

Air Force Listens; Hearings Results Uncertain

By BOB NIGH
Managing Editor
AMARILLO -- Several Hereford and Deaf Smith County residents were among the nearly 200 Panhandle people who appeared Monday at a pair of hearings concerning the M-X Missile System at the civic center here. And, while those in attendance thought the air force was "listening" to the people at the hearing, they weren't as sure that any good would come from the questions posed and testimony given.

"My personal feeling is that they've already got all the information they are going to accept, and I don't think anything new has been proposed that they haven't already considered," Deaf Smith County Judge Glen Nelson said. "Consequently, I don't think that the hearings will have much impact on what will eventually happen." Nelson attended the second of two hearings on the MX Monday, presenting two questions to the MX Hearing Panel and offering testimony for the record as well.

Hereford's Frank Ford attended the afternoon session and thought some good statements had been made. "I'm not sure that anything does any good anymore with our government, but if it does, I think our testimony will help a lot," Ford said. "There was a lot of good testimony presented from this area."

Ford, speaking on behalf of himself and the Texas Corn Growers Association, charged that the impact of the MX construction on groundwater will be far more than estimated in the Air Force's Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS). "The EIS just scratches the surface on the water shortage danger," Ford said. "The MX construction could reduce supplies to the point that there wouldn't be enough water to support life in the Panhandle."

Ford indicated that he was skeptical of the Air Force's estimate that the amount of water used by the MX project would total about seven percent of the total used for irrigation in the area in just one year.

The outspoken MX opponent insisted that there was a "big difference" between theoretical water supplies and practical water supplies in the Texas Panhandle.

Judge Nelson also voiced concern about the impact the missile system would have on the water groundtable in the High Plains area. "Our maior concern is that of the impact of the system on the water supply," he said. "I was trying to plant the seed for water importation, but I'm not sure if it will get off the ground."

Nelson, during the question and answer period, asked the hearing team if the possibility of water importation existed provided the water usage exceeded that estimated by the EIS.

Lt. Col. Fred Kuhn acknowledged that the question was "real tough." "We can't say that the federal government can recompense all wrong...and there would have to be some fault by the Air Force established," he continued.

The hearing team, headed up by Col. Bill Sims, told the audience that some 40 basing modes have been considered for the MX, which is designed to be in "full-deployment" by 1986.

"The final decision about the MX will eventually be made by the Congress," Col. Sims said. "There will be a decision as to whether to go ahead with the land-base mode by July 1."

Another member of the hearing team, Lt. Col. Tom Holycross, responded as to why the MX was needed. "The MX is designed as a deterrent," he said. "It is designed to put the United States back into balance with the U.S.S.R., not give us superiority. But, if we don't build it, we will continue to slump lower in the balance."

Holycross, of the Pentagon, is a 13-year veteran of the Strategic Air Command, having spent over six years in a Minuteman Missile Silo, charged with the responsibility (See HEARING, Page 2)

OK Annexing Ordinance

City Commissioners Approve Paving Program

By ALLISON RYAN
Staff Writer
City commissioners approved an ordinance to annex property, approved the paving assessment program, accepted bids for the incinerator liner and authorized bids to be taken for new patrol cars.

The commissioners met in regular session Monday night at the commissioner room. Mrs. W.W. Jones had petitioned on the commission March 16 to annex Block 96 of the Whitehead Addition into the city. McKinley Avenue borders the west side of the property and Avenue K borders the east.

According to Dudley

Bayne, city manager, the petition was made for the most part for the use of city water.

"She and her daughter are asking to come in for the water," Bayne said.

Commissioners approved the ordinance by a unanimous vote.

The ordinance will be forwarded to the Justice Department for final approval.

After several delays, commissioners received the needed information concerning a paving assessment program for Hereford. An ordinance declaring the necessity for paving as well as the streets involved was passed at the relatively brief, one-half hour meeting.

Following the property owners' approval, the paving process can begin which will include several sections of 29 streets in Hereford.

Commissioners authorized bids to be accepted for metal sheets to line the city's incinerator.

Only one bid was received which was Metal Building

Components, Inc., of Lubbock. The bid of $4,569.30 was accepted.

In other business, commissioners authorized bids to be accepted for six police patrol cars.

Bayne said he would begin to draw up the necessary requirements for the needed cars.

Streets and sections included in the proposed paving assessment are:

Ave. F from 17th St. to 200'.
14th St. from west property line (wpl) of Ave. B to wpl of Ave. C.
14th St. from east property line (epl) of Ave. C to epl of Ave. F.

Air Force Now Proposing More Compact Basing Plan For Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is proposing a more compact basing plan for the MX missile to save an estimated $1 billion and reduce by 15 percent the amount of land needed if deployment goes ahead in Utah and Nevada.

The proposed changes also are designed to ease some of the opposition to the system from environmentalists and others who object to the original plan to spread 200 MX missiles among 4,600 shelters in desert valleys of those states.

The Carter administration had proposed placing one cluster of 23 launching silos per desert valley, with a giant transporter-launcher vehicle to wheel the 95-ton missile from one silo in a cluster to another from time to time.

Such a system would cost $33.8 billion to set up, the Air Force estimates. The Air Force says total costs could reach $70 billion by the end of the decade if operating costs are included.

The revised plan would put four or more clusters in valleys big enough to hold them. A special panel is reconsidering deployment ideas under a July 1 deadline for reporting to Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger.

Those wishing to attend this month's Fun Breakfast need to make reservations by 5 p.m. Wednesday, according to Michael Carr, C of C vice president.

The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center will sponsor the Thursday, April 23 Fun Breakfast, which is scheduled to get underway at 6:30 a.m. Open to the public, the breakfast will be served for $3.25 per person.

In conjunction with Mayor

Bartley Dowell proclaiming Thursday as Western Day in Hereford, those attending are encouraged to wear western clothing at the breakfast and all day Thursday.

Those attending the breakfast will have a chance at winning a free weekend trip to New Orleans, sponsored by the Hall of Fame. Tickets for the drawing are $1 each and will be available at the morning event. The drawing will be held May 23 during the Rhinestone Roundup.

During the Fun Breakfast, the Hall of Fame will be promoting Hall of Fame Weekend, May 23-24. Starting off the Hall of Fame Weekend will be the second annual Rhinestone Roundup Benefit Ball to be held at the Hereford County Club featuring the music of Tiny Lynn, according to Margaret Formby, president of the board.

Local Residents Injured In Mishap

Three Hereford residents were injured in a head-on collision Friday while traveling to a New Mexico lake for the Easter Holiday.

Sammy Spangler and her two sons, Steven, 18 and Mike, 16, were traveling to Lake Conchas, outside of Logan, N.M. when a vehicle drove into their lane hitting them head-on about 5 p.m. Friday.

The five people injured were first taken to a Tucumcari Hospital and later transferred to Amarillo. Mrs. Spangler, who is in stable condition at Northwest Texas Hospital, suffered a bruised liver, broken pelvis, broken hip bones, chest injuries and severe lacerations. She is presently in intensive care.

Steven and Mike were released Sunday. Steven suffered six broken ribs, a broken arm, broken nose and several lacerations to the nose area. Mike suffered a

Aggies Gather Around World

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Relatives of deceased graduates of Texas A&M University will gather in 306 locations around the world today for the reading of the Aggie Muster, a roll call of all students and former students who have died in the past year.

The military-like ceremony, celebrated each year since 1883, honors all students and former students who have died since the last muster.

Aggies will gather in every major city in the United States and around the world from Manama, Bahrain; Tokyo; Jakarta, Indonesia; Honduras and Singapore to Spain, the Philippines and South Africa.

Ceremonies this year will be held at the foot of the Statue of Liberty and at West Point. In the past, one of the most famous Musters was held on Corregidor in World War II just before the island fell to the Japanese. Most of those who celebrated it did not survive to leave the Pacific island.

The largest muster is at Texas A&M and is expected to attract 5,000 participants.

District Attorney

Fires Investigator

DALLAS (AP) — Criminal charges were pending today against a man fired as a district attorney's investigator after being accused of biting off half a man's ear during a brawl on a bus filled of lawyers.

District Attorney Henry Wade said Monday he had fired the man, who has been blamed for the fight in which the man's ear was bitten and three other people were injured.

"There's not many reasons to bite somebody's ear," Wade said. "I don't really know all the facts involved, but there is just no excuse for getting in a fight like that."

Wade said the man had worked as an investigator for the district attorney's office for more than a year and "hasn't been the best investigator we've had. He's had some problems, but none as serious as this."

Xerox Corp. engineer Tom Dickinson was recuperating today from surgery on the ear at Arlington Memorial Hospital, where doctors said cosmetic surgery probably would not restore the ear completely because cartilage was among the tissue lost.

Dickinson's wife, attorney Susan Gorham Dickinson, filed a complaint with Arlington police but no formal assault charge had been filed late Monday.

The investigator was in a group of Dallas criminal defense attorneys, prosecutors, investigators and at least one judge who rode the bus to Arlington Stadium Saturday afternoon for the Texas Rangers' baseball game with the New York Yankees.

Attorney LaDonna Ockinga said the incident began as attorney Peter Lesser conducted a count of everyone aboard the bus. When he got to the investigator's seat in the back of the bus, Lesser declined a beer the man offered him, she said. The man then began pouring the beer into Lesser's jacket pocket and Lesser walked away, she said.

The man "came charging up the aisle after Peter Lesser," she said. "He was hitting everyone, and he hit me a couple of times. I was pressed up against the window, screaming that I was pregnant and saying for him not to hit me in the stomach again."

Proposed City Council

Nothing to Snooze At

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston City Council has proposed an ordinance some residents might find hard to take lying down.

The council wants to enact a measure to prohibit sleeping in city buildings, on public sidewalks, roadways, squares and even in public ditches. Offenders would be fined up to $200.

Municipal Court Judge Felix Stanley suggested the ordinance which will be considered Wednesday by the council, saying he is alarmed at the number of relatives and friends of prisoners who sleep on benches and along hallways in municipal court buildings on weekends.

The problem arose after responsibility for operating the bonding office was transferred recently from the police department to the court.

Staffing of municipal courts is reduced on weekends, while the number of prisoners awaiting disposition of cases may reach 200, Stanley said.

The city has banned sleeping in lobbies of commercial-office buildings, theaters, bus terminals, railway stations, in parks and on playgrounds, but has no regulations for city-owned facilities.

"It (the law) might even apply to some judges," he said.

Firefighters and other city officials who must sleep on the job would be exempt, he said.

Death of 23-Year-Old May Be Given to Atlanta Task Force

ATLANTA (AP) — Like the two adults whose slayings are being investigated by a child-deaths task force, 23-year-old Michael C. McIntosh had a slight build. Like five of the 24 victims, his body was found disrobed along a river.

Police were investigating these and other similarities today to determine whether McIntosh's death should be turned over to the task force, which is investigating the deaths of 24 young blacks and the disappearance of one other over the last 21 months. No decision will be made, police said, until the results are in from an autopsy being performed today.

A farmer found the nude body Monday in the Chattahoochee River near where the bodies of two other young blacks were found three weeks ago. The slayings of those two, 13-year-old Timothy Hill and 21-year-old Eddie "Bubba" Duncan, are among those being investigated by the task force.

Joseph Bell, 15, the 24th victim on the task force list, was found Sunday in the South River in southeast suburban DeKalb County. He was clad only in undershorts, and medical examiners ruled Monday that he probably had died of asphyxiation, the same cause of death as at least 12 of the other victims.

The first of the five victims found along rivers was discovered in November.

Fulton County Assistant Police Chief Louis Graham said McIntosh, who had a criminal record, lived alone on the city's southwest side — near where two of the other victims were last seen.

Only two of the cases assigned to the task force so far involve adults, and in both those cases, like McIntosh, the victims were small in stature. The two earlier adult victims were described by police as mentally retarded.

Graham said that while there is no record that McIntosh is retarded, "based on what we learned tonight...there's the possibility that he might have been slow."

McIntosh stood 5-feet-5 and weighed 120 pounds when he was arrested last fall, Graham said. He said the victim's arrest record included armed robbery, theft, criminal trespass and possession of a small amount of marijuana. Records on the disposition of those cases were unavailable.

McIntosh was last seen alive about three weeks ago although he was not reported as missing, Graham said. The body was identified through fingerprints.

"I'm very concerned at this point, in more ways than one," Graham said during an early-morning news conference after notifying McIntosh's mother of her son's death.

New Sarpalius Bill to Aid WTSU, Historical Society

AUSTIN — West Texas State University and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society got a boost when Governor Bill Clements signed Senate Bill 467 into law last week. The bill, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalius and Representative Bob Simpson, authorizes the society to receive a $3.25 million grant from the Harrington Foundation.

The bill was Sarpalius' first to be signed into law.

The grant will finance an addition to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. Now about 166,000 square feet, the museum will expand to more than 241,000 square feet after the improvements are complete.

"This legislation was a joint effort by Bob Simpson and me. We are both very proud of the museum and we were glad to be able to help it," Sarpalius said.

Also present at the signing ceremony were Sherm Hariman, president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society; George Arrington, a member of the society's executive committee; former legislator Tom Christian, past president of the society; and William C. Griggs, executive director of the society and director of the museum.

Police Investigate Criminal Mischief, Burglary Calls Here

Police answered an ambulance call Monday involving an 8-month-old girl who had apparently choked on an apple. Captain Morgan arrived at the scene and applied heimlich, opening her air passage allowing the infant to breathe. The ambulance then arrived and attendants took charge. She is reported in good condition today at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

ty of up to 30 Minuteman Missiles. He has spent the last six years helping plan the MX system.

"There is no alternative (to the MX) available within the same time span," Col. Holycross said. "While the suggestion of nuclear war is lunacy, there are some of us who are charged with thinking the unthinkable, and we have to be prepared in the event of such a war. We must be on equal footing with the U.S.S.R. in nuclear capabilities, and be willing to use it if needed," he told the audience.

Judge Nelson also spoke during the comment period at the evening session. The Deaf Smith County Commissioners have gone on record opposing the placement of the missiles in Deaf Smith County," he said. "And, a poll taken by our chamber of commerce has shown that a majority of the people in our area are opposed to it as well. The main reason is that it will take productive land out of use when it could be placed in an area where it wouldn't affect the production of food stuffs."

The Air Force will conduct two meetings at Dalhart today, with another pair of hearings set for Clovis Wednesday. Those two cities are the only two base operations possibilities in this area.

Clayton's Water Trust Fund Wins Approval

AUSTIN — The innovative water trust fund sponsored by Speaker of the House Bill Clayton cleared a big hurdle Thursday, April 16, with overwhelming approval by the House of Representatives.

The House voted 127-14 to approve a proposed constitutional amendment that would take any surplus state revenue and place half in a fund to develop water resources and half in a "rainy-day" fund which could be drawn upon when the state's revenue becomes more critical.

The proposed amendment, House Joint Resolution 33, still must be cleared by the Senate. Governor Bill Clements has said he favors the proposal.

"I am especially pleased that this effort to secure the future of Texas has received such a vote of support in the House. I am confident that the voters of the State will have the opportunity on Nov. 3, 1981, to approve it in the general election."

During debate on the bill, Clayton, who is recognized as an expert on state water legislation, said the creation of such a fund could save future generations of Texas from any state debt.

According to New Mexico State police officer Tom Reese, charges are pending as the case is still under investigation by the Tucumcari office.

'Fathers of the '80's'

By PENNY CRIBBS
County Extension Agent
As many of you have realized, I am extremely interested in the parent-child relationship. I have written numerous articles concerning 4-H and how it can benefit this relationship.

It has occurred to me that though I have stressed the importance of this (which most everyone agrees with), I have failed to realize a key factor "HOW?"
More specifically - "How does a father of the '80's take on this job? Seldom have their own fathers been involved in parenting enough to serve as models.

Because parenting is a relatively new expectation or role for many men, many are now involved in learning the basic skills for childrearing.

Where does fathering start, parenting continue and mothering support?
Parent-child interaction has no magical beginning or ending. It is a continuing effort and process for growth throughout the lives of both parent and child.

Here's one guidepost for success, though:

The earlier a father becomes actively involved in parenting his child, the easier and more fulfilling his life-long responsibilities become. Preferably he can become involved during the prenatal period and birth.

Fathers need to recognize, though, that different children at different ages and stages require different parenting responses. So, fathering skills must be continuously learned for continuous change.

Below are specifics for developing skills in fathering - with special attention to different needs of schoolagers and teens, the ages of most 4-H'ers.

Learn to be consistent. Let the important things be right or wrong EVERY day. Then a child learns right from wrong without being confused. Set aside time each day for your child. Talk together, take walks or work out-of-doors, read, listen to music or go for an ice-cream cone. Show your affection. Children

AND adults, need and like to be hugged, kissed and cuddled. Share yourself.

Show your concern about his or her problems without being nosy or prying into your teen's privacy. Support your teenager - with adequate money, in school or club events or when school or teacher problems arise.

Learn about teen things - drugs, clothes, current stars, music styles and cars. Listen to your teen before making judgements, before jumping to conclusions and before going by the wrong information.

Love your teen - and be willing to let him or her assume responsibility for hard knocks that lead to maturity.

Don't compete with your teen for attention, recognition in the community or the affection of your spouse.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Ann Landers Old Enough

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 13-year-old and live in a rather small town in Vermont. My mother is a well-known psychologist. Recently I started to smoke pot with a girl I hang out with. My mother knows about it, but she won't tell me to quit. I really want her to order me to come straight home after school and to stop smoking these crazy cigarettes, but she refuses to do it. According to her, I am old enough to make my own decisions.

I don't feel secure enough to be in complete charge of my own life. Please print this letter so my mother will see it. I feel afraid and alone.--Undeclared War In New England

DEAR UNDECLARED: Sounds as if your mother has read too many outdated books on how to raise children. Someone should tell her the permissive approach of the '50s was a dismal failure. It produced a crop of unmotivated, irresponsible, mixed-up kids.

Very few 13-year-olds are sufficiently mature to live without guidelines. You need to have limits set.

If your mother won't order you to stop smoking those crazy cigarettes, pretend I am your mother for today. "I" am telling you - stay away from pot. It could mess up your head in ways you wouldn't believe.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Who originated the idea that the wife should write the family letters? In all the years we have been married, Charles has never written a letter to his parents, his sister or brother.

When we have been apart for a week or longer, Charles never writes to me, even though I always write to him. The clincher was last summer when all the kids were at camp. I wrote to each of them every week and asked Charles to add a few lines. His response: "I don't write letters. Neither does my dad or any of my male friends."

My mother-in-law writes to us frequently. My father-in-law has never written a line, even to thank us for gifts. I once commented to my mother-in-law that it was too bad her son didn't write to his parents once in a while. She said, "I'd love to hear from him, but it's the wife's duty to write the family letters, so I accept it."

My own father writes a few lines at the end of Mom's letters. I love those personal comments from him. They mean so much to me.

I should tell you that my husband is a school administrator and his English is excellent. The business letters he writes are flawless. I refuse to argue with him any more about it, but I hope you will print this and urge (or shame) the non-writing males to mend their ways.--Grand Rapids, Mich.

DEAR GRAND: I'm glad you got off your husband's case because he is not going to change. His mother's comment explains perfectly his stubborn refusal to write letters.

I must tell you, however,

New Window Blind Could Save Money

COLLEGE STATION - A new window blind may save up to 75 percent of the energy required to heat a home during an average heating season, Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist, reports.

Development of a Reflective Insulating Blind (RIB) by researchers at Oak Ridge National Laboratory has the potential for converting direct sunlight into a plentiful and practical source of home heat, she adds.

Dr. Berry is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Researchers, working with support from the Department of Energy, say they believe the RIB could save up to 75 percent of the energy required during an average heating season.

The unit, mounted on the inside of a south-facing window just behind the window glass - and operating much like the traditional venetian blind, serves as a solar reflector and insulator, Dr. Berry says.

In other words, it brings heat into the home by acting as a solar reflector inward, and it stores that heat inside the home by acting as an insulator, the specialist explains.

Of the projected maximum savings, about two-thirds result from the space-heating effect of incoming sunlight. The other one-third is from reduced nighttime heat losses through large south-facing windows--the insulating part of the blind's job.

Urban Growth In Texas High

COLLEGE STATION - Preliminary 1980 census figures point out what most Texans already know - the state is growing by leaps and bounds.

Texas' population is now pegged at 14,150,575, a gain of almost 3 million people, or an increase of 26.38 percent, since 1970.

The new census figures also show Harris County with the largest population in the state of 2,395,365 persons, followed by Dallas County with 1,551,032.

In contrast, Loving County in Far West Texas has the distinction of being the most sparsely populated with only 91 persons, points out Jack Jones, community development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Counties with the greatest percentage growth from 1970 to 1980 were Hood County, 164.9 percent; Montgomery County, 158 percent; Fort Bend County, 149.4 percent; Collin County, 114.8 percent; and Rockwall County, 104.8 percent.

A further look at census figures shows that of the state's 254 counties, 42 have more than 50,000 people while 50 have populations of 5,000 people.

But, while a number of counties were showing rapid population gains, there were also those that lost people during the 10-year period, notes Jones. Forty-eight counties fall into this category, and 42 of them lie west of a line from Wichita Falls to Laredo.

Final 1980 census figures to be released later this year may vary widely from these early counts, cautions Jones. But the fact that the state is having growing pains is one thing that will not change.

All this means more pressures on cities and communities to provide needed services for their expanding populations, says Jones. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and its community development programs stand ready to lend a helping hand to community officials and leaders who need assistance in studying problems and formulating solutions.

At Wits End By ERMA BOMBECK

The local March of Dimes staged a gala gourmet cook-off recently, pitting one culinary artist against another. The audience was breathless as the mistress of ceremonies announced the winner of the second prize for marinated mushrooms--ERMA BOMBECK!

They were stunned for a moment. My heart stopped beating. Would they buy it? A kitchen outsider who had a reputation for living by the box? Who thought gourmet was married to Steve Lawrence, and who used a slotted spoon to mix paint?

Finally, the audience broke into applause. It was a moment to reflect on how I had gotten to this point of triumph.

Three months ago I was wandering through a supermarket picking out every box that read "JUST ADD WATER" and tossing it into my basket.

From out of the shadows stepped a man who introduced himself to me as Professor Higgins. He said he had made a wager to his friend that he could make a gourmet cook out of me in three months. "Do you know any French?" he asked.

"But of course. Meringue, bon appetit and Louis Jordan."

"Come to my house at 3 tomorrow," he said. I was to learn more about gourmet cooking than I wanted to know. Unless you couldn't pronounce the recipe, have a pan for it or buy the ingredients, it wasn't gourmet.

Every day, Professor Higgins drilled me in the rudiments of cookery:

"Who was the greatest French cook who ever lived?" he shouted.

"Sara Lee!"
"No, no, no," he screamed. "What do you do with bechamel?"

"If you do it in public, you apologize or lay off the radishes."

"Wrong! How do you clean octopus?"
"Very carefully."

His friend said I was hopeless and he'd lose his bet, but Professor Higgins persevered. One day I repeated tiredly, "The sauce Bearnaise stays mainly on the range..."

"I think she's got it," he said, and proclaimed me ready for my big test--the cook-off.

As I walked to my seat clutching my honors, a woman asked, "What does your recipe mean when you say 'wash the mushrooms in acidulated water'?"

I smiled confidently. "That's in case something has wet on them that you don't want to think about."

I blew it! Pity. I could have cooked all night.

Letter to the Editor

We all know that child abuse exists. We read about it in the papers, hear of it on the radio, and are told about it on T.V. We are alarmed and feel a deep concern for the children involved. Then we read that the Department of Human Resources has become involved with a family and that the child has been placed into foster care, and we breathe a sigh of relief. The child is safe now and the parents are being helped with their problems.

But what is foster care, and what do foster parents actually do? To begin with, foster care means providing a temporary home for children who for one reason or another must be separated from their parents. Many of these children have been abused or neglected; their parents are unable to provide a safe and secure environment for them.

These children range in ages from infants to eighteen years and come from all races and backgrounds. They are lonely, frightened and often troubled children who need a loving, caring substitute family to help them through this time of great need. They need a foster family. Foster parents are concerned citizens who open their homes and their hearts to children who are at the most critical point in their lives. Foster parents are willing to share their home with another person's child and give him the love, patience and understanding that he needs. Foster parents provide a stable home and deal with a child's needs on a day to day basis.

Foster parents are certified by a foster home worker from the Department of Human Resources after a "home study" has been done with the family and the home meets certain standards set by the state. The foster home and caseworkers continue to work together closely to meet all of the foster child's needs after he is placed in the home. Foster parents may be married or single; they may have other children or not; they must be able to meet their own financial needs, and be in good health; they may work outside of the home if suitable day care is provided. Foster parents must remember that most foster children eventually return to their own home, to relatives or to permanent adoptive parents. And perhaps most important, foster parents must be willing to get to know and understand each foster child, and deal with his very special needs and problems with patience, skill, determination and love. Foster parents are always needed in Parmer, Deaf Smith and Castro counties. They are especially needed in these areas for older children, teenagers, and for brothers and sisters who need to be placed together. Foster parenting can be a very rewarding experience and foster children need special families like you. If you are interested in becoming a foster parent or know so-

SW Bell to Begin New Billing Process

Beginning April 23, a new billing process by Southwestern Bell will eliminate the punched data card that has accompanied monthly telephone bills.

A new "return address page" will replace the data card, according to David Ortiz, manager-residence services. A scan line of computer-readable numbers appears at the bottom of the new sheet to be enclosed with phone bills. The numbers reflect customer account information that will speed crediting of customer accounts, Ortiz said.

Using special terminals, computer operators will enter the amount paid by the customer, while a computer will read the customer's account information, Ortiz said.

While the punched data card no longer will be used, it is important that telephone customers return the new ad-

TAR-One of State's Largest Associations

The Texas Association of Realtors was 60 years old in October, 1980. It was founded by a handful of men in real estate in a Dallas meeting in October, 1920, and from that humble beginning it has grown into one of the state's largest associations.

Its membership stands at over 53,000. One hundred and twenty eight boards of Realtors belong to TAR, and the board and TAR, in turn, are members of the National Association of Realtors, recording a membership of over 750,000. It is the largest trade association in the nation, headed this year by John Wood of Naples, Florida, president, and Julio S. Laguarda of Houston, first vice president.

The first president of the state association was Lawrence Miller Sr. of Dallas; his son, Lawrence Miller Jr., was president in 1971, 51 years after TAR was founded. Dedicated to the idea of bringing a new and higher level of professionalism to the Texas real estate industry, TAR has kept those threads of ethical and high standards at the center of its goals.

Its educational seminars, Realtors Institutes founded in 1957, its conventions, regional meetings and statewide sponsorship of community service programs, all have an important part in raising the level of professionalism among all Texas Realtors.

In 1981, the association is guided by James T. Sawyer of Austin as executive vice president and the following officers: Benny McMahan, Dallas, president; Hub Bechtol, Austin, first vice president; and Guy Chipman Jr., San Antonio, secretary-treasurer.

The TAR vice presidents are: Melvin Jayroe, Hereford; Don Manning, Longview; Frank Tompkins, Corpus Christi; Mack Fulbright, Beaumont; Fred Gage, Odessa; John Nunnally, Marble Falls; and Harry Lee Wood, Fort Worth.

Paul Harvey News Military Draft- Expensive, Unnecessary

Candidate Ronald Reagan campaigned against the military draft, said it was "expensive, unnecessary and disruptive."

It was. It still is. The military draft is in a mess again.

Despite a computerized manhunt by Selective Service officials, 25 to 30 percent of eligible young men are refusing to register.

Though threatened with five years in prison and a $10,000 fine, in Chicago estimates of those refusing to register run as high as 60 percent.

But if the draft is an embarrassing failure, there is a much-improved attitude among our professional soldiers, sailors and marines. Under Carter, the dropout rate for highly trained pilots, mechanics, navigators, petty officers and such was devastating.

This year career military men and women are staying in.

Our Navy had been 20,000 petty officers short. Now retention rates are so improved that Navy Secretary John

Lehman says he'll have "no problem manning our expanding fleet."

The Marine Corps has exceeded its retention rate; the percentage of personnel signing up for another hitch has exceeded last year's rate by 45 percent!

Our Army's re-enlistment rate has improved from 61 to 65 percent.

And there are other indications of improved morale under a President who promises to make our military important again.

Military men stationed in and around Washington do not have to wear their uniforms more than one day a week. Nonetheless, more and more, they are wearing their uniforms every day.

Recent pay raises are part of the reason the uniform is becoming respected again - and this President wants further increases this year.

But more money alone cannot explain the renewed attractiveness of a military career. Technical specialists can still make more in civilian industry.

The intangible attraction is a feeling permeating the ranks that our nation has strong leadership again.

Everything about this President - everything he has said past and present - promises no more pulled-punches, no-win wars.

His budget recommendations emphasize increased investment in military technology which, alone, can reduce the hordes of Asia to "our size."

Now it's time to set aside the expensive draft machinery which discourages and divides our young people - and tends to make the military uniform look more like prison denim.

In 1926 Will Rogers suggested, "Postpone the next war until everybody knows what we are fighting for; then you won't need conscription."

While doing easy repairs on my car I've "played dumb" everytime my repair manuals tell me to use a torque wrench along with how much torque to apply. Is torquing all that essential? A. Considering how relatively inexpensive a torque wrench is and some of the problems you may be headed for by "playing dumb", the wrench is a good investment. When using a standard wrench for tightening areas which call for specific torques (which is basically the amount of twisting action at a given point), you have no way of knowing how much pressure you're applying. Too little torque can cause liquid or gas leaks. Too much torque - which is usually the case without the proper tools - can cause leaks too, but these leaks are the result of much wider spread and more serious structural damage to the part which, almost invariably, will end up in replacement.

Real Property Ownership: A President's Perspective

"A moment's reflection must convince you ... that lands are of permanent value; that there is scarcely a possibility of their falling in price, but almost a moral certainty of their rising exceedingly in value."

George Washington, 1st President

The United States may have been new when Washington was president, but the real estate ownership rights of the individual were already well-established. There was also nothing new in Washington's belief that real estate was a valuable asset.

Now, however, 200 years later, while real estate is still a valuable asset, our rights to real property ownership are gradually being eroded. Certain laws that limit community growth have made some properties virtually worthless, resulting in the owners' loss of investment capital.

To maintain real estate as a valuable asset and protect ownership rights from further erosion, the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS is observing Private Property Week. It's a time to emphasize our individual liberties; it's also a time to remind one another that we must protect these liberties. They are fundamental to our free enterprise system.

Let's all participate—in the observance of Private Property Week and in the determination to preserve the freedom we now enjoy.

Amazing A's Win 12th; Boston Tops Texas

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Some people are never satisfied. Take Art Fowler, pitching coach of the high-flying Oakland A's.

In rolling to a 12-1 record, the A's have thrown four shutouts, including Matt Keough's five-hit 3-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday night. The Oakland staff has not allowed more than three runs in any game while completing 11 of 13 starts and Fowler's flingers have allowed only 17 runs in 117 innings for a team earned run average of 1.31.

You'd think any pitching coach who ever lived would be pleased with that kind of record.

"The one area we've been lacking in is we've been giving up too many walks," says Fowler. "I just tell them to get the ball up to the plate, and when they hit their spots more consistently they'll be even better than they have been."

In other American League action, the Cleveland Indians downed the Kansas City Royals 4-2, the New York Yankees trimmed the Detroit Tigers 6-2, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Texas Rangers 4-2, the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Toronto Blue Jays 5-4 in 12 innings and the California Angels beat the Seattle Mariners 6-1. The Baltimore-Chicago game was postponed by cold weather.

Keough, 3-0, struck out six and walked one. He has allowed only one run and 15 hits in his three outings — his earned run average is 0.33 — and has pitched two shutouts against the Twins. Keough was backed by home runs from Mike Heath and Rob Picciolo off Jerry Koosman.

"I was a little worried about this game after the loss on Sunday," Manager Billy Martin said, referring to the end of the A's record 11-game season-opening winning streak in the nightcap of Sunday's doubleheader.

"You have to be concerned when a streak ends that a team will go in the dumps," he said. "To me, this was our most important game of the year so far. It proved that we're back on the beam again."

Indians 4, Royals 2
Cleveland, like Oakland, is getting some pretty good pitching. John Denny and Dan Spillner stopped Kansas City on six hits and the Indians scored twice in the ninth inning on an error and a passed ball to defeat the Royals, whose runs were unearned. The Indians haven't allowed an earned run in their last three games.

Red Sox 4, Rangers 2
Dwight Evans hit a towering two-run homer to back the seven-hit pitching of Mike Torrez as Boston spoiled Texas Manager Don Zimmer's return to Fenway Park. "I didn't know where to stand in the dugout," said Zimmer, who was with the Red Sox for seven years as coach and manager.

Brewers 5, Blue Jays 4
Cecil Cooper singled in the 12th inning and scored on Ben Oglivie's triple as Milwaukee snapped a four-game losing streak. The Brewers tied the score with three runs in the ninth on singles by Ted Simmons, Roy Howell and Gorman Thomas, a bases-loading walk and then a hit batsman and another walk.

Angels 6, Mariners 1
Fred Lynn hit a two-run homer and Geoff Zahn benefited from three key double plays while scattering 10 hits. Lynn's second home run of the year came with two out in the first inning and scored Rick Burleson, who singled. The drive off Jerry Don Gleaton carried 400 feet to left-center field.

Yankees 6, Tigers 2
Reggie Jackson and Oscar Gamble slammed consecutive home runs with two out in the first inning, helping extend Rudy May's consecutive-game regular-season winning streak to 11 over two seasons. May, 3-0, scattered seven hits, including a Kirk Gibson homer.

With Jerry Mumphrey on first via a single in the first inning, Jackson punched an opposite-field home run to left off Dave Rozema. It was Jackson's first home run of the season and his 411th lifetime. Gamble followed with a long solo shot to right-center. Dave Winfield added a pair of RBI singles and also scored on a single by Gamble.

In the overall standings to date, Washington ranks second in the All-Around Cowboy competition. He is listed second in steer wrestling, fourth in ribbon roping, sixth in calf roping and 11th in team roping.

Brett Cunningham ranks sixth for All-Around Cowboy. He is second in calf roping, fourth in ribbon roping, and ninth in team roping. Steve McConnell ranks third overall in steer wrestling, and Tony Wilcox is third in bull riding.

In the girls' events, Rita Ward is third for the season in barrels, fourth in break-away roping, and seventh in pole bending.

Prince Edward Island, located in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, is Canada's smallest province, with an area of 2,184 miles.

HHS Riders 2nd At Dalhart Rodeo

Lee Washington scored 10 points and Robert Esqueda and Steve McConnell tallied five points each to lead the Hereford Rodeo Club to a second-place finish in a Tri-State Rodeo at Dalhart this past weekend.

The next Tri-State competition will be at Claude High School this weekend.

Hereford's cowboys lead the overall team totals with 245½ points. The Hereford girls have 74 points on the season and are in fifth place.

At Dalhart, Washington placed second in calf roping, third in steer wrestling, and sixth in ribbon roping. Esqueda was second in bull riding, and McConnell was second in steer wrestling.

In girls' competition, Hereford's Rita Ward placed fifth in the barrel racing and sixth in pole bending.

Louise Mays was the only first-place winner for Hereford, but the Whiteface girls scored 52 points and took runner-up team honors at the Region Girls' Qualifiers Track Meet in Plainview Saturday.

Mays captured the 800 meter dash in a time of 2:21 flat, while Hereford's Deborah Rogers finished second in the event with a time of 2:24.1.

Hereford also took a second place with its 800-meter relay team. Members of the team were Lori Albracht, Dede Dobbins, Angela White and Michelle Osborn. The team had a 1:48.4 time, compared to Plainview's 1:45.5.

The Whiteface 1600-meter relay team took third place in the meet with a time of 4:04.8. Canyon took first and Plainview second. Hereford's team was composed of Mays, Rogers, Osborn and Allyson Thomas.

Rounding out Hereford's points were a fourth-place by Thomas in the 400 meters and a fifth place by Maria Carreon in the discus. Thomas was clocked at 62 seconds flat in the 400, while Carreon threw the discus 109-8½.

The local qualifiers go to Lubbock Friday and Saturday for the Regional track meet.

Dodgers Clip Astros; Expos, Cardinals Win

HOUSTON (AP) — The script was different but the outcome was the same as the Los Angeles Dodgers continued their hot streak and the Houston Astros kept sliding deeper in the National League West standings Monday night.

The Astros had been getting fine pitching and poor hitting. But Monday night the pitching wasn't good enough to make up for the lack of hitting as the Dodgers took a 5-2 victory.

The victory gave Los Angeles a 9-1 record while Houston lost its fourth straight, falling to 2-8, seven games behind the division-leading Dodgers.

In other NL games, the Montreal Expos nipped the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-1 and the San Francisco Giants pounded the San Diego Padres 9-0.

Someone suggested that a team meeting might be in order but pitcher Joe Niekro figures "a couple of wins would do us more good."

The victory was also the fourth straight over Houston for the Dodgers, who lost a one-game playoff to the Astros for the division title last year after sweeping a three-game series to catch them. Although there is no revenge motive, second baseman Dave Lopes has gained a certain amount of enjoyment from the victories over Houston.

Houston has been losing Moslem mathematicians used the cipher, or zero, 200 years before it appeared in 12th century Europe.

because of subpar hitting in spite of fine pitching. The script changed somewhat Monday night when the Astros rapped out 11 hits and their pitchers issued eight walks.

Loser Joaquin Andujar, 0-1, loaded the bases with walks to lead off the game. A two-run single by Steve Garvey and an RBI hit by Ron Cey staked Los Angeles to an early 3-0 lead before a batter was retired.

Houston narrowed the count on sacrifice flies by Jose Cruz and Alan Ashby in the first two innings but Pedro Guerrero's run-scoring double and Mike Scioscia's sacrifice fly restored the Dodgers' three-run lead.

Burt Hooton, 3-0, was the winner while Dave Goltz was credited with a save.

Expos 9, Phillies 8
Jerry White's three-run pinch homer in the eighth inning broke a 6-6 tie and Montreal hung on for the victory over Philadelphia.

White connected on the first pitch from Phillies relief ace Tug McGraw and then veteran Woodie Fryman came out of the bullpen to shut off a two-run Philadelphia rally in the ninth and save the victory. Andre Dawson and Ellis Valentine also homered for the Expos.

Cardinals 6, Cubs 1
Keith Hernandez drilled three doubles, driving in one run and scoring two others for St. Louis as the Cards won their fourth straight and sent Chicago to its seventh consecutive loss.

Bob Forsch, Jim Kaat and Bruce Sutter combined for a three-hitter.

Hernandez doubled home the Cards' first run in the first inning, then doubled and scored in the third on George Hendrick's single and doubled and scored on Ken Oberkfell's two-base hit in the eighth. Tom Herr added a bases-loaded triple to clinch the victory for the Cards.

Giants 9, Padres 0
Vida Blue scattered seven hits in 7-3 innings and Enos Cabell drove in three runs with a pair of singles. The victory gave Blue a lifetime record of 8-0 against the Padres. Cabell singled two runs across in the fifth and another in the seventh while the Giants erupted for six runs in the ninth, two on a double by Jack Clark.

Japan's Seko Wins Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Japan's Toshihiko Seko, a speed merchant with physical endurance to burn, appears ready for an all-out shot at the world marathon record after his Boston Marathon victory, but his coach may have other plans for the immediate future.

Seko, 24, avenged one of his rare defeats Monday and ended Bill Rodgers' domination of the Marathon. He shaved one second off the American distance king's course record in winning the 85th annual run in 2 hours, 9 minutes, 26 seconds.

Two years ago the Japanese sensation pressed Rodgers to the fastest marathon in U.S. history before losing by a narrow margin. On his return, he put Rodgers away with about six miles to go and then wore down unheralded Craig Virgin on the hills.

Seko appeared to be in command after easily clearing "Heartbreak Hill," although Virgin, also a speedster running only his third marathon, hung tough. Seko pulled away as he passed Rodgers' sporting goods store with less than four miles to go.

"I ran my own race, set my own pace, even though I knew where he (Rodgers) was all the time," Seko said. "I've been training for the hills and they didn't bother me today. I just didn't want to have to fight at the end."

Then, turning to Rodgers, he said, "I'm sorry I broke your record."

Rodgers, 33, bidding to become the first runner to win the Boston Marathon four years in a row, said "Toshihiko was better than anyone here today."

Virgin hung on for second in 2:10:26. John Lodwick was fourth in 2:11:33, followed, in order, by Malcolm East in 2:11:35, Finland's Jukka Toivola in 2:11:52, Dennis Rinde in 2:12:01, England's David Chettle in 2:12:31, and Colombia's Victor Moraga-Garcia in 2:12:55.

New Zealand's Allison Roe, 24, ran the world's second fastest women's marathon in winning her division in 2:26:45, only 64 seconds slower than the winning time posted by Norway's Greta Waitz in New York last year. Local favorite Patti Catalano was second in 2:27:51, followed by 1979 Boston champion Joan Benoit in 2:30:15.

Baseball Postponed

Today's scheduled doubleheader baseball game between Hereford and Coronado at Lubbock has been postponed due to rain.

Whiteface coach David Ashby made the announcement early this morning. The District 4-5A twinbill has been re-scheduled for April 29.

All-Sports---

Athletic director Don Cumpton explained the picnic was being started this year to give coaches more time to recognize each athlete. The new format also allows more time for the guest speaker and presentation of special awards at the All-Sports Banquet.

Teaff, who many sports observers credit with performing an impossible task at Baylor, imparted the philosophy that has made him one of the most successful football coaches in the nation.

"A winner is determined by what you do with the skills God has given you," claims Teaff. "Most athletes are not gifted, but they have developed their intangible qualities and have a burning desire to be successful and happy."

Teaff pointed to "attitude" as one of the most important intangible factors. "The secret is input and output—attitude is yours to control, positive or negative. I begin each day with a prayer; I fill myself with positive thoughts, and I have daily goals."

The Baylor coach said the idea that we are all created equally is not true. "We are all created uniquely. There is no one else exactly like you." He added that we must all face that reality and build on our individual strengths.

Teaff kept his audience spellbound as he related the stories of two Baylor athletes—

All-Sports Award Winners

Recipients of the News Media Awards as top athletes in each sport were recognized at the All-Sports Banquet Monday night at the Bull Barn. The award winners included; left to right:

George Arroyos, cross country; Faviana Valdez, volleyball; Raymond Duncan, tennis; Claire Montemayor, tennis; Norman Brown, track; Terri both winners, but one who became a great All-American player, and one who was felled by a tragic injury.

Harkins, basketball; Greg Robinson, golf; Tiffany Dirks, golf; Norman Hill, football and baseball; Kellie Howell, cross country; and Louise Mays, track.

One was Mike Singletary, two-time All-American linebacker, who, as a frail, sickly eighth-grader, started setting goals and gradually reached his potential.

The other was Kyle Woods, who sustained a broken neck in practice and was paralyzed from the neck down. Through his attitude and his faith, Woods became an inspiration for the Baylor team.

The moving story of the two athletes climaxed a highly motivational talk by Teaff, and it was apparent that the athletes and sports fans were inspired as they gave the Baylor coach a standing ovation.

Tom Simons served as master of ceremonies for the banquet. Buddy Peeler, KPAN-Radio, and Speedy Nieman, Hereford Brand, presented the 13 media awards. John Stagner chairman of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce sports committee presented the female and male Athletes of the Year awards.

Coach Cumpton and coach Larry Sowers presented the Fighting Heart awards—the coveted honors which go to athletes who give the most with what they have. Cumpton also made the presentation of the Fan of the Year.

In a special ward to Coach Teaff, former C of C president Ken Rogers gave the speaker a pair of boots. Teaff was accompanied by his wife, Donell.

Josserand expressed his thanks and appreciation to the booster club officers for their work this year. These included Chuck Cosper, vice president; Carolyn Waters, secretary, and Paul Mason, treasurer. He also thanked the athletes and coaches for their efforts.

Special appreciation also went to supporters who made the banquet possible. These included Savage's Barbecue, First National and Hereford

State banks, George Warner Seed, E.C. Reinauer & Sons, Ideal Food, HISSD Cafeteria, and the following feed yards: Moorman's, Barrett-Crofoot, Beef City, Cattletown, Champion, FSW, Hereford Feedyard, Noland Feed Yard, Pre-Feeders, Sugarland, and Tri-State.

Ruth League Tryouts Set

Babe Ruth League baseball tryouts will be conducted today at 6 p.m. at the baseball complex.

Boys of ages 13, 14 and 15 who are interested in participating in the program should report to the field at 6 p.m.

Kevin Rutledge to quit the team in 1979 through verbal and physical harassment.

The Maricopa County Superior Court jury of six women and two men cited "a lack of sufficient evidence" in the second phase of Rutledge's $2.2 million damage suit.

Kush in an interview with ABC Radio Sports says he was very concerned and nervous throughout the entire proceedings.

"The entire American sports system would have been in major jeopardy if Rutledge had won the case," Kush said in an interview with ABC Radio Sports. "It would open up an entire new avenue if a player in any sport decided he didn't like the procedure taken by the coach."

Jurors voted 5-3 that Kush and ex-Sun Devil defensive secondary coach Bill Maskill did not drive Rutledge off the team and cause him to forfeit his scholarship — thus constituting a breach of contract.

Rudy 'T' Receives Cash Settlement

HOUSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers have agreed to pay Houston Rockets forward Rudy Tomjanovich cash and a structured, tax-free settlement for injuries he suffered during a 1977 on-court skirmish.

Attorney Nick Nichols, representing Tomjanovich, refused to disclose the amount but said his client chose to accept the out-court settlement. "We would have liked to have this thing decided on appeal, not only for the verdict, but especially for the benefit of sports law and having this thing on the books," Nichols said.

A federal jury in Houston ruled in August 1979 that Tomjanovich, 32, was entitled to $3.2 million for injuries he received when former Laker

Kermit Washington punched him in the face during a Dec. 8, 1977, National Basketball Association game.
