Completely opposite views have been expressed by area potato growers during a hearing on a proposed national potato marketing order. Proponents of the act held the stand for the first one and a half days of the hearing held in Amarillo.

The opposition took the stand mid-way through Friday's session and continued its testimony in the matter through Saturday.

The hearing was the sixth of a series of seven slated across the country on the proposed matter. It started Thursday morning in the Amarillo School Administration auditorium, ran through Friday and was scheduled to end Saturday.

The plan being considered would authorize size, grade, quality, maturity, packing, containers and labeling requirements for the 48 contiguous states. It would be administered by a National Potato Administrative Board, with representatives from all seasonal groups (who would represent all the areas of the states (Continued on page 2)

Absentee Voting Opens On Monday

Absentee voting opens Monday, April 16, for the political primaries in Texas. Deaf Smith County Clerk B. F. Cain explained that persons who do not expect to be in the county on Saturday, May 5, may vote absentee in either of two ways. Most preferable is to come to the County Clerk's office with a poll tax receipt. Other method is by mailing in the poll tax receipt with a request for a ballot for absentee voting. On this method, the poll tax receipt will be retained until after the primary election, then mailed back to its owner. Resident qualified voters may vote either in the Democratic or Republican primary, but not in both. Those mailing in absentee ballot requests should state which ballot they want to use.

Measles In Area Said Not Serious

Measles have broken-out in the Dawn area where a rash of cases has caused something of a "local epidemic."

Approximately one-third of the 38 students were absent during the week because of the highly contagious disease, according to J. N. Killingsworth, school principal.

However, he pointed out, two of the twelve students have returned to school.

Killingsworth also stated that attendance at the school had been good until two weeks ago when measles started making the rounds.

According to city and county health officers the disease has not reached serious proportions and is not in epidemic stages. There has been a reasonable increase in the number of measles cases reported, according to Dr. Roy J. Grubbs, city health officer. Figures for the city are comparable with the increase reported across the state.

For the first three months of the year, a total of 54 cases have been reported in the city, he continued. A total of 174 was reported during 1961.

These figures are estimates from local physicians, he pointed out. Dr. Grubbs, however, stressed that there is no need for alarm. In discussing the number of cases reported in Deaf Smith County, Dr. R. R. Wills, health officer, said that the sudden rash of measles was not too serious with only a few spotted cases reported.

A spot check of several local schools was made Friday with only the Dawn School reporting students absent due to measles.

In case of exposure to measles, the state health officer recommends the giving of gamma globulin to women who are pregnant and have not had measles and to children in a debilitated condition when it would be a threat to their health, said Dr. Grubbs.

County Council Sponsors Health Card Program

A drive to place health and information card in the billfold of every Deaf Smith County resident is being sponsored by the county Home Demonstration Club Council, according to Mrs. T. J. Parsons, vice president, District 1.

Information contained on the cards will include allergies to certain antibiotics, hospitalization insurance, blood type and required medicines.

House-To-House Drive For Funds Slated Monday

A house-to-house canvass of homes in Hereford will be made Monday in an effort to raise additional funds for the Cancer Crusade, said Mrs. Dick Gholson.

The annual canvass is sponsored by the Les Meres Child Study Club as a yearly project in conjunction with the drive for funds to fight cancer. Mrs. Gholson is drive chairman.

Presidents of women's clubs in the area have been contacted in order to get workers for the drive, she stated. Those wishing to work are to meet at the Community Room of the First National Bank beginning at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

She pointed out that the purpose of the drive was not only to raise funds but also to get literature concerning cancer in as many of the homes as possible.

The drive to raise funds for the fight against cancer began in the city as April was designated Cancer Crusade Month. (Continued on page 7)

BLACK CATS EVERYWHERE

Hereford Blows Lead On Errors; Dumas Wins 6-5

It was Friday the 13th and there must have been a million or so invisible black cats wandering Whiteface Field. How else, the team wonders, can you play shut-out ball for five innings and then blow a five-run lead so quickly? But that's exactly what Hereford did as it stumbled, fumbled and faltered to a 5-6 defeat at the hands of the Dumas Demons.

That threw Hereford into a tie with Dumas, as both teams sport 2-1 records. Levelland holds down the cellar with an 0-2 mark. Dumas will be host to Levelland Tuesday. The Whitefaces don't play again until Friday, April 20, when they go to Levelland.

Mickey Stevens pitched shut-out ball for five innings with only one ball hit out of the infield. Then the roof caved in.

Hereford scored all its runs in the second-inning. With one out, Bill Steele got on by error before John Buck and Ken Loerwald singled. Steele came in after a throw went astray while he was being run down between third and home. Stevens got on by error as Buck scored and Ronny Duncan advanced the runners with a bunt single.

John Willoughby's sacrifice fly scored Loerwald and Stevens came in on an error when Joe Mack Hale was safe at first. Eugene Green singled to drive in Duncan before the side was retired.

Hereford put two on base in the third but failed to score them. A walk and a single offered scoring opportunities for Hereford in the fourth, but a double play by Dumas killed the chance.

Dumas stranded one runner in the second and one in the fourth. In the fifth, they got two aboard after a catcher's interference and an error, but they were stranded.

Five More Suits Filed Against Local Residents

Five more suits were filed against Deaf Smith County residents last week, as the result of a current probe into the crumbling financial empire created by Billie Sol Estes of Pecos.

Filed Wednesday afternoon in 69th District Court in Hereford were two suits against J. D. Greeson of Hereford, doing business as J. D. Greeson Company.

Behlen Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Neb., filed against Greeson for collection of more than $80,000. First suit was to collect $70,000, plus six per cent interest and attorneys' fees. The suit alleges that Greeson borrowed the $70,000 from Behlen Manufacturing on Sept. (Continued on page 7)

Around Town

A summer struck with a sudden blow Friday and came back for a repeat performance on Saturday. It came so suddenly that many folks were claiming they just didn't have any energy. And even those who are really avid fishermen were looking longingly toward the lakes.

But it was something beside the heat that made many of us boil Saturday. It was a small announcement that the USDA had increased its U. S. sugar requirements by 200,000 tons for 1962. The Secretary coupled this with increased sugar allocations of 70,410 tons for the first half of the year. That provides the kicker — when broken down. Domestic sugar beet area got an increase of 30,231 tons; mainland cane was boosted 6,387 tons. That's about 37,000 tons. Then, as per usual, offshore sugar areas got a total of 33,292 tons. Included are Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Peru, Dominican Republic, Mexico, Nicaragua, Haiti, The Netherlands, Formosa, Panama and Costa Rica. The announcement closes by saying that 29,590 tons still are not allocated, "but which may later be apportioned among countries not participating in Friday's allocation."

The candidates are coming to Hereford this week. At least three major aspirants have told supporters to get things ready in Hereford, 'cause they're on their way. First to arrive will be James A. "Jimmy" Turman of Fannin County. He's presently speaker of the House and a Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor. He will speak at 8 p.m. Monday, April 16, in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse. Here Wednesday morning, April 18, for a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. at the Western Wheel Inn will be Desmond Barry, a Republican candidate for Congress. (Continued on page 2)

FIRST REPORTS

'Spring Opening' Termed Success

Spring Opening sponsored by the Trade Promotions Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce appears to have been a success from first reports.

Nine firms out of a total of 54 participating in the event turned in a total of $104.61 by early Saturday, according to the Chamber office.

"From the downtown point of view," said Harold Kilds, committee chairman, "Spring Opening was a success."

"After talking to several of the merchants," he continued, "they indicated a willingness to continue the promotion." When plans for the sales event were first made, the hope of holding the affair annually or semi-annually was expressed. The success of the event was to be gauged on the amount of sales by students. During the evening, over 200 students from Hereford High School Junior and senior classes manned the counters of 54 local (Continued on page 2)

Patriots' Day Observance Set

Plans are being made in Hereford to join in a nation-wide observance of Patriots' Day on Thursday, April 19.

Sponsored by the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, the day marks the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord and of Paul Revere's ride to alert the Minute Men.

Chairman of the local committee from the Legion Auxiliary is Mrs. Hazel Sparks. Serving with her are Mrs. Ira Ott and Mrs. Leroy Williamson.

"Let the bells tell the world" has been proclaimed as the theme of the observance. At 11 noon, central time, all bells in the nation are to ring for four minutes, sounding their appeal for American patriotism, Mrs. Sparks pointed out.

The American Legion will put out flags in front of stores and businesses, while residents are also asked to display American flags at their homes.

SELLING HIS FIFTH pair of shoes is Ted Wimberly as the junior and seniors took over the stores here Thursday night to raise money for school activities. Local merchants participating in the event, "Spring Opening," donated 10 percent of the sales to student funds. Wimberly's customer is Mrs. Leonard Schmidt who came in the store with her three-year-old daughter, Sheryl. (Staff Photo)

Lee said that a meeting of all Little League officers and coaches will be held Monday, April 16, at 8 p.m. in the Hereford State Bank.

Bob Reinauer of Hereford will be in Amarillo Sunday to compete for the Optimist Club zone oratorical crown. Bob won the Hereford club competition recently and has been practicing for the zone meet.

A Pony League organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, April 17, in the Hereford State Bank, starting at 7:30 p.m. League president Earl Stagner is planning for four teams, with play starting when school is out. The meeting Tuesday will outline plans for try-outs, scheduling and election of officers.

Deaf Smith County Hospital by private car, then transferred to the Hereford Medical Clinic for X-ray and treatment. Extent of his injuries are not believed to be serious. He has a broken leg and has been returned to the hospital.

According to witnesses, the youth was struck as he rode across First Street where it intersects with Clements. His bicycle was crumpled as it was struck by the right front wheel of a 1950 model car driven by Lupe Sanchez, 17. Sanchez is a farm laborer and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Sanchez, 109 block West Park.

Sanchez was cited by Hereford Patrolman Aclie Austin, the investigating officer, for driving without a driver's license. Assisting in the investigation was Texas Highway Patrol Sergeant B111 Wells.

A witness to the accident, W. P. Bell of Soagrades, was driving behind the Sanchez vehicle. He told investigating officers that Sanchez, east-bound on First Street, was not travelling more than 15 miles per hour.

firms. Purpose of the three-hour affair was to raise money for activities of both classes. A merchant commenting on the success of the Spring Opening at his store expressed his thoughts on the event by pointing out that his firm's donation would be over $20. The two classes will receive 10 per cent of the sales from the three-hour period from 6-9 p.m. Most Main Street merchants as well as Park Avenue merchants, furniture and grocery stores, service stations and cleaners participated. A similar promotion tried in a South Plains city with "outstanding results" was the basis for the event held here. In commenting on the participation by merchants and students, Kids pointed out that there was excellent participation and cooperation. The 10 per cent donation to the two classes is based on gross sales without regard to actual profits to merchants who participated. It was expected that the opening would give the two classes a chance to make approximately $200 to $400 each to use for class projects. In charge of assigning students to the various firms was where potatoes are harvested during a given period of time. Given small representation on the board would be processors, shippers and the chipping industry.

As the meeting opened, Colorado growers took the stand to tell of declining markets and poor prices. They strongly backed the proposed marketing order on the grounds that it would reduce acreage, stabilize prices and provide fair prices.

Also backing the proposal was Jack Renfro of Hereford, one of the Southwest's largest independent growers and shippers. He said that he felt that the marketing order would provide an aid to the industry on the basis of supply management. Renfro said, "I am dead set against price supports. We got them kicked out back in the early 1950s and we don't want them again."

"If we could develop a national program where the quality and supply of domestic potatoes could be regulated on a local level, I believe it would be much better than this present boom-bust situation."

George Jones, general manager of E. C. Reinauer and Sons, Hereford growers and shippers, gave a less hearty endorsement to the marketing order plan. He also submitted a list of amendments he favors before the order is approved. He particularly stressed local controls, in the hands of the growers, rather than in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Questioned as to whether this could be done, Jones said that he thought it could. Jones also stated that he favored an acreage cut. He said, "From a national standpoint, we should have 10 per cent less potatoes and this should be determined at the local level."

Kenneth Neil of Friona asked Jones, "Is it at all conceivable to get a national ruling at a local point, when all the other states are involved, before your potatoes rot in the ground?"

Jones answered, "I think so." Also speaking in favor of the marketing order was Howard Gault, Hereford grower and shipper.

The opponents took the stand to start testimony about 2:30 p. m. Friday and continued through the end of the hearing Saturday. Among those speaking in opposition was Denzil Pulliam, Hereford grower who is heading a drive to block adoption of the marketing order.

Pulliam contended that the order would eliminate others from growing potatoes at a later date. He also stated that the local area would not be able to handle its own affairs if grouped with other areas into a seasonal group.

Also speaking in opposition was Frank Barrett and Ed Dziuk Sr., both of Hereford. They are growers. Barrett also is a shipper.

Kenneth D. Hart, D. E. coordinator at Hereford High School.

Merchants specified the number of students needed to man the counters of their firms. Students were allowed to sign up for the stores they wished to work in, but some had to be changed.

Then came the sad sixth as Dumas picked up four runs on errors. Julian Miller got on by error. A double play chance turned into another error and two were on board. Dennis Wyle singled in one run, but the second runner was out trying to reach third.

With two out, Steve Minton singled in Wyle and came in on a double by Robert Robinette. An error put another on base before Joe Sanders singled to drive in Minton before the side was retired. Dumas had scored four runs on four hits and four errors.

The miscues don't count the foul balls that were dropped by various fielders that would have been outs.

In the top of the seventh, Stevens stayed on the bench and Richard Casas came in to take over and protect the one-run margin. But it didn't work out that way as he walked the first batter, Don Samuels. Julian Miller singled and both advanced on a sacrifice bunt by Ronnie Smith.

Then came two consecutive errors that allowed two runs. When Steve Minton walked, Casas was relieved by Drew Kershner who got the next two batters to fly out.

Eugene Green walked to open the last of the seventh. With one out Steele singled to become the potential winning run. But a fly ball was grabbed on the run by Dumas centerfielder Ronnie Smith. He fired to second to double off Green and that was the game.

Hereford slammed nine hits during the game, all singles. Dumas had just five hits, including a double. The Demons were charged with four errors — all in one inning. Hereford chose to spread its nine errors over four innings.

Robinette went all the way for the victory. He allowed five runs on nine hits, walked two and struck out two. Stevens gave up four runs on four hits, walked none and struck out five during five innings. Casas was charged with the loss, his first of the year. He gave up two runs on one hit, struck out none and walked two during one-third of an inning. Kershner faced just two batters and got both of them out. Eugene Green, Hereford's sophomore catcher, received a badly injured finger on his left hand when it was hit with a bat during the fifth inning. However he remained in the ball game. First baseman Joe Mack Hale also was shaken up when he collided with John Whiteside at first base. And second baseman John Buck was slugged in the face by Julian Miller after Buck failed to tag Miller on an attempted steal. It was a rugged afternoon.

Riders Club Queens Contest Scheduled
The first annual Hereford Riders Club Queen contest will be held on Sunday, April 15, in the Hereford rodeo arena at 2 p.m.
The girls participating in the contest have been preparing for the past two months. Their horses have been receiving daily groomings and extra amounts of feed, plus much hard riding.
The two girls chosen as queens will well deserve the honor. They will not be chosen for beauty, but for their love and knowledge of horses. They must be poised and friendly at all times because they will be representatives of the Hereford Riders Club.
The queenship is not all honor or part of it being hard work. The queens will lead the club in all parades and grand entries. The girls must look their best, and their horses and equipment must also receive special care. "Self-sacrifice" is the keyword among the contestants.
The contestants will be judged on personality, appearance, horsemanship and care of the horse and equipment. Good grooming of the horses is a necessity because the grooming reflects directly upon the care that the riders have given them.
Judges for the contest will be from out-of-town and unknown to the queen contestants.
The contest will be colorful and exciting. The girls' costumes include colors ranging from bright reds to cool pastels. The contest will be a pageantry of beauty on horseback. Everyone is urged to attend.

BY JIMMIE GILLENINE
People are beginning to think about politics and, with the first primary less than three weeks away, it is about time. Marshall Formby's stock seems to be going up all of the time, and some people seem to think that Will Wilson gained a little ground through the Estes hearings; there are others who contend that Wilson should have done something about the situation a long time back. Should either Formby or Wilson get into the run-off, he will probably win the race. If the run-off happens to be Daniel and Connally, hundreds of voters will be pulling their hair. Don Yarborough, strictly a labor candidate, doesn't cut much ice out this way, and I doubt if he will on the state-wide level. Walker, I figure will be low man on the totem pole. The Republicans best bet is a run-off between Daniel and Connally, which would shift a lot of Demo votes.

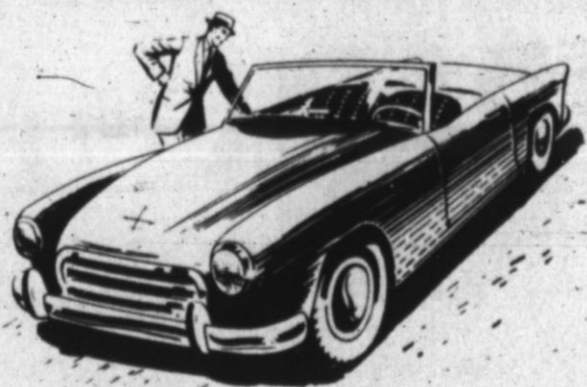

The Texas Bar Association has taken its annual membership poll on the Supreme Court race and the results overwhelmingly favor Meade Griffin over Jesse Owens, and Zolite Steakley over Willard Street.

I hate to agree with the lawyers, but this time they have my support. Meade Griffin is from Plainview and has made an outstanding record. He got 88 per cent of the lawyer poll, while Owens got 12 per cent. Steakley, a former Secretary of State, was appointed to the court earlier and is running against Willard Street of Littlefield; Steakley got 83 per cent of the lawyer vote, while Street got 17 per cent. The lawyers take this poll in order that the people may know what the profession thinks about candidates for Supreme Court. They do not send out results on any other race, but they do feel that people should know something about the court judges, rather than vote by selecting from names of which they never before heard. All in all, it is a pretty good idea.

The cutest joke I have heard in a long time says that the recent drop in General Motors stock occurred when the public learned that Liz Taylor no longer cares for those Fisher bodies.

Charles Skelton, who is a gun collector, is all worked up because a fellow collector gave him a couple of Smith and Wesson .38 revolvers. The pistols came from Ft. Riley, Kan., and were thoroughly mutilated.

It is the best system the minds of men have devised over the centuries. But remember, in our adversary system, YOUR LAWYER is only your ADVOCATE, or one who REPRESENTS YOU and sees to it that your case is presented in its best light.

Steinbeck Novel Reviewed At Meet

Bayview Study Club members met in the Club Room of the Hereford Community Center, Friday afternoon, April 6, with Mrs. J. W. Kirby acting as hostess for the meeting.

The special program was a review of John Steinbeck's new novel, "The Winter Of Our Discontent," by Mrs. Ansel McDowell. She brought out the unusual way that Steinbeck had analyzed the characters in the book; taking them apart in an unflattering way, exposing their weaknesses, desires and temptations, and then giving a resume of the rapid happenings to the family involved in the plot of the book. She concluded her review by relating the way the family retained their faith in the human race.

Members present were Mesdames Howard Gault, Lee Benefield, J. W. Spradley, Richard Barnard, Dave H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, W. J. Gilliland, R. B. Miller, Francis Hardwick, Bruce Burney, Jimmie Gillentine, Eugene Naugle, McDowell and the hostess, Mrs. W. S. Kerr, A. M. Jones, Ansel J. W. Kirby.

"I hope that those who have not had a chance to express themselves with a contribution will do something this month," said Mrs. Claude McDougal, crusade chairman.

She also pointed out that the committee maintains a "speakers' bureau" and has films available for clubs wishing programs on cancer.

"Hereford doctors have been most cooperative in appearing before clubs and showing films," she commented.

Mrs. McDougal also pointed out that in the fight against cancer, education is a primary factor.

Education along with a yearly checkup can prevent cancer and more than half of the cases discovered can be cured with a great number of others controlled, she pointed out.

'Prejudice' Is Program Topic At La Plata Study Club Meet

The home of Mrs. T. E. Seigler Jr. was the meeting place for members of the La Plata Study Club on Tuesday, April 3. Members present for the meeting were Mesdames Leroy Aven, J. M. Madison, Viola Chisholm, Raymond White, Frank Prowell, Louis Woodford, Ansel McDowell, A. J. Schroeter, Bill Thompson, Vrlin Streu, Joe Smith, Elmer Brown, Jay Boston, Elmer Patterson and the hostess, Mrs. T. E. Seigler Jr. Mrs. Raymond White was the presiding officer for the session. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. J. M. Madison. A treasurer's report was made by Mrs. Ansel McDowell. Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Federation Chairman, presented a report on the last meeting of the year for the Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in April in Shamrock. A report on the CCA Awards contest was given by the project chairman, Mrs. T. E. Seigler Jr.

Mrs. Viola Chisholm, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Leroy Aven who spoke on "Prejudice" as the program topic. "Everyone has chronic as well as acute prejudices," she said, recalling the prejudice our nation had against the Japanese people during World War II. She explained that in some ways we had good reason to hate the Japanese government but were we justified in hating the Japanese people? "We forget about individuals and their culture and lump together both the people and their governments, hating them during wars," she said. "Our Christian religion teaches us not to hate sinful men — but to pray for them. We must take basic Christian principles and parallel them to our sense of prejudice; we must separate the government and the individual."

Mrs. Aven presented a series of color slides on Russia, Hawaii and Japan. She spoke on the need to explore more extensively into the culture of the Russian people. "We abhor Communism but make no effort to separate Communism from the Russian people." She spoke of the tremendous size of Russia, the geography of Russia and of the extremes in temperatures. "Russia is divided into three zones. It produces grain, wheat and sugar beets among other crops. Forty per cent of the people are engaged in farming."

She said that Russia has 59 nationalities and 100 different languages spoken in the different areas. "While the United States is a true melting pot, the U.S.S.R. is not. The groups of people do not mingle as we do," she pointed out. "Travel is restricted. One of the most interesting things about Russia is the contrast

While it is an atheistic country they have carefully preserved the old churches. Tho it has a classless society there is no mingling of the different groups. There are three classes of travel on trains: hard, soft and international, while still claiming classlessness. The Russians are brutal to each other on the streets but treat foreigners well. Housing shortages are acute, yet tourists are provided with fine accommodations."

Members of the Summerfield Study Club met Thursday, April 5, in the home of Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. in Hereford with Mrs. Earl Lance serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Mack Noland, president, conducted a short business meeting. Plans were made for the closing luncheon to be held on May 3 in the home of Mrs. J. B. Noland with the foreign exchange students of Hereford High School as special guests. Mrs. Kenneth W. Neill, program chairman, discussed "A Seat Belt Could Save Your Life"

"This simple, yet proven, safety device might mean the difference between life and death on the highway," she said.

"Investigators calculate that 30 to 60 percent of the 30,000 automobiles could be saved by the use of seat belts. None of the 422 motorists killed on July 4, 1961 were wearing safety belts. On the other hand in a careful study made of 712 seat belts worn in accidents, it was found that 701 belts had functioned properly. Of the 11 failures, 9 were due to faulty installation." "Dr. Horace E. Campbell,

Medical Society's safety committee, believes that legislation is needed requiring all cars to be equipped with belts. "Motorists," he says, "shouldn't be given the choice of not having them any more than they are given the choice of buying un-inspected meats."

Mrs. Neill presented a checkpoint system of parking. "First, stop your car next to the car in the space ahead so that the back rest of both cars are straight. The autos should be parallel and about two feet apart."

"Checkpoint One—after cars are aligned, back slowly and steer right until the backrest is about two feet ahead of the tip of the other car's left rear fender."

"Checkpoint Two—continue to back slowly with your wheels turned full right. Stop when your backrest is in line with the tip of the fender of the other car. Then resume backing while straightening out your wheels." "Checkpoint Three—when lower right corner of the windshield is in line with the tip of the fender, steer left to straighten the car in the parking space. Hold steering wheel full left until the front fender clears the car ahead. Align the car to the curb."

Refreshments were served to one visitor, Mrs. R. J. Smith, and the following members: Mesdames Lee Curry, R. B. Baker, C. R. Walsler, Ray Johnson, Guy Walsler, Mack Noland, Earl Lance Jr., J. R. Euler, Kenneth W. Neill, J. B. Noland and the hostesses Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. and Mrs. Earl Lance Sr.

Cancer Program Given By Dr. Mims

The Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club met in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank recently for the regularly scheduled meeting. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Sue James, the president. Minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved. The slate of officers nominated for the coming year was presented and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Byrdie Dee Fellers, president; Miss Lucille Park, first vice president; Mrs. Mary Helen Askew, second vice president; Miss Della Stagner, recording secretary; Mrs. Bruce Rose, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Marie Sears, treasurer.

Mrs. Marshall Spencer and Mrs. Rose Bullard, were welcomed into the club as new members. Dr. A. T. Mims presented the program on "Health and Safety," using the subject "Cancer" for the basis of his talk. He stressed the fact that research is going on at all times, trying to find the cause of cancer. He urged club members to have regular physical check-ups at least once a year in order to detect cancer in the early curable stages. A question and answer session followed the talk.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Kathleen Baker and Mrs. R. J. Cramer. Refreshments were served to Messdames Byrdie Dee Fellers, Carrie Mae Doak, Ruby Lee Hickman, Guyrene Carter, Rosalie Coplin, Rose Bullard, C. Ora Cockrell, Bruce Rose, Marshall Spencer, Margaret Ann Durham, Marie Cline, Marie Sears, Ursalee Jacobsen, Atha McIver and Sue James; and Misses Della Stagner, Lucille Park, Gladys Setliff, Bea Barrett and Mary Bourn.

CALM WIND IS WARMER SASKATOON, Sask. (AP) — A porous windbreak offers more protection than a solid one, it has been found in tests at the University of Saskatchewan. Investigation showed that a 20 per cent porosity is desirable. This means a cattle pen could be made of eight-inch boards with two inches of space between them. Although wind blows through the spaces, it is calmer inside than if the wind tumbles over a solid wall. Air spilling over a solid wall creates a general turbulence inside the pen that makes the area colder. Therefore, if cattle are more than three feet from a porous wall, they are more sheltered — warmer — than if they were at any spot behind a non-porous barrier.

Mineral Deposits Open New Vistas For Residents Of Texas Panhandle

Hereford the center of a mining industry? Never, you might say. But those who heard Canyon geologist Jack Hughes in a talk here Monday night disagree.

They came away convinced that the Panhandle area has a vast wealth of minerals and most of them haven't even been considered.

Unlike many areas of the country which are rapidly depleting their natural resources, this area hasn't even scratched the surface. At least, that is Hughes' contention.

The reason, he says, is that the area first was found to be sitting atop a vast reservoir of oil and gas, with some helium and sulfur thrown in for good measure as mere by-products. About the same time, water was found in huge quantities in the Ogallala formation, one of the four major strata beneath the surface.

Between petroleum and agriculture, the economy was strong enough so no one even had to consider what other material might be at hand.

But Hughes says that the territory now needs to take a good look at other areas. Even with rigid production controls, the gas and oil won't last forever. And water may someday be a problem plaguing farmers.

The next frontier then might be in development of other raw material that are found in varying abundance.

Hereford's own tile and brick factory is a real example of using natural resources. The factory utilizes clay from the area in manufacturing both brick and tile for local use. These clays are just one of many such materials mentioned by Hughes. He pointed out that other clays are ideal for making ceramics.

Others, Hughes told the meeting, are Fuller's Earth, found in commercial quantities and used for drilling muds in the petroleum industry. Within the various formations are several good types of building stones, such as dolomite. Caliche, sand and gravel, of course, have been dug out of natural formations here for many years.

But most residents don't know that there are commercial deposits of gypsum, used in wallboard, some forms of alabaster and common opal.

Other minerals found here in greater or lesser amounts include potassium, copper, manganese, barium and some radioactive ores. Commercial amounts of uranium have been worked as close as Silverton.

Known presently for its petroleum, cattle and agriculture, the Panhandle may soon also be recognized for its industries developed to fully utilize other natural resources.

How To Attract Tourists Galore

"Clothes make the man," they say, and such is the contention of J. B. Elliston, old timer and foremost publicist for this area. In a nutshell, Elliston contends that local residents, by dressing the part, can easily become a tourist point, thus attracting thousands of visitors and jingle hundreds of cash registers.

Big hats and western garb would be the basis of Elliston's proposal, and he is probably right when he points out that the people of Hereford are now a reflection of styles in New York and Eastern centers. In particular, he holds an aversion of the narrow brim, "jelly bean" hats which have in a large measure replaced the white, broad brims which once designated Hereford and Deaf Smith County as cattle country. He further contends that a community of people who dressed the part would soon become known far and wide. What's more, he has a point.

Yankees and Easterners invariably judge Texas by the movies and Western TV productions. When they come to Texas, many of them are surprised and disappointed, especially the young fry. And to prove his point are such places as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm and Texas Under Six Flags; all of these places are attracting millions of people annually, and chiefly because they are showing visitors the things they expect and want to see. In addition to Western togs, they stage regular "shoot 'em ups" and hold special productions at regular intervals.

Hereford or, for that matter, any town on an important highway might easily become world famous in this role. An entire community, after all, is much more effective than the special section of a movie set dedicated to re-creating the Old West.

The proposal, at the same time, presents several problems, chief among which is 100 percent cooperation. Most of the people, too, would have to live the role 365 days a year — or become the owners of two sets of clothes. In addition, there are three or four old boys around town who would run into tailoring problems when they tried to slip those tight-fitting jeans over their ratty tummys. Some of the ladies, too, might become a bit upset when they discarded silk hose and high heels for jodhpurs and cowboy boots.

We agree with Mr. Elliston; The idea would work, and no question about that. On the other hand, the price comes fairly high — and we sincerely doubt if the natives are hungry enough to pay the price required to secure the resulting fame, publicity and dollars which would follow.

Communism Is On The March

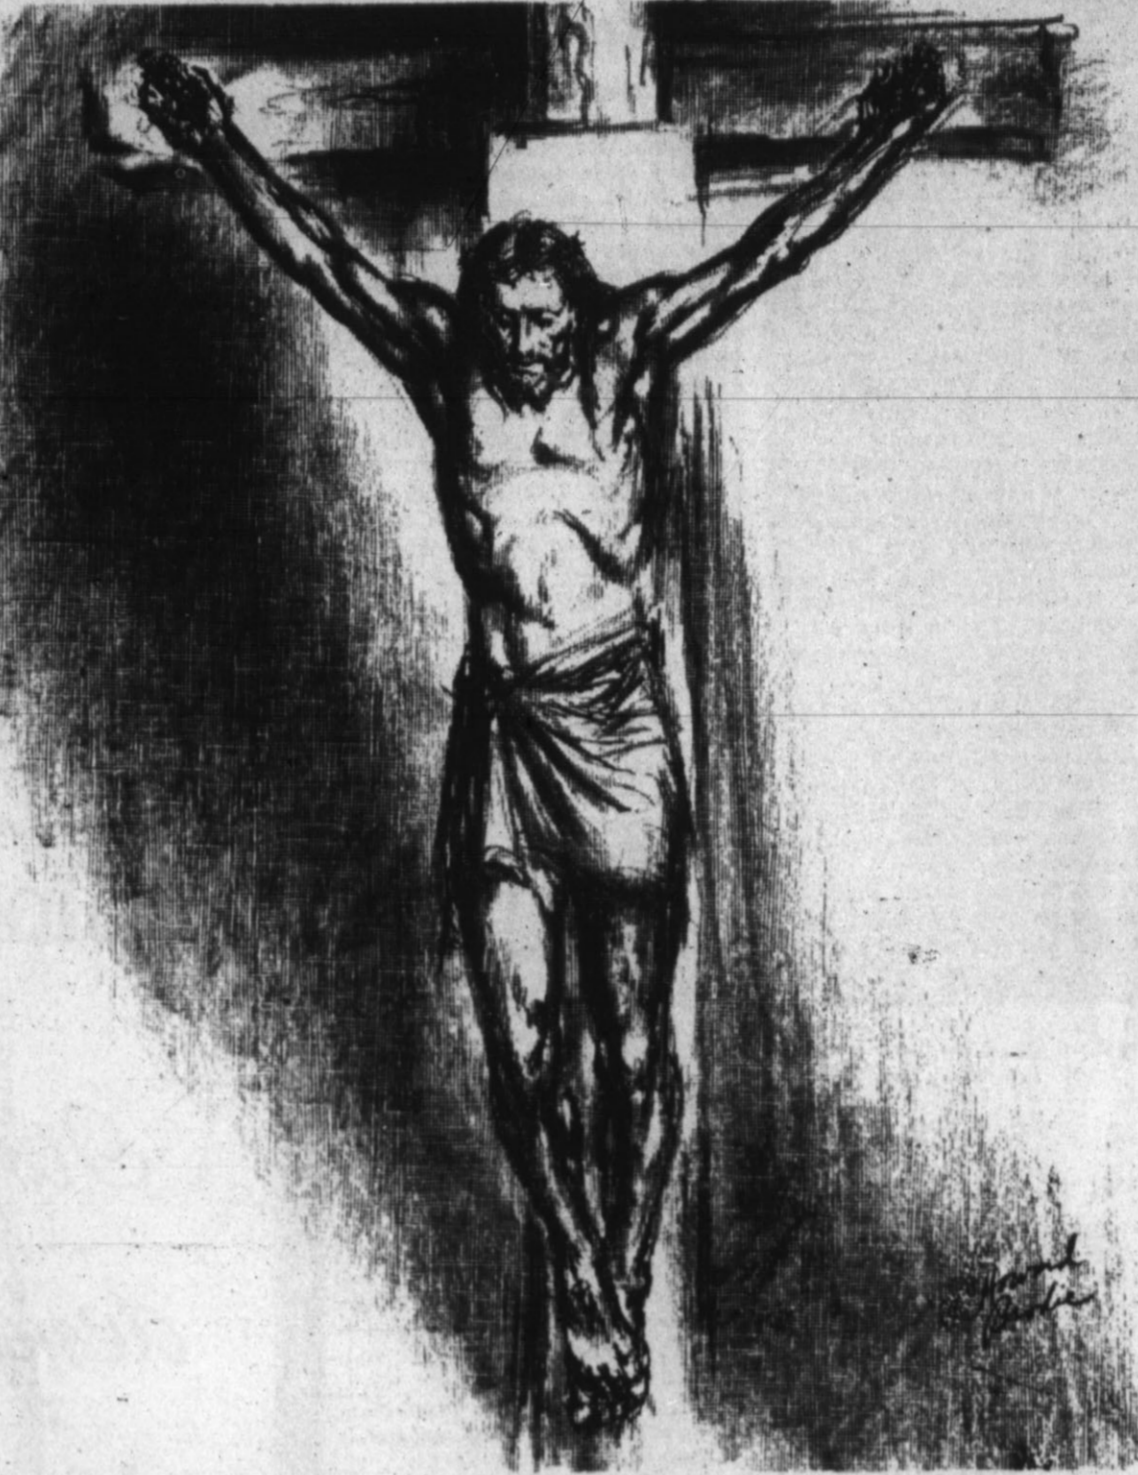

Recently a state college in Portales, New Mexico cancelled appearance of a speaker who publicly demanded the right to debate in behalf of communism, and this week investigations were being made concerning a West Texas State religious leader at Canyon, when the man was accused of extreme liberal affiliations.

No one, at least within our circle of acquaintances, pays out hard earned money in order to expose his sons and daughters to the propaganda of Communism, nor do we think that the officials of any college in this area would knowingly work toward this end. Needless to say, much the same situations have arisen in numerous other colleges and universities around the country, but never before so near home.

We can understand why commies and socialists, along with any other specific interest group, would want to infiltrate our schools of higher learning. We are also prepared to accept the fact that to absolutely ignore their existence would not be in keeping with total education.

On the other hand, it seems to us that all college officials, along with parents and students, should make just as great an effort to eliminate the infiltration of communists and communist thinking into our schools as the communists make to enter. Our churches and our universities should contain the most advanced people in the United States and, without question, these are the people who should detest communism most, and should fight the hardest toward curbing its spread.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

THE EASTER STORY—III

"By now it was about midday and there came a darkness over the whole land, which lasted until three in the afternoon. . . . And the curtain of the temple was torn in two. Then Jesus gave a loud cry and said, 'Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit,' and with these words he died."

Chain Savings Bond Scheme Going Again

The endless chain savings of Commerce, warned local residents today that this sales plan is violative of both postal fraud and lottery laws. Thompson also cited the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership, as stating that, although participants in the chain letter scheme may think they are doing the government a favor, the United States Treasury Department strongly disapproves of the sale of Savings Bonds through such unlawful methods.

Commissioners Appoint New City Officers Here

The city commission met at the city office in the court house, Friday, April 5, and took over the reins of government, W. M. Knight, mayor, D. F. Ashbrook and C. S. Garrison, commissioners, being present. The first business was the appointment of officers. P. W. Price was appointed "Clerk of the Commission." His duties are to act as city secretary, assess and collect the taxes, keep all books of record, keep all accounts, and do all the clerical work, and to act as Clerk of the City Court. His office will be at the court house and his salary was fixed at $75 a month. R. P. Brazil was named as the "City Marshal" whose duties will be rather multitudinous: to supervise the water and sewer systems, look after the pumping, see that all water and sewer connections are made in a lawful manner, act as the sanitary officer, to collect all water rents, and to see that all laws and ordinances of the city are enforced, and to supervise all street work, act as "pound" mater, and to perform such other duties as the commission may direct. His salary was fixed at $60 per month. No change has as yet been made in the fire department. The expense of this department under the system runs near $100 per month. This includes wages of the driver, up-keep of the team, rent and incidental expenses.

25 - YEARS AGO

Crowds Wednesday morning thronged the county agent's office here as the distribution of $272,000 in soil conservation money was started in this county. Coming at an opportune time, the funds represent payments in connection with the 1936 program for this county, and were today rapidly going into circulation for machinery, clothing and other needed items. The first shipment of checks represented total payments to 830 farmers—with separate checks to landlords and for tenants. The checks averaged around $350, but ranged from as little as $15 upward. "Payments are this year being made in one lump sum," said Alex R. Bateman, agent. "The checks are not coming in split payments as they have some years in the past." The timely arrival of the checks this week found many farmers of this section in high spirits as they went about the business of adding new farm equipment, repairing machinery and generally improving their farms; others remarked that the government checks will tide them over until harvest time. Some of the funds were paid on debts, while others stocked their spring and summer wardrobes. As Hereford business firms moved some of their large stocks of merchandise, they continued ordering new stocks in expectation of filling the demand which is expected here if the county produces a good wheat crop this year.

MEXICAN'S DEATH REVEALS SMUGGLER

The case of the Mexican national who died here last week has been cleared up. It all started when the man died of a heart attack on a farm near Nazareth. From papers on the body, he was identified as Manuel Polendo Jr., Eagle Pass. Later it was learned that the real Polendo was working in California and had reported losing his papers sometime previously in Piedras Negras, just across the border. After questioning Latin Americans in the area it was learned by the Castro County Sheriff's Office that the man had been brought in with five other men. After talking to one of them, it was learned that a well-known smuggler had brought the men from Piedras Negras. The smuggler had become frightened when he learned one of his "clients" had died, so he took three of the men and headed home in his late model automobile.

ESTES CASE INVOLVES LOCAL BUSINESS

The Billie Sol Estes anhydrous ammonia uproar is affecting Muleshoe and area farmers to a large extent and one ginning company in particular as the Pecos millionaire faces fraud charges and suits. Records at the Bailey County Clerk's office reveal that more than $800,000 in mortgages have been signed for tanks, applicators, trailers and other equipment. One mortgage totals $458,618 and is dated Dec. 16, 1960. The same ginning company is involved in mortgages totaling about $1 million, according to Sheriff Jim Line of Potter County. The Associated Growers chain in the Muleshoe area has been closed with most farmers who had ordered fertilizer turning up empty-handed.

SCHOOL EXPANSION EXPLORED

The Canyon Independent School District is exploring the possibility of expanding the present Elementary School facilities rather than constructing a new, separate building on the existing site. Superintendent Joe A. Gibson said the School Board members he has conferred with seemed agreeable to the plan. "Under the proposal," Clayton Shriver, architect, said, "we would tie-on to the present building and then build north and west."

COUNCIL APPROVES ANNEXATION

First reading of the annexation ordinance bringing into the city limits a large area to the southeast and west of Littlefield was accepted by the City Council in their meeting Thursday night. The first reading was tabled at the council's last meeting so that field notes concerning the area could be studied more closely. An interim zoning ordinance was introduced and a date for public hearing on the ordinance was set by the council for May 3 at 7 p. m. Annexation of the area to Littlefield was approved by the Council on March 1, but legal work on the ordinance kept it from being taken in until the present time.

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's Note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses economy, the United Nations, and a few other things this week.

Dear editor:

One of the advantages of having a farm problem is the satisfaction you get out of realizing you aren't by yourself, practically every other form of enterprise has its problems too.

Take the United Nations. According to an article I read in a newspaper last night between westerns, the United Nations is financially embarrassed; well, it's broke. Hasn't got enough money to finance its activities and is doing the only thing any man or nation in its right mind would do, namely, ask Washington for a loan.

Actually, this shouldn't be embarrassing. It happens all the time. I know a lot of people with fine, beautiful ideas who can't pay their bills.

Now this shouldn't be interpreted as an attack on the United Nations, that outfit has enough troubles worrying about countries all over the globe without being bothered by this cotton-pickin' farm, and I might point out I know some people also who can pay their bills whose ideas ain't so fine and beautiful, nor according to my notion.

One of the complaints over the financial plight of the United Nations is that some nations vote to send help to some country in trouble, then refuse to pay their share of the assessment.

As long as the U. N. is run by people, it might as well expect this sort of thing. Two thirds of the people who clamor for economy in Washington will vote for a Federally-financed project for their own neck of the woods, and I know some big shots from cities whose idea of economy is to make one trip to Washington to appear before some Congressional committee asking for money for their city on one hand and economy for the rest of the country on the other.

What most of us want is one-footed economy. When economy shows up on the other foot too, then's when we holler.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Church Names Committee For Study Of Expansion

By Mrs. Clark Dobbs
The farming procedures still are on spring crops since we haven't received any of the predicted rain fall for this week, although we were pleased with the inch most of us received last Wednesday and Thursday. In regular conference last Wednesday night at Westway Baptist Church it was voted and a committee was elected to look into the problem of building on to the church. The main building was put there a little over a year ago, but already the church is beginning to feel the need for more room. Last Sunday morning there were 75 in Sunday School which is the second largest number for Sunday School.

Thirteen of the intermediates and young people of the Westway Baptist Church attended the Amarillo Baptist Association Youth Rally at the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo last Saturday night. OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

Gen. S. L. A. Marshall, of whom it was said by Carl Sandburg, "rates among many of us as the greatest of writers on modern war," knows war with its tactics and strategy. He also knows men.

Night Drop is primarily about men — brave ones, cowardly ones, stupid ones and lucky ones. This new non-fiction book from the Deaf Smith County library is about the officers and men of the 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions during a terrifying week.

Early on June 6, 1944, men from these two divisions — along with some glider troops — landed to establish a foothold in Normandy behind Utah Beach.

It turned out that Marshall wrote the official history of this bloody operation. The paratroopers were so busy fighting that they had no time for official records and journals. He got his first notes from direct interviews just a few days after the operation was concluded.

Those who have grown up with the idea that every paratrooper is a fighting demon, twice as tough as any other soldier, will be sadly disappointed. But the reader will also thrill to the stories of end-loss heroism. There are detailed accounts, with maps, of each regiment and battalion in the operation. But most often the story is of individual soldiers, sections of platoons, platoons of companies. The reader often feels like crying with frustration as small groups fight bitterly for their lives while another unit is just a few hundred feet away, yet ignorant of their comrades' plight. Such was the nature of the countryside, laced with thick hedgerows and marsh, that each small group was isolated from the rest of the battle.

Although the German defenses were fairly weak and highly disorganized, they were favored by the terrain and previously prepared positions. They also knew where they were, while the Americans were almost constantly lost, unable to see from one field to another and without reliable communication.

A serious error in planning the operation led to many of the blunders that followed. Aerial photos failed to show that the lush pastures were frequently flooded marshes covered with reeds and water grass. Consequently, many soldiers were drowned and their equipment lost when they plunged into the pre-dawn darkness above France.

In this book, Marshall introduces Sergeant Harrison Summers, the soldier who like many others was qualified to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor than any other, yet failed to get it.

You will also meet Captain Ben Schwartzwalder, aggressive in battle then as he is now, as coach of the famed Syracuse football team.

Many others were shouldering their first major commands — leaders like J. Lawton Collins, Matthew Ridgway, Maxwell D.

Taylor, James Van Fleet, James Gavin, Anthony McAuliffe — who distinguished themselves in France and later in Korea and Europe. When the reader is finished he will be proud to be an American. He will also be a little sad that not all men react bravely but will realize that a uniform does not determine a man's character.

Most of all, the reader will close the last page recalling Marshall's description, "The battle scene in modern warfare is commonly an empty landscape. To feel fire all around, see comrades fall by the score, yet note not one living target in sight is the average lot of the infantryman."

Night Drop is slow reading, detailed until it almost becomes too much. But the book is compelling because it truly mirrors a soldier's lot against the worst odds.

The long, thin cigars known as "stogies" got their name because they were designed for the needs of the Conestoga, Pa., wagon drivers who wanted a large, inexpensive cigar.

Cloves are the unopened flowers of an evergreen tree on the Indian Ocean Isle of Zanzibar. The buds are picked by hand twice a year. Some trees bloom for more than a century.

Clubwork Is Discussed At Young Mothers Club

The Young Mothers Study Club met Tuesday, April 10, in the Community Room of the First National Bank for the regular meeting. Mrs. Don Newman, president, presided at the session.

"What Your Club Should Mean To You" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Hugh Clearman. She stated, "Your club should be one of the highlights of your life. You should be willing to do your part in all club activities. The cooperation and work that you give to your club gauges the success of your club."

Members of the club will participate in the Cancer Drive to be conducted on Monday, April 16.

THAT'S GRATITUDE

BRADENTON, Fla. — There's no doubting Mrs. Rachel Kline's story, for she's president of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. She says it happened this way:

Her brother-in-law had been gathering dried leaves to use as mulch. He came hurrying into the house — where she was visiting — to explain that he had found two young skunks under the leaves and one had its head caught in a small olive or pickle jar. Unwilling to take a chance, he quickly retreated.

Later that evening, says Mrs. Kline, they were watching television when they heard a peculiar noise at the front door. They opened the door, thinking it was the family cat. But there was the skunk, its head still in the bottle, knocking it against the door.

Taking the skunk by the bottle — but gently — Mrs. Kline's brother-in-law placed the bottle between the door and the door jamb. The startled skunk backed up, its head came out of the bottle, and it departed the scene. Either out of fright or gratitude, it failed to leave a calling card.

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
FROM: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
SUBJECT: My Chamber Of Commerce in Action

A SARTEST is the abbreviated designation for a Search and Rescue practice mission. Sam, and three members of the Aviation Committee of my Chamber of Commerce participated in one this past Sunday. Curtis Trawick and Bill Thompson, both members of the Civil Air Patrol unit, and Dr. Milton Adams worked with Civil Air Patrol units from Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa, Borger and Lubbock in a search for a simulated crashed aircraft.

Search patterns were set up on the map over the area that the plane was known to be flying when last reported. Automobiles with short-wave radio were dispatched to the various search areas and rescue vehicles were on a standby alert.

The practice was a complete success with the "downed" aircraft being spotted from the air within two and one half hours of the emergency briefing. The wreckage was spotted from the air and a mobile radio unit was directed to the scene by radio and drop messages. The practice served to point up some weaknesses and gave all of those participating a taste of the organizational problems involved.

The next search and rescue operation could be the real thing and involve a real urgency of finding survivors. The Amarillo C. A. P. unit has participated in many actual services. It is an all volunteer organization, an auxiliary of the Air Force with no military obligations. Its ranks are open not just to pilots but to anyone with a skill needed in the type of mission outlined — medical, radio, photography, observer, mechanic or other. Contact the Chamber of Commerce office if you would like to participate in this most worthwhile organization, Curtis says.

On Monday, six members of my Chamber of Commerce and the Manager journeyed to Canyon to participate in an all-day Community Leaders Workshop. Neil Cooper, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, J. T. Sims, Guy Lawrence, Frank Ford Jr., Clint Formby and Bill Thompson heard discussions of important phases of community development work by leading authorities. Clint Formby was the lanceon speaker and emphasized the individual's responsibility in any successful community effort.

Next week, Sam, just two meetings are scheduled but several others are in the mill. The Recreation committee under the chairmanship of Guy Lawrence will meet again to further study the proposal for a year round swimming pool and a proposal to provide a lighted baseball diamond for the use of Legion and other baseball groups.

On Monday there will be a meeting of the Highway Development Association for the purpose of discussing policies and plans to be adopted at the state and national meetings of the U. S. Highway 60 Association and the International Parks Highway Association (U. S. 385). Plans will also be set for the annual membership drive. On Wednesday Hereford Delegates to the Texas Division of the Highway 60 Association will journey to Panhandle for that group's annual business session. A meeting of the Agriculture Committee and of the Membership Relations Committee is pending next week also. That's my report for this week, Sam.
