For county offices

Section deleted requiring leave during campaign

Deaf Smith County Commissioners elected Monday to delete the section of the county personnel policy requiring county employees to take a leave of absence while running for a county office.

That action came in a regular meeting of the commission.

County Clerk David Ruland said he felt the policy was unfair. "I feel the way the policy read before, it would rule out some good qualified candidates," he said.

County Treasurer Vesta Mae Nunally echoed Ruland's remarks.

"Knowing the expense of campaigning, I feel it would eliminate experienced people who could not pay for a campaign if they were not working," she told the commission.

The change in the policy is set to go into effect in time for the next election.

In other business the commission decided to accept a bid from Motorola of Amarillo to purchase a new radio system for the county sheriff's office.

The cost for a new repeater station, a base station and a duplexer-antenna combiner will be $10,875.

Commissioners also accepted a bid from Stevens Chevrolet for three new vehicles for the sheriff's department.

The cost for the vehicles will be $29,951.

Sheriff Joe Brown said that three of the cars the department uses have over 100,000 miles on them.

Commissioners also elected to advertise for applications for a new County Veterans Service Officer.

At a previous meeting, commissioners elected to dissolve the office because they felt it was not servicing the county. In Monday's meeting, veterans from throughout the county asked the commissioners to re-instate the office.

Commissioners unanimously elected to re-instate the office.

Commissioners also elected to advertise for bids for voting machines for the county.

Members of the Texas Migrant Council were slated on the agenda to discuss a possible change in the rates to rent the Bull Barn, but no representative was at the meeting.

Herd football players hoist high the Class 4A quarter-finals trophy they earned Saturday in Kimbrough Stadium at Canyon. The win advances the team a semi-final contest against McKinney in Texas Stadium at Dallas next Saturday. For the story of how the Hereford High Whitefaces defeated the Wichita Falls Hirschi Huskies, see Page 5 of today's Brand. Photos of the game are on Page 6-7.

Semifinals tickets on sale at Troy's

Tickets for the Hereford Whitefaces' state semifinal football game at Texas Stadium Saturday night were scheduled to go on sale at 2 p.m. today at Troy's Sweet Shop.

Hereford will be playing McKinney's Lions for one of the semifinal crowns and the right to advance to the state finals the following week. The game is set to start at 8 p.m. Saturday in Texas Stadium at Irving.

Advance tickets are priced at $6 for adults and $3 for students. All tickets at the gate will be $7 each.

The team will take a chartered plane to the game, it was announced this morning. It will leave Amarillo at 1:30 p.m. Saturday and return about 1 p.m. Sunday morning. Approximately 50 seats were to go on sale to the public this afternoon but word got out about the extra seats and only five were left at 11:30 this morning.

Chartered busses are being arranged for fans by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The busses will leave Hereford at 10 a.m.

Saturday and return to Hereford after the game. Reservations can be made by calling the chamber office at 364-3333. Seats are $42 each for the round trip. Reservations were being taken on a third bus this morning.

School officials reported that the band and junior varsity players will be going on chartered busses. They will leave at 7 a.m. Saturday and eat lunch in Vernon. These busses will also start the trip back Saturday night after the game.

Many fans will be going by car and plane. At last report there were no commercial flights back Saturday night after 10:30 p.m. Many fans will probably spend the night in Irving or Dallas Saturday night. Some are making plans to attend the Dallas Cowboy game Sunday against Philadelphia.

In connection with the football activities, Hereford Cablevision announced Monday that a video of the Hereford-Hirschi game last Saturday will be shown at 7 p.m. each day this week, at least through Thursday.

About Iran-Contra issue

Poindexter declines to answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. John Poindexter, President Reagan's former national security adviser, cited his Fifth Amendment rights today and "regretfully and respectfully" declined to answer questions before a House committee about the administration's secret arms sales to Iran and diversion of profits to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

"On the advice of my attorneys I must decline to answer that question

... because of my constitutional rights," Poindexter replied when the House Foreign Affairs Committee chairman, Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., sought to question him about his knowledge of what has become the administration's worst crisis.

Both Poindexter and his attorney, Richard W. Beckler, emphasized that the former national security aide would "cooperate with this committee" at an appropriate time.

"For the past 33 years I have faithfully supported the Constitution of the United States, and have served my country and my commander-in-chief and will continue to do so," Poindexter told the panel.

Said Beckler: "We are not asking anybody for immunity at this time."

Both Poindexter and Lt. Col. Oliver North refused to answer questions in closed testimony last week before the Senate Intelligence Committee.

Poindexter was treated courteously by the committee, although Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., said "it does distress me" that Poindexter was invoking his Fifth Amendment privilege. Hamilton said a "quick check" with the Library of Congress indicated that Poindexter's appearance marked the first time in history that an active duty admiral has taken the Fifth Amendment in an appearance before a congressional committee.

Poindexter reminded the committee that he had requested a postponement in his testimony. Barring that, he said, "I would respectfully and regretfully decline on advise of counsel" to respond to questions on the affair.

Attorney General Edwin Meese III has said Poindexter knew at least something of the Iran-Contra connection.

FFA team third in state

The Senior Chapter Conducting Team of the Hereford High Future Farmers of America won third place in the state FFA contest Saturday in Huntsville.

Hereford's team represented one of 10 regions among 948 chapters in the state at the contest. It was the first time since 1966 that a Hereford conducting (parliamentary procedure) team has gone to state contest.

On the team were Chris Urbanczyk, Rickie Vogel, Dale West, Heath Bell, Wes Rudd, Jeff Hicks, and Cami Struve.

Brand taking Santa letters

The Hereford Brand is collecting letters for Santa Claus from area children through Wednesday, Dec. 17, for publication in the Christmas edition of the newspaper.

Mr. Claus has asked The Brand to help collect the letters, which will later be forwarded to his secret address at the North Pole. Letters may be mailed to Santa c/o The Brand, P.O. Box 673, Hereford, 79045; or may be deposited in the night drop at the front door of The Brand offices, 313 N. Lee.

School board meets today

Hereford school board members will meet at 6 p.m. today for a regular monthly meeting in the administration building.

Agenda items include a complaint against an employee, purchase of a van, an audit approval, appointment to the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board, private lessons for band students, and policy considerations on use of a drug dog, career ladder, and elementary class parties.

Mrs. Foster wins contest

There were 60 correct entrants in the contest, and Mrs. Foster's name was drawn as the winner of $25 in Hereford Bucks. The photo of Bell was from The Brand files when he was dressed up as Uncle Sam.

The photo puzzle game continues this week. Pieces of the puzzle are published Sunday through Friday, and the idea is clip the pieces, put them together to form a picture of the mystery guest, and submit the entry to the newspaper. The official entry form in each Friday's paper must accompany the puzzle entry.

All the correct entries each week are placed in a box and the winner determined in a random drawing. Join in the fun; watch for the puzzle pieces and paste them in correct order on a sheet of paper. Be sure to write the name of the mystery guest on the entry, and turn into The Brand office by noon Monday.

Police arrest 2

The Hereford Police Department arrested two individuals Monday.

One arrest was made on a 22-year-old female for public intoxication, harrassment, and disorderly conduct. The other arrest was made on a 27-year-old female for speeding, no liability, and running a red light.

Police also investigated reports of criminal mischief in the 700 block of Knight, harrassing phone calls in the 400 block of Ave. G, criminal mischief at the Hereford Country Club, burglary from a vehicle in the 500 block of South 25 Mile Ave., and criminal mischief in the 100 block of Ranger.

Police also arrested four individuals during the past weekend. One arrest was made on a 35-year-old male for theft of beer and public intoxication. Another arrest was made on a 22-year-old male for no liability insurance, other arrests were made for public intoxication and warrants.

Police heard reports during the weekend of burglary of a residence in the 200 block of Blevins, the theft of a coat in the 700 block of Ave. G, disorderly conduct in the 800 block of East Park, a suspicious person at Austin Road and South Main, a bike theft in the 100 block of Ranger, assault by threat in the 600 block of Ave. K, theft of beer from a convenience store, a family problem in the 300 block of Roosevelt, a domestic disturbance in the 300 block of Ave. H, harrassing phone calls, and a juvenile problem in the 200 block of Irving.

The Harris Rating System has McKinney as a 7-point favorite over Hereford for Saturday night's semifinal Class 4A contest. The rankings don't mean much, but they are interesting for fans and teams to read about.

For example, the final week of regular play saw Hereford as the No. 20 team in the Harris system. This week, the Herd had moved up to No. 5.

The final Associated Press rankings, published in the final regular week of play, had the four remaining teams in the top 10 but not among the top four. McKinney was listed in 5th place in that ranking, while West Orange-Stark was 7th, Hereford 8th, and New Braunfels 9th.

Students making higher exam scores

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas high school juniors are making better scores on the exit exams that are required to get a high school diploma, the Texas Education Agency said Monday.

Eighty-nine percent of the approximately 184,000 juniors who took the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills test in October 1986 passed the math section, compared with 88 percent in October 1985, the TEA said. Eighty-seven percent passed the English language arts section, compared with 91 percent last year.

"We are extremely pleased with the October 1986 results of the TEAMS exit level test," said Commissioner William Kirby. "The results show higher average scores along with a stable passing rate on a more demanding test, which in turn indicates that the academic improvement initiated by House Bill 72 are reaping results in student achievement."

House Bill 72, the school reform bills passed in 1984, requires students to pass a basic skills test in math and English in order to receive a diploma. School districts must provide remediation to students to fail either or both sections of the test.

The test is administered for the first time when student are in the 11th grade. Student have at least four opportunities to pass the test.

GOP governors meet with Nixon

PARSIPPANY, N.J. (AP) — Republican governors, assured by a top aide to President Reagan that the Iran-Contra affair will not become another Watergate, are getting Richard M. Nixon's view of the new controversy.

Nixon, forced to resign the presidency in 1974 by the Watergate scandal, was sitting down with the governors in closed session today to discuss foreign policy.

Shortly after their session with Nixon, many of the governors planned to fly to Washington for a meeting with President Reagan.

Mitchell Daniels, presidential assistant for political affairs, told the governors Monday they should feel free to ask Reagan about the Iran-Contra controversy "if you so choose."

In a reference to Watergate, Daniels said, "Many Americans are troubled that we may relive the events of 1974, that somehow this nightmare hassle will return. It's not going to happen."

Daniels assured the governors: "There will be no coverup."

The session with Nixon, who lives in Saddle River, was arranged before the disclosures of the secret arms sales to Iran and the funneling of money to the Contra forces fighting to overthrow the leftist government of Nicaragua.

Frank J. Fahrenkopf Jr., chairman of the Republican National Committee, said the meeting was arranged by the Republican Governors Association.

Gov. John Sununu of New Hampshire, chairman of the association, said Nixon could "give the governors insight into what we might be expecting in the next few months... I think it's a good opportunity to hear from somebody who was there and probably wishes he had a chance to do it over again."

Squabble over dogs leaves six dead

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A man who had threatened to "do some shooting" if he didn't get his dog back from his ex-girlfriend walked through her house with another woman and "executed" six sleeping people, police and neighbors say.

"The motive would appear to be so senseless and trivial that most of us couldn't even understand it," homicide Lt. Richard Brierly said Monday.

David E. Welch, 28, and Rita Mae Lewis, 29, were arrested less than nine hours after the shootings Monday following a standoff with police at another house in south Oakland. Brierly said they would be charged today.

"It looks like they just walked through the house and murdered people," said Brierly. "These people were executed. They didn't have a chance to defend themselves at all."

Authorities did not immediately identify the victims, but the San Francisco Chronicle reported today that one was Welch's 16-year-old ex-girlfriend.

Leslie Morgan, 21, and 3-month-old Dexter Welch were wounded and were hospitalized in stable condition, authorities said. Dexter is the son of David Welch, and Morgan was an old boyfriend whom Welch's ex-girlfriend had returned to, the Chronicle said.

Relatives and neighbors said Welch had been feuding with residents of the house since one of two pit bulldogs disappeared while in their care last week.

India death toll reaches 16

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Karnataka state was wracked by Moslem rioting and arson today, and one rioter was shot to death by police, the government's All-India Radio reported.

At least 16 people have died since Sunday from police gunfire in violent Moslem protests over an article in the largest English-language newspaper in the southern state.

The newscast said a curfew was extended in the ancient city of Mysore and a ban on public assembly imposed in other parts of the state, with a heavy police presence in many cities. Rock-throwing flared again this morning in Mysore and the state capital, Bangalore, the United News of India reported.

The government radio said Moslem violence spread today to the town of Tumkur, northeast of Bangalore, and one person was killed when riot police opened fire to scatter rampaging mobs. The rioters tried to set fire to public property, it said.

The broadcast said 76 people were arrested on rioting charges Tuesday in Mysore, raising the total number of arrests in the state to more than 175.

India's chief law enforcement official, Home Minister Buta Singh, appealed in Parliament on Monday night for people to remain calm.

The first violence started when thousands of Moslems walked in processions Sunday in Bangalore to protest a fiction story in the English-language Deccan Herald, which they claimed insulted the prophet Mohammed.

The story, entitled "Mohammed the Idiot," was about a mentally retarded, deaf mute named Mohammed who committed suicide. Moslem community leaders said it made derogatory references to the prophet Mohammed, founder of Islam.

Aquino to settle weapons dispute

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Rebels today called on President Corazon Aquino to settle a dispute over their right to carry weapons during a planned cease-fire, saying her intervention would "make or break" the accord.

The dispute centers around statements by the military that it reserves the right to arrest members of the communist New People's Army seen brandishing weapons in populated areas during the 60-day truce, scheduled to take effect at noon Wednesday.

Officials of the Communist-dominated National Democratic Front, which signed the pact with the government Nov. 27, say the agreement does not require the rebels to surrender their arms.

Animals make great gifts

By JOAN GOESSL, Associated Press Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Last year, Mary Palmer bought her friends some bees and part of a pig for Christmas. This year she's buying her 6-year-old nephew a rabbit.

But don't get the wrong idea. Palmer doesn't tie a red bow around the animals' necks and deliver scampering bunnies and squealing pigs to her friends and relatives at Christmastime.

Hers actually is a gift of food for destitute families in Third World countries, given in the name of those friends and relatives who might otherwise receive a gift they can't use or don't like.

For the past couple of years, the Albuquerque woman has been participating in Heifer Project International, a worldwide ecumenical organization that provides a variety of food-producing livestock — and training in their care — to needy families. The animals enable those families to produce food and income for themselves and to help their neighbors through sharing.

Palmer and thousands of others throughout the United States contribute money to the project, which supplies the animals to developing countries throughout the world.

"I think I do it just for the self-help, that it helps other people," Palmer said. "My nephew's already got a lot of toys and it's a good way to teach him that Christmas is a sharing time."

The friends, a retired minister and his wife, in whose name Palmer gave the bees and a share in the pig last year, said they couldn't have been happier with their gift.

"I didn't have a lot of money to spend on a gift," Palmer said. "I wanted to give them something and I knew they'd appreciate the fact that it goes to help other people. They were very pleased that I chose that way to show that I care about them."

On a recent Saturday, Palmer was working as a volunteer at an "Alternative Christmas Fair," an annual church project that stands apart from traditional holiday arts and crafts fairs.

This fair featured the Heifer Project and another project called "SELFHELP Crafts," a marketing outlet for skilled craftspeople from developing countries around the world. Baskets from the Philippines, brass candlesticks from India and carved wooden Nativity sets from the West Bank join the locally made afghans, mittens and knitted tissue holders.

Proceeds from SELFHELP Crafts, a worldwide organization run primarily by volunteers under the auspices of the Mennonite Central Committee, are channeled back to the producers, helping them earn a living through their traditional crafts.

Proceeds from the locally made items and the fair's bake sale go to the Heifer Project.

The Alternative Fair was sponsored by three Albuquerque churches — La Mesa Presbyterian; the Albuquerque Friends Church; a Quaker group; and Sandia Brethren in Christ, a Mennonite group.

The Rev. Howard Paul, pastor at La Mesa, said the Heifer Project helps people in developing nations improve their livestock and improve their economic clout. Some animals also have been given to farmers in this country, in states including Mississippi and Alabama, he said.

This year, Paul and his wife bought a share in a heifer to give in the name of Paul's late brother-in-law, a Virginia heifer farmer who died last fall.

"The sentimental thing is I used to live overseas in Colombia and I could see the delivery system at work," Paul said. "I could see the benefit of having a brood sow or animals that grow well in a small part of land. They could produce meat and also income for the family."

On the Heifer Project's "shopping list for the world" 50 cents will buy a chicken; $20 will buy a flock of 40. Bees can be purchased for $20 a colony or $2 per share. A heifer costs $750 or $15 a share; a rabbit $15 or $1 a share. Goats, sheep and pigs all can be purchased for $100 or $5 per share.

People buying the animals as presents receive gift cards that can be sent to friends or relatives informing them that "a gift of (fill in the blank) has been sent in your honor through Heifer Project International to help a needy family help themselves."

According to a project flier, livestock in developing regions "can convert otherwise wasted forage from marginal land into much-needed protein without competing with humans for cereal grains." The project supplies animals of superior genetic quality that are capable of producing more food than native animals from the available resources, the flier said.

Gretchen Geller of Albuquerque, who attended the fair, bought 10 chicks in the names of some of her family members.

"I guess I just like the idea of doing this," she said. "I get a little distracted with the old economic number done at Christmastime."

Girlstown Donation Made

Nolan Grady, left, a director of Girlstown in Whiteface, accepts a $500 check from Whiteface Morning Kiwanis president Harold Wheeler. The Kiwanis donation, presented in Friday's meeting, is from funds collected from popcorn sales and the fireworks stand last summer. Wheeler said that since Hereford does have some girls in Girlstown, his club was proud to be a part of the project.

Study says teen-age pregnancy must be aggressively attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teen-age sex, which results in a million pregnancies a year, must be countered with aggressive sex education programs and "diligent contraceptive use" to reduce births and abortions among the nation's youth, said a study released today.

An expert panel assembled by the National Research Council, following a two-year study of teen-age pregnancy, said "the highest priority" must be given to pregnancy prevention — including widespread distribution of birth control devices to youths.

There is little evidence that existing efforts to discourage teenagers from engaging in sex are effective and no convincing data that the availability of contraceptive services encourages early sex, the panel said.

"The panel believes that the major strategy for reducing early unintended pregnancy must be the encouragement of diligent contracptive use by all sexually active teenagers," concluded the 337-page report from the research council.

Accordingly, the panel said birth control pills are the best contraceptives for young women and should be encouraged for the sexually active. It also endorsed the widespread distribution of condoms at low cost where teen-age boys congregate.

The study said about one million teen-age American girls become pregnant each year, with 470,000 giving birth and 400,000 obtaining abortions. About half the mothers are younger than 18 years of age.

This teen pregnancy rate is higher in the United States than other industrialized countries, even though the ages of starting sex and levels of sexual activity are comparable, the report said.

Priority must be given to stopping these pregnancies through sex education and contraception, followed by programs to encourage youths to delay sexual initiation and assume more responsibility for their actions, the report said.

Although prevention through abstinence or contraception is far technical issues for the federal government and others.

The report noted that the problem of adolescent pregnancy and childbearing is a controversial matter of national concern that stirs "so many deep-seated emotions and convictions."

Many of the recommendations of the panel, based on new analyses of existing data and information gathered from workshops and meetings with those concerned with the problem, previously have been hotly debated.

The panel said the problem is so large and the reasons behind teenage sexuality so diverse, that no single approach can solve it. Different programs supported by government, business, religious groups, foundations and others are required, it said.

The report said it is mainly the responsibility of families to teach human values and appropriate behavior to children. But it said private and public institutions, including government, should supplement this role.

preferable to unintended pregnancy, the legal options of abortion or adoption should be available to a young woman unable or unwilling to bear a child, the report said.

There is no scientific basis for restricting the availability of abortions to teen-agers, said the panel, adding that "minor adolescents should be encouraged, but not required, to involve their parents and partners in the decision-making process."

The panel also said society must avoid treating teen pregnancy as a problem solely of girls. The attitudes, motivations and behavior of boys are central to the problem and must get more attention, it said.

The study, supported by five major philanthropic foundations, was conducted by a 15-member panel of doctors, social scientists and public health experts chaired by Dr. Daniel D. Federman of Harvard Medical School.

The National Research Council is the research arm of the National Academy of Sciences, an independent, federally-chartered study organization which investigates

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is nearing retirement age. He is a good man, esteemed and admired by all who know him.

Recently I came home from a meeting and noticed him standing in the backyard wearing only his socks. I was stunned. When I asked why in the world he was undressed he said it was more comfortable.

My question is this: If someone happened to see him in our yard without any clothes on, would he be subject to arrest? I know that exposing oneself in public is against the law, but is one's yard considered a public place?

Please don't tell me to take him to a counselor unless you are willing to come to Cincinnati and help me drag him there.—WORRIED WIFE

DEAR WIFE: A while back I printed a letter about a woman who paid the paper boy while wrapped in a teeny-weeny face towel. She was in the doorway of her own home. My consultant said she might be arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a minor if she made gestures or behaved in a way that suggested she was trying to seduce the lad.

If your husband was standing in his yard wearing only his socks we would have to know if he was behind the shrubbery and a few other details. Meanwhile, I hope you will take him to a neurologist. The man may have an organic problem. (Sorry I'm too busy to go to Cincinnati and help you drag him there.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm writing to you because you reach millions of people and because I believe you are sympathetic to this cause.

With the holiday shopping season approaching, I'd like to address the issue of war toys, also called "action or fantasy figures." The sales of these toys have increased dramatically in the last two years. Studies have shown that playing with these toys increases the tendency toward anger and violence in normal children.

War characters are cross-promoted by TV cartoons that are extraordinarily violent. The underlying message is that all opponents must be destroyed. It has been documented that youngsters display aggressive, anti-social behavior after watching these shows.

These fierce creatures are also featured in comic books, on lunch boxes, bedsheets, T-shirts and cereal boxes. One popular character is advertised as follows: "Peace through tyranny... combines brute strength, ruthlessness, and terror... Out to destroy the earth."

Play prepares kids for adulthood. As dolls teach parenting, guns teach killing. Adults must serve as anti-war, nonviolent models and help our children explore alternatives to the militarist environment they face every day.

Please, folks, buy playthings that are creative, peaceful and non-competitive. Let us give our children the good gifts of peace, love, unity and friendship.—M.B. IN MARQUETTE, MICH.

DEAR MARQUETTE: Amen. I couldn't have said it better myself.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was appalled by the responses you received from readers critical of your defense of the handicapped woman in the restaurant. I was especially offended by the Mississippi reader who believes handicapped people are not normal.

She described herself as "a picky eater with a queasy stomach." Since this is not the state of healthy person, maybe SHE is the one who shouldn't go to restaurants.—C.H. IN INDIANA

DEAR IND: Several readers suggested another place for her to go. Thanks for writing.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. Clark, Hutson give Christmas program

Members of Hereford Garden Club met recently for a Christmas program in the home of Lois Lemons, 148 Oak, with Jerry Jackson serving as co-hostesses.

Leatrus Clark and Bea Hutson read from a book of poetry entitled "Woman of the Bible" written by Mildred Croftree Spier, Paula Bledsoe Britt and Margaret Firth Eagland Scott.

Some of the poetry read by Clark included "Eve's Verson", "Journey to Jerusalem", "Where Jesus Walked" and "Mother of Judas." Appropriate scriptures were read by Hutson.

Corene Smith opened the meeting by reading the club collect. Lois Nominations for the Women's Division Woman of the Year are being accepted by members of a secret committee. The deadline for submitting names is Friday.

Non-members, as well as members of the women's Division, may submit names to the Chamber of Commerce office. The nominee must be a member of the organization and her qualifications must be listed.

The recipient of the coveted award will be named during the Woman's Division's quarterly meeting Jan. 6, 1987.

Past recipients of the award are Lajeane Henry, Mary Herring, Margaret Formby, Carroll Ann Simmons, Leatrus Clark, Georgia Sparks, Virginia Adams, Susie McGee, Sherry Hoover, Inez Albright, Lavon Nieman, Wynell Robinson, Violet Reinauer, Katherine Kester and Irene McKinster.

Garden club meets at Cowgirl Hall of Fame

Members of Garden Beautiful Club welcomed the Christmas season with a coffee Friday in the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

Serving as hostesses were Ina Mae Gilbreath and Inez Witherspoon. They were assisted by members of the yearbook committee: Marguerite Newell, Helen Spinks, Rosalee Gilbreath and Hilda Haven. Other club members greeted guests. Members toured the Hall of Fame which was decorated for the Christmas holidays.

The 70 guests present at the reception were served sandwiches, cookies and drinks from a table covered with a Christmas tablecloth and decorated with a centerpiece of reindeer and Christmas greenery.

The next meeting of the club is planned Jan. 2, 1987 with Nadine Hill and Audine Dettmann as hostesses. The program will be Scherenschnitt given by Kim Moore.

BUOYANT WOMEN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Women are more buoyant in water than men, because women have less muscle fiber. Men actually work much harder when they swim.

Most men have to breathe every stroke, while most women breathe every third stroke. This tends to slow men down, but their greater power usually enables them to turn in faster times when they are racing than women.

DR. GOTT Unusual disease affects appetite

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — At 22, after a lifetime of searching, my daughter was told she had Prader-Willi Syndrome. Few doctors are knowledgeable about this disease. What can you tell us about it?

DEAR READER — Prader-Willi syndrome is an unusual disease marked by lack of muscle tone, mental retardation and a phenomenal appetite. Children with the condition literally will eat everything in sight. It's not unusual for them to clean out the refrigerator in one sitting unless parents have padlocked the door. The cause is thought to be a lack of hormones from the pituitary gland or a malfunction of the brain's appetite center. Mild diabetes often accompanies the syndrome. The biochemical cause of Prader-Willi disease may be due to a chromosomal abnormality. The disease usually occurs sporadically, but familial cases have been reported.

DEAR DR. GOTT — On my package of K-Lyte there is a warning that in cases of hyperkalemia, it could cause cardiac arrest. What is hyperkalemia?

DEAR READER — Hyperkalemia is too much potassium in the bloodstream. Excess potassium causes nausea, diarrhea, muscle weakness and a form of heart stoppage called ventricular fibrillation. The product you are taking contains potassium, hence the warning about overdose.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have had glaucoma for 30 years. I was able to keep the pressure down using a variety of drops until last year, when I had laser treatments. Now the pressure is up again. Should I have another laser treatment or should I try more drops? My doctor is so busy that I've had to tell him about the new drops available.

DEAR READER — I don't know whether you are a candidate for further laser therapy or if you will need to take medicine. One way or another, the eye pressure must be kept down. An ophthalmologist can help you decide which type of treatment to use. Find one who is not too busy to give your eyes the attention they need.

Lose other two games in Clayton tourney

HHS girls beat Des Moines

The Hereford High School varsity girls' basketball team beat Des Moines 56-42 in the first-round of the Clayton Tournament last Thursday, but lost close games to Clayton and Dumas Friday and Saturday.

Hereford was edged by Clayton 44-42, and in the third place game, the Whitefaces fell to Dumas 38-34.

Hereford, which is 5-7 for the season, opens District 1-4A play tonight at Levelland. The Hereford varsity and junior varsity girls' teams will play today, with the first game at 6 p.m.

On Friday, Hereford plays at Borger, with the first game at 7 p.m. "District 1-4A will be a tough district," said Hereford Coach Larry Sowers, noting that Levelland beat Plainview 50-16 last weekend in the championship game of the Plainview Tournament.

"We've lost a lot of close games in our first 12 games. Our kids got a lot of valuable playing experience," Sowers continues.

"We accomplished what we wanted to, pretty well. Five-and-seven is not too good a record, but five of those losses were by six points or less.

"We've been real competitive and have learned a lot. I think we'll compete well with most teams in our district, hopefully. The only thing that would scare us would be getting too down against the top teams in the district," he adds.

When this week is over, Hereford will have played just two home games in its first 14 contests.

Three Hereford players scored in double figures to lead their team to the 56-42 win over Des Moines. Carmen Brockman led the way with 17 points, Katie Ramey scored 12 points, and Jeanette Mumau added 11 points.

Other scorers included Susie Kalka with seven points, and Amy Coneway with six points.

Brockman led Hereford in rebounds with 11, and Coneway grabbed nine rebounds. Hereford had a team total of 33 rebounds.

Assists were recorded for 18 of Hereford's 22 field goals made. Kalka led with seven assists, and Coneway and Mumau each had five assists.

Hereford had 14 steals as a team, led by Coneway with six.

In the 44-42 loss to Clayton, Brockman was high scorer with 10 points. Tricia Kahlich scored eight points, and Kalka, Mumau, and Brandi Binder each scored six points.

Other statistical leaders included Brockman with nine rebounds, Binder with six rebounds, Coneway with five assists and five rebounds, and Kalka with four assists and three rebounds.

Brockman and Binder combined for 26 points against Dumas, but the rest of the team combined for only eight points as Hereford lost to Dumas 38-34.

Binder scored 16 points, and also had four rebounds. Brockman led Hereford with nine rebounds, and scored 10 points. Kalka led the team in assists with five.

In Amarillo basketball tourney

Herd suffers three defeats

Hereford High School's varsity basketball team had a tough time last week in the Amarillo Invitational Tournament, suffering three straight defeats.

The Whitefaces lost to El Paso Jefferson 54-47 on Friday, and lost to Lubbock Dunbar 58-49 and to the Palo Duro junior varsity 69-64 on Saturday. The tournament was held at the Palo Duro High School gym.

The losses dropped Hereford to a 2-7 season record. Hereford plays at home tonight at 7:45 p.m. Before the varsity game, a junior varsity game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

In the 54-47 loss to El Paso Jefferson, David Manchee led Hereford with 13 points, and Kent Walterscheid, Brad Smith, and Kevin Hansen each scored eight points.

Leaders in other statistical categories for the Whitefaces were Hansen with eight rebounds, Todd Weaver with four assists, and Walterscheid with six steals.

Hansen, Manchee and Weaver each had five steals, and Walterscheid had five rebounds.

The score was tied at the end of both the first and second quarters, including 22-22 at halftime, but El Paso Jefferson outscored Hereford 16-6 in the third quarter.

Hansen scored 18 points to lead Hereford in the 58-49 loss to Lubbock Dunbar. Manchee, Smith, and Walterscheid each totaled six points.

Hereford held a 32-31 halftime lead, but Dunbar moved ahead 48-41 in the third quarter.

Four Whiteface players scored in double figures against the Palo Duro junior varsity, but it was not enough, and Palo Duro won the game 69-64.

Hansen led the way for Hereford with 19 points, Weaver scored 12 points, and Manchee and Bobby Robbins each scored 10 points.

Hereford trailed Palo Duro 51-38 after three quarters of play, and outscored Palo Duro 26-18 in the fourth quarter. Hansen and Robbins each scored six points in the fourth quarter, and Weaver and Smith each scored five points in that quarter.

HEREFORD (vs. El Paso Jefferson): David Manchee 5-9 3-3 13; Brad Smith 4-5 0-0 8; Kevin Hansen 3-8 2-2 8; Kent Walterscheid 2-5 0-4 8; Todd Weaver 2-4 2-4 6; John Mark Streum 1-1 0-0 2; Cody Davis 1-3 0-0 2. Totals: 18-37 11-13 47.

Whitefaces defeat Hirschi 17-12 in quarterfinals

Herd advances to state 4A grid semifinals

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

CANYON -- The Hereford Whitefaces got off to a quick offensive start, and staged a great defensive effort to defeat the Wichita Falls Hirschi Huskies 17-12 in a state class 4A quarterfinal battle Saturday at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

The victory puts the Herd in the state semifinals against the McKinney Lions on Saturday. The game will be played at 8 p.m. at Texas Stadium in Irving.

Last Saturday's game was a marked difference from Hereford's two playoff games. Hereford scored two first half touchdowns and then led 17-0 in the fourth quarter.

In the 26-17 bi-district win over Big Spring, Hereford was behind 17-7 going into the fourth quarter. And against Cleburne, Hereford trailed the Yellowjackets 7-6 before a miracle finish with a field goal with two seconds left gave the Whitefaces a 9-7 victory.

The win over Hirschi also was the best overall team effort of the season, in the mind of Herd Coach Don Cumpton.

"We were ahead for a change. We didn't have to come from behind. That was nice," Cumpton said.

"We played well, both offensively and defensively and also with our kicking game -- our best game of the season," he adds.

The Herd's defensive effort was certainly one of the best of the season, according to statistics.

Hereford allowed Hirschi only 52 yards rushing, the fewest allowed this season. The previous best of the year was allowing Clovis 65 yards.

Hirschi recorded only 10 first downs in the game. Hereford's best defensive efforts against opponents as far as first downs are concerned were nine versus Andrews and 10 versus Frenship before Saturday's game.

Also, Hirschi had just three first downs rushing, the fewest the Herd has allowed in one game this year. The previous best was limiting Clovis to four first downs rushing.

Two other statistics also bring out the great defense of the day -- defense in the opponents' first down and third down plays. Hirschi averaged 3.7 yards per game in first down plays, the sixth time this season that the Whitefaces kept opponents under four yards per first down.

In 13 first down plays, Hirschi was able to get first downs just four times. That was the fourth best defense in third down plays this year for the Whitefaces. In seven of the 13 games, Herd opponents have achieved first downs in fewer than half of their third down plays.

The Herd defense was led by linebacker Michael Phibbs with 12 tackles, and by defensive end Richard Castillo with nine tackles.

Defensive end Derrell Page had seven tackles, strong safety Ricky Ruiz six tackles, and three others each had five tackles -- defensive tackle Lee Young, linebacker Bobby Medina, and defensive end Kyle Streun.

Phibbs and Medina each sacked Hirschi quarterback Keith Stevenson twice, and Castillo and Page each sacked Stevenson once.

The game began as a defensive battle, with no more than one first down recorded in the first three possessions of the game -- two by Hirschi and one by Hereford.

The Whitefaces began their second possession at their own 13-yard line. A 16-yard gain by Vincent Brown and a seven-yard gain by Mark Artho got the Herd into good field position.

In two straight third down plays, the Whitefaces converted for a first down after the officials had to call for a measurement. The last of those measurements was at the Hereford 49-yard line.

Hereford needed seven more plays to get the ball into the end zone. Big plays leading up to the touchdown were an 11-yard run by Artho, a 12-yard pass from Todd Shire to Chris Johnson, and then Vincent Brown's eight-yard run to the 17.

Shire then found Kyle Streun in the end zone for a touchdown pass with six seconds left in the first quarter. Tim Long's point-after kick made Hereford's lead 7-0.

Hirschi began the second quarter at its own 22. Later, in a second-and-eight play at the Huskies' 35, Bobby Medina of the Herd sacked quarterback Keith Stevenson for a five-yard loss.

A pass fell incomplete in the third down play, and the Huskies were forced to punt.

Starting at their 44, the Whitefaces marched to the end zone in six plays.

overcoming a loss in yardage when a holding penalty was called.

Shire arched a pass out to receiver Bobby Baker who was heading down the right sidelines. Baker caught the pass and raced to the end zone for a 38-yard scoring play with 7:09 left in the first half.

Long's PAT put Hereford's lead at 14-0.

Hirschi's Daryle Gould returned the kickoff 39 yards to the Hereford 47-yard line. A seven-yard pass completion and a 17-yard run gave Hirschi a first down at the Hereford 21.

An incomplete pass, a two-yard gain, and another incomplete pass left the Huskies with a fourth-and-eighth.

Hirschi decided to try for a first down in the fourth down play, but Michael Phibbs of the Whiteface thwarted that attempt, sacking the quarterback for a 13-yard loss.

But two plays later, Hirschi had possession of the ball again -- at the Huskies' 42-yard line -- after Fred Simpson intercepted a Hereford pass.

The Huskies moved to the Hereford 24-yard line where they were once again faced with a fourth down, this time with just one yard to go for a first down. Hirschi failed again to get a first down in a fourth down play, when a pass was incomplete because it was caught out of bounds.

The second half began in a similar way as the first half started. Neither team could get a first down in its first two possessions.

In Hirschi's second possession of the half, the Huskies surprisingly went for a first down in a fourth-and-20 play from their own 43. Just before that play, the Herd's Richard Castillo sacked the Hirschi quarterback for a five-yard loss.

Hirschi attempted a long pass in trying for a first down. Hereford cornerback Robby Collier intercepted the pass at the Hereford 11-yard line.

HHS sophomores lose games in Pampa tourney

Hereford High School's sophomore boys' basketball team lost a pair of games in the Pampa tournament last week.

Hereford lost by four points to the Borger sophomores, 69-65, on Thursday, and then lost another close game, 44-41, to the Dumas sophomores on Friday.

The HHS sophomores play Clovis today in Hereford at 6 p.m., and then will play at Dimmitt Friday at 6:15 p.m. against the Dimmitt junior varsity.

Adolfo Martinez led Hereford in scoring in both contests. Martinez totaled 26 points against Borger and had 24 points against Dumas.

Hereford fell behind Borger 39-21 in the first half and trailed 56-36 going into the final quarter.

Martinez scored 14 points in the fourth quarter, and Brent Cumpton scored six points, as Hereford outscored Borger 29-13 in the period, but it was not enough and Borger held on for a 69-65 win over Hereford.

Hud Edwards scored nine points for Hereford, and Cumpton and Moses Casas each scored eight points.

HEREFORD: Adolfo Martinez 12 2-2 26; Hud Edwards 4 1-4 9; Moses Casas 3 2-2 8; Brent Cumpton 4 0-2 8; Jeff Farr 2 1-2 5; Nick Kendall 2 0-0 4; Jared Victor 1 0-0 2; Carl DeLozier 1 0-0 2; Paul Kuper 0 1-2 1. Totals: 29-74 65.
Hereford 6 15 15 29-65
Borger 18 21 17 55-69

with 4:28 left in the third period. It was Collier's 10th interception of the year.

Soon thereafter, Hirschi had another golden opportunity to score after the Huskies blocked a Hereford punt and gained possession of the ball at the Hereford 23-yard line, with 2:06 left in the third quarter.

Hirschi gained two yards in its first down play, and then Ronnie Herron lost five yards in a rushing attempt. A 12-yard pass from Stevenson to Gould left the Huskies with a fourth-and-one at the Hereford 14.

Herd linebacker Medina tackled Hirschi running back Dwayne Bowman for a one-yard loss in the fourth down play, and the Huskies were still scoreless.

Hereford went into a conservative offensive game plan in the fourth quarter, chewing up about half of the period before Mark Artho kicked a 27-yard field goal with 6:08 left.

Suddenly the Hirschi offensive machine began rolling with a flurry. A 29-yard pass completion, followed by a 41-yard touchdown pass with 4:37 left in the game was the first of three scores that the Huskies needed to tie or win.

The touchdown pass was caught by Herron after he had momentarily juggled the ball. Hirschi tried for two points after the touchdown, but failed to get the ball into the end zone in a rushing attempt.

Hereford failed to get a first down, and in Hirschi's punt return, a personal foul against the Whitefaces put the ball at the Hereford 38.

A Hirschi pass went incomplete in the first down play, but in the second down play, Stevenson found Gould for a 38-yard touchdown pass with two minutes left in the contest.

This time the Huskies had to go for two points, if they were to have any chance at tying or winning. Stevenson scampered around for a while before Derrell Page of the Herd sacked him. That left Hirschi five points behind, needing a touchdown to win.

Vincent Brown carried the ball three straight times for Hereford, with the third run requiring a measurement at the Herd 36. The third down run was just enough for a first down with 31 seconds left, and the Whitefaces were able to run out the clock and preserve a victory.

"We got a little conservative offensively in the second half, because Hirschi had been making the big plays basically by turnovers this season. And we didn't want to give them big plays, especially in the third quarter," Coach Cumpton said.

"The key series for us defensively in the second half was when they blocked the punt and we didn't let them score. The key play for us offensively in the second half was the 46-yard pass to Streun, which got us out of a hole and set up the field goal, putting us three scores ahead," Cumpton notes.

"We saw at the end how fast they can score. We gave up a couple of big plays, which we certainly don't like to do -- but you have to give them credit, because they are a good team for making it to that playoff game," Coach Cumpton adds.

Hereford had 14 first downs compared to 10 for Hirschi. Hereford's total offense was 288 yards, while Hirschi had 242 yards.

Hereford's offense included 166 yards rushing, and Hirschi had 190 yards rushing.

Vincent Brown was the leading rusher for the Whitefaces with 94 yards in 23 attempts. Mark Artho had 68 yards in 15 carries.

Todd Shire completed seven of 12 passes for 122 yards for the Whitefaces. Kyle Streun caught three passes for 65 yards and Bobby Baker caught two passes for 42 yards.

Streun's 46-yard catch is the longest of the season so far for the Whitefaces.

Keith Stevenson led Hirschi with 11 pass completions in 24 attempts for those 190 yards, but he lost 21 yards in losses rushing and only had four yards in gains.

"I'm proud of our team, because they overcome a lot last week. They showed a lot of poise and character," Cumpton said.

"I'd like to thank the fans for their support. It was fantastic. We hope all the fans can go to Dallas Saturday night, because they were a big factor in us beating Hirschi," the HHS head coach declares.

Hereford fans nearly filled the home side of Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

St. Anthony's teams tie for first in tourneys

The St. Anthony's School boys' and girls' basketball teams each tied for first place in the Walcott Tournament last week.

Each division of the tournament ended in a three-way tie among St. Anthony's, Wildorado, and Bovina. Each team finished the round-robin tournament with 2-1 records.

St. Anthony's won coin flips for both of the first place trophies.

Both of the St. Anthony's teams were awarded the tournament sportsmanship trophies.

St. Anthony's next basketball game of the season will be at Walcott on Jan. 5.

Richard Sanderson of the boys' team was named to the all-tournament team, and Claudia Ramirez of the girls' team was an all-tournament selection.

Final scores in games played by the St. Anthony's boys' teams were: St. Anthony's 44, Wildorado 14; Bovina 35, St. Anthony's 25; and St. Anthony's 34, Walcott 33.

In the games played by the St. Anthony's girls, the final scores were: St. Anthony's 28, Wildorado 22; Bovina 18, St. Anthony's 17; and St. Anthony's 24, Walcott 20.

Sanderson was the leading scorer for St. Anthony's in all three of the boys' contests. He scored 21 against Wildorado, 16 versus Bovina, and 12 versus Walcott. Jason Paetzold was in double figures against Wildorado with 13 points.

Ramirez led the St. Anthony's girls with 14 points in the win over Wildorado. High scorers for St. Anthony's in the other games were Taylor Brooks with 10 versus Bovina, and Lori Urbanczyk with 10 points versus Walcott.

ST. ANTHONY'S BOYS (vs. Wildorado): Richard Sanderson 21 points; Jason Paetzold 13 points; Michael Melendrez 7 points; Bobby Perales 2 points; Donny Perales 1 point.

ST. ANTHONY'S BOYS (vs. Bovina): Richard Sanderson 16 points; Jason Paetzold 5 points; Michael Melendrez and Donny Perales 2 points each.

ST. ANTHONY'S BOYS (vs. Walcott): Richard Sanderson 12 points; Jason Paetzold, Drew Radford, and Michael Melendrez 6 points each; Gary Houle and Cameron Burrus 2 points each.

ST. ANTHONY'S GIRLS (vs. Wildorado): Claudia Ramirez 14 points; Lori Urbanczyk and Taylor Brooks 6 points each. (Other 2 points were scored by Wildorado in the wrong basket.)

ST. ANTHONY'S GIRLS (vs. Bovina): Taylor Brooks 10 points; Lori Urbanczyk 3 points; Claudia Ramirez and Veronica Nava 2 points each.

ST. ANTHONY'S GIRLS (vs. Walcott): Lori Urbanczyk 10 points; Veronica Nava 8 points; Taylor Brooks, Claudia Ramirez and Connie Jackson 2 points each.

Hugh Downs remembers his many hours before cameras

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hugh Downs estimates he's spent 10,000 hours on television. That figures out to more than a year — nearly 60 weeks of nonstop talking, 24 hours a day.

"I've worked on so many different shows and done so many shows at the same time," Downs said in an interview. "I once said I'd done everything on radio and television except play-by-play sports. Then I remembered I'd covered a boxing match in Lima, Ohio, in 1939."

In 1935, Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals won 28 games and his brother Paul had 19 victories. They also had 10 saves between them but the Cardinals were beaten out for the pennant by the Chicago Cubs.

The largest drawbridge in the United States is the Marine Parkway Bridge, which spans parts of Jamaica Bay in New York.

He was host of NBC's "Home Show" in the 1950s. He was Jack Paar's sidekick on NBC's "The Tonight Show" for five years. He was host of the daytime game show "Concentration" for 11 years. He was host of NBC's "Today Show" for nine years.

He is currently co-host of ABC's "20-20."

"This is the first time in my whole TV career I've only done one program at a time," he said. "Maybe I was insecure in the past and didn't want all my eggs in one basket. That's how I racked up 10,000 hours."

Johnny Carson, host of "The Tonight Show" for nearly 25 years, has logged only 7,100 hours, according to Downs. "But Carson never did 10 hours a week on one show and another show at the same time."

Downs tells about his many hours on the air in "On Camera: My 10,000 Hours on Television," published by Putnam.

His other books include an autobiography that he wrote "rather arrogantly in my '30s" in 1957 and "A Shoal of Stars," about a 1965 sailing voyage across the Pacific, he said.

Downs began his broadcasting career at the age of 18 as a $12-a-week announcer on a small Ohio radio station. He worked in radio until television came along. He was an announcer in Chicago for "Kukla, Fran & Ollie" and "Hawkins Falls," which he said was television's first soap opera. In 1954, he went to New York for "The Home Show."

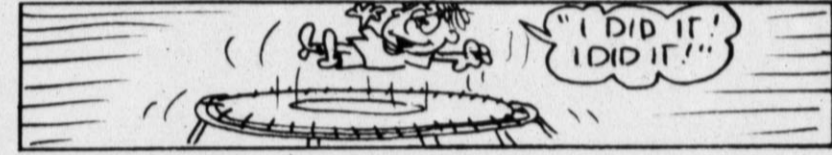

Downs divides his time between homes in Arizona and New York. "I travel a lot," he said. "My wife travels with me. We hope to be in Spain at the end of the year for a piece on Segovia for "20-20."

He is co-host of "20-20" with Barbara Walters, who was also his partner during part of his time on "The Today Show."

Nine out of 10 Americans don't know some basic facts of life — and the facts are crucial to those who are trying to avoid or achieve pregnancy.

One of the most difficult maneuvers yet achieved on a trampoline is the triple twisting, double back somersault, known as a Miller after the first trampolinist able to achieve it—Wayne Miller.

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY — My great-granddaughter called me on the telephone from the nearby town where she lives to thank me for a gift I had sent her. She said she had dialed the number herself because her mom had made her her own telephone book. She pasted pictures of all the child's close relatives into a notebook and wrote the telephone numbers beside each picture. The child can find who she is calling by the pictures since she doesn't read much yet (but she can read numbers). One could include pictures of a fireman or policeman to use for emergency numbers, too.

FLORENCE
DEAR FLORENCE — I think this is a marvelous idea and one which could be important in an emergency. CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on a minimum of 20 words. One day is 13 cents per word or $2.60 minimum. Rates below are for consecutive issues, no copy change, and apply to solid ad lines only.

| TIMES | RATES | MIN. |
|------------------|-------|------|
| 1 day per word: | 13 | 2.60 |
| 2 days per word: | 22 | 4.40 |
| 3 days per word: | 31 | 6.20 |
| 4 days per word: | 40 | 8.00 |
| 5th day FREE | | |

Add 5 cents per word for additional days: 10 days (2 free) is 15.20; minimum; 15 days (3 free) is 22.40; month 78.80.

Classified display rates apply for special captions, paragraphing, bold type or larger type, and ads not set with full lines. $2.60 per column inch, $2 a column inch for additional insertions, or $1.75 a column inch per month.

LEGALIS
 Advertising rates for legal notices are $3.50 per column inch for the first insertion and $3 per column inch for consecutive issues.

Deadlines for classified ads are 3 p.m. daily for the next day's edition; 3 p.m. Friday for Sunday's edition.

Cash is required on advertisements under $10.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in Classified Ads and legal notices. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. In case of errors not the fault of the advertiser, an additional insertion will be given.

Most believe God can offer guidance

By ROBERT FURLOW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians' claims to be guided by God may strike "a responsive chord" rather than irking people since millions of Americans have felt divine guidance, too, pollster George Gallup Jr. says.

He commented Monday after release of a survey on religious attitudes conducted by the Gallup Organization for the Rev. Pat Robertson's Christian Broadcasting Network.

Opponents have tried to attack Robertson by ridiculing his statements that he was being guided by God in deciding whether to run for the presidency and that his praying had helped keep a hurricane away from the Virginia shore, where his operation is based. But the new poll's results suggest such a tactic may be of little use.

In 1730, Benedict Arnold made a secret promise to the British to surrender the American fort at West Point, New York.

Gallup said in an interview that 69 percent of adult Americans questioned in the survey said God has led or guided them in making decisions and 36 percent said God has spoken directly to them "through some means."

With that personal experience, "the public understands when a leader says God has spoken to him or guided him to take a specific course of action," Gallup said.

The survey mentions neither Robertson, who says he will make the race for the Republican nomination if enough support can be identified, nor politics in general. Gallup said his organization is strictly neutral and does not work for political candidates.

However, when asked about possible political significance of the new poll, he said, "The public is perhaps more open to a person saying he is receiving guidance from God than the press has indicated, and not just in terms of Pat's statements about hurricanes and so forth but also in a broad sense."

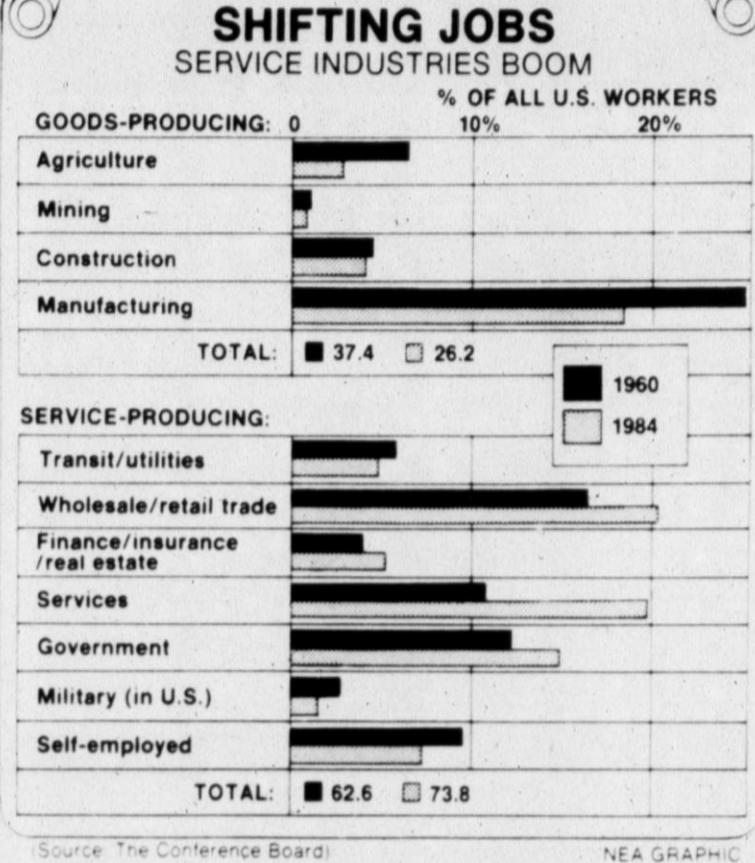

"It strikes a responsive chord, not just in terms of Pat Robertson but in any area of life — business, cultural, athletic. The public doesn't reject that concept; that's what these figures say to me basically," said Gallup.

The survey also noted that 31 percent of adult Americans identify themselves as "born-again" or evangelical Christians — a possible base of support for a candidate such as Robertson.

Such evangelicals are significantly more likely than the general population to live in the South, to be black or Hispanic, to have less than a high school education, to earn less than $25,000 a year, to be Protestant and to identify with the Republican Party, the survey said.

In broader findings, the poll said 94 percent of adult Americans believe in God or some universal spirit, and 84 percent believe that "God is a heavenly father who watches over us and can be reached by our prayers."

Such findings are generally in line with surveys dating back more than 50 years, Gallup said. The Gallup Organization interviewed 1,013 randomly selected people by telephone last February for the survey, which had a potential sampling error of plus or minus four percentage points.

Work in America today is much different than it was a generation ago. Nearly three-fourths of all U.S. workers now produce services, rather than real goods. Not even two-thirds of the workforce was service-oriented in 1960.

'Cutest Kid In the World' contest turns ugly

CHALMETTE, La. (AP) — Parents, not their children, walked away with all the prizes when a "Cutest Kid in the World" contest turned ugly.

"We're just fortunate that we had no injuries," said Carol Bryant, manager of the St. Bernard Parish Cultural Center, where the beauty pageant was held Sunday. "I was really worried about all those children."

Promoter Ann Berry blamed the trouble on a handful of "crowdies" who stormed the stage after the pageant, which began Sunday morning, ran about four hours behind schedule by evening. They demanded refunds of the $40 entry fee.

The Sunday pageant, to declare the "Cutest Kid in the World," was to begin shortly after 10 a.m. registration, but it was nearly four hours behind schedule by early evening, Mrs. Berry said.

Frustrated and tired of waiting, she said, some parents of younger contestants began demanding the ref their entry fees. She said there were 260 contestants, although some parents say there were 500.

An "unauthorized person" connected with the contest began giving refunds, and about $1,200 was returned, Mrs. Berry said. "One woman was a troublemaker. She got up and tried to hit me on the stage at 5:30 p.m. She hit the P.A."

After about 40 minutes, the contest resumed, she said, but about 7:30 p.m. another mother climbed onstage, snatched the microphone from her and urged the remaining parents to get their money back and help themselves to trophies.

In the ruckus, parents took cameras, watches that were intended as prizes, a computer and a cash box with door receipts, Mrs. Berry said. "Somebody from the troublemakers jumped up on stage and said, 'Hey I'm going to get my trophy.' That's when I fainted and they took me off the stage."

"The 'Cutest Kid in the World' trophy was over six feet tall. It went down an aisle with two men fighting over it. I can't believe it."

Security guards escorted the pageant staff to their cars, Mrs. Bryant said. "I've never been to a beauty contest that turned into a riot," said Sandra Waller of Buras, whose 1-year-old daughter Shabonne was a contestant.

"I've never seen one run as late as this one, or as badly," said Gail Adams, a New Orleans mother whose daughter, though just 2 years old, has trophies from more than 30 such competitions. "I know she meant well," said Jewell Hoffman, another mother. "I was very upset at the way those adults were acting. What kind of example are they setting for their children?"

By late Monday, nine mothers and fathers had complained to a justice of peace whose jurisdiction includes the pageant offices in Metairie. They contend that Mrs. Berry and her staff were hopelessly disorganized, perhaps dishonest.

Mrs. Adams complained that a trip to Disney World promise to the first 325 entrants turned out to be only two nights' lodging in a hotel, and required the user to pay a $10 processing fee. Some parents doubted the validity of promised magazine and television modeling contracts for the winners.

Mrs. Berry said she never claimed the trip was more than accommodations, and that the top two baby beauties would appear in magazine and television ads for other contests her company is promoting.

She said a friend kidded her recently about an Oct. 12 contest in Pittsburgh, where parents stormed the stage and grabbed trophies. "I laughed and laughed. I said no way anything like that will happen to us."

The Newspaper BIBLE

You are the world's seasoning, to make it tolerable. If you lose your flavor, what will happen to the world? And you yourselves will be thrown out and trampled underfoot as worthless.

You are the world's light—a city on a hill, glowing in the night for all to see. Don't hide your light! Let it shine for all; let your good deeds glow for all to see, so that they will praise your heavenly Father.

Don't misunderstand why I have come—it isn't to cancel the laws of Moses and the warnings of the prophets. No, I came to fulfill them, and to make them all come true.

With all the earnestness I have I say: Every law in the Book will continue until its purpose is achieved.

And so if anyone breaks the least commandment, and teaches others to, he shall be the least in the Kingdom of Heaven. But those who teach God's laws and obey them shall be great in the Kingdom of Heaven.

But I warn you—unless your goodness is greater than that of the Pharisees and other Jewish leaders, you can't get into the Kingdom of Heaven at all! (Matthew 5:13-20)
