WEDDING DINNER AT FLOWERS HOME

A wedding dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Flowers in South Hereford Wednesday evening, April 9, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Janssen, who were married in Hobart, Oklahoma, the morning of that same day, proved a very happy event.

The Flowers family are new citizens here from Hobart, and are living on the Baskin truck farm. Mrs. Janssen was formerly Waneta Flowers, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Flowers, and grew up in Hobart. Alvin Janssen likewise grew up in Hobart, so the two have known each other all their lives and went through school together.

Those attending were: Henry Janssen and wife, Hobart, parents of the groom; H. C. Bowsher and family, Lee Hopson and family, N. C. Hopson, Brownwood; J. M. Flowers and family, J. M. Crain and wife, L. H. Kurtholtz and wife, Coleridge, Nebr.; I. V. Flowers and family, L. Baskin, J. R. Moseley. Alvin Janssen is opening up a 640 acre wheat farm near the Fuqua ranch northwest of Hereford and expects to live there with his wife.

HARLEY SADLER COMING UNDER AUSPICES LEGION

W. J. (Bill) Smith informs the Brand that the local American Legion organization has engaged the Harley Sadler Company to play a week's stand here some time in the next four or five weeks. The Harley Sadler company is known throughout the Southwest as a good, clean and up-to-date show, playing only the better class of plays and vaudeville. They come with many of their former members that have endeared themselves to the Hereford playgoers. Harley Sadler always has a good band and orchestra and have recently added a number of new plays to their repertoire.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE 90 DAYS MAKE!

TODAY A TODDLING CHICK... in 90 days a proud pullet about to lay. There's something to think about! Tiny bones and little muscles have grown several times in size... a delicate fuzz has sprouted into hundreds of feathers... a chick weighing grams has grown into a pullet weighing pounds... all in 90 short days!

A wonderful change... and only one thing can do it... good feed! This year consider Purina Startena Chow (mash) and Purina Chick Chow (scratch) or All-Mash Startena Chow for the first six weeks... and then Purina Growena and Purina Intermediate Hen Chow until your pullets are laying at 16 weeks.

Put these Chows before your chicks. You will see pullets that are built right... pullets that will lay eggs aplenty in fall and winter when eggs are always worth good money.

BIPPUS SCHOOL TO HAVE BOX SUPPER FRIDAY NIGHT

Bippus is to have a box supper at the school house Friday night of this week. Col. Ray Barber has been invited to auction the boxes, and a big attendance is looked for, according to Mrs. H. O. Dorris and H. C. VanBibber of the Bippus community, who were visitors to the Monday luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. The ladies reported that the new church-community building, mentioned in the Brand a few weeks ago, will be constructed, the work to begin first of next week. The new structure will be 30 by 60 feet, contain three class rooms, a large auditorium, kitchen and recreational room. The trustees, H. C. Van Bibber, C. P. Fering and George Wells have enough cash on hand so the building can now be started and enough money in sight to complete the structure without delay.

Minneapolis Combines Take the Drudgery Out of Wheat Harvesting

Harvesting With Only Four Men

Combine harvesting saves expenses and labor for both the farmer and his wife. The farmer can handle his entire harvest with only four men—one on the tractor, one on the combine and two hauling threshed grain. Instead of the customary harvest-crew to cook for, the farmer's wife has only her own family. The Minneapolis Combine has proven itself practical in saving grain under all conditions and in economical operation. Wind-rower and pickup attachments are available.

We will be able to accommodate you this season with all Minneapolis Combine and Tractor parts.

Friday's Fish

BECAUSE so many housewives serve fish to their families on Friday, all others when they wish to have the delectable delicacy fresh and firm, know that that is the day to serve it.

The markets depend upon whether the salt or the fresh water fish are most obtainable. One can find in almost any locality in our country fresh, smoked, salt or pickled fish. In small places quite removed from fresh water or salt, the canned variety is always available.

Different kinds of fish may be used with these same recipes:

Halibut Supreme.—Boil one and one-half pounds of halibut in enough salted water to cover well, until it flakes easily, with one small chopped carrot, one teaspoonful of minced onion, and a bit of bay leaf. Drain, flake and lay in a shallow glass baking dish buttered. Four ounces of a rich well seasoned cream sauce to which some nippy cheese has been added. Top with buttered crumbs and brown in a hot oven. Accompany with:

Celery Salad.—Stew the hearts of celery in boiling salted water to cover, until tender. Drain and cover with the french dressing seasoned with paprika, while the celery is still hot. Let stand until cold and serve with the fish.

While tomatoes are plentiful make this sauce in quantity:

Tomato Sauce.—Fry a good thick slice of salt pork diced into very fine pieces, add a tablespoonful each of minced onion, carrot, celery and sweet pepper; cook, stirring for five minutes. Add two quarts of ripe tomatoes, a bit of bay leaf, a clove, a sprig of parsley and cook for half an hour. Rub as much as possible through a sieve, reheat, add salt, pepper, cayenne, sugar and a tablespoonful each of flour and butter; cook until smooth.

The thrifty housewife pickles fresh fish and cans them for winter, thus having the fish for the table all the year around.

ROBERT TAYLOR MOONEY

A letter to the Brand from Mrs. R. T. Mooney of 3405 Forest Avenue, Kansas City, advises of the death of Mr. Mooney at the home of his son there on March 30. A short funeral service was held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. H. L. DeLester, Victory Highway, Kansas City, Kansas, and Masonic services were held also at Grater's Chapel.

Mr. Mooney was one of the old-timers of Deaf Smith county, coming here 20 years ago to engage in the farming and cattle business, and although ill health compelled him to move away several years ago he always claimed this country as his home.

At the time of his death he was 83 years old. He left to mourn his loss his wife, Mary E. Mooney; three sons, John C. and Raymond A., of Kansas City, and Robert H. of Pampa; four daughters, Mrs. A. E. Atwood, Mrs. H. L. DeLester and Mrs. Charlotte McKee of Kansas City, and Mrs. Leroy Satterwhite of Spearman; twenty-three grand children and a host of friends.

PREFERS BABIES TO POLITICIANS

Ishbel MacDonald, Daughter of Premier, Talks of Her Philosophy.

London.—A serious young woman of twenty-six, who would rather entertain babies than politicians, is for the second time in her life one of the world's most important hostesses.

Ishbel MacDonald, dark-eyed daughter of Britain's premier, J. Ramsay MacDonald, is again the mistress of No. 10 Downing street, where she had ruled the social life of the last Labor regime in 1924.

Just as no one knew whether Ishbel was glad to leave the English "White House" after the Labor party's downfall, no one knows how she feels about her return. Her friends say she no longer hopes to obtain a university degree, but they believe she would like to devote all her time to social welfare work.

When, not yet twenty-one, she left her domestic science course at King's college in 1924 to take charge of the prime minister's household, society matrons held their thumbs, but Ishbel made a great social success of the Labor administration.

She is independent. Her reply to a woman who volunteered to help choose her gowns and give advice on court behavior showed characteristic independence. "I have chosen my own gowns," she said, "and I think I shall know how to behave in court."

She soon became a favorite of the queen and so great was her popularity with the people that hundreds of baby girls in all parts of Britain were christened Ishbel. A picture which also adorned the living room of "No. 10" in 1924 is back in the same place today. It is a photograph of the garden set in Lincoln Inn fields which bears the following inscription:

"This seat has been placed here in memory of Margaret MacDonald, who spent her life in helping others in need. She took no rest from doing good."

Friends of the MacDonald family have said that Ishbel is much like her mother, a noted welfare worker. Ishbel has spent much time studying the problems of poverty, motherhood, and infant mortality. She chose a seat on the London county council in preference to one in parliament so that she could carry on her work among the poorer classes.

Her Social Philosophy.

While campaigning for the Labor party, she concisely expressed her social philosophy in five points:

"I believe every mother should have the chance of bringing children into the world without impairing her own health in that natural function.

"Every family should have a decent house and healthy surroundings in which to live.

"Every child should have a good primary and secondary education.

"When large sums have been invested in developing good citizens they should be permitted to make use of their education for the benefit of themselves and their country instead of being asked to die for their country.

"I do not believe war is inevitable."

Brown, Wavy Hair. Ishbel has brown, wavy hair and a vivid, clear complexion. She plays hockey and golf, likes music but does not care for dancing. Her favorite author is George Eliot and she expresses a preference for "old-fashioned" novels. She is an enthusiastic student of chemistry.

Ishbel accompanied her father to America in 1927 and made a favorable impression. When MacDonald became ill, she took his place as the principal speaker at a socialist banquet in New York.

Bible Lost in France Is Returned to Owner

Washington.—A Bible stolen from him in the University of Beaux Arts at Dijon, France, during the World War ten years ago, was returned to Farmount B. White, formerly athletic coach of the Newport News high school at Newport, Va., recently.

The Bible, a gift of Mr. White's mother, was sent, accompanied by a letter from Martha V. Grigby, of 810 West One Hundred Eighteenth street, New York. The letter explained how it fell into her hands as follows:

"I take great pleasure in sending you the Bible you lost in the One Hundred Sixteenth street subway station, found by a friend of mine. I am colored, but colored or white, I am sure that you will be glad to get your Bible."

She did not know that the Bible had been stolen from Mr. White on the Western front ten years ago.

Passion Play to Draw Hundreds Coming Week

Amarillo, April 16.—Hundreds of seats for the return engagement of the Frieberg Passion plays in Amarillo April 29 and already have been sold. Every day brings in additional reservations, and dozens of Amarillo people call at the News-Globe office daily to apply for seats. The famous German cast, headed by Adolf Passnacht, the Christ-portrayer, is identically the same cast that appeared in Amarillo in February. Three performances were given then, and more than 3000 people were turned away after all standing room had been sold.

The production will be given Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Wednesday matinee, but present indications are that the house will be sold out each time. The story of the Passion week appeals to so many people and the engagement in Amarillo will cover such a wide territory that Wilbur C. Hawk, Tri-State Fair president, advises making early reservations.

Those who failed to make reservations for the last engagement were disappointed when they called for seats. Those making reservations by mail should specify whether for Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon or night. Seats for night performances range from $1 to $2.50. School children may see the afternoon show for 50c, and teachers for 75c. Other adult admissions will be from $1 to $2, and all seats will be reserved.

EARL DAY BADLY BURNED; NOW IN HOSPITAL

A very disastrous fire occurred at the home of B. C. Day, three miles southwest of Friona Tuesday afternoon when the large barn and its contents were destroyed and his son, Earl Day, was badly burned.

Earl Day was in the barn soldering a leak in a gas tank of the tractor with a blow torch, when the tank exploded and set fire to the barn and the young man was badly burned before he could be carried to safety.

It is said his father, B. C. Day, risked his life and was also badly burned in his efforts to get his son away from the fire. The young man was brought to a physician here and first aid attention was given him, after which he was taken to the hospital at Hereford.

The barn was the largest and most up to date building of its kind in this section of the country and was a heavy loss to Mr. Day, but in addition to the barn itself, it was reported that a large amount of grain and machinery which the barn contained was also destroyed.—Friona Star.

out; Caldwell's fly to right was muffed, scoring Stratton and Langston. Stratton hit one through third, scoring Caldwell, making the score, Texico 2, Hereford 2.

In the last half of the same frame, Williams, center fielder for Hereford, hit one a mile right over right for a home run, tying the score. Young singled and was out stealing second. Bennett struck out, Robinson going the same way.

Texico tallied again in the fifth when Whitley singled and Stratton poled one out for three bags, scoring Whitley. Texico made another in the seventh without a hit and Hereford made one in the same inning the same way. The first of the eighth Stratton, Texico catcher, made a home run, which gave this boy two singles, one three bagger and a home run, with four times at bat, and made the score 6 to 4 in Texico's favor. In the last of the eighth, Williams, first Hereford man up, was out, pitcher to first; Young got on on an error; Bennett singled; Carmichael hitting for Robinson got a long one, scoring Young and Bennett. White smashed out a three bagger, scoring Carmichael, and scored himself later when Rose's ball was fumbled at second.

Texico had only three men at bat in the first of the ninth and the ball game was over, Hereford 8, Texico 6. The fans seemed to get a big kick out of the game and a fair crowd was out for this first game. It looks like the boys are going to have the best club they have had in several years.

Hereford Trims Texico Here In Opening Set-to

(Crowded out last week)

Sunday afternoon the town team made a creditable showing in their first baseball game of the season, playing with Texico. It was the first time the boys had been together and the first time part of them had handled a ball this season. With some new men and some old-timers in there, the fans went away seemingly well satisfied after the game was over.

With two of the sweetest batteries that the fans have seen work in the last two seasons, it was anyone's game until the last ball. With Allen and Stratton working for Texico and Rose and White for Hereford, the honors were about even, Allen with 12 strikeouts and Rose 11.

The one old-timer that every one in Hereford loves to see in there, Chas. Bennett, started the scoring in the second inning with a home run. Again in the third White singled, Rose sacrificed; Glennin hit to third, who fumbled the ball and White scored. In the fourth Stratton singled, Langston was safe on fumble, Decker was out, short to first; Langston struck

The showers Friday night and Saturday night were very beneficial to the small grain crops. However, most folks would like to see a week of rainy weather. The wind storm which came up suddenly Wednesday afternoon completely wrecked a large hen house at the Beauford place, took the roof off a shed at the Barber place and backed one of the airplanes into the road east of the hangar.

R. A. Jones and daughters, Misses Flora and Margie of Childress were week end guests in the home of his brother, A. T. Jones, and family.

Little Miss Wanda Fae, weight 9 pounds, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Campbell on April 11. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Andrews spent Sunday at Melrose with her brother. His father accompanied them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Erks Williams and family spent most of last week visiting relatives at Petersburg and Floydada.

Mrs. Mack Dixon and children and Mrs. Walter Easter and Ines and Ruth spent the week end in Lookney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lindsey were supper guests at the C. E. Tice home Sunday evening.

Last Sunday C. M. Bell was honored of a very pleasant surprise party when over 115 of his friends gathered at his home after Sunday school to remind him that he had had another birthday. The ladies soon had a delicious dinner spread to which the large crowd did ample justice. He shared honors of the day with J. H. Barton and Miss Alma Andrews, whose birthdays were very close to his and the gaily decorated birthday cakes were cut and sampled by the many friends. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent by each and every one.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berry and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Springer attended the dairy show at Plainview Tuesday. During the day Mr. Berry met a school boy friend whom he had not seen for many years, and who is county agent of one of the counties being represented at the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Hawkins of Clovis spent Saturday night and Sunday at the C. M. Bell home. Last Thursday sixteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. Mobley and spent the day piecing quilts for her. During the afternoon it was decided to organize a club and Mrs. J. W. Berry was chosen president and Miss Blanche Beauford secretary. It was decided that names be drawn in order to get the meeting places each time, and that two ladies entertain each time. A quilt block is to be pieced and presented to the hostesses each meeting and any other sewing they may have on hand to be done. It was decided to name this club the Worth While Club, and a very worth while object will be the event of the next meeting, that of showering a family who lost all their belongings the past week in a fire which totally destroyed their home. After a brief talk by the president, the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Berry and Mrs. C. E. Tice assistant hostesses. The following meeting will be with Mrs. A. Beauford, with Mrs. Walter Tice, hostess, the meeting place to be announced at the meeting Thursday. Each lady take one dish of eatables which solves the dinner problem.

The Frio boys were defeated by the Black boys in the ball game at Black. Several from Frio are attending the revival meetings being held at Dimmitt.

ESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS

Matthew 18:21-35

Olden Text—Forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors.—Matt. 6:12.

Introduction.
The most solemn lesson of this parable is one who is unwilling to forgive his brother has no right to expect forgiveness for himself. This is in harmony with that early declaration of our Lord: "But ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your heavenly father forgive your trespasses." No man can cherish the malicious disposition that treasures up offenses against himself, and at the same time feel that the divine love is wrapping him round in its warm folds. If we are to retain our consciousness of having been forgiven by God, and received into the amplitude of his heart, we must, in our measure and degree, imitate that on which we trust, and be mirrors of the divine mercy which we say has saved us.

Until Seven Times.
Our Lord's teaching had required the patient lore beyond that the sabbis required, for their teaching was that the offender should go to the man he had wronged, confess his fault, and seek forgiveness; but Christ had commanded that the wronged man should take the initiative in seeking a reconciliation. Peter was startled, and wanted to know more about the matter.

"Then came Peter and said to him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?" Impetuous Peter was likely to bring down much criticism on his head, and become involved in many disputes with his brethren. He was hard hit by Christ's command of ready forgiveness. "How long must I keep this thing up?" He anxiously inquires. "Until seven times?" Peter thought that to be a sufficiently liberal offer, since the rabbis required only a thrice-repeated forgiveness, basing their rule on Job 33:29 and Amos 2:1. Probably Peter expected to be praised for his "seven times." "There was a mystical atmosphere about the number seven; it symbolized perfection. Three being the number which spoke of heaven, and four the number of the world, seven gave the ideal of completion—the union of heaven and earth."—Rev. John Henry Hopkins.

Seventy Times Seven.
"Jesus saith unto him, I say unto thee, Until seven times; but until seventy times seven." The translation is uncertain here, and the marginal "until seventy times and seven" may be correct; but whether Jesus said four hundred and ninety or seventy-seven makes no difference, since our Lord plainly meant that one is to forgive an indefinite number of times. Forgiveness does not go by the count but by the spirit. It is not a matter of arithmetic or of bookkeeping, but of love; and love has no limits. Peter was shown how low was his estimate of forgiveness compared with Christ's. The true Christian's forgiveness is not to be limited to any particular number. "If a person remembers wrongs enough to keep count of them, he does not really forgive them."

A Day of Reckoning.
"Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king who would make a reckoning with his servant." The king stands for the Saviour himself, who is some day to sit in judgment upon all men, making a reckoning of the deeds done in the body. "And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him that owed him ten thousand talents. A talent was not a coin, but a weight of gold or silver. These were probably talents of silver, each worth 3,000 shekels or 12,000 denarii, and the denarius was the day's wages of an ordinary laborer. In our money the sum would be between nineteen and twenty million dollars, a sum impossible to pay. If these were Greek and not Hebrew talents, the total would be about half this sum—"probably more than the whole annual revenue of Palestine at this time." (Cambridge Bible.) Such is the debt which the sinner owes to God.

—he can never hope to pay it or hope to pay it.

The Bankrupt Debtor.
"But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay." "Do we any of us realize we all of us ought to do, the infinite number, and the transcendent greatness, of our transgressions against the Father?"—Alexander MacLaren. "His lord commanded him to be sold." The Mosiac law authorized the selling of a man into slavery for theft (Ex. 22:3) or for debt (Lev. 25:39-47). "And his wife, and children." "A man's wife and children were his property. The order is also in accordance with the idea that the whole of a man's family is responsible for his acts (Josh. 7)."—Alfred Plummer. See 2 Kings 4:1. "And all that he had and payment to be made." The sale would go only a little way toward paying the enormous debt, but it would amount to something.

The Forgiving Lord.
"And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion." How often is compassion attributed to Jesus! Indeed, pity for human misery was the price motive of Christ's mission to this world. "Released him." Possibly he had at once been thrown into chains or into prison, but probably this means merely that the king released him from his obligations. "And forgave him the debt." Cancelled the whole matter, making the debt as if it had never been. "God is willing to forgive us all our debt. It is indeed, the very purpose of revelation to make that fact known to men; and in its proclamation David and Paul, Isaiah and John, Jeremiah and Peter are in full accord."—William M. Taylor.

The Unforgiving Servant.
"But that servant went out." Utterly unmindful of his own undeserved mercy, not in the least humbled by the experience, perhaps puffed up by the vast favor shown him by the king. "And found one of his fellow-servants." Another officer of the king, but an inferior one. "Who owed him an hundred shillings." The denarius or "shilling" was worth from 16 to 17 cents, so that the debt of the second servant amounted to only 16 or 17 dollars. The debt which the first servant had owed the king, and which had just been forgiven, was from half a million to a million times greater. So petty are the wrongs others have done to us compared with the wrongs which we have committed toward God. "And he laid hold on him and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest." "The Roman law allowed a creditor to seize his debtor and drag him before the judge, and Roman writers repeatedly speak of a man's twisting the neck of his debtor till the blood flowed from mouth and nostrils."—John A. Broadus. If you want to learn a man's character, do not look at his bearing toward his superiors, but at his attitude toward subordinates.

"Then his lord called him unto him." He also was more grievously than angry, though he must have been terribly shocked at such cruel conduct. "And saith to him, Thou wicked servant, wickedness should be recognized and called by its right name far oftener than it is. 'I forgive me that debt because thou besoughtest me.' Not because of anything in the man's character or conduct.

Forgiving and Forgetting.
When anyone says, "I will forgive his injury to me, but I will never forget it," he usually reveals his intention to remember it, and thereby he reveals an unforgiving heart. So long as he tries to remember the wrong, he does not really forgive it. To forgive is to dismiss, to put out of sight, to treat as if the wrong did not exist. That is what we want God to do with our sins. We pray with the Psalmist, "Blot out my transgressions." "Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions." Spurgeon says pithily, "Forgive and forget. When you bury a mad dog, don't leave his tail above ground."

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing. Easy G. M. A. C. Terms.

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No automobile uses less gasoline and oil. No car shows a lower expense for tires. And no car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high re-sale value—for its entire design is just as advanced as its six-cylinder engine.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes. It gives you a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear outside the body. It gives you four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism, an adjustable driver's seat, a Fisher VV non-glare windshield, and tilting beam headlights, operated by a foot-controlled button.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance and for economical transportation!

Master Lloyd Manjeot Has Birthday
Master Lloyd Howton Manjeot entertained nine of his friends in honor of his third birthday at the home of his parents, 507 West Fourth Street, from 3:30 until 5:00 Thursday afternoon, April 10. As the guests arrived, Lloyd welcomed them at the door and soon were hugely enjoying themselves at both outdoor and indoor games. The numerous delightful toys the guests had brought as presents were opened and tried out by everyone. Probably the most attractive part of the afternoon was the lovely dining room table adorned in pink and white, with decorations appropriate to the Easter season. From each place a pink ribbon led to a group of bunnies around the beautiful birthday cake which graced the table's center, and by drawing a ribbon each pulled a favor from among the little rabbits. The white cake was lighted by pink candles set in the backs of little white candy hens scattered over it, and after the candles were blown out, each guest cut their own piece of cake. Pink and white bricks of ice cream were served with the cake. Master Lloyd was ably assisted in acting as host by his mother, Mrs. Arthur Manjeot, and his aunt, Mrs. A. A. Manjeot, of Spivey, Kansas. Those who helped celebrate the delightful occasion were little Misses Jo Lynn Morrow, Patsy Ball, Wanda Jean Smith, Phyllis Gene Radovich, Mary Ann Thompson, Georgeanne Miller, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Masters James and children of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. B. Knight Grason and children; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Euler and children, Summerfield, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Browder of Chicago, Illinois.

A GOLDEN WEDDING NEAR SUMMERFIELD
In 1880 golden wedding anniversaries were a rarity. If the Indians didn't get your scale perhaps it would be smallpox or typhoid fever. The hazards were mostly physical ones.
In 1930 golden weddings are even more rare, though the Indians drive automobiles and sign oil royalty checks, and fevers are robbed of most of their terrors by the progress of sanitation. The matrimonial hazards of today are psychological, more than physical.
On April 11, 1880, Emma Hoffman and Aug. J. Euler were married at Troy, Kansas, where they spent the first 25 years of their married life. Here their seven children were born. From Troy they moved to a dairy ranch at Brighton, Colorado, where they lived six years. The next 18 years were spent on a farm at Hydro, Oklahoma. In January, 1929, they moved to Summerfield, Texas, where three of their children had built new homes.
The complexities of modern life put such a strain on human minds that one now places undue importance on differences that under the physical difficulties of fifty years ago would have been passed over as of no consequence.
So your reporter has taken great interest in the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Aug Euler held at their home a few miles out of Summerfield, it is rare to find a couple so young in spirit and body celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. Their modern bungalow, with electric lights, radio and all that goes with it, is only an indication of how they have kept pace with their times. The writer has marveled often at the fact that people of their years were always one of the most progressive forces in the community where they were living, always aggressive, fighters for what they believed to be for the best interest of their community.
And in their family life the same spirit has been evident, which is shown by the fact that each of their seven children is imbued with the same progressive spirit. All but one of the children are farmers—not just another farmer, but exemplifications of the modern spirit on the farm and in the farm community.
On April 11, 1930, all the seven of their children, fourteen grandchildren, three sons-in-law and two daughters-in-law, gathered at their home to help celebrate their 50th year of happy and healthful married life and to wish them many more happy years together.
Those who attended were Mrs. Mary Lichtle, her daughter, Marguerite, her son Arthur and his bride of one week, all of Cortez, Colorado; Mrs. Tillie Smith of Norman, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mot and children, Ruth, Jimmie and Faye, Hydro, Oklahoma; Mrs. and Mrs. Elmer Euler and

Churchill Downs
CHURCHILL DOWNS, that celebrated mile-and-a-quarter-long race track near Louisville, founded in 1874, annually has been the scene of a famous horse race. It is the home of the Kentucky derby which, to the United States, is what the Epsom derby is to England, and is laid out on ground formerly owned by the Churchill family. Downs is an English term often applied to a race track—hence the somewhat peculiar name.
The Kentucky derby is more than a horse race. It has become an institution, where the horse is king for a day, the crowds gay and the experience thrilling. The outstanding annual sport event is the culmination of the love of horsemanship by an aggregation of humanity which has come from practically every nook and corner of this country—as many as a hundred thousand on one occasion, to witness a single contest between aristocratic thoroughbreds of the horse world.
Horse racing and the fondness therefor is an English pastime which gained a foothold in America some 300 years ago. It broke out in Virginia, worked its way over the mountains and lodged in the Bluegrass state when interest in horses and racing ran high about 150 years ago.
The history of the Kentucky derby and that of the turf in America are largely one and the same thing. Obviously, the derby is the goal of horse and horsemen alike, because to win it is an honor extraordinary.
Strange as it may seem, it has seldom been won by a favorite. The number of nominations for a single derby have varied from 8 to 196. Odds as high as $124 to $8 have been won.
