AROUND A TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen

Jim Clark is handing out free advice to fishermen, since he caught three bass—six, three and two pound specimens—Saturday. Jim says the fish eat just like we do and get hungry just about noon, when he made his catch. He also states that successful fishermen have to "live right," which is a broad and indefinite statement, according to another Hereford angler, who wonders whether it is worse to go fishing on Sunday morning or to go to church and think about going fishing.

Jack Wilson finally got off to the Firemen's Convention, but not without a lot of help. Jack did not decide to go until the last minute, and it is reported that Roger Corbett had a lot of last minute duties to get Jack ready for the convention.

Flagwaving is contagious, but sometimes it takes about a day for the habit to catch on. Tuesday, as evidently few persons knew, was the beginning of Flag Week, and the Brand claims the honor of being the only business house in their block on Main Street to have the flag out. However by yesterday, nearly all the flags were flying, and they will be out each day through next Tuesday, June 14.

Mrs. Boyd Knox has a janitor job this week while Debs is out of town and she is doing a little experimenting with methods of window washing. By next week she should be able to write a treatise on the subject.

Miss Ona Hammer of the Penney Store really deserves the title of ace saleslady. She has received a medal for ranking with the 30 highest salesmen in the Penney organization in this district, and this is the sixth straight year she has received the honor.

Geo. T. McCurry Dies In Amarillo

Funeral services for George T. McCurry, for many years a resident of Hereford, will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the Black Funeral Home. Rev. James Alken, Jr. will preach the funeral sermon.

Mr. McCurry, who had been ill for some time, died yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock in an Amarillo hospital.

He was for many years employed in the old D. R. Gass Dry Goods Store in Hereford and for the past several years had been engaged in the real estate business.

Only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Maude Snow, of Rockwall, Tex. Pallbearers will be H. Nickerson, L. Baskin, C. C. Rockwell, Doug Fox, Owen Finlan and Fate Walser.

Sgt. Wagner Receives Purple Heart Award

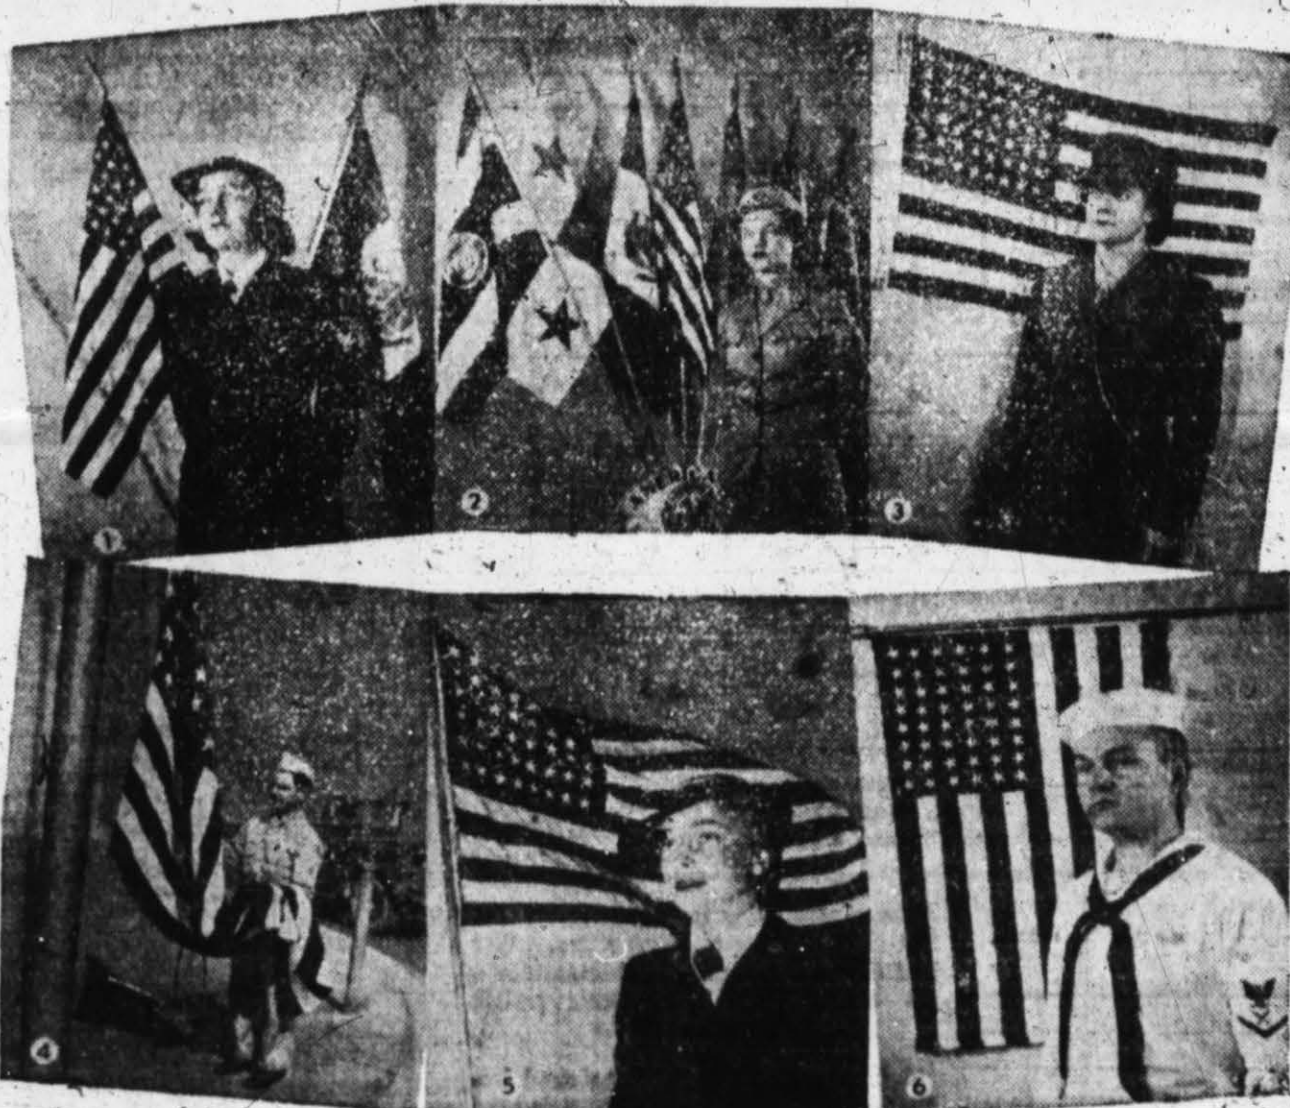

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wagner have returned from Longview, where they visited their son, Staff Sgt. Lester Wagoner, who is in a military hospital recovering from wounds received March 31 in a battle on the North African front.

Sgt. Wagner, member of a field artillery battery, has received the Purple Heart for wounds received in the fierce fighting which took place before the American troops entered Tunisia. His parents report that he is improving and will be home soon.

Lucille Wagner, who is working in Houston, visited her brother and parents in Longview, and the group saw the award of the Purple Heart medal to 15 wounded veterans, just returned from the North African battle front. Sgt. Wagner had already received his medal when his family arrived.

The Wagners were accompanied on their trip by Mrs. Ray West and Mrs. James Springfield, who visited their parents in Gainesville.

Men And Women of United States Services Show Here Proper Way To Display Flag

1. Yeoman Elaine B. Iverson of Baltimore, Md., here indicates the proper method of displaying the Stars and Stripes when it is used with another flag against a wall. The United States flag should be at the observer's left, and its staff in front of the other flag.

The United States Flag Association is asking Americans to buy $100,000,000 worth of War Bonds more during Flag Week, June 8-14.

2. Sergeant Caroline York, of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, of Meridian, Texas, and a cousin of the famed Alvin C. York of World War I, is standing beside a group of flags representing our sister republics. In a group the United States flag should be placed at the center or at the highest point.

"Save-by-Sacrifice" is the slogan for "Flag Week," June 8-14, this year. Place your savings in War Bonds, is the appeal of the the United States Flag Association.

3. Lt. Kathleen Hogan, United States Marines, of Stamford, Connecticut, demonstrates the proper display of the United States flag when used horizontally against a wall or in a show window. The blue field should be uppermost and at the left of the observer.

This year the United States Flag Association is asking for self-sacrifice instead of cheers, and the purchase of more War Bonds instead of personal comforts.

4. Corporal Michael Sirianni, Headquarters Squadron, of Philadelphia, shows the proper method of holding the United States flag, exercising care to prevent its touching the ground or trailing in the water.

Our service men and women are offering their all to assure Victory. During Flag Week the United States Flag Association is asking only that the home front invest an additional $100,000,000 in War Bonds.

5. Spar Geneveve Fraleigh, Coast Guard Headquarters, of Shreveport, Louisiana, here demonstrates the proper display of the flag when flown from a staff with the blue field uppermost and to the observer's left.

If every adult in the United States buys $1.00 worth more of War Bonds or Stamps during Flag Week, June 8-14, the United States Flag Association will reach its goal of $100,000,000 in added War Bond sales.

6. Yeoman Virginia Giammittorio of the Navy, Alexandria, Virginia, shows the correct manner for displaying the flag from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a window sill, balcony or front of a building.

Pressure Cookers To Be Alloted on Basis Of Food Production

More pressure cookers have been alloted to Texas, it was announced this week by N. E. Gass, chairman of the county USDA war board, who states that specific ceiling prices have also been set on cookers, with prices on three major brands in this county to be $13.90, $14.90 and $15.90.

Each cooker sold under the dollars and cents ceiling will carry a 90-day guarantee, Mr. Gass said, and added that application should be made to OPA for specific maximum prices on canners not carrying the guarantee.

Expired Red or Blue Stamps Aid Black Market

An expired ration stamp is "dead" to the housewife, but it's "alive" in trade channels and is the object of considerable interest in black markets.

OPA officials explain that while red and blue stamps issued for any one month expire at the end of the month so far as retail buying is concerned, they continue to be valid for purchases and sales in trade channels for some time afterward. This is obviously necessary to enable storekeepers to make use of stamps collected in the final few days of the month.

Reports received by OPA in increasing numbers indicate that a few storekeepers have been soliciting the surrender of expired stamps from their customers on various pretexts. In other cases, customers have voluntarily surrendered these stamps as a friendly gesture.

"Hard-to-Get" Items Available For Farmers

Under new government rulings, farmers will be able to buy about 50 "hard to get" items needed in the food production program. An emergency system for speeding up the flow of these items is now in effect, and a new program within 60 or 90 days is designed to continue the flow of these materials to the farms where they are needed.

The Army, Navy, Lend-Lease and other government agencies have agreed to relinquish a part of current production assigned to them to make possible a diversion of small quantities for farm supplies.

Farmers will be able to buy reasonable amounts of needed items directly from their dealers without complicated forms. Since a store may not have the item in stock, farmers should place their order now to allow the merchant time in which to replenish his stock of such items.

The items to be made available under the program include adjustable wrenches, forks, auger bits, bale ties, barbed wire, brass valves (one inch and under), chains, chain repair links, clevises, dehorning saws, drills (bit stock, blacksmith and straight shank carbon), farm machinery oilers, fence and poultry netting staples, fence pliers, field and garden hoes, flashlight batteries, fractional horsepower motors, general purpose wrench sets, grain scoops, grease guns, hames, hand tire pumps, harness hardware, horse collars, lariat rope, low pressure tire gauges, machine punches, metal belt fast-

Baptist Vacation Bible School Has Preparation Day, Saturday, June 12

The Baptist Daily Vacation Bible School will start Monday morning and the regular "Preparation Day" program will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 3 o'clock, church spokesmen said today urging all children who plan to attend the school to come to the preparation day program, for which sponsors have planned two surprises, sure to be enjoyed by the children. It is hoped that most of the work (Continued on page 10)

Co-Chairmen Appointed To Head Hospital Service Project Here

Mrs. Dorothy Ross and Mrs. Lavina Gilliland will serve as co-chairmen of the Hereford Council which will have charge of securing local aid for various recreation projects at the hospital and in the day room at the Hereford Internment Camp.

Hereford Red Cross representatives who attended a meeting in Amarillo Tuesday, when a North Plains Council was chosen and various phases of the work were outlined, stress the fact that the new project is entirely separate and distinct from the U. S. O. or any other organization which seeks to provide recreation for soldiers when they are away from their army station.

Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Gilliland may appoint such other members to the council as they need and the co-chairmen state that the local chapter will soon be assigned specific duties for the camp recreation project and that there will be work for every individual and every club desiring to help.

With Late Harvest Prospect Labor Situation Is Brighter

WEST WAS WILD AND SO WERE REPORTERS IN ACCOUNT OF 1903 SHOOTING FRACAS

Accident Victim Dies Saturday

Funeral services for George Ellis Nixon, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nixon of Hereford, were held here Monday afternoon. Young Nixon died Saturday as the result of injuries received several weeks ago when the horse he was riding ran into a tree and crushed Nixon's leg.

Infection set in and amputation was not able to stop the spread of blood poison.

George E. Nixon was born in Naples, Tex., and had lived in Hereford for several years. The family lives near the Hereford Wrecking Company, on Highway 60.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nixon, and several brothers and sisters.

Rev. W. E. Barnes of the Baptist Church was in charge of funeral rites and burial was in the Hereford cemetery.

War Conditions Bring Cuts in Laundry Service in Hereford

War conditions—the increase of work and the shortage of labor—this week caused further changes in laundry service here, as F. M. Campbell of the Hereford Laundry announced that hereafter the laundry will not be able to give delivery service.

"We will still pick up your laundry bundle," Mr. Campbell states, "but it will not be possible to deliver the finished bundle as it has been in the past." These rules apply only to work done at the steam laundry; no delivery service either to or from the Helpy Selfy laundry can be furnished, Mr. Campbell states.

The laundry is also closing its books, Mr. Campbell says, adding that hereafter customers will have to pay for each laundry bundle when they call for it.

The curtailment of certain laundry services is not confined to Hereford. As has been pointed out in recent news stories, many cities face even more drastic cuts in laundry facilities than are being made here; and Mr. Campbell assures customers that the local laundry is doing its best to continue to give service and that all cooperation which customers can give will be appreciated.

Gardeners Can Plant And Harvest Throughout The Growing Season

Victory gardeners generally are having success with their early crop, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent, reported this week. "However," she adds, "hot weather will bring on even more serious garden problems than drought has brought thus far, and if we are to have a garden which will produce through the summer months, we will have to do some special planning."

Miss Oliver quotes J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A and M college extension service, who cautions against planting any but heat resistant varieties in summer. English peas, head lettuce, mustard greens, bush beans and radishes are not suited to a hot weather garden.

When early mustard greens go to seed, follow with okra, green pepper plants or even Swiss chard. Incidentally, Swiss chard has more vitamin A than any of the other greens. Leaf lettuce, which is tolerant of warm weather, is an excellent successor to early radishes, but gardeners should be careful not to confuse the leaf variety with head lettuce. Grand Rapids or Black Seeded Simpson are recommended for good summer growth.

Eggplant does well in hot weather, with Florida Highbush or Purple Beauty well suited to Texas growing conditions. Allow three feet of space between plants, but watch out for potato bugs. When this pest gets a start on potatoes it will move to eggplants and eat them up in a few days. On the first appearance of the bugs, dust the plants with calcium arsenate and they will give no further trouble. A second planting of sweet corn may be made now in order to provide roasting ears over a long period. When the corn is up 10 to 12 inches, thin the stand to two feet apart. All hot weather vegetables need more room for moisture and plant food than the early ones.

Conscientious victory gardeners, Miss Oliver concludes, will make a special effort to plant and harvest throughout the growing season this year.

Though the wheat harvest has started in sections near here—first loads were reported Monday at Clovis and Bovina—consensus of opinion among local farmers July seems to be that the harvest in Deaf Smith County will not get under way until the latter part of this month and the first of July. County Agent A. E. Bateman states that though some wheat is beginning to turn, much of it is still green and that harvest will probably be late.

This, according to Mr. Bateman, will be beneficial so far as the harvest labor situation is concerned, because the usual influx of labor from the area below the caprock is anticipated by the first of July.

Teen-Age Boys To Fields
Though the labor situation is serious, Mr. Bateman believes that the labor supply will be sufficient if the harvest is late, and in the meantime, teen-age boys are coming to the rescue in the labor situation and many of these boys are already placed as general farm hands. It is expected that the extension service will be charged with operating a farm employment service here this summer, and complete plans will be worked out at a meeting of extension service representatives with the commissioners court, members of the Victory Council and the labor committee of the Hereford Lions Club on Monday of next week.

Temporary Employment Office
In the meantime, the county agent's office is serving as a temporary employment bureau, and farmers wanting hands and men wanting farm labor can register there. Already more than 20 youths have been placed on farm jobs and reports are that their work in most cases is satisfactory.

Harvest Prospects
As to harvest prospects, Mr. Bateman believes that probably (Continued on Page 10)

Catholic Pastors Attend Meeting in New York

Father Nathaniel Madden, S. A., pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church left Monday morning to attend the general chapter meeting and election of officers at Graymoor, Garrison, N. Y.

Father A. J. Milano, assistant pastor of St. Anthony's, left Thursday to attend the same meeting. Both men are expected to be gone for about a month and in their absence Father Norbert Gruber, O. S. B., of Subiaco, Ark., will serve as pastor at St. Anthony's Church.

Henry Tiefel, who was injured Friday, shortly after noon, when he was knocked down by a car as he stepped into the street from behind a car parked in front of the City Drug Store, was reported yesterday to be recovering satisfactorily from his injuries.

Mr. Tiefel, who is in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, is suffering from a broken leg and a concussion of the skull. Injuries were at first feared to be more serious.

According to observers, Mr. Tiefel started to step into the street and stopped when he saw a car approaching. The driver of the car, J. B. Martin, also stopped, and started again at the same time that Mr. Tiefel started across the street and was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Henry Tiefel, who was injured Friday, shortly after noon, when he was knocked down by a car as he stepped into the street from behind a car parked in front of the City Drug Store, was reported yesterday to be recovering satisfactorily from his injuries.

POTATO GROWERS

Suggestion for Use of Spray Mixtures and Dusts for Potato Insect and Disease Control

SPRAYS:

- Containing: "Magnetic-Spray Wettable Sulphur (Psyllid Control), "Magnetic Cryolite" (Flea Beetle and Leaf Hopper control) and "Cuprocide" (Early and Late Blight control).
- Dosage: Use 10 lbs. Wettable Sulphur per 100 gallons of water. Use 4 lbs. Cryolite per 100 gallons of water.
 - Use at rate of 80 to 100 gallons per acre when plants are four to 8 inches high, increasing to 120 to 160 gallons per acre as vine growth becomes heavier. Complete coverage of upper and lower sides of leaves is essential.
 - Fill tanks half full of clean water and start agitators and then sift wettable sulphur slowly through the screen. After sulphur is thoroughly wetted add the cryolite and Cuprocide.
 - If Spray Rig is to be idle for a few days it is advisable to run out the spray solution and add clean water to wash out tank, pump lines and nozzles to prevent clogging.

DUSTS:

- Containing: Dusting Sulphur (98 1/2% sulphur content) (Psyllid Control), "Magnetic Cryolite" (Flea Beetle and Leaf Hopper Control) and "Cuprocide" (Early and Late Blight Control).
- Dosage: Our Sulphur-Copper-Cryolite dust mixture is recommended as a combination dust for control of psyllids, flea beetle, leaf hoppers and early and late blight. For first application when the plants are 4 to 8 inches high the dust should be applied at the rate of 20 to 25 lbs. per acre. The rate should be increased to 30 to 35 lbs. per acre as the vine growth becomes heavier.
 - Early applications are important. Be sure that dust is being thoroughly applied and uniform coverage is obtained. It is recommended that the dust be applied during the night or early morning hours when the air is quiet and no wind.
 - Light, frequent applications give better control than heavy applications applied less frequently.

We are in a position to supply any kind of dust you may desire for your insect or disease problems. Combinations of Sulphur-Cryolite, Sulphur-Cuprocide are available.

Herbs In The Victory Garden
(Note—This article was prepared for the Garden Club by Mrs. Earl Springer.)

Herb gardening is easy and fun too, for herbs require no great skill on the part of the gardener. Many people are becoming interested in herbs because of that fact and because they give such satisfactory results. To some growing herbs is merely a fad while to others it means "more-tasty" foods and pleasant odors.

The location of the herb garden is important. Place it as near your kitchen door as possible, for its nearness will remind you of its many uses. If you plan to raise only fragrant herbs, place your garden where you can enjoy its fragrance.

In a small garden you may prefer to buy plants, but many herbs can be grown much more economically, and successfully too, from seeds or from cuttings, or even from root divisions. In the pinwheel type of garden one might plant such herbs as parsley, savory, sage tarragon, chives, rosemary, balm, mint, lemon verbena, rose geranium, lavender and thyme. In a cullinary garden one could add such herbs as horseradish, red-pepper, mustard, cress and nasturtiums. In the sweet scented garden a bird-bath in the center could be surrounded with a row of old-fashioned heliotrope. Lavender, clove pinks and pansies would make a delightful border.

How To Grow, Harvest, Dry and Prepare Garden Herbs For Use
Sow seed in a well screened mixture of one part compact, one part loam and two parts sand. Cover lightly and keep well watered and in the sun.

Dig soil to depth of twelve inches where seedlings are to be transplanted. Soak soil before planting and fill each hole with water. Cover plants until rooted.

Such spreaders as mint and lavender may be confined by planting them in a bottomless tub, the rim of which is about two inches above the ground. Cultivate soil frequently and keep all weeds cut.

Gather herbs in the morning of a dry day after dew is gone.

Miss Christine Olson Weds Pvt. Harold E. Pettyjohn In Church Rites

Miss Christine Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Olson of this city, became the bride of Pvt. Harold Pettyjohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pettyjohn of Snowflake, Ariz., Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. James Alken, Jr., performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Dolores Bishop of Amarillo sang "I Love You Truly" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Carl Mountz. Mrs. Mountz also played the wedding marches.

The vows were said as the couple and their attendants stood before a background of fernery and palms at the altar in the presence of a few close friends and relatives.

Miss Seletta Robinson, the bride's only attendant, wore a pastel-print crepe dress with white hat and shoes. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Lloyd Olson, the bride's brother, served as best man. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a white silk jersey frock with blue and white accessories and carried a shower bouquet of pink briarcliff roses and pink sweetpeas. She wore an heirloom ring, belonging to her great-grandmother.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Snowflake, Ark., where they will visit his relatives. Pvt. Pettyjohn is in the clerical division in the dispatch office at the Advanced Flying School at Napier Field, Dothan, Ala.

Mrs. Pettyjohn is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended an Amarillo Business School. At the time of her marriage she was employed as secretary at the Jefferson Standard Insurance Company in Amarillo and for the present she will continue her work there.

Rev. Roy Cook read the ceremony at the St. Jo Baptist Church with the immediate members of the two families attending.

The bride wore a navy-blue two-piece dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her only ornament was a diamond necklace given to her by her grandfather, G. W. Brumley of this city.

The wedding guests attended a reception which followed the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Milton E. Dean, sister of the bridegroom. The bride cut the cake which was decorated with a miniature bridal couple.

Mrs. Louie Olson was the only guest from Hereford attending the wedding. She accompanied her daughter to St. Jo for the ceremony.

Mrs. Duncan is a 1942 graduate of Hereford High School and attended T. S. C. W. at Denton last summer. She attended a business school in Amarillo last winter.

Let's Cook Something

You can feel patriotic when you use this recipe for it, is keyed to today's necessities—meat stretching and point stretching with a watchful eye on the family budget. It's an old favorite of Mrs. J. H. Pitman and a good way to get the family to eat the rough parts of the chicken. No points are required but it ranks high with the biggest and hungriest family.

It's "Chicken And Dumplings"

Take the rough parts of a fryer, the neck, wings and parts the family likes least, and cook slowly in salted water about two hours. There should be enough water to have some broth when the chickens is done. Remove bones from chicken, cube some Irish potatoes, place all in the broth salt and pepper to taste and add enough water to allow to cook about thirty minutes and still have enough liquid to cook the dumplings. Add enough butter to season well. While this is cooking make light-as-a-feather dumplings in the following manner:

Dumplings

- 1 1-2 cups flour
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 3 teaspoons baking powder (level)
- enough sweet milk to make soft dough.

Work all together and roll out thin on dough board. Cut with biscuit cutter or in small squares and drop in the chicken and potato mixture. Cook over slow fire just long enough for the dumplings to get done, about 20 minutes. When done there should be enough gravy to pour over the chicken and dumpling mixture on a large platter, and it's ready to serve.

Mr. Ross had no sooner turned than he felt a burning sensation in his thigh. Wheeling rapidly he fired three shots with a 30-30 in rapid succession, Howell pitching forward at the third shot.

Mr. Ross' wound was slight.

TEXAS NEWS: Horse thieves, highwaymen and others of that ilk have just about as much showing to get away from justice in eastern New Mexico as a snowball in a red hot pan. When such men as Ed Connell, Rat Jowell, Tom Reagan, Luke Blair, W. G. Ross and Ed Harwell, backed by other good and true citizens too numerous to mention, get on the trail of evildoers, a speedy capture, dead or alive, is the inevitable result.

Alaska Highway! for Your After-War Trip?

U. S. Army Engineers couldn't be told that it couldn't be done. Like Superman, they cut and smoothed the wilds to Alaska. The Al-Can highway leads nearer to Victory Day, when you can hope to head your car north... or to the Rio Grande—or where you choose—leaving war worries in your wake. But will you have a car?

Not a new one; not soon after Peace, experts agree. Your best bet is to preserve your present car for the future. At the same time you'll preserve it for your essential driving today, by recognizing its ruthless enemy—engine acid!

More normal combustion has always left acid in any engine after it has stopped. But in running often, driving long, and heating the engine wall, you mostly dispersed this acid. Then along came rationing and limited driving. Plenty of time now for acid to gnaw and corrode inner parts that you cannot easily replace. But what familiar thing bars corrosion? Good metal plating!

And your engine's insides can have anti-corrosive OIL-PLATING—attached as closely as any fine plating, by Conoco Nth motor oil. It's patented. It includes the modern synthetic that behaves almost "magnet-like" to maintain OIL-PLATING—even for days—where acid could otherwise freely attack. Block it! OIL-PLATE today. Your Conoco Mileage Merchant knows your right grade of Conoco Nth oil. Continental Oil Company

Air Corps Again Calls For Volunteer Cadets

Men between the ages of 18 and 26 years, interested in becoming cadets in the Army Air Corps, will have an opportunity to volunteer through their selective service boards. This information was contained in a news release this week from the Lubbock Army Recruiting Headquarters.

Pressure Cooker

The rationing of pressure cookers, which was delegated to county farm rationing committees several weeks ago, aims at placing the cookers where they will be used to maximum capacity in preserving foods this year. For this reason, it is anticipated that home demonstration clubs will have the "inside track" on applications for cookers. However, rules do not prohibit purchase by an individual if the person can show that sufficient food will be conserved through use of the cooker.

Applications for pressure cookers must be filed with the county farm rationing committee.

Explaining the plan of distribution, Mr. Gass said, "After applications are filed with the county rationing committee, the applicant will be notified that he has been placed on the eligible list. When he assures the committee that he knows where a cooker can be purchased, he will be issued a purchase certificate."

Around Town

Tonight, midnight, is the deadline for mailing applications for War Ration Book 3, and unless you really want to go in for a strict diet this summer, better get that application form in the mail. Persons who fail to make application by the deadline date will have to wait until August 1 to sign up for the new ration book, which might mean going hungry for a few days, or weeks, while applications are processed.

With Late

about 190,000 acres of wheat will be harvested in Deaf Smith County. Some of the grain would ordinarily not be considered worth the wear and tear on machinery occasioned by harvesting a thin crop, but in view of the great wartime need for all food products, farmers are expected to go into the fields to harvest even this low yield wheat. And some of the fields in the county will probably make as much as 20 bushels to the acre, Mr. Bateman states. A good general rain could still do much to fill out the wheat and would result in increased yields, while rain is vitally needed for row crops.

Little Jimmy Sears has his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears, in a dither—and it looks as if things are steadily getting worse. Jimmy has been attending Vacation Bible School this summer, and everything ran along smoothly until the teacher taught the class a verse, the chief portion of which was "Go home and obey your parents."

The verse was alright, too, except Jimmy understood the teacher to say, "Go home and bathe your parents." They have vainly told him that the teacher said "obey," but Jimmy still insists that she said "bathe." Right now Henry is in doubt as to whether he can hold out until Saturday night or not.

No doubt but you've heard the expression "talk turkey" all of your life. The expression has lived through generations and is just as commonly used today as it was 50 years ago. With the expression goes a mental picture of a red-faced individual pounding his fist on a table.

"Talking turkey" is a wonderful expression. It tells a story. More such expressions are needed, and for that reason, I am nominating the expression "talking fish"—and just dedicating the nomination to Homer Fox and Fred Pitner, two of the greatest "fish talkers" on the arid plains of the Texas Panhandle. Time and conditions alter everything except the fundamental nature of a fisherman. Monday morning these two veteran anglers sat in a close huddle, their voices carried that familiar braggadocio tone—and their hands stretched further and further apart as the conversation mounted with interest. Homer would sit with a bored expression while Fred gave his version—and a great smile of contentment would brighten Homer's countenance when he saw a chance to break in with a tall tale of his own. It was now Fred's turn to listen half-heartedly until suddenly his eyes jerked open—and you could tell by their gleam that he was going to top Homer when his round came.

Though Ross arrived in a hack, instead of dashing in opportunely in the "Hi-Yo, Silver" manner, his shooting arm was in good shape, and one of the horse thieves used poor judgment when he started firing when Ross ordered him to halt. For the city marshal put his own 30-30 into the fight and got his man with the first shot. Ross himself suffered a slight bullet wound.

Former C of C Secretary Dies in Kingfisher, Okla.

Joe L. Pope, one time (1931) secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, died May 30 at Kingfisher, Okla. Mr. Pope had been in poor health for some time and about six months ago suffered a stroke of paralysis. J. W. Alexander of Hereford, half-brother of Mr. Pope, was unable to attend the funeral services.

"Why didn't you come out yesterday like you promised? I wanted you to try some of my strawberries. Man, you ought to see those vines, literally covered with berries and blooms. I do believe some of those berries are that long," at which point Fred's hands spread a good five inches apart.

"Speaking of vines," interrupted Homer, "I just wish you could see my tomato plants. I know they're every bit that high—and his hands jumped a good eight inches apart he rushed on so rapidly Fred couldn't break in—"and blooms!" I never saw so many in my life. I wouldn't be surprised if we didn't have some tomatoes by the middle of June."

"Tomatoes are alright," said Fred, "if you like tomatoes—but I am telling you that we already have big, red, ripe strawberries NOW!"

"Yeah, I know," shouted Homer. "You mean your wife raised some good strawberries—so what?"

"And I guess your wife don't ever water those tomatoes," yelled Fred. "I'll bet you haven't chopped a weed since you were 12 years old."

From this point the conversation turned to interesting references regarding weed cutting, grass mowing, and even fishing.

The point remains, however, two good fishermen can "talk fish" on any subject. They enjoy it just as much as if the topic were fish, and they manage to use the same gestures. "Talking fish" is certainly an art which deserves recognition.

Here's an Associated Press story which Grant Fuller picked up recently from a newspaper:

GREENBELT, Md.—One of those characters who reads leases discovered Saturday you must ask Uncle Sam in order to have a baby in this federal housing community of 7,000.

The new leases which go into effect next Tuesday contain a clause which says: "The tenant agrees to notify the Government of any change in the composition of his household. Additional members shall not be permitted occupancy of the premises except with the written permission of the Government."

The citizens are permitted a bit on account of the fact that 3 1/2 babies are born here every week, the statisticians say. The Greenbelt medical director's office said there was about 100 families with something new about to be added soon.

The clause was believed intended primarily to prevent Uncle Joe from moving in and thus throwing prescribed housing standards out of whack.

One wag, however, couldn't help speculating on the possibilities of a situation where the Government sanctioned the addition of one member and twins showed up.

Someone hung this one on the file on my desk: "It's easy enough to be pleasant, when you haven't a worry or care; but the man worth while is the man who can smile, when somebody's swiped his spare."

At Fort Worth Market Mrs. W. F. Gillis returned Thursday night from Fort Worth and Dallas, where she attended markets and bought merchandise for The Fashion Shoppe.
