

A New Farm Home?

This house looks new, and it probably will be readily identified by a number of Herald readers. It is No. 28 in the Mystery Farm series and is situated on the flat land somewhere in the Big Spring territory.

DARING SEAMANSHIP

Texas Tower Visitors Head Home After Tugboat Rescue

BOSTON (AP) — Thirty-seven visitors, marooned by storms on a man-made island for five days, were headed for the mainland today after daring seamanship helped in their transfer to a tugboat.

Brazil Faces State Of Siege

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Congress moved today toward a state of siege declaration to block any Supreme Court action reinstating Joso Cafe Filho as president of Brazil.

Grand Jury Sets Worden Decision

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Kleberg County Grand Jury will reconvene Dec. 12 to decide what disposition it will make of the murder charge facing Mrs. Sunny Canales Worden, accused of shooting her husband to death on Padre Island.

Yesterday the grand jury recessed after deciding that at the present time it did not have enough evidence to either indict or free Mrs. Worden.

The grand jury, which was called Monday to consider the case, yesterday presumably heard the 42-year-old woman tell how she shot and killed Don Worden, 43, San Antonio real estate man, Oct. 22.

Worden's body was found Oct. 29 in a shallow, sandy grave on the lonely island just off the Texas coast. Several days later Mrs. Worden told Texas Rangers she killed her husband after he had made her dig the grave and then told her he was going to force her to kill her five-year-old daughter and herself.

Mrs. Worden, stylishly dressed in black, entered the grand jury room at 10:30 a.m. yesterday and left at 3:50 p.m.

The last person to appear before the grand jury before it reported to Judge Paul Martineau was Mrs. Worden's former husband, Prexides Canales, wealthy rancher-oilman of Premont. He was considered a surprise witness.

Other witnesses heard yesterday included County Atty. Royce Johnston and Dist. Atty. Sam Jones. L. W. Adams, foreman of the jury, told Judge Martineau "at this time there is not enough evidence and the grand jury will be recessed until Dec. 12 when it will be reconvened for further study of this case."

Mrs. Worden and Canales were divorced in August. During her short marriage with Worden, she told officers he had abused her and forced her to turn over large sums of money and real estate to him.

Mrs. Worden has been free under $5,000 bond set when she was arraigned on the murder charge.

Foreign Policy Tiff Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic-Republican skirmishing over foreign policy intensified today as both parties continued to maneuver into position for the 1956 presidential campaign year.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) warned the Democrats to take care not to destroy bipartisanship in foreign policy by indulging in "negative criticism."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, disputed Democratic contentions that the Geneva Big Four talks ended in failure for the West. Bridges said it was the Russians who failed.

A spokesman for the committee said a speech by United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. at the chairman's dinner on Nov. 30 in effect would serve to answer what he termed "growing attacks" by Democrats on the Eisenhower administration's conduct of U.S. foreign policy.

In recent days, Adlai E. Stevenson, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee have pounded away at various aspects of Republican foreign policy. All are considered possible Democratic presidential candidates.

Case cautioned in a statement yesterday of the "harm that can be done... if partisanship gets the better of responsibility in the discussion of foreign policy during the 12 long months that lie ahead."

He said, "A sound bipartisan foreign policy does not mean unanimous agreement on every point, but it does carry a responsibility of criticism directed in specific terms always with constructive content."

Bridges, who at times has differed with the administration on foreign policy questions, said the Geneva outcome represented a "great gain in making it clear to the free peoples of the world that the Russians are playing the same old game in a new guise."

"They are the ones who failed," he said. "They failed in foisting on the world a phony peace offensive which they could not sustain."

Ten Killed In British Train Wreck

Rescue workers struggle to remove passengers from an excursion train which overturned near Milton, England, with a death toll of 10. A search crew of more than 500 pulled apart the wreckage of the Wales-to-London special excursion train. The 150-ton locomotive rolled over the first coach of the train, crushing it.

Coed Bombing Try Mystery To Officials

AMES, Iowa (AP)—State and city officials followed a cold trail today in their efforts to track down the person who planted a dynamite bomb in a coed's dormitory at Iowa State College here. They were equally mystified as to why he did it. The intricate device, containing five sticks of dynamite and timing equipment to explode it, was found about 2:30 a.m. Monday in Elm Hall, a residence housing 136 girls. Police disclosed the attempted bombing yesterday. The dormitory janitor, Arthur Larson, averted possible disaster by prying open a box in which the device was concealed and ripping out the electrical wiring. Police discovered that the wiring, a dime-store mousetrap set as a trigger mechanism and a padlock used to lock the box had been purchased at three different stores in Ames but they had no clues as to the identity of the purchaser. "This wasn't just a college prank," said Ames Police Chief Orville Erickson. "Anybody who puts five sticks of dynamite in a bomb means business. We believe that if Larson hadn't acted the bomb would have blown up. I hesitate to say who would have happened then." The box containing the device was chained to a ballustrade just off the first floor of the dormitory where 36 of the 136 girls have rooms. One of the strange facts was that an old auto horn had been rigged into the device to sound a warning alarm. Coeds on the first floor were awakened by the buzzing sound of the horn. They went out into the hallway and found the box with a note saying: "Read carefully. No one need get hurt. Device will detonate 20 minutes after signal sounds or on movement of box." Then the janitor was called.

U.N. Unit Sets New Arms Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Disarmament Commission launched new talks today on the stalemated question of arms reductions and preventing a nuclear war. Few delegates felt the new round would produce real results in view of the breakdown of the Big Four foreign ministers' Geneva meeting. Diplomats were curious whether Soviet delegate Arkady Sobolev, who presides over the 12-nation commission this month, would echo the sentiments of Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at Geneva. Molotov gave the Western ministers no encouragement their tentative program for a fresh approach to global disarmament would ever get anywhere.

Convicted In Rape, Death Of Brother's Wife, Daughter

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury yesterday found Joseph E. Reade Jr. guilty of first-degree murder in the rape-killing of his sister-in-law and her baby daughter. There was no recommendation for leniency, so the death penalty is mandatory. Sentencing was set Dec. 2. Reade, a 26-year-old former taxi driver, showed no emotion as the jury of eight men and four women returned their verdict after deliberating 2 1/2 hours. Reade was accused of raping, beating and strangling Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her 18-month-old daughter Cheryl Lynn in the Reade's Jamestown apartment July 11. Beverly was the wife of Reade's brother Francis, who was away at work the night of the slayings. Defense attorney Willard W. Cass had asked for acquittal by reason of insanity. A purported confession was introduced in which Reade admitted raping and killing the mother and her baby, but he insisted he did not know why he did it.

DEATH CASE

Jury Will Hear Mrs. Woodward

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Woodward is expected to go before a special session of the Nassau County grand jury Friday to tell how she killed her millionaire sportsman husband with a shotgun blast. Her lawyer, Murray Gurfein of New York City, says the 39-year-old widow will exercise her right to testify before the grand jury about the killing of her husband, William Woodward Jr. The Duchess of Windsor may be a witness before the jury. Mrs. Woodward has told authorities that she shot into a dark hallway of her home at a noise she thought was caused by a prowler. Her 35-year-old husband, who was at the door of his bedroom across the hall, was hit in the head and died almost instantly. To appear before the grand jury, Mrs. Woodward must waive immunity—meaning that anything she says could be used against her in any possible prosecution. The state is not calling Mrs. Woodward as a witness, which would be an unusual procedure. County authorities, who have questioned the widow in detail, have not challenged her story that the shooting was a tragic accident. Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta said yesterday he had not confirmed through Mrs. Woodward's lawyer that she will appear before the jury. "We certainly hope to have her among those present," Gulotta said. "But her appearance seems to be pretty much up to her attorney and her physician." Gulotta said he has 25 to 30 witnesses on tap for the grand jury session. The Woodwards attended a Long Island party in honor of the Duchess of Windsor the night before the fatal shooting at their Oyster Bay, N.Y., home early on the morning of Oct. 30.

Harriman Hits Big Business 'Partnership'

MILWAUKEE, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York denounced the Eisenhower administration yesterday for what he termed its "partnership with big business." He told a Democratic rally that this "partnership" must be broken up in next year's election and that returning Sen. Morse (D-Ore) to the Senate would help. He concentrated most of his fire on Republican conservation and power policies, but other domestic programs also came under attack. He said "partnership between big business and government" had resulted in "plowing farmers under at a time when corporations are making record profits" and he accused the administration of "utter neglect of agriculture." Republicans were responsible for a tax cut "under which 80 per cent of the people received only 9 per cent of the benefits," and they have failed to deal with the problem of insecurity caused by sickness and disability, he said. He also accused Republicans of a lack of concern about the country's "education crisis" and of fighting against a "reasonable minimum wage." Discussing the Pacific Northwest's two major hydroelectric controversies, Harriman repeated the Democratic charge of "give-away." "Nothing so symbolizes the give-away philosophy as the deal at Hells Canyon," he said.

Passport Rule Bans Secret Information

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl has ruled out use by the State Department of confidential information in passing upon passport applications. Decisions of the department's passport office "must be substantiated by evidence contained in the record," Youngdahl said yesterday in the most far-reaching opinion on the subject so far from any federal court. "When the basis of action by any branch of the government remains hidden from scrutiny and beyond practical review, the seeds of arbitrary and irresponsible government are sown," Youngdahl said. "More and more the courts have become aware of the irreparable damage which may be, has been, and is, wrought by the secret informer and the faceless talebearer whose identity and testimony remain locked in confidential files." In several cases here in recent months, courts have said persons denied passports are entitled to a "quasijudicial hearing," but never said just what that meant. Youngdahl did. It means, he said, "due process of law." Youngdahl ruled in a suit brought by Leonard B. Boudin, New York attorney, who was advised that he was ineligible "for further passport facilities" under Passport Regulation 51.135. This regulation, among other things, rates out passports for: "Persons who are members of the Communist party or who have recently terminated such membership under circumstances as to warrant the conclusion — not otherwise rebutted by the evidence — that they continue to act in furtherance of the interests and under the discipline of the Communist party." Boudin once signed an affidavit saying he was not a member of the party or a person who had recently terminated membership. "Fair play requires that one have the opportunity to challenge the basis of, and reasons for, a denial under this section directly and specifically," Youngdahl said, and added: "The right to a quasijudicial hearing must mean more than the right to permit an applicant to testify and present evidence. It must include the right to know that the decision will be reached upon evidence of which he is aware and can refute directly." Youngdahl ordered the State Department to give Boudin a hearing within 20 days. If it takes place, it will be the first quasijudicial passport hearing ever conducted under court order. In several past cases, the State Department issued passports, thereby obviating the necessity for a hearing.

Thanksgiving is the anniversary of the day our Pilgrim Fathers reached this great land.

The first year they suffered untold hardships that they, and we, could live and be happy in this land of freedom. On the first anniversary of their arrival they celebrated and expressed their thanks to God for allowing them to survive.

With guidance of the Supreme Being a nation was founded and has survived through many hardships.

Let us this day count our blessings, together.

Steps For Yule Mailing Listed By Postmaster

Prompt mailing of Christmas cards and packages again is being urged by Postmaster Elmer Boatler.

"Success in getting gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done immediately," the postmaster said. He suggested the following steps:

Get out your Christmas card list and make sure that each name and address is up to date.

Visit the post office to stock up on stamps and get copies of two new publications — "Packaging and Wrapping of Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees."

Secure a supply of heavy wrapping paper, cartons, cord and gummed tape.

Then wrap those parcels and get them and the greeting cards in the mail at once.

All packages should be mailed by Dec. 10 to assure delivery by Christmas, Boatler said. Deadline already has passed for mailing packages overseas for Christmas delivery, but greeting cards still can be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail prior to Dec. 1. Christmas mail is expected to smash all records this year. As a result, prompt mailing is the only sure way to have your gifts delivered prior to the holiday, said the postmaster.

Fair, Warmer For Holiday

By The Associated Press

Fair and slightly warmer was forecast for Texas for Thanksgiving day after a mild cool front swept into the state late Tuesday.

The front, which early Wednesday lay on a line from Houston to Laredo, set off showers in northeast Texas and dropped the temperature below the freezing mark in the Panhandle.

The front followed unseasonably warm weather in North Central Texas and blowing dust in West Texas Tuesday. At Dallas the mercury reached 87 degrees, shattering by 7 degrees a record set in 1933. High winds with gusts up to 52 miles an hour kicked up dust to cut visibility to less than 3 miles at El Paso and parts of the Panhandle.

Early morning temperature Wednesday ranged from 25 at Amarillo to 73 at Brownsville. Skies were clear except for some high cloudiness in the Plains and low clouds along the upper Gulf Coast.

The forecast called for fair and cool weather Wednesday and fair skies with a warm-up in the state Thursday.

Fresh Cold Snap Due For Nation

By The Associated Press

Western and Midwest areas appeared in line for a fresh snap of cold weather today.

The cold air from western Canada continued to filter south in southeastward, dropping temperatures in the central and southern plains, the central and southern Rockies and as far south as the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma.

Readings were from 10 to 20 degrees lower this morning than 24 hours ago. The 4 below at Glasgow, Mont., compared to yesterday morning's 24 above.

East of the cold air, strong southerly winds brought much warmer weather to the eastern Great Lakes region southward through the Ohio Valley, the lower Mississippi Valley and the Gulf states. Biggest gains in temperatures were in the Ohio Valley and Alabama, with rises of 20 degrees and more.

It was a little cooler in the New England states. Southern Texas reported summerlike weather yesterday with the nation's high of 90 at Mineral Wells.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A brief and simple military ceremony guided Lt. Col. W. W. S. Bliss to his final resting place yesterday in Ft. Bliss National Cemetery.

THE JOE MORRIS PLACE NEAR KNOTT ... operated by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Petty and Homer.

Soil And Water Conservation Practiced On O. H. Petty Farm

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Petty and their son, Homer, live on last week's Mystery Farm, though technically it couldn't qualify as their home place.

The Pettys are renting the 160-acre place from Joe Morris, and they also work in conjunction with him on a half-section place he owns immediately to the north. The particular farm in question, however, is located one mile north and one mile east of the Knott school house.

Mr. and Mrs. Petty have a place of their own south of Vealmoor, but oilwells "ruined" it. Seriously, truck and heavy equipment moving over the farm did pack the soil to the point that farming it was not profitable, so in the meantime, the Pettys went where they could get enough land to really work.

Except for space required for the house and out-buildings on the Mystery Farm, all the land is now in cultivation. The cotton allotment for this year was 68 acres, and the yield promises to be at least a third of a bale to the acre. Most of the land is sandy to a sandy loam. Most of the remaining acreage went into hegira, with some barley being put in a new patch near the house.

Utilizing the feed raised on this farm, plus that on the half section to the north, a trench silo 200 feet long, 10 feet deep and 12 feet wide at the top was filled with ensilage. Mr. Petty and Homer, who is now 21, plan to undertake some livestock feeding this winter. This would fit into Mr. Morris' operation's too, for he confines most of his activities to raising and selling livestock.

The 160-acre farm is all terraced, but on the half section to the north the field is contoured. There was dramatic difference in yields behind the terraces this year, for the rain came hard but seldom.

The house has running water, but it is brought in through an one-inch pipe which extends 1 1/2 miles north to a well on the adjoining place. Electricity is from the Cap Rock Cooperative line.

Mr. Petty and Homer operate three tractors, one of them a four-row outfit and the others two-row units. They practice strip-cropping to help control wind erosion and never plant cotton on the same land two years in a row. They had the land deep broken and this helped reduce blowing and promoted water absorption.

They have enough cows to supply family milk needs, and some poultry. The new barley patch, enhanced by a recent snow, will make good grazing for cows and whatever livestock they decide to feed out.

Mr. Petty was reared in the Loraine area of Mitchell County and came to Howard County in 1930. He was married to Miss Lily Treadway in 1932, and later they moved to Martin County and then back to Vealmoor where they bought a place.

Homer and his Dad make a good farming team, but it may not last. Homer, who was graduated from Knott High School, is in his second year at Howard County Junior College as an industrial arts major. He's toying with entering a trade, but then a good wet year might sell him on staying on the farm.

Ike Accepts Resignation Of Aide To Commerce Secretary Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has accepted a week earlier than expected the resignation of Lothair Teetor as assistant secretary of commerce and has named Frederick H. Mueller, 62, Grand Rapids, Mich., furniture manufacturer, as his successor.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said last month that Teetor, former head of the Perfect Circle Corp., piston ring manufacturers, intended to leave government service Nov. 30.

There was no explanation why Teetor, a target of attack by the CIO for more than a year, resigned earlier than the date mentioned by weeks.

Perfect Circle's New Castle, Ind., foundry is currently involved in a strike marked by acts of violence.

Eisenhower, also named Clifford Cook Furnas, chancellor of the University of Buffalo, to be assistant secretary of defense for research and development. He succeeds Donald A. Quarles, now secretary of the Air Force.

Mueller and Furnas will serve under recess appointments until the Senate acts on their confirmation after Congress convenes in January.

Teetor, 58, has served in the Commerce Department since October 1953. He resigned at that time as board chairman of Perfect Circle but continued as a board member.

He has denied a CIO accusation that he prevailed on Gov. George Craig of Indiana to send state police to the plants affected by the Perfect Circle strike.

Elmo Wasson

Uncle Ray:
 Some Birds Brave Northern Winters

By RAMON COFFMAN
 Birds migrate chiefly to enjoy a pleasant climate and to follow the food supply. If all birds spent the entire year in a warm climate, they would run short of food—at least in some areas. As it is, most of them fly northward in spring, and feast on insects, seeds and other food.

Migrating birds raise their young in northerly parts. This is the strongest reason to believe that their ancestors lived in those parts before the last glacial period. With the glacial retreat to Greenland, Alaska and a few other places, birds can now spend a good deal of the year in the northland.

Q. Do all birds migrate?
 A. Several kinds stay in northern parts. Grouse, nuthatches, Carolina wrens, pheasants and some species of woodpeckers often stay in the same area during winter and summer. Banded meadowlarks have remained near New York City all through the year.

In some bird families the majority of members fly several hundred miles southward, but certain of them fail to go very far. Robins, for example, are migratory birds

CRMWD Sale Of Water Nears Million Dollar Mark

If water use holds steady during November and December, the Colorado River Municipal Water District may sell one million dollars of water within a year for the first time.

Through eight months, revenues from sale of water amounted to $840,456, said E. V. Spence, general manager. October revenues from water aggregated $99,104. Use in the member cities, however, is expected to decline somewhat, although the SACROC, Sharon Ridge and other repressuring consumers are due to hold a steady pace.

Spence thought it was not impossible that each of the last two months could approach the $80,000 mark, in which case the million-dollar volume would be reached.

In addition, recreational revenues have totalled $24,236 for the first 10 months, but these are applied to improvement of recreational facilities. Gross revenues for the 10 months add up to $864,693.

Excess of revenues over expenditures for operation and maintenance was $70,400 for October and $384,451. Of this amount $531,797 has been applied to funds required under terms of the indenture, leaving $32,653 for the new revenue fund—the fund from which bonds may be retired in advance of maturity.

In terms of gallons, Odessa used 280,410,000 in October, Big Spring 145,984,000, Snyder 53,221,000, SACROC 219,160,000, Sharon Ridge 48,844,000, a total of 747,619,000.
