Alton Miller has improved on that idea for powering model airplanes with ordinary household. He would equip grass hoppers with gliders—which would not only produce a classy flying craft but would also get rid of the grasshoppers. A thoroughly practical idea.

All-Star Game For Benefit U. S. O. Is Friday

A ball game between the Amarillo All-Stars and the Hereford All-Stars will be played tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock at the Hereford Softball Field with the proceeds going for the benefit of the U. S. O. It was learned today from Harold Close, U. S. O. chairman.

The players on the Hereford team have not yet been named but it is certain that they will put up a good scrap to retain the home town reputation. This is the only all-star game scheduled so far this summer and should give all local fans a chance to see a really good game, and at the same time help out the U. S. O.

Admission will be 25 cents and all proceeds will go to the U. S. O.

Troop 1 Scouts To Go On Camp Trip Next Week

About 20 scouts of troop 1 will leave at 7 o'clock Sunday morning for a week's camping trip at the Methodist Encampment at Ceta Glen.

Boys will, as is customary on scout trips, sleep in tents, do their own cooking and, in general, get all the experience possible in the art of living out-of-doors.

An extensive program has been outlined including instruction in various scoutcraft activities; and it is felt that the outing will provide good training for all the boys.

There will be a campfire church service Sunday evening; Cub night will be Tuesday night, July 22, and other special events will be held. The boys will return on Saturday, July 26.

Elmer Mathies, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mathies of Hereford, who enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps on March 20, 1941, in Oklahoma City, has recently qualified as a sharpshooter at the Marine Corps Base, San Diego, Calif.

To qualify as a sharpshooter the first time on the rifle range is a distinction, and in so qualified Mathies is holding up one of the most cherished traditions of the U. S. Marines—that of being the best riflemen in the world.

Many vacancies exist in the Marine Corps at the present time, and all interested young men between the ages of 17 and 30 are asked to write for information or call in person at the recruiting station, room 14, Post Office Building, Amarillo.

Aluminum Scrap Will Be Collected Next Week; Civic Groups Co-operate

Representatives of 15 clubs and civic organizations attended a meeting last Thursday night to plan the part of Hereford and Deaf Smith County in the nation-wide drive for scrap aluminum to be held this month.

John McLean, chairman of the committee and representative of the Boy Scouts, who will collect the aluminum scrap, says that the response of all clubs is enthusiastic and it is felt that Hereford will be able to make a worthwhile contribution to the patriotic effort to relieve a serious shortage of aluminum in defense industries.

Appointed on the committee to canvass the town and ask citizens to get their old aluminum ready for collection were Mrs. T. M. Dameron, Bay View Club; Mrs. Alton Fraser, Calliopean Club; Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Junior Pioneer Club; Mrs. Roy Thompson, Lone Star Study Club; Mrs. J. C. The big Irish potato crop of the Hereford territory has started moving to market; although harvest of the early crop will not really be in full swing until the last of this month.

The first car left the middle of the week for Kansas City bringing growers $1.60 per hundredweight, the first payment on a crop which this year is estimated at 1,500,000 sacks; and conservative estimates place the expected revenue from potatoes at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000. It may easily go higher than these figures, potato men point out, if weather is good for digging and there is little spoilage.

3100 sacks have been received at the warehouse of the Hereford Potato Growers Association this week, and the estimated crop of this year will be more than triple that of 1940.

NEW PROCESSING PLANTS
In 1939, according to the federal agricultural census, 16 farms in Deaf Smith County were raising potatoes. In 1941 there are scores of farms where potatoes are grown, potato growers being attracted in large numbers from the older potato lands of Idaho and Colorado. Main advantage of this territory for potato growing purposes is the shallow water and the accessibility of power with more than 400 miles of rural electric lines crossing the county.

The former Hereford minister is teaching at the Presbyterian Young Peoples Conference at Ceta Glen this week.

Interrupted By Rains; Harvest Continues Slow

With approximately 400,000 bushels received in elevators and warehouses in Deaf Smith County thus far, the 1941 harvest continued ploddingly this week still halted by rains and slowed up by the high weeds which stand above the wheat in many fields.

Rains over the week-end stopped harvesting for a day or two but it was continuing on most farms today, with yields reported as varying from much higher to much lower than was expected. On the H. D. Hill farm at Ford, wheat was making 50 bushels to the acre; this was, however, on a small tract of land; but Mr. Hill says that before the actual cutting started, the yield had been estimated at between 15 and 20 bushels.

Generally, the quality of the grain is better than that of the wheat which was harvested earlier in the season, with tests now running between 56 and 60; very little of the grain can qualify as number 1 quality.

County Men Named Members of Committees To Study Problems Related To Farm Security

U. S. O. Fund Is Still Short As Time Extended

With most other counties in the Panhandle already over the top in their campaign for subscriptions to the U. S. O. Deaf Smith County is still far behind its goal of $350, Harold Close, U. S. O. county chairman, announced today.

"Of course, everyone is busy here," says Mr. Close, "but it is harvest season in neighboring counties too, and they have already finished their job on this campaign to raise money to provide the recreation which our men in military service deserve." The U. S. O. drive was supposed to have ended on Tuesday of this week, but Mr. Close has secured an extension until July 20 to reach the goal. It may be possible to extend the time until August 1, if progress continues to be slow.

Received this week was a check from the Deaf Smith County Garden Club for $1.80, which brings the total received so far to $58.80. Names of other contributors were listed in last week's paper.

Elsewhere in the Brand is a form which persons who wish to make a U. S. O. donation may fill out and bring or mail to Mr. Close of C. C. Acker at the First State Bank.

Notice of appointment of leading business men and farmers in Deaf Smith County to serve on committees to help the Farm Security Administration in carrying forward this agency's program of assistance to low-income farm families in this area was received today by Bernard C. Drinkard, FFA rural rehabilitation supervisor, from Rex B. Baxter, state rural rehabilitation director.

Committees on which Deaf Smith County citizens will serve are Rural Rehabilitation and Farm Debt Adjustment.

In addition to these committees, FSA officials have appointed a County Council composed of committee members in addition to three members at large. Purpose of the council is to advise with respect to all phases of the FSA program as they effect, or are affected by, local and individual situations.

Appointed to serve on the County Rural Rehabilitation Committee were Earl W. Wilson, S. O. Wilson, and Herbert Mill. (Continued on Page 10)

Study of Dried Foods To Expand In View of Emergency Defense Needs

Investigations of commercial dehydration of foods for emergency defense use are to be expanded in a new program being launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These studies—to be carried on largely at the Department's newly opened Western Regional Research Laboratory at San Francisco—are a continuation of similar investigations during and following the First World War.

Dried foods may be used for the armed forces, to meet food shortages among civilian populations both at home and abroad, and to improve the nutrition of undernourished civilians.

Department officials point out that the studies will include not only methods and equipment for dehydration, factors affecting color and flavor, and storage problems, but also two more recently recognized factors in dehydration: ways to preserve vitamins, and varieties of crops especially suitable for dehydration.

Dehydrated foods will be of value in outlying military or naval stations which might be cut off from normal supply lines. Under certain other conditions, dried foods also might be more practical for our armed forces than foods canned or preserved in other ways. They also may be a factor in feeding British civilians and military forces because of shortage of shipping facilities.

Even at home, emergencies may arise where dried foods would be valuable. Agricultural defense officials point out that a large part of the foods consumed in the East originate in the Pacific Coast area. Ordinarily, coastwise vessels bring these foods through the Panama Canal. But with the reduction of shipping facilities, much of this food must move by rail. When shipped by rail, the higher rail rates increase the cost of canned food by about 2 cents a can.

With a shortage already of rail equipment—and a possible shortage that may develop in supplies of gasoline for trucking—difficulties might arise in an emergency in moving foods eastward from the Pacific Coast. When properly dried and packed, the dried products take up only one-fifth to one-half of the space required for canned or frozen foods! and they weigh only 10 to 25 percent as much as food in other forms.

The smaller bulk and lighter weight of the dried foods also facilitate storing over a period of years. With the newer forms of moisture-proof bags, storage problems should be reduced to a minimum.

Dehydrated foods also would provide foods to improve the diets of the thousands of undernourished people in this country at prices they can better afford.

Products to receive first attention—as requested by the army and navy—include tomatoes, onions, white potatoes, carrots, leafy vegetables, green peas, green and wax beans, lima beans, celery, squash, citrus juices, apricots, prunes, and apples.

During the First World War, about 80 million pounds of dehydrated foods (mainly fruits) were shipped abroad for the AEF. The shipments of dried vegetables amounted to only 8.6 million pounds; they included 6.5 million pounds of dried potatoes and 1.5 million pounds of dried onions.

During the First World War, investigations on commercial dehydration of foods were greatly expanded and continued at a high pitch until about 1924. Rather extensive efforts were made to "sell" dried food products to the house wife, but readily available supplies of canned and fresh foods, and difficulties in handling dehydrated foods in the kitchen prevented widespread use.

3 Percent Of Nation's Farmers Have Insurance

Approximately 43 per cent of farm families own life insurance, according to a survey made by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, covering 16,878 families.

24 representative farming areas of the United States. Farm families with incomes of $1,500 or more annually showed a 56 per cent ownership of life insurance protection while 71 per cent of families with incomes $5,000 or more owned policies.

Ownership of life insurance is most widespread in each income group among Southeastern farmers, although there is not wide degree of variation from section to section. The largest amounts of protection, however, are owned by Pacific Coast farm-

Farm families in general—and the survey points out that the families interviewed in the survey possibly represent better than average income groups—own less insurance than families living in both villages and all cities.

Varies With Income

On the average, farm families buying life insurance pay $72 a year in premiums, compared with $99 among families in villages and $119 among families in all cities. Farm families with incomes of $1,500 or more, however, pay an average of $110 in life insurance premiums and those with earnings of $5,000 or more, pay an average of $386 in premiums.

Farmers undoubtedly need insurance as much as other groups, for farming is generally classified as one of the more hazardous industries. It was pointed out that the farmer is accustomed to taking risks in connection with his business and that it is why farmers as a rule have been as well insured as people in other industries.

Ford News

BY MRS. TROY NEWMAN

The harvest is making very slow progress due to so many showers. We received a shower Saturday night and another Monday night. The grain has fallen badly and the weeds are growing so fast that the combines can only go at a snail's pace.

The grain is turning out better than most farmers estimated. On J. E. Medford's farm, barley averaged 57 bushels per acre, while H. D. Hill's wheat made 50 bushels per acre where he figured on 15 or 20; he only had 18 or 20 acres of this kind.

Everyone is busy canning green beans, beets, cucumbers and English peas here. Mr. and Mrs. A. Seamore of Amarillo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Medford and Mother Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Newman and sons, Bill, Melton, and Joe, visited her sisters, Mrs. Bill Martin and Mrs. Jess Mooney, and families in Amarillo, Sunday.

Mrs. Pete Rozell is working at a cafe in Vega.

Mrs. Fay Shephard of Walcott called on Mrs. Russell Coursey, Wednesday afternoon.

L. H. Hight of Canyon spent Thursday with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Brunson, and family; he also called on the F. D. Fergusonons in the afternoon. Miss Birdine Brunson, who is in college at Canyon, accompanied her grandfather home for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stocker and son, Ernest Eugene, were Canyon visitors Wednesday.

Let's Cook Something

Here is a recipe that makes for a party whether you have invited guests or not. Glistering and festive, it will give a lift to the appetite on the most sultry day. It may be used as a first course, as a dessert or as a particular party preparation. Mrs. C. H. Dyar gives the recipe to you. While in Washington D. C. on one occasion this concoction was served the Dyars when dining at a large hotel. Since then it has appeared regularly in their home. You'll like it.

Frosted Fruit Juice—Grapefruit juice with red-raspberry sherbet

 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 can red-raspberries
 - 1 pint double cream
 - juice of 2 lemons

Put the raspberries through sieve, add milk, sugar and the cream, which is not whipped, and the lemon juice. Place in freezing compartment and freeze without stirring. Pour the grapefruit juice over individual servings when ready to serve. Lime or orange juice may be substituted for the grapefruit juice if desired.

Informal Occasion Compliments Miss Billie Stoker On Friday

"Sometime in late summer" has been chosen as the wedding date for Miss Billie Stoker and Mr. Homer Hall of Lubbock. News of the approaching marriage provided interesting topics for conversation at an informal dinner party given by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at the Rose Room Friday evening.

Attractive arrangements of coral pink and chertreuse flowers were used in decorating. The table centerpiece was a giant bowl of gladioli and gladioli corsages marked each guest's place.

Miss Stoker attended Hereford High School and is a graduate of Pomona, Calif., High School. She is also a graduate of Texas Christian University. For the past two years she has taught in the Post public schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stoker.

Mr. Hall is a graduate of the engineering school at Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He left Tuesday morning for Bakersfield, Calif., where he will receive a five weeks refreshing course in the United States Air Corps. He will be stationed from there as an instructor for a British Royal Air Force Unit.

Those making up the dinner party included six girls who were chums in Hereford High School. They were Mrs. Gaylord Newell, Mrs. Donald Hicks, Mrs. J. E. Kirby, Mrs. Elizabeth Womble, the honoree and the hostess.

Mrs. C. H. Dyar Entertains With Afternoon Party

Continuing a series of mid-summer parties given by Hereford hostesses to entertain friends, Mrs. C. H. Dyar entertained with an afternoon contract party on Wednesday of last week.

The party rooms were decorated with white petunias in iridescent bowls which reflected all the colors of the rainbow.

Four tables of players enjoyed the contract games with Mrs. Colby Conkright playing high for score award and Mrs. Judson Skaggs winning second award.

Those attending the party were Mesdames Colby Conkright, James R. Allison, Jim Black, Jim Lipscomb, Earl Phillips, Elvin Ridling, E. B. Hicks, A. R. Bate-man, William Teeter, A. Petersen, Ellis Combes, Judson Skaggs, Robert Veigel, C. F. Moore, Geo. V. Stambaugh and Paul Mathers.

Farm-Party Is Weekend Affair

The setting of the country home, near Black, of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black was the inspiration for decorations when they were hosts for members of the Desert Bridge Club and their families this week. Wild prairie grasses and flowers in shades of red, green, orange and gold provided colorful bouquets for the house and table. Wild gallardia banked by sprays of grass centered the table from which the turkey dinner was served.

After the dinner bridge games were enjoyed by the oldsters and the youngsters rode horseback and played outdoor games. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lipscomb were awarded the couple prize in the games.

Members attending were Messrs and Mesdames Jim Lipscomb, Roy Jowell, Reed Williams, Bob Wilson, John Olson and the hosts.

Steeplejacks Of the Blitz

Most dangerous part of demolition work after London air raids is the work of knocking down walls, almost from under their feet. These steeplejacks are at work on a blitzed building in Fetter Lane.

"Shadow Boxes" Demonstrated For Garden Club

Stressing the reminder for July lawns require care now, regular mowing, watering and feeding, members of the Garden Club met for the regular session at the home of Mrs. W. A. Dobbins Friday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Dyar, 1st vice-president, presided.

Mrs. Homer Brumley was leader of the program on Shadow Boxes and Terrariums. She gave lecture demonstrations of both terrariums and shadow boxes.

Mrs. Urilin Streu, president of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, explained the aluminum drive which will be held on July 24-25 and told the club of its assignment. Members voted to contribute five dollars to the United Service Organizations fund.

Trump And Chatter Club Is Entertained By Mrs. Lilburn Ray

Members of the Trump and Chatter Club enjoyed games of contract at the home of Mrs. Lilburn Ray Thursday afternoon.

Varied summer flowers in a variety of gay colors furnished the floral accent.

Those playing were Mesdames J. E. Kirby, Elvin Ridling, David Rodgers, Ralph Hastings, William Teeter, Frank Gyles, Troy Moore and Jimmy Best.

Bay View Club Has Called Business Meet

Bay View Club held a called meeting at the court house, Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Travis Dameron, new president, in charge of the meeting.

Members voted to contribute five dollars to the Uniter Service Organization.

The Youth Council project was discussed and plans were made to supervise the tennis court which was offered by a member, Mrs. C. F. Moore. Mrs. Colby Conkright, Mrs. John Olson and Mrs. Moore were named on a committee to complete the plans.

The president reported on a National Defense meeting, which had been arranged last week to work out plans for an aluminum drive to be held July 24-25, and told the club of its duties which were outlined at that meeting. She appointed Mrs. D. H. Alexander, Mrs. John McLean and Mrs. E. W. Harrison on a committee to work out the details for the club's participation in the project.

A report was given by Mrs. Clara McLean, chairman of the year book committee. The study course will comprise "Contemporary Literature" with programs covering fiction, drama and poetry.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames T. M. Dameron, Knox Kinard, E. W. Harrison, G. A. F. Parker, Bob Wilson, Clara McLean, G. W. Heard, D. H. Alexander, John Olson and C. F. Moore.

Hostesses were Mrs. Artis Daniel, Mrs. Si Orr and Mrs. Brumley. Interests of the class were discussed and the group made tea towels for the Baptist Church kitchen.

Camp Fire Girls To Stage "Hobo-Days"

Proclaiming next Friday and Saturday (July 18-19) as "Hobo Days", Camp Fire Girls are all set to earn enough money to finance a camping trip to Ceta Canyon the latter part of the month.

The girls, desiring to earn the money themselves for the annual outing, are ready to do all kinds of odd jobs both in the house and out, and housewives who want work done on those days are requested to call Mrs. Urilin Streu, guardian; she will assign a member of the group to do the work. Light work outside, such as hoeing, pulling weeds or even mowing the lawn is also included.

"The group consists of 17 girls and they are all enthusiastic about the venture. Like real hobos, they will work for what they can get, and the entire proceeds will be pooled for the trip. Unless some similar plan is used, some of the girls will not be able to attend camp," Mrs. Streu said.

"Cold storage lockers enable farm families to have a greater variety of foods in their diet," said Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, CHDA at the meeting of the Messenger Home Demonstration Club held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Alta Wylie.

As all varieties of fruits and vegetables are not adapted to freezing it was suggested that information in government bulletins be obtained before attempting to store foods. It was pointed out that the United States Government has suggested a 35 per cent increase in bean acreage since beans are widely used as a green vegetable when quite young, as another vegetable when beans are developed in the pod and as a rich protein food when the beans are dry.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames E. E. Gaines, Sam C. Smith, W. F. Perry, E. M. Jack, Lester Brown, Wilson Wylie, R. J. Coleman, Miss Oliver, Georgia Nell Coleman, Nova Wylie, and the hostess.

Flickers or "yellow hammers" are large destroyers of ants. Cuckoos or "rain crows" feed largely on grasshoppers and caterpillars.

We're Completely Out of 'Rain Stoppers'

Due to the National Defense Program

In fact we ordered several dozen "Rain Stoppers" about a month ago — and since then we have had several calls every day — but it seems that the folks who make these Rexall "Rain Stoppers" are facing a drastic shortage of materials . . . and they must also have run into several of those labor strikes. Anyway, we can't get the shipment and it looks like we will have to put up with these rains until it comes through.

In the meantime, if you are figuring on a vacation, you can bet that we have everything you will need, and here are a few don'ts to help in making out your vacation list:

- Don't forget to take iodine.
- Don't dare leave without sunburn lotion.
- Don't ask your mother-in-law to go.
- Don't expect to catch any fish.
- Don't take Dr. Wills' advice on where to fish.

and Don't worry about the rain. These Rexall people make the best line of stuff you can buy, including everything for your vacation, and as soon as those "Rain Stoppers" come in, we'll apply one for sure.

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

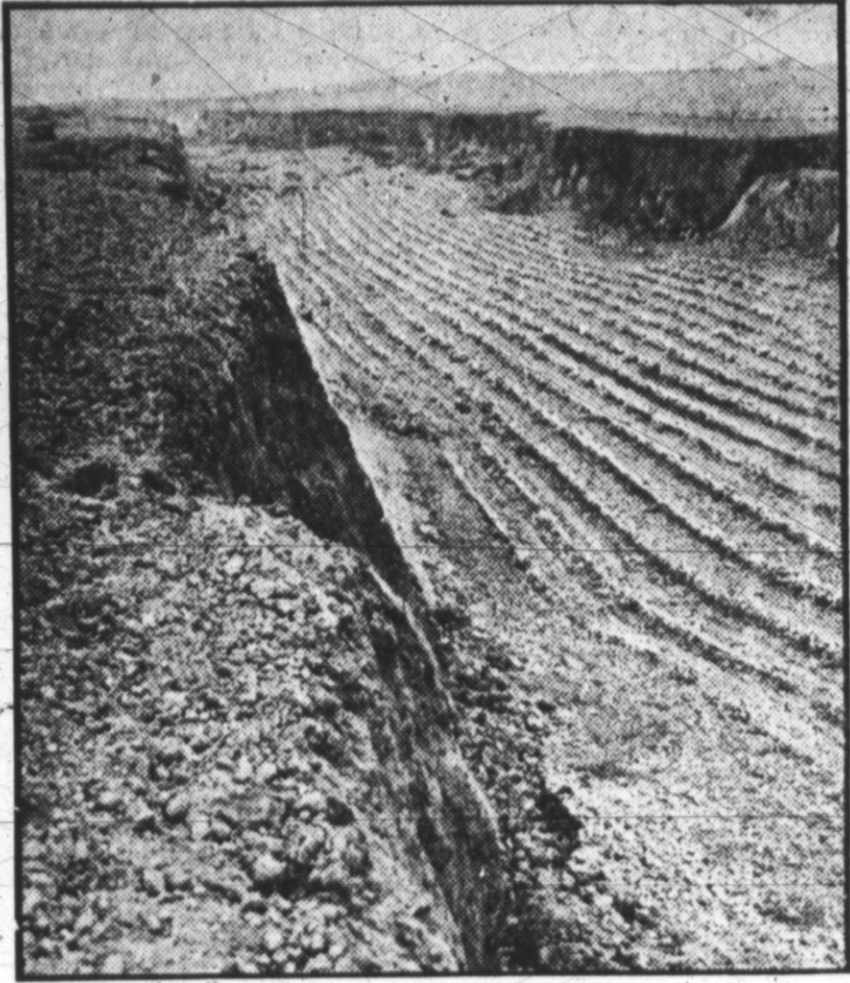

Mrs. Wiley Roberson has an unusual hobby. It consists of counting the out-of-state cars parked in Hereford. She says the first thing Donald asks when she gets home is "How many out-of-state cars were there in town today?" Last Saturday afternoon she counted cars from 12 different states—all parked on the streets of Hereford. The cars were from Ohio, Florida, Missouri, Kentucky, California, Kansas, Indiana, Idaho, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Georgia, and Illinois.

This fits right in with a talk which Elmer Dameron, Chamber of Commerce president, made at the Lions Club Wednesday. The talk was a whiz. Elmer hit the nail right on the head, and whether we realize it or not it looks as if Hereford is going to have a live-wire Chamber of Commerce. Furthermore, this is just what everyone has been wanting. You can't find anyone who wouldn't rather pay $4.00 to a live wire C. of C. than $2.00 to one which just barely keeps its head above the water. This is one place where economy is certainly false. These directors have a really tough job. I know from experience of two years ago, and we should help them all we can. It's a thankless job. Let's start patting these boys on the back instead of kicking. The other directors are G. W. Brumley, Alton Miller, Troy Moore, Robert Thompson, Cliff Acker, and N. E. Gass.

E. D. Donaldson brought by two of the nicest Red Triumph potatoes you ever saw. He has his spud crop just south of S. O. Wilson and thinks the yield is going to be good.

These folks who go off on trips and send back cards give me a pain in the neck. Not that the cards aren't welcome, it's the things they have to say. Speck Lunsford sent a card from Aransas Pass and said, "Having a good time," the front of his card showed an eight foot, eight inch shark and an eleven foot, eight inch sawfish. Rev. M. B. Norwood sent one from Colorado and mentioned the cool climate. It seems that they try to make you feel bad. Later I learned that Speck went fishing on a boat and of the 16 hours he was out, he spent 12 of them hanging his head over the side. He sure was seasick—yet he writes a card indicating what a fine time he was having and even "wished you were here." I wouldn't be surprised if Marvin Norwood didn't have a "charley horse" from climbing mountains—and he probably didn't catch many fish—but they never mention the bad things. If people would write cards telling the honest facts about having poison ivy, sunburn, aches, blisters, and poor fishing luck, it would make the folks who have to stay at home feel much better. If I ever take another vacation it will be a matter of policy with me to maintain this theory, and this summer I will appreciate all cards sent to me in such manner.

This should be made into a nation-wide movement. It has wonderful possibilities. Almost everyone runs out of money while vacationing, but did anyone ever write you a card and say "Had a hard time cashing a check this morning. Fishing is lousy and it rains all of the time. Better be glad you stayed at home."

When it comes to being on the spot when news happens, I should get a medal. I was not only on hand for the fire Thursday morning—but waited 15 minutes for it to start. I had an appointment with Harold Close for 7 o'clock and he was 15 minutes late. As soon as he opened the door of his drug store smoke started boiling out. It turned out to be a motor which had burned out during the night and there really wasn't any fire—just smoke. The fire department didn't know this, however, and when we heard the siren Harold and I figured the fire was somewhere else. Meanwhile, the smoke was escaping into the First National Bank Building and the fireboys figured the bank was on fire.

The result was that E. B. Hedrick came running down without a tie—G. W. Newsom also rushed down, but he was

Ben Wolghemuths To Leave Hereford

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wolghemuth are leaving this week for a vacation trip to Cheyenne, Wyo., where they will visit relatives. Mr. Wolghemuth will not return to Hereford as manager of Kellogg's Variety Store, which position he has held for the past few years, but will either accept a position as district supervisor of Ben Franklin Stores with headquarters in Dallas or will be manager of Holt's variety store in Clovis, N. M.

Some people say most of the wheat is already in, others feel that harvest is about half over. My guess is 400,000 bushels so far. It looks like a million bushels is a generous estimate this year, although many of the yields are running as high as 29 bushels. Tests are exceptionally low for this area, however, just as they are over the entire region. I have been told that the grade of wheat became so very bad that elevators around Plainview just closed their doors and said "No business, we can't use that kind of wheat." The quality is very, very poor this year. Harvest will probably continue until September or October as folks who used binders on their wheat won't start threshing for awhile.

Carlsbad Caverns Display Brilliant Works of Nature

SIGHTS WORTH SEEING

New Mexico's greatest tourist attraction, the Carlsbad Caverns, are visited annually by 250,000 tourists. Here nature has spent millions of years in carving its brilliant masterpieces.

BY WINIFRED CLARK
WEIRD and wondrous Carlsbad Caverns National Park nestled in the rugged foothills of the Guadalupe Mountains, in New Mexico, have thrilled as many as 250,000 visitors each year.
Ethereal in their beauty, the caves are believed to be the largest in the world. Carlsbad Caverns is a series of connected caves. Three main levels have been discovered and several haven't yet been penetrated.
First level of the caverns is 750 feet below the surface. Below, at 900 feet, is the second level. The third dips 1320 feet into the earth. Of the 32 miles of caves that have been explored, only seven are open to travelers.
Each tour is guided by National Park Service rangers over well-lit, well-laid trails and stairs. Natural scientists estimate it required 200,000,000 years to carve out the huge underground cathedral.
Stalactite and stalagmite formations which range in height from a few inches to 100 feet—some of them 200 feet across the base—glitter and glisten like diamonds. It's an immense, dazzling, beautiful display.

TEXAS OUT-DOORS

DOVE SEASON INDEFINITE
Austin—Replying to numerous inquiries concerning dates for the opening of the dove season and dove hunting regulations, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, has announced that definite information cannot be furnished immediately because federal regulations on mourning and white-wing doves have not yet been released. The state law was set during the recent session of the legislature. It is hoped that federal seasons and regulations will conform.

The seasons and regulations as established by state law must not be confused with the federal regulations, which probably will be announced within a month. State regulations and seasons are somewhat different than they were last year. The shooting in the northern zone will start Sept. 1 and end Oct. 31. The remainder of the state, with the exception of a section in southwest Texas, will start from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15. In the southwest area of one

Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron counties the season will be shorter. It opens Sept. 15 and closes a month later, on Oct. 15, and hunting will be allowed only on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The shorter season and staggered shooting of only three days each week was deemed necessary to help the white-wing doves, which are more scarce than mourning doves. A small area along the border has been made a sanctuary and no hunting will be allowed there.

In the six-county area of southwest Texas hunting will be allowed only from noon to sunset. In the remainder of the state hunting will be legal from 7 A. M. until sunset.
The daily bag limit is twelve white-wings or mourning doves or an aggregate of 12 of both. The possession limit is the same as the daily bag limit. Shotguns larger than 10 gauge are prohibited and all shotguns used in dove hunting must be plugged to a three-shell capacity. However, the Game Department is reminding hunters that these are state regulations and federal regulations to be announced may differ.

FISH DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE
A six-pound yellow cat which lived in the Llano River proved too piggyish for his own good and, as a result, honors of catching him go to two youngsters. The fish took both their hooks at about the same time.

The boys, Vernon Gavitt, 11 and Jim Merkel, 12, were fishing in the river in the city of Llano. They were using pole and line. Suddenly each felt a jerk on his line and started hauling it. They soon found the same catfish had hooks from each line firmly embedded in its mouth. The boys, according to the Austin American-Statesman, nearly lost the fish when one line broke when the cat was near the bank. Young Merkel grabbed the prize with his hand and received several bad cuts from the fish's fins.

TICKS KILLING DEER
Ticks are so abundant in the piney woods of east Texas that they are killing deer this summer, a biologist of the game department has reported to the executive secretary. Keepers of several hunting clubs along the Neches River have found fawns killed by ticks. It is not unusual to find deer so decimated by ticks that these deer can easily be run down by dog or man. In other instances ticks create open sores, particularly around the ears and eyelids. These sores are easily infested with screw worms, and eventually result in the death of deer.

A new process for making cotton and other fabrics mildew-resistant has been developed in the Bureau of Home Economics. A public service patent issued to the research worker who developed the treatment will make the process available to anyone without royalty payment.

Simple Home Rites Unite Well Known Hereford Couple

Miss Rena Rae Renfro and Otho Noland of Summerfield were married in a ceremony of quiet simplicity performed Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Renfro, Rev. James Alken, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service.

Wednesday Bride

The bride and groom entered the living room to stand before French doors leading to the dining room. At either side of the doorway were placed tall baskets of wine-red dahlias and flowers of every variety were arranged about the house.

The bride wore a navy cablenet dress made along simple lines with white lace collar. Her corsage was of pink roses. She was an honor student in Hereford High School and expects to complete her high school education here next year.

Mr. Noland, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Noland of Summerfield, also attended Hereford High School and at present is engaged in farming near Summerfield.

Following the wedding refreshments were served to the immediate families and a few close friends from a lace covered table decorated with garden flowers and the wedding cake.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Summerfield.

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

QUAIL GO UNDERGROUND Game Department biologists are forming the opinion that holes made by opossums and other animals are being used by quail more often than it had been thought. In a number of instances quail have been noticed to use shallow underground holes as a means of protection. During census work in southwest Texas a covey of three birds were located in an opossum den. They flushed into a hulsache bush, but upon the arrival of bird dogs they again took refuge in the den. Woody cover in this isolated hulsache mott was lacking and herbaceous cover was practically non-existent. Injured birds were located in holes, or, if flushed from their protective cover, went directly into a den. Often Bobwhites that had remained in quail traps for as much as eight or ten hours flew to the edge of an opossum den and took refuge inside. Birds that retreat into such shallow holes, however, fall easy prey to dogs and cats, it has been discovered.

GULF HAS SAILFISH SPORT

How plentiful are sailfish in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas? That question is being pondered by many experts on the coast. Several have reached the conclusion that there are many more of the sporty sailfish than it has been thought. They declare there has not been enough fishing for them to establish Texas' Gulf waters as a sailfish center. Royal Ferris' performance recently renewed talk of sailfish. That sportsman came in with a pair of huge sails recently. One measured seven feet, six inches and the other seven feet.

PASS HELPS FISHING

The cutting of the pass through Padre Island at Murdock's Landing by the Game Department has produced another ideal spot for fishermen. Catches of trout, red and pike are rather consistent at the pass, according to reports from the coast. The pass was cut by the game department's dredge, AE, to keep the lower Laguna Madre from becoming too saline for fish.

A collection of more than 17,000 volumes of bound newspapers is in the University of Texas Library, largest in the South. Its selection of Texas, Southwestern, and Southern newspapers is believed to be the best in existence. Contrary to popular notion, it is perfectly safe to eat acid fruits and drink milk at the same time, University of Texas home economists declare. Milk curdles as soon as it reached the acid gastric juices in the stomach anyway, and to combine fruit and milk forms a more easily digested curd.

XIT Reunion To Be Held August 3-5

DALHART—This city went western with a bang Tuesday when official notice was served all citizens of the XIT capital to "dress western—or else" and the immediate response indicates there will not be a single tenderfoot in Dallam County by Saturday night when a grand Western Ball will be held at Legion Hall to celebrate the dressing up campaign.

The Sixth Annual XIT Reunion will officially begin with a gala pre-view dance August 2 and will be followed Sunday, August 3, with a city-wide memorial program that features an address by Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State College, Canyon, who will pay tribute to those hardy pioneers, both living and dead, that made XIT so famous. There will also be water sports and contests at Rita Blanca Lake that holds its official opening here Sunday.

Monday and Tuesday, August 4-5 will be the principal dates for the celebration expected to draw 20,000 visitors, a minimum of 20 bands, scores of floats and hundreds of horses and riders. The parade moves at 11 o'clock on the mornings of both days and one of the first entries for the procession was the Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo, some 50 strong and attired in costumes. That city will also send a special train to the celebration, according to Sam Elkins, goodwill chairman for the Amarillo chamber of commerce. The afternoons will be devoted to rodeo performances that will witness the southwest's best contestants riding and roping the saltiest stock that Beutler Bros., of Elk City, Okla., could muster. Lynn Beutler will also serve as arena director for all events.

At least three dances will climax each day's events. Huge delegations from all cities of the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma are assured. XIT members from as far away as Alabama have written they would attend this year.

Judge J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, president and W. A. Askew, Amarillo, secretary of the XIT Association will arrive here Saturday August 2nd to complete arrangements for all celebration details.

The dance Saturday night (July 19) will also be Dalhart's greeting to boat owners and visitors who will throng Rita Blanca Lake Sunday for a full day of free entertainment including boat races, water skiing, swimming, diving, polo games, pony races, and a colorful Bathing Revue. Marvin Jones, former congressman and now federal judge, will be principal speaker at the Lake presentation by high government officials.

Campbells Make Improvements at Ranch Home

A good start has been made on the long time plan for home improvements made by Mrs. Robert Campbell for their ranch home at Fairview. The dealer, from whom Mrs. Campbell bought the furniture told her that five identical sets of the furniture had been purchased for ranch homes on the plains.

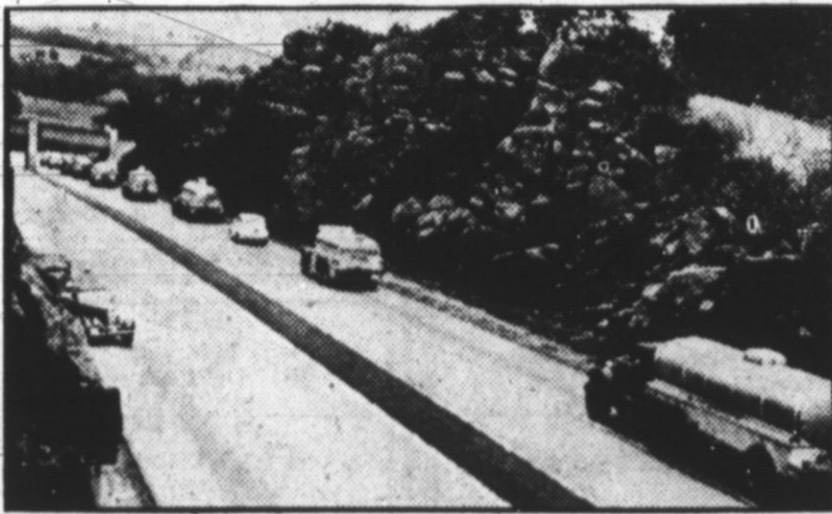

The handsome dining room furniture is of solid maple in "honey maple" finish. It includes a cabinet where beautiful china is displayed on the open shelves above roomy drawers for storage. Eight chairs with upholstered seats can be used at the extension table. Mrs. Campbell has made a silence cloth to fit the center of the table, and two snort-ones for the extensions. This, with tablecloths to fit will provide for a group of four, six or eight people.

A very long, handsome buffet provides space for storage of linen, silver, china, and glass.

A son, Byron Campbell, surprised his father with a colonial finish maple desk which he made in class at West Texas State College in Canyon last semester. In line and color, this desk harmonizes with the dining room furniture. It is placed in the southwest corner of the room. Mr. Campbell's business records are partly "moved in". There is a center drawer, an extension leaf on each side, and three drawers of varying depths on each side.

There is a new hardwood floor in the living room and dining room where all woodwork has been painted. The bathroom has a new coat of paint. One of the three bedrooms has been recalcimined and the woodwork repainted. Mrs. Campbell plans to continue her work next fall and to buy more furniture and rugs as she gets the house ready for them.

After the Honeymoon is over

Stop throwing tomatoes at your car, mister. And lady, remember, scowling gives you wrinkles. So both of you, let up and listen to simple common sense.

Just three months ago, after you bought that car and nursed it through the break-in period, you bragged to all your friends that it "runs like a watch... makes 16 miles on a gallon... licks cars twice its size and price getting away on the green light."

Now that the honeymoon period of your new car ownership is over, why let yourself get sour on a possession that should be, and can be, one of your most useful and pleasurable?

Tell your troubles to your car dealer. He's an honest, able business man, anxious to hold your good opinion. He may find the engine needs some minor adjustment, some squeaks require a squirt of oil, the brakes may take a little pumping-up.

Then fill the tank with a truly great July motor fuel, Phillips 66 Poly Gas. That's the gasoline motorists never tire of recommending. It is not only high anti-knock, high test, high energy... but it is more accurately matched to monthly changes in your weather.

Yes, sir!... yes, ma'am! it does things for your engine. You may find it makes your car run like new again. It delivers real pep and power... sweeter pick-up and easier hill-climbing. And mileage that's a real surprise.

Forget your "mad", and make up with your car, by stopping for a trial tankful of new Phillips 66 Poly Gas... at any Orange and Black 66 Shield. It costs nothing extra.

Clothes Rationing in Effect For Britain; '66' An Important Figure

LONDON.—There's a mighty lot of figuring going on throughout the length and breadth of the British Isles since clothes rationing was sprung on a totally unsuspecting public.

"Sixty-Six" is a number which has assumed unlimited importance in the minds of British men and women. This represents the exact number of clothing coupons which will be available per year and per head.

The official list of rationed clothes is a long one. There is one for men, one for women, and one for children over four years old. Roughly speaking, men will need 26 coupons for a suit, 16 for an overcoat, 8 for a skirt, dressing gown and pajamas, which hardly leaves anything over for accessories.

Women fare a little better. Seven coupons are needed for a silk or cotton dress; but 11 for a woolen one. A coat will eat into either 11 or 14, according to the length, over or under 28 inches. A blouse sports jacket or cardigan needs 5 and a skirt 7 coupons, and stockings, 2 coupons, while pajamas call for 8, and night dresses 6 coupons.

FAIR DISTRIBUTION IS GOVERNMENT'S AIM

Foxy Oliver Lyttleton, president of the board of trade, put a fast one over the British public. To begin with, he gave the news too late for most people to rush the stores and timed it so that the official Whitsun holiday came in between. He struck hard and fast, but strangely enough there has been little resentment. While there were a few leakages to the otherwise secret official negotiations, the great majority of the public first learned of the new decree from their Sunday paper.

Fair distribution is what the government is aiming at. Stocks are getting lower and lower, and valuable shipping space is needed for the transport of food and war material before anything else. Wardrobe planning is going to assume the proportions of a major field operation for most people and woe betide the man or woman who just cannot think or plan ahead.

People with large wardrobes, of course, will feel the pinch, but on the other hand, they will have large reserves to fall back on. It's the less fortunate, so-called "white-collar class" (the typists, shop assistants, clerks) who are going to be hard put to it to preserve appearances on 66 coupons a year.

"Shabbiness," declared Captain Lyttleton over the wireless, after his decision had been made known to the general public, "will be as glorious as the battle-stained uniform of the warrior."

LOOPHOLES WILL BE STOPPED

Three women—a business girl, a housewife, and an experienced store buyer—and five men, all experts in trade administration, and of varying ages and tastes, advised the board of trade. There will be some amendments of the scheme, because some aspects of the results of this rationing were overlooked.

The "wranglers" of course, got busy just as soon as they could. Women tried pre-dated orders to stores for yard goods as well as ready-to-wear garments, hoping they would be lucky enough to have them accepted.

One specialty shop in Mayfair was literally besieged by women with fat pocketbooks, ready to buy as much as $100 worth of quality fabrics at a time. They met with no success at all, despite attempts to bribe sales-women. With the scheme coming into operation immediately, no retailer, however tempted, would have risked making a sale without coupons, in view of the fact that in future all replacements will have to be done against coupons.

One of the loopholes overlooked by the board of trade was soon spotted by smart women. All household goods—sheets, curtains, blankets, bed covers—were unrationed. Stores found themselves selling large quantities of these articles which women proposed to turn into summer frocks, sports coats, and dressing gowns. Another loophole—second hand clothes—is being closed up by the authorities because here, too, wrangling would and could evade the "fair-to-all" rationing scheme.

BOOM IN SPECIALIZED TRADES PROBABLE

Extravagant fashions, as well as white weddings, will suffer an eclipse until the end of the war. So far, though, lace and net are not included in the clothes rationing, nor are hats. Already shops are going over their lace stocks—old and new—and this fabric is scheduled for an unprecedented vogue until next run out.

Working out the clothes coupon, it seems as though women will have to manage on one frock a year, while a coat will have to last two years, and a suit three. This is the only way to make the rations coupons cover all the odds and ends which a woman needs—shoes, stockings, slippers, slacks, lingerie, blouses and sweaters.

It is obvious that, when possible, women will pay more for clothes bought under the rationing scheme, because quality means better value and longer wear for the money.

A boom in cleaners' and dyers' work is forecast, and people who specialize in "turning" suits and overcoats are practically unable to undertake any more work for the time being, as they are literally snowed under. Stores are contemplating "renovation departments" and the shoe-repairing industry is in for a profitable time.

DISPENSATION FOR WAR WORKERS

While inter-trading for gain will be considered a serious offense, a family may pool its coupons and doubtless will have to do so to meet emergencies. "Biltzed" people who have lost all or part of their clothing will be granted special replacement coupons.

The wife of the artisan, on the other hand, will benefit because her husband's "bailer suits" (or dungarees) are not rationed and presumably he needs fewer clothes than she does. This also applies to women munition workers, at any rate those who wear overalls, because aprons and pinafores are not included on the rationed list.

In the eyes of most Britons, clothes rationing is the end of keeping up appearances.

Aluminum Scrap

Defense leaders have hit upon the collection of old pots, pans and electric appliance parts as a good method for providing aluminum for ordinary defense needs while the raw metal is released for exclusive use in manufacture of bombers and other military aircraft.

The drive will also serve another patriotic purpose it is believed; as the money received from sale of old aluminum to defense industries will go to a fund for civilian defense, to provide fire fighting facilities, bomber defense and anti-aircraft guns which would be necessities to America should the country be involved in war.

Potato Crop

Potato farming has come a rapid development of the potato processing and conditioning industries. The Hereford Potato Growers Association, the first warehouse to start business, can handle approximately 1600 sacks a day on its well equipped washing and sorting machines. The plant of C. M. Carpenter, also opened last year, specializes in handling onions as well as potatoes; and this year two new warehouses will be in business to handle the vastly increased crop. R. L. Craner and Howard Gault have a new processing plant, which they will operate in addition to overlooking work on their extensive potato acre-

"Executive's" Epic Excuse Halts Battle of the Bums

BY ART BRONSON

ANTONIO GALENTO, that charming little barrel from Joisey City, who blabbed his way from the back parlor of a saloon to the canvas of Madison Square Garden (courtesy J. Louis, prop.), has come to the defense of American business.

Fortunate indeed are the entrepreneurs of the country to have such an articulate champion as Tony. As chairman of the board, president, and vice president-in-charge-of-dispensing at Galento's Riviera, East Orange, N. J., Tony has come forward in support of American business ethics.

The story, briefly, is this. Mr. Galento has been rather remiss of late in his pugilistic obligations. After much ballyhoo a Galento "comeback" was arranged at Abilene, Tex. His opponent was to be another executive of repute, King Levinsky, who was engaged as a sole proprietor selling razor blades in Chicago's Loop not too long ago. Prior to that he was in the fish business as an executive peddler.

Tony Galento . . . "I'll ruin my business standing."

Executive Galento is neither yellow nor is he lacking in business erudition. His eagerness to tangle with Louis should prove his courage—or his foolhardiness.

AS for his commercial savoir-faire, the following is a case in point.

Several years ago, Tony's pub was on the economic rocks. The little man called in a friend of his as business consultant and general statistician.

After looking the place over, the friend decided to get down to business. "Tony," he said, "let me see your books."

"What books?" replied the portly one.

"Do you mean to say you don't keep any books?" asked the friend.

"Listen, pal," retorted Tony, "people come into my place to drink beer . . . to read."

Lease-Lend Aid to Britain

Feature Service Picture Recognized by Sisters

Three weeks ago the Brand ran a picture of a 95-year-old Confederate veteran, Uncle Polk Sagely of Coffee County, Tenn., inspecting some modern army equipment, perhaps during some of the recent maneuvers in the southeastern state. The picture was part of a regular weekly news service, and was used simply because of its human interest value—the very old gentleman looking with disdain on modern fighting equipment and recalling that guns were bigger when he fought the Yankees.

There was not supposed to be any "local angle." But last week, Mrs. G. H. Hamm, who lives near Summerfield, and her sister, Mrs. E. Bourland of Vernon, who is visiting her, came into the Brand Office to say that they knew Uncle Polk Sagely well. They grew up in Coffee County, Tenn., and the veteran was a good friend of their father. Which proves that pictures really "get around."

Judge A. J. Schroeter. Transfers will be necessary in cases where a child will be in a grade which is not taught in his own district. Rural school students who will attend high school for the first time must transfer to the Hereford Independent School District, the judge explained.

Schroeter also points out that transfers may be made to any other county if the districts in the counties are contiguous and the school in the adjoining county is closer than a similar school in Deaf Smith County.

Posey, secretary, and several directors of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce will attend the meeting in Amarillo and urge that business men and machine shop operators be present also. "We have several well-equipped machine shops," says Mr. Posey, "and there is no reason why we shouldn't get some of these contracts, which would mean good business to the owner and a very welcome payroll to the town."

County Men

er. Names on the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee were Earl W. Wilson, Cliff Estes, and S. O. Wilson. Serving with these committees on the County Council will be Judge A. J. Schroeter, Alex R. Bateman, and W. M. Emmons. The function of the rural rehabilitation committee, Mr. Drinkard said, is to assist the county FSA personnel in developing among borrowers and applicants an understanding that sound, long-time farm and home planning, keeping accurate records of income and expense, and home production of feed and food are important to successful farming.

Other functions of this committee, Mr. Drinkard explained, include assisting in solving problems of distressed farm families by making it possible for them to use the maximum facilities, help and guidance possible in the FSA program.

The Farm Debt Adjustment Committee will study the financial situation of FSA applicants and borrowers and other low-income farm families, and explaining their problems to the creditors, to bring about adjustments profitable to both creditors and debtors.

A careful study of the tenure situation, to work out more satisfactory and profitable lease arrangements for landlords and tenants, will be among the other primary functions of this committee, which will also seek to improve the living standards of tenant families and to protect the land resources of the landlords.

In addition to duties previously mentioned, the County FSA Council will cooperate closely with the County Land-Use Committee, A A A Committee, and other community groups in planning and promoting a coordi-ated attack on community problems such as rural housing as they affect low-income farm families.

In a communication to Mr. Drinkard, Wilson Cowen, regional director of the FSA, said, "I hope various people and the public generally will, through these committees and councilmen, strive to develop methods by which we can do even a better job and reach the greatest number of families needing the services of this agency."

Mr. Drinkard said he had been advised by State Director Rex B. Baxter that meetings for all committees and councilmen in Texas will be held in the near future, at which time they will be given detailed instructions as to their duties. Time and place for the meeting will be announced soon, he said.
