

Around Town

Sights and Faces Seen

Banks in Hereford are playing favorites and are taking advantage of both Thanksgiving and plan to take a holiday next Thursday when most other businesses in town will be closed.

A few weeks ago many persons in town were commenting on the attractive window display at Hereford Store Co., where S. L. Harmon was featuring hats in the center show window. Last week Mr. Harmon received a letter from the Byer-Rolnick Hat Co., notifying him that the editor of Hat Life had selected his display as one of the ten best in the Resistol Self-Conforming Window Contest for cities of more than 25,000 population.

The Hereford territory may not be as the land where the tall corn grows, but just the same Tom Wilson is this week harvesting 15 acres of Sure Crop White Corn which is making bushels to the acre.

New assistant manager at the Hogg store is A. D. Heflin, who comes here from Kansas City. Mr. Heflin has worked in the most worthwhile stores for several years and is thoroughly experienced in the variety store business.

M. M. Beavers was commenting this week on a refrigerator advertisement which he had read (Continued on Page 12)

Our Scouts Get Merit Badges At Court of Review

Those who will receive awards are Tom Wilson, merit badges in carpentry and athletics; he also receives his Life Scout badge. Thurman Williamson will receive his merit badge on swimming and Dave Beavers will be awarded a merit badge in Camping. Urllin Streu, scoutmaster of Troop 1, will receive (Continued on page 12)

Aunt Net Thornton, Only Negro In Deaf Smith County, Died Yesterday

Aunt Net Thornton, aged about 70 and for seven years the only colored citizen of Deaf Smith county, was taken Saturday to Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo to spend her remaining days on earth. Aunt Net knew nothing about the move. She had been in a coma for almost a week, but in a life as long as hers--and one which had seen such--she probably would have missed much in being unaware of her last move. Aunt Net had been a slave. The estimate on age was based on her statement that she was 15 when slaves were freed; but many sons in East Texas, where she was well known in several counties, thought her to be much older than that. They would think her ideas on such matters as "Aunt Net took care of my brother when he was a baby and he is past fifty now; he looked just as old then as he does today." So Aunt Net really has been past 100, according to Mrs. Ray Clark, whom she made her home for the past two years.

With Hydes 32 Years Mrs. Clark is a daughter of late J. W. Hyde, and the old woman had worked for the Hyde family for 35 years--made her home with them 32 years. She had cared all the Hyde children and used to say "You's just like children, only they's black." Aunt Net was a real old-fashioned southern Negro. She once

FCA Meeting Gives Practical Review Of Agriculture In Defense Program

Holiday Sale At Vogue Gives Customers Chance To Shop Early for Xmas

Advising customers to use the lay-away plan and shop early for Christmas, Mrs. C. W. Seed this week announced a holiday sale of merchandise at the Vogue.

"With a bigger stock than ever before, we are offering customers this year a splendid opportunity to buy Christmas gifts at a real saving," Mrs. Seed declares.

All dresses in the shop are being offered at a reduction, and hats, in two lots, give customers a good selection from which to choose. Also featured is a line of winter sports clothes which will be especially suitable for gift items.

"This idea of having a sale before Christmas, instead of waiting until the regular January clearance dates should prove popular with all our customers," Mrs. Seed states.

A practical outline of the defense program as it will affect agriculture was presented Tuesday night at a farm meeting sponsored by the Farm Credit Administration.

County Agent A. R. Bateman spoke briefly on the county goals in the agriculture defense program, explaining that many of the bad farm conditions which resulted after the first world war could have been prevented by careful planning before and during the war, and declaring that the present farm program would do much to alleviate a post-war farm depression.

Bateman emphasized that the program calls for an 18 per cent increase in slaughtered meat, not for an increase in livestock on the farm. Meat consumption in this country has probably already reached its peak, the speaker pointed out, and contrary to popular belief, only canned meat is shipped to England. The five per cent increase in dairy production, according to the county agent, can be secured without any increases in dairy (Continued on Page 12)

Funeral Rites of F. J. Eberle Held Today

Funeral services were held this morning at St. Anthony's Church for F. J. Eberle, 64, who died suddenly in Amarillo Monday night.

Mr. Eberle had been a Hereford resident for nearly 20 years, and was well known throughout the Panhandle territory. He farmed for several years after coming to Hereford and had also followed his trade of piano tuning in this and surrounding towns ever since he came here. A member of the Catholic Church, Mr. Eberle numbered among his friends persons from all walks of life and from all denominations. At one time, he was a real estate dealer and is in large measure responsible for the large number of Catholics who have emigrated here from other parts of the state. Many persons came here from Muenster through Mr. Eberle's efforts to develop this country and to enlarge the Catholic Church membership.

Survivors are the wife and two daughters, Misses Mary Virginia and Genevieve Eberle of Hereford, and a son, Dr. Howard J. Eberle, now in the naval medical service at Dallas. One of Mr. Eberle's great ambitions was realized when his son completed a medical education.

Interested in Antique Dictionaries? This Fellow Has An Old One

G. A. Southworth of Northfield, Minn., has a dictionary which is more than 40 years old. E. E. Posey does not know Mr. Southworth and he claims no talent as a Sherlock Holmes. His deduction came entirely from a letter recently received from Mr. Southworth.

The letter was addressed to the "Chairman, of the Board of County Commissioners, La Plata, Deaf Smith County, Texas," and referred to the story which appeared in Time for Nov. 10 regarding "Deaf Smith's Perfect Teeth."

Mr. Southworth wants the "inside story" on our county and town, and expresses dissatisfaction with the information found in his dictionary which states that the county has 1,487 square miles, is in the northern part of the state, and La Plata is the county seat.

To which Deaf Smith County citizens might reply that the information is a little inadequate--especially (Continued on page 12)

Just a year ago... Remember? The ice came, and the lights started going out all over the North Panhandle. By six o'clock Sunday afternoon the power was cut off in Hereford, and it had been off since Saturday on many of the R. E. A. lines. It's something people of this area will not forget soon, and with Thanksgiving coming on it reminds us of one other thing to be thankful for. No ice storm.

And those trees which many people had given up for a total loss last year, turned out to be pretty good looking trees this summer, and old Mother Nature further evened the score by giving us the prettiest flowers we have had in years. So the bob-tailed trees did not look so bad after all, and some nursery men even say that the cropping was good for them.

Despite predictions of the old timers, so far that "hardest winter in umpteen years" has not yet turned up. Which just goes to show that even amateur weather prophets sometimes make mistakes.

And remember the time when the city pumps stopped working, and Hereford citizens became part of the "great unwashed." Certainly this year it looks like no water shortage. In fact, the government may have to start making parity payment for a cut-down on rain production.

Americans like to make laws about practically everything. (Continued on Page 12)

Group Insurance Covers H. S. Football Players Weather Fair This Week

Most football fans this week became conscious of the hazards of the game when Don Davis, Whiteface end, received a broken cheekbone in the game with Canyon. Of course, injury in any case is pretty bad, but it is a good thing to know that the school carries insurance on all of its football players--which is something that most sports followers do not know.

Since last year, the local high school has carried a group insurance on the boys, which according to Principal G. M. Hudson costs about $2.10 per boy--and very cheap considering the protection it gives, and the help which the insurance might be in paying hospital bills.

The interscholastic league rules in Texas now require that each boy on the team be insured.

Burning Weeds Causes Prairie Fire Danger

A prairie fire in the Adrian-Simms neighborhood this week pointed to the danger which may be expected from prairie fires this winter unless great care is taken in burning weeds from the fence rows.

A fire started to burn the tumbleweeds off of a fence on the Cord Hammock farm set fire to a pasture on the Zerrell Thomas place and only the hurried gathering of neighbors to fight the fire prevented severe damage.

County Agent A. R. Bateman this week urged farmers to exercise safety precautions when burning weeds, pointing out that the pastures are tinder dry and that a fire now would probably spread rapidly unless fire fighters got to it early.

The precautions relative to burning weeds apply also to careless disposal of cigarette stubs. Motorists should remember not to throw live stubs out of car windows, farmers say, as both pastures and weeds, which are dry and piled high along the country roads, could catch fire easily from one of these burning cigarettes.

Stovall's Band Will Furnish Good Music At Dance Monday Nite

One of the best orchestras ever to play in Hereford is promised for the dance to be sponsored by the Hereford Fire Department, Monday night, Nov. 24.

Al Stovall, who has played here before and whose music was very popular with Hereford people, is bringing his dance band for the occasion, and the fire boys state that they were fortunate in getting this band.

Stovall has been playing in Miami and a wire received this week announced that he could stop in Hereford for the one night stand on the way to other engagements in Arizona.

Hereford people who have been a little mixed up about the Thanksgiving date can quit worrying. The question is automatically settled, sewed up and decided by the announcement this week that the Hereford Whitefaces will meet the Phillips Blackhawks on Thanksgiving, Nov. 27, for the bi-district title--with the game to be played in Hereford.

It is the first bi-district game to be played in Hereford since 1935, and a football conscious town is getting ready to celebrate the occasion in the style which it deserves. Business houses will be closed and football fans will turn out 100 per cent to back up the Whitefaces.

The fact that the Whitefaces go into the game as underdog has not dampened the enthusiasm of supporters of the team, which sports followers believe to be the best to represent Hereford High School since 1935.

Old Clothing To Be Collected In Drive Sunday

Help give some of your less fortunate neighbors a good Thanksgiving, is the advice of persons sponsoring the old clothes drive in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Boy Scouts will start gathering up the clothes at about 1:30 o'clock, and local welfare officials urge housewives to look through closets this week and have all clothing ready for the boys when they make their rounds.

Any clothing, provided it is in good condition or can be repaired without too great expense can be used, says Mrs. Dyalitha Brady, welfare administrator, who states that the need this winter will be greater than it has been for several seasons. Bad weather this summer made farm work unusually short, and work this fall will not, in most cases, make up for the regular summer income which was lost.

Shoes, especially children's shoes, will be needed; and any warm winter clothing for school children can be used to great advantage.

Roll Call Chairman Urges Better Response To Red Cross Drive As First Results Fall Short of Quota

Stating that memberships are coming in slowly in the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, Chairman Robert L. Thompson announced Wednesday that only about 100 memberships had been turned in within the past week.

"Red Cross membership is an individual matter," the chairman explains, adding that it should not be considered the responsibility of the employer or of any one group to take care of the community's responsibility in this matter.

Half of your Red Cross membership always stays in the county, the chairman points out, and many families in our own territory can testify to the aid given them by the Red Cross in times of disaster. Of course, the chairman continues, the Red Cross is doing a wonderful national work. They are answering the demands of the defense set-up just as they always have in times of national emergency, but all subscribers should know that the Red Cross is just as quick to aid in the event of some family's loss because of a storm in Deaf Smith County, as they are to undertake reclamation work after a Mississippi flood.

Urging the generous cooperation of all citizens, Mr. Thompson points out that the county has a splendid reputation for Red Cross work, and that now, in a time of national need, all persons should try to make their subscriptions just a little bigger than ever before.

We're Fully Armed NOW

For Any Emergency

Because it has always been a basic policy for electric utilities to be prepared in advance for any emergency, the present national crisis finds Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company and all other American power companies ready NOW for National Defense!

Now, as in the past, American Electric Utilities have been in the vanguard of progress.

As a result of our planned growth, a vast web of electric lines distributes high-voltage power evenly and dependably to almost every city, town and village—as well as to thousands of farms and ranches. And in each outlet lies ready energy, which can be quickly and easily put to work for American interests. Any shortage that exists here isn't from lack of electricity but from a scarcity of power-consuming machines which can be put to work on defense tasks immediately.

So have no fear of consuming power needed for defense—armed strife is just one of the emergencies the power industry has prepared for in advance. As a result, we NOW have power to spare for any eventuality!

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

I hope everyone heard me on the radio last Sunday morning. If you didn't it's just too bad, because one of the fellows in charge there stopped me for a chat as I left the studio, and from the way he talked I probably won't be heard over that station again for a long, long time. He was a nice young fellow though, and said why didn't I appear over KFDD sometime? When I got back home, however, I found that everyone seemed to be all upset. They couldn't understand why Jerry Colona came on the radio at 8:15 Sunday morning, when the programs plainly called for Tuesday night. Bob Wilson said he thought I was Walter Winchell. He and his wife had a big argument; she kept contending I was that closet in the Fibber McGee program.

Getting down to honest facts, though, people are saying everywhere that Dr. G. W. Heard has a remarkable radio voice. Doc says that Mrs. Heard has been fussing for the past 40 years because he talked too loud at home. Perhaps these two things go hand in hand. Anyway, everyone seems agreed that his voice is well adapted for broadcasts.

Doc and I talked this thing over on the way back home and we decided that no matter how much they offered us we would not go on the radio permanently. I had personally decided this after talking to the manager fellow—and Dr. Heard felt that it was a little bit late for him to make a change. After all of those telephone calls and telegrams that didn't come pouring into the station, I am glad that we made the decision right then and there. Just today I decided that if I ever changed professions I would become a banker.

The banks are going to celebrate Thanksgiving twice. Yes sir, they will close Nov. 20th—and just to make sure they haven't made a mistake, they are going to close again Nov. 27th. I asked Ed Hedrick "Why?" and he said the President proclaimed the first, then the governor proclaimed the second—and they don't want to show partiality.

Yes sir, those boys are sure trying to be fair. Next Thursday they will probably worry all day, wondering what Gov. Coke Stevenson is going to think about their observing the First Thanksgiving. I would almost bet the Edah Park goes back to work, and I know that Bill Phillips won't feel like seeing a football game. The only thing I hope is that Mrs. Acker makes Cliff work around the house all day. Banks get lots of holidays, but even that has its bad points. Banks open at 9 and close at 3, giving six working hours—and a holiday means only half as much as it does to a fellow with a 12-hour working day.

Boy Scouts and Cubs of Hereford Troop 1 received national honor this week when their pictures appeared in "Scouting," a national magazine. The picture showed the Hereford boys and the large amount of paper which they collected here. They are still collecting old magazines and newspapers. If you have any of these items call Urfin Streu and some of the boys will be buy to see you.

Jim Kirby came by the other afternoon and he is plenty worried over the possibility of prairie fires. Jim says the grass is like tinder—in perfect shape for a disasterous fire—and he is afraid someone will carelessly drop a match. Old timers can tell you what these fires have done in the past and in many cases this meant loss of your home, your cattle, chickens, and pigs—in fact, everything you had. The commissioners' court in allam and Hartly Counties have been putting out handbills to mind and warn people of this present danger. Hunters should be careful, because even a careless fire might start a prairie fire, especially if the wind happens to be in the right direction. Actually the prairie fires will never be as bad as in olden days, because there now exists a network of roads which will tend to keep them from spreading. However, they can still be mighty bad and every precaution should be exercised. Old timers agree that the grass is now prime for a big fire.

J. A. Roe is another old timer who admits the grass is mighty dry, but insists that the sub-soil is still plenty wet. He says he got stuck out in his pasture the other day and spent five hours getting out, finally using 50 or 60 cane bundles. Mr. Roe furthermore told of digging a cess pool to drain his sink—and reported that soil below the caliche was wet. He also says that the tumble weeds are rolling and he figures that folks won't be going west to do much duck hunting when the weeds get stacked up in the roads. About the time Mr. Roe really wound up, along came Coy Phillips—and things got too complicated for me. Someone mentioned the tall wheat, and Mr. Roe told one about his wheat being so high that he lost a calf; Coy came right back with a story about Clyde Allred losing one of his calves in the same manner, for more than six weeks.

The thing that really got me, though, was when Mr. Roe began telling about how the stubble in his field is getting covered over with moss—just like down in East Texas, where they have Maria Fever and wood ticks. This is a very unpleasant subject with me, although I never did have malaria.

Takes Appetizing Food To Sell Family On Nutrition Value

Unless meals satisfy the appetites of hungry people and produce genuine satisfaction, they may go half eaten. So it takes appetizing food to sell good nutrition to a family and make eating fun.

Good cooking, skillful meal planning, and attractive serving all make eating fun, in the opinion of Hazel Phipps, Extension Service specialist in food preparation. To help homemakers plan meals more skillfully, she suggests use of the Texas Food Standard. It can be obtained free from county home demonstration agents or from the A. and M. College Extension Service at College Station.

Since many food values can be retained or lost in cooking, learning to prepare food properly is a primary responsibility for every homemaker. Here are some simple basic principles for successful cooking which help conserve food values and help make food taste better.

Use little water in cooking vegetables, and never add soda to the cooking water.

When most green vegetables are cooking, don't use a lid. Don't waste the liquid vegetables are cooked in. If it isn't served with the vegetables, use it in soups, sauces, or gravies.

Cook meats—and all other protein foods such as eggs, milk and cheese—at a moderate temperature.

Tender cuts of meat are cooked in an uncovered pan with no added water. Less tender cuts may be made more tender by cooking them slowly with added liquid in a covered pan. Tough meat may be made more tender by grinding.

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W.W. REID

Roused by what seems to be a juvenile crime wave in Harlem, the vast Negro section of New York City where there are said to be "more Negroes than in any other city in the world," church leaders, police officials, social workers, business groups, and park department officials have been in a number of conferences trying to find the underlying causes. There is general agreement that poor housing—large families often being crowded into one and two rooms in slum conditions—and inadequate recreational and play facilities are the cause. Various agencies are planning a program to remedy this in the near future; this will include better housing, more parks, and greater use of the churches and schools for recreation. "The major problem here is not crime," says Dr. Robert W. Searle of the Greater New York Federation of Churches. "It lies much deeper. The present wave is the result of the failure of the dominant majority to sustain the elemental rights of a more or less helpless minority in a nation that is girding itself to make the world safe for democracy and for social minorities everywhere."

One of the old "saints" of the Presbyterian Church in Chosen (Korea) has recently passed away, leaving to her credit the establishment of twenty new churches in the last fifteen years—the years after her "retirement" as a Bible woman and worker among Korean women. She was Oh Chan II—an almost illiterate woman, converted to Christianity at the age of 35. For twenty-five years she traveled among the villages telling the Gospel message, though she knew little besides the stories and the spirit of the Bible. The most productive work of her forty years of Christian service came after retirement when she travelled through three counties, gathering small groups of believers, helping them raise funds and build small thatched churches, often helping in the actual construction with her own hands.

"The Lord has given me the special gift of making money. Now I want to give some of my wealth to further the work of the Lord." So said Georgia's millionaire lumberman, W. I. H. Pitts, of Waverly Hall, when he retired from business recently. So the bulk of his wealth was placed in a foundation for aiding small colleges serving small communities "close to the land." Mr. Pitts says that he made his money from the land and he wants its service to be for the betterment of the soil and those living close to it. Some of his wealth will also be used to serve a Negro church and Negro schools in recognition of the part that Negro laborers played in the accumulation of the fortune.

During October and November, since his return to Japan from the United States, Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, the Empire's outstanding Christian leader, has been holding a series of evangelistic services in Toyko, southern Japan, and in Formosa. During these meetings and hundreds are signing cards registering their purpose to accept the Christian way of life. Numbers of young people have also signed cards indicating their desire to dedicate their lives to some form of direct Christian service. In these meetings Dr. Kagawa has been speaking on such topics as: "Creation, Divine and Human," "Recreation, Divine and Human," "A Scientific Faith and Christ—Consciousness," "The Cross-Centered Faith," "New Life Through God."

When public school teachers in the crowded residential district of Columbus, Ga., cotton mill center, reported that some of their pupils were not getting enough to eat and that this was reflected in the quality of their school work, the Rosehill Methodist Church of Columbus decided to do something about it. The Rev. Norman C. Lobain, pastor, and Attorney Theodore McGee headed a committee that

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Ducks and geese tearing out of the north to the balmy climate of South America are to be seen these days settling down for a little rest and food on tanks and lakes and ponds virtually all over Texas, and what the sportsmen is bothered about is how to keep 'em on those waters a little longer so there will be some good duck shooting on and after November 2. The waterfowl will stay for a fairly long time on the larger lakes but the small lakes and farm ponds don't seem to hold them for any length of time, especially in the more interior parts of the State.

The Game Department has experimented with solutions to this problem. On some cases it has worked. Here's the general idea: The small lake or tank affords ducks a chance to rest. But practically every time a duck needs rest, he's hungry, too. He gives the lake a good once over. If there's food there he'll stay awhile. If no food is present, you can count on it that he'll be looking for better pastures before long.

There are numerous small lakes over in eastern Texas. They formerly held ducks and geese long enough to give the hunter all the shooting he wanted. Of late years, ducks and geese have been very snooty about those East Texas lakes. Instead of stopping, they fly on to the coast.

A Game Department field biologist of the East Texas region made a thorough study of this situation. He found that most of the plant life that formerly provided food for waterfowl had disappeared entirely from some lakes, or was very deficient in others. So, in cooperation with landowners and sportsmen, the field biologist began planting the right shore and water plants in fenced off portions of one or two lakes. The fences are necessary to keep out cattle and hogs, which do on these duck food their shores. It's important, the field biologist emphasizes, to plant the right kinds of vegetation. He says in a bulletin on this subject, for instance, that "Hundreds of attempts have been made to establish wild rice in Texas. Most of these have been failures, for wild rice is not native to this region. Wild rice requires running water."

And except in a few instances he points out, costly attempts to establish wild celery have also proved disappointing. "What kinds of plants will work? In East Texas the field biologist after experimenting two years with this problem has this to report: "The following 10 groups of water plants were eaten more than all other kinds of plants by more than 200 ducks."

Some or most of these plants might not work in the Panhandle, on the South Plains or in Central and South Texas. In each section there will have to be research done to find out the kind of plants that will thrive there. It is believed that pondweed and Bulrushes will work in Central and North Central Texas, where there are many small tanks and lakes that over a period of time might be developed into good duck lakes.

Interested landowners and sportsmen are urged to give this planting business a try. If you're interested in more detailed results of the East Texas studies, they have been summarized in a 10-page bulletin called "Duck Food Nurseries For Lakes and Ponds." It has been published by the Game Department and will be sent to you free upon request.

A little work along this line might hold for a time the millions of ducks and geese that are flapping their wings in the skies of Texas.

"Family Fun Frolic" Given By Members of Child Study Club

The Child Study Club entertained Friday night at the clubhouse with a "family fun frolic" for members and their families. The fun frolic culminated a series of programs on the interests of the family as a unit which the club had featured at regular meetings, and the entertainment for the evening was planned for the parents and children to enjoy together with everybody participating.

The opening grand march ended at tables where a covered dish supper was enjoyed. Places were found by matching words in nursery rhymes.

The program brought forth roars of laughter as it progressed. Mrs. Merlin Kaul sang a toast to the men and Guy Newsom responded with a musical version of a toast to the women. Each family unit presented a stunt or pantomime. Children in the group entertained with musical numbers, readings and horn selections. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster featured a dance number and the Leo Forrests enacted a pantomime; Mrs. J. B. Whitlow and Mrs. George McConnell gave a musical stunt and the men in the group presented an auto stunt with the ladies of the party vying for first place with a tongue twister exhibition.

Arrangements for the party were made by Mesdames R. P. Conaway, Guy Newsom and Geo. McConnell. Those attending, with their families, were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster, Mr. and Mrs. George McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon, Mrs. Glenn Roberson, Mrs. Mae Baiman and Danny Mae, Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Mrs. J. B. Whitlow and son, Mrs. C. P. Grimes and Betty Mae. Mrs. J. B. Whitlow who plans to leave soon to join her husband in Winters, was presented with a shower of gifts.

Football Theme Provides Clever Motif For Dinner

Football days call for parties that are gay in color and seasonal in motif. One of the most attractively planned affairs for a high school group was a dinner-party given by Miss Betty Ann Dunlap, Sunday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunlap. Appetizers were served in the living room and places were laid for eight at one large table in the dining room.

The table represented a miniature football field including the players. The goal posts at each end of the table and the tiny football added a realistic touch.

After the dinner games were enjoyed and pictures of the group were made. Later a line party at the Star Theatre provided entertainment.

Those participating in the entertainment were Jack London, Daniel Russell, J. W. Merrill and Thurman Williamson, all members of the Hereford High School football team. Georgianna Miller, Evelyn Walker, Norma Deen Rose and Betty Ann Dunlap.

Music Study Club Studies Inter-American Music

An Inter-American composers program, with Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath as leader, was given at the meeting of the Music Study Club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Dameron. The leader began her discourse by saying "Music is an international language, a kind of super-tongue which is vastly superior to orations, arguments and debates, for bringing about a spirit of inter-appreciation.

"For years we have watched with keenest interest the reports of musical progress in South America. We have watched the cosmopolitan nature of the South American programs and we have observed the development of new and interesting musical ideas. We have sensed the coming of a new flavor in musical art, part Latin, part cosmopolitan and part Indian.

"Today America appreciates the South American influence in her music and welcomes more interchange of musical interest."

Musical numbers presented were "Ecstasy" (Fernandez), Mrs. C. C. Acker; "Vals Romantico" (Soro), Mrs. Ellis Coombes; and a chorus number presented by the club, "Nightfall in Granada" (Bueno) directed by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher.

Let's Cook Something

Traditionally speaking, most of us have a sentimental attachment to turkey—particularly around Thanksgiving time; so for the feasting part of our national holiday, turkey and all the fixin's usually solves the dinner problem.

As early as 1796 American housewives were serving cranberry sauce with their turkey dinners, and now there are dozens of different ways to prepare them. Certainly no turkey dinner would be complete without cranberries in some form. Here are some cranberry recipes suggested by Mrs. Henry Hastings, from which you can select just the right one to go with your Thanksgiving dinner.

Cooked Cranberry Salad

- 2 cups cranberries
- 1 cup water
- 1 package raspberry jello
- 2 cups sugar
- 1-2 cup nuts
- 1-2 cup chopped celery

Cook the cranberries and water together until the cranberries burst. Then add the sugar and cook 5 minutes. Add the jello which has been dissolved in 3-4 cup water. Add nuts and celery and allow to congeal.

Ground Cranberry Salad

- 1 quart ground cranberries
- 1-2 cup sugar
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 1 small can crushed pineapple
- 1 tablespoon gelatine
- 3-4 cup orange juice

Grind berries and add sugar. Let stand until sugar is melted. Dissolve gelatine in 2 tablespoons water and add to sweetened berries. Add pineapple, orange juice and nuts and set aside to congeal. Serve in a lettuce cup with mayonnaise or with carrot sections scooped out into little cups and filled with cream cheese.

Cranberry Cream Cheese Salad

- 1 package orange jello
- 1 pint hot water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- 2 cups cranberries (ground)
- 1 package cream cheese

Dissolve jello in hot water and add sugar and vinegar. Chill and when partially thickened add the ground cranberries. Mash cheese until creamy, add the jello-cranberry mixture gradually to cheese and beat with rotary egg beater until blended thoroughly. Fill individual molds and allow to become firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce cups and serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.

New Cotton Mkt. Found in Use As Insulation

College Station.—There is a new, almost untouched market for cotton that will use around 750,000 bales a year if only 10 per cent of the potential market is captured.

The field is that of insulation. Use of cotton for this purpose is apparently past the experimental stage.

Most cotton insulation to date has been used in home construction. Tests, however, show that the lightness and cohesiveness of cotton insulation make it a natural where settling by vibration is a factor.

For this reason manufacturers are turning to cotton insulation in refrigerator cars and trucks and in household refrigerators. The product is now being tested for use in marine and airplane construction.

Cotton insulation material is impregnated with a fire resistant agent and houses insulated against cold, heat, and sound with cotton treated in this manner are actually more fire-proof than non-insulated structures.

These comments come from H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. He pointed out that interest in the use of cotton as insulation had been stimulated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's search for new uses for cotton.

The Department recently announced that its Surplus Marketing Administration would provide payments of nine cents per pound to holders of approved applications who manufacture and sell insulation made of cotton, cotton card strips, and cotton comber waste. This payment takes the place of industry's "introductory offer." The 1941-1942 payments are limited to the equivalent of 27,600 bales of cotton.

The Whiteface Round-Up

Has Hectic But Profitable First Day In High School

I came to Hereford High School for my first time last Wednesday. Being new in the school, I didn't know what to do, so I stayed in Mr. Hudson's office until noon.

At noon, I was taken out in front of the building. From that moment I became very popular, (and I don't mean to be bragging!) My popularity increased so much that when the bell rang, I was surrounded by a mob of boys and girls. Most of the students went into the school house, but a few curious people stopped and welcomed me to the school.

Then I was taken into the school house. I was escorted by two handsome boys and placed in Mr. Hudson's office again. As two girls passed by, I saw them look admiringly at my new white dress.

It was a dreary afternoon that I spent in Mr. Hudson's office, but at four o'clock my popularity leaped into flames again. Students crowded around me, and once I was almost knocked over. A few minutes later I was left standing alone.

That, friends and students of Hereford High, was the way I spent my first day in school. Can't you guess who I am? Well, I'll tell you. I am the new Hi-Y candy stand.

Kinard and Hall Attend T. S. T. A. In Houston

Mr. Knox Kinard, superintendent of Hereford High School, left Wednesday for Houston, where he is to attend the TSTA. Mr. Kinard is to serve as a member of the House of Delegates.

Also from Hereford High School to attend this convention is Miss Alma Hall, mathematics teacher. Miss Hall is a member of the Executive committee.

This convention, to be held November 20-21, is supposed to be the largest in Texas and one of the largest in the United States. It is approximated that fifteen thousand teachers will attend.

Boys' Hi-Y Has Annual Father-Son Banquet; Nichols Talks to Group

The Boys' Hi-Y annual Father-Son Banquet was held Nov. 19 in the Rose Room.

Richard Ireland, president, was toastmaster. Bruce Beene gave the invocation. Harold Close gave the welcome to the fathers, and E. S. Ireland responded.

H. L. Nichols was guest speaker of the evening. His message centered around Armistice, National Education Week, and Father-Son Week. He discussed the duties of each generation in our country today. He, likewise, stressed moral defense that is needed in this present emergency.

Freshmen Accomplish Much In Class Meeting

"Maybe we did want Bob Tout for cheer leader but he moved the first of this week. We will have to elect a new one." (Bob was a promising football prospect, also so we hated to lose him for that reason.)

The new Freshman pep leader is Beverly Fraser. The class reputation was about to fall; so they voted to hurry and pay their debts. A dollar and fifty cents was paid to the staff, and seventy-five cents to the student council.

Billy London, president, made two announcements: (1) Loidene Martin is the Freshman representative to the Youth Council; and (2) Two assembly programs are to be given by the class, one in February and the other in April.

Tri-Hi-Y Discusses Personal Religious Life

"Personal Religious Life" was the topic that the Tri-Hi-Y undertook at their called meeting Thursday, November 13.

Mary Lookingbill took charge of the program, and the program opened by the entire group's singing "Stand Up for Jesus." Miss Crawford led the group in prayer and Christine Smith gave the devotional. Betty Jo Kendall told "What Personal Religious Life Is." Lillye London gave a talk, "How to Develop Your Personal Religious Life." Nadyne Newell gave a talk, "How to Retain Your Personal Religious Life." The group then had a round table discussion. The girls found this topic of personal religion a very interesting one. One of the conclusions they came to was that at the present age, girls don't want to sacrifice enough for their religion, and that they should learn to sacrifice. Also, they came to realize that the American people should show more appreciation for the church since many foreign nations do not have churches. The meeting closed with sentence prayers of consecration, and the Tri-Hi-Y benediction.

Original Proclamation Still Has Meaning

"Thanksgiving again and I don't have a thing to be thankful for. Instead, I'm just dead tired, and I've got to write a crazy old term theme. Guess I'll just sleep that day."

George Washington expressed the meaning of this day in his Thanksgiving Proclamation in 1789:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection, aid and favors—Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26 of November next to be devoted by the people of these States to the service that great and glorious being, who was the Beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be, that we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks for his kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various favors which he has been pleased to confer upon us."

Today, we should be even more thankful since the world is in such chaos. We should be thankful that we live in America, "Land of the free and home of the brave," and thankful for life and friends in Hereford. Not only on this set day, but every day in the year, be thankful for love, life and God. Just being thankful will help prove to the world that the efforts of those before us to preserve Democracy were not futile.

Twenty Attend F. H. T. Area Meet Saturday

Nineteen members of the F. H. T. and the sponsor, Kathryn Davies, attended the annual area meeting in Amarillo, Saturday. There were sixty-eight schools represented from all parts of the Panhandle, and approximately two thousand F. H. T. members and their sponsors registered for the day.

The program that was presented had a theme of "Wings Over America," which included a clarinet solo by Nona Mills accompanied by Margaret Barber. The meeting was climaxed by a tea served by the Amarillo F. H. T.

The meeting will be in Pampa next year with the Hereford Chapter presenting the program.

MY THANKSGIVING PRAYER

My gracious Heavenly Father,
 On this glad day of rest,
 I pause to thank you for the things
 With which I have been blessed:
 Those things we all take for granted,
 Those little things that count the most,
 Those little things we never notice
 Until they have been lost.

I thank Thee for all the rivers,
 For the mountains and plains;
 I thank Thee for the breeze,
 For the snow, the wind, and the rains.
 O God, I thank Thee for our trees,
 For the gulleys and hills
 I thank Thee for the flowers,
 For all the rocks and rills.

I thank Thee for the ones I love;
 I thank Thee for my home,
 And for my bright fireside,
 That I may never have to roam.
 I thank Thee for the moon and stars,
 For the air and the sun;
 I thank Thee for a Heaven, Lord,
 When our life on earth is done.

I thank Thee for the seasons,
 Too, dear God, for the day and night,
 For the stars that shine in Old Glory,
 Thy guiding hand and Freedom's light.
 For all the Things You gave to man,
 For all I have and all I am,
 I thank Thee, my dear heavenly Father,
 For an America and Uncle Sam.

Juniors Pantomime How Things Are Done

"Defrost like a refrigerator," "Peel like an onion," "How to make cream puffs?" (We hear Coach knows how!) "How to break a walnut."

These were some of the subjects discussed in the Junior class last Wednesday. Perhaps they don't seem like very educational subjects, but they help a person think of something to say about nothing in a hurry. (It seems the girls could do this very well; could it be they have practiced?)

Certain people were handed slips of paper with a subject on it and when their name was called, were supposed to stand and give short talks on their subject. Some subjects were difficult to give. An example of one hard subject is by Billy Dennis Hutson. His subject was "Play like a Band." He said, "I've never been a band; so I'll just describe one. The guy in front begins by throwing up his hands as if he were scared to death; when he does, all the instruments begin to make a noise like tin cans being rolled in an empty barrel. After a few minutes he drops his hands as if he were not scared any more and everyone stops."

Seniors Urge Buying Of Defense Stamps

"Give me a stamp." "I'll take a couple, too." "Say do you mean these stamp booklets are actually negotiable?" These might be a few of the statements made by Seniors of Hereford High School around town and at different intervals. Why all the commotion about stamps?

Well, it's like this. It seems that Mr. Jim Lipscomb who spoke to the Seniors' Wednesday made quite an impression on them. Mr. Lipscomb issued booklets to each Senior and asked them to help in this way toward the defense of their country.

These booklets contain space for five dollars worth of defense stamps. Each stamp placed in the booklet will cost one dime. After these five dollar booklets are filled, they may be exchanged for a booklet of twenty-five cent stamps. Quarter stamps soon mount up and when $18.75 is totaled, the student may buy a bond with the assurance of getting $25.00 at maturity in ten years.

The Seniors are ecstatic over this plan of saving their money and profiting simultaneously. The Seniors urge every class in school and everyone downtown to get defense-minded and buy a stamp or a bond today!

Last of Fish Players

Last of the Freshman football player-personalities, but certainly not the least, are J. W. Robinson and Carroll Lisenbe.

J. W. likes science better than any other subject and the science teacher Coach Ware. His favorite dish is chicken, and his favorite colors are maroon and white. J. W. wants to be on the team next year and picks as favorite song "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire."

Carroll Lisenbe is called "Lightning." He just can't stand teasing. His favorite color and song are blue and "I'm Yours." Coach Ware is his favorite teacher; so naturally he likes science better than any other subject and he wants to be on the team next year. If he can take on some weight, his prospects are bright as he is fast and aggressive.

Be Thankful For What You Have

Today is Thanksgiving! Are you really thankful for what you have, or do you think of Thanksgiving as a time to stuff yourself, a time for ball games and general enjoyment? You're right; it is a time for fun and eating; but as its name suggests, it is a time, primarily, for giving thanks.

"What," you say, "have I to be thankful for?" My friend, we Americans have more to be thankful for than any people on earth. Thank God that you have enough food to nourish your body, that you have enough clothes to keep you warm, that you have a home and a bed to sleep in. Be thankful that bombers aren't flying over your home sending down their flaming tongues of death and destruction. Be thankful for the Stars and Stripes and for a free, democratic country.

Let us pause in our merry-making for a while. For a little while just make Thanksgiving what it really should be—a time to thank God for what we have.

Central Chatter

Well, well, a few mothers dared to visit Central School during National Education Week!

We are missing Miss McMinn's happy smile and cheery voice in school these days as she is ill. It is a pleasure to have Mrs. Jim Bob Allison, but we hope you are able to be back very soon, Miss McMinn.

Did you notice all the red eyes in the Eighth Grade Friday? They weren't due to colds. We just learned it was Mr. Walters' last day. He resigned to accept a position in Pampa schools. Best of luck, Mr. Walters. We shall miss you very much. We suppose he will continue to look handsome as his room gave him a shaving set before he left.

Central School is saving money by buying defense stamps. Up to the present time, they have bought about $550 worth. The First Grade is leading with $207.70. One boy in 7B bought a $75 bond.

At Central School three pupils are trying out for drum major of the Junior Band. They are Joan Smith, Helen Miller, and Charles Felts.

The third grade flower bed at the extreme west end of the Central School building will not only glow for your pleasure next spring, but previous to tulip time will come yellow daffodil time. Several daffodil bulbs are to be set out at once.

The third and fourth grade boys did their part in the general clean-up game played at school last week by cleaning off rocks, sticks and papers from the northwest corner ground.

Miss Glaspy: "What are no-noms, do you know?"
 "Who never get mad."

Debaters Study Technique

There comes a time in the life of every student when he must learn to outline and brief, and one of the best places to get that training is in Debate.

Last Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the debate club in room 23, the members discussed out-lines and briefs. They also discussed the new debate bulletins and the question for this year: "Resolved: that the Federal Government Should Adopt the Policy of Equalizing Educational Opportunity Throughout the Nation by Means of Annual Grants to the Several States for Public Elementary and Secondary Schools."

The club wishes to welcome two new members, Marie Compton and Felix Pyka. All people wishing to join are welcome.

"Tonight We Love" Is New Orchestra Number

Last week, it was announced that the orchestra had started "Tonight We Love" numbers. This week another is added to the list, for now it is playing "Tonight We Love." The number was originally a classic written by Tschakowsky and was called "Concerto in B Flat Minor." Then some swingsters came along and arranged it as a swing number. Although the version that the orchestra has is in swing arrangement, it sounds classical. Just listen for it some morning in assembly.

The band and orchestra are co-operating with Mr. Smith in working out the practical system of demerits. For talking or playing one's instrument needlessly during rehearsal, a student

What Do Your Feet Tell?

Feet! How well a person can judge another by a worm's eye view of his feet. Just take Hereford High School for instance. Sometime when you have nothing better to do, just sit down in front of your locker and look at the feet going past you. Here's what you'll likely see:

First, down the hall comes a pair of feet just shuffling along, shoes unpolished, shoestrings untied, and feet being lifted only high enough so as not to be sliding along. Can't you just imagine what the rest of the person looks like?

Now you may see a pair of number two's tripping gayly along trying to keep up with a pair of number twelve's. What's that? A pair of house slippers? Oh, no, it was only a pair of these sandals—that have become so popular with the boys. Whoa now! Here is a pair of cowboy boots bringing back the half-forgotten past of the wild and woolly days on the Texas Plains. The girls have begun wearing cowboy boots, and the boys are wearing toeless sandals. What is this generation coming to?

Well, webb my feet and call me ducky! Here comes a pair of pink sandals and red toe nails and no socks.

I've been squatting here in front of my locker too long; my dogs are howling, so I guess I'd better go. You should try it sometime, folks; it is really fun.

Welcome Home, Mrs. Ware

Were you one of those who said that Coach Ware had spent about as much time in Canyon as in Hereford the past six weeks? He practically wore out twenty-eight miles of Highway 60 going back and forth to see Mrs. Ware, who was in a Canyon hospital, because of injuries suffered in a wreck Oct. 3, when she and four others were going to the Hereford-Canyon game that was scheduled for that night.

Both Coach and Mrs. Ware are spending their time in Hereford now, as she came home Monday, Nov. 10.

Mrs. Ware says she is very glad to be at home, and we are more than glad to have her back. Those who have visited her know that she is a very lovely person and that she appreciates every visit. If anyone would like to meet her, just ask any football boy, and he will be glad to introduce you.

Whitefaces Cinch District; Meet Phillips Thanksgiving

Scoring 21 points in the first quarter and slowing down to one touchdown a quarter in each of the remaining periods, the Hereford Whitefaces Tuesday afternoon swamped the Canyon Eagles to the tune of 40-12 to bring home a district championship and the opportunity to play the Phillips Blackhawks Thursday afternoon for the bi-district title.

Playing inspired ball, the Hereford boys scored in their first two plays with Red Merrill scoring on Hereford's first receiving of the ball in the starting quarter, and Russell intercepting a Canyon punt to go 40 yards for the second touchdown. Russell made another touchdown and other scores were made by Foster Hill, end, and Harold Close.

After the first team which Coach Logan Ware said played "top football," had pretty well nullified the Eagle's efforts to get into the ball game, nearly every man on the Hereford roster had a chance to play before the game ended, with some of the second-string men revealing surprising talents and painting some bright hopes for the Hereford team in '42.

Subs Show Promise

LeRoy Suttie, playing end, showed up as a good prospect for the position when he caught a Canyon pass and ran 50 yards before he was brought down. Teddy Higgins, a sophomore tackle, played a good game as did Kenneth Rudd and George Olson, guards. Don Roberson carried out the promise which he showed in the first game of the season by really shining at the quarterback position.

Foster Hill played a good game at end when he went in after the injury of Billy Davis during the first quarter. Davis suffered a

Negro Singers Have Program Here Sunday

A program of Negro spirituals and semi-classical music was enjoyed by a large audience Sunday night, when Negro singers from Amarillo presented a program at St. Anthony's Parish Hall.

Besides the music, the program featured a short talk by Father Regan telling of his work with the Negroes in Amarillo and arguing for better treatment of Negro citizens.

A collection was taken up earlier in the evening to help the Negro Catholic Mission which already has a hospital functioning to care for the colored citizens.

Other organizations in Hereford have expressed interest in having the colored musicians here again to perform at other programs.

crushed cheekbone and was taken to an Amarillo hospital for treatment, where his condition today is reported satisfactory. It is, however, unlikely that he will get to play against Phillips next week. Some of the other boys were bruised up a little but none were injured seriously.

Phillips A Strong Team

The Phillips Blackhawks, whom Hereford met last year in an ill-fated attempt for the bi-district pennant, are again a powerful team, according to Coach Logan Ware, who states that the Blackhawks will outweigh the Whitefaces about 20 pounds to the man. Knowing that his team will go into the fracas as underdog, the Hereford coach nevertheless feels that the local boys will have a chance if they can stand up to the superior weight of the Phillips line. And he adds that they have been meeting heavy teams all year.

With all business houses planning to take their Thanksgiving and holiday next week, the town is expected to turn out en-masse for the championship tilt.

Flu Epidemic Brings List of Precautions

Austin.—Fulfilling a prediction made several months ago by the State Department of Health, an epidemic of influenza in Texas is represented by the 1,392 cases reported for the week just ending, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. This total is 6 times greater than that shown for the same week, in the preceding 7 years.

"Neglecting proper treatment of influenza, or allowing the patient to be up too soon may have disastrous results," Dr. Cox warned, "since persons suffering from influenza are particularly susceptible to other infections."

Dr. Cox emphasized the importance of guarding against "flu," drinking plenty of water, eating simple, nourishing foods, outdoor exercise, plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room, and sensible dress according to the weather were stressed as best precautions.

"Pneumonia, frequently resulting from influenza, is a very dangerous complication," Dr. Cox stated, and advised that a patient go to bed immediately upon the first appearance of a cold and place himself under competent medical care.

When Mrs. Clark saw that Aunt Net's condition grew steadily worse, she realized that the old woman needed more care than she was able to give her, and Mrs. Brady of the local welfare office got in touch with Father Regan, Amarillo priest who is doing welfare work among the city's colored citizens. Father Regan has started a small Negro hospital, but he saw that Aunt Net required more care than the facilities of his small hospital offered; so he secured entrance for the old woman into St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, where she was taken last week.

Aunt Net will probably never get well. Her sleep will just drift off into eternity some day soon and she may meet again the old master and mistress, the other masters and mistresses for whom she has given such faithful service. When she goes she will be sincerely mourned by her "white folks," who appreciated the kind and loving heart in the old black body.

Aunt Net Thornton, aged about 92, died Wednesday morning in an Amarillo Hospital. Since 1934—until Saturday morning she had been the only Negro living in Deaf Smith County, and her death ended a life which had lived much history, though Aunt Net did not think much of history except in terms of how it affected her "white folks."

Funeral Services were held this afternoon for Aunt Net, and she received as sincere a tribute as any person ever receives. She will be sincerely missed by all who knew her. Not that her friends and her family are sorry to see her go—life had not meant much to her for the past few months, but certainly none of her friends are worried about the old lady's status in the hereafter. As one of her acquaintances said, "If Aunt Net is not in Heaven, there just won't be anybody there."

First Grain Sorghum Loan Made In County

First grain sorghum loan of the year was made Wednesday to Merlin C. Kaul of Westway, according to T. P. McCollister, of the county A. A. office. Kaul's loan was on 1,500 bushels of grain.

The grain sorghum loan works in the same way as the wheat loan, according to McCollister, who feels that many farmers may be interested in securing a Commodity Credit Loan on their row crop.

Most grain sorghum in this territory is grading No. 2 and below, farmers state, pointing out that fall rains have seriously affected the quality of the grain.

colored people here, and then pretend to be afraid that someone would "run her out." She really wasn't afraid," Mrs. Clark says, "she knew we wouldn't have let anything happen to her." However, the Hyde family explains, she had never had much to do with colored people. She had run away from her "old mahster" when she was freed and married a Negro and lived with him until his death about 25 years later. She had no children, and since her husband's death had always worked for white families, most of the time making her home with them.

The old lady liked to indulge in big talk, and she had an extensive made-up vocabulary, replete with a lot of schooling. And she liked to indulge in large threats which her young white charges knew were only threats. "I'll box ya jaws," she would say darkly when the children would quietly filch something out of her kitchen. But they knew quite well that she would not box their jaws, and that if they asked for something to eat, they would be her "honey chillun" again and she would give them whatever they wanted.

Enjoyed Visitors

Despite the fact that she had lived in the county since 1934, very few people knew her. Some of the neighbors, of course, and some people from Hereford came to see Aunt Net, and Mrs. Clark says that she enjoyed their visits tremendously until she got quite weak and had to be in bed most of the time. One Sunday School class in town adopted Aunt Net as their sunshine friend, and she enjoyed their gifts and their visits until this summer. Mrs. J. F. Ward was for some time a regular visitor of the old woman, and Mrs. J. B. Hammer also came to see her.

Mrs. Dyalitha Brady likes to recall some of the old ducky's quaint southern expressions. When I went to see her, Mrs. Brady says, she greeted me by inviting me to "rest my hat." And once, says the welfare administrator, I asked her what she would like me to bring her. Her reply was brief: "Water-melons."

Aunt Net had been crippled for nearly 20 years, but had been able to get about until about three weeks ago with the aid of a chair which she used as a crutch. "However, for the past two years," Mrs. Clark says, "the old woman had slept most of the time. She was never sick, just sleepy and we couldn't wake her to give her food or take care of her." (Incidentally, Aunt Net never ate but two meals a day. She said that was the custom with all old time Negroes.) However, her mind weakened with her body, and for the two years during which she was in Mrs. Clark's care she had only occasional moments of mental brightness. In her last illness she imagined she saw her old mahster; and she called Mrs. Clark, "Miss Virginia" (the name of her mistress in those long-ago slavery times).

Scouts are also continuing their drive to secure old papers and have organized their efforts in a systematic manner to secure all old newspapers and magazines possible. Persons in rural areas were asked to bring any contributions along this line to Urlin Streu. The old paper drive is a national Boy Scout movement, which is summed up with the following statement from national headquarters: "Defense needs in 1942 call for a tremendous expansion of paper board production for packaging waste paper in the raw material of the industry, and the Boy Scouts of America has pledged itself to make a continuous drive so long as the need exists."

Hereford Girl Cast In College Drama

Canyon—Orvella Hill of Hereford, a sophomore at West Texas State College, has been selected for a part in this year's second stage production, "Cradle Song."

The play, which was written by Martinez Sierra, has its setting in a Spanish convent with the result that there are only two male parts in the play. The play will be produced December 18, and is under the direction of Prof. James H. Butler of the speech department.

Elliston, who plays tackle was rated star man on defense by the Times writer.

The Lions Club has started making plans for the annual Santa Claus parade with the appointment this week of most of the committees which will have charge of the event. Alec Thompson will be parade marshal.

R. C. Harper, who has been here for several months with the Stanger Potato and Onion Association left this morning for San Antonio, where he will spend the winter.

Jane Sawyer was in the Brand Office today and reported that a paper in Winona, Wis., had carried a story on the Deaf Smith County Tooth Mystery. Mrs. Sawyer also states that she has never had a toothache in her life and that she is thoroughly convinced that we really have something in Deaf Smith County.

Ice Storm Hits

but even "law happy" Americans have yet to try to pass a law about the weather. Ice storms, sand storms and rain are just three things about which we can't do a thing. But they do make nice conversation topics when the war gets a little moth eaten.

herds. It will be necessary, however to develop a better feeding ration and to milk each cow a little better. Bateman pointed out the desirability of a cow testing association in the county to help farmers weed out the unproductive animals in their herds. Careful feeding and the elimination of "boarders," Bateman says, can get the required increase in egg production.

Summing up the food for freedom campaign, the county agent stated that its goal was to secure a better production for home needs so that certain canned and condensed products may be shipped to England and Russia.

Make Machinery Part Orders Now

In noting the effect of the defense program on farm conditions, Bateman pointed out that there will be a real shortage of farm machinery and parts within the next few months. Already new farm machines are hard to procure, and with more factories tooling up for arms production, it will be hard to buy machine parts by next spring and summer. The county agent suggested that farmers check over their machinery carefully now, make a list of things they will need for next spring's work and put the order in early.

since La Plata has been a ghost town for about 40 years.

Mr. Southworth continues: "Here in Northfield we have Jesse James to speed up our gossip, while Chicago has Al Capone and your state has Ma Ferguson," which proves that the Minnesota man must go in for history—if he means the Jesse James who had the fatal run-in with Bob Ford, the Al Capone who has served one term and is still having trouble with Uncle Sam's income tax hounds, and the Ma Ferguson who has been paled into insignificance by some of Texas' other quaint political characters.

Anyway, Mr. Southworth wants to swap yarns, and we'll bet he would have some good ones—especially if he got them out of his dictionary.

Strutting in Defense

Stressing the importance of good diet for national health, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent, explained something of the work of her department in making people "nutrition conscious."

"With rising grocery costs," Miss Oliver said, "we won't have to do much talking to get people to plant gardens next year." This will, of course, fit in with the food for freedom campaign which has a goal of 425 new farm gardens in the county this year.

After explaining the function of the various vitamins, Miss Oliver concluded her talk by urging housewives to study the Texas Food Standard, and try to get the requirements of a standard diet into each day's meals. "The vitamin industry in 1940" the speaker said "did a $75,000,000 business last year and all the vitamins which come in capsules can be found in a carefully planned diet."

Stating that her function is to be of service to all citizens, Miss Oliver urged housewives and gardeners to consult her and also to take an active part in the home demonstration club program.
