot; nipped St. John's 70-67 and disposed of North Carolina, 82-77.

North Carolina State didn't have it easy, either. The Wolfpack had to play four games. They opened with a 69-67 win over Pepperdine, before edging UNLV, 71-70. Then came a breather against Utah, winning by a 76-56 margin, before nipping top-seed Virginia, 63-62.

Houston, the nation's top-ranked team since UNLV lost late in the regular season, beat Maryland by 10 points (60-50); Memphis State by seven (70-63) and Villanova by 18 (89-71) to make the trip to Albuquerque.

Louisville got there by beating Tennessee (70-57), Arkansas (65-63 on a tip-in at the buzzer) and Kentucky (80-68 in overtime, although the final outcome was much closer than the score might indicate).

Of the 44 games played thus far in this year's NCAA tournament, 11 were decided by one or two points; 10 were 3 to 5-point games; 11 were of the 6 to 10-point range and 12 were settled by 11 points, or more.

When the tournament began, my choices to reach Albuquerque were Villanova, Louisville, UCLA and North Carolina.

Since the Cardinals are the only one to get there, I'll stick with them Saturday. By all standards, the Houston-Louisville winner should be favored to win it all.

But, N.C. State and Georgia have it going. That game could be a classic.

If Houston goes on to win it all, it'll be the second straight year the top-rated team in the AP poll at the end of the regular season went on to capture the big prize.

And, the accolades keep coming for Dimmitt's Kevin Cleveland.

The 5-11 guard, a first-team all-state selection last year and expected to be named again this year, was picked the player of the year on the Globe-News Super Boys' Basketball Team this past weekend.

And, in the near future he is expected to be named the outstanding basketball player in the state by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, according to his dad Ken, who told a crowd last week in Dimmitt that honored this year's state champions.

If you missed last night's first installment of the WTBS feature "It's A Long Way to October", you can catch part two tonight, beginning at 7:05 p.m.

It tells the story of the 1982 Atlanta Braves, who set a major league record by winning their first 13 games of the season, then going on to win the NL West on the final day of the season.

The four-hour presentation is one of the best-ever about a baseball season, and for those who enjoy the game it shouldn't be missed.

Ski buffs, wishing to partake in New Mexico, will have to do so quickly.

In fact, this will be the final weekend of skiing this season at three New Mexico areas - Santa Fe, Sierra Blanca and Taos Ski Valley. They'll close for the season at 4 p.m. Sunday.

One final ski area (Sandia Peak, located just outside Albuquerque) will close for the season April 17 at 4 p.m. Every other New Mexico ski area is already closed.

Sutton claims TPC title

SPORTS

Page 4-The Hereford Brand-Tuesday, March 29, 1983

POINTE VEDRA, Fla. (AP) — Hal Sutton knew there was potential disaster lurking on every shot with gusty, shifting winds blowing over the controversy-ridden Players' Club course.

"I was just fortunate I was able to steer clear of most of the trouble," Sutton said after his closing 69 had provided him with a one-stroke victory Monday in the day-late wind-up of the Tournament Players Championship.

The 24-year-old tour sophomore's victory in this prestigious event established him as one of the game's most promising young stars.

But the home course for the PGA Tour and the permanent site for the annual championship of the touring pros had a certain nightmare quality for many of the game's leading lights.

Even before they fell victim to the varied frustrations and tribulations, woes and patience-shattering bad bounces of the final round, several of them signed and presented to Commissioner Deane Beman a formal petition asking that changes be made in the course.

The Jacksonville Journal said supporters of the petition include Tom Watson, Jack Nicklaus, Hale Irwin, Johnny Miller, Tom Weiskopf, Ben Crenshaw and Craig Stadler. Generally, the complaints center around severe rolls, slopes and undulations on and around the greens.

Sutton was one of very few to escape the course without major disaster. He did not have a 3-putt and did not hit a ball in the water throughout the week. He finished with a 5-under-par 283 and collected the biggest prize yet offered on the American tour, $126,000.

It was secured only when John Cook, in a tie for the lead, hit his tee shot in the water on the 18th hole and made double bogey.

Ed Fiori, leading alone on the 17th tee, finished double bogey-double bogey and tied for eighth.

Crenshaw, one of nine men who either led or shared the lead at one time or another, had a final-round 75. It included four double bogeys — one of them on a 4-putt.

Watson played the last three holes four over par. He had a 72-291. Nicklaus never really got in contention, had to birdie two of the last three holes for 74-291.

Masters champ Craig Stadler's 84 included a nine on the ninth hole.

Journeyman Bob Eastwood came on to take second with a no-bogey 69 and a 284 total. The $75,000 prize for second was, by far, the biggest check of his non-winning 12-year career.

Cook's double bogey on the 18th, his second of the day, finished off a 75 and dropped him back into a tie for third at 285 with John Mahaffey and Bruce Lietzke. Mahaffey's 67 was the best of the tournament. Lietzke shot 71.

Doug Tewell, with a 70, and Vance Heafner, with a 74, were next at 286.

The tournament's schedule was thrown a day late when rains washed out Thursday's play.

Olson headed for Arizona?

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Lute Olson, who built a highly successful program in Iowa, was expected to be handed the challenge of reviving the University of Arizona's basketball fortunes.

A press conference at which Olson's appointment would be announced was anticipated today, the Associated Press has learned.

Olson met with Arizona officials during the weekend and met with his players in Iowa City Monday night to inform them of his decision.

A Tucson television station reported Monday night that a "high university official" had confirmed that Olson had been offered the job and that he had accepted the offer.

"I can't confirm or deny anything," Orville "Butch" Henry, Arizona's sports information director, said Monday night when asked by The AP whether Olson had been offerred the job. But Henry confirmed that Arizona officials received permission from Iowa Athletic Director Bump Elliott to talk to Olson last Thursday and Arizona's athletic director, Cedric Dempsey, flew to Kansas City to talk to the Iowa coach.

The Hawkeyes, who finished 21-10, were eliminated from the NCAA tournament Friday in a 55-54 loss to Villanova in the Midwest Regional.

Eliminators win YMCA cage title

Vernon Carroll's short jumper with about eight seconds provided the heroics as the Eliminators captured the YMCA's high school basketball league title Monday night with a 30-29 win over the previously unbeaten Silver Bullets.

Carroll's bucket were his only two points in the contest, but provided his team with the slim one-point margin of victory. Brian Frederick led the winners with 14 points as the champs overcame a 22-14 halftime deficit to claim the league title.

The Silver Bullets, the class of the league all season with a perfect 8-0 record, had a balanced scoring attack led by Tim Martin's seven points. Jay Hodge added six, while Steve Beene added four.

Beene had the opportunity to ice the game for the losers with a pair of free toss tries with about 20 ticks left in the game. He missed both chances, however, setting up Carroll's last-minute heroics.

Rounding out the scoring for the winners were Melvin Kalka, five points; Keith Bridwell, four; Jeff Shelton, three; and Robert Gamboa, two.

Robbie Christie and Coby Kriegshauser added three points each to the losers' total, while James Payne, Armando Rodriguez, and Bowie Neumeayer each had two.

Gold stops Oakland

DENVER (AP) — It was a reunion of sorts, a meeting of two former Denver Broncos head coaches — the only two winning coaches in the history of that National Football League franchise — both of whom were unceremoniously fired in spite of their good deeds.

John Ralston and Red Miller are long-time friends, as you'd expect of veteran coaches who share a common experience. But there clearly was no love lost between their teams Monday night when Miller's Denver Gold beat Ralston's Oakland Invaders 22-12 in United States Football League action.

In a bitterly contested game played before 38,720 fans under rainy skies, the teams combined for 22 penalties worth 207 yards, including six personal fouls and an unsportsmanlike conduct infraction.

Oakland got the worst of it, being assessed 13 penalties for 207 yards, mostly in the first three quarters to help Denver roll to a 22-0 lead. Although Denver nearly equalled Oakland's penalty figures, the bulk of the Gold's infractions occurred in the final quarter when the victory already appeared secure.

"I just don't know why we tend to show this kind of performance penalty-wise," said Ralston.

One possible reason for the intensity on both sides was the importance of the game. In winning, the Gold sent the four-team Pacific Division into a deadlock. All four teams — Denver, Oakland, Los Angeles and Arizona — now have 2-2 records.

"It was a big game for us because we could have gone one-up," said Ralston. "Now we are all 2-2 and you can be sure nobody will dominate this division."

"This win puts us back in the race," said Miller, whose club started the year at 0-2. "I think things are coming along for us. We keep progressing each week."

Herd visits Tascosa in 3-5A baseball action today

Hereford will try to shake a three-game losing streak, and in the process escape the District 3-5A cellar today when it travels to Amarillo to take on Tascosa at 4 p.m.

The Herd fell to 0-2 in the loop baseball race Monday, losing to highly-regarded Monterey, 15-2, in a contest halted after five innings by the 10-run rule. Monday's game was a makeup of last Tuesday's clash which had been postponed because of cold and wet grounds.

Tascosa, like Hereford, is 0-2 in the district race. The Rebels were belted by Coronado, 13-4, Monday in another makeup contest. For the season, Hereford is 3-5, while Tascosa is 5-6.

Monterey lefthander Kevin Short allowed Hereford just three hits Monday, while striking out even. Both Hereford runs were unearned, coming as a result of a pair of Plainsmen errors in the fourth inning.

The winners collected 13 hits off Hereford pitchers Robert Martinez and Sammy Suqrez. Alan Hernandez and Brent Rieger combined for four doubles and five RBIs to lead the way.

Monterey scored in every inning, and finally put the game away with a seven-run outburst in the top of the fifth.

The triumph left Monterey with a 1-1 district record, and a 12-4 season mark. The Plainsmen had lost the league opener to Plainview, 7-6.

After today's game in Amarillo, the Whitefaces are scheduled to play Lubbock High on the road Thursday in a makeup game from last Friday. Then, the Herd still has regularly scheduled district games Friday at home against Coronado and Saturday in Amarillo against Caprock.

So, when the week is over, Hereford will have played five games in six days — barring further bad weather.

Wake Forest, DePaul win; advance to NIT championship

NEW YORK (AP) — The Wake Forest Demon Deacons found out a little about defense in the National Invitation Tournament — not theirs, Fresno State's.

"No Atlantic Coast Conference team played defense like this," said Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy after his team was smothered by the Bulldogs 86-62 in the NIT semifinals Monday night.

The surprisingly easy victory for Fresno State over the Deacons sent the Bulldogs into the finals of the nation's oldest post-season basketball tournament Wednesday night against DePaul, a 68-58 winner over Nebraska in Monday night's other semifinal game at Madison Square Garden.

Ron Anderson and Bernard Thompson each scored 10 points in the first half to help Fresno State pull out to a 14-point lead at intermission and the Bulldogs breezed home from there over a seemingly stunned Wake Forest team.

DePaul's victory wasn't as easy in this 46th NIT. The Blue Demons had to come back after blowing a 15-point lead and finally broke away in the last six minutes behind Tyrone Corbin's cool foul shooting and key baskets.

"Credit Nebraska with trying to force us out of our patterns," said DePaul Coach Ray Meyer. "Nebraska is better defensively than I thought. But we did what we had to do when it was necessary."

DePaul, 21-11, broke away from an early tie with 15 straight points midway through the first half to lead 23-8 before the Huskers of the Big Eight Conference stormed back to close within 31-29 behind the shooting of Claude Renfro, who scored 11 of his 13 points in the first half.

DePaul's lead at the half was 36-31, and Nebraska eventually came back to tie it at 52-52 late in the second half with a one-man performance by Dave Hoppen, who scored 11 straight points for Nebraska at one stage.

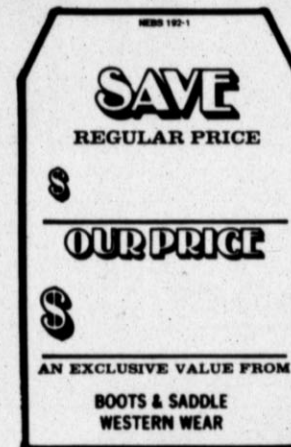

But, with DePaul leading 56-54 with 6:15 in the game, the Blue Demons used the free throw line to salt the game away.

Redmon, Thomas win at Snyder

Lisa Redmon and Bernice Thomas took home individual honors last weekend, while Hereford's girls and boys finished sixth and eighth, respectively, in high school track meets.

Miss Redmon was a double winner, in the 100 and 200 meter dashes in the Lubbock Girls' Invitational, where the Herd girls scored 42 points. Estacado won the meet with 131 points, while Dunbar was runner-up with 65.

While Miss Redmon took first in the 100 (with a time of 12.5) and the 200 (in a time of 25.8), Miss Thomas tossed the discus 108-2 to win her speciality.

Hereford's other points came from a fifth-place effort by Marla Valdez in the 1600 meters (6:09.8); a sixth-place finish by Debbie Dobbins (13.6) in the 100 and a fourth-place showing by the 1600 meter relay team (4:22.8).

Hereford's boys, meanwhile, traveled to San Angelo. They scored 19 1/4 points to tie Abilene Cooper for eighth place. Midland Lee won the meet with 142 points, while Killeen was next with 106 1/2.

Hereford points came from the following:
Erasmus Gonzalez (6th in the shot with a toss of 50-feet); Craig Jones (tied for 6th in the pol vault with a 12-0 effort); Fernando Carrasco (3rd in the 1600 with a time of 4:48.25 and 5th in the 800 with a time of 2:04.2); Ronnie Terry (4th in the 300 IH at 40.34); Alfred Ball (5th in the 300 IH with a time of 4:49.41).

Both teams again will hit the road this weekend. The girls travel to San Angelo, while the boys head North to Dumas for the North Plains Relays. Both are scheduled for Saturday.

Circus coming to Hereford Sunday

The Ford Bros. Circus, one of America's largest big-top shows, is coming to Hereford for one performance only on Sunday, April 3. The show is set for 3 p.m. Sunday at Sugarland Mall.

Cub Scout pack holds derby here

Members of Cub Scout Pack 54 held their annual pinewood derby at St. Anthony's School recently. Competition was stiff as all the cars were well built and fast. The boys competed with those in their own den and the winners then competed for best of the pack. In Den 1, first place went to Jerry Hardisty, second place to Audie Sciombato, and third to Randy Robbins. Den 2 and second and third place were won by Richard Perez and Shawn Sciombato, respectively. In Den 3, Mark Kreighauser won first place, Adam Artho took second, and T.J. Garza placed third.

Circus officials invite the public to the Mall early on circus day to watch the erection of the second largest circus big top in North America today. The brand new, mammoth big top, was custom designed especially for the 1983 circus tour, reported circus officials. The colorful canvas auditorium is made with more than 31,000 square feet of material and measures 160 feet wide by 280 feet long. It takes almost three hours, about 50 tent personnel and the circus' herd of elephants to pull the massive creation into the air. About 135 poles, ranging in length from 10 to 40 feet long, are used to support the big-top. The tent can accommodate close to 3,000 spectators. Inside, there is ample space for all the circus rings and stages, the hundreds of feet of cable and guy lines used to support the tons of rigging and apparatus, plus still affording the public an unobstructed view of the performances.

Circus Here Sunday

The Ford Bros. Circus will come to Hereford Sunday only for a 3 p.m. performance on the Sugarland Mall parking lot. Billed as having the second largest circus big tops in North America, circus officials invite the public to come early on circus day and watch the erection of the mammoth canvas auditorium.

Easter sunrise service slated

St. John's Baptist Church, 400 Mable, will hold its annual Easter sunrise service at 6 a.m. Sunday, according to the Rev. C.W. Allen, pastor. The public is invited to attend.

Murder trial set for April 11

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A 21-year-old La Feria man will be tried on murder charges April 11 in a case involving a tape recording allegedly made by one of the victims.
Paul Wolf is charged with murder in last summer's slayings of schoolteacher Leticia Castro and her fiance, construction foreman Billy Staton, both 26, of San Juan. State District Judge Darrell Hester ruled Monday that Wolf's trial for the slaying of Miss Castro will be held in Brownsville.

The case has generated much media attention because of the tape recording, found on Staton's body the day he was dragged from a Rio Grande Valley drainage canal.

Cameron County District Attorney Rey Cantu claims the tape contains "23 minutes of murder" and demonstrates in "grisly detail" the events that transpired the night Staton and Miss Castro were killed.
But Assistant District Attorney Ted Campagnolo

acknowledged Monday prosecutors must prove certain elements about the tape — including identification of the speaker in it — in order to have it presented as evidence during the trial.
Prosecutors allege Staton and Miss Castro were killed by Wolf and his wife, Sherry Wolf, July 16, and then dumped in separate Valley drainage canals, where their bodies were discovered three weeks later.

Staton, who is Mrs. Wolf's former husband, concealed a mini-cassette recorder on his body when he and Miss Castro went to the Wolf house to pick up his 2½-year-old daughter, prosecutors say.
Cantu said Staton recorded the visit on advice from his attorney to document the animosity demonstrated by the Wolfs over the child custody arrangements.

Mrs. Wolf, 21, also has been charged with the murders of Miss Castro and Staton. She will be tried later for Miss Castro's death, then she and Wolf will be tried together for the death of Staton.
The first trial has been delayed several times because of sickness and errors by the district attorney's office in previous indictments against the Wolfs.

Because of the errors in previous indictments, Wolf pleaded innocent again Monday to the charges against him, but Mardis also filed a notice of intent to present an insanity defense.

Hester ordered Wolf to undergo another examination by a court-appointed psychiatrist before the trial.
Campagnolo said the eight-count indictment lists several methods by which Miss Castro could have died, including a blast to the head with a shotgun and a blow by a blunt instrument, because her body was badly decomposed when it was pulled from the canal.

Prosecutors claim Staton was attacked and bludgeoned while inside the Wolf house and that Miss Castro, who had waited in the car outside, was killed during the melee.
Glenn Henderson, who prosecutors allege was at the Wolf house the night of the slayings, has pleaded guilty to Miss Castro's murder. He is serving a life sentence and will testify at the Wolf trial, Campagnolo said.

Dying Lukemia victim searching for 'Mrs. X'

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A dying leukemia victim, rejected by the Iowa Supreme Court in his plea to reach a potential bone marrow donor, can only hope that someone will tell the California woman about his plight, his lawyer says.

"This is the end of the legal line. The practical effect is that it's a death sentence," said Tom Riley, attorney for William Head. The leukemia victim has been told by doctors he has only six months to live.

state's highest court reversed that ruling by an 8-0 vote Monday.
"A potential donor has a valuable right to privacy," the high court said.
"We have no legal recourse," said Riley. Head was "disappointed, but he's a gutsy guy and he's not going to let it get him down," Riley said. "This doesn't help things."

A lower court had ordered University Hospitals in Iowa City to notify the woman, known only as "Mrs. X," that she was a possible donor match for Head, 27. But the Head, from Loranger, La., was released March 23 from a Houston clinic where he was being treated for leukemia, a clinic spokeswoman said. Telephone calls to Head's home Monday night were not answered.

Head had contacted the tissue-typing registry at University Hospitals and was told by a staffer, in a breach of hospital policy, that "Mrs. X" was a potential donor.

Hospital officials had contacted her in general terms about the transplant program, but Head wanted them to notify her of his condition and ask her again to be a donor.
The hospital resisted, claiming that to contact the woman again would be coercive and might scare future donors away from transplant programs.

A lower court ordered the hospital to send the woman another letter, but the Supreme Court reversed that order, saying hospital records are confidential and Head's plight doesn't change that fact.
Riley said he would not appeal the decision and that the only hope remaining for Head is that someone would recognize "Mrs. X."

"There's always a possibility that someone will identify 'Mrs. X' and call her attention to this problem," he said.
In its ruling Monday, the Iowa Supreme Court said: "A valuable part of the right of privacy is the right to avoid publicity concerning private facts. This right can be as important to a potential donor as to a person in ill health."

Head had based his effort on the state's open records law, but the high court said the law was designed to make sure government operates in the open, not to force the disclosure of hospital records.
The court also said that disclosing the woman's name could have a "possible chilling effect of disclosure upon medical research."

Easter cake decorated for Center

Members of Sugar Works Cake Decorating Club made candy figurines to decorate an Easter cake when they met recently in the home of Carol Odom. The finished cake will be given to the Satellite Center before Easter.

The chocolate cake, made by Paula Gamez, was decorated to look like a log

Texans involved in world home economics

COLLEGE STATION — Home economists have an important leadership role to play in meeting the needs of families throughout the world," says Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Home economists in 83 countries are observing a "World Home Economics Day" this week to focus attention on international concerns, reports Granovsky. The event is sponsored by the International Federation for Home Economics.

Granovsky is one of two American members on the federation's executive committee. She is the fifth American to sit on the executive committee in the 75-year history of the organization.

In addition to Granovsky, Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, assistant director for home economics of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is active in international home economics. Dr. Kitching serves as a liaison for the 33,000-member American Home Economics Association to the international federation.

The international federation seeks to promote the development of home economics in all countries through formal and informal education related to personal, family and communal living.

"The federation is the only international organization that confronts the needs of families with a preventative education program rather than a crisis orientation," adds Granovsky.

Since the organization has consultative status with United Nations agencies, it is represented at world conferences dealing with family life, including those on aging, child health and the status of women.

Granovsky also chairs the federation's committee on women and families in developing countries.

Extension education principles of demonstration teaching and training volunteer leaders to instruct others are especially useful in developing countries, says Granovsky.

"Through the federation," she states, "home economists have the opportunity to help less fortunate families in developing countries who daily fight hunger and ill-health with inadequate resources."

with green grass icing on top. Members made figurines of bunnies, chicks, ducks and eggs as well as hollow chocolate rabbits and eggs and placed them on the "grass." Small flowers, including blue forget-me-nots and pink apple blossoms, were scattered among the figures.

The meeting was called to order by Ms. Odom, president, and a poem entitled "Think Right" was read by Clara Trowbridge. The club voted to join the Friends of the Library.

Jodi Stone, Anita Diaz, and Rachel and Sarah Goldsmith were welcomed as visitors. Others attending were Deborah Goldsmith, Barbara Edwards, Juanita Diaz, and Maya Parikh.

UMW president sits and waits for coal job

EXETER, Va. (AP) — He's turned the land with the help of a pony named Cindy and cleared a small garden. But there's not much else to do so Sam Church Jr., just sits at home, waits for a job and plans a comeback in local union politics.

The former president of the United Mine Workers is out of work and waiting for an opening at the Westmoreland Coal Co.

"It's nice up here, quiet, nobody bothers me," Church said recently as he sat in his living room. His son, Nathaniel, who will be 2 in May and is nicknamed "Bink," sat in his father's lap and eyed Church's pouch of chewing tobacco.

On the paneled walls are photographs of Church and President Reagan, former President Carter, Democratic presidential hopeful Walter Mondale, House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., and Coretta King.

Church, 46, and his wife Patti, 27, moved back to Wise County after Church lost to Rich Trumka in the Nov. 9 election for president of the 160,000-member miners' union.

The former vice president of the UMW, Church became president in 1979 when Arnold Miller retired. His term expired last year, one year after Church led the union through a stormy 72-day strike.

Church's house sits in a hollow near the mining village of Exeter. A creek runs a few yards behind the house, and a pet goat wanders the yard.

Church bought the goat as a joke, his wife said, because he told people he would become a goat farmer after losing the election.

He's home again in a place where he knows the people and their work and has the support of friends. He says he is living on his savings and trying to sell his house in northern Virginia.

In the days after his defeat by Trumka, Church reviewed his options and decided to come home. He said he turned down an offer from Kentucky Gov. John Y. Brown to become the state's labor commissioner and never considered working for a coal company as some other union officials did.

He has applied for his old job as a mine electrician at Westmoreland, one of the few coal companies in southwest Virginia still working a regular week. He said he'll probably earn about $35,000 a year if he gets the job back.

Cancer Society to conduct health survey during drive

At a recent board meeting of the Deaf Smith Unit of the American Cancer Society it was announced that a special health survey will be conducted in Deaf Smith County this April as part of the society's local educational and fund-raising crusade.

The survey is a main feature of this year's educational crusade pamphlet to be distributed by local ACS volunteers door-to-door.

"In addition to a personal self-test one can take to determine his or her own risks in getting certain types of cancer, along with safeguards to keep risks low, the pamphlet includes this rather innovative survey," said Mrs. Kee Ruland, education chairman for the ACS unit.

According to Mrs. Ruland, the survey is a detachable, confidential questionnaire related to individual health awareness and action that takes about five minutes to complete. It is then to be mailed back to the ACS.

"The results of this survey, which I really encourage the citizens of Deaf Smith County to complete, will be used by ACS volunteers to determine more effective education programs in this part of the state," Mrs. Ruland said.

She added that if survey results indicate, for example, that very few women in this area regularly examine themselves for breast cancer, ACS volunteers will be alerted so that programs on this particular site become a priority.

"Education is a great means of prevention," said Mrs. Ruland. At present rates, the lives of about 320,000 Americans will be saved from cancer in 1983. However, we already have the scientific knowledge and know-how to save nearly 145,000 more with the help of earlier diagnosis and treatment."

Members participate in program from Sew Fair

A program from the recent Sew Fair was given when members of the Cultural Extension Homemakers Club met Friday in the Energas Flame Room. Mrs. Tom Hargrave was hostess and program leader.

Mrs. George Pope spoke about the use and care of the sewing machine. Marie Thames gave several wardrobe planning tips and Mrs. John Hunter talked on "Sewing for Children."

with "a bargain that wasn't a bargain." Mrs. Hargrave gave a reading from "Apples of Gold" entitled "Joy."

President Bertha Dettmann urged members to attend the District I meeting in Borger on April 12. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. There is a registration fee of $1, lunch will cost $5, and insurance fee is 25 cents. Money should be turned in at the Extension office no later than April 1.

Following Carrie Mae Doak's presentation on designer jeans, Mmes. Hunter, Doak, Jewel Rogers, W.H. Goettsch, and Vernis Parsons gave a mini style show stressing the idea from the Sew Fair.

Jeremy and Christina Conway were guests at the meeting. Others present were Mmes. Ira Scott, Johnnie Townsend, John Spinhrine, Ella Stehr, Charles Conway, and Art Lewis.

Mrs. Parsons will host the April 8 meeting.

The Newspaper BIBLE

"HELLO! LONG DISTANCE FROM HELL CALLING!"

"There was a certain rich man," Jesus said, "who was splendidly clothed and lived each day in mirth and luxury."

"One day Lazarus, a diseased beggar, was laid at his door. As he lay there longing for scraps from the rich man's table, the dogs would come and lick his open sores."

"Finally the beggar died and was carried by the angels to be with Abraham in the place of the righteous dead. The rich man also died and was buried, and his soul went into hell."

"There, in torment, he saw Lazarus in the far distance with Abraham. 'Father Abraham,' he shouted, 'have some pity! Send Lazarus over here if only to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in anguish in these flames.'

"But Abraham said to him, 'Son, remember that during your lifetime you had everything you wanted, and Lazarus had nothing. So now he is here being comforted and you are in anguish. And besides, there is a great chasm separating us, and anyone wanting to come to you from here is stopped at its edge; and no one over there can cross to us.'

"Then the rich man said, 'O Father Abraham, then please send him to my father's home—for I have five brothers—to warn them about this place of torment lest they come here when they die.'

"But Abraham said, 'The Scriptures have warned them again and again. Your brothers can read them any time they want to.'

"The rich man replied, 'No, Father Abraham, they won't bother to read them. But if someone is sent to them from the dead, then they will turn from their sins.'

"But Abraham said, 'If they won't listen to Moses and the prophets, they won't listen even though someone rises from the dead.'"

Luke 16:19-31

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My 81-year-old mother threw away her lower plate and can no longer chew her food properly. I've been putting fresh fruit, fresh vegetables and sometimes meat through the blender to liquify it. It seems to me she is getting proper nourishment. She also drinks two cans of food supplement a day.

However, two of the ladies at my office insist that food put through the blender loses its food value. Is that true?

DEAR READER — Just remember that the process of chewing followed by the churning in the stomach is very similar to what a blender does. It ends up liquifying the food before it can be emptied out of the stomach into the small intestine for digestion.

Food processing can decrease some vitamins, particularly vitamins C and B-12, but that can occur with simply cutting up the fruit and the loss is small enough that a good diet will compensate for it. To get the most vitamin C it is important to use the fresh food and eat it immediately after preparing it. But why not get your mother a new set of dentures?
