

Nuke dump, drug bust top stories in '86

Deaf Smith County being named as one of three finalists for a nuclear waste repository site, a major drug bust, the death of a 9-year-old child due to cocaine, and a tragic house fire which left three children dead were the top headlines in Hereford during 1986.

Following is a review of the year locally from the pages of The Brand in 1986.

JANUARY

Local lawmen give statistics to document the need for wearing seat belts, and grace period ends on new law.

Hereford recorded an all-time high in building permits in 1985 with the total soaring to $11,840,861 on the issuance of 168 permits. The previous record was $7.4 million in 1975.

The juvenile probation officer and a county commissioner asked the city to consider the possibility of renovating the Fullwood building so it could be used as a juvenile detention center.

Lajean Henry was honored as "Woman of the Year" by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Deaf Smith County Judge Glen Nelson announced that he would not seek reelection.

A grand jury indicted W.W. (Doc) Taylor of Dallas and former Hereford resident James Gentry for allegedly defrauding Hi-Plains S&L.

Final tabulations of the United Way showed the campaign goal of $130,625 was not reached, as the donations amounted to about $100,000.

HHS athletic director and head football coach, Jerry Taylor, resigned to accept the head coach's job at Odessa High School.

Sesquicentennial plans get underway under leadership of co-chairmen Garth Thomas and Argen Draper.

Beet growers are doing such a good job that 2,000 acres will be shed from Holly Sugar contracts this year, it was announced at the annual Texas Sugar Beet Growers convention here.

M.D. Gentry was elected United Way president for 1986.

F.L. Eike, longtime county farmer, was recognized as "Ag Man of the Year" at the annual sugar beet banquet. Al and Dennis Huseman of Nazareth were honored for top sugar yields.

Ten months of undercover investigation ended with the arrest of 58 persons in Deaf Smith County on felony drug charges. A grand jury issued 81 indictments on 70 adults and 7 juveniles.

Three Hereford children, left alone in a house for a few minutes, died in a fire believed to have been started by one of the children playing with matches. The victims were ages 4, 2 and 1.

Jack Mars, Energas manager, was elected president of the Hereford Industrial Foundation.

Hereford School Board announced that Don Cumpston of Abilene, former HHS coach, will return to Hereford to replace Jerry Taylor. It was also revealed that Hereford will drop from 5A to 4A interscholastic league competition.

FEBRUARY

Texas Ag Commissioner Jim Hightower, speaking at the Texas Corn Growers convention in Dimmitt, said the new five-year farm bill "may not last a year."

The Hereford tractor, owned by Gerald McCathern, which led the tractorcade to Washington, D.C. in 1979 was placed in the Smithsonian Institute as part of the agricultural exhibit.

Hereford recorded 10 inches of snow on Feb. 7—the first measurable moisture since Dec. 13. Drifts were as much as four feet in the county.

More snow fell on the weekend and temperatures dipped to 9 below zero.

George Warner was honored as "Citizen of the Year" at the annual Chamber Banquet, and the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department received the C of C Community Service Award.

Several local citizens recall "good old days" at movie as Star Theater is demolished here to make room for bank parking lot.

Clara Trowbridge was named Extension Club Woman of Year at the annual extension club luncheon.

Feedyards set marketing record

Continuing its dominance of cattle feeding, Texas feedyards set a new record in 1986, marketing 5.2 million fed cattle. No other state has marketed more than 5 million fed cattle in one year, but Texas had done so three years in a row.

"Cattle feeding is one of the few bright spots in the Texas economy," according to Zay Gilbreath, president of Texas Cattle Feeder's Association.

At the TCFA yearend news conference in Amarillo Monday,

Gilbreath said there were two major disappointments during 1986.

The first was the Dairy Termination Program, under which the government pays dairymen to slaughter their cows. Marketing of the 1.55 million dairy cattle were to be handled in an orderly manner, but they weren't," Gilbreath said. This prompted a lawsuit by TCFA and others but not before much of the damage had already been done.

The second was the continuing decline in the demand for beef. Demand is not the same as consumption," Gilbreath pointed out. "Production was actually up about 2 percent. But what the consumer will pay for beef continues to decline. Since 1980, the reduction in demand has amounted to roughly 25 percent."

But Gilbreath said there were also some bright spots in 1986. "One was the implementation of the $1-per-head checkoff. This will raise $50 to $60 million a year to be used to try to regain beef demand."

The second was that beef appears to be getting better overall media coverage. We have seen many positive articles regarding beef during 1986.

Cattlemen can look forward to a good 1987, according to Jim Gill, TCFA market director. Gill predicts fed-cattle prices will range from $57 to $61 per cwt. the first quarter of 1987 and then hit $60 to $64 the second quarter. Cattlemen will see a decline to $58 to $62 in the third quarter and then will see prices from $61 to $65 in the fourth quarter.

"Competitive meat supplies will be a critical factor in the prices producers receive at the feedyard in 1987," Gill predicted. Beef's main competition will continue to be increased poultry production.

Poultry supplies will likely increase 8 percent to 10 percent during each of the first two quarters of 1987 and then show a 12 percent to 14 percent increase during each of the last two quarters," Gill said.

But that's good news for consumers. Retail beef prices are not likely to change much from the 1986 average of $2.41 per pound," Gill predicted. Although reduced supplies of beef would normally push retail prices higher, competition from pork and poultry will temper any retail price increase.

"Feeder cattle supplies, according to Gill, will continue to tighten, as an unprecedented 10-year liquidation in U.S. cattle numbers continues—from a high of 130 million in the mid 1970s to 100 million now. "Choice 600-lb. feeder steers, which averaged about $60.50 in 1986, could well average $3 to $5 higher in 1987," he said.

However, prices will not be as good for grain producers. Gill says ample supplies of grain are in storage now, and next year's corn crop could well hit 7 billion bushels—"not a record, but more than ample." Should grain prices rise above present levels, it's likely the government will release some of the large supplies it has, thus making substantial rises above today's levels unlikely.

Murder suspect arrested Thursday

A suspect in the Monday evening murder of an 18-year-old Hereford woman was arrested New Year's Day five miles north of Dimmitt by the Deaf Smith and Castro County Sheriff's Departments.

Florentino Carbajal, 22, was arrested for murder and is being held in the Deaf Smith County Jail under a $500,000 bond.

Four others were arrested for accessory to murder by hindering the apprehension of Carbajal.

Marina Tamez, Carbajal's common-law wife, was shot to death at approximately 11 p.m. Monday after she and Carbajal apparently had been arguing, according to deputies' reports.

Tamez was killed at the home of her sister at the Grand-E Trailer Park at Grand and Ave. E.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Joe C. Brown said that his department heard that Carbajal was still in Hereford Thursday and might be planning to leave the county.

Brown said Carbajal was apparently dropped off at Big Daddy's Truck Stop east of Hereford, and later picked up.

"Our deputies began to follow two vehicles and they turned onto the Dimmitt cutoff," Brown said. "We stopped one vehicle and he was not in it so we began to follow the other vehicle. We called Dimmitt and asked them to meet us. When we got close to the Dimmitt officers we pulled them over and arrested them without any incident."

Brown said Carbajal was arraigned in Dimmitt by Justice of the Peace Marshall Young and brought back to Hereford.

One salesgirl in a candy store always had customers lined up waiting while other salesgirls stood around with nothing to do. The owner of the store noted her popularity and asked for her secret.

"It's easy," she replied. "The other girls scoop up more than a pound of candy and then start taking away. I always scoop up less than a pound and then add to it."

We have printed the following message before, but since it seems to fit too many of us this time of the year, we're running it again. The poem is not original with us and we have no idea as to the original author.

There is nothing the matter with me, I'm as healthy as I can be. I have arthritis in both my knees, And when I talk, I talk with a wheeze. My pulse is weak and my blood is thin, But I'm actually well for the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for both my feet, Or I wouldn't be able to be on the street. But every morning I find I'm all right. My memory is failing, my heads in a spin,

But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

How do I know that my youth is all spent?

Well, my Get Up and Go has got up and went, But I really don't mind when I think with a grin, Of all the grand places my Get Up has been

Old age is golden, I've heard it said,

But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed, With my ears in a drawer, And my teeth in a cup, My eyes on the table until I wake up.

I think my liver is out of whack, And a terrible pain is in my back, My hearing is poor, my sight is dim. Most everything seems to be out of trim, But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

I thank the Good Lord for all that's been, If I could live it over, I'd do it again.

The moral is, as this tale we unfold, That for you and me who are growing old, It's better to say, "I'm fine" with a grin, Than to let them know the shape we're in.

Despite distressed economy

State manages to gain population

DALLAS (AP) — A high birthrate and a steady flow of people into Dallas-Fort Worth and a few other growing metropolitan areas allowed Texas to gain population in 1986 despite a distressed economy, population experts say.

The state recorded the gain despite losses by Houston and other energy dependent cities. The exodus, triggered mainly by slumping energy prices, contributed to the state's first net loss in migration in the state's history, demographers think.

"What's happening in Texas is a rather dramatic slowdown," Bernard Weinstein, director of the Southern Methodist University Center for Enterprising, told the Dallas Morning News.

"We're not importing people like we used to," Weinstein said.

U.S. Census Bureau figures released Wednesday showed that the Texas population as of July 1 was 16.68 million. That figure represents an almost 2 percent increase over the estimated population of 16.37 million for the same day in 1985.

Population experts point out that the current increase is significantly less than in the early 1980s when newcomers headed for the Sun Belt in record numbers.

Woman fighting to be with husband

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — An American woman who has spent seven years trying to get her husband out of the Soviet Union says she's optimistic that the New Year's Day birth of the couple's first child may help her cause.

"The child is innocent in all of this," Susan Graham said Thursday after the birth of her daughter, Emily Ann Finkel.

"She has absolutely nothing to do with any of it. The impact of it all may soften (the Soviets') hearts a bit."

Ms. Graham, 31, met Matvey Finkel on a study trip to the Soviet Union, married him seven years ago and has lived in Moscow on and off since.

She returned to Spokane so there would be no question about the child's citizenship, and said she had not decided whether to return with her baby to the Soviet Union.

She talked to her husband by telephone about a half hour after the birth of their 7-pound, 8-ounce daughter at Sacred Heart Medical Center, and said he was elated.

"He was with friends and had champagne at the ready," she said, adding that he felt "a bit left out."

"He is really pleased and thrilled. But it's hard to explain over the phone what she looks like. He was concerned because I had a long labor, and he kept calling for progress reports," she said.

Soviet officials have given only vague reasons for denying Finkel, 38, an exit visa, citing concern with security secrets connected to his military service, a compulsory one-year hitch as a private in the Soviet Army 15 years ago, Ms. Graham has said.

She gathered signatures in downtown Spokane three weeks ago as part of a petition to draw attention to Finkel's case. The petition was sent to President Reagan, urging him to intercede with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

New student loan program proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students would be able to borrow up to $50,000 for their education and take up to 30 years to repay it under a $600 million program that will be proposed in the federal budget to be presented to Congress next week.

In announcing the program at a briefing this week, Bruce Carnes, deputy undersecretary of the Department of Education, would not say what cuts would be proposed in other areas to pay for the loans.

Repayment of the borrowed money would be pegged to graduates' earnings, hence the name of the Income Contingent Loan program.

"We believe this is the single biggest advance in the financing of higher education for students in the last 15 years," said Carnes.

The Reagan administration's budget is to be presented to Congress Monday.

The $600 million, combined with up to $393 million in collections from other loans, would be available to students who met the same eligibility standards applied to other aid programs. The loans, called ICLs, would be self-supporting since students eventually would repay the full loans with interest.

Ann Landers

Keep your mouth shut

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an atheist. Nevertheless I consider the Torah, the New Testament, the Koran, the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights among the world's most inspirational works.

My sister is an Episcopalian. Before every meal in her home, everyone is expected to say grace with heads bowed. This ritual irritates me but I bow my head and think about my golf game. I am also irritated by the religious pictures on her walls and the homilies done in cross-stitch that appear all over the place. Since I am a guest I feel I should be courteous and keep my mouth shut.

When my sister visits me she knows I will not say grace before meals so she waits until I am in the kitchen, then sneaks in a prayer behind my back. I resent this underhanded behavior and wonder if I should call her on it once and for all. -DOUBLE-X'D IN INDIANAPOLIS

DEAR DUB: You gave yourself the best advice: Be courteous and keep your mouth shut.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm writing in response to your reply to the letter written by "Distracted Mother." She asked your advice on whether or not her pregnant daughter should demand financial support from the child's father. You said she would be stupid not to.

Have you considered that if the father supports the child he also has rights to that child for the next 18 years? This may mean visitation, having the child for weekends, holidays and even vacations in the summer.

If the father is not financially stable, the court may award only a small amount (like $10 a week). Is Mom willing to share her child for an amount that won't even cover one day's babysitting while Mom is at work?

If two years from now, Mom meets Mr. Right, decides to get married and wants Mr. Right to adopt her child, Mr. Wrong has the right to deny adoption. Single mothers have a tough enough time. If she doesn't sever all ties from Mr. Wrong she may be making a huge mistake. I know what I am talking about because I have been there. -EXPERIENCED IN BUFFALO

DEAR BUFF: If a woman is financially able to manage on her own, or if she has strong family support, and the father is a four-door drunk who cares nothing for the child, I agree that she should not badger him for a few measly dollars just to be punitive. Each case should be decided on its own merits.

Dear Readers: You women who are polishing your pearls by shaking them in a bag of rice (as suggested by Ann Landers), please cease and desist.

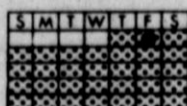

Kae E. McCulloch of the Jewelry Industry Council tells me that my "helpful hint" is a bummer. They tried it and under a microscope they could see scratches on the pearls. In addition, there was powder from the rice itself. This was true of synthetic pearls as well as real ones.

Sherman Brodkey, a gemologist of Brodkey's in Omaha, wrote "A stone from a harder (or the same) specie will scratch a softer one. A diamond can mar a sapphire, a sapphire will scratch an emerald, etc. Pearls if

Herd places third in Clovis tournament

Hereford High School's varsity boys' basketball team scored a 61-48 victory over St. Pius X of Albuquerque Wednesday night to win the third place game in the Clovis Holiday Tournament.

Three HHS players — Bobby Baker, Rodney McCracken, and Todd Weaver — were named to the all-tournament team. No team in the tournament had more than three all-tournament selections.

Hereford is now 8-9 for the season and plays its fourth District 14-A game tonight at Pampa. The Whitefaces, undefeated in three district contests, play at 8:30 p.m.

The HHS sophomore boys' team will play the Pampa junior varsity at 7 p.m. The Hereford junior varsity boys' team is playing in the Bovina Tournament today and Saturday.

Bobby Baker scored 17 points in the first half and scored nine more points in the third quarter to help lead the Whiteface varsity to their 61-48 win over St. Pius X Wednesday. Baker hit 10 of 12 field goal attempts and six of eight free throws in his 26-point effort.

Hereford led 14-10 at the end of the first quarter, and 30-22 at halftime. After three quarters of play, the Herd lead was 45-38.

Rodney McCracken and Kevin Hansen also scored in double figures for the Whitefaces. McCracken scored 12 points, including eight in the fourth quarter, and Hansen totaled 10 points, including six in the fourth quarter. Todd Weaver added five points for Hereford.

Hereford made 24 of 51 shots from the field for 47 percent, and hit 13 of 17 free throws for 76 percent.

Baker also led Hereford in rebounding in Wednesday's game, with 10 rebounds. McCracken and Hansen each had five rebounds.

HEREFORD WHITEFACES: Bobby Baker 16-12 6-4 28; Rodney McCracken 5-12 2-2 12; Kevin Hansen 3-4 4-4 10; Todd Weaver 2-4 1-2 5; David Manchee 2-4 0-4 6; Chris Johnson 1-2 0-4 2; Kyle Struan 1-3 0-4 2; Cody Davis 0-0 0-1 0. Totals 24-51 13-17 61.

In one of five New Year's Day Bowl games

Oklahoma routs Arkansas, 42-8

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

Although the Oklahoma Sooners probably won't win the national championship, they looked as powerful as any team possibly could in routing Arkansas in the Orange Bowl.

The third-ranked Sooners dominated No. 9 Arkansas in every aspect of the game Thursday night on the way to a 42-8 romp. While No. 1 Miami and No. 2 Penn State face off tonight in the Fiesta Bowl for the national title, the Sooners have their awesome New Year's night display to keep them happy.

Spencer Tillman ran 77 and 21 yards for touchdowns and Oklahoma's defense forced five turnovers. The defense, which had five shutouts and led the nation in four major categories — rushing, passing, scoring and total defense — had a shutout until the final 19 seconds, despite the absence of All-American linebacker Brian Bosworth, who was barred from the game after a pregame test showed he had used steroids.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, whose team beat Penn State in last year's Orange Bowl to claim the college football championship, wasn't looking for any No. 1 votes this time.

"Miami and Penn State are the best two teams in the country this year," he said.

Also on New Year's Day, it was Arizona State 22, Michigan 15 in the Rose Bowl; 14th-ranked Ohio State 28, No. 8 Texas A&M 12 in the Cotton Bowl; No. 6 Nebraska 30, No. 5 Louisiana State 15 in the Sugar Bowl and 10th-ranked Auburn 16, Southern California 7 in the Citrus Bowl.

ORANGE BOWL

Oklahoma 42, Arkansas 8

Tillman, a 203-pound senior halfback who ran for 109 yards, scored twice in the second quarter. Holliey added TD runs of two and four yards in the third period as Oklahoma avenged a 30-6 loss to the Razorbacks in the 1978 Orange Bowl. That loss cost Coach Barry Switzer, a native of Arkansas, and Oklahoma another national crown.

The Sooners, who finished 11-1, won nine consecutive games after the loss to the Hurricanes. Arkansas finished 9-3.

ROSE BOWL

Arizona State 22, Michigan 15

While Oklahoma was trouncing Arkansas, Arizona State made its Rose Bowl debut a resounding success with its win over No. 4 Michigan. With the victory, built on quarterback Jeff Van Raaphorst's two touchdown passes and Darryl Harris' 109 yards rushing, the No. 7 Sun Devils extended the Pacific-10 dominance of the game to 12 wins in the last 13 matchups with the Big Ten winner.

The victory was the sixth straight for the Pac-10, and Michigan has lost seven of its eight appearances in Pasadena under Coach Bo Schembechler.

With Arizona State trailing 15-6, Van Raaphorst threw a 4-yard touchdown pass to Bruce Hill just 29 seconds before halftime. Then he hit Hill on a 1-yard scoring pass to give the Sun Devils a 19-19 lead 5:35 into the third quarter.

Ken Bostrom kicked field goals of 37, 27 and 25 yards for the Sun Devils, 10-1-1. Michigan finished 11-2.

When Miami, Penn State play in Fiesta Bowl

College title up for grabs tonight

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Football Writer

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Now that one final dispute between Miami and Penn State has been settled — and not to Miami's satisfaction — the No. 1-rated Hurricanes and second-ranked Nittany Lions can get on with the business of deciding college football's national champion.

The latest argument concerns the locker room facilities. Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson said Thursday the matter has "been resolved," but he wasn't happy over Penn State getting the home facilities at Arizona State University's Sun Devil Stadium, site of tonight's Fiesta Bowl shootout.

"When they (the Fiesta Bowl) were courting us, they promised us everything, including the right to be the home team," Johnson said. "Now, they're crawling around."

However, earlier this week the Fiesta Bowl informed Johnson that Penn State won the right to use the larger home-team locker room in a Dec. 16 coin flip at the Fiesta Bowl office. Don Meyers, chairman of the team selection committee, represented Miami and John Marks, a member of the Bowl's board of directors, represented Penn State. Meyers called the toss and lost.

However, Miami was granted its other requests.

"Miami wanted the Sheraton hotel, wanted white jerseys, wanted to practice at East High and wanted the bench on the west side of the stadium," Bruce Skinner, the Fiesta Bowl's executive director, said. "The locker room was our only coin flip."

"I don't care about the uniforms or which side of the field we're on," Johnson said. "The locker room is the only thing I was concerned about."

Although Fiesta Bowl officials can't enlarge the visitors' dressing quarters, a local rug company donated a carpet for the room.

"They're as equal as we can make them," Skinner said. "There was some miscommunication. I'll take the blame for that."

Skinner said he also had "officially designated" Penn State as the home team.

Penn State's major problem, of course, is stopping Miami quarterback Vinny Testaverde, the Heisman Trophy winner and the nation's most efficient passer in the NCAA rankings.

"If we blitz and they adjust and we don't get to Testaverde, we're left with one-on-one coverage on a No. 1 draft pick (Miami wideout Michael Irvin)," Coach Joe Paterno said. "The speed of their wideouts doesn't bother me as much as their athletic ability. Irvin is another Lynn Swann. "If you can get to Testaverde, then blitzing can be a plus, but you're taking an awful chance of giving up a bomb."

Johnson said the key for Miami is "to keep our turnovers to a minimum. If we do that, I feel we'll move the football and score points. With our style of offense, as wide-open as we are, if we don't turn the ball over we'll put it in the end zone."

Johnson said he expects Penn

State to blitz some with zone coverage "to protect themselves."

This marks only the seventh time in the 51-year history of the Associated Press poll that the top two teams at the end of the regular season have met in a bowl game and just the second time both have come in with perfect records. Top-ranked Nebraska, 12-0, trounced runnerup Alabama, 11-0, 38-6 in the Orange Bowl to win the 1971 national championship.

It's Flutie-Schroeder matchup in NFL playoffs

By DAVE GOLDBERG
AP Football Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — When the Washington Redskins and Chicago Bears last met in 1985, Jay Schroeder was a former baseball player whose football career consisted of one college start and three completions in five attempts in an NFL exhibition.

And Doug Flutie was a 5-foot-8 1/2 former Heisman Trophy winner in limbo.

On Saturday, Flutie and Schroeder will be the protagonists when the Redskins visit the Bears in an NFC semifinal game.

"If you had told me this would happen, I'd say you were crazy," Flutie said of the turn of events that, in just two months, has seen him transformed from a rich but unemployed quarterback into a central figure in the Bears' bid to repeat as Super Bowl champions.

The events that bring both quarterbacks together Saturday are indeed a little dazzling.

Schroeder spent two years playing football at UCLA, but started just one game and threw only 65 passes. He signed a baseball contract with the Toronto Blue Jays, but balked when the Blue Jays wanted to make him a pitcher.

Then the Redskins drafted him in the third round of the 1984 draft, eliciting "Who's he?" gasps from all but the scouts on the floor. When Joe Theismann broke his ankle last November, Schroeder stepped in and quarterbacked Washington to a 5-1 record the rest of the year and to a 12-4 mark this season before last Sunday's wild-card victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

Flutie, of course, was anything but a "Who's he?"
 The 1984 Heisman Trophy winner from Boston College opted to accept a $7 million, 5-year contract with the New Jersey Generals of the United States Football League and was therefore drafted only as an afterthought in the 11th round that year by the Rams.
 When the USFL became dormant this year, a lot of its star players were snatched up by the NFL, but Flutie wasn't one of them. The Rams said they didn't need him and other teams didn't want to give up what the Rams were asking for in a trade.
 With Jim McMahon's shoulder injuries making his status questionable, the Bears finally made the deal — despite McMahon's grumbling that his backups, Steve Fuller and Mike Tomczak, could do the job. With the plays taped to his wrist because he had so little time to prepare, Flutie started the last two games and received mixed reviews — although he threw two touchdown passes while playing only a half in the finale against Dallas.

The Hereford Brand
 "the winning choice"

Part three of 1986 review

The year in sports in Hereford

Editor's Note: The following is part three of 1986 review of sports in Hereford. Part three covers the months of August, September and October. The last part of the review, for the months of November and December, will appear in Sunday's issue of the Brand.

AUGUST
The Hereford Kids Inc. Babe Ruth 14 and 15-year old all-star team played in the Southwest Regional in Santa Fe, N.M. The team was eliminated in two games, losing to Fort Smith, the Arkansas State champions, 7-3, and losing to Brazoswood, the East Texas state champions, 20-15.

The team of Lowell Neumayer, Bob Beal, Bill Acton and Martin Moore won the Girlstown Benefit Golf Scramble at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. Their winning score was 127, two strokes better than the second place team.

Thirty-five Hereford tracksters participated in the state TAAF tack meet in San Antonio. Those who won medals at the meet were Larry Brown, Petey Colvin, Reggie Salazar, Eric Trujillo, Jimmie Hazard, Alina Benitez, and Stephen Banner.

The winners of the men's divisions of the Greg Black Memorial Runs, sponsored by the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA, were Jesse Sturgeon in the 10-kilometer run and Todd Baldwin in the two-mile run. Women's first place finishers were Lorraine Anthony of Hereford in the 10-kilometer race and Lisa Garza of Hereford in the two-mile run.

In the Hereford Riders Club rodeo in August, Johna Beth Wilson won the high-point series title for girls ages eight and under.

First place finishers in the Hereford city junior golf tournament were Arthur Valdez, Marcus Urias, Jake Head, and Sabino Grijalva. Naomi Grijalva turned in the low girls' score.

Winners in the juniors divisions of the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA tennis tournament were: elementary divisions, Jake Head, boys' singles; Teresa Baker, girls' singles; Jake Head and Jamie Kapka, boys' doubles; junior high divisions, David Barnett, boys' singles; Misty Reed, girls' singles; David Barnett and Stanton Ray, boys' doubles; Trisha Munoz and Brenna Reinauer, girls' doubles; Greg Coplen and Teresa Baker, mixed doubles; and high school divisions, Matt Coplen, boys' singles; Dana Zinser, girls' singles; Justin Flood and Brian Thomas, boys' doubles; and Misty Reed and Kristie Allison, girls' doubles.

James Salinas of Hereford won the Hereford Men's City Golf Championship for the sixth time in eight years when he shot a 68 and a 74 for a tournament total of 142. Paul Hubbard was first in the low net standings with a score of 132.

A Hereford golfer, Kyle Mines, shot a hole-in-one on hole No. 6 at Pitman Municipal Golf Course on Aug. 19. His wife, Sfleri, witnessed the hole-in-one.

SEPTEMBER
The defending champions won the Hereford Country Club Member-Guest Tournament at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. Ron Weishaar of Hereford and Ken Metchley of Topeka, Kan., successfully defended their title by shooting a three-day score of 198, five strokes ahead of the two second places.

Winners in other flights were J.A. McWhorter and Mike McWhorter in the first flight, Scott Keeling and Bob Beville in the second flight, and James Head and Stan Byrnes in the third flight.

The Hereford High School tennis teams opened the 1986 fall season by defeating Caprock 17-7 in a dual match.

Hereford High School's varsity football team opened the season with a 28-0 thrashing of Andrews, allowing Andrews only six yards passing in the game. The Whitefaces scored three first quarter touchdowns.

The Whitefaces then walloped Clovis 42-0, rushing for 311 yards in the game. Mark Artho scored three of the Hereford touchdowns, and Vincent Brown scored twice.

After the first two victories of the season, the Whitefaces moved into the top 10 in the state in the Harris Rating System's rankings for class 4A schools, ranked fifth.

The HHS tennis teams won two District 1-4A dual matches on a Saturday in Lubbock, beating Lubbock Estacado 15-3 and Lubbock Dunbar 18-0.

A team from Dimmitt, Jim and Betty Butler, won the Hereford Couples Scramble, defeating Lanny and Kathy Savage of Plainview in the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

The Whiteface varsity football team survived a scare from Pampa, 36-28, in its District 1-4A opener. Hereford moved up to 10th in the Associated Press class 4A poll, but dropped from fifth to 10th in the Harris Rating System rankings.

The HHS tennis teams upped their district record to 4-0 with a 15-3 dual win over Pampa and a 13-5 win over Borger.

The third shutout in four games was achieved by the Hereford Whiteface varsity football team when it defeated Frenship 35-0. Vincent Brown scored three touchdowns for the Herd. The Whiteface defense allowed Frenship first downs on only six of the Tigers' third down plays.

In the Hereford cross country meet, Caprock won the boys' division and Perryton won the girls' division. Hereford placed 10th in each division.

Hereford High School won the District 1-4A tennis championship by edging Canyon 10-8. The last match of the day decided the district title. The girls' doubles team of Lori Reinauer and Ronda Fuston won that final match of the day. Hereford Coach Ruben Vargas noted that if they had lost that match, Canyon would have won the dual match — because the Eagles had won more sets in the dual match.

OCTOBER
The Hereford Whitefaces' chances of winning the district football championship were enhanced when Lubbock Estacado was tied by Levelland. The night after that game, Hereford defeated Lubbock Dunbar 28-15. Hereford was ranked seventh in the Associated Press poll after the win over Dunbar.

The HHS tennis teams finished the district season undefeated in seven dual matches. Hereford beat Dumas 13-5 in the final district dual match.

On a rainy, muddy night at Whiteface Stadium, the Hereford Whitefaces got past the Levelland 8-3, winning the HHS homecoming game. A safety by defensive end Derrell Page and a 22-yard touchdown run by Mark Artho were the points scored for Hereford.

In the most exciting high school volleyball match of the season for the Hereford High School varsity team, Hereford won a marathon match by winning game three in overtime, 24-22. Hereford won the first game 15-9, but lost the second game, 15-11, setting up what turned out to be a game that made the entire match last two hours.

The HHS varsity football team stayed undefeated in seven games, including a 5-0 district record, by defeating Dumas. But it was a fired up Dumas Demon team that played what was probably its best game of the 1986 season. Hereford came out on top 28-22, with Marcus Brown scoring three touchdowns.

The Whitefaces continued to be ranked in the top 10 of the Associated Press poll.

The Hereford junior varsity football team was also having a good season of its own, winning seven of its first eight games, with game eight being a 26-0 win over Palo Duro.

On the night of the birthday of Hereford head football coach Don Cumpton, the Whitefaces scored a crucial 14-10 win over Canyon, keeping Hereford undefeated in district play and handing Canyon its second straight district loss.

But the next week, the Whitefaces suffered their first defeat of the season, 28-18 at the hand of Estacado. The loss dropped Hereford to second place in the district, with Estacado regaining the top spot.

A tennis player from Hereford, Kevin Hansen, qualified to play for USTA and TTA state rankings next summer. He was one of six qualifiers out of a field of 96 in the boys' age 18 singles division in the Abilene Invitational in October.

Jets' defense searches for its own identity

By CHUCK MELVIN
AP Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — The New York Jets' defense has been such a patchwork unit this year that Cleveland Browns quarterback Bernie Kosar doesn't know what to expect in Saturday's AFC divisional championship game.

"They've been searching for their own identity," Kosar said. "They've shown a lot of different things over the last few games."

Injuries to critical players such as ends Mark Gastineau and Marty Lyons and nose tackle Joe Klecko helped mar what had been a brilliant season for the Jets. After racing to a 10-1 record, they closed the regular season with five straight losses.

Only two of the Jets' 11 defensive regulars — linebackers Kyle Clifton and Mark Crable — were able to start all 16 regular-season games.

The Jets' defensive problems, ironically, have made it difficult for Cleveland Coach Marty Schottenheimer to draw up a game plan, because New York has alternated between aggressive blitzes and cautious zones.

"I really have no idea how they might attack us," Schottenheimer said.

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M coach Jackie Sherrill and Ohio State coach Earle Bruce spent most of a post-Cotton Bowl press conference congratulating each other on their teams' performance and each other's wardrobe.

The 11th-ranked Buckeyes upset the No. 8 Aggies 28-12 before 74,188 fans and a national television audience of millions on New Year's Day.

Bruce shocked his players, fellow coaches and probably even close friends by dressing to the nines. The normally casually clad Buckeye coach wore a dark suit and tie, topped off with a felt hat.

"I didn't tell anyone but my wife I was going to do it and she looked at me funny," Bruce said. "But I'll have to think about it seriously if I'll make it a permanent thing."

Sherrill said the outfit made the coach look thinner and said he should consider wearing it in future games: "You ought to wear it more often if it helps you win games like that."

said. "We've prepared for both ways."

Kosar focused his film studies this week on the second half of the Jets' season. He said the only logical response to New York's Jekyll-and-Hyde personalities would be to prepare for the worst — or rather, for the Jets' best.

"I always get ready for whatever defense would make me do the most, which is if they blitz a lot," he said. "They've got Gastineau back now, so it's hard to tell what they've got planned."

Gastineau, bothered by groin, abdomen and knee injuries, recorded only two sacks during the regular season, after averaging 17 a year in the previous five full seasons. He returned to the New York lineup in last Sunday's 35-15 wild-card victory over Kansas City and inspired the defense to its best statistical performance of the year.

Gastineau had one of New York's two sacks as the Jets limited the weak Kansas City offense to 241 total yards.

"I think Mark gave us a little emotional lift," Coach Joe Walton said in a telephone interview. "When you've been struggling at a position and you get a player back off injured reserve, it can help."

Schottenheimer said it appears Gastineau is not yet healthy enough to be the dominant player he was before he was hurt.

"But the feeling of our people, myself included, is that he did a pretty good job against Kansas City," Schottenheimer said. "You've always got to be aware of him."

Besides the lift provided by Gastineau, the Jets were boosted Sunday by the play of veteran backup quarterback Pat Ryan, who replaced the slumping Ken O'Brien and threw three touchdown passes.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
 After special events of the Christmas and New Year holidays, regular meetings will resume in First United Methodist Church this weekend. Two staff changes were made in closing weeks of 1986.

Betty Conaway became director of the Kids Day Out program, replacing Rne Leavitt, who took the business administrator's position vacated when Bobbie Metcalf retired. Both have assumed their new duties.

Youth programs, choir rehearsals and the United Methodist Women's meetings will get back on schedule next week. Rev. Steve McElroy, pastor, will be back in the pulpit for the 10:55 a.m. worship service Sunday after a brief vacation.

A Youth prayer breakfast at 9 a.m. Sunday will begin activities announced by Robin Roth, director of youth ministries. United Methodist Youth Fellowship will sponsor an Epiphany party for children of the church at 4 p.m., preceding the weekly UMYF snack supper and program at 5:30 p.m.

A joint meeting of youth choirs will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday, and Senior High youth will sponsor a dance for Junior Highs at 8 p.m. Friday. Seniors are planning a ski trip to Taos, N.M. Jan. 16-19.

UM Women will start general meetings at 10 a.m. Wednesday. A covered dish luncheon will follow initiation of 1987 officers and a pledge service led by Morgan Cain.

Mark Mayer, director of music ministries, has called all choirs to their regular rehearsals next week.

The church will play host Monday evening for a sub-district training program on Creative Leadership in the United Methodist Church. Ava Berry, associate administrator in the Northwest Texas UM Conference office at Lubbock, and several ministers from over the Amarillo District will be here to lead the training, after a supper at 6 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 The Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier's sermon title for the regular Sunday morning worship service is "Renewing the Overdue". The scripture is Romans 12:1-2.

Kerygma begins a new theme at 7 p.m. Thursday in the small fellowship hall. The theme to be studied is "God's People Think About Him."

The scripture For Lunch Bunch meets every Wednesday at the church to discuss the coming Sunday's scripture in an informal time of fellowship. This week's scripture is Isaiah 6:1-8.

The children's choirs will resume this week. Chorister choir will meet from 3:30-4:15 p.m. Wednesday and the junior choir from 4:30-5:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The Women's Association will hold its quarterly luncheon at noon Wednesday at the church. All women of the church are encouraged to attend. All working women are extended a special invitation.

The youth of the church are invited to go to Amarillo for a movie and a meal following Sunday services.

Mission Yearbook: The northern and southern "bodies" of the Presbyterian Church have drawn together as one, but the practical efforts of the reunion are lengthy and tedious. Pray today for all those whose ministry it is to facilitate the coming about of this reconciliation. Remember those who labor in Atlanta, Philadelphia and New York as they seek to make this denomination a more practical extension of the gospel.

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Posey

The First Assembly of God Church will be in revival services Jan. 4-9. The services will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday and will continue at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The evangelists will be Rev. Lawrence and Patricia Posey of Dumas, Ark. Both are ordained ministers with the Assemblies of God. They have been on the evangelistic field for 12 years and have conducted over 250 revival meetings.

Mrs. Posey, who is a Cherokee Indian, will minister in song at each service.

The Rev. David Morris, pastor, invites the public to attend.

Cake decorating club votes to donate to association

The members of the Sweet and Fancy Cake Decorating Club recently met at the Community Center.

It was announced that the January King's Manor cakes will be done by Elida Balderes and Teresa Paetzold.

Carol Kelley reported on the cake pans that were purchased for the club for the use of its members. She also asked that those members who purchased pans for their individual use to pick them up at her house.

Beckie Fry read a letter from the Golden Spread Foster Parents Association asking for a donation. The club voted to give a $50 to the association.

The next meeting will be on Jan. 8 at the Community Center. The program will be given by Margaret Gamez on wedding cakes.

The meeting was adjourned with members joining together in fellowship and food to celebrate the Christmas season. Members present included Balderes, Evelyn Crofford, Fry, Betty Henson, Kelley, Alice Koenig and grandson Jason Koenig, Karen Martin, Nora Perez, Hope Torres, Manuela Melendrez, Elizabeth Flores and Marrie Leverett.

CHANGING THE OIL
 BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Pilots, like car drivers, have to think about changing the oil in their machines.

Frequent oil changes with the right oil are essential for safe flying, proper maintenance and engine longevity, says Phillips 66, a marketer of aviation oil. The firm recommends changing aviation oil every 90 days, rather than on the basis of operational hours. Also, never use automotive oil in a high-performance aircraft engine because it can leave deposits in spark plugs, causing pre-ignition and misfiring.

Multigrade oils flow faster in cold weather and lubricate quicker. And, says the firm, they provide better oil film coverage than single-grade equivalents at comparable temperatures.

THEATER GRANTS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Opera-Musical Theater Program of the National Endowment for the Arts recently announced a total of $5.7 million in support of the 1986-87 performance season of opera and musical theater throughout the country.

Federal grants will support production seasons, regional touring and the development and presentation of new American works, as well as special projects and services to the art for the opera-musical theater field.

There were 180 grants awarded "to support and help sustain the highest artistic standards in all forms of opera and musical theater."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sweeping new federal tax law, a multibillion dollar windfall for the states, is sparking debate on whether to cut rates for taxpayers or use the money for state programs or to ease deficits.

There are plans in 19 states to use the extra revenue on specific projects or to cut red ink. But in at least 14 other states, officials say taxpayers are likely to benefit through lower rates that would return all or part of the windfall to them.

These were among the findings in a survey by The Associated Press of governors, legislative leaders and revenue officials in the 50 states.

The federal tax changes could yield an estimated $6 billion in new state revenue, unless states pass on the break to taxpayers.

The increased state revenue results because most states base their income taxes on the federal tax structure. The windfall is likely to become a campaign issue in at least one governor's race this year, in Kentucky, and what to do with the money is causing political discomfort elsewhere.

How state officials are responding to the impact is influenced by the tremendous regional differences in the economy. "Almost half the states are in serious fiscal problems, and those states are not likely to give it all back," said Steven Gold, who watches state finances for the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Northern and Eastern states enjoying economic good times are making plans to turn back the money to taxpayers, including New York, Delaware, Maryland and Connecticut.

One of the biggest windfalls is in New York, where estimates range to more than $2 billion. Democratic Gov. Mario Cuomo is proposing to offset that with lower rates on capital gains, dividends and interest income, and with changed brackets and deductions. But Republican legislative leaders say they will push for still more tax cuts.

Ohio already has cut its tax rates. Gov. Richard Celeste earlier this month signed a law heading off what would have been $714 million in added state taxes.

Oil and farm states and others that have seen their economies suffer are more inclined to view the increased revenue as good fortune.

Both parties in Iowa, for example, are talking about spending a $175 million windfall, with more than half going to teacher salaries. In Utah, GOP Gov. Norm Bangerter wants to keep the $50 million windfall and raise taxes another $50 million.

Elsewhere there are proposals to cut rates across the board, grant breaks to certain taxpayers, reform state taxes or reduce the tax burden on the poor.

California expects no direct effect, but Gov. George Deukmejian has said he plans to propose changes to simplify state taxes. In South Dakota, one of the states that has no income tax, there is talk now of starting one.

In Minnesota, which figures to gain $719 million over two years, the debate is over whether to return it as income tax reductions or to reform property taxes.

Four states make their taxes a percentage of the federal tax liability, and its decline for most taxpayers would mean lower state revenues.

North Dakota, Rhode Island and Vermont already have acted to raise tax rates to offset the losses. In North Dakota, however, the legislative action has been put on hold by a decision this week to submit the matter to a statewide vote. The fourth, Nebraska, expects to lose $24 million to $36 million a year.

Nebraska Gov.-elect Kay Orr, a Republican who campaigned on a no-tax-increase pledge, plans to propose increased tax rates to compensate for the lost revenue, prompting Democratic charges she has already reneged on her promise.

Of the 14 with serious proposals to lower rates, Virginia, Wisconsin, Missouri, Arizona, New York, Minnesota, Maryland, Hawaii, Colorado, Michigan and Oregon all expect windfalls of $100-million or more. Returns of smaller windfalls are on the table in Delaware and Connecticut, which has no personal income tax but would gain through the increased tax on capital gains. Ohio lowered rates Dec. 12. The changes aren't really tax cuts, since they are lowering rates to avoid effectively higher taxes. Many states probably won't lower their rates the full amount — in effect, raising taxes.

States where there are no plans to lower taxes to offset the automatic increase include Illinois, where the estimated increase is $100 million.

States where a windfall is expected but there are no serious plans for offsetting cuts are: Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Utah and West Virginia.

Banks, collection agencies prepare for annual post-Christmas crunch

DALLAS (AP) — The Christmas shopping season is over and most of the merchandise that needed to be returned is back on store shelves, but now a new crunch is starting.

The post-season rush applies to collection agencies and federal employees who handle the checks that Christmas shoppers bounced during their spending sprees just before the holiday.

"The stores have had their busy time and now we have ours," says Jack Coulton, a collector with the National Recovery Systems collection agency in Dallas.

Officials at the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas estimate they will handle more than 48,000 bad checks a day in January. The post-Christmas crunch will even mean some jobs will be opening up. The Creditors Collection Bureau in suburban Garland is thinking about hiring some extra collectors and the manager of a Dallas financial counseling firm is busy training a new credit adviser.

"Every year we double our calls, have to work Saturdays and Sunday and stay in the office extra long just to keep up," Coulton said.

Charles Hunter, the manager of the Federal Reserve Bank's returned check division, said he expects more bad checks during January than any other time of the year.

The Federal Reserve Bank processes more than 2.5 million checks each day drawn on accounts from banks in northern Texas. Checks that are returned because of insufficient funds must also be sent through the Federal Reserve.

"The first weeks of January are traditionally our heaviest time of the year," Hunter said. "It seems to be a seasonal thing, every year people spend more than they should and overextend their bank accounts. There are more returned now than during any other time of the year."

Jean Taylor, a co-manager of the Creditors Collection Bureau, said she expects an increase in business during the next few weeks. Her company is among more than 100 credit collection agencies operating in the Dallas area.

"It's our best time of the year," Taylor said. "Business is very good and we expect it to pick up even more after the first of the year."

Both Taylor and Coulton said they look forward to the post-Christmas season and don't spare much sympathy.

"We hear the same excuses over and over, and every year it's the same mistake," Coulton said. "People spend too much on things they shouldn't and then use Christmas as an excuse to overspend a little more. It's like committing financial suicide."

John McGee, a spokesman for the Chilton Corp., a national credit reporting agency, said the number of people with credit problems is up during the weeks after Christmas because people use credit to make most of their holiday purchases.

"Christmas is the largest shopping rush of the season," McGee said. "It is also the time with the largest use of credit. It only makes sense that there will be a corresponding increase in the number of accounts with delinquency problems."

First group of registrants too old

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 2.1 million American men who reached age 26 last year are over the hill as far as the Selective Service System is concerned.

With the new year, men who had to register with the system in 1980 when they turned 20 are now ineligible for a draft because they are too old to qualify.

"The window of vulnerability has passed for this group," says Lewis C. Brodsky, spokesman for the Selective Service System.

Those who registered in 1980 are the first group of young men to cycle completely under the registration process. Under current rules, they could not be drafted, even if a call-up were ordered in an outbreak of war.

Brodsky said the names of about 15 million young men are maintained in the system's registration data base.
