COME TO HEREFORD'S FIRST TRADES DAY, MONDAY, AUGUST 27!

Second Democratic Primary Saturday, August 25. Don't Forget to Vote!

LOCAL MERCHANTS PULLING TOGETHER AS ONE TO MAKE THIS THE DAY OF ALL DAYS

Tickets to Be Distributed; Special Offerings by Practically All Merchants; Unusual Opportunity for Town and Country People to Get Together for the Mutual Benefit of All. Come In Monday.

"The merchants and business men of Hereford want the buying public to know that their trade and patronage is appreciated," stated Secretary Arnold this morning to a brand reporter. "We have given considerable study to the situation and believe the statement that as high class merchandise can be bought in Hereford as anywhere. And we further believe that just as good, and in many cases, better prices may be obtained in Hereford as in other cities. That is one of the primary reasons for staging this Trades Day. We want every customer to ask the merchants for tickets. There will not be as large a bunch of tickets distributed as we were delaying in getting the tickets after the date was set, but ask your merchants for tickets on all merchandise bought since last Saturday, August 18. Tickets will be given on all purchases between this Trades Day and the one to be held in September, which will be Monday, the 17th.

"Arrangements are being made by every business concern in the city to offer to the buying public some wonderful bargains," said Mr. Arnold, "and it will pay every person within a fifty mile radius of the city to be in Hereford next Monday at the Trades Day. Fall merchandise will be displayed. The needs for the fall and winter can be bought and much money will be saved. Commodities and sundries which you use every day will be found on display at prices that will please you. Hereford will be the smiling host to the hundreds of her neighbors who will visit the city on that day."

Gas Official Busy: Piping Materials Here

Manager F. W. Scovell of the new gas company has established his office in the Mosely building and is rapidly getting ready to begin construction work scheduled to begin September 1. He is receiving shipments of pipe, elbows, connections, etc., daily and says that next week he will have a shipment of stoves and burners of all kinds. He has a crew now at work on preliminary details. The Jordan Construction Company has the contract for laying the main from Canyon and in the city alleys to the property lines. This work will begin September 1, states Mr. Scovell.

FARM SALES.

C. N. Wilborn, three miles south of Friona, announces a farm sale on September fourth at his home, consisting of horses, hogs, milk cows and farm machinery, and many other articles. Ray Barber will auction the sale and Jesse Osborn will clerk.

C. J. Smith, residing 15 miles northwest of Hereford, announces an especially large sale of his complete farm equipment, live stock household goods, etc., for September 28. The sale list will be especially heavy in cows, hogs and horses. Details will be published shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Homsey of Colorado City, Texas, came in last Friday for a short visit with Mr. Homsey's sister, Mrs. F. H. Oberthier and family.

BAND MANAGER

City Commission Names Board of Commissioners Who Will Handle All Matters Pertaining to Municipal Band in Hereford.

Carrying out the mandate of the voters in the recent election authorizing the establishment of a Municipal Band for Hereford, the City Commissioners have selected and announced the personnel of the Band Commission, which will now take over all matters connected with the handling of the band in future. The Band Commission is composed of Mrs. Alvin C. Thompson, Miss Maurine Beyer, Prof. C. H. Dillehay, S. P. Rosson and J. L. Sharmar. It is presumed that this new board will meet at once, select its officers and then proceed to name a band director and settle all other questions arising concerning the musical organization. The choice of City Commissioners appears to be well made, as the board is well balanced between musicians of recognized standing and business men of training and experience. No doubt a policy for the conduct of the band will soon be formulated and announced.

Barnes Takes Two Out of Three Falls in Bout

George Barnes, the Washington State champ, beat Kall Pasha, the Terrible Turk, in two out of three falls of a fast and rough wrestling match at the Pavilion Wednesday night. A big crowd jammed the structure and watched the gladiators swap headlocks in rapid succession. Curley Morgan refereed. There were two preliminary matches between local youngsters that warmed up the crowd, furnishing entertainment, and whetted appetites for the main event.

Barnes took the first fall in about twenty minutes. He was in tight places several times and was thrown on the floor several times, but weakened the Turk with a series of headlocks and pinned the shoulders of his adversary. Kall Pasha won the second fall in eleven minutes. Barnes claimed he was kicked in the ribs. He jumped on top of him and clinched the fall. The deciding set went to Barnes after a peculiar mixup. Barnes started weakly, the Turk headlocked him mercilessly, and Barnes hung on the ropes for protection. The referee ordered them to the center several times. Kall Pasha stopped to argue with the referee, when Barnes slipped up on him, picked him up, slammed him to the mat and made a quick finish of his job.

The fans enjoyed the struggle and say it was one of the best yet held here. Barnes was scheduled to wrestle in Amarillo Friday night. He may be seen here again in action before long.

Cawthon Bryant and his sister, Mrs. Orin Carter, and husband, of Borger, returned Saturday from a most interesting trip through Tennessee.

BAKERS LEAVE

Omer Baker and his brother, Mont E., with Mrs. Mont E. Baker and their two sons, Dennis and Pleas, left overland early Thursday morning for Oklahoma City, Shawnee, Fort Smith, and other points in Oklahoma and Arkansas for a short vacation trip.

Record Crowd Is Predicted For County Fair September 13-14-15. Workers Busy

At a meeting of the directors of the Deaf Smith County Fair held at the Chamber of Commerce office last night, it was estimated that the three days fair, which will be held September 13, 14 and 15, will draw a record crowd.

Superintendents of the various departments state that they are meeting with unusual success in the matter of securing exhibits for their departments and already have received enough assurance from exhibitors indicating that this will probably be the largest fair ever held in this city and county.

Of special interest will be the showing in the dairy department under direction of Jim Lipscomb, superintendent. One feature of the dairy department will be the showing of Deaf Smith county bred animals which have been sired by males of the three bull circles.

More than forty of these animals alone are being groomed for this occasion and indications are that one of the largest local exhibitions of dairy cattle ever held on the Plains will be shown the public who visit the fair. It is planned by members of the bull circles to have these animals re-routed for the coming two years on this occasion by Prof. Geo. P. Graut of Panhandle, who will judge the livestock at the fair. The finance committee is making the premium money allowances rather liberal in the dairy department and Superintendent Lipscomb states he is meeting a warm reception among all dairymen of the county.

Hogs. One of the features of the hog department, according to George Lewis, assistant superintendent of this department, will be the showing of more than thirty hogs raised by the 4-H club members of Deaf Smith county. Included in this showing will be eleven Duroc Jersey pigs raised by Miss Elizabeth Chapman, weighing 2000 pounds at the age of 150 days and which have been included in the Progressive Farmer's ton litter contest. Local hog men state that

Wilson Leaves On Trip Of Dairy Inspection

S. O. Wilson one of Deaf Smith's most prominent dairymen, left yesterday for Fort Worth where he will join a dairy tour of the Southern States which is being fostered by M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver railway company. This party which will include some of the leading dairymen and business men of all West Texas, will visit creameries, condenseries, cheese factories, skim milk plants and other dairy industries in the two states of Mississippi and Tennessee.

The rapid strides being made over the country in the dairying industry requires that the marketing of this product be given considerable attention and the probable location of creameries and other kindred industries will follow this visit of Mr. Wilson, according to the local Chamber of Commerce officials.

Mr. Wilson will be away about ten days, and on his return will be one of the chief speakers at the Merchants-Farmer Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Hereford on Monday, September 3. Reservations are being made to care for more than two hundred at this luncheon and the beginning of more rapid development in the dairy situation of Deaf Smith county is looked for as a result of the information gained by Mr. Wilson this trip. Mr. Wilson was elected by a delegation of local bankers and dairymen and all expenses of the trip are being paid by the Chamber of Commerce.

W. L. SHUGART MURDER CASE IS HEADLINER

Eight Jurors Accepted; Second Venire Is Called. New Law Will Be Tried Out First Time.

Up to Thursday morning but eight jurors had been secured in District Court out of a special panel of seventy-two, in the case of the State of Texas vs. W. L. Shugart, charged by indictment with the murder of his wife, Jessie, on May 27, at their home in the northeast corner of the county near Wildorado. The eight men in the box Thursday morning were T. L. Vaughn, H. M. Benson, C. P. Caldwell, L. C. Moore, R. R. Jennings, D. R. Blassingame, Blain Poff and P. J. Ross. Judge Reese Tatum ordered Sheriff Claude Benton to summon thirty-two additional jurors, and the work of sifting them out continued throughout Thursday morning.

The defense is represented by Attorneys Jno. P. Slaton and W. H. Russell of Hereford, and Frank Tatum of Dalhart. District Attorney is set on at the next regular meeting of the membership which will be Monday, September 3,

Resurfacing of Pavement Draws to Close

The Jordan Construction Co. had planned on finishing up the brick laying on the main streets that have been widened by Thursday night of this week. Only one block on West Third remained to be paved Thursday morning. After that it will take several days to clean up.

The city is now advertising according to law the proposed paving on McKinley Avenue, between third and fifth, and the loop running north from Mother's Park around to the high school building. The supposition is that these two additions to the present paving will be put in in the near future.

The increased width of the main streets and the smooth brick underfooting is a joy to all and a source of pride to every citizen, but a sigh of relief will go up when the work is finished, as the town has been badly torn up and traffic impeded for weeks.

there being no luncheon next Monday on account of Trades Day.

"Showing Hereford" was the text of a short, inspirational talk delivered by Rev. Jas. T. Ross, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. "The impression one gains upon entering your town sometimes is lasting," Mr. Ross said. "Our highways should be so marked and our streets, lawns and homes so attractive that the traveler will be impressed with the progressive

SHERIFF'S RACE IS BEING HOTLY CONTESTED. SEVERAL IMPORTANT STATE CONTESTS

Voters Urged to be Sure to Cast Ballots. Al Smith's Acceptance Speech Wednesday Received Over a Vast Hookup and Starts Anew Political Arguments Over Coming General Election In November.

AVOIDING RUSH

High School Students Enroll Early and Last Minute Rush Is Lessened. Regular Enrollment Begins Saturday, September First.

So many high school students made an effort to avoid the rush of the regular period for classification that there was truly a rush the first two days of the advanced enrollment period when forty-one high school students enrolled for the year. This will be continued each afternoon except Saturday, August 25, the time being from three to four, though no one has had to be turned down after four o'clock yet.

The regular time for enrollment will begin Saturday, September 1, with the forenoon devoted to seniors and juniors in the order named, and the afternoon for sophomores and freshmen. At that time also text books will be issued to students at the time set aside for the enrollment of their respective classes. No enrolling will be done on Monday, September 3, but high school pupils who have not had an opportunity to classify earlier will be taken care of on Tuesday morning, September 4. All children below the high school grades will report for classification and issuing of books at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. All grades below the low sixth will report to Central school. The low sixth grade and all of those above it will report to the high school building.

Children who are six years of age on September 1 will be taken as unders provided they pay the regular tuition rates of $4.00 per month. Those who are seven years of age between the first of September and the first day of January will be charged tuition for the first half year but those who are seven after this time will be charged tuition for the full year, with credit allowed for a week or more of continuous absence. The tuition rate for non resident students is $10.00 per month in grades and five dollars per month in the high school, with credit allowed for the exact amount of money transferred and with credit for absence as above.

Lunch which had been prepared by ladies of the Progressive community, was spread on the old-time picnic style and enjoyed by all. The afternoon was given over to class singing, quartets and solos. Visiting singers were present from Amarillo, Canyon, Dimmitt, Hereford and Clovis, New Mexico.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. E. Hill, Hereford president. J. R. Gollehon, Canyon, vice-president. Lloyd E. Roberson, Hereford, secretary and treasurer. The next convention has been invited to the Dawn community, twelve miles east of Hereford, the second Sunday in September. All lovers of song are invited to be present at this time.

Officers Elected for Three-County Singers

The Three-County Singing Convention met Sunday, August 19, at the Progressive school house six miles northeast of Hereford. The convention was opened with songs at 11 o'clock and continued with class singing until noon.

Sam D. Steele made a business trip to Wichita Falls Friday afternoon.

Governor Al Smith's official notification speech, delivered at Albany, New York, Wednesday afternoon and broadcasted through a gigantic network of radio stations, was the principal topic of discussion Thursday and served to renew the energies of political workers in both parties and spur the discussion of voters in the coming general election in November. With both Hoover and Smith official acceptances a matter of history, the two candidates and their cohorts will now proceed to stump the nation until election day.

Second Primary. Meanwhile, the local candidates for sheriff and tax collector, John B. Miller and I. I. West, in the only run-off in the county for the second primary, are worried for fear that the voters will forget the important event in the swirl of national discussion and will not turn out in force next Saturday, August 25. Both candidates appeal to the voters to cast their ballots. Besides the local situation there are several state offices to be decided with this ballot.

Don't forget to vote Saturday! County officers have distributed the ballot boxes, election officials have been named, and all is set. This primary will settle the Democratic differences and arguments and clear the decks for the party struggle in November.

Don't forget to vote Saturday!

Old Board Is Recommended Another Term

Hereford, Texas, August 20, 1928. To the Members of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

Gentlemen: We, your nominating committee, after careful consideration, beg to submit the following: First, recognizing that the directors of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce for the past year have not had a strenuous year's work because of the fact that our organization was inactive until the past two months, we believe that the present directors, consisting of J. E. Hill, Chairman, C. H. Dillehay, Secretary, S. P. Rosson, Treasurer, and Alvin C. Thompson, Nominating Committee, should be re-elected to serve for another year. Our reasons are quite obvious if proper thought is given this matter. These gentlemen have only recently undertaken with the reorganization of our Chamber of Commerce, to put over programs which are at this time started, and we believe it would be unwise to make an entire change at this time.

We further recommend that the Board of Directors elect T. E. Selgier president of the organization for the ensuing year. Respectfully submitted, J. E. HILL, Chairman. GEO. L. MUSE, C. H. DILLEHAY, S. P. ROSSON, ALVIN C. THOMPSON, Nominating Committee.

The above report was submitted to members of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce at the noon luncheon Monday by J. E. Hill, chairman of the nominating committee. In response to the report, President T. E. Selgier stated that while he was willing at all times to work for his community as it came next after his family, still he felt that possibly changes should be made. The report will

SCHOOL GROUNDS SOURCE OF PRIDE.

We do not know how many times we have heard compliments passed this summer on the high school grounds; the beauty of the lawn, flowers, trees. The clean, prideful idea one gets in driving by.

We understand the general upkeep of the grounds is under direction of Prof. Humble, Agricultural teacher, when he is here, and that his class boys, the janitor, Prof. Dillehay, and others connected with the school, not forgetting the trustees, all have a hand in it. Glory enough for all, at any rate. The grounds have been in magnificent all summer, a credit to the school authorities. It's a good example for all of us.

COUNTY FAIR APPROACHES.

The Deaf Smith County Fair is close at hand. Committees are busy. There's lots of hard, thankless work ahead of these men who devote their time and money to putting it over in the right way. If you can't help. DON'T hinder. If you just can't push a little then at least stand aside and let these community builders do their job. As a rule a man or woman gets inspiration for their own work by merely watching these leaders do their stuff.

FEED CROPS PAY-ON THE HOOF.

The magnificent feed crops this year are a source of pride and optimism to all. But, as was pointed out at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday, the only way yet devised to make real money out of row crops is to feed them to live stock. Successful farmers the world over are those who mix live stock with their farming operations. Take any type of farming anywhere, unless it be some specialized irrigated crop, and you will find this rule applies.

MY TON LITTER.

On March 6, 1928, my last year's club pig, Adair's Red Beauty 2nd, farrowed 12 pigs and raised for me eleven husky red pigs to start the ton litter contest with. I wrote our county agent, Mr. R. O. Dunkle and he nominated me into The Progressive Farmer Ton-Litter Contest.

One of my pigs began to eat at 12 days and all were eating at 18 days. They were fed a balanced ration consisting of 200 pounds tankage, 200 pounds shorts, 100 pounds cottonseed meal, 100 pounds soybean meal, 50 pounds ground oats, 50 pounds bone meal, in addition to all the milk and kitchen slop with ground maize and a tablespoon of salt, and are fed this mixture three times a day. I soaked their feed with milk and water and fed half pound of supplement until they weighed 90 pounds and then I fed seven pounds of supplement a day, each. The pigs were weaned and put on oat pasture at nine weeks, with fresh water and plenty of shade provided. Then at three months they were put on sudan pasture.

They were bathed with tar soap and greased afterward with equal parts of glycerine, crank-case oil and gas. This kept their hair in fine condition.

Plenty of grit and water were furnished at frequent intervals. I won a trip last year to the Farmers' Short Course and am trying for the medal given by the county and state and also the trip to Dallas.

A brief outline of the life and development of the ton-litter entrants:

Owned by Elizabeth Chapman; farrowed, March 6, 1928; No. of pigs, 11; weighed by Messrs. Geo. Lewis, Jesse Stanford and C. C. Acker; date of weighing, August 3; amount, 2006 pounds; average weight, 182 4-11 pounds; cost of entire amount of feed, $125.62; cost per pig for feed, $11.42; cost per pound of gain, 6.26c per pound; pounds of feed consumed by litter, 7,222 pounds.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND RELATING TO TERMS OF SCHOOL OFFICERS.

H. J. R. No. 14.
 Proposing to amend Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by addition thereto Section 16, providing that the term of all officers of the public free school system, including State institutions of higher education,

"AIN'T IT SO?"

If you want to live in the kind of a hospital.
 Like the kind of a hospital you like.
 You needn't slip your clothes in a Grip
 And start on a long trip;
 You'll only find what you left behind,
 For there's nothing that's really new.
 It's a knock at yourself when you knock your hospital.
 It's not the hospital, old boy—it's you!

Real hospitals are not made by men that are afraid.
 Like those that would rather knock than aid.
 When everyone works and nobody shirks,
 You can raise a hospital from the dead.

And while your own health you are trying to regain,
 Kindly remember that your neighbor is sick, too.
 Then your hospital will be what you want it to be.
 For it isn't your hospital—old boy. It's you!

—V. S. McAllister, Legion, Tex.

may be fixed not to exceed six years; proposing to amend Section 8 or Article 7 of said Constitution, authorizing the appointment or election of a State Board of Education to serve not to exceed six years; requiring said amendments to be submitted to the people for adoption and making appropriations therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16 as follows:

"The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the public school system and of the State institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

Sec. 2. That Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"The Legislature shall provide by law for a State Board of Education, whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 3. The foregoing constitutional amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

"Against the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

(2) "For the Amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

"Against the amendment to Section 8 or Article 7 of Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the Above listed clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.

Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO GRANT CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS REGARDLESS OF DATE PENSIONER CAME TO TEXAS OR WHEN WIDOW MARRIED PENSIONER OR WHEN SHE WAS BORN.

H. J. R. No. 15.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.
 Proposing an amendment to Section 51, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and providing for submission of same to the qualified electors of this State at any election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitation as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (7) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon, "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing the tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

DEAR FRIENDS:

This has been SOME busy place the past two or three days.

I keep telling the boss it's the advertising that's bringing all this business, but he doesn't warm up much to that suggestion. When business is quiet he says my ads are losing their punch. When business peps up he says it's the high quality of the work done by ORR'S TAILOR SHOP.

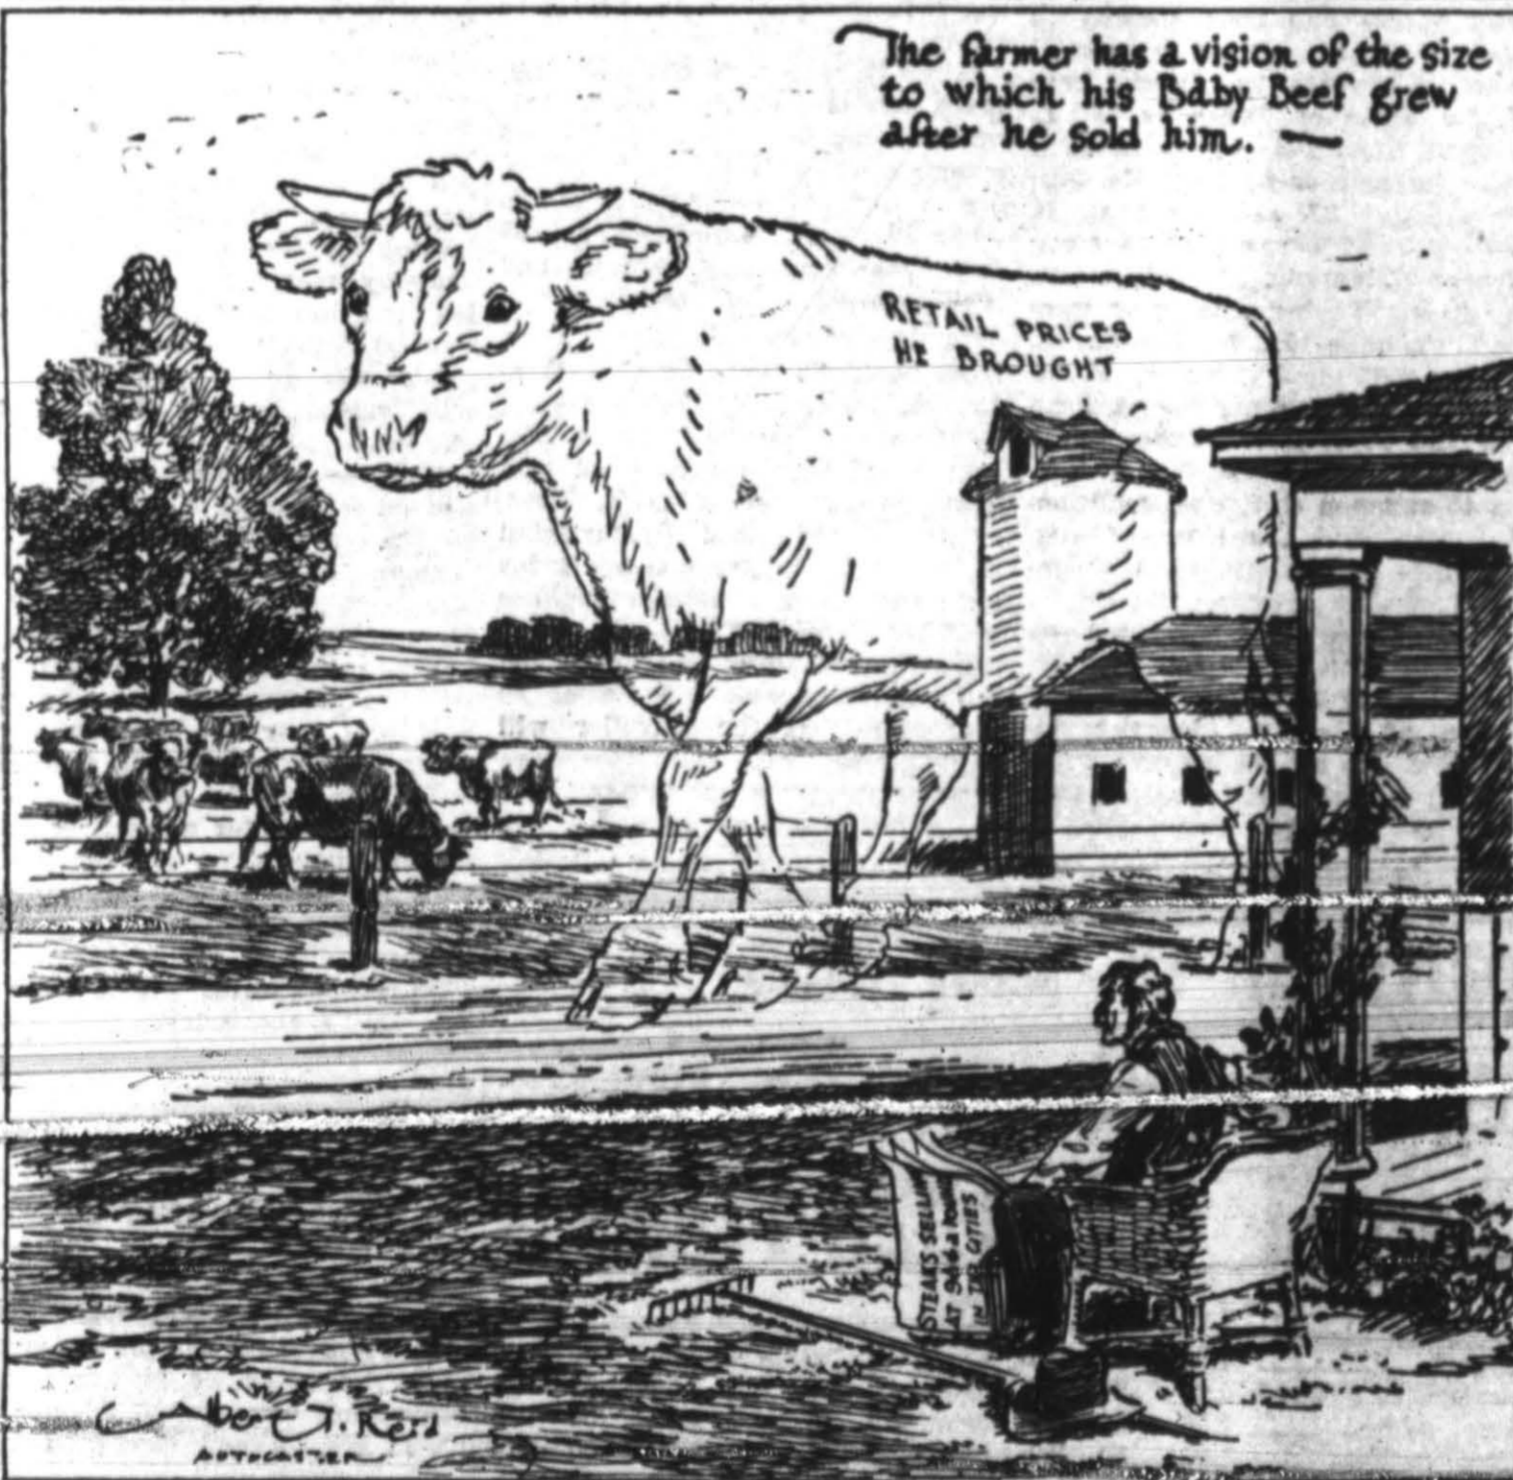

Can you beat that?

Wish you'd tell him you're reading these ads. He's a nice fellow and all that, but I think he is holding out on me.

Dimmitt people appreciate the new theatre. Good shows are being put on and big crowds attend.

The lock on the gas pump at Workman's filling station was broken Tuesday night and two cars were filled with gasoline. They were discovered as they were leaving but the sheriff could not get his car out of a jam in time to overtake them.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

H. J. R. No. 20.
HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.
Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:
All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men, or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

News from Bethel.

The last meeting of the Embroidery Club was held at the home of Mrs. Kay Roberts on August 8. In spite of the threatening clouds most of the members were present and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon together.

A large number of members of the Bethel Parent-Teacher Association attended the Association Rally at Dimmitt Friday afternoon and night, August 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay Roberts spent last week at Goodlett, having been called there by the serious illness of his mother. The death of Mrs. Roberts, Sr., occurred Wednesday and funeral services were held the following day. The sympathy of the entire community is with Mr. Roberts in his bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams and sons of Floyd county were visitors last week in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jim Bagwell.

Bert Benton has returned from Estelline where he spent several weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith of Amarillo spent last week with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Rushing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rothwell and children left Thursday for a several days visit with Mrs. Rothwell's sister in Stonewall county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bagwell left Friday for a weeks visit with relatives in Floyd county.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lust and son were dinner guests in the Frank Crawford home Sunday.

Mrs. C. E. Head's sister, Pauline Parks, and niece, Florine Monroe of Amarillo are visiting her.

It rained at Bethel nearly every day last week. Parts of the community received eight inches or more of rain during the week.

Miss Velma Green is spending the week in Dimmitt.

J. C. Williams and family and Earl Lust and family were callers in the Kay Roberts home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lust and son visited Loyal Lust and family Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams of near Plainview spent Wednesday night in the home of his brother, J. C. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bagwell and daughter Christine left Friday for Ruidoso, New Mexico, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. John Smith former residents of Bethel. While they are gone their children, Jim A. and Grace Marie are with relatives in Floyd county.

The Young Peoples Sunday school class were entertained at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Earl Lust Sunday. Dinner was served cafeteria style and all present greatly enjoyed the occasion together. The ones present were Misses Geneva Crawford, Artie Cryer, Ira Davis, Ruby Galloway, Vera Carter, Velma Green, Beatrice Rushing; Messrs. George, John and Iver Bagwell, Harvey McMin, Harry Rothwell, Clarence and Lonnie Galloway, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Smith.

Sunday school at 9:45. The pastor has returned, but is conducting a revival at Wildorado. He will be here for the service at the morning hour Sunday. There will not be an evening service owing to the fact that the Presbyterian meeting is in progress.

Miss Evelyn Bell returned home Saturday evening after a week's visit in the home of Mrs. E. R. Reed in Amarillo.

spirit of Hereford citizenship." In showing Hereford, the local pastor said: "We must not forget to include our entire community surrounding our city. We reflect the heart beats of the entire community or trade territory of which we are a part."

He cited our schools, churches and our civic pride as showing that Hereford has a peculiarly cultural attitude. In the showing of our magnificent buildings and progress, we likewise show the character of the citizenship of our city. Rev. Ross stated that there was never a time when Hereford had a greater opportunity to show to the world our city and our county to greater advantage and the plea for harmony of all interests and co-operation in this great work.

The Fair.

County Agent Dunkle stated that indications were that the Deaf Smith County Fair would be the biggest exhibition that Hereford had ever staged. Practically all rural districts are planning on having community exhibits in the fair and the superintendents of the various departments are working hard to make this the best fair Hereford has ever had. Mr. Dunkle pleaded for the co-operation of the business men of Hereford in staging the fair. Chairman J. E. Hill of the Agricultural and Livestock Committee stated that Deaf Smith county would have an exhibit of dairy cattle at the Tri-State Fair, together with descriptive literature showing our agricultural possibilities.

Feed Crops.

President Seigler called the attention of the membership to the large grain sorghum feed crop which is being produced and asked what the market would be on this commodity in the head. Mr. Hicks of the Harrison Grain Company stated that the elevators in Hereford would not care to buy this feed in the head as there was no standard market for it. G. W. Brumley advanced the idea that with hogs at their present price they could be shipped into this country and fed this feed to a large profit.

The matter of threshing and holding the grain for several months was also advanced. It being declared that the price then would be much better than at harvest time. This matter caused a great deal of interest and Secretary Arnold stated that it was the wish of the Chamber of Commerce to work with the farmers who produced this large grain crop in an effort to secure the proper market for same. The matter will have more attention of the Chamber of Commerce. It was intimated.

Cotton Gin.

A letter was read from the Guthrie Cotton Oil Company in which these gentlemen stated that they are sending one of their best repair men to Hereford to overhaul the gin, but in the same letter they stated their desire to lease the gin plant to the Hereford Chamber of Commerce or some one whom they might select for this season's ginning. This proposition caused considerable discussion and the matter was referred to the Agricultural Committee and the directors.

Announcement was made that the Christian and Methodist ladies would serve the luncheon to the members of the Chamber of Commerce during the month of September. President Seigler further stated that September 3, which will be the next luncheon, would be Merchants-Farmers day, to which luncheon every business man of the town will be assigned a farmer as his guest. President Seigler stressed the importance of this opportunity for creating a better working spirit between the rural and town interests. S. O. Wilson will be one of the main speakers at the luncheon and will report on his findings in the Mississippi-Tennessee dairy tour which he is taking at this time in company with other business and dairy men of Texas.

The meeting was largely attended and was full of interest during its entire duration.

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL INCREASES IN INTEREST

With the first four days of the evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church already held, the prospects are good for the largest success in the series. Attendance increases from day to day as the services progress. Two services are being held daily since Monday. In the morning services the pastor, Rev. Jas. T. Ross, is continuing the theme of last Sunday morning, when he preached on "Miracles of Divine Grace." Each morning service is in the nature of an exhibit of what Christ wrought in the salvation of individuals.

Unusual in their nature but strong in evangelistic appeal, have been the evening services, Christianity in its various relations to human life has been presented in the three week-night services held. This series will continue tonight and tomorrow night. Tonight the theme will be "Christianity and Social Pleasures." Friday night the theme will be "The Christian and Fellow Christians."

Wednesday evening, business men's night was observed with a message on "Christianity and Business." The Hereford Men's Chorus delighted the audience with special numbers, the opening feature of the service being the singing by a large choir of men and women.

Miss Claire Baker arrived last Saturday and has had charge of the music of the services. Several times during the series of services she has sung to the great delight of the congregation. She is proving herself a splendid song leader. Next Sunday morning Miss Baker will sing "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" (Rathbon. Miss Baker is organizing a junior choir which will aid the large choir in the music and bring some special at times during the services.

Special young people's services are to begin Friday evening just preceding the congregational service. All young people of the community will be invited to participate in these meetings. Miss Baker greatly desires to meet and know the young people and to be of the largest helpfulness to them.

When interviewed this week relative to the meeting, Rev. Ross, the pastor stated: "We have been greatly pleased with the presence and help of the people of the other congregations in these services. We wish, through The Brand, to express again our appreciation to our friends who have been with us in the services each day. We are confidently expecting these services to be of help to the community, and earnestly invite the largest co-operation."

The services will probably continue through next week and the general plan of this week's services will be followed next week with services each evening at 8:15 and morning services at 10:15, except on Monday and Saturday.

Alvord—Up to August 1, fourteen car loads of watermelons had been shipped from here this season.

Estelne—Installation of gas mains is under way here.

COURT

 Attorney B. N. Richards is prosecuting. It is believed that self defense will be the plea of the accused. No witnesses are known to have seen the tragedy. An only child, a seven-year-old son, was in Canyon at the time. A neighbor boy passing the homes after the shooting heard the wounded man groaning. When he went into the house he found Mrs. Smugart dead with four bullet wounds. Shugart was suffering from a shot through the arm and a badly slashed throat.

According to Sheriff Claude Benton, the home gave appearance of a severe struggle, with furniture and household goods strewn about in confusion. A .32 automatic with six empty shells, a long-bladed knife and two single-barrel shotguns were found.

Mr. and Mrs. Shugart had been married twenty-two years and had lived on their farm for the past four years.

Under New Law.

This trial is of unusual interest in that it is the first murder charge to come before a jury here under the new law passed by the last legislature in general session, which repealed the law of manslaughter. This act provides that manslaughter is repealed and all homicides voluntarily committed are murder unless the same are committed in defense of one's own person or property. Under the present law the court is required to charge the jury that if said homicide is committed under the influence of sudden passion which is caused by sudden provocation on the part of the deceased, and if the jury so finds that the same is committed while the party killed is so acting, then they cannot assess the punishment (in case they find him guilty), to exceed five years in the penitentiary.

In other words, the same facts, circumstances and conditions that formerly reduced the offense to manslaughter, under the present act makes it murder, but the punishment is minimized and if the jury so finds this to exist they cannot assess the defendant's punishment to exceed five years in the penitentiary.

The statute provides that if any person shall voluntarily kill any human being within this state, he shall be guilty of murder.

Judge Tatum's charge to the jury will, therefore, be of unusual interest to everyone, and The Brand has arranged to secure it in full when delivered to the jury at the completion of the evidence and arguments.

SOCIETY

SHOWER FOR MISS BEYER

One of the most unique affairs in recent Hereford society was a lovely shower given at the C. C. Ferguson home Thursday afternoon when Miss Grace Ferguson and Mrs. Claude H. Dillehay were joint hostesses honoring Miss Maurine Beyer, bride-elect of William Harold Hicks.

After registering in the bride's book, the guests were seated in the spacious reception rooms, where a short musical program was rendered, consisting of piano solos by Misses Ina Gregg and Dessie Mae Steele and vocal numbers by Miss Lucille Hicks and Mrs. Carl Mountz. Miss Ferguson then announced the presence of a little guest who had come to lead his most recent captive down love's pathway which leads through a garden of flowers filled with love gifts. Little Miss Virginia Ann Dillehay then appeared in the role of Dan Cupid, and led the charming bride-elect through a wicker gate which led into an improvised flower garden, down a pathway at the end of which was a shower of beautiful gifts.

A delicious ice course was served to about fifty guests. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Ferguson.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SOCIAL

Last Tuesday evening the Winners class of the Methodist Sunday school was graciously entertained by Miss Thelma McMinn. The guests gathered on the lawn of her home at six o'clock where games were enjoyed. The game of "drop the handkerchief" was suggested and a big surprise was given Miss Thelma when a large handkerchief filled with beautiful smaller ones was deposited by her. This was an expression of the class' appreciation of Miss Thelma as the successful president of the Winners Class.

Miss McMinn served delicious ice cream and cake to the guests.

RICKETTS-DAUGHERTY WEDDING

An early morning wedding occurred Thursday, August 16, when at seven-thirty o'clock, Miss Margaret Ricketts became the bride of Mr. Arch Daugherty, at the home of the bride. Rev. Thurman Morgan, pastor of the Christian church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts of the Progressive community.

Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty left overland for Colorado on a short wedding trip.

YOUNG MATRONS MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Young Matrons' Missionary Society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Wes Anthony on Wednesday, August 15.

The lesson was taken from the Gospels of Matthew, John and Luke, and was ably led by Mrs. Dick Dixon, assisted by Meses. Sutton, Smith, Anthony and Lomas.

HERSHEY-CLAYTON WEDDING

H. E. Hershey and Miss Mary Clayton were quietly united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage last Saturday morning, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. V. M. Cloyd about 7:00 o'clock. Immediately after the wedding the young couple left for a honeymoon in New Mexico.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clayton who live on the south side, while the groom is the son of Ray Hershey and is employed by the Anthony Furniture Company. The Brand wishes the young couple many happy years of married life.

Washing Machine Demonstrator Is Visitor Here

R. Devel, factory representative of the One-Minute Washing Machine Company, is here for a short time demonstrating his machine at the Texas Utilities Co. office. This machine, according to F. H. Oberthier, general manager of the Utilities, sells for less than $100 on account of quantity production and has many very unique and exclusive features. The people of this community interested in this type of labor-saving are invited by Mr. Oberthier to visit his office and witness the demonstrations.

Commissioners' Court Guests of T. E. Seigler

As an evidence of appreciation of their fine co-operation in all matters concerning the unity and development of the City of Hereford and the County of Deaf Smith, President T. E. Seigler of the Chamber of Commerce last Saturday night tendered a dinner to County Judge Wilson, the County Commissioners, and the wives of the Court.

The dinner was served in the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Seigler and was a most happy and enjoyable occasion in every particular. Mr. Seigler's expressions of appreciation were met by all members of the court with assurances of their steady teamwork in all matters affecting the public welfare. It was one of those pleasant occasions which make for better friendships, closer harmony and understanding, a spirit of neighborliness.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd announces his regular services for Sunday. He is now holding a meeting at Summerfield but will fill his pulpit for both services Sunday.

Miss Mabel Gass Enjoys Very Delightful Trip

Miss Mabel Gass, of D. R. Gass & Son, returned Wednesday from a five weeks trip of combined business and pleasure during the course of which she visited St. Louis, Boston, Washington, New York, Dallas, Fort Worth and many other points of interest. Miss Gass was accompanied by her niece, Miss Imogene McIntire of Canyon.

New fall goods for D. R. Gass & Son were purchased in St. Louis, New York, Dallas and other cities. In St. Louis the Rexall plant was visited. The two ladies then went to Boston for the Silver Rexall Jubilee as officials delegates from the City Pharmacy, the Rexall store at Canyon. This drug store is owned by Miss Gass' father, D. R. Gass. Another unusual feature of the trip was a boat ride down the Potomac river from Washington to Norfolk, Va. Many historic spots in Massachusetts and other states were inspected.

Miss Gass says the trip was a wonderful experience and she returns refreshed and inspired from the experience.

THE TIGER TRAIL

by Edison Marshall

The mission had evidently not affected him at all. He called us a cheery greeting as the boats drew up. When he rose to make the motor boat fast all of us saw that his garb fitted the rest of him. He wore an old, mud-spattered suit, and queer little rubber boots that were tied with strings and came just to his ankles, making a ludicrous bag of each of his trouser legs.

Sam, the colored man, was in the back of the boat and next to him sat a lean, thin-faced man I had never seen before. But he had an official air and I guessed him right as an inspector from a nearby city—a man on the plain clothes force. He was an alert, determined man with a distinct air of authority.

My first words were to Sam. He swore that he had sent my telegram to the address I had indicated.

"I waited an hour for an answer, sir, and none came," Sam told me. "I could not wait no more. The detective gen'man said we had to go without him—and he as not he wouldn't be no good, nohow."

Sam's other errands he had done with dispatch.

"And where did you pick up the rowboat?" I asked. "You went over in Mr. Southley's duck canoe."

The question drew a long and detailed explanation. The motor craft it seemed had been procured by the coroner and was to be used to convey the body. The duck canoe was not large enough to bring any supplies, so Mr. Southley had ordered Sam to procure a large, well made rowboat to go back and forth in. At first he has despaired of finding any, until the old man who had steered on the way back to the house encountered him and offered his own boat and services for hire. He was a quaint old character that lived by the river at the edge of the city, and he had heard of Sam's inquiries. But he insisted that he be carried along to handle his own boat. The reason was rather obvious. The old man was evidently in need of the few dollars that his own services would bring.

"And what's the old fellow's name?"

"Robin—and he talked like a cockney." Southley and I were with the inspector—his name turned out to be Freeman—when he examined the body. He made no comment. Since I had given up all hope of a greater detective coming to our aid, I turned over all the clues I had gathered to him. He was entirely scornful.

"Like as not you and young Southley spoiled a whole lot more clues than you found by tramping around the body."

"We were careful about that, inspector," I assured him.

"I don't mean to infer your motives weren't the best," he went on with a world of tact. "But you can't help any as a rule. The law is, evidently, the property of the murdered man. This cuff-link—"

He examined the cuffs of the silken shirt that Hayward wore. "It's his cuff, too," he said shortly. "Broken off when he fell."

There was nothing more to be said on this point. The link in the left sleeve was the mate of the broken link we had found.

We heard our story, and we walked down with him to show him where the body had lain. He listened very attentively to our theory—that Hayward had attempted to flee from his enemy.

"It's a queer case," he told us then. "I don't know of any like it. As you say, he must have used something as heavy as a sledge-hammer and yet not hard like a sledge-hammer. Anything very hard would have broken the skull into pieces, at the speed that it must have come. Those queer scratches are funny, too. But at least we've got the murderer pretty well sewed up. It he's in this house he can't get away—because already guards are watching the shores of the swamp. It he's on the highlands powder he can't get off them either, except into the water where my men will see him."

Soon after this the body was carried to the boat. The negroes seemed all to have disappeared when the moment came, but Ahmad inscrutable as ever, and the bewhiskered old man that we called Robin came to our aid. The inquest was to be held three days later, after the detectives had time to make their investigations.

"There's room for me, I hope?" I asked.

"Yes."

"It will be necessary for me to leave this place and go back to my practice in Tampa."

Because I hadn't forgotten my promise of departure. Besides there was no further reason for me to stay. Alexander Pierce had failed to come. I had just been a guest, a spectator, from the first, and Josephine had seen to it that I had been no more. The renouncement in the den the evening before had told that all too plainly. I couldn't deny to myself how much I would have liked to stay to see the affair to its end, perhaps to behold the curse lifted from the old manor's house, and to watch the shadows depart from those sad eyes. Never before had the thought of being of service been so dear to me. But the stand the girl had taken in the den was impossible to disregard.

PAUL IN A ROMAN PRISON

Acts 16:16-40

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D. Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association.

Trouble followed success at Philippi. As Paul went daily to his place for teaching, a girl, indwelt with an evil spirit, was met. The demon within cried out against Paul as he passed by. A general study of the Bible, both in the Old and New Testament, indicates that the evil spirits are always especially aggressive when they find their way in the lives of men is assailed as believers are added to the Kingdom. There is the outcry of conscious inferiority and the knowledge of eventual complete overthrow. "For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet." I Corinthians 15:25. The outcry was against Paul's Lord rather than against His mere messenger. In His Name Paul commanded the evil spirit to come out of the girl and there was instant obedience.

But this girl thereby ceased to be of use to the syndicate that owned her, for they made gain through the devilment of the evil spirit that possessed her. In some way her outcries had been used in a species of divination akin to modern fortune telling. These men, who cared nothing for humanity, but only for personal monetary interests, laid forcible hands on Paul and Barnabas and dragged them before the magistrates who were influenced, probably with a bribe, to agree with the complainants, demanded that these strangers be imprisoned because they had stopped their questionable income.

REMEMBER HEREFORD'S TRADES DAY—AUGUST 27.

Hours of misery began with the cruel beatings, after which these friendly men were placed for special security in the inner prison that they might not escape in any possible manner their feet were fastened between two boards grooved enough to hold their ankles.

Long since they had learned that trouble time should invariably be prayer time and one can always have access direct to the Throne of Grace. In their prayer they rested their case with the Almighty. He has promised to be our Burden Bearer as well as our Sin Bearer. It was Peter who learned the truth: "Casting all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." I Peter 5:7. Martin Luther said, "When your troubles become too great for prayer, then begin to sing." Paul and Silas broke forth in singing because they were assured that their prayers were heard and would be answered in God's time and way.

"Suddenly there was a great earthquake," and all the incarcerated men, as well as Paul and Silas found themselves free as the walls fell apart and permitted them to go at pleasure. The jailer was also awakened and was the most frightened man there. He drew his sword to kill himself before another could do it for him if even one prisoner escaped. Paul the always thoughtful, cried out that no one should run away. Then the keeper was still more afraid and used all courtesy as he brought these men forth. Meanwhile he recalled at least something of their teachings, which had become common report. He realized that their instructions must be true and asked for himself: "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Paul at once gave the answer, which is still the only reply to make to any inquirer after everlasting life: "Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved."

New adjustable front seats in all Buick closed models providing unrivalled comfort and driving ease for women and men alike

No more awkward driving positions! No more straining for pedals! No more need of cushions for feminine drivers! Buick has ended all that—ended it with a new comfort feature as unique and individual as the dashing beauty of Buick's new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher—a comfort feature obtainable only in the Silver Anniversary Buick!

The front seats of all Buick closed models are adjustable! A turn of the seat-regulator causes the entire seat to move forward or back at the will of the driver, thus assuring a natural, comfortable position for any man or woman who takes the wheel!

The new seat is easily adjustable even when fully occupied! A child can operate it! It is simple—positive in action—and together with Buick's adjustable steering wheel provides, for the first time in motor car history, a made-to-measure driving position!

This same fine convenience—this same matchless comfort and luxury—are apparent in every phase of Buick design and operation—in the deep soft upholstery—in full width rear seats providing plenty of room for three adult passengers—in velvety clutch action—in finger-tip steering ease—and above all in the unrivalled smoothness with which the Silver Anniversary Buick rides over the roughest roads.

See this epic car! Drive it! Test the new and exclusive adjustable seat! Frere to yourself that here, indeed, is the finest motor car and the greatest value America has ever produced!

STONE AGE MUMMIES. ROCKEFELLER SEES KINDNESS. WAR DOES NOT PAY.

Mammoths, extinct thousands of years, have been found preserved—skin, hair, flesh, in Northern ice. Hoping that men of the Stone Age might be similarly preserved, an expedition was sent to look.

On an island, far north in cold Alaska, scientists discovered at the top of an almost inaccessible cliff the grave of an ancient Stone Age chief.

His coffin was lined with well tanned skins of the sea otter. His shirt was of bird skins, his clothing made of the finest furs. A favorite child, a seamstress to sew for him, a servant and hunter to get game for him had been killed and buried with him to accompany him on his death journey.

This mummified family from the Stone Age will enlighten scientists. It interests us all, illustrating the unconquerable belief in a future life so deeply planted in the human brain.

Why was the belief put there if only to be disappointed?

The French Government builds a gigantic magnet, several thousand times as powerful as any built thus far.

It will be used in scientific experiments in connection with the molecular and atomic construction of matter, etc. The magnet eventually will be of great use in industry.

Here the steel companies use magnets, picking up tons of steel rails and loading them on cars, dropping them down, lifting them up, as a boy lifts tacks with his toy magnet.

Man is an intelligent animal, living on a gigantic combination power wheel and magnet—the earth. He constructs his own little power plant, builds his own electric and magnetic power.

In the north day before yesterday man's electric work felt an electric storm and an amazing aurora borealis, stretching all across the northern part of the continent.

If men could borrow and use the inexhaustible electric power of the earth, they need not turn coal or water falls into electric current.

John D. Rockefeller, beginning his ninetieth year said: "I never worry, and I am amazed at the kindness of people generally."

Eighty years ago, from his father's cottage doorway, in the Catskill foothills, he watched his uncle drive off to trade horses—and saw him come back with better horses.

Now his ships go out to every harbor in the world, his scientists are fighting disease in every part of the earth. And looking at his right hand, now wrinkled, he knows it has made gifts to education and human progress totaling hundreds of millions.

A good deal in one life time.

Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, and an able citizen, tells business men they can be a distinct factor in preventing future wars.

They can and will be, for they have discovered that war, in the past often promoted by business. DOES NOT PAY.

Progressive News

Mrs. Baker left Monday morning for New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Cockrell and family attended a community dinner Sunday at the home of Mack Beach. The dinner was in honor of the parents of Mr. Beach, who live at Wichita Falls.

Catherine Ricketts visited her sister, Mrs. Luke McBrayer from Wednesday until Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Parks was called to Bardwell last Sunday by the serious illness of her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Russell called on the Hershey family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ed Morgan of Canadian and Mrs. Gerald Morgan of Summerfield spent Sunday afternoon in the Perkins home.

Glenn and Ira Jean Ricketts spent Thursday with their Grandmother Ricketts.

Miss Margaret Ricketts and Mr. Arch Daugherty were united in marriage last Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Thurman Morgan, pastor of the Christian church at Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty and children and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kibbe were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Daugherty left for Colorado for a short wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Russell spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Cockrell.

Another big war would mean merely sixty per cent income tax, but confiscation of principal, on a gigantic scale. Young men would not again consent to have their bodies sent to war unless the rich man's dollar also went. Wise business men will oppose war and demand preparation for it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henry spent Sunday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke McBrayer and Jim Ricketts visited in the Hershey home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cox and daughter, Miss Exie, of Farragut, Iowa, spent the week end visiting F. D. Perkins and Miss Olive Perkins. Mr. Cox came to look after his extensive land interests in Deaf Smith and Castro counties.

Last Friday night Mrs. Jim Parks lost her turkeys, but fortunately they were able to trace the thieves on account of the mud and so regained most of their turkeys.

So much petty thievery is going on in this community that farmers are cleaning up their shotguns and tattooing their poultry.

Last Saturday morning at seven o'clock the Rev. Mr. Cloyd united in marriage Miss Mary Clayton and Mr. Howard Hershey. After a short wedding trip to New Mexico Mr. and Mrs. Hershey will be at home in Hereford.

The three-county singing convention which was held at Progressive last Sunday was well attended. The audience enjoyed listening to noted singers from Amarillo, Castro and Randall counties. Jim Hill of Hereford was chosen president of the new organization. Mr. Gollehon of Randall county is the vice president and Lloyd Robertson of Hereford is secretary.

A Modern Rip Van Winkle.

BELGRADE.—A Rip Van Winkle in real life has been discovered in the person of one Frank Kreiner. He had lived for 22 years hidden in one room of a large deserted house.

When he emerged the other day he did not know there had been a World War, he thought the Emperor Franz Josef was still alive, and he had never seen an automobile.

He was amused by present day masculine clothing. The hermit returned to his room without seeing any women.

Recently Kreiner was discovered. Naturally he was thought insane, but tests proved him sane and extremely clever.

Twenty-two years ago Kreiner disappeared after a broken romance and everyone thought he had left the country. He kept one servant to bring him water and the plainest of food.

Texas Road Building.

A trip over almost any part of Texas now reveals the fine work being done by the Texas Highway Commission in the building and maintenance of State highways. Some of these roads are concrete, some macadam, some gravel and some are as yet merely well graded roads, but all seem good for their class. In the last 18 months contracts have been let covering over 1500 miles of road building, and the work has gone on with remarkable smoothness. Of this mileage nearly 450 is of concrete, the best type of road for Texas. In many sections where there is little or no state work being done, the counties are straightening and widening and grading the roads with the expectation of getting state aid later. Texas has reason to be proud of the splendid work being done for its highways under the present commission.

Politics and Business.

Business in Texas, as elsewhere, appears to have slackened a bit, a condition attributed to the fact that it is a political year. This is especially true of the manufacturing industries, but not more noticeably so in Texas than in other states. It is unfortunate that in the excitement of presidential campaign years the people draw in their investing capital. However, in Texas there is much activity in most of the oil fields, despite the low price of oil. Farming has to be carried on regardless of politics and road building has given employment to many thousand laborers. With good crops of grain already harvested, a splendid vegetable and fruit crop cashed, and a fairly good prospect for an average cotton yield, Old Man Texas wears his prosperity smile despite politics.

Touring Texas.

Inquiry shows that more Texans are taking their vacations in Texas this year than ever before. Why not? Texas has as much to offer sightseers as any other state. There are balmy seaports, bracing mountain sections, innumerable health resorts, good roads, comfortable hotels and tourist camps, reasonable prices—everything to contribute to one's comfort and rest, and all so much closer to home. As Texans learn more of Texas the state is going to become the winter and summer resort of thousands who now travel at great inconvenience to other sections in search of rest and then come back to Texas to find it.

Farmers' Field Meetings.

The Jasper Newsboy reports that 22 farmers were present at a recent field meet in that county to study with the county farm agent cultivation of cow peas, soy beans and other crops. The Newsboy says that farmers present stated they received great benefit from what they saw and heard.

Such meetings are helpful in exact proportion to the number that attend them. There should have been at least ten times that number of farmers with County Agent Monroe that day. But these 22 can take what they learned to their neighbors and spread the advantages of diversified farming. Farmers are more and more anxious to put such thought into their work as will get best results in production, in profits, and in maintenance of the fertility of the soil.

Highways Through Cities.

Travelers in Texas are impressed with the poor highways they often find running through towns and cities. Good roads may run entirely across a county except that part within the limits of municipalities. In proportion to the county mileage the cities pay a much larger share of the tax that goes for road building than is paid by the country, and it looks unfair to city tax payers that they should not share with the country in the building of good roads.

The Weatherford Democrat is complaining, and with all justice, that the Bankhead Highway a road that is much travelled by trans-continental tourists, is not built by the state through Weatherford in a way to conform with the rest of the roadway through the county, but that the city itself is expected to build and maintain this much-traveled highway through Weatherford. Scores of other towns in Texas are situated like Weatherford and should insist on their rights as taxpayers to share in the benefits derived from their taxes.

Help Farm Youth.

Edgar B. Davis is doing a work in Caldwell, Gonzales and Guadalupe counties that could be duplicated by other rich men without any danger of great loss. Through the Luling Farm Foundation, any boy or girl in these counties who is recommended by the county farm agent and whose father, whether rich or poor will sign a note—with them, can buy a Jersey heifer, sheep, goats, turkeys, hogs or chickens by giving a note due in two years with six per cent interest. This is a commendable way of helping boys and girls to help themselves, and it involves very little financial risk.

Farm Factories.

Every farm in Texas should be a factory. The waste from the farms due to neglect in caring for farm products is prodigious. With the present day facilities for canning and the understanding of it that can be acquired by one, there is little excuse for not canning an abundant supply of vegetables and fruits for home use and for local markets. Any farm family that will may easily can enough to make it unnecessary to spend any money for the family's grocery or clothing bills, as local merchants are usually anxious to obtain these home canned products in exchange for merchandise. The Mercedes Tribune makes a forcible argument for the farm factory with the statement that the production of only $100 worth of canned goods a year to the farm would mean a total of $204,000 a year in that one county alone.

Georgetown Hotel.

Among the latest towns to take steps to secure a modern hotel is Georgetown. Georgetown has many visitors and in many respects is a good town, but is at least 25 years behind the rest of the country in hotel facilities. It is the site of one of the leading schools of the state but visitors to the school have to hurry away for lack of hotel accommodations.

Rabbit Industry.

An enterprise that promises large development is the effort being made by Cotulla and San Antonio parties to popularize rabbit meat for food and rabbit pelts for the fur industry. It is a revival of the Belgian hare business that had such a run a few years ago, but that waned because of the lack of markets for the meat or the pelts. Parties now promoting the industry in Texas will center their efforts on the growing and market-

Hints for the Home

In almost every home there is an old treasure or two, but, proud as we are of these possessions, they do not always have a place of honor in the home.

Bookshelves always welcome bits of colorful glass or pottery among the books. On the sideboard or console a piece of old silver gives a suggestion of luxury that is subtly convincing. Old prints either side of the secretary; old pewter plates for the mantel shelf—such well-chosen ornaments often give more atmosphere and individuality to a room than many dollars spent on new furnishings.

Fresh Peach Mousse.

Two cups whipping cream, 1 cup puree of fresh peaches, 1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup sugar. Add dissolved gelatin to hot fruit juice and when cool and about to set, fold in stiffly whipped cream. Pack in mold, cover with ice and salt for three hours or more.

An Appetizer for Summer Meals.

Eggs in aspic make a very tempering and substantial appetizer for summer meals. Cut hard-boiled eggs in half, devil the yolk and return them to whites, put a half egg in each individual mold, fill with aspic or a lemon-flavored gelatin and put in ice box to set.

Two Good Vegetable Menus.

Cream of lima bean soup, corn fritters, scalloped tomatoes, cream clam, baked peach dumplings, non-stimulating drink. Cream of potato soup, vegetable patty, egg salad, banana shortcake, non-stimulating drink.

Probably She Needed It.

Tom (passionately)—"The more I look at you, dear, the more beautiful you seem."

Anastasia (expectantly)—"Yes?"

Tom (brutally)—"I ought to look at you oftener."

The BIG Thing Is to Vote!

The big day in the Democratic candidate's lives is SATURDAY, AUGUST 25—that's the day when the voters pick their choice for the struggle in the general election in November.

—We all realize that the second primary, as a rule, does not draw out all the voters. Many men and women do not vote after the struggle and excitement of the first primary, when so many candidates stir up the voters.

Terrell In Bad for Publishing Inaccurate Data

The local Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from Col. Harve H. Haines, of Amarillo, protesting data printed in the Texas Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 89, August, 1927. In a products map of this bulletin a number of Northwest Texas counties, among which is Deaf Smith, are shown as grazing lands. Agricultural products grown in other of the Plains counties are shown decidedly in error, and in general the map is a misrepresentation, says Col. Haines.

Deaf Smith county, shown as grazing land, produced $1,253,870 worth of farm products, and had a total value of farm properties valued at more than fifteen million dollars.

Secretary Arnold has written for copies of this bulletin and together with other counties will insist that this map be eliminated from further distribution.

Of special interest is this to the Panhandle counties at this time, as they are showing exhibits in Northern states and distributing literature and pictures, of farm products depicting the fertility of the soil and it is considered deplorable that the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture at Austin should be placing in the hands of prospective citizens of these counties information that is not only misleading and injurious, but that is being paid for by the people's money.

Tells of Witnessing

Volcano in Erupt

Joseph H. Sinclair, representative of the American Geographic Society, has returned to this country from a hard trip of exploration through Ecuador, where he had a terrific experience in an endeavor to reach a smoking volcano which had erupted, the whole country for miles being deluged with a flow of lava. The native had a wholesome superstitious fear of the great pile and could not be induced to guide the explorer as near as he wanted to go, but by his own efforts and alone he managed to get within several miles of the cone, and this was near enough for him to witness a number of explosions which repeatedly changed the contour of the crater's rim. Little or nothing had been known about the volcano and he secured valuable data concerning its character and location.

Mr. Sinclair pointed out that he was not the first white man to see the volcano—a mountain which the natives call Reventador, meaning "Eruptor." Near the place the explorers came upon a lone white man who could not tell them how long he had been there nor why he had penetrated so far from civilized association. Nor would he go with them to the mountain. He, too, had been infected by the superstition of the natives, which holds that whenever a human sets foot on the side of the tall volcano Reventador becomes "muuy brava," or very brave.

Immunity to Poisons

Not Yet Understood

One of the most fascinating chapters in animal poisons is the subject of natural immunity, the fact that some animals are immune to the poisons of others and remain unharmed if stung or bitten by the poisonous animals, whereas all other sorts of beasts succumb.

A case in point is that of desert animals, which are unharmed by a scorpion's sting. The desert fox, the kangaroo rat and other inhabitants of deserts where scorpions abound are in this happy position. Their cousins, living far away from the desert, would at once be seriously injured by a scorpion's sting, whereas the desert breeds remain unharmed. It is to be supposed that in the far distant past, before the desert animals had this complete immunity to scorpion venom, those which were stung and could not resist died, leaving no offspring. Their luckier brothers, who happened to have a harder constitution, survived and left behind them a resistant race of descendants.—The Forum.

Created Cinderella

It was just three centuries since Charles Perrault, creator of Cinderella and Red Riding Hood, was born. Perrault, a Frenchman, never dreamed that the fairy children of his brain would become immortal. He wrote poetry of an exceedingly dull order, and it was by his poems and not by his fairy stories that he hoped to win fame. Perrault conceived and wrote his stories, which he called "Tales of Mother Goose," to please his little son, just as Lewis Carroll, a mathematician, told the tale of Alice in Wonderland to amuse two little girls. Cinderella and her glass slipper were one of Perrault's favorite heroines. Some people have tried to insist that Cinderella's slipper of "verre," or glass, was meant to be a slipper of "vair," or fur, but one cannot imagine Cinderella in anything but a crystal slipper.

What is a Peddler?

The word peddler is derived from an old English word, "ped," as in Spencer's "Shepherd's Calendar." "A basket is a wicker ped wherein they used to carry fish." It has no connection with the Latin pedis, a foot, as often reported. A peddler is, therefore, one with a ped, basket, or pack, who has been held in law, one who has the identical article he sells in his "ped." It is, simply speaking, incorrect, therefore, to call an itinerant merchant, who simply takes orders for goods bought from seeing samples he carries, a peddler.

Airplanes Cut Journey

An airplane service for gold diggers and others concerned in the newly discovered fields in New Guinea is the latest aerial development. The new fields are on a 2,000-foot high plateau, 60 miles from the coast, a cross-country journey of six days, and a fleet of airplanes has reduced the trail to one of 50 minutes. All supplies for the fields are now carried by air, the machines returning to the coast with cargoes of gold and passengers.

Moderation

There is a wide difference between the confidence which becomes a man and the weakness which disgraces a fool. He who never trusts, is a niggard in his soul, who starves himself, and by whom no other is enriched; but he who gives to every one his confidence, and every one his praise, squanders the fruit which should serve for the encouragement of integrity and the reward of excellence.—Sophia Parkeron, in "Gems for the Toilet."

Eased His Conscience

In 1822 David Nightingale bought a pair of shoes in John Dickman's store at Peekskill, N. Y., and then left for California without paying for them. Recently Nightingale returned to settle his forty-five-year-old debt. He found the shoemaker had retired from business, but was still living. Nightingale counted out $4, the original price of the shoes, and then $35 more, which he estimated was the interest to date.

FREE GATE FOR TRI-STATE FAIR IS A POPULAR MOVE

AMARILLO.—Free admission at the entrance gates to the Tri-State Fair grounds September 22 to 29 is expected to attract the largest crowds in the history of the fair.

The usual tax of 50 cents at the general admittance gate has been eliminated by the fair organization, making it possible for Panhandle people to visit all of the exhibits and also have access to the midway attractions absolutely free.

Two special entertainment features, the Leonard Stroud rodeo performance in the afternoon and the Schoolley & Collins Winter Garden revue at night. This is the same company that plays at the Dallas fair. Of course the rides and shows of the big Lockman and Carson carnival company will make the usual charges, but the public will have access to the midway without cost.

Livestock, poultry and agricultural exhibits are expected to be the best in history and Panhandle people are urged to visit them free of charge.

Fair officials are preparing to care for 250,000 persons during fair week. They have arranged for 29 acres of free parking space adjacent to the fair ground for the accommodation of visitors' automobiles.

Babies must be protected from flies. Besides their torment and torture, flies transmit over thirty different diseases. Any one of which may prove fatal. Every fly you see must be killed. INSIST upon and get the scientific product developed at Mellon Institute of Research by Rex Research Fellowship. It is fragrant and harmless to mankind but sure death to all household insects. Just follow instructions on blue label of bottle. Insist on FLY-TOX from your retailer.—Adv.

Harry Seed Is Making Good With Holt People

Harry Seed, former Hereford resident and employee of the Garison Hardware and Kerr Implement Companies, is another young man who is making his mark in the implement world and going to the top.

Mr. Seed spent some time in the Holt combine school in California, perfecting himself in servicing this company's products and recently has been stationed at Pampa. The Kerr Implement Company has been advised that he made such a record at Pampa he has now been put on the road by the Holt people as service manager for special work where most needed. He spent three weeks in Nebraska and is now in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Officials of the Kerr Implement Company are highly pleased over the showing being made by Mr. Seed.

COMMISSIONERS COURT NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that after this date the Commissioners' Court will be compelled to discontinue the custom of furnishing lumber for private culverts. This action is taken by the Court after careful consideration and a thorough investigation of the matter. The Court regrets the necessity of such a move, but owing to the increased number of miles of new road that are continually being opened the expense of furnishing private culverts is prohibitive with the funds available at this time.

Miss Chapman's litter will probably weigh 3000 pounds by the date of the fair.

Herefords.
Some of the highest bred Hereford cattle in the world will be shown in the beef cattle department of the fair, according to Egbert Bradley, superintendent. The fair will be held in the famous Hereford stadium at which many national Hereford sales have been staged.

Community Booths.
Practically every rural community in the county have signified their intention of having a booth at the fair. First premium money in this division is $50.00 and each premium will be paid on the leading five exhibits. The women's department is receiving special attention also, as well as the vocational department and poultry division. Secretary Arnold of the Chamber of Commerce is assisting merchants in staging a style show on two nights of the fair. New fall costumes and apparel in all the newest vogues will be shown and special entertainment features will also be provided on these two nights.

Merchants' booth space bids to be at a premium before the local merchants have been secured, according to E. B. Black, superintendent of this department. The City of Hereford plans to entertain more than 20,000 visitors during the fair.

BRIDGE PARTY

Mmes. W. F. Gabbert and Glen Snyder proved themselves to be the most charming hostesses when on last Friday afternoon, the very delightfully entertained the bridge club members and their friends at bridge at the home of Mrs. Gabbert.

The rooms of this lovely home were attractively decorated with flowers, grown by Mrs. Gabbert, tall vases and baskets of the gorgeous dahlias and roses were placed to lend their beauty and fragrance as a pleasing inspiration for the games that were the diversion for the afternoon.

Five tables of players enjoyed this hospitality, Mrs. F. H. Gabbert winning the high score and Mrs. Dow Mercer the low.
