Unbeaten Herd blanks Caprock for 5th victory

By REED PARSELL
Staff Writer

Despite having the ball for less than four minutes in the first half, Hereford High School recorded all 26 of its points in a shutout victory over host Caprock High School Thursday evening.

The triumph upped the Whitefaces' district record to 3-0 and overall mark to 5-0. Caprock, meanwhile, fell to 0-4 district and 1-4 overall.

Hereford established its 26-0 first-half lead on four long touchdown plays, the last being a 70-yard interception return by defensive back Jeff Streun with 3:45 remaining.

Ronnie Terry, a senior running back, was the star of the first quarter for the Whitefaces. Facing a stiff wind, he darted for 56 and 51 yards to put HHS ahead 12-0. The wind may have affected the two missed extra-point attempts by senior Mickey Stengel, who has now converted 12 of 17 on the season.

The first of Terry's TD scampers, with 6:21 left in the stanza, featured at least three missed tackles by the Longhorn defense. Terry's last chance to be brought down - at about the CHS 15 - was averted when the senior back simply hurdled the would-be tackler, who appeared not to even touch Terry despite having had an excellent angle.

Terry's second touchdown run occurred much more quickly. With 3:08 to go, he burst through the line on third-and-one at the HHS 49 and sprinted without resistance to paydirt. It marked the second-to-last time Hereford would have the ball in the first half, even though more than 15 minutes were left to play.

Though the 51-yard blast was his last carry of the night, Terry finished with 120 yards on just six totes. He came into the game with 436 yards for a 6.5-per-carry average, figures which improved to 556 and 7.6 Thursday.

After a nine-play Caprock drive stalled at the Whiteface 40, Longhorn punter Joe Heredia netted only 10 yards on a shanked kick. On first-and-10, HHS junior quarterback Mike Scott dropped back and vaulted a bomb in the direction of Stengel, who also serves Hereford as a starting wide receiver.

Stengel was leading two CHS defenders by a step or two, but had to slow down a bit for the pass. Both Longhorns barely missed deflecting the ball, which Stengel managed to catch near his shoestrings and take the remaining 25 yards into the end zone. This time, his PAT attempt was successful.

He connected again seven minutes later after Streun picked off a short, sideline toss by CHS signal-caller Lee Meza. No Longhorn was able to touch the speedy senior, who saw action in

Continental pilots approve strike

Airline officials vow to keep service going

HOUSTON (AP) — Continental Airlines officials have vowed not to let their service be interrupted by a Saturday strike declared by its pilots and flight attendants and supported by the Air Line Pilots Association, whose members fly for 46 other carriers.

The Continental workers, angered that their salaries have been cut by approximately half since the airline reorganized under federal bankruptcy laws last weekend, voted Thursday to strike at 2 a.m. Saturday.

Shortly after that decision, the executive board of the Air Line Pilots Association authorized its president, Henry Duffy, to ask pilots for 46 other air carriers if they would support a walkout to dramatize the plight of deregulated airlines.

ALPA spokesman John Duffy has called Continental, which has lost $471.9 million in four years, "the latest symptom in a disease that is plaguing the industry."

Duffy would determine the time and length of the shutdown, if it approved. He said such a walkout would be a "last resort" and would be sought only if Congress refused to take action to stabilize fares.

The resolution adopted by pilots of Continental, formerly the nation's eighth-largest airline, charged the carrier with implementing unsafe emergency work rules and engaging in "surface bargaining in a blatant attempt to union bust."

The executive board of the Air Line Pilots Association voted to collect $130 or $140 a month from each of its members to establish a fund for striking Continental employees.

Signals indicate slowing in economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's main gauge of future economic strength fell 0.1 percent last month, the Commerce Department said today. It was the first decline in a year and another sign of future slowing in the economy.

The forecasting gauge, the department's Index of Leading Economic Indicators, is a compilation of a dozen forward-pointing statistics covering manufacturing, employment, prices and other areas.

In a recent report on the gross national product, the government estimated that the economy in the third quarter was slowing to a still-strong 7 percent annual growth rate after racing at a heated 9.7 percent rate in the April-June period.

And since the leading index is designed to show economic changes that will occur in future months, today's report appeared to be another signal that growth will slacken for the remainder of the year and into next year.

The department also revised July's index to show a 0.8 percent advance instead of the previously reported 0.3 percent gain. Still, July's showing was much weaker than earlier this year, when strong gains of 3.1 percent in January, 1.7 percent in February and 2 percent in March foreshadowed the vigorous economic growth in the second and third quarter of the year.

Private and government economists have welcomed the economic slowdown as further insurance against a heat-up in inflation and interest rates, which could dampen the recovery.

City, county take advantage of free energy audit

Both Deaf Smith County and the city of Hereford are taking advantage of a service provided through the Engineering Dept. at Texas A&M University this week, having an energy audit performed free of charge.

Ted Waldrop, an Energy Analyst with the A&M Engineering Dept., is in town to observe and analyze energy efficiency at county and city facilities. He began at the county courthouse Thursday, and is working at city facilities today.

The audit is part of a program funded in part by the U.S. Department of Energy, and Texas A&M.

Waldrop is examining local facilities to see just how energy efficient they are. He will be taking notes, and will mail a detailed report on his findings to the county and city later.

The program is also available at no cost to small and medium-size manufacturing plants, Waldrop reported. The service will be provided to firms which basically have less than 200 employees.

"That's just a target figure," Waldrop said. "We will visit with any firm which contacts us for the service."

Manufacturers interested in the free energy audit may write to Waldrop at 2700 Rock Terrace, Austin, Tx. 78704.

The driveway cover for Hereford's public library sustained damage Thursday morning at about 11 a.m. when a 1974 Chevrolet truck proved too tall for the barrier. Police estimated the vehicle, operated by Larry Men-

War Powers: Agreement heading for Reagan's desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's authority to keep Marines in Lebanon for the next 18 months was won with the votes of several Senate Republicans who reluctantly supported a War Powers compromise out of party loyalty, not because they support the presence of the troops in Beirut.

"Unfortunately, it became a partisan issue," Sen. Dan Quayle, R-Ind., said after a divided Senate voted 54-46 Thursday to approve the War Powers resolution now awaiting Reagan's signature.

The agreement provides specific, broad authority for Reagan to keep the 1,600 Marines in Lebanon as part of a multinational peacekeeping force designed to ease the civil war there and reduce the chances for a broader conflict in the Middle East.

Afterwards, Reagan said the vote is "a strong signal to the world: America stands united; we speak with one voice, and we fulfill our responsibilities as a trustee of freedom, peace and self-determination."

Democratic opponents said the resolution reminded them of the early days of the Vietnam War when the number of U.S. forces were gradually increased before it was clear what the U.S. mission in Indochina really was.

The 1973 War Powers Act, on which the resolution is based, was designed by its sponsors to make sure there were "no more Vietnams, no more undeclared wars, no more presidential wars," said Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark.

But instead of complying with the act and formally declaring that Congress has a role in deciding whether the Marines should stay in Lebanon, Bumpers said, "The president has done

Hereford trustees ponder election

Following a lengthy closed session, the Hereford Independent School District Board of Education Thursday voted to hire a Houston lawyer to help determine what action the board will take regarding single-member election districts.

At its August 9 regular meeting, the board was shown a plan to increase the likelihood of Hispanic board members through establishing single-member districts. The presentation was made by Raul Noriega, an attorney for the Texas Rural Legal Aid (TRLA), who said new laws forbid entirely at-large school district elections, which HISD now features.

No litigation was as yet planned against the local school district, he said.

R.C. Hoelscher, board member, made the motion to hire Kelly Frels of Bracewell and Patterson, a Houston law firm. He made another motion, which was also approved, that board President Sally Strain appoint a committee to work with Frels.

Strain then said board members Hoelscher, Calvin Jones and Paul Mason would serve on the committee.

Action on the HISD policy on exemptions for final examinations at Hereford High School was tabled.

Client feared for life attorney tells jury

HOUSTON (AP) — Theodore Duane McKinney, one of five people indicted in an attempt to extort $15 million by bombing a Gulf Oil Chemical plant, did not know about the scheme until it was under way and cooperated for fear his wife would be harmed, his attorney has told jurors.

McKinney thought two other defendants were working on a potential security project for the company until he learned otherwise from the plot's mastermind, attorney John Ackerman told a federal jury Thursday.

McKinney, 46, is the only one of five Durango, Colo., residents indicted in the September 1982 scheme who did not arrange a plea bargain.

The other four all pleaded guilty. Three received sentences ranging from probation to 40 years in prison.

McKinney learned the true nature of the plot during a telephone call to John Marvin McBride, who masterminded the scheme, Ackerman said.

"You are, whether you know it or not, involved in a serious criminal matter," Ackerman said McBride told his client. "You are in Phoenix. Your wife is in Durango. If you don't (do) ... as asked, your wife is in danger and might be killed."

McKinney's role was to find an isolated desert spot where the extortion money could be dropped, Assistant U.S. Attorney Mike Woods said.

Officers found five bombs hidden at Gulf's Cedar Bayou plant in Baytown, 30 miles east of Houston. They were detonated harmlessly.

Pilots urge end to boycott of flights

LONDON (AP) — The international airline pilots' federation today urged an early end to the 60-day boycott of flights to Moscow that was imposed by many national pilots' associations after the Soviets shot down the South Korean airliner.

The action by the International Federation of Airline Pilots' Associations (IFALPA) came as some air links with the Soviet Union were already being restored with the end of a two-week flight ban imposed by a dozen Western countries.

IFALPA said in a statement released by its headquarters south of London that it recommended to its member associations that the ban on flights to Moscow be lifted as of midnight Greenwich Mean Time on Sunday (8 p.m. EDT Saturday).

Soviet fighters shot down the Korean Air Lines Boeing 747 on Sept. 1 when it strayed over Soviet territory on a flight from New York to Seoul. All 269 on board were killed.

Insurance board to consider auto rates

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Insurance today looked at two proposals for increases in automobile insurance rates — a 3.9 percent hike backed by its staff and an 11.4 percent jump recommended by the insurance industry.

The staff proposal was dropped Thursday from a 4.3 percent package previously announced. Board spokesman Jon Ford said the earlier proposal included a miscalculation.

Texas would pay $88 million more in premiums in 1984 if the staff proposal is approved. The new rates go into effect Jan. 1.

The package supported by the insurance industry would raise premiums by $258 million.

The recommended increases are statewide averages, with rates varying in the 40 rating territories.

Demonstration staged in downtown Manila

Students staged a separate demonstration in front of the main post office in downtown Manila, condemning the "tight political repression in the country" and the violent suppression of earlier anti-Marcos protests.

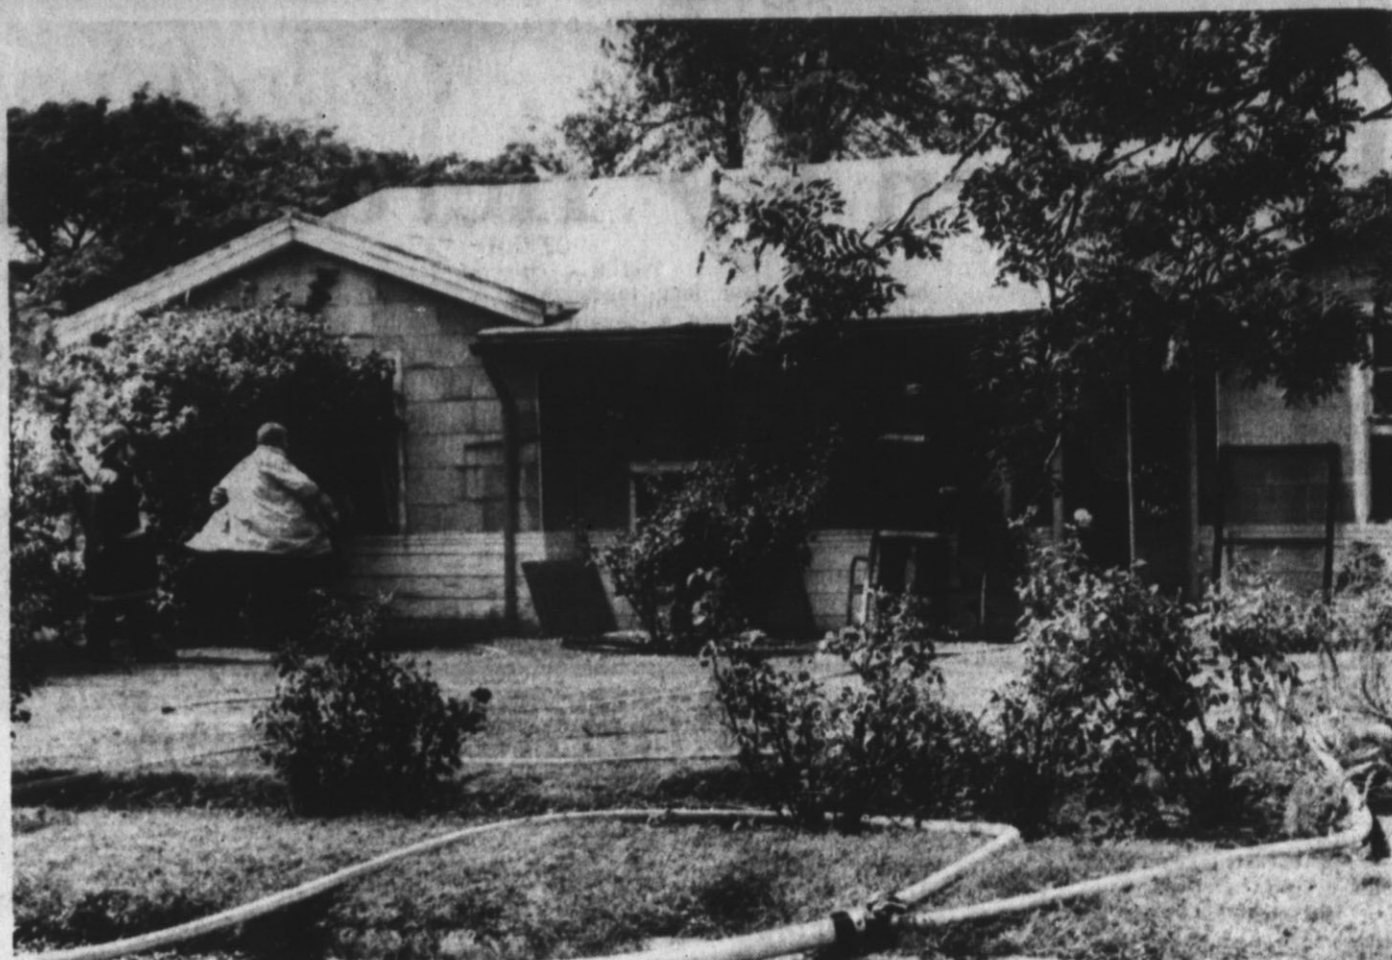

Fernando stepped down from the Aquino investigation commission in the face of opposition lawsuits challenging his acceptance of the post while remaining head of the high court. The suits, still pending before the Supreme Court, also accused the original commission members of subservience to Marcos.

The new chairman, Tolentino, was senate president under the U.S.-style system dismantled by Marcos a decade ago.

He has a reputation as a skilled constitutional lawyer not afraid to disagree with the majority, but he has remained loyal to Marcos and his ruling party.

Mideast: President continuing pursuit of stable cease-fire in Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, meeting today with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak, is continuing his pursuit of a stable cease-fire in Lebanon and praising Egypt for its efforts toward that end.

Mubarak, who called this week for a total Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon without waiting for a pullout by Syrian and Palestinian forces, has nonetheless been supportive of U.S. efforts to broker a cease-fire in the civil war that has torn Lebanon's plural society and threatened to isolate Syria from its Arab neighbors.

A U.S. official, briefing reporters Thursday on Mubarak's visit on condition he not be identified, said Reagan would express his appreciation for Egypt's support in the recent search for an end to the fighting between Syrian-backed Druse militia and Lebanese government forces.

"The Egyptians have been quite visible in envoys being sent back and forth, as well as their public statements," the official said, adding the United States has been grateful for that help.

But at the United Nations earlier this week, Mubarak added his voice to that of Syria and Saudi Arabia in calling for a unilateral Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon.

He added, however, that "all forms of foreign intervention should be terminated" as well as "all designs to partition Lebanon and to turn it into spheres of influence and control."

Mubarak's visit is his second this year and his third since assuming office following the assassination of President Anwar Sadat.

The administration official discussing the agenda for the Mubarak meeting said the two presidents also would "look beyond the current Lebanese problems" to explore options for a broader Middle East peace.

The official was asked if the Camp David peace process is now dead in light of recent events in Lebanon and the infighting that nearly ousted Palestinian Liberation Organization chief Yasser Arafat earlier this year. He refused to go that far but acknowledged it is "certainly at rest." During the meeting, the official said, Reagan and Mubarak would "explore options to encourage the Palestinians and Jordanians to engage in negotiations with Israel" designed to reach a long-term settlement of the Palestinian issue.

Reese Air Force Base schedules open house

REESE AIR FORCE BASE, TEXAS — Reese Air Force Base will be opening its gates to the people of the South Plains during its 1983 Open House on Oct. 2.

The Open House offers the opportunity for the people of Lubbock and the surrounding area to take a first hand look at Air Force operations and equipment.

Activities at the base will begin at 10:00 a.m. with a formal show set for 1:00 p.m. featuring an F-15 high performance fighter flight demonstration and parachute jumping by a U.S. Army Green Beret Jump Team. Activities at the base will end at 4:00 p.m.

Other activities scheduled during the formal afternoon show will be fly-bys of Reese's T-37 and T-38 jet trainers, an Army helicopter demonstration and a demonstration by Air Force Military Working Dog unit from Dyess AFB near Abilene. The Green Beret parachute jump team will also perform at 11:00 a.m.

Highlighting the over 20 Air Force, Army and navy aircraft that will be on display will be the SR-71 and the U-2 reconnaissance aircraft. The SR-71, unofficially known as the "Black bird" can fly at three times the speed of sound or more than 2,000 mph. It can also fly to altitudes of better than 80,000 ft. It holds many international speed and altitude records. The U-2, which has been described as a powered glider, can fly higher than 70,000 feet.

Joining the military aircraft on display will be World War II aircraft of the Confederate Air Force.

the second half as Hereford's quarterback.

Caprock, though it managed to gain 199 total yards, threatened to score only once. The 14th play of the second-quarter drive, though, was Streun's TD interception.

The long march began on the CHS 20. With senior running back Colin Dunavin carrying eight of the first 11 plays for 32 yards and Hereford contributing 15 yards for unspontaneous conduct, Caprock moved to the HHS 20. Meza fumbled the next snap, losing 4 yards before being dropped 4 yards further back by Hereford junior August Catillo and senior Brian Lady.

Statistics had Caprock with a 10-3 edge in first downs during the first half and a whopping 20-10-3-40 advantage in time of possession. By game's end, the hosts led in both those categories along with punts average and passes completed. They were also penalized five times and 35 yards fewer than were the Whitefaces.

The second half enjoyed a quick pace as both squads pretty much stuck to their ground games. Caprock never seemed determined to come back, but rather employed a game plan likely to help hold down the score.

Last year, Caprock suffered a 27-0 setback in Whiteface Stadium.

Hereford will try to remain undefeated Friday when its annual homecoming match will be played against Tascosa at 7:30 p.m.

everything in the world not just to avoid the letter of the law, but the intent of the law."

The Democratic House approved the resolution on Wednesday and after minor changes were worked out between versions approved by the two houses, the compromise was sent to the White House for Reagan to sign.

The original version of the agreement was negotiated among senior White House aides. House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., and other congressional leaders.

The only significant changes added in two weeks of congressional debate were to toughen and make more specific the requirements under which Reagan must keep Congress updated on what the troops are doing, and the progress of U.S. diplomacy in Lebanon.

There were three defections among the Republicans, Mark Hatfield of Oregon, Lowell Weicker of Connecticut and William Roth of Delaware. Two Democrats, Edward Zorinsky of Nebraska and George Mitchell of Maine voted for the resolution, which provides explicit congressional approval of Reagan's policies in war-torn Lebanon.

In the end, the Senate heeded the appeal of Baker, who said: "It would be a mistake of tragic proportions if the Congress were to withdraw them at this time."

conducts its annual Homecoming activities!

While on the subject of football, we noticed recently that the Andrews newspaper claims we "owe them one." The Mustangs had zipped to a 3-0 record but an ineligible player cost them one of the victories—a 44-0 romp over Seminole.

Through an unusual set of circumstances, Andrews had to forfeit the victory after discovering it had used an ineligible player who had moved there from Hereford.

The Andrews County News reports that the player was moved up to the varsity just before the Seminole game, and Andrews wrote the Hereford High School principal for the student's records.

Because of a library fine, and the Labor Day weekend mail, the student's transcript was late arriving in Andrews. A call from Andrews to Hereford revealed that the student had passed all his courses here.

Airline

strike benefit like this one in the history of the association," said Larry Baxter, who represented Continental pilots at that meeting. "There's never been a response like this because there's never been a problem like this."

Flight attendants left the door open for a settlement, said Marilyn Wade, spokeswoman for the Union of Flight Attendants in Los Angeles.

"We are willing to negotiate at any time," Ms. Wade said, adding that the union was willing to grant concessions "that will allow the company to remain profitable and still maintain basic safety, health and seniority guarantees."

Continental spokesman Bruce Hicks said the airline's service will be unaffected by the strike. He said the carrier only needs to retain 350 of its 1,435 pilots to keep its planes in the air.

"Many more than enough ... have affirmed to us their willingness to continue flying despite such a call by the union," he said.

Hicks said the carrier had received similar assurances from flight attendants, although he could not say how many were contacted or said they were willing to work.

However, when Andrews received the transcript, the principal noted that the 10-semester rule used in Texas might be violated. He called the school in Georgia, where the student had been previously, and confirmed he had spent two years in the ninth grade. In Texas, that leaves a student with just two years athletic participation.

Though all the UIL committee members were sympathetic, the minimum penalty for using an ineligible player is forfeiture of the game.

The Andrews article notes that the finger of blame should not be pointed at anyone, especially young James McCrary, the student in question. Georgia rules are different than ours and his was an honest error.

"The forfeit of the game should serve only to clear the air for a successful season," stated the article. "Loyal Andrews fans still know that the Mustangs are 3-0 this season."

"We are and have been fully prepared to operate as we have been expecting this reaction by the union leadership," Hicks said.

Hicks said the company believed a strike would be "totally illegal under the Railway Labor Act. Obviously the company would have the ability to get an injunction."

Continental's first flight Saturday will leave Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for Houston at 7:46 a.m. EDT.

Duffy said ALPA's executive board will ask pilots to vote on the question of a nationwide walkout to focus public attention on the difficulties airlines have experienced since routes and fares were deregulated in 1978.

He said it would take several weeks to explain the council's decision to the nation's pilots and for a vote to be taken.

Once armed with their approval, Duffy said he would ask a congressional committee to set minimum fares for airlines. If Washington ignores the plea, Duffy said he would call a shutdown, an action he called a last resort.

Duffy said he hopes the government will make a proposal to stabilize ticket prices.

Approval falling for foreign policy

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time since President Reagan took office, significantly more Americans disapprove of his foreign policy than approve of it, according to a New York Times-CBS News poll published today.

In addition, the survey of 1,587 adults showed most believed the United States has a crucial interest in the struggle in Lebanon, and that even more think U.S. forces should be withdrawn if the alternative is to send more troops.

The poll, conducted Saturday through Wednesday nights by telephone, found that 47 percent of adults disapprove of Reagan's handling of foreign affairs, while 38 percent approve.

That was the first time the poll had found the disapproval rate exceeding the approval rate by more than the potential sampling error of 3 percent.

In a June survey, 36 percent disapproved of the president's foreign policy, and in a poll earlier this month 40 percent said they disapproved.

The survey traced the higher rate of disapproval to Reagan's response to the Soviet downing of a Korean Air Lines jet with 269 people aboard, and the perception by many Americans that U.S. military involvement in Lebanon resembles the early U.S. entanglement in Vietnam.

The poll indicated the number of Americans approving of Reagan's response to the shooting down of the Korean airliner had risen but was still exceeded by those who disapprove. Those believing Reagan was "not tough enough" with the Soviets dropped to 46 percent from 56 percent earlier this month, while those who felt his response was "about right" rose to 41 percent from 36 percent.

While respondents said by 2-to-1 that the outcome of the Lebanese struggle is important to U.S. interests, they also believed by a 2-1 margin that this country became involved in Vietnam in the same way it has become involved in Lebanon.

The poll showed that by 3-1 the public believes U.S. Marines should be withdrawn from Lebanon rather than reinforced if it becomes apparent they cannot achieve their goals without more troops.

Respondents rated the Sept. 1 downing of the Korean jet the most important current foreign policy issue, with Lebanon second and Central America third.

On another topic, the poll found that 89 percent of adults believe the United States should remain a member of the United Nations. Only 20 percent said the U.N. should move its headquarters out of New York, while 65 percent said it should remain.

Other business included Terri Long being appointed to serve as chairman on the Scholarship Committee.

Finance chairman Bertha Dettman reported the Tasting Bee as a big success and said that there are plenty of cookbooks still available for $1.50. They may be purchased at Louise Walker's office, room 304 in the Court House, or by calling any extension member.

Following adjournment, Anna Messer, County T.E.H.A. Chairman, asked club presidents to turn in the petitions on "Turning Off Your T.V." at the October Council.

A teenage and pre-teen TOPS Club has recently been organized for young people 13-18 and 7-12 years of age. TOPS is an organization to help Take-Off-Pounds-Sensibly and teach good eating habits.

The young people also learn about proper nutrition and how to count daily calorie intake. Meetings are held every Tuesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

The club is sponsoring a bake sale in Sugarland Mall on Saturday starting at 8:30 a.m. to raise money for TOPS Rally Days, to be held in Hereford on Oct. 29.

Recently elected officers for the teenage club are Jana Cherry, leader; Sandra Daugherty, co-leader; Amanda Baldarez, secretary; and Rosie Baldarez, treasurer. Cherry and Daugherty have both reached their weight loss goals and are now KOPS-in-waiting.

Anyone interested in the teen or pre-teen club may visit on Tuesday afternoons or call Janell Davison, the adult advisor, at 364-0899.

'K' numbers

K imprinted on gold jewelry, with a number, assures a certain value of content: 14K indicates 14 parts gold and 10 parts of alloy. The higher the K number, the purer the gold — and therefore more expensive. Sterling means no fewer than 925 parts pure silver to 75 parts copper.

Cheese is the traditional bait for rat traps. But scientists say rats have a passionate preference for gumdrops.

British sovereignty was proclaimed in 1840 when settlement began.

Ann Landers

Disgusted with parents

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please, please print this letter. It's been on my mind for months and I just can't hold back another day. It's about parents who let their children run wild through retail establishments. I work in a small department store and have watched kids tear up displays, climb on racks, pull garments off hangers and smear candy and bubblegum on the mirrors.

I have asked several parents if they would mind attending to their children and they stomp off mad, saying, "If you don't want my business, I can go elsewhere." More than once I have been tempted to say, "I wish you would."

Yesterday a mother came up to me and said, "My little boy made a mess up front." Then she left. I went to check and almost fainted when I saw that the child had chosen a spot directly in front of the center showcase as his bathroom. The mother didn't bother to apologize, nor did she offer to clean it up - just made the announcement and walked out.

I don't blame the kids. Their parents should not permit them to behave like barbarians. Any suggestions, Ann? We people in the retail trade need help.—Disgusted in Indiana

DEAR DISGUSTED: Invest in a few toys, teddy bears, Raggedy Ann dolls (check the dime store) and buy some items that might keep the "honyocks" occupied. If a child begins to misbehave, instruct the mother that she will have to discipline him or take him out of the store. You lose nothing—except maybe a migraine headache.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please settle this difference in opinion. (I hesitate to call it an argument.) "Mrs. Z." married for the first time 60 years ago. She is now a great-grandmother. Her first marriage ended in divorce. (Her husband was sadistic.) He died four years after the divorce. "Mrs. Z." remarried soon thereafter. Her second husband turned out to be even more abusive than the first. She divorced him after two years. He passed away two years later.

"Mrs. Z." moved from this community and now lives 2,000 miles away. She has passed herself off as a widow all these years, never at any time acknowledging the fact that she has had two divorces. Her cousin called her on it recently and said she was being very dishonest. The response was, "When a husband, former or present, expires, the wife or ex-wife becomes a widow." Right or wrong?—Lizzie In Grass

DEAR READERS — Ways to keep cool, delight newlyweds and charm children while you save money lead off our Pointer roundup today. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Before I got an air conditioner, I used a fan to cool off, but it never seemed to really cool very well. Then I tried piling ice on a shallow baking sheet in front of the fan. This won't cool the whole house, but it works much better than just a plain fan. — LOIS

DEAR POLLY — In this age of saving store coupons, I've decided they can make nice gifts. I collect all I can. When I'm invited to a wedding, I put them in a coupon organizer and give them as an additional gift. This is especially nice for young couples just starting out, particularly when their store offers double and triple coupons. — PEGGY

DEAR POLLY — My husband and I do a lot of hiking and camping. Instead of taking bulky towels that don't dry out easily, we buy diapers to use as towels and dishtowels. They dry overnight and can easily be rinsed out. — MRS. N.M.

DEAR POLLY — With the rising prices of things, I stock up on paper towels when they are on sale. Instead of just stashing them away in a cupboard, I've found that these unopened rolls make good building blocks for children. The child babysit for hours of fun building things with these rolls. — SARAH

DEAR LIZZIE: Technically, the woman is twice a divorcee. But why should anyone be concerned if she prefers to call herself a widow? I think her cousin needs a hobby.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I realize you have printed several letters about AIDS, but I need a little more specific information, please. Is it possible to get AIDS from my hairdresser, who is a homosexual? I am probably worrying needlessly, but I would like an answer in the paper. Several of my friends who go to this hairdresser are concerned also.—The Group In Memphis

DEAR GROUP: Unless you women are having sex with your hairdresser, you have nothing to worry about.

Local musicians to perform

Talent presentations by WTSU alumni, including several from Hereford, will be featured at this year's Pigskin Review during West Texas State University's homecoming.

Pigskin Review is offered during homecoming by the WTSU Department of Music. The performance is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 7, at Northern Recital Hall. Tickets, available at the door, are $4 for adults and $2 for students.

Among the alumni who are performing is Jeryl Hoover, associate and minister of music at the First Baptist Church of Hereford. He performs frequently as a soloist.

Original members of the quartet from "Texas," the summer musical drama performed at Palo Duro Canyon, will also perform. They include Bobby Boyd, Bill Devers and George Och, all of Hereford, and Dean Kelley of Amarillo.

Other alumni performers will be Phil and Andy Dietz, WTSU graduates who sing contemporary gospel songs. Phil is minister of youth at an Oklahoma church and Andy is minister of youth at Second Baptist Church in Amarillo. They are former members of the Royalheirs.

"This year we're trying to reach the alumni because, after all, that's what homecoming is about," said Scott Herrington, choral associate who directs Pigskin Review.

During the past several years, two evenings of Pigskin Review performances have featured WTSU campus organizations who performed at the spring University Sing. Members of the winning organizations presented their winning musical productions and skits at Pigskin Review.

SEWING TENTS AND SOWING TRUTH

Paul left Athens and went to Corinth. There he became acquainted with a Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, who had recently arrived from Italy with his wife, Priscilla. They had been expelled from Italy as a result of Claudius Caesar's order to deport all Jews from Rome. Paul lived and worked with them, for they were tentmakers just as he was.

Each Sabbath found Paul at the synagogue, trying to convince the Jews and Greeks alike. And after the arrival of Silas and Timothy from Macedonia, Paul spent his full time preaching and testifying to the Jews that Jesus is the Messiah.

But when the Jews opposed him and blasphemed, hurling abuse at Jesus, Paul shook off the dust from his robe and said, "Your blood be upon your own heads -- I am innocent -- from now on I will preach to the Gentiles."

After that he stayed with Titus Justus, a Gentile who worshiped God and lived next to the synagogue.

Crispus, the leader of the synagogue, and all his household believed in the Lord and were baptized -- as were many others in Corinth. Acts 18:1-8

Mike Warren

Rookie fires no-hitter in Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — On June 12, with the bases loaded against the Chicago White Sox, A's right-hander Mike Warren threw his first major league pitch to the backstop. His last pitch of the 1983 season, against the same team, put him in baseball history books.

The 22-year-old hurler Thursday became the first rookie since 1973 to pitch a no-hitter as Oakland whipped the White Sox 3-0. It was the 13th time in this century that a rookie has thrown a no-hitter.

"I've redeemed myself. I think I'm even now," Warren said after the game. "This definitely makes the season a lot sweeter."

Warren, 5-3, was pitching for Modesto in the Class A California League a year ago. He started this season with Albany, N.Y., in the Class AA Eastern League before advancing to Tacoma and then Oakland.

In beating the American League West champions, Warren had to overcome a team that's given him big problems this season. In his last appearance, Sept. 7 in Chicago, Warren gave up a three-run homer to Carlton Fisk as the White Sox rallied to win.

This time, Fisk was the final victim, flying to left field for the last out on a cold, windy night before 9,058 standing, cheering fans.

"I thought we were a little nervous up there tonight," said Fisk. "I thought we had some good swings at it, but we kept hitting long, high fly balls.

"But what can you say? I've never seen a no-hitter, never caught a no-hitter and never been involved in one."

Oakland Manager Steve Boros, with tears beginning to well in his eyes, said Warren's no-hitter was his biggest thrill in his first year as a major league manager.

"I don't think I've been more excited all year," Boros said. "I think it's really appropriate one of our young pitchers was in the middle of it. This typifies the kind of hope and promise we have on this ballclub."

Warren threw 112 pitches, walked three and struck out five. He faced only two batters over the minimum and had the White Sox flailing at his curve ball. Fourteen of the outs came on fly balls.

The last Oakland no-hitter was shared by four pitchers; Vida Blue, Glenn Abbott, Paul Lindblad and Rollie Fingers beat the California Angels 5-0 on Sept. 28, 1975.

Rookie No-Hitters

No-hit games pitched by rookies in the major leagues since 1900:
 Nicholas Maddox, Pittsburgh, beat Brooklyn 2-1, Sept. 20, 1907.
 Charles Tesreau, New York (NL), beat Philadelphia 3-0, Sept. 6, 1912.
 Charles C. Robertson, Chicago (AL), beat Detroit 2-0, April 30, 1922.
 Paul Dean, St. Louis (NL), beat Brooklyn 2-0, Sept. 21, 1934.
 Vernon Kennedy, Chicago (AL), beat Cleveland 5-0, Aug. 31, 1935.
 William McCahan, Philadelphia (AL), beat Washington 3-0, Sept. 3, 1947.
 Bobo Holloman, St. Louis (AL), beat Philadelphia 6-0, May 6, 1953 (first major league start).
 Bo Belinsky, Los Angeles (AL), beat Baltimore 2-0, May 5, 1962.

Vida Blue, Oakland, beat Minnesota 6-0, Sept. 21, 1970.
 Burt Hooton, Chicago (NL), beat Philadelphia 4-0, April 16, 1972.
 Steve Busby, Kansas City, beat Detroit 3-0, April 27, 1973.
 Jim Bibby, Texas, beat Oakland 6-0, July 30, 1973.
 Mike Warren, Oakland, beat Chicago (AL) 3-0, Sept. 29, 1983.

Mickey Stengel, Number 33 white, snares a Mike Scott aerial with about four minutes left in the first quarter of Hereford's 26-0 triumph Thursday at Caprock High School in Amarillo.

Stengel and Scott later teamed up for a 70-yard touchdown connection, which gave HHS a 19-0 bulge with 10:46 left in the first half.

Braves watch scoreboard, win

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Atlanta Braves Manager Joe Torre says his team has been "playing scoreboard" of late. And for a change, he liked what he saw.

One game away from elimination in the National League West race, Torre's team continued to hang on Thursday night with a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros while Los Angeles was losing a doubleheader in San Diego, 7-1 and 4-1.

"Tonight was indicative of the way our season has gone," said Torre. "We've been watching the scoreboard all year."

Bob Watson drove in a run for Atlanta with a double in the eighth, and the Braves won it in the ninth on Randy Johnson's RBI single as the Braves came back from a three-run deficit.

"When we were behind 3-0 tonight, I wasn't watching the scoreboard," said Watson. "But I did when we went ahead."

In other NL action, San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 11-7 and Pittsburgh stopped New York 4-2.

JVers downed

After battling to a 7-7 deadlock in the first half, Caprock scored a touchdown in the third period and hung on to defeat the Hereford Maroon JV here Thursday afternoon by a 14-7 score.

Caprock opened the scoring in the initial quarter on a 4-yard run by Monty Buchanan. Hereford retaliated in the second stanza when Stephan Hacker tallied on an 11-yard scamper. Rodney Torres' kick tied the game.

Buchanan broke loose on a 47-yard run in the third period and the teams battled to a standstill in the final quarter. The local JV squad travels to Amarillo next Thursday afternoon to take on the Sandie JV.

Houston took a 3-0 lead after two innings on a run-scoring single by Bill Doran and two Atlanta errors. The Braves came back with two runs in the seventh on Claudell Washington's RBI double and Dale Murphy's sacrifice fly.

Atlanta went ahead 4-3 in the eighth on Watson's double before the Astros tied the score in the bottom of the inning on Harry Spilman's RBI base hit. Then the Braves scored the winning run in the ninth against Vern Rühle, 8-5, on a single by Chris Chambliss, a walk to Albert Hall and Johnson's single.

Gene Garber, 4-5, earned the victory and Terry Forster secured the game's final three outs for his 13th save of the season.

"The fat lady is vocalizing, but she hasn't sung, yet,"

Torre said. "We don't want to back out of this thing. We want to make the Dodgers earn it."

Padres 7-4, Dodgers 1-1
 In San Diego, Tony Gwynn's two-out RBI single and Kevin McReynolds' two-run hit keyed a sixth-run eighth inning to lead the Padres' first-game victory over the Dodgers.

Limited to four hits in seven innings by Dodgers starter Bob Welch, the Padres erupted for six runs off four Dodgers pitchers to break a 1-1 tie.

Andy Hawkins scattered seven hits in 8 2-3 innings and Terry Kennedy drilled a solo homer to lead the Padres in the nightcap.

Hawkins, a 23-year-old right-hander called up to the majors earlier this month, struck out a career-high 10 and walked four while giving up the Dodgers' only run on a two-out homer in the ninth by Jose Morales. Hawkins, 5-7, needed last-out relief help from Luis DeLeon, who posted his 13th save.

Volleyball coach happy despite Thursday loss

Sharma Smith was fairly pleased with her varsity volleyball team's effort Thursday night, even though the hosting Whitefaces fell 15-13, 15-13 to Coronado.

"We played great," she said over the telephone this morning.

"We hit pretty well, and covered pretty well," commented the HHS coach. "Our serves aren't as consistent as they should be. We missed them at critical times."

The loss dropped

Hereford's record to 1-12 overall. HHS is slated to participate in Saturday's Melrose (N.M.) Tournament, with its first match to be at 2 p.m. (MST) against Logan, N.M.

Thursday's junior varsity contest saw Coronado prevail 15-1, 12-15, 15-5.

Tuesday in Tascosa, the varsity Whitefaces were downed 15-4, 15-7 while the JV's were 15-13, 15-4 victims.

Walrus has low round

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Although there are three rounds to go, Fuzzy Zoeller said he and the rest of the field have their work cut out for them in an effort to overtake Craig Stadler.

"It's about time he got his tail moving. He's a quality player. It'll take a very low number to beat him," Zoeller predicted Thursday after Stadler jumped two strokes in front of the pack with a spectacular, 8-under-par 62 in the first round of the $300,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

Stadler's effort, in ideal playing conditions — mild temperatures and just the hint of a breeze — included nine birdies, matched the competitive record on the 6,525-yard Oak Hills Country Club course and was within one shot of the low round on the PGA Tour this season.

"That was a lot of fun. And I haven't really enjoyed it for quite a while," said Stadler, who took the Masters and three other titles last year and led the Tour in money-winnings.

"I haven't won this year, and it's been a little frustrating," he said.

"It's been four years since I went through a season without winning. And I sure didn't expect it this year.

"It's getting down to the end (only three more official events remain on the tour schedule), but I haven't yet written the year off.

"I've played pretty well at times, but I've been shooting a lot of 73s and 74s and 75s in the first round and just taking myself out of it.

"I'm not saying I'll win this week," cautioned the man known to his fellow pros as "The Walrus." He paused and smiled.

"But I'd love to. I'd absolutely love to."

Stadler one-putted 10 times and saved his best until the last, a 35-footer on the final hole that gave him the two-shot lead over Fred Couples and Lance Ten Broeck, who had 64s.

Former Texas Open champ Ron Streck, Larry Mize and Brent Buckman at 65.

Zoeller, who needs to finish sixth or better this week to regain the money-winning lead, and Rex Caldwell, a winner in Abilene last week, led the big group at 66.

Also at that figure were Tom Kite, Bill Rogers, Jim Colbert, Bill Murchison, Dale Douglass, Tom Jenkins, Wally Armstrong, George Cadle, Allen Miller, Roger Maltbie and Steve Hart.

Lee Trevino and defending title-holder Jay Haas each shot 69.

Nebraska's foe not too tough, Nissenon feels

Boy, is No. 1-ranked Nebraska in trouble this week.

Coach Tom Osborne warns that 3-1 Syracuse, Saturday's fodder for the Cornhuskers, has "a better record than anybody we've played. We're excited about playing them."

In boxing, an "opponent" is someone who can give you a workout but is no threat to beat you. So it is with Syracuse and the oddsmakers have not listed a line on the game.

Despite Syracuse's winning record, the victories were at the expense of Kent State, Northwestern and Rutgers. In its final tuneup before the Big Eight race, Nebraska 45-6.

Last week's score was 39 right, 12 wrong for a percentage of .765. For the season, it's 132-58-4—695. Against the spread, last week was 16-12—571. For the year, 38-41—481.

Bubba changes tune about fix

NEW YORK (AP) — Bubba Smith has changed his statements about Super Bowl III being fixed, saying that "it couldn't happen," but adding that the circumstances still keep him wondering.

"It was only three pages in the book," the former All-Pro defensive end for the Baltimore Colts said Thursday in reference to the short space the allegations take up in his upcoming book, "Kill, Bubba, Kill!"

He had said Wednesday on a local TV show here that he believed the game in which the New York Jets upset the Colts 16-7 was fixed.

Thursday, he hedged about the possibility that the fix was in.

"It couldn't happen," he said, but later added that "a lot of things could suggest that it could have been fixed."

Asked why it took so long to raise the possibility of a fix, Smith said, "It came to me when I was doing the book. I'm a bad loser, but then, after the game, it really got to me when a cab driver told me that (Colts owner Carroll) Rosenbloom had bet on the Jets. I couldn't sleep that night, turning the game over and over in my mind. But I left it on the balcony that night — until I did the book.

"I just lost $17,000 and a guy tells me the game was fixed," said Smith referring to the difference in the winner's and loser's shares.

He said the cabbie had picked him up after leaving Rosenbloom's house following what was to have been a victory party. Rosenbloom drowned in 1979.

Smith posed the possibility of the fixed Super Bowl III in an interview with local television station WNBC Wednesday. His allegations also appear in the published November issue of Playboy and in the book.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said of Smith's allegations: "I don't feel it merits even a comment. We shouldn't have to justify those things. It's so ludicrous."

In an interview with the Associated Press, Smith said that he was in New York to do a "soft sale" of the book and do some commercials and that he was shocked with the New York media's reaction.

He said that in the local TV interview Wednesday he was "led into" the story of the fix and "didn't get a chance to complete my story."

Said Smith: "I went on the show to promote a book. I had no intention of getting a lot of people in the NFL upset."

*Bravo
Hereford*

4-H SPIRIT We've Got It!

We would like to extend a special tribute to the nearly 5 million 4-H members across the nation, especially those who encompass our immediate area, who are observing National 4-H Week, Oct. 2-8.

Throughout next week, members of America's largest out-of-school youth educational organization will celebrate their theme (4-H Building On Experience) with activities aimed at promoting individual growth and accomplishment, creativity, social responsibility and family involvement.

These leaders of tomorrow will emphasize their individual studies on livestock, plants and soils, leisure education, economics, communications, energy, ecology and natural resources and community development.

And this involvement, will undoubtedly, lend a helping hand to our society in the future. For that, we are grateful and proud.

Bravo Hereford, the best is yet to come!

A 'type A' person

DEAR DR. LAMB — I believe I am "one of those 'type A' personalities, highly motivated, almost to the point of being driven. I can't seem to get myself to relax. I work so hard I am harming myself physically. I am subject to muscle tension headaches. There are a lot of hostile feelings within me which I don't understand and which I don't control very well. Sometimes I snap people's heads off for no reason. Is this simply a case of lack of self-control or do I need to see a psychiatrist or a medical doctor? I've heard something about beta blockers. Would they help me and how can I get some? Are there any exercises or vitamins that might help to make life easier? DEAR READER — Some professional counseling might help. I am not fond of the so-called type A or type B classification. Certainly it has been shown to have little or no relation to heart disease. The things you do in relation to stress, though, can. By that I mean smoking, eating too much, failing to exercise because of excessive emotional and mental tasks. It is interesting that you asked about beta blockers. The best known of these is Inderal and they neutralize the effects of adrenaline, a stress hormone. And there are studies that claim that taking Inderal will convert a person from a type A "driven personality" to a more relaxed type B personality. You might well feel more comfortable if your doctor prescribed Inderal or another beta blocker. They are not sedatives or tranquilizers. Lifestyle does make a tremendous difference. You should avoid coffee, tea and colas. The caffeine has the opposite effect of the beta blockers. So does nicotine in cigarettes. You won't get any benefit from vitamins but a regular exercise program could be a means of helping you to relax. Read the measures I have suggested in Living With Stress, The Health Letter 20-12, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 44-year-old woman who has lost a lot of weight. I am 5-foot-7 and weighed 165 pounds. I'm healthy. I started losing weight two months

Weather hinders hunt for slayers

RUTHTON, Minn. (AP) — Police slogged through heavy fog today searching for suspects in the ambush killings of a bank president and a loan officer who were lured to a vacant overgrown farm which their bank had reposessed three years ago. Officials refused to say if they knew the identities of two men seen fleeing the farm in a 1978 white-pickup truck after the Thursday morning slayings. The truck's Texas license plate was traced to James L. Jenkins, the dairy farmer on whom the tiny Buffalo Ridge State Bank had foreclosed in October 1980. In Luverne, about 25 miles away, two men authorities believed to be the suspects used a check drawn on the account of a James Jenkins to buy 100 rounds of .30-caliber ammunition about five hours after the 9:10 a.m. killings, a gun dealer said. Neighbors said Jenkins had moved to Texas after the foreclosure but had recently returned and bought some land near Hardwick, about 30 miles south of Ruthton in southwestern Minnesota. Bulletins were issued in Wisconsin, Iowa and South Dakota, but Lincoln County Sheriff Abe Thompson said late Thursday there was "a good possibility they are still in Minnesota." He added that heavy rain and thick fog "are making it darn difficult to do much." The victims, 42-year-old Rudy Blythe and 37-year-old Deems "Toby" Thulin, were the only officers of the Buffalo Ridge Bank, which, according to Lincoln County Court records, had bought the farm in August 1981 after Jenkins filed for bankruptcy. Blythe, the bank's president, had gone to the two-story wood-frame farmhouse with his wife, Sue, after receiving a call Wednesday night from a man expressing interest in buying it. Thulin, the bank's vice president and loan officer, met them there. Noticing people hiding at the farm, Blythe sent his wife to get the sheriff from Ruthton, said Ruthton Mayor LeRoy Burch. Deputies hastened to the farm, which is posted with a "For Sale" sign, and found Blythe's body in a ditch and Thulin's body halfway out of a car. An off-duty, part-time police officer, who did not want his name used, said he had passed the farmhouse Thursday morning and saw two men, one wearing a stocking cap, leaving in a 1978 Chevrolet pickup. Shots were fired at a deputy as police chased the truck across the western Minnesota countryside. In Luverne, gun dealer Harvey Ball said two men whom Thompson identified as the suspects appeared calm as they asked for 100 rounds of ammunition. Ball said they told him they were hunting deer. "They were in no hurry. They just ambled out," Ball said. That was the last reported sighting Thursday. Residents of Ruthton, a town of about 300 people located 200 miles southwest of Minneapolis, were shocked. "Things like this just don't happen out here in the sticks," said dairy farmer Howard Swanson.

Island hoppers

The entire populations of the islands in the Caribbean are transplants. Three-fourths are at least partly descended from African slaves. The rest include direct descendants of European colonists, along with East Indians and Chinese who were shipped in as indentured laborers when slavery was abolished in the 19th century.

WHO AM I?

When did I start? I was just 8 years old. You need a lot of family support to become a young star. I grew up in Connecticut — weather was a problem. Not any more, though. Now I've got a chance to be No. 1.

the destruction that wasteth at noonday; A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come near thee." — Psalms 91:5-7
